Beets, hogs and cattle, that's what Nebraska is best adapted to produce. With these industries properly conducted there is no room for clouds as to her future.

The United States should raise the beets and manufacture the sugar that her people consume, and if the proper course is pursued by congress she can and will do it.

If the O'Neill Frontier don't soon drop the publication of the constitutional amendments, the pesky pops up in bloody Rock will be getting a special meeting of the "legislature" to dispose of them.

The Kansas legislature is talking of issuing Morgan silver dollars legal tender for the payment of debts. Does any one now believe the members of that legislature will take their pay in those dollars and at their face value?

Up in South Dakota the railroads are contemplating the withholding of transportation from populist newspapers. Railroad managers are not noted for sending any further into a state subscription than lots of other shortsighted people.

There is hope for the farm of corn when though the crop is an enormous one. October '96 saw the exports of that cereal almost double what they were in '95. In '95 the exports were 7,000,000 bushels, in '96 13,000,000.

The Czar of Russia has taken personal control of affairs into his own hands and takes no advice from any of those who have been in the habit of meddling the different departments. He's today an autocrat in deed as well as name.

Why don't the calamity newspapers run in partial columns of factories resuming and those increasing forces and wages with the hope that they are so ready to report? There is a golden opportunity for them to do a grand educational work.

To hear the billows of the calamity mine crowing about not having any of the promised and much talked of prosperity coming their way, would lead a man not to think that they didn't expect to do anything to bring about prosperity but expected it would just be like the manna in the Bible, they'd ditch it without trying.

A man by the name of Stewart residing in Scotland, has written a letter to Secretary of State Hoke Smith offering to lend $2,500,000 that he wanted to invest in beet sugar factories. If he will drop down on Wayne we will try to show him that it will be greatly to his advantage to build one here.

Two hundred and eighty two farms out of each thousand in the United States are mortgaged as the census reports of 1890 indicate. The rates are thirty above that the mortgages are heaviest in the southern and eastern portions of the country and that in the decade from 1880 to 1890 the increase of farm values in Nebraska and Kansas exceeded both principal and interest of the mortgages on them.

Dan of the Windy Tribune has figured it out that every time a farmer burns $10 worth of corn that the railroads carrying corn from Wasatch to Chicago lose $10.31 in freight and that the road carrying coal from Colorado to Wasatch loses $14.38 on freight per ton of the substitution of corn for coal. In other words the farmer or other person that burns $10 worth of corn gives it to the railroads for just $24.69.

Only four weeks more and the pops will have held of the sickage that control Nebraska state affairs and then the country will be given a touch of what the calamity mine is like. Let us do. Every man, woman and child in the state that has good times at their hearts and many of us are led to believe that the colder heads in the ranks will prevail, but we will have to wait and see if they are true to the class principles of Governor Holcomb in honor to them, if not their party.

My son, get thee up and hustle. There's no room on earth for a loafing bum and if you would find all enriched should not go here to plant them. No in the commercial regions of the gentle west and Pacific slope those spend gas ments by forest toll. Take heed unto thyself that the sagebrush gasket no hold on thee for the sake of it. Gain the knowledge of a solid footing and thyself will be armed continued with my benefits. Shut up that jackknife, get off from there bum and move about a remark to escape the lips derogatory so to rely. Remember the best friend of my children and others was one of that are. Come now, lay aside thy laziness, forsake the company that put them who only work their jaws, be a useful member of the community and all good persons will be thy friends.

It would appear as a natural observance and looking at matters from the same standpoint that future business is conducted that the railroads would endeavor a good share of the money making the rates on local and short lines. By putting the rate down so low as to get all of the wool they would increase the tonnage of cars enough that much to the farmer and that make it an inducement to market it more readily and by increasing the rate on coal they would increase the consumption of corn to its stead. By adopting a policy of this kind they would increase their local traffic enough, and while the price per ton hauled would be less yet the aggregate long moved would be so much larger that the aggregate receipts of the roads would be much more than at present, besides giving the roads a more prominent place in the hearts of all.

Upon investigation of the supposed enemy of the best government vested in the legislative section of the last election, we are inclined to think that of most are not selfish. Many of the gentlemen while intellectually sizzled for legislatives could tell us whose party platform calls for the repeal of this law that makes each ton of lawful ground worth $1 of a dollar more per ton than it could how was not in existence, and if the action of the voters who do it is to be taken as an index of the decision it would appear that they are really anxious to have that amount distributed among the ground as above mentioned. Is this not our opinion? If such it is the hundreds of voters. There are quite a number of persons telling the members of the quiet for being so thoughtless when they see facts what their votes mean.

There is no room for gratitude in the history of prosperity in the United States. The voters have to be set aside by the plain political ramblings of those who struggle to see a hopeless cause prosper instead of possible independent and best interests of the citizens that they might be benefited to grow for white spreading discontent broadcast throughout the land. It is the part of good citizenship to each of us to see that we mentally rise to give to all true independent and to make sure we only vote as nearly as we can to be necessary for us to do the same for us. differences and to see to it that we believe in living above the sugar conditions of mere vulgar selfishness. You can help, but in by having down the man whose interests and from by fear or about that he become possessed of spare dollars, but by demonstrating to him that a way of a desire to work you are ready and willing to assume him that when he wants his funds in your money or interests them to your keeping that you will live up to the letter of the contract and do it specifically. It is better for each of us to do this even though the results that ground up as an entire section one. It appeals to the opportunities that we do not today possess and enables us to add to our own stores upon earth. It is time to drop prejudices and stand up for our selves and our state.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Of the Founding of the North Nebraska Normal College

The fifth anniversary of this popular institution was duly observed by an open house on Saturday evening. Probably six hundred persons consisting of students, ex-students, patrons and friends of the school came in answer to the invitation sent out by Prof. and Mrs. Pile. The house was nicely decorated with the colors of the College, black and yellow, and over the stage the National colors were displayed. The evening's entertainment was begun with a piano duet by Misses Stewart and Hubbard, followed by a short history of the founding of the College, its ups and downs, joys and sorrows, failures and successes, by Prof. Pile. He stated that the idea of founding here an institution of learning was first contemplated in August, '91, and the school itself opened in an old store building on Main street, with an attendance of eight scholars, during the first year, however, 237 students were enrolled, and the last year attendance was 351. From this to the present time the enrollment has constantly increased until this past year when it reached 610 with an average attendance of 240. There have been over 1800 different students now that for the three first years and when it is considered that all this has been done in the face of the most unprecedented hard times of the country, and that it is constantly growing in influence and at each term's ending one of the best equipped and healthiest of the kind, it calls to New braska but the nature north west. The dwelt on much to the wonderful, how ideal from sickness of climate, showing that but one student had died while in attendance and that during the last year with a total of one thousand and six different students enrolled. Of the one thousand six hundred and seventy-two students enrolled in the past year there graduated of the grade of the College, and Miss Watson for those of '96. Prof. Skinner, the music teacher, and one of the members of the faculty, then spoke for a few minutes, speaking especially of the excellent work done in the school of music. Miss Reynolds, the elocutionist, then read a selection that proved to be a most excellent one, and while the program was being rendered Miss Reynolds, Prof. Pile and Miss Skinner served ice cream and cake. Many of the friends of the school were present to help celebrate the occasion and all left with the feeling that the evening had been a most pleasant one. Prof. Pile's address was full of encouragement to the students of the College and predicted for it a bright future. Miss Watson's paper will be of especial interest to the students of the present year. Every student of the graduating class of '96, Miss Watson being the second one. Miss Skinner's paper was also full of interest to the students of the College and contained many good things for the future. CHAPTER XXXII.

"We are starting west now, sir. We are going south; but that matters little. As for Rufus Crouch, we have not had him among us these four days and more, that, doctor, is all I have to tell."

Oakhurst Jackson, as he said these words, looked up at the long, sharp-pointed shovel which the hapless man, called scornfully and cruelly the treasure, had grimly pierced through his shoulders, and his full, grand but bright fine-young spirit.

"Like Prince Crouch," Dr. Leader made as the act of wiping, when suddenly a procession of surprise and consternation ran in rapid way along the heads appearing in the left and in the midst of the [illegible] doctor was visible a certain [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Something to Know

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by gentle tone to the nerve centers in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Entirely different from the patent nostrum class. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at R. W. Wilkins & Co.

Was taken with la grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail, and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began to use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store if Kings New Discovery don't sell. Get a free trial at R. W. Wilkins & Co's drug store.
