It is Easy to Sell Shoes

When you have such splendid lines as we are showing this summer. Easy because we don't have to talk ourselves hoarse in presenting their merits.

Easy because any intelligent person can see at a glance that the shoes are of superior make.

Easy because the prices are so modest that anyone can appreciate the economy in buying here.

Things would be different if the shoes and prices were not right.

We'd have to conduct a noisy campaign and we'd have to put off lots of verbal fire works in order to confuse you.

Rev. Weldon had the pleasure of making two couples happy last Wednesday. At noon he united Geo. Gray to Miss Caroline Leigh, both of Bloomfield, and in the evening he performed the ceremony at the Baptist church that joined for weal or woe the lives and fortunes of Gerald Porter and Miss Nora Larson. Mr. and Mrs. Porter are well-known Wayne county young people, the groom being one of our industrious farmers and the bride having been a teacher in the county schools.

It's all right to go hobnobbing about some grove if you want to sleep on Independence Day. But if you are alive and want to see the most exciting time ever pulled off in Northeast Nebraska you'll have to come to Wayne for it. There will be about three brass bands, a free vaudeville show, the grandest street parade ever witnessed here, all kinds of sport, plenty to eat, drink and smoke and a glad hand from all your friends. Don't overlook this opportunity to have a gay time.

The DEMOCRAT is in receipt of a copy of "People and Perplexities" by Mary Fairbrother of Omaha editor of the Woman's Weekly. We have all met with people and perplexities and those of us who have not met with Mary Fairbrother have missed knowing one of the brightest literary women of the state. Why the book is so named we do not know and people will meet with perplexities if they try to figure it out. On perusal we wonder why the author continues in the newspaper business and does not reach up to that higher plane of literary work—authorship. Surely her work is superior to that of Marion Harland, equal to Octave Thanet, reminds one of Gail Hamilton while here and there we get a touch of the delightful satirical nonsense which characterizes the better part of Elbert Hubbard's writings. We advise all who are interested in literary work, especially club members, to procure a copy. We would like to quote some of the pertinent sayings but lack of space forbids. The price of the book, which is in unique binding, is sixty cents and is for sale by booksellers generally and by the author.

The Two St. Johns.

A good sized meeting was held at the opera house Sunday night being the opening address of the St. Johns, temperance workers. Mrs. St. John spoke for nearly two hours and greatly interested her hearers, the lecture being largely devoted to statistics showing that the temperance movement was going grandly forward. Mrs. St. John's statement that education was the prime factor for this improvement will be accepted as a correct diagnosis. You can't make drinkers total abstinences by force, but you can educate people in the ways of sobriety. Dr. St. John didn't say much but his remarks were decidedly witty and informal. His request to the ladies to remove their $15 hats and then his regrets that there were those present who wore $1.99 hats or had forgotten to comb their tresses, brought down the house. But he sold the whole audience when it came to taking up a collection. With no hint as to what he was up to the good doctor asked all those who were pleased with what they had heard and were in favor of temperance to raise their right hands. Up went the hands all over the house, and it was amusing to notice that the real stingy old roosters were the ones who wanted to be the most prominent. "Now," said the doctor, "just curve your hand down this way, place it in your right pants pocket and bring up a half or a dollar which you will then put in the collection box." This brought out the applause but it didn't bring up much money.

Wayne friends of Miss Lucy Buffington will be delighted to learn that she captured the gold medal at the Commencement exercises of the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago. This distinction is a great honor not only to Miss Buffington but to our town and state.

D. H. Sullivan has sold his choice grocery store to Chas Wittler and the latter will get opened up for business tomorrow morning. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will sell their furniture and leave Wayne. D. H. taking an active interest in the "talking machine" business which will take him on the road a great deal.

The 2 Johns are Going to Celebrate.

Yes, we are going to celebrate right here in Wayne. Now his celebrating business is like all other important events in man's life—to have a good time it is necessary to make proper arrangements. There are four important events in man's life, and to enjoy himself the same arrangements are necessary. The first important event is to be born and the arrangements are a NEW SUIT on hand. The next important event is to get married. Now we know there are some men who say they can't find anyone that will have them. We don't believe there is a man on earth if he will let US dress him up will fail to get a good wife. Well to enjoy getting married you should have a NEW SUIT. Now we come to the glorious Fourth and every man and his family should celebrate. To enjoy yourself the same necessary arrangements should be made—a NEW SUIT. The next and last is the sad part of man's life—to die. The same necessary arrangements should be made—a NEW SUIT. Only one other important thing is necessary to make these four important events a success, and that is CASH. Now right here is where the 2 Johns come in. We have a new suit (not old and out of style) for every man that needs one, in Wayne county, and if you buy it here you will save enough to have some cash left to celebrate with. You can't enjoy yourself in an old suit or one that is out of date, but if you buy here you will feel the satisfaction of knowing that you look right and you will feel that the price was right. These are important considerations to enjoy a new suit. Remember we have everything that men and boys wear. Our hats, shoes, shirts and collars are all new style and the selection is ample, so you will make no mistake by coming here for your outfit for the Fourth. Don't say this is just an advertisement, but investigate and you will find you can save money by trading here. Come here for clothing, for if its right you will find it at

Wouldn't It Jar You

If next winter you wanted a jar of home-put fruit and because you didn't buy the fresh fruit and sugar when your wife wanted it you had to eat "store stuff" Now, then, men,

Of Your Wife

has her own "sweet way" you'll get her a case of Strawberries, a case of Peaches, Pears, Apricots or Plums, and when the frost is on the punkin and a chill is in the air you'll not be the husband of the poor, unhappy woman who because the family jars were all domestic disturbances instead of packages of congealed pruits for winter's consumption. Now, don't let these empty jars jar your pocket book. Buy your fruits at the lowest prices. Select it at Fruit Headquarter, Ralph Rundell's, is the busiest store in town where hundreds of cases of fruits are sold every week at almost wholesalers' prices. Don't delay it.

For Rundell's

The fact still remains, says an exchange, that there are bigger stinkers in the church than Dr. Herron. But, supposing they were all kicked out, where would the church be at? Yes, just imagine the condition of the Wayne churches with all the stinkers thrown out.

The republican papers of Pierce county are tickled over the fact that U. E. Foster, formerly publisher of the Plainview News, is now running a republican paper in Washington. That isn't doing half as much dirt to the democratic party as when he pretended to be honest and sold out to the republicans. Foster doesn't even need a pretense of integrity to publish a republican sheet.

If Dowie had claimed to be Baalam's ass a good many people might have believed him.—York Times.

Don't you get any such fool ideas as that. The Democrat man has heard Dowie preach a number of times and Dowie is nobody's ass. He is simply a prince of fakirs.

The Stanton Register says the people are delighted over the "discovery" of Mrs. McKinley. That's about on par with a couple of Germans of Stanton who were discussing the merits of a brass band. "I think its ze Weesner band," said the first dutchman. "No, it don't," replied his friend, "for it don't listen like it."

Clyde, N. Y., has gained distinction by having produced a young woman who is poison to bugs. Whenever a bug or mosquito bites her the insect drops dead. She could get a good job at some of the hostleries in this country as a chambermaid. But she had better have an axe with her if she runs up against some of those bed bugs raised in Nebraska.

It hasn't been very dry in this part of the state, but down around Grand Island they have had a several weeks drought. This has brought about the following story of what the people of Hall county did during the dry season of 1882. A "Professor Melbourne" was hired to make it rain and was to be paid $2,000 if he produced a half inch of water. Melbourne got a top room in a hotel and nothing was heard from him for two days when a couple of doubting ones got upon an opposite building and with the aid of field glasses found that the professor was doing nothing but sleeping, eating and reading the papers. He was simply playing a "sich" game. If it rained he got $2,000 and if it didn't he was out a dollar or two for board.

An Iowa paper, the Hartley Herald, says: John Keen, my good neighbor, took in that Saturday night and Sunday excursion to Everts, S. D., about a 700-mile ride. He actually saw with his own eyes Russian women manufacture fuel. The way it was done was by women gathering fresh and dry cow manure and mixing it with straw, then treading it in a tank, treading in it as oxen used to do in thrashing, and, while it is hard to believe, it is nevertheless true, that the women were naked from the feet and toes and as high as above the knees. John thought that such a performance should not be allowed in a civilized country. It seems, however, the Russians have caught onto a cheap and successful way of getting fuel, and they don't propose to freeze when the mercury is 40 below.

John should travel more. This is a world of endless variety, but the bare legged way must be an invention of the half civilized pops of Dakota.

John Wannamaker offered the city of Philadelphia $2,500,000 for street railway franchises, but the city council, under the thumb screw of the state's republican boss, Senator Quay, contemptuously spurned the offer and gave away the franchises to Quay's political friends. Speaking of this gigantic robbery of the people the Chicago Chronicle says:

"It is the fashion to hold up New York to general scorn and execration as the most corrupt of cities politically—the fashion because New York is democratic. No doubt that city is bad enough. No doubt it is so corrupt and boss-ridden as to deserve the hard things which have been said of it. But where in the history of democratic New York can be found a parallel for this astounding chapter in the history of the banner republican city of Philadelphia and state of Pennsylvania? New York offers no parallel to this infamous corruption and subserviency to a political boss. The second state in the union and the third city are under an unblushing regime of corruption.

What is more natural in a state where the party of public robbery for private enrichment sweeps all before it and gives McKinley over 300,000 majority."

Making the Guilty Pay.

The question as to who is to foot the South African war bills is one which is likely to give the British ministry some trouble before it is settled.

A Transvaal tax commission was created some time ago and Sir David Miller Barbour, who was placed at the head of it, has prepared a report some features of which have been disclosed.

It proposes, for one thing, that the colonies raise loans under an imperial guarantee which loans may amount to $35,000,000 eventually. This is only a drop in the bucket, for the cost of the war to Great Britain will not be less than $1,000,000,000. But it is quite as much as ought to be exacted from the victims of the war.

Much more to the purpose is a proposed tax of 10 per cent on the net profits of the gold mines. This, with miners' licenses, it is believed, will yield $12,750,000 a year. It might be better to make it 20 per cent of the net profits, so that the proceeds perhaps would pay the interest on $800,000,000 of the cost of the war.

This would be no more than just. The war was instigated by the men who were heaping up vast fortunes in the Witwatersrand and they are the men who should be made to foot the bills.

The people of Britain have not derived and never will derive either profit or glory from this war of conquest. There is no glory for anyone and whatever profit may accrue will go to the capitalists of the gold mines.

The capitalists of the diamond mines probably will make nothing

DO NOT

Drink bad liquor or you will soon be as jaggy and bum appearing as this gentleman to the right. Good pure whisky will hurt no one, when taken in proper doses.

O. D. FRANKS

sells only such brands of whiskies and brew of beers as are known to be good and not only harmless to the consumer but helpful in many ways. Good whisky is one of the very best preventatives of contagious diseases. It is a fact that only prohibitionists have been victims of the small pox in Wayne. Take our PLANET, GREEN BRIAR and OLD DIAMOND RYE, no better liquors sold. SCHLITZ, BUDWEIZER or LEMP beers, all are health-giving tonics, the cheapest and best thing you can take for spring complaints.

Order a Case and have it at home when required. A temperate use of the best beers will bring up many a drooping head or wearied spirit. It will give you a jag of mirth and a "full head" of happiness.

COLMAR 247 34 43789

Foaled March 28, 1899; imported in 1890; sire, B'head, 5317 (1630); dam, Robine, 5697. Villiers is a jet black; weighs over a ton, and for many years stood at the head of the stud of Dunham, Fletcher & Coleman, the famous Illinois importers and breeders. As an individual he is without doubt one of the grandest horses that was ever in the United States; as a producer of the best there is in horse flesh he is easily at the top. He will make the season of 1901 at the barn of his owners in Wayne.

Is a deep iron gray, foaled April 4, 1898, imported by Dunham, Fletcher & Coleman in 1900; sire, Navarin, (4255); dam, Biche, 23032. Colmar is certainly a splendid type of the Percheron family, being only three years old yet weighing a ton. He is an animal with splendid action and abundance of life and good disposition. We believe that in Colmar we are offering to the breeders of this section of the state of Nebraska a horse they will appreciate and we have faith to believe that he will prove himself a noble sire.

TERMS

The service fee for either of the above horses will be $20 to insure mare in foal.

ing out of it, as they are under the British flag before. But as they did much to instigate the war, it would be no more than just to make them "pay, pay, pay," as well as the miners of the Rand.

If the cost of this war of greed should be thrown upon the instigators the effect would be excellent. It would make greedy people more careful in the future. The British people are suffering enough for their share in the business.

Besides the necessary sacrifices in money which they are paying under higher taxes they have made still greater sacrifices of life and health and the good will of millions in Europe and America.

As much as possible of the burden should be thrown upon those who involved England in a war so enormously costly in life and treasure and reflecting so little credit upon the aggressors. But this cannot be accomplished without overcoming very troublesome resistance from the guilty parties.—Chicago Chronicle.

One, whose head is level, gives a piece of valuable advice to young men in the following: "The young man who thinks there is something better than farming in northeastern Nebraska will hunt a long time before he finds it. We know boys whose fathers are ready to furnish them plenty of land and capital to stock and operate it, who are pining to get into some business in town or work in a store or office for some one else. They are making a great mistake. Farming is a business, the same as selling dry goods, and it is and will be a better and more profitable business. Agriculture requires as much brains and scientific knowledge as any other calling and its returns are surer. The young man who has a chance to farm with plenty of good land and ample capital to work it is foolish to think of rejecting the opportunity.

Walt Mason's Sermons.

The pastor who is puzzled for something to preach about can do no better than to pick up the daily paper and glance over the telegraph and local pages; there he will find more texts than he can shake a stick at; instances of all sorts, to prove that the decent life is the best life, and the disreputable life the most unprofitable.

Six years ago a neighborhood row was inaugurated in a Nebraska town with appropriate ceremonies. Mr. Jinks had a boy of about thirteen years of age; that boy was always in some mischief or other, and complaints were eternally being made to his parents.

When the managers of the South Omaha street fair began to advertise a Mexican bull fight as one of the features, there was a great roar from the people who take a negative interest in the prevention of cruelty to animals.

If the earnest pastor will push himself into any public library he will find food for thought. He will observe that the shelves devoted to works on history, biography, religion, philosophy, and so forth, are always crowded, and the volumes have the appearance, which betokens leaves loose. Not all the novels have that appearance. However, some are almost as clean as the religious and philosophic works; any story that has a moral is severely let alone. The heart-broken pastor will see long rows of boys and girls coming and going, chewing gum in a frantic manner, and calling for the unspeakable works of Henty or Meade.

If a citizen of Lincoln, say Hon. A. J. Sawyer or Hon. Albert Watkins, purchased a covered wagon and a span of mules, and went around telling fortunes, trading mules and carrying off portable articles, he would be arrested and sent to the pen for life.

BY DAD.

When we look back and see how McKinley tumbled over his "plain duty" declarations we'll have to take his protest of a third term with a barrel of salt.

These million dollar rains are likely to soon be sold at two-for-a-nickel.

Rev. D. C. Montgomery's sale of household furniture last Saturday was very successful notwithstanding the rain and storm. The DEMOCRAT is not prepared to say whether this was owing to its being advertised in this paper or that the people were tickled at the opportunity of buying the parson out of a home here. Tra la la, D. C.

Perhaps the reason Wm. McKinley has declined a third term as president is because he expects the imperial crown to be planted upon his brow at the close of his second term.

"The question before the people is, 'Did William F. Porter follow the constitution?'"—Bixby.

As the constitution is defined by the republican party Mr. Porter most assuredly followed it.

The funny error of a bachelor who tried to be smart is thus told by the Chicago News: It was in a Pullman sleeper, and just across from the bachelor's berth was a handsome little woman and her 3-year-old boy. Early in the morning the two were laughing and playing together, and the good natured bachelor smiled to himself as he arose to dress. Suddenly a little foot peeped out from the curtains of the opposite berth, and with a twinkle in his eye, the bachelor grabbed the plump toe and began: "This little pig went to market, this little—"

"That is my foot, sir," said the indignant woman.

The silence which followed could be heard above the roar of the train.

He was rather the worse for speak easy liquor when he faced the magistrate in the police court.

"What is your name?" asked the magistrate.

"Michael O'Halloran," was the reply.

"What is your occupation?"

"Phwat's that?"

"What is your occupation? What work do you do?"

"O'm a sailor."

The magistrate looked incredulous.

"I don't believe you ever saw a ship," he said.

"Didn't O, thin," said the prisoner.

"An' phwat do yiz 'tink O cum over in a hack?"

After that it went hard with Michael.

Wouldn't that fine layout of fruits at Rundell's "jar" you?

"It is a genuine pleasure to see a strike ball leave the skilled hand of the bowler, roll smoothly along the polished track and in an instant cut down the frame of ten white pins."—Norfolk News.

That all depends on whether the ball leaves your own skilled hand or that of Sam Davies. As a rule instead of being "a genuine pleasure" it makes a fellow feel like 30c.

Did you get onto St. John's curves?

A reader of the DEMOCRAT writes from Herman: "I am stopping at Herman Nebr now if you please sent my paper here." And that was all there was on the postal. Yes, a newspaper man is a damphool if he can't name every one of his thousand or more subscribers by simply seeing a line or two of their chronography.

Some wag fixed a handbill of the "Two St. Johns," which was pasted up in front of Temple's, so that it read "The 2 Johns," "speak German and Swede." The St. Johns can beat the Two Johns all hollow on English, though they may not travel so well on German or Swede.

It rained last night as usual, or rather like the very d—l.

DEAR BY DAD

Please put this in your "cutting column." A certain Wayne lady has a marriageable daughter whom some people had reason to believe was recently united to the man of her choice. This good woman was accosted by her neighbor as follows: "Well, Mrs. —! I suppose congratulations are in order and hasten to offer mine." "I don't know," replied the other lady, in a most woebegone voice. "Oh, but I mean your boys graduating from College, don't you know?" Chaos!

Geo. Cook is a great basso profundo, but he is also something of a humorist. The talk was about beautiful singers, and George told the following little incident of how a homely girl captured a handsome boy, all because of her warbling sweetness. "An acquaintance of mine," said Cook, "fell in love with a young girl, who was homely as sin but she was a beautiful, jim dandy singer. Finally his scruples as to her ugliness were overcome by her songs of sweetness and he married her. The morning after the ceremony he awoke and gazed mournfully at her distorted features while his devotion melted away like the dew in a hot sun. In sheer desperation the young fellow finally yelled in her ear, 'For God's ake wake up and sing!"

A young kid of very few summers walked out of his wardrobe, just in front of the First National bank, Wednesday evening. Messrs Cunningham, Mitchell and James, three practical jokers, sat on the railing and when a fellow would pass one of them would call out, "you've dropped your handkerchief." It took Lord Love several seconds of inspection to discover that it was not one of the Love hotel napkins. Then Jas. Britton came along and he bit—more than he could chew. James lifted it close to his face—he's shortsighted—before his nasal appendage had sense enough to tell him the article was too heavy to carry. Then he dropped it with a "dull sickening thud" and to the roars of laughter retorted: "Like asnot you fellows think that's funny, but I call it a — dirty trick to play on a fellow who can't see."

A deacon of the Presbyterian church says: "Yes, we had two new ministers promised to come here on trial but when their relatives heard they were coming to Wayne they stopped the music right there. Don't know how we are going to get a pastor. Montgomery was the twelfth man here on trial when we got him." That looks as though "my church" had a much harder rep than I've given it.

Seventeen Wayne families slept in cellars or cyclone caves last night and every one of them belong to church or elite society. By dad, there is nothing like having a clear conscience—or none at all—when the midnight winds begin to shriek and the lightning casts its weird gleams upon the window panes.

Much ado about nothing, in Winside—the editor of the Tribune has been visiting in Iowa.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Mr. Olson of Bega returned to college Monday for this term.

Several new students are expected Saturday and Monday.

Miss Eckart of Beemer enrolled this week for a year's study.

Miss Johnson of Nance county and Miss Mahler of Platte county arrived Saturday to spend the summer with us.

Miss Moore of Platte county, Mr. Davis of Pierce county, Messrs Preston and Schutt of Wayne entered college this week.

Editor A. P. Childs of Carroll visited Prof. Pile over Sunday night. Mr. Childs has always been a good friend of the college and is a welcome visitor.

Rev. Weldon conducted chapel exercises Friday morning and Rev. Ringer led the joint meeting of Christian Associations Sunday. We thank them for their kindness and ask them to come often.

Prin. H. E. Hiatt of Butte took dinner at the college Monday. He is re-engaged at Butte where he has made a decided success. He graduated with us last year after nearly two years stay at the college.

The outlook is that the dormitories will be well filled this fall as more than one-third of the rooms have been engaged at this early date. Prof. Pile is planning to build an addition to the gentlemen's dormitory before the November term.

With the exception of one department of the college the work will be under the same teachers for the coming year. Miss Stewart begins her sixth year as teacher of music, Miss Chase continues her special line that she had for four years, Prof. Gregg begins his fourth year's service at the head of the science department. A teacher has been engaged to relieve Prof. and Mrs. Pile from some of their teaching. Miss Baker's work in the languages has been most satisfactory and she will continue at the head of that department.

Arrangements have been completed for commencement week and the week will be filled with excellent programs as follows: Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, August 11; orations of the graduates will be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings, the 12th and 13th; the music department will give a recital on Wednesday evening, a lecture and diplomas presented on Thursday evening; the Alumni meeting and banquet on Friday evening will cease the week's exercises.

Will go" until she drops and think she's doing rather a fine thing. Very often the doctor shows her that she was laying the foundation for years of unhappiness. When the back aches, when there is irregularity or any other womanly ailment, the first duty a woman owes to herself is to find a cure for her ailments. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in cases of womanly disease will insure a prompt restoration to sound health. It regulates the periods, stops unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free of charge. All correspondence absolutely private and confidential. In his thirty years and over of medical practice Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured more than half a million women. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. "I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now. I was as Miss Annie Stephens of Bellefonte, Wood Co. West Va. I feel like a new woman. I took a vial of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the "Golden Medical Discovery." I have no headache now, and no more pain in my side; no bearing-down pains any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine." Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Anna Montgomery was an arrival from Merville, Ia., Tuesday.

J. C. Hanson came in from Wakefield to attend the dance Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jasper entertained their friends to an ice cream sociable last Saturday evening.

Oscar Rienhardt was on the market with hogs Thursday.

A good place to get a supply of whisky bottles is to go where some of "mama's pets" have been to a dance, they never drink or get in a saloon, Oh no, but some way they leave a good many empty bottles behind them; walk up to the bar and take it straight, boys, it would look better.

Henry Lutt and wife entertained their friends to a dance Saturday evening, all report a good time.

Mr. Hayer returned from Tekamah Saturday.

Chas. Gildersleeve marketed hogs Thursday.

Henry Pfuger was at the county seat Tuesday.

CARROLL NEWS

Large bills are out announcing our coming celebration. Rev. Dr. Sisson is to be the orator of the day.

The marriage of Miss Thyra Mossman and Mr. Grant Neff has caused considerable gossip, because it was entirely unexpected. They at once commenced housekeeping in the farm house of Eli Thompson.

During the wind which accompanied the shower last Saturday, the barn of Mrs. Samuel Jones was blown to pieces, but the loss was fully covered by insurance. On the same day the new house of Roy Perry that had been blown off its foundation the week previous was again moved back nearly half the distance by the wind.

Rev. Sisson is to lecture at the Methodist church here on Friday evening, June 28th. Subject, "Between the Plowhandles."

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Hankins on Friday morning of last week. Grandma Cook of Wayne was in attendance.

Francis M. Wilkins has been granted a pension of $8 a month, to date from October last.

Nicholas Emch and wife celebrated their silver wedding on Tuesday evening. A large number of people from town were present, and enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. W. C. Bonham of Pender and her sister, Miss Cook of Wayne, were in town Tuesday.

An addition is being built to the drug store which, when completed will be used by Dr. Textley as his office.

Street commissioner Hancock is doing some good work in the way of grading Main street.

Frank A. Berry and wife spent Sunday with friends in this neighborhood.

Keep your eye on Carroll, she's a booming.

County Treasurer Volpp, Tom Hill and R. H. James were guests at the Carroll house on Tuesday.

Wm. Soenneken of New York was in town Monday.

We have the best fruit jars and rubbers on the market. EPLER & Co.

Budweizer beer, most famous beverage known to man. Order by phone from Herman Midner.

Our fruits are in firstclass condition. We do not sell you soft overripe stock.—EPLER & Co.

Messrs Frank Weible, Perrin Long and Will Livinghouse are down from Winside this afternoon.

The Misses Effie and Lucy Buffington are visiting friends in Iowa. They will arrive home next Friday.

There was a big dance out on one of E. Cunningham's farms last night which was attended by a crowd from Wayne.

The Omaha Bee's voting contest for vacation trips opened up this morning Miss Goldie Brookings of Wayne being fourth.

Have you noticed those lovely dishes at Epler & Co's? They carry the finest stock in town and prices are unusually modest.

A copy of a Lakeside, Wash., paper, sent us by S. B. Russell, notes that real estate business by Johnson & Russell is very good.

Rev. Montgomery is visiting his father in Dawson county, Neb. There will be no preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Miss Leona Hunter has made application for a position in the public schools in Manila, P. I., and her application is very likely to be accepted.

In August Piepenstock's quotation of prices full cream and brick cheese should read 15c instead of 18c per pound. Mr. Piepenstock finds that advertising—in the DEMOCRAT—pays. Perhaps it is because he sells goods exactly as advertised.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Miss Clara Philico delightfully entertained a company of young people Thursday evening of last week. Delicious refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening spent in table games. Those present were Miss Ella Bayer, Miss Benshoof, Miss Huston of Jefferson, Ia., in whose honor the party was given, and Messrs. A. B. Davis, Gil French, Roy Wilson and Fred Philico.

Messdames F. E. and H. H. Moses gave a large party last evening. The Moses home was completely covered with beautiful roses and presented a beautiful appearance. A delicious two course menu was served and a most entertaining evening passed. Those invited were Messdames Bressler, Britton, Tucker, Walter, Emil and Will Weber, Miller, Wilson, Mellor, Ley, Benshoof, Frazier, R. and Fred Philico, Epler, Norris, Montgomery, Gamble, Tower, Davies, Welch, Pingrey, Theobald, Smith, Main, Mines, Cunningham, Strahan, Jones, Williams, Armstrong, John and Dan Harrington, Dearborn, Goldie, Fisher, Skeen, Manning, Larison, Perrin, Robbins, Kohl, Swan, Wilson, Fife, Northrop, Ringland, Halsey, Myers, Fuller, Wightman and Larison.

Blood From a Turnip, Eh!

There is nothing like going away from home to learn the news, as the following items from the Carroll Index indicate. A P's Wayne correspondent must have a head on him like a tack, he or she is so piercing:

"R. E. K. Mellor is back from Colorado Springs where he left his family for the summer. Bob has been spending some time and money endeavoring to find the dastards who desecrated the family monument, and has had two or three private detectives here working on the case without results so far, although it was rumored that a prominent citizen was to be caught in their net. The net appears to have leaked."

"The type in the DEMOCRAT had hardly got cold Friday evening before Ephriam Cunningham ran up against his ribs of the DEMOCRAT. Several hundred people were watching for the fracas to begin, and expecting blood enough to flow to wipe out the remnants of the beet fields. Nothing serious happened, and it is supposed that one was afraid and the other wasn't"

Advertisement for Omaha Markets. Text: 'Receipts of cattle at this market about like a week ago. Market has taken quite a slump, being 10 to 15c lower on steers and 15 and 25c lower on cows. This decline was caused we think by heavy receipts at outside points and also a sprinkling of grass cattle and Texas, and buyers took this opportunity of taking off here. We think this is only temporary however, as choice cattle appear to be scarce and look for market to regain this decline within a week. Market today was about steady on the best heavy dry lot cattle. Cows and butcher stock are quoted a little lower with trading very dull. Nothing new developing in the stocker and feeder division. Supplies are limited and what is coming is of poor quality. Hog receipts have lightened up considerably and market is about steady with a week ago, after being a dime lower. Today with 8000 on sale market opened strong five higher but closed weak advance mostly lost. Provision market is very quiet but tendency strong and we look for good market balance of week. Sheep receipts moderate and prices about steady, market fairly active.'.
