WAYNE REPUBLICAN.

Published at the residence of the Editor, Wayne, Nebraska, on Wednesday, March 16, 1897.

The democratic national convention will be held in Chicago July 15th.

Misogynism is a very useful thing. It takes a good deal of bull.

There may be two sides to the American question, but the only one we have got hold of is the one on our side.

"Theodore the Great" is the christian dog, is about the only one that gets it when he roars, but he will roar to be given to the christianity.

The "dial" occupies seven columns and a half column of Dr. Murray's dictionary, says the Chicago later Omaha. Yet, and then there is money of bits left to be given to the world.

Preparations for the next election, please understand. To make sure, make more butter, feed more cows and plant to take better care of the best and the best will always come from Nebraska farms like milk before a new year.

Jacob Blood has been arrested lately at Omaha charged with selling stolen goods for five years and a fine of $100. He is now in the penitentiary for five years and a fine of $100.

It is a pity that the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture is not more active in its efforts to improve the condition of the soil.

ing of delegates to represent us as the national convention will have to be held in May and to nominate our candidate for the presidency and make a long campaign. The question is whether it is worth the expense of the time and money to be expended in a contest of this kind. The advocates of the single session plan argue that the national convention will not open until the autumn season which will be extremely hot in September, and that there will be a loss of confidence for the different phases, and the winter weather is not so good as to hold the standard bearer of the party and to be in the state of the nation. Certainly a course of long months of incessant campaigning and the wearing of an endless campaign would give ample time to see over the matter that may be made in the course of one or two sessions. REDHOT JOURNALISM

TRIAL OF A CONSPIRACY NEWS- PAPER DURING THE WAR

Wrecking of the War, to Three Days, Every Week was Edited in Conf. He Availing With Original News From the Paper's Office, He Closed.

The story of the Red Hot Journal is a story of the most heroic and patriotic journalism that has ever been published in this country. It is a story of a man who, in the face of all odds, stood up for the truth and for the rights of his country.

The Red Hot Journal was published by Frank M. Rowland. It was a weekly newspaper that was known for its bold and fearless editorials. It was a paper that was not afraid to speak the truth, no matter how unpopular it might be.

Rowland was a man of great courage and conviction. He was a man who believed in the principles of democracy and in the rights of every citizen. He was a man who was not afraid to stand up to the powers that be.

Rowland's paper was a voice for the people. It was a paper that was not afraid to speak the truth, no matter how unpopular it might be. It was a paper that was not afraid to stand up to the powers that be.

FARM AND GARDEN.

GRIER CRISPS AS TO THEIR SUCCESSFUL MANAGEMENT.

A Practical and Complete Directory Shows How to Make the Most of the Home-Produced Potatoes and Cabbage.

Soil and Location. Potatoes should be planted in a rich, deep soil, free from stones and weeds. The soil should be well cultivated and the plants should be spaced at least two feet apart. Potatoes should be planted in a cool, well-ventilated place, and should be protected from frost.

Cultivation. Potatoes should be cultivated regularly, and the plants should be kept free from weeds. The soil should be kept moist, and the plants should be watered if necessary. Potatoes should be harvested when the leaves are yellow and the tubers are of the size desired.

Storage. Potatoes should be stored in a cool, dark place, free from frost and light. The potatoes should be kept in a well-ventilated container, and should be checked regularly for signs of rot or disease. Potatoes should be used as soon as possible, and should not be stored for more than a few weeks.

Preparation. Potatoes should be prepared in a variety of ways, including boiling, baking, and frying. Potatoes should be washed thoroughly before use, and should be cut into uniform pieces. Potatoes should be cooked until tender, and should be served with a variety of seasonings.

Health. Potatoes are a good source of food, and are especially valuable as a source of carbohydrates. Potatoes are also a good source of vitamins and minerals. Potatoes should be eaten in moderation, and should be part of a balanced diet.

Conclusion. Potatoes are a valuable crop, and should be grown by all farmers. Potatoes should be planted in a rich, deep soil, and should be cultivated regularly. Potatoes should be stored in a cool, dark place, and should be used as soon as possible.

HOUSEHOLD.

Early Application of Fertilizers.

In applying fertilizers to the soil, it is best to apply them as early as possible. This will give the plants the best start, and will help them to grow more rapidly. Fertilizers should be applied in a regular, systematic way, and should be used in accordance with the directions on the label.

Watering. Plants should be watered regularly, and the soil should be kept moist. Watering should be done in the morning or evening, and should be done in a way that does not wet the leaves. Watering should be stopped when the plants are in flower, and should be resumed when the fruit begins to form.

Pruning. Plants should be pruned regularly, and the dead or diseased parts should be removed. Pruning should be done in a way that does not damage the plant, and should be done in accordance with the directions on the label. Pruning should be done in the late autumn or early spring.

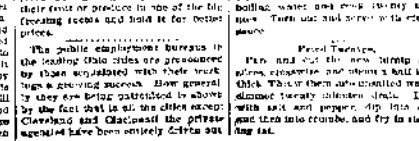

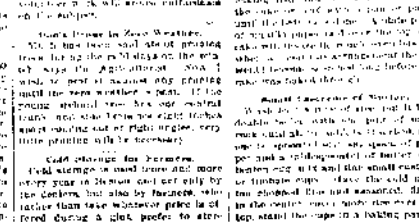

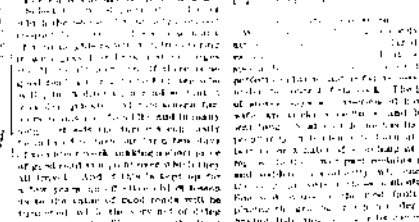

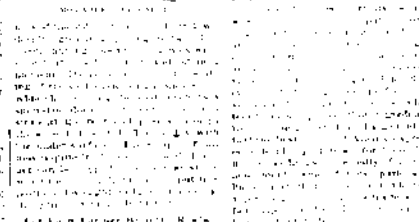

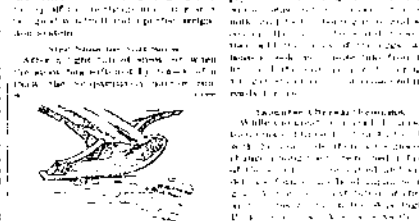

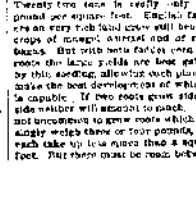

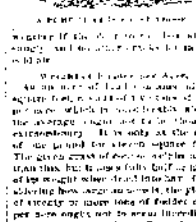

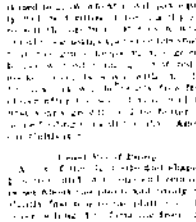

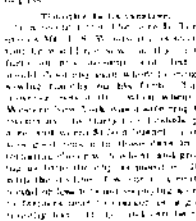

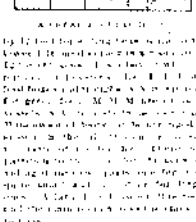

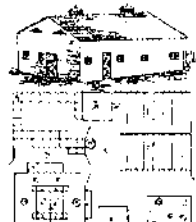

Harvesting. Plants should be harvested when the fruit is of the size desired. Harvesting should be done in a way that does not damage the plant, and should be done in accordance with the directions on the label. Harvesting should be done in the late autumn or early spring.
