Friday and Saturday, November 29-30,
OUR HOLIDAY OPENING.

Pierce 16, Wayne O.
The Pierce foot ball aggregation brought lots of people to town yesterday. A lively crowd of sports came down from Winside and a lot more from Carroll. The Democrat man interviewed quite a number of spectators who attended the foot ball game between Pierce and the College but none of them knew whether it was a good exhibition or not. The score of finish was 16 to 6 in favor of the visitors. The Pierce boys were generally much lighter in weight than the N. N. C. experts, but knew more about playing the game.

Hidden Fortune's Face.

C. A. Chace, a member of the committee who visited the Hidden Fortune prospects in the Hills last week, is well pleased with the prospects and took 20,000 shares. C. A. says the new company has a chance to become equally as rich as the Homestead and considers it a tolerably safe investment with the prospect of making millions. One claim of the Homestead which that company recently bought and which extends into the Hidden Fortune property, cost the Homestead $235,000. The previous owner wanted $15,000 and the Homestead Co., offered him $3,000. Finally, a large block of the claim caved in, due to the undermining of the Homestead people, and the owner sued the company for $300,000, which the latter settled for at the $235,000.

Baptist Special Meetings

A series of evangelistic meetings will be begun at the Baptist church next Wednesday evening. The services of Rev. Geo. H. Thompson of Waterloo, Iowa, have been secured by the church for two weeks. Mr. Thompson is an efficient and thoroughly trustworthy evangelist. He has worked in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and the Dakotas for the last eight years, meeting with much success. Among the places where he has recently held meetings are Vermillion, S. D. and York, Neb. At each place he has had crowded houses and most excellent success. Rev. Thompson is an accomplished harpist and his singing with harp accompaniment are attractive and helpful features of his work. The public is very earnestly invited to attend these meetings.

Cow for Sale

I have a good milk cow for sale. Write fresh early in December.

Opera "Nita."
This beautiful opera will be presented some time next week in the opera house for the benefit of the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church, under the personal direction of Prof. F. C. Cushman, the author. The press notices throughout the state speak in the highest terms of the opera, and also of the professor as a hard worker. He carries 75 beautiful costumes to beautify the work, he also has a chorus of nearly 100 voices and those who have seen the rehearsals here are delighted with it. The leading musical talent of the city will assist in this work. Look out for dates—be sure and see "Nita."

CARROLL NEWS

From the Index.
Rodney Manning moved into the new Carter Cox house on Monday.
Charles E. Jones is at work building a house and barn for J. Howard Porter.
Show us a town that, population considered, has done more building this year than has Carroll.

Ellis Cox has bought a paint shop in Winside, to which place he and Harry Reals, who will work for him, removed Wednesday.
A handsome young daughter came to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. LaCroix on Friday last.
The cellar is being excavated for the new Methodist parsonage.
A number of young ladies and gentlemen called on Miss Lois G. Childs Saturday evening and were entertained with music and dancing.

James Worthen left Carroll and some of his creditors at the same time one day last week. It is supposed that he went to his former home in Kentucky.
John Shannon of Hoskins has purchased the stockyards of C. H. Wolf, and will remove to Carroll about the first of March, and continue Wolf's business of buying and selling stock.

Fred Philleo of Wayne has purchased of James Evans and B. W. Wineland the lot now occupied by the latter's shop. Consideration $230.
While drawing hay on Thursday of last week, Frank, the young son of Aug. Loberg, fell from the load and broke a leg. Dr. Texter reduced the fracture and the boy is coming along all right.
Philleo & Philleo will build an implement warehouse 22x80 on the lot recently purchased of Evans and Wineland, and it is expected that work on the same will be commenced the first of next week.

We understand that George Philleo of Wayne has bought an interest in the implement business of his brother, E. B. Philleo, and will soon become a resident of Carroll. The new firm is to be known as Philleo & Philleo.

A petition, signed by every business man in town, has been sent to the R. R. officials, asking that the proposed new sidetrack at Sholes be abandoned and we understand similar action has been taken by the business men of Randolph. Delegations from the two towns will go to Omaha and endeavor to have some heart-to-heart talks with the railroad men on the subject, and endeavor to show them that it will be rank injustice to the two towns and no benefit to the company to establish the new station.

While in Platte, S. D., last week, C. H. Wolf purchased a fine farm of 480 acres in the same section as the town itself. Of the 480 acres 190 are improved, and on it there is a new house of 8 rooms and a large well built barn. It is supplied with water by a flowing artesian well, and the ranch was considered one of the greatest bargains ever offered in that section. Platte is a new town on the Milwaukee extension and contains about 300 people. Mr. Wolf will move there in about three months and take possession of his purchase.

Winside News:

L. S. Needham had business in Wayne Tuesday.
A. H. Carter has been in Iowa this week attending the funeral of a sister-in-law.

The bowling team and the bowling proprietor have had a fall out. The experts engaged an Omaha team to play here Thanksgiving and then Martin refused them the use of the alleys. The boys swear they will quit the deal cold—save their money to buy beer.

Mrs. Lucian Vreeland of Sioux City was a guest of her sister Mrs. Cherry, this week.

Miss Jennie Mettlen of Wayne gave several excellent recitations at the social Friday evening.

Treasurer Volpp attended the Sons of Herman meeting here Tuesday night.

The Ladies Aid society will have a grab bag fair Dec. 14th.

Mrs. D. J. Cavanagh was in Omaha this week buying winter millinery.

Messrs Dimmel and Schneider attended the Liquor Dealers convention in Omaha last Friday. It wasn't a dry affair, by any means.

Our bowling team got it where the Thanksgiving turkey tooted last Monday. The boys say they had a nice time in Wayne.

A large number of Winsiders went to Wayne Thanksgiving to see the foot ball game between Pierce and the College.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Supt. Hancock of Stanton was a caller Wednesday.
Albert Pahlman of Pierce spent yesterday with College friends.
Messrs Littell and Hatley came to spend Thanksgiving with students.

The graduating class had the management of a pleasant dormitory social last evening.

Prof. Gregg will give a lecture in Chapel tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:30. The lecture is for the Y. M. C. A., admission 10 cents. Everybody invited.

Eleven new students enrolled this week and about that number will come in next Monday. The attendance will exceed 300.
Ex-Supt. and Supt. elect Fennell of Pender drove over on business Thursday. He took dinner at the College and visited a couple of hours.

Mr. Hillman of Dakota county spent Friday visiting his son and daughter. He found them pleasantly situated and making good progress.

Rev. Welden visited Chapel Friday morning and conducted opening exercises. He personally met several of the students who attend his church.

Rev. Wight who was always a great friend of the College, teachers and students, came to Chapel Monday morning and gave one of his enthusiastic talks to the students.

Misses Stewart and Reeves returned from Lincoln Tuesday morning. They report a splendid meeting of the state Y. M. C. A. They will give the members at the Sunday meeting an outline of the work.

Mr. Casey of Dixon county came over Tuesday to see his daughter and spend a few hours looking through the building and visiting classes. He was interested in all he saw and pleased with his daughter's work.

29 counties of this state have students enrolled with us. Wayne county has the largest number and Dixon county comes next with 31 students. Pierce, Stanton, Madison and Cedar have next largest list in the order named.

Bush Union Notes.

Most of the farmers in this vicinity have finished gathering corn, the average yield being about 25 bushels per acre.

Our school closed Friday for a short vacation, as our teacher wishes to spend a few days visiting friends and relatives in the southeastern part of the state. We don't know whether Ben has any special attraction down in that part of the country or not, but your humble servant is inclined to think that there must be something up.

Henry Ote is hauling lumber and other material for a new house, which is to be built soon.

Well, rumor has it that W. L. Robinson has his new house completed and that he is soon to depart for parts unknown to get a better half, who is to share his new abode. We don't know where she is to come from, but we have been informed that she resides in Iowa, some say she is in Missouri, others tell us that she may be found in Kansas, but our opinion is they don't know much about it. However, we will venture to say that he will know where to find her. And, by dad, Billy, you had better lay in a good supply of the best cigars and be prepared for a "gala time" upon your return.

Come early and get the advantage of a complete stock. Things kept for future delivery.

Grand Holiday Emporium

A Rough But Warm Shed.

Often there are occasions when it is necessary to add to the barn room for stock, but it must be done at small expense. In the illustration this week is shown a shed which will provide comfort for stock and which will cost but little to construct. It is made of rough boards, the sides and roof being thatched with corn stalks, salt hay or any other available material.

Storing Vegetables Out Doors.

When one has a comparatively small quantity of vegetables to store during the winter, or for a portion of the winter, it is best to store them outdoors. First select a portion of the farm where water will not stand and where the natural drainage is good. If such a position cannot be had then keep up the soil level by a few inches above the ground.

Buying Grains for Cattle.

In most sections the main trouble in feeding this winter will come from the fact that grain is scarce. To these who must buy more of it, the following advice is to buy now and in large quantities as you can afford, for the market is rising and grains are more likely to be higher later.

Using Lime Intelligently.

The tendency on the part of farmers to use lime without regard to the condition of the soil is wrong. Where the soil is plainly acid in character as shown by tests with blue litmus paper the use of lime in quantities sufficient to reduce the acidity of the soil is advised.

The Value of Liquid Manure.

For years the farmer has been constantly urged the use of cement or concrete floors in stables so that the liquid manure might be saved and added to the solid excrement. Unfortunately farmers do not seem to realize the value of this liquid manure, considering it as their chemical or rather plant food, value as compared to the solid manure when mixed with more or less bedding material.

Feeding Leguminous Plants.

If frequent mention is made in this department of leguminous plants, it is because growing them it is because of the importance of the subject demands it. With nitrogen at 50 cents a pound and potash and phosphoric acid at 10 cents a pound the price of nitrogen is certainly important to know how we may obtain nitrogen at the smallest expense; not only that, but we should realize the importance of learning how to keep the other Winter Feeding of Hogs.

Every fall and winter there is more or less complaint from hog raisers about the animals becoming stiff in the leg joints, a sort of rheumatism which develops into paralysis if not checked. These troubles are generally due to over-feeding the growing hogs on corn and not allowing them sufficient room for exercise.

George Ade's Modern Fables

The Modern Fable of the Round-Up in Honor of the New Luminary.

One day a Man who had been trying to turn up his Wicks among the Lively Lights, received a special Bid to attend an Auction at the Electric Light Co. This was a new Author was to be trotted out and to be sold through a T. Heat. The Man had a Green Badge, which gave him the right to go into the Paddock and see the Animal packed into the Shafts.

The Man came near the House where a few Friends had dropped in he heard a Noise. It sounded like an Electric Light Plant that was having Trouble with the Machinery. Pop went the first with Autograph Albums under their Arms were doing the Yale Vault over the Front Fence and piking for the Grand Stand.

The Man buttoned up his Coat and began to bowl over the white-haired Women and slender Girls with Studio Hair. He gnawed his way into the thick of the Crowd. His Ticket called for one Good Look at the Genius and one Cup of Tea, and he was there to collect. After a while he succeeded in butting his way into a Cozy Corner where the Snailax was thickest.

The Modern Fable of the Balking Boy Who Kept Her Waiting.

A Youth who had the Love Microbe all through his System was trying to marry a Girl with whom he knew anything about it. He was dead willing to look up and the sooner he could get up and he was afraid to undertake a Proposal for fear he would Fumble. Every time he came up to the High Jump he laid back and squatted.

The Modern Fable of the Secret of One Popular Success.

A feeble-minded Young Man stood looking up at a New Building one day when a Hog of Bricks came down and got him. When he was poked into the ambulance, he was performed. At the Hospital they removed a number of Bricks from his back and he was mused up and had Grit in them. They packed in Cakewalk and Cavity. The Young Man recovered and soon was able to attend Parties where he scored heavily as a Conch, his great specialty being to make a pun on somebody's Name. The Mental Strain of making Puns was too much for the small wad of Gray Matter remaining.

The Modern Fable of the Man Who Acquired Wisdom at the Usual Market Price.

Once there was a Man who acted as Teller for a Poker Club. His Job was to meet people and to tell how much he had won. He would draw the Long Bow and say "If he quit anywhere to the Good he would convert his Currency into 21 Bills and go out and Fan his Friends with it, and tell what a good game he had played. In a little while the News would get around that he had his Club lined with Velvet.

The Modern Fable of the Two Favorites and the Usual Combination.

In a Small City there was a Girl who was a Rallying Cry among the Men. Light Plans that was having Trouble with the Machinery. Pop went the first with Autograph Albums under their Arms were doing the Yale Vault over the Front Fence and piking for the Grand Stand.

The Modern Fable of the Man Who Crawled Under the Tent and Then Stayed for the Circus.

One Evening a cynical Person was sitting at a Stag Party throwing Rocks at Fashionable Society. He had no use for the Elite. He said that any White Man who had the changes of Raiment and a Medium Nerve could work his way into the Inner Circle, if he would set out to do it and attend closely to his Knitting.

MRS. H. F. ROBERTS HAS A ROMANCE

Says to All Blok Women: "Give Mrs. Pinkham a Chance, I Know She Can Help You as She Did Me."

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: The world praises great reformers; their names and faces are in the ears of everybody, and the public press helps spread the good tidings. Among them all Lydia E. Pinkham's name goes to posterity."

with a softly breathed blessing from the lips of thousands upon thousands of women who have been restored to their families when life hung by a thread, and by thousands of others whose weary aching limbs you have quickened and whose pains you have taken away.

"I know whereof I speak, for I have received much valuable benefit myself through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and for years I have known dozens of women who have suffered with displacement, ovarian troubles, ulcerations and inflammation who are strong and well to day, simply through the use of your Compound."—Mrs. H. F. Roberts, 1404 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly, and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass.

Willing to Please. Washington Post: A certain lawyer here in town employs a stenographer who has the most wonderful collars and the most elaborate pompadour in all the business world. She has a personal theory of punctuation, and her spelling is marked with an engaging originality, but she's so even-tempered that only an absurdly capricious person would take notice of such eccentricities. One day she laid before her employer a neatly typed letter to a southern correspondent. Before signing it he glanced over it.

"See here," he said, "you've spelled sugar 'sugar'."

"The typewriter glanced at the sheet and smiled."

"Dear me!" said she. "How careless of me! Why, I've left out the 's'."

The Chicago Chronicle gets at the "meat in the cocoon" in the following observations on the sugar tariff:

Government by HAVEMEYER or government by OXNARD is the issue presented by the pending dispute as to the sugar tax.

What would Emperor HAVEMEYER have? Being extensively engaged as a refiner, he would have no tax on imported raw sugar, but he would maintain the highest kind of a tariff against refined sugar.

What would suit the sovereign OXNARD? Having control of the beet sugar industry in the United States, he would preserve the present tariff on raw and refined sugars and would increase it, if possible.

If we are to judge the future by the past the congress of the United States, representing nearly 80,000,000 of people, will soon address itself to this weighty question. King HAVEMEYER and King OXNARD will confront each other over the shoulders of these alleged representatives of the people.

It is barely possible that now and then during the controversy some feeble voice may be raised in support of the idea that there is or should be a government in this country not especially devoted to the service of either Lord HAVEMEYER or Lord OXNARD; but charged with the duty of protecting the interests of the millions in whose name the laws drawn in behalf of the Havemeyers and Oxnards invariably run.

If congress were a body devoting its attention to the welfare of the people as a whole it would not long tolerate in its presence these scandalous conflicts of swinish self-seekers. If the people themselves were not hopelessly corrupted by the fallacies and the bribes of protectionism they would soon make a repetition of such scenes an impossibility.

With congress constituted as it now is the policy of the government as to sugar is certain to be dictated by Havemeyer or by Oxnard as his own selfish views shall counsel. We shall have government by Havemeyer or government by Oxnard, unless finding discretion the better part of valor these eminent sovereigns shall conclude that they cannot afford to fight, in which case we shall have government by Havemeyer and Oxnard combined.

Under existing conditions there is no possibility that the question will be settled on the basis of popular rights. The only popular right that is religiously maintained in these matters is the privilege of footing the bills.

It takes a fellow who has trained with a bad outfit, to properly castigate his old companions, when he gets right. Here's the way Moses Warner of the Lyons Mirror sizes up the party he formerly affiliated with:

Stealing? How do we know that the republican bosses have stolen the state's money since territorial times? Because we have been an eye witness to a large amount of it. In a single instance we saw $100 paid by a republican ring leader for the vote of one legislator pending a steal, which was being put through the legislature.

And knowing as we did about this vast amount of corruption on the part of these leaders and bosses, for a number of years we warned the republican party to steer clear of them or the down fall of the party in the state was certain to come. Finally it became evident to us that nothing short of a stroke of Omnipotent power could ever sever the party from the grasp of these scoundrels and the tools of the money power. And then it was we swung into line for "Bryan and humanity; for God and the right."

Since we have dared to "beard the lion in his den" and fight the battles of the people, the dirty republican sheets have heaped abuse and slander upon us and thought they were using argument for the continuation of the reign of the rotten party leaders in Nebraska. The Dakota City Eagle called us a hog and slandered the name and memory of our departed father, the late Col. Jesse F. Warner; Ott and Sutherland of the Tokamah Journal and Herald lied and said we sold out to the fusion forces; and other republican papers caught up the ignoble strain of abuse, nearly all of whom are men whose reputations are blemished with the foulest crimes—some penitentiary convicts out on parole, embezzlers of private, state and federal moneys, defaulters and those who deliberately entered into plots to beat their creditors.

A gentleman who has seen all kinds of "gold brick" mines sold, says Wayne business men will know better in the sweet by and by. All perhaps except the business men, whom the chief grafters—"sweetened."

The Omaha News thinks Treasurer Stuefer should be investigated before he is lampooned by the press. Stuefer should have told the people where their money was and then he'd been saved any annoyance.

People who read of the brutal murder of Mrs. McKnight by Ben McKnight, her husband; in Sioux City last June, will be glad to learn that the brute got a sentence of 25 years at hard labor. Twenty five years in a vat of scalding oil would have been nearer what the inhuman scoundrel deserved, but then, Sioux City did remarkably well in giving him the former dose.

When Benjamin Franklin first thought of starting a newspaper in Philadelphia many of his friends advised against it because there was a paper published in Boston. Some of them doubted that the country would be able to support two newspapers.

From the last count it appears that 20,877 newspapers and periodicals are now published in the United States. Of this number 2,971, or more than 10 per cent, are daily papers, 14,827 are weeklies, 2,791 are monthlies and 175 are quarterlies.

Smaller numbers have other publication periods. Canada has a total of 930 publications, of which 110 are dailies, 643 weeklies and 111 monthlies. Cuba has 27, of which 11 are dailies. The Hawaiian Islands are credited with 23, of which 5 are daily publications, 10 are weeklies. The Philippine Islands have four dailies and the Island of Porto Rico three. New York has the largest number of publications among the States and Nevada the smallest, the former supporting 1,936 and the latter only thirty. Illinois, with a smaller population than either Pennsylvania or the Philippines, has many more newspapers than both together. Alaska has the largest territory among the States and territories, but it has next to the smallest number of publications, being next to the Philippines, which are lowest on the list.

Speech delivered by Mr. Bryan at a banquet tendered ex-Senator Charles A. Towne on the eve of his removal from Duluth to New York.

"Buckley says that civilization is insignificant as compared with the intellectual element.

and place him beside the best man you know, and then question the two, you will find that both admit the binding force of the commandments. What is the difference, then between them? It is this, that one puts his moral principles into every day practice and is known as an honest and upright man while the other suspends his moral principles in moments of temptation and becomes a criminal.

"A careful study of the causes that have led to the decline of nations and to the decay of races will I think, convince an imperial student that the moral element is not only important, but paramount in a nation's life.

Take for instance, the fall of the Roman empire—it was not due to lack of physical qualities. It was the Roman heart, not the the Roman head that went astray, and it is as true today as it ever has been in the past that there can be no real or permanent national growth unless the national growth is accompanied by the development of a national conscience and national character.

The nation is but a collection of individuals and reflects the people. As the moral element is essential to a nation so it is to an individual. There is no danger of our becoming indifferent to physical excellence, nor is it likely that we shall place a low estimate upon the development of the mind, but in our rush for wealth and material advantage there is a danger that we shall ignore the more important part of man—the heart.

"Plutarch said that men entertained three sentiments concerning the gods; they feared them because of their strength, admired them for their wisdom, and loved them for their justice. Men entertain towards their fellows the same sentiments, which according to Plutarch, the ancients entertained toward their deities.

Force may excite fear and genius may arouse admiration but we only love the heart that loves. Justice—the fruit of love, is the element which gives strength and permanence to organized government. So important is the moral element in the individual that no man has ever won a lasting place in the affections of the people who has not in his life given evidence of a broad deep affection for his fellows. It may be truthfully written upon every monument reared by grateful hands to a great man, "We loved him because he first loved us."

The Omaha News says: "The friends of Senator Matthew

How Strong Are You?

The dial of the punching machine won't answer that question. Strength depends on nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the body fails to receive its full supply of nourishment and hence grows weak. That is why no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition. The food eaten is then perfectly digested and assimilated and the body is made strong in the only possible way—by nutrition.

S. Quay are seriously alarmed as to the condition of his throat. By the orders of his physicians the senator must stay in Washington and not go to Florida, as he had originally planned. When Senator Quay lies down he is seized with violent fits of coughing and serious consequences are feared."

A Newspaper's Rights. Every successful newspaper is more or less annoyed by libel suits brought by persons who have no solid ground for their action or which have been instigated by shyster lawyers in the hope of making a "stake" by getting the newspapers to settle for a small sum rather than go to the expense of defending the suit.

It is gratifying to newspaper publishers to learn that a court has at last taken action which will be likely to discourage these harassing suits and afford some protection against irresponsible plaintiffs, who seldom are real sufferers from alleged libels. The case referred to was an action brought by a woman against a New York newspaper. The newspaper proved the truthfulness of its allegations, showing that the woman had no case, whereupon the court ordered that the plaintiff pay $500 to the newspaper as a recompense for the annoyance and expense of defending a suit brought without cause. No reputable newspaper ever deliberately libels a person and if a misstatement is inadvertently made it is always ready to make a correction.—Camden (N. J.) Telegram.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap? A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boache's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest and cures the patient. Try one bottle. His Can Staid On

There was considerable of a disturbance down on the "levee" Monday night, all caused by "the nigger," an unknown man and Dave Hennessy (no relation to Tom). The row started in the saloons where the unknown man stated that he could knock Hennessy's "can off." The trio thereupon went across the track and at the first bluff the unknown gentleman hit the ground with a dull sickening thud. After this exhibition Hennessy wanted to whip the whole town and about the time the marshal found him he started in upon the latter with telling effect. One report is that he got Miller down and was making sausage of him until reinforcements arrived, but this is indignantly denied by George, who finally landed his man. The prisoner was taken before Squire Feather, where he was ably defended by Prof. Durrin. Several witnesses were examined, Messrs Perry, John Hays and Paulski being for the state and the nigger and Oscar Franks for the defense, which was a good joke on Oscar. The prisoner finally plead guilty to fighting, was fined $3 and costs, amounting to some ten plunks. Then Marshal Miner flashed another warrant against him for resisting an officer. This took all the sail out of Hennessy but he finally rallied enough to work Squire Feather to be released on his own recognisance, and the next day when trial was called showed up missing. The "nigger" said he bought Hennessy out early Tuesday morning, his stock in trade being an old team, wagon, a woman and some children.

District Court

Judge Boyd will convene court here next Monday for what will probably be an uneventful and disinteresting session. Kruger vs the Wayne National bank will come up for a second trial, the verdict of a previous court having been reversed. Hurlburt vs Zielke, in which the former sues the latter for making a well, will be tried this term. Gibson vs John V. Francis is another continued case about a horse service. In the LaCroix vs Leisenring matter a motion to set aside the verdict of the last court and asking for a new trial will be made, which if successful will bring the case up for retrial. Northrop vs Wayne county is where the ex county attorney will endeavor to show that the county had no right to hold up his fees to cover back taxes. Tucker vs Eustick has been settled. R. M. Farr is after W. C. Wightman, a dispute over the price of building the latter's residence. The state vs Koepke and Ferguson is for trespass committed on the Fisher place near Winside. Erval Koefoed vs Sophia Thompson is over a land deal which will not be tried this term. State vs Kruger is a little matter wherein the city marshal arrested the defendant, Frank Kruger, in the latter's place of business last summer. Kruger was found guilty by a justice and appealed to the district court. The DEMOCRAT is informed that the city will now dismiss the action having gotten enough of it. State vs Wm. Mossman is a familiar affair, the defendant having got away with some $500 belonging to the Standard Oil Co. while acting as the company's agent here. Mossman was recently released on $500 bail and went to Seward, since which time nothing has been heard of him. S. B. Seace wants the county to pay him heavy damages for a road on his property east of town. Bart Ramsey of Winside is suing Charley Hayes for rent. Pete Oman is making an effort to recover his farm which is now held by Geo. F. T. Mellor. Mr. Oman's story is to the effect that he got money on the land from Robt. Mellor and that he was to have the farm back when he was able to pay off this indebtedness. To secure Mr. Mellor he gave him a deed to the place which Mellor was to hold until he received the amount of the loan. The plaintiff will show that this deed was simply given instead of a mortgage. Geo. Wotring wants a divorce from Eva Wotring. Florence Hain a divorce from Elias Hain. Frances Fitch is suing Rev. G. M. Locke on a note or loan of some sort.

Rival for Bull Fights.

Speaking of a foot ball game at Randolph last Friday the Reporter says: The game commenced at 4:30, the visitors getting the first kick off. They made a good kick, but Fritzson caught the ball and played it back about ten feet. The home boys did good work and succeeded in getting the ball close to the visitors goal. At a bad move on the part of the home boys, and a brilliant run by Skeen of Wayne, gave the visitors the first touchdown. After this the game became one sided, and it was seen that the visitors understood the game too well for our boys. Prof. Martin, and Fritzson and a number of other boys made good plays, but their efforts to reach the Wayne goal proved fruitless, and the game resulted in a score of 16 to 0. One of the Wayne boys was carried from the field with a shoulder blade broken, and several of the boys had the atmosphere knocked out of them, but these are minor events in a game of modern foot ball. We do not wish to discourage true sport, but it appears to us that modern foot ball orders on barbarity. It makes a good rival for bull fights, and they are prohibited in this country. It is said that all well regulated foot ball teams have a surgeon in attendance. Would it not be well to have an undertaker, too?

Can't You be Mistaken?

You may believe that you are trading at the best store in Wayne, but if you have never investigated this store you may be mistaken. You may think because the merchant you trade with is honest, that you are doing business at the best store, but unless the merchant buys goods as we do, direct from the factory for cash, you may be mistaken. You may like to trade with the same merchant you have for years, because he has always accommodated you, but unless you have given this store a trial you may be mistaken about paying the right price. You might feel satisfied to buy clothing at a general store, but if you have never bought clothing here you may be mistaken about the style. If you never read advertisements because you believe merchants do not advertise the truth you may find you are mistaken if you will call at this store and investigated it. You can't be mistaken in believing that it is your duty to see what we have to sell and examine our goods and prices.

We do business on an entire different plan than other merchants in Wayne, you may have an idea that you would not like to trade here, but if you have never tried it you may be mistaken. It costs you nothing to know that you are not mistaken, for we will be glad to show you our clothing any time and will be pleased to tell you how we buy them and how we sell them. Why not be sure you are not mistaken when you buy clothing? If you trade here you have every assurance that you are getting the best clothing made and at lowest cash price.

"Be sure that you are right and then go ahead."

Trade at this store and you are sure you are at the right place.

...Wayne Piano Parlors...

I have just received from the Newman Bros. factories of Chicago, the finest lot of organs ever seen in this city. They are models of the organ builders art, both in case, design and richness of tone, having a set of patent pipe reeds which gives to them the finest of pipe organ tones. There has never been any thing like them here before. This patent is owned and controlled by the Newman Bros. Co., and is not to be found in any other organ. The bellows of these instruments are five inches larger than any other 5-octave organ made, consequently they have greater tone power. They are all mouse proof and every one is warranted for a term of five years. You will be surprised at the reasonable price that I am selling them for, and if you are thinking of buying an organ come in and see these before making your selection.

In pianos I have only the very best, and in any color of wood; mahogany, walnut or oak, all of the very best triple veneer. We have just got settled in our new parlors and will be pleased to have you call at any time.

Mr. Shane is running a clothing store in Lead and doing nicely. Mr. Ellis was immensely satisfied with the outlook of the Hidden Fortune and is a heavy stockholder.

The DEMOCRAT is in receipt of an elegantly illustrated edition of the Chelan Leader, by courtesy of S. B. Russell. The numerous half-tones of the lake, Columbia river, etc., show that country to be a beautiful place. There is also a good cut of Col. Chas. Johnson, formerly county clerk of Wayne county. Also one of Tunis Hardenburg, who built the first residence in Lakeside.

BY DAD

When Dave Hennessy was arraigned for trial the court offered to furnish him an attorney. "All right," responded Dave, "I don't want any cheap lawyer. Give me the best there is in town." Somebody suggested that Prof. Durkin was the best lawyer in the city, and Dave accepted the advice. The funny part of it is that Prof. was the best counsel Dave could have gotten, as proven by Dave's disappearance.

The Republican hit the proper chord when it hinted into the fellows who come to this town to work up advertising programs. By dad, when you people have any money to throw at the birds for such luxuries wait until By Dad falls on you.

A gentleman called at this office yesterday to subscribe for the DEMOCRAT but was considerably surprised to find he could not get it for less than a whole dollar for twelve months. "Why," said he, "I can get Mac's paper for 50 cents; I'll give you 75 cents." I told him the DEMOCRAT was worth more than the Herald, and besides Editor McNeal had Uncle Sam's postoffice behind him to boost him along. That's the sort of competition a newspaper man likes to run up against. Two or three months ago the postmaster was offering his publication to DEMOCRAT readers for one dollar to Jan. 1, 1903.

Nels Grimsley reports a funny circumstance happening in the "board of trade" the other day. R. H. Johanson was present, and noticing Sheriff Cherry and Atty. Wilbur coming up from the train, with a man between them, Johanson said, "I wonder if Wilbur and Cherry haven't got some more horse thieves!" Everybody jumped up to see and all were shocked into laughter to notice as the trio drew near that the middleman was none other than Postmaster McNeal.

The turkey got it in the neck. Sewed up to keep the stuffing in; The toper also was on deck. Three sheets in mid-air—all on gin. By dad, none of these things hit me; Plain pork and cabbage on the side. I think such things should not be; Thanksgiving's only a great snide.

What's the matter with Wayne having a tin factory? There seems to be "tin" enough in town to buy a gold mine!

Admiral Schley only got $216 of prize money, while Sampson received $25,417. An honest man doesn't stand any more show to get what's coming to him, in the navy, than if running a county newspaper.

John D. Rockefeller has contributed $50,000 to the New York state anti-saloon league with which to fight the saloons of that state, which leads the Sioux Falls Press to remark that if the whiskey of New York is as bad as the oil Rockefeller sends out west it deserves annihilation.

About all there is left of the Thanksgiving turkey today is Caolozsed, by dad.

A couple of young lads were giving each other a tongue lashing, one day last week, and after using up all such expletives as "you lie," "my dad can lick you," etc., etc., one vanquished the other by retorting: "O'Leary'll make a picture of you!"

Gov. Savage has been interviewed on Steufer and declares that he has "faith in Mr. Steufer's honesty." The governor says no investigation will be made until the charges against the treasurer are more specific and convincing of wrong doing.

David Nation has been given a divorce from his wife, Carrie the crusader. "A hell-bound hypocrite," is what Carrie termed the old man in her letters to him. David no doubt figures he isn't bound that way any longer.

M. S. Moats has a letter in this week's Herald excusing his attack on W. H. Burnham some time ago. Mr. Moats' account of the scrap may be correct for anything the DEMOCRAT knows to the contrary, but it's doughnuts to dumbbells that if he was a long-whiskered populist his story wouldn't go with the county attorney.

Frank Kruger received word from Winside Monday morning that the bowling team would not be here Monday evening, consequently no arrangements had been made for the visitors when they did appear about 8:30 o'clock. In the contest that followed Winside was badly worsted, it being a poor exhibition contest all round. Messrs Kruger and Kohl made the best scores for the locals. The visitors were Jerry Hays, Walt Gaebler, Siman, Lowery and Morin. The scores only ran from 96 to 136 with the visiting team, while the Wayne understudies didn't do much better.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Chace this evening, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of their wedded life, will be attended by several hundred of guests. The decorations will be golden chrysanthemums, and Harpist Toce of Sioux City will furnish the music. The esteemed couple are already the recipients of many costly presents, among them being an elegant china cabinet and set of Haviland china, the gift of the bride. A gold handled hair brush and an elegant leather rocker are special gifts to Uncle Edwin. There is also set of solid silver ware including a berry spoon, meat fork, vegetable spoon, etc. Cut glass berry dish and spoon. Point lace handkerchief. Gold candlesticks, gold ring to each, etc., etc. A large number of visitors are already here to attend the unusual ceremony; Mr. and Mrs. Jas Brady and Hon. E. M. Brady and wife from Sanborn, Io., Mr. and Mrs. Cal Bradstreet of Sioux City, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Miller of Aberdeen, S. D., Jas. Chace and family, Pilger. Also the families of Chas. Chace, Nathan Chace, Chas. McLeod, J. Horton, Alfred Loomis, making about twenty-five persons from Stanton.

Mesdames Crawford and Donnel entertained last Friday to a jolly crowd of ladies. Mrs. Key assisted in serving a dainty three-course menu. In making pictures of cities Mrs. F. H. Jones took the prize, a china teapot. Miss Gladys Donnel then gave each lady a gum drop with string attachment. The guests all stood in a row and the one who ate up the string first and got to her gum drop was given the prize. Mrs. A. L. Tucker received a china olive dish for this feat. After the gum drops came a cake walk which was equally as funny.

Mesdames Surber, Benshoof and Bush entertained most pleasantly last Saturday afternoon. A three course menu was served at four o'clock by Misses Benshoof, Ella Bayer and Edna Bush, Mrs. Surber playing on the piano during the serving. For entertainment "The Birds' Midsummer Concert" was played, each guest was given a pencil and paper to answer a number of questions with the name of a bird as: What bird was the prima donna?—nightingale; what bird was used for decoration?—bunting. Mrs. A. T. Witter proved the most apt in this game and received the prize, a china olive dish. Those invited were: Mesdames Walter Weber, R. and F. Philleo, Britton, Spears, Wright, Fuller, Terwilliger, Franz, Beebe, Blair, Williams, Fortner, A. A. Welch, Feather, Hammond, A. T. Witter, Corbit, Porterfield, Goldie, Kate, Donnel, Welch, Wightman, Raymond, Hufford, Ringland, Gregg, E. R. Chace, Sigworth, Gamble, Damon, Crawford, Boner, Strioger, Skeen, F. E. and H. H. Moses, Pigréy, W. E. and A. G. Howard, Welden and Mary Jones.

Mrs. C. A. Chace gave a delightful "at home" complimentary to Grandma Chace to a few of the other grandmas last Tuesday afternoon. After a very pleasant social hour the ladies became quite giddy when each was given some thing which represented a slang phrase. Mrs. A. T. Witter, for being the brightest in guessing, received a bunch of white carnations. Mesdames Moses and Pigréy were each given a similar bouquet for not being acquainted with a single slang phrase. The hostess was assisted in serving a three-course menu by Mesdames Wheeler and Welch, following came the toasts, Mrs. Howard responded to "The Bride," Mrs. Tower to "The Groom," and Mrs. Philleo to "Grandmas." Those enjoying this pre-nuptial affair were Mesdames Chace, Craven, Philleo, King, Skeen, Moses, Pigréy, M. S. Davies, Feather, J. W. Jones, Tower, Gamble, Bartlett, Armstrong, Howard, Witter, Horton and Wright.

The Junior History club met with Master Frank Wheeler last Saturday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. S. B. Seace Wednesday, Dec. 4th, at 2 p. m. "Tea and Talk" at 4:30 to which all are cordially invited.

Rev. Thompson, the revivalist who comes here next Wednesday to hold a series of meetings in the Baptist church, is one of the few revivalists whom the DEMOCRAT man thinks capable of filling such a mission. Rev. Thompson visited Vermillion, S. D., while the writer was a resident of that classic village. He is more of a pleader than a pounder; a man who will tell you the bright things of a christian life instead of the damnation meted out to the unrepentant sinner. Mr. Thompson is, or rather was a few years ago, a very good singer, and a good harpist, playing his own accompaniments. If you go to hear him the first night you probably won't miss any of the following evenings he is billed for. He isn't after your money but wants to cheer you up.

R. B. Crawford came home Wednesday night to eat turkey at home.

The corner restaurant building was a scene of great activity Wednesday evening, being full of men and boys who were after bucks, turkeys and experience.

Prof. Cushman who is getting up the play "Nita," is having good success, the young ladies doing the parts splendidly. The professor carries all the costumes for putting the play on the boards, thus saving the amateurs any expense in that manner. Mr. Cushman appears to be a gentleman of culture as well as one of considerable musical talent and experience in the getting up of local entertainments. He is author of the comedy which our young folks are taking such an interest in.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald of Council Bluffs spend Thanksgiving at the home of their daughter Mrs. Ed. Raymond.

Dr. Jenkins of Omaha will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit next Sabbath.

Eph. Cunningham was congratulating Judge Moses on a handsome (because of their size) pair of boots the latter had on, the other day. "Yes, they are pretty nice boots," answered the judge; "I got them just to fit Col. Ferguson's solar plexus."

The Haywoods who had a comedy company here a few years ago are now millionaire owners of Texas oil gushers. When Haywood was here two years ago he was investing all his money in California oil fields. Then he invested in Texas with immense results.

Try those nice, large, white New York extra select oysters at C. R. Witter's.

The bankruptcy petition of Philip Kirchner, a farmer of Cass county, filed yesterday in the United States district court, shows that while he owes debts amounting to $12,918.70, his only assets are the clothes he wears, valued at $35, and a silverine watch six years old and worth $4. His indebtedness was incurred while a member of the Peckler Milling Co. of St. Jacobs, Ill., which made an assignment in 1885 with over $16,000 indebtedness.

J. W. Maholin and wife were arrivals yesterday from Indiana and will probably again be residents of this county.

J. W. Turner was an arrival from Omaha Wednesday.

The DEMOCRAT understands that a swell wedding will shortly occur at the Boyd.

Prof. Snodgrass spent his Thanksgiving the guest of Dr. Riley at Wisner. The professor formerly was a member of the Wisner gun club and the doctor insisted that he go down and take a shot and get outside of a square meal.

The High school foot ball team came home from Randolph this afternoon "badly disfigured but still in the ring." They were beaten in a game yesterday 45 to 0. Young Boekenbauer had his face badly cut up and another player got a broken nose, so it must have been a better game than the one between Pierce and the College.

Any Old Thing

An Englishman at a dinner once told a tale of a tiger he had shot which measured twenty-four feet from snout to tail tip, says Tit-Bits. Everyone was astonished, but no one ventured to insinuate a doubt of the truth of the story.

Presently a Scotchman told his tale. He had once caught a fish which he said he was unable to pull in alone, managing only to land it at last with the aid of six friends. "It was a skate and covered two acres."

Silence followed this recital, during which the offended Englishman left the table. The host followed. After returning he said to the Scotchman: "Sir, you have insulted my friend. You must apologize."

"I dinna insult him," said the Scot.

"Yes you did, with your two acre fish story. You must apologize."

"Well," said the offender, slowly, with an air of great concession, "tell him if he will take ten feet off the tiger I will see what I can do with the fish."

As a man went up the stairway leading to an elevated station the other day he took some change out of his pocket to buy a magazine, says the New York Times. Near the end of the platform he accidentally dropped a nickel, and several bystanders looked around at the sound of the coin. They were surprised to see the man take a quarter from his pocket and deliberately let it fall through a crevice in the flooring caused by a broken board.

The silver piece fell to the ground, landing just outside a high fence behind which a building was in course of erection. Its owner watched to see where it fell and then started to go after it, explaining, however, as he noticed the look of astonishment on the faces of his spectators.

"I have just lost a nickel through the crack, but it's not worth going after; so in order not to waste it I have thrown a quarter after it. I can afford to lose the next train for thirty cents."

Being very fat, the King of Portugal is, says "M. A. P." forbidden by his physicians to eat too much meat. He calmly disobeys the doctor, however, and is especially fond of beef, of which he eats great quantities.

When he visited England a few years ago he was stopping at Lord Salisbury's country seat, where also King Edward was a guest. One day at dinner King Carlos was asked what had impressed him most during his short stay in England.

He replied thoughtfully, "Well, I think English roast beef is very delightful."

"Oh, laughed King Edward, surely something else has impressed you as well?"

"Ah!" was the reply, "of course, the English boiled beef is also delightful."

Secretary Hay has a new coachman, says a Washington letter. He is a recent importation and possesses great contempt for the eighth letter of the alphabet. The other night he drove the premier to the White House. As the weather was a trifle chilly the coachman joined some of his guild at a tavern near the White House grounds, where he became slightly befuddled on "alf and 'all and kindred liquors. Mr. Hay as everyone knows, lives on H street opposite Lafayette square. Lack of acquaintance with the neighborhood, combined with the convivialities of the evening, conspired to make the coachman mistake the route. Driving up to a large house on I street he pulled his horses to a standstill and announced in his cheery British way: "Ome, sir." The secretary at once divined the mistake and also the condition of his man, whom he began to take to task.

"You are on I street, he explained, "a block away from home. You crossed H street without knowing it," and you are intoxicated."

A great and knowing light came into the coachman's eyes as he exclaimed in triumph: "Pardon, sir! Pardon; but now hit's clear, 'ow the deylorable mistake occurred, sir. Hi ham an Englishman, sir, as you are doubtless aware, sir, so that hit's perfectly natural for me to drop my H's."

Question Answered

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Raymond's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.
