Cullings From Court.

About the first business done the present term of court was the reopening of the matrimonial meshes that bound Wilton K. Rickabaugh to Margaret Rickabaugh "for worse." Mrs. R. didn't appear to defend, no doubt being as well pleased to cast off the galling yoke as Billy. On Wednesday Vaughn Davis was granted a decree from his "Arkansas flea," as he calls her. This makes three times and out, for Vaughn. The aged controversy between Tom Lound and the Winside State bank was compromised a week ago, before court convened, but another ancient battle case, one with ten wrinkles on its horns, has had a complete churning. W. H. Butterfield of Norfolk was plaintiff, and it appears by the verdict of the jury that Reinhold Reimers and Woods Cones of Pierce tried to flummox him out of 19 head of cattle "way back in '91. The costs in the case amount to thousands of dollars, the matter having been in court continuously and to the supreme court. Powers & Hays conducted the case to a successful finish for Butterfield, Cones and Wilbur a defeated defense. Late yesterday afternoon a jury was empaneled on the Tolerton & Statson vs First National Bank difference, growing out of the bankrupt stock of merchandise of W. B. Hughes & Co., and on which a former verdict for the bank was recently over-ruled by the supreme court. Welch and John Berry are attorneys for plaintiff, Northrop for the bank.

Dahlberg vs. Brooks, a controversy over some $70 worth of corn, was taken up at noon today and a jury secured. It will last until about three o'clock. The remaining jury cases are Fair vs. Wightman, State vs. Estella Hart, State vs. Owens and Hurlbert vs. Zielke. The jury will then be discharged and the court try the Kruger-saloon matter and the County vs. Banks suits, which will string the term over most of next week.

"EXPERT TESTIMONY."

Judge Boyd handles the court proceedings like an old timer, and his said desires to continue in John Robinson's path until it lands him in the halls of congress.

Ex-State Attorney Constance Jay Smythe, the gentleman who wiped the smile off the official record of Ex State Treasurer Meserve and left the stairs on, was in town Wednesday, and the DEMOCRAT is informed will return to Wayne again at a later date to appear as counsel for the banks in their defense of the suits brought by Wayne equity.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

Hundreds of merchants are in business who are experimenting to find out if they will like their vocations. They try every new thing that comes along to see if it is good. If it doesn't give satisfaction they will try something else. In a few years they make up their minds they don't like the business and sell out and try something else. Did you ever stop to think who had to pay for the merchants' experiments? You realize, if you stop to think, that the customer paid the bill. Now, if you trade here you don't have to pay anything for our experiments. We like the business we are engaged in and we have been in the same business for over twenty years, and we don't have to experiment to find out if anything in our line is good. We sell goods that we have sold ever since we commenced business, and we know they are the best made and will always give satisfaction. It seems to us that since we sell cheaper than other merchants, and there is no risk taken to get the best clothing made, everyone ought to feel it a duty to trade here. You don't run any risk in buying clothing here. You get goods that are warranted to give satisfaction and we have tested them and know by long experience that they will wear. Our prices are marked in plain figures and sold to all alike. Our stock is the largest in Wayne; our expenses are the lowest, for we pay no rent. We pay cash for all we buy. Is there any good reason why you have not traded here? Stop and think it over. Come in and see us anyhow. We will be glad to show you our goods no matter if you don't buy.

R. H. Johanson Dead

At about ten o'clock yesterday morning all that was mortal of R. H. Johanson passed away to the life that knows no returning. Mr. Johanson over worked himself last Friday, caught cold, neglected to call a doctor and died of pneumonia. A peculiar life is ended; peculiar in that deceased was just like the rest of us; had a few abrupt turns that would better have been turned off in early youth. $4000 life insurance and a little property is left his children. Perhaps the greatest mistake Mr. Johanson made was in neglecting the present for the future; over working and stinting his family that future years might be blessed with a rich competence. The funeral is being held this afternoon at the residence, Rev. Ringer officiating. The DEMOCRAT understands Hauer Wilson will look after deceased's estate, and E. P. Olmsted will superintend the ice house business.

A GOOD ARTICLE

at a little higher price is cheaper than a poor one at a low price, for the simple reason that it will last longer and give better service than the cheap one. In fact, a poor article is high-priced no matter what price is paid for it. This applies to carriages as well as any other line of goods. The Marshalltown people positively make no shoddy jobs. Their work wins a reputation for the above reasons. We get more money for them because they are worth it. You get more wear because they will stand it.

The "little American" who "pulled down the flag" in Cuba ought to be given the "water cure."

Just let President Roosevelt take a shot at the trusts and all the little pop-gun organs fall in line and shoot off their wads.

J. C. Osgood, who went to Tacoma, Wash., from Pender last year, met a horrible death last Saturday, being cut in two by a lumber mill saw.

Gov. Savage knows just how a newspaper should be conducted. Well, there is one consolation left for the governor; when he is fired out of a position he is too small to fill he can run a newspaper—for awhile.

Mrs. Rebecca French, a Wisconsin school teacher, has gone insane over cats. Cats were her only bed fellows. And yet some people think that a married woman shouldn't teach school.

Nearly all the republican exchanges have now officially stated that this is "a republican year." Judging from the number of cyclones, tornados and earthquakes the world has suffered, their assertion is undoubtedly correct.

A recent New York letter says that Elisha J. Hunt declares he has discovered a motive force that will develop energy until the machine wears out. "I fully believe," he said, "that before the year is out I shall be exhibiting an autocarriage that will run from New York to San Francisco without costing a cent for fuel. It will start and stop simply by pressing a lever. The secret is magnetism. The magnet will be adjusted to keep a steady pull on the driving mechanism and will renew its vitality from the electricity in the air."

When it comes to relating a strenuous story, no doubt Carrie Nation leads Ellen Stone several lengths. Either are an expensive luxury.

It is now in order for the republican papers to state that Bryan went to Cuba just to enjoy a hearty laugh when the "flag was pulled down."

Gen. Chaffee has made an official statement that few of the people in northern Luzon are hostile to the United States, which leads the Chicago Chronicle to remark that possibly they are not, seeing they are all now dead.

A southern paper, the Memphis Appeal, gives as a reason for discontinuing the slaughter of Filipinos that it would make the "United States a booby in the sight of other nations." Aye! Probably King Edward would refuse to "see" any of Roosevelt's emissaries at the coronation.

Mark Hanna will be the nominee for president on the republican ticket in 1904, according to private advices from Washington, and Mark will be elected. The Democrat hasn't forgotten how the demopops of this county stopped over for Mark when he made them a ten-minute speech in Wayne upon how he would fill up their dinner pails.

The wisest man, politically, in the Third district is John R. Hays, who long ago got a big "hunch" and declined to run for congress. Now he has been appointed postmaster at Norfolk and will have a four years fat job with no chances attached to it. —Winside Tribune.

A "hunch," you call it! We'd call it an earthquake!

The daily papers are saying that because of a hard-to-bear snub given Senator Hanna by J. Pierpont Morgan, Hanna has set Attorney General Knox after Morgan's steamship merger. The gigantic corporation millionaires will have to be more careful in their treatment of such government gormands as Mark Hanna. Of course the trusts magnates are a good thing for the country under any other considerations.

GIRL WOMEN

The general standard of measurement for women is to get a girl from school and arrive at the dignity of trailing skirts and elaborate hair-dressing she is looked upon as a young woman. But nature knows nothing of the matter. When the womanly function is established womanhood is attained according to her standard. And there is need of womanly care and caution. It is foolish ignorance or neglect at this critical time which causes the results in long years of after misery.

Mothers who perceive the evidences of functional derangement in young girls should promptly have them begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, tranquilizes the nerves and tones up the whole system. "My troubles started during my girlhood," writes Miss Flora C. Greig of 107 Howe Street, Akron, O., "but did not prove serious until 1903. From that time I did not see a well day! I suffered at every monthly period with terrible headache, irritation of the spine and pain in my head. I had cramps in my legs and feet all the time and constant backache. One doctor would tell me one thing and another would say something altogether different, but they only relieved me. I then wrote you and followed your advice. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, out of Golden Medical Discovery and five vials of 'Pellets.' I have not had a single symptom of my old trouble for four years and now I can eat and sleep and eat solid and substantial food without distress." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

The British expenditure for the Boer war has been greatly underestimated. A parliamentary report shows that to March 31, 1902, the cost of the war has $1,114,350,000. Our little picnic in the Philippines may cost as much before we get through with it.

As an example of their own ignorance the Women's Board of Presbyterian Missions of the state of New York petitions congress not to admit the three remaining territories as states because of "the general ignorance of their citizens." These women's missionary boards are oftentimes very queer things.

The "water cure" treatment must be simply horrible. As an old line democrat we cannot think of anything worse than water inside the stomach and a man, or body of men, who will get so infamously brutalized as to deliberately force water into a brother man deserves to be burned at the stake and then some. —Winside Tribune.

Of course it must be horrible, but a democrat like you, Eker, always full of something else, how could they force it?

No, there won't be any gambling in Sioux City this year. One carpenter down there has made this statement: "In all my career as a carpenter, I never made as much money in three weeks' time as I have in the past three weeks putting locks and peep holes and doors on secret gambling houses in Sioux City. I could show Sioux City business men fifty gambling houses in an hour's time if I were minded to do so." And the worst of it is that the dives they will have there now will be much worse than the open gambling houses they did have.

Denison Bulletin: If the British succeed now in closing the Boer war they will lay down the hottest potato any nation has picked up since the time of King George. It has cost the nation more deaths alone than it was estimated it would take soldiers to conquer the Boers, while in money it has taken nearly a billion dollars where it was estimated that less than a hundred million would pay for the entertainment. The only consolation the British have in this awful matter is the fact that their cousins in Uncle Sam's domain are against almost as hot a proposition in the Philippines with the prospect that the end of hostilities will never be any benefit to this country. When the British are able to lie down with the Boers they will have some returns in power and prestige and wealth. Uncle Sam in the Philippines will have only additional expense and a provincial graveyard for his soldiers.

Is there no statesman who can devise a way for Uncle Sam to give back the Filipino baby?

Not much noise

At the German Store

Made about what they do for you for it's just like the still river that runs deep and cuts a wide swath. People don't "get in the swim" at this store and try to crawl out. It pays to stay in, and not only pays, but tis a pleasant, comfortable place to do your trading. When there is "no butter in town" you'll find some choice "prints" at the German Store. When fresh eggs are "fowl" there's always basket loads of new, up-to-date hen fruit sold at the German, all of which shows that they make little noise

But do lots of business

On Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Hats, Underwear, Hosiery, Prints, Linens, Calicos, and all spring stock, you get the same deal as on the butter and eggs. Try it.

Furchner, Duerig & Co.

A Busy Man
The Chicago Chronicle says Mr. Hanna is busily engaged in at least three great enterprises. One of these is an attempt to prevent a strike of coal miners. Another is an effort to save the trusts from a genuine prosecution. The other is an appeal to the president in behalf of Rathbone, late of the postal service, who is now in the penitentiary for theft.

Mr. Hanna is working for the republican party all of the time. He would like to pacify the miners and it would please him to save the trusts from annoyance, but it is the unhappy situation of his dear friend Rathbone which is keeping him awake nights.

Our "Glorious Flag"
When Gen. Smith gave orders to kill all over 10 years of age he knew what he was talking about. The boys of 10 in the Philippines are often as dangerous as men of 25. The thing to do is to make them respect our glorious flag. Our soldiers are in no danger from dishonorable warfare, but are in danger of assassination. They are on the ground, and know the conditions. —James Tanner, former Commissioner of Pensions.

Smith and Herod
Smith and Herod! These are names to conjure with, and there is no disguising the fact that they represent the very essence of that bloody, but to some attractive, theory of government by force and violence. General Smith has achieved sudden yet undying fame as the admitted author of an order directing his subordinate officers to kill all the male inhabitants of Samar above ten years of age, to burn all property found and to leave the country "a howling wilderness," while Herod made himself conspicuous nineteen hundred years ago by ordering the killing of all infants under two years of age. Smith and Herod together would make almost a clean sweep. To be sure, boys between two and ten years would slip out between the two orders, but if Smith's views are supported by the American people he will doubtless lower the age limit next time and after a while make his murders begin where Herod's left off. History will be searched in vain for an instance of cold-blooded, heartless and inhuman cruelty equal to that perpetrated by Smith and his subordinate, Waller, and yet our Philippine commissioners who draw enormous salaries on the pretense that they are looking after the interests of our Filipino subjects either never knew what was going on, or if they knew, did not care. What a blot on American honor! What a disgrace to the American name! And yet this is a natural outgrowth of the teachings of imperialism. Every man who justifies the purchase of trade with human blood or estimates the commercial value of lives is cov-ing the seed from which such orders grow. When we begin to weigh inalienable rights against money and to speculate on the pillage of towns and the desolation of whole provinces, we are not apt to be squeamish about any means that may be thought necessary to silence protest. —Commoner.

Branch Banking
In a recent address President Forgan of the First National bank of Chicago illustrated what he regards as the defects of the present system of banking as compared with a system admitting of branch banks by showing the possible multiplication of deposits on the basis of a single original deposit.

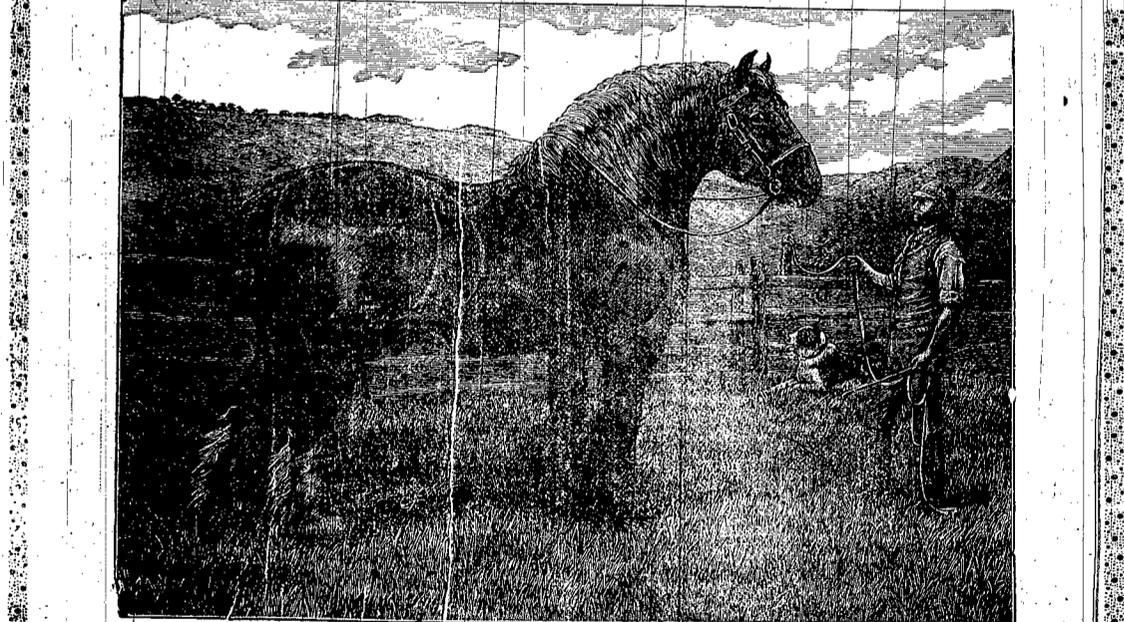

He stated that of an original deposit of $64,000 in a bank in Deadwood, which is not a reserve city, $60,160 may be deposited with a correspondent bank in Omaha, which is a reserve city. Of the deposit in Omaha $52,640 may be deposited with a Chicago correspondent and of the deposit in Chicago $39,460 may be deposited with a New York correspondent. Thus we have a total deposit of $216,260 on an original deposit of only $64,000.

This multiplication of deposits Mr. Forgan regards as a great weakness and permanent menace to our system. On the other hand, he illustrated what he regards as one of the advantages of branch banking by showing what might happen if six western national banks in as many different cities were all branches of one institution with another branch in New York. In that case they would be able to loan out at current rates from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 which they now have to hold in their vaults as balances due from banks.

He proceeded to show from this illustration that if all the banks in the country were organized on the branch plan so as to do away with this item of balances due probably not less than $700,000,000 more would be available for loans to the public than at present on the same basis of capital and deposits.

As a practical banker Mr. Forgan ought to know about that. The Chronicle is not disposed to challenge his estimates, but it is moved to ask a question: If the multiplication of deposits so that the total far exceeds the amount of the original deposits is a weakness and a perpetual menace to our system why would it not be a weakness and a menace to increase the loans to the extent of $700,000,000 without any increase in the capital and deposits of the banks? —Chicago Chronicle.

At $15 to insure mare in foal. The get of "Line" have brought the highest prices of any horses sold in our county, and topped the Chicago market, some teams selling for $400 in cash, and one individual horse bringing $450. "Line" is the sire of Dell Strickland's stallion, the dam being a two-year-old filly of C. Nairn. Gentlemen! breed for good horses; money earning-horses that will do you credit. There is more money in raising good draft horses than any other kind. Don't try to raise an all-purpose horse—there are none. It would be mighty handy if a lady could pull out her poodle into the form of a greyhound so it could catch a jack-rabbit, and shut him up short before meal time, but we can't get honest horses made as man made the telescope—in portable form. Nothing taking its diet from earth, manger or spoon, grows in telescope fashion. The man of "all trades" was handy 100 years ago; he was a cobbler shoemaker, a cobbler carpenter and a jobber tinsmith, but now it takes good work to please a man of taste and culture and we must have specialists in men and horses. You can trot your misfit drafts to town after their day's work is done, forcing them to do "all-purpose" work, but they won't last long, and soon adopt a tired trot. "Line" is an imported and a noble cultured animal, and when people criticize him they make themselves a "laughing stock."

Jean Root, the barber who has done
 duty at the Lueders shop, and Bat Cane, an employe in the Boyd shop, have purchased the latter place from Chace Shaw. It will probably be a case of Root, Cane or Dye? Chace
 Shaw will study law, so the DEMOCRAT is informed, or at least, he will put in his time courting.

The Brose Comedians played to two very light houses Monday and Tuesday nights. As a ten cent show the company of two would be strictly in
 it. Brose is "a whole show in himself" and one of the best musicians the DEMOCRAT has ever heard, being an excellent performer on harp, violin,
 clarinet, mandolin, sliding trombone and all manner of other things. They had the most beautifully toned harp ever heard here, and a dog that had everything else but tone.

P. Pryor, and John McCarrigan of near Norfolk, were in town Tuesday and made the DEMOCRAT a social wroth over the pardon by Gov. Savage of the leader of the notorious stock yards gang of rapiers and the expected release of the rest of them in June.

 W. M. Robertson, candidate for the

 the gentleman who is responsible for their getting out of the penitentiary,
 according to Mr. McCarrigan's story.

Cedar County's Hot Breath

A special telegram from Omaha to the Chicago Chronicle under date of May 12th will be a startling piece of news to Cedar county people. In this "special" there is surely all kinds of "hot air." The dispatch starts out with:

"Nebraskans Fear an Eruption!"

"Residents of Cedar County in State of Terror and May Leave."

"Old Volcanic Mountain Reports Rumbling and Sending Forth Gases."

"Omaha, Neb., May 12.—The reports of the frightful disaster at St. Pierre, Martinique have a peculiar interest to Nebraska people
 and particularly to those of Cedar county, who are now reported to be in a state of terror because the volcano there, as the people believe it to be, has resumed its eruptions
 after thirty years of repose."

"Direct reports are unobtainable, but passengers from Ponca arriving today report
 the volcanic mountain Iona in a state of eruption. During the last twenty hours the mountain has alarmed the residents of that section by spewing forth dense gases and smoke and by its rumblings. In 1871 the mountain waxed hot and badly scared
 the residents by its grumbings and hot breath.
 Some years ago an attempt was made to sink shafts near the mountain for coal veins, but the attempt was given up. At a depth of a few feet the temperature was too hot for the boring tools. Geologists state that the volcanic mountain Iona is a state of eruption. During the last twenty hours the
