Broke a Leg

J. P. Larson, one of Wayne county's pioneer and best of farmers, was cautioning his son Frank last Sunday morning to go to church and be a good young man, but Frank figured he knew a thing or two that the old gentleman hadn't tumbled to in his sixty years, so while his father drove in to attend divine worship he saddled up a broncho and rode over the hills to a pasture where he wanted to attend some stock. The broncho knowing it was the Holy Sabbath kicked on Sunday labor and after lugging Frank off bumped him on the shin with one of his refractory limbs, breaking Frank's leg below the knee. The injured man yelled loudly and lustily for help and crawled quite a distance before he was found by neighbor. Dr. Leisenring made a hasty trip with his automobile and re-adjusted the bone, and Frank now has several weeks time in which to study holy writ and swear because he can't shuck corn and go to the Altona dance.

There was a very pretty wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lewis Tuesday noon when their daughter Etta became the bride of Ed. Jones of near Carroll. Rev. Drais of Winside performed the ceremony. The parlor was decorated in pink and white and the dining table in carnations and smilax, Howard Whalen having charge and serving a delicious two-course dinner. The bride was becomingly attired in cream veil over white, and her bridesmaid in pink nun's veiling. Miss Mabel Oman played the wedding march. Thirty-six guests were present, and many fine presents were bestowed on the happy couple, both being favorites in the community in which they reside. After a couple of weeks at St. Louis they will reside on the groom's farm near Carroll.

Winside Neb., Oct. 19, 1904.

Dear Mr. Democrat.

We would like to have you publish the record of the Winside base ball team. Played 13 lost 3. The last game of the season was played with Altona which was in favor of Winside 4-3 umpire, A. Putzier, C. Boyle. The heavy batting was done by Olds, Hodgson, Ramsey, C. Heyer. Hodgson tried to beat second baseman and came out with a black eye. We all know that Hodgson is going to be married this fall and we all hope that his eye will be better soon. Hoping you will favor us with this item we all adjourn till the season 1905. Thanking you very much, yours truly, A. Winside Rotter.

W. H. McNeal, P. M.

The big meeting planned for Wednesday night by the democrats was not a success so far as our audience was concerned. The opera house was not half full, but all present heard a fine speech, Mr. Berge being not only a pleasant sort of an orator to listen to but his evident sincerity and fairness in analyzing matters political could not but help make a good impression. He was frequently applauded by republicans in the audience as well as by pops and democrats. His statement that the salvation of this country rested with the independent voter, and remarks of criticism on the records of all parties showed Mr. Berge to be more of a statesman than politician.

PHIL H. KOHL, Agt

Why the Japs Lick the Russians.

When the war was commenced between Japan and Russia it was then the general opinion that Russia would whip Japan but the Japs have so far successfully whipped the Russians in every battle. It is not necessary to have the largest army to win. Not the largest guns kill the most men. Rapid firing guns in the hands of intelligent men who are near supplies can whip a nation double its size with big guns and far from home supplies. It is not necessary to go to a large city with department stores to get the best bargains. Department stores are like Russia. They are big and have plenty of clerks who work like machines but not like the Japs who fight for their homes. We have goods that are rapid firing. They go fast and give satisfactory results every time. They hit every time and fit every one they hit. We are not a department store but have the right kind of goods, and we are small men like the Japs and own the ground we do business on and we will fight any competitor who tries to drive us out of business. We are here to stay and no big store with clerks who get just salary enough to live can beat us selling clothing. Every one in this store is a part of the business and is interested in the customers he sells and no one can fail to get satisfaction if they buy clothing here. We are like Japan, we have plenty of money to fight with and plenty of clothing, the kind you want. We are at home fighting on our ground and pay no rent. We hit high prices every time they show up and we never fail to capture a customer if we can get him within range of our clothing. We know how to fight all competitors and our prices are small but we shoot often. No goods that are slow sale are found in this store. Everything here is up to the minute. Get in range of this store and you will soon become our friends. We have what you are fighting for and it will take less of your ammunition to get it here than at any other place. Don't forget that you cannot fight successfully if you fail to wear Staley underwear. We are now ready for men and boys. We have everything they want to wear and all are invited here before they buy anything elsewhere.

Garr on the Water Wagon

Took Two Kegs of Whisky and a Guitar, and is Now Strung up to District Court

There was something doing in Billy Nies' saloon Tuesday afternoon, and a lot of bad work undone in Squire Feather's court Wednesday afternoon. At the former place Billy first noticed an unusual odor in the back room, good strong scents that never came over the bar in exchange for rye or beans. Making an investigation the young saloonman found the cause of the nasal sensitiveness in his guitar box instead of his beloved guitar, while over in another corner a barrel of sawdust was doing its best to soak up a lot of moisture that didn't leak through the roof. In great surprise William next found that two kegs of whisky were missing, and calling in the usual gang of loafers waiting for free drinks, a search was made of the premises, the musical instrument being found in the alley with some hay thrown over it, and the two small sags of Puritan rye in an old cask, some of Rundell's spoiled water melons being piled on top to prevent the liquor leaking out that way. It then developed that a fellow named Jim Carr had been given the privilege of the back room that morning and in a very short time Carr was rolling towards the county jail where he was locked up in disgrace. At preliminary hearing before Feather on Wednesday he was charged with a felony and upon hearing the evidence the squire bound him over to the district court under $500 bonds which he has been unable to stick up. Billy Mears was the prosecuting witness and Chas. Nies made the case doubly sure, but the evidence that incriminated the case was from Sheriff Mears who found a salt shaker in the defendant's pocket that had been taken from the back room at the Nies saloon. Billy Craig also offered supplementary argument in that defendant had told him he had some "swag" and wanted $2.50 to help get it away, and that if Billy squealed on the deal he, Carr, would fill him full of this, meaning hot lead. Frank Hitchcock claimed to be an authority on guitars and said he would give $20 (we don't know where Frank got so much money) for the one that was stolen. The two kegs of whisky of five and three gallons footed up a total of $45, making the crime a felony. Carr is now taking life easy at the hotel de Mears and judging from the grin he wore in court he likes that better than shucking corn, anyway.

One more accident added Wednesday to the ever increasing list of accidental shooting when Frank Phillips and F S Benser were preparing to hunt wild geese and were at the E & B lumber office changing cartridges in the guns they proposed to hunt with. While Mr Phillips was drawing the last cartridge from the repeater it went off, shooting F S Benser through the leg above the knee, shattering the bone and making a bad wound. Cherry of Winside and McKay & Tashjian of Norfolk were called to assist Dr Dempster in caring for the wounded man who is doing as well as could be expected and is receiving the best of care from Dr Dempster and a trained nurse. Mr Phillips greatly laments the occurrence though neither he nor Mr Benser were to blame. It is just one of those accidents which will happen even when people are the most careful.

Dragon Dragged the Corn

A big crowd of spectators were entertained in Squire Feather's court yesterday afternoon, the chief actors in the drama being Bill Hoguewood and County Attorney Sman and Al Dragon, backed up and braced up by Atty. Davis. Hoguewood had Dragon arrested for stealing corn out of the field, and a jury, B. F. Swan, John Soules, Henry Kellog, Charley Bagart, and Chas. Schultheis, found after much scrapping—by the lawyers—that Al was not guilty. It appears both gentlemen cultivated it four times and Dragon once, making it a valuable crop.

BY DAD.

Father Schell appears to have stirred up a little of the kind of war the four letters of his name spells, down at the reservation. He ought to be waited until after election.

The board of the First Methodist church at Sioux City has decided that women must remove their hats during services. And what is the worst part of it?—Cherokee Democrat.

Why, the congregation will be on the "bored" list.

Exchanges have been telling of the Prarie du Chien girl who is so bashful that she cannot see a sleeping car without blushing; of a Chesville girl who faints at the sight of an addressed letter; of the National girl who locks herself in her room and pulls down the blinds when she wants to change her mind; of the Turkey River girl who never thinks of retiring with a copy of Christian Observer in her room; the McGee girl who is so shy she will not look at an undressed kid glove. But all these pale into insignificance beside the Galtenberg girl who shines at the bay, truth or naked facts and has eliminated from her vocabulary garden hose, bureau drawers and dogs' points, and always turns her head when she sees the sales' dressing. This is an office damsel refused to remain in the office when the forms were made up. G. tenberg Journal.

The Cherokee girls are not so bashful as any of these. Several times last winter one of them was seen going to the opera house in her bear skin.—Cherokee Democrat.

Shucka, here in Wayne a young lad refused to take a bequest from a dead relative because her young man ejaculated: "Is it all really yours? what a legacy!"

Pender Republic J. J. McCarthy saved the nation enough money by dropping one fraudulent bill in connection to pay his salary for the next thirty years. That is a good enough reason for re-electing him.

He did! What a blooming lot of scoundrels all the rest of the republican congressmen must be!

An Atechison man has invented a new kind of cure. The work of reforming a drunkard begins while he is drunk. He is told that his remarks are so wise, witty and important that it is desired to preserve them for the good of posterity and will be consent to talk into the phonograph. Every drunkard is conciliated, and he consents. For an hour or more the drunkard roars into the phonograph, and sings into it. Then he is put to bed. The next day he is chained and made to listen to what he said while drunk. It always cures him.

By dad, that ought to cure us if it does anybody, what?

A New York saloonkeeper make liquor from wood alcohol and several of his customers dropped dead inside the 40 rod line. The most remarkable feature of the effects was that none of the indulgers needed a "leettle uthin'" to sober up on.

Not many years ago women refused to "talk" before a girl until she was at least 18. Nowadays most of the little ladies of IS can give their mothers pointers.

The DEMOCRAT this week received some thing less than a ton of New York City daily papers, great gobs of Parker & Davis campaign literature. I presume these New York fellows are suffering with the apprehension that the people of Nebraska need education, and considering the calibre of the things we have been sending to the United States senate and elect for governors of our state, the easterners must assuredly be excusable for their misapprehension. About a thirty-five thousand majority for the fighter in the white house, and five or ten thousand for Geo. Berge for governor and an anti-railroad legislature, will help cure this desire of the New York plutocrats to tell us "what will save the nation," by dad.

A few weeks ago Herman Mildner "got it onto" Nick Stodden by giving the latter a touch of "low itch." Last week Nick returned the compliment by emptying a bunch of mice on Herman's bar, Herman being as scared as a schoolmarm. After recovering his composure, and thinking the joke was completed the natty saloonman was scared "till his hair stood straight up," by finding a lot of mice crawling out of each pocket. Herman can't take a drink yet—"cause it cost him too many to settle the mice.

Will Flisk went to Omaha this morning.

Mrs. Dan Roush went to Sioux City this morning to see her doctor.

A lodge of Fraternal Cowboys was organized last night, at the old club rooms, by Will Flisk. About a hundred go into the organization as charter members. Election of officers will take place next meeting.

Wm. Schrupp and Mrs. Harry Workman, both of Winside, were married Thursday of last week.

The Norfolk News man evidently has a very poor memory. A few months ago he was deriding the probable candidacy of Mickey, but now he is one of the railroad candidate's chief boosters. Jan. 22, 1904, the News editorially stated:

"The question (whether or not Governor Mickey can be re-elected is disturbing some of the republicans of the state, and is a matter of considerable moment to the party. They remember that his majority was no large and overwhelming in 1902, and there is considerable doubt expressed as to his having added anything to his personal strength since he was inaugurated." "Many who were ardent supporters during his first campaign have become chilly or positively in opposition to his re-nomination, and this condition in a few districts of the state would undoubtedly bring about his defeat. To offset this condition, the governor has won no warm personal friends; in fact his record in the executive office has been of a negative quality, and he has done nothing to call forth the enthusiasms of any large number of the people of the state. At the beginning of a year when great things are to be won and lost—there is noticeable lack of enthusiasm for Governor Mickey's re-nomination. The press is practically silent regarding the governor's office, and this is an unfavorable omen when so much space is being devoted to President Roosevelt and candidates for state offices.

"There are many in the state who would be willing to again make a fight for Governor Mickey but even they are doubtful of the result, should he be placed before the people while there are many more of his party who are thoroughly convinced that his re-election would be impossible, and none are enthusiastically supporting his candidacy. If the governor were to get next to public sentiment and the sentiment of his party, it is possible that he would decline to permit the mention of his name in the matter and we have been running behind ever since. INFANT MURDERED BY HIS BABY SISTER

Boy of 3, Jealous, Beat Out Brains of a New Born Babe.

STRANGE INFANT'S CRIME

After Killing the Little Rival He Begged His Father and Mother to Pet Him Again and Wondered That They Did Not.

New York, Oct. 15.—Emmett Robinson, scarce 3 years old, murdered his baby sister in her cradle in his home in Nyack, N. Y., battering her brains out with a bronze statuette, infantile jealousy being the cause of the crime. The father, who thought childishly, had taken his place in the affections of his mother and father. No one is a jealous child, but he thought, "What hope, what rage animated him."

He killed Gladys on Saturday. She was buried today in his home on New street. Emmett kept plucking at his mother's skirts, at his father's sleeve, plaintively wondering, "Why did they turn from me?" "The baby is gone, why don't they pet me?" Mrs. Robinson told Coroner Blitt that she had wept for her child. "The baby is gone, why don't they pet me?"

At 8 o'clock Saturday evening, Mrs. Robinson left Emmett in a room with the sleeping Gladys. She was playing with a bronze statuette, which, to amuse him, his mother had taken from the cradle in which she was lying.

CHILD CALLS HIS MOTHER.

Five minutes passed, Mrs. Robinson heard Emmett's shrill voice calling: "Mother, hurry, hurry, hurry."

She ran to the room. By the cradle stood Emmett grasping the statuette which was covered with blood. He held it in his hand and pointed to the mother the awful story.

CONTROLS FRUIT TRADE

Fruit Men Declare That Armour's Grip of the Business Is Almost Complete.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Business methods of the Armour car lines were given a scathing arraignment by witnesses before the interstate commerce commission yesterday, who declared that the company's present grip on the fruit transportation, excessive additions were made for loading cars, and that the company's present grip on the fruit trade in the east.

Commission then told the commission that the company's present grip on the fruit trade in the east.

Another said that "since the Armour company has had exclusive contracts with the Pere Marquette for the Michigan fruit business to suit himself, without regard to the interests of the other shippers. The shippers there are absolutely in his power, and they either pay unreasonable prices or are abandoned by Armour's fruit rail."

It was said further that the Armour company in the east frequently sold fruit in ahead of a car consigned to a merchant, thereby selling the market before the market was opened.

Opposition was the cry of all the commission men, and they claimed that they were regularly charged with the duty of preventing the company from doing this.

George F. Meed, vice president of the National Association of Commission Merchants, testified as to methods in business.

"Says Business Is Demoralized." "Armour & Co. have practically demoralized the fruit business in the east," said one of the witnesses.

Another witness said that "the company's present grip on the fruit trade in the east."

DIVORCE ISSUE IS STILL FRONT

Strong Differences Develop in the Episcopal Church Convention.

MINISTERS ONLY TO WED

Resolution Asking the States to Amend Laws to This Effect Presented and Placed on the Calendar.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 15.—A marked division of sentiment regarding the proposed amendment to the constitution of the Episcopal church, which would restrict the right of ministers to marry, was the chief feature of the convention.

The house, sitting as a committee of the whole, discussed the issue all day and night, and the amendment was rejected by a vote of 100 to 80.

Rev. Talbot Rogers of Fond du Lac, Wis., Rev. A. Larabee of Chicago, Rev. J. H. Stinson of New York, and other leaders of the high church party spoke strongly in favor of the proposed amendment.

The house of bishops today presented the archbishop of Canterbury with a letter of protest against the proposed amendment.

At the afternoon session of the house of deputies, sitting as a committee of the whole, the amendment was discussed.

Rev. Dr. F. W. Clappert of San Francisco, speaking against the proposed amendment, expressed the opinion that an agreement of all Protestant communions on the matter of marriage and divorce would be a grand achievement.

The proposed reform was favored by Rev. J. H. Stinson of New Orleans, who opposed the adoption of the new canon in a dramatic and effective manner.

At the morning session of the house of deputies, sitting as a committee of the whole, the amendment was discussed.

APPEAL FOR PEACE

Manchurian Tragedy Is Appalling and World Will Regret at Sinking.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—This is a strong appeal for peace in the appalling tragedy which is now under enactment in Manchuria. Both armies have fought ferociously for a week, and desperate fighting still continues. It is probable that the death toll will largely exceed the total population of the province.

The preliminary reports indicate that about 60,000 men on both sides have been either killed or wounded, the larger portion of them being Russians, since the armies of the two belligerents are the Japanese and the Russians.

Even the Japanese, to whom the great victory is of paramount importance, seem to be shocked by the slaughter and the carnage.

A prominent Japanese said to the Associated Press correspondent: "The present situation is a tragedy, and the victory of our nation. Few flags are displayed. Probably later on there will be a general amnesty and a general pardon, but there are heard many expressions of opinion that no such thing is possible."

A Russian correspondent said: "I believe the world will recoil from the sickening slaughter of this Manchurian tragedy. It is a tragedy which we regret to see engage in this war."

A member of the diplomatic corps in an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press said: "I believe the world will recoil from the sickening slaughter of this Manchurian tragedy. It is a tragedy which we regret to see engage in this war."

Between the two nations and the proclamation of peace, the situation between the two belligerents is a delicate one, but what a splendid triumph for diplomacy it would be to see the two nations reconciled.

It seems to me that the question of honor is no longer involved. If Russia feels that such a question is involved, she should not have undertaken the defense of Port Arthur and the valor shown by Russian soldiers on the field of Manchuria should have determined the quality of Russian courage.

Russians should remember that the distance between the two nations and the limitations of her railway are historical facts in this war. These factors are generally recognized and are not looked upon as faults.

RAILROADS HELD BY PACKERS' GRIP

Chicago, Oct. 14.—"If any railroad dares to disobey the orders of the big packers, a boycott is instituted at once by these packers," declared a representative of the packers.

District court which is called for Nov. 8th will not be convened until the 9th because of election. There are a big batch of cases docketed but none of any great importance. Three or four suits are for divorce, the parties being Alvaretta May Bryan vs Chas. A. Bryan, of the west part of the county, Charlotte Sneath vs Jas. Sneath; Margaret A. Perry vs Chas. W. Perry and another couple whose names are withheld until service can be secured on the case. Hans Hanson vs John Hanson, and John Hanson vs Hans Hanson, is a familiar old case that will not down with age nor misdeed. Mary Schwertfeger of Hoskins is suing Ernest Bokmer of the same place, for breach of promise, asking for $7,000 damages. Bokmer is an old man and evidently wealthy. Susie Sanders of Winside sues John E. Mundy for damages alleged to have been sustained by falling down John's cellar door. State vs Geo. Sebald is a little matter taken up from Justice Feather's court because defendant refused to pay a fine for putting some manure where it offended a neighbor. C. O. Fisher has one and John S. Lewis six cases against the county asking for a reduction in tax schedules that the county board would not grant. The Northwest Publishing Co. suing Carl Engler for the price of a plat book. John Shannon vs E. Kendrick is a matter where plaintiff got a judgment in the lower court for a commission on a cattle sale. Martha Schwede vs G. S. Meare is caused by the sheriff taking some property on a judgment that Martha claimed was hers. When Dan Ertel left Bob Mellor's farm last spring he also left some buildings on it and a board of land owners met, and now seeks to recover for the same. Geo. Milligan, an employe of Wm. Piepenstock, is suing A. G. Bohner of the Union hotel for damages he alleged he fell heir to because Bohner refused to comply with the terms of a lease on the hotel that he gave Milligan, having leased the property to plaintiff and later changed his mind on the matter. State vs Lilly Powell is the only criminal case of any significance. Mrs. Jane Dixon has brought suit against the city of Wayne for $100, for an injury she claims to have suffered by reason of defective walks. L. S. Needham vs the C. St. P. M. & O. R. Taking the newspaper for it, it is difficult to arrive at a true solution of an argument, especially when there is any politics in it. In regard to the much discussed question which was afraid of a joint debate, McKillip or McCarthy, it is really of small moment.

As a matter of fact, early in the campaign McCarthy "boked at McKillip as "small potatoes" and not worth "digging up," at that time he refused to debate. Later he wanted to talk against McKillip if the latter would debate at three places in "McKillip's country." The McKillip managers refused this but tried to arrange for a series of arguments all over the district, this the McCarthy managers absolutely refused to agree to. Perhaps it is better for all concerned that the debates were not held. As a public speaker McCarthy certainly hasn't got any edge on McKillip, and shouting for Roosevelt and getting rural mail routes about sizes up his ability as a statesman, taking republican papers as authority.

WAYNE NEB

Modern Woodmen Meet.
The Modern Woodmen of America are preparing for a big rally to be held about Nov. 15 in the Wayne opera house. All the surrounding camps will be asked to participate in making this one of the greatest meetings of the kind ever held in this part of the state. A large class of candidates will be initiated, the new ritualistic work of the order will be exemplified by State Deputy E. E. Keener and Special Deputy J. O. Burgess. The Head Consul H. R. Talbot of Lincoln will speak and will be present at this meet in the evening. Great enthusiasm is manifested through the jurisdiction over the success of the new plan adopted at the last Head Camp held at Indianapolis. Not only has the order paid every claim in full on seven assessments so far this year but still have a surplus of two million dollars on hand. Wayne camp extends an invitation to all camps and all Modern Woodmen to be present and enjoy this meeting and see the new ritualistic work exemplified by the Head officers. The exact date of this meeting will be given out later.

No Names Needed Here

Winside Tribune.—Winside has been having a little of the sensational this week, on account of a runaway couple who made their appearance here a few days ago and were guests at the Commercial hotel. Both parties are from Wayne and it seems that they claim being man and wife, but were married under assumed names. When they arrived in Winside, the unexpected happened, as the girls father, who is a mason, was working on A. H. Carter's new building. Matters took a serious turn then, the groom skipped and the father took his daughter home. The young man's father also appeared on the scene and proposes to find the erring son and force him to make restitution to the girl, who is not more than fifteen years of age, by honorable marriage. This much of the particulars we give our readers, not mentioning any names, for such sensational things are talked of enough and usually it is the poor girl who is condemned most, and we have all the charity in the world for her and would not add to her misfortune any more than possible.
