I beg to say to the farmers of Wayne county that no one realizes more than I the fact that the great majority are good pay, but I have traveled over a goodly portion of this state and I know positively that the Farmers Mutual Insurance company does business in many localities that any conservative old line company would shun. The good men of the company must carry their share and in case of a pinch the share of the poor paying members.

If the farmers of Wayne county want Mutual Insurance I am in position to supply them with the best there is. I have a company that will write you cheaper than the Farmers Mutual of Lincoln, and has been running at least six years with but one assessment. The management expenses are low, risks are carefully selected, adjustments universally fair and no old kicks coming up.

I wish to say further that I will not descend to personal controversy with anyone. All such personalities are disgusting to the public. Whatever I may have said I have the evidence to show for. Talk makes no difference, I have the papers.

All persons who are interested are referred to some of the former members of the Farmers Mutual Insurance company and many of the present members can tell an interesting story of their experience with the company.

As to honesty of purpose in representing insurance companies, no one man of Mutual aspirations can claim the sole honor of being the only honest man. If he were such, his wings would sprout at once and he would speedily find his place in the heavenly choir.

I am willing to place my record of business beside that of any representative of Mutual Insurance companies and have no doubt as to the result of comparison.

I shall not further discuss this question through the columns of the press. If anyone desires information and will apply to me personally I shall be glad to satisfy them. E. R. SUBBER.

$5 A MONTH.

No Excuse for Buying Patent Nostrums When Individual Treatment and Medicine May be Had from Competent Physicians.

AT $5 A MONTH.

The Shepard and Hedrick system of medical practice is based upon the idea that business principles should govern doctors in their dealings with their patients. Over nine years of success in Omaha has proven that our plan is endorsed by the people. We deal directly with the sick, making the fee in every case as low as possible for good service and the best of medicines. We know we can cure diseases that strike at nine-tenths of our people and we know, too, that by advertising this fact and treating patients on a grand scale, we can afford to work for a very low fee, which always includes professional services and medicines.

The treatment at $5 00 per month includes all medicines for the cure of Catarrh, Deafness, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all affections of the Nose, Throat and Lungs; also Stomach, Liver, Bowel, Kidney and Bladder troubles. Consultation free by mail or at office.

Murder of An Old Woman and Mutilation of a Girl Culmination of a Series of Crimes.

BELIEVED TO BE A MADMAN

Arrested in the Outskirts of the City After Committing Two Shocking Crimes.

CONFESSES HE IS THE CULPRIT

Declares the Women "Were After Him" and He Had to Kill Them—Miss Jessie Knapport and Mrs. Amelia Bullis His Latest Victims.

Denver, Colo., July 10.—Mrs. Amelia A. Bullis, 60 years of age, was stabbed to death last night on a highway in the outskirts of the city. Jessie Knapport, aged 14, was assaulted and terribly mutilated with a knife at her home and may die of her wounds. Carl Jensen was Johnson, aged 25, who is in custody, has confessed both crimes. He is believed to be crazy.

Jessie Knapport is the 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Carrie D. Knapport, who resides at 119 West Ninth avenue. She was assaulted and horribly mutilated in her room during the absence of her mother last night. Mrs. Knapport upon returning home found the door open. Hastening to her daughter's room she found the bed clothes strewn about, blood spattered over the room. The girl was nowhere to be seen. She aroused the neighbors, who began searching the neighborhood. About midnight they found the girl in a vacant room, unconscious and fearfully mutilated.

The Murderer in Custody.

The police authorities were notified, but not before Christ Jensen had been brought to the station by Policeman Lambert, who had arrested him on the outskirts of the city. Lambert came upon Jensen about a mile and a half from the scene of the assault. As Lambert approached Jensen he whispered a knife and shouted he would not be taken to jail. Lambert disarmed Jensen and brought him to the station. On the way he repeatedly spoke of having to defend himself from a woman, saying he had cut her up pretty badly. The knife he had threatened the officer with was soaked with blood. Shortly after Jensen was locked up the police department was notified of the assault upon the little Knapport girl. They immediately connected Jensen with the affair. Jensen admitted to Chief Armstrong he had stabbed and cut women, but said he met her in the street and she had bumped against him as he was passing by.

Confesses His Guilt.

In the course of his examination at police headquarters Jensen confessed he assaulted Jessie Knapport and also said he stabbed another woman last night near the end of the University street car line. This morning the body of Mrs. Bullis was found at the place described by Jensen. She had been stabbed in the breast and the side of the face, penetrating to the bone, causing instant death. The body lay in the roadway and there was no evidence of a struggle. Jensen said the woman "was after" him. So he stabbed her. Mrs. Bullis was found daily near where she was murdered. Jensen said he had once been shot at in Topeka for getting into trouble with another man's wife.

Tragedy in the Family of the Ambassador to Germany.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 10.—Frederick D. White, son of Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany, committed suicide at 3.30 yesterday afternoon at his home in this city. Prolonged ill health and a persistent and nervous depression were given as the only possible explanation of his act. Mr. White had appeared to be in usual health during the day, and had attended to matters of business in the morning. He was found by the servants left in his house with the servants during a part of the afternoon. Mrs. White returned shortly after 5 o'clock and found Mr. White dead in the bathroom. A bullet from a rifle had passed through his brain, and death had been instantaneous. No one heard the shot.

Some eighteen years ago, on completing his course at the law college, Mr. White had a severe attack of typhoid fever, from which he never recovered. Stomach and intestinal troubles resulted, which in the latter part of the year became weakened, and within a few years neurasthenia developed. About a year ago he suffered a severe attack of the same kind. During the recent hot spell another attack of the disease came on, leaving him in a state of acute nervousness.

Mr. White had been about town during the forenoon, and it was as given out that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. DO NOT Drink bad liquor or you will soon be as jaggy and bum appearing as this gentleman to the right. Good pure whisky will hurt no one, when taken in proper doses.

O. D. FRANKS

sells only such brands of whiskies and brew of beers as are known to be good and not only harmless to the consumer but helpful in many ways. Good whisky is one of the very best preventatives of contagious diseases. It is a fact that only prohibitionists have been victims of the small pox in Wayne. Take our PLANET, GREEN BRIAR and OLD DIAMOND RYE, no better liquors sold. SCHLITZ, BUDWEIZER or LEMP beers, all are health-giving tonics, the cheapest and best thing you can take for spring complaints.

A severe cold snap is predicted for—next winter.

Nebraska visitors will no doubt find a place to wallow in Buffalo.

Norfolk is talking up a harvest festival. Judging from the number of tin-horn gamblers the town supports a person would be led to think every day was a harvest.

The World-Herald says that if Chauncy Depew really wants to spring a joke on British royalty he should read the Declaration of Independence to them. It's no joke in this country—that the Declaration is a dead duck.

Mr. Wilshire admits in his valuable paper that he was accorded an earnest and enthusiastic welcome in Lincoln, and modestly intimates that Mr. Bryan, fearing to engage with him in deadly debate, sought safety in flight. Wilshire's gall is phenomenally developed.—State Journal.

The Wilbur Republican works this one off, which may or may not be true:

"An Omaha business man took a vacation and went to the lakes on a fishing trip. Never having caught anything but bullheads, he was so elated with his catch of a seven-pound bass that he telegraphed his wife: 'I've got one; weighs seven pounds and is a beauty.' In reply came the following signed by his wife: 'So have I, weighs ten pounds. He isn't a beauty; looks like you.'"

The ladies aid society of the First Presbyterian church of Toledo, says the State Journal, gave a carnival, and among other attractions was a kissing booth where kisses could be obtained for 5 cents. Young and old men paid a nickel to enter, but when they got inside each received a molasses candy kiss. A general kick was made and in a few minutes another sign went up. It read: "The real thing—one dollar."

No one was willing to put up this pan-American price for the osculatory exercise, however and the treasury was not augmented. Now the conservative element of the church are angry.

Conventional members say it was madness to display the "real thing" sign, and the pretty girls who could not realize $1 for a kiss have a poor idea of the young men of the town.

And so this strange mystery called life is only a path leading homeward. In it all generations are going. From the cradle to the grave is only a little journey and it is better to try and make it along paths pleasant with trees and flowers.—J. Sterling Morton in his Nebraska City Conservative.

Yes, remorse is getting in its work on you, isn't it, J. Sterling? Yes, "along paths pleasant with trees and flowers," trees and flowers figuratively speaking. In other words, it means that it is about time for you to let up on your envy, hatred and jealousy of great men like Bryn, Allen, Holcomb, etc. Take a little of your own medicine and be a man among men; and quit your petty abuse of such a noble man as William J. Bryan, the greatest champion of human rights and human liberty that the world has ever known since the days of Adam. Take down those histories in your Arbor Lodge library and trace backwards through the annals of time, page at a time, and we defy you to name a greater champion of human rights and human liberty than Nebraska's favorite son, Speak up, J. Sterling, let us hear from you.—Lyons Mirror.

An Apt Illustration.
A good story is told of the clever manner in which Justice Harlan managed to give a tip on the inch's decision to his golf friend, Solicitor General Richards. About an hour before the court met a week ago Monday Justice Harlan walked into Mr. Richards' office at the department of justice. He said he was on his way to the court.

"Some important business today," remarked the solicitor general.

"Say," replied the big justice, did you ever hear the story of the calf and the knot hole down in Kentucky?"

Mr. Richards confessed he had never heard it, but would be pleased to listen.

"Well," said Justice Harlan, pausing to take another chew of tobacco, "two men were going along a cowpen one day, and they saw a calf's tail sticking out towards them through a knot hole in the fence. 'That is a wonderful thing,' said one of the men. 'I don't see anything wonderful about it,' replied the other; it's nothing but a calf's tail sticking through a knot hole.' 'Well, sir,' persisted the other, 'I have traveled all over the world and I've never seen a more wonderful thing than that.' 'What in the deuce is so wonderful about it?' asked his friend. 'What is wonderful about it? What is wonderful? It is this, how in the name of the great horn spoon did that calf get through that knot hole?'"

Justice Harlan had a good laugh at his own story, and as he went away to the capital the solicitor general turned to his assistant and remarked:

"The court is for the government and Justice Harlan is in the dissent."

While Justice Brown was reading the decision of the court in the DeLima case, in which the government lost on a minor point, Justice Harlan kept his eye on Solicitor General Richards. There was a merry twinkle in it. Finally he called a page and sent a note down to his golf companion, who was sitting soberly at bar. It read:

"Now you see the calf's tail." At this the face of the solicitor general brightened a little and he went out into the lobby and told the afternoon correspondents they would make mistake if they sent out reports to the effect that the government had lost the case. When he returned to the court room Justice Brown was reading the majority opinion in the famous Downes case. Justice Harlan's eyes were still twinkling. In a few moments, before Justice Brown had reached the pith of his decision, another note came down from the bench to the now happy solicitor general. It read:

"Now you see how the calf got through the knot hole."—Walter Wellman in Chicago Record-Herald.

Charles Hagaman and Miss Emma Helm of Adams county were married at Hastings the other day. Emma feels perfectly safe in the little craft of life so long as Charley has hold of the Helm.—Omaha News.

We are told that everything is arranged for the best, yet many people wonder why the thermometer is over the 100 mark in Nebraska, while a few hundred miles away snow is falling in the mountains and while Kansas is sending up her hot dry winds the people of West Virginia are being drowned by floods.—Fairbury Gazette.

A woman who recently obtained a divorce in Kansas made the following specifications as to the sort of document she desired, "I have a very fine marriage certificate, with little Cupids on it and a ribbon attached, and I would like to have my divorce decree on parchment with a blue no—a pink—seal; that would blend better with the parchment. I'd like pink ribbons, too, if you please."

"Disillusionizing" Women.

At Yale commencement in 1773 young Nathan Hale, later known as the martyr spy of the revolution, took the affirmative in an English argument on "Whether the education of daughters be not, without any just reason, more neglected than that of men." Tradition says that Hale made a decidedly favorable impression on the feminine portion of his audience by the zeal with which he championed their cause.

What would have been young Hale's consternation could he have looked forward to the year 1901 and read Professor Munsterberg's views on the results of the higher education of women! The modern professor finds that it antagonizes family life in two days. The first is that higher education of girls tends to "disillusionism" of the other sex. The well-educated girl not only feels her equality to man, but in many cases her superiority. The second objection to that higher education gives to women in intellectual pursuits something more agreeable than family life with its household cares.

Professor Munsterberg is a German with the instincts of his people in regard to the natural position of women. He is unfortunate in using the word "disillusion," for it implies that he would have women blind to facts and hold to an enchanted dream of the superiority of man simply as man. He does not urge his own sex to higher improvement, that they may not be left behind in the race for intellectual advancement, but hold women back in order that they may cherish the "illusion," to use his own word, of man's superiority.

It is possible that few women will choose to commune with Plato and Aristotle rather than with a second-rate husband; that to some conic sections and the calculus will prove more fascinating than getting up early to get a man his breakfast, but statistics prove that college girls wed and have happier homes and fewer divorces than ignorant women who marry "illusions" and are "disillusionized," not in college but after marriage, when it is too late for repentance to avail.

The higher education in women will not injure the American nation.—Chicago Chronicle.

Senator Dietrich is on the wide, blue Pacific, enroute to Manila. His extremely diligent and alert press agent is at least temporarily out of a job, for which every man, woman and child in Nebraska will return sincere thanks.—Columbus Time

It may amuse our popocratic local contemporary to prod away at General Fred Grant, but it seems to forget that the garrulous young man, as it is pleased to call him, graduated from West Point thirty years ago and is now 51 years old and the grandfather of a Russian prince.—Omaha Bee.

General Fred Grant is not a proper subject of newspaper criticism, not because he is a great soldier or a great man, but because he is the grandfather of a Russian prince. He is the only American who has scaled such dizzy heights of preferment. Neither Washington, Jefferson or Lincoln could count a Russian prince among his family treasures. Who will dare to say another word against Fred Grant after being reminded that he is the grandfather of a Russian prince? It is true that his grandson is not much of a prince—only a few weeks old—but he shines like a star when we reflect that he is the only one of his class—the only Russian prince who has an American grandfather.

We must not say a word derogatory to Fred Grant. He has reached the highest rank that has ever been achieved by an American snob.—Geo. Wells.

Letter from Miss White

Manilla Iowa, July 8, 1901. I threatened, Goldie, if you did not send the paper regularly that I would write you a letter and as I have not yet received the last two issues I shall proceed to carry my threat into execution.

We have been having extremely warm weather the last three weeks of June, since that reasonably warm. The crops here are looking well. I never saw the corn grow faster than in the past two weeks. It needed the heat, as when I came here the second week of June, it was very delicate, puny, yellow looking vegetation.

It is good to get away from home and discover how your state is estimated. The husband of one of my former pupils remarked to me: "I owned land in Nebraska, but sold, as my wife thinks the world ends at the east bank of the Missouri river." When I remarked to a lady on the train that the corn in Nebraska looked better than the corn in Iowa, she replied in all seriousness, "Yes, but yours won't mature, the hot winds will kill it." That from an intelligent woman, the widow of a school principal. While still another lady, the wife of a prominent elder in one of the churches here, said her husband owned a farm in Cedar county, Neb., and she wanted to move there to do missionary work; so you see how they estimate us. They all treat me very nicely, pitying me, I presume, and feeling that they may make something of me.

The town here is in quarantine now owing to the death of a girl of fifteen, supposedly of diphtheria, possibly a mistake as no one else has taken it, however, we can attend Holiness camp meeting in session three and a half miles from here. Respectfully CHARLOTTE M. WHITE.

Letter from H. B. Miller

LaHarpe, Ill., July 8, 1901, FRIEND GOLDIE: On the 29th of April, 1901, I left Winside for the purpose of calling on old friends of other days in Henderson and Hancock counties, Illinois, after an absence of twenty-four years. The most of them are strangers to me now, I can name but few of them—too old.

But it seems good to be here. Many, very many, have passed to the great beyond. Some are physical wrecks, while many are well preserved. Time seems to have dealt gently with them. Many of them can name me on sight, while nine times out of ten I miss my mark. I visited the old steam boat landing where we landed sixty-two years ago, (Yellow Banks), Oquawka now—the naked Indian boy that I wrestled with was not there. I have been pretty well over the two counties and portions of Warren, Bureau and McDonough. I spent my fourth at Stronghurst, a very good town on the Santa Fe railroad; it was quite warm, 108. I listened to two modern republican speeches, one by a McKinley democrat, one by a Mark Hanna republican, the democrat, so called, defended the trusts. He failed to say there was any bad ones. I find quite a few McKinley democrats. I find one bank that has done fairly well. After twenty-four years of active business the bank owns 59 farms in as good a farming country as the sun shines on. Of course the farmers were shiftless or conditions would be different. Now, this all comes about under the best banking system the world ever saw—for the bankers. But the bankers are not to blame, it is the system. These farmers are the men who should have been loaning money to the banker under right conditions. Say, boys! you boys with the blue overalls, do you know that you have a man working for you at one million dollars per annum or $2,740 per day for 365 days in the year? Do you know what that means? Let me tell you. It means that if 2700 of you will lay up one hundred dollars a year—and you can do it if you are well and don't try to mix in society—you will have enough money to pay Mr. Schwab for six hours work. 2700 of you chaps working twelve months, fourteen hours a day, to pay Mr. Schwab for six hours work, more or less. Say, boys! do like it? Remember; you are the chaps that settle all the bills.

Now, I am going to ask you to get together, some day after you get home from Sunday school, and look over the situation and try to learn or devise some better way, and I want to say to my friends in Nebraska that they have books at the county towns in Illinois that they record mortgages in. One widow lady I met has a little $30,000 blister, (forty thousand) and when I see hundreds of farm houses that have not had a grese spot on for years, some of them never, I can see the word mortgage in the back ground. But enough along that line. Up to last Friday it was hot, hotter, hottest, since then it has been very pleasant. Everyone is praying for rain. I think the oat and hay crop has been shortened one-third. Corn is looking good yet. Potatoes must be small. Pastures getting dry and many of them short. I am nine pounds heavier than when I landed here, so you may know my pasture is good. I will be at home when I come. Yours truly, HANK MILLER.

Take Notice I have opened a real estate and insurance office in the DEMOCRAT office where I will be glad to see all my old customers, and many new ones. I can give you insurance in good reliable companies and give you satisfaction on all deals. Come and see me. Yours for business, GRANT S. MEARS.

Beach and Bowers. A full house was jollied into good humor by the gags and facial mobility of Beach & Bowers' "big black coon" last night. The curtain rose on as well a row of ebony countenances as ever peered over the footlights of the Grand. The whole performance abounded in good specialties, and the singing was excellent. There were an especially good lot of tenors, and nearly all the songs were encored. Eddie Nixon in "My Georgia Rose" and Bobby Beach in "I'm All Alone" were unusually well received. The first part closed with a clever farce, in the "Gambling Den, or Goosefoot Astonishers." In part two gill-edge minstrelsy and high class vaudeville were introduced. Lou Knetzger did some fine juggling with Indian clubs, Eddie Nixon was good, Harry Freeman and Smith brothers, the comic acrobats, were skillful, and Woody Van amused the audience with a clever monologue. Albert Kitz, the "human frog," has been seen before in the city, and his knotty contortions and frog mimicry were very interesting. The Kenno-La Barre trio received heavy applause for their comic acrobatic and burlesque trapeze act. The Van brothers were good in their musical specialty act and the closing feature of the performance, a troupe of performing dogs, furnished a new and very enjoyable addition to the usual run of minstrel shows.

A big crowd is enjoying the matinee performance this afternoon and this evening the clever funmakers will contribute more amusement to Sioux Cityans.—Sioux City Daily Tribune. At Wayne Monday, July 15.

Entertainment—At the opera house Thursday, August 1st, for the benefit of the new M. E. church by Miss Lucy Buffington who has just graduated with highest honors from the American Conservatory of Music and Elocution, Chicago. Miss Buffington will be most ably assisted in this her first appearance as a graduate in Wayne.

Grant Mears saw Fleming, the ex-convict man of Wayne, in Sioux City a short time ago and learned from him that Eli Jones had gone to house keeping in St. Louis. Fleming made a very bad month of the manner the people of Wayne had robbed him, etc. There are a lot of people here "holding the sack" for Fleming but he isn't likely to fly back this way.

If there is anything that will make you feel like you had got into a bunch of unwashed calves it is when you come out of church and find a lot of idiots lined up on the sidewalk smoking cigarettes. They crowd along on the walks and compel the women and children to elbow their way through. We'd like to see the girls arm themselves with hat pins about two feet long and give every fellow that stands in her way a good poke. Any girl that will so degrade herself as to let some fellow line up on sidewalk and catch on as she comes along and take her home should never go out unless her mother goes with her. A young man who really admires a young lady will not hesitate to take her to church. If he is ashamed to go to church with her she should be ashamed to go home with him and should shun him on every occasion.—DeWitt Times.

Will You be Decent? If you will you must clean up that dirty yard and rake off the back yard. Then you want a good careful teamster to haul away all rubbish and refuse. We make a specialty of this work and guarantee no broken trees or sidewalks. See or call me up. JOHN L. PAYNE, The Drayman.

How about our three days' fair this fall? Because you have plenty of money is no reason why you should lay around like a lot of tree toads in the desert of Sahara and not care a d--n whether anything shows up or not. Some of these days somebody will come along and stick a pin into you to see if you are alive. Let's get a wiggle on us right now.

The DEMOCRAT has been proffered all kinds of information as to D. C. Montgomery, this week, a great many people evidently believing that the DEMOCRAT would jump onto a cripple after the cripple had scooted away. No, sir, we are not built that way. We haven't changed our opinion at all as to Rev. Montgomery, but we wish him the best of success in his new labors and hope he will reform and be a shining example for us other poor mudhooks to follow.

A professional gentleman of the city and we should judge a republican says the spiel of the Hon. McCarthy July 4th was the worst ever. This professional gentleman must have been out of the city when the Hon. Barnes made the Decoration spiel. What!

Here's an interesting item from the Fullerton Post that ought to make a Wayne young man look wise and get to the front. It also goes to prove that Wayne girls are onto their jobs and like to hang on. I hope the school board of Fullerton will do the right thing and then find they are shy one of the best teachers they had last year. It would be a shame if it should turn out to be the old story of Mand still raking the hay:

"I would like to have the refusal of the school as long as you are willing to hold it for me, though I can't say positively that I will not teach nor positively that I will. If I am married, as I think I will be, of course I will not want the school. But you know the old story about many a slip, and I would hate to be out of a job as well as the other."

F. W. Burdick says that Otto Voget called Pat Coleman into the hardware store, the other day, and said to him: "See here, Mr. Coleman, I understand you are building a fine house up in Burdick's Broadway." "Yis sor, I am doing that," answered Pat. "Fact of it is Mr. Burdick's house looks like the back-end of a beer garden compared to my place," continued Pat. "Well, then, let me sell you this splendid piece of furniture," said Voget, pointing to a fine porcelain bath tub. "Not yet," replied Pat, "my horses have drunk out of a wood trough for 30 years and they can just keep on with it."

Hans Hanson says he had a warm time on the 4th and he didn't have to pay for his fireworks, either. He carried a bunch of matches and a lot of small change in the same pocket. When he looked for the price of a "red lemonade" he stuck his fingers in the hole but found no bottom to the pocket. The burned matches were picked out of the lining of the coat but none of the change was clinging to it.

Postmaster-Editor Brande of the Pierce Call is a bright nut. In giving directions as to where his patrons would find him he says: "Our friends will find us just across the sidewalk from the postoffice and the postoffice just the same distance from the Call office." That calls to mind the fellow who inquired for the other side of the street. "Why, it's right across the street, you dumbood," said the policeman. "Is that so," replied the d. p. "Either you or that fellow over there lies for he told me the other side was over here."

Training

Is indispensable to athletic success. In training, much stress is laid upon diet; careful attention to the quantity and quality of the food eaten, with regularity of meals.

That is the secret of strength for every man. No man can be stronger than his stomach. The careless and irregular eating, of business men, causes disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. There can be no sound health until these diseases are cured.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the body to be built up into vigorous health by the assimilation of the nutrition extracted from food.

"I was taken with the grippe, which resulted in heart and stomach trouble," writes Mr. T. R. Caudill, of Montand, Allegheny Co., N. C. "I was unable to do anything a good part of the time. I wrote to Dr. Pierce about my condition, having full confidence in his medicine. He advised me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did. Before I had finished the second bottle I began to feel better. I have used nearly six bottles. I feel thankful to God for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I can highly recommend it to all persons as a good and safe medicine."

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. R. Philleo gave a delicious dinner July 4th to a most acceptable gathering of the family and a few friends. The viands were served on the lawn and a very merry dinner party it was, covers being laid for Rev. and Mrs. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Damon, Miss Logan of Ponca, and the families of Fred Philleo, Geo. Philleo, J. W. Epler, Mrs. Norris and daughter Ethel.

A very pleasant time was had at the home of Perry Benschhof Saturday evening, July 6th, when Perry and George Culler treated a large part of the people of Brenna precinct to ice cream and lemonade. Perry and George never do things by halves. A large table was spread on the lawn and lighted by Japanese lanterns. Over one hundred people were present and all had a very enjoyable time.

Miss Monte Theobald gave a dancing party last Monday evening in honor of Ethel Norris. Miss Bertha Armstrong furnished excellent music on the piano and the following young folks enjoyed the pleasures of the evening: Ethel Norris, Louise Mitchell, Libbie Ellis, Mamie Blanchard, Jessie Tucker, Luella Brenner, Fay Britton, Elsie Warnock, Hattie Weber, Laura Lundburg and Thomas.

The following young people drove out to Grimsley's grove last evening for a picnic supper, having a most jolly time of it: Robt. Graham, John Lewis, Homer Scace, Dempster, McKee, Misses Ellis, Weber, Blanchard, Theobald, Thomas, Brenner, Tucker, Britton, Moses and Lundburg.

Mrs. Ran Frazier and son leave next Monday for Lyons, Iowa.

Ben Skiles was in town this morning on his way home to Carroll from Lincoln.

Mrs. Beebe returned to her home at Stanton this morning accompanied by her little granddaughter.

Harvey Mason was an arrival from Minnesota this morning. He says it got too hot for Prof. Conn, also, U. S. going to Indiana July 3rd.

Elmer Fuller will leave in a few days for Aberdeen, S. D., where he will find lucrative employment in the harvest fields. He received a letter from a farmer there to report for work about the 20th.

Atty. Frank Berry was in Laurel this week looking up Charley Tower who is wanted here by several parties. Charley has been going the pace that gets most young men into serious difficulties and it's about time some one was giving him a jacking up that he'll be able to remember.

Mayor and Mrs. Ley are taking an outing in Minnesota.

H. I. Miller has been conductor on the branch train this week.

C. A. Chace and Marguerite took in the street fair at South Omaha Wednesday.

That "delicious ice cream" comes from T. Steen's parlors. It's home made, too.

Frank Strahan has a new family carriage, a rubber tired vehicle and a jim-dandy.

Sherman Baker was a visitor from Carroll Wednesday. He didn't think the hot winds had hurt the crops very much.

Twelve new names on the DEMOCRAT's subscription list week. Funny how people like hot stuff in hot weather.

Dr. N. Newman, the well known European eye specialist, will be here on July 15, at the Love hotel. See his "ad" in this paper.

Judge Moses is home from Buffalo. The judge only spent a few hours looking over the exposition which he says would take at least two weeks to properly comprehend.

A large number of friends were at the depot Tuesday to bid farewell to Mrs. W. F. Norris and daughter Ethel. The DEMOCRAT hopes they will have a pleasant journey to the Philippines and find the judge healthy and prosperous.

Frank Nangle is spending his summer vacation in San Francisco where he has found lucrative employment. He will not come home but return to Leland Stanford University in September where he is doing splendidly. George Nangle is still in the vicinity of San Francisco.

Grant Mears says he never authorized anyone to say that he was a candidate for the republican nomination for sheriff or any other office.—Republican.

That isn't necessary when it comes to politics. All a fellow has to do is be seen behind a door or in a stairway to be "a candidate for office."

The Bryant boys were released from jail this week. They were taken before Judge Hunter on Monday and tried by jury. Atty. Wilbur and Berry prosecuted the case and Elmer Lundburg appeared for the defense, it being Elmer's maiden effort. The jury remained out until twelve o'clock, midnight, and then agreed that they could not agree. Next day Elmer had the matter fixed up by the boys giving a bond for the costs signed by Frank Strahan. Landlord Perrin then sued the elder Bryant for the amount of board due him. There may have been extenuating circumstances in favor of the Bryants, but the DEMOCRAT is inclined to believe that any able-bodied young man who isn't financier enough to pay his board bills in these times ought to go to the penitentiary for life.
