 The Wayne Chautauqua Circle held their last meeting of the year at the home of Miss Cutler Monday evening June 26. The program consisted of roll call answered by patriotic quotations, patriotic songs sung by Circle, vocal solos, instrumental duets and recitations. Each member was presented a badge by the president which all appreciated. After the exercises light refreshments were served. Here many contributions were added to the entertainment of the evening. Five members of the Circle have completed the four years' course. The work has been very interesting and instructive.
 All feel greatly indebted to the Chautauqua movement for the pleasant
 diversion from every day occupation which it affords. No literary movement of this country can surpass the Chautauqua movement for the good it has done. The work done by the circle has always been beyond reproach. "Let the good work go on."

A HOT FIRE
Eli Jones' Livery Barn
Makes Fire Works
July 6th.
 Might be Much Worse.
 About ten o'clock yesterday morning the old livery barn of Eli Jones,
 on lower Second street caught fire,
 from some unknown cause, flames
 breaking out in the buggy shed annex
 on the west end. It took a long time for the department to get water on the flames and for a time it looked as though the Jones implement house and the Smith lumber sheds would be ticked up by the demon. All the horses were gotten out and some of the rigs and harness. Five or six buggies were burned up and considerable feed.
 Dr. Hammond loses all his veterinary instruments, several hundred dollars worth and the loss is heavy for Doc as he had no insurance. He was out in the country during the time of the conflagration.
 Mr. Jones carried $800 insurance on the barn and his other losses are well covered. He had just paid his insurance a few hours before the fire.
 The water hydrant gave considerable trouble in getting started, probably from long disuse, and there was not any great force to the streams
 but it soon put a damper on the flames. Had there been a little wind or had the fire occurred previous to the heavy rain it would have been a long story to relate its results.

 fused to open. 5000 people saw the man shoot through the air.

 question. An advertisement to bridge

 be balm to Editor Cunningham's ragged imagination.
 A civil case is being tried today before Judge Hunter and a jury wherein some insurance company is trying to collect the policy on insurance written some years ago to John Hoag and wife. Hoag gave a note for the sum of the insurance; the policy was defective and sent back to be corrected
 and not being returned Hoag ordered it cancelled, and now the note turns up for collection. P. W. Petersen and Atty. Siman of Winside represent the company while Atty. Fuller is counsel for Mr. Hoag.
 Marshal Miner and Gil Harrison got into a friendly scuffle Wednesday afternoon that terminated in the latter's arrest. Harrison was tried before Justice Alter yesterday and found guilty of something, the writer does not know what. A large number of witnesses gave evidence in the case and their testimony showed that a party of eight or ten had been having a little fun in Kruger's saloon, knocking off and kicking each others hats
 about; that Miner came in and Harrison playfully knocked his cap off, and that while Harrison stooped to pick it up he was slapped or kicked on the rump by the marshal; that they then scuffled for a moment and tore each others shirts before the marshal called for help and told Harrison he was under arrest. The evidence further showed that it was a common occurrence for the two men to scuffle and that scratches and bumps had never counted as a cause for ill feeling; that Harrison was perhaps under the influence of liquor but not so drunk that he couldn't attend to his business of attending bar; that the marshal was in the habit of frequenting the saloon
 and got his drinks and cigars free;
 that he had become angry at defendant upon one occasion and called the defendant an "English s—b—" and invited him to come round
 from behind the bar; that the defendant refused and that Miner had offered to take his star off to accommodate
 him. City Attorney Fuller appeared for the city and Atty. Welch for the defendant. Justice Alter held that defendant was guilty and fined him $5
 and costs and the defense took notice
 of appeal to the district court.

BIG BUT BUMMY.
 No Big Jumps, No Chickens,
 No Pigs, No Indians.
 No Declaration of Independence.
 And Still it was a Hot Time
 Generally Speaking.

The Fourth of July, 1899, is a thing of history and most of us will feel like leaving it undisturbed—except the newspapers. As Rev. Jeffrey said of his son's prize fight "the Lord was with us" and gave us a most beautiful day in which to celebrate.
 While the people were not nearly so numerous as on Barbecue Day, last Autumn, there were a plenty and some to spare. The forenoon was given up to the parade and exercises
 in the opera house, where Judge Davidson of DeCunah delivered a thrilling and patriotic address. The general complaint on the street was that there would be no room in the opera house for ten percent of the people and that perhaps accounts for its not being jammed full.
 In the afternoon most everybody
 walked, rode or wheeled it to the fair grounds, and probably three thousand people assembled to see a pony race and a boy's foot race. There was also a game of ball between Carroll and some of the Wayne boys, for a purse of fun, but the spectators didn't seem to relish the sport to any preceptible extent. The throng of sightseers
 then massed their way to the square near the Richards barn where "Broadly the Bridge Jumper," was to leap "for his life" from a 65 foot tower. After waiting a hot hour or more, in feverish expectancy
 "Broadly" the steward of the Boyd Hotel crawled out of the mud hole and informed the waiting multitude that the "lake" was caving in and he was only going to—jump his job. He was a wise boy to refrain from jumping off the tower, else he would have been stuck in the mud far enough to meet his maker. The next thing of interest was to be the balloon ascension of pigs, chickens and divers other things. Prof. Winteringer was also billed at Hartington and Wakefield, and Wayne came in at the tail end of the circuit. That probably accounts for the deficiency—the chickens had gone to roost, like the wise birds they were, and the pigs—they probably had something to sell. The night rope walk was very mild. The "Crockett's lot of Indians" were decidedly "hot stuff." Last year this feature was the best thing the committee got hold of, but the force of the Fourth didn't even interest the small boy. The bowery dance wasn't very satisfactory; the floor was smooth but the music ragged. The "grand carnival and street cake walk"
 would not capture a bowl of sour mush:
 Now, some DEMOCRAT readers may think that the celebration was all a failure, but it was far from that.
 Mayor Ley and the city employes Messrs Large and Groves, more than fulfilled their agreement to give the people a fine electrical display. The Main street arch was as pretty a thing as ever seen in the state, and no pains were spared to please the people. When the electricity was turned on the effect produced in the fountain was immense. Mrs. Ley's troop of bicycle girls did themselves proud, and the fantastic decorations of wheels and riders occasioned much applause. Elmer Landonburg's flag drill by young ladies was an equally good feature. From eight o'clock until eleven the revelers held full sway
 on Main street. The band played
 "A Hot Time" and everybody appeared to be having it. The confetti and cologne squirts were a new thing
 with most Waynites but they caught on very rapidly and many a merry
 shot was made by maid and youth, lord and lady. The display of fireworks was not much to boast of but the multitude didn't miss them!

SMALL CRACKERS.
 The committee on arrangements
 must have put all their energy on the advertising posters.
 Miss Mamie Blanchard took first prize in the bicycle parade; Hattie Webe 2d and Ethel Norris 3d.
 J. W. Turner's Indians (?) couldn't make half as much noise with their guns as did the peanut vendors'
 mouths.
 The DEMOCRAT won't believe that Landlord Turner ever saw an Indian after noting how he, Turner, makes them.
 D. S. McVicker will never forget the day. He monkeyed with a giant fire cracker and it got him. One of his hands is badly burned and considerably torn as a result.
 The handsome equipage of Eli Jones, as seen in the parade, would compare very favorably with the artistically decorated rigs seen in New York or Chicago.
 There was not a single case of drunkenness so far as the DEMOCRAT
 observed, and no arrests were made.
 Some people are mean enough to ascribe the cause to the new police force.
 All stands made money and the ice cream saloons were shy of cream long before the demand was appeased.
 The church people, for some reason, didn't take advantage of the day to enrich their treasuries, which may account for it.
 Editor DEMOCRAT:
 Kindly say in your paper that the statement in the Herald to the effect that Marion Harrison was awarded 4th prize in the bicycle parade was a mistake, as there was no 4th prize contested for. Respect, Mrs. Harrison

RENNES AT LAST

Reaches Early Hour This Morning He Arrived at the Scene of His Second Court-Martial.

AFFECTING REVISION WITH HIS WIFE

Miss Dreyfus was granted leave to leave the prison—she was granted leave to leave the prison—she was granted leave to leave the prison.

Reaches, July 2.—Captain Alfred Dreyfus, the "prisoner of Devil's Island," whose case has convulsed France for five years and has upset the ministry after ministry, is back in France once more. Spontaneous rumors of his death were current yesterday, and on account of the long-delayed arrival of the Stax found credence in many quarters. Happy France was spared such a tragic denouement of the famous case, the captain arriving at Rennes at 6 a. m. today. He appeared to be in good health. His hair is turning gray and his beard is of a reddish color. He held himself very erect.

Disembarked at Quiberon.

The landing of Dreyfus at Quiberon, at which point he disembarked, was almost unnoticed. At 9 o'clock yesterday evening the guard ship Caudan put to sea to meet the Stax, which had been sighted. The weather was most stormy. For a time it was feared it would be almost impossible to land, the vessel pitching in the waves for hours. Finally, at 1 a. m., a cutter put off from the Caudan and went alongside the Stax. Thence the boat was rowed to shore, where Dreyfus landed at 1:30. A company of infantry was drawn up at the landing stage. Dreyfus was formally handed over to Vigie, chief of detectives. The latter entered a landau with Dreyfus and two detectives, and drove to the railway station. Dreyfus did not speak a word. He entered a compartment of the special train, three carriages and a baggage car, in waiting, and it quickly pulled out. The train stopped at Rabalais, three kilometers from Rennes. The party alighted quickly and entered the carriage, which immediately started at a sharp pace.

The Drive to Rennes.

The drive to Rennes was without incident, the clock striking 6 when the crowd which had been waiting since midnight around the prison saw a landau surrounded by gendarmes beyond the station. All cried "There he is," and started off to meet the carriage. Troops and mounted gendarmes hurried maddly forward, yelling and shouting. The carriage was driven fast, passing the watchers like a flash. It was a race for the prison gates, which opened suddenly and twenty gendarmes rushed out and barred the street, pressing back the crowd with their rifle stocks.

The suddenness of the movement stupefied everybody as much as it apparently did the prisoner, whose face shone from the quickly passing carriage. But beyond exclamations of surprise and curiosity there were no cries of any sort raised.

Preceded by the guards Dreyfus entered the prison, was formally assigned to the care of the governor and taken to a cell on the second story. Though the rain fell heavily all night, the sun shone brightly when Dreyfus entered the prison.

Meets His Wife.

The governor sent Mme. Dreyfus the news of the arrival of her husband. She immediately went to the governor and asked permission to see the prisoner. Leave being granted, the faithful wife entered the prison almost unobserved, and was conducted to cell No. 530 accompanied by Mme. Haver.

The meeting between the long parted husband and wife was most touching. Both Dreyfus and his wife were deeply affected. They remained long clasped in each other's arms, tears and smiles intermingling with tender endearments.

Up to noon there had been no sign of a public demonstration.

SLAIN BECAUSE HE SNOORED.

New York woman's avowed motive for killing her husband.

New York, July 2.—Mrs. Harry J. Ramsey was declared guilty by a coroner's jury of murdering her husband, she admitted giving his throat while he slept last Friday, giving as her sole reason the fact that he snored.

The jury men attached to the verdict the opinion that the woman was temporarily insane when she committed the deed.

As Mrs. Ramsey was on her way across the Bridge of Sticks to the Tomb she attempted to thrust a hatpin into her neck. She made several determined attempts to commit suicide in this way, but was eventually disarmed by a policeman.

THE KINGMAKER

Was a Great Deal of Attention From London Press.

London, July 2.—(Copyright, 1909, by the Associated Press.) Senator Hanna is attracting much attention in the London papers. The "American king maker" is what the daily Chronicle styles him. In regard to presidential prospects, the senator said:

"I would not say I shall, perhaps, be able to tell you who will be the next president. That is about all most anybody could say. But, as to Admiral Dewey, why, I do not suppose he is likely to walk on the carpet."

The papers publish with all seriousness a story of Senator Hanna's visit to the White House on Tuesday. He was taken to the house by Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, and after listening to the opening speeches of the debate, the senator is reported to have said:

"How much will a vote on this bill be worth?" The St. James Gazette impartially comments on this version of the senator's remarks, saying he was "merely applying the standard of Washington to Westminster," adding:

"It will be understood by those familiar with the scandals of congress that he put the question quite seriously."

Outlook at The Hague.

The news from The Hague is regarded as discouraging. Senator-elect Chauncey M. Depew, talking with a representative of the Associated Press, voiced the general opinion of observers, saying: "I am sorry to be obliged to think that the most practical men would be the cause of the peace conference will most probably end in failure at present."

The birth of a third daughter to the czar and czarina is regarded as an event of great political importance, because a strong party in Russia was only awaiting the event to resume its mischievous intrigues against the hated prince of Anglo-Russian blood.

The Aldershot Review.

The paramount thought among the crowds which thronged the enclosures at the review of troops at Aldershot Monday, judging from the frequent references to the subject, was one of admiration for the wonderful powers of endurance displayed by Queen Victoria, enabling her to bear the fatigue such an afternoon necessarily inflicts on anybody of such an advanced age.

TRIBUTE TO DR. BRIGGS.

Bishop Potter Says He Has Enriched Christian Theology.

New York, July 2.—The sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. George William Douglas at the ordination to the priesthood in the Episcopal church of the Rev. Dr. Briggs has been published in paper form by the MacMillan company, with an introduction by Bishop Potter, in which the prelate says:

SHERIFF CALLS FOR GUNS AND TROOPS

Serious Trouble Between Union and Non-Union Miners in Williamson County, Ill.

TOWN OF UNION IS BURNED

One Woman Killed and Twenty Men Wounded—Acting Governor Sends Guns, but Declines to Call Out Troops.

Springfield, Ill., July 2.—The following dispatch from the sheriff of Williamson county, dated Carterville, was received by Senator Walter Warder, acting governor, at 2 o'clock this morning:

"Negro miners at Fredonia fired on a train carrying negro miners from Pana to Brush's mine near Carterville, killing one woman and wounding twenty men. The coroner held an inquest and warrants were issued for six men. I arrested three and they were taken away from me by a mob, who cut the horses loose from my carriage. Five hundred shots were exchanged between union and non-union miners. The town of Union, north of here, has been burned. I am powerless to quell the riot. Send guns and 200 troops at once."

Warder drove at once to the residence of Adjutant General Reece, and after conferring with that official sent the following reply:

"Dispatch just received. I send you immediately 150 guns, and ammunition. Summons posse of good men at once. Do everything in your power to quell the riot and enforce the law. Protect life and property."

Warder said he would not order troops until the sheriff had exhausted his resources and if any were sent it would be the Carboville company, which is near Carterville.

The Burning of Union.

Carbondale, Ill., July 2.—Union City, named from the fact that it is occupied by union miners, was the scene of a battle at midnight. As a result the town is in ruins. Non-union negroes and other men employed by Brush at his mines near Fredonia, having become crazed over the killing of a woman yesterday, went to the camp, which consists of mine houses. The battle raged until the union miners ran from their homes and took refuge in a clump of timber close by. The non-union men at once applied the torch to the houses and all were burned to the ground. When the men had destroyed all the property previously occupied by the union men, they moved on to the woods and until daylight a fusillade was kept up. No lives so far are reported lost in the engagement at Union.

FEAR UTE UPRISING.

Indians at White Rocks Have Begun to Make "Bad Medicine."

Price, Utah, July 2.—The White River Ute Indians and Uinta Ute are dancing at White Rocks agency. They are about 2,000 strong. Besides the band of old Sowowie is leader, which numbers July 1, 1909. The latter are camped in a bunch near the agency. Among this crowd are some 350 bucks, followers of old Sowowie, who says he will lead them back to their lands in Colorado and content with Superintendent Corey was held at 9 o'clock, but the closest secrecy was maintained by both sides. A short time later Superintendent Corey left the works for Pittsburg to consult officials of the company. At the offices in this city nothing could be learned, as the officials preferred the customary silence upon all matters connected with the Ute. There are 4,900 men employed.

ROLLINGER MUST DIE.

Chicago Jury Finds Him Guilty of Murder.

BUNCHED AN IOWA MAN.

Frank Butler, of Cedar Falls, Lones $450 in Chicago.

Chicago, July 3.—Frank Butler, of Cedar Falls, Ia., arrived in Chicago yesterday morning with $450, proceeds of the sale of some land. He was walking along the lake front when a well-dressed man of 60 accosted him and made his acquaintance. The stranger said he was a Kentuckian, and had come to Chicago with several carloads of blooded horses.

Butler was persuaded by his new-found acquaintance to accompany him to 50 Hubbard court, where the latter claimed to have won $500 in a card game. When they entered there the game was renewed by the alleged Kentuckian, who in a short time won $300. Butler saw how easy it was to win money, and he took a hand. The game was three-card monte, but Butler had never heard of it. In a few minutes he lost all he had. After leaving the place it began to dawn on him that he had been swindled and he reported the matter to the Central police. Detectives Magner and Fitzgerald arrested James Sanford and William Kinney, whom Butler identified as the men who got him into the game. Butler is one of the oldest confidence men in the country, is the man who met Butler on the lake front.

SOUTHERN IOWA TRAGEDY.

Clarence Mills Kills His Wife and Fatally Wounds Himself.

Ottumwa, Ia., July 2.—Clarence Mills cut his wife's throat from ear to ear, killing her, then fatally wounded himself in the same manner this morning at Bloomfield. The cause is unknown.

CAMP OF DETENTION.

Volunteers from Philippines Will Be Quarantined at Frisco.

San Francisco, Cal., July 2.—The arrival of the steamer Nippon Maru with an alleged case of the bubonic plague aboard has aroused the health authorities to the danger to be apprehended from the return of volunteer regiments from the Philippines. Arrangements are being made to establish on Angel island a camp of detention for such regiments as are found to have been exposed to contagion. The camp will accommodate about 1,500 men. It is the intention to quarantine there all troops coming on infected transports. The bacteriologist of the health department, having found that the two Japanese droves off the Nippon Maru were afflicted with the bubonic plague, the health authorities ordered the vessel from the dock into midstream, where it will be thoroughly fumigated.

HOMESTEAD LABOR TROUBLE.

Discharge of Amalgamated Men May Result in a Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 2.—The reported strike at the Homestead Steel works of the Carnegie company has not taken place yet, but the men are much worked up over the discharge of the members of the Amalgamated committee who waited upon Superintendent Corey yesterday and demanded the return of fifteen men dismissed recently for joining the association. Threats of a strike are heard on all sides, but the plant is in full operation today and all men are at work save the twenty-four discharged.

HARRISON TO RETIRE.

Nebraska Chief Justice Will Not Seek a Renomination.

Lincoln, Neb., July 2.—In an interview today Chief Justice Harrison says:

CHOATE'S EFFORTS

PROVE FUTILE

Reaches the Limit of His Concessions Without Satisfying the Canadians.

SLIM CHANCE FOR A MODUS

Latest Canadian Demands Involve the Sacrifice of the Interests of American Miners in Atlin District.

Washington, July 3.—The negotiations in London looking to the arrangement of a modus vivendi on the Alaskan boundary dispute have again reached a crisis. Ambassador Choate and Lord Salisbury had several conferences recently, with signally disappointing results. It was thought a basis of understanding had been reached and that only easily arranged details remained, but it turned out these very details cannot be settled without the sacrifice of the interests of many American miners, mainly those driven out of the Atlin district by the severe, discriminating laws of British Columbia. This the state department is determined not to sanction. Ambassador Choate has come to the end of the concessions he is authorized to offer, and therefore the prospect for a successful outcome of negotiations is becoming depressing. This leaves the remaining laws of the high joint commission at Quebec in the air, though the date set for the meeting is rapidly approaching.

MAY END TRANSVAAL ROW

Compromise Arrangement Reported Reached Between the Boers and British.

London, July 3.—The Digger News, the Boer organ in London, prints a dispatch from Johannesburg, announcing on good authority that the volksraad will be asked Monday to confirm arrangements made by the executive council, acceptable to British High Commissioner Milner and the British government. It is believed the arrangement grants a seven-year retrospective franchise to uitlanders resident in the Transvaal before 1890, who will be immediately admitted to burghership, with other modifications in the naturalization laws.

STRIKE NOT LIKELY TO SPREAD

General Walkout in Chicago Packing Houses Not Probable.

Chicago, July 2.—Practically all of the packing houses were in the market today buying hogs for packing purposes and there were few evidences around the yards of a strike. A general walkout of the packing house employes, which was contemplated for tomorrow unless a general adjustment of the wage question was had with the packers, will not take place for a few days, if at all. Several secret meetings were held by the strikers today to discuss the advisability of taking action looking toward a general strike. It was the generally expressed opinion that if the order for a walkout were postponed for a few days chances for success would be much better, as in the meantime an organization could be perfected. Many of the employes strongly argued against any further extension of the strike at the present time.

REFORM THROUGH PARTY ACTION

Subject Discussed Today at Buffalo Conference.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 3.—The subject of the day's discussion by the national social and political conference was "Reform Through Party Action." The morning question was "What Can Parties Do?"

Ex-State Senator John Laughlin presented the claim of the republican party. He declared it had always been the friend of labor and the oppressed. He upheld McKinley's policy in the Philippines, and declared he would be re-elected in 1909 and that the Empire state would present Roosevelt to the nation in 1904 for president.

MINES AND ORGANIZED LABOR

Army Commander Guest of Pittsburg, July 2.—Major General Nelson A. Miles, who is in the city the guest of "All Organized Labor," had a busy time yesterday addressing meeting receptions and addressing meetings.

The general left for Cincinnati late last night.

MRS. SOUTHWORTH DEAD.

Noted Woman Novelist Passes Away in Her 79th Year.

Washington, July 3.—Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, the novelist, died at her residence in this city at 5:30 last night.

About a month ago Mrs. Southworth was prostrated by the heat, and the infirmities of old age, being in her 79th year, rendering her unable to recuperate from the attack, she grew rapidly worse, until a few days since it was seen death was inevitable. She had lived for many years a retired life in a picturesque mansion of the old fashioned type located on a hill in West Washington overlooking the Potomac and the hills of Virginia.

MURPHY'S LIGHTNING RIDE.

Faced by a Locomotive He Goes a Mile in 57 4-5 Seconds.

New York, July 3.—Charles F. Murphy, of the Kings County Wheelmen, rode a mile on a bicycle paced by a locomotive in 57 4-5 seconds. His course was a two mile board track on a siding of the Long Island railroad. Murphy followed an engine and a day and a night ride being provided for him. The engine started at rate and before 4:00 yards had been traversed was running at a rate of more than fifty miles an hour. Murphy was keeping well within the hood. As they neared the beginning of the mile stretch the pace was a mile a minute, and a cloud of dust obscured the rider from the banks on either side. On being asked how he liked the speed Murphy, in reply to an inquiry, said: "I'm all right, send her along," but there was no necessity for his remarks regarding speed, as the engineer was sending the big steam flyer along as speeded.

The order issued by General Corbin that he was in such a weak condition that had he been allowed to remain on the wheel he would have been unable to control it, and a serious if not fatal accident might have happened.

Murphy was carried to the front part of the car and laid on a cot, where a physician administered to him, and in less than five minutes he was able to converse with those around him. Murphy seemed dazed at first and said in answer to queries as to why he fell back so many times: "I don't know that I might not come in contact with the planks which were being torn up in front of me."

Before the train reached Babylon Murphy had regained his normal condition.

THE FIRST OF THE NEW VOLUNTEERS

Will Be Used for That Purpose.

NO NEED TO RUSH RECRUITING

War Department Officials Say Important Military Operations Are Improbable This Season Is Over.

Washington, July 1.—The first volunteers to be raised for service in the Philippines will be those for the skeleton regiments now being formed by General Otis. It is not believed there will be any difficulty in obtaining these men. It is probable that some time will elapse before the troops of the provisional army are sent to Manila. Meanwhile they will be drilled and taught marksmanship in camp. It is estimated that three months are required to make soldiers of new recruits. The officers of the war department think that a number of volunteers now coming home will desire to return to the Philippines for a short service after they have had an opportunity to see home and friends. These men are regarded as most desirable for the regiments being organized by General Otis.

It is learned at the war department that there is no actual rush to get the new organization to General Otis at the present time. The rainy season having set in, it is considered that these troops will be necessary for service except to relieve those who have been on active duty.

The transport service is said to be sufficient, though ships may be chartered temporarily if needed. The announcement that a portion of the provisional army will be raised has caused a swarm of politicians to be sent to the war department by those who are seeking commissions in the regiments.

NO FILIPINO PRISONERS SHOT.

Dean Worcester Emphatically Denies Volunteer's Story.

Chicago, July 2.—D. C. Worcester, member of the Philippine commission, has a statement in the Times-Herald denying reports that Filipino prisoners were shot by orders of American officers. This was in response to a cable inquiry sent by H. B. Kohlstaed.

Charles Brenner, of Minneapolis, Kan., writes home to General Otis and four prisoners who did not know what to do with them. They asked Captain Bishop what to do. He said: "You know orders, and four natives fell dead."

Commissioner Worcester's answer follows: "The original statement of Brenner is untrue."

Brenner's charge was promptly investigated by the military authorities here. "No facts were ascertained to support the charge at the time of the first inquiry, but the investigation has been renewed and is being prosecuted vigorously and extensively. This investigation has not yet been completed."

Brenner's charge has some semblance of truth, for the reason that it is now believed that two prisoners were shot in the heat of battle for refusing to pass to the rear when ordered to do so.

"This matter is being probed to the bottom. It is an isolated case."

"The inhabitants of the towns recently captured had been maltreated, robbed and left destitute by the insurgents."

"The natives, troops, or neither burn their homes, loot their property, and who feed the hungry."

"The inhabitants are resuming their ordinary occupations, and are ready to co-operate with us."

"The wounded insurgents are brought to Manila, where they receive the same care and attention as our own troops."

CENSORSHIP ON WAR NEWS.

Aiger's Department Issues New Order to Soldiers.

St. Louis, July 1.—A Republic special from Washington says:

A censorship of the news has been declared by the war department in the promulgation of an order signed by Adjutant Corbin calling attention of officials and clerks to the fact that news was being given out which had not previously been approved by him, and adding:

"Under no circumstances will newspaper reporters be furnished any data on any subject except by officers of the adjutant general's office or by the secretary of war or the assistant secretary of war."

Great secrecy was observed in the issuance of the order. It was not placed on the bulletin board, but a copy of it was sent to each officer and clerk with his instructions to keep it secret. In his endeavors to carry out General Corbin's instructions, Chief Clerk Thibault to pieces a copy which had been secured by a correspondent.

The order issued by General Corbin goes further in the endeavor to suppress news from the war department than was considered necessary at any time during the war with Spain.

It is impossible now to secure an accurate statement of how many men General Otis has. It is equally impossible to ascertain how many men are sick, how many are wounded and how many volunteers have been started home.

Under the conditions sought to be imposed by Adjutant General Corbin, in cipher, the only apparent reason for establishing the censorship now is to prevent the public from knowing the facts about the formation of the volunteer army for service in the Philippines.

Mrs. Southworth Dying.

Washington, June 29.—Mrs. Southworth the novelist, is considerably worse. Her death may occur any hour.

M'KINLEY'S WESTERN TRIP.

The President Denies He Has Abandoned It.

Washington, July 1.—Senator Warren of Idaho, called upon the president today with reference to his western trip. The president contradicted the published reports that he had abandoned the idea of going west this summer. He still intends to go unless circumstances intervene to prevent, but he has been unable as yet to consider details and both the time and extent of his trip are matters for future determination.

THE VERDICT

One may have much profit of an enemy; if listened to, may show one how to make. Study, then, ye who hunt and hunger for a democratic victory—study the republicans. What does Hanna hope for? Hanna is eager for democracy to hold high the standard of sixteen to one. What does the New York Sun desire and strain its mendacity until it creaks and opens at the joints, to bring about? It spills half its republican ink in an effort to guide democracy to a re-announcement of sixteen to one. And Hanna and the Sun are but specimens. It is the black republican prayer that democracy make sixteen to one its battle-center in the next campaign. Is there no argument to guide a democrat in that? Give Hanna credit for a wide wit in his crimes. He's dishonest, but not demented. And the Sun, heir to many an epithet, was never called a democrat! to pronounce for sixteen to one, for whose future are their black hearts beating? Do they strive in your service? Or are they saving themselves? If it were a horse trade, would you take the other fellows advice? You wouldn't last as long as a drink of whisky if you did. And the same rule holds sternly true in politics. Never do what the enemy desires; turn down every syllable of his counsel and never fail to take his warnings tail end to. It is the rule to win by. And by the same token, Hanna, the Sun, Griggs and all the others who, as priests and altar servants, bide close to the ark of sinful republican covenant, use every art of wile and threat and sophistry to take the trust issue out of politics. Which makes the most potent of reasons why democrats should hurry it to the center of the stage.

By the way, McKinley didn't like the Havemeyer disclosure. And the White House is organizing its revenge. Not long ago the sugar thief and coffee thief fell out; there was and is a war between these trusts. It is sugar against coffee. Havemeyer went into coffee; and at the sight of the sugar treat hog in the coffee trust clover; Arbuckle went into sugar. There has been much clashing and slashing since then between these two robbers and while blood is flowing on both sides, the end is far to see. Now, in revenge upon Havemeyer for pointing to protection as the sow which suckled the whole litter of trusts, and for that he thereby deals a blow at McKinley's chances in 1900, our White House will go into the coffee-sugar fight on the Arbuckle side. Frazil is the Yankee source of coffee. Under our reciprocity treaty with that country we may or may not impose a coffee duty, and it's all left to the White House caprice. And McKinley retaliating on Havemeyer, will not put up the tariff bars on coffee. Arbuckle has coffee ahead for a year to come. Havemeyer hasn't enough on hand to last his needs a month. For a twelve-month McKinley can slash Havemeyer with a coffee tariff like a knife. He can back them to his heart's content. And for that space at least—because he has been cautiously careful to be supplied in advance—the tariff won't lay injurious edge on Arbuckle. Havemeyer alone will bleed. Which is what our White House out of vengeance, seeks. This trouble between these three rogues, the White House, the Coffee Trust and the Sugar Trust, should rear glee for honest folk. The Verdict will look on at this triangular case of dog-eat-dog with heart-felt satisfaction. Fight! you rascals, fight!

Come out full and flat for Bryan. And come out at once. Not for his sake, but your own. Bryan will be nominated. With every power at your call, you can't prevent it. You invoke local weakness by opposing him. Nine-tenths of the New York Democratic rank-and-file are "Bryan." And, should the leaders declare for any name but his, the privates of the party will feel cheated, wronged and robbed. And they'll avenge themselves on the next local ticket the democracy puts up. And there is another reason why a declaration for Bryan would do you, the Empire State democracy, a world of national good. The party in the south and west distrusts you—discounts your loyalty and doubts your faith. And you have given cause to this extent. In 1896 your delegation went all, and treacherously, wrong. Whitney betrayed you; Hill was a malodorous. You were made to act like traitors in that convention. And every other man in the party abroad in the land believes you will prove traitorous in the next. It was men who had been members of your delegation to the convention of '96 who were in the lead to frame that lost-402 tip of foolish party infamy, which, Fallick and Buckner, has, subsequent rise and fall. True, that ticket—it was a republican side show, run by Hanna money—got but 18,000 votes in New York, where 500,000 democratic votes are cast. But the party world at large doesn't, while remembering the false conduct of your delegation, make note of those figures in your defense. You are looked on—thanks to Hill and Whitney, and those others vilely prominent at the gold convention of Indianapolis—as "bolters" today. And give it the best face, the fault is still your own. For your safety, then, as well as for your sins, declare now for Bryan. It will solidify the party in the state, insure your delegation a welcome and a weight in the National convention to be held a year from now. And it will gild accusation, should she try to charge you with treason in the past.

TO WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN:
Democracy can win in 1900. Its chance is perfect. It can name you and elect you and fill the white house with you for four years. But to do these things, it must have your aid; not your opposition. You must not obstruct your hour. You must lead. And in leading you should remember that he leads best who obeys best. Your captain of politics is the servant—the agent of his followers. He does not control them, they control him. To lead, one must answer the question of his day. One must present and represent the issues. And issues are not made; they're produced. Fools of politics try to furnish issues, but the man finds them. Conventions can't make issues; they may answer them, but all one look for the issue of the day. Not in the past—not in history. It is in the present. It is in the future. It will not be

And you will see a list of prices that no other store in North Nebraska can compete with. We are going to make

Every Day a Fourth of July at our Store,

And in order to accomplish this end we are going to make prices so low that the people of Wayne County will be convinced that we mean just what we say. We only ask you to call and examine our goods and prices and we know that you will be convinced that we are the recognized leaders in Dry Goods, Millinery, Groceries, Ladies and Gents Furnishings.

Thanking you for past favors and hoping that you will continue to give us a share of your patronage in the future, we remain. Respectfully Yours.

WILSON BROS. WAYNE.

read on a tombstone not discovered by digging among the graves. Let the past go. He who bloweth in the dust filth his own eyes. Let the past go downward with the tide. Seize the present and press forward to the future. An issue is not an invention any more than an oak is an invention. Where shall one search for the issue—the question of Now? It lies on the lips of the people. It is anti-trust. That question must be met; it invokes defeat who turns his back on it. There is a swell to anti-trust. There is added growth each day. The tides of anti-trust are rising. Those of sixteen to one ebb with each hour. Take soundings. Try the leads over the bows of sixteen to one. The water is shoaling. It is less today than yesterday. One finds shallows where deep water was before. He is no wise captain who holds democracy to any course of sixteen to one. He will have the boat aground and lose himself at least. Some other crew may some day refloat the ship; the captain who drove her ashore is gone for all time. Do not, as you listen to the call of the people, distrust your own popularity. You are loved aside from any sixteen to one. The public crying against trusts, cries also for you. Democracy wants you; it doesn't want sixteen to one. Victory demands you; it declines sixteen to one. Why, then, will not your wisdom yield to the indomitable power of today? No man may stay the grand column of the party as it moves against the trusts. One might as well strive to detain the Mississippi with his fingers. The war is already on. The trusts, under the flag of republicanism, have assailed the people. We are in the first skirmishes of that vast battle that will be. And you belong to the head of your tribesmen. Come, then, draw your sword and take your place in the van. There need be no regrets. You can do nothing for sixteen to one. It is captive in the senate—a prisoner in politics, made last Autumn by the enemy in the silver west. No art nor strength of one can strike present senate shackles from the limbs of sixteen to one. For six years it is in helpless fetters of gold. Nob, mind you by any southern or eastern weakness, but because the west, all silver, failed to buckler and defend its own. You can do sixteen to one no good; but you may strike a blow and ride to triumph in the crusade against the trusts. Nor should you fear of a nomination. You will be named; there is none with art or strength to hold the lists against you. You should give way then to the plain demand of the common democracy. Then more readily, withal, for that when the last word is said, you can't prevent fate in that behalf. You will be the candidate, with anti-trust the issue and the cry of war. That is your destiny and your party's destiny; and, as say the Scotch, every man must unbuckle to his wiewd.

A prominent farmer across the Cedar county line called at the Craig Indian Medicine office two weeks ago and said: "Doctors tell me I must go to Sioux City to have an operation; they say I have appendicitis." He took a treatment of our constitutional remedies and used an application of our Indian oil externally. In a week his wife returned to our office and reported "symptoms of appendicitis all gone; my husband is getting better," and with a pleasant smile praised our medicines very highly. The people are becoming awakened as to the wonderful curative power of our remedies. Are you suffering with hay fever? It is cured by the use of our remedies. Craig Indian Medicine Co. first residence west of postoffice.

Reward of Merit was never more fully demonstrated than in the practice of Dr. J. C. Clark, the eye specialist from Sioux City. The doctor stopped at Hotel Boyd last Wednesday, remaining until Saturday morning and his rooms were crowded continuously, patients coming from fifty miles in the country. The doctor has been coming to Wayne all this year and his remarkable practice is conclusive evidence of the satisfaction his patients express. They number in the hundreds now and all recommend the doctor in highest terms. His next visit to Wayne will be July 26 and 27 inclusive.
