

JONES' BOOK STORE

The "Palmer" Hammock looks better, lasts longer than any other.

We carry a fine line of the best and Kodak supplies. Eastman Kodaks are always good and the best.

$2.00 BROWNIE FOR $1.60

The Spaulding Famous and best BASE BALL GOODS

We sell them at Chicago Prices.

PIANOS. - - ORGANS

General Agency for the Hardman Pianos. Sheet Music at half-price.

JONES' BOOK STORE.

Ahern's Specials this Week. Shirt Waists and Skirts; Wash Skirts in Duck and Linen Crash; tucked and trimmed at from $1 to to $1.50. With a double circle flounce and Lace trimmed, at from $2.50 to $3.00. AHERN'S.

Cut Glass and Sterling Silver. We have just received. pieces, the most popular of all gifts for weddings. A big assortment to select from. Call and examine. - - - Mines - - - Leading Jeweler.

Table with columns: Name, Personal, Real Estate. Lists names like Sherman, Hoskins, Leslie, Hunter, Wilbur, Garfield, Wayne, Hancock, Plum Creek, Logan, Strahan, Chapin, Deer Creek, Breuna, Winside, Carroll.

GOOD ADVICE. The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects...

Grand News from Grand Island

After a couple of strenuous days at Grand Island the democrats and populists got down to sensible business principles and undoubtedly put up the strongest ticket that could possibly be named. Every citizen of the state, irrespective of politics, can vote for W. H. Thompson of Grand Island for governor, and know they are supporting as good a man as the sun ever shone upon. The ticket complete is as follows: For Governor W. H. THOMPSON; For lieutenant governor E. A. GILBERT; For secretary of state JOHN H. POWERS; For attorney-general J. H. BROAD; For com. public lands and buildings JAMES C. BRENNAN; For treasurer J. N. LYMAN; For auditor C. Q. DEFRANCE; For supt. of public instruction CLAUDE SMITH.

When you want ice cream for socials, lawn fetes, lodge banquets, etc., order from Steen and get the best. Mr. Steen will take back all cream left over at full price.

Letter from Squire Burdick

The following epistle was received by a friend of F. W. Burdick. No doubt the many friends of the squire will wonder why he took a side door pullman. The DEMOCRAT is told that between the Burdick and Grimsley families there was a carload of stuff to ship to Seattle. Always up to date and with an eye open for the almighty dollar, our friend purchased a $40 cow, stored her aboard the car, and then secured a permit from the railroads to accompany the live stock. Arrived in Seattle the cow is sold for $40, presto! fare on judge is saved. The letter is as follows: Dear Sir—After having your place on the 8th inst. at 7 a. m. I reached St. Paul about the same hour next morning over your line and left in the evening over the Great Northern for this point, at which place I arrived in good order at about 5 p. m. of the 16th, being on the road a little over 7 days. I was put on a first class Pullman and kept going all the time except a stop of about 8 hours at Wilson Creek, Wash where Henry Layman and George Stevens live. I did not have the good fortune to meet them but at the next station I met the elder Mr. Stevens and Mr. Jack Chaffee for a moment. I enjoyed the trip very much and received the best of attention from the officers and employees even to them phoning to Mr. Grimsley from a station a few miles out that I was on the train. Mr. Grimsley was at the train to welcome me and make me feel at home. All along the route there was something to interest me and while we traveled at a rapid rate, from my side door pullman, I had a good view of the country and had a most pleasant trip, if possible, than the one to Salt Lake and Butte last winter. I like the scenery on the Great Northern much better than on the Denver & Rio Grande. The timber on this route over the Rockies and the Cascade range is a sight to see alone, but when you come to look upon the giant trees, hemlock, spruce and fir, and the almost countless cascades of clear running water, and the many curves and tunnels through which we pass it is certainly a trip long to be remembered. In one place in coming over the Cascade range the conductor taking special pains to point out places of interest to me called my attention to two railroads below us and a train coming in the same direction with us on the "fast" track below. He told me we would turn after a time and meet the train which we did and making the second turn was on the third track down the mountain. Seattle is a beautiful city and has many points of interest to one who has always lived inland. The U. S. transport "Dis" is lying here loading for our country of construction. The keel will be laid on the 4th of July with great ceremony and the governor of Neb. with his staff will be here to assist and preparations are being made to have a very grand affair, Mr. Grimsley being on a committee to receive the governor. I wish to thank you for advising me to take the Great Northern route as I feel that no other route could have had as many points of interest. I will only add that we had the most courteous treatment with all connected with the Ry. and had no trouble in any way with over charges for extras on car and feel well satisfied with the treatment we received. Yours truly, F. W. BURDICK.

Dear Sir—After having your place on the 8th inst. at 7 a. m. I reached St. Paul about the same hour next morning over your line and left in the evening over the Great Northern for this point, at which place I arrived in good order at about 5 p. m. of the 16th, being on the road a little over 7 days. I was put on a first class Pullman and kept going all the time except a stop of about 8 hours at Wilson Creek, Wash where Henry Layman and George Stevens live. I did not have the good fortune to meet them but at the next station I met the elder Mr. Stevens and Mr. Jack Chaffee for a moment. I enjoyed the trip very much and received the best of attention from the officers and employees even to them phoning to Mr. Grimsley from a station a few miles out that I was on the train. Mr. Grimsley was at the train to welcome me and make me feel at home. All along the route there was something to interest me and while we traveled at a rapid rate, from my side door pullman, I had a good view of the country and had a most pleasant trip, if possible, than the one to Salt Lake and Butte last winter. I like the scenery on the Great Northern much better than on the Denver & Rio Grande. The timber on this route over the Rockies and the Cascade range is a sight to see alone, but when you come to look upon the giant trees, hemlock, spruce and fir, and the almost countless cascades of clear running water, and the many curves and tunnels through which we pass it is certainly a trip long to be remembered. In one place in coming over the Cascade range the conductor taking special pains to point out places of interest to me called my attention to two railroads below us and a train coming in the same direction with us on the "fast" track below. He told me we would turn after a time and meet the train which we did and making the second turn was on the third track down the mountain. Seattle is a beautiful city and has many points of interest to one who has always lived inland. The U. S. transport "Dis" is lying here loading for our country of construction. The keel will be laid on the 4th of July with great ceremony and the governor of Neb. with his staff will be here to assist and preparations are being made to have a very grand affair, Mr. Grimsley being on a committee to receive the governor. I wish to thank you for advising me to take the Great Northern route as I feel that no other route could have had as many points of interest. I will only add that we had the most courteous treatment with all connected with the Ry. and had no trouble in any way with over charges for extras on car and feel well satisfied with the treatment we received. Yours truly, F. W. BURDICK.

Planets roll from far and near, that's why the Planet whisky's here. If you can't move about real spry just take a drink of this famous rye. And if your sight is dim and poor, see the lighted sign at Oscar's door.

If you appreciate the DEMOCRAT as a newspaper, bring us a share of your job printing. Don't imagine that because the Democrat prints the news it doesn't deserve a share of the business that there is a profit in.

Prof. Darrin is turning out a fine tomstoe for the late A. J. Watson of the Coleridge Blade. The finishing shows a delicate hand and quill carved out of Carara marble. The inscriptions are: A. J. Watson, March 2, 1852, Oct. 12, 1901.

Joe Cullen, now of Geddes, S. D., was in town Monday night. He had left Mrs. Cullen at the hospital in Sioux City where she underwent an operation for the removal of a water cist. Joe says that for a time her life hung in the balance but she was now on the way to recovery.

Nelson Grimsley writes the DEMOCRAT from Seattle, jacking us up for not sending him the paper, which has been going to his address regularly. We notice by Nels' letter heading that he is president of a grocery and cigar house, incorporated, the firm being Grimsley-Sherwood-Russell Co.

Dr. Van Keuren, brother of Mrs. Dan Harrington, who has many friends in Wayne, is to be married June 30th to Miss Severance of Chicago. The doctor was in Sioux City Wednesday to meet Miss Severance and her mother, the young lady being a sister of Mrs. Ballard of Randolph, at whose home the ceremony will take place.

The DEMOCRAT has just put in a new 8x12 lightning job press and we can now make short work of long orders. For the next 90 days—quiet summer months—we will just whack off 20 per cent on note heads, letter heads, cards, notes, envelopes and statements, etc., from present low prices. Farmers will find it cheaper to use printed stationery. 100 envelopes and 100 note heads, all printed, for $1. Try us.

Ed. Mitchell is now one of the sorest politicians in the state. Mr. Mitchell had been expecting an appointment from Gov. Savage as a member of the normal school board, and it was supposed to be as secure as one of John Bressler's famous promises, but T. M. Majors got the position. It isn't so much the appointment as it is the way he was beat out of it that worries Ed.

On Tuesday, July 15, I will conduct an excursion from Wayne to Norwich, McHenry county, North Dakota. The fare from Wayne to Norwich will be $12.40 and the tickets are good to return for 21 days from the purchase. The unimproved lands in McHenry county are selling at about $5 per acre and improved lands from $12 to $20 per acre. The soil is as fine as can be found anywhere, with an abundant rainfall and the winters are not severe. Last year wheat yielded from 12 to 30 bushels per acre and oats and barley from $5 to $6 bushels per acre. The land is level and well watered. I will be at the Boyd hotel in Wayne on Saturday, July 12, and will be glad to give all the information I can regarding this excursion and not finding the country exactly as I represent it will have fare refunded. Call and see me. H. F. SLAUGHTER.

Cheap Lands, Good Homes. On Tuesday, July 15, I will conduct an excursion from Wayne to Norwich, McHenry county, North Dakota. The fare from Wayne to Norwich will be $12.40 and the tickets are good to return for 21 days from the purchase. The unimproved lands in McHenry county are selling at about $5 per acre and improved lands from $12 to $20 per acre. The soil is as fine as can be found anywhere, with an abundant rainfall and the winters are not severe. Last year wheat yielded from 12 to 30 bushels per acre and oats and barley from $5 to $6 bushels per acre. The land is level and well watered. I will be at the Boyd hotel in Wayne on Saturday, July 12, and will be glad to give all the information I can regarding this excursion and not finding the country exactly as I represent it will have fare refunded. Call and see me. H. F. SLAUGHTER.

LOCAL NEWS.

Ale and Porter on tap at Mildner's. Heckert, dentist over P. L. Miller's 5 room house for rent. E. K. SURBER. Charles Mix county lands for sale. PHIL H. KOHL, agt.

Rev. and Mrs. Bithell were in Sioux City Wednesday. You always get the beat there is at the Brookings grocery. A good draft team weighing 2800 to 3000. See George Savage.

Wakefield is going to make the eagle scream in glorious fashion. Mrs. Jas. Coyle and children were visitors from Randolph Wednesday. Trade at the Brookings grocery and save money on the necessities of life.

Fred Benschoff and J. P. Peterson came home Monday from South Dakota. For every known kind of insurance call on E. R. Surber in the old Strahan office near the postoffice.

Edward and Fred Thompson, sons of Fred, sr., left Tuesday for Minnesota in search of some prairie lands. Want some home-made bread, try Steen's. Want the best fresh bread, cookies, cakes, pies, etc. Steen's is the place to get them.

O. D. Van Buskirk and wife are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Darrell, the ladies being sisters. Mr. Van Buskirk is a life insurance man.

Mrs. Chas. Lundgren was an arrival from Norfolk Wednesday and will spend a few days with the Coyle family before returning to her home in Sioux City.

A. L. Tucker says the most interesting thing he has read in a long time was Bryan's opinion of Grover Cleveland. It is rich reading for anybody except a Cleveland scapler.

Of all the wines you ever drank to take the shirk from out your tank, the best in town, when you "go down the line," is the Capital place where men drink or dine.

Of all the anti-Bresslerites, Chris Wishoff was the best pleased over John's defeat. Some good democrats paid all of Chris' expenses to the state convention and then some.

Shannon Bros. last Friday bought the Manning ranch near Carroll, some four or five hundred acres, and the price paid was $35,000. This includes all the crop and ten head of horses.

Mrs. John Kate, Alice and the baby left Wednesday for Audubon, Iowa, to spend the 4th. Mrs. Kate was formerly president of the Columbia club of Audubon which has the celebration in charge.

Tell us why a druggist offers you a substitute for the Madison Medicine Co's. Rocky Mountain Tea. Does he love you or is he after the bigger profit? Think it over. Raymond's Pharmacy.

Planets roll from far and near, that's why the Planet whisky's here. If you can't move about real spry just take a drink of this famous rye. And if your sight is dim and poor, see the lighted sign at Oscar's door.

If you appreciate the DEMOCRAT as a newspaper, bring us a share of your job printing. Don't imagine that because the Democrat prints the news it doesn't deserve a share of the business that there is a profit in.

Prof. Darrin is turning out a fine tomstoe for the late A. J. Watson of the Coleridge Blade. The finishing shows a delicate hand and quill carved out of Carara marble. The inscriptions are: A. J. Watson, March 2, 1852, Oct. 12, 1901.

Joe Cullen, now of Geddes, S. D., was in town Monday night. He had left Mrs. Cullen at the hospital in Sioux City where she underwent an operation for the removal of a water cist. Joe says that for a time her life hung in the balance but she was now on the way to recovery.

Nelson Grimsley writes the DEMOCRAT from Seattle, jacking us up for not sending him the paper, which has been going to his address regularly. We notice by Nels' letter heading that he is president of a grocery and cigar house, incorporated, the firm being Grimsley-Sherwood-Russell Co.

Dr. Van Keuren, brother of Mrs. Dan Harrington, who has many friends in Wayne, is to be married June 30th to Miss Severance of Chicago. The doctor was in Sioux City Wednesday to meet Miss Severance and her mother, the young lady being a sister of Mrs. Ballard of Randolph, at whose home the ceremony will take place.

The DEMOCRAT has just put in a new 8x12 lightning job press and we can now make short work of long orders. For the next 90 days—quiet summer months—we will just whack off 20 per cent on note heads, letter heads, cards, notes, envelopes and statements, etc., from present low prices. Farmers will find it cheaper to use printed stationery. 100 envelopes and 100 note heads, all printed, for $1. Try us.

Ed. Mitchell is now one of the sorest politicians in the state. Mr. Mitchell had been expecting an appointment from Gov. Savage as a member of the normal school board, and it was supposed to be as secure as one of John Bressler's famous promises, but T. M. Majors got the position. It isn't so much the appointment as it is the way he was beat out of it that worries Ed.

S. T. Wilson made a business trip to Ponca Tuesday.

M. S. Davies was in Laurel Tuesday where he sold a party in organ.

For whiskey, punch, for rum or gin, step into Hank's just once again.

When you smoke a Wayne Leader cigar you are getting something good.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. King and Mrs. McKee were arrivals Tuesday evening. Fine half section, 1 1/2 miles from Wayne at $80 per acre. Enquire of, E. R. SURBER.

Whenever you think that you're not "it," just go down to Franks and take a "nip."

Jas. Britton went to Stewart Tuesday evening to take care of a case in bankruptcy.

Don't let lice and mites take your profits. Use Lee's Lice Killer. Buy from Fuerchner, Duerig & Co.

Mrs. D. L. Sigworth and son Dwight left Tuesday for Lake Okoboji where they will enjoy the summer months.

Messrs Kohl, Volpp, W. A. K. Neely, Henry Klipping, Robt. Skiles and O. J. Rundell left Monday for Grand Island to make state officials.

F. M. Skeen was down from the farm this week looking up some trades. He and the boys will quit farming July 4th and move back to the city.

Frank Girten was a candidate for the cadetship, at the examination held in Norfolk last Saturday. Frank passed a very good examination, taking third money.

There is nothing that will bring more joy to your soul some hot Sunday than to remember you had ordered a case of Bud, Lemp or Pabst from Franks, the day previous.

You love the girls, I love the flowers, and the wheat and oats they smile at the showers, but the thing that fills every man with delight is to sample a "case" at Franks after night.

J. W. Mason has probably the finest cherry and apple trees in this part of the country. An apple tree on the south side of his residence raises about ten bushels of first class apples.

T. F. Godfrey, general passenger agent, and Tom Hughes, traveling passenger agent, of the M. & P. Road were visitors in town Tuesday. The former is a brother-in-law of J. G. Mines.

Peter Christenson and Miss Rosa Holmes, both of Breuna precinct, were married last Saturday by Judge Hunter. The young couple will make their home this summer with the groom's parents. The Democrat extends its congratulations.

Simon Goeman brought in a load of hogs Tuesday that brought him $158. Simon is one of the lucky boys who bought 160 acres of land a year ago and can now have $20 an acre for his bargain. But Simon deserves it; he is always ready to part with a dollar for the DEMOCRAT.

Atty. Berry was in Carroll again Wednesday closing up the sale of Henry Bassford's stock of merchandise to M. S. Linn and W. E. Hellows. The DEMOCRAT understands that Mr. Bassford was not in the best of circumstances financially for carrying on the business.

The DEMOCRAT man has a new job press, and the Mrs. DEMOCRAT a $400 piano, this week. Now, don't imagine for a moment that our "dinner pail" bears the g. o. p. stamp. The new press is the fruit of a trade for an old one, and the piano comes from a dear relative of the Mrs. By bad. Yes, by gum, it pinched our pocket books to pay the freight on 'em.

Herman Mildner will leave next month on a trip to the old country where he will visit about six weeks. Herman had intended to go a week or two earlier and attend the coronation of King Edward, in England, but when he learned that all visitors to the high function were bound to appear in knee breeches, his good old dutch rebelled. Herman says there is no use going all the way to England to see a "call" show when they have one in Omaha every day in the week.

Judge Hunter held an early session of court Monday morning and bound James Hancock, charged with bastardy by Sadie Moore, over to the next term of district court in the sum of $1000. Attorney Powers of Norfolk appeared for Hancock, but the DEMOCRAT understands the plaintiff's story was brief and breezy. A party who claims to know says the girl's evidence is to the effect that the crime was not repeated and that present indications tend to prove that she must be mixed in her dates.

Where To Celebrate

It is the duty of every American citizen to celebrate the nation's birthday. At no time in our experience have the people been more prosperous, and as we are at peace with the world let us all celebrate the glorious Fourth. Where to go is a question with some and what to wear a question with all. We cannot answer the first question, but we are in a position to satisfy any man or boy as to what they should wear.

DON'T YOU DO IT

Don't think of enjoying yourself in an old suit of clothes. You will get more than double the enjoyment if you come here before the 4th and rig up for the occasion. Your friends will brighten up and it is your duty to look as well as you can. If you buy clothing here you will get stylish clothing and you will have money left to celebrate with.

COME TO WAYNE

Before the 4th, If you will come here and buy your clothing you can save enough to pay all your necessary expenses on the 4th; not only that but you will get better clothing, and if you want extra good things to wear you will find them here. Our stock is large and complete in everything that is stylish. You will find what you want and the prices are lower than elsewhere. One price to all.

The 2 Johns. ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS. WAYNE, NEB. We sell the Best Plow SHOE. We Speak GERMAN. We Sell the Best Boys' SHOE. We Speak SWEDISH.

WE ARE OFFERING

A Fine street skirt, circle flounce, tucked or corded, at $3.00, $3.25, $4.00, $4.75, $5.00, $6.00 and $7.50. A Black or Colored Dress Skirt Venetian or Cheviot at $3.50, $5.75, $7 and up to $10.0. M. P. AHERN'S.

Carlton County, Minn.

Wallace's Farmer of May 9, 1902, contains the following article by Mr. H. C. Wallace of the Journal.

The writer recently looked over some of the land owned and offered for sale in Carlton county, Minn., by the Guaranty Farm Land Co., Duluth, Minn. If the reader will consult his map he will see that Carlton county lies to the southeast of the cities of Duluth and West Superior and only a few miles from them. The soil is a red clay with a sufficient amount of sand to make it warm and friable. Through this district the pine has been cut off, but there is considerable hard wood on the land. The Guaranty Farm Land Co.'s lands lie to the south and east of Carlton, and a thriving town on both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads, and but 25 miles from Duluth. The towns of Wrenshall and Barker, however, are the nearest stations to these lands. Barker is at the present time simply a station but Wrenshall is quite a little village and has three large brick yards which are turning out an excellent quality of brick. The yards consume about 15000 cords of wood each year and this market affords to the settlers an unusual opportunity to turn their waste into cash. The reader will understand that all these unenclosed timber lands are covered with more or less dead and downy pine, hardwood of various kinds, tamarack, fir, etc. Much of the pine is valuable for lumber and much of the hardwood is valuable for posts and ties. The stuff that has no other value but can be worked up into cord wood is what these brick yards buy, paying now $1.15 per cord raked up on the farm and doing their own hauling. This waste wood therefore, which in many other localities is burned on the ground, will very materially reduce the price of the land. The land is generally rolling, some sections more than others, well watered with streams and spring brooks, will grow magnificent timothy and clover, vegetable and root crops to perfection, and located as it is, within 35 miles of the lake ports, and the mining country offers excellent opportunity to the thrifty farmer of small means.

For Particulars and Prices See Real Estate and Loans. R. K. James, Office Over the First Nat. Bank.

- Uncle Tom's Cabin, 15 and 25 cts. Prof. Pile went to Stanton today. See Eva and her beautiful Shetland pony. Montgomery Bros. Pavilion Uncle Tom's Cabin, 15 and 25 cts. The Bayer Sisters, Maude Benschoff and F. O. Davis secured homesteads in Dakota last week. Some liquor is good and some is bad, the latter kind makes bad men mad. But if you want to think you're right, get on a "jolt," like the river Styx, then go to O. D. Franks saloon and nestle in the green briars loun. You can take it straight without any water, and it won't drive you home to "Mick" wife or daughter.

BINDING TWINE. Plymouth Twine is the Best, The Evenest, Longest and therefore the Best. Plymouth Standard Twine runs more feet to the pound than any other standard twine on the market. It is cricket proof and always gives excellent satisfaction. We have plenty of it, and will be pleased to take your order, either now or when you need it, and guarantee the price to be as low as any other good twine. If you have never used it, try it, and if you have tried it we know you want it again this year, and we have it. CRAVEN BROTHERS.

King of the Field

The Warner Double-Rowed Corn Plows

The Warner is without doubt the best Lister Cultivator in the market. We will be pleased to show you their points of vantage over other makes. They are the cheapest corn plow to be had.

Famous Henney Buggies

Are the Best Manufactured

and have a reputation that no other carriage built has been able to attain. If you want a buggy that looks nice and one that will last you a life time, come and see the Henney and get prices.

JOHN M. M'GINTY.

Hear the pigs squeal!

When fed cooked feed from a

..Purinton Feed Cooker..

This is the greatest food saver and pork maker on the market. It will make you more money "in pork" than any other machine on the farm. Call and see one in operation at

ROUSH BROS. SHOP

Carry the News - - -

About Carroll and vicinity that George Rohwer has opened a firstclass sample room in that town where you can get the best beer brewed and pure whiskies and choice Cigars.

The Glad news.

Never Dry

OUR SODA FOUNTAIN

We make good Soda
We make good Ice Cream
We make the best Syrups
That fruit and sugar produce

In just the right proportion and it makes the

BEST SODA

56 A Large Glass at the Small Price of 56

"You are Always Welcome"

Raymond's Drug Store.

HENRY LEV, Pres., C.A. CHACK, Vice Pres

ROLLIE W. LEV, Cashier.

STATE BANK OF WAYNE

Individual Responsibility, $200,000.

Transacts a general banking business. Drafts on all foreign countries.

J. M. STRAHAN, Pres., FRANK E. STRAHAN, Vice Pres
H. F. WILSON, Cashier.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $100,000

STOCKHOLDERS - J. W. Jones, J. M. Strahan, Geo. Bogart, Jos. V. Hinchman, Geo. M. Knight, A. J. Davis, A. Hershey, John T. Bressler, James Paul, E. R. Chace, R. E. K. Mellor, Frank Fuller, Frank E. Strahan, H. F. Wilson, H. H. Moses, Nelson Grimsley.

WE SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

JOHN S. LEWIS, JR.,

Manufacturer of and Dealer in HARNESSES

Saddles, Bridles, Whips, Blankets, Combs, Brushes, Etc.

Agent for Cooper Wagons.

Wayne, Neb. Repairing of all kinds promptly done. Pender, Neb.

Will It Cure Me?

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cures of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Why shouldn't it cure her? Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Favorite Prescription." Is it a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thousands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"Three years ago," writes Mrs. John Graham, of 205 Fifth Street, (Frankford) Philadelphia, Pa., "I had a very bad attack of dizziness which left me with heart trouble, and also a very weak back. At times I was unable to get up or to do anything for myself. My children advised me to take your 'Favorite Prescription,' but I was so much discouraged with everything, that I came to Philadelphia two years ago, and picking up one of your little books of 'Favorite Prescription' I read what your medicine had done for others. I determined to try it myself. I took seven bottles, and to-day I am a strong, well woman, weighing 125 pounds. Have gained 20 pounds since I started to use 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

THE DEMOCRAT

WAYNE, NEBRASKA
W. S. GOLDIE, Editor and Publisher.
SUBSCRIPTION: $1.50 PER YEAR; IF PAID IN ADVANCE, $1.00.

Now that the coronation of old man Wétlin has been declared off, Whitelaw Reid and his knepanties can come home and receive the ridicule they deserve.

Bryan's opinion of Cleveland, called forth because of the recent "harmony" dinner by Hill and Cleveland, is about as hot a thing as usually gets into print. The "roast" will be found on the inside pages of this paper.

A Concord woman has gone to a hospital to recover her voice. There is a handful of old hens in Wayne who lose a whole lot of voice every day in the year. But a little new scandal brings them a breezy new breath every morning.

The article on this page entitled "Railroads Assessed Higher Here," is the first of a series of paid ads run by the railroads. It will be the duty of the state press to nullify any wrongful impression these articles might be intended to produce. The railroads of the state are entitled to a hearing in the matter of taxation and to a just and equitable treatment, but the trouble is they want to run the government, and by grace of the republican party they come most horribly near doing it.

If you mix in up-to-date politics at all you must carry your "gall" or "check" right to the front. The modest, unassuming politician is badly frost-bitten with the mercury at 90 in the shade. While the "supreme nerve" of some fellows is past finding out, they are the geyzers who spout the biggest stream in modern politics. The man who keeps out of that game and tries a little poker or whisky will come a whole lot nearer winning a glorious reward in the hereafter.

A number of young men were recently brought before Judge Murphy, of Jersey City, charged with Sunday ball playing. The judge handed down the following sensible verdict: "Where ball games are played in open or isolated lots on Sunday and the comfort and peace of the community are not broken," said the justice, "my opinion is that arrests should not be made. The young men are benefited by the exercise, especially those who have been confined in the factories all the week. It is better for them to enjoy such healthful recreation than to congregate on street corners or gather in places where they might be subjected to temptation. I take this opportunity of serving notice on the police that this court will not discriminate against baseball in the matter of Sunday violations.

Anyway the democrats and populists will elect a county attorney and commissioner this fall and do it without "turning a hair."

What a racket the world is making this week over one bunch of old bones and rotten flesh. Thirty or forty thousand better men, ay, noble men, perished in useless, ruthless war in the last two or three years, and the present gives not a thought to them, and here is one old reprobate of a king, who, if he got his just deserts ought to die in the almshouse, receiving more attention than a game of pig-ping.

To the young men who are ambitious, to serve their country, to make a name for themselves and in some measure at least to guide the destinies of the nation. The Independent would say, now is the time to lay a sure foundation for future fame. It is as certain that the republican party is going out of power as that in the breasts of some men there will always be a love for mankind and that they will sympathize with the oppressed.

Too few benefit by wars of conquest, special privileges and the favors that the trusts and corporations can bestow, for it permanently to hold a majority of the American people. Nothing but selfishness hold it together. It is to the interest of a few to support its policies, but it is impossible for it to make it for the interest of the many, for it exists to exploit the many for the benefit of the few.

The foundation of reform has been laid in the labor and self-sacrifice of a generation of men who are now passing away and the young men who take up the work will reap the rewards. That is the history of all reform. One generation suffers, sacrifices and lays the foundation in days of darkness and often in despair. Then another generation takes up the work and carries it on to success. None of the great and patriotic men who laid the foundations for the abolition of human slavery, in this or any other country, ever received any reward in office or emoluments. The young men who took up their fight, where pioneers laid it down, got the rewards. So it will be in this contest of the common people against the aggregation of capital and wars of conquest. The policies now advocated by the republican party are as certain to be overthrown as was human slavery. That is the very nature of man.

All literature will be against it. Oppression never produced a writer whose works have lived. All poets sing of liberty and never of greed. Not in any country in the whole world, while slavery existed, did there ever a writer appear whose work has lived, except his work was a protest against it. Literature is slowly undermining the foundations upon which the republican party rests. In its literature appeals to the better nature of the heart and soul of man. It is full of meaningless catch phrases, bitter invective, slander and malice. Such literature does not influence mankind and it dies the day that it is born.

On the side of liberty, therefore the scholarship and all the higher impulses are to be found. In the end they will conquer and the day will come when those who are now advocating wars of conquest, government by force, special privileges for the few and the concentration of wealth will be held in universal detestation. This is the era for the young man in politics. Those who have foresight to take advantage of it will be the rulers of this country, just as those who took advantage of the labors and sacrifices of the pioneer reformers of the forties and fifties have ruled for the last half century. If these men had been faithful to the teachings of those reformers they would rule on, but they have discarded the Declaration of Independence, torn the constitution into shreds and are now advocating the very things that their forefathers wiped off the face of the earth.

There is no hope for the young man in the republican party, even in the near future. It is dominated by old men who have grown hard and selfish. They are extremely rich. They are at the head of the trusts, great banks, and railroad corporations. They will give no heed to the aspirations of generous youth. In their arrogance of power and greed for money they will consider nothing else. If they can use a young man to further their interests they will do it. But they will pay no heed to the aspirations of the young man who desires to do something that will live in history and be remembered as a blessing to the world. Let the young man who has aspirations forsake the rotten old hulk, dominated by bankers, trust and railroad magnates and join the ranks of those whose motto is onward and upward. Let them enroll themselves among those whose work will be of the most noble glory of this republic in the ages to come. - Nebraska Independent.

How to Avoid Trouble

Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over, and if procured now may save you a trip to town in the night or in your busiest season. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. No family can afford to be without it.

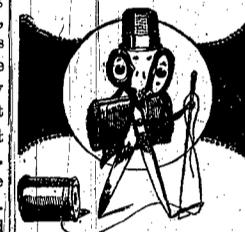

Free Dishes!

We are giving away some very nice pieces to our cash customers. Call and see if you wouldn't like one.

Groceries - Dry Goods Shoes, Hats and Shirts

You will find general merchandise cheaper at our store than at the others and we'll be glad to see you.

Mrs. August Piepenstock

Hear the Birds

warbling over their fine feathers! You would feel good, too, if you didn't feel as shabby as you look.

Sing Get Ready for Spring

by selecting a neat and natty suit of fashionable wear. I have some excellent patterns to show you.

HOLTZ, The Tailor.

RAILROADS ASSESSED HIGHER HERE

Figures that Don't Lie Prove that Nebraska Roads Pay More Taxes Than Those of Other States.

Official Statement of Total Taxable Values Returned by States Contiguous to Nebraska, Together with Comparison of Taxable Values Returned on Lands, Live Stock and Railroads Issued Under the Authority of the Railroads of Nebraska.

This is the first of a series of articles which will appear, giving full details regarding the taxes paid by the Railroads of Nebraska, and such information as will enable you to fully understand who pays the taxes in Nebraska, and why the various Boards of Equalization from year to year have made the valuation of railroad property that has been given out to the various counties.

A great deal of this information has been presented from time to time to the Board of Equalization, and it has been considered by them in their estimates, while other lines of information, which we will present, have never before appeared in print.

The Railroads of Nebraska have nothing to conceal regarding their tax matters; they pay and pay promptly their full proportion of taxes. They have more interest in the successful development of Nebraska than any other single industry, and at all times want to work with the people of the state for the public good.

The managers of the Railroads are business men, who provide for the payment of the taxes charged against their roads as conscientiously as they provide for the payment of their employees. In several instances in this state, the Railroads have paid ten times more tax to the counties and state than they have paid in profit to the stockholders of the companies, and this has been paid without complaint, and promptly, when due.

The stockholders of these companies are relying on Nebraska's future. They gladly pay the tax charged, so that the schools can be carried on, and those improvements made that would show progress and induce other people to come here, and assist in the state's development.

It is on Nebraska's future that they build their hopes of profit. There are other roads in this state, which by combination with great systems, pay dividends, and in those cases, they pay more than their proportion of taxes in every instance, taking any other industry of the state in comparison.

All that the Railroads care about in this matter of paying of taxes, is that they receive fair treatment. They would not be party to an attempt to defraud the state or counties of any just tax, but of course the interests of their stockholders prevent them from allowing an outrageous or unjust assessment.

In such matters as these, the state of Nebraska naturally must expect to keep in line with what is done in other states. They would not want to impose a tax that would prevent the roads passing through Nebraska, from successfully competing for interstate traffic, because the courts would naturally remedy such action in time. The most difficult lesson to learn in political economy has been equality in taxation, and it has never yet been mastered. The Revolution, that resulted in the formation of our government, was fanned to flames through resentment caused by unjust taxes. In our constitution, it was expressly provided that "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated." And it was the direct result of this feeling of protest against former impositions regarding the collection of taxes, and this provision in our constitution makes the question of equality in taxation in this country, more difficult than in a monarchy.

If the individual or private corporation misrepresents the value of his property holdings, there is no way of making him reveal. The Railroads, on the contrary, make monthly reports and public quotations are daily made of their securities and every cent of their value is revealed whether it be real or speculative.

To show the extent to which other property than Railroad property is omitted from taxation in Nebraska, thus obliging Railroads to pay an undue share of tax, we give the following statement:

STATE.	Total Taxable Returned.	Total Railroad Returned.	Per Cent Returned.	TAXABLE VALUES RETURNED - Assessed Value							Amount Miles Tax Paid Railroad.
				Lands.	Cattle.	Hrs. Mules.	Hogs	Per Mile.	Per Mile.	Per Mile.
Nebraska	$11,765,333	$28,442,094	2.42	4.73	4.66	7.41	.74	.59	$4,679	$198.86	9,438
Iowa	658,422,618	47,328,911	0.54	13.13	6.06	13.93	.53	1.47	6,029	159.69	9,438
Wyoming	37,323,293	2,246,242	0.60	16.75	17.14	41.58	2.07	1.11	6,004	128.45	1,105
Missouri	1,001,304,494	98,621,282	9.84	20.92	14.14	24.08	1.44	1.80	11,600	174.90	6,675
Montana	165,371,695	15,485,870	9.36	4.42	17.70	29.63	20.63	2.78	5,184	111.92	2,982
Oregon	111,248,518	5,645,513	5.07	3.30	20.60	20.63	2.78	2.71	120,811	129.81	1,728
North Dakota	111,248,518	10,661,553	9.58	3.39	30.60	13.00	13.00	1.75	3,000	6,400	157.11	2,889

In determining the values of lands in the foregoing statement, in those states where they have been separated the improved from the unimproved lands, we have added them together in this manner, taking the state of Nebraska for instance:

Improved Land	17,445,819	$69,450,478
Unimproved Land	14,379,214	17,584,677
		$1,825,033
		$78,044,155

$2.13 per acre.

The rate of tax paid per mile is taken from the report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission for the year 1910, and the figures are therefore official.

The state of Nebraska has assessed railroad property at the highest comparative figure of any of the states named. If you take the state of Missouri (which had the highest valuation on railroad property in 1900 of any state west of the Mississippi) as basis of equalization or values, if the Railroad valuation in Missouri, $11,600; tax paid by railroads per mile in Missouri, $174.90. Railroad valuation in Nebraska, $4,679; tax paid per mile in Nebraska, $198.86. Average tax per mile in seven states, $163.69.

Special Excursions to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, and Other Lake Superior Points.

Tickets sold June 1st to Sept. 10th good returning until Oct. 31st. Rates vary according to time of purchase. For further information call at depot.

T. MORAN, AGENT

Of what does a bad taste in your mouth remind you? It indicates that your stomach is in bad condition and will remind you that there is nothing so good for such a disorder as Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets after having once used them. They cleanse and invigorate the stomach and regulate the bowels. For sale at 25 cents per box by Raymond.

All eyes are turned toward Boyd county and Gregory county. I have a list of bargains in ranches and farm lands that I will be glad to show you.

E. R. SURBER.

BELLE CITY THRESHER

A small thrasher of great capacity. Will thresh all kinds of grain. Requires few men to operate. Full line of engines and machinery.

Send for Catalogue.

LININGER & METCALF CO., OMAHA

DON'T BE FOOLED!

Take the genuine, original ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA Made only by Madison Medicine Co., Madison, Wis. It keeps you well. Our grade mark cut on each package. Price, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Accept no substitute.

Supintendent's Notice.

Teacher's examinations will be held on the third Saturday of each month and Friday preceding. Saturdays office days.

C. H. BRIGHT, County Superintendent of Public Instruction.

F. M. THOMAS, ...OSTEOPATHY...

In office at Wayne except Tuesdays and Fridays when at Winside.

No Knife, - No Drugs

GUY R. WILBUR, FRANK A. BERRY, WILBUR & BERRY, Lawyers.

Special attention given to collections. Have a complete set of abstracts of title of Wayne county and towns therein, and a bonded abstractor in the office. Titles examined and perfected.

Office over Wayne Nat. Bank Bldg., WAYNE, NEB.

Elmer R. Lundburg Attorney

Wayne, Nebraska.

A. A. WELCH, H. F. WOOD, WELCH & WOOD ATTORNEYS AT LAW

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

H. G. LEISENRING, Physician and Surgeon.

Office over State Bank.

Dr. J. J. WILLIAMS, Physician and Surgeon

WAYNE, NEB.

The Citizens' Bank, (INCORPORATED)

A. L. TUCKER, President, E. D. MITCHELL, Vice Pres.

D. C. MAIN, Cashier, G. E. FRENCH, Asst. Cashier.

Capital Stock and Surplus $100,000.

DIRECTORS: E. D. Mitchell, A. A. Welch, J. S. French, D. C. Main, A. L. Tucker, G. E. French, James Paul.

GENERAL - BANKING

Central MEAT MARKET

VOLPP BROS., PROPS.

FRESH & SALTMELTS

HUGH O'CONNELL'S

Pool and Billiard Hall

In Boyd Annex

Your Picture

Is what all your friends want, be as handsome as a rose or as homely as a mud fence.

We Make You Look, as natural as life and at a very low price.

The Artist CRAVEN.

Bowl up, Boys!

AT OOM PAUL'S NEW

Bowling Alley.

For Sale

We have some nice yellow, seeded German Millet for sale.

CRAVEN BROS.

Farmers

Insure in the Farmers Mutual of Lincoln.

PHIL H. KOHL, agent.

Boyd county lands for sale.

PHIL H. KOHL, agent.

Drink ale and Porter at Milder's.

A. W. Ivory, dentist, over-ist Nat. Bank.

Cheap land, South Dakota and Boyd county.

E. R. SURBER, agt.

A good top buggy for sale. G. S. Mears.

Life insurance, best companies, best policies.

E. R. SURBER.

I have 3000 good brick for sale. F. M. Thomas.

FOR SALE—Pure blood Short Horn bull. See J. S. Lewis.

Phone 74 if you want some job printing done in a hurry.

Miss Louise Sullivan came home Saturday from an Iowa visit.

House for rent or sale. A fine home. Enquire at Otto Vogel's Hardware.

Excellent imported Spanish port. Give your order to Herman Milder.

Tom Hill and Geo. Pfifer were business visitors in Sioux City Saturday.

The nearest place to Wayne for a celebration is Wakefield just a pleasant drive.

Frank Coyle, now with the Union Telegraph Co., Omaha, was in town Sunday night visiting his folks.

Simply sprinkle or spray on chicken roasts. Lee's Lice Killer does the rest. Sold by Fuerchner, Duerig & Co.

Miss Anna Gamble is now visiting her brother Hal at Missouri Valley, Iowa, and will soon be home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cherry left Monday for a two weeks visit at Colorado Springs, taking advantage of the $15 rate made for the round trip.

At the referee's sale of the Wilbur farm of 80 acres held last Saturday Dr. Whightman was the successful bidder, the farm bringing $3400.

Herman Milder always gets the best liquor that money will buy. His stock of Spanish port and California wines can't be beat anywhere in the United States.

Ladies Bargain low shoes at THE RACKET.

We wish to call your attention to our cut price flower sale also our special line of trimmed hats that are going at wonderful bargains for 4th of July.

WAYNE SISTERS.

You've got to hustle all the time to keep in the swim. If you are slipping down the ladder of prosperity, take Rocky Mountain Tea. Makes people strenuous. Raymond's Pharmacy.

I have the "Beard of Trade" office near the postoffice and will be glad to have you drop in when you want a loan, insurance of any kind, or any kind of real estate.

E. R. SURBER.

FOURTH OF JULY EXCURSIONS—Tickets sold July 3d and 4th, good returning until July 7th. One and one third fare for the round trip. Minimum selling price 50 cents.

Wise is the girl whose sense of self interest prompts her to take Rocky Mountain Tea. It fills her full of vigor and there is always honey in her heart for you.

Raymond's Pharmacy.

Robt. Skiles, always one of the best friends the DEMOCRAT has, brought in his new neighbor, John Christian, Monday morning to subscribe for "a little of the right kind of gospel."

Nobody would think for a moment that that large man about town over Sunday with Sheriff Mears was a brother of G. A. Benson who used to live here. L. D. Benson is about 6 ft. 4, weighs 240 lbs., and travels for a grocery house.

While in South Dakota last week P. H. Kohl sold some 800 acres of Hand county land. Jas. Preston bought 160 acres and he appears well pleased with his purchase. It cost Mr. Preston $9 per acre and an early advance is looked for in valuation.

Harry LaCroix is home for a couple of weeks vacation, arriving last Saturday. Mr. LaCroix is now with the Tootle, Kessler millinery house of St. Joe, Mo., and likes his new vocation very well. He thinks there is no place like St. Joe for a "hot time."

Paul Hyer was a visitor from Winside Monday and favored the DEMOCRAT with his "annual" to Sept. 1903. People seem to be pleased to keep ahead of the times on the DEMOCRAT'S subscription books, and new names are coming in so fast that it makes the publisher "swell up" like a politician.

A pretty good and rather expensive joke is told on O. D. Franks. Recently he ordered 500 trade checks printed at the Herald office. Oscar got the 500, alright, but gradually the accumulation of pasteboards grew until the pile aroused suspicion. Upon counting it was found there were 1500 of them, or some $50 worth of liquor had been given away for "watered stock."

The printer at the Herald office had been working industriously on the job press.

The annual picnic of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of this part of the state will be held at Crystal Lake, South Sioux City, August 20. Excursions will be run on both the Ojama and the Short Line, and passengers will be unloaded at the park. Crystal Lake is one of the finest bodies of water in the state and this will prove a great attraction. There are acres of shade trees and all kinds of amusements will be provided. The program for the day will be announced later.

Ladies Tan and Black walking shoes on the bargain counter—choice $1 per pair. THE RACKET.

The Democratic Convention

There was almost a complete representation of the several precincts at the county convention held last Saturday. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Ziegler. In selecting a temporary chairman a ballot by precincts resulted in A. P. Childs securing 9 votes and Mr. Ziegler 39. R. H. James was elected and the temporary organization was later made permanent. A committee to select names of delegates to the several conventions was made up of Fred Volpp, Joe Dobbin, Tom Lound, P. M. Corbit, and they presented the following report:

State—P. H. Kohl, Sam Spriggs, Geo. Weatherholt, C. A. Killion, Fred Volpp, W. H. Buelow, Martin Muth, Henry Kloppeing, Jos. Dobbin, Thos. Lound, Henry Bartels. Congressional—A. P. Childs, Pat Coleman, R. H. James, Guy Wilbur, Jacob Reichert, Fred Fisher, C. A. Berry, P. H. Kohl, Geo. Drevesch, W. F. Assenheimer, W. S. Goldie. Senatorial—J. W. Ziegler, Walt Gaebler, H. W. Burnham, N. B. Cullen, P. M. Corbit, G. W. Albee, Frank Johnson, J. M. Cherry, F. A. Berry, T. Bernhard, Robt. Fenski. Representative—R. H. Skiles, Henry Ley, Emil Spittiger, W. H. Root, J. H. Mitchell, E. W. Cullen, John Dummell, A. L. Howser, Frank Hood, J. T. Kenny, June Conger.

The report of the committee was accepted. Guy R. Wilbur was nominated by acclamation for county attorney, and at an adjourned meeting of the delegates from the First commissioner district August Joast of Leslie precinct was made the nominee for county commissioner.

A committee from the populist committee presented a resolution to the effect that the populist had no candidates for county attorney nor commissioner that the democrats pass a resolution granting the populist the privilege of naming the candidate for state representative. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

The county central committee as selected is: Brenna, Geo. Subr; Chapin, John Boock; Beer Creek, A. P. Childs; Garfield, J. Dobbin; Hancock, J. Reichert; Hoskins, Geo. Weatherholt; Hunter, W. A. K. Neely; Leslie, C. A. Killion; Logan, Frank Johnson; Plum Creek, W. F. Assenheimer, Stalhan, June Conger; Sherman, J. T. Kinney; Wilbur, W. H. Buelow; Winside, Tom Lound; Wayne 1st ward, Al Howser; 2nd Frank Hood; 3d P. H. Kohl.

Peoples' Independent Party

The committee meeting of the people's independent party was held Saturday in the county treasurer's office. Levi Diltz was elected chairman and C. J. Rundell secretary. Those present were August Honeke, Hoskins; W. J. Agler, Hunter, Dave Shaw, Winside. Levi Diltz; Logan; C. J. Rundell 1st ward Wayne; J. C. Harmer, 2nd; Jas. Britton, 3d; J. R. Shawgo, Plum Creek; Dave Herner, Leslie.

The delegates appointed to the state convention were: C. J. Rundell, D. Herner, A. Honeke, P. J. Neff, C. E. Miller, J. W. Templeton, Geo. W. Jones, W. S. Goldie, Frank Bressler, Henry Kellogg, D. H. Surber.

Congressional—Jas. Britton, David Herner, Aug. Honeke, Levi Diltz, W. E. Wallace, J. R. Shawgo, J. W. Agler, John Harmer, D. A. Danielson, H. Merriam, J. S. Lewis.

Senatorial—L. F. Rayburn, W. E. Wallace, J. A. Elliott, Ed. Lundburg, Leslie Weaver, Frank Bressler, Eli Bonowitz, Chas. Lester, Albert Kepun.

Representative—Jas. Britton, C. J. Rundell, J. C. Harmer, J. R. Shawgo, E. R. Lundburg, H. Merriam, H. Kellogg, D. A. Danielson, Dave Shaw.

Letter from E. J. Hansen.

The following letter received from a son of Hans Hansen may be of interest to DEMOCRAT readers.

Gladstone, Mich. June 20, 1902.

Dear Sir—I thought that I would write and tell you to send my paper addressed to box 235 as that is my number. I have been having some trouble in getting my paper, there are so many Hansons up here. Well I will give you a little description of the country up here. It is nothing but one forest from Minneapolis to Gladstone, mostly pine although there are some pretty fine farms in the timber land that will many years before it will be cleared up for farming and some places it is mostly stone. Well it is not like Nebraska, but I like Minnesota pretty well. We both have good jobs. Goss is on a work train firing, and I am in the yards at present firing a switch engine. I like this town to work in but would not like to live here. It is a great place for gamblers and saloons, having 16 and paying $500 licence for the saloon, and $500 extra if they run a gambling hall in it. The town has 3300 people in it. Has a shipping dock, a factory, cooperage and lumber co., and also a foundry for making pig iron. It has a few other little plants of different nature. I am making $53 a month and better but it costs $20 for board so by the time you pay expenses you don't have a great deal left. When the Wayne gun club wants a good hunt tell them to come this way. I have seen deer between Pennington and here on the track after night. Have to close as it is my bedtime.

Yours truly,

E. J. HANSON.

A great many Wayne people will no doubt drive to Wakefield on the 4th, the weather being favorable. A good time is promised by the citizens of that place.

For biliousness use Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They cleanse the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels, effecting a quick and permanent cure. For sale by Raymond.

July 4th at Wakefield

The citizens of Wakefield, Nebraska, have made all preparations to celebrate July 4th in an elaborate manner and no expense has been spared to give all who attend a royal good time.

Following is a condensed program: Salute of 100 guns at sunrise; Grand street parade and callithumpians at 9 a. m.; Speaking in the auditorium at 11 a. m., Dr. Sisson of Norfolk, orator of the day.

Beginning at 2 p. m., there will be a horse race, pony race, bicycle race, foot race, ring race, jay breaking contest, team pulling contest, tug of war. Base ball game, Emerson vs. Allen. Shooting—8 events, commencing at 2 p. m.

Big dance in the auditorium, after noon and evening.

The Allen band has been engaged to furnish music.

Albert Anderson purchased a fine Chicago Cottage organ recently through F. H. Jones of Wayne the local agent for that company.

The Ranche brothers of Chicago were here the past week looking after their 520 acres of land south of town. The gentlemen would like to sell their farms at $50 per acre, but Chris Thompson has a lease on the property until 1904, and the matter could not be adjusted.

ROAD NOTICE

To all whom it may concern:

By order of the Board of County Commissioners of Wayne County, Nebraska: Upon the petition of Martin Muth et al for the opening of the following section line road: Commencing at the northwest corner of section one, township twenty five, range four, east of the sixth principal meridian running thence west of the township line to cross township twenty five, range four and township twenty six, range four, for a distance of four miles and terminating at the northwest corner of section five, township twenty-five, range four, in Wayne county, Nebraska. All objections to the opening of said road or claims for damages by reason thereof must be filed in the County Clerk's office on or before noon of the 20th day of August, A. D., 1902, or such will be established without further reference thereto.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 13th day of June, A. D., 1902.

BERT BROWN, County Clerk.

Three Crackerjacks!

Union Medium Jr. 31187, Race Record of 2:19 1-2. Stands at $25 for the season.

Fallerton, 28729; one of the best bred sons of Allerton; at $25 for the season.

Duke of Wayne, son of Union Medium 2:18 3-4. Stands at $15 for the season.

No town in Nebraska can boast of three as famous and well-bred trotters as the above stallions. Union Medium was foaled in '94. Is a beauty of a chestnut in color; stands 15 3/4 hands high, weighs 1180 lbs. He is one of the best bred trotters in the country.

Fallerton is a seal brown horse, is of grand finish and fine disposition. He was foaled in 1894, his sire being the noted Allerton, 2:00 1/4.

Duke of Wayne is one of the magnificent sons of Union Medium (2:18 3/4). He stands 17 hands high and weighs 1270 lbs.; is coming four years old. He shows up some of the best foals in the country, one of which took the prize at the county fair last fall.

You will find these horses at the Wayne county fair grounds. Not responsible for accidents but most careful attention given all mares sent us for service.

Call on or write

F. E. STRAHAN, - Wayne, Nebr.

THE IMPORTED Percheron Stallions

Villiers 13169 8081 Colmar 24734 43789

Foaled March 28, 1889; imported in 1890, sire Briard 5317 (1630), dam Robin 5697. Villiers is a jet black, weighs over a ton, and for many years stood at the head of the stud of Dunham, Fletcher & Coleman, the famous Illinois Percheron importers and breeders. As an individual he is without doubt one of the grandest horses that was ever in the United States, as a producer of the best there is in horse flesh he is easily at the top. He will make the season of 1902 at the barn of his owners in Wayne.

Is a deep iron grey, foaled April 5th, 1898, imported by Dunham, Fletcher & Coleman in 1900, sire Navarin (42555), dam Barche 23002. He is certainly a splendid type of the Percheron family, being only four years old yet weighing a ton, and is an animal with splendid action and abundance of life and good disposition. We believe that in Colmar we are offering to the breeders of this section of the state of Nebraska a horse they will appreciate and we have faith to believe he will prove himself a noble sire.

TERMS: The Service Fee for either of The Above Horses will be $20.00 to Insure Mare in Foal.

PERRY & PORTERFIELD, Wayne, Neb.

...IN THE STUD...

TAMMANY TIM 34283

Season of 1902

Full brother to Hinky Dink, 2:25 1/4, first start, fourth heat in wiggling race. By Union Medium 4182, 2:18 3/4, Dan Alice G., 2:20 1/4, Dam of Hinky Dink, 2:25 1/4. Tammanny Tim was foaled in June 1897. He is a handsome bay horse 16 1/4 hands high, weighs 1225 lbs. The only stallion standing in this part of the state whose first three Dams are producers of 2:30 trotters, or better. In conformation he is a grand horse, clear cut head, intelligent countenance, strong shoulders, powerful back, lips and stifles, all gracefully combined to produce strength and speed. His blood lines are of the best, the most popular and prolific speed producing combination in trotting blood lines, the kind that gets the money on the race course and the prizes in the show ring. That he will beget speed and grand road qualities there is no doubt, as he not only inherits, but possesses these qualities in a marked degree. Even common mares bred to a horse of this class, cannot fail to produce foals that will find a ready market as carriage horses or roadsters, as well as general, all purpose horses.

Terms: $15 to insure in foal.

Mondays and Tuesdays, of each week, Wakefield.

Wednesdays and Thursdays, Wayne.

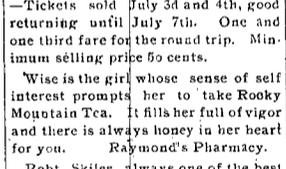

Fridays and Saturdays, Carroll.

JOHN S. LEWIS, Jr., Wayne, Nebr.

Green Apple Wisdom

The accumulated wisdom of ten generations can't keep a boy from eating Green Apples. You can't eat him until you are tired but it will do you good. He simply can't learn from anything but hard, pit-of-the-stomach experience. He must have his own belly ache before he will believe what you will tell him. Now, men are just boys grown up. If isn't green apples any longer? It's the same old comedy with new properties. It's the question, perhaps, of a Mower. It's the same old chimera of getting value without cost. It's the Mower which is just as good as the Osborne. And the lesson is only learned after the loss of many dollars you might have earned.

Why not use the green-apple common sense that you learned as a boy?

Six Valuable Features of the Osborne Columbia Mower:

FIRST—Compact Gear and broad face. Will wear a life time.

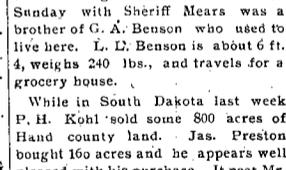

SECOND—A Crank Shaft Bearing, separate from Frame.

THIRD—With four Pawls in the Drive Wheel, can start in the heaviest grass without backing up.

FOURTH—Extra heavy Hinge Bar with malleable Hinge and Shoe.

FIFTH—With the long Double-Forked connection to Cutter Bar, and 14 inch bearing on Hinge Bar, the Cutter Bar cannot sag.

SIXTH—Long metal Pitman with ball and socket joint at each end, fitted for taking up the wear—never breaks sickles.

WHEN YOU BUY A RAKE WHY NOT BUY THE BEST? THE OSBORNE Steel Self-Dump Rake Stands at the Head.

A FEW OF THE REASONS WHY:

- Heavy Angle Steel Axles.
- Roller Bearings, revolving on cold rolled Steel Axles, the only rake in the world equipped in this manner.
- Reversible Dump Rod, having four times the wearing surface of the common single dump rod.
- Double Hub Suspension Spoke Reversible Steel Wheels.
- Wheels 5 1/2 inches high, 20 removable steel spokes in each wheel, channel steel tires.
- Teeth of spring steel, flattened points, rounded bottoms.
- Every wearing part is interchangeable, giving long life to the rake.
- You cannot afford to buy a rake without first looking at the OSBORNE as well as our full line of Farm Machinery.

Call and see for yourself, SAM WINSOR.

She Has Cured Thousands

Given up to die.

DR. CALDWELL OF CHICAGO.

Practicing Alopathy, Homeopathy, Electric and General Medicine.

Will, by request, visit professionally Wayne, Neb., Boyd Hotel, Thursday, July 17, One Day Only, returning every four weeks. Consult her while the opportunity is at hand.

DR. ORA CADWELL & CO., Omaha, Neb. Chicago, Ill.

Read It in His Newspaper

George Schaub, a well known German of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton, Va. Zeitung. He knows this paper only as a newspaper to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the unbearable contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by Raymond.

Trespassers Take Warning

Boys who have been trespassing on the Sen. Barlow premises north of the granddike will take due notice to keep off the above premises. Any further trespassers or trespassing and they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

THEODORE BELL, Lessee.

Institute

The Wayne county teacher's institute will convene on Monday Aug. 25, 1902, and continue in session one week. Announcement containing program and outline of work will be sent to each teacher. The instructions are Professor Greig and Schoolcraft and Anna Vanderpool of Council Bluffs. C. E. BRADY, county clerk.

DR. CALDWELL limits her practice to the special treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Female Diseases, Diseases of Children and all Chronic, Nervous and Surgical Diseases of a curable nature. Early Consumption, Bronchitis, Bronchial Catarrh, Chronic Catarrh, Head Ache, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Bright's Disease, Kidney Diseases, Diseases of the Liver and Bladder, Dizziness, Nervousness, Indigestion, Obesity, Interrupted Nutrition, Slow Growth in Children, and all wasting Diseases in adults, Deformities, Club feet, Flatulent, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Swelling of the Limbs, Stricture, Open Sores, Pain in the Bones, Granular Enlargements and all long standing diseases properly treated.

Blood and Skin Diseases, Pimples, Blisters, Eruptions, Liver Spots, Falling of the Hair, Bad Complexion, Eczema, Throat Ulcers, Bone Pains, Bladder Troubles, Weak Back, Burning Urine, Itching Urine, etc. The effects of constitutional sickness of the taking of too much luxurious medicine receives searching treatment, prompt relief and a cure.

Diseases of women, Irregular Menstruation, Falling of the Womb, Bearing Down Pains, Female displacements, Lack of Sexual Tone.

ROBUS GEMS AMONG THE CROWN JEWELS

Experts' Examination Shows Many Spurious Stones in Place of Real Ones

"SOAKED" BY ROYALTY

Some of the Predecessors of Queen Victoria Said to Have Pawned Valuable Gems and Substituted Imitation.

London Letter in Chicago Chronicle: After examining the crown regalia, the two diamond experts have pronounced the stones as spurious, including almost all the large ones. This corroborates the reports in various memoirs that the two immediate predecessors of Queen Victoria pawned the crown jewels in financial emergencies. The utmost secrecy is maintained about the royal crowns to be worn at the coronation festival. No one has been permitted to see them and it is said that the king has given orders that imitation gems shall be replaced by real ones hired for the occasion.

Diamonds and emeralds will be the jewels principally worn at the coronation. More than half of them will be hired for the occasion. The jewelers, who charge 5 per cent of their value for one day's wear. But a vast quantity of paste will also be worn. No shopkeepers have done a larger business in the coronation than the imitation jewelry dealers. One firm says it has an order from a countess for an exact replica of the Duchess of Devonshire's diamond necklace, to cost over $400 and to be indistinguishable from the real ones.

Peers to Wear Paste.

Coronets of paste brilliants will also be much worn. The notion that the coronets of the best materials is a myth. One of the leading tailors in London said that some very wealthy peers and nobles have been known to buy in for the most elaborate and costly style of coronation millinery, but the bulk of the peerage had ordered the cheapest stuffs and furs. He showed the tailors a coronet of the best Lyons velvet, lined with the finest white satin, with cape and trimmings of the most expensive materials, and another similar robe of the cheapest velvet lined with white zateen, with cape and trimmings of rabbit skin, costing but a few dollars.

A large number of peers are hiring robes from theatrical costumers, who charge from $35 to $200, according to quality.

Lord Salisbury, who hates public displays and is utterly careless about matters of dress, is said to be bored to death by the prospect of the coronation. He has written to his family to induce him to get a new outfit for the ceremony and insists on wearing his old uniform as an older brother of Trinity house, although he never wears it. He is said to be owing to his increased stoutness a broad band of gold lace has been inserted down the back, contrary to the royal regulations, and that he only $250, being of fourth class quality.

Lord Rosebery was waited on this week to get his photograph in. The knight of the robes has ceased to fit and that he had not yet been able to nerve himself up to getting new ones, hoping the resources of civilization would be equal to the readjusting of the old.

The fact is that responsible men look with distaste on the revival of the archaic and obsolete customs of the times and tend toward the ridiculous.

With the "smart" women it is different. They are anxious to be the latest in dress to make the best impression in a costume which is inclined to be destructive of figure and ruinous to all but perfect complexion. In order to support their gowns they have had to have hit upon a scheme whereby corsets and bodices are one, thus saving the fatal thickness around the waist.

To Save on Charlots.

State charlots form another item in which the nobles are making a large saving. The robes and gowns of those conveyances were essential, but now only a few plutocrats peers have bought them. Others hiring, while the rest are content to have their ordinary equipages.

The earl of Carnarvon, an enthusiastic motorist, who has been fined for driving in almost every county in England, will appear at the coronation, as will Lord Montague of Beaulieu.

One of the queerest figures at the coronation will be the old marquess of Cholmondeley, who is content with making his own clothes for the sake of economy. He intends to don the robes worn by his grandfather at Queen Victoria's coronation. He has had some much moth eaten, and has patched them with new stuffs and fur with his own hands.

A variety of suggestions for celebrating the coronation is only equalled by their fatuity. One is to let off a chain of rockets from the Lizard to John o' Groat's at a fixed hour, making a flight of fifty rockets will take place at each one. There will also be illuminations and fireworks everywhere.

It has been asserted that King Edward had never been known to partake of the communion according to the Anglican rite and would not do so until the coronation. The report has caused much alarm and curiosity among the orthodox protestants, who have always suspected that the present coronation name of the king was Catholicism. It has not been denied, but on the contrary the suspicions have been increased by the announcement that the king had taken partake of the communion he will be concealed from the gaze of his subjects by cutting down the sides of a canopy borne by four knights of the Garter.

Something Wrong With the Chamolis

Philadelphia Evening Telegraph: There is a prominent doctor in Germantown who is busy telling a little joke on himself. It appears that he employed an Irish servant, who had just arrived from the "ould sod" starting out on a morning he noticed his office windows were rather dirty, and calling Bridget, he instructed her to clean them before he returned. At the window he told her that he would stop and purchase a new chamolis skin and send it home, and with this she was to clean the windows. After he had gone his hands he returned to his office. Glancing at the windows, he found them thickly streaked with grease. He called Bridget, and the following colloquy took place:

"Bridget, didn't I tell you to clean the windows?"

"Yes, sor."

"Did you use it?"

"Sure I did, sor."

"Let me see the chamolis," said the doctor.

"Bridget brought it. Then for the first time he learned that his wife had left the house a half hour before he had started out. The doctor decided to see what happened to the chamolis.

BEFORE AND AFTER SHAVING.

Senator Warren Didn't Recognize Congressman Babcock.

Washington special: With his recovery from a recent sickness, Representative Babcock, chairman of the republican congressional committee, shaved off his beard. In the period he was confined to his bed he lost weight, and when he made his appearance at the reception room his friends scarcely recognized him. Mr. Babcock went to the White house this morning and found himself waiting for the president's secretary in the reception room with Senator Fairbanks and several other members of congress. The Indiana senator looked puzzled when Mr. Babcock began to talk. He was in a familiar way and to express sentiments which only those on the inside are supposed to know. Senator Fairbanks gave the impertinent white-headed visitor a stern stare, and the newspaper man remarked to him as he turned away: "Babcock does not look like the same man since his sickness."

"By George," Babcock remarked, the senator and, turning to the man he had just snubbed for supposed freshness, he made an apology which was at once accepted. At this juncture Senator Warren of Wyoming entered.

"Well just try to see Warren," said Fairbanks. "I'll bet he doesn't know you." Senator Warren took a seat by Fairbanks and the Indiana senator began a conversation with him. Babcock nudged Fairbanks and said "Introduce me to your friend."

Turning to Senator Warren, Senator Fairbanks said: "Let me introduce my friend, Mr. Jenkin of Indiana."

"Glad to meet you," said the senator from Wyoming, rising to shake hands. "By George, you are a republican!"

"From Wyoming, sir," proudly replied the senator.

"Is Wyoming on this side or the other side of Mississippi?" innocently inquired the chairman of the republican congressional committee. Senator Warren made little effort to conceal his reaction, but the Indiana senator asked a question, but, turning to Senator Fairbanks, remarked: "Your constituents get rattled when they call at the White house."

Senator Fairbanks held his right hand over his mouth to conceal his broad smile, and then he told this story to Senator Warren:

Secretary Hay came to the president this morning, looking very kind and said: "Mr. President, I have just had a call from Representative Overstreet and another young republican with a smooth face, who said he wanted to see you. I said to ask the young man my name, and I confess I was puzzled."

"A smooth-faced man inquired the president.

"Yes," answered Secretary Hay. "Wasn't it Representative Babcock?" inquired the president.

"Oh, no," answered Mr. Hay. "I know Mr. Babcock well. He is one of my best friends."

"Well," said the president, "Mr. Babcock was the man."

The senator began to suspect something was wrong. Several congressmen were listening to the conversation. Some of them were smiling. Others looked pained and expectant. When the president received a note from an owl, and Senator Warren began to turn red as he gazed upon him. In a moment more, Warren had recognized the congressman and everybody was laughing. The president opened the door. The entire story had to be told in explanation of the remark that, under different circumstances, would have been unseemly.

LAST OF THE OLD GUARD IS GONE

Executive Clerk Pruden's Death Removes Veteran White House Official.

THIRTY YEARS IN SERVICE

Ranks of the Tried and True Personal Aid to the Country's Chief Are Rapidly Being Diminished by Death.

Kansas City Star: The death of Executive Clerk Pruden of the White house has reduced the president's "old guard" to twenty.

They are Captain B. F. Montgomery, William H. Crook, Charles D. Loeffler and Thomas F. Kendle, the last named being the best friend of the White house attaches to the visiting public.

The youngest member of the "old guard" in years and point of service is Captain Benjamin F. Montgomery, U. S. A. He was in the signal corps of the army as a young man, and in March, 1877, was detailed for duty at the White house, when President Hayes felt the need of a larger organization. Being a telegrapher, Montgomery immediately began the installation of what has grown into a wonderful system of confidential communication. He started with a single instrument, the first ever used for the White house, and personally sent and received the president's messages. In 1878, Montgomery was appointed a lieutenant's commission in the signal corps, but declined it to remain at the White house. He has filled every position in the office, having acted as secretary in charge at times during the absence of others.

Foreseeing the coming of the Spanish war, he organized and equipped the bureau so completely that during the war he was able to send reports from the Cuban battlefields and from the naval operations half around the globe in record time. In some instances the president received reports in communication with the firing line of the army in Cuba. At the outbreak of the war Mr. Montgomery volunteered his services and was appointed a captain in the regular army. He was afterward commissioned as lieutenant colonel of volunteers, from which rank he was honorably discharged.

The history of that telegraph office in the White house has been the history of the United States for the past twenty-five years. During the riots of 1877 the president was kept in touch with every phase of the trouble and he sent orders and proclamations through the medium of Montgomery's key. The Chicago railroad strike was handled by the president at Montgomery's elbow wiring orders to and receiving reports from General Miles.

When disaster occurred as at Johnstown or Galveston, the president is placed in direct communication. When elections are being held the White house feels the pulse of the people. With twenty-five years of service, Montgomery has made direct connection with the cables. Thus the world is girdled, and the office never closes.

Colonel Montgomery has now a staff under his command of tried and expert operators. Great secrets have been confided to him. Not the least whisper of scandal has ever breathed upon the White house since the president's suggestion to him the possibility of a corrupt bargain. Repeatedly he has worked through the night at the White house, and as the president's secretary and the secretary of state at the other, manipulating the nerves of the world. For twenty-five years he has been, in effect, the president's eyes and ears.

William H. Crook, the executive clerk and disbursing officer, was detailed from the Washington police force on January 12, 1877, and has remained with President Lincoln. He journeyed with Lincoln in the spring to City Point and Richmond, marching by his side with one hand on the pistol butt. On the night of the assassination, Mr. Crook was detailed to remain at the White house. He feels that if he had gone to the theater he would have saved the president's life.

During President Grant's second term Mr. Crook served, for a short time, as his private secretary, in 1876, and was made chief clerk of the White house.

Outside the president's door sits quiet sentinel, Captain Charles D. Loeffler, U. S. A., retired. Cabinet officer, he has represented the president and distinguished foreigners, great actors, world-famed authors and humorists and lecturers, plain, every-day American citizens, have gone through that door under Captain Loeffler's guidance. He has a wonderful memory for names and faces. Men who have been forgotten by the world, but once they have been identified at that door, they are marked for life in Loeffler's mind. For twenty-five years he has been a constant attendant on the president's room. For eight years previously he was on duty there with two others.

The cabinet sits Captain Loeffler represents the president at the White house. No one not entitled to admission has ever been known to pass into those sacred precincts, and he might have been called to exclude newly appointed officers whose features were unfamiliar. But Loeffler has been too adroit for such a task. He seems to spirit greatness by instinct, and to identify strangers who have the right to enter the door.

Captain Loeffler is a German by birth. He came to this country while a young man, and represented the president in civil war opened he was ordered with his regiment to Washington for guard duty at the treasury. After some service in the war, he was appointed secretary of the war department and bodyguard to Secretary Stanton the day after the assassination of President Lincoln. Wherever Stanton went, Loeffler went.

When Stanton resigned, General Loeffler was later detailed for duty at the White house as doorkeeper. General Grant, while acting as secretary of war,

John Gates Plunger

Kansas City Star: Just a quarter of a century ago...

Just a quarter of a century ago, John Gates Plunger, a man of 39 years, was a prominent man in the regular army, as military engineer, and he was placed on the retired list.

Down stairs is the dean of the White house corps, Thomas F. Kendle, the usher who was detailed for duty November 2, 1884, from the Washington police force as a member of the president's "old guard" and placed on the retired list of the house. Though far beyond 70 years, Mr. Kendle stands today erect and youthful in appearance. He is a walking encyclopedia of information about the house and its contents and traditions. He knows the precise date of the purchase of such of the articles of furniture, visitors who go through the palace are highly entertained and instructed by his discourses, delivered slowly and methodically. In later years his duty has been to escort visitors through the corridors of the establishment which are open to the public, and his autographs are to be found today in many thousands of American homes as souvenirs of visits to Washington.

In the trying days of assassination Mr. Kendle has proved himself a staunch friend of the presidential family. It was he who, on the terrible night of Lincoln's death, comforted little "Tad" and quieted his piteous cries of grief for the father he had just lost. Thus, during nearly forty years, has Mr. Kendle remained on duty, faithful and true. Out of the fullness of his recollections he recently compiled a valuable volume.

The list of veteran helpers around the White house is not complete without reference to Jerry Smith, the black and gold domino, one of the kindest of souls ever encountered and one of the most courtly personages. Jerry was a waiter in the Baltimore hotel, was patronized by General Grant. He attracted the notice of the soldier president by his dignified bearing and his sincere good nature. As a result of this acquaintance a hope was kindled in the mind of the general, and a lieutenant's commission in the national administration, and he accordingly went to Washington and eventually was taken into the White house ranks as a cleaner and household help.

Then Mrs. Grant, with an eye to the proportions of a carriage servant, chose Jerry as her footman. Since then Jerry Smith has never been away from his duty in the White house. He has seen the conqueror himself. The hands of Americans have seen his picturesque figure in the halls of the White house, his head covered by a gray skull cap, his long apron draped over his shoulders, and his polished shoes, the type of the democratic simplicity which disdains the buttoned livery of courts and palaces. Jerry holds and lowers the white parasol for the president as he abiding fear of the attic, through which he must pass on this duty, and which, he stoutly affirms, is inhabited by the ghosts of departed statesmen.

It is a pity that the names of these men or retiring them, because of their years. Their very age and length of service are the factors of their greatest usefulness. Without them the White house would be a mere shell, and the frequenters of that center of the national activity.

Wrecked His Auto to Save Child.

New York World: In a desperate effort to save his wife, of a child directly in the path of his rushing automobile, George Henault, of No. 980 Columbus avenue Saturday night turned his machine sharply into a telegraph pole and was killed. The child, a young woman companion, his pretty young woman companion. The machine was smashed to bits and the child was knocked down and seriously injured. Had it not been for the quick action of the telegraph pole, the child would have been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who live at 123rd street, were returning from a visit to a friend about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night with little Iverson and his younger brother. As they were driving on Columbus avenue, they awaited at the curb for a trolley car to pass and then stepped out. The automobile on its way to Long Island, was coming up rapidly in the rear of the Williams family. The driver, who had the street, the boy in advance, there was no time to stop it.

Henault steered sharply against the curb and his automobile was overturned. The little boy was struck by a wheel and was bleeding and unconscious when the father picked him up. He was carried home.

His Woman Petition.

Boston Herald: Now, the four-year-old son of a Baltimore lawyer had been very wicked.

He had fallen attract the family cat and attempted strangulation, but was parted from his victim and sent to the nursery with orders to prepare for bed and the promise that personal castigation was to be his fate before retiring.

His shrieks turned to sobs, and presently silence followed so suddenly that the mother was convinced that something quiet but meant trouble, and no man could tell where it would strike. So the mother crept silently up to the door, but the sound of a very tired, yet somewhat cheerful voice hailed her on the threshold.

"Like many an older culprit, the little chap had restored to his prayers when he was so replying to the mother's performance. Evidently his woe heart was in the matter.

"Oh, Lord," said the boy, "I beat the cat and maver will beat me, for she said so, and my mother is stronger than I am. So, please, Lord, make me like one of the little cherubs that haven't anything but a head and two wings and a tail. They never can whip me, and."

Here the childish voice hesitated, for he was sleepy, very sleepy, and then he carried into the bed to sleep, and promised whipping, which curiously enough, never came.

Baltimore News: "Now that we have the plans for my new twenty-eight car," said the architect, "perhaps you can suggest a good name for it—one that will be characteristic, you know."

"The car," said the architect, "in view of the fact that it's so very, very sleek, I believe I'd name it The Primo Sleak."

But before they could paint the sign meant went higher than the building, and the name was again inappropriate.

John Gates Plunger

Just a quarter of a century ago...

Just a quarter of a century ago, John Gates Plunger, a man of 39 years, was a prominent man in the regular army, as military engineer, and he was placed on the retired list.

Down stairs is the dean of the White house corps, Thomas F. Kendle, the usher who was detailed for duty November 2, 1884, from the Washington police force as a member of the president's "old guard" and placed on the retired list of the house. Though far beyond 70 years, Mr. Kendle stands today erect and youthful in appearance. He is a walking encyclopedia of information about the house and its contents and traditions. He knows the precise date of the purchase of such of the articles of furniture, visitors who go through the palace are highly entertained and instructed by his discourses, delivered slowly and methodically. In later years his duty has been to escort visitors through the corridors of the establishment which are open to the public, and his autographs are to be found today in many thousands of American homes as souvenirs of visits to Washington.

In the trying days of assassination Mr. Kendle has proved himself a staunch friend of the presidential family. It was he who, on the terrible night of Lincoln's death, comforted little "Tad" and quieted his piteous cries of grief for the father he had just lost. Thus, during nearly forty years, has Mr. Kendle remained on duty, faithful and true. Out of the fullness of his recollections he recently compiled a valuable volume.

The list of veteran helpers around the White house is not complete without reference to Jerry Smith, the black and gold domino, one of the kindest of souls ever encountered and one of the most courtly personages. Jerry was a waiter in the Baltimore hotel, was patronized by General Grant. He attracted the notice of the soldier president by his dignified bearing and his sincere good nature. As a result of this acquaintance a hope was kindled in the mind of the general, and a lieutenant's commission in the national administration, and he accordingly went to Washington and eventually was taken into the White house ranks as a cleaner and household help.

Then Mrs. Grant, with an eye to the proportions of a carriage servant, chose Jerry as her footman. Since then Jerry Smith has never been away from his duty in the White house. He has seen the conqueror himself. The hands of Americans have seen his picturesque figure in the halls of the White house, his head covered by a gray skull cap, his long apron draped over his shoulders, and his polished shoes, the type of the democratic simplicity which disdains the buttoned livery of courts and palaces. Jerry holds and lowers the white parasol for the president as he abiding fear of the attic, through which he must pass on this duty, and which, he stoutly affirms, is inhabited by the ghosts of departed statesmen.

It is a pity that the names of these men or retiring them, because of their years. Their very age and length of service are the factors of their greatest usefulness. Without them the White house would be a mere shell, and the frequenters of that center of the national activity.

Wrecked His Auto to Save Child.

New York World: In a desperate effort to save his wife, of a child directly in the path of his rushing automobile, George Henault, of No. 980 Columbus avenue Saturday night turned his machine sharply into a telegraph pole and was killed. The child, a young woman companion, his pretty young woman companion. The machine was smashed to bits and the child was knocked down and seriously injured. Had it not been for the quick action of the telegraph pole, the child would have been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who live at 123rd street, were returning from a visit to a friend about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night with little Iverson and his younger brother. As they were driving on Columbus avenue, they awaited at the curb for a trolley car to pass and then stepped out. The automobile on its way to Long Island, was coming up rapidly in the rear of the Williams family. The driver, who had the street, the boy in advance, there was no time to stop it.

Henault steered sharply against the curb and his automobile was overturned. The little boy was struck by a wheel and was bleeding and unconscious when the father picked him up. He was carried home.

His Woman Petition.

Boston Herald: Now, the four-year-old son of a Baltimore lawyer had been very wicked.

He had fallen attract the family cat and attempted strangulation, but was parted from his victim and sent to the nursery with orders to prepare for bed and the promise that personal castigation was to be his fate before retiring.

His shrieks turned to sobs, and presently silence followed so suddenly that the mother was convinced that something quiet but meant trouble, and no man could tell where it would strike. So the mother crept silently up to the door, but the sound of a very tired, yet somewhat cheerful voice hailed her on the threshold.

"Like many an older culprit, the little chap had restored to his prayers when he was so replying to the mother's performance. Evidently his woe heart was in the matter.

"Oh, Lord," said the boy, "I beat the cat and maver will beat me, for she said so, and my mother is stronger than I am. So, please, Lord, make me like one of the little cherubs that haven't anything but a head and two wings and a tail. They never can whip me, and."

Here the childish voice hesitated, for he was sleepy, very sleepy, and then he carried into the bed to sleep, and promised whipping, which curiously enough, never came.

Baltimore News: "Now that we have the plans for my new twenty-eight car," said the architect, "perhaps you can suggest a good name for it—one that will be characteristic, you know."

"The car," said the architect, "in view of the fact that it's so very, very sleek, I believe I'd name it The Primo Sleak."

But before they could paint the sign meant went higher than the building, and the name was again inappropriate.

John Gates Plunger

Just a quarter of a century ago...

Just a quarter of a century ago, John Gates Plunger, a man of 39 years, was a prominent man in the regular army, as military engineer, and he was placed on the retired list.

Down stairs is the dean of the White house corps, Thomas F. Kendle, the usher who was detailed for duty November 2, 1884, from the Washington police force as a member of the president's "old guard" and placed on the retired list of the house. Though far beyond 70 years, Mr. Kendle stands today erect and youthful in appearance. He is a walking encyclopedia of information about the house and its contents and traditions. He knows the precise date of the purchase of such of the articles of furniture, visitors who go through the palace are highly entertained and instructed by his discourses, delivered slowly and methodically. In later years his duty has been to escort visitors through the corridors of the establishment which are open to the public, and his autographs are to be found today in many thousands of American homes as souvenirs of visits to Washington.

In the trying days of assassination Mr. Kendle has proved himself a staunch friend of the presidential family. It was he who, on the terrible night of Lincoln's death, comforted little "Tad" and quieted his piteous cries of grief for the father he had just lost. Thus, during nearly forty years, has Mr. Kendle remained on duty, faithful and true. Out of the fullness of his recollections he recently compiled a valuable volume.

The list of veteran helpers around the White house is not complete without reference to Jerry Smith, the black and gold domino, one of the kindest of souls ever encountered and one of the most courtly personages. Jerry was a waiter in the Baltimore hotel, was patronized by General Grant. He attracted the notice of the soldier president by his dignified bearing and his sincere good nature. As a result of this acquaintance a hope was kindled in the mind of the general, and a lieutenant's commission in the national administration, and he accordingly went to Washington and eventually was taken into the White house ranks as a cleaner and household help.

Then Mrs. Grant, with an eye to the proportions of a carriage servant, chose Jerry as her footman. Since then Jerry Smith has never been away from his duty in the White house. He has seen the conqueror himself. The hands of Americans have seen his picturesque figure in the halls of the White house, his head covered by a gray skull cap, his long apron draped over his shoulders, and his polished shoes, the type of the democratic simplicity which disdains the buttoned livery of courts and palaces. Jerry holds and lowers the white parasol for the president as he abiding fear of the attic, through which he must pass on this duty, and which, he stoutly affirms, is inhabited by the ghosts of departed statesmen.

It is a pity that the names of these men or retiring them, because of their years. Their very age and length of service are the factors of their greatest usefulness. Without them the White house would be a mere shell, and the frequenters of that center of the national activity.

Wrecked His Auto to Save Child.

New York World: In a desperate effort to save his wife, of a child directly in the path of his rushing automobile, George Henault, of No. 980 Columbus avenue Saturday night turned his machine sharply into a telegraph pole and was killed. The child, a young woman companion, his pretty young woman companion. The machine was smashed to bits and the child was knocked down and seriously injured. Had it not been for the quick action of the telegraph pole, the child would have been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who live at 123rd street, were returning from a visit to a friend about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night with little Iverson and his younger brother. As they were driving on Columbus avenue, they awaited at the curb for a trolley car to pass and then stepped out. The automobile on its way to Long Island, was coming up rapidly in the rear of the Williams family. The driver, who had the street, the boy in advance, there was no time to stop it.

Henault steered sharply against the curb and his automobile was overturned. The little boy was struck by a wheel and was bleeding and unconscious when the father picked him up. He was carried home.

His Woman Petition.

Boston Herald: Now, the four-year-old son of a Baltimore lawyer had been very wicked.

He had fallen attract the family cat and attempted strangulation, but was parted from his victim and sent to the nursery with orders to prepare for bed and the promise that personal castigation was to be his fate before retiring.

His shrieks turned to sobs, and presently silence followed so suddenly that the mother was convinced that something quiet but meant trouble, and no man could tell where it would strike. So the mother crept silently up to the door, but the sound of a very tired, yet somewhat cheerful voice hailed her on the threshold.

"Like many an older culprit, the little chap had restored to his prayers when he was so replying to the mother's performance. Evidently his woe heart was in the matter.

"Oh, Lord," said the boy, "I beat the cat and maver will beat me, for she said so, and my mother is stronger than I am. So, please, Lord, make me like one of the little cherubs that haven't anything but a head and two wings and a tail. They never can whip me, and."

Here the childish voice hesitated, for he was sleepy, very sleepy, and then he carried into the bed to sleep, and promised whipping, which curiously enough, never came.

Baltimore News: "Now that we have the plans for my new twenty-eight car," said the architect, "perhaps you can suggest a good name for it—one that will be characteristic, you know."

"The car," said the architect, "in view of the fact that it's so very, very sleek, I believe I'd name it The Primo Sleak."

But before they could paint the sign meant went higher than the building, and the name was again inappropriate.

John Gates Plunger

Just a quarter of a century ago...

Just a quarter of a century ago, John Gates Plunger, a man of 39 years, was a prominent man in the regular army, as military engineer, and he was placed on the retired list.

Down stairs is the dean of the White house corps, Thomas F. Kendle, the usher who was detailed for duty November 2, 1884, from the Washington police force as a member of the president's "old guard" and placed on the retired list of the house. Though far beyond 70 years, Mr. Kendle stands today erect and youthful in appearance. He is a walking encyclopedia of information about the house and its contents and traditions. He knows the precise date of the purchase of such of the articles of furniture, visitors who go through the palace are highly entertained and instructed by his discourses, delivered slowly and methodically. In later years his duty has been to escort visitors through the corridors of the establishment which are open to the public, and his autographs are to be found today in many thousands of American homes as souvenirs of visits to Washington.

In the trying days of assassination Mr. Kendle has proved himself a staunch friend of the presidential family. It was he who, on the terrible night of Lincoln's death, comforted little "Tad" and quieted his piteous cries of grief for the father he had just lost. Thus, during nearly forty years, has Mr. Kendle remained on duty, faithful and true. Out of the fullness of his recollections he recently compiled a valuable volume.

The list of veteran helpers around the White house is not complete without reference to Jerry Smith, the black and gold domino, one of the kindest of souls ever encountered and one of the most courtly personages. Jerry was a waiter in the Baltimore hotel, was patronized by General Grant. He attracted the notice of the soldier president by his dignified bearing and his sincere good nature. As a result of this acquaintance a hope was kindled in the mind of the general, and a lieutenant's commission in the national administration, and he accordingly went to Washington and eventually was taken into the White house ranks as a cleaner and household help.

Then Mrs. Grant, with an eye to the proportions of a carriage servant, chose Jerry as her footman. Since then Jerry Smith has never been away from his duty in the White house. He has seen the conqueror himself. The hands of Americans have seen his picturesque figure in the halls of the White house, his head covered by a gray skull cap, his long apron draped over his shoulders, and his polished shoes, the type of the democratic simplicity which disdains the buttoned livery of courts and palaces. Jerry holds and lowers the white parasol for the president as he abiding fear of the attic, through which he must pass on this duty, and which, he stoutly affirms, is inhabited by the ghosts of departed statesmen.

It is a pity that the names of these men or retiring them, because of their years. Their very age and length of service are the factors of their greatest usefulness. Without them the White house would be a mere shell, and the frequenters of that center of the national activity.

Wrecked His Auto to Save Child.

New York World: In a desperate effort to save his wife, of a child directly in the path of his rushing automobile, George Henault, of No. 980 Columbus avenue Saturday night turned his machine sharply into a telegraph pole and was killed. The child, a young woman companion, his pretty young woman companion. The machine was smashed to bits and the child was knocked down and seriously injured. Had it not been for the quick action of the telegraph pole, the child would have been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who live at 123rd street, were returning from a visit to a friend about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night with little Iverson and his younger brother. As they were driving on Columbus avenue, they awaited at the curb for a trolley car to pass and then stepped out. The automobile on its way to Long Island, was coming up rapidly in the rear of the Williams family. The driver, who had the street, the boy in advance, there was no time to stop it.

Henault steered sharply against the curb and his automobile was overturned. The little boy was struck by a wheel and was bleeding and unconscious when the father picked him up. He was carried home.

His Woman Petition.

Boston Herald: Now, the four-year-old son of a Baltimore lawyer had been very wicked.

He had fallen attract the family cat and attempted strangulation, but was parted from his victim and sent to the nursery with orders to prepare for bed and the promise that personal castigation was to be his fate before retiring.

His shrieks turned to sobs, and presently silence followed so suddenly that the mother was convinced that something quiet but meant trouble, and no man could tell where it would strike. So the mother crept silently up to the door, but the sound of a very tired, yet somewhat cheerful voice hailed her on the threshold.

"Like many an older culprit, the little chap had restored to his prayers when he was so replying to the mother's performance. Evidently his woe heart was in the matter.

"Oh, Lord," said the boy, "I beat the cat and maver will beat me, for she said so, and my mother is stronger than I am. So, please, Lord, make me like one of the little cherubs that haven't anything but a head and two wings and a tail. They never can whip me, and."

Here the childish voice hesitated, for he was sleepy, very sleepy, and then he carried into the bed to sleep, and promised whipping, which curiously enough, never came.

Baltimore News: "Now that we have the plans for my new twenty-eight car," said the architect, "perhaps you can suggest a good name for it—one that will be characteristic, you know."

"The car," said the architect, "in view of the fact that it's so very, very sleek, I believe I'd name it The Primo Sleak."

But before they could paint the sign meant went higher than the building, and the name was again inappropriate.

John Gates Plunger

Just a quarter of a century ago...

Just a quarter of a century ago, John Gates Plunger, a man of 39 years, was a prominent man in the regular army, as military engineer, and he was placed on the retired list.

Down stairs is the dean of the White house corps, Thomas F. Kendle, the usher who was detailed for duty November 2, 1884, from the Washington police force as a member of the president's "old guard" and placed on the retired list of the house. Though far beyond 70 years, Mr. Kendle stands today erect and youthful in appearance. He is a walking encyclopedia of information about the house and its contents and traditions. He knows the precise date of the purchase of such of the articles of furniture, visitors who go through the palace are highly entertained and instructed by his discourses, delivered slowly and methodically. In later years his duty has been to escort visitors through the corridors of the establishment which are open to the public, and his autographs are to be found today in many thousands of American homes as souvenirs of visits to Washington.

In the trying days of assassination Mr. Kendle has proved himself a staunch friend of the presidential family. It was he who, on the terrible night of Lincoln's death, comforted little "Tad" and quieted his piteous cries of grief for the father he had just lost. Thus, during nearly forty years, has Mr. Kendle remained on duty, faithful and true. Out of the fullness of his recollections he recently compiled a valuable volume.

The list of veteran helpers around the White house is not complete without reference to Jerry Smith, the black and gold domino, one of the kindest of souls ever encountered and one of the most courtly personages. Jerry was a waiter in the Baltimore hotel, was patronized by General Grant. He attracted the notice of the soldier president by his dignified bearing and his sincere good nature. As a result of this acquaintance a hope was kindled in the mind of the general, and a lieutenant's commission in the national administration, and he accordingly went to Washington and eventually was taken into the White house ranks as a cleaner and household help.

Then Mrs. Grant, with an eye to the proportions of a carriage servant, chose Jerry as her footman. Since then Jerry Smith has never been away from his duty in the White house. He has seen the conqueror himself. The hands of Americans have seen his picturesque figure in the halls of the White house, his head covered by a gray skull cap, his long apron draped over his shoulders, and his polished shoes, the type of the democratic simplicity which disd

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

BY DAD.

The butchers are not the only fellows who are raising up in Iowa, as will be seen by the following from a Cherokee editor: "What's the use of talking about the high price of roasts? Almost every day we get several for nothing. We also have a bull. If you call on you don't ask us to take a seat."

Did you ever figure out how it was that whenever a young couple got married a lot of old people appeared to go daft over the affair? Take that gang that trailed after Jim Miller last week, anybody would think they were "just as sane as they used to be" and a whole lot more foolish.

About the best thing the DEMOCRAT has got through the mails (or by male) this century, comes from the classic burg of Carroll. It appears the "Wayne ladies" aid society of the Presbyterian church were in that village one day the past week, assailing the ignorant folk in various ways, and to give the Carrolls a proper appreciation of the influence of "By Dad," they started the vogue that Nels Grimsley bought the DEMOCRAT a Main street business property in consideration that "By Dad" was to remain dumb on certain matters pertaining to Nels' social triumph in "high life." How about this Christian assassination story, Nels?

The following squib from the Cherokee DEMOCRAT is possibly a "swipe" at the society editor of this DEMOCRAT:

In a Nebraska exchange we see an item about a swell wedding which says, "the bride's only adornment was the bouquet of 'Joe Foxes.'" If the June weather is as chilly in Nebraska as it is in Iowa the bride must have suffered awfully.

"Hello Bill!" but there was another "eww" in that "bouquet." As for the bride she looked real comfortable and a whole lot prettier than anything Cherokee or the state of Iowa could show up if they were covered with "bouquets."

These "million dollar rains" remind a fellow of the next-day effects of a $2.49 jag. It's a rich thing—in your mind.

By dad, I feel sorry for the woman who talked about her neighbors and went to Texas—with her, back broke. I lifted one side of a 2100 pound job press, Tuesday, and my back—well, I can hardly get it up about anything.

Winside Tribune: From what we can read of the doings of the Wayne county delegation in the republican state convention, two things are very evident. One is that Bressler ordered the vote thrown each time where it would make him the most enemies and gain no strength, and the other is that entailed Edward Lundburg should have been either chloroformed or left at home.

Sam Davies says the whole outfit had better been chloroformed, but, by dad, I don't see what effect chloroform would have on a lot of "wooden men."

Mrs. B. F. Swan and children are home from Iowa.

Wm. Beening was a passenger to Omaha yesterday.

Don't miss seeing Uncle Tom's Wayne July 15 and 25 cts.

J. Woodward Jones made a business trip to Winside yesterday.

We can suit you for dress goods and trimmings, laces and embroideries.

THE RACKET

Mrs. Laman, sister of Mrs. Lou Hunter, returned to her home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNeal will be home Sunday from their Michigan trip.

The W. C. T. U. have a union service Sunday evening to which all are invited.

Rain! Rain! till it gives you a pain, and the wheat crop, with rust, is ruined again.

Mrs. G. G. Westrope and baby of Belden were guests at the Jett home this week.

Lyons Mirror: T. H. Fritts came down from Wayne to attend the funeral of his brother's, W. J. Fritts, child.

New assortment of summer fabrics just opened.

Dr. Leisenring is having a nice time enclosing his new building. Every board and shingle gets an opportunity to swell up.

The Misses Mettlen and Cunningham came home today from Hot Springs. Byron Hoyle will be home tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Cross returned to their home at Jacksonville, Ill., yesterday after a pleasant visit at the home of J. Woodward Jones.

D. King Hern is selling pianos at Bloomsfield this week. D. King is on to his job and piano buyers can depend on square dealing from him.

Grand Free Street Parade at noon Saturday July 5 by Montgomery Bros. Pavilion Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. Worth going miles to see. Don't miss it.

Riley Root is manager of a 4th of July dance at Altona that will continue from high noon until breakfast time of the 6th. They do things right at Altona.

The household goods, wagons, harness, tools, and other articles of the late R. H. Johanson will be sold at auction on the street at Wayne on Saturday, June 28, 1902.

Dr. Clark the eye specialist will be in Wayne July 7.

Children's Day exercises at the Presbyterian church Sabbath morning at 10:30 a. m. The ordinance of baptism is administered to all children of believing parents who shall present them.

Special sale of ladies' shirt waists, all sizes, latest style. THE RACKET.

The Lyons Mirror thinks that Dakota county newspapers should give a little more space to writing up departed pioneers, and the Dakota county Echo answers by intimating that the pioneers had better subscribe for their local paper while on earth, if they, the pioneers, want any bouquets from the press in the hereafter.

The Continental Insurance company, E. R. Surber, agt.

Judge Boyd held an adjourned term of court yesterday. The matter of the county vs banks was postponed until July 9 when the judge will be here again. Bressler vs Sundahl was tried, the court taking it under advisement. Owing to a misunderstanding in regard to the Farr vs Wightman case Judge Boyd raised the verdict obtained by plaintiff against Mr. Wightman some $130, sort of poking it right to the doctor.

Special sale of summer dress goods at 25, 15 and 10c per yard. THE RACKET.

CARROLL NEWS (From the Index)

About a score, more or less, of the ladies aid society of the Wayne Presbyterian church drove up yesterday and took dinner with Mrs. George H. Phillet and called on other Old Wayne friends.

The only circulating liars we know of Bro. Gibson, reside at the county seat; and so do all the goodlooking editors who have won reputations as lady killers. Jonas and I can't hold a candle to you Wayne, editors for either look or lying.

On complaint of a representative of the C. Shenkberg Co., of Sioux City, Justice Baker yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of H. Bassford on a charge for obtaining credit through misrepresentations of property. The hearing will be had next Monday.

HOSKINS

Mrs. Skeen Sundayed at her home in Wayne.

Mrs. H. C. Heckt is in town from Belden this week.

County Commissioner Ed Cullen was looking after county affairs here Monday.

C. Green and family were at Norfolk Tuesday.

Alma Benser came home from Winside last week.

This week, a price which pleases the farmers more than those who have to buy.

Corn in particular and all crops in general (not to say a thing about our general) are far in advance of the season. Corn being beyond what is usually expected the 4th of July. Everyone has such a big potato story that none tells them.

M. J. Dendinger and family spent Sunday at Norfolk.

Mrs. Houder returned to Wayne after an extended visit with relatives here.

Quite a wave of excitement came to Hoskins last Friday owing to the 10 minutes visit of the Omaha merchants. Hoskins business men were at the depot to welcome them, other citizens were well represented also, and champagne decorated with all sorts of badges representing the different business houses of Omaha.

Jennie Waddell visited Agnes Shanon at Wayne last Thursday.

Mrs. Chas. Wetlich spent the first of the week with her mother in Norfolk.

Mrs. Joe Benish came over from West Point Friday to visit her parents.

Mrs. P. N. Peterson returned to Emerson after a short visit with Hoskins friends.

Mrs. Hayden Hutchinson was called on Hoskins friends last Friday.

Winside News.

Considerable excitement was caused in the park here by a swarm of bees settling on one of the trees Saturday.

Our citizens were treated to a serenade Saturday afternoon by the Danish band.

The ball game Sunday between Hoskins and Winside resulted in favor of Winside, score 20 to 6.

Mrs. I. O. Brown and sister, Miss Maggie Reed, were Wayne visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gue, who have been visiting with their son and wife, left for Denver, Colo. on Monday. Miss Catharine Gue came here the latter part of the week and will spend some weeks with her brother and family.

Mrs. A. M. Averill was a passenger west Monday.

Mrs. W. I. Lowry accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Lowry is spending a few days in Omaha and Council Bluffs visiting friends.

Gus Glaser went to Stanton Wednesday. It is understood that he has purchased a large hardware store there and will make that town his permanent home.

George Westrope and wife of Belden, Chas. Bright and wife of Wayne, Mrs. F. M. Trenn of Ponca, and Rev. Mueller were those from out of town who attended the Trenn-Hupp wedding yesterday.

Winside had two weddings in one day this week. Chas. Neesham and Laura Fish were united in marriage Wednesday morning at the home of the bride and took the afternoon train for Denver, Colo. where they will spend some time. The young couple are well known here and our citizens are glad they intend making Winside their home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Trenn, nee Carrie Hupp, will also remain with us. They were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride. May gifts were made to both couples as testimonials of regard of friends and relatives. The young couples are held in high esteem and the best wishes are all given them in their future life.

Mrs. Kohl of Wayne was visiting her brother, Frank Tracy, and wife on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cross spent some time in Winside and vicinity the first of the week looking after their landed interests and visiting their friends Mr. and Mrs. Gue.

The storm of Tuesday night blew down three of the trees in our public park and did some small damage to gardens and trees on private property. So far we have been particularly fortunate in the matter of storms as many threaten to be very bad but do not fulfill their threats. Come the beginning to slow cool weather and needs some, but night, but these will come later, meanwhile we have plenty of rain and crops are in fine condition.

I. S. Needham has the foundation laid for a large barn 32x50 just south of his office.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Nellie Craig from Battle Creek has returned for the summer after teaching a few months.

Prof. Pile went to Stanton today to visit the teachers' institute and call on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan came up from Pilger and spent a short time at the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Meek spent a few hours visiting classes on Tuesday. We would be pleased to see others do likewise.

Miss Linkhart of Norfolk enrolled this week for a course in review classes. She has just returned from college at Oxford, Ohio.

Mr. Bath of Knox county is with us again and will remain for the summer. He is a splendid teacher and gives best satisfaction in his teaching.

Mr. Hiram Meek and his brother are here from Ohio. Mr. Meek is Mrs. Pile's father and has come on a visit to his son and daughters who live in this state.

Rev. Birrell of the Presbyterian church was a recent chapel visitor. He is a very pleasant man who makes an earnest talk to the students. The ministers have been very kind in calling to get acquainted with the strangers.

The boys have organized a ball team which will be stronger than the team of last year. Mr. Barta will be a member of the team and will add strength as he is a good player in most any position. Mr. Lettich has been called manager and the boys are ready to arrange some games.

The World Herald representative some time ago called and arranged to have a report written up of the college in Sunday's paper. He will have a cut of the main building, the largest dormitory and that of the president used in connection with the description. We are pleased to have a large city paper give the college such recognition.

The class work has never given better satisfaction to the students than the work of this term. Mrs. Bright's work is enjoyed by large classes and Miss Colony's work is highly satisfactory. She is not only an eloquent teacher but a teacher in the best meaning of the word. Mr. Vaughn's classes in mathematics are doing excellent work, of the other teachers it is not necessary to speak because they are so well known.

Plans are made to accommodate a large attendance this fall. All departments will be carefully looked after. Mrs. Bright, Miss Colony and Mr. Vaughn will continue their work. This gives two additional teachers and will relieve Mr. and Mrs. Pile from some of the heavy work they have been doing this giving a better chance to get out to teachers' gatherings and other meetings.

Armour's Summer Menu

- Corned Beef
- Hog and Hominy
- Potted Ham
- English Lunch Sausage
- Brisket Beef
- Lunch Tongue
- Sliced Dried Beef
- in glass jars
- Veal Loaf
- Prime Roast Beef
- Chipped Dried Beef
- Potted Chicken
- Cervelat Sausage
- Chicken Loaf

Any of the above menu can be had at P. L. MILLER & SON'S at prices from 5 cents to 30 cents per can. PHONE 30

A Trip to Iloilo

The following are extracts from a letter written by Mrs. W. E. Norris, telling of a trip made to Iloilo, in the Philippine Islands, which is pronounced E-lo-ilo:

"The rigs were in town which were to take us out to the hacienda the next day. We dragged ourselves out of bed at six o'clock next morning and started about seven. Mrs. Hugo and I rode in a Kalis and Ethel and her daughter rode in another rig. Her brother and a cousin came on horseback. Mrs. Hugo is a mestizo but she talks quite a little English and we like them very much. The distance is fifteen miles and the roads are not what you would call good roads in the United States, although they were not nearly so bad as I expected. The first bad place we came to was got out and walked over a split log by taking hold of a wobbly bamboo pole. They got the rigs over and we soon came to a river that they drove the rigs right onto a bamboo raft. They use bamboo for everything. The raft is the most comfortable thing in the world to ride in. It has no springs and is a two-wheeled affair. I felt as if I was pretty well bruised by the time we got there.

The last river we crossed we all got out and into a little narrow canoe and were paddled over. We think the horses party swam over. We then drew up at the door and were greeted by a burst of music from an orchestra of seven pieces. They played very well too. I felt quite important and straightened up perceptibly. I can hardly describe the house. It was a two story, unpainted building with a concave roof. It is dark wainscoted with the hard wood floors and all finished but the hard wood floors and dark wainscoting over 7,000 acres of land which is nearly all situated in a valley at the foot of the mountains. The mountains are beautiful at all times but particularly so when clothed in mist or bathed in moonlight. His abaca plantation is about two miles nearer and on higher ground, also the same. We went up to see them.

We rode a short distance in a carriage then into a cart drawn by carabao. In one of the mountain streams the bowlders were very large and it took six or eight natives to push with a carabao to pull to get us through at all. Will rode a pony a little way but got by the horse throwing up his head. Will's face got very red but he rode in dignified silence while we were having a good laugh, very soon he said he could not think of depriving some one else of their horse and would prefer riding in the cart. We saw how abaca was made which is a simple process. The bark of the plant is cut across a knife which results in shredding it. It is then hung up in the sun to dry. They use the finer threads for weaving cloth. The finer threads are used for the cloth and the coarser for the lining. They had two natives, a boy and a girl, who were supposed to be ever had any life before. They gave us the little crude homemade guitar which I shall value as a souvenir. No white woman had ever been up there before. I did not see the ocean trees, it was so hot to walk much. Will did, however, and said it was a very clean and pretty plantation. All the time we were on the way Armatas hacienda there were four acres and two nephews there. The orchestra played every evening and some during the day. It is composed of servants from the plantation who can play.

This man has a thousand people working for him and he told me he paid $300 a week gold to his workmen. He looks like a pure native for he is very dark, but has a long head and a progressive spirit. When they found we would wear the mestizo costume they were very much pleased and immediately put two or three women to work to make us some. The goods for the waists were all woven in the house and they looked as if they were made by hand. They gave us a bath or anything we happen to want. Ethel and the young lady daughter struck up quite a friendship. We all liked her but she is as dark as her father and not at all pretty. This man has two sons in school in Santa Clara, California, and he is very proud of them. I imagine they make the money they wish their father to give them liberally. I went through three sugar mills on different haciendas and took note how sugar was made. I believe it is all sent to other countries to be refined but am not sure about that. Thursday they sent rigs for Will and Mr. Hugo. They got here Friday about six o'clock. Mr. Nickols came out Saturday morning and we all went home Monday morning."

In a letter to Mrs. Epler from Judge Norris the following clipping is printed by courtesy of the recipient:

"This island is full of rivers, every little while one traveling comes to a river. The first one we crossed all right in the carriage, it wasn't any adventure at all. The second Mr. Hugo, my traveling companion, and I got out and walked over on a raft bridge. The third we drove on a abaca (raft) made of bamboo, and crossed carriage horses and all. The fourth and last river, was deep, we crossed in a dugout, which returned and brought over the carriage, the horses being led down to a landing place and rode across. After crossing this stream we were within the domains of the admirable Juan Armatas, whose retainers were on hand to take over carriage and horses. Mr. Armatas has a magnificent domain being at the base of the mountains. The soil is more fertile than the lowlands next to the sea. He raises chocolate, betel nut, coffee, hemp, cocoa nuts besides the best of sugar corn. A visit to his plantation is worth reading a book on the Philippines, a dozen of them as generally written. After reading two books, and a score of newspaper accounts you know less of the Philippines than before, but a visit to Juan Armatas' hacienda is an actual fact. It has been one of my most valuable experiences in the islands besides having a royal visit. I would say, take it all in all, that Senor Armatas is the most progressive native I have met in the Visayas, and one of the most intelligent."

FOR GOOD HARD BRICK Go to the John Lewis brick yards. We can have an ample supply and will be pleased to fill all orders.

Fresh California Fruits

- PEACHES - APRICOTS - PRUNES
- Cheaper, and quality is finer than last year.
- Texas Rocky-Ford Cantalopes
- The finest Musk Melon that grows.
- GEORGIA WATER MELONS
- New Kalamazoo Celery
- Fancy Snow-White Bleached.
- Fresh Texas Tomatoes
- Selling cheaper than you can raise them.
- Raspberries, Blackberries, Strawberries
- Are still arriving in fine shape, fresh and luscious
- Bananas! Bananas! Bananas!
- I handle nothing but the best Port Limon stock; they cannot be beat.
- Limoneria Lemons, - Valencia Oranges
- Florida Pine Apples, - Ruttan Coconuts
- New Potatoes Home Grown
- New Onions
- Cabbage and Cucumbers
- C. R. Witter, Cash Grocer.

Steen's Ice Cream

Looks right
Tastes right
Is made right

"is Out of Sight"

Try a bite
Just tonight
The heat it rights

Confectionery Tobacco Cigars

T. STEEN

A NEW LINE OF White Shirt Waists

$1.50, $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00

Satin Striped Linen and Silk Mull Waists $2.00, $2.50 to $3.50

And Colored Waists

A full assortment at 50c, 75c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00

We are offering Special Bargains on odd lots where the line of Sizes are broken.

M. P. AHERN.

The City Bakery

Is the place to buy the

BEST ICE CREAM

Three Flavors in one Brick.

Fresh Bread and Pies

Cookies Five Cents Dozen

But only One Dozen to each purchaser

G. H. DARNELL

THE EXPERT BAKER.

WILL EXHIBIT AT WAYNE, JULY 5

LARGEST in AMERICA

$20,000 actually Invested

MONTGOMERY BROS.

GREATER FAMOUS

Pavilion Uncle Tom's Cabin

Under a Monster Proof Tent

Traveling In Our Own Train of Specially Constructed Pullman Palace Cars.

Seating Capacity for 2,000 Souls

Prof. Gustave Rudolphson's Red Grenadier Uniformed Band and Orchestra.

GENUINE SIBERIAN BLOOD HOUNDS

See Eva and Her Beautiful Shetland Pony.

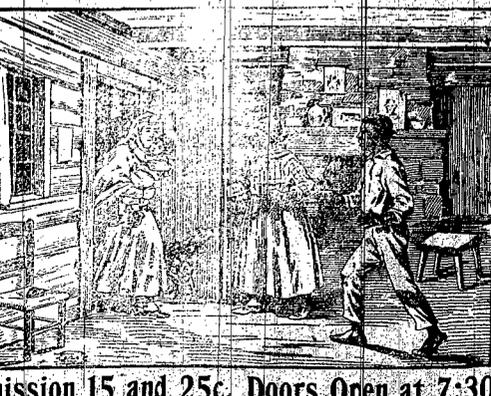

SEE MARKS AND HIS DONKEY.

Elegant Scenery, Immense Stage, Big Co.

Newest Fad, Optograph Moving Pictures.

Greatest Allegorical Transformation Ever Presented With Any Company.

Noonday Street Parade

Admission 15 and 25c, Doors Open at 7:30