

THE NEBRASKA DEMOCRAT.

SEVENTEENTH YEAR.

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEB., NOV. 13, 1903.

$1 PER YEAR

How Do These Reasons Strike You?

Some of our customers have given the following reasons for trading here: "I used to trade at — but, they failed to fit me and I always get a fit if I buy here," is the reason given by a customer last week. "If I buy Arctics here they last me all winter, but it takes two pair if I buy them anywhere else," was the way a customer put it. "I used to have trouble every winter with rheumatism until I bought Staley underwear of you," is the language used by a man who has worn Staley four years. "I don't like to trade where they trust everybody until they are ready to pay; I want to get all I can for my money," that is the way a customer put it at today. "You fellows don't sell any cheaper than the other stores but everything I buy here wears better than anything I can get at other stores." The farmer was honest when he made the above remark but as he says our goods wear better we think it is cheaper. "Every other store in Wayne has two prices and I don't like that way of doing business; that's why I trade here." How do you like that man's reasons? "I like to buy clothing of a man who understands his business, that's why I trade here." This man is one of the most successful farmers in Wayne county. If it was proper we could give the names of every one who made these remarks. Don't you think it will pay you to give this store a fair trial? Come in and let us explain to you why we deserve your patronage.

The 2 Johns
ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS
WAYNE NEB.

Frank Kruger went to Crystal Lake Monday to shoot ducks.

Maple syrup, the real thing; and buckwheat flour of the finest grade, at P. L. Miller & Sons.

Sam Richards and wife have a new daughter, arrival Tuesday.

The city printers all having adopted the same scale of prices on job work, why not get good stationery and the better grade of printing at the DEMOCRAT office.

Fine new buckwheat flour and genuine maple syrup at P. L. Miller & Sons. Rev. Dawson was in Norfolk Tuesday night, and from there went to Omaha to attend a missionary meeting.

Wednesday County Judge Hunter granted permission to A. E. Borg of Wakefield to wed Miss Caroline Taylor of Wayne, and John Jenkins and Miss Mary Hughes of Carroll.

Order your printing from the DEMOCRAT office.

School Books

Adopted by the Wayne County officers association, on sale at Wholesale Price. Also make Exchange at Publishers rates.

Crayons Note Books Slates
Inks Pads Busywork
Pens Penholders Papers
Dictionaries School Organs

A large line of School Supplies always on hand.

M. S. DAVIES
Book and Music House.

STOVE UP?

..Buck's Gas Burner..

Will give a steady, even heat all night; Equal to a hard coal heater. Will hold fire 24 hours; will save 30 per cent of soft coal over any under draft stove made. A perfectly clean soft coal stove that will do the work of a self-feeder.

Proved by test to be the most powerful heating stove made, for hard or soft coal. Try it, it will reduce your coal bill.

HUSKER SUPPLIES

PETERSON & BERRY

WAYNE, NEB.

We Can Explain

Why the Genuine Round Oak has always been the most popular and has the largest sale of any stove ever made, if you will step in and spend just a few moments time. We like to do it, for it is a pleasure to tell about good goods.

Terwilliger Bros.

10 ounce 2-thumb Husking Mitts, 75c per dozen.
THE RACKET.

District Court

Court convened Monday morning and has been rather dragging along ever since. The Hanson Bros. case was taken up and passed over until later. The cases against the banks of the county, were all dismissed. Geo. F. Abbott vs Gus Schwede and J. A. Kruse was continued. Mrs. Eliia T. Clark secured a divorce from Wm. F. Clark. W. H. Hamilton decree of foreclosure against Hans Petersen. State vs Ethel Perrin, which was the result of the Connable-Perrin row of last summer, was settled. La Vere Fly had his name changed by order of the court to La Vere Carter. D. C. Main, foreclosure against the Case estate or heirs of Case. M. Louise Mitchell same vs Eli and Mary Jones, Wayne National bank, et al.

The case of Tom Lound and F. M. McElrath vs W. C. Wightman received a dull sickening drop after the jury had been secured. The fuss was over the building of a property line fence, and Atty. Lundburg for the defense proved to the court before any evidence was introduced that Atty. Siman for plaintiffs had made out the wrong kind of complaint, it therefore being stricken from the docket. This also wiped out the state vs Chris Weible, the latter having torn down the fence and left the bars open. State of Nebraska vs Knute Erickson, one of the alleged Hoskino burglars, went to the jury Tuesday evening and they failed to agree after being out until Thursday afternoon. The matter was hotly contested by Atty. Siman for the state and Lundburg for the defense, and 'is said that Edward put up a great fight for his client. Geo. Mack, the other alleged burglar, in the same theft, was acquitted, the jury taking from Wednesday night to Thursday morning to arrive at a verdict. These two parties and Schiller, who plead guilty, were accused of entering Charley Green's store at Hoskino last summer. Aside from Schiller, who turned state's evidence, the proof of guilt was purely circumstantial.

This morning, upon a showing made by County Attorney Siman, that it was not advisable to hold Erickson, whose guilt the jury had been unable to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night, bringing in a verdict of $25 and costs for plaintiff. This is the last of three suits against Rees, all the results of a row he got into with the Rasmussen

to determine, the court discharged him, there being no chance to get further evidence for a conviction at a later date. Schiller, the man who plead guilty, was given one year in the penitentiary.

The suit of Hanna Jorgenson vs Richard Rees, for $502 damages for an assault by Rees a year ago last spring, also terminated this morning, the jury, after being out all night,

WASHINGTON HAS RECOGNIZED PANAMA

Formal Action Is Taken by the State Department in the Matter.

REVOLT NOT UNEXPECTED

United States Knew It Was Coming—New Panama Republic Will Observe All Treaty Obligations of Colombia.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The United States government has recognized the de facto government of Panama. It was announced at the state department after the return of the secretary from the cabinet meeting that instructions had been sent to Minister Beaupre, at Bogota, and acting Consul Ehrman, at Panama, to inform the governments of Colombia and Panama, respectively, that the de facto government is recognized.

Assistant Secretary of State Loomis early announced that an official statement on the Panama situation would undoubtedly be issued from the White House immediately after the cabinet meeting. Mr. Loomis had an early conference with the president on the situation, and on leaving was asked if his statement might indicate the new government. He replied it undoubtedly did.

The decision to recognize the de facto government of Panama was arrived at after a protracted session of the cabinet, at which every member was present except Root and Wilson. The president emphasized the importance of the withdrawal of the Colombian officials on the isthmus left it entirely without government, unless that established by the secessionists should be recognized, and this step seemed necessary for the transaction of the routine business of the United States on the isthmus.

Colombia Is Angry.

The Associated Press learns that Dr. Tomas Herran, the Colombian charge is prepared to leave Washington on short notice with his family for Colombia. He has withdrawn from the cabinet because of the "surprise" of the Colombian legation, where it is believed the state department's recognition of Panama will cause intense feeling in Colombia. Commander British cables he has arranged an audience for tomorrow with the Dixie and the blue jackets landed from the Nashville have embarked. The Dixie carries 300 marines.

Concub General Goss

Colonel General Goss arrived in Washington from Alaska today and received instructions preliminary to his departure for Panama. Rear Admiral Coggin has received orders to convey Guder to the Isthmus on the yacht Mayflower, which will sail from the navy yard Sunday for Colon at full speed.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The day department has received a cablegram from Commander Delano of the Dixie announcing his arrival at Colon. Colon has been evacuated and the situation is quiet.

The department has also received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Glass commanding the Pacific squadron, announcing the departure of the Marblehead, Concord and the collier Nero, yesterday from Acapulco, Mexico, for Panama. The squadron is proceeding full speed.

WASHINGTON ACTS.

Notifies Colombia and Panama That New Government Is Recognized.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The following telegram was sent by the state department today to Mr. Elman, acting consul general at Panama:

"The people of Panama have an apparently unanimous movement dissolved the political relations with Colombia and assumed their independence. When you are satisfied that a de facto government, republican in form and without substantial opposition from its own people, has been established in the state of Panama, you will enter into negotiations with the de facto government of the territory and look to it for all due action to protect the persons and property of citizens of the United States and to keep open Isthmian transit in accordance with the obligations of existing treaties governing the relations of the United States to that territory."

The department immediately afterward sent instructions by telegraph to Beaupre, United States minister at Bogota, in the following terms:

"The people of Panama, having by an apparently unanimous movement dissolved their political connection with the republic of Colombia and assumed their independence, and having adopted a government, republican in form and without substantial opposition from its own people, has been established in the state of Panama, you will enter into negotiations with the de facto government of the territory and look to it for all due action to protect the persons and property of citizens of the United States and to keep open Isthmian transit in accordance with the obligations of existing treaties governing the relations of the United States to that territory."

According to Senator Morgan the attitude of this country is not justified by a complete recognition of the products of the treaty and is not to be expected until the peace conference with the United States will be held in the United States. In discussing the situation today he said:

"This is the fourth time the United States has landed troops on the Isthmus. This is the third time the United States has been compelled to do so for the suppression of rioting and for the protection of Colomians. Now it is against the wish of Colombia. It undoubtedly will prove a just protest."

"It is the right of this government to go to war. Of that I am certain. This government will find that it will have a series of complications on its hands, not unlike that offered by the Indians when they were met with the settlers against whom they were fighting. And the trouble the Colombians will make will be similar to that of the Filipinos, with the conduct of warfare far more difficult. I believe, however, the administration will do what it can to stop this."

"It is a question for congress to decide. It is a question for the president. It is a question for the responsibility."

Senator Culkin, chairman of the Senate committee on foreign relations, in a speech before the Foreign Service Association today, because of his position in the senate, Mr. Culkin is greatly interested in the developments on the Isthmus of Panama.

"This is the fourth time the United States has landed troops on the Isthmus. This is the third time the United States has been compelled to do so for the suppression of rioting and for the protection of Colomians. Now it is against the wish of Colombia. It undoubtedly will prove a just protest."

"It is the right of this government to go to war. Of that I am certain. This government will find that it will have a series of complications on its hands, not unlike that offered by the Indians when they were met with the settlers against whom they were fighting. And the trouble the Colombians will make will be similar to that of the Filipinos, with the conduct of warfare far more difficult. I believe, however, the administration will do what it can to stop this."

"It is a question for congress to decide. It is a question for the president. It is a question for the responsibility."

Another Colorado Bank Closes.

Nicola Cola, 40-year-old Florida timber magnate, who has a controlling interest in which is owned by the Woods Investment company, has closed its doors. A notice was posted saying that the bank was in the hands of the Woods Investment company.

"He has been notified steamship agents that the Colombian ports on the Atlantic are closed to all arrivals. This refers only to their non-acceptance of troops from coast ports. A steam launch was dispatched last night to the port of Callao, Peru, in the interest of the new republic. No definite details are anticipated there."

The new republic is doubtlessly firmly established. There are no signs of rebellion or of a counter-revolution and satisfaction is everywhere expressed at the new order of things. American employees of the railroad and others have been armed with rifles and revolvers supplied by the rebels. Now, when the rebels presented a bold front Wednesday

HENDERSON ON HAND.

Former Speaker Will Blossom, Forty Years a Washington Lobbyist.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Colonel David Bremer Henderson, ex-speaker of the house, has surprised his friends by deciding to be in Washington this winter and staying for the great political year coming up. He has secured his old quarters at the Normandie and he and his family will be here next week. Since the colonel has been out of politics he has become a member of a New York club, the Century, and has been here most of this term in Washington during the congressional session.

Undoubtedly the powerful influence of day and Thursday afternoons to the Columbians who were threatening to burn him. According to the stand taken by Commodore Hubbard of the Nashville the situation was saved.

Pansies Will Be Fair.

Paris, Nov. 7.—The French foreign office today received a dispatch from its consul at Panama confirming the Associated Press dispatches of yesterday from that city and from Colon. The consul says the revolution thus far has not led to other provinces. The new state will assume all former treaty and legal obligations of Colombia.

This last information is regarded here as the most important, showing no disposition on the part of the public to repudiate colonial or other property rights acquired from Colombia.

UNCLE SAM NOT SURPRISED.

He Didn't Exactly Plug Up Panama Revolt, but Knew It Was Ahead.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Without violating any confidences it may be said that the outbreak in Panama is not so much a surprise to President Roosevelt as it is to the public at large. This does not mean that the United States is any way responsible for the revolution. It does mean that our government was fully apprised of the preparations for the outbreak and shaped its policy accordingly.

The revolt of Panama is the direct result of the failure of the Colombian government to ratify the canal treaty. The state of Panama had everything to gain by the construction of the canal and the Colombian policy as seen in the canal only a short time ago in the United States for unlimited millions.avarice overreached itself and instead of securing a higher price Colombia has embroiled itself in a civil war.

Corsin H. Spangler, John T. Fulton, Thomas Akin and Herman Kuehn are mentioned as leaders in the movement. St. Louis December wheat market by buying all possible insurance on wheat in elevators, both on the East Side and in this city is outlined in information given to the Republic by its sources.

The Panama revolution is financed by the French investors who are interested in the sale of the Panama works to the United States. It was their only salvation. Abandonment of Panama by the United States would have been disastrous. The project would have been wrecked. They stood to lose millions and the cost of a revolution in Panama was a small stake to put on the table.

Why Roosevelt Delayed.

President Roosevelt has been severely criticized in Senate by Senator Alabama and other friends of the Nicaraguan project for not adopting the alternative route, according with the law passed last winter. The president could then give the Canal Commission the time it required for delay. He had been advised by confidential agents that events would soon come to pass in Panama which would put a different face on the canal negotiations and he was willing to await these events.

The United States will remain strictly neutral in the impending struggle. American interests will be protected and in order to do this marines will be landed at various points where it is needed and the ships of the south Atlantic squadron will be held in readiness for any emergency. Ten days ago agents of our war department sent information of the date plans for the revolution and the navy department has held itself in readiness ever since.

One Unfortunate Incident.

It is unfortunate for Colombia that American Minister Beaupre has been recalled from Panama. As far as we know, no surprise in the Colombian legation, where it is believed the state department's recognition of Panama will cause intense feeling in Colombia.

Commander British cables he has arranged an audience for tomorrow with the Dixie and the blue jackets landed from the Nashville have embarked. The Dixie carries 300 marines.

Colonel General Goss

Colonel General Goss arrived in Washington from Alaska today and received instructions preliminary to his departure for Panama. Rear Admiral Coggin has received orders to convey Guder to the Isthmus on the yacht Mayflower, which will sail from the navy yard Sunday for Colon at full speed.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The day department has received a cablegram from Commander Delano of the Dixie announcing his arrival at Colon. Colon has been evacuated and the situation is quiet.

The department has also received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Glass commanding the Pacific squadron, announcing the departure of the Marblehead, Concord and the collier Nero, yesterday from Acapulco, Mexico, for Panama. The squadron is proceeding full speed.

WASHINGTON ACTS.

Notifies Colombia and Panama That New Government Is Recognized.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The following telegram was sent by the state department today to Mr. Elman, acting consul general at Panama:

"The people of Panama have an apparently unanimous movement dissolved the political relations with Colombia and assumed their independence. When you are satisfied that a de facto government, republican in form and without substantial opposition from its own people, has been established in the state of Panama, you will enter into negotiations with the de facto government of the territory and look to it for all due action to protect the persons and property of citizens of the United States and to keep open Isthmian transit in accordance with the obligations of existing treaties governing the relations of the United States to that territory."

According to Senator Morgan the attitude of this country is not justified by a complete recognition of the products of the treaty and is not to be expected until the peace conference with the United States will be held in the United States. In discussing the situation today he said:

"This is the fourth time the United States has landed troops on the Isthmus. This is the third time the United States has been compelled to do so for the suppression of rioting and for the protection of Colomians. Now it is against the wish of Colombia. It undoubtedly will prove a just protest."

"It is the right of this government to go to war. Of that I am certain. This government will find that it will have a series of complications on its hands, not unlike that offered by the Indians when they were met with the settlers against whom they were fighting. And the trouble the Colombians will make will be similar to that of the Filipinos, with the conduct of warfare far more difficult. I believe, however, the administration will do what it can to stop this."

"It is a question for congress to decide. It is a question for the president. It is a question for the responsibility."

Another Colorado Bank Closes.

Nicola Cola, 40-year-old Florida timber magnate, who has a controlling interest in which is owned by the Woods Investment company, has closed its doors. A notice was posted saying that the bank was in the hands of the Woods Investment company.

"He has been notified steamship agents that the Colombian ports on the Atlantic are closed to all arrivals.

This refers only to their non-acceptance of troops from coast ports. A steam launch was dispatched last night to the port of Callao, Peru, in the interest of the new republic. No definite details are anticipated there."

The new republic is doubtlessly firmly established. There are no signs of rebellion or of a counter-revolution and satisfaction is everywhere expressed at the new order of things. American employees of the railroad and others have been armed with rifles and revolvers supplied by the rebels. Now, when the rebels presented a bold front Wednesday

WOULD BE SIGNIFICANT.

Story From St. Louis Says Illinois Central, Maybor Chicago & Alton.

Kansas City, Nov. 10.—Plans are said to have been completed for the consolidation of the Illinois Central and the Chicago and Alton railroads. The merger was to have been completed at the meeting of the Chicago and Alton on Friday evening, but the plan was not carried out to the effect that the meeting had been postponed.

S. M. Felton, president of the Alton road, is said to have stated to the board of directors of the Illinois Central system that the Alton and the Illinois Central would be merged.

The two lines have practically been controlled by the same interests for some time, and the actual consolidation is for the purpose of economy in operation.

The Chicago and Alton operates 405 miles of main-line tracks, with terminals in Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis.

The Illinois Central operates 425 miles and has terminals at Chicago, St. Louis, Sioux Falls, Louisville and New Orleans.

The Chicago and Alton and Illinois Central are still independent systems.

Another statement of sensational character was to the effect that the Erie canal improvement never would be accomplished, as the railroads would fail some way of defeating the undertaking.

The boast that the railroads would be unable to compete more than successfully with the rebuilt canal, capable of hauling only 1,000 tons of wheat, was not considered by traffic and transportation experts an idle one.

The problem, in any event, will not be met by the railroads for a long time to come, as the railroads will wait for completion of the improvements by the expenditure of $101,000,000. By that time, traffic conditions and the centers of production may have changed so materially that the railroads will be compelled to take steps to compel Turkish action.

Rates Are Too High.

Back of the traffic experts' bold assertion lies the fact that the rates now charged for the transportation of grain and grain products, at least, from Chicago to New York, and other seaboard ports, are far in excess of those necessary to compete with the railroads.

It is the opinion of the railroads that the rates will be increased to meet the cost of the new canal, which would preclude the insuring of it and necessarily prevent borrowing money by shorts, who would practically be frozen out of the market.

VICTIM OF POISON.

Wealthiest of the Smells Gets Bad Food at a Banquet.

New York, Nov. 10.—Cablegrams received in New York today say that James Henry Smith, the richest bachelor in society's matrimonial contest, was killed in New York yesterday morning. His death was attributed to the effects of a poison administered to him by a woman who had been summing up to testify at the inquest, the coroner's court will be closed to everyone but the witnesses and officials, so as to prevent possibility of outrages.

WILL GOES TO PROBATE.

Judge Says Bryan Did Not Use Undue Influence With Benet.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—Judge Cleveland in probate court today found that the will of George Smith, the wealthy bachelor in society's matrimonial contest, was validly executed, but that it was not the result of undue influence by his son, John T. Fulton, who formerly resided at Providence. R. I. In consequence of the will, the estate will be divided among the heirs, and the sum named to be paid to the wife of the deceased.

Representative Haugen will make his headquarters during the coming session at Hotel Normandie and is expected to arrive today.

John T. Smith of Council Bluffs, Iowa, will be the Conner of the Tenth district and J. W. Martin of Deadwood, S. D., has arrived in Washington. Congressman Martin has leased a residence at 107 Fifteenth street for the session.

Congressman B. P. Birdsell has arrived with his wife and three children in Washington. The successor to ex-Speaker Henderson has taken a house at 22 Second street southeast.

WILL GOES TO PROBATE.

Judge Bryan Did Not Use Undue Influence With Benet.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Judge Lot Thomas arrived and has taken his apartments for the winter at the Riggs Apartments.

Representative Haugen will make his headquarters during the coming session at Hotel Normandie and is expected to arrive today.

J. W. Martin of Council Bluffs, Iowa, will be the Conner of the Tenth district and J. W. Martin of Deadwood, S. D., has arrived in Washington. The session will be opened at 107 Fifteenth street for the session.

Congressman B. P. Birdsell has arrived with his wife and three children in Washington. The successor to ex-Speaker Henderson has taken a house at 22 Second street southeast.

THE MARKETS.

Sioux City Liv. Stock.

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—St. Louis City Stock Exchange.

Fat cattle—High, $4.35.

Cattle—Fat and heifers, $2.25.

Stock cattle and heifers, $1.25.

Stock and feeder cattle, $1.25.

Yearlings and calves, $1.25.

Sheep—Market steady at $2.00-$2.50.

Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Hogs—Receipts, 11,000.

Market, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Fat cows and heifers, $2.25-$2.40.

Stock and feeder cattle, $1.25-$1.50.

Yearlings and calves, $1.25-$1.50.

Sheep—Market steady at $2.00-$2.50.

South Omaha.

South Omaha, Nov. 7.—Cattle—Native steers, $2.00-$2.15; cattle, $1.80-$1.95.

Fat cattle, $2.00-$2.15.

Cattle—Fatteners, 200 lb., $2.00-$2.15.

Cattle—Hogs, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Porkers, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Hams, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Lamb, $3.75-$4.00.

Sheep—Market steady at $2.00-$2.50.

Kansas City.

Kansas City, Nov. 7.—Cattle—Native steers, $2.00-$2.15; cattle, $1.80-$1.95.

Fat cattle, $2.00-$2.15.

Cattle—Hogs, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Porkers, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Hams, $4.50-$4.65.

Cattle—Lamb, $3.75-$4.00.

Sheep—Market steady at $2.00-$2.50.

Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Nov. 7.—Wheat—On track.

No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.30; No. 3 western, $2.10; No. 4 western, $1.90.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, $2.40; No. 4 yellow, $2.30.

No. 3 white, $2.40; No. 4 white, $2.30.

No. 5 white, $2.50.

Barley—Feed, $2.40-$2.5

Call Up

No. 33
for drugs medicines
toilet articles
perfumes
sundries

Everything in the drug line.

Also paints, oils,
glass and wall paper.

R. E. Lane
Orth's Old Stand.

For information concerning Cherry county lands, the paradise of the west,
see W. F. Assenheimer, Altona.

Insure in the German American capital $1,000,000.00.

GRANT S. MEARS, Agent

H. G. LEISENRING,
Physician and Surgeon.
X-Ray examinations made at office or bed-of patient.

Byron McIntyre, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Office opposite postoffice, first floor,
rear of State Bank.
Phone W20.
Residence 1 blk west of Baptist church.

F. M. THOMAS,
...OSTEOPATHY...
In office at Wayne except Tuesdays and Fridays when at Winside.
No Knife, - No Drugs

Dr. J. J. WILLIAMS,
Physician and Surgeon
WAYNE, NEB.

GEORGE R. WILBUR, FRANK A. BERRY,
WILBUR & BERRY,
Lawyers and Bonded Abstractors
The perfecting of defective Real Estate Titles and Probate Work, our Specialties.
Office over Wayne Nat. Bank Bldg.
WAYNE, NEB.

A. A. WELCH. A. R. DAVIS.
Welch & Davis
ATTORNEYS at LAW
WAYNE, NEBRASKA

B. F. FEATHER
Conveyancing,
Collections and Justice of the Peace
Office over the Postoffice.

The Citizens' Bank, (INCORPORATED),
L. TURNER, President, B. D. MITCHELL, Vice Pres.
D. C. MAIN, Cashier, G. E. FRENCH, Asst. Cashier.
Capital Stock and Surplus $100,000.
DIRECTORS—
E. D. Mitchell, A. A. Welch, J. S. French,
D. O. Main, A. L. Tucker, G. E. French,
James Paul.

GENERAL BANKING

W. F. A. Assenheimer,
Real Estate Insurance
and Loans

Altona, Neb.

Central MARKET

VOLPP BROS., PROPS.

FRESH & SALT MEATS

HUGH O'CONNELL'S
Pool and Billiard Hall
In Boyd Annex

To All Points in Europe

Call or write Frank Kruger, Wayne, who is agent for all the transcontinental lines.
Mr. Kruger has "been over the water" a number of times and can not only sell you tickets there and back but give you some good advice on the matter.

Your Picture
Is what all your friends want; be you handsome as a rose or as homely
as a mud fence.

We Make You Look
as natural as life and at a very low price.

The Artist CRAVEN,

Phoenix Insurance Co.
One of the Oldest, Strongest and Best
the World. GRANT S. MEARS, Agt

Did You Get It?

THAT BIG DISCOUNT

ON ALL

Whiskies & Wines

Ten Per Cent off on all Jug Lots.
Twenty Per Cent off on all Lots of Ten Gallons or over.

O. D. Franks.

Ten Nights in a Bar Room coming top of election celebration. Wouldn't that make you stagger?

Terry's Ten Nights in a Bar Room
Co. gave a capital performance last night. Some of the scene effects were really extraordinary. One scene, where Morgan "sees things" there were snakes of all kinds, and a dragon with fire flashing from eyes and nostrils so realistic that several of our worst tipplers have "sworn off."—Oro-wot Times. At opera house Nov. 14.

The electric lights, these dark hills,
may be a good thing for sparkling,
but all the sparkling and old married men seem to fall over the broken sidewalks on their way home late stars.

The finest Vermont Maple Syrup
and sugar at Gandy's.

Sewing machines at cost or less to close out.

A fine oil painting, neatly framed given away with every $4.00 purchase at our store.

TERWILLIGER Bros.

EPPLER & CO.

Winside News.
(From the Tribune)
Too late for last week.

Alex Williams, of Wayne, was a caller at this office last Monday to enquire about his old friend J. C. Ecker. Mr. Williams has lived in Wayne for twelve years, but now thinks he will go west and it may be possible that the two "old cronies" will meet.

Miss Maggie Reed has resigned her position in the post office with Mr. Tracy, the resignation to take effect the first of next month.
She has concluded to accept a similar position, but more lucrative, in Idaho.

Judge Hunter called on the Tribune last Thursday. Who said the Judge wasn't good looking? Men are poor judges of the beauty of their own sex anyway.

Prof E. Littell had to go to Pierce yesterday morning to see his sister who is dangerously sick. Miss Ringer took charge of his room and one of the high school girls taught for Miss Ringer.

The many friends of Sam Rew will be grimed to hear of the awful things that are being said about him. Why, the Tribune has always held him up as a true and living example of temperance, but alas, the debonairness of this world. One day last week he was actually seen with a whole barrel of beer bottles, and he tried to explain matters
by saying that he had sent down to Winside for a barrel of apples that his brother in law had sent him and the man drove up to the depot platform and took the first barrel he came to. When Mr. Rew opened it that evening, great was his surprise to find that the barrel only contained a lot of empty beer bottles, which presumably had been packed to return to the dealer. The fellow just got the wrong barrel, but it is a good one on Sam anyway.

For Farms Evans see A. N. Madsen y
Farmers Mutual Insurance.

PHIL H. KOHL, Agt.

Frank Hillebrand who used to live in Wayne but later moved to Hartington, now writes the DEMOCRAT that he is located at Crocus, N. Dak., and encloses a couple of plunkers for this paper.

Patronize the "Perrin Hotel," D. GANDY, Prop.

The enjoyable "Hans Hanson" company can be seen at the opera house on Monday, Nov. 9th. The company appears at popular prices. 25, 35 and 50c, will buy you more laughs on the minute than any other comedy on the road.

Mrs. C. E. Roberts, San Francisco, Cal.: Would not be without Rocky Mountain Tea in our house. It's a great family remedy. Makes and keeps us well. Raymond Drug Store.

Lert Hoile, formerly, a Wayne boy and brother of Byron, was an easy
victor for the clerkship of Cedar county.

Lert got over 200 votes in Laurel,
his home precinct, to his opponent's 8.

The finest and healthiest sport these cool nights—ten pins.

Dave Surber came home Tuesday from Napier where he has some land interests. Dave says the farmers out there will be busy threshing all winter
if the weather permits, and oats yield 90 bushels per acre.

It's like a "dip in the fountain of youth." Touches the cheek so gently that "youth lingers on the face of old age." That's what Rocky Mountain does. 35 cents. Raymond Drug Store.

Mrs. Ralph Randell has been doing splendidly at the Sioux City hospital.

An operation was performed last Saturday and the DEMOCRAT is very glad to note her rapid recovery.

It adds spice to a dreary life, encourages the human heart, lifts one out of despair, breathes new life and confidence. That's what Rocky Mountain
does. 35 cents. Raymond Drug Store.

Raymond Drug Store.

A New Precedent for Doctors

The contract given by Dr. J. C. Clark, Eye specialist, of Sioux City to his patients is a new precedent for doctors that treat human ailments, and it establishes Dr. Clark upon a plane above the sordid methods practiced by so many that claim they can do but never secure results. Dr. Clark gives a contract which guarantees results or money refunded. It is a fair and straightforward proposition. Dr. Clark is an eye specialist of more than ordinary ability in his line, having been in practice more than twenty years and this is his 11th year in Sioux City. His many patients in and around Wayne recommend him in the highest terms. Any person suffering from headache, nervousness, inflamed, blurring or watery eyes, floating specks, dizziness, weak memory, pains running from the base of the brain down through the spinal column, constipation, inactivity of the mind, etc., will do well to call upon Dr. Clark. No matter who has failed in your case the exhaustion of nerve supply caused by eye strain produces such trouble. If the doctor can't help you he frankly tells you so, if he accepts your case it is upon an absolute guarantee contract as above stated. The doctor uses no medicine or drugs in his practice. Spectacle lenses and surgeries are his only therapeutic. Dr. Clark will be at Wayne Monday, Nov. 23. Cross Eyes straightened without cutting or operation.

Rooms for sale, houses for sale and rent. A. N. MATTHEW.

Miss Lucy Buffington arrived home last Saturday evening, having been forced to quit the show business owing to ill health. She expects to go back to her company after getting rested up.

The latest telephone, No. 33
drugs.

Exchange your butter and eggs for fresh groceries. GANDY.

Business is booming at the bowling alley. Nice clean, healthy exercise that makes more muscle than pills or politics.

Miss Snead from Neligh is a guest of Mrs. Ethel Luiz.

Mrs. Effie Wallace, sister-in-law of W. H. McNeal, was very ill at the home of the latter Sunday night, but well enough Tuesday to leave for her home in Texas.

Dr. J. C. Clark will be at Wayne
Monday, Nov. 23.

The prices at the 10 Nights in a Bar
Room show Saturday night are adults, down stairs, 50c, gallery, 35c, children, 25 cents.

The DEMOCRAT has added a large number of new names to its list of late but a goodly number go off, Dec. 1st unless accounts are squared up in advance. Subscribers especially outside of Wayne county will receive this attention. We know you are GOOD but it's a whole lot easier to pay these little items when they are due, and a great deal easier to collect them. Dig up or drop off before you have too far to fall—on the publisher.

The Hans Hanson show gave good satisfaction last Monday night. The company carries a good band and fine orchestra.

Wind storm and Tornado Insurance
PHIL H. KOHL, Agt.

Don Harrington tells the DEMOCRAT of a most annoying incident of his recent ad trip to Salt Lake City. The Sunday he and John left here they telephoned Byron Holle at Seattle to meet them at the Mormon city. Last Wednesday afternoon, just before leaving for home, they got a reply from Byron saying he had only then received their telegram. It had been taken to the hotel, where Byron had lived a year ago, and left there two days, when it was returned to the telegraph office, when it had been addressed "care of Nelson Grimsley."

Vegetable slicer, 5c at Terwilliger Bros.

Rev. Chilson came down from Randolph Saturday for a few days visit.
Charley Chilson is now a capitalist in Oklahoma, having vast rice plantations and being interested in railroad building.

Balduff's fine chocolates. Gandy's.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Philleo, B. F.
Swain and J. W. Mason were passengers to Sioux City Monday.

For the best winter apples try the Brookings grocery.

Gec. Savidge came home from Minnesota to spend Sunday.

Editor Huie and family spent Sunday in Norfolk.

Berg's Sweet Laxative Chips are mild and effective. Cures constipation and all bowel complaints. Makes the blood pure and rich—a clear skin and beautiful complexion. Price 10 and 25 cents.

Raymond Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wolfert received the sad news Monday of the death of the latter's mother, Mrs. A. Haas, at Council Bluffs. They left Monday morning to attend the funeral.

"Strength and vigor come of good food, duly digested. 'Force,' a ready o-serve wheat and barley food, adds no burden, but sustains, nourishes, invigorates."

Sheriff Mears went to Hoskino Monday night to subpoena some witnesses wanted in court.

Go to the Brookings grocery for choice eating or cooking apples.

Van Bradford and family moved out on the Allen Banister place this week which Van will farm next year.

Wm. Hill and wife left Tuesday for Trimble, Mo., where his brother has been located for the past year. He bought 40 acres "right in the town," at $90 per acre.

A Complete Line

of Watches, Clocks, Rings and Jewelry of all kinds for Gifts.

The Silverware we talk about is

* * * 1847 ROGERS BROS. *

It has been made for nearly sixty years.

We have it in Stock.

1847 Rogers Bros.

We sell it at Right Prices.

J. G. MINES, The Leading Jeweler —

THE —

Wayne Republican

2 and 1-2 years

FOR ONLY

— $1.00 —

To New Subscribers.
Leave orders at the Democrat Office.

Blanche Goss.

How Old is Ann?

Is quite a conundrum, and takes some people a long time to figure out, but why you should trade

At the German Store

is easily solved after one trial. We have put in an immense and splendid stock of goods

THIS FALL

and can sell you winter supplies cheaper than any other store in the city. Bring us your butter, chickens and eggs. We pay you the top prices and they are away up this fall.

Furchner, Duerig & Co.

WE ALL DRINK

Schlitz

THE BEER

THAT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS

On Draught

...Frank Kruger's...

Prompt attention given to orders for case lot

Loan this

Democrat

To your Neighbor

Fine Wines

Port, Sweet and Sour Catwba, Riesling in bulk or bottle, very reasonable price.

Budweiser

The best and purest beer that ever rode down the pike. Drink Budweiser once and you'll never use any other kind. It makes the good old summer better.

Phone 36 Helmman Mildner.

IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD

What the Church Folk Are Thinking About and Doing.
News From Various Lands Suggestive Words From Many Men.

Sunday School Lessons and Young People's Topic...

Comments by William T. Ellis.

A WICKED SON.

International Sunday School Lesson
for Nov. 8 Is "David's Grief Over Absalom." II Sam., 18: 24-32.

The conspiracy of Prince Absalom against his father, King David, the fight of the latter from Jerusalem, the death of Absalom after defeat in battle, and finally David's lament over his son, form the three main pictures in the Old Testament. The earnest and debonair prince, vain of his beauty and sacrificing all finer instincts to his selfish ambition, and the noble old king bowed in spirit, heart-broken and yearning for his ingrate son's welfare, form a striking study in contrasts.

Absalom, so we learned a week ago, had organized a revolt against David, with a view to wresting the kingdom of Israel from him. The plot was discovered, and the author of it was detected; by his smooth ways, followed his leadership. At first, Absalom apparently held the winning side, and had battle been joined at once, the story might have had a different ending. But David, however, and bravely sent a friend to sit in Absalom's council and to confound the saucious leadership of Achitophel. Thus delay was secured and the king's "old guard," the tried soldiers who had earned their stripes in battles of honor, together with the loyal and law-abiding people, and powerful recruits from abroad rallied him to the royal standard.

The exit from Jerusalem in haste and zigzag with a foolish-sighted adversary, during chases upon David, was a pathetic spectacle. Yet in this hour of temporary defeat the king though weighed down by sorrow, manifested a noble dignity and submission to his fate which were unequalled. The analogy between King David and King Lear, as Shakespeare portrays the latter, is suggestive. Both could cry, "Sharper than a serpent's tooth, to have a thankless child."

WAITING AT THE GATE.
After such a defeat, Absalom would never have admitted his blame, nor would he have been unscrupulous if he had been. David had desired to lead his forces, person, but his people prevailed upon him to remain behind the city walls. Absalom, it is true, went to the commanders in charge of the army, "lent gently for my sake with the young man." His father's love was stronger than any other sentiment.

Then David stationed himself at the gate of the city to await tidings. He could not be content to sit in a house, or go about his ordinary business. He must get as near to the news of battle as possible, less because of his interest in the battle than in the outcome, was one of eager waiting and yearning. His old heart was sore for his son's love. Sorrows upon sorrows, all due to his own sin, as he was perfectly aware, had crowded upon him; now he was alone, and his only hope that Absalom might be spared and restored to him. He cherished no hate against the young man for his rebellion; it was all a father's yearning, compassionate love.

For his impatience, the king sent the watchman upstairs to the roof to watch, for the messengers. Perhaps as the curious onlookers watched David's interest they thought that his anxiety was due to concern for the safety of his son. They were wrong. The news of the battle, news of which they all awaited. Little understood they the greatness and tenderness of that bruised heart, Absalom, his son, meant more to David than the world outside. As has been illustrated in hundreds of instances, men have spent their all to save the lives of their children. For many days past, wealthy Philadelphians had been giving all their time and skill, and all the resources of their fortune can command to a search for his son, who has disappeared in the mountains of Tennessee. Parent love is the strongest human passion and nearest to the divine.

A FOG HUNG IN MIDAIR.

In the meantime, as David sits by the gate and waits, how fares the battle? The expected was not happening. Absalom's forces were made up of men with no one unifying purpose; the ablest of the able were not to be found. The handsome plotter who led them, David, on the other hand, were largely experienced soldiers, led by the ablest generals. They were devoted to his master, and they were hungry for their king, for the laws and order of nation's peace. So a great slaughter ensued, and the battle turned into a rout.

A few chapters back, we found Absalom riding in a chariot, with his banners flying before him. Here we see him alone on a solitary mule, with the people fleeing from him. While trying thus to escape through the forest, he met with his son, with its swiftest pace, and wonder of it, was caught in the branches of an oak tree. The beast he rode did not stop, and so the prince was left there suspended in mid-air, helpless and dead.

This hanging, he was seen by one of the king's forces, who reported to Joab. The man had heard David's injunction concerning his son's safety, and so he sent word to Joab that he had found him. Wily old Joab, who had his grudge against Absalom, was restrained by no such scruples. With his own hand he thrust three shafts through the head of the traitor, and his followers thereupon dashed their hands in shame, dishonor and defeat, ended the ambitious career of this self-seeker who had broken all bonds of filial and patriotic duty. Instead of the pride of his son, he was destined for his own praise, he was given a heap of stones, and his name has passed into common speech as a synonym for the foul and the ingrate.

If he who lifts up his voice for God, in a time when other voices are silent, is following in the train of Elijah the Tishbite.

The splendid faith and courage of Elijah were best illustrated by his defiance of the priests of Baal on Mt. Carmel. Then he stood alone for God, and so the prophet concluded his mission to his tidings. Because he was alone, reasoned the king, he must be bringing good news; if there had been a dozen others, he would have been a number of takers from the crowd.

Still another messenger appeared in the distance. Soon the first one was

"Young Brown is a smart fellow," said the manager of the collection department to the great lawyer.

"Yes? What's he been doing now?" asked the great lawyer. "I was in the office alone yesterday, when I heard that Silas & Sain were financially embarrassed. We were holding one or two claims against them and we rushed out and snatched an attorney just fifteen minutes before you closed their door."

"Get in ahead of everyone, did he?" "Beat every other creditor," said the manager.

The great lawyer looked pleased.

"It was a great piece of work," he said. "I like to see a young man with telling the truth to men—as instance Elijah before Ahab."

There is a chariot of glory awaiting all who have grown footloose in humble service for God.

Elijah proved his faith by his force.

THE LIFE THAT HAS POWER.

Comments on the Epoch League topic for November 8: "The Power of a Consistent Life." Neh. 6:9; Rom. 14:22.

The life that stands together consistently for God is the life that stands closest to God.

Consistency is born of conviction and communion.

The straight life is the shortest and easiest way to heaven.

Any stick, however poor, is useful for pointing, provided it be straight.

A consistently holy life is the most eloquent sermon; practicing is best preaching.

The Christian soldiers who stand by their colors win the most recruits to their colors.

Christ is betrayed every time a Christian's conduct denies his confession.

NEWS AND NOTES.

Missionaries to Japan, representing the Congregationalists, Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists and Disciples, have been engaged in the production of a uniform hymn book.

The famous Haskell lectures, which Dr. Charles Cuthbert Hall delivered in India last winter, have been reprinted by him at the University of Chicago.

There has been organized in Salt Lake City a "Gentile" bureau of information. Its purpose is to furnish literature to visitors revealing what it considers the true aspect of Mormonism, from sixpence to guinea. Circulate documents throughout the United States bearing on Mormonism.

The Ministering Children's League is British organization in the Anglican church for training people in practical work. It is organized in seven districts throughout the British empire.

One of the greatest offenses of which an actor or actress may be guilty is that of addressing the audience from the stage during the course of a performance. In some theaters the only recognized punishment for this is instant dismissal. As a general rule, being inserted in the contract. Interpolating in the dialogue words or "business" not previously sanctioned by the management is also held to be particularly heinous.

An exception, however, is usually made in case musical comedy is concerned, for in entertainments of this nature the practice of "tagging" is more or less freely adopted. Liberals, indeed, have much reason to be disturbed that this is the case.

At the recent encampment of the National Guard of Ohio the state committee of the Y. M. C. A. took charge of the sutler stores. As the success of the work is often largely due to the manner in which the comedians "build up" their parts for themselves.

The individual in whom is vested the responsibility for managing due order, especially as in the theater manager. Consequently everybody makes it his business to cultivate pleasant relations with him from the outset.

As may be imagined, his position is a difficult one, calling for the disposal of a good deal of time, the sine qua non of his office, he is sometimes required to "drop in" on a personal friend.

Should he show favoritism disciplining is bound to suffer, with the result that he himself is called to account. No one ever seems to know exactly what this is brought about for, imagine a judge before the idea of a state manager reporting himself for neglect of duty.

FROG AND A FORTUNE.

Centuries-Old Incident Brought Forward in Lawsuit in Ceylon.

The rise of a certain preacher, dressed in rich broadcloth and fine linens and dwelling in opulence, like the claims to be the third incarnation of the devil, was the great popular interest in the study of the original Elijah. The difference between the two men in spirit and methods is apparent to even the superficial observer. Elijah spent his life in search of truth, but that blant pretender waxes most earnest in looking after his own interests and in maligning those who do not agree with him.

Elijah was one of the noble army of those who dared to be different. He was never in the fashion, and did not hesitate to appear before a king clad only in his raiment of camel's hair, bound with a leather girdle. The strength of singularity was his.

God's man may be sure of God's care.

The ravens sent to Elijah are also messengers sent to us to declare "Have faith in God."

Helping the helpers of God is helping God. It is a high privilege to be permitted to serve as servants of God.

King Zerapheth used to say to her:

"Share your coat with me."

She shared her last remaining portions of meat and oil with the prophet, and lo, her supply never grew less.

The king was at a loss to decide how to bestow the prize, when a bullock croaked loud and deep in a nearby pond. The sound of the marchion led him to the source of the noise.

The salvation army has established colonies to help the deserving poor by offering them opportunity for self-support at Fort Amity, Colo., Fort Ramo, Fla., and at York Haven, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John McSwainson contributed $2000 toward this last named colony, as well as a deed of land for 258 acres of land.

The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet in Los Angeles next May. A memorandum of the proposed election of bishops for an eight-year term of office instead of for life. A proposal will also be made to abolish the probationary period for applicants for church membership.

As to the loss of probationers, which occurred among 5,000 men, the loss was low, possible prices were charged, so bribe was promoted, discipline inspired, and many temptations of ordinary camp life removed.

The Philadelphia vestments which were brought into this country from the Philippines at the time of the return of the Ninth Pennsylvania regiment were sold at auction.

Manila and are believed to have been ancient Israel's popular inheritance.

Great trial makes great saints; deserts and stone pillars prepare for an open heaven and an angel crowned ladder.

Horace Bushnell.

Holiness is infinite compassion for others; happiness is a great love and much serving—Drummond.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.

We must answer for our actions; God will answer for our powers—Phillips Brooks.

If I live the life He gave me,

God will turn it to His use.

—Barry Taylor.

Great trial makes great saints; deserts

and stone pillars prepare for an open heaven and an angel crowned ladder.

Horace Bushnell.

Holiness is infinite compassion for others; happiness is a great love and much serving—Drummond.

It might be right so it is: it is the right to bear the burdens of the week to cheer the faint to uplift the falter-

Napier.

Shall we say, "They will be done."

And on our own behalf?

Teach us how to live this prayer.

Reverently the plan to share.

—Lucy Lurene.

One is the glory of our age that the modern hero stands forth armed not with sword and spear, but equipped with spirit and enthusiasm.

He needed rest and refreshment.

Most of all he needed to realize the truth

which a late poet has put into rhyming phrase:

"God is in his heaven—all's right with the world."

Elijah's earthly errands were often hard, and his honorable commissions to fulfill and his honorable commissions to

"Geoffrey Heathcote, Esq."

By JOHN FINNMORE.

Copyright 1899, by S. S. McClure Co.

Mrs. Hugson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. PINKHAM:—I suffered for a long time with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was poor, and I could lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I lost those tortuous, painful, and besides helping my menstrual health, it drove all disease and pain out of my body, and made me fit as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly the best they are claimed to be."—Mrs. M. E. Huusom, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.—Received from original of letter preceding genuine news item.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If the slightest trouble occurs which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

Courtesy of the Court:
The Plaintiff—I know him well, but his judge was too bad on his guilty, but the Deacon—De Judge had to do his duty, he had to give him justice. "It's all right, about Justice," but Justice is all. The Plaintiff's idea of mercy, Justice's ought to be justness, but he ought to be mercenary, too."

Town Topics: Martingale—She worships the very ground he walks on. Chipley—He's all right, but he would rather die than let himself be married.

$100 Reward. $100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that can be cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. That disease is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only known cure known to the medical profession. It is a constitutional disease, requiring a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the brain and muscles, through the system, thereby developing the condition of the disease, and giving the patient strength by lifting up the constitution and assuring nature in the exercise of its creative powers that they offer the hundred dollars for any one that it fails to cure. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Batt's Family Pills are the best.

DRUMMERS' ETIQUETTE.

A "Commercial" Dinner in England is a Formal Affair.

World's Work:—"On my initial trip as a commercial traveler in England a kind friend told me that I must stay there a week, so I did. On entering an inn, and he added that the 'commercial' room had peculiar customs. Arriving on a morning train, the family breakfast was served in the courtyard of an old-fashioned hotel, which had been recommended as the best commercial hotel. I was welcomed by the 'boots' and directed to a commercial room, marked 'Private.'

The commercial dinner was served promptly at 1 o'clock or 1½. Should twenty 'commercials' be staying at the house and but one be present at this dinner hour, the soup is served. It was a few moments after the hour when I re-entered the room, and I found the room seated at the long table, now covered with white linen and decorated with flowers. At the head of the table, engaged in serving the soup, sat Mr. President, who occupies this place by virtue of having remained in the hotel longer than any other person present, and at the end was Mr. Vice, the second in length of stay. This I did not then know.

After hesitating a moment I slipped into the vacant seat. In a few seconds I was conscious that every eye in the room was fixed upon me. Presently the President, a bald-faced old man of about sixty, said, "Perhaps the gentleman who has just seated himself is unaware that this is a commercial room." He spoke courteously but firmly. My first thought was to telegraph to the American ambassador and to get out my passport declaring me to be a free-born American citizen, but the old man's eyes were fixed on my friend's narrow brow, so, half rising from my chair, I stammered out some things about my ignorance. With every desire to relieve my evident embarrassment and at the same time to uphold the traditions of the room, I said,

"The gentleman is a stranger and wishes to join us." A hearty permission was given at once by all, and I recited my story.

HAPPY DAYS

When Friends Say "How Well You Look."

What happy days are those when all our friends say "How well you look."

We can bring those days by a little care in the selection of food just as young men did.

"I had suffered from dyspepsia for three years and last summer was so bad I was unable to attend school," he says; "I was very thin and my appetite at times was poor, while again it was craving. I was dizzy and my food always used to ferment instead of digesting. Crossness, unhappiness and nervousness were very prominent symptoms. Late in the summer I went to visit a sister and there I saw and used Grape-Nuts. I had heard of this famous food before, but never was interested enough to try it, for I never knew how really good it was. But when I came home we used Grape-Nuts in our household all the time and I soon began to note changes in my health. I improved steadily and am now strong and well in every way and am back at school able to get my lessons with ease and pleasure and can remember them, too, for the improvement in my mental power is very noticeable and I get good marks in my studies which always seemed difficult before."

"I have no more of the bad symptoms given above, but feel fine and strong and happy and it is mighty pleasant to hear my friends say, 'How well you look.' Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, "The Road to Wellness."

Best of Reasons.

New York Times:—A man in public life, noted for his brougham, was under discussion in cabinet circles.

"There's one thing to be said in his favor, however," said Secretary Shaw, "and that is he never importunes the department to get promotions for his friends."

"That's readily explained," commented Secretary Root. "He hasn't any friends."

The Reason.

Chicago Record-Herald:—She can't see why I ever stopped with you."

"He—I can. I was the first fool that ever asked you to close."

he came up to the spot where that due brought the slate to hand, and seated himself there. There was no dispute between us, yet I felt sure that he saw where matters stood, and why I was haunting Nant-y-Bryn. Half an hour passed and then I heard a couple of fellows talking thin together on the lower stairs, and the sound of uneasy feet pounding up.

In a moment two men came in sight. Both wore bloody bandages about their heads and arms, and were supported by a man who had followed the trail of the blood. I saw myself over the side of the opening and dropped lightly to the floor. Help! I have been beaten to the head of the stairs and passed down. The household is silent in the gathering dusk as if I were the only living soul in it.

The silence was portentous, and I slipped me with caution not confidence. I stepped back and gently lifted the ladder into place, that my way of retreat might be clear, then returned to the head. It grew darker and darker, and I saw steps slowly down to point where I could see a glimmer of light. No sign of light or sound, or movement. I felt certain there was a trap laid for me if I went further, so I turned back. My foot touched something as I crept along. I put my hand down and found that the carbine had been flung on the stairs by one of the men. I picked it up and carried it back with me. Upon trial I found it was loaded, and I took the gun and laid it across the stair rail and resumed my walk.

This night had not fallen as dark as it would be, yet of black darkness there was none, for the sky was frosty and clear, serving an immovable solemnity of face, began to strike thunderous blows upon the stout rail and to below a resounding slave. Almost with the first words I heard the sharp crack, "Up, up, and fight to speak entitled." The jack went up to his head, back went his head, and he took a hearty draught. Then he handed the vessel to his companion with an emphatic nod, and shook his stick at me in turn. Now the man with the sword drew the blade with the blow, preserving an immovable solemnity of face, began to strike thunderous blows upon the stout rail and to below a resounding slave. Almost with the first words I heard the sharp crack, "Up, up, and fight to speak entitled."

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

She pressed her cheek a little tighter for answer, and my heart leaped up as lightly as though danger and death were near. "I am alone in the world and you—", I said, when I felt warm, gave soil from her cheek to mine. "Forgive my clumsy tongue," I whispered; "I only meant that we must be all in all to each other. Escapism is the word, truly enough, but we stand together and trust in each other, the hills and the sea." "And you will?" she whispered eagerly.

was silence for a few moments. She stood up and stepped forward.

"Surely," said I, "you do not think of going down again?"

"Oh, no," she said hurriedly. "Oh, no, you must not do so. You must not leave this secure post."

"Very good," I returned; "If you wish to go with me, and I am sure you do, come with me."

"I am not," she said. "I am not."

"Very good," I returned; "If you wish to go with me, and I am sure you do, come with me."

"I am not," she said. "I am not."

"Very good," I returned; "If you wish to go with me, and I am sure you do, come with me."

Overcoat Distinction

No matter what your choice be in overcoat styles you'll find that all Hart Schaffner & Marx overcoats have a distinction of appearance which is unusual even with the best custom-tailored.

You'll not fully understand how good these clothes are until you try them on; then you'll see that in fit, in style, in tailoring, they are pre-eminently superior.

Glad to have you see them any time.

Suits

Our sale of suits this fall is far larger than any previous season. To fully appreciate them you must see them for yourself.

Copyright 1902 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

HARRINGTON'S The Leading Clothier -

BY DAD.

And now a bogus counterfeit $5 bill has been discovered. Gosh, but they are really getting it down to within a few dollars of my kind of fives, by dad.

No sir, County Judge Hauner will have no objection to signing the same petitions next spring, but there are other?

"Yes sir, all the great men of the country are named William," said Billy Dammyer, as he stote his thumbs in his sides. "How's that?" asked Billy Nies, while a thankful smile lit his face. "Why," answered the jolly cigar man, "there was William McKinley, William Bryan, King William and William Dammyer," and then Nies' face fell forward a couple of blocks.

A little five year-old girl who resides in this town over-heard her mamma "talking," and the next day when she was out the little tot told her hostess that Mrs. — was just awful sick, etc. "Is that so?" enquired the interested neighbor, "what's the matter with her?" "Oh, she's spectre company," replied, the sprig of a gossip.

A lady, giving the significant name of Young, called at this den Saturday last and requested my John Hancock to a petition calling upon the U. S. senate to expel Senator Smoot, for divers and deviltry reasons. I told her mixmarmous, and she insisted, saying she wanted the names of only the prominent people on her shabang. I then looked at the paper, and blotted my eyes, as Ted Perry would put it, if "W. H. Gibson, editor Republican," wasn't the only name appearing thereon. Of course we haven't any more use for polygamy than Gibson has—until we wash the gentle autumn zephyrs to blow us away to the pearly gates, and yet, with the remembrance of our own Dietrich, McCarthy, Barnes, et al, fresh to memory, why should Nebraskans kick on a little thing like polygamy? Why?

Somebody asked John Hansen, who was in town this week on that 'steen years law suit with his brother, if he was going to see "Hans Hansen," at the opera house, and John said nix, with considerable emphasis, that he had all the "Hans Hansen" he wanted right in the family. By dad, here's hoping he finds out he's got too darned much.

Sheriff Mears has a new Swede story. The doctor had been called in to take care of a new baby. Looking acutely at the infant the physician said: "Hans, what's the matter with this child? it's a little skinny thing, and you're a great big, stout man, and your wife a large healthy woman?" "Waah, doctor, I tol' you," said Hans; "we bain oop in Holt county two year, and we bain glad to get the seed back."

These are the dull days that drive a man to drink or—as Oscar Franks would put it—husking corn.

Just Received—Another shipment of our celebrated Walking Skirts for ladies. Something new and nobby. No two alike. Prices from $3.00 to $15.00. Come in and look them over.

THE RACKET.

It seems that Senator Dietrich had an old vacant building in Hastings that he couldn't rent, it being in one corner of the city, so he at first leased to the government for $2200 per annum, and also charged with selling the post office job for $2500. Later the rent was reduced to $1400, or $800 more than it was worth. Dietrich made a grand stand denial of the charges preferred against him, and wanted a full investigation; but he and his friends have been working over time to hush the affair up, even attempting to bribe State Attorney Sommers.

The two cheapest men in town, this week, by dad, are Oscar Franks and Ed Pratt. The gentlemen were out for a drive north of town, and when going past a corn field O. D. got out to see how fast he could husk—a few ears for feed. Just then a couple of ladies—who had an interest in the corn—walked by and passed the remark that "it did beat all how these high-toned town folks picked up their horse feed," etc.

An attempt is now being made, before the supreme court, to knock out the new assessor law, too many democrats having been elected to this office at the last election. The voters appeared to be cognizant of the fact that honest men ought to fill the position of county assessor, and of course, if democrats have been elected it is just what republican wire-pullers of the Dietrich, Bressler power do not want.

Since Neis Orcutt got to treating the widows with his electric lounge appliance Bob Perrin says all the widows in town are troubled with lame back, etc., and Bob says it is almost impossible to get Neis up to breakfast in the mornings.

Mark Striener, sr., returned to Lincoln this morning.

The C. E. society had a splendid social at the residence of E. P. Olmsted Friday evening last, a sort of Halloween affair. Prof. Dilworth as mysteria, and Miss Benshoof, a gypsy fortune teller, carried off the prizes in the ghost line.

Farms for sale in Charles Mix county, S. Dak. The price ranges from $17.50 to $35.00 per acre according to the improvements and distance from town.

A. N. MATHERY, Agent.

The DEMOCRAT understands that the insurance company will investigate the death of Joe Taylor, the Carroll man who accidentally shot himself last week. The amount of life insurance is $4,000 in the Woodmen order.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hoofnagle have quit the Boyd, and taken rooms over Gandy's store. Mr. Hoofnagle has bought M. E. Root's interest in the Boyd barber shop and will leave the trade.

If there is a better Ten nights in a Bar Room company on the road than Terry's we should like to see it. The manner in which that company put on the time honored drama, last night, was so agreeable surprise to all who witnessed it. Brookfield Era. At opera house Nov. 14.

The rural telephone system, for the benefit of the farming population, will no doubt soon be one of the realities of farm life in this country. A meeting was held at the law office of Welch & Davis last Saturday and the project discussed pro and con. W. H. Gilde-sleepy, J. M. Ross, Link Neely, Henry Kellogg and F. M. Griffith were appointed a committee to look into the matter further and report tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Farmers are invited to attend and take part in furthering the proposition.

Railway Time Table

	Gong East
No. 12, Sioux City, passenger	7:30 a. m.
No. 10, " " "	7:50 p. m.
No. 50, Accommodation	9:00 p. m.
	Gong West
No. 9, Norfolk, passenger	9:15 a. m.
No. 11, Black Hills "	6:28 p. m.
No. 53, Accommodation arrives	6:15 p. m.
	Branch
No. 50, Accommodation	6:45 a. m.
No. 52,	1:45 p. m.
No. 51, Leaves	10:05 a. m.
No. 53,	6:50 p. m.
No. 9 connects at Norfolk with Union Pacific and connects Long Pine, Bonestell and Fremont train. No. 11 connects with Black Hill only.

"Boss" Would be Boss.

So Court Gives Mrs. Bostedder a Separate Maintenance.

There was a gilt-edged audience last evening, at court, to hear the family troubles of C. C. Bostedder and wife, the latter being plaintiff for a divorce and a slice of the family ladder. The affair, sometimes bordering on the tragic, and then again to a verdant humor, lasted from 7:30 to 10 o'clock and everybody present, except Judge Boyd appeared to get their money's worth. The disposition of the court was that defendant pay the plaintiff $30 the first of each and every month for her separate maintenance, taking the matter of a divorce and division of the property, under advisement.

The DEMOCRAT understands that the parties to this suit have raised a family of some twelve or fourteen children all but two boys, aged 16 and 20 years, being grown to manhood and womanhood. Mrs. Bostedder was the first witness and her story contained nothing very unusual, perhaps, from that of thousands of other households whose sacred or scarred marital relations are not made a matter of jest and wonder in the divorce court. Her only serious allegation was that upon one occasion her lord and master had applied a vile epithet to her, that she had returned the compliment, and he had then struck her on the arm with a piece of a board. This was a couple of years ago and she had preserved the weapon and offered it in evidence. Her daughter Alice and son Charley practically substantiated her tale of sorrow. Welch & Davis for the defense then put "Boss" on the stand and he detailed at considerable length how his wife had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged him for money, continually scolded him, etc. Asked about his numerous visits to Wakefield and Encrao to visit his son's family and how he remained away, Bostedder said as long as he wanted to; that he hadn't slept with his wife for quite a week; that he had nagged