A WAYNE MAN BUILT IT.

Tomb of Chas. T. Yerkes Erected Fourteen Years Ago by Thos. Farrand

A couple of weeks ago when pictures of Chas. T. Yerkes' tomb appeared in the Chicago Record-Herald, Thos. H. Farrand was one of the most interested Wayne men in the picture and the accounts of it, and volunteered to some acquaintances that he ought to know something about it, as he built the tomb himself and that it was his last piece of work. Some of Tom's acquaintances much doubted his statements, so T. H. went right down to his residence and brought up a photograph taken of the thing just as the apex, or top stone, that weighed four tons, was being lowered to its position. There stood Mr. Farrand in bold relief at the top of the construction, trowel in hand and all ready to put the finishing touches to the job. Mr. Farrand tells the DEMOCRAT it took him a year and a half to build the tomb and it cost $75,000. The ground it stands on is some of New York state's most valuable real estate and cost Yerkes $10,000. The mausoleum is built of granite and marble and the tomb constructed to hold two bodies. Yerkes' and that of his wife, but Mr. Farrand does not believe Mrs. Yerkes will ever consent to be laid away by the side of her immoral husband. It is fourteen years ago that the work was completed, about the time Mr. Farrand moved to Wayne.

Frank Mettlen and son were visitors from Winside last Friday.

Atty. Geo. Wilbur was in Ponca Monday to try a lawsuit in the county court.

Mort McManigal of Wausa was in Omaha Monday with a car load of fat cattle.

S. E. Anker shipped two cars of fine cattle to Chicago Tuesday. Mr. Duncan going in with them.

Cattle shippers last week rather got it in the neck, most of the stock bringing $4.35, and Dave Surber's load $4.50.

Dr. Hammond was called out to Julesburg, in the western part of the state, last Friday, on state veterinary business.

J. S. Lewis has leased the building north of the DEMOCRAT to John Verzani, who will operate a fruit store therein.

A daughter was born to J. Woodward Jones and wife Jan. 17th. Also a daughter, same date, to Mr. and Mrs. Hinrich Clossen.

A big lot of good horses, mules, cattle, hogs and machinery will be sold at the Art Merriman sale, five miles west of Wayne, Feb. 5th.

S. E. Anker has completed a telephone line from Wayne to his place on the nearby wire fences and says it works just as well as any of the regular talking wires.

Rev. C. S. Hughes headed a party of seven Pentecosts who raided a poker joint ten days ago on a quiet night. All the poker players were visiting elsewhere, however.

Morris Myers was a visitor from Stanton over Sunday. Morris is now in the law, loan and real estate business at Stanton, and the past summer has been building himself a residence and home.

The Dixon World says Clyde Ecker has been sick since he landed in Mobile, Ala., and that he will return north about 30 days was the limit the DEMOCRAT figured for Clyde to stay in Mobile.

Arthur Savidge was an arrival in Wayne last Saturday for a couple days visit with his parents. Arthur has achieved wonderful success as an actor in portraying the characters of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Miss Ella Hurlbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asher Hurlbert, was operated on for appendicitis at Carroll, last week, by Dr. Teitley. The operation was highly successful.

H. F. Slaughter's two brothers Jim and John came in Monday for a short visit with Hank, and we understand that next Monday a bunch of them will organize a big wolf drive. These wolf drives are getting quite popular.—Naper News.

Geo. Rohwer says they miss Joe Love and his wife at the Carroll hotel, that they now know Joe was a pretty good hotel man, and that nobody stays in that burg longer than just time to get away, the hotel being on the bum!—Wayne.

Anton Jensen, Winside's butcher, was in Wayne last Friday. Anton recently lost the end of a finger in a sausage machine, he laid up for repairs. The Wayne butchers are not so extravagant as this when it comes to making sausage.

Mrs. Nell Harvey was recently married at Wayne to Jay Hulvert, a former employee of the Palace hotel. The bride was recently divorced at this place, but evidently did not so much object to the marriage state as the partner in the deal. The couple are assisting the management of a Wayne hotel in looking after the comfort of the guests of the house.—Pender Times.

Dr. Cosner, dentist, over First National Bank.

Thos. Rawlings and wife were visitors from Wakefield over last Friday night.

J. E. Owen was in Ogalala last Saturday looking after his railroad grading stock.

Miss Isabel Nies went to Hubbard last Friday to take charge of a sick party, as nurse.

C. M. Craveu and Lou Holtz went to Omaha last Saturday to attend a meeting of the racing circuit directors.

Messrs Nick Stodden, Sam Davies and Ed. Ellis were in Sioux City last Friday night to see Ben Hur. Sam says there were a lot of Her down there.

Nels Herman, a prosperous farmer from south of Wakefield, was in town Friday and became a member of the DEMOCRAT's increasing and big family.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Theobald and Messames E. S. Blair, D. C. Blair and Ed. Smith were among Ben Hur visitors to Sioux City last Saturday.

Mrs. Wm. Dammeyer received news of the death of her father, in Calmer, Germany, last Friday. It may be necessary for Mr. and Mrs. Dammeyer to go to the old country next spring to look after estate interests.

Henry VonSeggern, who recently sold his farm south of Wayne to Fred Pfleger for $1700, last Saturday purchased 306 acres two miles east and a half mile south of Wakefield for even $20,000. The sale was made by A. H. Siemers who says that Mr. VonSeggern got a big bargain.

DIED—Two miles north of Wayne. Mrs. Peter Paulson on Jan. 19, 1906. Aged 43 years, 7 months and 27 days. The funeral service was held from St. Paul's Lutheran church on Monday, conducted by Rev. C. J. Ringer. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss a husband, four children, two sisters, three brothers and father.

The latter part of this week John Sherbahn makes a test of some thirty dry-pressed brick, made of Wayne clay and pressed at Keokuk, Io., to see whether they can be successfully burned. The brick in the raw state are certainly beauties, and if they can be burned dry will make the finest kind of building material, and in which case Mr. Sherbahn will install a dry press plant, operating also his old one as necessary demands. Mr. Sherbahn was very careful to make a sure thing of it, going to Keokuk himself and feeding his own clay, and making sure to get the brick therefrom. A dry press plant weighs about fifteen tons, and the dry earth in the molds are subjected to 200 tons pressure. These machines are being made by the hundreds now days, but care must be taken to test the clay where they are wanted, as there are many places where it is impossible to burn the brick without checking or going to pieces in the drying and burning process. Mr. Sherbahn tells the DEMOCRAT that up at Niobrara a stranger came along and told a couple of farmers the clay there was just the thing for dry pressed brick; that there "was millions in it," so to speak. A batch of dirt was sent to the machine factory to see how it would come out, and some handsome brick sent to the Niobrara men as the result of the test. The farmers or brick men sold their farms and put some $10,000 into the plant. The first kiln of brick was a failure also the second and the machine men were gone with the farmers' money, and also the "capper" who put them onto the scheme.

W. C. Grandmatt, formerly a resident of Wayne, now farming north of Carroll, was in town last Friday and called to get the DEMOCRAT sent him. Mr. Grandmatt said he formerly did about all his business at Carroll, but this winter had hauled over 5000 bushels of grain to Belden, the markets there being from three to five cents better than at the Wayne county village, and no doubt the county seat also. He said oats were worth only 21 cents at Carroll, for instance—at the Farmers' elevator—when he got 26 cents for them at Belden. George Rohwer was down from Carroll the same time, and corroborated what Mr. Grandmatt stated about the conditions. The DEMOCRAT has not investigated the status of the Wayne markets, but undoubtedly this is the reason why there has been so little grain marketed here the past month or two. Here is a proposition for our Commercial club—that has never done anything as yet for the betterment of the town that the DEMOCRAT has ever heard of. The club is composed of leading business men vitally interested in these matters. These gentlemen might even go farther and see why it is that coal is retailed at 88 or 85.50 per ton and sold in other towns—not a hundred miles from Wayne—at $5.50 and $6. Why not wake up, Messrs Commercial men, and do things instead of only thinking about them. The newspapers are not afraid to agitate something; at least not this DEMOCRAT. Top prices for grain and hogs and the lowest rate possible on coal and lumber, would make Wayne a metropolis, the trade center it should be—while here are these little villages like Belden, Laurel, Dixon, etc., simply got us on the hog train.

God Help Them Both.

God help the rich.

Who from life's choicest gifts to baubles turn.

Within whose palm burns an anxiety itch.

To grasp the wages that their brothers earn.

Who crush the poor, who live for selfish pleasure.

Who nail humanity upon the cross.

Who from the toiler take his rightful measure.

Thus on themselves and others wreaking loss.

For these things who scramble in the night.

And leave the way of life. God help the rich.

God help the poor.

The aching back of labor bent with pain.

The men who toil and struggle to eke out scant means of life that they may toil again.

The weary mothers with their tear-washed faces.

The little children dying in their need.

The ones who live in mean and wretched places.

In hovels bare of homelike charms and graces.

The ones whose wage is held from them by greed.

The hopeless ones who patiently endure; Our hearts go out to them. God help the poor.

VIOLA ALLEN IS DURYEA'S WIFE

Announcement Just Made of Actress' Marriage to Noted Horseman.

OCURRED AUGUST 18

This News Entails the Sensation Caused by Miss Sarah Madden's $50,000 Breach of Promise Action Recently Begun.

New York, Jan. 22.—That Viola Allen, the actress, has been the wife of Peter Duryea, a well known horse owner, since last August, became known here yesterday. Mr. Duryea and Miss Allen were married August 18 at Louisville, Ky.

Friends who made the announcement of the marriage said that it had been kept a secret so long because of Miss Allen's professional engagements for this season.

It is recalled that the suit of Miss Sarah Madden to recover $50,000 from Peter Duryea, for breach of promise of marriage, upon the calendar of the supreme court, to be tried in the near future, and that several men and women present at the trial were called as witnesses.

It is also mentioned as probable that the suit will be tried in the near future, and that the names of the same are being brought out in the social circles of this city such as has not been heard of for some time.

Subsequent to the trial, it is coming from the names of the same are being brought out in the social circles of this city such as has not been heard of for some time.

Both plaintiff and defendant are well known in social circles. Duryea is a breeder of trotting horses and a partner of W. E. D. Stokes in the Patchen stock farm at Lexington, Ky. He lives at the Ansonia apartment house.

Miss Madden's complaint was filed two years ago. She alleges in it that the engagement between her and the defendant occurred in May, 1916. Since then, she says, she has received no advantageous offers of marriage and has also suffered great anguish of mind because of the defendant's refusal to marry her. Nathaniel Cohen, of the law firm of Howe & Hummel, is Mr. Duryea's counsel, and A. Cavillier is Miss Madden's lawyer.

WEATHER IS TOO MILD

Activity in Building Materials Is on the Other Hand, Unprecedented.

New York, Jan. 22.—Brooklyn's building activity is unprecedented. The trade collections and some reorder business are found in continued activity.

Building materials were apparently never so active before at this stage of the season. Large purchases of pig iron slightly below the market by leading interests insure consumption of all supplies for the first quarter, and most of the second quarter, while demand for rails, structural material, pipe and other products is expected to come.

Multiple products display notable strength for a midwinter season, cotton being especially strong, but adequate supplies of wool, hosiery and knit goods are also in demand.

Increasing production and results of earlier purchases of copper make for a steady decline in lead and mild weather tends to decline in iron, potatoes and some other lines.

DEWEY SEEMS CLOSE TO A BREAKDOWN

The New York Senator Cancels Business and Social Engagements.

New York, Jan. 22.—Senator Chauncey M. Dewey is in a state of health that has seriously alarmed his friends. It is reported that he is unable to work and has cancelled all business and social engagements.

Chauncey M. Dewey, Jr., speaking of his father's condition, has given away, and it has been found necessary to cancel all business and social engagements.

He will not be able to accept any more dinner invitations, and all his engagements have been cancelled.

He has no intention of giving up his work in the senate.

Mr. Dewey has stated that the present illness is the first time in years that his father has been compelled to call a doctor.

The senator's manner has altered completely, and his face shows in a marked degree the distress which has been his for some time.

He is expected to be in his complete severance of all business relations with the senate.

For the last few weeks he has denied himself to most of his friends, and even declined invitations to attend private dinners.

Moreover, from being one of the most popular men in the senate, he has become a recluse.

He cannot be induced to comment on his affairs and his friends has appeared to forget essential facts.

Senator Dewey went to Washington, accompanied by his wife, Miss Anna Dewey Paulding, and one of his secretaries.

He seemed unusually depressed and withdrawn, and the subject of the action of the Albany senate, he displayed neither interest nor sympathy.

SEEKS REVENUE IN WASHINGTON

Venezuela Mixup in Business and Social Engagements.

Paris, Jan. 22.—The present position in France's decision relative to Venezuela appears to be complicated by a desire to begin active measures without first taking the advice of authorities at Washington.

For this purpose Ambassador Jusserand has been fully instructed regarding his government's point of view which he will bring before the American government.

Officials here agree France's action is somewhat hasty in view of Venezuela's peculiar situation, foreign claims upon customs being regarded as placing the blockade almost out of the question.

It is admitted preparations are going on for reinforcing the French squadron, but the object of the step is still undefined.

This much is regarded as certain, France's next move will depend on the result of Jusserand's conference with the American government.

Castro Should Go Slow. President Castro will be given to understand that treatment of an American representative such as that accorded M. Taigny will not be tolerated by the Washington government.

The only objection to Castro's treatment of M. Taigny is that the former insists upon formal compensation for the injury to his official efforts which Mr. Russell, acting under instructions from Washington, has refused to grant.

The request of the French government for the withdrawal of the Venezuelan blockade is looked after by Mr. Russell, who is immediately granted for the reason that such a request is inadvisable.

France has adopted a simple program for the treatment of the Venezuelan situation. It provides for an immediate and comprehensive apology by the French government to the United States.

Moreover, from being one of the most popular men in the senate, he has become a recluse.

He cannot be induced to comment on his affairs and his friends has appeared to forget essential facts.

MAN KILLED IN COLLAPSE OF FIRE-PANIC

Blaze Meets Death in a Philadelphia Fire.

Philadelphia, Jan. 22.—A wild panic following a loud shriek of "fire" brought death to eighteen colored people, between Finney street and Girard avenue. The terrible rush to gain the street was of short duration, and that more were killed is due to the people's pushing and shoving.

At the time the disaster occurred not more than 200 persons were on the second floor of the building, which with the gallery was capable of accommodating 500 persons.

The fire was a fire of the heroic work of the Rev. E. W. Johnson, the pastor of the church, who tried to lead the people to safety.

Communication.

CARROLL, NEB., Jan. 23, 1906.
MR. EDITOR—I have the following from the mouth of an ex-soldier, which displays somewhat apt and stinging retort:
"I dreamed, the other night, that I was at the funeral of an ex-soldier, where the S. V. coroner band was detailed to render a funeral dirge and one of the assembled burners asked a very pompous muskrat who was boastfully displaying his S. V. regalia alongside of an 'old soldier', 'are you the son of a veteran soldier?', whereupon he pompously replied, 'I refer you to this, my ancient comrade', when the ancient Vet replied, 'I refer you to the postoffice department', he remembering that the S. V. magnate had not long ago defeated an 'old soldier' (by underhanded means) in obtaining the appointment to the postmaster-ship."

A Metropolitan Store.

There is "something doing" this week at the new store of Miller & Ahern. A force of painters and carpenters are at work arranging the interior in an up-to-date, modern style. The south side of the big storeroom is being elegantly fitted up for dry goods, the north and front corner for millinery, and the back part for a grocery department. Upstairs a big stock of carpets and crockery will take up every bit of available space. Cash carriers will carry the coin to a cashier on a raised platform in the rear of the building, and the whole workings of the department store are planned on the most expeditious and best methods for doing a cash business.

Next week Messrs Miller and Ahern will tell you what they have and issue invitations (through the press) to call and visit them. The opening day will be about Thursday or Friday, Feb. 1st or 2nd.

A. A. Welch was in Wakefield last Tuesday.

J. H. Bruggner was a visitor from Winside yesterday.

Miss Cadwallader is a guest at the Dr. Wightman home.

Wm. Larson visited his best girl at Carroll Tuesday night.

J. W. Toombs was quite ill last Sunday, but has recovered.

Mrs. Morris Myers and baby returned to Stanton yesterday.

The ice men commenced putting up ice yesterday and the quality looks good though a little thin.

Mrs. Sigworth drove to Pilger Wednesday to visit her brother, Jas. Chace, who is having a spell of sickness.

We see no good excuse for men looking shabby when they can dress up at the prices advertised for the special sale at the 2 JOHNS.

The DEMOCRAT is turning out lots of job work these days, but is always ready to take care of your orders, on short notice and at the lowest possible prices.

John Lutz, of Trenton, Mo., was an arrival yesterday to visit his wife who has been sick at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Williams, several weeks.

T. J. Snyder will not leave for Dakota until about April 1st. He is plaintiff in a law suit next term of court, held in Wayne March 12th, and will not leave till that is settled with.

J. T. Snyder tells the DEMOCRAT that he practically gave away a lot of good farm machinery at his sale, and that seems to be the general thing at farm auctions this winter. Simply too much machinery in the country.

The proposition of making a scale of prices on electric lighting does not appear to meet with favor from many patrons. A minimum rate of $1.00 per month and a discount to large consumers, would apparently meet with less opposition than an increase or decrease per so many watts.

Phil Sullivan suffered a bad fall from the top of the stairway in the State bank building to the side walk, last Tuesday. Aside from a broken crutch little harm was done, although Phil lost five dollars out of his pockets in the descent. He says he could be run through a threshing machine and escape a scratch.

We are glad to notice that the 2 Johns have decided to run their sale another week. We will have a lot of well dressed men and boys in this community.

Messrs Newkirk, Larson and M. J. Chaon were in Norfolk last Saturday night to meet representatives of a creamery they buy cream for, and arrange to get full value for the product, the above gentlemen claiming in the past they either had to short-weight the farmers or lose out on the business. The demands for a "square deal" were met by the creamery men.

The whist clubs, old and young, or seniors and juniors, had a battle royal at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shulteis last Tuesday evening, the stakes being an oyster supper. The ancients suffered an inglorious defeat, the younger generation beating them some 150 points in a series of games. After it was over the defeated club claimed the winners had called in three experts who were not members, so the score was left to the eight seniors and five juniors, and then the former were found to be losers by a score of figures. It was a jolly game anyway, and the oysters will make it a double-decker of fun.

Sioux City (Leeds) Sun: Geo. Hunt, whose long hair and bushy whiskers made a conspicuous figure in the streets of Sioux City, was taken to the hospital for the insane at Cherokee last Saturday. Mr. Hunt has been laboring under the hallucination that he was Jesus Christ and posed on the street corners for the people to get a good look at him. No doubt he had the idea that it would be their only chance. It is a very sad affair for one to lose their mind, especially so in this case, as Mr. Hunt was a very bright young man. It looks as though Mr. Hunt's case must be incurable. The very idea that Jesus Christ would stray around Sioux City for more than fifteen minutes seems so far from the realms of sanity as to be almost hopeless.

College Notes.

Rev. Ringer addressed the students last Friday at chapel exercise. He gave them some excellent ideas and his talk was enjoyed.

Several students enrolled the past week. Mr. Beune of Stanton, Mr. Adersson of Hubbard, are new students. Mr. Rehmers of Winside, and Miss Wilmarth of Concord, returned, after a spell of measles.

Mrs. Pile, Fred and Jim went to Sioux City Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday evening. Misses Neptune, Yakish and Richard went Saturday morning and returned on the evening train. All enjoyed "Ben Hur."

Several cases of measles developed last week among the students but most all are again in classes. The sickness is light and keeps the patients out of classes about a week. But few more if any cases are expected.

Mr. Allman of Pierce, came over Sunday to spend a few hours with his son. Mr. McKenzie was here to see his son on Monday. The young man was a victim of measles. Father found him in good condition.

The students were delighted with a talk Tuesday morning by Rev. Berg, Lutheran pastor, of Ponca. His brief talk was thoughtful and his illustrations were to the point. He was with Rev. Ringer, and enjoyed getting acquainted with the school.

The attendance at the literary societies on Friday and Saturday evenings is very good and the attention is all that could be desired. A week from Saturday evening, February 3, the music students will give a recital under the direction of Miss Stewart.

Today, the mid-term examinations are being given in most of the classes. The regular students and more especially the advanced classes enjoy the examinations, as it affords them an opportunity to know just how thorough they are in their work. None try to shirk or offer any excuse for a low grade.

A comparison of the grades of the classes in mathematics this year with the former classes results in favor of the present students. Perhaps some better preparation on entering, is the cause of this in part, but most thorough work has been done along this line by every class this year. Fred Pike teaches the algebra and geometry.

Two students went out last Saturday to begin teaching. More than a dozen calls for teachers have been received the past week. Many schools are not in session in some near by counties on account of scarcity of teachers. The outlook is for a shortage of teachers next fall. Better wages will be paid and any one who holds a fair certificate will get a school.

Plans are being made to accommodate the large number of teachers who will attend the spring and summer sessions. Perhaps a new dormitory and dining room addition can be ready for use by the summer term. It is expected the attendance next summer will be greater than at present but a greater number can be accommodated at that time of the year. Many former students will return for the summer term.

The general reading of the members of the graduating classes is proving most satisfactory. Each member reads at least one magazine article each week besides a book each month. The teachers make a list of the articles to be read from the fifteen magazines received by the library. Students make a monthly report and review of their reading. The work is systematically carried out and a required part of the terms' work as much as is any regular study.

Dr. Cosner, dentist, over First National Bank.

Gus Schroeder has purchased the corner building owned by Andrew Staam and occupied by the Headlight.

Mrs. E. A. Waddell has sold her store and Bert Templin is very anxious to get a permanent position with the new merchant as clerk.

R. G. Rohrky and family came over from Meadow Grove Sunday to visit Mrs. R. Folks and returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Weatherholt of Bega visited at the John Weatherholt home last week.

Mrs. Wm Weatherholt and Estella went to Norfolk last Friday to attend the M. B. A. supper and installation services.

Billy Anderson shipped a car load of cattle and one of hogs from this point last week.

The entertainment given by the Woodmen at their hall last week was as all social affairs the Woodmen undertake a success.

Mrs. Geo. Benidict visited a few days last week at the Oldenberg home.

The new editor of the Headlight is here ready for business. We wish him success.

Cattle receipts have been moderate at all points so far this week. Monday's market was quite firm, but on Tuesday a 10 cent decline came. On Wednesday steady to strong and prospects seemed fair for a steady market. The balance of the week. Stockers and feeders are still firm. Packers claim the demand is still limited.

We quote:—
Good steers $4.80 to $5.30, good feeders $3.70 to $4.25, fair to medium $4.20 to $4.70, common to fair $2.60 to $3.60, common and warmed up $3.70 to $4.15, bells and stags $2.00 to $3.60, cows and heifers $2.50 to $4.10, veal calves $3.00 to $5.00, canners and cutters $2.00 to $2.45, mitch cows $2.00 to $4.00.

The hog market continues to advance gradually. Range $5.25 to $5.40. Sheep receipts are liberal and prices rather weak.

Harrington, The Leading Clothier.

IT MUST COME.

In the campaign of 1896 Mr. Bryan appealed to the country in behalf of an income tax, laying down the doctrine that there could be no other means of fairly distributing the burdens of government among the people. Because of his appeals in behalf of the income tax Mr. Bryan was accused by the republicans with an attempt to array the poor against the rich, and for that reason he was roundly denounced as a demagogue. By a majority of only one the supreme court of the nation declared the income tax law unconstitutional. Mr. Bryan advanced the declaration that while all good citizens should recognize the supreme court as the final interpreter of our laws, and obey its mandates meekly, yet after all the supreme court was but an instrument in the hands of the people, and that it was proper and right that when given the opportunity the people should secure the appointment of supreme court judges who hold views in harmony with the will of a majority of the people. At the time that declaration was first made by Mr. Bryan the organs of corporate wealth denounced Bryan as the most dangerous demagogue of ancient or modern times. The Telegram recalls that the Omaha Bee was particularly severe in dealing with Bryan at that time. But it is different now. The public view is changing. No advised person ever refers to Bryan as a demagogue now. And in this day the principle of the income tax is not regarded as a dangerous principle. Last Sunday afternoon Hon. Edward Ross, editor of the Omaha Bee, addressed the Philanthropic club in Omaha. To his address he burned all bridges behind him, and came out openly in favor of a principle, for the advocacy of which only a little while ago Bryan was consigned to the ranks of the demagogues. In that address Mr. Rosewater said: "The expenses of our national government, including the army, navy, etc., are now $750,000,000 annually, and constantly growing. We must have the revenues, and the inevitable result will be the income tax. The supreme court has ruled against its constitutionality, but a new decision in the future may be otherwise. If necessary the constitution will have to be amended in this particular also. This method seems to me the most equitable way of making the wealthy contribute their just share towards the support of the government. When the time comes for the imposition of the tax much wealth that now escapes through subterfuge will be forced to bear its burden. We do not need to look abroad for instances. From our city several citizens of the world have graduated, who reside elsewhere and pay us a visit once a year or so to clip the coupons from their mortgages. They are not taxed here or any place else for the bulk of what they possess."

While it is true that Mr. Rosewater has long leaned in the direction of the income tax principle, yet we believe this to be the most open declaration he has ever made in favor of that principle. We welcome him to full fellowship with the believers, well knowing that he can accomplish much for this good-democratic principle of taxation. —Columbus Telegram.

There was very little doing last week, and—less this.

Just a few weeks now until spring election, and not even any agitation of another saloon or none at all.

It may be alright for a married man to fool around another married man's wife, but he shouldn't be quite so conspicuous about it on the public streets every day.

Norris Brown for governor! or Norris Brown for senator! Everything or anything for Brown according to the republican press. Mr. Brown decided that the people had some rights as well as the railroads, and it was such an unusual proceeding that many republicans think he is a new prophet, some kin to the almighty. Brown certainly is a freak of nature among Nebraska politicians.

There is a woman in Cherokee who would make an excellent war correspondent. If there is any family row in her neighborhood that she can't tell all about it isn't worth mentioning.—Cherokee Democrat.

Great Gawd! only one! Why here in Wayne we have—how many?

It is reported that Chauncey Depew is falling in health. Well, Chauncey, old boy, has been going up against something well calculated to upset his nerves. Perhaps it is the first thing he has struck that isn't any joke.

Secretary Lundberg of the Farmers' Institute association, was importing Secretary Craven of the Commercial club to get his association to boost for the farmer doings, the other day, and Mr. Craven promised to do all he could. The next morning the two secretaries met on the street and the representative of the capitalists broke out with a sparkling convulsion of laughter. In reply to the other gentleman's question, he said: "Do you know, I dream't last night that the Commercial club took right hold of that proposition of yours; we all worked like the devil to make a big thing of it, and when I went up to the court house to attend the institute there were only two men there; they were two of the speakers, and they were arguing whether they should go on with the meeting or not. They finally decided to go on with their talking so they could draw their salaries."

Edgar Howard of the Columbus Telegram says the railroads have apparently united on Millard to succeed himself in the United States senate, but intimates that if there is a popular uprising among the rednecks of the state that any other rose will smell just as sweet to the railroads. It might even be Rose-water.

Dan McManigall says the young men out in Plum Creek are simply daff on the girls this season of the year. As an instance of how badly they have it, Dan says he recently sent a young man to a neighbor's for four head of steers. At this neighbor's there are several pretty girls, and after some time had elapsed the young man called up Dan by phone and asked him what he had been sent after. By dad, we all, or nearly have had it, and this' chicken had several "relapses," in the good old days; and I'll bet that if Dan tells the truth and nothing but the truth, he had it in just a little more acute form than any of us. Looks awfully foolish now, but it was rather a pleasant disease to be afflicted with after all, even if only a youthful illusion.

A certain young woman won't go into Jim Leahy's drug store again—unless under guard. The other day she made her purchases and then stopped in front of the cigar case to tie her shoe string. Jim stood behind the case, and suddenly there was an awful crash; the poor girl jumped about seven feet straight up; the druggist was also badly scared and tried his best to explain that he "hadn't done nuthin'," but the young woman wouldn't stand for it and as soon as she found her feet on the floor she flew. An inventory of the incident by clerks resulted in finding that the heavy coil spring in the cigar clipper had burst and the recoil thrown the machine in the air; the only explanation at hand being that Jim, in the excitement of the moment, had leaped too heavily over the showcase, and the thing had gone off without warning.

A couple of weeks ago a glove was advertised at this office for the owner, and about the hour the DEMOCRAT got to Winside Wallie Tucker sent an accurate description of one he had lost, that tallied with the stray article, and it was sent up to him. The next day the glove and following note came back: "The glove is brown mocha, made by Hansen of Milwaukee, and is a right hander, all o k; but it is three sizes too small. Kindly send smaller size." As the hand garment is quite a bit too large for any one in this truth factory I opine that it is Wallie's Winside girl who has the left, and the finder of it might as well send it to him, as it could be of no use to any Wayne damsel.

W. W. Nardy, father of Mrs. Harry Burnett, died at his home in Iowa last Wednesday. Mrs. Burnett left on Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral.

Arthur Savidge went to Sioux City yesterday morning. Arthur may organize a theatrical company of his own, and if not all professional actors may get up a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde play with local talent.

Is it hot enough for you? Hi Griggs dipped a big bunch of cattle yesterday for S. E. Auker.

To see the crowd at the 2 Johns every afternoon any one would think there was not a man nor boy in Wayne county that failed to get a suit at their special sale.
