

Ralph Goodwin, of Dakota City, who was sent to the asylum some six weeks since to recover from the excitement of a religious revival, has returned to his home. He is thought to be thoroughly cured, and if such shall prove true, numerous friends in Dakota county where he is known will account it little less than a personal blessing to themselves, as he is a man who is held in high regard.

Norfolk has a population of 1,461, and this bid fair to climb to a round 2,000 by the early days of 1885.

Considerable anxiety is felt at Papillon as to the whereabouts of Charles Stewart, a resident of that place. Stewart is about fifty years old. He left his home a few days ago for Omaha to sell a horse. Since that time nothing has been heard of him. He was last seen at an Omaha livery stable, where he sold the horse, put the money in his pocket and started for home. No reason can be assigned by the members of the family for his sudden departure, and they are firm in the belief that he has been murdered for his money.

According to the assessor's returns the property of Alma is assessed at $72,194. These figures may be changed somewhat by the equalization board. By sitting the railroad assessment it will foot up about $18,000.

Henson Wiseman, the oldest settler in Cedar county, attended a reunion exercises at Haytinton. He is that last of his children during the late war. The same getting killed by the Indians—four boys and one girl, the oldest being 17 years old and the youngest four. His wife, at that time was at Yankton, this explains perhaps the same horrible fate.

Postoffice changes in Nebraska during the week ending May 31, 1884. Established—Eglin, Antelope county, Wm. M. Egerton, postmaster. Gates, Cedar county, Stillman Gates, postmaster. Hampton, Stanton county, Martin Krueger, postmaster. Postmasters appointed—Baird, Nuckolls county, Wm. Kleck; Carter, Carter county, Milo F. Young; North Platte, Lincoln county, John E. Evans.

A Lincoln Journal reporter in informed by a physician at the insane hospital that that institution is now crowded to its utmost capacity. There are now patients within the walls of the asylum, and this number is the very limit of what can be rightly and properly administered to. The time is not far distant when the state will be compelled to make further provision for the care of the most unhappy and unfortunate of our citizens.

A fire broke out in a stable at Schuyler the other night and swept two of the best business blocks of the city away. Loss nearly one hundred thousand dollars. Many families were rendered homeless.

The corner stone of the new Methodist church at Lincoln was laid on the 18th. The Lincoln Journal says the crop outlook this month (June) in Nebraska is fairly good. Grain and corn are in slightly larger areas than last year. Both are somewhat later. Some small grain is exceedingly fine, but the average is about that of former years. Corn is free of weeds and in good condition, but the stand is not uniformly what could be desired. Game grass is in almost double its former acreage, and is doing remarkably well.

A McCook dispatch of the 9th says: A strong gale commenced at the west end of the Republican Valley Saturday evening, about 7 o'clock, and made a general sweep clear through to the Missouri, raising dense clouds and making the people tremble with fear. At several places observatories were torn down, and houses overturned and trees uprooted, but no other injury was effected. It was followed soon afterward by a drenching rain of about an hour and a half's duration.

The Bloomington normal closed its second year the 6th inst., and the last two days the public was given an industrial exposition, which was pronounced by all the best thing of the kind ever exhibited in the state. The display of school and mechanical labor was simply magnificent, and the kindergarten work elicited praise from all.

Alma will celebrate the Fourth of July. The citizens intend to make it the most successful celebration ever held there.

The Alma band has been reorganized, new instruments received, and under the instruction of Mrs. Maria Anderson, will soon be one of the best brass bands in the state.

At a district school meeting in one of the country districts in Richardson county, held for the purpose of selecting a site for a new building, the old one being burned last winter, the meeting became so excited as to draw revolvers and defy one another to shoot. Each party scooped the other of having burned the school house.

A Swede named Oleson, from the cow pasture of Wyoming, was condemned out of $400 by two desperadoes in Omaha a few days ago. The racket was worked by the "hogue shock" club. It was for $700, secured by Maurice & Co. on the First National bank of Omaha, and payable to the order of J. C. Crawford & Son. Would Mr. Oleson lend them $500, and take the check as security until the bank opened? Of course he would, and did. The money was handed over, and everything was arranged, the two desperadoes stepped into the bar-room to "sign a receipt." Oleson has been looking for them ever since without success.

The other day on the east-bound passenger train en route to Omaha, a farmer's team was seen on the track and was caught by the locomotive which killed the wagon and cut

Joseph Harvey, a young married man 24 years of age, was killed Saturday on the night of the 15th. He, in company with three others, were "making night hide-outs" in that town, getting and being revolvers. The deputy marshaled them to the depot, but he was overpowered. Calling assistance the parties were pursued to the country, but still they refused to be taken. Many shots were exchanged, and finally the party was marched back to town—only a corpse shot in the back part of the head. The deceased is spoken of as a very hard character and his companions are no better. The young man making the arrest, and who probably did the fatal shooting, has given himself up to the authorities.

Immigration to Franklin county continues lively and real estate agents are rushed with business.

The O'Neill Frontier says that J. W. McClean & Co. of that place, received an order one day last week for a coffin for a lady who died near Packer, who measured six feet and six inches, being probably the tallest woman in Nebraska.

The Harvard Journal learns from several farmers that seed selected from 1882 crop has not as general a thing coming in, as well as that selected from last year's crop. This, it says, should teach farmers to select seed more carefully in the fall and see to it that it is well taken care of, not put in bins or over grain that in any way liable to heat, for this will destroy the germ. Every farmer should always secure an abundance of seed for himself and not be compelled to rely upon the "weight of the market" and pay exorbitant prices for seed.

The O'Neill Frontier says that J. W. McClean & Co. of that place, received an order one day last week for a coffin for a lady who died near Packer, who measured six feet and six inches, being probably the tallest woman in Nebraska.

The school board at Harvard, at a recess meeting, adopted the course of study as arranged by the joint committee of the faculty of the state university and the principals of the high schools of Nebraska. Pupils who complete this course will be admitted to the Freshman class of the university without examination.

The Stuart Ledger says that two women who took up land north of that place, while scouring the country in search of water, came across both of them, and, digging down found a glove, shoe and a couple of quilts. This but the parties reported, and quite shortly went to the place designated, found the grave containing the body of John Wade, father of the late Wade, who was hung near Rossett last winter. The next day the women and deputy sheriff of Brown county came down and went to the spot, where an inquest was held, the jury rendering a verdict that the body was that of John Wade, and that he came to his death by gunshot wounds, inflicted by parties to them unknown.

The Union Pacific surveyors completed the survey of the proposed line of railroad from Valparaiso to Red Cloud the latter part of last week. They are now in camp at the latter place awaiting further orders. The line is said to be the best in some respects ever surveyed in the west. Besides passing through a rich and fertile section of the state the grade is unusually light.

The Kerr opera house at Hastings has been leased to Morris L. Alexander for a term of five years at an annual rental of $2,400, payable monthly in advance. This includes the opera house proper and the store and ten office rooms connected therewith.

The authorities of Sidney have been called upon to take charge of an insane man who was trying to dig up the railroad track east of that town. He proved to be Jim McLean, who came near burning the bridge occupied by Dr. Field, a short time ago. When found he was digging on the track for the purpose, he said, of excavating an engine and engine that were buried there. It was simply a case of "buzza" in his boots.

The already over-crowded asylum at Lincoln.

A brakeman named Milton Robinson, whose parents reside on Elm Island, south of Gibson, was run over and killed by the cars on the Laramie Division of the Union Pacific on June 26th. His remains were brought to Gibson for burial.

The Mexican newspapers continue denouncing the nomination of Blaine, which is generally regarded as a threatened evil for Mexico. La Libertad (anti-American) says it hopes for the election of Hays, for Hays has more to fear from a friendly president than one who is avowedly hostile, regarding it as more to the interest of Mexico to deal with her neighbor in a spirit of confidence and respect than to hobnob with one who is probably to be looked on as a traitor to become demoralized.

The report of any trouble in any Cleveland bank is without foundation. The defaulting of the paying teller of the National Bank of Commerce had no perceptible effect on that bank's status. All the Cleveland banks are in a perfectly sound and solvent condition.

Bishop George W. Peterkin, of West Virginia, was married on the 15th in Hendricks county to Miss Maria M. Stewart, daughter of John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most prominent citizens of Virginia.

WASHINGTON

The president sent to the senate a message suggesting the propriety of congress appropriating $500,000 for the purpose of making a complete and harmonious selection of exhibits on behalf of the government for the New Orleans exposition. The message was referred to the committee on appropriations. The president points out how the exposition will break down the barriers which still separate us from the republics of South America, whose productions are so entirely a complement of our own.

The house committee on elections in the Ohio contested election case of Campbell v. Morley, by a vote of 8 to 4, agreed to report in favor of upsetting Morley and seating the contestant.

The president signed the act fixing the rate of postage on mail matter of the second class when sent by persons other than publishers or news agents.

Nominations.—Registers of the land offices. Henry W. Roberts, of Iowa, at Cheyenne, Wyoming; of P. Cushman, of Illinois, in Helena, Montana.

The concessions from Nicaragua which secretary Frelinghuysen wished to secure for the government, are understood to be those made three or four years ago for the Inter-oceanic canal project, in which General Grant, Governor Morazan, S. L. M. Bond, Capt. Phelps, and others in this country, together with some people of the republic in Nicaragua, were interested. The terms which the work was to have been done has nearly elapsed, and whether the secretary proposes to purchase the rights of the original grantee or to secure an extension of time, or both, is still the matter asked for, is not clear.

The government authorities have received a telegram from special Agent Robert McKee West, Florida, as follows: "Macron, the secretary of the republican committee here, has been granted a marshal, together with a lot of expensive military paraphernalia from New York. The explanation given is that the committee there are several hundred in the baggage, and should be prohibited to volunteer."

The treaty which has been under consideration in the senate committee, and which provides for the withdrawal of our troops from the Philippines, and which has already been ratified and promulgated by twenty-four governments, was reported adversely by the committee to the senate after a brief discussion.

FOREIGN

A London dispatch says it is impossible for the British government to support the weakening of the autonomy of the Egyptian question. It is even evident that the military expedition in Egypt is a necessary condition in order to maintain the Egyptian state of affairs as it stands. The Egyptian question is a delicate one, and should be handled with care.

POLITICAL

It is suspected by demagogues at Washington that Representative DeGulian, of New York, is pushing for the democratic nomination for president and that Deas, of the New York Sun, is organizing the opposition. This is a very serious matter, and should be watched closely.

The republican national committee held a session at Chicago on the 7th and elected John W. Mason, of New York, temporary chairman, and Gen. W. Hooper, of Vermont, temporary secretary, and adjourned to meet at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, June 20th. A committee composed of Lawson, Chas. E. Ryan, and New was appointed to arrange for permanent headquarters in New York city.

Gen. John R. Henderson, chairman of the republican national convention, having his attention called to an interview in the Chicago Times with George B. Benton regarding Hon. Charles Howe, a delegate from Nebraska on the committee to certify candidates of their nomination, and the substituting of M. S. Harwood in his place, says that the facts are not properly stated, and that upon the receipt of a letter from Judge Thurston, chairman of the Nebraska delegation, and statements made by other delegates, he was convinced that he was wrong in removing Mr. Howe, and that he has replaced that gentleman upon the committee and notified him to that effect.

The local committee on arrangements to prepare for the national democratic convention have effected an arrangement to prepare plans for the rearrangement of the convention hall, by which the seating capacity will be enlarged so as to admit 20,000 people. The accommodations for the press will also be enlarged. The local managers confidently expect a larger attendance than was the case with the republican convention, as democratic political clubs from all parts of the country have announced their intention to be present.

Samuel J. Tilden has written a letter to the chairman of the New York state democratic committee in which he positively declines to enter the presidential race. He says, "I have now turned fully my back to the labor and care of the public service, and will receive the thanks of my friends. I have no more to do with the political arena. I have no more to do with the political arena. I have no more to do with the political arena."

Carl Schurz has arrived at St. Louis. He will be the first of the republican candidates to arrive in the city. He is expected to be a strong competitor for the nomination.
