The above is the picture of the Rev. Thomas J. Wright, the gentleman who put the DEMOCRAT all to the bad last week—at least we had an unusual amount of trouble getting the paper out, and naturally ascribed the cause more to the "preacher's article" rather than to the "deviltry" of our dynamo or the natural cussedness of Editor Gibson's old press. The above cut didn't get here until Saturday, after the paper had been held up several hours in a vain wait for it. Then the engine bucked, the press fell all to pieces, the "devil" split up the office towel for fuel, the editor got drunk—again, the "angel" flapped her wings and flew away—but Rev. Wright's editorial on kindred evils lived through it all—because it was all right, wrote or Wright. You will remember that Rev. Wright once upon a time handed the DEMOCRAT a bouquet or two, and we have been "laying for him" ever since, and think we now have got him—where he makes a better impression. Thos. J. Wright is credited with being the brightest Methodist preacher ever sent to preach redemption to the local flock. He is beloved by his people, a splendid pulpit orator and pleader, and a writer of no mean ability. This may arise largely from the fact that he was born in the same country as some other smart (?) Wayne people—Canada, by dad

Sheriff Means now has Sanford Bamburn, the young lad mixed up with Ben Patrick in the check deal, locked up in jail, the boy being charged as an accessory with Patrick. Bamburn is the party who did the fine work on the check and does not deny it, but claims he was ignorant of the wrong-doing, notwithstanding he knew Patrick before Asher Hulbert came in. The DEMOCRAT understands the Citizens Bank was the loser on the check.

Dr. and Mrs. Wightman and children left Monday for California where they will spend the rest of the winter.

Gus Hanssen, who formerly worked for O. D. Franks, was in the city over Sunday from Randolph to visit friends.

L. M. Owen, went to Sioux City Tuesday to look up competent help to run his farm the next season. Lou is one of the best farmers in Northeast Nebraska and is fixing up his place just west of town in elegant shape.

Dr. Conniff was up from Sioux City Monday to see Dennis Kelleher who has been very bad the past week. Dr. Conniff tells the DEMOCRAT Dennis is a very sick man and on Wednesday he was taken to the hospital at Sioux City for treatment. Dr. Conniff diagnosed the trouble to be "lumpy jaw," which is sometimes contracted from cattle.

A Card From Mayor Britton

Editor: Replying to the editorial in the last week's Herald, permit me to say, it is true that two years ago the city was turned over to the present city administration with a surplus in the treasury, but the city was also turned over with practically no street crossings streets in bad condition, a pumping station with a water supply that in case of a large fire would leave the town without any fire-protection, and an electric lighting plant that, though good enough when put in, had become inadequate to the needs of the public. These have all been improved, and of course it has taken money to do it. The lighting plant has and is earning 40 per cent. more than ever and at a less coal consumption in money than before, and has a capacity to earn from $600 to $1000 per month with enough business. The earnings for the past two months, December and January, are between $625 and $650 per month, enough so that one bond can be taken from the old bond indebtedness, the next year, and the city levy cut in two. The total amount of these unusual expenditures for the two years has been about $14,000. I can see no reason for the statement that warrants will be at a discount and do not anticipate any such condition of affairs. I will say that the city council meets twice every month, and they will be pleased at any time to have a committee of tax payers or a committee of the Commercial club, or any interested party or parties present themselves and investigate the bills of anything pertaining to the city government, and I think that the fairest method for any one interested. The people have a right to know how things are conducted and there is the place to find out.

Respectfully,
JAS. BRITTON, Mayor.

Wait for the Big One.

One of the biggest and best auction sales for the winter, in Wayne county at least, will be John E. Owen's, on March 9th. Mr. Owen is going to quit farming and his place, half mile west of town, of 357 acres is for rent, in part or all of it. John has an immense amount of stock, some extra good horses, cattle and 100 hogs, 50 of them fine brood sows in pig to Jim Hurst's thoroughbred red Duroc animal. If the farm is leased without the house Mrs. Owen will reside in it, otherwise move to Wayne. Mr. Owen has taken nine miles of grading between Topeka and Lawrence, in Kansas, and can't afford to keep too many irons in the fire all the time.

Prof. Durrin has just received the elegant tombstone purchased by Wilson Pingrey for the Montgomery family. It is a fine article.

William J. Evans, who has a sale of his farm property the 8th, has bought Henry Claybaugh's medicine outfit and agency, in Dixon county.

Ray Donnelly packed up his household goods the first of the week, shipped his wife and baby home to her folks and took himself to Seward in the telephone company's interests; of course, Mr. Donnelly's place here has been supplied by H. E. Clark, of Omaha, a son of Dr. J. C. Clark, of Sioux City. The Independent Telephone Co. here has almost put the Bell out of business, locally, at least, and this no doubt accounts for Mr. Donnelly's removal to other parts.

Do you know our price for butterfat, last half of January, is 28¢ per pound?

Do you know that this means $1.12 to $1.25 per hundred for milk?

Do you know during the winter of 1902 we paid as high as 27¢ for butterfat; and 25¢ in 1903?

Do you know these are better prices than dairy-men of New York, Wisconsin, and other old dairy states who follow dairying exclusively are realizing for their milk produced on farms worth $100 and more per acre?

Do you know that's cents raising dol lar wheat or fifty-cent corn?

Do you know we put more money to the farmers of Nebraska in 1904 than all other creamery companies operating in the state?

Do you realize what you are losing if you are not the owner of a DeLaval hand separator and one or two patrons?

Do you know that we sell the DeLaval, the best separator on earth?

Do you know that out of a total of 20,000 separators used in Nebraska 15,000 are De Laval's?

Do you know, if you are not one of our 20,000 patrons, it will be to your interest to call on our representative and talk this matter over? We sell separators on easy terms. Take your cream to J. E. Marsteller, our agent at Wayne.

NORTH PLATTE IS EXPECTING A RUSH

Despite Interference of Stockmen People Inquire for Homesteads.

WILL CONTAIN 640 ACRES

There is Scarcely a Homestead in This District but Will Support from 100 to 200 Cattle—Farms Are Very Desirable.

North Platte, Neb., Feb. 6.—The cattlemen who have focused in their fences from several sections to as much as a whole township, are attempting in every way to discourage homesteaders from taking advantage of the Kinkaid act, which will take effect February 14. These cattlemen are circulating the reports that the land is absolutely worthless and that the homesteaders will have a considerable number of cattle or other stock. The purpose of these stockmen is to restrain others from taking advantage of the one section homesteads so that they will not be disturbed in their inclosures of sections of vacant lands.

Nevertheless, homesteaders from near and far are investigating the land and making inquiries as to various other people who have been for the last few weeks and days coming to the officers here and sending in applications for land and the requirements to obtain the same.

Those who are coming now and going over the land are not expecting to find that it is adapted to cultivation, but are looking for land suitable for grazing, for the natural hay, which grows upon it, for barbing and in some places for growing of corn. The sections are so located that as much as half of them may be profitably used for stock raising. The sections range from forty acres to a quarter section which may be put to corn. There is a large amount of homestead land which will support from 100 to 200 head of cattle.

There seems to be no doubt that the available section of homestead land will be taken during the opening, which occurs in two weeks.

JAPS DEFEATED FORCES

Oyama Says Two Nippon Divisions Drove Back Five Russians at Heikoutai.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 6.—An official dispatch from Manila says an American squadron of fifteen warships sailed today from the island of Luzon for the southern waters of the Philippine, with the object of maintaining neutrality in American waters, both as to the Russian and Japanese fleets. The movement of the American squadron is a precautionary step taken in connection with the movement of Russian and Japanese warships. A recent dispatch said Japanese warships had been seen in southern Philippine waters, and it is therefore expected the precautionary measures apply equally against Russian and Japanese. The Dutch Islands and Sumatra and Java and the unexplored waters of southern Mindanao offer a possible rendezvous for belligerent warships, and the American squadron has already sent two warships to protect the neutrality of Dutch waters. The movement of the American squadron is assumed to be of the same character. It is not expected that Vice Admiral Janssen's squadron will proceed to Manila, but it is expected that the division which left Jibuti yesterday.

One of the 2 Johns Knocked Down and Run Over

While crossing the street last Monday a team hitched to a pair of bob-sleds knocked down and might have killed one of the 2 Johns. The driver may have seen in last week's paper that one of the 2 Johns was crazy and therefore thought it no harm to run over him, or he may not have seen him. Let that be as it may, the horses refused to step on the crazy John because he had on Staley underwear. No one that had on Staley underwear has died in Wayne county. You can knock down the 2 Johns and run over them, but you can't stop them from selling out all the overcoats and fur coats they have left. You can't keep people away, and when they realize that they can save one-fourth on an overcoat you can't keep them from buying them. Some people wait until it is convenient to look at fur coats, but unless you move quick you will fail to find any fur coats to look at for they are going at the prices now asked at the 2 Johns'. Caps at half price seem to interest quite a good many people at the 2 Johns' at present. Don't run over the 2 Johns with a team if you can help it, but you are at liberty to carry away anything you can find in overcoats at prices that will please you.

BY DAD.

Parker & Paul Wirt. Fountain Pens Guaranteed. Price $1 to $20.00. WAYNE DRUG CO., Boyd Annex.

Did you ever notice that these rent or farmers as a rule, who sell out at auction sale, have about as much machinery on hand as all the Wayne implement dealers together. By dad, no wonder a renter can't get rich with millions rotting away in farm implements every year. Most of them have two binders, about six kinds of discs, eight or ten different genders of cultivators, riding and walking plows galore—and one or two cows and a wagon load or less hogs.

It is too bad for Bentley, isn't it, that he should fall dead in company with a strange and stylishly dressed female in a cheap rooming house, while his good and trusting wife was a few blocks away! And to think that he was a candidate for President on the prohibition ticket, and preached to people about sinners. Well, there are some worse things than drinking cheap whisky, isn't there? That World Clyde Ecker is biding at Concord is just like this or there, has a "spot on it." Wake up, Clyde!—about the time you let the girls go to sleep and knock out a few niches in the World of newspaper fame—with your office towel.

A couple of weeks ago John Kate confessed that he was crazy, and this week he falls the Democrat he got killed, but Staley underwear revived him. A team of big horses attached to a cutter ran over John on the street, Monday, knocking so much wind out of the gentleman that he won't be able to write Staley ads for a month of Sundays.

They say Bob Armstrong is hoping that spot on the sun will grow bigger and the weather grow colder. Bob evidently is not afraid the world is coming to an end and we will all be here into the hereafter, and he is not so worried about it if it was, for Lere won't be any hereafter—for the coal man.

That's a very bum—rotten—"impression" Rev. Wright makes on the 1st page, after all the talk below it to the effect that the admirable gentleman was to make a good "impression" by grace of the Democrat. Baker Bros. Engraving Co. evidently put it on the bum purpose, but we didn't know what a miserable excuse for a half-tone it was until we had spent two days and nights trying to run the hoodoo through the press! We hope the party whom it is supposed to represent won't recognize what it is, or rather isn't, and the best apology we can make to the gentlemen is to say that the thing is not Wright, at all.

A Michigan man who has just celebrated his one hundredth birthday says that he has never touched tobacco or liquor. What do you suppose the darn fool wanted to live so long for?

Albert Marsh of Des Moines, Io., at the age of 19 years, is married and is a father and has been sent to the penitentiary for securing goods on a forged contract. Des Moines whiskey must be "newer" than Wayne's, which is always about a week old if you drink it late on Saturday.

A Chicago professor has discovered a spot on the sun 80,000 miles in width. That's what make it so cold last week. The spot is egg-shaped and it may be a sign that eggs are going to be higher or that the world is coming to an end, either of which is impossible.

Fashionable eastern women are now carrying little monkey in their muffs. It is hoped that the fad will not have the effect of causing the women to act any more like monkeys than they do.

Congressman Hitchcock is coming home to edit the World-Herald, and Richard L. Mitchell goes to Comstock, which will make the World-Herald more common than corn, and the Comstock more so common as comery.

According to the following item from the Cherokee Democrat, the telephone girls in Iowa are just as sweet as their Nebraska cousins:

It is pretty hard to get ahead of a telephone girl. At Storm Lake the other day a young man was trying to talk over the line to his sweetheart. After several attempts he again rang up central but was answered, "Line is busy, call again." By this time he was a little uneasy and shouted, "Get to business!" and hung up the receiver. As the young man thought of his rude answer to the young lady he became very much ashamed and decided to apologize. He again called up central and told her she was sorry for what he had said and wished to square himself by throwing her a kiss through the phone. He nearly dropped dead when the young lady replied, "All right, let it come; I am sitting on the receiver."

The cold weather of last week helped Al Pont of the Stanton Register get next to his readers. His column of "Dew Drops" froze up and formed icicles, giving patrons of the paper a chance to "see the point."

Of Interest to Mothers

Thousands of little ones die every year of croup. Most of them could have been saved by a few doses of Foley's Honey and Tar, and every family with children should keep it in the house. It contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Mrs. George H. Pickett, San Francisco, Cal., writes: "My baby had a dangerous attack of croup, and we thought she would choke to death, but one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved her at once after other remedies had failed. We are ever a minute without it in the house."

Rev. S. A. Draus and wife went to Omaha last week where Mrs. Draus underwent an operation at the Methodist hospital. Mr. Draus returned Tuesday evening and reports that his wife was getting along as well as could be expected.

Pay up for the DEMOCRAT and get the Iowa Homestead for 25 cents.

Robt. Utter of Norfolk has sold his claim in the Rosebud country for $500, after spending half that much to get it. Probably if Mr. Utter considers the loss of time to his business he is a loser. Mr. Utter was lucky. (?) he got in on the 2 1/2 hundred out of 125,000 and the railroads and the government were to make him worth from $5,000 to $10,000—sort of a gold brick game.

The DEMOCRAT understands that Geo. Philleo sold his relinquishment for $100, and that it cost him over $200.

Embryonic Wayne

By Whose Who

TOM STEELE

I suppose you all know T. J. (Tom) Steele was Wayne's first settler. Many of us have heard Tom tell of the particularly bright Sunday when he and his partner, Ed Morris, pulled up at M. N. Conover's (Connie's) farm, just east of Wayne. My recital must of necessity lack Tom's epigrammatic style, punctuated with his notably audible smile; but I remember it was Sunday, for Tom says Ed (who was looking forward to an early marriage) insisted upon taking a bath, having a shave, putting on a "billed shirt," and otherwise arraying himself as if he intended to take her to church, but in reality only in commemoration of a day, which for the lack of a calendar and the pealing of bells, Tom had for gotten was due.

Shouldering his spade Tom struck out for Wayne, easily distinguishable when you reached it by pegs, which recently driven designated the lot corners. Finding his lot without difficulty he then and there prepared for the erection of the first business house in Wayne. On this lot, now occupied by Neely & Craven, Morris and Steele started in the hardware business, which with a few changes of ownership has been continuously and successfully carried on ever since. "The better the day the better the deed."

While Tom was laying the block foundations of his business house and fortunes, Ed was doing better yet—making the acquaintance of one of the first and best men to come to Wayne County, Monroe N. Conover. Tom says that the first thing "Connie" did when he came to develop his farm was to dig a hole in a slightly spot, 6x8x2, alongside which at night he would lie, wrapped in his blanket, thinking if he felt much worse he would simply roll over. Tom tells something to this effect to illustrate the indomitable spirit of the man who fought and fought successfully for twenty years that in curable disease—consumption. He was a loyal Baptist, one of the broad kind who believed in water in the atonement and as a disinfectant, that it is conducive to "cleanliness which is next to godliness," and that it leads to better things.

Tom Steele may think I am indulging in a vein of humor if I state that while in Wayne he took a leading part in its social, political and religious life. Tom's chery laugh is one of the things unforgettable; it was hardly what you would call musical, nor was it discordant; it was simply all pervading, and if, as has been said "eventually all harmony reaches heaven," we ought to get Tom's laugh on the rebound about the time this goes to press. So much for Tom socially.

Religiously—Tom built the First Baptist church in Wayne—in his young or days he would tackle anything, hard-shell or otherwise, Crab and Baptist; all were alike to Tom. Why not? He was and is a leader. He should have been a soldier. He would send you to hell like enough, but he'd go along, and he would never be shot in the back except by some one who did not dare to follow.

Thomas J. Steele in politics was not a success—neither was he a failure; he was too aggressive to be a pleader—he was more of a sand bagger; he could convince a man against his will, but as the old saw says "that won't stick." He was elected county clerk and ran the office efficiently and well, but that settled it. By nature and at heart he was a democrat. If Wayne county had sought a method of extralimiting its better plan than to have elected them county clerk. Did you ever think about it? C. E. Hunter, R. B. Crawford, Tom Steele, Chas. Johnson, Wm. Miller, S. B. Russell, John Coyle, Bert Brown. The thought might suggest itself to the voters that it might be well to elect men to the office of county clerk whom you wish to be of use, and not the kind of men you wish to keep. That bunch above under favorable conditions would be the making of a town—"All sorts and conditions of men"—good men.

Dr. Crawford, as I have previously indicated, was one of the early county clerks, but then as now had his iron in many fires; so to Mrs. H. M. Crawford, his wife and deputy tell the brunt of the work in the recorder's office, where she established a standard of excellence which is the standard still. There was little of it, in truth, because business was light in those days, but every bit of that little was there. I heard D. G. Main and Frank Deaborn comparing notes as to how in checking their abstract books with the numerical indexes they had failed to find a single error or omission in Mrs. Crawford's work. Mrs. Crawford was an advanced woman without knowing it, twenty years before there were any. I am sure she will pardon me for giving publicity to a fact which she and others have long known but which she, with most becoming reticence would not allude.

But to return to the Doctor, "the tall cottonwood of the Coon," as he was often jokingly and affectionately designated. One installment will not hold him, and I will revert to him time and again during the course of this narrative, as I believe without a doubt in my own mind that Dr. R. B. Crawford is the most picturesque figure in Wayne County's history, and that means there are mighty few more so out of it. In the days we are somewhat dreamily reverting to the doctor was something of an accidentalized "Pobahn" or Lord High Everything, being county clerk and ex officio recorder, coroner, doctor, official well (also grave digger, which last was not advertised, being somewhat at variance with his profession notary public, by the grace of God and Albinus Nance, governor, fence posts for sale, and last but not least, member of the real estate firm of Crawford & Feather, "Reliable and Trustworthy," all of which was made known to an awaiting world through and by means of all the words of the advertising space of the La Porte "REVIEWER." The Real Estate part of this "ad" catching my eye, I entered into a correspondence with "Reliable and Trustworthy," and after a few preliminary skirmishes started for and reached La Porte in Tom Berry's stage via Wisner, shortly after Brookdale (later Wayne) had been definitely located.

I never knew whether it was "Reliable" or "Trustworthy" that met me that evening, but as my rate of it was our general fellow townsman, B. F. Feather, who escorted me to his office situated in quite a stately edifice, a portion of which, Mr. Feather explained to me, they were permitting the county to use temporarily. I was much impressed before the evening was over by the apparent importance in the community of "Reliable and Trustworthy" or "Reb" and "Tut," as they were called by their familiars. The whole town seemed to be centralized about their office. In an adjoining room I was made aware from certain tense and eager remarks percolated therefrom that something of importance was transpiring. Then after a few preliminaries I was ushered in by Reb or Tut and saw a group of excited men surrounding a table at which sat four others feverishly fingering a deck of the greatest cards I have ever beheld—you could have tried them in a dry skillet and made gravy. The gentlemen who occupied the seats of honor were, as I afterwards learned, Tune Wardenburgh, Jim Britton, Brit Agler and John Bressler; game—"old sledge," stakes—cider, for which all hands, including myself, shortly repaired to the "Dew Drop Inn," run by Ed Feather, but for some reason I have never heard explained, not in his father's office.

In the morning Mr. Feather introduced me to the "Tall Cottonwood of the Coon." Having heard that he had just returned from an all night professional visit, I ventured to ask how he felt. He replied apparently without a conscious effort, "Like a green bay horse." That was the first time I had ever heard it, and I thought it about the slickest bit of repartee that had ever caromed off my cranium.

CHAPTER II
I had been lodged the first night of my stay at La Porte at the "Hotel Agler," maintained by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Agler in their home, which is now about all that is left of Wayne county's "Deserted Village," La Porte. It was not a very commodious caravansary, as a glance will tell you now, but it was snug as a Pullman sleeper and just as neat and clean. I was furnished with a good bed, a good breakfast, and good cheer. No more a wayfarer wants. Mr. Agler I learned was one of the first of Wayne County's settlers, but opposed at this time, and very naturally to the new town of Wayne, as the removal of the County Seat from La Porte would seriously injure his private fortunes. He furnished me with much information however, which I found to be absolutely reliable.

At the breakfast table I met Messrs. D. C. Patton and R. B. Martin. Martin was said to put a shawl strap around the "sides" and carry it home with him at night, a precaution some what superfluous it would seem, as it has been told me that more than once they had to "round up" their depositors to enable them to cash a $50 check. I relate this not to cause a smile, but because it is worth thinking about. That little bank is now the First National bank of Wayne, with assets of approximately $400,000. Of men and bank more anon.

The day being somewhat disagreeable, at the suggestion of Mr. Feather, we postponed our trip to the country till the next day, Saturday. This arrangement afforded me an opportunity to look over the little town, so soon destined to die. Even then part of it was on wheels.

Besides the Court house and School house, both still standing, was a lumber and implement yard run by G. W. Waite, a progressive, wide awake business man who cast his lot with Wakefield when the exodus from La Porte began, much to the regret of the Waynites, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Waite I learned were extremely popular. I found later that George Waite couldn't help treating people kindly and courteously so of course he don't deserve any credit for it, but it seemed to make him many friends. He is now living in Sioux City. Ollie Ellis who was associated with Mr. Waite is now cashier of the Bank at Wakefield. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have many friends in Wayne today. There were a number of neat but modest dwellings in La Porte, by far the most pretentious, being that of Dr. Crawford, which was removed from there to its present site in Wayne. The James Britton home is still standing. I believe and used for a farm house.

There is something pathetic about deserted La Porte, even to me, who never lived there. To those early pioneers, who in reality endured the hardships and privations of the frontier, who contended with the blizzards with insufficient fuel, and to whom "the grasshopper was, in reality, a burden," must cling a fond remembrance of old La Porte, which time will never obliterate. One who knows (continued next week.)

G. W. Culler is Dead.
G. W. Culler, one of the early Wayne settlers, passed away this forenoon at about ten o'clock, after a few days illness with pneumonia.

A number of Wayne members of the I. O. O. F. went to Magnet Tuesday night to help establish a branch of that order there. Those who went were Chas. Reynolds, Geo. Springer, R. P. Williams, J. B. Jeffrey, Will Lewis, Wilson Rickabaugh, Otto Kuhl and Chris Hanson.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Colberts friends met with them to help celebrate their 15 wedding anniversary. A pleasant evening was spent playing progressive dominos.

We suppose this weather makes the coal men happy but we don't see any one else who is badly stuck to the weather unless it may be the mail carriers.

Geo. Colbert has rented the Andrew Staab building on main street and we hear he will move his stock of drugs into it soon.

Mrs. Candor entertained a lady friend from Wayne Thursday.

The Hoskins young people went out to spend the evening with Florence Williams Wednesday.

Last Saturday evening being H. J. Candor's birthday a few friends planned to surprise him. The surprise was a success and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all those present.

Advertisements having appeared in various publications wherein Sears, Roebuck & Co. offer Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines, we wish to warn the public that they are not our authorized agents and that we do not sell our machines to them nor any other catalogue house or department store.

Their advertisements are not for the purpose of promoting the sale of our machines. They are using our reputation as makers of the highest grade machines only, in order to get the names of possible buyers and persuade them to purchase one of their cheap STENCILED MACHINES, the manufacturers of which they are, evidently, ashamed to make public.

If you want a genuine Wheeler & Wilson machine, do not waste your time writing to anyone who is unable to furnish it. NEW THOUGHTS.

Are you growing more attractive as you advance in life? "Given a healthy body," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in women's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., "and a healthy mind, and everyone can cultivate and enjoy happiness."
We must eat properly and digest well to be beautiful. It is a fact that any form of dyspepsia may in a few days transform a clear, white skin into a mass of pimples and black spots. A beautiful woman has the beauty of her stomach.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery maintains a person's nutrition by enabling one to retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common. A tonic made up largely of alcohol will shrink the capillaries of the blood and make them weaker for resistance.
"This is to certify that I have used Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the greatest medicine in the world," writes Mrs. W. M. Young of West W. Va. "I had dyspepsia in its worst form. I decided to try your medicine. I used five bottles, and now I am doing my own housework. A number of my friends also are using Dr. Pierce's medicine and they recommend it highly. May God bless you in your grand work."
Dr. Pierce believes that a tonic made with alcohol will shrink the red blood corpuscles and make the system weak for resistance. That is why he avoided the use of any alcohol or narcotics in his "Golden Medical Discovery," which contains the pure extract from roots and herbs without a particle of alcohol.
Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for dyspepsia or debility.
Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The beef trust ought to be done to a finish. It is certainly getting plenty of roasting.

It is now estimated that there will be a deficit of $60,000,000 in the national accounts at the close of the fiscal year. Perhaps Mrs. Chadwick could offer Secretary Shaw a few valuable suggestions on floating some paper.

If the committee has that $10,000 raised for a county fair they should at once call another meeting.

If digging the canal is to be a man job it is easy to tell who will get that $4,000,000 diamond.

Weather Observer Purcell, of Sioux City doesn't believe that a spot on the sun only 80,000 miles in width can be seen through a smoked glass. It depends a great deal on what the observer has been drinking the night before.

There is a quite general suspicion that the czar made a personal selection of those thirty-four workmen he consented to "see."

Isn't it about time for the LeSueur, Minn., liar to find one of Hoch's murdered wives somewhere in that section of the country?

An English scientist is going to extract gold from sea water. If he succeeds there should be at least a small wave of prosperity for each of us.

The question is: Have we got the beef trust by the horns or just a tail hold?

It is announced that shoes are to come higher. I suppose that means that dresses and pants will come higher in order to show the pretty spring hosiery.

A bill has been introduced in the Texas legislature to allow railroads to issue passes to state officials. The next thing in order is for Texas to go republican. Such signs are infallible.

There seems to be a question of veracity between the United States supreme court and the beef trust, that there isn't any question about what the decision of the public will be on the question.

Well, the supreme court has affirmed the decision of the lower court against the beef trust. Is that all there is to it?

Postal receipts in St. Louis last month were $28,000 greater than in January of 1904. People stranded there after the fair have been writing for money to get home on.

The dispatches, one day this week, announced the killing of a Russian autocrat in his study. That's a new place to assassinate 'em but the hog house would be more appropriate.

Beautiful eyes and handsome face are eloquent commendations. Bright eyes are windows to a woman's heart. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes bright eyes. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Raymonds Drug Store.

The big musical farce comedy, "Maloney's Wedding Day," now in its 6th successful season, will be the attraction at the Opera House on Monday, February 13th. Countless thousands have laughed themselves into hysterics at its funny situations, ludicrous happenings and the comical actions of famous Dan Maloney. The skit is one jumble of genuine jokes, fine scenery, beautiful costumes, calcium lights and surprises brought forward without any attempt or excuse. The piece is totally lacking in anything like a complicated plot, but who cares? It is a premium laughing carnival an excellent evening's entertainment, a dispenser of the blues and a source of every day life and has been stamped a success as such.

Letter From Mrs. Aug. Piepenstock.

Ocean Park, California, Feb. 3, 1905.
Mr. Goldie:
Our dear daughter, Pauline died Friday evening the 27th of January at eight o'clock. She was born in Hagen, Westphalen Germany the 18th of August 1884 and came to Wayne when she was a year old after which she lived in Wayne till two years ago when she went to Cal. on account of ill health. At first the Ocean air agreed with her and we thought she would get well again, but it did not take long until she commenced losing again, after which all medical aid and change of climate did no good. She was at home when she died; her sickness was long trouble. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the M. E. Church, the M. E. minister being assisted by the Christian minister. She was my oldest daughter, being 21 years old at her death. The floral offerings were beautiful.
Please put something about it in your paper.
We read in last week's paper that I was married or was going to get married, but must say that you were wrongly informed. I have troubles enough without getting married.
Hoping you will have something about my dear daughter's death in the paper, I remain,
Yours Truly,
Mrs. Aug. Piepenstock.

Bixby hits it square in the jaw when he says: "If Secretary Morton, while working for the government, will only rattle-dazzle the railroads as successfully as he bamboozled the government while working for the railroads, freight rates soon will be lower than Minnesota mercury."
It every feeder of young steers in Wayne county could read Wayne Democrat's article on "Feeding Young Steers for Market" in the current issue of The Homestead, and faithfully apply the principles inculcated, it would be advantageous for all concerned. The article is in answer to a query from a stockman who contemplates feeding twenty high-grade Angus steer calves that will be a year old in April and May. Professor Dismore says the calves should now weigh 500 to 550 pounds and should gain 10 to 800 pounds in the next ten months and be ready for market in November or the first of December. "Greatest possible gains consistent with reasonable cost of feed should be the aim," he declares. He goes on to discuss the various foods composing the several possible balanced rations to force calves in this manner. The article is full of facts and sound logic; and the DEMOCRAT regards the publication of such special articles by The Homestead as highly commendable. We are talking large numbers of subscriptions for this excellent farm paper.

The Local News.

T. M. Woods was a business visitor from Carroll Wednesday.
Jas. Hurst attended a Duroc Jersey hog sale at Blair Wednesday where he bought several brood sows.
Emil Hanson tells a heart reading tale about a farmer who lives south east of town. It was about two o'clock in the morning when Mrs. Hansen awoke her husband and told him some body was sneaking their chickens. Mr. Hansen listened a few minutes and hearing some disturbance, dressed and went out in the barnyard where he found a farmer and his team in sorry plight. The fellow's buggy wheels had become entangled in some machinery in the snow, and the man, maudlin drunk, was having the time of his life trying to make the horses pull it out, having pulled the bridle off one animal and generally knowing less about getting out of the mess than the poor horses. Mr. Hansen very kindly un hitched the team and stabled them, and took the poor devil in hog shape into his house to save him from freezing to death, as it was one of the coldest nights of last week. The old fellow was penitent enough next morning and begged his benefactor not to tell his disgrace to the public.
The DEMOCRAT believes it is its duty to call the attention of the mayor and marshal of the city of Wayne that a perfect horde of young boys can be found almost any night about the card tables in the various places in the city, and that if the proprietors of these institutions do not know enough to keep the boys out it is the duty of the city to order all card tables removed. The DEMOCRAT cannot be accused of undue zeal in making people good by law, but there is or ought to be a limit to the privileges granted some people, and where parents do not know enough to keep their boys out of such mischief, the marshal should assist them. After a man gets to be twenty-five to eighty years old and spends the greater part of his time playing cards for fun, cigars or a few cents, there is no hope for him any way, he'll never be any credit to the business or social world, but with the boys from twelve to eighteen years of age there is an opportunity to make men of them. When this card playing mania reaches the stage it has in Wayne it is about time to draw the line on the "kids," at least.
