Jake Dornberger has received a photograph from Ernest Piepenstock showing the latter, Dan Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Piepenstock in a group, the Pacific ocean making a cool looking background. Dan Bryant and Ernest have fattened up since they went to the coast and the others are in the pink of health. Mrs. Piepenstock is a daughter of Wm. Hendricks who died last Monday in Wilbur precinct.

The Herald office suffered an earthquake shock last Monday. An expert was showing off the movable qualities of a new threshing machine engine which Hank Subr purchased, and losing control of the animal it butted into the rear of the Herald office, jarring the furniture and causing the devil to throw off a little more blue smoke than usual.

Hans Hanson says: "if you want to see the best field that beats all the best fields of beets ever beat into the ground just go down south of town in about three days from now." There is going to be a hundred acres of these beets, which comprises the land bought last summer by S. B. Scace from Nels Grimsley, and now owned by Ed. Mitchell, for whom Mr. Scace made the purchase. The beet growers pay $8 an acre rent for the ground and consider it cheap at that. Mr. Mitchell had purchased seed and was about to sow the whole tract to grass when the beet growers got after him. Speaking about $8 being a good rental for $50 an acre land, Mr. Hanson said it would pay more than that seeded to grass, as plenty of cows could be got to pasture at $2 per month, and one acre of such land would feed two cows, making a profit of from $20 to $24 per acre.

Why not See for Yourself

We cannot understand why some people refuse to look at anything they must buy. Now, we have summer underwear that we bought direct from the factory, and this being the first time that we could buy summer underwear that way, we can't understand why anyone should refuse to look at it. If you go to the merchant where you have been trading, he will show you the same underwear he did last year, but if you will come here we will show you a line for twenty cents that will compare favorably with his fifty-cent line, and our fifty-cent line is better underwear than any seventy-five cent line you ever saw. It costs nothing to see this line. Why not see for yourself?

If You are From Missouri

We can convince you if you will come in and look at our shoes that you can save money by buying your shoes here. Some shoes are made to sell, some are made to look pretty; our shoes are for both, and in addition they are made for comfort and to wear. You must see our line of shoes to understand why they are better than other merchants sell. We are experts in the shoe business and know how shoes are made. If your feet hurt you we can give you comfort. You cannot find a line of boys' shoes in Wayne like ours. We have shoes that are made to wear a boy until he outgrows them. Our "Little Men's" shoes for small boys are just the thing to let their feet grow, and will outwear two pair of other kinds. Don't buy girls' shoes for boys! See our line and you will know why.

THE DEMOCRAT

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

W. S. GOLDIE, Editor and Publisher.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.50 PER YEAR; IF PAID IN ADVANCE, $1.00.

The fellow who has nothing to think about but politics ought to stop thinking entirely.—Bixby.

That's just the trouble with the politicians; they neglect to think.

No better man in the whole state of Nebraska than John C. Sprecher for governor. Sprecher has all the sterling qualities of W. A. Poynter and a whole lot more gumption.

Talk about standing in with the Wayne saloons or an Omaha brewery! Gen. Wood, retiring governor of Cuba, was presented with a $5,000 silver tea set by the gamblers of the city of Havana.

The Sioux City Journal and Tribune now have a circulation fight on hand. The Journal makes a statement that it has 7,140 subscribers in Sioux City and South Sioux City, and without casting any reflection upon the accuracy or truthfulness of the statement, the Tribune wants to wager an even thousand dollars that the Journal employs a circulation liar of no mean ability.

Historian Macley's history of the Spanish-American war, relating to the naval battle at Santiago, has been ordered excluded from the naval libraries of the United States by act of congress. This work had been approved by Roosevelt, Long and Sampson, and its exclusion is a direct rebuke to those high in authority.

Bixby in the State Journal says: "The biggest fool on earth is the fellow who invests in stuff to make himself drunk. It is a custom that ought to go out of fashion." The DEMOCRAT can't see it that way. We believe the fellow who is so bent on getting rich that he stunts himself of the necessities of a decent living; makes slaves of his wife and children; in fact, is too infernally stingy to buy a drink; leads the other fool several leagues.

Sixty-three trusts were organized previous to the present administration; one hundred and twenty trusts have been organized since 1897; which leads the World-Herald to remark: "Will some republican paper undertake to explain why it happens that with the large number of lawyers at its command, the republican administration has only proceeded in two instances against the trust system, and in the case of the beef trust it has proceeded in a civil way and avoided the more effective method of criminal prosecution?"

Ex-Congressman Walt Butler of Iowa, during a visit with the DEMOCRAT, last week, gave it as his political opinion that the republican administration would keep going from bad to worse until 1904, when he feared the democrats might be successful, and that just about that date a panic was due the country occasioned by too much republicanism. Mr. Butler would like to see the republican party take a dose of their own medicine after shaking the bottle, and to that end hopes the present administration will not get so infernally rotten as to necessitate its displacement in 1904.

Probably "Water-Cured"

Dakota City Herald: We notice Editor Peck of the Randolph Times is pushing Jule Jenal, a hide-bound republican, of Hartington, for congress. Time works all kinds of wonders. When we pulled Peck out of the Buffalo at Anamosa, Iowa, by the hair of his head, after he had gone down twice, eighteen years ago, he was a rabid democrat as ever "called for it straight without a wash!"

According to the Chicago Chronicle President Roosevelt has accepted a king's statue to be set up in Washington. Well, why not? Kings are just as good as a whole lot of the "American" things set up in Washington.

The oldest firm in Iowa, Wear & Allison of Sioux City, has dissolved partnership after 42 years of successful business. The firm was only ten years old when the writer first heard of it, and that doesn't seem so very long ago.

A town in New York has just rejected an offer of a $150,000 Carnegie library. There's your chance to get in a lick for Wayne, Editor Gibson. But then a city council that would refuse to pick up $1600 in cold cash for the benefit of their town, would have no earthly use for books. They wouldn't even know what a library was for.

The Chicago Chronicle puts truth in a nut-shell when it says: Any insinuations respecting the waning of Mr. Hanna's power as a republican dictator, must, under the circumstances, be withdrawn. A man who is sufficiently influential to bulldoze the president of the United States into changing the entire judicial system of Cuba in order to save a convict-criminal from just punishment cannot truthfully be said to have declined in prestige. Whatever may have been surface indications to the contrary, it is now quite evident that Mr. Hanna controls the present administration as he swayed its predecessor.

Wayne High school graduates are to deliver no Commencement orations this year, being right in style with other important places as the following from the Sioux City Tribune indicates: "Commencement orations, which have been a feature of the public school exercises in Minneapolis, have been cut out this year. The graduates will listen to addresses from prominent men who have in the past learned what they now know from high school graduates at these commencements. And the chances are that these prominent men have forgotten all about the Alps and Italy, Seylla and Charybdis, as well as Pelion and Ossa. But they have managed to keep a firm grasp on a lot of horse sense that serves one well in every day life."

According to the following from the Journal there are some decidedly lax ladies in Lincoln: The article in the Sunday Journal on the growth of profanity among women recalls the vigorous expression used not long ago by a young woman on O street who was rushing along with a younger sister to catch a car.

"There it goes," said the sister, as the car moved out of signalling distance.

"Oh h—!" blurted out the young lady with an energy that made a man who was passing stop in his tracks. He didn't blame her for feeling that way, but it was something of a shock to hear so forcible an expression from so pretty a girl. It may not be common for ladies in Lincoln to use strong language, but this young person belongs to a rather swell set and there is no reason to believe that her popularity would be affected in the least if she spiced her remarks regularly with expletives that were formerly supposed to lead straight to the bottomless pit.

Out of Plumb.

When the wall is out of plumb the building is more or less unsafe, and the higher the wall is carried out of the perpendicular the greater the danger of collapse. It's about so with the health; it is out of plumb when the digestion is impaired, when there is a dull, sluggish feeling, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness. Every day that these symptoms are neglected increases the liability to physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion. It purifies the blood and cures nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness by curing the diseases in which they originate.

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. M. R. White, of Stanstead, Stanstead Co., Quebec. "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side and the time that it was over I would work at my stomach and such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman again. Dr. Pierce's medicine cured my mother of liver complaint from which she has been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for postage, mail order, for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It looks as though the beef packers in the trust were nothing but a lot of pig packers.

The Chicago Chronicle says that President Roosevelt was informed by his favorite and most trusted advisers in the senate that he has not secured an official character for anyone to represent the United States at a monarchical coronation. Nevertheless, he has persisted in giving to White-law Reid and J. L. M. Curry a seeming authority to be special ambassadors of the United States States at coronations.

Secretary Hay is equally involved with President Roosevelt in this usurpation. When Secretary Hay was asked from what public funds money was to be drawn for the expenses of this extra legal embassy he replied that no public money would be taken for the purpose.

This is confession on his part of consciousness that these flunky special coronation embassies are outside the pale of the constitution and laws of the United States.

The act of usurpation acquires coarseness in addition to its illegality from the confession of Mr. Hay. It is coarseness on the part of President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay to lend the name of the government of the United States to private wealth for the purpose of enabling wealth as wealth to make a display at a foreign court, a display resting on a foundation notoriously and confessedly spurious. The indelicacy of the flunky embassy to England matches its illegality.

Mr. Roosevelt evades a just responsibility for this act of usurpation by failing to ask for an appropriation for its expenses. The evasion is transparent.

Were he not conscious that the flunky embassy is illegal and therefore an act of usurpation he would ask of the national legislature an appropriation for its expenses. Self-respect requires that the people of the United States should pay the expenses of their representatives abroad.

The sinister design by which President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay expect to elude congressional check and rebuke should be balked by congress. Both houses should adopt a resolution of censure upon the flunky embassy and thus expose its counterfeit character to all nations.

Such a resolution would vindicate the self-respect of the American people and would put an end forever to a repetition of President Roosevelt's usurpation of authority to appoint an ambassador without the consent of the senate as required by the fundamental law.

Letter from Carl Englert.

Pullman, Wash., May 11, 1902. To the WAYNE DEMOCRAT: Well, Mr. DEMOCRAT, I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know how I got through on my trip. I left Wayne on Monday the 5th and arrived in St. Paul Tuesday at 3:30 a. m. I changed cars there, took the Northern Pacific and went up through North Dakota. It was raining all the time and the farmers had not sowed their wheat yet. North Dakota, is the nicest country I have seen yet. We got to Little Falls, Minn., on Tuesday. It was a town of about 3000 inhabitants, and a good farming country around it. We then went through a rough country, mostly cattle country. Wednesday morning we arrived at Glendive, Mon. It was a cattle country too, and our train was going quite slow, having eleven cars and all being loaded with men, women and children bound for Washington. We got to Butte, Mon., at 7 p. m. Wednesday. It was a very nice place of about 40,000 inhabitants. It is a mining town, mostly copper mining. We passed through Idaho and then went on to Spokane, the nicest city I ever saw, and cannot be beaten in the west. I had two hours to look around and then went on to Pullman, getting there at 12. I walked in a barber shop and found one of my brothers whom I had not seen for 14 years. He did not know me at first. Pullman is located in a wheat country about 80 miles south of Spokane. The soil here is fertile and will raise anything. The land close to Pullman is quite high priced. The fall wheat is 4 inches high and the spring wheat is coming up. The farmers only farm every other year. Farm one year and the next, plow and get ready to plant the next year crop. I have not seen any farms that suit me yet. Hogs are $4.50 wheat 55c, flour 85c per 50 lb., butter 20c, eggs 15c, sugar 20 lbs. for $1.00 and potatoes $1 per hundred lbs. Yours truly, M. S. ENGLERT.

Congressional Convention

P. H. Kohl attended a committee meeting of democrats at Norfolk Monday night at which time the date and place of holding the congressional convention was fixed for June 18 at Columbus. Conductor Porterfield Exonerated

Last Sunday's papers contained an account of a fatal accident at O'Neill, on the Elkhorn road, in which the conductor of the train, a brother of our townsmen, Jas. Porterfield, was for a time held responsible. From the evidence produced Malone, the man killed, was ordered by Conductor Porterfield to shovel some sand away from the side of the plow so that it might slip past the obstruction that was holding it, when the post on which the plow was caught broke loose, and the tension of the cable caused the plow to jump about ten feet ahead, catching Malone under the cross beam behind and crushing him to death. In a letter to his brother Conductor Porterfield explains that he was not to blame as he did not signal the engineer to start forward, and that in the examination held he was released from any responsibility for the man's death.

A Retrospect

Wait, Mason: I wandered to the grogshop, Tom, I stood before the bar, and drank a bowl of lemonade, and smoked a rank cigar; the same old kegs and jugs were there. The ones we used to know when we were on the round up Tom, some fifteen years ago. The bar-keep is a new one, Tom, the one who used to sell corrosive tanglefoot to us, is stoking down in Hell—alifax, the new one has a plate glass front, his hair is combed quite low, he looks just like the one we knew some fifteen years ago. Old Soaks came up and called for booze, and dudlets sizzled in, and burned the lining from their throats with fine old Holland gin; and women stood outside the door, their faces seamed with woe, and wept just as they used to weep some fifteen years ago. I asked about our old time friends, these cheerful, sporty men, and some were in the pen; and one—the one we liked the best—the hang man laid him low; the world is much the same, dear Tom, as fifteen years ago. I asked about the stately chap, whom pride marked for it's own; he used to say that he could drink, or let the stuff alone; he perished of the James H. Jams, out in the storm and snow; few survive who used to bowl some fifteen years ago. New crowds line up against the bar, and call for crimson ink, new hands are trembling as they pour the stuff; they shouldn't drink; but still the same old watchword rings: "This round's on me you know!" The same old cry of doom we heard some fifteen years ago. I wandered to the churchyard, Tom, and there I saw the graves of those who used to drown themselves in red fermented waves; and there were women sleeping there whose grass and haists grow, who wept and died of broken hearts some fifteen years ago. And there were graves where children slept, have slept for many a year forgetful of the woe that marked their short sad journey here; and near a fine tall monument in peace there lieth low, the man who used to sell the booze, some fifteen years ago.

BY DAD.

Wayne is becoming metropolitan when it comes to whistles. It isn't so very long since Weber Bros. quit sounding the noon hour because the expense in loss of steam was more extravagant than the firm cared to stand, but such a turn of affairs wouldn't matter now days, for there's a plenty of them, the Steam Laundry recently adding one to its list of accomplishments. This latest innovation greatly worried the goose at the Sherbaba Laundry, and since the latter institution, only has the steam that comes from boiling clothes a steam whistle was out of the question. "But Al's old goose was on to her job," says Atty. Wilbur who lives next door, "and every morning, noon and night that old goose walks out in the yard and whistles like a good fellow, waking us up at a regular hour every morning, and telling us when to eat, just the same as Peter Coyle's city steam schreecher."

"When the roll is called at the next republican state convention on the 18th of June, on a candidate for state treasurer," remarks a prominent republican, "you may just bet your bottom dollar that Eph Cunningham, at the head of the Wayne county delegation, will outstep those big feet of his, and sing out in that deep, well-known strenuous voice that resembles the bray of an ass: 'Wayne county, the home of Hon. John T. Bressler for the past thirty years, casts eleven votes for Joe Bartley or any other old candidate in preference to the home aspirant.'"

A farmer, at the court house one day this week, got quite hot under the collar because Treasurer Volpp charged him the usual interest. Fred tried to explain the procedure as being correct, when the indignant gentleman stammered: "Yes, you can charge me interest on my taxes, but you couldn't charge the banks any interest on county funds!"

A woman living on the west side has a new scheme to cure a cold in the head. She places onions on the soles of the patient's feet. Now, if you visit the sick in that part of town, don't go home holding your nose and swearing it's winter underclothes.

A. R. Davis was jacking up Sam Davies for the latter's failure to deliver the daily papers, when Sam asked the lawyer: "Where were you last night?" That ended the scoring Sam evidently was otherwise in for, but I didn't learn where Mr. Davis had been "last night," and the only explanation Sam would give was: "Oh, I crawled out of some pretty tight places once in a while. Why the other day a married woman that I missed giving a paper to met me right on Main street, and shook her fist right under my nose and shouted: 'If you weren't so small I'd just do something to you!'"

"A fellow sees so many people in a big city who look like old friends, that he has to be pretty careful about accosting those he does know," remarked James Ahern in speaking of his experience in Chicago. "When Miss Hunter went through Chicago on her way to the Philippines I knew Miss Lucy Buffington was to meet her at the depot, as I was to do myself, so before train time I looked around to find Miss Buffington, whom I had not yet met in the city. I saw her sitting in the depot and started on a double-quick march to her, but when I was within ten feet of her chair and looking straight into her eyes, I noticed that she didn't wink an eye, and she smiled as much as a May tulip. Scared to death I dodged behind a pillar, and then for half an hour I played peek-a-boo with that girl, not daring to go up and ask her if her name was Lucy Buffington, and yet puzzled by the manner in which she kept her eyes on my movements. Long about train time I knew that if she was she, she would come out on the platform to meet Miss Hunter, and Miss Buffington evidently had the same thought regarding myself, for we both were in such a hurry to find out if we were ourselves that we, in our haste, fell right into each other's arms."

By dad, there are no flies on this weather, but there will soon be a plenty if the moisture and heat continues.

The Winside Tribune says: "If Senator Dietrich had just a little bit of sense, enough at least to keep his mouth shut a part of the time, he might have fooled his brother senators for several months yet but as it is he is already known as the Nebraska Ass. And he has nearly five years to serve yet." Well, "his brother senators" will also know that Nebraska is largely populated with asses, if not how did Dietrich come to be senator?

On the Way to the Philippines

On her trip "around the world" to the Philippines Miss Leona Hunter of this city has had some "world wide" experiences, the following extracts of which will be of interest to DEMOCRAT readers.

"When the boat entered the harbor (Columbo) it was surrounded as usual by the natives who were selling everything from a bunch of 150 bananas for ten cents to a diamond ring for 40 lb. They came out to the transport in quiet shaped affairs. They were simply logs hollowed out and the natives seemed very much at home on them. They swarmed around the transport, sang two very beautiful songs (these two seemed to be the only two included in their repertoire) we have heard at home, and foreigners sang them in our native tongue, which made them very impressive. They were 'Ta-ra-ra-Boonday' and 'Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star.'" They danced wildly about in these strange crafts of theirs, and passengers threw coin into the water to see them dive for it. A single coin thrown in the water would cause dozens of the natives to go down after it. Heads would then bob up out of the water, the successful one showing the coin and all in good humor. Speaking about their wardrobe Miss Hunter wrote: "They seemed such a happy, contented people, these Ceyloners, and by far the greater part of their wardrobe consists of a simple worn very simply. I feel quite used to it, and really when you see a polished ebony or brown shoulder or leg, you don't notice it or think about it unless you reflect upon its smoothness and roundness. A white skin might seem immodest but a brown does not."

The letter also told of some of the rare juggling feats of these people. At Colombo they enjoyed riding about the city in a rickshaw which is a two-wheeled vehicle pulled by a coolie. From Colombo the party took a pleasure trip to Kandy, visiting Buddhist temple, tea plantations, etc., having a most enjoyable time.

Under date of April 20 Miss Hunter wrote from the harbor at Manila, the boat not yet having landed. May is a vacation month among the schools there, and she expects to take up her school duties June 1st.

Court Adjourns to 26th

Judge Boyd dismissed the jury last Friday evening until May 26th, next Monday, at which date they may be summoned for the purpose of sitting on the case of Kimball, the horse doctor, who has been in jail three months, held as witness against his alleged bigamous wife. When Mrs. Kimball, or Mrs. Hart, plead guilty last Friday to having too many husbands, a charge of being an accessory before the fact was at once lodged against Kimball, and it may be possible that he will find himself as deep in the mud as his wife is in the mire.

Other matters disposed of last week were McCormack Harvesting Co. vs Reynolds, dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

The jury, in the matter of Tolerton & Stetson vs First National, brought in a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $310, the full amount asked. This was a notable victory for Atty. Welch, a former trial lawyer, who had taken the case to the supreme court. It appears that in the former trial Judge Robinson ruled against the admission in evidence of all mortgages given by W. B. Hughes to the bank except the instrument made some thirty days previous to the Hughes failure. The supreme court held that all prior mortgages given were a part of the case, and their admission by Judge Boyd made it appear that the bank had not placed them on record, allowing Hughes to buy more goods from plaintiff, and the bank taking new paper on the new merchandise.

Hurlbut vs Zielke was dismissed. Frank Northrop vs Wayne county was tried before the court last Saturday, the judge taking it under advisement. Mr. Northrop is suing for salary as county attorney which was held up to cover his personal taxes.

R. M. Farris vs W. C. Wightman was taken up last Friday evening with the examination of one witness for plaintiff, Mr. Reese of Omaha, who was a member of the firm of architects who planned the Wightman residence. The action arises from some misunderstanding in regard to the building of Mr. Wightman's house, and the case was continued until next week.

Koefoed vs Thompson, defendant was given ten days to plead.

The jury gave E. C. Brooks a judgment against F. O. Dahlberg for some $50. Dahlberg sued Brooks for $67 before Squire Burdick, justice court, and the squire gave defendant a verdict for over $100. Then Dahlberg took the matter to the district court and got "waxed" as above which is enough, with all the costs, to make him feel like an iceberg. Judge Burdick was stepping quite high when he heard how the thing had terminated. "I feel," he said in a courtly whisper, "that the verdict of the lower court has been sustained."

Seace vs Wayne county was passed, the plaintiff being under quarantine for small pox.

Bressler vs Sundall passed.

Oman vs Mellor taken to federal court.

The divorce proceedings of Geo. Wotring vs Eva Wotring were dismissed. It appears Eva got George away from the lawyers and quietly fixed up the case to suit herself as they are now living together.

Foot, Schultz & Co. vs E. Cunningham will come before the court next week.

In the matter of Butterfield vs Reimer et al wherein plaintiff got a verdict for some cattle and $75 damages, a motion for a new trial was made by defendants' attorneys.

Fuller & Johnson vs E.H. Jones, decree of foreclosure granted.

Nelson vs Johnson was continued. Defendant is now dead and the difficulty may be compromised.

L. S. Needham vs city of Winside, plaintiff was allowed to withdraw from the corporation.

Harrison vs Ralph, decree foreclosure.

Wilbur vs Wilbur decree of partition rendered.

As stated last week Mrs. Hart plead guilty and got a sentence of one year. The DEMOCRAT is told an effort is being made to induce her to have such plea set aside and stand trial, and save Kimball from prosecution.

Vaughn Davis, who got a divorce from the "Arkansas flea" is said to already have a new matrimonial venture under way with a Carroll widow. Good luck to you Vaughn.

State vs Owens was dismissed.

McElrath vs Moore settled.

The balance of the docket, Wayne county vs the several banks and Kruger vs Saloons, comes before the court next week.

MARK SPRINGER, AND FAMILY.

If there is any possible prospect of Judge Boyd closing up the Wayne saloons the proprietors thereof should use strenuous methods to have the closing come after the circus. The boys can make nearly enough circus duty to pay for a year's license.

Billy Shorten accompanied his father to Sioux City today to see a doctor about the old gentleman's hand. About two weeks ago he was bitten by a cat and his hand has been badly swollen and a nasty sore on it ever since which shows no sign of getting better.

R. P. Williams is enjoying a visit from his father, W. H. Williams of Batavia, Io. The old gentleman is hale and hearty as a man of 60, although in his 81 year, which comes from being a good democrat. Mr. Williams is one of the veterans of the civil war and one of the early settlers of Iowa.

The republican county political pot is boiling over these days, and there is no disguising the fact that somebody is going to be par-boiled before the eruption ceases. It is a bitter fight to see which faction will control the convention, but the Cunningham crowd, having the county central committee, will no doubt bury the Bressler minority out of sight. The DEMOCRAT has it straight that Welch will refuse to consider a nomination for county attorney, and that the compromise will go to Atty. Siman of Winside, or Frank Fuller. A. A. is hustling to get Judge Boyd nominated for congress so that he, A. A., can have a sitch on the nomination for district judge. Judge Boyd is said to be the favorite in a field of candidates. June 7th the local republicans will tear each others hair and gouge out a few political ambitions. "I will be good bye, John."

Installation and Ordination

The Niagara Presbytery met yesterday at the Presbyterian church according to adjournment. Mr. Lloyd Cunningham was examined and the examination was unanimously sustained by the Presbytery.

In the evening the Moderator, Rev. S. Light, presided, and propounded the constitutional questions, Rev. O. A. Elliott preached an able sermon on "The Glorious Church." Rev. S. Sharpless offered the ordaining prayer and Rev. T. Findley gave the charge to the new minister.

The pastoral relation was then consummated between the Rev. Peter Birrell and the Wayne church, the Moderator propounding the questions to pastor and people. Rev. W. M. Devore gave the charge to the pastor and Rev. E. P. Wigton the charge to the people. The union was most happily formed and many warm expressions of loyalty voluntarily given. The prospect is very encouraging, and the motto of the present pastor is "co-operation." The choir rendered some inspiring selections and the audience was large and appreciative.

Unapproachable in Wealth and Grandeur

On May 28 Campbell Bros. Steam Callope plays ahead of the big parade that takes place at 10 a. m. followed by three brass bands, a drum corps and a line of elegantly designed wagons and cages of wild animals rarely exhibited. The parade will be a swell affair free to the vast crowd of people that will throng our streets—a sight never before witnessed in Wayne. Larger, Greater, Grander than ever before, with an entirely new show—new, elegantly finished costumes and wardrobes throughout.

Menagerie, Museum and Exhibition of Trained Animals!
