superintendent Charles Wilson of Winside was the unanimous choice of the convention. Mr. Wilson is a College graduate and highly spoken of by those who have his acquaintance.

Shortly before the convention had concluded all business Mr. Cherry, who had been sent for, made his appearance and declined the nomination for treasurer. Mr. Klopp also objected to posing as second-class timber on the ticket and it looked rather dubious as to who would be accorded the honor of caring for the county's finances.

Then a number, a large number of democrats got after Mr. Cherry and insisted that he make the race and to their pleadings and promises of good support Jack finally agreed to let it go at that. While the Democrat was in favor of Mr. Klopp knocking off the plum, we want to say right here that under all the circumstances every real democrat in the county should "get up on his toes" for the election of Jack Cherry. We know there are some "soft places" but what good will it do the democracy of Wayne county for democrats to throw salt in the wounds! Mr. Cherry is a first-class man for treasurer and a democrat, and it is an injustice to the whole party to have a handful of people who may have imaginary differences with him to destroy party success by giving ammunition and aid to the republicans. If you can't "push," at least quit "pulling." Can't shout in a clear voice, kindly shut up!

For county commissioner of the 2d district John Harder of Wilbur precinct was selected as the best man to beat Ed. Owen, the republican candidate. The whole county votes for this official this fall and Mr. Harder will no doubt be a winner, for he is a good business man of wide acquaintance.

The delegates selected to the state convention, held Tuesday at Columbus, were P. H. Kohl, Joe Dobson, Robt. Skiles, W. S. Goldie, Geo. Dreverson jr., Henry Klopp, J. H. Mitchell, Theo Barnhardt.

To the judicial convention Wm. Buetow, Elmer Lundburg, F. A. Berry, Ben Skiles, E. R. Surber, Ed. Cullen, J. Reichert, Ben Baker.

The county central committee, R. H. James, chairman, Geo. R. Wilbur, secretary, and committeemen: Ben E. Splittergerber, Chapin, P. Pryor, Deer Creek, Jas. A peculiar law suit was tried before County Judge Hunter Monday and Tuesday of this week, O. D. Franks bringing an action against Ted Perry for some $30. Harry Siman was attorney for plaintiff and Welch & Davis for defendant. After taking the matter under consideration for some little time the court soothed Perry for the full amount. This is the wrong time of the moon to have trouble with a sun-keep.

BUILD RESERVOIRS HEREAFTER.

Water from Streams for Irrigation About Extinct.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 22.—Future irrigation in Nebraska will have to be done largely by means of reservoirs for the storage of flood waters, inasmuch as the irrigable streams in that portion of the state where irrigation is necessary lie above all the water appropriated which may be used.

Some day, however, some of the streams will be dry, and the water will be taken from the North Platte river, but the use of that stream will be held in abeyance until the Scotts Bluff county case is disposed of.

The star was about 2 years old and the brother about two years older. The family live just east of town.

A Farmer Who Left Suddenly Years Ago, as Suddenly Returns.

HIS PROPERTY WAS SOLD.

During His Long Absence He Has Prospered Immensely—Other Nebraska News of State Interest.

Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 24.—Noah Norton, for many years a prosperous farmer of Gage county, who left the city recently suddenly about twenty years ago, returned yesterday.

At the time of his departure from Beatrice it was claimed that domestic troubles drove him away from home, and he did not return for ten years.

Supposedly such to be the case, his wife married another man, with whom she lived for several years, when she died.

Soon after Mr. Norton's return yesterday he stated to the editor that before leaving he took his oldest son into his confidence and told him he would turn over everything to him and requested him to provide for the younger children. He said his wife left him with the understanding that he would take care of his wife and his son.

Mr. Norton's son, Mr. Norton's de- parture his wife administered upon his estate, and the property was sold for the benefit of his wife.

He said that his wife was a widow.

During his long absence from the city he has resided near Webster, Tex., and has prospered fairly well. Mr. Norton says he has played the part of Rio Winkle pretty well, and has returned for the purpose of letting his old friends know that he is still number among the living.

New York, Aug. 22.—Reliance won the race by 7 minutes, 2 seconds, after deducting the time allowance. "She crossed the mark fully a mile and a half in the lead."

New York, Aug. 22.—Fifty-two years ago this very day the yacht America, in a race for the cup offered by Queen Victoria, for the prize which since that day has become known as the most highly sought trophy in the yachting world. The courageous Commodore Stevens, after many refusals, was finally permitted to enter the contest and the two yachts points to sail around the Isle of Wight. How well he sail his yacht that the remark had become historical. "There was no second."

A true, clean contest which can leave no doubt in one's mind, such as扶手 mind's point, should have resulted in today's race between Reliance and Shamrock III, for the prize so long coveted by English yachtsmen. The wind at 9 o'clock blew steadily out of the southwest at a speed of 15 knots per hour from a perfectly cloudless sky. The sea still had somewhat of a roll and there was not a little surf breaking along the Jersey shore. The wind was strong enough to send along coasting vessels at full sail. Some of the little fishing vessels along the increased wind before the day was over had one or two reefs in their mainsails.

The conditions governing today's race are the same as those of Thursday—fifteen miles to windward and return. Ready for the fray.

Sandy Hook bay all was activity and bustle on board the racing craft as early as 6 o'clock, and the prospect of fast racing weather seemed to imbue the air. Both Captain Barr of Reliance and Captain Wringle of Shamrock were jubilant. Barr said: "If this blow continues, and it looks as if it would, we'll have a great race in good time."

Captain Wringle said: "This is Shamrock weather; we can do it in this."

In oversights, Shamrock had previously been measured without having her anchor and cable on board, which is required by rule. All yachts sailed today's race without these accessories, by permission of the New York Yacht club.

Both yachts left their moorings at 9 o'clock, the two leaders by far soon dropped the line and headed for starting point under 15, stayail and mizzenail. The boats reached the lightship at 9:55.

Owing to the position of the wind the latter had selected the starting point on the starting point, as it was apparent a beat to windward of fifteen miles from the lightship was impracticable.

It was finally concluded to make the start five miles to eastward.

The excursion fleet which had assembled for the race was not quite so large as on Thursday.

The Start.

At 11:30 the preparatory gun was fired and the two yachts were soon upon maneuvering for positions as they sailed back and forth in this preliminary struggle both boats showed a good deal of the weather side as they lay down, dipping their lee rails.

At 11:45 both boats were well laid in and standing inshore. Both boats stood a quarter mile to westward of the line, then started and ran down the wind for 15 seconds, when Shamrock made a sudden turn to the south.

The boat reached the lightship at 11:50.

Addressing the presiding judge, Madame Humbert went on, exclaiming: "It is true, the Crawford exists, the fortune exists, but I am sure that it is owned by Mr. Long, the man who is the owner of the house."

"Be careful, Madame, not to confuse me with the notorious Regnier."

"That's how I suddenly earned Crawford's fortune," she said. "I am not known by my name."

"Then by what name?" I asked.

"Then replied: My fortune was made during the first 18 months of my life, of rents which were very low, and a large quantity was bought here."

"His name was Regnier, the intermediary between Marshal Bazaine and the Germans. I had already transacted business with him, but I was not yet introduced to him and he failed to recognize them in the street or the club, although they had been introduced to him and spoken to him frequently."

"Not only was Lord Salisbury misinformed about his name, but he had a bad memory for faces—a rare defect in a public man. It is said that he once asked Mr. Balfour, when visiting the house of commons, "Who is that man who spoke to me in the evening?" His wife, I swear on my daughter's head, that this is the first time he heard the name."

Addressing the presiding judge, Madame Humbert went on, exclaiming: "It is true, the Crawford exists, and that I have never cheated anyone. Now you have the whole Humbert case and the whole Crawford case."

"The lawyer's assertion that the Humbert has caused a decided sensation in defense of the securities was a reality, as many witnesses swore they had seen them."

Salisbury's not over fond of Americans. In his address in the war of the Spanish-American war was a note of warning against young and vigorous nations and an expression that governments growing old and feeble after years of power, must be succeeded by their stronger and more youthful ones."

Robert Arthur Talbot Gascoyne-Cecil, third earl of Salisbury, former minister of surviving English statesman since the death of his life-long rival, Gladstone, was born in the purple, sent down to the lowest round of fortune's ladder because he married to the disaffected wife of a peer, and then climbed up to the highest position in the British empire through sheer force of his abilities.

Salisbury's parliamentary career entered upon a quiet path. He entered parliament in 1854, and it was not until July, 1902, that he retired from the premiership, leaving his party so thoroughly in control that he was able to bequeath the premiership to his relative, the "traitor of Metz," who made a great fortune during the French invasion of Mexico and who, after his return to France, formed a legal union with Therese, the lawyer's assertion that the Crawford bear an "odious name," which every parrot would repeat, he pronounced irresponsible for the latest legend while he said that Therese is the daughter of ex-minister of finance M. In that time, however, Reliance had gained a commanding position to windward and ahead of her opponent. As soon as she went to the weather of Reliance, Reliance tacked inshore again, and when Shamrock, holding on until she crossed the line, had also tacked, it looked as if Reliance were leading by fully a quarter mile, the former sailing on this leg for about 15 minutes, appeared as if Reliance had drawn still further ahead, but continuously she lengthened the distance between herself and the challenger.

Shamrock lightened as best for the weather became better and increased her advantage with every mile sailed.

Reliance turned the mark at 1:55:14 and immediately set her spanker to port. She tried to hoist her balloon jib, but it seemed to jam half way up, and she was unable to get it up again. The difficulty was overcome a moment later and Shamrock succeeded in getting up her balloon jib, but after the yachts had sailed a short distance the balloon was taken.

The second Reliance gained constantly and at 2:30 had increased her lead to a mile and a half. In face the race was a procession. Reliance, with greater speed, drawing further and further away from Shamrock, the run home was made in record time, a 12 to 14-knot breeze. At 2:35, when the boats were timed passing that point, the Reliance seemed to be a full minute ahead.

When the excursion fleet were hard pushed to keep pace with the big racers as the latter drove home before the wind.

There was, however, a big fleet gathered at the pier to greet the victor.

The victor, Reliance, led the fleet to the finish line, which she crossed 8 minutes, 55 seconds ahead of Shamrock immediately after crossing the finish line, the two yachts headed toward Sandy Hook.

Madame Humbert Delivers Her Threatened Revelation.

Paris, Aug. 22.—All members of the Humbert family were found guilty.

When Madame Humbert arose to make her proposed revelations she seemed to be laboring under a great fear, and paused before her first avowal of the secret of her life.

Lord Edward Cecil, the soldier son of Lord Salisbury, who is now in Egypt, and who is the only member of the family absent from the deceased king, was present.

The ex-premier, though retired from political life, was an important figure in many ways. He was a warden of the Cluny ports, high steward of the Tuilleries, a chevalier of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre. His death places an order of Knight of the Garter at the disposal of King Edward.

For clerk of courts	BEN SKILES

For County Commissioner, ad district	JOHN HARDER

Republican papers in this section of the state will have a difficult time if trying to make the voters believe that J. B. Barnes is a lawyer of remarkable ability. He is known as a bluffer and bullyragger, and simply not in it at all when classed with such attorneys as Harry Brome. People who have attended court in Wayne can sustain this opinion of Mr. Barnes.

A Just Judge.

"Doc" Bixby, writing in the Lincoln, Neb., Journal (rep.) says: "A two-for-a-cent politician writes to find out why we don't jump onto Judge J. J. Sullivan and give him hell?" The answer is easy for two reasons: First, we have no occasion to abuse the judge, and, second, no disposition. He is a clean man and a just interpreter of the law. The color of his politics is not to our liking, but that is no reason for treating him with discourtesy."

Speaking from a nonpartisan standpoint there are two candidates on the democratic county ticket that every farmer in Wayne county should support, be they republican, democrat or populist. If any of our republican farmer friends do not know why Perry Benshoff was turned down by one or more tax-dodgers, then investigate the reason for it.

For county judge the democrats give you one of the cleanest, ablest, impartial judicial minds in this part of the state. Look at those two features of the fall campaign from a nonpartisan standpoint. The best men—no matter what their politics—are the best men for all parties to vote for and to work for. While this is true in a large measure with all the county officers, it is doubly so as regards our county judge and county assessor.

Speaking of Candidate Barnes the Lincoln Post says: Mr. Barnes of Norfolk has been nominated for the supreme court by the republican state convention, acting under order issued by Messrs. Baker, Spratlen, Baldwin, White & Co., dealers and brokers in railway passes and freight rebate. Mr. Barnes had a clear sailing. Not a delegate dared to rise up in protest. To do so would mean the loss of a pass and future snubs whenever a little bit of political pie was to be passed around. Mr. Barnes' nomination was decided upon several months ago, and plans were laid for a "spotaneous" demand was set to going, after which their work was done. The g. o. p. rank and file has so long been in the habit of accepting anything offered by the bosses that there was no thought of opposition.

It remains to be seen whether the majority of Nebraska voters are willing to trust their interests in the hands of a man notorious as the creature of and tool for the railroads. The Post has faith to believe the majority will not be so foolish. But if that majority do so it will not be surprising, for it has been done time and again, despite the bitter lesson of experience.

Bixby's Daily Drift:

Man is but little lower than the angels. But you wouldn't always think so to hear him talk.

Judges sometimes overlook the law and decide according to their prejudices. People are so intensely human they can't be anything else if they try.

We once knew a banker who loaned money at 2 per cent a month, and always spoke of such loans as "accommodations." Some men have nerve.

Every prize fighter degenerates into a worthless bum before he winds up his earthly affairs unless cut down by accident before he has gone too far.

The other day we saw a politician who was recently obliged to pay $14.65 for a railroad ticket. He said the very remembrance of it gave him the nightmare.

We know a young married man of Lincoln who really thinks it is smart to get drunk and neglect his family. Some day he will have the Jim Jams, and then it won't be so funny.

When the market price of wheat reaches a dollar there are farmers who will hold the crop in expectation of a still further advance. It is a safe rule to sell when you realize a fair profit.

Ed. Howe thinks it ridiculous to establish a school of journalism for the education of young men who must afterward compete for twelve-dollars a week jobs. He suggests that it would be more sensible to establish a school of masonry, and he might have added for instruction in the art of plumbing, occupations that yield abundantly, and you won't have to keep going after you are all tired out.

Out here among the hills and hollows where the prairie dog yaps and the coyote skips, what the deuce do we care for the outcome of international yacht races? Here we have no boats except stone boats, and very little use for those. We have no heavy surges, no choppy seas, no waste of angry waters where you can't raise anything but fish.

Our fields of waving corn are great, Our prairies broad are green and fair; I don't believe that any state In any country anywhere Can show more beauties to the eye.

More that the throbbing heart holds dear,

So grand a stretch of earth and sky,

So pure and full an atmosphere.

And the people out here are not averse to rapid transit. They have the fastest railroad trains in the world. Their horses rank among the liveliest in the land, and the street cars move so swiftly that you are in mighty good luck if you get the one you want and don't have to wait for the one due in ten minutes.

If you want to interest the people of Nebraska in any kind of a boat race, a contest between prairie schooners is the only thing that will bring the answer. Stand up for Nebraska.

A very large number of the very small number of men who seven years ago called themselves free silver republicans are now openly affiliating with the democrats. If a fellow goes wrong at all, he seldom stops until he hits the limit.—Bixby.

Well, these fellows haven't reached the limit yet.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirman, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait on him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

The Devil and the Girls.

The following article is taken from the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, and while it was intended as a rebuke to evil practices in that city, it is so applicable to conditions in many places that it is worthy of more than passing notice. The Gazette says:

"The mothers of this town have had a lesson, but it does not seem to have done them any good. There are just as many girls gadding around town getting their mail from private boxes in the postoffice as there were. Two years ago the Gazette went after the mothers for neglecting their daughters and the result was that a half dozen private mail boxes were discontinued and a lot of little girls that were in the habit of gadding toomuch were kept in for a time. These girls are now developing into fine young women but another crop of gadding girls has come on and the Gazette hopes that no one's modesty will be shocked by says that these little hussies ought to be spanked good and red. They are between 15 and 17 years old and they are just so everlasting boy stuck that they can't sit still.

If their mothers knew the type of boys and young men, young human pups, these girls would throw fits. But their mothers know nothing of the situation. They think their little girls are so sweet and pure that nothing can harm them. The truth is these children are made of the same kind of mud that we are all made of and they are just as liable to temptation as older people and a thousand times less experienced. And their mothers let them gad the street and flirt with all kinds of men and then their mothers wonder how the devil got them and think the girls must take after their father.

"There are just two things that will keep girls straight at that age. One is plain clothes and the other is home duties. The girls who make fools of themselves are invariably over-dressed. They wear duds that women of thirty should hesitate about wearing. A little girl with too many and too costly clothes on her back gets self-conscious and vain and loves admiration, and you grown up women know the next step. A simple, pure-hearted girl who has a place in a home, home work and home duties, has her heart there and no boy can steal it. Even when maturity comes and a real man comes and a real affair of her heart comes such a girl leaves home with heart aches and heart rending.

"But a girl whose place in the home is at the table and in bed, won't love that home. Work makes things sacred. The child whose home memories are not haloed by work, who is not needed and does not feel the need, will not love home. And if she doesn't love the home of her girlhood she will love no other. She will go anywhere for anything. Home will mean nothing for such a woman and if she is respectable she will only lack the opportunity to be a bad woman and is good only through circumstances or by the necessity of an ugly face. She will curse any man she marries. The mothers of this town who are responsible for the girls who gad the streets should stop and think what they are doing. These girls are no longer children. They are at the impressionable age. Where will you have their impression come from, from the riff-raff of the street or from home? It is for the mothers of this town to settle the question?"

Like Our President Pile.

It was unfortunate indeed that every man, woman and child in Minden did not hear J. M. Pile's lecture at the U. P. church Tuesday evening. His subject was "Intellectual Heroes" and he handled it in a fine manner. His talk was deep, logical and entertaining. In fact it was one of the best lectures ever given in Minden. We have paid fifty cents many times to hear lectures that could not compare with his. He brought out new thoughts and made them forcible and convincing. He presented a new phase to self-consciousness and the true purpose of education—Mindem News.

Prof. Pile's lecture at the U. P. church Tuesday evening was a marvelous production. It was not possible for us to be present at the church when he began but we caught enough of the lecture to admire it, because it was practical, full of ideas that should be indelibly engraved upon the minds of every young man and woman in the land. Originality and individuality were the keynotes of his lecture. Be men and women in and of yourselves. Don't follow an idea simply because inherited but study it out. Independent thought and heroic action makes men and women of influence, men and women who uplift humanity, who fulfill the purpose for which they are created. When a person steps out of the beaten path, he is called a crank and ridiculed at first; later an attempt to rob him of his originality will say, "so one ever doubted that proposition?" Avoid the superficial and commonplace and dig. This makes men and women of prominence, this makes intelligent heroes—Mindem Courier.

With all due respect to Judge Enoch Hunter, who does the best he can, just imagine Judge H. H. Moses in the county judge's office! While we may have to take it all out in imagination the fact of having at least an opportunity for improvement is good, just as it better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all.

Carroll Cuts Loose

Our little neighboring burg in the northwest corner of the county cut a wide swath Tuesday with a picnic of free and easy proportions. At one end of the main street was a string of craftsmen, of the black and red, old even and star variety, while at the other extreme of the street a good Methodist parson (our man Dawson) was laboring earnestly to teach the visitors to tread in paths of truth and honesty. The DEMOCRAT got a smattering of both ends of the street, and we like the preacher part of it best because he don't hurt a fellow so much when he recollects the circumstance afterwards. There was also plenty of gaudy shows, etc., and lots of sport for the sporty. A ball game between Belden and Carroll was played before dinner but was too much of a Carroll affair to attract attention, aside from the grand stand plays Bunker Clausen made for the visitors, in an effort to defend the home team. Another ball contest in the afternoon with Winside was a much better game, the visitors being also defeated, 4 to 3.

The basket ball game was won by Winside maidens, the Wayne girls meeting a disastrous defeat. There was some very nice parades, good music by the Carroll band and enough to cover more space than the DEMOCRAT could stand for.

DO NOT COME

If you want your disease treated. Our work is entirely with causes of diseases, as we find the sub-luxations in the vertebrae, causing dormant nerves that lead to your diseased organs. This is the reason for diagnosing your case from your spine. KIROPRACTIC science is entirely with cause. Chronic cases have their diseases treated for years. Why not KIRO remove the cause, nature will do the rest—if it be one day or twenty years standing? Kiro is not a treatment on microbes, bacteria and bugs causing disease—but that they are simply there taking up the dead matter—therefor our organs become diseased from lack of nerve force on account of pinched nerves.

THE BEER THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS

In the Schlitz brewery you will find a plate glass room. In it are cooling pipes, over which the hot beer drains. Above it is an air filter, and the gas enters into this room save through that filter.

No gas can enter beer handled with such care. But, after the beer is aged, we filter it, then bottle and sterilize every bottle.

We take triple precautions because beer is a saccharine product. Impurities multiply if they get into it. There is no grade between absolute purity and utter impurity.

Every bottle of Schlitz is absolutely pure, and—purity is healthfulness. Your physician knows—ask him.

Don't worry about how you are going to get your shirt on over your wings. Rather ponder upon how your bat will fit over your horns.

I notice in the advertisements a patent medicine called "Sweet Laxative Chops." They are guaranteed to prevent your breakfast sawdust forming into saw logs.—Cherokee Democrat.

Why not use a little "force?" We saw logs run that way.

A Marshalltown woman married three months, has left her husband and sued for a divorce because he refused to buy her a piano. By dad, the piano proposition was "harped" upon so much at our house that we have "music" enough to put a full orchestra to shame.

The manager of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York is said to receive $600,000 a year for his services. No other hold-up man in the country can cause anywhere near that amount.

Mayor Jas. Britton received one of those official notices to "fix up your sidewalks or the town will do it," etc. Prof. Durbin was the practical joker who put up the conundrum.

Sam Davies says "Judge Moses is the only candidate on the whole d—n ticket that has a chance to win." By dad, while the judge should by every right and circumstance, kick him in the teeth, we don't agree with Sam, for there will be several democrats elected this fall.

Thirty-seven married couples in Sioux City want to be happy and single again. The devil must have done a little jiving down there.

L. P. Orth Sells Out.

On Wednesday A. F. Lane, a druggist from Howells was here and purchased the Orth drug stock and business, and also leased the E. J. Nangle residence opposite Frank Skeen's. Mr. Lane returned to Howells Wednesday evening for his family.

While the DEMOCRAT has never been able to pull in as small a collar as L. P. wears, it is at least consulting at this time to cogitate upon the fact that there are lots of other people who have "corners" on them just as offensive as any we carry. We wish Mr. Orth and his most estimable family peace and plenty wherever they plant their palace.

School Opening

The Public schools will open on Sept. 7th. All unclassified pupils or those desiring to enter from other schools should present themselves for assignment at the high school building on Friday afternoon, Sept. 4. All wishing to be examined for promotion and those desiring credit for work done at the college during the summer should come at the same time.

M. R. SNODGRASS, Sup't.

At the M. E. Church

Sermon topics for next Sunday, a. m. "Perils of City Life," evening, "Growth in Grace."

A meeting of the entire membership is called for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Two or three questions of vital importance to be considered.

The Piano and Organ recital to be given by Dr. Charles Sitzer on Tuesday evening, Sept. 15, will be an unusual event. A Charles City, Iowa, paper says of the doctor: "He is a pianist of no little note." Faderwakie gave him highly creditable comment. Every Methodist ought to be interested in this entertainment for the sake of the Sunday School. Every lover of music ought to hear the doctor.

Notice to Subscribers

Quite a number of outside readers of the DEMOCRAT will miss their paper next month unless subscriptions are received at once. The DEMOCRAT is cash in advance, and any variance of this rule is largely due to negligence in cutting off when time is up. It is easier and more convenient to pay for a newspaper one year ahead, than several in the rear, and it is a thousand times better for the publisher.

One little hint is often worth more than a whole lot of advice. Sensible and careful people use "Strawberry" Imported Enamored Ware. It lasts for years.

P. G. James' threshing crew went on a strike last week and Fred Bosphor is now running the separator while P. G. is engineer. John Leuck of Plum Creek, Frank of Altona, and Mrs. Mort McNaull and Mrs. John Agler, are enjoying a visit from their sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ostermeyer from Pueblo, Col., and an uncle, Peter Leuck of Garden City, Mo. The visitors accompanied by John Leuck went up to Wausau Wednesday evening to visit at the McNaull home. Mr. Ostermeyer thinks this is the garden spot of the universe.
