THE DEMOCRAT
WAYNE, NEB.

It may be news to local sportsmen to know that quail shooting will be lawful from Nov. 1st to Dec. 1st this year.

Why wouldn't these peck-a-boo shirtwaists and open-work-hosiery be great stuff for the spiritulists to wear at a seance? Especially where it was desired to see things of heavenly form.

Bixby says "as a rule the fellow who gets excited over politics is an office seeker." That being the case there is no danger of the Wayne county democrat tearing their pantaloons this fall.

That miserly, mean, contemptuous snub given Miles by Roosevelt is the biggest bunch of bouquets the administration could possibly have given the retiring general. Had the president been a gentleman, in this instance, we wouldn't hear more than a foot or two of Miles.

That Kansas woman who lost her bustle with $7,300 sewed up in it didn't lose it at all. It was found at her home where she had left it when she started on her journey to St. Paul. It must have broken her heart, though, to realize that she had appeared so long in public without that particular part of her anatomy fastened to her. Still, it was left behind and that's where she wanted it.

"In response to the demands of the great financiers of the country, the republican leaders, including the president, have determined to put through some legislation designed to give elasticity to the nation's currency system," states a prominent gold-bug sheet. "It is known here that Mr. Aldrich has the support of Mr. Platt of Connecticut, and Mr. Spooner of Wisconsin for a measure that would give the banks the privilege of borrowing money from the treasury at a low rate of interest on securities that heretofore have not been defined by the national banking laws as proper collateral." A sort of a 16 to 0 shot, we presume.

Norfolk News: The News is the owner of a full fledged libel suit today. Thomas J. Sheibley of Ponca is the complainant, and he asserts in his petition that it will require the modest sum of $6,000 to assuage his wounded feelings and make him feel right toward the world again. The action was filed yesterday in the district court of Madison county, the names of G. W. Argo and W. E. Gant of Sioux City appearing as attorneys for the plaintiff, and is brought against W. N. Huse, publisher of The News. The allegations upon which it is hoped to recover are that the defendant published some statements to refute the charges circulated by J. J. McCarthy, when he was candidate for congress, during the last campaign. The principal cause of complaint is given as a statement which is alleged to have appeared in The News during the heat of the political battle.

A Republican Opinion.

In its issue of Tuesday, June 18, the Lincoln News, a republican paper, printed in its news columns an article from which the following extract is taken: "Another remarkable feature of the race for supreme judge is the fact that no other name than Barnes is heard in connection with the administration. Two years ago Judge Sedgwick was nominated only after a very fierce and prolonged struggle. This year Mr. Barnes will have no opposition. The situation is remarkable, but the politicians have an explanation. They say that two years ago the railroads had a fight and a drag-out. This year they have buried the hatchet. Mr. Barnes comes from Elkhorn territory and has been an attorney for that road in Norfolk. Under the conditions that existed two years ago his candidacy would cause the Burlington people to be out with two or three candidates, and there would be trouble all along the line.

"When a county like Lancaster, that is always Burlington in its sympathies and susceptible to the influences of that road, comes out leading the procession for an Elkhorn man, there is only one conclusion—that the railroads have agreed not to fight this year.

"A Lincoln man high in Burlington councils tells the News that the roads have discovered that such fights as two years ago over judge and year ago over governor are disastrous, that the after effects are such as to destroy in part the hold of the railroads upon the politics of the state. He says that the Burlington is laying no obstacle in Mr. Barnes way because the roads have "got together" and agreed to stop fighting each other.

"As proof of the amity of the proceedings he points out that the motion to indorse Barnes was made by a Lincoln man, Mr. Tyrrell, who is known as one of the Elkhorn's representatives in the city. A Union Pacific politician gives the gentle hoot to the story that the roads have quit fighting. He says the facts are that the Burlington has been whipped so soundly in recent years, both in conventions and in the legislature, that it has learned wisdom, and that the reason why it is not in the field with a candidate is that it is aware that it could not beat Barnes, and therefore acquiesces in things as they are.

"In past years the railroads kept their footsteps better covered up than they do now, but present day methods do not embrace any effort to deceive people into the belief that men become candidates because they think they can win on their merits, and that the movements in their behalf are entirely spontaneous. Nowadays when a man thinks of becoming a candidate for a state office he makes it a point to first sound the railroad politicians and guide himself accordingly."

Appearances Unnecessary

A special to the Sioux City Tribune from Lincoln, Neb., under date of Aug. 28, is as follows: "John B. Barnes of Norfolk will today be nominated by acclamation in the republican convention for the office of supreme judge to succeed Chief Justice John J. Sullivan. The situation is unprecedented in the history of politics.

"More than anything that has occurred in recent years, it demonstrates the dominance of railroads and the cheerful alacrity with which the rank and file of the party responds to the corporation's demands.

"For Barnes is the railroad candidate, chosen in the same manner and by the same railroad bosses as was Mickey for governor a year ago. At that time the railroads made some slight pretense at keeping up appearances. While they had all agreed on Mickey as their man, they pretended, for a time, to be divided among several candidates, and to give the people a chance. But, within the twelve months, the railroad bosses have determined that it is unnecessary to keep up appearances in Nebraska. They have found that the people are demanding neither rights nor privileges. They have learned that, within the lines of the dominant party, their power there is none to dispute. Hence they have flung concealment and dissimulation to the four winds. They are out in the open.

It will indorse Roosevelt's administration and his nomination next year, and will be largely confined, it is understood, to national affairs. No one is demanding that Mickey and his administration be indorsed. For, while Mickey has been faithful and obedient to those who selected him as their man, he has succeeded in making himself thoroughly unpopular—and this convention has no desire to do anything unpopular. It will simply carry out the railroad program and adjourn. It knows all good republicans will approve of that."

The DEMOCRAT is inclined to question the theory that the railroads are better qualified to conduct all state legislation in Nebraska than the people, but when it comes to classing these corporations against the republican party, we say let the railroads have complete right-of-way.

Why Not
(Columbus, Neb., Telegram.)

Railroad traffic managers in Omaha pronounce the story that they intend to command Nebraska farmers to hold up their hands, a pure fabrication, and unless otherwise contradicted they must be taken at their word.—Omaha Bee.

And why not take them at their word? The word of the railroad managers is good in Nebraska. About a year ago this week they said: "We have all agreed on Mickey as our man." All the state knows they told the truth. Three months ago the railroad boys held a conference in Lincoln. After that conference the railroaders announced: "We have all agreed on Barnes as our man." The railroaders always make good their word. Of course they will not make the farmers hold up their hands. No use for such a proceeding. Once upon a time Herman Timme, a member of the lower house—from Douglas county, arose from his seat to resent what he thought was an attempt to injure his German constituents. Waxing warm and eloquent Hermañ declared: "Mr. speaker, I tell you, dat you can't fool de Germans; dey was already fooled." And so it will be difficult for the railroad brigade to fool the Nebraska farmers. They have been plenty fooled already. But still we insist the railroad crowd always keeps its word. History supports our view of the case.

Taken With Cramps

Wm. Kirnase, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait on him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day.

The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. Robert S. Van Kuren.

Jordan, N. Y. Times: Last Sunday morning, just as her own church bell, to whose call she had so often and so gladly listened in her membership life, to twenty-seven years, was ringing out its last warning for service, Mrs. Robert S. Van Kuren turned, like a tired, weary child, upon her pillow, closed her eyes and entered upon that higher, richer service, eternal with Christ. Those who watched beside her, though her sleep. She was Christ always called death, as we term it, a sleep.

The funeral services were held at the Van Kuren residence, Tuesday at 11 a. m., and attended by a large number of friends of the deceased and the family. Rev. O. B. Carlisle of the Presbyterian church preached the sermon. Interment was made in Maple Grove.

When the change came to the wife and mother, all members of the family, except the little granddaughter, Dorothy, were at home. One of the pleasing features of the funeral service, was that of the four sons (one of them by marriage) acting as the bearers of the casket.

The religion of Mrs. Van Kuren was best exemplified in her daily life and the characteristics of a generous-hearted, considerate, sympathetic and loving wife and mother. Always cheerful, encouraging, helpful and charitable, she will be greatly missed in the home and the church, the two places, as her sphere of piety. She passed through a long and trying illness, but with the patience and serenity that had always been her companions of health. From her calm religious faith and the consciousness of duty done for Mrs. Van Kuren retained a simple trust which brought her quietly, peacefully, and in the midst of her loved ones, to the close of a long life.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dan Harrington of Wayne, Neb., and three sons, Jerome and Robert of Sharon Hill, Pa., and Dr. John Van Kuren of Randolph, Neb.

Close of the College Year
The conjoint program of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on Sunday afternoon has come to be one of the notable meetings of commencement week, and last Sunday's sermon maintained the previous high standard. As relating to the topic for the day, "Live as if life is earnest and it will be so," Miss Enzella Johnson read an excellent paper on "Life as a Holiday," and Mr. Lockwood on "Life as a Reality." Both papers were excellent and their significance was intensified by the talk which followed by Dr. Rowlands. Indeed, there are those who think this talk of the Dr.'s was equal if not superior to the more formal one of the morning. Surely that Sabbath day will be one long to be remembered, especially by the many young men and women who were inspired by it.

TEACHERS' CLASS ORATIONS.
On Monday evening in the chapel hall were given the orations of the first section of the Teachers' Class. The members of the class spent a good part of Monday re-decorating the stage in the class colors, ultra-marine and old gold, and a surprising transformation of the old stage was accomplished. Miss Vennerberg, president of the class, was the presiding officer, and as usual the exercises began promptly. A pretty piano solo by Miss Edith Myers was followed by the oration of Miss Bengston of Magnet, on the subject, "If I were Rich," in which the true use of riches was attractively and philosophically set forth.

LeRoy Ruggles, Three Rivers, Mich., spoke with clearness and force on the evils of "Competition" as viewed from the standpoint of true political economy, and Miss Pearl Francis, Gibbon, Neb., in telling phrases set forth the need of trained facilities in an oration whose captain was, "A Clear Head."

Not inconsistent was it that Will F. Richardson of Wayne, should elect the subject, "A Broad Mind," for his theme and not narrowly was it treated. "A Head, A Heart, A Hand," with the grace of intellect, the vigor of conscience and the readiness for service implied therein found appreciative consideration by Miss Bailey, of Newcastle. A sweet vocal solo rendered by Miss Farmer gave acceptable variety to the program at this point, and this was followed by the oration of Michael Hofer, Mitchell, S. D., on the subject, "Our Nation." Though Michael has not lost all the traces of his MUTTER-SPRACHE he is none the less a true American patriot and will do his part in making our country greater as he predicts it will be.

Miss Blanche Weaver, Wakefield, in an unusually sane discussion of the question of the occupations of sexes under the title, "If I Were a man" brought out many excellent points worthy of a wider hearing.

A characteristic found in the lives of the men of our country who have made history, was urged upon aspiring young men and women today, that of "Earnestness," by Claude Ramsey, Winside. "Ideal of Duty," than which for moral man there is none higher, was dwelt upon with profit and delight to the listeners, by Miss Eva Beauchemin, Elk Point, S. D.

As befitting an evening of oratory, its close was marked by melody, a pleasing piano duet by Misses Pile and Rundquist.

On Tuesday evening at the appointed hour there filled again into chapel hall with sacerdotal dignity the classic column of learned neophytes. Mr. Claude Ramsey, vice-president of the class, presided over the exercises. After a piano solo given by Prof. Dilworth with his usual charm and skill, Miss Vennerberg of Wayne, talked on "Ideals" and gave evidence that she is wont to pursue them. "Our Noblest Birthright," received worthy treatment at the hands of Mr. Nies of Wayne, while Miss Jenkins of Carroll, followed with some excellent advice about "Seeing Things." Mr. Ira Steele, also of Carroll, spoke with force and feeling on "Cuba, the New Republic." "The First Fiddler," was the figurative title of a charming essay on pioneers in action, by Miss Pile, of the College, the delivery of which was followed by Miss Cunningham in a refreshing vocal solo. Miss Noss of Winside, talked in pleasing reverie on "A Dreamer," and Mr. Asplin of Bega, mixed good sense with philosophy in a discussion of the "Philippine Islands." "He is Odd," was used as a text for the consideration of some unique characters in history, by Miss Paul of Grand Island, while some wholesome philosophy on "Encouragement" was eloquently proclaimed by Mr. Marshall of Verdigris. "Novel Reading," its virtues and its seductions, was aptly and pleasingly presented by Miss Rundquist, of Magnet. A piano solo by Prof. Dilworth concluded the program.

SCIENTIFIC CLASS ORATIONS.
Wednesday evening was the Scientists' night. For this occasion the stage decorations were cream and crimson, the class colors. Mr. Junge is the president of the class and acted as chairman of the evening. A piano solo from Chammanade by Miss Bressler proved a worthy introduction to a program of unusual excellence. Miss Nieland of Wayne, led the intellectual march with an inspiring oration on the subject, "Scorn to do Wrong," and Mr. Junge of Pierce, followed with a forceful presentation of the theme, "No, and Mean It." "United We Stand" was made the occasion of a worthy eulogy to American union by Miss Coleman of Wayne. Mr. Mack also of this city, entertainingly discoursed on the curious but pregnant subject, "Follow Your Nose." "Literature as a Factor in Life," was the theme of Miss Leahy's appreciative treatment of matters literary, and then came Mr. Beauchemin of Elk Point, S. D., who delivered an exceedingly rational talk under the caption "No Chance for Me."

Miss Elmore favored the audience at this point with a charming vocal solo, and then Miss Bingham of Parker, S. D., talked on "The Good Times Coming," emphasizing especially that in the Golden Age woman was supreme. "The Poor Rich Man" was the subject of an oration marked by much originality and sanity by Mr. Barta, of Verdigris. Miss Ringer of Wayne, in a telling oration urged the significance of "A Social Problem" that is ours to solve, and Mr. Vaught of the College faculty, in an oration that was at once profound and fascinating dwelt on our "Whence and Whither." Fred M. Pile, of the college, fittingly brought the strong series of orations to a close in an eloquent, sensible and pleasing treatment of the subject "Smaller."

The program was concluded with a piano solo by Miss Rundquist.
This class is the largest Scientific class in the history of the school and this fact combined with the excellent character of its members, makes the class one of which the school is justly proud.

J. Leon Lewis, of Sunday Sun notoriety, is not dead, as he was reported to be some time ago, but is alive and floating around Chicago, where he is conducting an employment agency for chorus girls and cheap actors. A day or two ago a Sioux City man saw Lewis in Chicago. He was on the street and in the company of the young woman for the loss of whose affection Lewis attempted to commit suicide in Sioux City nine years ago. At that time Lewis was a ticket taker at the old Bijou theater of Al' Travel. Third and Pearl streets, and the girl was a singer in the place.—Sioux City Journal.

Lewis is an old Wayne landmark, who relinquished the publication of the DEMOCRAT thirteen and one half years ago, about the time the present scribe took charge of it. While running the Sunday Sun J. Rain stopped the sports at the college last Friday. The ball game between Ponca and the College was 3 scores made the first half by the visitors and two men on bases and none out by the locals when the rain and hail made all run for shelter.

The Winside ball team will try for the $25.00 purse at Carroll next Tuesday and the basket ball girls will have a contest with Wayne girls—not the college girls. There will be a few fans to accompany them.

Mrs A Hines went over to Wayne last Thursday and rented a house. This looks as though Winside was to lose another one of its good families. We understand they go about September 1st.

We notice that the Wayne Republican mentions Dave Shaw of Winside as a possible candidate for the nomination for county sheriff by the democrats. This is a new honor of which Mr Shaw knows nothing about as he has gone to Washington and has some thoughts of locating there.

Claud Ramsey graduated from the Wayne College last week and is now at his home in Winside. He will commence a term of school in the Prince District the first of September.

Best options and lowest rates on loans. PHIL H. KOHL, Agt.

BERT BROWN, County Clerk.

Don't fail to see Rundell when you are ready to preserve Peaches, Pears, Plums, etc. A good assortment to select from and the price—you know that is right.

Omaha Markets.

For two days this week receipts of cattle have been very heavy with 10 to 15 lower market on all but best kinds.

We quote best corn steers $4.75 to $5.25. Western Haystacks $4.00 to $4.25. Best feeders $3.50 to $4.00, fair $3.15 to $3.50. Cows $2.00 to $3.25, canners $1.50 to $2.00. Bulls $2.00 to $3.50. Calves $3.00 to $5.00.

Our sheep market is lower on fat kinds again but not so bad as Chicago. The demand is still brisk and we do not expect any serious declines. Ewes are selling at $2.50 to $3.00. Feeder weathers $3.20 to $3.25; yearling $3.40 to $3.60; fat sheep and yearlings $3.70 to $3.75; feeder lambs $4.00 to $4.25. Fat lambs $4.75 to $5.00. Hog receipts light, to lower. Range $5.10 to $5.35 with bulk of sales at $5.00 to $5.10.

To our many friends and neighbors of Wayne. Accept our sincere thanks for your sympathy and kindness during the illness and death of our darling little one.

Oh, the little white arms that encircled, Our neck in a tender embrace, Oh his smiles that were halos from heaven.

Shedding sunshine of love on our face, And now they are gone we sit dreaming, Of his childhood, too lovely to last. Of love that our hearts will ever remember.

When it wakes to the pulse of the past, He was the idol of our hearts and household.

He was an angel of God in disguise And we know now how Jesus could be born.

The Kingdom of God to us child. J. F. GREENSLADE, CELIA GREENSLADE.
