The Powell Divorce Case

At the reconvening of district court Monday the petition of Camp Powell for divorce from his wife Lillian Powell, was taken up. Atty. Olson of Wisner appeared for the plaintiff, and Welch & Davis put up a cross bill for divorce and alimony, and the custody of the children, for the defendant. Witnesses were dispensed with by both parties, Mr. and Mrs. Powell and Miss Agnes Powell being the only ones sworn. The plaintiff first took the stand and he reviewed his married life and told the court what his worldly possessions were, the testimony being in general about the same as that given at the trial of Mrs. Powell last fall. Miss Agnes Powell, a sister of plaintiff, next took the witness seat and told how she had cared for the children since their mother had tried to put their father out of the way. She said they had "grown like weeds" since she had cared for them; being dirty, ragged and sallow when they were put under her care. Now they were red and rosy, etc. The defendant, Mrs. Powell, was then called. Few people in the court room would recognize her as the same person before the bar of justice a few months ago. Then she was puffed, a sad frail looking little woman, apparently forty or fifty years old. Tuesday she made a quite different appearance. Her face was full of the rich color of the buxom, sprightly woman of twenty-five or thirty, and her expression animated, although perhaps at times a shade of deep sadness passed over her countenance. Mrs. Powell "made a good witness" for the defense, far from the scorned kind. She said she had received no support from her husband since her acquittal last fall; she had written him and also Miss Agnes Powell, but they had not answered her. That she sent her children a few little tokens for New Years, but they were returned, with a curt note, written on the wrapper, by Powell. That she had offered to go back and live with him for the sake of the children. She further testified that at the time of her marriage he owed considerable money on house, barn and horses, all of which had been paid; that he had said rather than give her money for the children's support he would give them to his sister or brother; that he at times had beat and struck her, once choking her, that he constantly nagged her with how Agnes would do things and that it made her angry and she retorted, in answer to his abuse that "Agnes wouldn't do it that way," etc.; that his thumb nail left its impress in her neck for two days; that when she was peeling potatoes he took the crock and all and threw it over her head; that at another time he tried to put her on a hot stove; but he always waited until they were alone before doing these things. Also that he did all he could to make her believe he was abusing the children, as she believed he was when she took a shot at him last summer, and did all he could to aggravate her and, in other words, put her off her balance. Then he refused to take her visiting to the neighbors; that she was sick and did her work and duty by her children as best she could, etc.

Court then took a recess and Miss Agnes Powell was called up to have a confidential talk with the Judge. During this conversation Mrs. Powell put in a word or two, Miss Powell who is quite an elderly lady of pale and thin features, wheeled about and for a moment it looked as though the 10 inch guns of the Japs and Russians would be put of the map by these two ladies, but Judge Boyd was from Missouri—the drama was nipped by the end. The whole affair was then settled by Judge Boyd ordering the defendant paid $20 per month for her support, the children to remain with Miss Powell until next May, when the court meets again, and if by that time the parties have been unable to agree upon the amount of alimony and other propositions the court will straighten them out.

Speaking about the matter Judge Boyd agreed on the suggestion that it was a hard proposition. He didn't think either party was fit to care for the little ones. When it was proposed that they ought to move away from their relations and try it all over again, the Judge shrugged his shoulders and said he didn't think he would—not after she had come down stairs in the middle of the night and gone to shooting at him. The Democrat's opinion is that both were largely to blame, but that it was other members of the Powell family, or at least their influences that raised all the hell. The whole case might be turned to good account by lots of married people who are having "a difficult time of it." No matter how much you fight with your wife or your wife with you, don't ever let any other member of either family do any of it. Always take the girl's side of the husband's side of the battle when some cheap cousin, aunt or uncle, sticks his or her snout into your private affairs.

Other cases disposed of were Scree vs. Wayne County, settled out of court; W. M. Wright vs. Carl Thompson, settled; Margaret Perry vs. C. W. Perry, divorce granted; Bona Spencer vs. Francis A. Spencer, divorce granted; L. L. Lush vs. R. M. Wallace, Chas. Welch, John Larson and Ed. Wallace, Pierce has a big damage suit on hand that will probably cost the town some money. L. R. The petitioner recites that he is permanently incapacitated from practicing his profession by reason of the accident. Even with the little trouble Wayne has in this respect the town is to be congratulated on having nothing more serious considering the depraved state of our sidewalk a year or two ago.

a week given attorneys to file arguments to the court. This is matter where L. Lush had the defendants re-trained from operating a telephone line past his farm on the highways. Other, rural lines are interested, for if one farmer can raise any objection to poles being put in the wayway it will make trouble in numerous localities. Mrs. Emma Barley vs. Omaha railway, settled, Atty. Berry getting $250 damages for his client, Mrs. Barley was hurt in a car at Emerson by another car being bumped into the one in which she was sitting. Dr. Wright man, the company's physician, is now busking in California sunshine, on the strength of this case, so Mr. Berry says and it is quite evident that Frank had things fixed about right, railway attorneys usually find something wrong with the papers in these cases, and get costs, as will be noted by commissioners proceedings. All other cases on the docket were continued to May term.

Student in Kleptomania.

A young man named Robinson who has been going to College, stirred up quite a sensation Monday. He was about to leave for his home in Iowa when arrested for stealing a watch from one of his associates. He was taken to jail by Sheriff Mears, his trunk searched, and in it was found numerous articles belonging to students and faculty, including the watch. There were young ladies' gloves, some of Prof. Gregg's astronomical instruments, and as one student said, about everything that had been missed recently. In the afternoon Robinson plead guilty to petty larceny before Judge Hunter, and being awfully sorry, his first offense, and that another fellow gave him the watch, etc., the judge let him down easy with a $10 fine and costs. The fellow was returned to jail and was figuring how long it would take him to lay it out, when he was sent word by the judge that there wouldn't be any limit to the jail confinement if the costs were not paid. Robinson then had the sheriff telephone to a bank at Shelby, Ia., and funds were telephoned here and he was released. He visited the Democrat and explained that the other paper had agreed not to write him up; that it would lose him a good job by parties in Iowa. We told him it would be the duty of the Democrat to let the Iowa folks know what kind of a rooster he was, and as he started towards the Herald office a telephone call got us the information that he had been turned down there also, and proving him a disgraceless liar as well as a thief. Robinson is rather a goodlooking, well built fellow, but he is evidently bad, very bad.

How the People Got Fooled.

Last week the weather man had us believe that spring had come, and hundreds of people let their fires go out, and some put on light underwear. They got fooled, and some of them are in bed with colds. Some stores are like the weather, not to be depended on, but they succeed in fooling some people. Such stores are as changeable as the weather; one day they please you with bargains and the next they make you suffer by swindling you. In this store the climate is always pleasant and you never get fooled if you come here to trade. It is never hot here with goods sold less than cost, and we never freeze you out with high prices. We never get below zero, and our prices are never so high that you are made uncomfortable, if you purchase anything here. We cannot change the weather but we can furnish you with clothing to make you comfortable in any climate. We are now prepared to make you happy when warm weather demands a change of clothing. Our spring stock is now in and it looks and feels like a bright, new, spring day. The most pleasant part is that the prices are attractive and will please you. Not below zero and not at 100 per cent. profit, but at less profit than any other merchant asks. Not today only, but every day you will find clothing here that will please you and save you money. Our hats are a surprise to everybody, for they are direct from a New York factory, and we are always one season ahead of other merchants. Our shoes are known to be the best in town and our stock is the largest. Spring shirts are here in greater number than ever before. Take a look through this store and you will forget that we ever had cold weather. You can't get fooled if you trade here.

A large company of neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Holtz Monday night and made merry for several hours. This company of merry-makers has become known as the "Eastside Home Warmers" and they certainly warmed things at Neighbor Holtz' place. Games were played and pleasure reigned supreme until the luncheon was served, and the soup bowls passed. Everybody had their appetites fixed for oysters, but were contented with milk and crackers and ginger bread. The gingerbread was the good old fashioned kind and the ladies who made it are cooks par excellence.—Randolph Times.

BY DAD.

I'm afraid Dan McManigal will teach that Presbyterian bull bad tricks, show him how swear etc. But knowing the reputation "Presbyterians" have for truth and honesty I'm also surprised to think Dan would buy the bull. Just like as not the critter will make Dan's whole herd a Presbyterian flock, or gore them off the earth.

Marshal Miner is one man who will hereafter have to believe that "love is blind." The other day he and a friend were standing on the street, when a couple passed up the opposite side, the male member of the pair having a firm clasp on the maiden's hand. "See it or not," said the grocer, "just look at that newly married couple; ain't they a little crude?" "Why, that fellow's blind, you damn fool," stammered the marshal. "Blind, nothing; he's love blind," answered the grocer. The argument was settled on cigars and the marshal crossed the street—from Missouri. Now, by dad, the question is, if our marshal can't tell whether a fellow's in love or blind, how is he going to tell when a fellow is blind-drunk? Just explain to Sam Davies, George, I am not from Missouri.

They say that John Muth and Bill Dugan, of Plum Creek precinct haul chickens about by the hay rack loads. This is different from this neck of the woods, where D. N. Connable paid 5.05 per dozen for nine dozen mongrel chickens, and put up the cold coin for them.

Talking about funny expressions of speech, or "English as she is talked," John Boockhouse got off something the other day that would break a woodpecker's bill. John was telling his friends about a proposed trip he was going to take to Minnesota to buy some timbered lands and said: "I go by Minnesota and get me a wooden farm!"

Sam Temple says that if Bruce Roosa gets the post office he will have to get his mail at Wakefield. By dad, I guess it will go hard here, too, for I believe Bruce's first order would be to eliminate all democratic literature from the mails.

The Robinson petty pilfering, going on at the College, has made Prof. Gregg the victim of a good deal of joshing. It appears when Robinson came to the school he affected remarkable religious inclinations, and made Prof. Gregg his confidante and adviser, and got the kind professor to go down town and make Robinson acquainted with all the good brethren of deep piety. When Robinson was in jail he sent for Prof. Gregg to come and help him out, and when the professor said he couldn't do it, some of the students suggested to Gregg that he go round and "see the brethren." Robinson was not so slow. I'll bet he could have worked most any preacher in the town for a bill of good character.

I was telling somebody about that new son of mine, who arrived last Friday or Saturday, between two days, and stipulated the announcement that "there was more to follow" in our neighborhood, by dad (was not the only victim of a hard, cold winter, when Jack Cherry clipped in with: "Oh, that's nothing; why, every last one of 'em got it all round where I live except one old maid."

19 Years Selling Clothing in Wayne

Our Great Spring Opening of Mens' and Boys' Clothing

Why the Majority of Men Buy Their Clothing Here

Many reasons could be cited, but these, briefly told, will suffice: We never abuse the confidence of the people; we never touch shoddy goods under any circumstances; we guarantee every garment as represented and stand ready to refund your money for the asking; we give you the largest assortment to choose from; our buying in large quantities for our big store enables us to quote the lowest prices quality considered.

These are the principal reasons for this great and growing clothing business—by far the largest in the city. While each season brings us many new customers, it is a noteworthy fact that the majority of our first customers not only trade with us regularly, but many bring their friends. This is a record to be proud of, but we don't rest on our laurels. Forging ahead is our maxim, and this spring we are prepared to give you better service than ever before.

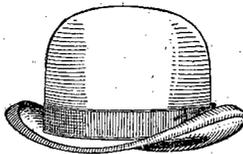

We are sole agents for the H. S. & M. Clothing. Every Suit must be right or your money back.

Florsheim Shoes

This line has now become the leading line of shoes in all the large cities. We have been selling them for ten years and have never yet had a customer complain of them. Every pair we sell makes a solid customer for this shoe. Every pair is sold with Florsheim's guarantee.

TWENTIETH CENTURY

Special Values in New, Spring Suits, at $15

Go to every store in town. Look at their $17 and $18 suits, then come here any day—you will be surprised to see the same value at $15. We realize this is a popular price with a great majority of men, and we make special endeavors to make this line as strong as possible. All the popular colorings and mixtures in suits with complete new lines of the nob—by green, tan, gray, brown effects. $15.00

Our Special Low Priced Suits are $6, $7, $7.50, $8, $8.50, $9.00, $10.00 and $12.00.

Spring Overcoats

The nobby, long black or Oxford gray. As these overcoats are from the best makers they fit perfectly. Our spring overcoats practically cover the entire field of fashion. We care not how particular or fastidious you may be, you will be sure to find just the coat you are looking for in this immense stock. We also carry a full line of TOP COATS, 34 inches long.

The Leading Hatters of Wayne

It is pretty generally understood that we are headquarters for the most stylish hats in the city. The "LONGLEY HAT" is conceded to be the best line in America. They have the "chic" about them that you will not find in other makes. See our new styles in the "Kobe" and "Flairon," in blacks and browns.

HARRINGTON'S, THE LEADING CLOTHIER

Embryonic Wayne

By Whose Who

Wayne is transplanted La Porte, a hardy bud grafted into a more hardy trunk. Hence the title "Embryonic Wayne." In continuing our little history we do not turn our backs on La Porte, but take La Porte with us to Wayne. Those of you who are self-sacrificing enough to follow me, will, I'm sure, do so with a spirit of toleration. I must of necessity hastily and clumsily sketch fleeting scenes with uneven love but little aptitude for the work, and with no possible regard to chronological order.

I have one favor to ask in advance, and it carries with it an apology—that you will forgive me if I make myself too prominent. It is very difficult to eliminate self in the recital of happenings, which from the point of view of the observer, the narrator must of necessity be the centre. He who sees, has his view-point and may himself be seen from any spot on the horizon which has come within his own vision.

To one who has seen cow-ponies nibbling blue-stem at the intersection of 2nd and Main Streets, who has trod every plank in town and almost knows who has planted every tree, it will be hard enough indeed not to be a part and parcel of it. I will do the best I can and leave the rest to your forbearance.

Some one has said that there are but three classes of individuals: who by the law of custom and usage are entitled to refer to themselves as "we"—reigning monarchs, newspaper editors, and men with tape-worn. As, unfortunately or fortunately I am neither the one thing nor the other, I will be obliged to make liberal use of the personal pronoun—I.

The next day, Monday, we, Mr. Panther and myself again drove into the county and to Wayne. Ignoring section line roads, we made a "besse line" for the bridge across the Logan south of Wayne. This bridge was built "square gone" (running nearly east and west to make a saving of length in construction), but I have heard more than one maintain that it was ordered to be so built to spite and injure Wayne, by certain commissioners who looked with disfavor on the town. I never believed it. The county commissioners were square with the world if the bridge wasn't. It got up across the river alright as it has many an other with a larger load than we had.

I think the only building south of the railroad was (aside from the depot) the present Perrin Hotel. Restaurants and hotels were much in evidence. They were the first essential, but not an absolute necessity to the town, as not a few "camped out."

Some used La Porte as a suburban place of residence and drove back and forth each night and morning. Many houses were moved over from La Porte, and long before the railroad company granted a train schedule, there were two each of general stores, banks, lumber yards, hardware stores, and drug stores; a newspaper, a harness shop, a book store, a tin type gallery in a tent, four or five restaurants, two hotels and two more under construction. Three churches organized, and three subscription papers stalking up and down the streets as naturally and as effectually as they do today. A "Town Hall Company" organized and a "Band" a little latter.

While providing for present, there was no ignoring of future necessities. The "Silent city" of "The Dead" was platted a year before an occupant moved in, the first inhabitant being a lonely, home sick boy who killed himself (the coroner's jury found) while in a state of despondency on a ranch which he was running alone out on or near the George Barnes farm. His body lies in God's acre—his name, in mine.

Wayne did not have to do as Bro. Harte's healthy California town—import a corpse to start a graveyard, but for nearly four years the Grand Army of the Republic had the grave of no comrade to decorate. There are all too many now! James (Phelan) was the first; I wonder if all of you have forgotten that soft voiced, gentle kind hearted soul who injured no one but himself. I always thought a lot of the Grand Army of the Republic after they had sought out and decorated the final and perhaps only resting place of their for-lorn comrade, "as ye do it unto the least." We are all children.

Professor Davies was the first Secretary of the Cemetery Association and I think there has been no other. Very quietly have the affairs of that little city been conducted. No elections, no Republicans, no Democrats, no dissensions, no ordinances excepting those of God; no dividends except Christ's promise redeemable at the Golden Gate.

Everyone remembers Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Bennett, most estimable people, who kept the "Bennett House"—long one of Wayne's landmarks. The "Old Man," as he was called, was the best land man who ever struck Wayne. You could blindfold him and drive him by devious ways twenty miles into the country in any direction, remove the bandage, and he would tell you the section, township and range, and would point out where you would find the corners. He reminded one of Bryant's "Water Powl," "Lone wandering, but not lost." Their son, John, had been raised a pet, and what he did not know (his father thought) had been omitted from the books.

The old gentleman told some wonderful stories of John's superior attainments. Among other things, John was an artist—a painter to the life. One winter, over in Ida County, Iowa, the elder Bennett, who was a great hunter, noticed that every rabbit he scared up sought shelter in a large log hollow at one end. Securing the assistance of his son and some neighbors, they turned the log around, and John painted a reproduction of the hollow end so skillfully that thereafter, when the old man wanted a little fresh meat, all he had to do was to start a rabbit, which would scud for the log, dash his brains out, and lo! there was his breakfast. The above is a true story, but not the one I started to tell.

One bright day, shortly after John's return from Harrington, after selling all the land there was up there, and ruining the business in consequence, a distinguished looking stranger with black mustache and plug hat hove up on the scene. He was a very generous gentleman who simply "gave things away," as this will prove. His method was to sell you a nice little piece of laundry soap for a dollar; then he gave you a beautiful old watch with a dollar bill neatly folded in the case. They were selling fast, and presently he got careless and put in a ten dollar bill, which another stranger bought for a dollar. Then the generous gentleman requested that they refrain from showing their prizes because he didn't want the people to know what an absent-minded fool he was. He also raised the price of the soap to $5.00 a package. John was about the first to notice that the careless fellow was still folding up the ten dollar bills. Calling pa aside, John soon had $25.00 which, quicker than a flash, he exchanged for five nice pieces of laundry soap, five watches which you could wind and which would run—you could hear them tick—and five nice, new ten dollar bills which John had seen go into the cases.

"Pretty good for a short half hour's work," said the fond parent. After selling perhaps a dozen more the generous gentleman noticed that the train had pulled in, and as he run out of town temporarily as he would be obliged to go to Sioux City to secure some more, and would return; but he requested that they tell no one or he feared he would not have enough to go round upon his arrival.

When John and fond pa, retired up the alley to divide the spoils, they had five cakes of soap, alright; five brass watch cases, five live June bugs (which constituted the works, and would tick just as natural as life) and five beautiful engraved mementoes, entitled, "An easy way to wealth." It's a far call from gold bricks to real bricks, which John Sherbahn has been furnishing from the very start of Wayne. His little plant was a small affair at first, and gave but scant promise that before many years it would be the chief manufacturing establishment of Wayne County. John has built this up by the greatest industry and a thorough knowledge of the business. There were many difficulties to contend with on the start, the chiefest being, I think, high water.

"When the land was young" and the prairies all uncultivated, the water quickly sought the streams, which at least once a year would overflow their banks. More that once have John's fires been put out, and more than one kiln of "green" brick has been ruined for him by the rising water. I remember in particular one spring when the water was unusually high, overflowing the banks of the Logan to the Nangle home, a crowd of us was down at the old "cata-wampus" bridge, expecting and hoping it would be carried away. Some one noticed that out in what was then Perry Bros. and Warner's pastures, some "little animals had sought refuge on a small piece of elevated ground. They looked like cats, black and white; and so they were—divet cats. (Mr. Goldie's delicacy compels me to use this generic but less common name.)

Ted Perry's attention being called to them, he shortly left, but soon returned with rubber boots and gun. Weather wise; Ted waited until the wind shifted into the west and "waded in." It was hardly a fair contest; Ted could shoot farther than they could and knew it. He made short work of the pretty little creatures, but failed to bring back their pelts, which were probably shot full of holes.

MARRIED

Jas. Franks, brother of O. D., and Miss Julia Sullivan were married at Sioux City yesterday, and will return to Wayne this evening.

Other couples united during the past week were, Miss Alvina Harder and Otto Hennerichs, which took place at the German Lutheran Church and was a gala occasion, a big reception being held later at Mr. Mrs. John Harder's, parents of the bride. License to wed were issued to Erick Staam and Miss Mary Chapman both of Hoskins, Ezra Beckenhauer and Miss Lydia Haglund; Nels Jorgensen and Miss Mary Hansen, Winfield; Henry Miller to Miss Lena Holmbeck, of Hoskins; John McCorkindale to Miss Ada Driscoll, and Nels J. Anderson and Miss Anna Petersen all of Wakefield.

Nothing like the De Laval in separators.

All the farmers know where they get a square deal in machinery. A. G. Powers has a reputation for fair and honest business.

Miss Vera Eubree has been engaged to teach the primary department of the Hoskins schools. She departed Saturday for that place, school commencing Monday.

Hal Sherbahn sold his house and lot south of the track to Spring Jorgen yesterday, the price being $900.

Tom Loud was a visitor from Winfield Wednesday.

You want the best kind of farm tools and if in doubt about them look over Power's line of implements before buying.

Earl Fleetwood is to be married March 15th, so the Democrat is reliably informed to a Wisconsin lady. They will occupy the O. A. King residence.

John F. Schmidt of Bloomfield went to Kansas Tuesday to look for land; He doesn't want anything more to do with McVicker's kitchen.

The Clark-Peterson Shorthorn sale last Saturday was the best, considering attendance and prices, ever pulled off in Wayne. Most of the cattle were only calves, some of them late at that. The average price was $22.00 per head. E. Cunningham and Z. M. Baird appear to have done even better; than the high priced auctioneers upon previous occasions. Dan McManigall got the "Presbyterial bull," the cheapest animal sold, as he was worth, compared to the others, $50 more than Dan paid for him. The sales were as follows:

The way the eastern department stores get business is by advertising what they have to sell. We have no sympathy for the people who buy goods from them and get beat in the transaction. In fact we like to see them get "worked." Neither have we sympathy for the home merchant who sits back on his haunches and kicks because the hustlers get the business away from him. This week two instances have been brought to our attention of people paying more for goods in the east than they could have bought them for at home. Of course, advertisements was what led them to send east for the articles. One case was that of a man who paid $14 for a machine made somewhere in Pennsylvania. Besides the price of the machine he had to pay part of the freight. Identically the same machine is on sale at a Wayne store and the merchant does not pretend to ask more than $12 for it. But the man who bought the machine didn't know that he could have purchased here. The other case was that of a man who bought a range in Chicago. He paid $24 for it. A Wayne dealer is selling the same stove for $23 and is glad to get that price. About nine times in ten the buyer loses money by sending away for his goods, but so long as the eastern houses keep up the advertising they will get the business. In this day and age a man must hustle or take a back seat.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs. "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. Wayne Drug Store.

PERIL IN THE HAND-SHAKE.

Not long ago Dr. J. N. Hirsch, of Chicago, said: "The most delicate perfume upon the hands is not a sign of freedom from germs, and the most refined are not free from disease of lungs or throat, and the germs are rapidly spread by touching the hand that has handled the handkerchief of one afflicted with a cold, catarrh or consumption. The breath one inhales from the lungs of another may contain germs of disease. You will not only be liable to resist the germs of consumption, but many thousands of cases have been known where persons who were suffering from incipient phthisis, or the early stages of consumption were absolutely cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common."

An alternative extract like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, will assist the stomach in assimilating or taking up from the food such elements as are required for the blood, will assist the liver in throwing off the poisons in the system. Do not permit some designing druggist to mislead your intelligence by offering you a remedy which he claims is "just as good" because he made it up himself, or ten times as good as the medicine which he made up largely of alcohol, which will only weaken the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine which every person who has ever used it and it has stood the test of thirty-eight years of approval from people all over the United States. Price, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

There is a mossback in the Indiana legislature who doesn't know enough to come in out of the rain. When a lobbyist recently extended him the "courtesy" of a hundred dollar bill as an inducement to vote against the anti-cigarette bill, ungrateful block-head notified the house that he had been bribed. You would never catch a Nebraska legislator doing a thing like that. A hundred dollar bill may be a bribe in Indiana, but a four hundred dollar pass is a courtesy in Nebraska—and don't you forget it.—Pender Republic.

This is "Warm"

The legislature graffer who can make himself believe that the railroad companies of the state are willing to give him $500 worth of passes as a mere "courtesy" out of regard for his polished manners, his ravishing beauty and his Godlike wisdom, could easily persuade himself to accept the "courtesy" of a $500 bill for the same reason if it were offered him. What the Nebraska gang of past-grabbing grafters—otherwise known as legislators—need to bring them to their senses is a good, swift kick, squarely planted in that portion of their anatomy located just south of the small of the back, that will land them high and dry out of politics for the remainder of their natural lives.—Pender Republic (rep.)

"Why not abolish the senate altogether?" asks the Pender Republic. Why not leave the "altogether" alone, and just abolish the senate?

I don't know whether it happened in Columbus or Kearney. I do not even know whether it be a false or a true story. It is not my story. I tell it as Henry Carrig, Walt Phillips, or Homer Robinson told it to me. A man had a pimple on his nose. He scratched the pimple. The pimple began bleeding. The man went to the bathroom, got a bottle of witch hazel and bathed the pimple. Next morning when he went down to breakfast he had a nose as large as a goose egg. His good wife was horrified at his appearance. She asked him what had happened. He told her the circumstances. She asked him to show her the bottle from which he took the witch hazel. He procured the bottle. The bottle contained a patent medicine which the good woman had been using as a "bust developer."—Columbus Telegram.

THE ORIGINAL.

Foley's & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. Wayne Drug Store.

Hay for Sale

Women's Kidneys.

Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex. Nervousness, head ache, puffiness or dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Wayne Drug Store.
