NEWS AND COMMENT.

Missions—Matters relating to people and things they care for.

Here is your biography in a nutshell. Born, walked, crawled, stood, learned, graduated, in one word, engaged, married, quarreled, reconciled, suffered, mourned and departed. Without Appeal.

It is believed a telegram this week from a friend at Lincoln, Neb., stating that an opportunity to purchase half a million acres of good land at twenty cents per acre. This may prove a better investment than all property and with "house of refuge" may bear investigation from one people who have a surplus of land.—Tribune Herald.

It is whispered around on the edges that Hittaway gave a real live "back the finger" and some of the girls are anxious for him to be taken to the county jail. During the past year or two of our going girls were accused by this mysterious person and several nearly to death. (Humorous.)

News about home being in putting on the "white dress." Just the dress and the beautiful complexion rendered that work an excellent comedy "My Girl."

Edwin Dale Bryant, brother of Mrs. C. A. Jones died at Hastings Monday evening Nov. 26, and was buried at Bellevue Tuesday afternoon. Rev. J. C. Jones officiated at the funeral service. Deceased was aged 62 years, 6 months and 15 days.—Hastington News.

Just as we in grade we learn that a "backbone" named Hittaway was the cause of the cars while the train was backing this afternoon and badly resulted in the region of the abdomen. Dr. C. Jones was called and after doing what was surgically possible, but did not want to do it. (By the hospital). His condition is serious.—Tribune Herald.

An extraordinary thing happened in district court yesterday. The final portion of the property of Miles Rowdell, who died in 1878, was being made among the surviving heirs, having been delayed for three weeks or another full quarter of a century. The widow and three children appeared in court, and as order was just about to be made regarding them their respective portions of the estate, when someone offered the information that there was a few more children by a girl who had married Miles Rowdell and who had to the point and confirmed this statement, declaring that her husband had been married before he met her. (The court was silent for a moment.) What really is, how would all over the country, most of them not having been heard of for thirty-five years. An effort will be made to get the list, if successful. They will be surprised by the receipt of a letter among the do not expect. The delay in the settlement of the estate, the sudden discovery of the former marriage and the complete disappearance of a wife in a large family, all constitute unusual making the case very interesting for the people of the "Wayne Republican."

Chicago always get the feeling a feeling with someone in country towns. They were a merchant they will pay twenty cents for all the eggs he will send them. The merchant takes this to a good swap (and it is for the others) and brings around and gathers in two or three hundred dollars, sends to the firm and another sends the money and profit of five cents per dozen. The man brings the expected letter, but instead of a check he finds enclosed twenty dollar stamps for the same conditions. "Just what they offered him twenty cents for all the eggs he could send us." The poor merchant was disappointed money but he has a chance to make money.

As long as the boys' next to be known, they will be in the hands of the boys who are anxious to see something. The first one who I stopped I had to pay, and I hope it will be just as with the next crop.

R. H. Swegard, father of G. W. Swegard, died at Seward, Dodge county, last week. Deceased was 82 years of age.

The authorities should be put on the trail of the man who has been writing "social" advertising in some of the neighboring towns. Some of the conditions are enough to make a "black" man turn over in his grave.

John Hittaway's biography

John Hittaway's biography and the fact that he has been dead for many years. There is some weak news in the world that there is a "back the finger" and some of the girls are anxious for him to be taken to the county jail. During the past year or two of our going girls were accused by this mysterious person and several nearly to death. (Humorous.)

THE REPUBLICAN

Side Jalls.

When a man falls in love with a woman, he usually goes to the other extreme, which amounts to the fact that he usually neglects his business for a week or two. A fellow came in from the country and offered to supply me with some apples. He said he had a little money in the pocket, but was "a little poor" and he offered to pay me in apples. I would not accept of such a gift, but he insisted that I should take them. I told him that I would not take them, but he insisted that I should take them. I told him that I would not take them, but he insisted that I should take them.
