DEMOCRATS

Stage Spectacular Show Under Inspiration of Unusual Confidence—Other Notes Gathered Along the Way.

Last week the democrats staged the most spectacular convention in the history of American politics. Flushed and animated by unusual promise, due to palsied economic conditions, the proceedings started with a roar of enthusiasm which kept up until the climax was reached in the triumphal arrival of the presidential nominee, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to deliver his speech of acceptance. The convention was designed as a big, impressive show, and it ran true to plans with no lack of noise and fireworks. It seemed that a stronger man could have been chosen from available candidates, but a preponderance of pledged delegates swept the tide too strongly in favor of the New York governor to be stopped by opposing forces.

While no earthly power could have prevented the market calamities of the past year, the resulting unhappy state of mind, though inevitable, bolsters up the hopes of a rival party, anxious to get into power. Whether the inability of Wall street to control the convention will cause the loss of such influence in the campaign and election remains to be seen.

Democratic convention oratory engaged in generalities that any partisan could broadcast without fear of contradiction. For instance, shouting belief in an equitable distribution of wealth sounds well, but the question of how the distribution may be effected without full cooperation—without equal effort and equal wisdom and foresight—baffles explanation. It is just as reasonable and acceptable to say that in justice to the people who have equal rights, there shall be no more drouth, floods or grasshoppers, no more destructive wind, hail or lightning. It is a pleasing declaration, but hard to put into practice.

During the forthcoming campaign many false alarms will be sounded and much buncombe will be circulated, but it is hoped no political or other influence will interfere with returning confidence and rising values, now evident throughout the country.

The democratic convention did not repeal the eighteenth amendment as one might be led to assume from the way the delegates acted and voted. The democrats went on record for absolute repeal. This means no more in behalf of repeal than the republican convention's proposal to resubmit the question to the people. In any event, the electorate will have to say what action is to be taken on the amendment.

Overproduction of Lawyers.

The 1930 census which shows a total of 160,605 lawyers in the United States, has begun to worry the American Bar association, according to the Lincoln Journal, which suggests that too many members of the profession will cause an unhealthy scramble for business, thus "lowering standards and sacrificing professional ethics." The report says the number of lawyers is increasing five times faster than that of doctors. However, all fields of human endeavor are over-full, made especially apparent during a slow, dragging period. But legal training furnishes excellent foundation for almost every line of activity outside of the law, so that fitness for it is not lost even if its possessor does not elect to make it his life work.

Peddling Damaging Reports.

Unless protection is afforded or other evident good is assured, the talebearer of some ugly thing about a fellow is quite as much an offender as the one originally quoted. To repeat a thing that hurts may reveal quite as much malignancy as that shown by the originator. The ugliness of a remark may be magnified and aggravated by repetition, and through clever coloring, comparative innocence may be made to appear as black as the ace of spades.

Taking Vacations.

Fewer long and expensive trips will be taken this year, due to deflated values, limping industry and an unusual accumulation of unpaid obligations. Few will accept symptoms of economic recovery as good ground to bet on the future to the extent of leaving behind anxious creditors and taking a joy ride to some distant seaside or mountain resort. People will generally take vacations nearer home and gain benefits of recreation without involving burdensome cost. One may refresh himself and put new spirit into his wearied soul without embarking on a long and costly journey that he cannot afford.

Stalling.

When one cannot pay a bill or wishes to defer payment for some more or less reasonable excuse, he should look and act distressed, even if he does not feel that way. If one envelops himself in an air of impervious indifference he excites suspicion and resentment. If one sings and whistles a jazzy tune after nonchalantly sweeping aside

RITES ARE HELD HERE TUESDAY FOR AGED LADY

LIVED IN COUNTRY LONG

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Presbyterian church for Mrs. Sarah Nettleton, who passed away in Wayne Saturday afternoon, July 2, aged 78 years, 3 months and 11 days. Rev. P. A. Davies, pastor, was assisted by Rev. W. E. Braisted of the Baptist church. Harry Langley sang two solos. Committal was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Nettleton was taken ill in 1921 with diabetes. She had been failing since. Her condition became critical June 13.

Mrs. Nettleton's maiden name was Miss Sarah Black. She was a daughter of John and Martha Black, and was born in Grant county, Ohio, March 21, 1854. When she was but 2 years old her parents moved to Avoca, Wis., which was her childhood home.

Later the family moved to Burt county, Neb., where on March 21, 1875, she was married to Levi Cornell Nettleton. Early in their married life Mr. and Mrs. Nettleton left Burt county and went to Walla Walla, Wash., making the trip over the Oregon trail in a covered wagon pulled with mules. This was a dangerous venture when one recalls that their journey was made just two years after the Custer massacre of 1876. The new country did not prove as alluring as it had been pictured so the Nettletons went south to San Francisco, from which place they returned to Nebraska, traveling over the then new Union Pacific railroad line.

Mr. Nettleton was in poor health in 1905 and the family went to Jacinto, Calif. Five years later the family returned to Wayne county, and made this their home until Mr. Nettleton's death in 1919. Since that time Mrs. Nettleton had lived with members of her family.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Nettleton. One died in infancy. The surviving children are the following: Harry Nettleton of Norfolk, Neb., Mrs. W. G. Ellis and Mrs. W. F. Jonson of Plainview, R. A. Nettleton of Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Oscar Jonson of Wayne, Thomas Nettleton of Sioux City and Mrs. Hobert Auker of Wayne. There are 18 grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Mrs. Nettleton also leaves one sister, Mrs. Mary Saxon of Decatur, Neb.

Deceased devoted her life to serving others. Her ideals will inspire her family and friends for years to come.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Don, Ralph and Joe Beckenhauer, E. J. and Art Auker and Willis Noakes.

Those here from out of town for the rites were the following: R. A. Nettleton of Des Moines, Thomas Nettleton, Miss Evelyn Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Taylor, Mrs. Rose Smith and granddaughter of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jonson and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ellis and family of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nettleton and family of Norfolk, Mrs. Mary Saxon of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker, Mrs. Mina Morrow and children, Mrs. Arthur Baker and Mrs. John Tobin of Tekamah, Mrs. Arthur Owens and daughter, Geneve, of Pender, Mr. and Mrs. Art Auker of Agee, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellis of Venus, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ellis of Creighton.

Farmer Accused Selling Liquor

Facing five charges of alleged liquor law violations, Louie Ehlers, farmer living near Winside, is out on a $1,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing of his case before County Judge J. M. Cherry today.

Ehlers was arrested at his home the afternoon of July Fourth by William Stewart and George Patterson, on evidence prepared by County Attorney H. D. Addison. Ehlers furnished bond and was released later that afternoon.

Evidence prepared against Ehlers and on file at the county judge's office accuses him of illegal possession of liquor, illegal sale, illegal transportation, selling liquor to minors and being a bootlegger.

Many Persons Go On Excursions

One hundred twenty Wayne residents took advantage of the week-end excursion rates offered by the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad to visit relatives and friends in other towns and cities, Agent R. R. Larson reported.

CLOUDY SKY AND LACK OF PROPER HEAT ON FOURTH

THE Fourth came on Saturday last year, and it was the third and last day of the big golden anniversary celebration. But the last and what promised to be the biggest day in the series was turned to dismal failure by a rainfall which started early and continued intermittently throughout the day. It will be remembered that anniversary attractions, chiefly the Dutton circus, were held Sunday night to modify Saturday's disappointment. The Fourth which came two days later this year, showed a very similar condition of the weather, though rain was less in evidence and less needed. But a fall of moisture during the night and an overcast sky all day with the unseasonably cool elements robbed the day of the usual spirit with which cold refreshments, perspiration, sunburn and the lure of the shaded resorts are customarily associated. While rain did not break up plans for this year's Fourth, the weather was not ideal, aside from the fact that people who journeyed forth to attend the celebrations did not have to fight against possible sunstroke. Dispensers of ice cream and cold drinks were disappointed if they anticipated the usual Independence day demand.

YOUTHS KILLED IN TRUCK UPSET

Rites For Darrell Frey Held In Pierce And Wayne Last Sunday.

When the truck in which Darrell Frey, 17, of Pierce, and Harry Merritt, 22, of Lincoln, were returning to Plattsmouth after taking a load of gravel to Papillion, failed to make a turn in the highway south of Omaha last Thursday, the machine left the highway and crashed into a telephone pole, fatally injuring both. The youths, who tried to jump to safety when they realized an accident was inevitable, were caught beneath the truck and died before assistance could be summoned.

Funeral services for Darrell Frey were held Sunday afternoon at the Pierce Methodist church at 1:30 with Rev. R. M. Fagan in charge. The body was brought to the St. Paul Lutheran church in Wayne at 3:30 where further rites were conducted by Rev. Fagan and Rev. W. C. Heidenreich, pastor. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Darrell Frey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Frey, was born January 25, 1915, at Wayne, Neb. His parents moved to Pierce when he was 13 months old and the family had been there since. Besides his parents, Darrell leaves a younger brother, Dale.

Much Rain Fell Here In Month

June Precipitation Is Twice That Of Same Month Last Year.

Nearly twice as much rain fell in Wayne last month as during the corresponding month last year, the gauge at the State National Bank showed.

Last month's precipitation totaled 4.04 inches as compared with 2.25 inches of rainfall during June 1931.

It rained 12 days last month as compared with five days in June, of last year. The heaviest rainfall last month was June 2, when 1.10 inches of water fell.

The rain has been a great benefit to crops in this vicinity, all of which are far ahead of last year. Warm weather the last two weeks has been especially beneficial to the corn. Small grain is beginning to ripen.

New Postal Rates Go Into Effect

New postal rates, boosting the cost of sending first class letters and air mail letters, went into effect at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. The new rate boosts the postage on first class letters from two to three cents an ounce. Airmail rates are now eight cents for the first ounce and 13 cents for every additional ounce, an increase of three cents in each case.

Will Return Soon From Study Abroad

William Weiersheuser, who has been studying two years in Marburg, Germany, will complete his course this July. He will spend a short time with relatives in Germany and will then come to his home here.

SEVERAL WAYNE GOLFERS ENTER DISTRICT MEET

OPENED ON LAST SUNDAY

Several Wayne golfers were entered in the three-day northeast Nebraska tourney held at Norfolk over the week-end.

Frank S. Morgan and Dr. A. D. Lewis were the only Wayne men who succeeded in qualifying for the championship flight. Lewis lost to Allen Dowling of Madison, the medalist of the tourney, in a close match Monday.

Morgan won his first two matches defeating Ross of Columbus 1-up in a grueling contest on Monday morning and then eliminated Krause of Fullerton in the afternoon. He lost his semi-final match with Harry Johnson of Fremont, Tuesday. Johnson won the championship in his next match.

Don Miller who qualified for the second flight, eliminated three opponents and battled his way to the finals where he was defeated by the narrow margin of 1-up by Harry Hoehne of Stanton.

Others from Wayne who entered the Norfolk competition were C. C. Stirtz, Wm. Canning, Don Larson, Roy McDonald, J. J. Ahern and A. W. Christensen.

At a business meeting Sunday evening Fremont was selected as the site for next year's tourney. The Wayne delegation felt that due to the condition of the local course it would not be well to attempt to stage the meet here for at least two seasons. The floods of this spring have greatly damaged the local course.

BOARD REJECTS TWO PETITIONS

Reduction Of Fifteen Per Cent Certified To State Group.

Two requests for reductions in the assessed valuation of real estate were rejected by the county board of equalization at is final meeting Tuesday.

Residents living in school district 39, which includes the town of Winside, petitioned the board to grant a 15 per cent reduction on the valuation of all farm lands in the district. The other petition was by Fred Bartels for a reduction from $3,200 to $2,700 on the valuation of his property in Wayne.

A blanket reduction of 15 per cent on all real estate in the county, which was made recently by the board, was ordered certified to the state board of equalization for approval.

Investigation by the board of the assessed valuation of farm lands in school district No. 39 revealed that any further reduction in valuations in that district would be unjust to other districts in the county.

Funeral Is Held For Church Leader

Dr. Fred Wupper, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church at Hooper for 20 years, president of the synod and later president of Martin Luther seminary in Lincoln, died last week at Hot Springs, S. D., aged 66 years. He had been an invalid 10 years and made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Keller, in Omaha. Funeral services were held in Scribner last Thursday. Rev. H. A. Teckhaus was one of the 25 ministers who attended. Miss Gretchen Teckhaus, Mr. and Mrs. M. Kroger, Mrs. Grace Johnson, Mrs. Emma Baker and William Lerner are others who went from here. Rev. C. Goede of Glenville, and Rev. C. Klinger of Hanover, Kan., had charge of rites. Deceased leaves two daughters and a son.

Methodist Minister Passes In Albion

Rev. L. R. Keckler, 55, pastor of the Winside Methodist church from 1924 until 1929, died in an Albion hospital Wednesday morning, July 6, at 9 o'clock. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at Primrose and the body will be taken to Sioux City for burial.

Rev. Keckler was pastor at Primrose when taken ill. He leaves his wife and an adopted daughter. His mother and two sisters from Illinois were with him during his illness.

Have Dinner Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Berry and Ray Berry of Sioux City, and Miss Mary Roberts of Washington, Ia., were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Berry.

Second Period Will Open Soon

Some New Registrations Are Expected At Start Of New Session.

First six-week period of the summer term at Wayne State Teachers College closes July 15. Registration for the second period will be taken care of July 15 and 16 and class work starts July 18. By registering during the first period and by conducting school on the first and third Saturdays, the second six-week period will be completed in five weeks. Some new enrollments are expected for the last period, and some students will also drop work at the end of the first term. Attendance the last half of the summer will be lighter than the first period.

Miss Mary Currier, Mrs. H. D. Griffin, Miss Arlie Sutherland, Dr. Isobel Rust, Dr. Mabel Schmeiser, Prof. I. H. Britell, Miss Lettie Scott, Miss Mamie McCorkindale, Miss Jessie Stephens and Miss Esther Dewitz are among those of the faculty who plan to be away during the second summer period. Prof. F. G. Dale who has been attending the university in Lincoln this summer, will return to work in the geography and geology departments.

The four-week training school period closed last Friday and instructors in that department went to their homes for the remainder of the summer. The rural training school also closed last week.

John Gurney, baritone, and Frank Strawn, pianist, presented one of the lecture course numbers at the college last evening.

The grandstand has been removed from the field and will later be erected on the new field north of the one now in use. The old field will be used for football this fall.

Prof. Albert G. Carlson and Prof. Louis Gregory had charge of a program of piano and violin music at chapel Wednesday morning.

Miss Esther Dewitz and Miss Marie Derkinger plan to drive to California at the close of the first summer period at the college. They will attend the olympics at Los Angeles.

Dr. and Mrs. U. S. Conn were in Omaha Tuesday completing the signing of contracts for new equipment for the Pile memorial building.

Four instructors at the State Teachers College spent the Fourth in Lincoln. They were Miss Mildred Snyder, Miss Mildred Piper, Miss Marie Hove and Miss Mabel Schmeiser.

State Teachers College instructors who spent the week-end at Lake Okoboji were Miss Mary Currier, Miss Maybeth Bowman, Miss Kathryn Huganir and Dr. and Mrs. Harold D. Griffin.

HAIL IS CAUSE OF DAMAGE NEARBY

Hail, accompanied by a strong wind and heavy downpour of rain, caused considerable damage to crops and buildings in parts of Wayne county Wednesday.

The heaviest damage by hail was reported in small areas near Randolph and Winside.

At Randolph the hail stripped corn and leveled oats over an area three miles square, bordering that town on the north and east. It did not extend south and west. Scores of windows in town were broken by the large hail stones.

At Winside there was heavy hail and crops in a small area northeast of town were reported completely destroyed by the stones. On the Hugo Fisher farm it was said that the corn field had the appearance of a stubble. Small grain which had not been shocked was leveled.

Crops in the territory north of Carroll were reported damaged by the storm. There was a light hail storm at Altona, but no damage was reported. There were reports of slight damage from hail in other scattered areas. A few stones fell in Wayne.

At all places the hail was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, which temporarily flooded streets and roads and made lakes out of lowlands. No damage was reported from the strong wind which accompanied the hail.

Open Campus Inn Near Wayne College

The Campus Inn near the college entrance has been opened this week under the management of Amic and Spencer. Meals and luncheons will be served by the new owners.

Visit In Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bahde, Miss Leona Bahde, J. J. Steele and Elliott Frahm went to Austin, Minn., Saturday and visited until Tuesday with Miss Lily Bahde and Miss Fielda Frahm.

MEMORIAL HALL TO BE FINISHED IN FOUR WEEKS

Final Touches Are Being Made On New Coed Dormitory.

TO BE ENTIRELY MODERN

Comparing favorably in beauty and modernism to any residence hall in the middle west, the J. M. Pile memorial building, newest addition to the campus of the State Teachers College, will be completed August 1.

Erected at a cost of $140,000, the new memorial residence hall contains every modern convenience for the comfort of its residents, who will be coeds at the state college.

There are four entrances, all with modernistic outdoor lights and vestibules. The main entrance is from the south, reached from the street by a long walk which will be bordered by flower gardens and blankets of green grass.

Landscaping of the front lawn has already begun. There are two entrances from the north, both of which will open into a large garden after the old north hall has been razed and the ground landscaped. Beyond the garden to the north will be the new athletic field.

Corridors connect the north entrances with the parlor, which is in the center of the building on the main floor. The clerk's desk is on the main floor to the left of the south entrance. Facilities include a marble topped counter, Quarters for the preceptress, including a living room, bed room and private bath, are on the main floor.

The parlor will be carpeted with French welton rugs and equipped with settees, chairs, lamps, tables, and divans, all arranged around a

BREAK EVEN IN HOLIDAY GAMES

Ball Team Loses To Fast Emerson Club—Wins From Thurston.

Baseball fans were treated to a touch of big league entertainment at the park here Sunday when Emerson and Wayne teams battled 12 innings without either club's scoring. Emerson broke the tie in the 13th inning to win the hard fought game 2 to 0.

Bronson, former state and western league pitcher, was too much for the locals to solve. He allowed but seven hits and fanned 24. Collins for Wayne likewise was in great form, holding Emerson to six hits, three of which were bunched in the thirteenth inning, and fanning seven.

Playing air-tight ball, behind Cook's great pitching, the Wayne club defeated the fast Thurston club at the Fourth celebration in Thurston. The score was 13 to 6. Cook had Thurston in his command during the seven innings he pitched, allowing but six hits. M. Coe finished for Wayne. The locals pounded Jensen out of the box in the sixth inning when they scored six runs. Spainhaur, who relieved him, was also hit hard. The Thurston team is one of the leaders in the east Nebraska league, having defeated West Point 9 to 2.

Wayne team is fast becoming one of the strongest clubs in this vicinity. The record to date is as follows: Wayne, 11, Coleridge, 4; Wayne 4, Carroll, 7; Wayne, 4, Concord, 9; Wayne, 3, Wakefield, 2; Wayne, 6, Winside, 4; Wayne, 0, Emerson, 2; and Wayne, 13, Thurston, 6. The locals play at Wakefield July 10.

Recovering Slowly From Severe Burns

Miss Nannetta Schrumpf of Lincoln, who sustained severe burns in a gasoline explosion June 24, is reported improving in a hospital in the city. Miss Schrumpf's condition is still critical but it is thought she will recover. She will be in the hospital about a month as skin will have to be grafted on some of the burns. Mrs. Jennie Schrumpf and Miss Gertrude Bayes, the latter of Winside, are remaining with her. William Bayes returned to Winside Tuesday and he plans to go back next Friday.

Donald Beckman Dies Here Today

Donald Beckman, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Beckman of north of Wayne, died this Thursday morning at 3:30 from sinus infection with which he was taken ill the last of the week. His condition was critical from the start.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

CORN IS LAID BY AHEAD OF USUAL PERIOD IN JULY

IT IS an old belief that if growing corn could be "laid by" by July Fourth, it was behaving in normal and proper fashion. But this year has been extraordinarily favorable for the crop. Many fields which showed stalks above one's head, were laid by before the Fourth. The season started out right. The ground became soaked by early rains, and subsequent intervals between the falls of moisture were brief. The rain came without seriously interfering with work, and it did not hinder sufficient installments of sunshine to enliven growth. Some one whispered Saturday afternoon that more rain would be welcome, and that night half an inch fell. One liberal rainfall per week with the customary sunshine will produce a corn crop of unsurpassed proportions, and that is what we want. If anyone has any doubts as to the exact location of the best agricultural area in the world, he should journey out in any direction from Wayne at this time.

NEW WINDOWS ARE MEMORIALS

New Art Glass In Immanuel Lutheran Church Nearby Gift Of Members.

Memorial emblem art glass windows were installed the past week in Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church northeast of Wayne and first services after completion of the improvement were held last Sunday with the pastor, Rev. F. C. Doctor in charge. The windows replace the ordinary glass kind throughout the church.

Each of the new windows bears a brass plate on which is the name of the donor.

Newcastle Pair In Accident Here

Wayne Visitors Receive Broken Ribs—Woman Badly Cut.

Henry Fox of Newcastle, suffered two broken ribs and his wife received severe face cuts and bruises in an automobile accident at Seventh and Lincoln streets Thursday noon of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox and their baby, Marlene, 9 months old, were riding in the rear seat of an automobile driven by Milford Brown. Arlis Powell, also of Newcastle, was riding in the front seat with the Wayne youth. F. E. Strahan was the driver of the other car.

In addition to the broken ribs, Mr. Fox received several bruises and a slight head injury. Five stitches were required in the cut received by Mrs. Fox on her left cheek. The baby escaped uninjured.

At the time of the accident the car in which the Foxes were riding was said to be going north on Lincoln street. In the impact of the collision, two wheels were broken and both left window glasses in the car were broken. Mr. Strahan's car received a broken fender and was jarred out of line.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Fox's mother, Mrs. William Fox, here. Mr. and Mrs. Fox took them back to Newcastle Friday night.

Honorable Mention In Essay Contest

Mrs. Ralph Ingham and Mrs. J. C. Forbes of Alhambra, Calif., received honorable mention in an essay contest conducted in June by the Alhambra Post-Advocate. "Properly Cooked Foods and Properly Balanced Meals" was the essay topic.

Goes To Humphrey In Charge Of Show

WANTS PART OF AARON B. CLARK LAND IN CLAIM

OBJECTION IS NOW FILED

Petition to reopen the will of the late Aaron B. Clark, Wayne county pioneer, and file against the estate a claim for $19,800 has been filed in district court by attorneys for Hattie Clark Donahey, niece of deceased.

It is alleged that the $19,800 is due Mrs. Donahey as a result of an oral agreement which she had with Mr. Clark prior to his death.

According to the petition, Mrs. Donahey kept house for Mr. Clark for eight years before his death. It is stated that an oral agreement was made with him whereby she was to receive $50 a month and a quarter section of land at the time of Mr. Clark's death in return for her services.

The petition states that when the agreement was made, a quarter section of land was specified for Mrs. Donahey, but that Mr. Clark conveyed it to some other party before he died. When Clark's will was probated, it was revealed that she had not been bequeathed the amount stipulated in the oral agreement, the petition states.

The quarter section of land is valued at $15,000 in the petition and the $4,800 is for the salary claim.

Mr. Clark died June 13, 1930. On June 23, 1930, County Judge J. M. Cherry fixed October 18, 1930, as the final date for filing claims against the estate. On November 5, 1930, he entered on the court records an order barring all claims not previously filed against the estate.

Mrs. Donahey's claim had not been filed at that time. When the claim was filed several months ago the case was heard before Judge Cherry. On June 5, 1932, he denied the petition to file the claim on the grounds that it was too late.

In the appeal to the district court for relief attorneys for Mrs. Donahey state that Judge Cherry's order barring all further claims against the estate was null and void and that he had no jurisdiction to issue an order at that time.

The petition further states that the reason Mrs. Donahey did not file a claim for $19,800 immediately after the will was probated was because she lived in the state of Washington at that time and did not know of the estate proceedings.

An objection to the granting of Mrs. Donahey's petition has been filed in district court by H. S. Ringland, administrator for the estate.

Mr. Ringland's petition objects to the granting of Mrs. Donahey's claim on the grounds that the proceedings were legal and Mrs. Donahey should have known that the will would be probated soon after Mr. Clark's death.

Grain Harvest Is Begun Here

Heavy Yield Is Expected As Result Of Exceptional Growing Weather.

Harvesting of small grain in Wayne county began this week.

Several fields of barley are already cut and shocked and nearly every farmer who has barley has begun cutting the golden grain.

Cutting of oats is expected to be under way in full force next week, with threshing of the grain scheduled to begin the following week in districts where there is considerable barley.

Benefited greatly by exceptionally good weather conditions, the small grain is expected to produce a heavy yield.

Former Lawyer Here Is Visitor

"It's great to be back" was the cheery comment of George R. Wilbur, former Wayne attorney, when he visited here this week.

Mr. Wilbur arrived Tuesday to spend several days visiting his brother-in-law, Fred Philleo, an aunt, Mrs. W. H. Buetow, and old friends. He was enroute from Chicago, where he attended the democratic convention, to his home in Hood River, Ore.

Mr. Wilbur's memories of Wayne date back to the days when there was only one building on the college campus, practically no homes in the vicinity of Bressler park and the muddy downtown streets were cluttered with telephone poles and wires.

Wayne's neat appearance, cleanliness, many new business fronts and progressive atmosphere impressed the visitor. He came by automobile from Fremont. The good condition of the crops caused Mr. Wilbur to remark that he considered the southern part of Wayne county "the richest agricultural district he had ever seen."

Mr. Wilbur left Wayne 25 years ago. His last visit here was in 1919. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilbur. Mr. Wilbur is dead. Mrs. Wilbur is still enjoying good health at the Oregon home of her son.

Many At Opening Of Funeral Home

The visitors were shown through the beautiful residence funeral home and about the grounds on which it is located at Fifth and Lincoln streets. Flowers were given to women visitors.

In addition to those who visited the home Saturday, many inspected the home Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Niece Wayne Woman Is Leader In Class

Miss Lola Pankhurst, niece of Mrs. Anna Kopp of Wayne, was the only girl among the four honor students graduated from College View High school in Lincoln. Her average was 91.4 percent for the four years of schooling. Miss Pankhurst was class speaker, her subject being "True Culture," and had a lead in the school class play. She is a daughter of John Pankhurst, brother of Mrs. Kopp.

WILL FORBES IN AIRPLANE TRIP TO PARTY MEETING

Will Forbes of Alhambra, Calif., formerly of Wayne, last week was in Chicago as alternate delegate to the democratic national convention. He made the trip by airplane.

The Alhambra Post-Advocate under the caption, "Will Forbes, not Rogers, on Politics," June 28 publishes the following message from Forbes:

"Democratic convention was over an hour late in starting yesterday, due to fact that many delegates walked in from tourist camps. Evangeline Booth made opening prayer. If the democrats can get the votes of the Salvation Army followers this fall they will sure win. Only two fights on convention floor. Chicago police won both with knockouts. Alfalfa Bill Murray is most photographed man at convention. When you photograph Alfalfa Bill you photograph the whole Oklahoma delegation of 24 members. That's economy. Will Forbes."

Good Response To Warrant Change

Good response is being received to the new method of cashing county vouchers, J. J. Steele, treasurer, reported.

Since last week, county warrants have been cashed directly at the banks on which they were drawn instead of being presented at the treasurer's office. The new method eliminates the necessity of having the treasurer make out a check for every voucher and thus saves taxpayers $120 a year, which would otherwise have to be spent for check tax.

School Displays Being Completed

Displays for the Wayne county fair are beginning to pour into the office of Miss Pearl Sewell, county superintendent, from the school districts of the county.

A large number have been received, many of which are exceptionally interesting. Among them is a small home and lawn display, with the house covered with graham crackers and the sidewalks paved with graham cracker crumbs. The fair will be September 15, 16 and 17.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express sincere thanks to friends for their many kindnesses during the illness and at the time of the death of our mother. Also do we thank those who sent floral tributes. Money Is Taken At Pender Station

Pender, Neb., July 5— Robbers took $160 from the Heyne service station here early today and forced Russell McDonald, the night attendant to get into their automobile. He was released six miles west of Omaha by the thieves.

The two robbers drove into the station and asked that their gasoline tank be filled. They seized Mr. McDonald and blindfolded him. A customer discovered the robbery a short time later and notified officers.

Most of the loot consisted of checks, but about $50 was in cash.

BRESSLER PARK POPULAR WITH PICNIC PARTIES

Popularity of Bressler park as a municipal recreation center is shown by the fact that there has been one or more picnics at the park every day for more than two weeks.

Several evenings there have been several picnics in the park at the same time and on Sundays the number of picnic groups reaches as many as 10 and 12.

Tourists from nearly every state in the union have visited the park this season, R. T. Whorlow, caretaker, reports. Many of the out-of-state tourists praise the park as one of the finest of its kind in this territory, the caretaker and matrons report.

Not only is the park popular with picnic parties, but children find it a summer haven. Under the large trees they play from early morning until dark. The average daily attendance of children at the park is 35. Play supervisors are Miss Helen Swanson and Miss Gladys Vath.

Live Stock Comparisons

THE Omaha Daily Journal-Stockman presented a table of figures in its edition of July 1 showing comparative live stock prices on the Omaha market for thirtysix and thirtyseven years. In June, 1899, the top on cattle in Omaha was $5.27; in June 1932, $8.15. In June, 1896,—year of the memorable free silver campaign,—the top on hogs was $3.25; in June, 1932, $4.50. In July, 1916, hogs reached the ten-dollar mark, and they kept on ascending until July, 1919, when they reached a top of $22.85. Beef steers reached a peak of $18.85 in August, 1919. Hogs seemed to have touched bottom in August, 1896, when the price was quoted at $3.15. The lowest this year was in May when $3.40 was the price.

In 1896 when live stock markets made a low record, other things were correspondingly low. Rents, taxes, wages and commodity prices generally were in the habit of being down, and so they did not need to be deflated. Standards of living were comparatively down—no automobiles, no hard-surfaced roads, no picture shows, no radios, nothing to break monotony, nothing to alleviate the daily grind, nothing to cause expense.

It is hoped parity of values may be established without putting modern conveniences and means of reasonable and necessary recreation beyond the reach of the masses. While doubtless all had gone to an extreme in joy-riding, it would be a sorry plight for society if the other extreme prevalent in 1896 were reinstated. We may slow down without forfeiting advantages. We may modify appetites without starving. It was an impecunious and dismal existence for most people in 1896, and no one who knows would want to repeat the experience.

Growing Old Gracefully

TO grow old with mind unimpaired and with disposition free from pettishness encourages younger persons who, too, some laps behind, are trooping in the direction of the sunset. Regular and healthful habits contribute to happy longevity. It is on the home-stretch when a fellow collects interest on the earlier care with which he had looked after his earthly tenement. Interest in current affairs and in the aspirations of youth preserves a healthy and vigorous state of mind. Sharing in the forward-looking view of youth and assimilating new and progressive ideas keep advancing years alert and in step. A local friend past 80 seems to have lost none of his erstwhile keenness, and he is as much alive to the passing panorama of events and as sensitive to the times and to the needs of the future as he was when he was in the noonday of life. This spirit lends courage to youth—gives assurance to middle-age that mounting years, safeguarded on a foundation of wholesome living, does not necessarily invite feeble mentality and depleted powers of analysis.

Accidents On Fourth

FATAL accidents in the United States on the Fourth of July totalled 240 as compared with 483 a year ago. Only ten were caused by fireworks or gunpowder explosions, the greatest number, 119, resulting from automobile accidents. Drownings came next with 90. Reduced killings on Independence day were likely due to fewer traveling, fewer spending money on fireworks and fewer having a disposition to make a noise over anything in particular; more staying at home and enjoying picnic dinners, sitting, eating, dozing and risking nothing more perilous than a passing bumblebee or a flock of mosquitoes. Prohibiting explosives in most cities and the growing unpopularity of expressing patriotism in that way have probably reduced the number of fatal powder burns. The automobile leads on the Fourth as on other days as the most frequently employed means of exterminating one's self.

John N. Garner, speaker of the house of representatives, and now democratic nominee for the vice presidency, has an interesting background. He was born in a frontier log house in Texas. He never attended school, but was tutored by an aunt. He studied law in a friend's office, and through indomitable willpower, he stepped from one thing to another until he landed in congress where, after thirty years of service, he proved enough of a leader to win the speakership. So often a man rises from privations of an obscure station to a place of large responsibility that the Garner experience is not unique. It is just another inspiration to others who have had financial and educational advantages.

These days one meets a lot of new people. They come from nowhere in particular, and they ask for alms in a most gracious manner, developed through frequent rehearsing. Some are deserving, being disposed to work, while others, endowed with adamantine nerve, accept begging from choice.

"Never saw crops look better than those now growing in Wayne county," observed a citizen who has lived here over sixty years. Nowhere do fields look richer or more promising—a fact exactly in harmony with normal conditions in Wayne county. And all of north Nebraska gives every assurance of extraordinary crop production, and however uncertain prices may be, the whole territory will be free from the humiliation of special sympathy and aid from the outside. On the contrary, if there appear other unfortunate areas that need help, they will get it from this year's abundance in north Nebraska.

This is one of the hardest weeks of the year to get out a newspaper or do anything else that requires an aroused and responsive public. Numerous advertisers delay coming out of the spell of the holiday Morpheus, and so advertising pages are correspondingly thinned down. Whether the business district takes a vacation or not, news volume and the requisites to reader interest are not allowed to be diminished. These essentials are kept up, and the number of pages issued depends on the advertising demand.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock, publisher of the World Herald and former United States senator, was chairman of the resolutions committee of the late democratic national convention, and while we do not always agree with him, we are so deeply appreciative of his fine qualities of mind and soundly progressive spirit, that, if the convention had asked our opinion, we would have advised naming him for the vice presidency. In that place, he would measure up to the task quite as acceptably as any one in the field of politics.

The vacation period fast approaches, and mosquitoes and jiggers are whetting their jaws in anticipation. The comforts of home are never more thoroughly relished than they are after one returns from a trip and gets the dirt out of his ears. Relief in getting back is one good reason for going.

The proposed psychological assay of human abilities will be resisted by some of us who shy away from an exposure that might hurt.

Firecracker Nuisance.

Omaha World-Herald: Once again Omaha has reason to congratulate itself for having put an end to the senseless custom of celebrating the Fourth of July with dangerous explosives. The success which has attended the banning of firecrackers and fireworks within the city limits illustrates the advantage of handling a matter of this kind by regulation under local option, backed by a strong local public sentiment.

The burning of powder on the Fourth is very largely a juvenile pastime. Unsupported by any legal prohibition parents endured it, though they hated it. Adult indulgence in the custom is more a deference to tradition and a lack of initiative in devising other means of patriotic recreation than any overpowering disposition to let off noisy steam. The tragic aftermath of several Fourths prepared us finally to accept complete abolition of the custom.

As a result the city ordinance banning firecrackers and fireworks within the city limits is supported virtually 100 per cent. Calm and quiet and safety prevail. There is even little disposition to escape the ban by going outside the city limits. A few little roadside stands do a meager business on the country roads just outside the city jurisdiction, but the result is scarcely noticeable.

Omaha's experiment in the promotion of public safety on the Fourth has been a complete success. It becomes, we believe, more popular every year.

Your Newspaper.

Stillwater, Minn., Gazette: The following was taken from a circular sent to retail merchants by a large wholesale house. The value of your local newspaper to the success of your business cannot be overestimated. It's worth all the support and cooperation you can give it. For the newspaper is a mirror reflecting the life of the community in which you and your store have an important part. Your advertisement is the reflection of your store in this mirror. Everybody sees it there. If it is not there, the mirror is dark where your store should be. You are there but you cannot be seen. Your store is open for business as usual, but "Out of sight; out of mind!" To keep in step with the progress of your community; to get your share of business, you must advertise regularly. Take your newspaper publisher into your confidence; he can give you invaluable assistance. Establish an advertising budget. Plan a regular schedule for your advertisements. It's the policy that is followed by the most successful stores; it's an idea that will be profitable for you.

Hail.

Dr. A. L. Bixby: What a head has the editor of the Clay Center, Kas., Times! It is stored with a lot of things nobody else ever thinks of only as he reminds them. His latest is an "Essay on Hail," in which he covers much ground in a few sentences:

"A hail storm is Nature in her meanest mood—a bad boy, a wayward girl, a kidnaper, a stealer from the blind, a robber of the children's bank, a hit-and-run driver, a flower stealer, an unloader of bum stocks, a bootlegger and a fish dynamiter, all wrapped up in one package. You have your big tomatoes; you have your Regal lilies; you have your wheat ripening and Mr. Hail Storm wriggles his ears and where are you? Your house catches on fire and you can call the firemen; you play the stock market and you can hire some man to wear the toe of his boot out on you. But when the hail storm comes all you can do is stand in the door and cuss. Gol durn a hail storm."

In Peace Crisis.

IN an article which has just appeared, General John J. Pershing says people should show the same spirit of patriotism and responsibility felt and manifested during war. In a national conflict imagination is fired and defense of home institutions is aroused. During a peace crisis, equally as great interest should be taken in government affairs and in preservation of the social order. The general charges that citizens lapse into lethargy, look only for immediate gains, pay little attention to the stature of men chosen to serve in halls of legislation, and employ little or no initiative in solving problems and thinking out results. He says people have been too indifferent and suffer the consequences of delegating too much thinking to others who are often incompetent. From his own experience he says he developed sense of responsibility from the depression of 1873, and from the stress of the prevailing economic disorder, he looks for the appearance of an aroused and improved citizenship. He believes it is quite as important to avoid falling under the influence of internal weakness as to fight off the encroachment of an open and outward enemy.

an overdue obligation, he serves as an irritant. This is altogether unnecessary. Something to soothe is the treatment to apply. Working in a little agony of expression is important.

Memorial Hall Finished Soon

large fireplace on the north side of the room. The fireplace is constructed of two-color polished marble. A deeply panelled ceiling adds a touch of coziness. Draperies will be of heavy lined damask of different shades, with rust color predominating.

Stairways to the second and third floors are at either end of the center section of the three-story building. The wide corridors on all floors are cased with highly polished Tennessee marble wainscoting.

The marble is of a soft pink finish. The stairway banister is also of pink marble, applied in slabs an inch and one-fourth thick and polished like a mirror.

On every floor are two large linen closets, janitor's supply rooms, ample toilet and bath facilities. The bath and toilet rooms are finished entirely in gray marble.

Door frames throughout the building are of steel. Doors, casings and all other interior wood finish is of oak. Corridor floors are of terazzo.

There are 80 rooms, all with accommodations for two girls, in the building. Every room has two large windows and a double clothes closet, with two shoe racks and an ample supply of shelves. Every room contains a lavatory, medicine cabinet and large mirror, all carefully arranged in a marble lined nook. Room dimensions are 15 by 13 feet.

Room furnishings will be of simons metal, with a dark walnut finish. Equipment in every room will include twin beds, a dresser, chairs and two writing desks. Girls will be required to provide their own curtains and other finishing touches.

There is an individual buzzer system for every room. One telephone is provided in the building. That is in the main lobby. There is also a service booth for long distance calls. Every floor has two water fountains.

In the basement of the east wing is a large recreation room 45 by 46 feet in dimensions with an outside entrance to the south. It will be equipped with recreation facilities for the entertainment of the coeds.

Also in the basement are storage facilities for the girls' trunks and other excess luggage. Directly north of the recreation hall is a kitchen in which may be prepared lunches for special entertainments or guests. There also is a sewing room for the convenience of the girls.

The building is 160 by 81 feet in dimensions and of brick construction, trimmed with white Bedford stone. It has a red asbestos roof and is fireproof throughout. Gutters and downspouts are of copper. The dark rug-faced brick exterior of the building is in harmony with the other campus buildings.

Plans for the building were prepared by Arthur D. Baker, Grand Island architect. C. E. Atwater Co. of Grand Island had the general contract for the erection of the structure. Construction operations were supervised by John W. Mueller, superintendent.

Marble work on the building and most of the interior decorating have been completed. Remaining work consists chiefly of a few finishing touches and the removal of construction equipment and debris.

KNOCKERS.

THE fellow who just sits and looks and listens, who accomplishes little and expects to amount to nothing, who straddles every question involving public policy or community progress, who, in short, combines all the outstanding qualities of the sponge, barnacle, parasite and chameleon, is of too little consequence to be accompanied and peppered by any considerable line of knockers. Pestiferous obstructionists do not bother a nonentity. And knockers are valuable in the stimulus they impart to victims and in the popular scorn which reacts like a boomerang from the justice-loving populace. No individual or institution is running on all cylinders and giving really meritorious service without an attending chorus of knockers who have selfish motives to press or imaginaty grievances to satisfy. People do not relish contact with knockers, but they figure they are as necessary for success as tepid or brackish water is valuable as an emetic. So, the one who is wearily plodding along the grade, should regard a few active knockers, equipped with little hammers and blackest crepe, as assets rather than liabilities.

Action Delayed On Heat Plans

Board Of Education Hears Inquiries Concerning Plant Changes.

Discussion and action on proposed methods of heating the public school building here were postponed until August 1 by the board of education at its meeting Tuesday night.

It is expected that a decision as to whether any other methods of heating the building than the one now in use are to be investigated will be made at the meeting on that date.

Board members made it clear to fuel dealers who appeared at the meeting Tuesday that they had not decided whether a change from the present coal heating system would be investigated. They pointed out that efforts to have the board install a different heating system had been initiated outside of their group and that the board itself had not proposed a change.

Inquiry as to whether the board contemplated a change and if that was the case, when proposed changes would be discussed, was made at the meeting by E. D. Gordon, representing the Peoples Natural Gas company, and Earl Merchant, representing Merchant & Strahan.

Claims totaling $180 were allowed.

Valuation For County Is High

Thirtyfive Millions Is The Value Of Property—Real Estate.

Wayne county residents own personal property and real estate valued at $35,313,445 according to statistics prepared by County Assessor J. G. Bergt.

Real estate and improvements in the county have an assessed valuation of $32,622,260 and personal property is valued at $2,691,185.

Class A intangibles, including money in banks and government securities, are valued at $409,525. Class B intangibles, which include stocks and bonds, are valued at $388,606.

The assessment statistics were contained in Mr. Bergt's annual report to state officials. The report was completed and sent to Lincoln Wednesday.

Cost of making the assessments this year was $3,480 as compared with $3,731 last year, Mr. Bergt's report showed. This year 3,236 assessment schedules were needed in the county and last year 3,315 schedules were used.

Former Resident Dies In Colorado

Dr. Henry F. Monk, an old time resident of Wakefield, Neb., who moved to Cripple Creek, Colo., in 1896, died Wednesday evening of last week after a long illness. He had been brought to Denver from Chicago three weeks ago by his son, Dr. Clarence W. Monk. Funeral services were conducted in Denver last Saturday morning.

Dr. Monk was born in Iowa 65 years ago. He spent his boyhood days in Wakefield, working for Rawlings brothers over seven years in the hardware store. After moving to Cripple Creek, Dr. Monk engaged in the mining business. He was active in civic affairs and served as member of the city council. Dr. Monk moved from Cripple Creek to Englewood 22 years ago. He went to Chicago to practice chiropractic 12 years ago.

Surviving Dr. Monk are his widow, a son, Dr. Clarence W. Monk of Denver, the stepmother and four sisters, Mrs. Carl Wolter, Mrs. James Irwin, Mrs. Richard Udick and Miss Mary Monk, and four brothers, Herman J. Monk of Spokane, Wash., George Monk and Gus Monk of Concord, Neb., and Fred Monk of Fountain, Colo. A brother, Will Monk, was killed in an automobile accident at Norfolk a few years ago.

COUNTY BOARD.
Wayne, Nebraska,
July 5, 1932.

Board of Equalization met as per adjournment. All members present.

Whereas a protest against the assessment on improvements on Lot 4 and S 1-2 Lot 5, Block 7, Original Wayne, was filed on June 16, 1932, asking that the same be reduced from $3,200.00 to $2,700.00.

On motion such protest is rejected and assessment allowed to stand as assessed.

Whereas a petition has been filed by Ier Hansen, et al, owners of farm lands within Winside School District No. 39, wherein complaint is made that their land in said School District No. 39 has been erratically assessed much higher than most other real estate in Wayne county, and praying that the Board of Equalization lower the assessed valuation of all land in School District No. 39 not less than 15 per cent of the present valuation thereof, plus any general lowering of valuation by the Board of Equalization.

Upon investigation the Board finds that such lands are not overvalued but that such farm lands lying within School District No. 39 are already assessed lower than farther outlying lands, and that a further reduction of 15 per cent asked for in said petition in addition to the 15 per cent reduction on all real estate in Wayne county, excluding improvements, which has been heretofore ordered, would be unjust.

Be it therefore resolved by this Board that such a petition be rejected and that no further reduction be made.

On motion the assessment for Wayne county for the year 1932 after making such changes as heretofore ordered which includes the 15 per cent flat reduction on all read estate in Wayne county excluding improvements, is allowed to stand as assessed valuation for Wayne county, and the county assessor is to be notified that such is the final assessment and that it is now ready for his certificate to the State Tax Commissioner—State Board of Equalization.

Whereupon Board adjourned to July 19, 1932.

Gamble Stores Pay Dividends

The Board of Directors of Gamble-Skogmo, Inc., operating Gamble Stores, on June 9th voted a dividend of 50c per share, on common stock. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 per share on the 7 percent preferred stock was also declared. This dividend is payable July 1st to stockholders of record as of June 20th. The stockholders are all residents of the middlewest. These dividends are the same as paid in 1931, which were an increase over 1930.

The officials report earnings for the first five months of 1932 in excess of the same period in 1931. They also report a sales increase of 21.45 percent in 1932 over the same five-months' period in 1931. The much lower prices which prevail in 1932 as compared with 1931 makes this showing most outstanding.

The increase in sales is partially due to the addition of new lines of merchandise, one of which is the new Coronado electric refrigerator. It is expected that this department will become one of the major lines of merchandise handled by Gamble Stores. Other lines carried are automobile supplies, radio, sporting goods, paints and light hardware.

61 percent more tires have been sold in 1932 as compared with 1931 during the same period. The Company reports that this increase is partially due to the drastically lowered prices during the last few months which have enabled customers with lower incomes to purchase their needs.

The 1932 expansion of Gamble Stores included the opening of 18 new stores in the Middlewest. This brings the total number to 184 now operating in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Indiana. j7t1

THE WAYNE HERALD

FIFTY-SECOND YEAR | WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1932. | NUMBER THIRTEEN

Paragraphs

Hospitality of County at Affairs Is Found Most Genuine.

"Visitors are always welcome" is a phrase inserted in an invitation extended by a rural Aid society in last week's Herald. And the invitation is just as sincere as it reads. Hospitality in such groups is genuine and most wholesome.

* * * *

Harvest time always brings to mind large groups of tired and hungry men and busy women who prepare bountiful meals for them. What a blessing to be really hungry and really tired! And how it must please the efficient cooks to prepare for those who have appetites!

* * * *

"Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." Perhaps not wealthy in dollars and cents but wealthy in experiences which reveal wonders of nature at their best. Flowers fresh with dew and birds chirping merrily are but part of the thrills to the early riser.

* * * *

A tip to brides. Avoid walking between your husband and the mirror when the latter is adjusting his necktie. The period of tie adjustment is not the most opportune for asking him if he will take you to the theatre or for a drive.

* * * *

Family and community picnics were the general rule on the Fourth. And the change from the old-fashioned noisy and dangerous observance was gratifying.

* * * *

Higher education and social advantages should make young folks more sympathetic and thoughtful, but often one is disappointed. When we saw a young woman who has had advantages, show special kindness to her elderly grandfather, we were encouraged.

* * * *

Two lads visiting here from a large city recently begged their mother to let them stay in Wayne. Even better, they urged, let us move to Wayne. Climbing trees to pick cherries, riding a sweep and helping stack hay, jaunting by pony over fields were but few of the experiences that thrilled the city youths and made them long for the freedoms and pleasures which Wayne county young folks have at hand every day.

* * * *

He was a promising young city lad. She a wonderfully wholesome country lass, beautiful and intelligent. They met, married and went to the city to live. By exercising great care they managed to get along. One day, after times tightened for the employer, he lost his job. Her folks who had grieved to see her leave the country, gladly welcomed them back to the rural home. They are back on the farm, happier than ever, and their little daughter is growing up in fine rural atmosphere.

To Observe Hospital Day.

Sunday, July 17, will be observed by Lutherans in Norfolk and vicinity as "Hospital Sunday." The pastors and members of about twenty congregations will participate in this celebration. At 11 a. m. a divine service will be held at the Norfolk Tourist park. At 2 p. m. there will be a general meeting at the same place. Dr. C. M. W. Poyner, Dean of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, and the Hon. O. S. Spillman, of Norfolk, will be the speakers in the afternoon. Music will be furnished by the Norfolk Municipal Band.

Maggots Kill Hoppers.

John Krieger, farmer living 5 miles northeast of Wood, S. D., reports millions of hoppers in his fields to be dying. They are being attacked by a maggot or worm about a quarter of an inch in length, which kills the hoppers by attacking them under the wings. The dead grasshoppers are eaten by the living ones, the hoppers being of a cannibalistic nature, which evidently transmits the maggot to the living.

Street Lights Cleaned.

Wayne street lights are shining a little brighter as a result of the cleaning they received last week by light department employes. All globes were removed and thoroughly washed. In some cases the new type of electrolier globes were put up to replace the old round globes.

Has Narrow Escape.

When a window curtain blew onto a stove Thursday morning at the O. P. Birdsell residence, the curtain and shade were destroyed and the window sash scorched. Mrs. Birdsell extinguished the blaze by throwing water onto the fire.

State Secretary Here.

Charles A. Bowers of Lincoln, state secretary of the Nebraska Teachers' association, was in Wayne several days last week on business. He spoke at the chapel exercises at the State Teachers College Wednesday.

Hydrants Being Painted.

Fairness Found Rule Of Travel

Men On Road Do Not Hold Hoover Responsible For Conditions.

Absolute fairness is the rule among the great multitude of men, commonly called "bums," who are traveling from place to place all over the county, according to Harold Hayes who arrived in Wayne last Thursday evening after spending four weeks in the northwest. Many of these travelers are skilled engineers and other specialized artisans who have just had hard luck. They are traveling from one section to another and most of them are trying to locate work, Mr. Hayes says.

This traveling population, Mr. Hayes further asserts, does not hold President Hoover responsible for conditions. They know they are victims of an unfortunate economic crisis and they all hold hope that things will improve soon.

When Mr. Hayes found himself out of work here some weeks ago, he "rode the cars" to Wisconsin to visit his mother. Finding nothing to do there, he returned to Wayne and four weeks ago last Friday left for the northwest in search of work.

Going to Chadron, Neb., and then to Billings and Helena, Mont., Hayes rode freight and oil cars with the other travelers. He found mining operations practically at a standstill. Long lines of freight cars loaded with coal are standing on tracks beside the mines, waiting for market.

Leaving for Montana, Mr. Hayes traveled to Vancouver, Wash., and then down to Portland, Ore. The irrigated fruit valley near Portland he found the most beautiful and productive of any places he stopped. Cherries, strawberries and other berries were ripening. The crops were enormous but canneries are operating only part time. One plant was open two days to can the strawberry crop. Raisers received word to bring berries in just the two days, and then to market only the largest and finest fruit. The canneries have large stocks of goods left over from other seasons so they are putting up only a portion of this year's crop. The producers have to find a way of disposing of the rest, and much goes to waste. Oregon, with its fruit and wonderful roses, looked like a paradise garden, Mr. Hayes says.

The traveler stopped in Ashland, Ore., at the mineral springs and then went to Sacramento, Calif., and from there to Reno, Nevada. Reno is crowded, Mr. Hayes says, with gamblers. Everyone seems to have money, though many don't and they spend dollars recklessly, he continued. Big preparations were under way at Reno for the Fourth of July fight which Jack Dempsey promoted.

Mr. Hayes went to Salt Lake City, and the Mormon temple and tabernacle impressed him as most beautiful. He went to the tabernacle but visitors were not allowed in the temple. The Royal gorge, the next stop made, presents wonderful magnitude and marvelous scenery. Hayes stopped in Denver and Omaha enroute back.

On freight trains one finds all types of people, Mr. Hayes says. Most of the railroad lines allow the men rides without objection and some even add extra freight cars in which they allow the travelers to stay. Some of the men are "seasoned bums" who have been on the road for years. They have no work and no homes, and they prefer this life to any other. In the traveling population also are the skilled artisans who are making earnest effort to locate jobs. At various stops they go from house to house and store to store trying to pick up work. Most people are kind, Mr. Hayes observed, and allow a man to mow a lawn, clean up an alley or do something of that sort to earn a little. Another group among the travelers includes boys between the ages of 15 and 20 who are traveling just for the fun of it. These young folks usually have homes and care. Three of these young men lost their lives in smoke sheds at Reno and two in a tunnel in Montana, while Mr. Hayes was traveling. Home is the best place for these young people, Mr. Hayes asserts.

Most stores and most home keepers are good about giving food to hungry men, the Wayne traveler found. Some cities have missions and each transient is given a ticket which entitles him to food and lodging at the mission. Breakfast at such places usually consists of oatmeal, bread and coffee. The dinner menu is usually potatoes and gravy, bread and coffee, and the supper is hash, bread and milk. All supplies for the missions are donated.

The travelers have congregating places in each city. They bring their supplies to such a place and prepare their coffee. Everyone gets an equal share, the rule being to divide with the others. Tobacco, which is hardest to obtain, is divided with comrades even to breaking the last cigaret, Mr. Hayes says.

Most of the travelers, Mr. Hayes says, are men who like to be neat and clean. Being so is a hard task when riding behind train engines. The men wash often and with their tin can facilities boil and wash their clothes.

If Mr. Hayes is successful in finding work here again, he will remain. Otherwise he plans to head south and go through Texas and Mexico.

K. N. Parke Heads Teachers' Group

Succeeds Prof. Jackman As President Of District Organization.

Prof. K. N. Parke instructor at the State Teachers College, has succeeded Prof. W. C. Jackman, formerly of Wakefield, as president of district three of the Nebraska State Teachers' association.

Prof. Parke had been vice president and was placed at the head of the organization when Prof. Jackman resigned. Supt. M. R. Mortenson of Long Pine, Neb., has been appointed vice president to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Parke's change.

The district covers nearly one-sixth of the state of Nebraska. Plans are being made for the district convention, which will be held at Norfolk October 27 and 28.

EIGHTYONE DOGS SAFE FROM LONG ARM OF THE LAW

Eightyone Wayne dogs are now safe from the long arm of the law, at least as long as they don't lose their collar or bite somebody.

It is the largest number of licenses ever issued for a single year here, Walter Dressler, city clerk, said. Applications for licenses are still being received, some times as many as three a day.

The previous record number of dog licenses was 70, established in 1931. Councilmen have urged that every dog owner procure a license for his pet.

Two Boys Killed In Truck Accident

Darrell Frey, 18, of Pierce, and Harry Merritt, 22, of Lincoln, were fatally injured Thursday evening when the truck they were riding struck a telephone pole south of Omaha. Both died before help could be summoned. The truck failed to turn a curve in the road. When the lads saw the car was going off the grade, they jumped but were caught beneath the truck.

The two were returning to the Merritt sand company pit near Plattsmouth after taking a load of gravel to Papillion when the accident happened.

Darrell Frey was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Frey of Pierce.

Crops Are Good At Hooper Farm

Chris Holst of Hooper, formerly of Wayne, was here last Friday on business. Mr. Holst reports crops on his 235-acre farm in excellent condition. Oats have grown to a height of about four feet and the crop is ripening. Mr. Holst has 175 acres in corn which is the height of horses. The corn is beginning to tassel. Mr. Holst also reports his potatoes producing a fine amount. From nine hills he dug a five-gallon can of potatoes.

Youth Here Named In Ripley Cartoon

Max Hendrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hendrickson of Wayne, had the distinction of having his name appear in Robert Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" cartoon last Thursday.

Ripley noted the fact that Max had twice made a golf hole in one using the same club and same ball. The incident took place while he was playing at the Country club last season.

Attend Cousin's Funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Weber were in Stanton Wednesday last week to attend the funeral of Louis Smithberger, 72, cousin of Mr. Weber, who died in a Norfolk hospital. Deceased was a Stanton county pioneer and prominent stock raiser. He had served as state representative and also as clerk in Stanton county. His wife, a son and daughter survive. Rev. Carl Johnson of Lincoln, had charge of the services which were attended by about 1,000 friends.

Indefinite furloughs were given 75 members of the federal prohibition bureau as the first step toward meeting a budget which has been reduced $1,686,000 by congress.

Great Changes Require Time.

Omaha Journal-Stockman: Our ambassador to the court of St. James was not given to delivering public addresses during his long career as secretary of the treasury. In London, however, the demand for his services on public occasions is great and some of his brief addresses are really notable. A recent talk he gave on the depression in America and the certainty that its problems will eventually be solved, is a gem in its way.

"We have found," said Mr. Mellon, "that the machine civilization which has been evolved in recent years cannot be made to function with ever-increasing speed, and that new inventions and overproduction have necessitated a period of slowing down until the world adjusts itself to the conditions that have arisen since the war.

"One must remember, however, that America is a young country in outlook as well as in years. Many of our faults are the faults of youths, but we have also the energy and under ordinary circumstances the boundless optimism that goes with youth, and a belief in our capacity to achieve that which we set out to do."

It is reassuring to find a man with the experience of Ambassador Mellon, giving voice to the calm conviction that while our difficulties at times seem insurmountable the energy and optimism of the people is certain to find a way out.

Nine Cent Cattle; Six Cent Hogs?

Omaha Journal-Stockman: Always optimisitic. Stockmen are forever figuring on higher prices. One veteran in the business closes a letter to the editor with the characteristic preduction, "yours for 9-cent cattle and 6-cent hogs by October."

He may be right at that but did you ever stop and think what would happen to this country if we were not continually expecting better things? It is the anticipation of higher prices that keeps the stock grower on the job and provides the nation with its meat. There would be a lot of hungry people in this and every other land if it were not for the never failing hopefulness of farmers and stock growers.

Nine-cent cattle and six-cent hogs by fall! We all hope these prices will be realized because we know now that until the farmer realizes good prices for his products he is not going to buy manufactured products, and until these manufactured products begin selling the factories are not going to start up, and put the unemployed back to work. Until farm products bring good prices the rest of us are going to continue to sit around and complain of the depression.

Cattle up to $9.00 and hogs up to $6.00 before snow flies! You can get even money on the proposition anywhere in the Corn Belt.

Maple Mouse.
(Mrs. E. J. Huntemer)

1-2 cup maple syrup
1-2 cup milk
1 teaspoon gelatine (Knox)

Put on stove and scald. Add two egg yolks and cook until thick. Then add 2 beaten egg whites, cool and add 1-2 pint whipped cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Turn into refrigerator trays and freeze.

Angel Pie.
(Mrs. Earl Merchant)

11 graham crackers rolled fine
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 cup broken walnuts
Pinch of salt

Beat egg yolks with sugar. Add cracker crumbs and baking powder. Add nuts. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn in deep buttered tin and bake 30 minutes. Serve very cold with whipped cream or custard sauce.

Graham Cracker Waffles.
(Mrs. Earl Merchant)

1 cup flour
5 graham crackers
4 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 1-4 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Roll graham crackers and moisten with milk. Add well beaten egg, balance of milk and butter. Mix well, bake and serve hot.

Simple Chocolate Cake.
(Mrs. E. J. Huntemer)

2 cups brown sugar, sifted
1-2 cup butter
2 eggs
3 squares chocolate, melted
1 cup sweet milk
Level teaspoon soda (dissolved in the milk)
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter, add sugar gradually. Drop in one of unbeaten eggs and beat well. Then add other unbeaten egg and beat well. Then add the melted chocolate and beat again. Add the flour and milk alternately, a small amount of each at a time and beat until smooth after each addition. Add vanilla last and bake.

Chocolate Ice Cream.
(Mrs. E. J. Huntemer)

1 1-2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 cups rich milk
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup sugar
1 1-2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cream
Few grains salt

Melt chocolate and add scalded milk very slowly. Mix cornstarch with sugar and add to chocolate mixture. Cook ten minutes, stirring until thickened. Cool and add vanilla. Turn into refrigerator trays and freeze to mush. Fold in whipped cream to which salt has been added. Return to the refrigerator and let freeze until of proper consistency to serve.

This mixture may be frozen in a freezer also.

The ice cream makes a nice dessert when served with meringues.

Early Days In Wayne County

From the Herald files of July 13, 1916.

The fifth annual tournament of the Nebraska State tennis association will begin at the courts of the Wayne tennis club July 17. The meet will last all week. One hundred entries are expected.

A crowd of 83 West Point boosters, both men and women, came to Wayne in a special train Tuesday with banners and badges galore, and a brass band discoursing lively music. The object of the visit was to advertise the race meet to be held at West Point next week.

Weldon F. Crossland and bride arrived in Wayne last evening from University Place, Neb., where they were married July 11. The bride formerly was Miss Mildred Claflin.

A daughter was born Monday, July 10, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris of Wayne.

More than 200 Masons, Eastern Stars and their friends assembled at Bressler's grove Friday afternoon for their annual out-door jollification. No time was lost in driving stakes for horseshoe and soon three games were in progress. Even the ladies became interested in the game and at least one ringer was pitched by a fair hand.

A son was born July 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hollman of Wayne.

Mrs. Henry Ley has proposed that Wayne residents make a weekly shipment of books and magazines to the soldiers who are now encamped at Llano, Tex.

L. W. Roe and Forrest Hughes, chairman and secretary respectively of the republican county central committee, have issued a call for a meeting of the committee Saturday to arrange for the county convention, which will be held July 22.

Members of the Public Service club will dine at the Gem cafe with the chautauqua lecturer, Frank Stockdale, Friday.

Wayne chautauqua is in full swing and the public, pleased with the excellence and unique flavor of the programs of the opening days, will continue to throng the big tent at both the afternoon and evening sessions yet to come.

Saturday noon as Mrs. C. J. Huff was coming up the basement steps with her hands full of dishes, she paused on the landing to push a door shut. Presumably in turning to mount the next step she became dizzy for she pitched forward, striking her forehead on the top step and then fell backwards to the basement floor. She was unconscious for several hours. Her daughter, Miss Ethel Huff, stepped to the door just in time to see her fall.

Walter Gaebler of Winside, was chosen temporary chairman and J. H. Kemp of Wayne, temporary secretary, at a meeting of representatives of Wayne county democracy in the district court room last Saturday. Delegates elected to the state convention were Philip Kohl, W. O. Hanssen, L. A. Kiplinger, Henry Bartels, J. H. Massie, Simon Strate, W. H. James and Charley Killian.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning took place a quiet home wedding when Miss Nellie Soules was united in marriage to B. B. Hollis of Columbus at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Soules.

Liberal provisions for the coming 12 months have been made by the Bell Telephone system for its employes who have been called out for service with the national guard. For the first three months, the men will be granted full pay. For the remaining nine months salaries will continue in full force less the amount received from the government.

A report of County Assessor A. H. Carter shows that the actual value of horses, mules and cattle in Wayne county aggregates $1,803,-860, while the property of the railroads in the county totals $1,914,-780.

Members of the Farmers Union and their families attended a wiener roast at the Park Hill school grounds Monday evening.

The choral union of the Welsh community at Carroll has arranged to give its opheretta, "Sylvia," at Randolph July 21.

Henry Schluns has begun excavation for the basement of his fine new residence in Carroll.

Wakefield is enjoying an excellent five-day chautauqua program put on by the Redpath-Horner bureau this week.

A daughter was born July 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bichel of Wakefield.

Miss Josephine and Miss Edith Carter entertained members of the Home Department at Winside. Mrs. R. H. Morrow and Mrs. J. A. Naylor led the lesson study. Miss Gertrude Bayes will be the leader at the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. I. O. Brown.

A local dealer has suggested the advisability of keeping the stores open two nights a week instead of one during the summer.

J. W. Maholm and wife, who were among the earliest settlers of this county, are visiting Wayne and vicinity this week. Mr. Maholm took a homestead in Leslie precinct in 1869. In 1875 he carried the mail between LaPorte and Poncal. He was a resident here during the terrible years of blizzards, grasshoppers and prairie fires.

F. A. Salmon has purchased J. H. Vibber's interest in the Gem cafe.

Members of Company E have been transferred from Lincoln to Texas to await further orders.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bressler and son, John, and daughter, Dorothy, left Saturday for Lake Okobodji for several weeks' outing. Ralph Crockett took them over in the car, returning to Wayne by rail.

President U. S. Conn donated a water fountain to the new chautauqua park. Every chautauqua patron who enjoys a cool drink from this bubbling fount is grateful to the giver.

Last Friday evening a crowd of about 15 Carroll residents autoed to Honey's grove north of that town to enjoy a few hours out-of-doors. A tempting picnic supper was one of the features of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell Rees' two sons, Franklin and Owen, and their daughter, Mary, were seized with ptomaine poisoning last Wednesday.

Harvey Garwood of Carroll, whose wife is away on a visit, decided to try his hand at entertaining. Accordingly, Saturday evening his four nieces were invited to his home for a slumber party. The girls enjoyed a jolly evening with music, games and story telling and declared that their uncle served a delicious breakfast the next morning.

Potato fields in Holt county are promising the largest yield on record. One stand in the Dave Loy patch is said to have produced forty-two potatoes, not yet half grown. If these had been permitted to fully develop, it is calculated they would occupy the space of a half bushel measure.

Robbers who entered the Council Oak store at Laurel last week didn't take a chance on opening the safe in the store. They loaded it on a truck and hauled it to some place not yet discovered to open it. It contained $100 in cash and $400 in checks which were endorsed, but for deposit only and therefore will not be negotiable.

The disbarment of Ralph J. Scoville, Hartington attorney, today was directed by the Nebraska supreme court upon an action instituted by Atty. Gen. C. A. Sorensen. Sorensen's action was based upon the conviction of Scoville in federal court in 1929 of attempting to extort $10,000 from Frank Tillman, jr. Scoville admitted the conviction but held he had not practiced law for about seven years prior to that time.

Wise Legislation.

York Republican: The plan proposed by Attorney General Sorensen to create a Public Safety Commission composed of the six constitutional state officers, with the Governor as chairman, seems to this newspaper a wise one. It would place the enforcement of state laws, the patrol of the highways, the enforcement of traffic rules under a bi-partisan commission and set up new and modern machinery for the same. The cost of the department would be borne by the gasoline tax.

The attorney general hopes to get his bill enacted into law through an initiative petition that will put the proposal on the ballot this fall.

The public safety department should be taken out of politics. It is well known that the state sheriff's office has lost its power and force under the present politically-appointed sheriff.

Highway problems and flaunting of traffic rules increase with every improvement of the highway system. There is lack of coordination of regulation and authority. Mr. Sorensen's bill would greatly help this situation.

A superintendent of public safety, appointed by the safety commission, would assume the duties now performed by the state sheriff, the state fire marshal, and would have control of all highway patrols. This would be concentrated authority making for speed and efficiency in law enforcement.

A reorganization of the law enforcement departments in this state has been due for several years. We are working under a worn-out, misconceived political system. Under the present governor, czar-like power has been usurped and every appointed department head demoted to a yes-yes man, mouthing the words of his superior.

Mr. Sorensen's bill offers a most sensible and timely method of law enforcement reform.

Looking On Dark Side.
(Geneva Signal)

Today, some of us will read about politics, some about Europe's debts, amounting to ten billions, one hundred dollars for every one of our unemployed; some will read about science, some about crime.

All, with few exceptions, will read about the Schmeling-Sharkey prize fight.

Future historians will find in that national interest in the effort of one man to beat another with his fists, no principle or righteous cause being involved, much information concerning what we humorously call our "civilization."—Arthur Brisbane.

As a matter of fact, most of those really interested in prize fights heard all about it over the radio while it was going on. Students of this noble, manly art refreshed their memories and lived over their joyful sensations while reading the sporting columns of the morning papers.

It would be interesting to know how many American citizens turned off their radios in digust when they found most of the air channels filled with prize fight ballyhoo. Many men, women and children like to listen to and read accounts of this brutal so-called sport, it is true, being built mentally and morally that way, but there must be in this partly civilized country millions who think the whole thing degrading and wholly lacking in interest.

History Society Convenes.

Madison, Neb.—Among guests at the Madison County Historical society, meeting in Madison, were A. E. Sheldon, secretary of the State Historical society, and Capt. Lute North of Columbus, Neb. Capt. North, 85 years old, attracted a great deal of attention when he was introduced as a Pawnee scout. With his brother, Maj. Frank North, he commanded a company of Pawnee Indians between 1867 and 1870.

Will Rogers declares for the sales tax—it will not apply to wisecracks.—Tampa Tribune.

Foliage Symmetry At Mount Vernon

Visitors to Mount Vernon are sure to be impressed with the dignity and serenity which pervades the entire state. The design for Mount Vernon planned in 1783, is supremely simple and at the same time most interesting and a rarely original scheme, according to the Division of Information of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission. It is gracious and warm and inviting, and was all of this when its trees were young and the ancient boxwood was just beginning to grow, for it is not entirely to time that this garden must lay its charm.

The symmetry, or to be more literally exact, the formality of the general design is preserved with the scrupulous care which we should expect in so fastidious a man as Washington. General Washington could no more have made a garden that was informal than he could have descended to act the clown in cap and bells. His matchless poise and grave and beautiful majesty could only reflect in a creation of similar balance and stateliness. By studying Mount Vernon both in its plan and in its endless, beautiful perspectives and vistas, it is possible to come nearer to an understanding of that quality in George Washington which made all men stand a little in awe of him. One sees in Mount Vernon, as well as feels the bigness of his mold, physical, mental and spiritual, that set him apart from all his kind and yet made him to be so greatly loved.

In his own plan for the place Washington calls both gardens, "Kitchen gardens," but the enclosed garden on the north side of the lawn is the flower garden and the famous garden of boxwood. The kitchen garden lies opposite on the south, back of its similar brick wall, topped with white palings. Situated here, on the gentle slope where the land begins to fall away towards the river, this garden is terraced into two levels its entire length. The gate in the wall which leads in from the lawn is met by a walk that crosses the upper terrace to steps which descend to the common vegetable level. This upper terrace entertains only the finer herbs, the salads, simple and small fruits, with the fine tree fruits against the wall as it faces the south. Apricots, nectarines, peaches, fine plums, pears—all these were trained against the wall in Washington's time, as is the English custom; and the General's table enjoyed the earliest and richest delicacies as a consequence.

The upper terrace is a charming garden. In addition to its herbs and wall fruits, there are grapes trellised along the terrace edge, and shrubs here and there. A border of venerable, unkempt boxwood incloses the walk from the lawn to the steps, and there are old flowers, both annual and perennial, brightening the soberer beds of salad and savory. Poppies, sweet peas, hollyhocks, sweet Williams, gilliflowers, stocks, mingle in the oldest garden fashion with the cabbages, lettuce, cucumbers, the sage, marjoram, lavender and thyme. Although this garden is actually only a little more than one hundred years old, it might easily be three centuries old so consistently does it conform to the earlier modes, before purely "pleasure gardens" of flowers alone, were made.

In the finer flower garden at Mount Vernon, opposite the "kitchen garden" are old fashioned flowers which would be considered extremely modern when compared to the sweet south garden. Backing this are the great greenhouses where many rare exotics found a home. Gifts such as these came to the idolized general, and of course, continued to come to the President in even greater numbers. He was never too busy to thank personally the giver. "With much sensibility I received your polite letter," he writes to one from Philadelphia, in 1795, "I thank you, Sir, for the plants which are mentioned in the list which accompanied it.—When my situation will allow me to pay more attention than I am able to do at present to situations of this kind, which combine utility, ornament and amusement—I shall certainly avail myself of the liberty you have authorized me to take, in requesting a small supply of such exotics, as, with a little aid may be reconciled to the climate of my garden."

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission is sponsoring a campaign for planting flowers in every vacant strip of available soil during this summer. Lists of Colonial flowers, annuals, perennials, etc., with color combinations, will be sent free upon request. Please address the Garden Editor, United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, Washington Building, Washington, D. C.

Method Explained For Controlling Ants

Lincoln, Neb.—Many housewives are complaining at this time of year about the presence of ants in their kitchens. For control purposes ants are placed in two groups—those that eat greasy foods, and those that eat sweet foods. A quick killing poison is not desirable since it is best to have one which can be carried back to the nests and fed to the young. In that way it will kill not only those ants that are hunting around for food, but will also the young in the nests as well as the queen.

The Nebraska College of Agriculture recommends the use of tartar emetic. This is a white powder that can be stirred directly into the bait. For the grease eating ants take 20 parts of the grease they are eating and mix with it one part of tartar emetic. If they are sweet eating ants use 20 parts of honey, or syrup, and one part of the tartar emetic. As soon as the poison is stirred into the bait it is ready to use, but one should not mix more of the poisoned bait than will be used right up. This bait can be spread with a knife on objects near where the ants are working. In a few days, after the ants have disappeared, it can easily be washed off. A little placed under the door sill or under the window sill on the outside of the house, or even along the baseboard in the house will attract and soon kill the ants. They will not die in the house.

Since the baits are poison, the usual precautions should be taken to prevent poisoning of human beings or domestic animals.

State Apple Crop Will Be Lighter

Lincoln, Neb., July 1—Nebraska's 1932 apple crop will be lighter than last year, E. H. Hoppert, extension horticulturist at the college of agriculture, said today.

He has just returned from the fruit growing section of southeastern Nebraska. The producers may receive a higher price for their apples this fall, however, than they did last year.

Hoppert inspected orchards around Nebraska City, Shubert, Union, Auburn and Brownville on the trip and found the crop spotted.

It appears the heaviest around Peru and Juljan with the exception the Winesap variety. Unfavorable weather conditions this spring combined with the heavy crop of last year are factors causing the reduced Winesap yield.

Scab has also been a factor in reducing the yields of the apples. The scab got on the stems of the young apples early in the season and caused the dropping to be heavier than usual. Hoppert says the scab is heavier than any year since 1916, due chiefly to wet weather this spring.

Grimes and Jonathan are expected to be among the highest yielding varieties in the southeastern territory this year. Black Twig, however, is another that may produce a heavy crop. Dutchess, an early apple, will yield but a light crop.

Time Of Culling Of Wheat Varies

Lincoln, Neb.—In calling attention to the fact that the harvest season is near at hand, Dr. T. A. Kiesselbach, of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture declared the time for cutting wheat depends upon whether a binder or combine is used.

Experiments at the college showed wheat cut three days before ripe yields two bushels less an acre than when ripe and seven days before ripe the yield is 6 bushels less.

With oats it is a different proposition the college man added. It is generally recognized the oats straw makes a better and more palatable feed if the crop is cut slightly green. If handled this way, the grain yield is somewhat reduced as has been described with wheat, but no actual loss is sustained since the additional substance is contained in the straw and eaten by the live stock.

Assessments Cut In Cedar County

Hartington, Neb.—In a supreme effort to meet the exigencies of the economic situation and lighten the burden of the taxpayers, the board of equalization slashed the assessed valuation of Cedar county land, lots and improvements 25 per cent as its last official act before adjournment.

Whether this drastic reduction in the valuation of real estate will stand or not, it remains for the state board of equalization which convenes in July, to decide.

Fair and Warmer.

Omaha World-Herald: Scientists browsing about the jungles of Central America and Venezuela have found plant and animal life closely akin to that which once flourished on the North American continent, but of which nothing now exists except fossil remnants. They conclude therefore that the climatological progress of the continent has been from the excessive heat and moisture of the jungle to the comparatively cooler and drier condition which now prevails. They further conclude that this is a continuing condition and that, barring some great cosmic change, our progress will be toward a cooler and a drier world.

However sound this conclusion may be, it is extremely unlikely that we, our children or our children's children will ever experience any perceptible change in climate from that existing in the day of our fathers and our fathers' fathers.

For a great many years now the government weather bureau has been recording weather occurrences in minute detail. A study of its assembled data leads to the conclusion that, taking one year with another, there is no noticeable change in the climate, no definite drift in any direction, either toward more heat or more cold, more rain or more drouth. The years differ from one another and every once in a while a new record of abnormality is established. But in the end they average up about as usual, the abnormality of one year being offset within the next few succeeding years by a similar abnormality in an opposite direction.

Whatever hypothesis may be warranted from the record which the ages have left in the rocks, the compiled record of actual phenomena which careful observers have set down leads only to the conclusion that this is due for a good many succeeding ages to remain the temperate zone, which means that it will continue to experience a good many seasonal occurrences of intemperate weather.

Inspect Cedar Fields.

Hartington, Neb.—Cedar county farmers recently inspected small grain varieties in the test plats under the supervision of County Club Leader Webster and D. L. Gross, extension agronomist of the College of Agriculture at Lincoln.

Webster arranged for a meeting of local farmers at the test plats so they could observe growing conditions. Gross explained the different varieties to the farmers and pointed out their individual characteristics. The plats later will be harvested and the results computed and made public. Several different varieties of wheat, oats and barley are being used in the test.

On Raising Hogs.

Lincoln, Neb.—Prof. William J. Loeffel, of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, is very skeptical about raising soybeans for hog feed in Nebraska.

Experiments conducted at the college the past year show pork produced from soybeans was very soft. The college man points out that if a large percentage of Nebraska hogs kill soft the packers will discount all of them sold by Cornhusker farmers. Southern pigs are discounted at the present time unless they are guaranteed to kill hard.

The Silver Lining.

Omaha World-Herald: The proverbial silver lining is something more than a lining in Nebraska these days. There is quite a lot of it plainly visible around the edges of the cloud. It is visible in the copious rains which have brought an excess of precipitation to the eastern section of the state and what is reported to be ample moisture elsewhere. It is particularly visible in the rising prices for beef cattle and hogs. For two weeks the live stock market has been steadily gaining strength. There are fundamental conditions which give hope that the ground gained will be held, if indeed the rise does not continue. People are eating more meat, the result presumably of the lower retail prices.

There was a considerable acreage of winter killed wheat in the state. But winter killing of wheat is not an irretrievable loss. The land is still available for spring planting and a great deal of the damaged acreage will yield another small grain or corn crop.

There has been also a great deal of disquieting talk about the possibility of grasshopper damage, but nowhere does there appear to be the threat of any such devastating scourge as that which swept across northeastern Nebraska last summer. The very area in which ruin was completed last year has been described as now blooming, with one alfalfa crop already harvested and the promise of other crops bright.

It will doubtless be a long, hard pull back to prosperity for agriculture, but it needn't be an altogether discouraging one.

Members of the Dorman family enjoyed a reunion Sunday at the Dan Heithold home. Picnic dinner was served at noon and ice cream and cake in the afternoon. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Junck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Draghu and family of Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. August Franzen of Randolph, Mrs. Adolph Dorman, Miss Helen Dorman and Mr. and Mrs. August Dorman and daughter.

To Leave on Trip.

Miss Mildred Reed plans to leave July 10 or 11 for Alaska. She goes to Seattle and from there by boat to Skagway, Alaska, from which place the party takes an inland tour. The trip from Seattle and back takes 14 days. Miss Reed will then go by train to Los Angeles to attend the olympics. She plans to join an omnibus college at Los Angeles and return through the northwest, visiting national parks and other places of interest. She will spend a week in Yellowstone park and plans to return home the first of September.

Valuation Is Cut.

Ponca, Neb.—After a hearing at which 15 witnesses from all parts of Dixon county gave testimony as to present land values, and after consideration of petitions signed by hundreds of taxpayers, the county board of equalization and the board of supervisors reduced this year's assessed land valuation by 20 per cent.

Dogs Kill Turkey.

Pleasant Dale, Neb. — Tramp mongrel dogs slaughtered 40 small turkeys on the Francis Weller ranch in Holt county.

The dogs had been hanging around for some time and made their kill after the family left on a trip to Stuart.

Madison Bank Pays.

Lincoln, Neb.—Payment of a 5 per cent dividend amounting to $6,603 to depositors of the State bank of Madison, by the state division of trade and commerce, was made. This brings the total payments to 85 per cent, or $112,252.

Overcome By Heat.

Lincoln, Neb. Rudolph Brazda, former state senator of West Point, was overcome by heat at the capitol while attending the bidding of contractors on state and federal highway work.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gunderson and Miss Helen Parson of Stevens Point, Wis., spent Thursday night here in the Prof. G. W. Costerisan home. They left Friday for a trip to Alberta, Canada, and were accompanied by Mrs. Costerisan's mother, Mrs. Anna M. Larson, who had been here for some time. Mrs. Gunderson is an aunt and Miss Parson a cousin of Mrs. Costerisan.

Woman And Son Burned In Fire

Osmond, Neb., July 3—Mrs. Henry Fleming and her son, Cecil, 12, an old child, were burned to death early Sunday morning in a fire of unknown origin that destroyed their home.

The husband and father escaped by jumping from a second story window. He called to his wife and son to leap and he would catch them, he related. His wife tried several times to get Cecil to jump from the window, but without success. The father dashed into the house, trying to get to them, but was stopped by the flames.

Help arrived too late to be of any avail.

The fire had gained big headway before the smoke awakened the family at 4 a. m.

Mrs. Fleming grew to womanhood at Royal, Neb. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bunge of Royal.

Child Crushed to Death.

Plainview, Neb.—A fatal accident happened to little Howard Randolph, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Sorensen who reside near Winnetoon when the little one's arm was caught in the gearing of a tractor which pulled him forward until he was crushed. The child was being cared for by his father when the accident happened, the mother being confined to her bed with a week old child.

Madison Man Gets Injunction.

Lincoln, Neb.—A decision affecting the motion picture business throughout this district of the federal court has geen rendered by Judge Munger in the case where William N. Youngclaus, manager of a theatre at Madison, sought an injunction to prevent enforcement of a zoning system which prevented him from showing pictures within 10 days of the time they were shown in Norfolk, which is only 15 miles from Madison.

Repairing Damage.

Tekamah, Neb.—The city council at its meeting Monday evening took action toward immediate repairs for the concrete retaining walls along the creek bank, damaged by the recent high water. Bids will be requested for the repair work.

Receives More "Hopper" Poison.

Lincoln, Neb.—Antelope county, hardest hit of all grasshopper ridden counties, is to receive another half car of grasshopper poison, according to Dwight Felton, deputy secretary of the state department of agriculture. This makes a total of one carload sent to Antelope county, which is to be matched by a like purchase by the county itself.

Recently published figures show that flying is decidedly cheaper than it was last year. Evidently the cost of going up is coming down.—The Humorist (London).

For the MILLIONS who Drank Beer

These new friends have come to us because they realize that the same old masters make it in the same old way. We use the same selected malt, the same domestic and imported Bohemian hops. For years we have spent effort and money, lavishly, to satisfy legally your craving for this delightful drink.

In the brewing we develop the old alcoholic content. After the brew has been aged for months to ripen, we extract the alcohol to meet the law. All else is there. Atlas Special Brew meets every legal and health requirement. It comes to you pasteurized in the bottle, so pure that doctors endorse it and a famous laboratory certifies every bottle.

Once you taste it, once you note its foam and flavor, its aroma and zest, you will never be satisfied with harmful substitutes.

Most drug, grocery and delicatessen stores have it at 15 cents a bottle. But prove it first at our expense. The coupon will bring two bottles with our compliments. Clip coupon now.
