HONOR THE DEAD

Decoration Day Services in Wayne Were Commendable.

Monday was a beautiful day for Northeastern Nebraska, and probably nowhere in the state was the day more properly commemorated for history than here in Wayne. A wagon decorated in all the splendors of Old Glory, the work of Miss Winnifred Hunter, and fall of little girls in white, led the procession, followed by the old vets of '61, whose ranks, not so dense as in years past still show them men of the grit and courage that lasts till death. Commander E. Hunter had charge of the battalion, A. G. Powers playing the flute and Ted Philite the base drum.
The High school students came next in line, followed by the College pupils and then citizens. At the opera house, where it was impossible to get within several yards of a seat, P. E. Taylor of Tekamah delivered the address, Mayor James Britton and Prof. Snodgrass making short speeches. Vocal solos by Miss Bush and Geo. Wilbur and singing by the High school quarteret with a few selections from the orchestra made a sufficiency of excellent music. The opera house decorations, under the supervision of Mrs. Henry Ley, were splendid. At the cemetery the flowers, a lovely and generous supply were the donation of Mrs. A.
N. Matheny. A. R. Davis contributed very largely to the happy results of the day's duties, and in his management it is pleasing to note that of the $37.75 contributed by citizens some $20 remains on deposit for future occasions of similar solemnity.

A warm ball game was played between the college boys and a picked Wayne nine last Monday, on the students' grounds, the score being 6 to a goose egg in favor of the literary giants. Littell and Roscreans was batteries for the winners, and Berry and Ringer for the players.

Dr. Cadwell went to Norfolk Tuesday to have an operation on one of his feet, the trouble being caused by a horse stepping on him. While Doc can get along with less feet than he has had we can at least say they have not been so big in the past that he couldn't find room enough for them without stepping on other people's business. Here's hoping you don't lose more than a pair of Doc.

Bully for Brown

Fred Brown our old and estimable liveryman, on Tuesday made a purchase of the Dell Strickland barn and lots and at once put in a livery stock, all the vehicles being rubber-tired and not a "tired" spot on the horses.
While at the Palace barn only a short time Mr. Brown became a most popular man in the business, and the DEMOCRAT believes he will meet with the very best of success "on his dugbill," so to speak. There is only one man can beat "Brown" and his name is "Smith."

A Hoss Story

Ike Walden was in town from Carroll Wednesday, and gave the DEMO-CRAT an interesting account of his recent trip to Williamsville, Ill., to buy a horse. The livery firm of Port-& Walden purchased a fine animal from Taylor & Jones, importers and breeders of Williamsville, last February, the price being $2,000, and securing an iron-clad contract that if the horse was not a good foal-getter he should be returned and Porter & Walden given their choice of the Percheron stables. Well, the horse was unatisfactory in this respect and a couple of weeks ago Mr. Walden took him back, like getting to the big breeding farm six hours ahead of the horse. Instead of going to the proprietors he hiked out to the Percheron barns and soon located a five-year old, 2400 pound, black stallion, valued at $3500, that Taylor & Jones were fitting up to send to St. Louis as a prize horse.
Making sure the horse belonged to the firm Ike then visited Mr. Jones, who was deeply chagrined to learn that "Shafter," the horse sent to Carroll, was a failure. Mr. Jones then showed our Carroll friend around to see some elegant colts sired by "Shafter" last season, satisfying Ike that the horse had been good and that the firm of Taylor & Jones was always that way.
Then Mr. Walden "broke the ice" by saying there was just one Percheron horse he wanted and that the grand black, at which announcement Mr.
Jones went straight up in the air; "the horse was not for sale, not on any conditions;" but Ike "had the papers for him" and pulling out his contract he "showed" Bro. Jones. The result was that a compromise was effected, the firm of breeders giving the visitor a dark brown colt coming four years old next Sept., weight 1850 pounds, a horse just imported from England and registered in that country and the States; valued at $2500 at the barn in Illinois. Mr. Walden believes he has just a little the best horse ever brought into this part of the state, is more than pleased over the exchange, and invites all horsemen and local breeders who want to see something good to look at, and for service, to see his new purchase.

If you want printing done in the latest style, by a job printer right out of a city office, and done "just for the fun of it," try the DEMOCRAT. We are in a mood to do it for nothing just to make some people worry a bit.

Pierce county where she has been

The ladies of the Presbyterian missionary society surprised Mrs. Birrell last Friday evening, enjoying a "lovely tea" and presenting Mrs. Birrell a set of solid silver teaspoons.

Rev. and Mrs. Wright now occupy the Dr. Heckert residence, the doctor taking his new home bought of E. P.
Olmsted.

Messrs and Mesdames F. A. Berry, E. A. Johnson and D. E. Newton, spent the past week camping out at Lake Crystal.

A 12-year-old son of Aug. Wittler was opening a gate Tuesday when he fell, dislocating his elbow. Dr. Leiserling "automobilized" the fracture in a few minutes and the boy is now in the bands of recovery.

John Sherbahn made a business trip to Sioux City yesterday.

City Dads Doings

The city council had quite a lively meeting Monday night, telephone ordinances, sidewalks, estimates of expenses for the fiscal year, etc., keeping the aldermen busy until a late hour.
The following bills were allowed:

Henry Bockenhauer, labor	$ 12.00

C O Fisher, lbr	38.97

Reports of Treasurer Ringland and Clerk Davis were on motion approved.

A. T. Witter presented a bill for $100 damages alleged to have been incurred by falling on a defective sidewalk north of the Wayne National bank building. It was referred to the committee on claims.

The Nebraska Telephone Co. asked for a new ordinance, the principal changes from the old one being that the franchise be extended from twenty to twenty-five years; that the maximum rate be changed to $2.00 for office and $1.00 per month for residence service and $3.50 for office and $2.50 for residences for long distance connections. The document was read and filed.

A petition from a number of the residents of the northwest part of town, asking that the water mains be extended from 6th street and Lincoln west to Douglas, and north to 7th, was referred to water committee.

The question of compelling resident-ers to fix up dilapidated sidewalks was discussed for an hour, a motion by Williams that the street commissioner and marshal report the location of all bad walks to the clerk, and the clerk notify property owners that same must be remedied within five days or the street commissioner would repair or build them at the expense of abating property owners. This was the scheme tried a year ago and it failed of being effective because the city never repaired or built walks after making the bluff. This year it will be carried out, and all owners of property who fail to comply with the notices will later on pay for sidewalk improvements to the city. Residents of the city can aid a great deal in this matter by reporting bad conditions where they exist, and also bringing the matter before the council where the city employees fail to respond promptly in fulfilling their duties.

5 or 10 year optional loans.

Death of J. J. Tracy

The demise of J. J. Tracy, one of the pioneer settlers of the county, occurred at the home of his son, Frank in Winside at ten o'clock Tuesday night. Mr Tracy suffered a stroke of paralysis three weeks ago and gradually failed until the end came. His daughter, Mrs. P. H. Kohl, was with him when the final summons came, and has tenderly watched over the old gentleman in his last days. The funeral was held yesterday. Father Healey from Wayne conducting the services, and interment being in the Winside cemetery. Two sons Gus and Raymond are in the west and could not be communicated with. Mrs. Frazier, another daughter, lives in Omaha.

Am I Right?

For fifteen years I have catered to the public, a dispenser of the best wines, whiskies, brandies and beers that can be bought in the markets. Have tried to please every patron, and respected every man who has been too good for the saloon but has gotten his liquors elsewhere. Now we have put up every tribute exacted—and they have been excessive—by town and state, and feel like asking the people who use intoxicants to patronize the place that deserve your trade so long as we give you only the best goods at the lowest prices. Ten or fifteen per cent of every dollar you spend at my place goes to educate your children and to pay for public improvements. From a moral standpoint this may seem like a peculiar condition of affairs, but it is what the people voted for—don't blame the saloon-keeper for it. Well, this is a long speech for me to make, so come in and take something—on a tin roof.

It is said the women of Mormondom are divided on the question of polygamy. The sweet young girls, are opposed to it, while the p00d, elderly unassigned females on the side track look on the practice with toleration.
After buying a revolver to commit suicide an Indiana man reconsidered the matter and married an auburn-haired woman with seven children. That's one occasion when the devil beat the deep sea to it, alright.
Guess, by dad, there is no question about the Fair store doing "all colors" of business. We see by the Wayne Herald that it offers three pairs of "black women's" stockings for a quarter.

Well, it looks as though the local "Russians" were about "all in." They were a very sick lot last Saturday, spending the whole day in sympathizing with each other.

This "million dollar rain" is just about as interesting a subject as a local newspaper scrap.

Ed Lucas steps high these days and will hardly speak to common people all on account of that 9% pound boy who came to his house last Saturday morning. The Tribune extends congratulations.

A collection was taken up last Saturday for Wm Schroeder the would-be suicide, and money raised to send him to his home at LaPorte, Ind. He started Sunday and is probably there now where it is to be hoped he will not make any more attempts on his life. Schroeder is not a bad, hearted young man but is weak and his late bad break was remorse for a hard spree.

"Gene Gildersleeve says an amusing incident occurred on the road, south of town last week, as he was coming to the city. A lady and a little girl were in a buggy ahead of him when he heard the child cry to her mother, "Ma, drive out the road, Dr. Leisenring's coming!" Looking backwards "Gene saw it was only T. J. Snyder bringing in (what we now have to call) his braying mule. The child had made a mistake in the footings.

The supper given by the ladies of the Catholic church last Saturday evening was attended by hosts of hungry people. It was the biggest and best fill, some people the DEMOCRAT is intimately acquainted with, have had for many months.

A jolly party was given at the Fred Krendler home in Altona the evening of May 29th, at which Charles Meyer had such a good time that he gave another attendant a whole pig to go to Charley's home and do the latter's chores. Prices for chores have been raised considerably in the last twenty years, or else Charley is considerably of a philanthropist.

W. B. Stark, boiler inspector for the Hartford Insurance Co., was looking over the city's engine room and private boilers on Monday.

P. H. Kohl and C. J. Russell went to Omaha Tuesday morning to attend the democratic and populist conventions.

A Bloomfield man was brought down on a stretcher Tuesday morning, en route to the hospital at Sioux City, his trouble being a mashed leg caused by being thrown out of a wagon.

For the Street Fair

W. Ormsby, advance agent for the St. Louis Carnival Co., is in town arranging for his big show here in Wayne June 13th to 19th. Mr. Ormsby tells the DEMOCRAT they have a gigantic aggregation, lots of free shows and a big card wherever they have played. He anticipates big business in Wayne after the public is convinced that the proposition is the greatest thing ever put on in this part of the state.

A cyclone at Tekamah Tuesday wrecked several buildings but there was no loss of life. The railroad depot was partly wrecked, delaying trains several hours.

While in Illinois last week the Walden noticed farmers were nearly all replanting corn, the same conditions being true of eastern Iowa. Nebraska gives promise of beating 'em all this year.

One of the happy social affairs for June 1904 will be a Fullerton wedding, so the DEMOCRAT is told, in which Wayne gets back one of her popular young women.

Thoroughbreds at Auction

Attention is called to the sale of registered Shorthorn cattle that is to be held at Wayne, Neb., Tuesday the 7th of June, 1904. Owens Bros. of Homestead, Ia., and W. O. Merz of Monticello, Minn., are joining together to make this sale and are determined to send out some of their best cattle in order to get acquainted with the farmers and breeders of Nebraska and establish a permanent trade with them. Messrs Owens says they are sending out some young bulls that are good enough and well enough bred to head any herd in Nebraska, and their female offering is equally attractive. Some pure Scotch cattle will be sold. Mr. Merz says that all he is asking is that the farmers and breeders come to the sale and he is sure they will buy his cattle for they are the the kind that will please all lovers of good stock. Certified copies of the pedigrees of all animals sold will be given to buyers. Mr. K. W. Barclay the auctioneer in charge of the sale will be at Wayne one week before the sale date to mail out catalogues and give any other information that is necessary to all inquiring, either by mail or in person. Come to the sale. Time can be had on bankable paper.

Will Bryan Bolt?

(From the Commotter)

The men who bolted in 1896 are very so-ligntly now lest some who were loyal in 1896 intend to bolt in 1904 if the party is unable to represent Wall street ideas. Several statements have been made in regard to Mr. Bryan's purpose. A statement has been going the rounds to the effect that Mr. Bryan asked a citizen of Lincoln if he (the citizen) would bolt with him (Mr Bryan) if in case the Kansas City platform was not reaffirmed. The dispatch further said that the said citizen declined to make a promise to bolt, and that Mr. Bryan then had him defeated for delegate to the national convention. The story is entirely without foundation. No such conversation ever occurred, and Mr. Bryan took no part in the selection of the delegate from his home county.

This false report is only referred to show the extremity to which the reorganizers are driven. Not being able to make their fight on honest grounds, they are constantly resorting to misrepresentation.

Mr. Bryan has refused to discuss the subject of bolting, because he believes that each individual must decide his political duty for himself, according to his conscience and his judgment, and that his decision cannot be intelligently made until the issues and candidates are presented and the citizen is able to judge the purposes and plans of the various parties.

Mr. Bryan received a letter recently from a citizen of a western state asking him to state whether he proposed to bolt or would vote the ticket "no matter what platform was adopted and no matter who was nominated." His answer will be found below, and it states his views upon the subject. Whenever a reader of the Commotter sees a statement at variance with these views he may know that it is without foundation.

"My Dear Sir: Your favor at hand. While a democrat presumes his convention will write a platform and nominate a ticket that he can conscientiously support, it is not a conclusive presumption and I do not believe that any one ought to be asked or expected to say that no matter what a convention does, he will support the ticket. For that reason I defer until the convention has passed a decision upon the course that I will pursue.

"If the rule suggested by you were the correct one—namely, that whatever the platform and whoever the candidate, the ticket should be supported at the polls, then there would be no need of a campaign, because no one would sound one that does not answer as well for republicans as for democrats. There is the reason why every democrat should pledge himself in advance that there is every republican should, and if all did, campaigns would not change a vote. If that is a correct rule, then when a party is once in power it is useless to attempt to dislodge it, because it can only be dislodged by a change in political affiliations. And then, too, you will notice that the eastern democrats never pledge themselves to support the ticket, and there is no reason why western democrats hold at a lower value their duty to give to their country their best conscience and their judgment at the time when action is required.

"Because eastern democrats refuse to make promises and assert their right to independent action after the convention, their opinions are now being consulted, while it is not thought necessary to consult the opinions of those who vociferously announce that neither their convictions nor their interests need be considered, but that they can be counted upon to kurrah for anything in the platform and to change their own opinions whenever the eastern democrats decide that the time has come to change.

Yours truly,
"W. J. BRVAN."

"In The Same Regiment"

News About Shaw's Military Record of Most Startling Character Brought by a Dispatch from the Nebraska Capital

Special to the Sioux City Tribune: Lincoln, Neb., June 2.—Governor Mickey had come to no decision on the Dennison extradition up to 1 o'clock today. He said he was waiting upon an opinion from the attorney general as to legal phases. The attorney general said he had thought he could reach a decision today upon what had been submitted to him.

The opinion prevails that Mickey will not grant the application. He is an old friend of ex-Governor Shaw, and was in the same regiment with him. He has been told that this is a move on the part of the Cummins people to get Dennison in a position where they can find out from him additional details of the Sheriff's parole to the detriment of Shaw.

The important news in the above is that Secretary Shaw has a military record. It has never been known he had been in any regiment. The secretary was not a soldier in the civil war, and his military record is strictly confined to mismanagement of the Iowa soldiers when they were called out for the Spanish war, when, as in the matter of the Sheriff's parole, the then governor got himself into all sorts of hot water by permitting Judge N. M. Hubbard to boss him.

Speaking of F. E. Bell's telephone franchise the Schuyler Free Lance thusly explains how Mr. Bell wanted things up at Leigh: "The Leigh World published a supplement last week in order to correct an item in the 'regional' issue of the paper concerning their newspaper. It was stated that the company which had secured a franchise and proposed putting in an independent exchange, had collapsed. Then in order to correct that wrong statement the supplement was sent out with the issue and according to that the company has material on the grounds and will put in the exchange at once. So Leigh is to have a chance to holla after all."

McKillip for Congress

Yielding to what seems to be the unanimous desire of the democrats of Platte county, and, so far as the sentiment can be sounded, the third congressional district, P. E. McKillip of this place has consented to stand for the congressional nomination on the democratic ticket.

This will bring joy to the hearts of the democrats who love a strong, aggressive fighter, asking no quarter and giving none while defending the principles of his party. If nominated—and that now seems a foregone conclusion—Mr. McKillip will carry the fight into every corner of the district, and not only win votes for himself, but for the state and legislative ticket, the success of which he holds to be even more important than his own victory.

The county convention held at Columbus yesterday instructed its twenty one delegates for Mr. McKillip with a unanimity that that speaks volumes for his votes in Platte county this fall.

For the good of the party we hope the Fremont convention will give Mr. McKillip the nomination. We believe he is the strongest man for the place, and he would be a tower of strength for the success of the entire ticket this fall—Humphrey Democrat.

Chairman Williams of the republican county central committee spoils an item printed in the DEMOCRAT last week about delegates to the late state convention being refused railroad passage. Dr. Williams says the passes were not even solicited.

Gus Weimers, the jolly telephone man, doesn't know whether he will go into the shoe repairing business or run a newspaper, but anyway he is looking for a change in his trade. Gus is tired climbing poles and stringing wire. If the DEMOCRAT were allowed a suggestion it would be that Mr. Weimers become a florist, as he appears to have the same disease John M. Thurston was troubled with a few years ago.

Charley Green of Hoskins and P. H. Kohl came home from Omaha Wednesday night. The convention of democrats held Wednesday was "Bryanized" with a cap B. J. G. Beste of Hartington is the delegate from this district to St. Louis.

Memorial Day came just in time for Sioux City to do a stunt over her ball team. The nine got walloped into the mire until the percentage table looked as though the Corn Palacites were suffering from delirium tremens. Then the manager flew his job. Sioux City ought to commence at the bottom of the ladder by forming a league with Magnet and Nacora, Neb., James, Hinton and Scotts Bluffs, Ia.

The funeral of the late Gene Sullivan was attended by a mighty throng of his old neighbors and friends. It was the longest procession of teams the DEMOCRAT has ever seen come in from the country. Services were held at the Catholic church and the remains, accompanied by the sorrowing widow, brother Phil Sullivan and Messrs Tom and Jerry Horigan, taken away on the afternoon train to Iowa, Ia.

EXCHANGE CHATTER

Coleridge Blader, when Walt Goldie presented a marked copy of the Wayne DEMOCRAT to him, he said in a show troupe manager in his... that worthy remarked: "O! W. I thought you were the butcher." To which Goldie replied: "I am. I butcher King's English and serve choice tenderloin a la brass at $20 per pound and $10 per pair, by dad." The showman got excited and paid the bill.

Coleridge Blader: The Winside Tribune thinks the language in the dispatches, "Jule will accept" referring to his $3,000 appointment, is entirely superfluous.

"My son," says the York Republican, "there will be two times in your life when you will be strictly 'it'—satisfyingly and exclusively 'it'. You will probably be dressed 'conventional black' on both occasions and the main difference will be that you won't hear the singing the last time. On all other occasions you will find that there are others."

Billy Hamilton, of the Odebolt Chronicle, is never backward about giving his party timely warning. In his last issue he says: "Let no republican delude himself with the idea that his party will have a walkaway this year. The fact is the republican party hasn't been in such bad shape for twenty years. Internal quarrels, greed and corruption in high places have greatly weakened the organization. The sterling honesty and courage of President Roosevelt and the apparent demoralization of the democratic party are the factors which must be relied upon to win a republican victory. But we greatly fear that the democracy will be united after the St. Louis convention; and if our apprehensions are realized, the republican party will have to fight for his life."

John Dalton in Mansion Democrat: What are you kicking about that boy having the bighead for? You had the bighead fully as bad as he has or even worse, at one time, didn't you? Every boy is afflicted with the bighead to a certain extent and the only time it is inexcusable is when the boy fails to get over it and goes forging on into man's estate handicapped with such a terrible affliction. A boy with the bighead is bad enough, but a man with the bighead is intolerable. Worse still is a girl or woman with the same affliction. But the average boy is expected to have at least a touch of the disease, hence he ought not to be severely censured for it, especially when his censurers used to have it worse than the boy ever thought of having it. Give the boys a chance to grow out of it and don't give him the worst of it all the time just because he has something that you once had a fearful time getting rid of. Look yourself over carefully and see if there is not a touch of the old boyhood bighead left in your make-up yet. When you get an idea that your money makes you the equal of men with real brains, that's the bighead. When you imagine your wife can trot in the best society and be really respected, (when, in fact, she is sneered at whenever her back is turned) just because you have the price and she has the cloths, that's the bighead. When you get an itching for office and imagine your friends are all falling over each other to hand you something juicy, just because you have voted the same ticket year after year and did not have brains enough to know why you did so, that's the bighead. When you imagine that heaven's gates are fairly yawning for you, merely because you yell "amen!" the loudest and pay the highest pew rent, that's the bighead. When you get the idea into that funny head of yours that you can do business without advertising, just because you've been in town so long that everybody knows you and won't go anywhere else to trade, that's the bighead. When you fondly cherish the belief that you can beat a slot machine, a poker game, the races or any game of chance played by the "other fellow," that's the bighead. When you think you can fight booze all your life without getting a black eye now and then and eventually landing in the position of the under dog, that's the bighead. When you get the idea that everybody is not letting you in on the ground floor and not telling their secrets to everybody else, that's the bighead. But why go on? There are innumerable symptoms of the bighead and you haven't got all of them. Give the boy a chance and don't condemn him to eternal failure just because he has the bighead.

A sanctimonious face is no sure indication of a pure and contrite heart.

Say, young man, you are bright as a dollar beyond all question, but did you ever stop to think how little you know after all? A sane reflection along that line will take the conceit out of anybody.

We take pleasure in reiterating what we have said before, that no father who uses tobacco has any moral right to baste his son for doing the same thing. First set your boy a good example, then if he doesn't walk the chalk-line, put him to the torture, and may the Lord have mercy on him.

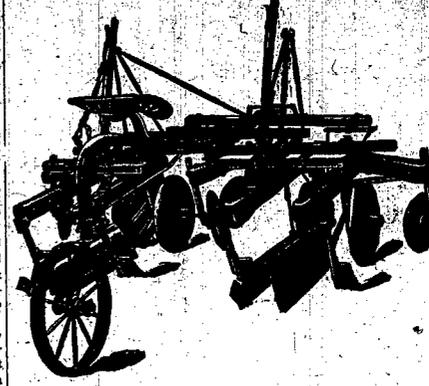

P. J. Barron has something to say about the man who would fall back in a fit if asked to share a bottle of libations who daily stimulates himself with berbeets of popular "biters" containing six times as much alcohol. If a man wants to steam up a little it is just as reputable to turn down gin ricky as to take a pull at a bottle bearing a medical label.

"DO IT TO DAY."

The time-worn injunction "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for TO DAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschet's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size 75c. At all druggists.
