Atty. E. M. Dodge was in town today from Laurel.

F. A. Dearborn is in Chicago. He is expected home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Berry are camping and fishing near Pierce.

Buy a brick of that fine ice cream, three flavors to the brick, at T. Steen's parlor.

Ed. Raymond will be home this evening from a two days visit at Dakota City.

For farm loans see Phil H. Kohl. Can make you 5 or 10 year loans at lowest rates.

For a good cup of coffee buy Conard's Moca and Java. Sold by C. R. WITTEK, Cash grocer.

Just arrived, a new line of dishes of the latest pattern at C. R. WITTEK'S. Come in and see them.

L. F. Holtz and daughter were passengers to Council Bluffs Tuesday. Lou also took in the races at Tekamah.

The sky was overcast with clouds this morning but old sol soon drove them away and the burning is going on about as usual.

This hot weather is tough on the preachers, also. No use for them to warn us of a hot hereafter, not while we're fried out here.

The Neb. farmer who has prospects of a good corn crop isn't worrying very much about the way the price of corn is climbing up.

Remember the entertainment given by Miss Lucy Buffington for the benefit of the new M. E. church is at the opera house Thursday, August 1st.

Strength and fine flavor are the qualities that commend a Coffee. Mellowrich is noted for both these qualities. For sale by C. R. WITTEK.

It has been so hot the past week that even the merry-go-round people have had serious difficulties, a number of the horses being overcome with the torrid weather.

The scrap between the Republican and Herald goes merrily onward towards personal thrusts and divers insinuations. Pretty hot weather, this, to stir up a stink, boys!

This week's DEMOCRAT is a made-ready quick edition. Any of you fellows who think there will be newspapers printed in hades are invited to get one out in Nebraska.

In most of the Sioux City churches last Sunday prayers were offered for rain. Poor fools; why didn't they go down on the Henrietta, where they knew there would be something wet?

If you want your skirt and waist to always be in place, get the Ideal skirt supporter, the very best on the market. For the very small sum of 25 cents.

BAVER SISTERS, Exclusive agents.

The DEMOCRAT man met T. J. Caffee in Sioux City one day this week. Tom had just gotten home from Des Moines where he had been on cattle business. He appeared to be happy and prosperous.

Harry LaCroix leaves on the four o'clock train this afternoon for St. Joe, Mo., where he gets a good job in a railroad office. Harry ought to get to the front judging from the way has hustled for E. P. Olmsted.

A big harvest picnic is to be given at Chas. Schultheis' place Aug. 3d to which everybody is invited and requested to bring baskets. A ball game, ice cream and cake and other interesting features be enjoyed.

The Old Settlers Association is getting ready to hold their first meeting about Sept. 3. By-laws and regulations of the society will be printed and the association made one of the most interesting features of the county.

Come in and inspect the new skirt supporter. Does away with hooks and eyes and extra band around the waist. No tearing of garments when you use the "Ideal." For sale at BAYER SISTER'S.

Young Allendorf, the alleged horse thief from Idaho, still occupies a cell in the county jail. Sheriff Cherry was looking for the Idaho sheriff this morning but he failed to arrive. It appears the officer is having a good time in Lincoln and has forgotten what he left home for.

With a good many flourishes and a brand new print shop C. J. Stockwell started the Creighton Mail a few weeks ago. Last week he bid the town adieu with the explanation that there was nothing but liquid air in the second paper at Creighton. Mr. Stockwell has gone to work on the Pierce Leader.

M. S. Merrill requests the DEMOCRAT to modify its statement of last week with reference to the ejection of A. Biegler's shoe repairing outfit from the Corner Shoe Store. Mr. Merrill says that Mr. Biegler had 30 days notice to move and that they had given him all the leniency he deserved. He further declares that had Mr. Biegler been unable to get his stuff away it would have been replaced in the store by him.

Found Dead In Bed.

F. C. Keenan who lives eleven miles south of town, made a horrible discovery last Wednesday morning. He was passing Alex Beattie's place when he noticed some dead hogs in the yard. Thinking something was wrong he entered the house and found Beattie's body on a bed and in a sickening state of decomposition. Sheriff Cherry was at once notified and drove out to the place. Beattie had been in Wisner Saturday, and a bottle of whisky and glass were found by the dead man's bed so it is quite probable the heat and liquor killed him. The dead man was a member of the Masonic lodge at Wisner and that order took charge of the funeral. Mr. Keenan has been appointed administrator until deceased's relatives may be found.

Smoke Wayne Beauty. Brick cheese at C. R. WITTEK'S. J. C. Harner was in Omaha Monday.

My office will be closed until 1st of August. W. A. IVORY.

Salted and pickled herring and mackerel at J. H. GOLL'S.

We have the best fruit jars and rubbers on the market, Epzka & Co.

If you want a nice mackerel for breakfast see Witteker—he has them.

Dr. J. C. Clark, the Sioux City eye specialist, will be at the Love hotel on July 29.

A cement walk is going down front of E. P. Olmsted's and the Corner Shoe Store.

Our fruits are in first class condition. We do not sell you soft over-ripe stock.—EPLER & CO.

Ladies, salads and dressing are not complete without Heinz Mustard Dressing sold by P. L. MILLER & SON.

It will pay you to write or see W. L. Robinson of Carroll about your farm loan or insurance in Old Line or Mutual companies.

Have you noticed those lovely dishes at Epler & Co's? They carry the finest stock in town and prices are unusually modest.

There is nothing pleases the home folks better than to carry them up a brick or two of that famous cream made by Steub. Try it.

If you want some "just as good" "I make it myself" Remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tea. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist.

John Pawlowski got "a horse on" Herman Mildner Tuesday night. John raffled off a cute little animal and Herman was the unfortunate winner.

Fat lady—Don't sleep too much; exercise; don't eat fats and sweets. To reduce flesh rapidly take Rocky Mountain Tea. Acts directly on the fatty tissues. 35c. Ask your druggist.

If young ladies think sores, pimples and red noses look well with a bridal veil and orange blossoms, it's all right. Yet Rocky Mountain Tea will drive them away. 35c. Ask your druggist.

The DEMOCRAT will discount any prices given by foreign print shops on stationery. Give us your orders for calendars and get them 25 to 50 per cent less than the traveling fakirs sell them.

Chas. Schieffler of Bee Heights, S. D., was in Wayne the past week visiting old friends and looking up a new location. He says South Dakota is not good enough for him and that Wayne county is the best country he has yet seen.

Hazelwood ice cream, made by the Sioux City factory. I have the exclusive sale of this delicacy in Wayne. You eat this make once and you'll never again want to dip a spoon into the home-made product.

D. S. MCVICKER.

The Randolph Republican of last week was a hot weather sheet to be envied by country editors; it hadn't so much as a single line of home-grown news or local type lice. The DEMOCRAT would like to go the Republican one better and have the paper sent direct from the patent paper house.

With moderate weather the past month this portion of the state would have produced a world-breaking record of a crop. With all our hot weeks of drought there are some big yields of wheat and oats and the average per acre will be better than for former seasons when we had dry springs and wet harvests. The corn crop is a conundrum—a few more dry hot days and there won't be such a diversity of opinion concerning it.

With all our hot weather troubles and tribulations Wayne people have no room to kick. Down in St. Louis 40 people died on Tuesday. All the larger cities have suffered a frightful mortality from the extreme heat. Even in Sioux City business is stagnant and many firms see nothing but disaster ahead. Nebraska, and North-east Nebraska especially, is the best and brightest spot there is. We are going to get along anyway through heat and cold without suffering the extreme vicissitudes of many other localities.

For good table butter go to C. R. WITTEK'S.

Mel Jay is now practicing law at Ponca City, Ok.

Hunham's cocoanut in bulk the finest on earth at C. R. WITTEK'S.

Pine Country honey made by the bee at C. R. WITTEK'S.

"It melts in your mouth" and tickles your palate—Steen's ice cream.

Miss White's house and barn for rent.—Enquire of B. F. Feather.

List your property with Phil H. Kohl if you wish to dispose of it.

Delicious brick ice cream, 3 flavors to the brick, at T. Steen's parlors.

You get the best soda water in town at T. Steen's ice cream parlors.

That "delicious ice cream" comes from T. Steen's parlors. It's home made, too.

After seeing Everett Sherman ride the merry-go-round horses Buffalo Bill's broncho busters pale into insignificance.

We have it now, what? Heinz Mustard Dressing for salads, sliced tomatoes, meats and dressing try a bottle at P. L. MILLER & SON.

Hog thieves are getting in their work at Norfolk. There are lots of hogs in Norfolk that will be passed up by the thieves, just the same.

Hal Vaught, who was burned out Monday, is temporarily staying at E. Hunter's. The damage to the Ott house was about a hundred dollars.

J. W. McGinty is selling 100 whips at a dollar each and will give free a hundred dollar buggy to the man who makes the correct selection of a whip out of the hundred.

Owing to the extreme warm weather the Methodist people held their Wednesday night prayer meeting in the tent which E. B. Young has put up just north of his home.

R. G. Sines, a former citizen of Winside, was murdered at Los Angeles, Cal., last Sunday, presumably by footpads. Many Wayne people were well acquainted with the victim.

Photographer Craven left Monday morning for an eastern visit. He will go Washington, New York, Buffalo, and may, Dame Rumor has it, bring a big-footed Chicago girl home with him.

The Germans and their friends had a big time at the hall northwest of town last Sunday. A Wayne barber gave an exhibition of some fancy steps in dancing which were much enjoyed by the crowd.

Robert Baird and his bride arrived last Friday from Boston. They will live in the Root house south of E. R. Chace's until March 1st when they go on their farm recently purchased from Wm. Hill, south of town.

The Norfolk News got out a remarkable edition last Saturday. It was a 30-page paper containing a comprehensive story of Madison county, her towns and people and their wonderful progress. The News is an expert at the "special edition" business.

The hitching posts have been drawn out on the square west of the post-office. A cement walk is to be laid on the north side, front of W. L. Jones' residence and new posts set out from the trees so that the horses will not damage the trees and walk.

While looking over a basket of eggs the other day, Horace Theobald was surprised to discover that he was in the poultry business, a couple of fine young pullets hopping out of their cold weather environments and setting up a lusty cockadoodleloo for freedom.

The third annual picnic of the Northeast Nebraska Picnic association of the A. O. U. W. and D. of H. will be held at Hartington on Tuesday August 8. There will be addresses by Grand Master Workman Jaskatek and Deputy O. J. Vandike. There will be band music, ball game, races, bowery dances, and numerous other amusements.

Fred L. Drake and his novelty works pulled out of town Monday morning. Horace Gregory says he followed the outfit to the edge of town for the purpose of relieving his mind of a lot of uneasiness. Some people think Drake was alright, but we've seen lots better birds and never took a shot at 'em.

The interior of the J. W. Ott house, next to Ed. Reynold's residence on 2 street, was gutted by fire Monday afternoon. The house was occupied by C. H. Vaught, the Boyd barber. Mr. Vaught lost practically all his furniture which included a good piano nothing but a few chairs being saved. His loss is probably $600 with $400 insurance.

Sam Davies got home Wednesday from a three days pleasure trip to Omaha. Sam isn't saying much about it, but he didn't get to the front in Bee's voting contest. Miss Vera Kraemer of Columbus was first, Miss Anna Kuhl of Grand Island second and Miss Lydia Harrison of Nebraska City third. Miss Brookings was sixth in the race and gets a trip to Colorado Springs. Sam worked hard to land the permission but it was too much to expect two first premiums in con-

Ex-Conductor Luca Killed.

R. W. Luca, foreman of the eight switching crew in the Illinois Central yards, was killed at 2:30 o'clock this morning at the Wash crossing, near the corner of Sixteenth avenue and Twelfth street.

Luca was riding on the foot board on the tank. The engine was backing up. As the engine neared a switch, the engineer noticed coming toward him on the crossing a string of loaded freight cars, which had been left on a steep grade and had broken loose.

The engine was stopped almost immediately, but the cars were too close and crashed into the corner of the tank.

Luca had no time to jump and was caught between the corner of the tank and the corner of the head car. His body was crushed to a pulp, nearly every bone in his body, from his shoulders down to his hips, being broken. His skull was also crushed.

When found he was pinned between the engine and the cars and was held in a standing posture.

Luca was 40 years old and leaves a wife and four children. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and a Mason of high degree. He was also a member of a number of railway orders.—Omaha News, 25th.

Luca was a fine fellow and made many friends in Wayne while conductor on the Bloomfield line.

INSURANCE

"The extensive experience of Mr. Thomas Berry, of Wayne county, Michigan, will if needed, prove a cheap lesson to farmers who think they are obtaining cheap insurance by giving notes to mutual insurance companies. Mr. Berry gave the mutual company three promissory notes, which were called "undertakings." These undertakings were as follows: One was $30.00 and was credited with $22.50. The second was for $6.00 and was credited with $4.50. The third was for $3.00 and was credited with $2.25. The balance of the undertakings, which Mr. Berry used, the company amounted to $9.75, and he supposed that more than that amount could not be collected from him, for his policy contained a clause which provided that: "The extent of the liabilities of the members of the company shall not exceed the amount of undertaking given for premium on their risk."

In September, 1881, Messrs I. Blitz & Son, who were members of the company, met with a loss by fire, in the sum of $4,586.50. This loss caused the company to be placed in the hands of a receiver. For the purpose of paying I. Blitz & Son, and all other indebtedness of the company, including the receiver's salary and expenses, Mr. Russell, the receiver, proceeded to levy an assessment on the members, according to the amount of insurance held by each of them, and although Mr. Berry's "undertakings" amounted in all to only $39.00, of which he had paid $29.25, he was assessed for $91.00. This amount he refused to pay, and Mr. Russell, the receiver, sued him in the Circuit court of Wayne county and a judgment of $91.00 and costs was rendered against Mr. Berry who appealed the case to the Supreme court and endeavored to sustain his case by showing that in his application and undertakings he promised to pay whatever assessments the directors should, from time to time, declare to be required but never in excess of the amount of the undertakings; he referred also to the agreement in the policy that he should not be held liable for a sum in excess of the undertaking given for the premium. But these seemingly well taken points did not avail him, and the judgment of the Wayne county Circuit court was affirmed with costs, all of the Justices of the Supreme court agreeing to the decision, which may be found in full in the January, 1884, number of the Law Journal.

The Argus, in its December, 1883, number, commenting on the decision of the Supreme court, says:

The decision is evidently a just and most righteous one and disposes finally of the whole question. Undoubtedly the liabilities under a policy of a mutual fire insurance company is limited only by the indebtedness of the said company, and persons who choose to be foolish enough to embark in such insurance must have continually before their eyes the fact that whether or not their liability is limited by any article either in the by laws or the policy itself of a mutual company, it certainly remains true that they must pay in case of disaster all the losses, as well as all the expenses incident to winding up their insurers in the courts.

Do individuals want insurance which requires them in turn to insure the company to an amount which may in case of a supreme disaster take the very pro itself to pay the loss? We think not.

Of course, as long as this decision is kept from the general knowledge of the people there will be mutual companies who may beguile their members into the belief that their liability may be limited by some method similar to the above; but we fancy that when it becomes generally known that nothing can so limit this liability there will not be many to invest in mutual insurance."

The above is a record that shows something of what may be expected by policy holders in Mutual companies.

About ten or a dozen young men are using the band stand for sleeping apartments. An early riser went by the other morning and he says all the covering one young fellow had over him was a pair of red shoe laces.

C. A. Chace says the farmers have used nearly a third more twine than they had calculated on, every one having to come to town for an extra supply. A twine famine was averted by E. B. Phillee at Carroll having an over-supply.

Sam Hoag was chasing all over the county last Saturday for a girl and says he couldn't find one until he got home and found his wife had one already yet. Sam wanted a girl and a boy, but if he can get a hired girl he'll have to put up with two females.

Walt Sherbahn came near getting out of this hot climate last Monday. He made the run to the fire—and came near getting into the flames. Walt toppled over with the heat and was unconscious for several hours. Tuesday he was down town and as good a man as ever.

At a well attended meeting of the Presbyterian folks Wednesday evening, it was voted to extend a call to Rev. McCluskey of Tipton, Mo. Mr. McCluskey preached here three weeks ago and the DEMOCRAT has heard him very highly complimented. The gentleman has a wife and children but we do not know how many of the latter. Rev. McCluskey was formerly stationed at Geneseo, Ill., and three years ago was sent to Tipton to make peace in a church that was divided against itself, and where he was very successful.

APPOINTMENT OF

DEAVER DISCLOSED. Northwestern Nebraska Republican Indignant Over the President's Action.

Office Is One of the Choicest Places of Patronage in Nebraska—Fusion Committee to Meet in Lincoln on 7th Day of August.

O'Neill, Neb., July 23.—The appointment of Clem Deaver, the pro-republican leader, as receiver of the United States land office at this place...

The fourth best position in Nebraska is the gift of the administration, and it is believed that the appointment of Deaver to the office of receiver of the United States land office at this place...

It has been the theme of discussion since its announcement. R. R. Dickson, a prominent attorney and leading republican in northwest Nebraska, who has fought early and late for republican success and who is the chairman of the republican central committee, when asked as to the appointment...

"This is a great mistake and one that will cause the party much trouble, and a dirty political trick. I would not like to be responsible for the appointment of this man to the office."

"No, I did not. I understand that the chief of the council of the party agreed to let the office remain as it was until the convening of congress. We felt that we were dealing with men of honor and men whose word was good even in politics, and we ceased hostilities. The flag of truce was not respected and while we rested secure in this belief some one conspired and contrived to addle the brains of this political Judas of the twentieth century."

Deaver will be scorned by the populists and shunned by every republican. Deaver's appointment will go down in history as a disgrace to the party making it.

Secretary C. L. Bright of the republican county committee when shown the report of the fusion committee said: "You may say I indorse every word of Mr. Dickson's statement."

TO MEET AUGUST 7.

Fusion Committee to Fix Convention Place and Date. Lincoln, Neb., July 23.—Fusion central committee, representing populists, democrats and free silver republicans, have been called to meet at Lincoln, Wednesday, August 7, for the purpose of determining the time and place for holding the state nominating convention.

An official call for the meeting was issued by Chairman P. L. Hall and it is announced that the two other chairmen of the three-sided combination will also be present.

"A meeting of the democratic state central committee will be held at the Lincoln Hotel, Lincoln, Neb., on Wednesday, August 7, 1901. The time and place for holding the next democratic state convention will be under consideration, also other matters of importance to the party."

When asked for action during the forthcoming campaign, Mr. Hall said: "Oh, yes; I think so," but he refrained from making any further comment regarding the outlook.

It is generally believed here that the chairman and secretary of the democratic committee will be engaged to meet at Lincoln on Wednesday, August 7, 1901. The time and place for holding the next democratic state convention will be under consideration, also other matters of importance to the party."

TO CUT DOWN EXPENSES.

Corbin Figures They Can Be Reduced 50 Per Cent. Manila, July 23.—The conferences between Adjutant General Corbin and General Chaffee, recently held here, will probably result in radical administrative reforms in the army of occupation. It is estimated the total cost of maintaining the American army in the Philippines is $10,000,000 per annum in the course of one year. The principal change will be the reduction of the present force to between 20,000 and 30,000 men. The abolishment of the present headquarters is contemplated, and three brigades, with permanent headquarters at Manila, Dagupan and Iloilo or Cebu, will be instituted in their stead. The troops will be concentrated at the three points selected, abandoning all minor posts. These changes will result in an enormous saving in the transportation of supplies and the paying of rental for barracks. The soldiers are present in most towns the troops are quartered in churches, convents and public and private buildings. For the use of which considerable sums of money are expended. The majority of other cases, where the troops do not occupy public buildings, it is believed rental should be paid for the soldiers' quarters. It is estimated that the cost of these reductions will be $2,000,000 a month, that being the rental paid for the commissary and quartermaster's storehouse in Manila alone. An electric railroad, extending from Iloilo to Zamboanga, and the new warehouse will be constructed. General Corbin and Chaffee have also decided upon one single general military hospital in Manila and vicinity. One of the latter buildings will be converted into a hospital. The government has the great fleet of government launches and small government steamers has already begun. Permanent barracks have been erected at Dagupan to accommodate all the troops of the northern region. Government vessels will carry supplies for the southern brigade from the United States direct to Iloilo, without touching at Manila. The insular constabulary is now being organized. It will be maintained by the insular government and is expected to be amply able to preserve peace and order in the islands. The constabulary will, as a general rule, be armed with rifles, but its members have been given 6,000 shotguns and 2,000 pistols. The telegraph system throughout the archipelago established by the signal corps has been taken over by the civil government. The telegraph system formerly belonging to the army has already been disposed of. The concentration of the troops at Manila, Dagupan and northern Luzon, will begin at the close of the rainy season next November. As a further measure of economy arrangements are being perfected to stop the exorbitant salaries of certain civil government employees of commissary stores, heretofore sold them at the army rates. General Corbin will sail from the southern archipelago on the transport Lawton and from there he will go direct to China, returning to Manila on the transport Albatross. The United States via Vancouver.

HELPED TO MAKE NEBRASKA POPULIST

Partisan Supreme Court Decision in Famous Boyd-Powers Case Was a Big Factor.

How Allen Came to the Front Was an Obscure Republican When Deplon Was Ransomed—Made Him a Populist, and a Deadlock Gave Him a Toga.

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—It is a fact not generally known that Nebraska owes her experience as a populist state in a large measure to the arbitrary, and by many deemed unlawful, decision of the partisan supreme court, then in the grip of the republicans. It was the same decision, the one announced by Chief Justice Allen from a republican to a populist and gave him seven years in the United States senate.

Prior to 1890 Mr. Allen was a country lawyer at Madison, and the horizon of his ambition embraced nothing loftier than a district judgeship. That year he was a delegate to the republican state convention which nominated L. D. Richards of Fremont for governor. The populists, then known as the Farmers' alliance, named an old white-haired farmer named Powers. The democrats encouraged by the fact that the republican candidate had resigned to commit himself on the prohibitory amendments submitted to the voters, elected Mayor Boyd of Omaha, in the field, the campaign that ensued was an exceedingly lively one. It resulted in the election, on the face of the returns, of Boyd by a score of 100,000 votes over Powers, the republican candidate being a close third. The seven republican nominees for offices in the executive department were appointed by a narrow plural majority. A contest, which under the Nebraska constitution is heard only by the legislature, was instituted by the populists against Boyd by a score of 100,000 votes over Powers. The populists controlled both branches of the legislature and the character of the contest begun forced a coalition between the democrats and republicans.

It has since been generally admitted that Powers was the legally elected governor, and it was shown in the testimony taken in support of the gubernatorial contest that the republican candidate had been elected by a vote of 100,000 over Powers, which gave Boyd a tremendous majority, the total poll being larger by thousands than it had ever been before. It is known that if the contest was ever heard before the populist legislature Powers and his fellow candidates would have been elected, and that what was then believed would be a calamity extraordinary proceedings were begun. An action to mandamus the populist speaker to open the returns in joint session was granted, the result was filed in supreme court.

As these returns showed Boyd elected, the effect of such a declaration would have been to snare him, after which the voters in a referendum would have been a joint session to hear any of the contents unless his veto was overridden, to accomplish which the populists were elected by a score of 100,000 votes over Powers. The populists were elected to this action in supreme court that that tribunal had no power to control the action of a co-ordinate branch of the state government, and that it could not nullify the result of a referendum. Both of these contentions were decided adversely, the court holding that it could not write into the constitution a veto power which the governor should not exercise his veto power on occasions wherein he was personally interested. In doing so the court went against the democrats and republicans and has since repeatedly ignored that decision.

Made Allen a Populist. Nine lawyers represented the populist side of the argument. At that time lawyers were not eligible to membership in the legislature, and the nine were democrats, five republicans and one a prohibitionist. They took their defeat greatly to heart and all but one joined in the next year or so with the populist party among the number. The decision has always been a sore point with the lawyers of the state, most of whom regarded it as an insult to the profession and to the honor of the trinity of governmental power and not justified by the interest at stake.

Two years later Allen came to Lincoln as a spectator of a fierce three-cornered senatorial fight then in progress. His services in 1891 were remembered and two days later he was taken into the populist candidate's confidence and elected senator for six years. He had previously gone the full length of embracing the Omaha platform and specifically his former opponent, the champion of public life. The starting point of his public career, he freely admits, was the decision of the court that opened his eyes to the fact that the party had won the ministers of justice.

SLAUGHTER OF FISH. Game Warden Simpkins to Protect Fish in the Platte. Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—Game Warden Simpkins has decided to stop the slaughter of fish which is going on along the Platte river as a result of the heavy flow of water from the Platte river, which is wide and sandy, divides into many channels and sometimes sand bars form and cut off the river from the Platte river. The water lowered the river so much that in some places the fish are left high and dry on sand bars and in shallow pools. The warden has decided to stop the slaughter with pitchforks and haul them away. The game law prohibits the catching of fish by any means except by hook and line.

PRIDE OF NORTHEAST NEBRASKA

THE NEBRASKA NORMAL SCHOOL.

(From the Woman's Weekly.)

Normal schools are among the latest institutions of learning to be established in this country, and among the first to find a footing in the west. Over ten years ago when Wayne was a small village and not many people cared, the idea of establishing a first class Hall of Culture, on the broad beautiful hill just outside the town, first took root. Anyone who knows the pure air, the bright sunshine and fine large sense of liberty and development that belongs to the place is not precious in her estimation. In illness or in health no pupil is ever neglected morally, mentally or physically in the big college on the hill.

J. M. PILE, A. M., PRESIDENT NEBRASKA NORMAL COLLEGE.

Such thorough and competent people could not tolerate any but the best assistants. The dozen heads of departments are each a specialist and must be second to none, or move on, there is a place for mediocrity, but not here. Miss Stewart, who is a very unpretentious young lady, with a most charming manner, has been at the head of the Music for five years. She graduated from the Illinois college, at Jacksonville, and supplemented with some of the best private instructors in America. More than all she was born a musician, and of all her credentials that from Mother Nature is most precious.

The teacher of Languages Miss Baker, is one of the most polished and cultured young women in the state. She holds the A. M. degree from Simpson college and when her father was Consul at Copenhagen she taught English in a ladies' Seminary there. The Emperor William visited her school one day, an event of great interest to the American teacher as it was to the German maids. Miss Baker's father is now Consul at Sydney. She taught two years in Texas, and thoroughly enjoys her chosen work.

So one might tell things of interest of the half score of teachers whose names even, lack of space prohibits mentioning.

It makes a big difference whether you steal a loaf of bread or sell a glass of beer on Sunday, or a bank cashier steals thirty thousand dollars or a preacher elopes with another man's wife. For the loaf of bread the thief goes to jail, for the thirty thousand dollars Ward stole he was given a room in the Garretson hotel. For selling the glass of beer the saloonkeeper, his wife and children are reduced to poverty, for eloping with another man's wife Reverend Cash receives the sympathies of his brethren in church and a harp in heaven. The Cherokee Democrat, speaking of T. F. Ward's arrest July 5th said: "The dirty defaulting devil is arrested!" Well, the dirty defaulting devil was arrested and taken to Sioux City in a palace car, and was given a reception and commodious lodging in the finest hotel of the city. Such is life, such is justice measured out. Ward was taken before Commissioner Henderson Monday evening, was admitted to bail in the sum of five thousand dollars, and is now a free man.—Exchange.

world. A man who has the high regard of his near neighbors who know him best is a man upon whom reliance may be placed. A few months ago it became necessary to place the Wayne Normal

School under quarantine rule for a time. With its hundreds of pupils away from home, it meant serious loss in several ways, besides financially, for the institution is a private one, and has no small-pox was forgotten and everything going along in its usual clock-work style. But the point to the story is, that after the quarantine was raised the business men of Wayne met and recognizing the value of an institution of the kind and fearing its good work might be temporarily crippled by the misfortune, offered to make up the financial loss by voluntary subscriptions. What certificate or testimonial could Professor Pile and Mrs. Pile ever have to exceed such evidence of appreciation? It does not change its effect at all that Professor and Mrs. Pile were in a position to decline all assistance, for the offer meant a great deal to them, no doubt.

During the ten years that the Nebraska Normal has been proving its character, it has grown steadily in its buildings, apparatus and course of study. All branches are now included and no institution in the west has a finer corps of teachers. The regular branches and the special studies including Music, Art, Elocution, Stenography and Literature are in charge of well-qualified instructors. It is, however, as a Normal School that this college desires to be known. No young man or woman who graduates from the Nebraska Normal, and desires to make teaching his life work, but may look the world squarely in the face. His credentials are second to none and all he need ask of fate is an even show.

So far as the personnel of the Faculty is concerned, it is worse than useless to waste words in eulogy, for their reputations are well and long established, not only as teachers, but as men and women of splendid character.

Mrs. Pile, the earnest and zealous assistant of the president, is as well fitted for her work as it is possible for a teacher to be. After graduating from the high school at Hicksville, Ohio, she entered the Bryan Seminary, but presently decided to make teaching her business, she entered the Normal school at Valparaiso and remained for three years, taking complete course with high honors. Among the many testimonials from Wayne teachers, ministers and other professional people well acquainted with the every day work of the Nebraska Normal, the home atmosphere of high morality is always mentioned. Mrs. Pile is responsible, largely, for this. She is a strong well-poised christian mother, vitally interested in her own young people and that makes all youth

BY DAD.

It has been discovered that the home grown, hand spanked, ragged, bare footed country boy makes a better fight in the battle of life than does the pampered, well clothed city boy, the seat of whose pants are spanked with golden slippers. Give us the hand spanked country boy every time. His hair may be of Paderewski style, his face sunburned and tanned, but when he grows up to be a big robust man he is always found well nigh to the top of the ladder.

A doctor once presented himself at the Golden Gate for admission, and after passing a fair examination as to his conduct Saint Peter agreed to permanently admit him if he could pick out Adam and Eve from the assembled angels. The doctor looked around and soon found his progenitors. But Peter was puzzled and asked the doctor how in the name of the golden harps had he managed to recognize the first couple. "Oh!" said the doctor, "that is quite easy; they are the only ones without an umbilicus."—Indian.

He had been there, said the siren to the young student, as she Saturn her scarlet couch: "Won't you come in and spend an hour with Venus?" "No, thanks," said the young student, "not any. I've been there. I spent an hour with Venus already last year, and then went up to the hospital and spent six months with Mercury and since then I've been laid up at Ma's; and don't Juno, I consider it a Sirius matter." Saying which the young student Sideral big sigh and moved on.—Texas Med. Journal.

Sioux City Journal: "This is the first time in all my practice that I have had to do this," said Dr. J. M. Knott, as he held under the faucet the little thermometer with which he takes the temperature of his patients. "The normal temperature of a man's body is 98 degrees," he explained, "and so, in order to find whether my patient has a fever it is necessary that the temperature indicated on the thermometer before I put it in his mouth should be no higher than 98. But this thermometer registered 99 degrees so I had to cool it off first." Another thermometer in the doctor's office indicated 102 degrees.

An eastern professor announces that only the lady mosquito goes out and draws blood. The "gent" mosquito to having the natural gallantry of the members of the male sex in general, probably feels it his duty to stand back and give her a chance, even if he must die for it.

A minister was one day walking along a road, and to his astonishment he saw a crowd of boys sitting in front of a ring with a small dog in the center. When he came up he put the following question: "What are you doing to that dog?" One little boy said, "Whoever tells the biggest lie he gets it." "O!" said the minister, "I am surprised at you little boys, for when I was like you boys I never told lies." There was silence for a while until one of the boys shouted, "Hand him the dog!"

The horseless carriage, the wireless telegraph and the brainless spellbinder are not in it now. There is coming from Colorado the seedless watermelon. One of these days Oregon will be sending us some seedless prunes.

"Well," said Bill Yuss, "I've taken a powder for my headache a pellet for my liver and a capsule for my gouty foot. Now what puzzles me is how do the things know the right place to go to after they get inside?"

"We always mix your medicine in this graduate," said the young pharmacist to Miss Vassar. "That's lovely," she enthused. "Yes," said the drug man; "we call this our sweet girl graduate."—Baltimore American.

"Hot weather? yes; but really not compared with weather twice as hot. Find comfort then in arguing thus, And you'll pull through victorious; For instance, while you gasp and pant And try to cool yourself—and can't—With soda, cream and lemonade, The heat at ninety in the shade—Just calmly sit and ponder o'er These same degrees with ninety more On top of them, and so concede The weather now is cool indeed!" —J. Whitcomb Riley.

"No, Miranda, 'tis not thunder you hear, but the roar of the 'growler' on a home run from the brewery."

The corn is gone, some people say, And now "there is no use." If the corn is gone, as the people say There won't be any corn juice.

It is an old story, but it has never been told in print. We were reminded of it by some one telling it again the other day. It happened several years ago. A traveling man was sitting in one of our principal mercantile houses and during a busy spell the traveling man engaged in conversation with the proprietor's little son. This is a part of the conversation:

The traveling man—"Well my little man, how many brothers and sisters have you?"

Little man—"Oh, there are seven of us now."

Traveling man—"Well, that makes quite a large family."

Little man—"Yes, but we are going to have more if papa doesn't die."

Papa is still alive.

COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Chase's mother visited her this week, leaving this morning to visit friends in Iowa.

We had a pleasant visit from Charlie Scranton last Saturday. He spent a year and a half as student with us, and is a splendid young man.

Rev. Bithell was a college visitor Friday. He conducted chapel exercises and gave the students a short talk, which was very highly appreciated.

Mr. P. W. Singer came up Sunday to visit his brother and other college friends. He will return to college this fall, and continue his course of study.

The contest between the literary societies last Saturday evening was an interesting program and the winners had but a small margin. The attendance was not as good as expected.

A large number of students were excused from their classes last Friday that they might take the county examination. Superintendents from other counties requested them to take the examination here and will endorse the certificates.

Mrs. Gregg led the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday and the program was very good. The majority of the young ladies were in attendance. The Y. M. C. A. also had a pleasant meeting. These societies are doing good work and as a rule are well attended.

In spite of the warm weather the students are doing good work. While a few complain of the weather the great body of them realize that they succeed about as well as they do at any time of the year. They have been cautioned to be careful and not to run out in the sun in the heat of the day.

The graduating classes have their orations prepared and everything is about ready for the closing week. Good programs are arranged. The services on Sunday, the 11th, will be in the Presbyterian church, the lecture on the 15th will be in the opera house, and the other exercises will be held at the college.

Several former students will be here the last week of the term to renew acquaintances and attend the graduating exercises. They are doubly welcome for the college is always glad to have them visit, as they are the best friends of the institution and many induce others to attend with us.

HOSKINS.

R. M. Waddell went to Stanton Wednesday.

Jacob Riechert was in town yesterday.

Pearl Green visited relatives at Norfolk this week.

Agnes Shannon was a Norfolk visitor Thursday.

Hoskins won the game of ball played here last Sunday.

Miss Elvie Dobbin is in town from Norfolk visiting friends.

Alice Jensen returned Tuesday from her visit in Holt county.

Miss Josephine Ferris went to Battle Creek to visit Friday.

R. G. Riphey and family came home from Hot Springs, S. D., Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Becklin and family were shopping at Norfolk Thursday.

The dance Thursday night was well attended and a pleasant time enjoyed by all.

Harrison Grey came home from Sioux City Wednesday for a few weeks visit with friends.

Elder Sisson preached in the M. E. church Sunday evening after which communion services were held.

Miss Minnie Giren of Wayne and Miss Maggie Carroll of Carroll came Thursday for a visit with Misses Jennie and Kate Waddell.

We wonder if that young man from Bega who started from a certain lawn in town in such a hurry Sunday evening has stopped running yet.

L. M. Peterson, the gentlemanly clerk at Aug. Piepenstock's got too hot under the collar Monday and as a result was laid out on the floor. He has about recovered.

Louie Zeimer thought last Monday he had found a woman, we saw him picking up combs, hair pins, hair ribbons, etc., and then took around and under the side walk and then shake his head in a disappointed fashion.

It is rumored that there will be a new millinery store opened here September 1st with Mrs. J. Templin at its head. Competition is the life of trade, they say, but the work and prices of Mrs. Cavanaugh who started here last spring will be hard to beat.

Word came the first of the week that Grant Sines had been murdered at Los Angeles, Cal., and filled this community, where Grant was so well known and liked, with regret and horror. John Foster left on Tuesday for California to learn particulars and if possible bring the remains home to rest beside his mother and brother in the Winside cemetery.

It was rather warm last week and we sent no items, but saw Goldie did not lack for a correspondent, one whose sole aim was to injure us. We do not believe in stirring a bad smell, but do not like to submit to misrepresentation. That correspondent's letter all through was an insinuation that the bad reputation Hoskins has sustained in the past was wholly due to the DEMOCRAT's correspondent and in the next breath says that when a certain highly respected school teacher was here Hoskins had such a bad reputation this teacher did not associate with the parents of her pupils. Let me inform the public right here that this happened some five years before we became a resident of the town but the incident told by this new correspondent started a new train of thought and we remembered being here to a revival meeting held in the old town hall and hearing the preacher, one Beels from Norfolk, liken the town to Coventon, a statement we did not at the time believe and we only recite these incidents to show that whatever of a reputation Hoskins had belonged to it long before we knew it and I wish also to make the statement that Hoskins, morally speaking, is 50 per cent better than at that time, and several times better than when the author of that letter in last week's paper left here as she lives several miles out of town at present. I want to also say that since making Hoskins our home we have tried to uphold everything good. Some evils of the town, may have fought them too hard, for until two years ago, Saturday night dances which extended away into Sunday morning, also Sunday night dances, were both of almost weekly occurrence; the saloon never closed on Sunday and until the last few years did not bother to take out a license. Sunday was not kept or respected in any observable way. This letter writer says Hoskins is the only town that roasts such evils, our sister towns suppress all disreputable things. Now we know that is not true. We have to cite you no further back than last week's Wayne papers to show that town resented Judge Hunter holding open court on the Sabbath, and note that article commencing: "On complaint of neighbors Sheriff Cherry made a raid on a certain building where a young lady had been making the hours pleasant for a certain young man," etc., then turn the other way and see how the Norfolk press in each week's edition criticizes evils of that town and we dare say had the stock yard scandal happened in Hoskins a certain clique represented by the writer of that letter in last week's DEMOCRAT would instead of the evil appear in its right light as A. P. Childs did in his paper would have smilingly passed it by, with perhaps the remark that "boys will be boys" and people must take care of their girls, or some such gag. What Hoskins needs more than a fearless correspondent is a newspaper edited at home with an editor like A. P. Childs, not afraid to hold an evil or wrong up to the public in its true light no matter whether the offender wears calico or silk, broadcloth or cotton jeans.

WINSIDE.

Wm. Hart is reported as quite ill.

Al Martin made a business trip to Wayne Saturday.

Madams D. J. Cavanaugh and H. S. Workman spent Sunday in Wayne.

Joe Cullon and wife are the happy parents of a bouncing boy, who arrived last Friday.

Wm. Miller got tangled up in a runaway last week and nurses a broken collarbone in consequence.

Lois McElrath entertained about 30 of her little friends last Tuesday evening, at being her seventh birthday.

Cal Mitchell returned from his trip to Hot Springs, S. D., last Thursday. He is some improved in health.

Mrs. Chas. Baker of Marshalltown, Iowa, returned to her home after a short visit with her sister, Mrs. A. D. Chapin.

Ben Evers has just completed a job of artistic painting which makes our bank in terior one of the finest in northeast Nebraska.

Mrs. J. E. Noyes and Della went over to Iowa last Saturday, returning Tuesday. Masters Edwin Marvin and Edward Hayes came home with her.

Letters received from Dr. Cherry and wife report a splendid trip, with weather so cool at Portland, Oregon, that the doctor wore his overcoat most of the day.

The many friends of Mrs. Dr. Muirhead will be pleased to learn that she has successfully passed through a severe operation and will be able to return home some time next week.

Mrs. H. Lucas arrived home Wednesday evening from Sioux City, where she has been taking treatment at one of the hospitals. She seems some improved but is still unable to walk.

A Mr. Taylor and a Mr. Snyder had a little misunderstanding in the latter's saloon last Saturday, and spittoons and beer glasses sailed through the air for a time. The following Monday morning Snyder had Taylor arrested and the matter was settled.

The little son of G. G. Haller met with quite a serious accident last Friday. He was playing near a pulley and his hand became entangled in the chain, tearing the flesh on the palm in a bad manner. He was brought to town, when Dr. Muirhead sewed it up and the little fellow is doing nicely.

Al Martin and Chris Nelson were practicing spilling one another's faces in the Snyder saloon on Monday, which ended in Martin having Nelson arrested. Nelson was fined $1 and costs and turned loose to continue his drunk, which lasted all day. Evidently Snyder keeps the best brand of fighting whisky.

Alfred Swanson, a young man who was living with Chas. Widel, north of town, was overcome by the heat in the harvest field last Tuesday. He had not been feeling well for several days, and on Tuesday became prostrated, dying two hours later. He was buried in the Winside cemetery Wednesday evening. Deceased has several brothers and sisters in various parts of the United States, some of whom will be here as soon as possible.

Omaha Markets.

South Omaha, Neb., July 24, 1901.

Receipts of cattle this week started out lighter than last and up to today market shows strength each day and was quoted from 25 to 50 cents higher than a week ago, but Chicago had 34,000 cattle today with market quoted 15 to 25 cents lower and buyers here were slow to take hold, although nearly everything was sold by noon at prices mostly 10 to 15 cents lower. Good cattle were plucked out early at the deadline and on common and medium grades it was slow and mean from the first. Supplies of stockers and feeders limited and nothing much doing. There is a fair inquiry from the country and on anything desirable there is ready sale but on common stuff hard to sell at any price.

Receipts of hogs considerably lighter than last week, but still liberal. Today with 10,000 on sale market opened five higher but closed strong, some sales as good as yesterday, especially on good hogs, common and mixed hogs lower all around. Range $3.40 to $5.55, with bulk $5.65 to $3.72. Market averages about 15c higher than a week ago. Sheep receipts liberal, demand good and market steady to strong.

"I Advise"

All women who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce.

That advice is based upon practical experience. After suffering for months, and finding no benefit result from the treatment of the local physician, Miss Belle Hedrick wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. She acted on the advice, regained her appetite, recovered her strength, and gained several pounds in weight.

Write to Doctor Pierce for good advice for every woman to follow. It costs nothing. Dr. Pierce invites sick women to consult him, by letter, free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute," Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years, Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured over half a million women.

"I suffered from female weakness for five months," writes Miss Belle Hedrick of Nye, Putnam Co., W. Va. "I was treated by a good physician, but he never seemed to do me any good. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce for advice, which I received, telling me to take his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took thirteen bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and eight of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' When I had used the medicine a month my health was much improved. It has continued to improve until now I can work at almost all kinds of housework. I had scarcely any appetite, but it is all right now. I have gained several pounds in weight. I advise all who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

The Younger brothers will now go into the tombstone business. They have had considerable experience in making cemeteries.
