Will Improve Lighting Plant

The "New" City Dads Meet a Bunch of Propositions

The municipal managers of this municipality held a busy session Monday night, an adjournment being taken to next Monday evening.

The principal proposition the new board found upon opening up matters was how when and what to do with the present condition of the electric light plant, the out-going board having left it in bad shape for want of repairs. Mayor Britton and Electrician Fritts explained matters to the aldermen and it was finally decided to have the finance committee look up the present condition of the treasury, the amount that could be derived for permanent improvements, and that an endeavor be made to secure about $5,000 to put in another dynamo and boiler and operate both when necessary, Electrician Fritts explaining that it was much more practical than running a single dynamo of larger capacity. Last year over $3000 was expended in permanent improvements and no increase of indebtedness contracted, and it is expected that the new plant can really be paid for this year. The present plant is greatly over-loaded and there is lots more business constantly coming in, so that it will either be necessary to quit wiring or put in power of required capacity. The boiler used at present is also about "all in" according to statements of the city engineers.

F. E. Bell of the Independent Telephone Co. was present to ask for a new franchise to avoid making a useless number of transfers of the old one. The matter was deferred until next meeting.
Mayor Britton named officers as follows:
City marshal, G. L. Miner; city attorney, A. R. Davis; street commissioner, Henry Bockenbauer; city electrician, T. H. Fritts; same being confirmed by the council.
Mayor Britton then named the following committees for the ensuing year: Finance--Gregg, Williams, Goldie, Streets and alleys--Gaetner, McVicker and Williams. Claims and Supplies--Williams, Goldie and Gregg. Water--Goldie, Roe and McVicker. Electric Lights--Roe, McVicker and Goldie.
Minutes of the special meeting held May 3d were read and approved.
The following bills were allowed:

Messrs J. T. Bressler, Herman Henry and R. Philcox, of the cemetery association were present and requested council to order in 150 feet of sidewalk west of J. W. Tombs residence and fronting on ground owned by eastern parties who had failed or refused to put in said sidewalk. After some discussion the city attorney was ordered to draw up the necessary papers making the construction of the walk a lien on said lots, and the street commissioner to at once build same at temporary expense of the city. This makes or will make a continuous sidewalk to the burial grounds.

Reports of Ex-Clerk Davis were referred to finance committee.
Application and bonds of J. T. Leahy for a druggists permit were approved and granted.
The finance committee was also instructed to at once have the city property re-insured.

Letter from Henry Lueders

Friend Walter:
I have changed battle ground again and got a little closer to Morman state Utah. Came to Glenwood Springs to take the hot baths and drink the water. The springs are so hot you can't hold your hands in it half a minute. The color of the water is bluish or violet and tastes like sulphur and salt. The largest of the springs is about a foot in diameter and there are numerous smaller springs, also iron springs, vapor caves, I came through the Royal Gorge canon, over the Hanging bridge, the finest scenery I ever saw. Rocks on both sides 3000 to 4000 feet high. Please forward the DEMOCRAT from now on to Glenwood Springs, Colo., and g'd bye yours truly,
HENRY LUEDERS.

Palace Livery Stock Sold

Saturday last Fred Brown sold the teams and rigs at the Palace Livery barn to L. L. Way, the gentleman who bought the barn some time ago. The DEMOCRAT is sorry to see Mr. Brown go out of business in Wayne, as he is the very best kind of a liveryman, and he may decide to stay here yet, although he went to Bonesteel, S. D., Tuesday to look over livery proposition there.

John Prince was down from Winside Saturday.

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N. Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know of to restore lost health and strength. I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restless sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I treated the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me. I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put away all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Miss NELLIE HOLMES, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Irene Crosby, prominent in Social Life in East Savannah, Ga., adds her testimonial to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It always gives me pleasure to find an article of real value and unqualified merit. I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound well calculated to relieve and cure the various troubles arising from irregularities and menstrual pains. Much suffering could be spared if we only paid more attention to the living and diet, but as long as women do not do this, your Vegetable Compound has come to the front as a true friend in need. I have been very pleased indeed with the relief it has brought me. I find that I have perfect health now, and that my mind is also more clear and active since I used your Vegetable Compound. It has been of great benefit to me, and I gladly recommend it. Very sincerely yours, Miss IRENE CROSBY, 313 East Charlton St., East Savannah, Ga.

Remember that every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her case or symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and is cheerfully given to any ailing woman who asks for it.

An Illinois Farmer in Western Canada.

A recent issue of the Shelbyville, Illinois, Democrat contains a long and interesting letter from Mr. Elias Kost, formerly a prosperous farmer of that State, who recently emigrated to Western Canada, taking up a claim for himself and for each of his three sons.

From Mr. Kost's letter, which was written Feb. 3, 1904, we publish the following, believing it will prove of great interest to those who have contemplated settling in the Canadian Northwest:

"I had in August, 1902, secured a claim for myself, and filed on three quarter sections for my sons. My claim is one-half mile south of the Edmonton and Lake St. Anne trail.

"Coming so late in the season, we had little opportunity to break and to prepare our land for the first crop, still we raised over 100 bushels of very fine potatoes, and sowed a few acres of barley, but the season was too far advanced for the barley. However, we secured good feed from it, and on rented ground 18 miles east of us, raised a fine crop of oats, so that we will have plenty of feed for horses. We cut about 60 tons of hay and thus will have an abundance. We have, all told, about 240 acres of hay meadow, which would yield for the past year over three tons to the acre, and in an ordinary season the meadow would furnish 60 tons of hay. The grass is very nutritious, and cattle on the ranges become very fat without being fed a pound of grain.

"On the upland the grass grows from eight to ten inches tall. This is called range grass, and is suitable for stock at any time, even in the winter when the ground is not covered too deep with snow. Horses subsist on it alone, at all times, provided they are native stock. The grass in the lowlands is here called red-top, and grows from five to six feet in length, and when cut at the proper time yields an abundant crop of nutritious hay.

"Our cattle have not cost us a cent since we came on our homestead, only the small outlay for salt and labor in putting up hay and shelter. All cattle have been doing well this winter, and feeding up to the first of January was unnecessary, as there was good range up to that time.

"All the snows up to that date were followed by winds from the Northwest that melt it very rapidly; these winds are called Chinook winds, and are always warm. In one night a Chinook wind may take away three or four inches of snow.

"We have built on our claim a comfortable house of hewn logs, 20x28 feet, one and one-half stories in height, with a good cellar. During the latter part of June we rafted logs down the Sturgeon to a sawmill, about eight miles away, and there secured 5,000 feet of good lumber which was used for the house. Later in the season a shingle-mill located six miles away. To this we hauled logs and had shingles cut for the roof.

"We had an abundance of wild fruit the past season, consisting of gooseberries, strawberries, raspberries, eyeberry, blueberries, cherries and saskatoon berry. The latter are a fine looking berry, red, and quite pleasant to the taste, but not much to be desired in quantity. Good strawberries are the same as those that are raised in Illinois. Raspberries are red in color, large and equal to any of the tame varieties, and so are the gooseberries. The cranberries consist of the high and trailing varieties. The latter are most sought and continuous to the swamps. The ground is literally covered with them as with a red carpet, but the best and most sought is the blueberry, so called by the Indians. This is the common blueberry, (whortleberry) of the Blue Hills Mountains in Pennsylvania, and cannot be excelled for excellence by any fruit cultivated. We found here both on the prairie and in the timber in immense quantities.

"Game is very plentiful so far as prairie chickens, pheasants, ducks of all kinds and geese are concerned. We have taken nearly 500 chickens and pheasants, also a great many ducks.

"An occasional deer is seen, but are not plentiful, only one having been taken during the season in this settlement.

"Fish are very plentiful at all seasons of the year. Fish, waggons and sleds are passing almost daily along the trail with heavy loads of fish, destined for St. Albert and Edmonton. From the latter point they are shipped south on the Calgary and Edmonton Railroad to points along the line, and also to Assiniboia, on the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

SQUARED HIS UNIFORM.

Washington Star: "There are as the British proverb has it other ways of killing a cat besides feeding it Grand Rapids breakfast food," said an officer of the navy. "This, at any rate, was the idea of Pete McSwing."

"Pete was serving as a bosun's mate on the cruiser to which I was attached on the Mediterranean station. He was a reason from the cherry hill near Manhattan, hard as flint, bow-legged and built like an orang-outang, and as sober self respecting a sailorman as ever coked off on the berth deck and pounded his feet after the plating of his ship."

"A man-of-war's man Pete was faultless in fact, except for his gambling propensity. An exceedingly keen gambler, McSwing, he could sit behind a pair of seven, with a year's savings in the pot, with the impassiveness of a Russian lion or an impenetrable wall of iron."

"He was pretty strong financially when he left home, but when he stepped off at Nice at the end of the Mediterranean cruise, he had advanced transportation, and was going to New York on a steamer from Genoa. He was over again at the Brooklyn yard when he got ready and pushed his money in. He was about $3,000 richer when he stepped over the side with his ditty bag and dunnage. Most of that was money that had been in the possession of various members of the crew during a brief time. It had drifted Pete's way in little games of chance while the smoking lamp was aglow."

"But when he left the ship bound for Genoa to take the steamer for New York, he had one idea in mind: He was going to take a trip to Monte Carlo. He had heard a lot about the Monte Carlo thing, and it had been appealing to his imagination for a good many years. He had probably never again he paid off so near Monaco with a bundle on him. So he made up his mind to have a stock of the great old casino banks and try his luck at the games if they looked good enough to him."

"But when he arrived at the entrance to the casino he was met by a man who called him by name. Pete was politely but firmly held up at the door. He was still wearing his uniform, and he was still wearing his ditty bag. He was still wearing his ditty bag, and he was still wearing his ditty bag."

"The doorkeeper regretted the matter exceedingly, but he had no choice. He was still wearing his ditty bag, and he was still wearing his ditty bag."

"The doorkeeper would, in order that his master might enter and enjoy himself and even assist him to himself millions of dollars, but he would not let him enter. He was still wearing his ditty bag, and he was still wearing his ditty bag."

"PE-RU-NA," A VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of the Pelvic Organs.

Rachel J. Kemball, M. D., 334 Virginia St., Buffalo, N. Y.

"My conviction, supported by experience, is that Peruna is a valuable preparation for all catarrhal affections. I have taken one bottle of Peruna myself and just feel fine. I shall continue to take it."—Rachel J. Kemball, M. D.

Peruna has cured thousands of cases of female weakness. As a rule, however, other remedies have been tried in vain. A great many of the patients have taken local treatment, submitted themselves to surgical operation, and taken all sorts of doctor's stuff, without any result.

The reason of so many failures is the fact that discharges from the female sex are not commonly recognized as catarrh.

These discharges are not commonly recognized as catarrh. They are lined by mucous membranes. Any membrane is subject to catarrh. Catarrh of the female sex is the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

Names on a Bank Note.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Through some one's neglect a $5 bank note left the hands of a New York City bank and was presented to the president and the cashier. This was an exceptional opportunity for some 310 week clerk who works in a bank. It was inscribed on the blank lines the names of Carrie Nation and Alexander Dowle as president and cashier of the New York bank. It was left on the counter of the cashier, who felt quite sure that he had duped in his latest financial transaction.

KLEPTOMANIA AND ITS VICTIMS.

French Alienist Explains Why the Rich Steal From Shops.

Chicago Tribune: Kleptomania has cropped up again in France under a different name. The Parisians call it magasinisme, and this new fangled appellation for the "fashionable" complaint is due to Dr. Dubousson, the famous brain physician.

The doctor's investigation has resulted in the establishment of the fact that women as delinquents are in an enormous majority; and, second, that the offense itself is consequent upon a curious condition of the mind. It is stated that more than 50 per cent of kleptomania is of the female sex. In nine cases out of ten the offenders have been proved to be quite well to do, and not infrequently wealthy. It would have been easy for them to have purchased and paid for their things stolen. Which presents another problem. Why should those who are rich stoop to robbery? The goods stolen are generally found unharmed, undisposed of, and often actually unused.

Let us, however, look into the cause of the female sex. In nine cases out of ten the physician is to be congratulated upon a clever epigram. Lady kleptomaniacs are women without hearts who flume men without heads; a "smart" saying which contains more light philosophy than literal truth.

A man can scarcely be called a fool because the pockets of his clothes do not happen to be so constructed as to prevent the entrance of a felonious hand. But the doctor can afford to have his epigram repeated, for he formulates his deductions upon a thorough understanding of the character of the "retarded" feminine.

The cause of kleptomania arises less from the individual's morbidity of temperament than from the uttering array of every description of dainty and fashionable articles abundantly displayed on the many counters of all mammoth shops.

The "grand magasin" is a chief d'oeuvre of deliberate temptation tending to the seduction of the most susceptible. The fiery doctors who are around her arouse all her coquettish ambition and stimulates all her cravings for comfort. Not only may she gaze on this gorgeousness, but she is permitted to handle the pretty things, unbidden, unobserved. What more easy than to pop into one's parasol or pocket some small object of value? From the innumerable articles of a similar kind in stock "it never would be noticed" as the average kleptomaniac would argue.

The only remedy lies, of course, in arranging shop fronts and showrooms with a severity that would satisfy the disciples of William Penn and in forbidding people to finger the wares. But the cure is a severity that would satisfy the disciples of William Penn and in forbidding people to finger the wares. ## Am I Right?

For fifteen years I have catered to the public, a dispenser of the best wines, whiskies, brandies and beers that can be bought in the markets. Have tried to please every patron, and respected every man who has been too good for the saloon but has gotten his liquors elsewhere. Now we have put up every tribute exacted—and they have been excessive—by town and state, and feel like asking the people who use intoxicants to patronize the place that deserve your trade so long as we give you only the best goods at the lowest prices. Ten or fifteen per cent of every dollar you spend at my place goes to educate your children and to pay for public improvements. From a moral standpoint this may seem like a peculiar condition of affairs, but it is what the people voted for—don't blame the saloon-keeper for it. Well, this is a long speech for me to make, so come in and take something—on a tin roof.

If he heard half what is said about his miserable efforts to publish a paper he'd go away off on some scavenger pile and let the buzzards pick what rightfully belongs to them. His crude remarks about what mothers do to this paper could never happen to his pill-makers medium, for there never is anything in it solid enough for a pair of shears to clip out. Why any business man ever puts an advertisement in the Republican is a matter for conjecture. He hasn't enough of a hat on the rural routes to feather a nest for a setting hen, and his boast about making his payments and raising enough money from his poor relations we presume is a very good index of his business judgment, and better evidence that he can't tell the truth, for his newspaper patents were shipped to one of the banks here this week.

Now, can you keep your old face closed until it's time for you to speak?

Dennis Kelleher tells me that more of his, struck by lightning last summer, has just dropped a fine coat, and the first peculiarity Dennis noticed was a piece of wire in its mouth, and as soon as the foal was able to run about it tried to climb the fence posts and telephone poles proving, as Electrician Fritts claimed, it was an electrician by birth.

If there is anything messier in town than the small boy and his air gun, we'd like to see it. The other day I picked up a poor little chap of a bird with a broken wing, just been "shot for fun by a fella." Instead of encouraging these young lads in such cruel practices older heads ought to stop it, but that isn't the way of the world with some cold blooded bird butchers.

G. L. Davis and family, who left here three years ago for Washington, arrived back in Wayne last Saturday. Mr. Davis hasn't much to say for the west as a place for a poor man. All the Wayne people at Lakeside and Chelan would like to get back if they could. Steve Russell is in bad health and there doesn't seem much chance of any improvement, which we are very sorry to hear of. Mr. Russell, the rest of the Nebraskans are simply exulting. "One party told me," says Mr. Davis, "to not give that country away, but try and get some of the men of means to move out there, and perhaps they could get enough out of the new settlers to help them back here."

The real thrifty man will have a difficult time to make these new world's fair stamps stick.

A couple of town young ladies were out south of town Monday, playing tramp and asking for hand-outs from the farmers' tender-hearted housewives. Their scheme would have panned out better had not their old buckskin horse, whom everybody in town would recognize, had not given them away. Next time the girls will borrow a plug from some one who does not belong to Wayne's "four hundred."

G. M. Page made a trip to Westchester this week. He took Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davis down. They were on their way back to their old home in Wayne, Nebraska, the land of cyclones, blizzards and mud—Lakeside (Wash.) Light.

Cyclones, blizzards and mud, is very good, compared to the land of starvation, disaster and death, as described by our old townsman, Mr. Davis.

The Herald last week made the bold statement that the DEMOCRAT forced people to do business with it or abused them if they did not. The Herald editor is just a common, everyday liar when he makes such assertions. If the DEMOCRAT has any virtue whatever it is in not being a policy paper, and treating all people alike. We'd rather have a dozen people who want to subscribe and don't get it, than have one single individual paying for the paper when he doesn't want it. While the DEMOCRAT is prospering it could have done double the business it has had in the last five years by toadying to the rich rascals. Fact is we have, if anything more respect for the man who doesn't want to read it than for the fellows who do. Now, Huse, if you have any more lying insinuations to make you better go tell them to the police; the common herd know better than to believe you.

Some very amusing things happen in the primary room of the city school where the little tots are wont to tell all their family troubles. The other day the hopeful little son of Banker Main had a tale to unfold about a man at their house who "had the biggest pool you ever saw" on rather an uncomfortable place on his anatomy. "Bit down Hays! sit down!" cried the teacher, fearful that little Hays would go into minute "de-tails" of the casualty. But Hays was not to be put out, and nodding his little pate at the whole school, said "he has too, so he has, and he can't hardly sit down, either."

Jule Jena of Hartington has fallen into a $3,000 per annum job, due to the strenuous efforts of Congressman McCarthy, the position being manufactured for just such exigencies of politics.

"Just send me your DEMOCRAT for a year," said O. C. Lewis, Monday. It makes O. C. sick—democratic politics—but he wants the local news, and the DEMOCRAT is the only sheet that furnishes it.

An unfounded rumor to the effect that Judge Hunter was dead was circulated last night. The Judge is not only alive but proposes to stay in that condition a while yet.—Windside Tribune.

Probably the rumor was removed because the Judge went fishing and forgot to take his make-bite bait with him.

Goldie's success in being triumphantly elected to a very high position in Wayne, makes him eligible to a nomination for the legislature. One thing is certain, the opposition would know he was running, which is more than can be said of Jim Britton, who ran two years ago.—Windside Tribune.

An Interesting Letter.

Cheshal, Wash., May 2, 1904.
Prof. W. W. Vaught, Wayne, Neb.
My Excellent Friend—You know it was on the morning of April 25th that I left your town. A great part of my equipment for the trip was the things I got there and the many pleasant memories connected therewith. Only a short stop at Shoshone City, then we were soon hurrying toward the Twin Cities. It was a typical spring day. Winter had surely taken a vacation. The signs of new life everywhere bursting forth thrilled everyone with the gladness of the season. As the train carried us over these broad, fertile acres, I felt much interested in noting the thousand of farmers stirring the soil and planting seeds; for millions of people have set claim on the anticipated crops as their means of sustenance. In all the towns, workmen seemed to be as busy as bees on a clover blossom. As we neared St. Paul, we saw many flocks of geese, ducks and various kinds of water fowl, some of which rear their broods in this region.

Our genial conductor Messers pulled us in to St. Paul on time. The west bound passengers logged their accommodations on the "Pacific express No. 3."

In a little while we were going. It was night, but having been over the route, knew that a few minutes at Minneapolis, and out past St. Snelling, then through a very level stretch of good country for about seventy-five miles. Clumps of oak trees set here and there in the beautiful blue-grass carpet makes it an imposing sight for those interested in dairying. Now we come to the prairies and tamarack swamps. You know I read to you a few days before I left, about the mosquito. This is his paradise in summer. The "lumber jack" has complete control in winter. Here too, you see charred remains of much valuable timber, then you have only a faint gleam of a forest fire, and just begin to realize the heroism of Jim Hinkle as he pulled his train through a fiery furnace here some years ago.

Now it was day again and after the custom of college folk felt that I must rise, but remembering the story of Prof. Gregg decided that must be quiet feasting that if I got up I might lie or get into some other kind of trouble. After we had crossed the sluggish Red river and got into the vicinity of the wheat farms I was once more viewing things. Had a short talk with friends at Valley City. We arrived at Bismark at noon Wednesday. This is the capital with the State House in the country. One man tickled to Mandan thought he would walk over. He had heard prohibition orators, who are always full of the subject but not so full of geography, tell of the pairs of cities in the North. We know he learned to his surprise and dismay that Bismark and Mandan are united by a bridge and about six miles of track. Now we found ourselves ahead of time and adjusted watches. We approach a country of broad rolling plains, foot hills and bold bluffs. Much of it underlaid with lignite. Its use for grazing and mining gives it value. At Medora in this region Marvins De Mores spent some time and money. Through here we could see the "prairie hawk" flapping his broad wings, the fresh dog den of the coyote and gopher mines. After the spring round up many herds can be seen. Here you can see some of the glories of the prairies of old. These lands walled in by the bluest of distant horizons dream of the days that were. Some sharp tailed grouse fly over and from the hills. A few jack rabbits sit with their ears extended; but all that is left of the thousands of buffaloes that used to crop the grasses is tradition; and a leaven of dust from their bones sank in the yielding soil. Night again comes and we ride through a country, not a fit place for the home of man, but serves as a depository for various fossil remains. A sample of which is the big turtle in the "Science Room." These Bad Lands are not pretty; but very peculiarly formed and are grouped in unique ways. They offer unparalleled inducements to the geologist and lover of specimens. Here they say that of all days is a mournfulness that appeals to the imagination, and when the winds blow, they do it in many keys. No last years nest or stray feather that tell of song birds lingering there; but in former years the feathered war-bonnet of a Sioux chief often gleamed in the duffs of sun illumined grass. Why this part of our country was so prepared to get clear to me, but it is a part of nature's great plan and finely prepared the traveler for the beauties beyond. (The mountains)

On Thursday morning we were at Big Timber when "the rays fingers of Aurora opened the gates of day." As we moved up the valley we had much to see. The mountains covered with snow, the table lands sold and bare. The soil seemed to be thirsty for water, while in the valley the spring breezes were playing among the burning buds and many beautiful flowers. The farmers were busy and crop prospects were very favorable. My observations were such that I can safely say these people are prosperous and happy. We were at Logan about ten a. m., then started off on the Helena branch. A few miles west of Logan is the head of the Missouri. Here the country is short on everything but elevation. We arrive at Helena at noon. A ten minutes stop gave us time to look around and breathe some pure mountain air. Among the things of interest are a fine depot, splendid capitol building, a park in which we saw buffaloes and elk, Broadwater Natatorium and Ft. Harrison just west of the city. Soon we begin to ascend and reach Mullan tunnel. The main divide of the Rockies. Indeed, this is plaining, a combination that you will have to experience in order to understand. On we go through Gold Creek, Missoula, Arle and Sphah. You know, in part, why these places are interesting. Much timber in this region; and many kinds of birds, the most famous the magpie. It is might when we reach Thompson Falls. I might say now that our journey has been full of incidents but pleasing ones. We have two large engines with eleven heavily loaded coaches. Several times I passed through the train. It was just as good as a play and much cheaper. It being time to sleep they stuffed me in the place they have for such fellows. It took the whole train crew and some language to make me fit. Finally I became quiet and enjoyed few hours of calm and sweet repose.

The porter awoke me on time and I was soon standing on the platform at Prosser. In this valley industrious people have taken hold of things, and are making this once arid region, "blossom as the rose." Remembering John Burroughs I tested some of the world renowned Yakima wine saps. I questioned the people very much about this part of the state. My conclusions are, it is a land of good climate and opportunities. My brother is here and doing well. Saturday morning we continued our journey. A few minutes stop at North Yakima. Shipments from this point have been over six thousand car loads the past year. Had a very pleasant car ride talk with Supt. Blair at Ellensburg, then again for the Cascades. We reached Cleburne junction about ten a. m. Here 100 cars of coal are switched from the Roanoke mines every day. At eleven o'clock we passed through Stampede tunnel, the crest of the Cascades, elevation nearly four thousand feet, two miles long. Down we go through Natoms great Panorama. After leaving Tacoma, we see a high white mountain to the south. It is famed Rainier. While at Prosser I saw this same mountain one hundred thirty five miles away, at Yaine o'clock by moonlight. Saturday afternoon we passed through a country of majestic mountains, foaming cataracts, dense forests, birds and bright flowers. Here and there a fine fruit farm. It is full of delight, love and life. Inspiring and stimulating to the imagination. Arrived at Cheshal at four p. m. Was kindly greeted and enjoyed myself as well as I could desire. This state has vast resources and we are justified in claiming a great deal. I urge you to see this country in the near future. Everyone should come and see it, and those who wish to stay can, for we have room for many thousands.

Pictures cannot show, pens fail to describe and tongues are unable to tell of the treasures of wealth, beauty and interest. My best wishes to one and all.

Bold, Bad Burglars at Carroll

Special Correspondent

Robbers entered the First National bank at Carroll early Wednesday morning and secured $29 in money. Entrance was obtained by picking the lock of the outside door and the door leading to the vault. Nitro glycerine was used to demolish the iron door of the vault and a crowbar furnished the means of obtaining entrance to the vault proper.

About 1:30 Wednesday morning Mrs. E. R. Lundberg was awakened by a dull thud which seemed to come from the room occupied by the bank, directly under the sleeping apartments occupied by the Lundberg family. She awakened Mr. Lundberg and he too, heard the noise. Thinking at first it was a horse stamping on the walk outside he paid no particular attention to it. Continuing he thought it was a trifle late for a horse to be tied out on the street and he arose and struck a match to see what time it was. He saw that it was half past one, and then the thought came to him that there was someone trying to obtain entrance to the bank. Cautiously going into the hall he met Dr. Phillips who rooms on the opposite side of the long hall. The two men then determined to arouse the others who slept in the building and to notify Geo. C. Merrill, the cashier of the bank. Phillips was the only one who was the possessor of firearms and went to the rear door of the hall and looked out. In the dark he could dimly make out the outlines of a man standing at the corner of the building. Only his hat brim, one arm and his coat tail were visible but he took a shot at them and a second shot was fired with no better result. One of the robbers who was stationed across the road replied to this and fired through the window of Mr. Lundberg's rooms. The shot went through the partition and spent itself in a room adjoining. The robber at whom the shots were fired shot east on the street. Dr. Phillips shot two more times but with no better results. Meantime Lundberg had stepped into the index office and called to Cashier Merrill on the phone, and also to Marshal Maher. While all this was going on the robbers were hard at work in the bank. Soon the work with the pick stopped and a few minutes later an explosion was heard. One of the robbers was heard to say, "Give her another," but that other was not forth coming. Lights were now appearing in the different houses in town in response to the ringing of telephone bells and men clad in their night garments and armed to the teeth could be seen hurrying to the scene of action. The climate in the vicinity of the bank was becoming too warm and the robbers decided to leave. The guard at whom the shots were fired ran up the walk toward the entrance of the bank and gave the alarm. The men ran across the street and clambered into a buggy hitched by the side of R. D. Merrill's hardware store and started south. On the outskirts of town they turned back north and were heard going west toward Randolph at a furious clip. The money obtained by the robbers was the proceeds of the late business after the bank safe had been locked. A draft had been sold and the money placed in the vault but not in the safe.

There is no clue to the robbers. Tuesday afternoon several strangers were noticed in town but nothing was thought of their appearance. Wednesday morning they were not to be found. Two of these were described as follows: one of them being above the average size and very slim with a prominent nose while the other was a little below the ordinary size and his nose was crooked. The smaller of the two wore a light colored cap and neither have been seen since the robbery. In their flight the robbers left the sack in which they carried their tools and the wad of soap used in making the cup for the explosive. An old tomato can was also left. There was in the party about five men as near as can be learned. One man stood opposite the bank to the north by the side of Krebb's blacksmith shop and one guarded the stairs at the rear of the bank building and was the one used by Dr. Phillips as a target. A third held the team across by the hardware store, while judging from the conversation heard in the bank their wares at least two more working at the safe. The hammer, crowbar and other tools used by the burglars were obtained by forcing an entrance into the tool house of the C. St. P. M. & O. Ry. section foreman. The officers of the wrecked bank are M. S. Merrill, president; R. D. Merrill, vice president; Geo. C. Merrill, cashier; and Dan Davis, assistant cashier.

Surrounding towns have been notified but aside from the two men arrested by Marshal Miner at Wayne no one has been arrested. The prompt action of Messrs. Lundberg and Phillips baffled the designs of the thieves.

Miss Mae Cunningham entertains the boys of her schoolroom at her home tomorrow afternoon. Chace Shaw was a guest from Winside Wednesday. Yesterday's Sioux City Journal stated that C. B. French Jr. was at the point of death in a Chicago hospital. Marshal Miner says to "just tell 'em that if they miss their dogs to come to me, for I am going to send a lot of them to the happy hunting grounds. No, I ain't going to notify anybody, but just about all the tax is not paid on.

About one hundred members of the Rebekah lodge No. 29 met at Randolph last Wednesday and were entertained in a royal manner by the Randolph lodge. At the reception in the evening, each member was given a pink and green carnation (pink and green being the lodge colors). The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. M. S. Davies, president; Mrs. A. L. Bow, secretary of Wayne, and Mrs. De Bow of Coleridge vice president, and Mrs. Dennick of Laurel treasurer. The lodge meets next September at Coleridge.

The Fair Store

Has just received and is now adding to its already immense stock nearly a carload of new goods, bought for cash in the eastern markets, and the force is too busy unpacking and arranging the shipment to prepare a list of special prices this week. However, goods will be marked down in plain figures and there will be bargains in every department. Some of our special prices for next Saturday, May 14, will be lower than any hitherto made.

We have been rushed with business since we opened in Wayne and are more than pleased, and we believe we have won public appreciation in our efforts to furnish a high class of goods at greatly reduced prices. We shall continue to offer attractive bargains and are confident people will quickly take advantage of them in the future as they have in the past.

Wayne people were generally very much surprised yesterday to learn that Fred Volpp had sold his butcher business, and shocked to hear that O. D. Franks was the purchaser. Oscar will go to cutting pork next Monday and will take charge of the whole business. Fred and wife will go to Germany for a year's visit or more. Mr. Franks has had some experience in the butcher business and knows all about "hogs," and is capable of giving the public just what it wants—in pork.

Death Comes To Goo. Barnes

Worn out with old age and months of sickness, George Barnes came up from Omaha last Saturday night and was taken out to Will Hodson's south of town, as the old man said, to die. For a couple of days he suffered greatly, but death came peacefully at about eleven o'clock Tuesday night. The funeral services were held this afternoon, the cortege of teams leaving the farm at one o'clock and services being held at two o'clock by Rev. Birrell at the Presbyterian church.

Deceased was born at Macon, Cambridge, Eng., Mar. 17, 1832. He came to America in '64, and to Nebraska 21 years ago. Mr. Barnes put in seven years grading railroads, his last job being on the U. P. grade from Omaha to Wyoming. For the last 21 years, with the exception of a year in England and some time in Omaha, he has lived in Chapin precinct, his wife preceding him to the grave about three years ago. He leaves considerable of an estate, a half section of land and a house in Omaha, which will go to his brother Sam Barnes, a sister, Mrs. Gotlobed of Rock Island, Ill. and

RUSSIA IS PARALYZED

Reverses Have Come So Fast That They Have Ceased to Cause Any Special Sensations.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—Japanese troops swarming across the narrow neck of the Liao Tung peninsula, the Russian garrisons have been cut and left to its own resources—all this the Russians seem to accept with stoical calm.

These events have been anticipated since the outbreak of the war, and the authorities in a sense appear to be relieved now that the blow has fallen.

According to official information the ports began simultaneously at Pitsewo and Cape Terminal on the morning of May 6. It is reported that troops are being landed at Kinchow. But this is not credited, as the Russians are known to have fortifications there, and it is reported that the Japanese have the anchorage to immediately under an entrenched position from which the Russians could inflict severe injury on the invaders.

Details of the landing are lacking, owing to the interruption of communications. No resistance was made, the Chinese being ordered to retire when the warships shelled the shore preparatory to disembarking.

Two Japanese regiments were hurriedly despatched to Kinchow, and the railroad and telegraph communication. One of these fired on a train conveying the wounded from Port Arthur.

While the landing was proceeding through the enemy's ships, consisting of the Mikasa, the Matsuyama, the Shikishima, the Yamashiro and the Kurikuma, the Japanese were endeavoring to prevent the possible escape of Russian torpedo boats.

It was generally supposed that Port Arthur was about to be cut off by the Russian fleet. The Russian fleet, however, is reported to be in the vicinity of Pitsewo.

World's Fair

AT WAYNE
June 13-19
Midway Carnival Co.

BRASS BANDS-110 PEOPLE.

The Biggest and Best Street Fair and Grand Carnival of Sport Ever Seen in North-East Nebraska.

One of the biggest attractions at the World's Fair, St. Louis, R. G. Leburn's, World's Fair and Carnival Co., is making a short tour of the north and has arranged to hold forth in Wayne for one whole week, June 13, to 19 inclusive. The company carries its own bands and 110 people, giving three free shows each day, numerous sensational attractions, ferris wheel, etc. aside from the paid admission shows. It is one of the biggest affairs Wayne has ever been able to secure and that only at an expense to the town of over $100 per day bonus. Mayor Britton and committee have been very active this week arranging for this festival of fun and frolic, and the necessary funds have already been subscribed to defray all expenses. Excursion rates will be secured on all railroads and the city will undoubtedly take care of the largest crowds of people ever gathered in the town.

W. A. Ivory, dentist, over First National Bank.

Lane, the druggist, can save you money on paint. Call and see.

The DEMOCRAT turned out a large lot of stationery this week for C. W. Nies & Co., wholesale and retail liquor dealers. Billy Nies says they will do a large wholesale business, he going on the road for the house himself.

Fred Volpp has been considerably under the weather the past week and is thinking of going up to the Springs for a two weeks outing to put his stomach in condition.

The Nebraska Telephone Co. has a force of twelve line men in town to start work on second wire from here to Sioux City, the business at present greatly exceeding the service secured from that now in use, and the new improvement will give Wayne exclusive use of one line to the city.

Word from Ota Lewis is to the effect that he is now in a hospital in New Mexico and in bad health. Mr. Lewis left Wayne last year, going west for his health, his trouble being consumption.

LOST—Between Mrs. Kemp's and the post office, pair of gold-framed eyeglasses in white colored case. "J. G. Mince," was stamped on the article. Kindly return to Mrs. J. W. Ott or the DEMOCRAT office.

After the expiration of six months after the same shall be opened for settlement and entry the price shall be $5.50 per acre, to be paid as follows: 25 cents when entry is made; 50 cents per acre within two years after entry; 50 cents per acre within three years after entry; 50 cents per acre within four years after entry and 25 cents per acre within six months after the expiration of five years after entry; PROVIDED, That in case any entryman fails to make such payment or any of them within the time stated all rights in and to the land covered by his or her entry shall at once cease any payments heretofore made shall be forfeited and cancelled; AND PROVIDED, That nothing in this act shall prevent homestead settlers from commuting their entries under section 2304, revised statutes, by paying for the land entered the price fixed herein, receiving credit for payments previously made, in addition to the price to be paid for the land, the entryman shall pay the same fees and commissions at the time of commutation or final entry, as now provided by law; and where the price of the land is $1.25 an acre; AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That all lands herein ceded and opened to settlement under this act, remaining undisposed of at the expiration of four years from the taking effect of this act, shall be sold and disposed of for cash, under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the interior, not more than 640 acres to any one purchaser.

Touche's Matter Properly

In several counties in the state the assessors are putting on the tax rolls the property of churches, those churches in which lectures and festivals are given for pay. It is a good move. Nebraska is liberal with the churches, exempting from all taxation all church property which is employed for all religious purposes. A church which sells its seating capacity for theatricals, lectures, concerts or for eating contests should not be exempted from taxation. The state will be good to the churches as long as they play fair. When they use their church property for other than church purposes then they cannot in good conscience claim to escape taxation. We think the same rule should apply to all Masonic and other benevolent organizations owning property. In some cities these secret societies have built fine business blocks for profit, the whole block escaping taxation on the theory that it was used for benevolent purposes. Such perversion of the law is not creditable to the benevolent organizations, and the sooner it is stopped the better for both the state and the societies interested.—Columbus Telegram.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa., "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by all druggists.
