Save dollars in fuel

You cannot afford to say to yourself "My old stove will have to do this winter." The old stove is eating up the price of a new stove every year. Not only that, but on top of the cost is the unsatisfactory result it gives.

Cole's Hot Blast is the Modern Heater

It produces an even temperature because it is air-tight and burns all the gases in the fuel with the patented Hot Blast Draft. Soft coal is half gas. This is the great fuel saver. Fire keeps over night. No extremes of heat and cold. The smokeproof feed door is a great feature.

If you want to keep your plants from freezing and enjoy the luxury of getting up in warm rooms every morning without kindling new fires, investigate Cole's Hot Blast to-day. With every stove goes this

GUARANTEE

We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used. We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, slack, siftings or hard coal.

We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal put in the stove the evening before.

We guarantee the feed door to be smoke-proof, and that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.

We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size.

The above guarantee is made with the understanding that the stove be operated according to directions and set up with a good flue.

Bancroft News: John Neihardt returned from his eastern trip Monday evening. It has been intimated that he has a piece of calico in his eye and went to Michigan to take treatment for it.

It was 15 below zero Tuesday morning and cold as Texas.

Walt Gaebler was a visitor from Winside Monday looking up matters pertaining to the building of a new schoolhouse in his town. Walt says they have the territory and sponulix to put up a $15,000 building, but are away short on children, the law making provision that this shall be one of the provisions in expending the public moneys for this purpose.

Messrs Perry and Gildersleeve were in Sioux City Tuesday.

"Doc" Averill of Hoskins and Frank Weible of Winside were business visitors in Wayne Monday.

Miss Emma Richardson came up from Emerson to spend Sunday at home.

S. B. Seace was in Sioux City Monday.

Charley Thompson says the Sioux City papers are not on the square when it comes to the horse sale in that town last Saturday. Charley says the average price paid by the eastern buyers was about $1.25 per head, while the Journal of Sunday claims it was $1.75. Mr. Thompson sold one animal that topped all the sales, a grey horse, weighing over 1800 lbs., at $300. One team he paid Bill Thompson $340 for, brought him only $205, and several other animals in this car lot he lost money on.

Atty. Siman and Walt Gaebler were business visitors from Winside Monday.

Frank Owen was down from Carroll Monday. He is making arrangements to move on the Bressler farm just east of town March 1st.

Mrs. J. J. Williams accompanied Senator Williams to Lincoln Monday.

Are you a judge of beef cattle? If so, you should read the article on "The Modern Type of Beef Animal," by Leslie Smith, of St. Cloud, Minn., in this week's Homestead. If not, you should read it anyhow and get the expert's views. Mr. Smith pronounces four or five breeds, equally good and names as Shorthorn, Friesian, Aberdeen Angus and Galloway. He regards climatic adaptation as important and insists on uniform laying out of flesh. He lays down all the points in judging beef cattle and also effects to be avoided. He regards early feeding and quick maturing animals as best and warns against feeding too long. "Get the best breed," he says, "and breed right, feed right and prosperity will be yours." Such articles as these every week have made The Homestead the great farm journal of America. It should be in every farm home in Wayne county, and it will not be the fault of the DEMOCRAT if it is not. We shall be glad to order it for you.

Dr. J. C. Clark, Eye Specialist, will again be at Wayne, Monday February 13th.

Jas. Stanton and wife drove down from near Carroll last Sunday to visit Dennis Kelleher south of town.

Messrs Littell, Tucker and French were Sunday visitors from Winside.

Steve Patterson of Shenandoah, Iowa, son of J. O. Patterson who bought the Warren Bishop farm, will move on that place when Mr. Bishop leaves for Oklahoma. Mr. Patterson sr. paid $70 per acre for the farm last fall. It is a cousin of W. A. K. Neely.

Wm. Dammeyer took a big invoice of cigars to Bloomfield last Saturday.

John Kate reports a big time in Lincoln last week. John says the crowds were immense, and accommodations quite inadequate. Even the police station was besieged for protection.

Gene Hansen returned to Minneapolis Tuesday. He is still badly crippled up and needs medical attention. He has made no settlement with the railroad for his injuries, expecting the company to do the fair thing by him.

Jake Dornberer says he has contracted to build houses for Casper Korn and Wm. Kugler, both buildings to be 16x24.

John Heeren went to Merrill, Ia., Wednesday to attend a stock sale.

Fay Payne and Gus Willis have taken a year's leave on the steam laundry plant. Talking about history, the story of this plant would "fill a book!" The DEMOCRAT understands that A. E. Kivette put a "white elephant" onto Mr. Besenius, when the latter purchased it, a different colored animal from some of the work recently turned out.

The Anniversary meeting of the Bible Study circle will be held at the M. E. Church, Tuesday evening Jan. 31, at 7:30 p. m. The members of this circle are preparing an excellent program for this meeting. This is a public meeting and all are invited to come. I think you will all enjoy it.

Leigh Bros. is the style of new firm at the old stand of Wm. Wittler, alias Nellis & Young. Mr. Wittler was just about to pack up the stock and move it to Sutton when the trade was made with the Leighs. Mr. Wittler taking 320 acres of land north of Dixon in the deal. Invoice was commenced yesterday and the DEMOCRAT understands the new men expect to remain in Wayne permanently.

Wm. Wittler went to Saline county Monday to buy a farm or two.

Bill Prince of near Winside was in town Tuesday on his way home from Omaha.

Don't overlook Warren Bishop's sale next Tuesday a half mile south and 3 miles east of Wayne. Mr. Bishop is going to Oklahoma and has a large number of horses, cattle, hogs and machinery to dispose of.

Notice of public sale of H. J. Graves living west of town, is published elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Graves has sold his farm to the Durland Real Estate Agency of Norfolk and is making arrangements to move to Tilden this spring to engage in the implement business with his son Will, who has been located there the past year. Mr. Graves is a splendid citizen and one whom the county will regret to lose. —Pierce Leader.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

DEAR GOLDIE:

I have noted and followed with much interest the new and commendable project you have instituted in your paper "Reminiscences of Wayne and Wayne County"—People, especially people literary, are much averse to criticism, unless it is qualified, and my complaint, (like my earlier ones of my mother's pie) is simply insufficiency.

I talked with Mr. A. P. Childs many times concerning a plan he had long in mind consonant and in line with your present project but much more comprehensive. I think I may safely assert that no man living, or dead was better qualified than Mr. Childs to write the "Life History" of Wayne County. He was most peculiarly lacking in sustained resentment, a qualification necessary to an unbiased biographer; wielded a ready pen as you, better than I, know, was inquisitive oft times to the point which would be impertinence in any one; had an immense fund of information and a prodigious memory, in which last respects Jim Britton alone in Wayne county could come anywhere near approaching him. Notwithstanding Mr. Childs' qualifications, (which were ample to cope with such a task successfully), he doubted if the extent of his audience would justify it.

He told me (I think in the presence of Mr. James Britton) that to successfully write the early history of Wayne county it would "need a dozen Boswells." I remember, his saying he would have Judge C. B. Hunter write Genesis and "Exodus of the Graves tribe", to the valley of the Logan; Frank Fuller, Sirinicus (the Sarr and early history of the Bar) the writer later history of same; Dr. Crawford, early medical practice; A. A. Welch, the scholar; E. R. Chace, Wayne's first mayor "The Town"; Jas. Britton, Politus; Henry Ley or Charley Johnson, "The Pioneer Merchant"; N. I. Juhlin, "Why, How and Why Hans and Nels Came"; Wm. Miller, "The Methodist Church"; John Bressler, "Early Banking, Etc., Etc."

I can remember it being suggested that Alexander (Sandy) Scott might enliven the pages with some graphic scenes in which he participated. I think Childs must have talked with B. F. Feather in relation to this matter for I am sure he counted on him as a graphic source of information; reminiscences, etc.

Now, this letter, which is only a suggestion and hastily written, is, I trust, far from deprecatory. I simply would like you to make more of your opportunity. The History of the Nebraska Normal College should be written by Mr. Jno. D. King. Early LaPorte; most assuredly by Mrs. James Britton, but much more of it and much more personal. We want to see, hear and know the people and their life. I would like to write you a chapter or two on "Embryonic Wayne," in its proper place, and will promise you no "vain repetitions." If my suggestion does not meet with your approval simply tear this up—I am not afflicted with la semacelphinipinitus (What the bloody 'ell is that, Frank?—Printer) but am actuated by a (I trust) laudable desire to view again the past; a past daily becoming more pleasant in retrospect.

MARK SPRINGER, Jr.

Mr. E. R. Gurney, vice president of the First National Bank at Fremont, and well known in Cedar and Wayne counties, addressed the Y. M. C. A. at Fremont last week on the subject of banking. The meeting was the most successful ever held by the association. He said it had taken 4,000 years to develop the bill of exchange which now serves such a convenient part in modern commercial transactions. He explained the workings of a bank and the audience was highly entertained and instructed.—Randolph Times.

Jack Dalton, of the Manson Democrat, is a lucky man. The town pump is located right in front of his print shop. Just now there is a lot of ice around it and every once in a while a subscriber slips on it and tumbles into the office. Of course they are ashamed to go out without paying their subscription.

One of the Best.

Nichols, the great thoroughbred Percheron horse shipped to this county last year by Frank Owen and Jas. Arnett of Belden, will put in the season of 1905 at the Wayne stables. Since Mr. Arnett died, after weeks ago, Frank Owen has come into full possession of this famous animal. Nichols is one of the best bred horses ever imported to Illinois and breeders who have seen him need no second introduction in order to appreciate the merits of the horse. If you are going to breed your mares this season and want to raise colts that make $400.00 draft animals, at least look up Nichols and his pedigree.

COURT SAYS LAND BELONGS TO STATE

Settlers Lose Out on the Much Disputed Boyd County Cases.

STATE'S TITLE IS GOOD

Supreme Court Also Passes on Two Irrigation Cases—Farmers Have Hopes of Winning in Appeal to Federal Court.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 23.—By a decision of the supreme court of the state of Nebraska, the title to the Boyd county lands is settled. The court has ruled in favor of the state, and the settlers there must be ejected. The Boyd county lands were originally owned by the state, and the settlers there have been claiming the right to hold the land since they obtained what is known as a "pre-emption" right. The court has ruled that the state's title is good, and the settlers must be ejected. The court also passed on two irrigation cases, and the farmers have hopes of winning in appeal to the federal court.

SETTLERS STILL HAVE HOPES.

Some attorneys believe that the records in this case show that the Boyd county claimants have great hopes of winning on appeal to the federal court.

There was the usual big crowd in the post office Sunday night last, and Sam and Charley were handing out the papers in parcels. A stranger watching the scene ejaculated: "Seems to me you people get lots of papers here." "Yes," answered a sympathetic bystander. "Those two little old fellows are brothers, too, ain't they?" again asked the stranger: "Yes," said the sympathetic individual, without changing countenance, but a broad grin passed around the crowd that Charley and Sam failed to interpret.

Jim Corbett says he likes newspaper writing better than fighting. By dad, so do we. This composition, says the Logan Republican, is by a little girl of 6 years. "Once there was a young man and a young lady and they loved each other very much and they got married. Then they were unhappy because God never send them any children. And the young man went off to the war and was gone four years and when he returned his wife had four children. Thus true love was rewarded."

This week the "old home" paper contained notice of the death of Dr. W. J. Ensminger, who dropped dead from heart disease or apoplexy. Just twenty-five years ago this winter I drove and old spavined, ring-boned frame of a horse that hadn't meat enough on her to feed a coyote, hitched to a 2x4 sled, ten miles to town to ask Dr. Ensminger to go out and see "dad" who was very ill. The doctor appeared to size up my ragged, open-work apparel, note the weather—twenty below zero, and with a glum smile said, "no," he couldn't go. The doctor was probably right, but it's curious to note how these days in "Dad" got better, is pretty hearty today at eighty-six, while the doctor, who was afraid of a little cold or his big fee, is dead comparatively a young man. His stone front, plenty of money and easy conscience—when it came to dealing with the poor people—had no use when he got a call that forced him to go.

Every day it is getting more dangerous to monkey around another man's wife. In some ways there is safety in getting too old.

A short time ago a "blue baby" was born in Omaha and created considerable wonderment. The baby weighed three pounds when born and lived five weeks. I don't see anything remarkable about the incident. Having to be born in Omaha is no doubt what made it "blue."

An exchange says: Never mind, dear children. The revival meetings will soon be over with and then your mothers will not have to neglect you so much.

Professor Snyder of the Philadelphia observatory thinks that radium exists in the stars, and he is probably right. A fellow can see it flicker when he falls on an icy walk.

The merchants in almost every town and city in the country are advertising great reduction sales—making an effort to close lines of winter goods. As none of these sales are advertised in Wayne I suppose a large portion of the trade that should be coming here is going to the other towns. Wayne merchants are fortunate in having no surplus stocks to clean out.

John Kate says he was "down among the lunatics last week." Well, I don't know about that. The American people like to be humbugged, and when a servant of the people can work the railroads for passes for his whole dum family, he's more cute than "lunatic."

"Don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg. That's what you do, young men when you drink whisky." Says Bixby, and Bixby ought to know for he says he drank whisky when he was young and foolish.

Russian troops occupied Kashgar and the czar is trying to cashgatsky. About the most difficult feat the average man has to perform these days is to jump out of a warm bed when the alarm goes off, and boost up the firs. The fellow who can do this duty through a whole winter is certainly entitled to Carnegie's hero awards.

The following from an exchange contains much wisdom: "The constant drip of water wears away the hardest stone; The constant gnaw of Towser masticates the toughest bone; The constant wooing lover carries off the blushing maid; And the constant advertiser is the man who gets the trade."

The man who succeeds in this day and age is the man who uses the most printers' ink. Tom Fratts, manager of the city water works plant, should drink a little gin.

And now it is a Kansas City woman who has lost her bustle, and she had $500 worth of jewels sewed up in it. That will give her quite a backset.

A good and true story is told at F. A. Berry's expense. Frank and a friend went out to Wilbur precinct one cold day this week to hunt for a few rabbits. Frank shot one "other side" of the creek and when returning with his prey he went through the ice for about four or more feet. The nearest house to the catastrophe was Jim McIntosh's, but Jim's clothes were about the farthest off when it came to encircling the robust form of the attorney, although the town was reached without further trouble. The next time Frank goes hunting he will take a suit of my clothes along so a jacking will give him a "fit."

"A Good Suggestion," published on last page, from the pen of one of Wayne's brainiest and best citizens, may be taken by those mentioned as an urgent invitation for each one to write the Democrat story. This paper will be only too happy to publish these reminiscent reminiscences. It was not the intention of the Democrat to make a specialty of these bygone days, but peculiarly a story each week, by any one capable of interesting the public. Rev. T. J. Wright contributes an editorial or sermon for next week's issue. John Kate, Dr. Blair, Prof. Snodgrass and others will write this feature alive for a few weeks to come, and old timers, who are willing to delve into the past to please the present, are especially invited to write a story for the benefit of our readers.

Took First Money. John Kate was the happiest rooster in town yesterday, and he had reason to be. A few weeks ago John got up a couple of "prize ads" for Selz shoes, the bonuses offered being $20, $15, $10 and $5. Yesterday Mr. Kate got a draft for the $20, and also congratulations upon his success, with a request for his picture to print in the Selz shoe magazine. It is not yet known whether the "ad" that took first money was printed in the Herald or Democrat. Kate is generally known over all the states as one of the most unique and original of advertisers.

ONE OF THE TWO JOHNS IS CRAZY

The deaf John of the popular clothing house known as "The 2 Johns" attended the chicken show held at Lincoln last week and he went crazy. He may get over it in time, but while the spell is on he is liable to do some peculiar things. He has got it into his head that he will lose all he has if he don't sell every overcoat he has at once. If you take advantage of his delusion you will greatly help yourself by saving one-fourth of the regular price of an overcoat. He will do you no harm and he may change his mind any time. Better call at once if you need an overcoat.

MEN'S OVERCOATS

25 Per Cent. Off

He will give you 25 per cent. off on all overcoats and his stock is large and up to date. No matter how small or how large you are you can get a fit if you call at once. Help the lunatic out and also save 25 per cent. on an overcoat.

BOYS' OVERCOATS

25 Per Cent. Off

He has a great many boys' and children's overcoats and some have already been marked down, but he thinks they have to go, so you get 25 per cent. off no matter how much they have been marked down. Don't let your boy freeze when you can help a crazy man out and save 25 per cent. on an overcoat.

BOYS' REEFER COATS

Half Price

He goes wild when he sees those reefer coats and says if they don't soon go he will burn the whole lot. A reefer chinchilla is a good warm coat and just the thing for a boy to wear to school. Don't wait if you want one. Prices as low as one dollar.

MEN'S FUR COATS

10 Per Cent. Off

No one will question the fact that a man is crazy that will give 10 per cent. off on fur coats this kind of weather. If you have been waiting for a chance to buy a fur coat cheap now is your time. Every coat is marked as it has been sold and you get the discount if you buy them of the crazy John. Some merchants mark them up and tell you how much cheaper they are now, but that is never done at the Two Johns. Everything sold under this crazy spell not satisfactory money will be cheerfully refunded on request. You take no chances. Help a lunatic out and at the same time help yourself.

Bailey's Gasoline Engine

Britt Tribune: The Tribune office is going through the moulting period with a gasoline engine to enliven things. It is one of the best engines made and can't go wrong if ordinary intelligence is used, so the directions say, and this is no doubt true; but thirteen men, eleven boys and nine engineers were fixing it for six hours, and at eleven o'clock p. m. it would run right if some one turned the wheel. It is the simplest engine in the world, so the directions say. It is an oil cooler, high pressure, nonstinking, and anti-profanity instigator. We first sent for Vere Glidden. He said he thought the tropic of Capricorn had slipped into the kingrow, and was sure the exhaust was bent. He unscrewed the umbilicus, drew out the rafter, greased the pud tongue, bent the do-whangadungus and then put it together again. Everything looked right, and we set a boy to turning for an hour to see if it wouldn't combust audibly; but it wouldn't. We then sent for Herb Redmond. Herb has assisted every automobile man in the county a dozen times a piece and saved several of them from suicide, and he said it had accumulated in the diaphragm so that the gyauscus could not coalesce with the non compos mentis; so he took out the doofanny, wiped the synovial fluid from the pandemonium, and removed the oil. This made everything look all right. The engine should have said "kapet," "kapet," right along now; but it merely said "pr-r-r," and that was all. There is a hex casister annex screwed on top of the main duodenum that runs up through the roof that usually says "kaputek" at each explosion, but that was maintaining a discreet silence all this time, and Herb resolved to go up on the roof and investigate this. He found that the blizzard had blown it full of snow, which melted last night when the thing was hot and froze this morning when it was cold. This solved the mystery. "When it tried to "kapet" inside, the "kaputek" outside was frozen up stiffer than the right leg of the goddess of liberty on the state house. Herb restored the "outside kaputek" which released the "inside kapeteer," and confidence was immediately restored. A gasoline engine is just as simple as pulling your lips as soon as you get on to the curves. But our experience is that no gasoline engine can "kapet" when it is banged up in the snoodle.

The Bancroft News says: "There are more than three hundred prisoners in the Nebraska penitentiary and forty-six can neither read nor write. The balance of them are too smart for their own good and that is what landed them there."

The beautiful Beatrice Fairfax—intellectually so—comes to the rescue of a lad of twenty-two who is desperately ill and fearfully in love with a mild creature. He wants to know how he may best communicate to her the wild sweet story of his undying love, and find out whether or not it takes; and Beatrice tells him that the object of his devotion is not old enough to understand the import of his sublime attempt; and that he must wait two years before taking her into his confidence on the subject. The poor fellow is liable to be in love with the other girl by that time. Why not now and have it over with?—Bixby.

STORY OF AN INDIAN MOUND

LIFE AND CUSTOMS OF TRIBES WHO OCCUPIED SIOUX CITY ARE SHOWN BY THE CONTENTS OF A MOUND OPENED BY W. T. STAFFORD, WHO TOLD OF IT IN A PAPER LAST WEEK. A FIRST BURIED DEAD IN TREES TILL THE FLESH FELL OFF.

W. T. Stafford, of Sioux City, recently contributed a paper to the Sioux Academy, which has been published in the paper. Mr. Stafford is an enthusiastic collector of Indian relics, and he has secured about 1,500 arrow heads and other implements of the Indians. He has also found in the mound a large number of broken fragments of pottery, and several pieces of arrow heads.

The mound is situated on the banks of a spring creek now known as the Broken Creek, which empties into the Big Sioux river. It is located in the northwest corner of Plymouth county, Iowa. The mound is about three-quarters of a mile long and about one-half mile wide. It is situated on a high bank of the creek, and it is about 100 feet high.

It would be difficult to find a more sheltered spot than the one in which the mound is situated. The mound is situated on a high bank of the creek, and it is about 100 feet high. It is situated on a high bank of the creek, and it is about 100 feet high.

purpose and described in another portion of this paper. On the larger pots were placed for the purpose of firing. These were usually made to resemble the head of some animal or bird. The rims used for lifting purposes usually turned out from the pot.

The pots and dishes that were colored were made that way by the use of pulverized sandstone for the red, and limonite for the yellow. The natural color of the clay when burned is black. Some of the vessels were colored only on one side. The most of the coloring was on the inside.

There were recovered in these excavations 23 different vessels of various shapes. Some of the decorations covered the body of the vessel, others were only on the neck. The most of the coloring was on the inside.

One-half mile due east of the mound, on the summit of a sharp hill that rises about 100 feet above the level of the surrounding country, the Big Sioux valley and overlooking the Big Sioux valley, were found the remains of a large number of broken fragments of pottery.

There were stone and bone scrapers found here, used for the purpose of scraping hides and for marking pottery. There were also a number of arrow heads, and a number of other implements.

On the whole these Indians showed a remarkable intelligence in the manufacture of their tools and implements. The art of sewing was certainly very familiar to them, judging from the amount of bone needles and the number of bones found that were evidently selected for the purpose of manufacture.

The art of making pottery was the greatest feature of this civilization. The pottery was made of a soft clay, and it was fired in a kiln. The pottery was made of a soft clay, and it was fired in a kiln.

Prolonged Dairy Tests.

The Farmer and Breeder: I regard the public testings of dairy cows that have occurred at the Columbian exposition, Chicago, 1893, the Pan-American exposition, St. Louis, 1894, and the Louisiana Purchase exposition, St. Louis, 1904, as the best educators upon dairy matters and the subject of improving the dairy cow by breeding her to a higher standard than have ever been attained.

Malaya Times and a Pop Below.

The program of the governor's visit to the federated Malay states is that of "meneg-guluncher" or a water sliding game.

A party of rajahs and chiefs having decided to indulge in this form of amusement, were their followers of their intention.

The game of meneg-guluncher then commenced. It is to slide, and the game is to slide, and the game is to slide.

A cooking school has been opened at the state normal school at Cedar Falls. This is a bad move—for the Iowa schools. It is a hard job to keep the good teachers from getting married. If they learn to cook, as well as to bring up children, they will be in still greater demand as housekeepers.

Now that Rev. Father Kroeger, the noted "medical man" of Epiphany, S. D., is dead, the South Dakota board of medical examiners have discovered that he never had a good diploma. Perhaps other doctors who did have the real thing killed just as many.

"There is no more polygamous or unlawful cohabitation in Utah than there is in New York or the District of Columbia," declared Judge James A. Miner of Salt Lake, testifying in the Smoot case at Washington. Probably not so much, and none know it better than congressmen.

Of course it is considered the proper thing to laud a hero, thus General Stossel, who conducted the defense of Port Arthur, is now being praised as one of the greatest of modern heroes. This is newspaper talk, says Joe Trigg in the Iowa State Register. "He knew two months ago that it was utterly impossible to hold the fort against the well laid plans of the Japanese, and every consideration of humanity and patriotism demanded that he should take such action as would avert the further useless waste of human life. Instead he manfully refused to surrender and deliberately permitted not only the further decimation of his brave and exhausted troops, but also the cruel mutilation of the wounded in the hospitals at Port Arthur. His grit is admirable, but his discretion is open to the severest criticism. The game of war is hell enough when decently played, but even this extreme figure utterly fails to depict the Stossel type of the game. It is all right enough to court-martial him, but if should be done to punish him for his useless and wicked waste of human life and not because he finally surrendered.

It is given out in Sioux City that the slot machines are again paying cash and the police have promised to investigate. Just as if they didn't know all about it!

The friends of J. R. Manning made a good fight to get him the appointment of steward of the hospital for the insane at Norfolk, but Gov. In the redistricting bills that have been offered in the state legislature is one introduced by Senator Breeser, making a judicial apportionment of several counties in north Nebraska that makes no change in other districts. Under the bill the Ninth and Fifteenth judicial districts would be the only ones affected. The Fifteenth district, which now has a large number of counties and two judges is given one judge. The counties of Holt, Boyd, Rock, Brown and Keya Pata are transferred to the Ninth judicial district and that district is given two judges instead of one judge. It provides that the two districts shall be as follows: Ninth: Wayne, Madison, Antelope, Pierce, Knox, Holt, Boyd, Rock, Brown, Keya Pata, two judges; Fifteenth—Cherry, Sheridan, Dawes, Sioux, Box Butte, one judge. The bill complies with the constitutional provision by declaring that the terms of the incumbent judges shall not be disturbed.—Norfolk News.

BLOOD CELLS.

IN HEALTH. IN DISEASE.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal number of red blood cells in adult men is five million; in women four and a half million, to the square millimeter.

The normal cell is round and possesses the millions of rich red blood corpuscles if they only know how to go about it. Dr. R. V. Pierce, consulting physician to the Javalier Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., advises every man and woman to prepare for a long life by observing nature's laws. In the first place, if your digestion is faulty, and the food you eat is not taken up by the blood and assimilated properly, you need a tonic and digestive corrector, something that will increase the red blood corpuscles; he believes in going about this in nature's own way. Years ago, in his active practice, he found that an extract of certain herbs and roots, put up without the use of alcohol, would put the liver, lungs and heart into fuller and more complete action. This medicine is called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten, it nourishes the blood, and instead of the ill-shaped corpuscles of the person whose blood takes on a rich red color and the corpuscles are more nearly round. Nervousness is only the cry of the starved nerves for food, and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and feels refreshed in the morning.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER. If you want to know about your body, read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which can be had for the cost of mailing 25 cents in one-cent stamps for a cloth-bound book, or 21 stamps for the paper-covered volume, 1008 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Politicians are already railing hell in Missouri and it was only last fall the state went republican.

The Illinois legislature has decided to get along for one session at least without the customary inebriety of legislators, policemen, stenographers and committee clerks who draw fat salaries but do not work. It must be about time for the millennium. Such strangeness!

In sermonizing upon the Commoner's fifth year of usefulness, Wm. J. Bryan says: "In the future as in the past, the Commoner will exert itself in behalf of democratic principles to the end that this nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

A New York judge has examined Duke's mixture and finds that he isn't insane and has released him from the sanitarium.

Fire Up

Catching cold? Why?

Because you have let the furnace go down. Not the furnace in the basement of the house—the furnace inside of you. Didn't you know you had a furnace inside of you?

Where did you suppose your bodily heat comes from? It comes from combustion. And the combustion takes place in your lungs—in the burning of the oxygen that you pump into them. "Take a pair of bellows and blow on a fire. How it flares up!"

Just so when you pump large quantities of air into your lungs. The combustion is more rapid than usual. There is more warmth. The oxygen in your lungs and the assimilated food in your blood literally burn—without flame—and your body is warmed. It is therefore quite important this fire within should be well fed with plenty of good oxygen.

Most persons only half feed the furnaces inside of them. One almost wonders the fire does not go out. Hence cold extremities. Hence "catching cold."

Most persons use little more than half their lungs. The diaphragm—that great bellows of nature—is scarcely moved. The draught is poor. The fire burns low. There is little heat in the furnace.

Take strong, long-deep draughts of air through the nose—never through the mouth—sending the diaphragm down to the bottom of its well at each inhalation. Take the air in slowly. Take as much as you can hold. Take a dozen, one after another. Be sure the air is pure. The furnace heat will flare through the body and your temperature will go up.

The way to keep warm is not by putting on more clothing. That simply keeps the gold out. To warm yourself—

Fire up the furnace inside of you.—Omaha News.

Sioux City Tribune: Unless a Missouri legislator has money, he will have to stay in Jefferson City until the end of the session. In Nebraska the legislators go home to eat a chicken dinner or roabbit hunting every Sunday. But there's a different feeling toward railroad passes in Nebraska.

The Missouri legislature has passed a law making it a misdemeanor to tip a Pullman porter. The legislators will now have to pay more for their drinks on the cars.

Many of the Oberlin students will be sorry now that they lost their money in poker games instead of leaving it with the other banker. Carnegie will not pay back what kitty got.

While after a piece of cake, the nine year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Farrens became tangled up with the cupboard and pulled the same over on him. Nearly every dish was broken and the lad crawled out from under the debris with an expression as much as to say "Never touched me." Here he received a slash on the forehead. Have not heard whether he got the cake or not.—Decorat Herald.

The Real Situation

Sioux City Tribune: Taxes should be outlawed the same as promissory notes or other financial obligations and not dug up after twenty-five years and payment demanded with about 20 per cent interest, remarked Michael Waters, a Hubbard, Neb., banker at the Mandan hotel last evening. "In Dakota county, probably $25,000 has been paid by the farmers and residents of cities for delinquent taxes restricted on account of the sewerage law in Nebraska." I should say $1,000 has been paid by Hubbard people alone.

The workings of this law are not understood. A farmer will buy a draft and send it to the county treasurer for his current taxes. The draft will be returned to him with a notice that he is still delinquent some $275 for taxes on his farm for the years '98 and '99 or perhaps '95 and '96. He never dreamed of this delinquency. Perhaps he's owned the farm for twenty years and supposed the title was as clear as any title in all Nebraska. But now he finds he owes about as much on it as it is worth. He must borrow money to pay it and begin at this late day to pay off a debt on his land—the land he has owned for years; paid for once, improved and built a home for his old age. But his land may be sold if he does not contribute this premium on dishonest legislation.

"The law is very unpopular in Nebraska," continued Mr. Waters, "but it is not probable that they will change it." During the past year it has produced thousands of dollars for the state, which will go a long way in paying the expenses of the state, while the railroads will be exempted and pay light taxes. In Nebraska it is only a question of which railroad will control, not which party.

To this condemnation of the Nebraska political situation by the well known banker, who is in a position to know what the law has been doing to the farmers, H. C. Peck, of Ponca, added the testimony that it is cheaper by nearly one-half for people in Dakota county to haul their freight to Sioux City and ship it south in Iowa, than to consign it to a Nebraska railroad.

"While you pay 20 to 25 cents per hundred for freight between here and Omaha on the Iowa side of the river, you would pay 30 to 40 cents per hundred on the Nebraska side," remarked Mr. Peck. "We don't see why it is, but the condition exists, and we suppose that it is because Iowa has a railroad commission which has something to say of the rates, while in Nebraska the governor and the legislature allow the railroads to ask just as much as they deem necessary. Outside of Colorado, I don't believe there is a state in the union where the taxes are so unjust and so unevenly divided as in Nebraska. In Colorado it is even better in some respect. There the corporations pay their taxes, and more than that they are willing to contribute a few thousand a year for special privileges. This relieves the strain on the people, while in Nebraska the corporations demand the privileges without sending in the contributions, except in the way of passes, and the people are taxed to make up the loss, while the corporations contest every assessment against them for taxes."

Of Interest to Mothers

Thousands of little ones die every year of croup. Most of them could have been saved by a few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar, and every family with children should keep it in the house. It contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Mrs. George H. Pickett, San Francisco, Cal., writes: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup and we thought she would choke to death, but one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved her at once after other remedies had failed. We never saw a child ute without it in the house."

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 23.—A bill of $100,000 was paid to the state of Washington and carried with it the title of the state's largest bond issue. The bill is a part of the $1,000,000 bond issue authorized by the legislature in 1903. The bill is entirely paid for by the state, and is much to be preferred to the $1,000,000 bond issue of 1903, which was sold at a discount of 10 per cent. The bill is the work of the state's largest bond issue, and is the largest bill ever issued by the state.
