The appearance of Mr. Sanford Dodge and his talented company of dramatic artists in Wayne will be greeted with delight by all lovers of the drama.

The name of Sanford Dodge is a synonym of dramatic excellence, as it has ever been connected with the highest class of dramatic work, and this season his productions are superior to any he has ever before attempted.

Dr. W. W. Taggart will be in Wayne, Neb., April 12, 13 and 14 on his regular trip. As usual he will stop with Mr. Vail. Call and see him. This is the season when your eyes give you especial discomfort. Consultation free.

Sheriff Cherry went out south of Winside yesterday and brought in J. Jorgenson and Wm. Koebke, who are charged by Mr. Colwell, lessee of C. O. Fisher's farm on the notorious section 16, with being trespassers. The hearing was postponed until tomorrow, a. m., before Judge Hunter. Messrs. Jorgenson and Koebke claim they have a verbal lease from Mr. Fisher, while Colwell has the written contract.

A provoking accident happened to the electric light plant last Saturday evening which shut off the light for that night. A wire in the dynamo became detached and the defect could not be remedied until the whole machine was overhauled. The DEMOCRAT man visited the plant this week and appearances prove that things were in bad condition when Electrician Larsen left, and that further annoyances from lack of light may be correctly charged to that gentleman. The machinery is considerably patched up and accidents are unavoidable until it can be replaced.

DIETRICH AND MILLARD.

Are Elected Nebraska's Senators at the Eleventh Hour.

At 10:30 a. m. yesterday D. E. Thompson withdrew from the senatorial race in favor of Gov. Dietrich; candidate Rosewater withdrew in favor of Geo. W. Lininger of Omaha. Gov. Dietrich and J. H. Millard, the latter of Omaha, were elected at noon by the full republican vote; Rosewater's candidate, Lininger, being totally ignored. The surprising result is a clean victory for the railroads, they dictating the terms. But there is a whole lot of consolation in knowing that the grand duke of do-nothingism, McChiejohn, and the Jew were laid on the shelf.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The young lady friends of Miss Mary Hangle drove out to that lady's home last Tuesday afternoon upon invitation. A splendid time was enjoyed studying the pictures of famous men and surmising what the coming famous men would be like. A delicious supper was served at 5:30.

Omaha Markets

South Omaha, Neb., Mar. 27, 1901. Receipts of cattle have again been moderate, prices have remained strong. The cattle are coming a little better finished, consequently there are more ranging from $4.50 up than there was last week. Some good cattle sold as high as $5.15 but the bulk of the best ones sold from $4.75 to $5.00 with commoner grades quoted about as last week. Today the good cattle are fully steady, commoner ones shade lower though the undercurrent is strong. Cows and butcher stock is in good demand with prices 10 to 25c higher than last week.

The hog market has again been booming, it being 12 1/2 to 12c higher than last week. Yesterday was the high time, when $5.95 was reached. We were in hopes receipts would be lighter today so we would get a 6c top but instead there were a good many here and hogs sold a little lower. We believe receipts will be light the balance of the week and think we will have a good market. Sheep receipts have been pretty good but everything has been taken up readily at prices a little stronger than a week ago. We are safe to quote prices fully 10c higher than a week ago. NYE & BUCHANAN CO.

If you Dance...

You must help pay the fiddler.

If you use trust flour you must pay the price laid down by these concerns. There may be a reason why the trust should ask 20 per cent more for their flour than for other brands of equal quality, but the consumers of flour do not know what this reason is. They only know it is a fact. Twenty cents saved on a sack of flour is quite an item and the next time you need flour give the Success Patent a trial. It's $1.00 per sack and remember you take no chances as it is a high patent and fully guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. This proposition should induce every family to give this flour a trial. It's an article placed on the market to "buck" the trust and it is fast proving itself to be a red-hot favorite.

Remember I am still selling pickles at 25c per gallon and they are going like hot cakes. And those new prunes selling at 21 lbs. for $1.00 is another eye-opener to those who pay cash.

Bring your produce, it's just the same as cash and the highest prices are paid.

HE MADE THE MONTE CARLO CROWD STARE

"Million-Dollar" Schwab Amused Himself Two Days at the Famous Gambling Resort.

AS LUCKY THERE AS ELSEWHERE

Two Nights He Made the Players' Eyes Budge Out With His Betting and Carried Away Some of the Princess's Wealth.

A Paris special to the New York World says: Monte Carlo is grateful to young Schwab, of the steel combine, for having up two of its few dull days.

It was at the tag end of the season last spring, Mr. Schwab, drifting about Europe on a short vacation, went to Monte Carlo, and, after dining at the Hotel de Paris, strolled over to the gambling house.

He made no stir as he came in. The croupiers were rather contemptuously serving the huge groups of obscure tourists and other bodies who were gathered about the several tables. Young Schwab had only one peculiarity. He wore a frock coat. It was hot, it was evening, but he wore his most respectable looking attire. That with his smooth young face, boyish eyes and ingenuous smile, made him look like a western preacher spirited from home by the industrious Mr. Cook.

He stood at a roulette table and watched the play. Queer-looking old men, who had disappeared into the "daughters" glanced at him, as they did at every new male, then looked away. They thought that Mr. Schwab looked poor.

Presently Mr. Schwab took a seat vacated by one of the players. He reached into the inside breast pocket of that coat and drew out a small note. He held it up and said: "I have a franc note ($200). He tossed it carelessly toward the croupier. That person's dull eyes lighted up. He looked again at Mr. Schwab, who had disappeared into the "daughters" glanced at him, as they did at every new male, then looked away. They thought that Mr. Schwab looked poor.

THE DAIRYMAN'S HOG.

"Should Be of the Best Breed Because the Scrub Does Not Pay the Cost of Production."

Every dairyman, as I have said before, should study and know as much about raising hogs as he does about making butter and cheese. For feeding his skim milk to poorly bred hogs is a great loss to him. The old scrub cow, the dash chura and the razor-back hog should be a thing of the past. Dairyman, discard the scrub hog! You cannot afford to keep him at present. He is not the poor man's friend and is the rich man's enemy. He requires more feed and makes less pork than a high-grade or pure-bred hog. Here again consider the cost of production. If you are hard to convince, buy a thoroughbred pig and place him with a lot of common ones of equal age; give same feed and care, and in a short time the weights will convince you, to say nothing of the superior symmetry of form and finish which so please the buyer's eye and bring more money. We admit that the razor-back hog, the scrub cow and the dash chura served well and long and still have many backers who stand by them, and will always be standing there as immovable as Lot's wife.

What breed of hogs should the dairyman raise to make the most money out of them? I will say I do not consider that there is much difference between the Berkshire and the Poland-China. The experiment stations have at different times fed an equal number of each breed, and the experiments showed that there was practically no difference in the food requirements for a given gain.

PUMPKINS FOR COWS.

Ohio Dairywoman Considers Them an Excellent Ration in Connection With Corn.

While we never went into pumpkins for cow feed to the extent some correspondents report, we have practiced feeding them to our milk cows and calves, and our pigs and horses, whenever we had them to feed, for years. Last year, for our borrow, we didn't have them for our cow. We never gave the stock all they would eat of them at once, but we gave about a candy pail of chopped pumpkin to a milk cow at a feed, and fed twice per day. We never gave so much to the horse nor to the pigs, at one time.

We put the pumpkins in a trough and chopped them with a spade; this seed was never removed. The reason some cows go dry on pumpkins is because they are not fed enough of them. In addition to the above ration of pumpkins, our cow had good pasture for the time of year, all the good water she wanted, and all the salt, and she gained in her milk. They are excellent to feed in connection with corn to fattening animals, and are good for poultry, but must be cooked for the latter use.—Emma Clearwater, in Ohio Farmer.

STONE DAIRY HOUSE.

Its Construction is So Simple That It Can Be Built Without Any Outside Help Whatever.

Utilize the loose stones by the making of a dairy house, as shown. The one portrayed has but one room the rear being used as an ice room. Locate it remote from cesspools or outbuildings containing stock under as much shade as possible. Windows and door should have screens in summer. A long table will be needed, besides shelves; the floor may be of earth, brick or stone. If a stream of water can be conducted into the house the labor will be greatly reduced.—Mrs. A. C. McPherson, in Farm and Home.

Little Distasteful for the Cow.

We provide at milking time a few potatoes or roots sliced and mixed with a little meal or grain; the windfalls from the apple and other fruit trees, always cutting and stoning them if they are stone fruit. Cabbage leaves, cornhusks, squash, melon, pumpkin and other vegetable parings, occasionally sprinkled with salt, are highly relished. The appetizing "mess" tends to produce quietness and prepares the way for the hay or roughage which is to come later. We have no occasion to call the cows from the pasture as milking time approaches, for they will all ways be seen standing at the bars or at the stable door with an air of anticipation which it is a delight to gratify. They manifest their appreciation by their docility and by doing their best to augment the contents of the pail.—Sarah E. Wilcox, in Epitome.

Gettle Delight in Corn Fodder.

The cattle will not refuse good, clean, bright corn fodder, but care very little for that which is storn, bitter and dark. It is the loss of corn fodder from exposure that compels the farmer to feed his hay. As food corn fodder is nearly equal to the grain taken from the stalks on which it is grown, the fodder should be cared for as carefully as the grain. When properly prepared it will keep both horses and cattle in good condition during the winter.

AN INHERITAGE IN WESTERN CANADA

Indian Reservations and Other New Districts to Be Opened Up This Year.

In the Great Saskatchewan Valley, and the Fertile Plains of Assiniboia.

To the Editor: Dear Sir—The past three or four years have demonstrated to a large number of Americans the value of the grain-growing and ranching lands of Western Canada. Tens of thousands have taken advantage of the offer made by the Canadian Government as well as of the exceedingly low prices asked for lands by the railway colonization and other companies. The experience of those who have been settled there for some little time is of a highly gratifying character. So much so that the Canadian Government, who has control of the immigration into Western Canada, has decided to open up some new districts this year in the well known Saskatchewan Valley and also in the fertile plains of Assiniboia. These districts are probably the most productive in the entire West, and in close touch to largely settled communities as well as being situated on some of the most important lines of railway. They are within easy reach of markets, schools, churches and other social advantages. In some of these districts lands may be homesteaded as well as purchased outright at very low prices. Now as to what can be done on these lands. The evidence of the settlers in the neighborhood of the lands now about to be opened for settlement is that of them being located in one of the best Indian reservations goes to show that the very best results have followed even most indifferent methods. Cases are given where farmers having gone there with most limited means, barely enough to erect a small house and break up a little land, have in three or four years' time become prosperous, all debts paid and money in the bank. The soil in the districts mentioned, Assiniboia and Saskatchewan, is a rich black loam, fifteen inches to three feet deep. As a settler says, "It appears like the accumulation of decayed vegetation and ashes for centuries (the soil is a stiff, nutty clay)." On this soil it is possible to raise from forty to fifty bushels of wheat to the acre, oats seventy-five to one hundred bushels, all of which bring good prices at the local market. For mixed farming these new districts are probably among the best in Western Canada. Stock raising is a profitable business. Hay is plentiful, and prices splendid. Another settler, writing to a friend in Iowa, says: "The climate is all that could be desired, plenty of rainfall in summer, with no hot dry winds. On the 25th of September I saw prairie flowers in full bloom, sweet corn, potatoes and tomato vines that had been touched a patch with frost, and the winters are milder than those in the State from which I came. After the holidays the winter sets in clear and cold, with plenty of snow for good sleighing; no high winds or blizzards are known. Horses live out all winter and pick their own living, while cattle live all winter in open sheds and around the hay racks. Wheat, oats and barley are the principal grain crops, potatoes and all other roots and vegetables do well, the yield being enormous as compared to those in the States. Wild fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries, cranberries, gooseberries and all varieties of currants yield in abundance." As a reader of your valuable paper for a number of years, I feel that I should inform you of the progress and advancement being made in Canada within the past few years and the inducements and advantages that will follow settlement in Western Canada. Those who desire information can do as I did, and apply to any agent of the Canadian Government, whose name I see appears in advertisements appearing elsewhere in the columns of your paper, and when writing ask particularly about the Saskatchewan Valley or Assiniboia Districts. Yours truly,

OLD READER.

JUST HER LITTLE PARLOR TRICK

What Happened When One Woman Went to Call on Another the Other Day.

New York, N. Y., October 1. A woman the other day went to call upon another woman who may be always relied upon to act up to certain well-recognized idioms. With great courtesy, the caller was ushered into the drawing room, with its dim lights, its taint fragrance of incense, its blaring fire upon the hearth. Hardly had the caller announced her name when the hostess rushed forward and grasped the visitor with both hands. "My dear, I'm delighted to see you," cried the hostess; then, dropping the hands and turning to the wood box by the hearth, she drew forth a fat black book. Opening it till its back cracked, the hostess thrust the book under the blaring log with a melodramatic gesture. "That's how I treat the Social Register!" she cried. "Dear me!" observed the visitor, getting out the first thing that entered her mind, "I don't believe it was that of your caller!" The hostess didn't answer. As the call progressed the visitor fell to wondering whether it wasn't just a fat book of names, the one she had seen just a neat little parlor trick performed for the benefit of each caller, and the book pulled carefully out from the log. She had a moment's hesitation, but then a visit that it might serve again at the next. But no, the log was the real thing, as a turn of the head proved, for there she had the book, blazing away merrily beneath. By the time the hostess rose to go the book was in ashes. In the open air, free from the spell of the dim lights and the faint fragrance of incense, the woman got to thinking, "I don't believe it was the Social Register at all!" said the woman to herself. "It was some old patent medicine that looked like it and that she probably has been taking. This characteristic way to get rid of it, I feel highly flattered that she should think of her while to impress me, but I refuse to believe that she has Social Register to burn."

The Supremacy of Right.

Oh, it is hard to work for God, To rise and take His part, Upon this battle-field of earth, And sometimes not lose heart!

He hides Himself to wondrously, As though there were no God; He is least seen when all the powers Of His arm most abound.

Or He seems in the hour of need, To save us from our foes; And, when we are at our wits' end, He is at our purposes.

Al! God is other than we think; His ways are far above, His thoughts are far beyond, And we are but His clay.

Workmen of God! O! long be heart, But learn what God is like, And in the darkest battle-field, Though absent, know where to strike.

Thrice blest is he to whom is given The instinct of the field, That God is in the field when He is most invisible.

Blest, too, is he who can divine Where real right doth lie; And those who take the side that seems Wrong are but His clay.

For right is right, since God is God; And right the day must win; To doubt would be disloyalty, To falter would be sin.

Frederick William Faber.

AFTER-EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE

The after-effects of the grip are often dangerous, commonly known to the medical fraternity that the numerous ailments and complications which follow these are not so serious as the acute stage of the disease.

Some people have the grip very lightly. They may be confined to the house only a day or two, and yet a long train of disagreeable, disabling symptoms follow. All sorts of tonics and stimulating remedies have been devised to meet this condition. None of them can compare in results with Peruna.

Everyone who has had the grip ought to take a short course of Peruna. Read what the following people have to say about it:

Washington, Feb. 4, 1896. The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O. Gentlemen:—I have taken Peruna now for two weeks, and feel much relieved. ## Grip Produces Catarrh.

Henry Dittus, the inventor and maker of all the hand instruments for the Henry Dittus Mfg. Co., Columbus, O., writes: Philadelphia, Pa., Mar. 6, 1896.

Dr. S. B. Hartman—Dear Sir: I write to inform you that I had a bad attack of la grippe in December, which lasted more than three months and which left me with catarrh, when several of my friends advised me to try your medicine.

I began with a bottle of the first week of March, and it certainly did me a great deal of good. I was so well satisfied that I purchased another bottle and followed your directions, which you furnish with every bottle, and I am glad to say that it has cured me. I shall certainly recommend the Peruna to all my friends.

D. D. Wallace, a charter member of the International Barbers' Union, writes from 15 Western Ave., Minneapolis.

"Following a severe attack of la grippe I could neither eat nor sleep. I was badly all over. I suffered with a severe headache, indigestion and numerous ills. I could neither eat nor sleep. I was badly all over. I suffered with a severe headache, indigestion and numerous ills.

One of my friends who was greatly helped by Peruna advised me to try it, and I procured a bottle the same day. I used it according to the directions, and in a few days I felt much improved. During the next two months I took five bottles, and then felt splendid. Now my head is clear, my nerves are steady, my food, and rest well. Peruna has been worth a dollar a dose to me."—D. L. Wallace.

A Grundy county farmer lost a cow in a very queer manner one day last week. The animal got out of the barn and into the summer kitchen, where she found and ate an old umbrella and a cake of yeast. The yeast fermenting in the poor beast's stomach, raised the umbrella and she died in terrible agony.

All documentary and proprietary revenue stamps in the hands of purchasers on July 1, will be redeemed by the government under the provisions of the act of March 12, 1900. Such stamps should be placed for redemption by the owners thereof to the collector of internal revenue, from whom they were purchased who will supply the applicant with the necessary forms and instructions for the preparation for his claims. It is probable that regulations will be prepared and issued providing for the redemption of imprinted documentary stamps without requiring the destruction of the checks or drafts on which they are imprinted.

A New York paper says: Three or four years ago, when Weyler introduced his reconcentration policy into Cuba, the people of the United States were horror-stricken. That same policy is being practiced in the Philippines today by our own army officers. The latest report from the island of Marinduque declares that "Major Smith, commanding the American garrisons on this island, has issued an order requiring all natives to live in the five principal towns where American troops are stationed. Those natives who continue to live in the country will be considered insurgents." That is Weyler's policy, pure and simple. Try it as you may, you can make nothing else of it.

Too Much Mouth, Again.

Having noticed the following statement concerning the cost of tuition at the Nebraska university going the rounds of the Republican press, the editor of The Independent out it out and sent it to the University authorities. The statement and the reply of the chancellor are here printed.

"The Wayne Republican strikes the nail squarely on the head in the following statement of fact: The tuition of each student in our state university costs the state of Nebraska over $1,200 per year. The entire expenses of an economical student, including tuition, board, books, clothing, lights and fuel at Harvard, one of the greatest universities in the world, is much less than it costs the state of Nebraska for tuition alone. The university of Nebraska is one of the many illustrations of the lack of economy practiced in the management of institutions supported by taxation, where an opportunity, under the cloak of a good cause is afforded to recklessly squander money by men who care naught for the interests of the persons from whom the money is wrung."

The University of Nebraska, Lincoln, March 8, 1901.—Editor Independent.—Sir: The statement in the clipping to which you call my attention, that "the tuition of each student in our state university costs the state of Nebraska $1,200 a year" is absolutely false. The per capita cost of the university students to the state per year is at present eighty-seven dollars and twenty-nine cents ($87.29), and it is very much less than that at any other state university known to me. See page 44 of the regents' last report. On page 45 of same report the method of getting at the above figures is set forth. Any paper wishing a copy of this report can obtain it by sending to my office. Yours,

E. BENJ. ANDREWS,
Chancellor.

Among the papers of the late Grant Allen was found an article on "The British Aristocracy." It is probable that he did not care to place himself before the English reading public in the position of entire frankness which he had assumed while writing this article, and that consequently it was held until after his death for publication. It was secured through his son for The Cosmopolitan and appears in the April number. Certainly no Englishman has ever so handled the subject without gloves as Grant Allen, and no one was better equipped to do the subject justice.

Discouraged

Men, who have suffered the tortures of dyspepsia, will find encouragement in the following letter. It points the way to certain help and almost certain cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every one hundred in which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is used the result is a perfect and permanent cure. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition, strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, and nourishes the nerves. It has cured in hundreds of cases after all other medicines have utterly failed to give relief.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. "Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has performed a wonderful cure," writes Mr. M. E. House, of Charleston, Franklin Co., Ark. "I had the worst case of dyspepsia, the doctors say that they ever saw. After trying seven doctors and everything I could hear of, with no benefit, I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and now I am cured."

Chronic dyspepsia may consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Correspondence private. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Free. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth bound volume. Address as above.

"It is positively asserted that Mark Hanna has written to Lincoln telling what ought to be done in the senatorial matter. Who is Mark Hanna?"—Lincoln (Neb.) News.

Never heard of Mark Hanna, eh? Well, he is the man who struck Billy Patterson, for one thing; then he kidnaped Charley Ross, and his alibi is not quite perfect in the Cudaby case. Mark is the boy who knocked the underpinning from the republic and set up an empire with out the consent of Jim K. Jones—in fact, against the earnest and profane protests of the latter. Mark is the constitution and by-laws of the United States; he was the late river and harbor bill and is the coast defenses; he was the inaugural parade also a few days ago. Who is Mark Hanna? Just step over into the Commoner office if you would know all. Mr. Bryan can tell you if he has not forgotten.—Chicago Record.

The position which the Pierpont Morgan organization holds with reference to the business and political world is discussed by Mr. John Brisben Walker in the April Cosmopolitan under the title, "The World's Greatest Revolution." Familiar with the business world and a student of affairs, Mr. Walker has, while approving of the general idea of concentration which makes for good organization and public economy, drawn a picture of the power now exercised which will be a surprise to the great majority who have not given this subject thoughtful attention.

The other day he was in the hallway leading to Doc Williams' office, and a couple of practical jokers grabbed him carried him before the doctor and had the latter vaccinate him "just for luck." Now, Sam's arm is as sore as a boil and he and the doctor are scrapping over their newspaper and medical bills.

Mrs. S. B. Russell called at this sanctum last Monday, a day previous to leaving for the state of Washington, and served notice upon the DEMOCRAT man that the first copy of this paper that failed to go out to them, back would come the sheriff after us. "My friends here in Wayne," said Mrs. Russell, "have agreed that if after we have lived in Washington awhile and are unable to pay for it, they will send me Goldie's paper." That's the principal thing to "take" when you leave Wayne. All else is but sinking sand.

By dad, what's the matter with passing the hat and collecting enough coin to pay for repairing that damned, old, broken up sidewalk on Messrs. Bressler, Pingrey's and Dearborn's property on 2 street? Each of these three gentlemen are certainly entitled to the charity and sympathy of the public, and even if they are not, it will be folly to wait until the city authorities order this piece of walk fixed. The latter gentlemen are too busy looking for some recreant cuss out in the suburbs to ever pay any attention to such negligent scrubs as Bressler, et al'.

The editor of the Wausa Gazette charges the editor of the Wausa Enterprise-Herald with divers crimes, among which is that of imitating the Gazette editor, and concludes with: "And then, you know, it is pretty hard for a smart man to imitate a fool!"

The editor of the Belden News says he is greatly troubled over dreaming, continually, that he has lost his pants while in the companionship of ladies and gentlemen, or else he imagines he can't get them on in time to shield himself from the gapping crowd.

Editor Harris wants to know of his readers if such dreams do not portend that he'll have to go without pants if his backyards subscribers do not pay up? That's not it. I used to be almost nightly troubled the same way, always getting down town in the mornings and either forgetting or being unable to find my pants. Finally I apologized one morning to a group of acquaintances for my negligent appearance, when an old maid spoke up: "Oh, never mind a little thing like that, Mr. Goldie; we can hardly notice the difference."

"But that is your Sioux City price," I told him, "and I am from Wayne." "Oh, is that so," said the furniture man, "then the price will only be $11 and we will pay the freight on it to your town."

A married lady of Wayne was relating her experiences as a country teacher the other day, and during her recitative reminiscences said: "I'll never forget my first day as a teacher. I was fresh from the high school and just thought what I didn't know was superficial. I got a lot of gospel hymn books before going out to my scene of usefulness, and the first thing I did 'after' sizing up my twenty or more pupils was to pass about the books and select 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus' for an opening song; I expect the scholars had never heard of such a thing before for when I commenced to sing, and I prided myself on my talent, they all burst out laughing, the whole school, and they kept it up until I had finished, though I had to lean against my desk to keep from fainting."

Yellow-headed blackbirds are a scarcity at this time of year so to make up the deficiency the boys are wearing yellow caps.

Mr. Carpenter, a representative of the Case Threshing Machine Company, was canvassing in these parts Wednesday.

The proverbial hen teeth ain't in it this week with the scarcity of news. We have had a month of aridism and envy has stacked arms for a grand rush when spring does come. Few of the boys have been gunning about game so scarce this time of year; settlements are low (that is, the settling of the weather) and by all appearance we have a few days rest yet.

For Sale.

While playing near the office of H. P. Peterson last Monday Master A. J. Cavanaugh found a pocketbook containing a sum of money. On becoming aware of the fact Mr. Peterson immediately took possession of it and retains it, no owner having appeared, although the rights of the boy have been clearly proven. Just where Mr. Peterson bases his claim to the property has not been made plain. Well, he has it and probably needs it, but it is likely to be a clear investment for him as a man who would hold property to which he has no right would be considered a rather unsafe man to do business with.

There was another family row in the resident part of the Dimmel saloon Monday evening which made excitement for the people around for a while.

Mrs. Bright went to Norfolk Thursday to attend the teacher's meeting.

It is reported on the street this week that H. B. Miller has sold his farm just east of town to W. H. McClusky.

The man that blacked and greased little Johnny Krebs thought he was smart but he is small, so very small, that he would go through the eye of a cambric needle.

A man may laugh and be jolly, but you do not know what kind of thoughts are running in his mind. No doubt a little kindly talk and sympathy from a good friend would often bring a man out of the despondent state of mind that leads to suicide. How much help people could give each other, and how gladly they would do it, if they knew just when and how to go about it.—Osborne Farmer.

HOW ABOUT THIS?

From the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company of Lincoln, Neb.

To the Public: We desire to say that W. C. Shinn's Copper Cable Lightning Rod, and his manner of doing business have been examined and investigated, not only by ourselves, but by many of the members of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. of Nebraska, at the last annual meeting of the company. The exhibition of the "Thunderstorm" at Otto Voget's Hardware demonstrates the utility of a lightning rod and carries conviction that this Copper Cable Rod ranks far in advance of any other made and that Mr. Shinn and the men that handle this rod understand how to properly rod buildings. An investigation of the matter will convince any one of the advantage and importance of an honest rod properly put up. We can safely say that those who patronize Mr. Shinn's lightning rod put up, will find it honorable and conscientious to invest and protect your property.

EUGENE MUNN, President. W. B. LINCX, Secretary, Of the Mutual Insurance Co., Lincoln. For sale at Otto Voget's Hardware.

Winside Tribune: Mrs. Ed. Cullen, Mrs. J. D. Cullen, Mrs. J. J. Hayes and Mrs. A. M. Averill left for Epiphany, S. D., to receive treatment of Dr. Kroeger of that place.

While coming up from Sioux City yesterday the writer had a talk with M. McCauley, of Laurel, who was just returning from a visit to Father Kroeger's great mecca of medicine at Canova, S. D. Mr. McCauley says there are just thousands of sick and crippled people going to the priest for medical treatment, and some remarkable cures are made. Father Kroeger was formerly a doctor and has the best X ray apparatus in the world. McCauley says he examined him; told him he had been injured years ago and located the parts it had since affected; gave him one year's treatment and sent him home. The patient says the diagnosis was correct, that he fell into a well fifteen years ago and never recovered from the effects. L. D. Brink, the hotel man at Laurel, is another patient of the priest's and is fast improving from serious ailments. The expense of a trip to Canova, treatment and all is less than $25, according to McCauley's story of it.
