A Bold, Bad Book Agent.

A sporty sort of a book agent named Carroll was doing the county a couple of weeks ago, selling Ridpath's History of the World for the Globe Publishing Co. of New York. Carroll, it appears, had just about enough nerve or gall to get himself into all kinds of trouble and grief if he happens to get into a neighborhood that would properly appreciate his mean methods of pushing his business. He did a piece of work out at the Lon Hunter school house that ought to have landed him in the city jail. Armed with a recommendation from County Superintendent Lundburg he waited upon the young lady school teacher until she had dismissed the pupils and then he proceeded to force her to buy Ridpath's. When she protested that she did not want the books he backed up to the door and declared he would keep her in the school house until she signed an order for the books. Being timid and inexperienced the girl gave him the order, when she should have given him the stove poker. After arriving home the young lady at once wrote the publishing house explaining the agent's conduct and asking them to cancel the order. Last Saturday she received an insulting reply from the company, asking if she was drunk when she gave the order, or had their agent hypnotized her. Also shipping the books which are now at the depot, and which the school woman refuses to accept. The young men of Hunter precinct ought to invite the agent back for a settlement and make a little history out of him that would shame Carrie Nation. Superintendent Lundburg ought to recommend all such agents for Holt county, only.

DIED.

Luelle, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Henney, died yesterday forenoon, Feb. 7, 1901, at nine o'clock. The sweet little girl was just 4 years, 6 months and 7 days old, and was the idol, the pride, the hope and the joy of loving parents; leaving by her death an aching void that the years of time can hardly efface. Inflammation of the stomach and bowels which brought on delirium in a few hours was the cause of death.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, conducted by Revs. Babbell and Weldon, and the interment will be in the Wayne cemetery. Mrs. Chas. Flainger, a sister of Mrs. Henney, arrived yesterday from Le Mars, Iowa. Their brother, C. H. Kerber, a Le Mars merchant, and Mr. Henney's folks from Dubuque, Iowa, will also be here to attend the funeral.

M. N. Conover died last night about eleven o'clock, after years of fighting against great odds for his life. Few men go through the suffering, numerous surgical operations and general ill-health that deceased has. But he hung on with a tenacious grip that was simply marvelous, and not until a complication of grip and pneumonia set in did he give up, suffering great pain until death relieved his poor, storm-racked body.

The DEMOCRAT publisher has known Mr. Conover for ten years and in all that time never heard one word of reproach nor criticism of him. As P. M. Corbin and others say "he was a splendid neighbor," a good citizen, a kind and indulgent husband and father, and withal that a physical hero. He was a pioneer settler in Wayne county, coming here over twenty years ago and was well known by most everybody. He was 51 years of age and leaves a wife and two sons.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock, conducted by the K. P. lodge, and the remains will be taken on the 9:40 train to North Bend, Neb., for interment.

Over 100 tons of ice will be put up by Wayne packers.

If you want a neat piece of job printing the DEMOCRAT is the place to order it.

Quinine and whiskey for the grip is the only sure cure. But it must be good whiskey. Call and sample the brands kept at Milder's saloon.

Prof. Davies says he is going to move his present house to lots across the street, in the spring, and erect a commodious residence on the old site.

Misses Mabel and Vallie, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Welker, have gone to Omaha, the former taking a position as bookkeeper in W. H. Russell's law office, and the latter will attend Prof. Ong's business college. There is nothing too good for Wayne girls for they are ambitious hustlers.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The U. D. club entertain on Monday evening.

Mrs. Dan Harrington is visiting friends at Tekamah.

Mrs. D. H. Sullivan went to Dixon Wednesday to visit relatives.

Mrs. M. S. Davies very nicely entertained the ladies of the Acme club Tuesday.

The Rebeckahs had a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Benson Wednesday, being entertained by that lady.

The Ladies Aid society met with Mrs. H. F. Jones last Wednesday, the hostess serving a delicious five o'clock tea.

Mrs. J. J. Williams and Mrs. W. F. Norris are two Wayne ladies who proudly possess brand new, high priced pianos.

There will be a rag-carpet social at the Presbyterian church parlors a week from tonight. Each lady to take a ball containing her name, the gentlemen to buy the balls and invite their partner to partake of ice-cream and cake. A big time is expected.

Little Marguerite Healey entertained 27 of her little friends Saturday afternoon, the occasion being her fifth birthday. Refreshments were served and after enjoying themselves as only children can, they departed wishing Marguerite many happy birthdays.

The party given by Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Friday evening was an extremely enjoyable affair. After a delicious supper, in the serving of which the hostess was assisted by the Misses Maud and Ethel Tucker and Gertrude Weber, the guests enjoyed a novel musical game. Pictures representing the late, up-to-date music were sketched by each, Mrs. Cunningham guessing the greater number received the ladies' prize, and Mr. Cunningham the gentlemen's, he recognizing his own and some one telling him another. The gentlemen shone, however, when it came to charades, and they were all new ones, too. Those present besides the club members were Messrs. and Madames Hamer Wilson, J. W. Eppler, Fred Philleo, and Mrs. Fen Ellis.

Ponca Coal Found Again.

Sioux City Tribune, 7th: A private coal mine near Jackson, Neb., owned by the firm of Riley & McBride, who are in the mercantile business at Jackson, is to be developed on a large scale.

Riley & McBride were both in Sioux City yesterday and they made the statement that they had just succeeded in securing leases on certain lands adjacent to the mine which they have been waiting for for five years. They believed there was a possibility of developing a rich mine out of their property and have been waiting for the opportunity to go into the business on a large scale. The discovery of coal was made on a farm owned by the firm some years ago. A shaft was sunk last year and a force of less than a half dozen men have been working to get out a sufficient supply of coal for their own business and to accumulate a supply to be used in running the engine for operating the mine. Some small quantities of the coal have also been furnished to farmers in that vicinity who have hauled it away in wagons.

The members of the firm left an order with Fritz Stavium, an employment agent, for some 15 to 25 coal miners and advertisements for the men have been placed in the Sioux City papers. Contracts were closed here for many hundred tons of coal and work will be commenced at once to supply the orders. They anticipate being able to furnish later coal for steam purposes that will attract the attention of capitalists who desire to establish manufacturing enterprises in Sioux City and points in this vicinity.

It is expected that a price in Sioux City can be made upon coal that will make it much cheaper than the price paid for coal which is shipped great distances into this section. The advantage of this new coal mine venture for Sioux City may amount to something great in time.

Sounds good on paper—By dad.

While at Randolph the other day "Bob" Carr was induced to take a chance in a lottery at the Catholic fair being held there, and Friday Robert received word that he had drawn a table valued at $10.—Republican.

The DEMOCRAT man didn't go to Randolph, neither was he "induced" to take a chance in the above lottery. We were simply held up for a dollar and we drew—a tired breath.

STOP!

Stop trading on time and paying high prices. No merchant can pay his bills with book accounts, neither can he offer his customers bargains and wait an indefinite time for his pay. The M. E. concert given at the opera house last night under the direction of Otto Voegt was a success financially, and some of the performers, particularly Prof. Voegt, Misses Pauline Voegt, Luin Cook and Blanch Hitchcock, acquitted themselves with great credit.

Norfolk Times-Tribune: A. A. Welch, county attorney of Wayne county, has come to the conclusion that he was overpaid as such officer during the years 1897 and 1898, by reason of an overestimate of the county's population, and voluntarily returned $300 the amount of such overpayment. This act is unparalleled in the history of Nebraska.

When it comes to looking after home enterprise the Sioux City Tribune is certainly it. During the past month the Tribune has built several railroads, organized two or three western league ball teams, built an auditorium that will seat 25000 people, made specifications for two large furniture factories, found petroleum and gas in Woodbury county, put in a 5000 gallon per day ice cream freezer and last evening it developed a big coal mine at Ponca from which it has already sold a half million tons of soft coal and taken contracts to deliver the same quantity of anthracite. When it is considered that the Tribune was for years Bryan's conservative, independent newspaper, decrying the evil effects of yellow journalism, the above spectacular and remarkable feats appear all the more miraculous. We club the Tribune with the DEMOCRAT at only $1.50 per year.

Atty. Berry has been in Carroll, Randolph and Belden the past week on legal business.

Geo. Mellor came in on Tuesday evening on a week's visit, with E. E. K. and family.

Homer Wheaton has put in another chair in his tontorial parlors which is presided over by Leslie Baker of Hopkins.

The DEMOCRAT learns that Electrician Fred Largen will quit Wayne March 1st, either going to Hartington or Omaha.

Attorney Guy R. Wilbur goes to Beatrice Monday to attend a state meeting of the Woodmen of the World. He expects to be absent the greater part of the week.

You may know it is pretty dull locally, socially and financially, for this week the Republican has to fall back on setting up the pins for the fusion political scrap billed to come off next fall.

Homer Sween and Mat Coyle played with the Hartington band in a concert at Randolph last night, and this evening they finish up the circuit by appearing at Emerson. The concerts have been a success wherever given.

Prof. Katz of the Sioux City schools one of the best known educators of the northwest, has been notified by the S. C. school board that he may continue as their superintendent of schools but he must quit adopting "fads" in lieu of sensible education.

Max Brudigan, one of Wayne county's best German farmers, whose home has been near La Porte since a Sioux City hospital on Tuesday night from the effects of an operation performed on him a short time previous of the removal of a tumor caused by a hurt received some months ago by a fall. The funeral took place from the German church south of La Porte. Deceased was a much respected man and will be sadly missed by wife, family, relatives and friends—Republican.

It's an ill-wind that blows nobody good. Naturally a person would think so much sickness means a harvest for the physicians, but Attorney Berry says the lawyers are getting their share, also. There is so much sickness and many deaths that lots of people are making their wills, Mr. Berry getting as many as three or four per day. That's one wrinkle in this haphazard world that need not worry the country editor. About all he has to leave is his goodwill or bad will, and most people get all they want of it while he is yet alive.

Mrs. Nation and the Liquor Sellers.

Mrs. Nation's chivalrous but quixotic proceedings are likely to have one good result in calling the attention of the people of Kansas to the disgraceful and absurd position of the state in making laws that cannot be enforced, and which the law making power must have known beforehand could not be enforced.

Mrs. Nation has been compared to John Brown of slavery days; whose instincts and motives were honorable and worthy, but whose impetuosity and enthusiasm carried him beyond the range of prudence and common sense. Then Mrs. Nation's selfishness disabled her from seeing further than her own personal troubles. She failed to see how and where the evils which she antagonized originated.

It is time that temperance (or rather intemperate) men and W. C. T. U. women got back to sensible limits and the old methods of moral-suasion advocates which they should never have abandoned, and to which there can be no objection. It seems to the present writer that state and municipality should give up their claim to establish institutions for the purpose of raising revenues by a monstrous system of taxation on the vicious indulgences of the people.

putable. And moonshine whiskey may be as good, and is frequently better, than the legal kind. But the moonshiner and bootlegger are hustled off to gaol for carrying on a business which should in a right state of society be free and honorable.

Isn't it time that this prohibition craze should come to an end, and a new creed formulated on the lines of liberty, order and equal taxation? By all means abolish the saloon by repealing the laws which establish it.

Plain Duty or Plain Error.

If the supreme court or some other agency of the federal government shall not soon determine the actual relationship which exists and is to exist between the Philippine islands and the United States, there is every prospect that members of the republican party will presently be so widely separated that it will be impossible to get them together again.

It is only a little while ago that the treasury department, under the administration of republicans in good standing, held in effect that the Filipinos had no rights which white men were bound to respect.

A little later, when it became the duty of the department of justice to make the best showing possible in court in favor of the idea that the annexation to the United States of the Philippine islands did not necessarily extend to those benighted regions the blessings of the federal constitution, the attorney general made bold to say that, barring treaty stipulations and the liberty amendments to the constitution, the power of congress over the islands was unlimited.

It is worthy of note that one of the so-called liberty amendments to the constitution is to the effect that the right of the people to petition for the redress of grievances shall not be denied to them. In the senate the other day a petition signed by 2,000 residents of Manila asking for peace and liberty was met by furious objections on the part of Mr. HAWLEY and others, who did not want it read and insisted when it was read that it should not be printed.

If the Philippine islanders are like the former slaves in the United States, under the Dred Scott decision—without rights which the white man is bound to respect—it is probable that Senator HAWLEY was in harmony with the treasury wing of his party when he advocated the refusal to them of the right of petition. It is to be borne in mind that the petitioners were not rebels in arms. They were law-abiding inhabitants of Manila, who have accepted American sovereignty in good faith, but who respectfully petition to have it removed.

When it was proposed to read this petition in the senate Mr. HAWLEY objected on the ground that nobody wanted to hear any treasonable utterances in that chamber. When he was overruled, and on the reading of the petition, it was suggested that it be printed, he objected on the ground that if rebels and traitors had any desire to attack the American army and navy they should publish at their own expense and not at the expense of the people who maintained the army and navy.

If the treasury view is a correct one, however, it will be very difficult for Mr. HAWLEY to establish his idea of rebellion and treason. People without civil rights have no responsibilities. If the inhabitants of the Philippines, having no government of their own, are denied any participation in or protection under the government of the United States, it is as meaningless to apply the epithets "rebel" and "traitor" to them as it would be to stigmatize a hostile band of Indians. We have punished a few Indians for murder, but we have not treated them as traitors and rebels, no matter what their offenses may have been.

The benevolent idea which obtains in the executive department seems to be that all these questions are of little moment if the sugar, tobacco and hemp interests of the United States can be safeguarded from free trade with the Philippines. Fine theories as to the rights of men, the interpretation of the constitution and the definition of hard words are all well enough in their places, but as between friends they ought not to stand in the way of a tariff schedule which will be entirely satisfactory to gentlemen who contribute liberally to the campaign fund.

In point of fact, of course, there is just one reason for all this inconsistency and contradiction and that is the fact that the republican party is making an effort to reverse the policy of the government in the matter of new possessions for the purpose of saving some money for the few great protected interests which do not want free trade with the islands. The same interests would prevent free trade between New York and Illinois if they could.

Every departure from sound principle is bound to produce such a confusion of counsel. If it had not been for the demands of the selfish interests involved there would not have been a question as to the status of Porto Rico and the Philippines. It would have been fixed as a matter of course by the pursuit of what Mr. MCKINLEY once characterized in fitting terms as "plain duty."

The miserable effort by the administration to save a few of its favorites from new competition has not only made us ridiculous in the eyes of the world as a great nation with no well settled policy of dealing with new possessions; it has done much and will do more to unsettle the minds of our own people as to correct ideas and to beget among them a spirit of absolutism which may yet be productive of untold mischief.

One of the worst phases of the matter is the fact that even the supreme court decision which is now awaited is not certain to settle many of the problems involved. Unless the court shall proceed to legislate—a thing it has no right to do—its judgment on the cases now before it may not do much more than clear the ground for further action by the president and congress, which will be inspired, of course, by the same selfish interests which have already caused so much bewilderment and embarrassment.

There was a thrilling scene in the senate today. On the very threshold of President McKinley's startling attempt to force congress to abdicate its whole civil power over the Philippine islands Senator Towne made a three-hour speech in favor of the Philippine independence—a speech that will rank with any oration since Webster.

Again and again the galleries and the senate applauded his lofty appeal for justice and mercy and when he had finished he was surrounded by his colleagues and greeted like a hero.

It was Senator Towne's first speech on the floor, and it was his last. Ten minutes after he sat down his successor took his oath, and the orator, who had dominated the scene for hours, sweeping all before him by the force and beauty of his extraordinary eloquence, left the place never to return.

The like of it has never been seen in the senate before.

Today the senate has been in a state of nervous tension. The president's demand for the passage of the Spooner bill, which will confer upon him the entire authority of congress in our vast Asiatic possessions, has stirred the senators as they have not been stirred for years.

The threat to call an extra session if congress refuses to yield is taken as the signal for a mighty struggle, in which the immense resources of the national government will be used to their utmost to secure victory.

Farm Paper Doesn't Fill the Bill.

A farm paper is all right as an addition to the farmer's reading matter, but first of all he wants a NEWS-PAPER; one that will give him all the telegraphic news of the world, markets, state and national politics, together with a lot of wholesome reading for the family. The Semi-Weekly State Journal is just such a paper, published every Tuesday and Friday at the state capital. For a short time The Western Poultry News will be sent FREE ONE YEAR to those sending $1 for the Journal. Address, State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

Beware of Bright's Disease. There is no organ in the body which has so much work to do as the kidneys. What not strengthen your kidneys? for when they are strong, they do the work properly that is required of them. Kidney trouble is one of the most dangerous diseases that people are subject to. Thousands of people die every year of supposed apoplexy, pneumonia, heart disease and other quickening disorders, when in reality they are victims of chronic Bright's disease.

A WONDERFUL OFFER. We believe this double premium offer is the greatest ever made by any newspaper. See what you get for your dollar:

1st. Weekly World-Herald—This is called a weekly, but it is published in sections on Tuesday and 4 pages on Friday—so you get the news of the world twice a week or 104 times a year. It is illustrated with pictures. It has a humorous department, an agricultural department; it contains political, news, and market reports for farmers, household articles, foreign news, and American news. Men, women and children find it interesting. Regular price $1.00.

2d. Profits in Poultry—This revised edition of a standard work on poultry contains 322 pages and 131 illustrations, including some in colors. It tells how to make money out of chickens of all varieties, eggs, ducks, geese and turkeys; how to buy and sell; how to build coops, houses and enclosures; how to prevent and cure disease. Every farmer's wife can make enough out of poultry and eggs to clothe the whole family. Regular price 50 cents.

3d. The Orange Judd Farmer—It is a dignified, old established, agricultural weekly of the highest standing and of large circulation. It contains about 16 pages each week and is illustrated. Regular price $1.00.

CONDITIONS OF THIS OFFER. First—You must send us the full dollar, as we cannot allow any combination to parts or hostmasters on this offer. Second—You must send it on or before February 28th. Third—You must help us by sending with your letter the names and addresses of three of your neighbors who do not take the World-Herald, so that we can send them sample copies. This is a little for you to do, and it will help us. Address us simply WEEKLY WORLD-HERALD, Omaha, Neb.

The Widow Wettin and Her Son.

Alton Democrat: From the palace halls of English royalty comes the cry: "The Queen is dead!" From every point of the compass echoes and re-echoes the cry: "The Queen is dead!" Who was the Queen? In the midst of her imperial court the Queen was "Her Majesty Victoria, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland Queen, Defender of the Faith, Empress of India. Stripped of her pomp and splendor the queen was the Widow Wettin—a woman with more of the vanities than virtues of her time. By virtue of a lucky turn of the wheel of fortune she sat for sixty years on a gilded throne—which rests on the bones of her fellow men. Because of her neglect better women than she have starved in India and Ireland and better women than she have grieved themselves to death in widowhood because of her brutal war in Africa. Her opportunity for doing good was greater than that of any other woman who ever lived—yet Clara Barton and Florence Nightingale, who bound up the wounds she made, were ten thousand times more worthy a crown than she. But the world—dazzled by the glare and glitter of her surroundings—has called her great and the man who dares deny her homage is hissed by the mob who worship royalty. And now from the throat of the world wells up the cry: "Hail to the King!" For into the place of the queen has stepped her son—that world-famous gambler, drunkard and roue—the Prince of Wales. Who is the King? A man no but for his royal robe would long to have languished in a prison cell. A man whose hands are stained with all the villainies of his day. Strip him of his crown and robe and wealth and let him stand upon his character as a man among men and you have a reprobate—a moral leper with whom no self-respecting man would associate—a profligate whom no decent woman would permit to touch her garment's hem. Yet Albert Wettin is a king and his crimes condoned. Yea, there be men—even in America—who would crawl on their bellies for the privilege of licking his feet and women who would barter their all for his favor—even as our millionaire daughters have done for the smiles of lesser "nobility." Charity covers a multitude of sins, they say—but wealth covers ten to her one.

Senator Jones of Arkansas says Hanna's ship subsidy scheme is not a party measurer. But that "it is an open, brazen case of grand larceny."

J. E. Foster of the Plainview News has said that paper to John Gunthorpe formerly of the Brunswick Herald, but will continue his connection with the News for at least a couple of months. Gene is a good newspaper man and has elevated the News from comparative obscurity to a first place among the weekly publications of north Nebraska since assuming control about eight years ago.

With beautiful self-abnegation the Honorable JOHN M. THURSTON declares that no matter how long the senatorial deadlock in Nebraska may last, he will not enter the field as a candidate. The self-denial of the Honorable JOHN M. THURSTON is exemplary, and it is not lessened by the circumstance that he couldn't get elected assistant dog pelter, let alone United States senator, by the people or the legislature of Nebraska. Chicago Chronicle.

We don't know much about the effect of materia medica upon the human system, says the Colorado Avalanche, but we did write, fill and take the following prescription, which knocked a gripper higher than Gildray's kite: "Four quarts of whiskey, into which were dissolved four ounces of loaf sugar. To this we added a teaspoonful of water and another quart of whiskey and then placed over a hot fire and let boil sufficiently long to boil out all the water. We then stirred in a little more whiskey to cool and gulped it down without batting an eye. In order to remove the taste from our mouth we took a little more whiskey."

Pay your DEBTS by taking advantage of the bankruptcy act. Over 5000 have freed themselves from debt, in Chicago, alone. Do this before the law is repealed. $75 to $100 pays all expenses and gives a clear title. For free advice or consultation see or write to P. W. CAIN, Pender, Neb.

THE DEMOCRAT received some copy ten days ago regarding an enjoyable party held at the home of Peter Baker southwest of town, which some how was lost out of a note book. It is reported that about forty people of Winside are immune from the small pox, and they didn't have to be vaccinated, either. There are some people, however, who would consider Winside's preventative a deneged, slight worse than the small pox. It is perfectly awful the way things break out when you least expect it.
One of the team bowlers who went to Sioux City last Friday says they would easily have won the contest were it not for the fact that Messrs. J. E. Abbott, owner of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 5 township 26, range 4, east, having filed his written consent for the taking of two rods more of the west side said land from the north end thereof to the center of Dog Town creek, for public road, and his offer to waive any claim for damages to said land by reason thereof for $300.00. On motion, it appearing to the Board that it is necessary to procure said land to save expense in preventing the creek from cutting across said road, the proposition of said Abbott is accepted and said land declared a part of said public road and the claim of said Abbott for $300.00 for the land so taken is allowed.

The bids for the furnishing of bridge lumber at points outside the city of Wayne for the year 1901, were opened at this time, and the bid of Edwards & Bradford Lumber company, to furnish material at the towns of Winside, Hoskins, Wisner, Carroll and Wake field, having been found to be the lowest and best bid, on motion the bid was let to the said Edwards & Bradford Lumber Co.

The bond of W. P. Agler as Superintendent of poor farm was on motion approved.
The bond of A. L. Muirhead, county physician, was examined and on motion approved.
The bond of W. H. McNeal for the faithful performance of his contract in furnishing stationary and supplies for the year 1900 was on motion approved.

Comes now A. A. Welch and states that for the year 1900 and 1898 he was allowed as county attorney, a salary of $300 per year; that such amount was allowed upon estimating the population of the county upon the vote of the county at the election of 1890, that the census of 1900 shows that the population of the county was 9,862, that by reason of such error in estimating the population of the county he was overpaid for said years the sum of $400. Said Welch further represents that during said years he paid his own expenses for office rent, fuel, etc., the county having no room for such office. He therefore asks that this Board allow him a reasonable part of his said office rent and expenses to be retained from such overpayment of salary. On motion it is considered that one half of the office rent and fuel expense paid by him, to-wit $87.50 per year is a reasonable part thereof for county to pay, and the same is allowed at such sum, thereupon A. A. Welch presents duplicate receipt of the county treasurer for $125 paid by him as returned to the county on account of such overpayment of his salary for the years 1897 and 1898.

The resignation of A. Benedict as Justice of the peace of Hoskins precinct was on motion accepted.

BY DAD.

I asked Henry Goll what he thought of Mrs. Nation and he replied: "Oh, it, you just want me to say something so you can put it in the paper."

Jim Herst tells me I anticipated slightly regarding his getting married. Didn't miss it very much, though, by dad, for he's got his house fixed up, furniture in it and carpets down. Everything in it, in fact, but the Bowles.

By dad, George Washington isn't in it now since Mrs. Nation began to yield the hatchet.

Coming events cast their shadows before them. See the valentines for the 14th. Then comes Washington's birthday 22d, St. Patrick's day March 17th, All Fools April 1st and other fools April 2, city election.

A whole lot of newspapers appear greatly pleased to learn that the battle ship Maine is to be raised and we shall find out how she was sunk. By dad, I'd like to know what light that will throw on the question of whether the Constitution follows the flag or not.

An ingenious writer says whiskey taken internally and liberally will do up the grip. That's no dream. And taken internally it will do up a man's body, soul, mind, home, wife, children, friends and even step-mother. There is nothing whiskey won't do up when it goes down in proper quantities. Whiskey do up the grip! Ye Gods, it will loosen your grip on all you possess. Any time you feel that you can't resist buying a drink when you want to quit the accursed habit, just whisper to me. By dad, I can tell you how to fix it so it won't hurt you.

A popular and rich gentleman of the town who makes frequent visits away from home and is generally supposed to have a good time, was severely catcashed by his little four-year-old daughter the other day. "Papa," she said, "do you work awful hard when you go away from home?" "Why, little one?" responded the jolly papa. "Oh, because you must, for when you come home you go right to bed and you never eat anything, and you just seem to be all tired out."

Charley Bagart says all he wants is a glass eye and he'll send for Mrs. Nation.

A wfully dull this week. By dad, I stood around on the streets yesterday for ten minutes and the only thing I saw and heard was Fred Hinrichs standing up in front of Dammeier's for a cigarette sign, and Landlord Love's law, law, hee, hee.

Mr. Frank Titus spent Sunday with his mother at Stanton.

Mr. Cook is giving thirty violin lessons per week to the college students.

The parliament and law class meets on Saturdays at one o'clock.

Miss Chace has some large classes in shorthand and typewriting.

Miss Cunningham of Hartington visited her sister over Sunday.

The term contest of the literary societies occurs tonight. A splendid program will be given.

Students were never doing better work than they are doing the present term. Classes are well filled and all are enthusiastic.

Prof. Pile's advanced grammar class outgrew his recitation room so he uses the chapel for that class but by sectioning his review arithmetic class, he holds his room.

Prof. Gregg is quite busy with his classes in science. Besides the classes in the regular courses, he has two classes in chemistry, and one in geology.

Miss Baker has six classes studying german, all are doing good work and have organized a german club that holds weekly meetings on Fridays at 6:30. Nothing but german is talked at club meetings.

Miss Stewart is one of the busiest of teachers. She gives about 60 lessons per week. The organs and four pianos are in use from 7:20 till 8:30 each day. One division of the class will give a musical during the term.

All indications point to a large attendance for the spring and summer terms. Additional teachers will be engaged and every effort put forth to make the work this year better than it has ever been. Many former students will return in time to complete their course this school year.

Read This Statement.

From the Wayne Republican of Feb. 6th:

Mr. E. Cunningham, EDITOR REPUBLICAN: To answer many inquiries, and to put an end to various silly and false reports about a case of sickness of one of our students, I make the following complete statement of the matter: On Thursday, Jan. 24th, a young man was taken sick with what appeared to me to be the grippe. I called Dr. Leisenring the following day and he found the patient had a slight attack of fever which disappeared in a couple of days. On the 30th, after the patient had recovered and was ready to go on with his studies, some eruptions appeared on his face, neck and arms. On account of the general uneasiness prevailing all over the west with reference to small pox, I at once called the doctor. He pronounced the trouble chicken pox and visited the patient once or twice a day to watch every symptom. All this time he was sure it was only chicken pox. I have seen many cases of chicken pox and was satisfied that the doctor's decision was right. The patient was sitting up reading and doing some studying, was not sick apparently and did not lie down even. Mr. George L. Cook, who has nursed many cases of small pox, was invited to visit the patient and give us his opinion; Mr. Littell, who spent some months in Cuba, with the army, also examined the case. All united in saying it was nothing more than chicken pox. The mayor was notified of the sickness and advised as to its nature. He was assured by the doctor and myself that if any unfavorable symptoms appeared, he would be promptly notified so that he might take such action as he thought best to protect the city. This was done to prevent any scare and because I would not like to deceive anyone in such a matter.

None have more interest in the city than myself and it seems to me every citizen would realize this and not circulate idle reports.

To prevent scares and idle reports in the future, all students have been vaccinated.

The above statements with reference to this sickness and my connection with it are correct.

H. G. LEISENRING, M. D.

The facts are as herein stated.

HENRY LEY, Mayor.

Farmer's Institute.

Through the efforts of Dr. Hammond the State University experimental station or department of Animal Industry has been interested in sending lecturers here to conduct a Farmer's Institute at this point on Saturday, February 23.

Good lecturers are promised and it is safe to say that if the weather is good the attendance will be large. The meetings will be at the court house in the afternoon and evening, two sessions at which questions of vital importance to good farmers will be taken up and treated intelligently by men who have made the various subjects on which they talk a study and are able to give much valuable information. These institutes have been held in various portions of the state for several years and have attracted much attention and been of great benefit to those attending. No admission fee will be charged and all farmers and others interested in matters pertaining to farming or the stock industry are cordially invited to be present at both afternoon and evening meetings.

Norfolk Times-Tribune: Wayne seems to have gained a greater percent in population during the past decade of any of the towns in Northeastern Nebraska, while that county comes in about sixth. The greatest increase is in the northeast counties, while the southern and western counties nearly all show a decrease.

The DEMOCRAT has done something unusual for a printing establishment this week—issued some forty summonses from Justice of the Peace Burdick's office for delinquent subscribers. Any of you fellows who think because the DEMOCRAT does not still come to your address that you won't have to pay up from two to ten years subscription at $1.50 per year are likely to get badly fooled.

Wayne people probably don't realize how near their electric plant and waterworks came to being blown to the sky Wednesday morning. It appears that Mr. Lergen has been turning the responsibilities of his position over to a local sub, lately, while he was touring about. The sub started up early Wednesday morning then went to sleep, and only for the mere chance that the water ran into the boiler instead of out averted a catastrophe, the whole works being stopped and the lights going out. It looks as though it was about time a radical change was made in the management of the plant.

By glancing over the county commissioners' proceedings it will be seen that County Attorney Welch has covered back into the county treasury the sum of $300, which he claims he was overpaid while acting as county attorney in 1897 and 1898. The DEMOCRAT is of the opinion that this is one of the best investments Mr. Welch ever made, notwithstanding no one questions his honesty and integrity.

Dispatches from Washington, D. C., tell of a Dr. Frank Broglin, of Omaha, a fake German doctor who held up a citizen of Washington for $22 for alleged treatment, and who was promptly arrested by his victim for practicing without a license. The DEMOCRAT is told that Rev. Montgomery specially requests all the members of his church to be present at the morning service next Sunday, the supposition being that he will offer his resignation. The DEMOCRAT hopes the report is untrue. This would indeed be a dull town without its Rev. Montgomery, Charley Bagart, Sam Davies, Pete Healy, Jas.
