Embryonic Wayne

By Whose Who

R. E. Crawford was the first medical practitioner in the county. For a number of years the colony had gotten along without that new necessary adjunct to society, but one spring when the "prairie mange" was making things lively, and causing the inhabitants to forget their minor troubles (and incidentally furnishing proof positive that there is good in everything) it was decided that something would have to be done, and done quickly. A meeting was called and plans were discussed. At length a list of all eligibles was presented from from which to select a doctor. One after another was scratched off the list (scratching being in great vogue at this time) until finally it resolved itself into a choice between Joe Agler and R. B. Crawford. Realizing the importance of the final selection it was decided that the contestants pitch a game of "crack-a-loo," three best in five. Joe won out, and "Doc" (for so he was thereafter called) was "it."

Nothing daunted he secured the "Home Herbs," Dr. Gun's Family Physician, and called in. The choice was a propitious one, for the new doctor having a real sense of the importance of profession, and his lack of proper qualification soon left for Chicago and its medical college, where he remained until he had earned his degree and certificate. In the mean time he persuaded Dr. Brown of Sioux City to come to La Porte and look after his practice. "Doc" Brown was a choice spirit, and fitted into the life of La Porte to a nicety. He moved with the rest to Wayne, and for a year or two looked after a medical practice of Crawford and Brown, the former at that time being very actively engaged in the Real Estate business. Dr. Brown, notwithstanding the dignity of his profession, was addicted to practical joking a habit which his life at La Porte had probably engendered. On one of his pranks which was laughable in reality, even if it should not prove to be in telling, I will attempt to relate.

Doctor Crawford had a human skeleton of which he was very fond. Whether it was the "mortal coil" of some old friend or simply of some specially favored patient, I do not know, but it was simply a beauty. The doctor had cleaned it and bleached it and sandpapered and polished it till the mother of its former owner could scarce have recognized it as her long lost son or daughter as the case may be. Then he had articulated it so cleverly that by the simple pulling of a single string each joint became a thing of life, and the whole would dance as merrily as a marriage bell, to the music of castanets which its own rattling furnished. Dr. Crawford was also very fond of his friend Brown, and as the latter had frequently complained of loneliness, he permitted him to keep his other friend in a corner of his bed room as a sort of company. It chanced late on night that Plump Martin dropped in to make a social call. Tam O'Shanter Kee—

"Plum loved Doc like a vera brither. They had been fou for weeks the gether."

"This was an opportunity 'Doc' had long hoped for but had never dared seek, so he piled Plum with wassail and good cheer and added to the merriment by a recital of stories of his medical college days, or rather nights, when they "stole stiffs" in the dark of the moon, when the wind was moaning and the owl hooting in a tree overhead. Plum was becoming uneasy and cast more than one furtive glance at the suggestive cabinet standing in the shadow at the foot of the bed but when Brown suggested that they seek the latter, Plum could not decline.

For an hour he lay there, but try as he might, he could not keep his head under the covers; there was a strange fascination about that stranger behind the doors of the cabinet at his feet. Brown had apparently looked been asleep, and when Plump kicked him his only answer was a louder snore. The silence was unendurable. He could have heard a dew drop with one ear tied behind him; when he turned over he could hear the bed tick. Unable to resist the inclination he found himself playing a regular game of "peek-a-boo" with a "has been." At last he was sure he heard a rattle, soft, but frightfully significant, then—Holy Horrors! a creak as of a pair of snapping jaws! Human nature could endure no more. With a shriek and a bound Plum was out of bed and the door, carrying the bed-clothes with him. Plum had time for one fleeting glance, but he always swore that "the thing" as he called it, had its phosphorescent thumb held to its phosphorescent nose, and as it waggled its phosphorescent fingers he distinctly saw it wink at him—the first and last wink Plum has ever been known to ignore. Bounding through the snow he gained his room at the Boyd, and notwithstanding the zero weather he was so rocking with perspiration that he had to wring his shirt so hard as to waken all the roomers of the hotel, who thinking he was a fire came to put it out. Big without bed clothes the doctor had to get up a-d dress, and later had to tend Plum professionally for brain fever, from which he never recovered. When Dr. Brown removed from Wayne to Sioux City he was succeeded by Dr. Everett Sherman. "Doc" Sherman was a hard student, but he carried it to excess. It was said he could read the "Materia Medica" backwards, forwards or sideways with equal facility. He retired from the active practice of his professions some years ago, but the people still persist in calling him "Doc." He was succeeded by Dr. Wightman, who rain or shine has invariably followed the scriptural injunction "Physician heal thyself."

THE RINK.

See here, my youngsters, have you all heard tell About the Rink? You haven't? well It's time you had, long before this— Oh, please! I'm almost certain that your maw and paw Have not neglected you like that, because It's more important than Old Santa Claus.

The Rink, it stood just about forty feet Due east of Pearl and south of 2nd street. Paul English, he owned half, the other was Tom Steele's. And here your future parents walked on wheels About six hours a day or rather night, A year or more before you saw the light.

Mr. McNeal, who now is Post Master, Could skate just like the devil and much faster. And it was splendid, how he could amuse The girls, by cutting curliques. And names and dates and figure eight; He cut out all the boys on roller skates.

He always led the wheeled procession, and He also was leader in the band; He skated at the front and you would find When he fell back he would not fall behind. As I did, but I'd never risk the chance, Unless I wore a cushion in my pants.

The floor was made of awfully hard wood; Too hard—I never understood When I skated or sat down much after. I wonder why they didn't make it softer. For when I tried to make an easy landing, It was too solid for my understanding.

You ought to think a whole lot of the Rink Because in case of some of you I think But for it you would surely not be here. But skating in the ambient atmosphere; For in 'The Rink I'd almost make a bet Your future parents for the first time met.

Jas Chase came up from Pilgrimage Monday to visit relatives, going to Sioux City Tuesday afternoon.

C. R. Munson tells the DEMOCRAT that Mrs. Munson is recovering nicely at the Omaha hospital, an operation not being necessary at all. She expects to return home in a couple of weeks.

Mrs. R. Durbin entertained at a six o'clock dinner last Friday evening, complimentary to Mrs. Freeze, of Lincoln, the Wayne ladies present being Mesdames Pile, Vincent, Williams and Ley.

Will Hodson was down from Bloomfield Tuesday.

Editor Gibson was down from Magnet Monday. Mr. Gibson has a money-making paper in that little burg.

While driving up 2nd street Tuesday one of Robt. Baird's horses caught his rear shoe in one of his forward shoes, throwing the animal under the buggy and considerably wrecking the vehicle. The horse was at first thought to be dead, but was only slaming.

Undertaker Gaertner was called up to Hoskins Tuesday night to care for remains of Mrs. Swanson, who died Tuesday morning. The Swansons formerly owned the S. B. Russell property in Wayne, trading it for the Skeen farm a half mile south of Hoskins, on which place they have been living. Deceased was about 56 years old.

Mrs. A. B. Clark and daughter went to Omaha Tuesday on a visit.

Chas. Thompson shipped a car load of horses from Norfolk to Sioux City Wednesday.

Rev. Duley was at Topeka, Kans., Monday when he was called home to attend the funeral of Tom Kimball at Wakefield. Ed. Bartlett and Geo. Merrill of Carroll were also at Wakefield to pay their last respects to the departed. Mr. Kimball died Saturday, he had been sick for a long time with lung trouble.

The nine-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Ringland has been quite ill with the grip.

Wm. Cadwell has been confined to his home the past week with an attack of pleurisy.

Mrs. Bertha Johnson went to Omaha Wednesday morning.

It's the Same Old Gang.

At the Citizens caucus held last Friday night Mayor Britton was renominated by a bare scratch on first ballot. F. M. Gregg was made chairman and Ed. Lundburg secretary. Five candidates were launched in the field for mayor, D. C. Main being allowed to withdraw his name, the four remaining being Jas. Britton, Wm. Piepenstock, Lambert Roe and E. Cunningham. Mr. Britton landed the grapes with eighty votes out of a total 159. Mr. Roe polled 35, Wm. Piepenstock 26, E. Cunningham 5, and D. C. Main 3.

For city clerk the rules were suspended and the secretary ordered to vote the convention for A. T. Witter; the same being the manner of nominating H. S. Ringland city treasurer. For school trustees Theo. Duerig of the 2d ward and T. W. Moran of the 1st were nominated.

At the ward caucuses Alderman Gaertner was put up for a second running in the "Bloody First," Lambert Roe in the "Presbyterian" 2d, and D. S. McVicker in "Methodistic" 3d, making the council the same old thing all the way round.

John Soules completely obscured Charley Martin in the management of affairs at the caucus. The town made no mistake when they elected John Soules; he is just the man to fill the place.

Sheriff Mears played a mean prank on Rev. Osborn. He handed the preacher a "John Soules" ballot, with the remark: "Here's a Presbyterian ticket." The preacher turned it over a couple of times before he felt a little foolish.

Jake Dornberger created the only excitement. Jake persisted in nominating D. C. Main a member of the school board, when that gentleman is already a member, and wouldn't give up when so informed, wanting to know in stentorian tones "what's the matter with my candidate? Isn't he good enough?" In an editorial last week the herald gave a rather vigorous invitation to all the kickers on the present administration to get out to the caucus or forever hold their peace; here's hoping they'll hold it.

Miss May Preston was up from Wakefield to spend Sunday with Wayne friends.

At a meeting of the directors of the Citizens bank held Thursday of last week Herman Henney was elected vice-president; vice the late J. S. French. The balance of the organization remains the same with the exception of G. S. French, a new director.

We are showing a fine assortment of New Gingham and all other kinds of Wash Goods. Our prices are always the same. A. ROSENBERG.

Mark Stringer sr. has been up from Lincoln the past week visiting his sons and friends. Mr. Stringer had the doctor at Stanton cut that little cancerous pimple from his upper lip and is in hopes he has got rid of the affection entirely.

The DEMOCRAT wants to see immediate action taken towards opening that street across the railroad tracks east of Main street. Any councilman who refuses to boost this needed measure will be held under suspicion of carrying concealed passes. This matter was left last fall with a committee of aldermen to look up; will they kindly report and show why the street should not be ordered open to traffic?

Good, baled hay for sale, 3 miles north Winside and 3 south of Carroll, at $5.50 per ton. A. T. Chapin, Winside, Neb.

WANTED—Five or six room house within three or four blocks of the First National bank, to rent April 1st. Call at this office.

Geo. Lueders requests the DEMOCRAT to extend to the Sons of Herman, Woodmen of the World, and other friends the sincere thanks of the relatives of the late Henry Lueders for their kindness and sympathy in the death and burial of his brother.

Fred Blair of Fremont was a guest of Dr. Frank Gamble over Sunday.

I have an elegant line of new style Henney buggies to arrive in a day or two. Call and get them.

A. G. POWERS. Subscribers to the DEMOCRAT would confer a great favor on the publisher if they would take notice of the date on their paper—when subscription expires, and make prompt remittance. It is an awful nuisance to take out names and throw in the type, and then a week or two later have to set them up and look up the back copies to fill up the gap. It is just as easy to pay for the paper on time as a few weeks later and a whole lot more satisfactory to all concerned.

"Free Passes" Always Cost Something.

At present the legislature of Nebraska is wrestling with the question of free passes. Railroad companies have never been known to give anyone anything free. Business is not done on that plan! Every business must pay a dividend or it will cease to exist. If a Railroad Company gives a pass to a member of the legislature it expects something in return and it always gets it. We used to do business in a town where there were two roads and the agent of one of the roads used to give us a pass to Chicago but he made us understand that all the goods we bought must be shipped over his road. We can not get a pass here for we have but one road and have nothing to offer in return for a free pass. If you trade at a store where they offer you some goods free if you buy other goods you are assured you are paying for all you get. If a merchant will sell you anything less than marked, you can bet your last dollar it was marked more than it was worth. If you trade at this store you will not be offered anything free, and you can not buy anything less than it is marked. We sell everything we have, and sell it at the lowest cash price, and to everyone alike. Isn't that fair? We have been doing business that way all our life and believe it the only honest way. You waste your time trying to get anyone in this store to throw in or throw off anything on any purchase you make here, no matter how large or small the purchase may be. We can not give you something for nothing but we can and will give you better clothing and for less money than you can buy elsewhere. If you have not lately been in this store step in and look around and you will see more clothing and better clothing than you have seen before in Wayne. You will make a mistake if you buy a suit before you see what we have. This business is growing fast and if you want up-to-date clothing trade at a progressive store. We can give you what you want and at the right price.

BY DAD.

The latest reports are to the effect that Fred Volpp and wife are going to move back to Wayne from Bloomfield, but that Fred is not going into the Kohl business.

Well what do you think about the city park proposition?

Clerk of the Courts Kuhl had a peculiar circumstance hit him last Friday night. He was on his way down town when accosted by G. C. Davis, as to P. H. Kohl's whereabouts; that Phil's boy had gotten a bad fall and the father was wanted in a hurry, etc. Mr. Kuhl began a hunt for Mr. Kohl and while looking for him at the court house caucused somebody informed him that he was wanted at home on a hurry-up call, that his little boy was badly hurt in a fall. So it turned out to be Kohl instead of Kohl. The lad fell off a ladder and was badly bruised but no bones broken.

This wasn't the first time the Kuhls and Kohls got mixed up, for one day Mr. Kohl called up Mrs. Kohl by phone, received the reply, as he thought, that it was Mrs. Kohl, and started to talk to her as a husband should, when the voice at the other end shouted "who is this?" "Why, this is Phil, of course," testily replied the land broker. "And who is Phil, I'd like to know?" asked the voice at the other end. "Well, what the devil's the matter with you?" answered Phil, and the receiver was hung up at, the other end with a bang.

Now is an opportune time for all honest men to pay up their debts. The assessor will soon be round, and it's better to have your debt paid up April 1st than to later lie out of having any cash on hand—especially if you don't belong to church.

John Soules wants the city dads to inflict heavy duties upon transient auctioneers—to protect John and Eph. Mr. Soules would be willing to pay a big royalty to "keep all this business at home," but Col. Cunningham says he is perfectly willing to take what Bro. Soules and the transient going-gone artists leave for him too.

A story that is too good to keep is out on Al Jacobs. It seems Link Neely is responsible for letting the story become a town topic, but anyway I've heard several men friends of Al say that when he got his electric light fixtures at Neely & Craven's he asked Link how to blow the pesky things out. Of course Mr. Jacobs hasn't been in town long, and he came from the north part of the county, which, as S. B. Seace and Bob Warnock says, accounts for much ignorance as to modern civilization. Al, of course, denies the story, and says he never said it, and out of kindness to him we'll have to take his version of the incident.

That 4th saloon proposition is making more of a stir now than it ever will when it opens up for business, which will probably not be until our Charley Martin is mayor and the city council is altered.

A drummer with a gall like a beet tried to be smart with a demure dining room girl in a hotel at Carroll. She brought with his coffee a small pitcher of cream. "Is this all the milk you give?" he asked. "Yes, that's all the milk I give," was the answer, "but if I was as fresh as you are I'd give a gallon!"

The "Bloody First" held up its reputation. "They" couldn't find a durned prohibitionist to stick on "their" ticket for alderman.

Sioax City will call her 1905 ball team "The Packers," presumably because the 1904 fellows canned such big gobbs of grief.

Missouri has been "shown." If she had to do it over again she would raise more Cockerills and build fewer Reidingerhouses.

No, by dad, I can't tell you where your copy of the DEMOCRAT goes when you do not get it. There are some parties here in Wayne whom I understand get this paper every week but not from this office, and there are none on sale elsewhere. It is a mean condition of affairs but we'll have to put up with it. F. H. Krei, for instance, became a subscriber last December, and his name was put on our list—in type and mailed from a mailing machine. Mr. Krei told me this week that he had just gotten two copies of the paper from the local office all the past months. At the same time some "prominent people" in town, who are too nice or hogish to spend a dollar a year for it, get it regularly, so I am reliably told; one lady telling her friends that "no, we don't take the paper, but we always get it just the same." Generally speaking, postal employees are careless about the handling of newspapers, and particularly so when they do not like to be bothered with a certain class of them.

Talking about dreams, the firm of Peterson & Berry are strictly in it, as well as selling hardware. Albert Berry says that last Saturday night he dreamed he saw Ed. Raymond standing in front of him, not a mark of his recent sickness on his face, while beside him stood Mrs. Raymond, smiling happily. Sunday morning he walked into the drug store and there they stood, the exact reproduction of his midnight vision. Several months ago Luther Peterson saw a pair of good shoes in the store, apparently mislaid them. All hands had hunted different times for two months for the missing shoe leathers but to no purpose. The other morning Peterson walked hurriedly into the store, alarming Berry, who never saw him act that way before, trotted to an obscure part of the building and pulled out the shoes. "How did you know they were there?" queried Berry. "Saw

The writer of "Embryonic Wayne" feels like quitting his or her job because of the numerous bulls and blunders of the DEMOCRAT typhos make in its construction. The author is considerably of a "literary cuss" and sensitive upon the matter of proof-reading but the writer needn't worry about it. Nobody knows who he, she or it is, and readers of the DEMOCRAT are not at all worried over typographical and grammatical errors, else, by dad, they'd all died of the trouble years ago.

Help Your Wife

Or Get a Divorce.

(By John Kate.)

One of the saddest things I ever saw was to see a wife use a saw and hammer trying to make a box for a hen with a new flock of young chickens. Ninety men out of a hundred expect the wife to raise the chickens, they expect her to furnish all of the groceries and clothe herself and help clothe her husband with the poultry, but they fail to help her in providing the necessary things to raise the young chickens. Now is the time to get the boxes ready as in a short time the busy season will be here and you will not have the spare time to attend to those things. Don't let your wife tie a hen by one leg to a stake and have her continually struggling to get away. It is not human to tie anything up that way. If you think it is, have someone tie you up out in the hot sun for one day by your leg. Go at it now and make boxes for your wife so that when her hens come off she will have them ready. Make them large and roomy so that a hen can turn around and high enough to stand up without stooping. Make them so they can easily be cleaned out and put hinges on the doors so she can close them in when it storms or at night to keep out the cats. Leave an opening for air and be sure you make them rain proof. Put in a floor or if you make them without a floor have a dry place for them. Don't expect your wife to raise chickens on nothing. Get her the necessary feed and the proper water fountain so that she can have plenty of fresh water before the young chickens. Don't ask her to raise chickens with the old fashioned corn meal, for it makes lots of trouble. Buy some millet seed or better still buy a sack of prepared chicken food. Make a box to hold plenty of grit and beef scraps. If you don't know how to make these things or when to buy proper food subscribe for a reliable poultry journal and find out. It will cost you fifty cents a year. If you can't afford that see the writer and he will gladly tell you how to do these things. The poultry is the most profitable thing you have and it is not right that your wife attend to the feeding and raising and not have the necessary things to work with. No farmer would ever think of doing his work without the best machinery and everything convenient to work with, but he will let his wife get along the best she can without anything to raise chickens with. Make things handy and convenient for her and she will do her part well. It will be profitable for you to make her happy. Do these things and do them now.

Heckert, dentist, over P. L. Miller

You haven't surely forgotten all the wind that was wasted last fall in a vain effort to tell the people that the republican ticket was a railroad representation, thick and thin, have you? The DEMOCRAT has not, and we simply want to call your attention to the fact that this paper told the truth, and every republican sheet in the state is now crying over the fact, told you an untruth, in fact knew they were lying to you about their candidates, with every g. o. p. paper rapping the legislature for being under the thumb screws of the railroads, with your Representative Ernst denouncing his brethren as being all in league with the corporations, and railroad lobby; is cracking it to Ernst as being one of the chief beggars of railroad passes, don't you think you have evidence; to convict—the republican party; belong to the corporations body, soul and breeches?

The Bancroft News submits that the legislature turned down the anti-pass bill good and hard, but nothing else could have been expected. The legislator's salary is nothing compared with the value of the "courtesies" extended to him as a member. The salary from the state stops at the end of a 90 day session and the "courtesies" run on for 750 days with a renewal at the end of the term in some cases as a reward for faithful service.

This, from the Bancroft News, is surely what Sherman said war was: The people who attended the Presbyterian church Sunday had an experience that they didn't enjoy. A mouse had crawled into the register above the furnace and was cremated, and it was necessary to open all the doors and windows to allow him to escape.

Witter's Coffees are uniform. They are uniformly the Highest Grades selected by experts. They are uniformly good, and exceptionally uniformly successful. They sell easily because of character and reputation. People of the better class do not want to speculate on the quality of coffee they buy. They want the sure thing, and to get it buy WITTER'S COFFEE always uniformly the same.

"IT WAS ALL A JOKE."

So Says Sid Relyea of the Prohibition Ticket.

The "Charley Martin" forces gathered at the city building Monday evening and put up an entire city ticket. About thirty people attended the caucus, and some good men were nominated for mayor but refused to take the honor. After C. A. Grothe, Geo. Crossland, and others refused, Sid Relyea was mentioned and said "yes, you bet." Sid tells the DEMOCRAT it was "all a joke," that there was an opportunity to do something, but that he was disgusted with the manner in which the anti-Britton forces acted; none of them wanting to put their shoulder to the wheel, but all kicking on the way the ship was being steered. Sid wants the public to understand he is not a candidate, and that he expects nothing to come of the caucus. Ted Phillee was nominated for city clerk, L. E. Gildersleeve for treasurer, Lambert Roe alderman 3d ward and I. W. Alter alderman 2d.

Speaking of the candidates Charley Martin says he will elect Alter for alderman, "he's pretty sure," but is "sure" to elect Mr. Roe for mayor. Gambling is the only objection the church people have against the present administration; and while the gambling is perhaps of small moment, small stakes, the DEMOCRAT is of the opinion that these little games in public places should be stopped, and that they will be the beginning of the administration year.

Personally, or to be a bit personal, the DEMOCRAT probably knows just about as much of how municipal affairs have been conducted the past year as well, say Charley Martin or his co-laborers. While the DEMOCRAT is neither worried about the opposition ticket put in the field, nor even if elected would such new administration be at all objectionable, we want to say that barring a few minor matters Wayne has been very well governed and managed under the administration of Mayor Britton, and such substantial citizens as Prof. Greig, Dr. Williams, Lambert Roe, John Gaertner and D. S. McVicker. In City Attorney Davis Wayne has a conservative and liberal-minded jurist, a gentleman who will have you sincerely believe, the backing of the mayor and council in enforcing any needed reforms or correction of public nuisances or offenses. If, among the church people, there is a desire to make the town better in any reasonable way, no better plan could be put into execution than a request or petition to the town board to accomplish such results. Notwithstanding there may be in the minds of some people an impression that this paper stands in favor of the saloon in preference to boot-legging and blind-pigs. There is certainly an inconsistency in allowing card games for mofly or parbles to flourish, and refuse to let cigar dealers sell their goods through the medium of a nickel in the slot. Cut both out or allow all to do business. So far as gambling, prostitution and kindred evils go, Wayne is just as clean and moral a town as there is anywhere in the state--of the live town class. There is such a thing as being too good--putting the churches out of business for want of something in the reform line to attend to. If you are a kicker, take your troubles to the "captain"; we believe he can fix you--or the other fellow; and it often happens that it is the kicker who is rather flat on the top of his top knob.

New bugles--at Powers warehouse. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rath went to Struble, Iowa, Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral of their grand son, a two-year-old son of Carl Rath. The little fellow was the pride of his parents and his death will be keenly felt.

Me Miller went to Omaha Wednesday morning to see if the doctors there could do anything for his rheumatism. Mac said he better have one of his legs cut off above the knee if he can't get the rheumatism taken out of it.

Frank Russell was here from Meadow Grove Monday.

A. T. Chapin of Whinside shipped a car of stock to his ranch at Denhoff, N. D. Monday, and Tuesday left for that place where he expects to spend the summer--if there is any.

Pierce, Leader: Mrs. Chas. White of Wayne arrived in the city Saturday and is visiting this week at the home of her brother, Chas. Watts, of southeast of town.

Sheriff Vears and Hans Hanson were in Carroll yesterday.

Plenty of Poisoned Pups.

Consternation reigns among the dog fanciers of Wayne, and dire threats are made against the miserable wretch who is putting the really good dogs in town to death by the poison route. Wednesday that handsome Scotch terrier of John Kate's fell dead on the sidewalk, and about the same time Al Sberbahn's famous bird dog passed over to the happy hunting grounds. Ike Walden's pet dog is another victim, and other dog owners are decidedly uneasy about their property.

Coming Wednesday Mar. 29.

Louise Marshall, the beautiful Chicago favorite, will play Lady Macbeth in Sanford Dodge's production of that immortal tragedy this season. Miss Marshall is very well fitted for this role, her splendid stage presence, beautiful voice and superb figure make her one of the ideal heroines of Shakespeare. Do not fail to see this superb production. It will be worth ten times the cost of admission. Remember the date March 29th, and get your seats early before they are all gone.

MISS JULIA SULLIVAN. Goods are being almost given away at the auction sales of merchandise at Leigh Bros. The proprietors tell the DEMOCRAT that tomorrow will be the last day of the auction sales.

Some of the people who will play prominent roles in Sanford Dodge's production of Macbeth which will be presented at Opera House Wednesday March 29th are as follows: Miss Louise Marshall as Lady Macbeth, Miss Scoville as first witch, Mr. De Guerre as Macduff, Mr. Robert Bromme as Malcolm, Mr. W. W. Gould as Banquo, Sanford Dodge as Macbeth, James Harrison as Duncan, and all the other roles are in competent hands. You cannot afford to miss this performance. Get seats at once before all good ones are gone.

You want a buggy that looks good, wears well and is built right; there are no better jobs put up than the Henney. Can give you rubber or steel tire. Call and see the new ones.

A. G. Powers.

Attorney Berry was feeling good yesterday over the news that he had won out in a lawsuit over some Iowa land that he tried at Cherokee last summer, the court having held the matter up under advisement.

Presiding Elder Sisson has moved from Norfolk to Stanton and will fill the M. E. pulpit at that place until conference meets.

Last call: Last chance! To buy goods cheap at auction sale, today and Saturday, at Leigh Bros. store.

Sam Davies has been laid up--on crutches--the past week because of a badly sprained ankle.

Doc Love was down from Carroll Wednesday.

In subscribing to the DEMOCRAT Joe Bishop, now of Elgin, Neb., says he is getting along nicely out there and sends regards to his friends; also stating that he had not played a game of "pitch" since leaving Wayne. A fellow isn't likely to get any "sets" when he follows Joe's course, is he?

C. A. Grothe tells the DEMOCRAT he is not likely to move out of his present residence to give place to a tenant, since he owns the property and houses are hard to find. It is the grain man who moves into the Mrs. Stone property.

Among the new residences planned for this year will be two elegant houses, one built by Dr. Leisenring on the lots south of W. M. Mathery's residence, and one by A. N. Mathery on the present site of the Swan cottage. W. H. Gildersleeve will make some extensive improvements on his place, the old Gredk house.

Mrs. Dr. Nieman is reported some better this week.

Geo. Phifer and Charley Johnson were down in Stanton Tuesday night.

Young man, look over that line of Henney buggies at the Powers warehouse. There are some dandy fine rigs in that bunch.

A letter containing subscription from Mrs. Mondabaugh, Dayton, Ohio, a former Wayne lady, also contains this significant sentence: "Ohio is a good state and all that, but give me Nebraska all the time."

Mrs. Geo. Tharp and son arrived Wednesday from Newton, Iowa, to join Mr. Tharp here for a few days visit.

Geo. Phifer went to Omaha yesterday afternoon.

Robt. Mellor and daughter Queenie went to Sioux City yesterday.

A Notable Anniversary.

Few Wayne people are probably aware that on last Monday, March 20, 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Cutler celebrated their first wedding anniversary. The celebration was held at the home of their daughter Mrs. H. M. Sewell. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler are a living proof of the falsity of Dr. Osier's theory that people over forty are of no use, and past sixty should be chloroformed. The old couple enjoy life, and are a source of joy to relatives and their many friends.

Eggs 25 Cents Per Dozen.

The young peoples whist club met with Mr. and Mrs. Ringland on last Thursday evening.

The Misses Jessie and Wilda Tucker came home from Cornell College last Saturday evening.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church meet with Mrs. C. A. Chance next week. Election of officers will be held.

B. F. Swan and family expect to move to Sioux City next week to live.

Mr. Way, the livery man has purchased the house, now occupied by Mr. Damon, from Mr. Hessinus sr.

Miss Hannah Bressler, who has been very ill, is now recovering.

John Gaertner went to Hoskins yesterday to superintend the bringing of the remains of Mrs. Swanson to Wayne for burial, the funeral being held up on the arrival of the 2:15 train, and quite largely attended.

Ladies, Our New lines of Tailor made Suits, Shirt-waist Suits, Spring Warps and Skirts are now ready for your inspection. Call and see them.

A. ROSENBERG.

John Conley and Fred Benschoff went to Norfolk Wednesday night to get a team of horses from a fellow named Witeer. The outfit was mortgaged to Jack Lewis and Witeer refused to bring them back. Fred Benschoff not only bluffed the fellow into giving up the team, wagon and harness, but got $15 cash for his trouble. Conley drove the team home yesterday--sold them at Norfolk.

Mrs. John Sberbahn went to Sioux City yesterday.

Dan Ertel has taken a year's lease on the Leisenring boarding house, and is going to do things in that line.

Always at the Front of the Heap

With the real, genuine bargains in general merchandise. Our Spring Dry Goods are going fast because every piece of goods we sell you is ten to twenty per cent less in price than other stores will ask you. We don't depend on the Shoe business for but a mite of our profits, therefore we can cut down the exclusive dealer's profits at least twenty per cent to your benefit. There is nothing small about our grocery department except our prices. A few dozen eggs of a little butter gets a lot of groceries at the Fair store, and some fine dry goods in the bargain.

Altona.

Mr. Robinson of Emerson is now blacksmithing for Geo. Thies.

The reports are that Chris's girl went back on him is the reason he changed boarding places. Must not take it to heart Chris.

Dr. Byer of Snider was in Altona Tuesday hunting up a location. He spoke quite favorably of locating here.

Hubert Leuch returned from a two weeks visit in Iowa last Friday.

Abraham Gildersleeve has moved on a farm north of Altona which was farmed last year by Lazyburz.

In spite of the rain and muddy roads there was a good crowd at the dance Friday night. Neither orchestra was present.

Dr. Leisenring of Wayne came out to Mrs. S'ebbs last Friday and put one of the boys knees in place, which was thrown out place in a scuffle.

Burlington Route

Those Who Wait May Lose the Chance

The Great Northwest is being settled rapidly. Anyone who wants to get in on the ground floor should go NOW. Every year the land becomes scarcer and the opportunities fewer. There can be nothing gained by waiting.

Why not start at once? Very low Colonist rates are in effect every day. From Omaha only $15 to Billings; $25.00 to Eastern Washington--or $25 clear to the coast, including California points. The Burlington Route is much the best to use, as it has unequalled tourist sleeping car service at very low rates.

If you are going to give that boy a start in life, give it NOW! Write me for particulars--TODAY!

London, City, March 18.—Abner Howard, aged 38, son of Robert Howard, was committed to an asylum for insanity, the result of a prolonged attack of grip.

SENSATION AT BONESEELE

Young Lawyer from Nebraska Is Held on $2,000 Bond. Norfolk, Neb., March 21.—Sensations which rival the days of dramatic intensity which held sway at Boneseele, Pa., were witnessed here today when Rosebud was seized upon that town today as the result of a lawsuit growing out of the case of the late David Watkins, a young attorney, who has been held to the circuit court in the sum of $200.

A report which reached Norfolk states that violence against Judge Howies was threatened by a mob of men who were gathered in front of the court room, and that in all of the Boneseele saloons there were angry words that hinted at a riot.

When the trial closed yesterday and the case had been decided against Watkins, the mob gathered in front of the court room and virtually admitted that their relations were not what they should have been.

It was on March 6 that the trouble started at Boneseele. The people who were gathered in front of the court room and virtually admitted that their relations were not what they should have been.

PEABODY IS GOVERNOR BOTH ARE CARED FOR

But Plagued to Resign Immediately to Be Succeeded by Lieutenant Governor J. F. McDonald.

Denver, Colo., March 18.—James H. Peabody yesterday won his contest for the office of governor, from which he retired on January 10, after serving a term of two years.

It was more in the nature of a party than a personal triumph, for both Peabody and McDonald are republicans and Adams is a democrat.

Farmers' Good Roads.

A Good Roads Special Car will be run by The North-Western Line, April 10th to 28th, traversing fourteen counties on this system of railway in Iowa, for the purpose of giving all farmers and business men interested in this vital subject an opportunity to hear expert advice regarding the making and keeping of good roads at a minimum of expense.

This information will be furnished by Mr. D. Ward King of Missouri who has already accomplished so much for the people of his home state in his Good Roads talks.

There is a fund of meaning in the words "Good Roads," especially to the farmers of the west. Good roads insure to them the certainty of taking advantage of every demand of the market. Their produce can be readily delivered to the railway station for prompt dispatch to the markets of the world and if by improved roads two tons can be carried where but half a ton made a load before, a great saving is effected.

The very nature of the fertile soil of the west makes regular attention necessary in proper ditching and grading to keep the roads in condition, and it is to stimulate united action along these lines that this effort is being supported by The North-Western Line and the farmer and business man on The Chicago & North-Western Ry. will thus have the advantage of scientific and practical experience placed before him in practical form at his home station.

It is entirely probable that this Good Roads Special will be given as great welcome by the citizens of Iowa as has been accorded Prof. Holden and the Corn Gospel train at stations all along The North-Western Line.

A special from Lyons, in Sioux City's Sunday Journal, says: The wife of Dr. Cass Smith, of this place, died at Blair of paralysis and will be buried there today. She came with her husband to Wayne county in 1870 and resided on a homestead near the old town of LaPorte. She was taken sick several weeks ago.

The Norfolk Press, a staunch republican paper, says: In no way could the evil of the acceptance of passes by public officials be more heavily emphasized than it has this week through the letter of J. H. Ager, pass distributor of the Burlington road, charging Representative Ernst, of Nemaha county, with being the worst pass grabber in the legislature. Mr. Ernst, ever since the session began, has been very free with accusations against the lobby and at last charges that the railroad lobby was using passes as well as the most disreputable means to defeat railroad and bridge legislation. It was then that Ager came back with the charge of persistent pass soliciting, and the club seems to have pretty effectually taken the ginger out of the gentleman Nemaha. Not only that, but in doing what he did Mr. Ager has served divine notice on other members of the legislature who have received favors at his hands that they must be good or he will squeal on them. No other interpretation can be placed on Ager's course, and the public realizes now as it never did before that the pass is a club whether it is a bribe or not.

Secretary Shaw's boom for president in 1908 was launched in Washington at the banquet given in honor of former Assistant Secretary Armstrong, at which sixty high treasury officials from every quarter of the country and many leading Washingtonians were present. Upon this occasion former Senator John M. Thurston declared Leslie M. Shaw to be the man pre-eminently qualified to lead the republican party in 1908, and drove his statement home with great fervor and rich eloquence. Other guests followed in the same vein and the banquet developed into an enthusiastic ratification meeting, in which everybody declared for Shaw for president in 1908. The dispatches do not state what the crowd had to drink, and there is no intimation that three cheers were given for the trusts.

WM. HOBDSON

And he says he never more will flinch his flaming subsidy.

He is weary of the effort, and the waste-full loss of time,

For the session is most ended and he longs to reach the goal,

And the passes that he carries are a burden to his soul.

It is time to sow the seedlets and to harrow in the crop,

And so little yet accomplished—(if you say so you're a pop.)

—Bixby.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs. "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. Wayne Drug Store.

There is no disputing the fact that man's heart is often reached through the stomach.

Happy the housewife who can please her husband's appetite with well cooked food for the table. Many a man is grouchy, ugly, nervous, suffering from distress after eating heart-rending, and all through the overworked stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which helps the digestion of food in the stomach, assists the blood in taking up the proper elements from the food, helps the liver into activity, thereby throwing out the poisons in the blood and vitalizing the whole system. This assimilation helps in the oxidation of the red blood corpuscles, the heart gets the right kind of blood and the person feels invigorated and stronger in consequence. As a tissue builder it is far preferable to cod liver oil or any alcoholic compound or stimulant, because it gives the blood and the tissues the food elements they require and maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion. Because of the good effects from using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery upon nutrition and the building up of the tissues, catarrh, constipation, weak or aching joints, symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headaches, etc., disappear.

I believe that it is generally conceded that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine for a man to take suffering from indigestion, kidney troubles or any of the ailments resulting from overwork or neglecting a cold, writes J. Russell Hill, of 333 Barrie Street, Kingston, Ontario. According to Secretary Knapp of the National League of Kingston, "I have used it several times during the past few years and have always found that it gave me immediate relief. It expels excessive uric acid from the system, due to improper digestion, relieves the kidneys from congestion, drives rheumatism backache away, improves the appetite and tones up the general system. I consider it a fine remedy for young or old men, sure to build up a healthy condition of the system."

A bit of advice which Booker T. Washington gave in New York the other day to an audience of colored people was full of practical common sense as well as philosophy. "Each week cheap jewelry. Quit taking $5 buggy rides on $6 a week. Don't put a $5 hat on a 5 cent head." These were some of the words of wisdom intended to benefit the colored race, but there are some people with white skins that could profit by heeding them. The black brother is not the only class that lacks ability to get ahead and to be respected for individual worth because of extravagant incursions.

It will be conceded all around that Russia is having a good run for her money.

The supreme court has decided that saloons are not "legalized" in Iowa; they are simply "taxed." There is an impression also that some of them are not legally taxed, or taxed legally.

The battleship Minnesota is to be christened soon and there is the usual controversy as to whether a bottle of wine shall be used. The prohibitionists, of course, are opposed to using wine. Why not use colored water and let some of them drink the wine?

The Ord Quiz says: There is a law to prevent electioneering within one hundred feet of any voting place and the law has proved to be a good thing. Now there ought to be a law to prevent lobbying within one hundred miles of the state capitol while the legislature is in session. That would be an infinitely better thing if enforced.

About the time the next state election rolls round, such papers as the State Journal will be telling the dear people that republican candidates for the legislature will all walk to Lincoln before they will accept a railroad pass.

There is now no hope that Mrs. Chadwick will soon be seen as a Chatauqua attraction the coming season.

Three St. Louis women have been arrested at Fort Thomas, Ky., for running off with "Fair" Filipinos, with whom they became infatuated. That's what comes of permitting these fellows to go on exhibition improperly clothed.

Women's Kidneys.

Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex. Nervousness, head ache, puffiness or dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Wayne Drug Store.
