A Word of Explanation.

South Omaha, Neb., Feb. 4, 1903. WAYNE DEMOCRAT.—No doubt you will announce in this week's issue, my brother Raag's death and burial. I make it as a request that you state the facts in reference to the cause of his death, etc. We admit that he took carbolic acid, but the reason why he took it is the point. It was not because he was out of work, or stranded for money, as they had money in the bank, and they also owned a good lot in South Omaha which they paid $700 cash for. They also owned some personal property as well as all their house goods, and more than that, Raag had a good job here with the Nebraska Live Stock Commission Company, he worked the day he took his life, and had been to work before that. The trouble was simply this, his wife had made arrangements to move to Wayne which he was opposed to and he tried to persuade her not to leave him, as there are parties here who Raag got to go and talk to his wife and try and persuade her not to leave him, she said, No, said she had promised to go and would not break her word. When Raag saw she was determined to go he then took his own life, as he told me as well as other friends, that he never could part with Clarence, and when he went home and saw his wife was packing up, he then said he would go back down and get his watch. He went back down town and got his watch, paid some small bills, got his shaving cup and bid them all good bye and I suppose got the acid while down town and then went straight up and finished the job right there, but the reports in the Omaha papers are not correct. Now you may say as you like about making a full statement, but I ask you as a friend and justice to my brother Raag that you state facts or say nothing. Please mail me a copy of your paper so that I can see what you say about it. Randall R. Frazier was born in Newton, Ohio, on Oct. 7th, 1852, moved to Iowa, March 1870, moved to Wayne county, Neb., March 1881, moved to Silver City, Iowa, April, 1902, moved to South Omaha July, 1902. Yours very truly, Wm FRAZIER.

Ground Hog Saw His Shadow

Some merchants are like the ground hog, they see a shadow in February and go to sleep for six weeks. The 2 Johns don't. They give 20 per cent discount and that makes business lively. If you want to buy where they are awake call at the 2 Johns during this discount sale. Sale will close Feb. 14th. Heckert, dentist, over P. L. Miller's. Insure with Phil H. Kohl and have your losses paid promptly. Bake biscuits in three minutes? Why yes, call and see for yourself, the Great Majestic does it all this week at Terwilliger Bros. store. Billy Dammeier has hung up three cash prizes for bowling artists this month, $5 to the first in ten pins, $3 to second and $2 to third. Ed. Pratt is top-notch at present with a score of 216. A. B. Everingham went over to Iowa yesterday to make arrangements to move his family there next week. A. R. made quite a stake on the farm he bought over there one year ago. He paid $15 per acre for 569 acres and it is now saleable at $80 an acre.

Lost in a Snow-storm

A man living fourteen miles north of Wayne left Wayne about the time the snow storm struck Wayne. He got lost and was out nearly all night but was saved because he had on Staley underwear. Why will men die when they can buy Staley underwear at the 2 Johns.

The DEMOCRAT for the big sale bills.

W. A. Ivory, dentist, over-1st Nat. Bank Farm lands bought and sold. Phil H. Kohl. Baled hay and straw for sale.—See John Payne or call up No. 44. Go to the Brookings when you want a barrel of good apples for what they are worth. All this week, cooking exhibit at Terwilliger Bros., GREAT MAJESTIC RANGE. You are invited. Mrs. Mel Norton has purchased the house and lot just west of T. W. Moran's and will build a new house in the spring. "Inspiration of the Scriptures" and "Character" are the topics at First Presbyterian church Sunday. The evening topic is the first of a series of subjects pertaining to practical life and conduct. You are welcome. Dick Carpenter has purchased Garfield Hoguewood's rural mail outfit and will operate the same himself. Dick ought to be a popular mail carrier and the patrons of these routes take pretty good care of the fellows who accommodate them. Lon Jones had a little strenuously before getting away from Wayne last Monday. It appears Lon got a bill of goods some time ago from Frank Gaertner and according to Frank's story they were to have been paid for at time of delivery. Frank threatened to attach Lon's stuff at the depot, so Mrs. Jones went into the store and paid the bill, then Mr. Jones called to whip Mr. Gaertner. About the time the young men began to mix things John Gaertner grabbed Bro. Jones and pitched him out of the store, quickly ending hostilities. John has attended too many funerals of other people to have any trouble at this late date in handling those who are only dead financially.

Nothing in a Name

The day is past when everybody wants one kind of steel range. This store has sold in the last four months over 30 steel ranges, of three or four different makes. If you don't feel like putting $55 or $60 in a range, we have a fine one for $40, and a good one for $35. A few years ago it was hard work for this store to sell a steel range because people thought there was only one kind made and we didn't have that kind. Now they have found out that we have some of the very best ranges manufactured. Think of it! 30 ranges in four months! Why did we sell them? Because our Ranges and Prices are Right!

Are You Ready to Die

It is a serious question and if you are not ready you had better buy Staley underwear and live. It is risky business to put off such an important thing at this season of the year. What do you gain if you don't buy Staley underwear and die? Call at the 2 Johns before it is too late.

To H—ll via Pierce

The following appeared in last night's Sioux City Tribune as a special from Lincoln: Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 5.—Gottlieb Neigenfeld, the murderer of his wife and John Breyer of Pierce county, who will hang March 13, and is now in the penitentiary, is not at all disturbed by his impending fate. He is indifferent, talks nonchalantly of his impending execution and is apparently enjoying himself while he lasts. The man is in solitary confinement and is permitted to see but few visitors. He has waxed fat and has gained thirty pounds since his incarceration. He is also a great deal cleaner and looks much better than he did when recently his attorneys fought in vain for his life. A resident of Pierce, at which town he was tried, visited him recently and broached the subject of his execution. Neigenfeld laughed, seized upon the subject of his death eagerly, and remarked that when he was hanged he expected to be ticketed to the other world via Pierce. In that event he would stop off and make his many friends there a neighborly visit. Asked whether he wanted to send any news to Pierce he said no, unless that it was he would like to, but was unable to do so, owing to the fact that he had not been able to circulate around much late.

Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers replied to Mr. Penna. He said: "I cannot understand the purpose of the Indiana operators in raising this question at this time. The convention is composed of operators and miners from four different parts of the country. I think the subject is brought up for the purpose of creating a feeling of animosity between the legislature in its action on the bill."

Just an Extra Burden.

W. S. Bogie answered Mr. Wilson. He said: "On one side is organized labor, on the other the employers. 'Organized capital,' should a voice from the audience. 'Yes,' continued Mr. Bogie, 'or trusts, or corporations, or monopolies, or whatever you are pleased to call it. It is the same old story. We find which will put burdens upon the operators of Indiana that do not have to be borne by the rest of the country. This sort of thing puts upon the operators the expense and responsibility of doing some of the work which should be done by the state.'"

Operators United.

The operators are generally united as to policy. It is the general expression of opinion that the bill is not in accordance with the demands of the miners for an increase of wages as formulated by the state committee. They say that they will make no specific pledge to any delegate seeking a seat in this convention. Any delegation can defeat this scale if it so desires, or it can vote to make no specific pledge to any delegate seeking a seat in this convention. SAY IT IS UNNECESSARY

Would Impose Additional Expense on the Coal Companies—Operators Are United Against Increase of Wages.

Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—At the miners' wage conference, now in session here, Philip Penna, commissioner for the Indiana operators, called attention to the fact that there is now pending in the legislature of the state a shot firing bill, which, he said, if enacted will compel the operators to employ mine shooting. For that reason it was not just that the Indiana operators should have to come into the convention on the same basis with the operators from the other districts of the central competitive field.

The debate was heated and almost acrimonious at times, and was taken to mean that a bitter fight may be precipitated before the conference ends. Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers replied to Mr. Penna. He said: "I cannot understand the purpose of the Indiana operators in raising this question at this time. The convention is composed of operators and miners from four different parts of the country. FUEL DEMAND GREAT.

Chicago Begins Distribution of Coal at Once and Will Require 1,200 Tons for Tuesday's Requirements.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Distribution of bituminous coal at cost price by the city was inaugurated today. Hundreds of tons of coal were distributed at the various points of distribution throughout the city, and it was demonstrated early in the morning that the supply of coal was not adequate to meet the demand. A hurried consultation resulted in a resolution that the amount of coal on hand be increased to one-half a ton, instead of one ton as originally planned. It is estimated 1,200 tons will be required to meet the demands of the first day's applicants.

Randolph is to have a farmers' institute March 23 and 24th.

John W. Mautsburger, editor of the Pender Republic and postmaster of that place, died Monday after a week's illness with erysipelas.

At the rate the railroads of the county have been smashing up rolling stock the past thirty days they will soon go into bankruptcy without the aid of anti-trust legislation.

William J. Bryan brought a little gold home from Mexico, but it does not conflict with Mr. Bryan's theories and can stand on the 1896 platform, as the Commoner explains it is 16 times as much silver as gold.

The Omaha Examiner thinks John N. Baldwin's personal taxes should be raised 30 cents because he now owns the Nebraska legislature. It really doesn't appear as though the legislature would make Baldwin a "scent."

Since Mayor Cadwell of Sioux City was elected to that office on an anti-gambling platform kindergarten gambling halls have been doing a thriving business, and according to the city papers the mayor's policemen never see a thing.

A Jasper county, Missouri, farmer paid a high tribute to the talents of a Carthage real estate agent the other day. He "decided" to sell his place," the Press says, "and got a real estate agent to write him a notice. When the agent read the notice to him he said: 'Read that again.' After the second reading he said: 'I believe I'll not sell; I've been looking for a place of that kind all my life, and didn't know I had it until you described it to me.'"

The following from the Norfolk News will be bad news for a few able-bodied dead-beats that Wayne people have to keep:

A bill has been introduced in the legislature subjecting 45 per cent of a workingman's wages to judgment. This is not the scheme of an octopus but of merchants of the state who have lost large sums on accounts of workingmen because when a case of that kind has been brought to trial the defendants have proven exemption under the present law. The law was intended for the protection of poor men and their families, but it has been abused by dead-beats as have other laws of the state, and the trusting merchants have been the loser. If a law could be passed that would hold the rascals and not prove detrimental to those who are honest it would receive enthusiastic support, and it is not improbable that this law, intended to give the merchants a chance to collect their accounts, will be adopted.

An old farmer had a bright boy of whom he was very proud and he decided to find out the bent of his mind and adopted a novel method to test him. He slipped into the little fellow's room one morning, and placed on his table a silver dollar, a Bible and a bottle of whisky. "Now," said he, "when the boy comes in, if he takes the dollar he is going to be a business man; if he takes the Bible he'll be a preacher; if he takes the whisky he'll be a drunkard—no good at all." He then hid behind the door to see which one his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He went to the table and put the dollar in his pocket, took the Bible and placed it under his arm and then reached for the whisky, took several drinks and then went out smacking his lips. As the boy got on of sight the old farmer poked his head out from behind the door and with a look of horror exclaimed, "Good Lord, he's going to be a politician!"

A Deep Mystery Solved
 Exchange editors have recently observed that a number of republican newspapers throughout the state have printed, simultaneously, an editorial relating to railroad taxation in the city of Omaha.

It might have been difficult for some to understand how it was that all of these republican editors happened to give expression not only to the same thought but to present their idea in the same language.

Those who have been conversant with the methods of the corporations of this state must have had the solution of the problem at hand, but those who do not thoroughly understand corporation methods may be enlightened by an expose made by George L. Nelson, editor of the Hartington (Neb.) Herald.

Frank A. Harrison, who happens to be general utility man for the Union Pacific lobby, sent to Mr. Nelson this letter: Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 23, 1903.—Editor of the Herald, Hartington, Neb.—Dear sir: I enclose herewith an article which I wish you would run in the local or editorial columns of the next issue of your paper.

I believe the sentiment will meet with the approval of yourself and your readers and that local comment on the Omaha tax scheme would be in order.

If you desire payment for the expense of putting this article in type and running it, send me bill, and I will send you check for same. There should be no delay in arousing public sentiment against this Omaha movement.

Please send me copy of your paper containing this article.
 Yours, F. A. HARRISON.

Enclosed in Harrison's letter to Nelson was the following article:

As the people had been led to expect, the city of Omaha is arraying itself against the rural counties, school districts and villages of the state in the matter of railroad taxation. The latest scheme is being exploited in the legislature. The attempt is being made to change the law so as to permit Omaha to assess the railroad terminal properties locally, instead of allowing the taxes to be distributed, equally along the lines as at present.

It is well known that the railroads are interested in the upbuilding of all parts of the state, and that thereby they build up their own business. The valuable railroad properties located in Omaha are not there for the sole benefit of Omaha, but for the benefit of the whole system.

The scheme has just been attempted in Illinois, where Chicago wanted to grab the railroad taxes for local purposes. The attorney general stood for the people of his state, and declared that the scheme would result in losses of at least 20 per cent in taxes in each of the outside counties. The case went to the courts and a few days ago it was decided against Chicago and in favor of the rural counties. The Omaha real estate boomers desire to get around a decision like this by legislative enactment, and thus deprive the outside counties and districts of Nebraska of from 25 to 75 per cent of the railroad taxes which they heretofore have received.

It is a good time for members of the legislature from the interior of the state to be constantly on their guard against this dangerous movement. There will be no division of sentiment among those who inform themselves on the question.

Omaha has built up its trade and gained its wealth because of the toil and produce of the rural communities. The grab game in the matter of railroad taxes looks like base ingratitude. It is like an attempt to kill the goose that laid the golden egg. It would seem to be in order for the constituency in the counties all over the state to notify their representatives in the legislature of their disapproval of the Omaha scheme.

Mr. Nelson declined to prostitute the columns of his newspaper, and so he addressed to Mr. Harrison this letter:

Dear Frank: I acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 23d inst., and beg to reply that articles such as that enclosed are not admitted to the editorial columns of the Hartington Herald in the way you suggest. Referring to the third paragraph of your letter, I beg to say there is not enough money in the state of Nebraska to buy even one line of editorial comment in the Herald.

Referring to the second paragraph of your letter I regret to say that the sentiment of your article does not meet with my approval, and I doubt very much that it will meet with the approval of the Herald's readers.

When I call to mind, dear Frank, that the Union Pacific is maintaining a lobby at Lincoln on a very extravagant scale, and that this lobby is doing everything possible to cultivate a sentiment among the members of the legislature in line with that of your article, I am led to the belief that there is an African in the woodpile, and that instead of trying to "arouse public sentiment in the interests of the public" you are really trying to earn your salary by cleverly "working" the gullible country editor to serve the interests and wishes of your employer, the Union Pacific, in the belief that he is serving the people. The present method of assessing the railroads is undoubtedly a cleverly devised scheme by the railroads to shirk payment of their fair proportion of taxes by taking advantage of the lower tax levies of the rural counties through which their lines run. The cities of Omaha, Lincoln and perhaps other cities of the state in which are located valuable terminal properties are entitled to the privilege of assessing these properties and the present system of assessing railroad properties is a rank injustice to those cities, they being at enormous expense for fire and police protection and receive practically nothing for it.

No doubt, Frank, the present law governing the assessment of railroad property is largely responsible for the great interest the railroads have been taking in the selection of candidates for state officers by both political parties.

Then again, Frank, when the railroads become so "magnanimous" as to spend money to arouse public sentiment in behalf of the dear people, our observation forces us to the conviction that it is time to look into the motive.

In conclusion, dear Frank, permit me to say you are in mighty small business when you undertake to act as go-between in buying up the influence of the country press in behalf of the railroads of this state, and permit me to exhort you to turn from the slimy path of political and corporate corruption before it is eternally to late. Fraternal and sincerely yours,
 GEORGE L. NELSON.

The Democrat at Wayne says that the present postmaster at that place will not ask for reappointment, but that Gibson, editor of the Republican will endeavor to secure it. A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing strength. Nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts of Sub. Station C, Columbus, Ohio, box 200, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy today, I think, as I ever was."

Tendency of the Times

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Raymond.

Funeral of the Late Ran Frazier

There was an immense throng of people in Wayne last Sunday to attend the funeral of Ran Frazier, who died in Omaha Thursday of last week. The remains arrived here on the 10:40 train and the funeral procession with several hundreds of Woodmen and Workmen, in the lead, marched to the M. E. church where Dr. Dawson preached a most acceptable sermon. The church was crowded to its utmost and several hundred were unable to gain admission. From the church the cortege wended its way to the cemetery where the body was laid away to the long rest that knows no awakening again in this cold world of ours.

Among those from a distance who attended the obsequies were deceased's brothers, Robert from Pueblo, Col., James from Chicago, Charley from Silver City, Iowa, Will Frazier and wife of Omaha, J. J. Tracy and son Frank from Winside and a host of old neighbors from the west part of the county.

John Carlson Crazy

Sheriff Mears took John Carlson into custody last Friday, the complaint being that Carlson was not in his right mind. John Gustafson kept the man Thursday night and Friday the fellow was found munching a loaf of bread. Mr. Gustafson says Carlson was one of the best farm hands in the country until he went to the old country some months ago, supposedly to get married, and it is presumed his fiancee went back on him, unbalancing the poor fellow's mind. Carlson claims to be a cousin of Charley Nydahl, but Charley says nit.

Governor Durbin's Position

Ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky is still safe in his Indiana asylum, and is telling the newspapers how the wicked Kentucky democrats, assisted by the courts and legal machinery, are conspiring against his life on account of the Goebel murder. Meanwhile there is twice as much competent evidence against Taylor as is usually required to obtain prompt extradition of a person charged with murder. Governor Durbin of Indiana refuses to honor a repudiation from Kentucky, and nobody is able to guess any reason for it except that he is a republican, as Taylor is, and that Goebel was a democrat. The additional evidence against Taylor furnished by the confession of Youtsey the other day makes Durbin's position more untenable, not to say offensive, than ever. Even before Youtsey confessed, there was strong evidence against Taylor upon which to base extradition proceedings, and all fair-minded men thought it only just that he should stand trial. The following from the press reports of the Youtsey confession shows that the suspicion directed against Taylor heretofore was warranted:

Youtsey explained the plan to Howard to shoot Goebel from the secretary of state's office, and Howard agreed. He left Howard in the hall of the executive building and reported the plan to Taylor in the executive office.

"Tell Howard to go ahead," said Taylor.

Howard examined the three guns left in the secretary of state's office, weighed them with great care and inquired about the sights, and selected the Marlin rifle, with the steel smokeless powder cartridges which Youtsey had borrowed from Grant Roberts.

Howard laid two loaded pistols on the window sills, saying, "I will fire these after I kill Goebel and people will think there are several in here."

Howard knelt and drew a bead on Goebel as he walked along, and fired. Goebel fell mortally wounded and Howard fired four shots with the pistols. Youtsey ran from the secretary's office to the executive office, going around through the basement, and told Taylor Howard had killed Goebel.

Taylor was greatly excited, but was glad Howard had done his work. Shortly afterward Howard came into the governor's office and Taylor told him it was no place for him. Howard left. Taylor delivered to Youtsey the $1,600 which had been collected by the republican committee for the contest, and Youtsey paid it to Howard.

Youtsey said that the plan to kill Goebel had been perfected on the night of January 29, at a meeting in the office of the register of the land office, at which W. S. Taylor, Caleb Powers, John L. Powers, W. H. Culton, Wharton Golden, W. J. Davidson and himself were present, and one other whose name he gave. All these were to hold office in the administration. Taylor and Powers left the minor details to Youtsey.

The situation is a disgrace to Governor Durbin and the state of which he is chief executive. He is less warranted in refusing to honor extradition in the case of Taylor than he would be in the case of an unknown and friendless criminal. Punishment should be swift for the governor of a state who conspires with a hired assassin to commit murder, or at the very least his prosecution should be prompt, impartial and vigorous. The idea of his finding a haven of refuge in a neighboring state of the standing of Indiana, and protected by the governor thereof on political grounds, is extremely offensive. It is a menace as well as a travesty and it would be a misfortune if no means can be found to end the spectacle.—Sioux City Tribune.

RHEUMATISM CURED AT LAST

Good News For All Who Suffer With Rheumatism, Free.

To all who suffer with Rheumatism I will gladly send free the wonderful story of how my mother was cured after years of suffering, together with the most elaborate treatise on Rheumatism ever published.

No matter what your form of Rheumatism is, whether acute, chronic, muscular, inflammatory, deforming, sciatic, neuralgia, gout, lumbago, etc.—no matter how many doctors have failed in your case—no matter how many so-called "sure cures" you have tried I want you to write to me and let me tell you how my mother was cured.

I am neither a doctor nor a professor—simply a plain man of business—but I have a CURE for Rheumatism, and I want to tell everyone who suffers with Rheumatism all about it. I wish to be clearly understood and trust that all who are suffering with this terrible disease however apparently beyond the reach of cure, will write to me this day and I will send you by return mail this work of mine. I appeal especially to the "chronically ill" who are wearied and discouraged with "doctoring" and to those who have been cast aside as "incurable." All you have thought about Rheumatism may be wrong. Let me tell you our experience. Surely if you have Rheumatism, or have a suffering friend, it will pay you to investigate my offer, anyway, and prove for yourself these claims I make.

Send me your address today—a postal card will do—and I will mail you this wonderful story. If you have any friends suffering with Rheumatism no matter where located send me their address, and I will mail them a copy. My address is VICTOR RAINBOLT, Bloomfield, Indiana.

Found Dead in His Yard

Late Saturday afternoon the family of Fred Ulrich found the latter dead in the yard of his home 9 miles north of town. Coroner Williams drove out Sunday morning and held post mortem examination, the doctor finding that deceased came to his death from heart disease. Ulrich's family were in town Saturday and Mrs. Ulrich discovered the body upon her return home. She immediately came back to town for a coffin, intent upon burying the old man at once. The DEMOCRAT understands Ulrich and his wife had just concluded arrangements to divide up the property and separate. Deceased was of a rough-and-ready nature and has had more or less trouble, being jailed upon one occasion. He had lived in Wayne county upwards of twenty years and has been well-to-do of late, having a well-improved farm. He was the man who talked so loud you could hear him all over town when he was in the city, and had many friends who liked him withal he was of a rough disposition. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, interment being in Carroll.

AHERN'S

BY DAD.

Manuel del Valle of Menlo Park, Cal., is 157 years old and ascribes the cause of his longevity to the fact that he has never used tobacco or whisky. Manuel may have been on earth 157 years but he hasn't "lived" even 40 of them.

By dad, Wayne people are pretty good to the DEMOCRAT, but any time we have to move to greener pastures we'll feed at Winside for a while. While up there one day last week the natives nailed me right on the street; there were dollars to right of me, dollars to left of me, dollars in front of me, all on subscription. Winside is by all means the warmest little town on the map, by dad.

Taylor Steen-Darnell is wearing the late G. H. Darnell's trousers but we haven't heard of any divorce proceedings being commenced yet.

Jimmy Fie isn't Irish but he ought to be. Jimmy says "our cook has a brother in congress and she can't talk about anything except 'Tom Holtz and my brudder who is in congress.'"

A lady living in the sunset part of this terrestrial village says she doesn't like sleeping in iron beds, they are such cold things. Now, my good natured better 4 5ths never kicks on the iron bed, she doesn't like 110 pounds of bones, a bit, by dad.

At last Carrie Nation has admitted that she descended from the Duke of Argyle. This is refreshing news. If she had not acknowledged it we might always have gone on thinking that she sprang from a musketyer.

A Minnesota man provided in his will that a part of his fortune, amounting to $43,000, should be burned. The courts have decided, however, that the cash may be put to better use. The 'dampfool' probably never thought about taking it with him.

Wonder if that new remedy, goat lymph, will turn out to be a sure cure for cancer? If it does we can easily supply the goats with more cans.—Cherokee Democrat.

You bet, we canner!
The inhabitants of the Isle of Pines are plotting for annexation to the United States. They ought to be able to slip in, if the "isle" is any good at all.

A Goshan, Ind., clergyman was recently censured by the governing body of his church for kissing a female member of his flock on the forehead. Any chump who doesn't know the proper place to kiss a woman ought to have a severer punishment than that, by dad. That isn't where my wife tells me to kiss her.

A LeMars man has named his automobile after his wife. He has not been able to control it at any time since he got it. Upon that hypothesis I suppose the LeMars will name his "Stay There," for he can't make her go.

The Wayne Herald's "insane board" found both John Carlson and A. J. Ecklund, "Doc Baker," fit subjects for the insane asylum, and Sheriff Mears will take them to Lincoln Sunday. The former had $300 in his clothes and had been sleeping in straw stacks, etc. No wonder the poor cuss became foolish.

"Wayne may have one saloon or pit may have a dozen," remarks one of the substantial men of the county, "but any time you get a whiter man in the business than Herman Milner you'll travel from here to the hereafter." And by dad, that's no joke. When God made the saloonkeepers he was hard up for a job, but some how Bro. Milner comes nearer being a Christian at heart and in fact than 4 5ths of the dirty, low-lived, thieving hypocrites who own a pew in some aristocratic church, and a free pass to hell according to Father Time's diary.

"And a large caucus of people followed the remains to the cemetery," says the Herald in speaking of one of last week's funerals. By dad, it beats all how Mac runs everything into politics—or into your—nothing.

7-year-old Sammy Soules was trying to sell John Owens a Saturday Blade, the other day, and John, just to show the boys standing around how much smarter he was than the kid, told the little fellow that he couldn't read. "But mister," begged the little chap, "you can read the pictures, can't you?" And the laugh that followed cost John the price of a whole stalk. Come to think of it, by dad, John couldn't even read "the pictures" the last time he "fazed" me across the table.

Bob Mellor was also looking for W. H. McNeal's scalp last Wednesday. It appears Mack just cleaned the snow from his sidewalks towards from his gate, and Bob wanted to know if the dampfool thought nobody lived west of the McNeal residence.

OLD TIME

PROUD OF ITS AGE
All the liquors in our stock have reached years of maturity. Some are real old and the mellowing influence of Time has enhanced their original good qualities and improved the flavor. Now they are superb for hospitable purposes or medicinal uses.
There's a charm of moderation about prices.

Your business competitors for instance.

The Democrat's Winside correspondent made a mistake. It isn't an Oklahoma cyclone down here but a North Dakota blizzard, a regular freeze out affair, but as long as the hot whiskey holds out down town we guess Hoskins will weather it alright.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Mr. Watson from Knox county was among the late arrivals. He entered the commercial course.

The changeable weather is blamed for a few cases of colds and sore throats among the students.

The college had a number of visitors over Sunday but all were nicely entertained by teachers and students.

Mr. Raubach who teaches down near Tekamah came up Friday evening to attend to some business and visit college friends. He is getting on well.

Miss Anna Tyler and Myrtle Dainel came up from Stanton Friday evening and remained till Sunday visiting their brothers and sisters. They met many friends.

Rev. Welden conducted chapel Friday morning and made a pleasant talk. The students enjoy his coming for they know he will instruct as well as entertain them.

A most enjoyable social was conducted by the Philomathean society Saturday evening. New and amusing games were presented. All students took a lively interest in the amusements.

Misses Maazer, Schwichtenberg and Lechtenberg were Saturday arrivals to visit relatives and friends among the students. They returned Sunday evening. They are teaching near their homes in Pierce county.

Mrs. Hayes from Hubbard spent Monday and Tuesday at the college. Her son, daughter and nephew are spending the winter here. The young men will go home in the spring but Miss Hayes will remain.

The students enjoyed Rev. Bittel's visit Tuesday. He made a splendid chapel address which was listened to attentively by everyone. While he has not been a frequent visitor, he will always receive a hearty welcome from teachers and students. Come again and often.

Prof. and Mrs. Pile enjoyed a visit from Saturday till Monday from their old college chums, Hon. M. L. Fries and wife of Valley county. He is a member of the state senate and took advantage of the adjournment by making this visit. Prof. Pile and Mrs. Fries associated as teachers at Dixon, Ill, in '81 and '82.

It seems everyone around the college is busier this winter than ever. Prof. Pile teaches seven classes and looks after hundreds of other things. Mrs. Pile superintends the dormitories and teaches several classes. Mrs. Bright is busy with eight classes. Fred Pile has five shorthand classes and keeps up his studies. Miss Stewart gives about sixty music lessons a week. Miss Kingsbury has strong work in Latin, German and rhetoric. Mr. Wolfe has plenty to do to keep him from getting lonesome. Miss Colony has nine classes in her department. A happier, healthier, busier lot of people can not be found than the teachers and students of our college hill.

It is certainly better to be crowded out
