JESSE

MRS. FORRESTER

CHAPTER XXII.

"I do not suspect you of mischief, Jessie," said Jane, with a rather bitter smile. "But I know that interfere, cannot but see some dreadful calamity over you, and to alter your clothing to cause unhappiness to women. Here I have been away and was coming to a fortune and delighted to see you, and I am unutterably wretched, the distinct feel that I am the house, and all through you!"

"No, no," said Jane. "Be quiet. Put the ladder on the right side. All through Alaska. It shall cause nothing and nothing to know this morning, she wouldn't have gone out to work up and made me wrong. I did, and which she must rightly concerns. As for the other, that rest, she was ever more mistaken in life. Where are you now? Why, she speaks of you in the like of evil."

"Aye," proceeded Jane, reviving herself up more and more, and tears again falling to her own. "Now you have deprived me of my only friend here, and the only person I have to assist me, I hope you will be happy."

"I think that shall, given nearly the neighborhood of Jesse. Take your hands by force, and wrenching of a spread Sorry."

Jane had some sound good sense when it was, and observed by Jesse's tactics to the thought the clouds flew up sound. And somebody she told herself that the sense of things must be blessed, and so she had only.

So with the two, and Jed even, "Come to Tom's room." He was sitting thinking glumly in the two chairs, so drawn, a man who was upset the moment in which she has, [illegible] Jesse which she had to a [illegible] Jessie which she had to [illegible]

The Peace of the Butterflies.

On the roof of a stadium shining through
The moonlight on the butterfly dew
As on the roofs of all forests do,

And were butterflies conversing
From lower valleys these flowers,
In voices that were as faint as dreams,

With wings of leaf plates and the board
of dew,
With drops of dew for the crystal and pearl
And in the light of a dry honey and salt

And they were [illegible] in the moonlight,
Sing sweet [illegible] of the peace

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Three Women Relieved of Female Troubles by Mrs. Pinkham's

From Mrs. A. W. Sutts, 49 Summer St., Biddeford, Me.:

"For several years I suffered with various diseases peculiar to my sex. I was troubled with a burning sensation across the small of my back, that almost broke my heart, with despondent, irritable and discouraged. My bowels constipated me. I tried several doctors but received little benefit. At last I decided to give your Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The effect of the first bottle was marvelous. There is a lessen of menstruation that I was affected with, vanished the taper before the run. I cannot speak too highly of your valuable remedy. It is truly a blessing to woman."

From Mrs. Minnie Fullerton, Lewiston, Me., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"Before I commenced your medicine I had suffered from pain in the back, headache, nervous prostration, irregular periods, and a profuse leucorrhœa, so that I was almost a cripple. I was advised by a friend to try your Vegetable Compound, and I am happy to say it has done me more good than all the medicine I have taken for years. My periods are regular, the leucorrhœa has ceased, and I am in good health. I cannot say too much in favor of your Vegetable Compound."

From Mrs. Minnie E. Thomas, Fredericksburg, Va.:

"I cannot express how I suffered from such a weakness of the back, I could not perform my household duties. I also had falling of the womb, severe headache, nervousness, and was so irritable that I was almost a maniac. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have been a new woman. I recommend your medicine to every sufferer."

WAYNE REPUBLICAN

CONSTINGHAM, - Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wayne, Nebraska, as second-class matter, March 15, 1906.

The republican state convention is to be held at Lincoln August 20th.

Will our friends of the reform press publish the fact that the shipbuilding firm of Cramps at Philadelphia have voluntarily raised the wages of their men 25 per cent, or is this the wrong kind of color for the picture they have to paint and hold up to public view?

The man who knows it all is filling the woods full everywhere except in Washington, during this little racing with Spain. What a great pity it is there is nobody at the seat of government who knows anything. The people certainly do make frequent mistakes in sending the wrong man to Washington.—Fremont Tribune.

The government has to have 10,000 horses for cavalry and military purposes and had at an early date to obtain them. The price for such a number for this purpose has advanced very sharply in the last six weeks. There are a lot of animals not at all plenty as the requirements are not met by the ordinary breeds. The cavalry horses must be perfectly sound and weigh 900 to 950 pounds and need to be uniform while the artillery mount must meet the same requirements and be from 50 to 100 pounds heavier with more weight and more speed.

Many of the superintendents of departments of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition at Omaha are either populists, populist editors or the same lack and when the eastern visitor is being shown through these departments and the beauties of the great and beautiful West and all that sort of thing, these populists, do you suppose that they will ever stop one of them and the other fellow will think this alliance in their present capacity or else where on the return stump or pushing the quill for the same purpose, these men are or were terrible liars, or do you believe they are so fearfully and wonderfully made up to be able to hypnotize their every time?

Two years ago a majority of the voting population of Nebraska were fit to give their suffrage to the populist or fusion forces, because they claimed this party was in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, not they said because the coinage of silver in that manner would be to them a great boon directly, but in the way of reducing the prices of all products of the farm away from the terrible level to which they and market stood at that time. The majority of the people of the state did not believe with most Nebraska that free silver was the panacea for the ills that afflicted us but that it were better to pay the ills, than the money and the manifestations of power followed by a consequent return of prosperity to our farming as we sought to convince us that we were wrong at that time in our disgusts of the surrounding that time fall we are ready to admit the right thing and ask new age for an endorsement with our votes the wisdom of the entire country is against us.

It is wonderful what an awakening is occurring among the nations of Europe since the ghost of Dewey spoke in such mighty tones of the fighting qualities of American ships and American seamen. For years our fitness and naval power has been always referred to as a spirit of contempt by the great powers of the old world, today they are treading over each other in declarations of friendship. They have been taught that in the western world is a young giant with whom the world must reckon in the future and that when the point in his fighting clothes there is no more of fuss or words, but that action will and powerful follows declaration of intent. The nations of the old world are plainly that the day of an insignificant navy or small army has passed so far as the great republic is concerned and that from thenceforth the stars and stripes will float from great battleships in every part of the world affording protection to every American interest and ready to avenge an insult with the audacious characteristic of our people.

The president call for 10,000 more volunteers was issued on Wednesday and in a very short time that number will be mustered into the service of the country. The probabilities are that the day of a small standing army or no standing navy are passed that from now henceforth there will be one of the countries to maintain a standing army more in keeping with the greatness of our nation. Our commerce is bound to become more and more extended and with this extension will come a necessity for sufficient men of war to patrol the seas and be ready at a moments notice to protect every man, woman and child that claims allegiance to our country in any part on earth. In order to extend our commerce you must guarantee your people that wherever in the face of the globe they attempt to sell their surplus purchase the products of other lands they will be placed on an even footing with the most favored and that wherever any other policy is attempted the army and navy are ready to secure to them these rights and privileges. Spain has become great because her men of war and her people have enjoyed the rights of the citizens of the lands possessing colonies. Our commerce is congested, trade is fettered, and only one of them. The congested forces will be held at the pleasure of the state legislature in order to obtain from the state Standard to secure to organized forces every of voting every only because it is compulsory to draw on them, just the same as the republicans is forced to the number and dollars for selection of the so called fusion because from the alliance conducted and must come into the campaign I think that the work of republicans that popularity so and the possession of the state. Nebraska the state is and the republicans by appropriating money for purposes not provided for in the constitution, that they were outvoted just as the republicans have been by a class of men who posed as moderates of public opinion but threatened to make use of their influence against those who would not favor the continuance of laws under which they could draw the state into the common for boiling coin free. The democratic forces will be reminded that the secretaries of the senate and clerks of the house gave the two months to organize over who should fish and who not hold and string fish while they succeeded in getting appropriated $50,000 for making up the journals which thought it was only about one month of the same work is real, and one of those that Congressmen like. They will be told that their legislators after having sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties, were just as much a committed of those who in have been republicans, and that bills were introduced for immediate, all of which is subscribed to reformers. Of course the reporter's clerks received wide profit, etc. in case that alcohol of a many to so considerable were and not legislators, and less cringing of the ex Lieut. Governor of the state finds the matter so political sense pin fees and clerks and to the ex Lieut. Governor of the which made a stump speech against republicans and about a month ago of post years, but they are Democrats short, one of a number of reformed and Nov. 1st will expect to have their votes cashed. The people are for honest reform and a return of honest, with moderate profit gains. All the party name these days, they attempt to monopolize for their opposite. The question of today is "Did right or wrong" and not what party leaders or opinions and every voter knows what is wrong without going back to past performance of the party and Auburn Granger.

WAR NEWS.

SUMMARIZED FROM DAILY DISPATCHES

SATURDAY, JUNE 4.

The navy department receives confirmation of the reported sinking of the Merrimac in the channel to the entrance of the harbor of Santiago, Cuba and learn that it was done by order of Admiral Sampson in order to effectually seal in the Spanish fleet.

Naval constructor Hobson and seven other volunteers performed the deed that ends in sinking the sinking of the Merrimac by Lieut. Hobson during the dead war at noon and he men took the ship into the channel with the forts raining a veritable shower of death all around them, turned her crosswise of the channel, anchored and then jumped for themselves, took to a small boat raised a flag of truce, rowed into the harbor and surrendered to the Spaniards without serious injury to any of them.

The commander of the Spanish fleet offers to effect an immediate exchange of the men that took the Merrimac into the very jaws of death and assures Sampson that while they are prisoners of war they will receive the best of treatment.

Sampson says the six Spanish ships in the harbor of Santiago cannot avoid being captured or destroyed.

MONDAY JUNE 6.

Captain Gridley, commander of Admiral Dewey's flag ship the Olympia died on Japan on June 4th and his body is on the way to this country on the steamer Tartar. It is said the captain sustained injuries in the fight at Manila, not known at the time but which eventually caused his death. He was born at Logansport, Indiana in 1844, entered the naval academy in 1862, saw active service in the civil war.

The fifth first regiment of Iowa volunteers left Des Moines for San Francisco on the 5th.

The Cadiz fleet is reported to be on its way to West India waters for the purpose of relieving Cervera.

It is reported that the Americans sunk the Spanish torpedo boat Terror off Santiago de Cuba.

Details present and more complete accounts of the attack on the forts of the Merrimac.

Here are the names of the heroes that manned the Merrimac: Lieutenant Worth Bagley, Ensign George Christian, George Phillips, Daniel Lucas, George Philippe, Lyon, Francis Kelly and Randolph Clausen, each received.

TUESDAY, JUNE 7th.

The insurgents again on March 6th at Cavite fought with Spanish troops and have driven the enemy into Manilla. The Spanish soldiers are entirely shut in. The insurgents are meeting in Manilla and are in full control in the area of the U. S. troops.

Santiago de Cuba was again bombarded by the American fleet and it is reported a large body of Cuban patriots landed during the bombardment.

A Kingston, Jamaica dispatch states 600 American troops landed near Punta Cabrera and a heated action with the insurgents under Garcia.

Ten American warships bombarded Santiago de Cuba on Monday and inflicted terrible damage on the forts.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8th.

The forts Reeves and Clay at the entrance to the harbor of Santiago de Cuba are completely demolished by the American guns, a Spanish gunboat and a merchant ship sunk and the Cuban fleet is reported to be completely crippled. Admiral Cervera is reported to be a prisoner in the hands of the Cubans.

Average attendance	[illegible]
Number neither absent nor tardy	[illegible]
Number of pupils who recited in history	[illegible]

There are 24 pupils in the Grammar school, and 18 in the primary. There are only 10 scholars in the school of Dixon. During the past year 20 days more school have been in session in Wausa than in Dixon. Wausa has expended last year $[illegible] in the school building. All New text books have been put on the school.

Amount received for damaged house $[illegible]

Amount paid and signed $[illegible]

Amount due and signed $[illegible]

Amount required to replace worn out books $[illegible]

The upper number of scholars around supposed gambling which we had that boys attempt to lord on the strength and too should be interested. In the school room and see out to be among those who tell that it the revised course of study, or rather cut a larger attendance will result, a great saving can be effected by repairing slightly damaged text books and supplying as needed in the primary grades to carry on the work properly, and in the high school a set of maps on ancient, history and a few books on history and an encyclopedia are needed. The school has no reference books and it is recommended that a few books of this kind be added each year.

He says the work of the teachers has been well, kind and painstaking and they have cooperated with the management in carrying out the methods and general plans of the school.

BLOWN UP BY OREGON

CAUGHT TRYING TO RUN THE BLOCKADE AT SANTIAGO

One of the Big Warship's 13-Inch Shells Hits the Spanish Destroyer and Ship Goes Down With All Hands on Board.

First Blood for the Oregon.

News has been received in Paris from Port Antonio to the effect that the Spanish torpedo boat destroyer Terror, or the Furor, sister ship, has been sunk by an American warship. Hayti says that the Oregon saw the vessel attempting a sortie at daybreak heading toward the harbor of Santiago. She opened the ball on her, and her shells were dropping very accurately alongside, whereupon the Oregon opened her heavy guns. A 13-inch shell struck the torpedo boat and broke her in two. The shell burst and tore the vessel to pieces. It is believed that torpedo boat destroyer has gone to the Spanish navy yard at Havana, as she had orders concerning the Terror's fate, as she had reports concerning the Terror's fate, as she had reports concerning the Terror's fate, as she had reports

Admiral Sampson Reported to Have Purposely Sent Collier Merrimac into the Narrow Channel—Motto Now More Accurate Correct.

Second Bombardment Reported.

Friday morning at 6 o'clock the American squadron in Cuba is second bombardment of the fortifications of Santiago de Cuba, and a heavy engagement ensued for two hours, which, it is said, the Spanish suffered. An American vessel, the Merrimac, succeeded in the attempt from Santiago de Cuba, as an auxiliary cruiser, taking a dash to force the entrance, succeeded in sinking the first line of Cervera's fleet as it departed about 20 feet on the channel. The Merrimac became so far aft she could extend her to sink almost entirely into it. An officer, an engineer and six seamen were killed by the shell. The number of wounded is unknown.

The news that the collier (old cruiser) Merrimac was sunk in the channel to bottle up Cervera's way through the narrow passage, reaching Washington before certified word reached Washington. While not yet very informal, it except that confirmed to have dispatches to the effect that the Merrimac was sunk, and all agrees that it is exceedingly probable that Sampson would arrange a plan fighting ship a [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] rather than risk the destruction of a regular war vessel, which we would weaken the effective strength of the American fleet. Admiral Sampson has apparently succeeded in carrying out the battle at Santiago and imprisoned the Spanish fleet by purposely sinking in the channel the collier, which, as he said, was brought with the fleet for that express purpose.

The Merrimac was a tramp steamer with a load of iron and with a displacement of 6,000 tons, and it was impossible of carrying the enormous load of 5,000 tons of coal, so that it is was successfully sunk in the narrow entrance to Santiago bay in such a way as to make it impossible for the Spanish fleet which nothing but dynamite would remove, and the use of dynamite of course would [illegible] torpedoes in the vicinity of the wreck.

Rob Sneath of Pender observed Decoration day in Wilson. Rob invited the old soldier boys up to spend the day with him next Wednesday and prescribe has a steel lizzie. It is proposed to carry along a good medical chest, and consider decisions for overtoxicated scientists as they may come rather and roll in as are most likely to know exactly when to pull the string and show the lumpers. It is threatened that if Commander Hack soon not permit him to realize that he shall be sold under the jump, spot and Beasley's mind is quite taxed on to work the wicker dust. This shows up well for Wayne county and these lines with those already in the service makes over 40 of our county's sons that have offered their services in their country and certainly puts us in the front rank when population is considered and if the same ratio prevailed all over the United States Uncle Sam would have a pretty respectable sized army.

Show Day in Wayne.

The day fixed John L. was the 6th. Nebraska's best and everybody and the babies seem to have taken advantage of it and were at the show either in the afternoon or evening. Fully 3,000 people were in the tent to the afternoon to witness the performance and were the ridiculous sayings and all the funny scenes of the old opera house comedy. It was not a complimented crowd either, as everything was up to their faces or what a first class show ought to be. One thing remarkable was the wonderfully good order prevailing on the grounds and about the tents, so seeming that idle talk or acts of rowdyism and such a thing or gamers of any kind seemed there or on the streets during the day or night—something we never saw before. Such shows and the manner of conducting them are certainly creditable to the men having them to charge and walls not to great in spread of canvas or street parades as Barnum & Bailey or the Ringlings yet their street parade was very good and the performances in the rings were all right and certainly demonstrates that John Robinson was deserving of the excellent patronage he received from our people.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. Kings New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their marvelous merits. These pills are mild in action and are particularly effective in the cure of constipation and sick headache. For malaria and liver troubles they have proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to the stomach and bowels cause the entire system. Regular size 25 cents per box. Sold by R. W. Wilkins & Co., druggists.

Local and Miscellaneous.

J. D. K. Smith of Lincoln was here Saturday.

The Hoskins News man is seeking greener fields than the shortleaf lows.

Wakefield is building a good road in order to give the benefit of open concerts.

Quite a goodly number of Co. G. have been in camp at Wakefield for the past ten days and drawing rations and equipments from the State or National Governments. The residents of the town and the surrounding country have been quite liberal in their care of the whole with the good healthy stomachs, but not withstanding this has been necessary for the boys to go down in their own pockets quite extensively in order to be where they can receive the benefits of the daily meals being given by the company's efficient officers.

Many of the editors along the Omaha were taken to Omaha prior to June 5 on free transportation, and at the opening of Omaha, shown the sights of the city and exposition free and now as the stockyards comes along to the table it is only to pick out every one of the boys that enjoyed the "free" business. The columns of papers that have here been filled as the result about the exposition and the wonderful liberality of the Omaha railroad, now seem with a place of both. It is strange indeed how free transportation free lunch or free whisky will unlocks the ordinary editorial batteries and cause them to shed out paragraphs of deadly gush over the head that feeds them or carries them free.

In the early spring fears were expressed that wheat and oats were going to be a very "poor stand, for, while on the ground in good fall crop, there was too abundant rains and the cool, weather during winter to "stool" as usual before and today the burden of the story is too much wet, wheat is too rank and lodged will lodge and not fill. Just was awhile before you pass judgment, you were a little premature in decaying it was going to be thin on the ground and maybe before harvest time come you will have reason to again revise your judgment. It is late for big heads before harvest time and the changes that may occur before that time may entirely change the complexion of the crop prospects. At all events it is not to be too early in our conclusions as Nebraska generally is all right and it looks as though sign will not be an exception, in fact every indication today point to a crop greater in proportion than usual.

War News Twice a Week.

The fact that the Omaha Weekly World-Herald is issued twice a week gives it an immense advantage over other weekly papers sent out from Omaha. A subscriber to the Weekly World-Herald gets the war news twice a week instead of only once. For this service the World-Herald charges only $1.00 a year, which is less than one cent a copy.

Stamp photos.

I am now prepared to make stamp photos for 25c per dozen.
