WAYNE IS A WINNER.

In the Bowling Contest She Defests Winside Over Two Hundred Pins. The bowling alley would not accommodate the crowds of sight seers Tuesday afternoon to see Winside's crack bowlers play Wayne's invincibles. In the first game the visitors carried off the honors by 40 odd pins, but in the series the locals won out 283. The score was:

Book	Winside
Boock	130-105-137
Wright	147-117-98
Sims	146-108-146
Boyle	170-130-109
Shaw	131-135-98
WAYNE
Norton	161-147-175
Hunter	121-156-191
McCabe	142-170-147
Pratt	114-136-152
Griffith	144-144-181

Scorers—Kruzer and Carter. The return game will be played at Winside Jan. 29, next Tuesday, when our boys will stand a good show to be defeated as the alley in Winside are quite different and the whisky doesn't have so much water in it.

Henry Mau is taking the winter term at college.

Some why hang creps on the old building recently moved by Editor Gibson to ground east of the German store. It was a mean trick, to say the least.

A. C. Golz was a business caller from Winside yesterday.

John Lewis and Mac Miller have been having some bad luck this month, losing two valuable two-year-old colts that were worth about $400 each. The animals died with the distemper.

Fred Frevert was a visitor from Wausa yesterday.

The rural telephone lines have been talking a good deal the past week. An extra assessment of $25 each on the farmers has made some of them jump clear through the ceiling. Manager Bell, on the other hand, is making good progress with his lines. The poles are here for two more routes of wire and work being pushed on them. The DEMOCRAT rather guesses the farmers will have considerable grief as well as lots of fun out of this telephone business, and the trouble is in having all the fun at the beginning.

Jake Ziegler and Henry Lessman got home from Lincoln this morning. Jake said everybody seemed to be in the capital city this week, democrats, republicans, stock raisers, etc. Henry felt so good over the Bryan banquet that he subscribed for the DEMOCRAT as soon as he got off the train—one more good republican vote gone where it will do some good.

The official board of the M. E. church will give a farewell reception for Messrs and Mesdames Beebe and Brown at the church Thursday Jan. 28, from 8 to 10 o'clock. The friends of these parties are cordially invited regardless of church affiliations.

Very Little Argument

Is needed to convince anyone that our store is a "good place to trade." We give you reasons why it is so. Read them carefully.

1st Because we keep nothing but "good goods." We never sacrifice the quality for the price.

2d Our prices are correct on every article, and you do not have to watch us to see that you are not over-charged.

3d Our business enables us to keep only the best of goods constantly on hand.

4th We appreciate your patronage and will do all we can to please you and make it profitable for you to trade with us.

Our coffee trade is increasing so rapidly that this year we expect to sell 6000 lbs. Customers who cater to our popular brands are lasting consumers. We serve coffee free every Saturday afternoon. A trial will convince you if you are not already a patron.

Miss Mabel Allers delightfully entertained a small company of the young people last Saturday evening at a birthday party. The forepart of the evening was devoted to games. About ten o'clock Mrs. Mildner assisted by Mrs. Fred Volpp served the guests with light refreshments. There came a little music and dancing and it was time to say good night etc. any had thought of departing. Mrs. Mildner had spared no pains in making the event a memorable one for those who had the pleasure of attending. Miss Mabel was the recipient of many beautiful souvenirs of her 17th birthday.

The 2 Johns Feel Ashamed.

It is not often that we do anything that we feel ashamed of, but it is human to err and when we make a mistake we are always ready to acknowledge it. We are not ashamed of the business we have done the past year, for our trade is constantly increasing, but we are ashamed that we were induced to buy more clothing than we needed and are now making prices never heard of before to sell it out. It is hard on our competitors but it pleases our customers.

We are not ashamed of the amount of Staley underwear we sold the past year, for our trade was nearly double what it was other years, but we feel ashamed that we have not succeeded in getting every man in Wayne county to wear it. We can't understand why men will suffer with rheumatism, get colds and often die when they can get Staley underwear instead. Did you ever hear of anyone dying who had on Staley?

We are ashamed to advertise how cheap we are selling goods at present, for it makes our competitors feel bad, and we make it a rule to always make everyone happy. If you want to buy winter clothing at greatly reduced prices call on us.

GERMAN SYRUP.

We want to impress on our readers that Bosche's German Syrup is positively the only preparation on the market today that does relieve and cure consumption. It contains the specific, such as pure tar, extracts of ginseng, etc., which have been so highly endorsed for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption by the great medical congresses. The consumptive, whether his disease is in the throat or lungs, must have rest at night, and be free from the spasms of dry cough in the morning. The deceased parts want heating and soothing treatment, and the patient needs fresh air, good food, and rest. German syrup will give the most easy expectoration in the morning with speedy and permanent relief. Small bottles, 25 cents; regular bottles, containing nearly four times as much, 75 cents. At all druggists. Ed. Raymond.

COLLEGE NOTES.

A large number of students spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes.

Several former students have enrolled this term to complete some of the courses of study.

The young men have organized a debating club which meets each Wednesday evening. Good work is being done by them.

The term orations by the graduating classes were very good. The committee gave Mr. Powers the first place with Miss Porter a close second.

Mrs. Tripp of Rosebud, S. D., visited her son and daughter from Thursday till Sunday. She was on her way to Thayer, Minn., where she will have charge of an Indian school for a few months.

An interesting game of basket ball was played by the college girls Saturday afternoon. The teams were S. D. girls against Nebraska girls. The former won. Another game will be played between same teams as soon as weather permits.

About one hundred new students enrolled this week. The enrollment Tuesday morning was 44. Some have come in since. Thanks are due Mrs. Gilder, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Munson, Mrs. Olmsted, Mrs. Nieland, Mrs. Bright, Mrs. McManigal and other neighbors for their kindness in taking students to room.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the students of the graduating classes who expect to complete the work for state certificates will spend some time each day at the Ward school to study methods of teaching.

AT THE Capital Saloon

Is going to be the "banner" year for big business, and to make it such we propose to give every man his "dew" at a little less profit to us than ever before. Our wholesale trade was more than satisfactory the past year, and for 1904 we can give you better bargains in whiskies, wines and beer than we did last. You want the best if you use liquors at all, and a trial at the Capital will prove that we are it.

THE DEMOCRAT

W. S. GOLDIE, Editor and Publisher.
Subscription, $1.50 Per Year; 17 CENTS IN ADVANCE $1.00.

St. Louis gets the democratic national convention, which fact will at least secure a fair platform.

The Fort Madison Plaindealer has discontinued the Sunday issue in deference to the wishes of the preachers of the town. Probably it wasn't very profitable.

Easter Sunday comes a little too early this year for Easter bonnets to blossom. Perhaps we can save enough to buy a photograph of a pair of eggs.

About once in six months the Sioux City police find a gambling house—but they don't hurt the gamblers very much—it's all a bluff—like the reform the republican party gives Nebraska.

A New York lawyer refused to carry $10,000,000 worth of bonds along a crowded New York thoroughfare. Probably he was afraid of being arrested for operating a street sprinkler without license.

The Ruthven Appeal says: "A Kansas city girl named Apple is going to be married soon, and the name of her intended husband being Adam, the newspapers will soon have accounts of a happy Adams-Apple event." Well, she's probably worth Adam if she lives in Kansas City.

Although the DEMOCRAT advertises for business for two local board of trade institutions, branch houses of Chicago firms, this paper is not going to tell the dear people that playing to win at these joints is a prolific pacifier. A poker room run by local talent, where every man gets a square deal, is a diadem of deviltry compared to the board of trade. This gambling in grain on wind destroys more lives, ruins more homes and does more harm than the saloon or house of prostitution, and is worse than the regular gambling house. It catches the better element of mankind. Bank cashiers drop off like black plagues had hit them when they go up against the board. Only the past summer a Wayne man would have gone to jail because of having lost other people's money on the board of trade, had it not been for two or three friends who helped him out. Farmers lose their farms, business men their business, and the christian his religion, when they mix with the bulls and bears, but the DEMOCRAT has yet to learn of anyone this side of Chicago who has been a winner and kept his winnings. Better leave the concerns alone; they fool the best judges of the market, and will fool you even after you have learned to beat the game.

Of course there is reason for the big newspaper men disliking Wm. E. Hearst. The opinions of all of them are prejudiced.

A Chicago woman named Snowball killed herself for love. There is one of 'em for hades that may last a long time.

Seven hours a day is as much, perhaps, as people should work, but so long as people in general cannot apply the rule, the public is opposed to any more snaps for government employes.

Some people wonder how some men who lay around town day after day and never do any work manage to live through the winter. It's easy. Men who do their "work" at night don't have to work in the daytime.

Cigarette smoking is given as the reason for the release of Professor Ralph Post from the faculty of Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill. Principal Herbert Fieke, announcing the release, stated: "We considered Professor Post lacking in that dignity necessary to the position of an instructor of young men. He smoked cigarettes. That was undignified." Post was instructor in physical culture, and despite his cigarette habit had a splendid physique. He had advanced the standing of Northwestern university in athletics, but his conferees on the faculty objected to the cigarettes, and so he was released. Now, what would you do with an instructor who plays cards with his pupils in a secluded place until a late hour in the night?

Editor Howard facetiously says: If the Telegram should be asked to make plain to ordinary mortals the reason why the judge quashed the Dietrich indictment we could do nothing better than the following:

"Federal court indictments against United States senators have usually been found defective because the foreman of the grand jury handed the indictment to the clerk of the court in his left hand, when he should have used his right hand."

We sincerely trust this explanation will be sufficient. It is the best we can offer. It is the best we have heard anybody offer. It is a shame that the foreman of the grand jury should have been so careless.

A Norfolk man resolved to quit smoking on New Years day. He kept his resolution manfully during that day, but in the interval he drank four gallons of water, ate three quarts of salted peanuts, chewed 25c worth of gum, quarreled with his wife, licked one neighbor's dog and almost had a fight over it, raised a row with another neighbor about his chickens, lost seven good customers on account of being cranky, kicked the cat out of the house, fired the hired girl, insulted his mother-in-law, and other things too numerous to mention. He's smoking again. —Norfolk Press.

There's Something Wrong
When you see a man wearing frayed clothes, his pants held up with bachelor buttons and his wife arrayed in about the nicest clothes worn by any woman in town.

When you see a woman all run down at the heel, tired and seedy looking, while her husband has plenty of money for pool, bowling, cigars, chawin' tobacco, and occasional chip on a keg.

When you see a man refusing honest work because it is not just in his line, while his wife and kids are objects of charity. When you hear a business man rebuke another for using profane language and then stand around some day and see him short-weight a customer. When you see a man going to church in the forenoon and getting a jag on in the afternoon.

When a man deliberately does things which will hurt his health and reputation because he thinks he is having a good time.

When you hear a man remark that he advertises "just to help out the editor." —Dalton's Democrat.

"Whiter than Snow"

In spite of the frequently repeated boasts of Mr. Dietrich and his friends that he had nothing to conceal, and that he invited a thorough and complete investigation of the charges made against him, Mr. Dietrich resorted to technicalities and through those technicalities secured a verdict of acquittal.

The point raised by Mr. Dietrich's lawyers and sustained by the court may be sound in law. We have no disposition to enter largely upon a discussion of those technical questions; but the people of Nebraska, regardless of political prejudice, would have preferred that Mr. Dietrich carry out his promise to meet and explode these charges and vindicate himself in the eyes of his fellow citizens. He failed to meet the charges and, although he is entirely free of court process, he has not vindicated himself in the eyes of the people of Nebraska.

Reading the opinion of the federal judge to the effect that although Mr. Dietrich drew pay as United States senator from March 28 to December 2, he was not, in law, a senator, the people of Nebraska, humiliated far beyond expression, might wish that the court through some process of legerdemain, could show to the world that, in fact as well as in law, Nebraska had never been represented in the United States senate by this man who boasted so proudly of his willingness to meet the serious accusations made against him, and yet, when the test came, crawled out of his difficulties by an appeal to technicalities.

In the absence of such relief as this, the republican who has faithfully, patiently and repeatedly gone to the polls—marching to the music of the corporation organ and bending obediently under the lash of the corporation whip—may be thankful that Dietrich has been acquitted; that Nebraska has once more been "redeemed"; that the robes of the "party of God and morality" have been washed whiter than snow, and that the "national honor" is safe and secure in the hands of men elected to office by the republican party.

As for those who have not understood, and cannot understand, why men who have pride in their state and hope for their country will continue to aid in the election to office of men of mediocrity—well, these may look to the future with some hope that the eyes of men will yet open to the seriousness of the situation. In the meantime, they may obtain consolation in that fine bit of optimism: "God's in his heaven—all's right with the world." —World-Herald.

Walt Mason, in the State Journal, hands Dietrich the following bouquet: "A few people in Nebraska seem to be under the impression that it is Hon. Old Bill Summers who is on trial at Omaha, and not Hon. C. H. Dietrich. This is rather rough on the former, who hasn't even been indicted, up to the hour of going to press. Others seem to be under the impression that Old Bill is animated by a malevolent spirit in his prosecution of the senator, but the evidence seems to show that he didn't want to undertake the job at all; he had a profound regard for the sacred character of a United States senator, and would gladly have refrained from bringing Mr.

Mr. C. A. Marshall is a practical fruit grower and is the manager of one of the largest nurseries in the state. He has tested many varieties of apples, plums, peaches, pears, strawberries, etc., and has learned by practical experience which of them are best suited to the conditions prevailing in different parts of Nebraska. Mr. Marshall has also given much attention to the shrubs and fruits that are suitable for planting about the house to make the home more beautiful. He has travelled about the country in the interests of the business until he has gained a thorough knowledge of what varieties of fruits and shrubs are most likely to give the best results in different sections of the state and also what methods of cultivation should be followed. Probably no man in Nebraska is better qualified to discuss horticultural topics than Mr. Marshall. He has been in this one business for many years giving it his undivided attention. He was president of the State Horticultural Society before Mr. Christy was elected to that position.

Will Leave the Country

Chris Poppenhagen, who sold his farm a few weeks ago, will have a sale at his place just south of town Feb. 12, to sell everything. Seven horses, cattle, hogs, and a big lot of machinery that was all bought last year and is as good as new. Mr. Poppenhagen is going to Millard to go into other business.

Fred Benshoof and R. F. Leap went to Platte, S. Dak., on a land trade Tuesday morning. Fred says he is going out to Tacoma, Wash., in the spring to look for a new location.

G. W. Albee was a business visitor to Sioux City Tuesday.

J. R. Manning went to Lincoln Tuesday. The republican state central committee and a large number of politicians were gathered there this week arranging to simplify matters for the next legislature in the choice of a United States senator. If the solons use their best wisdom they will unite on Wm. V. Allen, W. H. Thompson, Howard of the Columbus Telegram or John Sprecher of the Schuyler Free Lance. The republican party can't produce one man equal to either of these, in brains, honesty or ability.

A WOMAN'S COMPLEXION

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or grissiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment, as advocated by the "beauty" doctors. The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. ART EXHIBIT

Invention has but recently brought within the reach of the common schools reproductions of the great masterpieces of art. The refining and elevating ideals of literature have been recognized as exerting a potent influence in moulding the fine types of civilization. A force not less than this, without question, to be exerted through the great thoughts that have been placed on canvas. Constant association with these ideas of the great masters must necessarily tend to elevate and refine those who are subjected to their influence.

Our school rooms in which our children are to spend such a large part of their time in the formative period of life, should have all the possible elements of beauty and refinement which pertain to the home.

To make our school rooms more attractive, more homelike, more beautiful, more habitable is a work that should attract the attention of all those interested in the education of our youth. For the purpose of arousing more interest in the study of educational work and of the same time for providing means for beginning the work of school room decoration, the teachers of the city schools assisted by the ladies of the various clubs of the city have arranged for an exhibit of pictures suitable for schools. The collection has been gathered from the Hon. K. Turner Co. of Boston, and consists of one hundred fifty pictures. All the pictures are reproduced directly from the original by the most scientific and modern methods of reproduction. They are all illustrative of objects of world wide interest and of great educational value.

The exhibit will be held in the Willard building and will be open for three days.

February 4, 5 and 6, 1904

...OFFICE OF...
The County Superintendent
WAYNE, NEB.

DEAR TEACHER: EIGHTH GRADE EXAMINATIONS.—The time for thinking and planning for our Eighth Grade examinations for graduation is approaching. In this connection your attention is called to the fact that questions will be prepared and sent out as usual except that the examinations must be given all schools the same date. Two examinations will probably be held, one in March and another in May. Those held in March will be for the convenience of those who will not continue in school until the end of the term.

The subjects will be Orthography, Arithmetic, Grammar, Reading, Penmanship, Geography, Physiology and Narcotics, U. S. History and probably Agriculture. The examination in orthography will include homonyms, synonyms, diacritical marking and twenty-five or more words to spell. In arithmetic a thorough test in fractions will be given, and probably a test in compound numbers and the principles and applications of Percentage. Reading will include a test in interpretation, and possibly a few questions about the most prominent American authors and their works. The test in Agriculture will be based on "The New Elementary Agriculture" which may be obtained from the University Publishing Co., Lincoln, Neb.

TEXT BOOKS.—Teachers who are using the books on the county list should have a copy of Henshel's Manual of Grammar, Blaisdell's, How to Teach Physiology, and Frye's Manual of Geography. The Manual of Grammar should be purchased by the district when they get the Grammars.—The other two will be furnished free to the district from this office. Unless you have a definite and satisfactory plan of presenting your number work, you should have a copy of Princes Arithmetic for first grade, also one for the second grade. Pupils should not be started in Milne's Elements before the third grade is reached. You should also have a copy of Language Through Nature and Art as a basis for your language work up to the third grade.

Get the district to procure these books. If they refuse (which very few of them will do if properly approached) it will pay you to get them yourself. The new books are going into the schools nicely and are proving highly satisfactory. Urge your board not to be behind in this advance movement. Get the new books into your school as soon as possible.

LIBRARIES.—A great many schools have libraries of more or less merit (and all of them are valuable) that are rendered practically worthless because of the condition they are in. The majority of teachers do not know how many volumes there are in the library of their school. Quite a number have absolutely no record of what they have. Teachers, do not permit this condition to exist another day. You can get a tablet for five cents in which you can keep a record of the books you have, who has them out, and who has not returned his book. Have every book accounted for at the end of the term. There is a great deal of inexcusable carelessness in taking care of these school libraries.

SUPPLIES.—If you haven't a copy of the new Special Day Program of the school law for teachers (1903) call at the office and get them or a card will bring them. There are very few districts not using the monthly report to parents. They should be used in every school. These report cards and attendance certificates are furnished from this office on request. Every district should be supplied with the new daily register before the beginning of the spring term. Then every teacher should leave a copy of his daily program and a complete summary of his work in this book for the benefit of the following teacher. Do not forget to make out a Term Summary Report and mail to this office when you leave the district.

If teachers would place only the names of pupils between the ages of 7 and 15 on their monthly reports, and also the names of pupils who are sick or moved away or attending private school, it would greatly lessen the other work and not add materially to their. Try it.

INSTITUTE.—The Annual County Institute will be held June 13-17. The instructors secured are Prof. F. M. Gregg of Wayne, Supt. W. M. Kern of Columbus, and Anna Vander Cook of Omaha. Deputy State Superintendent J. L. McEwen will deliver an address. Negotiations are being made for two more good lectures. Plan your vacations so that your school will close in time for this institute.

We have just crossed the threshold of a new year and what it contains for us will largely be determined by ourselves. We will get out of it about what we put into it. It is therefore important that we put something in. Very respectfully,
Wayne, Neb., Jan. 18, 1904.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A farmers' institute under the auspices of a department of the state university of Nebraska, will be held in Wayne February 5 and 6 and it is earnestly desired to have a large attendance of farmers and all others interested in farm productions. The meetings cannot be successful, regardless of the ability of the speakers, unless those interested in the subjects to be discussed, are present.

O. M. Lewelling of Beaver City, who will lecture on poultry, pork, corn and alfalfa, is a practical farmer of many years' experience. He has been on the institute for two years, giving the results of his years of experience in practical farming to other farmers. He is one of the best informed men in the state on the poultry business, both in regard to its place on the average farm and in the yard of the fancier. He is intrusted with the management of the state poultry show, held in Lincoln this month. This is one of the largest and finest poultry shows in the world. Mr. Lewelling's lectures on the care and management of poultry should be heard by every farmer and farmer's wife. He makes the discussion especially applicable to the conditions on the average farm. He knows what they are. It is under these conditions that he raises poultry. Farmers have frequently said after hearing his talk that his discussion alone is worth going many miles to hear. Mr. Lewelling owns and operates large farms in the Beaver Valley at the present time. He produces alfalfa, corn and hogs—an excellent combination. He is thoroughly acquainted with all these subjects by years of study and successful practice. He is an enthusiastic advocate of good farming because he knows that it pays. Mr. Lewelling is an easy and interesting speaker. He pleases and instructs his audience. The farmers welcome him on his return trip because of his affable manner and store of practical knowledge.

H. P. Miller will talk on soil, feeding, animal life and growth. He comes to Nebraska as an institute lecturer this year for the first time. His home is at Sunbury, Ohio, where, starting with a small run-down farm, he has built up a well-stocked, productive farm of 265 acres. He has increased the productivity of the original farm over fifty per cent by proper methods of tillage and cropping. He has always lived on the farm excepting the years that he has spent in college. He completed a veterinary course at the Ohio state university. He combines scientific training with practical farming and stock raising. He has found "scientific agriculture," synonymous with "practical agriculture." Mr. Miller comes to us not only with the endorsement of successful farming and a thorough training in college, but also with the records of five years' success in farmers' institute work. He chooses to confine his lectures here to two or three subjects relating to soil and to feeding, but he has a wide range of subjects that he has discussed in Ohio and other states. He has had charge of the sheep department of the Ohio Farmer for ten years and has lately accepted the position of editor-in-chief of the North American Farmer. For the last few years, he has given courses of lectures before the agricultural college students of the Purdue university and the students of the agricultural college of Ohio. Mr. Miller has been on the farmers' institute force of Ohio five years. He has spent considerable time in institute work in Maryland and Indiana. He is coming to Nebraska to get acquainted with the state and the western people, rather than because of any inducement we may be able to offer him. Our people should show their appreciation of a man with this training and successful experience by welcoming him with a large audience.

What's the matter with the old maids of Wayne? Nearly every town in the vicinity has had a leap year hop or two, but the local females are strangely quiet.

"Yep!" ejaculated Lawyer Frank Berry, as he reached down and proceeded to gather a lot of rubber bands that had got into a fracas with his old socks and made a ludicrous feat-ure on the wrong side of his shoes. "This, by dad, is what comes from having your wife give you stockings for supporters for a Christmas present." I told Frank his wife was all right, the whole trouble was with his leg—too ghastly small; that if he just had a leg like mine he could wear his supporters for a Queensbury belt. I never saw but one leg that could equal—well, that brings to mind a good true story on Bob Mellor. A few years ago all the Wayne women who were in the swim when the weren't in the soup got the bicycle craze; they were riding their wheels all the time and some of them got so bloomin' tired they couldn't sit on anything else—but a bicycle. A lot of the married men were discussing this feature of the fad one day when Bob broke out with "Yep! yep! but you fellows just ought to see my wife's bustle."

The Sioux City girls are onto a new "line of thought"; they are going to pop the question over the 'phone and thus have the recipient fall into the receiver instead of a pair of arms. The Democrat phone no. 74 and the courts grant divorces in Nebraska, let 'er pop!

F. M. Skeen has a lengthy letter published editorially by the Sioux City Tribune, last evening's paper. F. M. is quite a corker with the pen—on Roosevelt. Perhaps he would like to be minister to Turkey or Hoskins.

Dan Martin and his son-in-law, Mr. Howard, were down from Carroll yesterday and in paying a couple of years subscription Dan remarked that he didn't read the papers much but when he read any at all it was "by read," and that seemed to be what all the women around Carroll were looking for, too—by dad!

CARROLL NEWS.

A young son came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wineland near the town of Winside Monday by the serious illness of their brother-in-law, W. H. Fingopy, who is very ill with muscular rheumatism.

The entertainment given by the Carroll Royal Neighbors in Winside last week was a great success.

The LeCroz family has been quite sick the past week.

The union meetings have commenced in earnest now and everybody is invited to attend them.

The Stam family are still sick.

Bert Brown and Charley Beebe are up here invoicing this week and we wish them all kinds of success in their new undertaking. Old Mr. Hurlbert is some better.

SLEEPY HOLLOW

Hans Ott was visiting in Sleepy Hollow Monday.

Roberts Bros are shelling corn in Brenna precinct. They shelled 1800 bushels in one day. Who can beat that?

Herman Tangeman is hauling grain to Carroll this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moor were visiting at William Bonta's on Sunday.

Harry Willons and Abia Roberts were visiting west of Carroll Sunday.

Girl—Mother there was a mouse in the milk pail. Mother—Well, didn't you take it out? Girl—No I threw the cat in after it.

It looks like snow, beautiful snow.

R M Patton is visiting friends in Iowa and we hope he will have a good time before moving to cold North Dakota.

Miss Louisa Hopp went to Wayne to work this week.

John Murphy was visiting at Dan Ertal's Sunday.

It makes no odds, how much you know. The point is, how much of it is so.

Charley Bonta and Billie Harney went to Washington, Kansas, where they will stay a short time.

Henry Subr was visiting at W M Roberts Monday.

Wonder what has become of West Brinton.

HOSKINS

There was a bit of excitement here Saturday when Wm Schrieber of Apex and Chas Green got in a mix up over what Schrieber says was none of Green's business, and about this time Green was ornamenting the farmer.

We suppose Green would have been pounding Schrieber yet if our o. k. marshal had not seen what was transpiring and come running to the scene of battle with a billy and yelling like a Comanche Indian and put a stop to the fight in about two minutes. We are inclined to believe Green is in the right and Justice Templein seemed to take the same view of the affair as he fined Schrieber $15 and costs. Whiskey, as usual, was at the bottom of the trouble, through it is a little tough on Schrieber to fill up on Kautz whisky and then have Kautz's father-in-law trounce him. But such is life if one is fool enough to make it so. Hoskins fire water seems to have a bad effect on our country people. We want them to drink it because we have it on good authority that it is all that keeps the town alive, but we don't want them to bother us after we have got their money.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. John Williams.

John Foster was at Wayne Monday.

E Candor and wife are visiting H J this week.

Chas Linn, Andrew and Pete Staam were passengers to Wayne Monday.

The firm of Mortz & Wetlich have dissolved partnership, Wetlich keeping the implement business and Mortz the livery, which he afterwards sold to Otto Wontouch. If Wetlich is the pioneer implement man of Hoskins. Others have come and gone but he stays. He has also built up the livery business all today Hoskins has as good a feed and livery as any old town.

Mr. and Mrs. Backlund entertained Mr. and Mrs. Westlin from Wausau over Sunday.

John Kaulin and Herman Ziemer were at Norfolk Tuesday evening to attend the play.

Alma Benser was at Norfolk the first of the week to visit and incidentally to get acquainted with the goat at the Eastern Star lodge.

F C Oldenburg was a passenger to Sioux City Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Antoin Jensen buried their little child last Friday.

Frank Phillips, Maud and Elvia Dobbin attended the leap year dance at Winside Wednesday evening.

Miss Averil entertained a lady friend from Winside last week.

Winside News.

(From the Tribune)

Born—On Jan. 8, 1904, to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Oman, a girl. The Tribune congratulates and wishes the fond parents much joy in this new possession.

Clarence Fish's friends may be somewhat surprised to hear the news that he has actually "gone on the stage." He made his first appearance last Monday night and carried out his most difficult part to perfection. The Tribune hopes that Clarence will get "star" in some high class drama, probably taking the part of a soldier boy.

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Ed. Mielke of Sioux City was received at Winside Monday. She had been sick about a week, but was not considered dangerous. Mrs. Mielke was well known in Winside, having resided here for several years. At one time Mr. and Mrs. Mielke were in the hotel business here and only last summer Mrs. Mielke was here visiting. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Needham left yesterday morning for Sioux City to attend the funeral.

The ungrateful, kangarooish manner in which the editor has been perambulating to and fro from the office to the house this week is accounted for by the fact that she stepped off the sidewalk last Sunday night when returning from church and sprained her ankle. Some people have been mean enough to say that there is a moral in the story, but it does seem strange that we attended the show for two nights and never even fell over a dog.

Wayne is to have an independent telephone system which connects with a large number of farmers in Wayne and other counties. Part of the wires are to be placed underground. Messrs Bell & O'Brien are the proprietors who will build and own the exchange.

Bryan's Homecoming

William Jennings Bryan, foremost private citizen of the foremost nation on earth, will, in all probability, arrive in New York City this morning and will be given a reception such as would delight the heart of any man.

Mr. Bryan returns from his European trip with added laurels resting on his brow.

England, Germany, Russia, Italy and other nations have not been backward in honoring him. The name Bryan is almost as much a household word in some of these countries as it is in Bryan's own America.

Recognized as one of the world's most distinguished men, the splendid Nebraskan has been dined and feted by kings and emperors and cordially entertained by great statesmen.

The object of overwhelming attention, a man smaller than Bryan might have fallen into that lackey-like toadying which has, in the case of more than one distinguished American, brought forth disapproving comment from the press of the land of the free and the home of the brave. Not so with Bryan.

A true American and a true gentleman he has shown the people of Europe that a true American does not regard it as compatible with true gentility to act the part of a subservient flunky even in the presence of kings and czars.

And, as a consequence, kings and czars have a loftier opinion of Americans than they had before meeting William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska.

Mr. Bryan comes back to America at an interesting time. Seven years of republican "prosperity" are having their sequel in the wholesale closing down of large industries and the wholesale reduction of wages.

Houses built on water can hardly be expected to last even so long as those built on sand. And so we see vast corporations falling into the hands of the receivers and discontent on every side except that represented by a select coterie of millionaires who have more than doubled their great fortunes as a result of a protection that protects only the favored few and a goldbugism that gives gold only to those who neither need it nor are deserving of it.—St. Louis World.
