Winter haircut

Sheep belonging to Dan Sukup and Matthew Niemann recently were sheared prior to this spring's lambing season. Don Olsen of Bloomfield sheared approximately 40 sheep belonging to the two men. In addition to shearing their winter coats, the sheep were vaccinated and wormed. Lambing season begins in approximately two weeks. An average full grown sheep produces approximately seven pounds of wool per year.

Kick off for Chicken Show to be held Wednesday

Gaila J. Gilliland, Executive Director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries, Inc., announced that a special contest will kick off the planning for the 1998 Wayne Chicken Show.

The contest will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 28 during half-time of the Wayne State College Men's Basketball game vs. Briar Cliff.

Contestants can register by contacting the Chamber at 375-7240 or until 7:15 p.m. on Jan. 28 at the basketball game. Eight contestants for the competition will be selected by lottery at 7:20 p.m. The contestant to eat the most eggs in two minutes will be declared the winner.

The winner of the Hard Boiled Egg Eating Contest will have a chance to appear on Jay Leno's Tonight Show in February. The winner of the 1997 Wayne Chicken Show Cluck Off, Joel Vavra of Crete, appeared on Leno's program in July and was confirmed as the National Cluck Off winner.

According to Karen Shattuck, newly elected Chair Hen for the 1998 Wayne Chicken Show, "We expect the Hard Boiled Egg Eating Contest to get the entire community involved in the Chicken Show."

"Although contestants must be over 18, it will be a lot of fun for families too and we anticipate seeing families, community people and WSC students at the contest," Shattuck said.

Sponsors for the new contest are M.G. Waldbaum Co., Chesterman Bottling Co., Wayne State College and the Wayne Chicken Show.

Witkowski named new director of Research Center

John Witkowski, associate director of the University of Nebraska Northeast Research and Extension Center here, has been named the center's new director.

His appointment is effective March 1.

Iv Ontveilt, NU vice chancellor for agriculture and natural resources and vice chancellor of extended education made the announcement.

"We are very pleased to attract John Witkowski to this key administrative position in NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources," Ontveilt said.

"John has served very effectively as the associate director of the Northeast Research and Extension Center and has an excellent background and the experience to provide visionary leadership for our research and educational programs for northeast Nebraska."

The research and extension offices recently relocated from Concord to the new Northeast Lifelong Learning Center at Norfolk, which will provide new educational opportunities for both the university and the clientele it serves, Ontveilt added.

Facilities remaining at Concord have been renamed the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory.

Witkowski, an IANR entomology specialist and scientist for more than 20 years, has been cited for his work in pest management and is a nationally known expert on European corn borer. His research and extension background include environmental and human aspects of chemigating and integrated pest management programs.

Witkowski has garnered several state and national honors, including a U.S. Department of Agriculture Honors award in 1995, recognition from the American Society of Agricultural Engineers and a citation as IANR Distinguished Cooperative Extension Specialist in 1994.

The Beatrice native received his bachelor's degree in entomology from the University of Nebraska in 1965 and his master's in entomology and marketing in 1970. He earned his doctorate in entomology from Iowa State University in 1975.

Witkowski replaces Robert Fitzsimon, who is retiring after 15 years with NU, including five years as the northeast center director at Concord.

Deadline approaches

Several file for offices

Wayne County Clerk Debra Finn has released a list of those persons who have filed for candidacy in a number of races in Wayne County and the city of Wayne.

Those filing for county races include Michael F. Pieper, county attorney, Debra Finn, county clerk, John M. Ohlrichs, clerk of the District Court, Deborah Hubbard and Kelvin Wordeman for County Commissioner in District I, Myron Miller for County Commissioner in District III, and Lorraine J. Johnson, county treasurer.

All but Hubbard and Wordeman are incumbents.

In City Wards, Vern H. Fanchon has filed for council member in the First Ward, Melvin Diedel for council member in the Second Ward, Ronald F. Pendergast and Roy M. Shelton for council member in the Third Ward, Patty Wieland for council member in the Fourth Ward.

In addition, David Ley and Stanley Morris have filed for re-election to the Wayne Airport Authority.

The incumbent filing deadline is Feb. 15. Because the date falls on a Sunday and Monday is President's Day the deadline has been extended to Tuesday, Feb. 17.

The non-incumbent filing deadline is March 1. However, this is also a Sunday so the deadline has been extended to Monday, March 2.

For the office of U.S. Senator, state officers including members of the Legislature, Representatives in Congress, county officers and city or village officers, except the mayor or council members of cities have a home rule charter, the filing fee is equal to one percent of the annual salary that the candidate will receive if he or she is elected and qualifies for the office for which he or she files as a candidate.

Tanzanian trip includes medicine and ministry

By Lynn Stevens
Of The Herald

For two medical nurses and a doctor from Sioux City, a mission all will include traveling to Tanzania.

Melia Tullberg of Dakota and Kathy Reiss of Wayne, both nurses at The Wayne Care Centre in Wayne and Dr. Steve Mayer, an orthopedic surgeon in Sioux City, along with Amanda Rambo of Midland, Tex., and Dr. Marion Vande Veyte of Sioux City will fly to Tanzania on Jan. 22 and stay until Feb. 8 with Reiss staying one into March.

The group is part of S.T.E.M.M. (Siouxland Tanzanian Educational Medical Ministry). The group makes two trips per year to offer their medical and spiritual assistance to the Tanzanian people.

Tullberg and Reiss became involved with the group after Reiss had read about S.T.E.M.M. in the Omaha World-Herald.

"We went to Sioux City and became involved in their meetings at St. Luke," Reiss said.

Tullberg said that the group will work in several government hospitals. Before leaving they had to get passports, visas and go through a vaccination program.

"The hospitals have large open wards with cots and little or no equipment. It's amazing the basic things they don't have such as bandages, sutures and basic medicines. They use leaves and twine for bandages. Donations of any kind are welcome, especially from area hospitals. The U.S. government has offered to ship goods there for us," Dr. Mayer said.

Dr. Mayer hopes to do the first hip replacement while the group is there this June. He said there aren't enough well trained people in the field of medicine there. The government doesn't have much money to pay them. There are a few in the big cities but they still don't have the basics they need to work with. The nurses are only around 13 years old with little or no training. They don't understand disease."

There are over 100 tribes in Tanzania and each one speaks a different language. The Masai is one of those tribes. The Masai believe in medicine man. Dark magic winner doing the majority of work and women having numerous wives. A Masai man becomes a warrior by either killing a lion or a man. Meyer said that bringing them Christianity is changing their way of thinking. For example, a warrior asked to be baptized and a medicine man became a Catholic priest.

Another of Meyer's examples of good that has come from people going to Tanzania is that a young woman went there bonded with a child and took back with that there's a good chance that the tiny and his mother may be adopted by people in the U.S. There is also an adoption network in process and all of this came about because of the woman going there in the first place.

"It's a calling," Dr. Meyer said. "There's a double blessing with going. Tanzanians get both the benefits of medical help and of Christianity and people from the U.S. who go change their ideas, are impacted and enrich their lives."

Meyer said that after going to China and having a church again, experience he returned to the United States and started the S.T.E.M.M. program.

"It's my hope that if enough people in Siouxland are changed by S.T.E.M.M. then maybe all the area can change. It's like throwing a pebble into a pond, from that impact a ripple grows to take up a large area," Dr. Mayer said.

Less than one percent of Tanzanian children get to finish high school because the government only provides funds for them to attend up to sixth grade-Meyer

Wayne State College to feature Black and Gold Series play

"A Mixed Company" will present "Valley Song," a play about post apartheid South Africa on Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in Ramsey Theatre, Wayne State College campus.

"An essay on freedom" describes the play, said Beverly Sell, coordinator of the Wayne State College Black and Gold Series. "We are very pleased to be able to offer this thought provoking production during Black History month."

"Valley Song" tickets are now on sale for WSC students and employees at the front desk in the Student Center Bible ticket sales begin Jan. 26, with tickets available at the business office located in the Hahn Administration Building.

Following last season's production of "Driving Miss Daisy," "A Mixed Company" returns to Black and Gold with Athol Fugard's "Valley Song." This tender and wistful play looks forward to a time of regeneration and rebirth and examines the emotional struggle of young dreams and elderly needs. Leonard Stephenson will direct. R.A. Smith will star as author Abraam Jonkers "Boss," the grandfather. Zainab Adenikale-Jah will play his granddaughter, Veronica.

"Valley Song," Fugard's newest play and the first by this revered playwright since apartheid ended in his native South Africa, takes place in the present on a tenant farm in the Karoo district of central South Africa where the principal products are fruits and vegetables.

Life on the farm is boring for Veronica who lives on the farm her grandfather rents from a rich white man. Veronica, of mixed race, wants to go to Johannesburg to study music. Veronica's grandfather wants to stay on the land that he knows and plant the seeds as he always has.

Fugard draws the contrast between the old life and the new life in which so many possibilities have opened up. He uses pumpkin seeds to symbolize the young people to whom the future belongs. Meanwhile, the grandfather is baffled by the future and wants to keep things as they are because the future belongs to the young.

"Valley Song" is the second of four Black and Gold Series productions for the 1997-1998 season. First in the series was the concert featuring the Moscow Boys Choir in November 1997. Remaining productions include Peking Opera on Monday, March 9 and Canadian violinist Corey Cerovsek with pianist Katja Cerovsek on Tuesday, March 31.

Series to focus on native women

On Feb. 1 Wayne State College social science faculty member Nancy Crump will present a Sunday Series lecture entitled "An Afternoon of Native Women's Oration."

Using the imagery, speeches, line of time and other readings she will explore the traditions and ways of which the women of Native women have been passed down through generations. Crump, a Chawbawkee Creek and well rounded speaking Red people representative, will be available for questions and open dialogue afterward.

In addition to teaching Native and Ethnic American studies courses for WSC, Crump is associate director of the Richard Guthrie Center in Bancroft. She has an undergraduate and graduate degrees from Wayne State in history and anthropology and is very involved with the traditions of her ancestral past. Ladd Beccles, staff director of the Center for Cultural Outreach.

Her Sunday series lecture will be presented at 3 p.m. on Feb. 1 in the Fine Arts Theatre, Jensen Hall, Randolph High School Building on the Wayne State College campus. The event is open to the public and free of charge. A reception will follow.

Alaska visitors

Second grade students at West Elementary have had visitors in their classrooms this week as three caribou heads were brought as part of the students' study of Alaska. The caribou were shot by an uncle of second grade teacher Mike Jaxlen. Pictured with the caribou are, Mr. Jaxlen, Hailey Hintz, Jordan McDonald and Matt Paehlman.

Gulf War veterans needed for study

Researchers at the University of Nebraska Medical Center seek Gulf War veterans to participate in a study looking at two enzymes in the blood and the possible correlation to Gulf War Illness. The $125,000 research study, funded by the U.S. Department of Defense, will continue for up to two years and will be conducted at UNMC's Eppley Institute for Research in Cancer and Allied Diseases.

Gulf War Illness surfaced within the first couple of months following the Gulf War in 1991. Currently, as many as 60,000 veterans are affected by Gulf War Illness. Some veterans of the war reported varying symptoms of extreme fatigue, headaches, swollen glands, depression, weight gain and difficulty with memory and concentration. The symptoms are believed to be linked to chemical warfare agents used during the Gulf War. Contingent on the severity of the symptoms, Gulf War Illness is partially or completely disabling.

If a blood correlation exists, then health care professionals can better diagnose the illness and determine who is susceptible to illnesses caused by chemical war fare agents. All veterans of the Gulf War, regardless of whether or not symptoms are present, are asked to volunteer for the study. Researchers will take a one time blood sample at no charge. There is no stipend available for participants. Interested veterans should contact either Oksana Lockwood, Ph.D., at (402) 559-6032, or Cindy Bartels at (402) 559-6014 for more information.

Washington has been with Farm Bureau Financial Services since June of 1996. He lives in Wayne with his wife Cheryl and daughter, Rachel.

Catholic Schools Week will be celebrated at St. Mary's School

"Catholic Schools: Restoring Faith in Education" is the theme of St. Mary's School's 1997-98 celebration of Catholic Schools Week.

The celebration will take place Jan. 25-30.

The annual, national celebration focuses on the important role that Catholic Schools play in providing a well-rounded education for young people.

According to Diane Centrone, head teacher at St. Mary's, this year's theme, Restoring Faith in Education, emphasizes that Catholic schools can and do restore the confidence, the faith of the public that education is important and that schools are invaluable members of a community.

She went on to add that "Catholic schools make a difference in the lives of children, the well being of everyone and the future of a nation."

On the local level, students at St. Mary's Elementary and Little Lambs Preschool have been invited to "walk in the footsteps of the saints; the holy men and women honored by the Catholic Church who modeled the life of Jesus."

A number of activities have been planned for the week of celebration.

The school will host the Chamber Coffee on Friday, Jan. 23 at 10 a.m.

Catholic Schools

Restoring Faith in Education

The school students will take ministry roles in the 10 a.m. Mass on Sunday, Jan. 25. Following Mass, an open house will be held at the school. Refreshments will be served.

During the week the children will focus the lives of four saints who had an influence on education and who were instrumental in starting schools.

The celebration wraps up on Friday, Jan. 30 with Important Person Day at the school. Children may ask someone to spend all or part of the morning with them.

The students will also participate in the annual Jump Rope for Heart that morning at the National Guard Armory before an 11:10 a.m. dismissal.

The staff at St. Mary's currently consists of three full-time and four part time faculty members. In addition, Speech, Title I and nursing services are also available.

There are 60 students enrolled in preschool through sixth grade.

Last fall a five station computer lab was opened and connected to the Internet.

Edward Jones tops national survey

In a nationwide survey of 400 randomly selected brokers representing the leading eight financial services firms, Edward Jones ranked No. 1 for the fifth consecutive year. The survey, conducted by Registered Representative magazine, also reported that the quality of Jones' research rose to 2nd place a dramatic improvement over past years.

For the survey, 50 brokers each from the top eight U.S. brokerage firms were asked to rank their employers on 19 categories. Firms were evaluated on areas such as overall ethics, freedom from pressure to sell certain products and quality of products offered. Edward Jones Investment representatives ranked their firm highest for 14 of the 19 questions, according to Reggie Yates, the local Edward Jones representative.

"Jones Investment representatives believe we work for a winning firm from the way we treat our customers to the way we serve the needs of our brokers. Registered Representatives surveys show consistently over the years that those working face to face with customers say that Edward Jones is number one," said Reggie Yates of the Wayne Edward Jones office.

Investment representatives gave Jones nearly perfect scores: 9.9 out of a possible 10, an A+, in overall ethics of the firm. Other categories the firm scored above a 9.0 include quality of products offered, the firm's strategic focus, management, product, quote and information system, quality of the firm's research, ongoing training, realistic sales quotas, quality of the firm's operation, firm's image with the public, support, quantity of sales assistants, and payout.

Jones' significant improvement in the area of quality of research is testimony of the firm's commitment to strengthen its areas of weakness. In the past three years, Jones' research ranking has advanced from 7th to 2nd place.

"Jones' philosophy of serving individuals applies not only to its customers, but to everyone who works for the firm," said Yates. "We're proud of Edward Jones and believe in the firm's philosophy."

Jones is known for its "buy-and-hold" approach to investing, and does not offer investments such as options or commodities.

With more than 1,700 offices in all 50 states, Edward Jones is the largest financial services firm in the nation in terms of office locations. Plans are under way to expand to 10,000 offices in the next decade.

Still, Jones is the only firm that serves individual investors exclusively.

said that education is vital for change to occur in their country so S.I.E.M.M. has put together a scholarship program. It costs about $250 a year for a child there to attend school so if individuals, businesses or organizations donate $250 they can correspond with a student.

"We would also like to bring the best students over to schools in the U.S. and we're in the process of trying to locate area colleges who could help," said Meyer.

S.I.E.M.M. is a non-denominational outreach group looking for people to get involved both in volunteering and in donating. The group meets for both the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at St. Louis in Sioux City.

Dr. Meyer will speak and show slides to any interested organization.

Keeping an eye on government

Ladies and gentlemen in the 1998 Nebraska State Legislature appear to be as busy as a cat with two mice.

With thousands of laws on the books, hundreds more are proposed annually. A logical question arises: do we Nebraskans actually need dozens of new laws every 12 months?

Among bills proposed this session, the following are included: change provisions relating to motorcycle helmets, regulate nail technology practitioners, change the sales tax rate, create the Nebraska Information Technology Commission, change the expiration date of driver's licenses, create the Governor's Residence Advisory Commission, a Constitutional amendment to permit the Legislature to classify property for purposes of taxation, change provisions relating to disabled veteran license plates, and provide for expungement of a record of conviction.

Remaining from the 1997 session are 490 bills and 18 resolutions! Seems as though in governing ourselves, we can't keep up with the necessary legal forces proposed to contain our societal behaviors.

Proposals carried over include: prohibit same sex marriages, eliminate the death penalty, prohibit smoking in state buildings and vehicles, the concealed handgun license act, withdraw the state from the Central Interstate Low Level Radioactive Waste Compact, and provide for brand license plates.

As "we the people" govern ourselves through representatives, it is important to provide our opinions. Want to keep an eye on government? Using a computer, one can surf right into that ARL live! on the internet. On the Legislature's web site one can hear and see the motions and commotions related to a free society governing itself.

Getting involved in the process is essential to good government.

What is news?

If a newspaper only printed "news" that one reader about approved of, what would you be reading?

Everyone has an opinion on what should or should not appear in a local paper, consequently we ask the question "What is news?"

Why do folk want items such as promotions, meetings, weddings, anniversaries, graduations, sports, births, and deaths in the paper? Is it not because everyone is interested as a neighborhood?

Is the public right in wanting to know the why, what, where, when and how of news, good or bad?

Accidents are not good news, but don't we want the facts? Or should one's personal tragedy, injury, hospitalization or other problem be exploited?

Editors are sometimes chastised when trying to find out the who, what, where, when and how, verifying just the facts when contacting the persons involved, and separating facts from rumor.

Someone dying of AIDS, drug overdose, suicide, or alcohol is certainly not good news, but unless a family wants to suffer from gossip, rumor and innuendo, perhaps the newspaper can be of service in printing the actual facts. Families experiencing tragedy will normally discover the warm support of community, friends.

The Herald has never tried to balance good and bad news, but the paper's aim is to provide factual information and only

The process is a conflict through which residents in rural America the public has the facts, right or wrong.

Capitol News —

Legislative debate continues

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It's as predictable as Nebraska's annual hope for a national football championship.

When the Legislature convenes each year in January, there are lawmakers who hope to find a way to curb the perceived procedural excesses of Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha.

The senior member of the Legislature and master of its rules, Chambers has shown over the years that retaining him as an adversary is no small feat. Whether you see as good or bad his ability to slow or completely block the progress of legislation, there is no arguing that Chambers' colleagues have had little success in stopping him from stopping them.

At this writing, the Legislature was discussing proposals to limit a senator's right to offer amendments and otherwise stall a bill's progress by prolonging debate. Also offered was plan to give the speaker of the Legislature unprecedented power to determine what proposals could be considered and when they could be discussed.

The intricacies of the rules of lawmaking might bore much of the citizenry, but Chambers, perhaps as no one else sometimes allows him to do so, put the will of the legislative majority, critics also say, that Chambers has frustrated, the will of a majority of lawmakers.

Chambers contends that the system benefits from his existence as critic, as guardian of rights of individuals, and he doesn't think the federal courts would allow the Legislature to gag him.

Chambers says it would be unconstitutional for lawmakers to adopt rules intended to silence the voice of one member, the Legislature's only black member, whose work as critic represents society's minority interests.

Sens. Chris Beutler of Lincoln and Gerald Matzke of Sidney argue that the courts would not interfere with the Legislature's right to devise its own internal system.

Only time, and perhaps a court test, will decide these issues.

The most compelling moments at the opening days' debates this year have been those in which Chambers has taunted his colleagues with a litany of the accomplishments that have made him a political legend.

Wherever you go in Nebraska, Chambers said, people know of him. The downtrodden and those who believe the system has failed them look to him for help. Legislative candidates statewide have campaigned with boasts that they would "stand up to Ernie Chambers."

He recited a list of court cases he has won and other legislative giants with whom he has successfully done battle.

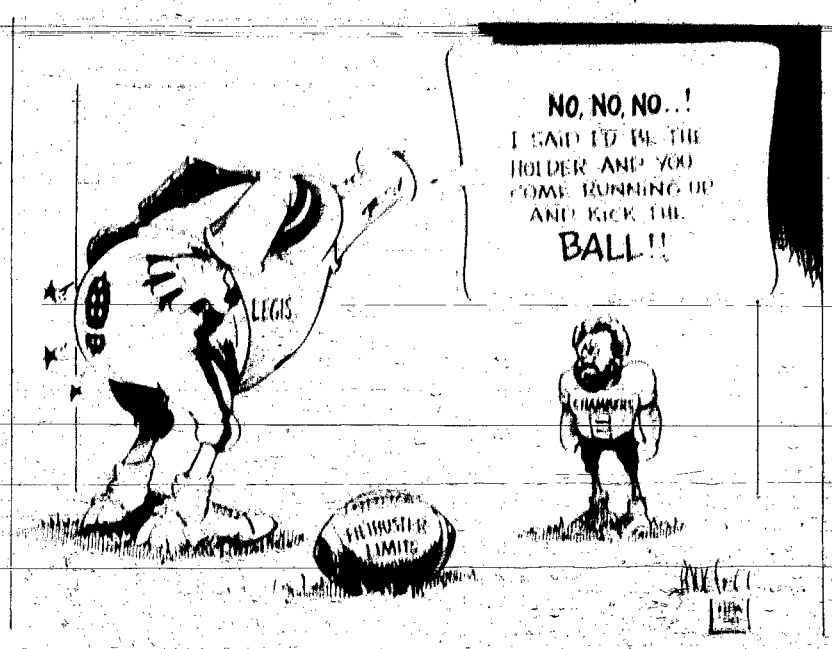
In short, Chambers told his colleagues he has earned a place in Nebraska's culture, in its history and, for better or worse, in the hearts of its people.

Those arguments are hard to rebut, let alone refute.

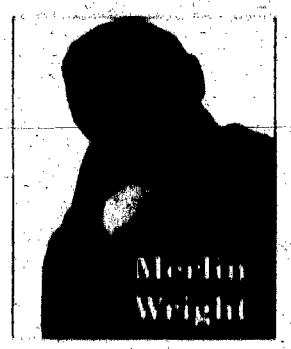
It must be January.

Tom Osborne and his team have won another national championship.

And Ernie Chambers, who has often proven himself to be a one man gang, has again taken the field to re-establish that he is the champion of legislative games manship.



Drivers are a real staggering problem



Three hundred people died on Nebraska roads last year! Many were victims of an unfriendly driver. Hundreds more were injured and permanently crippled.

The victims were driving just like you or may never dreaming a drunken driver would suddenly turn to gangland style.

If you Will read,/ Your obituary,/ Your cemetery lot/ That of lush and impulsive ones/ Six feet away/ Is about to make/ Your family/ A more memory.

Thanks to the tips, from now three feet away, who just had to have "one more for the road" with his buddies.

You knows "Old Dog Cuff Cuff".

Metal cops into metal. Dead friends. Bodies crunch. Blood trickles.

One "drink" and you're real goodbye.

Did you leave a note thanking the state troopers who refuse to get tough on drunk drivers?

How about one "vote" and they're out?

Our choice: elect party-pooping, or continue the slaughter.

Nebraska Attorney General

ATTORNEYS GENERAL ASK NBC TO JOIN TV RATINGS SYSTEM

Recently, my office along with The National Association of Attorneys General, called on the NBC television network to join other major TV networks and cable systems in implementing an updated ratings system designed to give parents more information about the content of programs. NBC is the only major television network that has refused to use the industry ratings system.

Earlier this year a system went into place with most cable and broadcast networks flashing "S" for sexual depictions, "V" for violence, "L" for language and "D" for suggestive dialogue. These ratings are in addition to the age based ratings such as TV-14 that have been appearing at the start of shows since January of this year. The one major holdout within the industry has been NBC.

I believe that parents should be given the most specific information possible both in TV listings and at the beginning of programs so that parents can make informed judgments about whether the program is suitable for their children," Stenberg said.

As Nebraska's Attorney General, I am very concerned that graphic violence on television is a significant factor in increasing violent juvenile crime. The television industry has a social responsibility to exercise restraint in what is beamed into our living rooms at hours children may be watching.

This past year, I have been asking what would be the effect on our society if instead of promoting crime, violence and sex, television promoted the values of hard work, honesty, and respect for the law? What if television promoted stable marriages.

I think we have begun a very worthwhile effort in starting a public dialogue between Nebraska mothers and fathers, government leaders and the people responsible for what our children see before going to bed each night, and I intend to continue to speak out about this problem.

For more information regarding violence on television or other consumer related issues, contact the office of Attorney General Don Stenberg, Consumer Protection Division, 2115 State Capitol Building, Lincoln, NE, 68509, or call our Consumer Protection Line toll-free in Nebraska 1-800-727-6432.

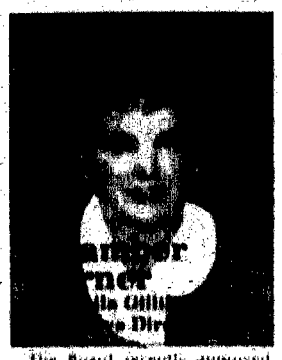
Meeting and banquet planned for Feb. 21

Plan ahead to attend the Chamber's 1998 Annual Meeting and Banquet on Saturday, Feb. 21. Paid reservations are required by Feb. 14. Check your January Newsletter for additional information and a reservation form. The meeting and banquet are open to the public.

The business and social event will be held at Rita's Convention Center beginning at 6:30 p.m. Following dinner, Citizen of the Year and Educator of the Year awards will be presented. A dance will conclude the evening's activities. Contact Rita at the Chamber/Industries office at 375-2240 for more information.

A Chamber Membership Directory is coming soon... be a Chamber near you, and to your business! All Chamber members who have paid their 1998 investments by Feb. 1 will be included in the directory and will receive a copy to use. Other copies will be available upon request to businesses or individuals relocating to the area. Let us know how you'd like your business listed.

If you're currently not a Chamber member, and would like to be one, give us a call and someone will visit with you during the Membership Blitz on Wednesday, Feb. 4. We'd be happy to discuss the benefits of Chamber membership with you.



The Board recently approved membership in the Uptown Main Street Associates Program, a new program designed to serve as a point of reference for communities interested in knowing more about the Uptown Main Street Program. If you have an interest in participating in this new committee, call me at 375-2240.

Non-profits or service organizations are encouraged to provide information to the Chamber/Industries office no later than Feb. 28, 1998.

If you want us to help you, we need your current contact person, appropriate telephone numbers and any additional information about the organization.

Trojans girls and boys win cage contests over Winside

The Wakefield girls and boys basketball teams earned a sweep of Winside last week with the Trojan girls team winning a 54-37 contest in Wakefield while the boys defeated Winside, 61-49 in Winside on Friday night.

Iris Mestl's Wakefield girls jumped out to a 10-6 lead on Lisa Schroeder. Winside girls with the Trojans taking a 30-14 halftime lead.

"We played a good four quarters," Mestl said. "Kristin Preston did a super job playing defense against Jess Miller and the rest of the team stepped up and shut down their outside shooters.

"We controlled the ball, only turning it over 14 times against Winside's tough man-to-man defense."

The 5-8 Trojans were led by Maggie Brownell with 16 points while Preston added 11 and Susan Brudigam, 10. Jennifer Simpson scored seven and Anne Greve tallied six. Jennifer Sandahl and Jennifer Carlson rounded out the scoring with two points.

"We played a very stagnant first half against Wakefield," Schroeder said. "We didn't play with intensity. The second half was better for us but a few mental lapses when we'd close their lead really hurt."

Winside did cut the lead to nine points with three minutes left but gave up some easy buckets. "Wakefield also did a good job at the free throw line down the stretch," Schroeder added.

Jess Miller and Mandi Topp scored 14 points each for Winside with Sara Marotz netting three. Stacey Wittler, Mindi Janke and Kelly Hathorn each added two.

Wakefield won the battle of the boards, 46-29 with Preston hauling down 12 caroms while Brownell had six. Marotz led Winside with nine rebounds while Miller had six.

IN THE BOYS game the Trojans led 13-17 after one quarter of play and 32-25 at the half.

Wakefield started pulling away in the third quarter with a 48-36 lead heading to the final stanza.

"Wakefield played good, solid defense," Winside coach Terry Warner said. "They got in our face and we didn't handle the pressure. We also gave up too many second and third shots."

BJ Hansen paced the winners with 18 points while Ross Gardner poured in 16 and Justin Paulson, nine. Jim Rusk and Josh Hohn each netted six with Nick White and Kevin Johnson finishing with four each.

Winside was led by Trent Suehl with 16 points while Brock Shelton and Jay Rademacher scored seven each. Aaron Huffman tallied six points and Aaron Lessmann, five while Jeff Kollath finished with four.

Jason Longnecker and Scott Wittler finished with two points each.

Wakefield will host Wynot on Friday with the girls also playing at Homer on Monday while the boys host Wayne on Tuesday.

Winside will play at Wausa in girls and boys action on Friday night.

Wakefield's Justin Paulson drives the baseline and lays a shot off the glass for two of his nine points during the Trojans 14 point win over Winside.

Wayne boys win eighth; Gals fall

The Wayne Cage teams both competed last Friday night with the girls playing host to Norfolk Catholic while the boys hit the road to play Stanton.

John McLaughlin's girls dropped a 48-42 decision to the Lady Knights while Rocky Rohl's boys improved to 8-4 on the season with a 50-40 win over the Mustangs.

Wayne's girls fell to 2-10. Statistically, the game was quite even in all areas except in free throws, McLaughlin said. "We were just 5-14 in the fourth quarter."

Norfolk Catholic was 14-33 from the charity stripe with Wayne hitting 7-21.

Wayne took a 11-6 lead after the first quarter but the visitors went on a 7-0 run in the second period to lead 21-18 at the break. The Knights led 34-29 heading to the fourth quarter.

Jennifer Bernstein, Gayle Olson and Heidi Johnson each scored eight points to place team honors with Molly Dwyer and Sara Ellis adding six each. Brooke Parker and Lindsay Reich finished with three points each.

Parker sinked the team's sixth with five and Ellis netted three goals.

Wayne and Norfolk Catholic 11-11 with Parker leading the way with nine points while Olson and Johnson netted seven points each.

The Wayne boys, defeated Norfolk Catholic 58-46 in overtime after a wild finish. Down the home stretch, the Wildcats pushed to tie a 41-all game at the end of regulation.

Taylor Wendler tied the game from the foul line with three seconds remaining in regulation.

The 6-7 Blue Devils scored all nine of their points in the overtime period from the foul line.

Jake Hoch led the team with 14 points with Jason Bowling adding 10 and Justin Hochstein, eight.

Beth Lohberg and Jessica Woehler each scored six with Katie Walton, Lindsey Woehler and Brittney Frevert netting three points each.

Wayne will host O'Neill on Saturday afternoon at 1:15.

THE WAYNE BOYS used a 29-17 scoring advantage in the second half to erase a two point half-time deficit to the Mustangs in the 50-40 victory.

The Blue Devils led 12-6 after one quarter of play but trailed 21-21 at the break.

Justin Thiele paced the winners with 21 points with Joel Munson adding 13 and Matt Meyer, eight. Adam Endicott scored six points and Ryan Dahl tallied two.

The Blue Devils out rebounded the host team, 22-18 with Thiele leading the way with six caroms while Endicott and Munson had four each.

Wayne committed 17 turnovers while forcing 15 and Thiele along with Dahl notched four steals each.

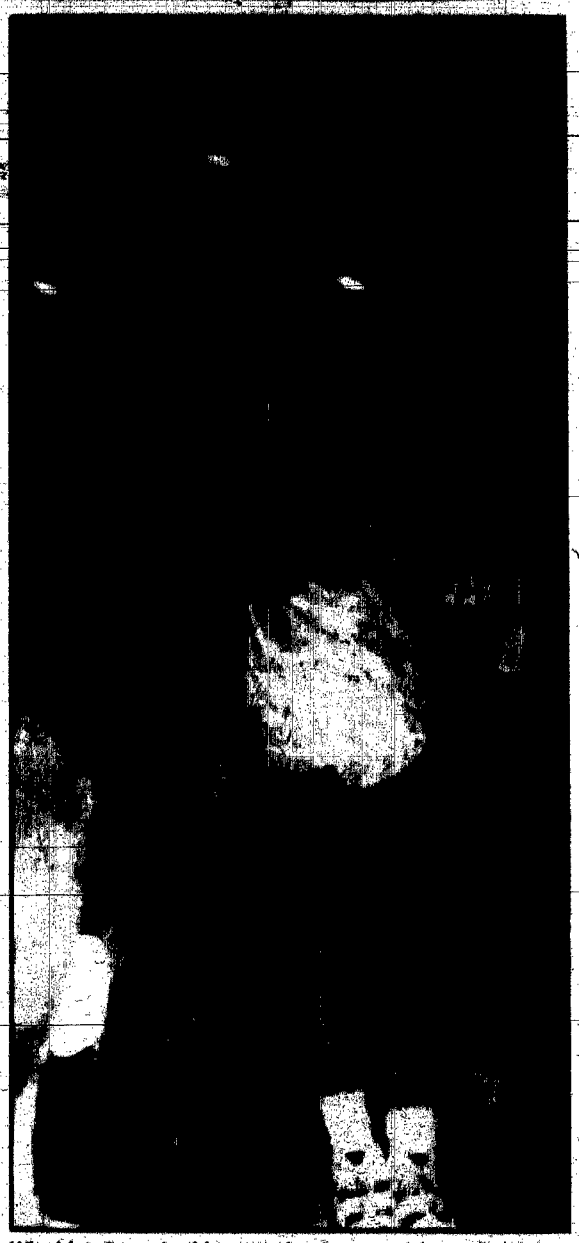
Wayne will travel to play Hartington-Cedar Catholic on Friday before traveling to play Wakefield on Tuesday.

The Wayne seniors defeated Hartington by a score of 56-47 earlier.

Marcus Keller led the way with nine points followed by Eric McLaughlin and Ryan Rothenberg with eight each.

Nick Moll tallied six points with Jon Meyer and Brad Hochstein adding five each. Dustin Arfanetti and Ryan Dunklau scored four points each and Adam Thompson scored three.

D. Baker and Brandon Carson each scored two points.



Winside's Trent Suehl tosses the shot up with one hand during second half action of the Wildcats tilt with the Trojans.

Jim Rusk leans into a Winside defender to draw the foul while connecting on the short jumper.

Area contests are put on hold due to Tuesday's weather

Tuesday's winter storm forced the postponement of several Area games. Wayne's contest with Crofton was moved from Tuesday to Thursday at Crofton with Wakefield's girls game at Madison moved from Tuesday to Thursday as well.

Winside's girls boys double header at Clarkson was moved from Friday to next Tuesday the 27th and Laurel-Concord's girls-boys twinbill with Hartington postponed Tuesday will be re-scheduled date determined at press time.

WSC men gain pivotal road wins in Iowa and Minnesota

The Wayne State men's basketball team notched a pair of road wins over Briar Cliff and Winona State last week to improve the season record to 10-8.

McDermott's crew would build an 18 point lead in the second half before hanging on to win, 75-69 at Winona State last Saturday night.

WSC led 44-33 at the half after shooting 53 percent from the field.

The 'Cats came out gunning in the second half as they built a 60-42 lead with 14:49 remaining.

WSC would struggle from the field the rest of the way. A 3-pointer by Jason Diaz with 12:03 left in regulation was the 'Cats final field goal of the contest—scoring their final 12 points from the charity stripe.

Winona State went on a 14-2 scoring run to cut the gap to three at 65-62 with still nearly six minutes remaining.

However, the 'Cats converted 10 of 12 free throws in the final four minutes to hang on for the win.

WSC sank its final eight charity tosses in the final 2:17, including four by Tyler Johnson, who finished with 14 points and a career-high 11 assists.

WSC was led in the scoring column by Craig Philipp with 17 points and the senior also grabbed a season-high 11 caroms.

Jason Diaz was the third Wildcat in double figures with 11 points off the bench.

WSC connected on 17-of-24 free throw attempts for the contest with Winona State hitting 15-of-23.

WSC was the winner on the boards as well, 38-34 but the 'Cats suffered 19 turnovers—six less than the host Warriors.

Eric Henderson blocked three Winona State shot attempts.

IN SIOUX CITY earlier last week the 'Cats posted an 85-75 win over Briar Cliff after leading by just two at the intermission at 38-36.

"Anytime you can win on Briar Cliff's home floor you have to feel good," WSC coach Greg McDermott said. "That's a tough place to play."

A couple of solid defensive stretches in the second half led to the Wildcats victory.

"We executed our game plan exactly the way we wanted," McDermott added. "Brad Joens really stepped up and hits some big shots."

Joens connected on five-of-eight shots from behind the arc en-route to a season-high 15 points.

"We're going to need Brad to continue to hit the long shot for the remainder of the season if we want to succeed in achieving our goals," McDermott said.

Tyler Johnson paced WSC with 18 points including a perfect 8-8 performance from the foul line. Craig Philipp added 16 points and Jason Talliet 15. Jon Dolliver and Eric Henderson were also in double figures with 10 points each.

Henderson notched a double-double after hauling down 13 rebounds to go with his 10 points.

"Eric has averaged 11 rebounds a game over his past six games," McDermott said.

WSC will play at Bemidji State on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. before hosting Briar Cliff next Wednesday.

Laurel Bears sweep Bulldogs

Laurel-Concord swept visiting Creighton in double-header basketball action last Friday night.

The Lady Bears led by 14 points after three quarters of play before notching a four-point win, 48-44 while the boys continued their solid pace to start 1998 with a 57-35 thrashing of Creighton.

Susie Koranda's girls looked as though they were going to run away and hide from Creighton to start the game as the Lady Bears sprinted to a 16-3 lead after one quarter of play.

The lead remained 13 at the intermission at 26-13. "We came out early in the game and played good defense," Koranda said. "We shot the ball well on offense to jump out to a big lead. I thought our girls did a better job of being patient on offense and taking care of the ball."

The Laurel coach said Creighton got hot in the fourth quarter, hitting four, 3-pointers to close the gap.

Jessie Erwin led the winners with 15 points while Brittany Burns, Kari Stewart, Amber Thompson and Jennifer Demuth each added six.

Kristen Hank tossed in five points with Melissa Thompson and Elly Harder each scoring two.

Erwin hauled down a game-high 11 carooms to lead the Bears on the boards, 16-11 with Stewart adding nine rebounds.

THE BOYS GAME got off to a slow start for both teams as the score was tied at four after the first quarter of play.

Laurel, however, doubled the score on the visitors in the second stanza, 16-8 to lead 20-12. The Bears took a 37-25 lead to the fourth quarter where they out-scored Creighton, 20-10.

"It was a good conference win for us despite the fact we had trouble scoring," Steele said. "Evan Smith and Nick Kvols each scored 12 points to pace Laurel with Andy Bose adding nine and Wyatt Erwin, eight.

Tyler Kvols finished with five points and Reed Beerries added four while Nathan Bechman tallied three. Chad Jorgensen and Adam Downer each netted two points.

Wildcat women defeated by Winona St.

The Wayne State women's basketball team slipped to 5-14 on the season following a 90-74 setback at Winona State last Saturday.

Jeff Goldstein's crew had beaten Winona State by a convincing 64-48 margin in December but it was the host Warriors who turned the tables on WSC's trip north.

Winona State led 36-35 at the half and broke the game open early in the second half with an 18-5 scoring run for a 54-42 lead with 14:29 remaining.

WSC did battle back to cut the deficit to nine at 63-56 with 7:16 remaining but the Warriors responded by outscoring the Wildcats, 20-7 over the next four minutes for an 83-63 advantage.

"We came out slow in the second half," Goldstein said. "We scored the first basket to grab a 37-36 lead but then we didn't make good choices on our next four or five trips down court which resulted in turnovers and bad shot attempts."

Goldstein said he thought the difference in the game was WSC's inability to convert Winona State turnovers into points on the other end of the court.

"When we forced a turnover we didn't take advantage," Goldstein said. "We ended up turning the ball back over."

The WSC mentor said the 'Cats were a step slow on defense.

The loss offset an admirable performance by Stef Spitz who scored 18 points and had a career high 15 rebounds.

Amy Pendry added 13 and Chris Kathol tossed in 10 in her first start of the season.

Erin Hourigan was close to double figures with nine and Megan Murphy added seven.

The 'Cats won the battle of the boards, 42-37 led by Spitz with 13 caroms. WSC, however, committed 21 turnovers compared to 14 by the Warriors.

WSC will play at Bemidji State on Saturday afternoon at 1:00 before hosting Briar Cliff next Wednesday.

WAYNE WRESTLER OF THE WEEK

Danny Roeber

Son of Gerry and Diane Roeber

Activities: Football, Wrestling & Baseball

Coach Murtaugh's comments, "Danny has a great mentality for wrestling. He is very aggressive and loves to compete."

Danny's comments, "Wrestling is a mental game. You must believe in yourself and you must never give up even when you're tired."

Blue Devils to compete in Albion twice this week

Wayne wrestlers place at Elkhorn

The Wayne wrestling team placed fifth of 11 teams at the Elkhorn Invitational last Saturday in Elkhorn, despite being hit with the flu bug.

Class B's top ranked Josh Murtaugh was unable to wrestle after his first match due to illness at 119 pounds.

Omaha was the team champs with 211 points with Elkhorn placing second with 134 and Nebraska City, third at 149. Grand Island placed fourth with 141 followed by the Blue Devils with 115.

A healthy Josh Murtaugh could have pushed Wayne's point total to contention for more up honors.

Lexington placed sixth with 124 points followed in order by Falls City, 113; Bennington, 109; O'Neill, 99; Valentine, 86.5; Aurora, 77; Plattsmouth, 58 and Crete, 45.5.

Wayne had just nine wrestlers competing after Murtaugh was forced to sit after his opening match win of 11-8.

Eight of nine wrestlers garnered medals with Dan Nelson (112), Jody Campbell (145) and Jesse Rathwitch (171) each placing runner-up.

Casey Junck (189) finished third with Darin Jensen (152) adding a fourth. Jay Endicott (119) and Eric Hefti (215) each placed fifth with Jim Zach (160) rounding out the medal winners in sixth.

"The Elkhorn meet is always a challenging tournament," Wayne coach Josh Murtaugh said. "I was pleased with how hard our kids competed. Our focus now needs to be on making the necessary improvements so we are ready for the District and State tournaments."

While the varsity was competing in Elkhorn, several grapplers competed at the Pender Invite. No team scores were kept.

Wayne had 16 wrestlers competing with 11 earning medals including Danny Roeber and Gabe Hansmeier who each placed first.

Chris Junck, Chris Winkler and Ryan Haas each placed second with Logan Mueller and Adam Jorgensen each placing third. Eric Shapiro, Lyle Junck, Jason Beiermann and Ryan Teach each placed fourth.

Jordan Widner, Eric Vollmer, Joe Dougherty, Jon Pickinpaugh and Rick Beckman also competed but did not place.

Last Thursday in South Sioux the Blue Devils varsity dominated the Bruce Cardinals, 54-21.

Lucas Mortensen, Dan Nelson, Jay Endicott, Josh Murtaugh, Craig Hefti and Casey Junck each won by pin with Jody Campbell and Eric Hefti each winning by forfeit for 48 of Wayne's 54 points. Darin Jensen was a 6-4 winner and Jim Zach won by a 5-1 margin to round out the scoring.

Adam Jorgensen lost by pin with Danny Roeber falling by technical fall. Jesse Rathwitch was defeated, 18-8 as Wayne lost just three matches in the dual on the mat.

In junior varsity action Ryan Teach, Jordan Widner, Chris Junck, Eric Vollmer, Jack Dorsey, Jeremy Nelson and Rick Beckman each won by pin with Jason Beiermann winning a 6-4 decision. Tyler Junck and Scott Reinhardt each lost by pin.

"It was a good dual win on the road," Murtaugh said. "There were times in which we could have been a little more aggressive but overall it was a good team effort. I was especially pleased with how Craig Hefti wrestled."

Elkhorn Invite Individual Results

112—Dan Nelson (2nd): Won by pin, Won 4-2, Lost 11-5 to Luis Chozaz of Gretna.

119—Jay Endicott (5th): Won by pin, Lost 16-6, Lost 11-2, Won by default.

215—Eric Hefti (5th): Won by pin, Lost 8-2, Won 4-1, Won by pin, Lost by pin.

Wayne will dual Albion on Thursday night in Albion before returning to Albion for invitational action on Saturday.

Winside grapplers place runner-up for the fifth consecutive week; Fall in duals

The Winside wrestling team placed runner-up at the Battle Creek Invite last Saturday.

It was the fifth consecutive runner-up finish for the Wildcats who have continually battled the flu and injury bug since the calendar turned to 1998.

"We wrestled without Justin Koch and Steve Raile who are out with pneumonia," Winside coach Paul Volk said. "We had seven of our nine wrestlers earn medals."

Included in that medal winning list is Justin Bowers at 130 pounds who remained perfect on the season with a pin of Elkhorn Valley's Tyler Ingeler in 4:05 of the finals match.

Jeremy Jaeger also captured first place at 112 pounds with his championship match ending in a 12-4 win over Battle Creek's Ben Welstead.

Landon Grothe earned runner-up honors at 152 pounds, falling to Dan Zwingman of Elkhorn Valley in the finals by a 5-2 margin.

Ryan Krueger defeated Charlie Schwartz of Elkhorn Valley 8-0 for third place honors at 145 pounds with Aric Vanderahl winning an 8-5 decision from Ben Isaks of Elkhorn Valley at 140.

Levi Reitman pinned Travis Pudlery of Battle Creek in 4:36 to place third at 171 and Tom Wittler placed fourth at 140 pounds.

Jeremy Jaeger had an outstanding tournament as did Justin Bowers," Volk said. "Vanderahl and Reitman continue to improve through the season and Ryan Krueger did an outstanding job of beating Charlie Schwartz of Elkhorn Valley for third place."

Team honors went to Elkhorn Valley with 163.5 points with Winside scoring 118.5 points to edge Howells by just a point and a half. Battle Creek was fourth with 95 followed by Pierce with 79.5 and Stanton, 78.

Osmond finished with 70.5 points and Randolph followed with 67 while Oakland-Craig netted 61 and Schuyler Snyder, 37.

ON A DOWN note for Winside, the Wildcats will suffer their first losing dual season in 18 years after falling to double dual action last Thursday to Howells and Stanton.

"We wrestled with out a couple key wrestlers," Volk said. "And we did not wrestle up to par. We only won nine of 17 matches."

While Winside's varsity was competing at Battle Creek, some other Wildcat grapplers competed at Pender with Dustin Wade winning his weight class at 160 pounds while Nathan Stahl placed runner-up at 152. Justin Bleich was third at 125 with Jeremy Reed not placing.

Wayne State track teams run in season opener in Vermillion

The Wayne State track teams opened the indoor season last Saturday at the South Dakota Open.

James McGown was the highest placer for the men, clocking 9:34.66 for second in the two-mile. His time eclipsed a 32-year school record of 9:49.6 set by Carl Owczarzak in 1965.

"James was sick Friday," WSC coach Brian Kavanaugh said. "He still wasn't feeling 100 percent at race time. Once he's healthy, he could knock another 10 seconds off that time."

Freshman Antonio Jackson was fourth in the 55-meter high hurdles in 7.98 which is third all-time at WSC.

"I'm very pleased with how Antonio ran, especially since we've had less than a week of practice since school started," coach Blair Marelli said.

Junior Jeremy Covey placed fifth in the mile, clocking a personal best time of 4:38.11, and junior Brandon Moore just missed the finals of the 55-meter dash with his personal best time of 6.73 seconds.

On the women's side, freshman Laura Martin was the highest placer with third in the long jump of 17-5.5. It was also good enough for third all-time on the WSC charts.

"Laura is jumping really well, especially considering she hasn't jumped in almost two years," Kavanaugh said.

Deanna Gollobit placed sixth in the long jump at 16-4.5 and Kara Gebhardt finished sixth in the two-mile run in 12:48.1 which was fourth on the all-time chart.

WSC will compete at the University of Nebraska Open on Saturday.

Stop losing by getting organized

According to a recent survey of the American business Women's Association, 43 percent of respondents waste 15 minutes daily looking for lost items. Another 32 percent waste up to 30 minutes.

The main cause of this wasted time is...a lack of time! People intend to get organized when things "calm down," but when they do, people forget about organizing.

Fourteen percent of women organize their offices daily while twenty six percent organize fewer than three times a year. Ultimately, organization comes down to a matter of timing. Organizing at the beginning of a project gives a clearer picture of what needs to get accomplished.

Home based business, call it up.

Sprint's Friday's Free campaign for small businesses was very successful. Now the telecommunications giant is gearing up to unveil a new deal designed for home-based businesses, Sprint Solve Home Office. The service, which entered a test phase last month, bundles several phone services for home-based businesses under one pricing plan.

For one flat fee, Sprint Solve Home Office packages together a toll free number, a calling card and long distance services. For example, users will be able to purchase 1,000 minutes for $100. The minutes can then put toward any or all these services without any different pricing structures or extra surcharges, much like how cellular service works.

Sprint claims that this program is designed to deliver the most common phone services home-based businesses need in a convenient fashion. It is slated to go nationwide early in 1998.

Tired of winter weather, looking for sun

It's so wonderful to see sunshine today and see the thermometer creep up. I've had Christmas decorations in one of the guest rooms, waiting for the sun to warm up.

The local school has been decimated by the temps, coughs and upset stomachs. Even teachers have had it. I'm taking my zinc, vitamin C and echinacea, hoping it will boost my immunity. I have a theory that a little extra sleep helps, too; and that's hard to get with basketball, wrestling, play practice, band, etc.

I'm kind of glad I no longer have to worry about that stuff, though it was fun while it lasted.

We're still working on a huge bag of roasted peanuts in the shell that arrived from South Carolina for the holidays. Once you start on them, it's impossible to stop.

The ice has been treacherous. A week ago, I got home from work, read the mail, put groceries away and said hello to the carpenters. I needed something from the car, which was already in the garage, across the yard. I put on snow boots and picked the grass instead of sidewalk.

All of a sudden, my feet went out from under, my glasses flew off and one of the carpenters was saying "Are you Okay?" I got up, put my glasses back on, got the stuff out of the car and walked gingerly back to the house.

The couch looked so inviting. I laid down, pulled an afghan over and passed out! When I came to, I could hear Mike and a carpenter talking in the kitchen. For a minute, I couldn't figure out where I was. Now I know what they mean when they say a football player "got his bell rung."

I did have a sore head and headaches for a few days. But it's fine now. You know what they say about German heads. In some places, they bury Germans with their heads sticking out because they're harder than tombstones!

Anyway, I'm tired of winter already and it's only almost half over. I'm envious of the folks in Texas and Arizona and feeling very sorry for the poor in Maine and Quebec.

Now it's time to put this to the mail and shovel some snow.

I'm moving very cautiously.

4-H News

The City Slickers and Country Mixers 4-H club held its first meeting of 1998 on Jan. 10.

The meeting was called to order by President Melissa Jager. There were five members present, including one new member, Michelle Jarvi.

A brief business meeting was held and during that time reports were given from the secretary, treasurer and different committees in the group.

The club also planned meetings and activities for the 1998 year.

After the meeting, new officers were installed and the new member was initiated.

Officers installed included Melissa Jager, president; Nicole Trovett, secretary; Heather Zach, treasurer; Jennifer Dalmon, flag historian; Erin Palu, news reporter and All Applegate, Michelle Jarvi and Juleen Jager, committee chairpersons.

The next meeting will be held Saturday, Feb. 21.

Arboretum's annual meeting set for Jan. 23

The Northeast Arboretum, located one and one-half miles east of Concord at the University of Nebraska Haskel Agriculture Lab, will hav its annual meeting on Friday, Jan. 23.

The meeting will begin at 1:10 p.m.

This year's guest speaker will be Melinda McVey McCluskey, a horticulture instructor at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. Ms. McCluskey's topic will be "The use of perennial plants in the personal landscape."

Other participants on the program will be representatives of the Nebraska Statewide Arboretum.

The Northeast Arboretum is an affiliated site of NSA and is open to the public for membership and participation. Participation in annual activities such as Arbor Day celebrations, tree care workshops, tours to other Arboretums and planting projects are available for any member.

Membership is $10 per year and includes notices of activities and free seed information.

Those wanting to learn more about trees, shrubs and perennial plants are welcome to join the Jan. 23 meeting.

Citizenship trip to Washington, D.C. planned

Join youth from the surrounding area as they journey to the East Coast on June 16-20, 1998 for the Citizenship Washington Focus Trip. Youth who are at least 15 years old by June 1, 1998 and no older than 17 by June 1, 1998, won't want to miss out on this opportunity.

Headquarters for the delegation will be the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md. Participants will join other youth from all over the United States as they learn about the government from a hands-on approach.

Highlights of the week will include field trips to points of interest in and around Washington D.C., including the Capitol, Arlington National Cemetery, the Smithsonian and more.

Prior to arriving in D.C., plans are to visit New York City, Philadelphia, Hershey, Gettysburg and Annapolis.

Registration forms are available at the local University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Office. Registration and the first deposit are due on Feb. 11.

Questions concerning the trip may be directed to Rusty Kapparr, Extension Educator in Cedar County (402/254-6821) or Amy Malchow, Extension Assistant, Dixon/Wayne County, @ (402/584-2819)(402/375-3110).

COUNTRY CLASSICS 4-H CLUB

The Country Classics 4-H Club met at St. Mary's Catholic Church on Jan. 11.

Officers elected include: Beth Lohrey, president; Derek Schenk, vice president; David Lohrey, secretary; Hailey Dachoke, treasurer; Aaron Dunn, news reporter; Megan Lohrey, flag leader; Emily Lutt, conservationist and Leah Dunker, historian.

Dues were discussed and decided on $5 per member per year.

Goals for the year were discussed. The club decided on the following:

Work toward the Gold Seal.

Each member will make a pole for presentation.

Collect 200 pop tabs for the Ronald McDonald House and Fund and support additional awards at the Wayne County Fair.

Different projects were discussed and each member decided which projects to take.

The next meeting will be Sunday, Feb. 8. Each member is asked to bring 8-10 pictures of past 4-H projects or something of their choice to work on a scrap book page.

Each member is also to bring $5 to cover the cost of materials.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed Proposals for the construction of the Dialysis, will be received by the Village Clerk of the Village of Wakefield, Nebraska at the Village Hall until 1:00 P.M., CST on the 6th day of February, 1997, and at that time and place to be opened in public thereafter the same will be publicly opened by the Clerk. Union reserves the right to reject bids for forty-five days after the bid opening.

The proposed work consists of constructing dialysis facility, approximately 1,800 square feet, including foundation, footings and slab, all work and alternate bids for additional dialysis equipment and all appurtenances as required in the plans and specifications.

All Proposals for said work must be made on forms furnished with the Plans and Specifications and must be accompanied by a certified check or Bid Bond of not less than 5% of the amount of the bid payable to the Village of Wakefield and will be held by the Village as liquidated damages in case the bid is accepted and the Bidder neglects or refuses to enter into contract and furnish bond in accordance therewith.

Plans and Specifications, together with General Specifications and Instructions to Bidders, may be seen and examined at the office of the Lawson Engineering Office and Associates Inc., or may be obtained from the Special Engineers for the Village, Lawson, Erickson O'Brien and Associates Inc., P.O. Box 202, Wayne, Nebraska 68787, on payment of $25.00 for one partial copy, none of which will be returned.

The Village reserves the right to waive informalities and irregularities and to make awards by lots which break the materials and construction that will in their opinion serve the best interests of the Village. The Village also reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids.

The construction contract will contain a provision that in the execution thereof Fair Labor standards shall be maintained in accordance with applicable laws.

Tips to Help You Write Your Classified Ad

1. Identify "bargain" with the item for sale, service you are offering or job title of the person you're looking to hire.
2. Remember the more information you provide in the classified, the better the response. Put yourself in the buyer's place. What would you want to know?
3. Don't exaggerate, but be honest and use the creative. Make your description attractive but believable!
4. Include Price. Research shows that people are more interested when they know the price. If the price is negotiable say so.
5. Be Home. When you run your ad, be better or specify the hours buyers can call. Most people won't call back.
