THE FIELD OF BATTLE

INCIDENTS AND ANECDOTES OF THE WAR

The capture of the rebel vessel General Sherman at Charleston Harbor, December 19, 1865.

It was in the month of December, 1865, that the rebel vessel General Sherman, commanded by Captain M. M. Stewart, was captured at Charleston Harbor. The vessel was found to be laden with military stores, and the crew was taken prisoner. The capture of this vessel was a significant blow to the rebel cause in the South.

The capture of the General Sherman was a significant event in the history of the war. It showed that the rebel forces were still active in the South, and that they were still capable of mounting a serious challenge to the Union forces. The capture of this vessel was a major victory for the Union forces in the South.

IS NOT RECIPROCAL

DRAWBACKS ATTENDING SPECIAL TARIFF TREATY PLAN.

QUESTIONS WHY THE PROPOSED PROGRAM OF RECIPROCITY WILL NOT CONTRIBUTE TO THE ADVANTAGE OF THE UNITED STATES' INTERESTS.

The proposed plan for a special tariff treaty is not reciprocal in its benefits to the United States. It is a one-sided arrangement that would favor foreign interests over the interests of the United States. The plan would allow foreign goods to enter the United States at a lower duty rate than the goods produced in the United States. This would result in a loss of revenue for the United States and a loss of jobs for the American people.

Feeling Poorly?

For two years I suffered acutely from dyspepsia, with gas, flatulence, indigestion, and a feeling of fullness after meals. I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla and in the week I was a new man. My real feelings were expressed and I was stronger and better in every way. - Jean McDonald, Philadelphia, Pa.

When a cheerful, brave and light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the blues, it is a bad picture. She has been falling out of sorts for some time, experiencing excess headache and backache; sleeps very poorly and is exceedingly nervous.

Sometimes she is nearly overcome by faintness, dizziness and palpitation of the heart; then that bearing-down feeling is dreadfully wearing. Her husband says, "Now, don't get the blues! You will be all right after you have taken the doctor's medicine."

But she does not get all right. She grows worse day by day, until all at once she notices that a distressing female complaint is established. Her doctor has made a mistake.

She loses faith, hope vanishes; then comes the morbid, melancholy, exasperating blues, she should have been told just what the trouble was, but probably she without some information from the doctor, who, therefore, is unable to accurately locate her particular illness.

Mrs. Fickham has received thousands of written from just this kind of trouble, and now retains their grateful letters in her library as proof of the great assistance she has rendered to them. This same assistance awaits every sick woman in the land.
