Billy Anderson, well known to Wayne people, is up from Sioux City to "play the races" today.

County Judge Hunter yesterday married Henry Stolle and Miss Margie Wockman, both of Altona.

Just cast your optics over that big stock of fine fruits at Epler's. Nothing else like it in town for the price.

W. H. Nangle is up from Sioux City for a week's quiet rest which he expects he will have to go to the hospital and be operated on for appendicitis.

The Corner restaurant and O. D. Franks saloon are being pushed out in the street to make room for the new brick.

Sam Davies has been confined to his bed the past few days with a dangerous attack of erysipelas in his face. He is now getting well and will be out in a week or so.

Miss Mary Dickey is the guest of her sister Mrs. Lou Holtz. Charley Nydahl was down from his farm near Winside yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Philleo and Mr. and Mrs. Will Gildersleeve left Tuesday for Buffalo.

The society people danced at the opera house Wednesday night, Miss Cook furnishing the music.

Scott Holbrook and another Norfolk gentleman are conducting a wheel of fortune at the fair grounds.

Notice:—All parties wanting rugs made must bring me their ingrain carpet not later than Nov. 15th. J. C. HARMER, Carpet Weaver.

Will Rickabaugh departed on Monday for Wayne, where he will take charge of his barber shop until such time as he can dispose of it. The Monitor trusts that Will may be able to return to Bloomfield again very soon.—Bloomfield Monitor.

"Attempt to Kill McKinley," "Bryan Deplores the Buffalo Tragedy," "Gov. Savage and Senator Allen on Anarchy," "Nebraska to Have a Spelling Contest," "Queen of Reds is Arrested," "Confession of the Assassin" are a few of the good things on inside pages.

Farmers continue to hang out their taters, and long about next spring they will be selling them for less than a dollar per bushel. When the price is only 15 cents the potato raisers will take 10 cents, but when they go to $1.50 they want $2. Don't worry about potatoes. Eat corn bread. You are only "corn fed" anyway.

THE FAIR IS A SUCCESS.

Good Races, Ball Games and Sports, and Splendid Exhibits of Stock and Other Things.

The county fair now in progress proves the old adage that anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. Had the fair association even half done its duty it would have at least provided the press with a complete program of the two days doings and gotten out some large posters a few weeks ago to help advertise the event. As a matter of fact the DEMOCRAT did not even know there was to be a brass band in attendance until we saw the Danish band on the streets, nor that there would be a good ball game until the Winside nine was seen to get off the train. Now, how can you expect people to be humbugged if you don't "light the candle?"

However, the fair is very good; about 'steeper cent better than Dixon's picnic, and four hundred per cent an improvement over that horrible thing called a picnic which was recently pulled off at Wakefield.

Yesterday one of the best races ever seen on the local track, the 2:35 pace, was pulled off, time 2:29. The first heat was a dead one between G. W. Brown's Geo. W. and Frank Strahan's Cap. Medium. Then Geo. W. took three straight heats, Cap. Medium being second and Jim Hurst's Guy Medium third.

In the 3/4 mile dash Sheba won, Lizzie Duster 2d and Mattie P. 3d. The novelty race, walk, trot and run, was won by Nels Anderson's black horse. There were four entries, the others being horses owned by Messrs Gaertner, Graves and O'Garro.

The ball game between Winside and Wayne was not very exciting, it being almost a shut out for the visitors in a score of ten to one.

President Pile yesterday bought another piano for the musical department of the College, making four in number which are kept in constant use. The new instrument is a Kingsbury from the F. H. Jones music store.

The professor says they have just forty more students than this time last year and indications of a record-breaking attendance. The new dormitory is already inadequate for the demand for accommodations and another large building, for ladies and gentlemen, will be put up in time for the spring term. The Nebraska Normal College is one of the most successful educational institutions in the world.

"Bird Notice." Every editor has received them. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance there is a man named Tim Short, who sent us three notices to stop his paper; he did not want it any more. We wondered what was the matter, says an exchange. Upon investigation of our subscriptions we found that Tim was Short $2.50. He had never paid a cent yet and stopped his paper as a matter of economy—to us. A few evenings ago we stepped into the church and Tim's melodious tenor rang out clear in that soul stirring song "Jesus Said It All." Next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he had made an assignment of his liabilities.—Item.

Do You Wear Pants?

If you are wearing Dutchess Trousers you are wearing the only pants that can be depended on to give good satisfaction. This store is the only place in Wayne where you can buy them. Ask any other merchant if he will pay you one dollar for a rip and ten cents for every button that comes off, if you buy pants from him and he will tell you he can't do it. We WILL and we give a written guarantee with every pair. It doesn't cost us anything if you rip them, as the factory guarantees them. Dutchess Trousers don't cost any more than other pants and the satisfaction of wearing pants out that don't require any repairing is worth something.

Why not wear Dutchess Trousers? They are perfect fitting, made only from dependable cloth and never fail to please. We can fit everybody. Big men and slim men can be fitted here. Try a pair and you will wear no other. Only for sale at

Any Old Thing

An army officer, now stationed in New York, referring to military life on the border tells a good story of how General Blankhead once set out to make Indian soldiers in the regular army. The Indians, he it known, were well up in English, or, rather, if at all confused they forgot the pale face language; but General Blankhead was determined they should do duty as soldiers, stand guard, call out the hours and do all that a white sentry did.

When the general got them as he believed well coached, he gave an entertainment at his headquarters one night to the officers and their families and at 12 o'clock all were to listen to the calls of the Indian sentinels. At the appointed time headquarters was as still as a graveyard, and soon the "all's well" cry began to go the round, and as follows: "Pos, noub! Two time—Twelve clocks—all right!"

"That was fairly good for an Indian; but the next sentry forgot his call and did the best he could with what English he could grasp, after this style: "Pos, noub—old Blankhead—heep fool—go to hell—all right!"

A wild shout of laughter drowned the call of the next sentry, but it was about the same, and that was the last of General Blankhead's Indian sentinels.

Gen. John H. Littlefield, who studies with Abraham Lincoln, writes his recollections of his great mentor in Success. He tells this attractive bit of anecdote:

All clients knew that, with "Old Abe," as their lawyer, they would win their case if it was fair; if not, that it was a waste of time to him. After listening some time one day to a would-be client's statement, he swung around in his chair and exclaimed:

"Well, you have a pretty good case in technical law, but a pretty bad one in equity and justice. You'll have to get some other fellow to win this case for you. I couldn't do it. All the time talking to that jury I'd be thinking 'Lincoln, you're a liar, and I believe I should forget myself and say it out loud.'"

A man who was hard of hearing got his minister to give out the fact that a cow had strayed away from his premises. Before advertising the cow the minister gave notice that a certain lady would lecture at the church on Wednesday night. The farmer, thinking the cow had been advertised, arose and said: "In addition to what has been said I will mention that she has a few white hairs on her belly and one tear is off." He evidently thought the cow could be easily recognized by such marks.

While Francis Wilson, Frank McKee and several others sat around a table at an uptown restaurant the other night "talking shop" the peculiarities of a certain actress, who is anything but popular with members of the profession, were dissected. Wilson finally remarked:

"She is morbidly sensitive."

"I don't agree with you," said McKee. "Why do you think so?"

"She is so nervous that she will not even have a tea urn in her room, that's why," replied the comedian.

Now, everyone realized that there was a joke somewhere, so one of the party asked:

"What's the answer, Francis?"

The comedian, with a dreamy, far-away look in his eyes, replied:

"She can't bear to hear it hissing; it recalls unhappy moments of her life. See?"

"Ah," replied the Englishman, evidently not posted up in local historical matters, "did it hurt him much?"

The man looked at his friend.

"Hurt, him!" said he, "he was killed, sir."

"Ah, he was, eh?" said the Englishman, still eyeing the monument and commencing to compute its height in his own mind layer by layer. "Well, I should think he would have been to fall so far."

A little 4 year old sojourning in the country this summer is receiving her first lesson in political economy. She is learning that few of the good things of life can be secured without effort corresponding to the pleasure and benefit attained. The other day she accompanied the hired girl to the garden to dig potatoes for dinner. She wanted to do the digging when she got there, and after laboring a little while stopped, and, leaning on the hoe, said: "If God can make the trees and make them grow, why can't he dig them?"

A colored man went into a Georgia lawyer's office for the purpose of instituting a divorce suit against his wife. The lawyer proceeded to question him as to his grounds for complaint. Noticing that the man's voice failed him, he looked up from his papers and saw that big tears were running down the cheeks of the applicant for divorce.

"Why," said the lawyer, "you seem to care a great deal for your wife. Do you love her?"

"Love her, sir? I jest analyzed her!"

The assassination of President McKinley brought out the better sentiment of the American people as a whole, and proves that after all our family squabbles and political fights we are still one people and that President McKinley belongs to democrats and populists as well as republicans.

Republican papers, such as the Sioux City Journal and its ilk, are now cooled off sufficiently to lay the blame for the shooting of President McKinley upon the shoulders of partisan politicians of the opposing party.

The people of Belden, according to the News, have been laying in their hard coal supply at $8.50 per ton, which was a great snap.

Hard coal in Sioux City costs $9.50 per ton delivered. A year ago today it could be had for $8.50, and a dealer informs The Tribune that on that basis he made more money than he does now.

Hard coal is going to be more and more of a luxury in coming years, according to the authorities. New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania consume about 65 per cent of the hard coal of the country.

About all the anthracite deposits in the country are definitely located by the geological survey. There is no chance of much addition being made to the visible supply by future discoveries. The little region about Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Pa. contains about all the hard coal. Already some 1,300,000,000 tons is estimated to have been taken out.

What's the matter with putting Czolgosz "off at Buffalo?"

Every anarchist should be deported at once on pain of death. The United States has been harboring the brutes long enough.

The Sioux City Tribune refers to the assassin of President McKinley as the man with the "pie" line name.

"Sterling honesty and unimpeachable integrity," are the terms applied to D. Clem Deaver by the Omaha Bee.

The railroads never for one moment lose control of republican political machinery. As witnesseth, the nomination of Sedgwick of York for supreme judge.

The man who believes the railroads occasionally fail to dictate republican nominees is a poor student of Nebraska politics. The man who imagines the republican party can cut itself loose from corporation moorings under its present leadership should go and take something for it.—Grand Island Democrat.

Yes, it is wrong to fuse, to get together, to combine, to cooperate, especially when the party in power is assailed. Now, in all candor, has there been one valid argument ever evolved against fusion?

It is gratifying to note that the people were exceedingly few who did not express sorrow at the calamity which befell President McKinley and their abhorrence of the assassin's deed.

I would hate to be a farmer when the sun its fierceness yields; I have seen the farmer steaming through the happy harvest fields; and his shirt was like a dishrag, and his hide was peeling off, and the dirt was in his larynx till he had to whoop and cough and the sweat was in his whiskers till they like seaweed seemed, and he swore and drank ice water, and he pranced around and screamed. And the way he toiled was awful, in the hot wind and the glare, with the wheat beard in his fingers, and the sand burrs in his hair; and he only stopped blaspheming when he had to have a drink, for his hands were full of splinters and his eyeballs roasted pink.

The Sioux City Tribune is glad to note that one fad in the public schools of that city, vertical writing, has been laid away to sleep. The same thing needs doing in Wayne and also the ridiculous fad of having no recess but keeping the tads glued to their seats for three hours at a stretch.

The following is how David Nation speaks of his wife, Carrie the Smasher: "Her idea of divorce is only to marry again. That's not mine. My idea is to get rid of the wife I now have, so when I get a dollar it will not go to support her, so people cannot accuse me of hanging on her apron strings.

not kill." Under a government like ours every wrong can be remedied by laws, and the laws are in the hands of the people themselves. Anarchy can neither be excused nor tolerated here.

President Garfield was shot down in July, 1881, twenty years and two months before the assault upon President McKinley. Had the attack upon Garfield been at the present time, the chances are that the wound would not have proven fatal, so great has been the advance in medical and surgical science in the last two decades.

falls upon him at the beginning of the most favorable time of year, cool, bracing autumn weather. It will not be necessary to explore his wound from day to day to locate the bullet, as they did in the case of Garfield, for the X-ray easily does this work if ordinary means fail, and anti-septic surgery will prevent the mortification which was so disastrous to President Garfield.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The enrollment last week exceeded the enrollment of a year ago by 47.

About one third of the students have entered the Teachers' Profession course.

A large number of former students are again with us for the entire year.

Several students have enrolled for the Scientific course and will complete the course this year.

We never had such a successful first weeks work as we had last week. Each student started out well.

The program given by the Crescent school Friday evening was very good. The Philomathean society has a strong program for this evening.

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. held a union meeting Sunday which was attended by about 100 students. Many joined and separate meetings will be held each Sunday.

Rev. Bithell conducted Chapel Friday morning and addressed the students. Rev. Ringier did likewise Tuesday morning. Both students and teachers are pleased to have the ministers come often.

More than 45 students enrolled in the Mental Arithmetic class last week. They enjoy the work and Prof. Pile will see that the work is the very best and continue the class through two terms.

Prof. Wolfe is meeting expectations as a strong teacher. His preparation and experience along general lines has been thorough as well as his work in Commercial branches. He teaches bookkeeping, commercial law, arithmetic, penmanship and a class in algebra.

The following counties of Nebraska are represented at present: Wayne, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Bart, Stanton, Madison, Boone, Hall, York, Seward, Cuming, Knox, Holt, Rock, Boyd, Nance, Pierce, Custer, Butler and Platte. Wayne county is well represented.

Late arrivals from South Dakota are Miss Eaton of Myers county, Miss Sluiter of Douglass county, Miss Hand of Custer county, Miss Dwyer of Clay county, Miss Bingham of Burr county, Miss Mutchler of Yankton county, Miss Beauchemin of Union county, Miss Tripp of Madison county.

Among last year's students who are with us for another year's work are Mr. Willis of Battle Creek, Miss Reeves of Madison, Misses Mullen of Rosebud, S. D., Mr. Hall of Mariaville, Misses Clark and Ripp of Stuart Miss Thastesen of Broken Bow, Mr. Borg of Allen, Mr. Nichols of Ponca, Miss Bailey of Grant, S. D., Miss Clausen of Verdell, Miss Eckart of Beemer, Miss Powell of Pierre, Miss Heaney of Hubbard, Miss Paul of Grand Island, Miss Bushfield of Osmond, Messrs Berry and Beauchemin of Jefferson, S. D.

Work has been commenced on an addition to the first dormitory which was built nine years ago. The work will be completed so the rooms can be occupied by November 10. With these large dormitories we can accommodate the majority of the students with rooms as well as board. The intention is to build another dormitory next spring between the new one and the large dormitory occupied by the young ladies. Two will then be used for ladies and two for gentlemen.

The following students enrolled this week: Charlie Scaze, Wayne; Miss Hopkins, York; Harry Armstrong, Wayne; Mr. Arnold, Fort, Iowa; Mr. Davis, Emerson; Miss Milue, Millerboro; Miss Thompson, Lime Grove; Miss Paul, Wakefield; Miss Latta, Tekamah; Mr. Irving, Genoa. Several are expected next week. The indications are that the enrollment this term will be about twice what it was the first term last year. A very large attendance is looked for during the winter terms.

YOUR EYES! Sight is the most inestimable of all blessings, blind-ness the most awful of afflictions. 95 per cent of all eye trouble is primarily caused by defective eyesight. Dr. Charles McCornick, a noted oculist of Chicago, says $38 per cent; Dr. P. C. Janyoke, an oculist of New York, says 80; Dr. J. E. Brown, oculist in charge of State Institution for Blind at Cleveland, Ohio, says 97 per cent. We all agree that a larger part of all the eye troubles come from refraction trouble. My experience as an eye specialist enables me to diagnose and treat those troubles very successfully. My methods are original and new. I use no poisonous drugs, spectacle lenses are my only therapeutic. Headache, nervousness, red inflamed lids, crossed eyes, smarting, itching, or burning sensation, spots floating upon vision, dimness, blurring, etc., are all symptoms of eye strain. Examination and consultation free at Love hotel Tuesday Sept. 17.

BY DAD.

Most of the schoolma'ams are once more wielding the educational rod in the various seats of knowledge.—Laurel Advocate.

By dad, when I went to school teacher spanked me on the hands.

The Fair opens today. Tomorrow and next day will be the big days.—Republican.

The man who has to get up in public and insist that he is a good republican isn't much of a man anyway. If he is a good republican everybody will know it. If a man is a good democrat he doesn't have to scatter handbills to advertise the fact. But how about the man who stands on the street corners or gets up in public and insists that he is a good party man, urges harmony and begs his associates to stand by the ticket, when he knows all the time that he isn't going to stand by it himself, that he is acting the part of a liar.

As usual, the preachers put their feet in it whenever they get on boggy ground. Just listen to this wild and woolly rhapsody from the great Tallmange:

"I wish that policeman in Buffalo who seized the pistol of the scoundrel who shot our good president had taken the butt of the weapon and dashed the man's brains out on the spot."

And the presiding elder of the Washington district:

"While I have ever been loyal to the law and have ever contended for its strict enforcement I must say that the affair at 4 o'clock Friday has almost converted me into an advocate of lynching. If I had been there I would have blown the scoundrel to atoms if I had had a pistol!"

President McKinley said when shot: "May God forgive him!"

By dad, I don't know but what I'll have to go to preaching and try and convert these crazy preachers.

The shortest and best prayer for the week: "I hope to God he will live."

Talk about your newspaper enterprise! says the Cherokee Democrat. The Chicago Chronicle has a picture of the McKinley cemetery lot in Canton. To make it more disgusting they should have had a picture of the prospective undertaker.

Any body with such a h—ll of a name as the assassin of the president wears ought to be sent there to wear it.

Long live McKinley. He can have a third term, now, if he'll just stay with us.

Fred Volpp says he hasn't kissed any babies yet. It takes a prohibitionist like my friend Gue to put up that kind of a campaign.

Isn't it funny how a man will get sore on a fellow and always stay that way just because the other fellow once upon a time beat him for some little, peaky office? Just look at all the mean things in the Wayne Republican about a citizen of Wayne, an old soldier of his country, and with a gentleman who has been honored by the people of Wayne county with three successive terms as sheriff. How many votes, think you, will the Republican make for Grant Mear? By dad, they ought to be few. Indeed, I am unable to conceive of a better reason why the voters should rally to Ed. Reynolds support than because of these dirty and malicious hissings in Cunningham's "clean" paper.

A certain Wayne lady hasn't got much use for such scentiment as the poet, Eugene Fields, put in the story of baby Willie and a humid slumbering place. Recently this lady, in company with several others, was visiting at one of the hospital homes in Stanton. Some one of the visitors had to sleep with the hostess and baby this particular guest was bound to ley on that particular couch. During the night considerable of a commotion was heard in the kitchen, so all the other guests proceeded to discover the cause of the disturbance. They found their particular friend diligently turning a clothes wringer, grinding out her night clothes while the perspiration Chaced over her features. Of course it was only a case of too much baby, but it was so funny the other Wayne ladies haven't quit laughing yet, by dad.

My gracious, how time flies! Yesterday a man walked into this sanctimonious sanctum and said, "hello, Goldie, don't you know me?" Of course I knew him but couldn't think of his name, (a chronic defect in my think thicket) and he said, "Dick Chinn," and then what a flood of pent up reminiscences were turned loose. Twenty years ago this summer we had bunked together while engaged in upsetting the earth in western Iowa, and that wasn't all we found time to upset. Chinn went to Nebraska and that was the last I heard of him until he walked in on me yesterday. But this item is put in to show what Nebraska will do for the man who takes advantage of his opportunities. Mr. Chinn came here with nothing but two good willing hands and a clear head. Today he has a splendid wife, five children, 240 acres of the best land in Dixon county, only six miles from Wakefield, a big lot of live stock and thousands of dollars worth of other improvements. An Englishman by birth he takes a great interest in raising fruits and has a fine orchard which yields any quantity of plums, grapes, apples and some peaches and pears, actually pears! Stand up for Neb. skat

A lady who resides on upper 2 street was very much shocked, the other day to hear her 4-year-old son fiercely say: "H—ll h—ll h—ll!" When the perfectly astounded parent asked him why he was using such naughty words the little fellow answered: "Why, mamma, them's the only ones that spress what I mean."

When the rain is coming down, coming down And the world it wears a frown, a dark frown; Then 'tis nice to see a man, a good man, With a dollar in his hand, of our land Come into the open door, on our floor, And say "here's what I pay, you today For what you have had to say, your mean way. Chalk me up to 1902, yes, please do For that much I owe to you;" exit blues.

An Omaha druggist advertises for a drug clerk who does not part his hair in the middle, saying by way of explanation that he wanted a clerk to work. The Omaha News comments upon the incident as follows:

There is a hint in this for the young man of today. The world still loves a manly man, as it loves a womanly woman. The effeminate man and the masculine woman are sometimes tolerated but never respected.

Even in society where the dude is admitted, petted and praised, it is because of the power of his money and not on account of his personality.

Today's successful business man is he who is strong, alert and above all things, manly. He wears what clothes please him. He does his own thinking. People who come to him do not look at his hair, but if they did, they usually find it badly rumpled, twenty minutes after he sits down to his desk. He has no time to run to the mirror to see that it is kept plastered down on his forehead.

The effeminate man is disliked because he is unnatural. Women turn from him with a smile; men in disgust. He has no capacity for work, and therefore never gets ahead. Unless he is born to riches he never accumulates a competence.

The Norfolk News says that golf links have been put in for the insane at the hospital. I presume that whenever one of the damps refuses to play the game the warden will consider the same person cured of insanity. What better evidence could be wanted than that, by dad.

Allender Not a Horsethief.

They were a couple of hired and glad-to-get-home men, Atty. Wilbur and Bridge Allender, last Saturday evening. Mr. Wilbur was weary from the long and tedious trips and determined efforts to release a client from jail, one whom he knew to be innocent and who he Allender, not only from the same cause but for the reason that he had been wrongfully imprisoned, maliciously prosecuted and forced to suffer a financial loss which eats up the hard-earned savings of years.

It will be remembered that Allender spent a couple of weeks in the Wayne jail two months ago, awaiting the arrival of the sheriff from Blackfoot, Idaho, to take him there on a charge of horse stealing; that Atty. Wilbur accompanied the prisoner, secured his release and that in the preliminary hearing on a second complaint the defendant was held for trial.

There lives at Blackfoot a notorious horse thief named Bert Fagan, who, upon every occasion of arrest, had escaped punishment by insisting that he had bought the animals from parties who had removed from the country. Arrested last spring with a stolen animal, he swore he had purchased the brute from Allender, who had but recently left that country. Disgusted over their previous failures to land Fagan in the penitentiary, the Blackfoot authorities began a search for Allender which resulted as heretofore recited. This charge of Fagan's was quickly disproved in court, and then a new party appeared to prosecute the Wayne county victim.

It appears that when Allender consorted with the wild men of the plains he was known as a partner of John Carmen, the latter hailing from Wakefield, Neb., where his family still resides. This partnership was dissolved without the usual formality of making some country editor rich with a notice of dissolution. Carmen owed Allender thirty or forty dollars, and as he was about to "take a swing around the hemisphere" he put two horses in "soak" with his creditor and told him that if the animals were not redeemed in 30 days they paid the debt. After this time elapsed Allender sold one horse to a man named Porter, and the other he brought to his home near Carroll. Last fall Carmen went up to Carroll to see Allender about these horses and the latter told him him he could recover the animals upon payment of the thirty plunks. Carmen went back to Idaho, got mixed up with the Fagan in the handling of other men's horses. The plot to implicate Allender failed and it is supposed that out of revenge, Carmen, being himself in the toils, charged, his old partner Allender, with stealing the two above mentioned horses from him. He swore he had gone to Carroll to get the horses and Allender had told him that he had left the horses with Porter in Idaho. While confident his client was guiltless Mr. Wilbur was up against it for time and evidence to disprove Carmen's assertions. The officers were anxious to break up the gang so Allender was bound over to await trial in the district court. Atty. Wilbur came home and at once began procuring evidence upon which to ask for a writ of habeas corpus. He found a witness to Carmen's interview with Allender at Carroll who corroborated Allender's statement of the meeting. He also procured from Banker Merrill of Carroll, County Commissioner Ed. Carroll and Lawyer Berry, personal letters stating that Mr. Allender was an honorable man whom they had known for years. Guy then hid himself back to Blackfoot and hunted up the man Porter from whom he got the clinching statement that Carmen had been out to see him since he, Carmen, had visited Allender in Nebraska and that he had not said a word about the horses he now claimed Allender had stated were there for him. All these facts were laid before the district judge by Attorney Wilbur and a writ of habeas corpus secured and Allender promptly turned loose.

This makes quite a long tale but it proves that a fellow can get into great gobs of grief without being responsible for any of it. Mr. Allender is financially ruined and socially embarrassed and he has no redress. It is just such circumstances as he has been up against that make good men turn to crime to play even. The affair also shows that Wayne has one of the smoothest of attorneys who can do a turn in the detective line that would make a Pinkerton green with envy.

Market Reports. South Omaha, Sept. 11, 1901. Receipts of cattle for the week are fair, still some 4000 less than last week. A good three-fourths of the arrivals are western rangers and the receipt of corn fed cattle is very light. On corn fed beefs the market is slow and uneven, but on the whole the good ones sell about steady with a week ago. Medium and common grades that come in competition with range beef is slow sale at weaker prices. Cows and mixed stock in very fair supply. Demand active and trading good at steady to strong prices. Stockers and feeders in good supply. The rain appears to have livened up trading as both heavy and light weight feeders that are good are bought up readily at higher prices than last week, although medium and common grades are very slow sale.

Receipts of hogs are light, about the same as last week. Today with about 500 on sale market opened slow, 5 to 7% lower and closed steady at the decline with everything finally sold. The range today is from $9.25 to $9.50, bulk $9.35 to $9.45. Today's market is 25c higher than last Wednesday. Sheep receipts liberal, and market is slow but about steady.

From the Index. A little four-year-old of Wayne was sitting with his mother watching the clouds when suddenly he asked: "Ma, are the clouds solid?" "No, my child, why do you ask?" "Cause if they ain't solid, I should think God would fall through sometime and break his neck?" That boy is sure to make a philosopher because he reasons from cause to effect.

H. J. Harter and his son Frank from near Randolph have purchased the old photograph gallery and will engage in business here. They have also bought the residence occupied by A. E. Olmsted, and will occupy the same in about two weeks. Mr. Olmsted will move into rooms on the north side of the Merrill building, up stairs.

The material is being placed on the ground for a new brick store, to be erected on the lot between Merrill's furniture and the drug store. It is to be 60 feet in depth and the full width of the lot, and is to be occupied, we understand, by M. S. Linn. James Worthem who has the contract for excavating the cellar, commenced work on it Wednesday morning.

The Dying President.

President McKinley Suffered a Complete Collapse Today.

Wayne people were astounded this morning when the morning papers arrived at 9:40 to read that President McKinley had suffered a severe set-back which portends the gravest results. For hours digitalis and strychnine failed to rally him from a deathly stupor. A telegram sent out from Buffalo at nine o'clock this morning stated the president was some better. Other reports that he was dead were proven false. However, there now appears but little hope that the chief executive will recover.

Better News.

Just as the DEMOCRAT goes to press—4 o'clock—a private telephone message from Sioux City says the president is in better condition than he was this hour yesterday.
