WILL CELEBRATE.

Bigger, Better and Grander Than Ever Before Happened in Nebraska.

The Commercial Club Banquets And Does Several Other Stunts Not on the Bill of Fare.

Midst the entrancing waves of beautiful sound, the billows of deep, black tobacco smoke, and the delectable savoring of free speech and free ice cream and cake, the Commercial club, their friends, and least but not last the College boosters, held high carnival at Woodman hall Monday night. It was a sort of jollification over the anticipated N. C. additions and the expected future of Wayne being the greatest college town in the middle west. It was also election of officers for the club for the coming year, an opportunity to hear our fellow townsmen who have the gift give us their gab, impromptu Fourth of July meeting for 1906, and last but not least, a time for a good time and everybody help themselves to it.

After announcements by Pres. S. R. Theobald, Prof. J. M. Pile was called on for a speech, the speaker making it a sort of heart-to-heart talk as to how much was appreciated the generosity with which Wayne business men had taken up his college project and that he would by "means fair or foul," "cross his heart and hope to die," if he didn't prove worthy of the trust etc. After another selection by the Italian string band, every piece of them appearing to be a whole day-go, it was so fine and dandy, Banker A. L. Tucker addressed the multitude of ninety and nine on what they ought to accomplish in the next few years, etc., but if the Commercial club gets as busy as Mr. Tucker intimated it should, we will have a $50,000 hotel, municipal heating plant, new school houses, paved streets, a few skyscraper buildings, parks galore, and end up with a flying machine factory and subterranean earthquake plant. More cigars, more punch, and another speech by Wayne's Chauncey Dewey speaker, then Mayor Britton, now Ex-Mayor Britton. Mr. Britton hit on something new—to the club. He demanded that the organization get into politics; that the southern, eastern and western part of Nebraska was robbing we of the northeast corner of our constitutional rights; that populism, democratic or republican, as we might be, it was imperative that this section of the state demand full representation—as per population—or we ought to throw all the tea in the ocean. The speaker went on to tell how to get it, and his plan evidently looked good to his hearers (the DEMOCRAT isn't going to give it away to Norfolk) for they cheered him to the echo—when the smoke didn't make interference. A few more smokes and drinks and Atty. Elmer Lundburg made a neat, short speech, the talking being concluded by Atty. Northrop, who reviewed the past and said he was sanguine of the future.

For JULY 4, 1906.

It was decided by unanimous vote to get up a humdinger of a time, with all the old-fashioned features and a few million new ones.

Madam Fainted.

Norfolk News: Mrs Strack, a fortune teller, fainted away near the union station last evening, just after having left the train. She had evidently become ill on the train.

Wayne Has Good Hog Market.

Since the DEMOCRAT printed an item last week in regard to this point being a poor market for hogs, several of the local buyers have called at this office and "shown us" that the DEMOCRAT was mistaken as their books prove the Wayne buyers have at least paid too much for hogs to make the shipment of them at all profitable. In regard to the '90 head going to Carroll, in preference to selling in Wayne, L. C. Gildersleeve makes the probable explanation that a buyer will sometimes pay more even at a loss, outside his territory, just to get a reputation of paying "big prices." For the last couple of months, with an upward market, the hog men of Wayne have not made wages, and if they once in a while do a stroke of good business, there are again many losses. The DEMOCRAT has, as a matter of fact, heard a good deal of kicking on the local price of hogs, but the men in the business have the figures to show that there is no money in it for them, it least the past month or two.

Death of Robert Mick.

Another old resident of Wayne county has gone to his last reward, one of the best-liked and most upright citizens Wayne could boast of. Robert Mick was the victim of a second stroke of paralysis last Friday morning. He got up to build the fire, and his wife hearing an unusual commotion hurried to the kitchen to find her husband helpless on the floor, neighbors were hurriedly called and the unfortunate man laid on the lounge. Mr. Mick was conscious, complained of a pain in the back of his head, after that he lapsed into a comatose condition, dying at twelve o'clock Saturday night.

The funeral services were held from the M. E. church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Thos. J. Wright, and attended by a large concourse of friends. Deceased was past 69 years of age at the time of his death.

Planning a Summer Resort.

Sunday's Sloux City Journal contained the following local of interest to Wayne people:

Dakota City, Neb., April 28—Special: Henry W. Wood, of this place has sold to Henry Ley, a banker of Wayne, Neb., a five-acre tract of land along the south shore of Crystal lake lying just west of the Finnerly boat yard, upon which Mr. Ley will erect a summer cottage, work to be commenced immediately. The purchase price was $100 per acre.

For several years there has been more or less talk among Wayne people of making Crystal lake a place to pass the summer days at, it being convenient and perhaps just as good as Okoboji or Spirit lake when properly fixed up. It is probable that a number of people here will construct cottages there, now that Mr. Ley has started the proposition.

Bad Accident.

While coming to town last Friday forenoon Mrs. Dick Meyers was the victim of a serious runaway, the cause being the huge iron-work for the new bridge, south of town, and which made the Patterson horse run away Thursday. The Meyers' horses made a quick turn also, throwing out the occupants of the buggy, Mrs. Meyers sustaining a broken arm, dislocation of the shoulder and severe abrasions.

College Bond Subscribers.

Following is a list of the men who bought College bonds, and made it possible to put up the new buildings:

CLOSING OUT All Farm Implements

I am now running a first-class blacksmith shop with a complete line of first-class tools. I employ the best mechanic that ever was in Altona, Mr. E. O. Smith, who can do any kind of repairing.

I have on hand 15 cultivators, riding and walking; 1 riding lister, 2 cream separators, 3 plows, 3 corn planters, 3 seeders; 1 disc harrow, 16-18; 3-section harrow and numerous other articles. All will go at less than cost price.

I also have a feed mill in connection with the shop, so let me do your feed grinding. Ground feed is fine for your chickens, horses, calves and hogs.

We Do All Kinds of Woodwork and Wagonwork....

Once more I must say that I have the best equipped shop that you will find in any surrounding town, and it don't matter what work you bring in it will be done satisfactory. The reason I want to close out all other business is so that I can manage to run a first-class shop.

BY DAD.

Aren't you glad you had your last insurance policy made out for five years?

Pender went dry Tuesday and Editor Hubbard of the Republic didn't get a drink for a few days—unless he patronized the drug stores. The saloon keepers opened up after the polls closed Tuesday, and a bundle of remonstrances were handed them by a few busy people, putting the lid on tight until last night, at least, when the council took up the vexed question. Hades ought not to hold any terrors for the saloon keeper—unless the "d-d" place is full of prohibitionists.

"Say, you look like the devil!" said a friend to Geo. Damon, Monday, after almost falling to recognize the dapper and popular traveling man; "but," continued the friend, "you don't look near as bad as Rev. Duley." Now, the popular preacher can give his congregation some idea of the inhabitants of the place they are going to, if they don't behave themselves while lingering on this mundane sphere. I don't know, though, but what it would be pleasanter, by dad, to have Root & Mabbott amputate ones whiskers rather than have them burned off.

I wish, by dad, I could hire about three able-bodied men to edit, manage and solicit for the DEMOCRAT.

Somebody was joshing Emil Hanson the other day about his being a "retired" farmer and coming to town to live just because he has become owner of a little farm, etc. But Emil was equal to the occasion and "showed" the jester that while he didn't have as much money as John Rockefeller, nor as much land as John Bressler, he owned enough of the state of Iowa to make a lot of other retired tillers of the soil look fit subjects for the poor house.

Speaking of Jim Dahlman as a candidate for mayor of Omaha, in his last week's Free Lance, John C. Sprecher of Schuyler, said he hoped Dahlman would be defeated for he was a very, very bad man. That if the Omaha people did elect Dahlman, an earth quake ought to play crack-the-whip with that city. Phil Kohl says there was a "loud" time down there after election, but if it was an earth quake the burnt district was about the same as when the republicans had control of the machinery.

The last meeting, of the old city council, the boys certainly got their hands into the "public crib"

It is now stated that the little czar, which has a microcephalic brain. What did the Russians expect? Anyway, if he is going to be a king he don't need much brain.

The Longworth-Roosevelt affair is all over. Carrie Nation and Cassia Chadwick have dropped into the shadows, but the kindly face of Lydia Pinkham appears before us forever.

The following story, of a little two-year-old, teaches that from our earliest infancy, we are apt to take credit to ourselves for what we do and fail to recognize the Lord's help: A baby whose mother had taught her that she should pray to the Lord for all she wished and that her prayers would be answered, was playing in the bath tub—her mother secretly fastened the faucets so the baby could not turn them on. (It seems that just enough water had leaked into the tub from the child's trying to turn the faucets, so that her little shoes were wet and when she would try to climb out, her feet would slip.) Her mother heard her talking and upon listening overheard the following: "Oh, dear Lord, please help me out of dis bat tub,"—pause—"Oh dear darling God, please tum down and help me out of dis bat tub"—and just at this time, she got a foothold, whereupon she said very decidedly, "Never mind, Dad, I des I can get out by myself now."

Here's a "dam" item from the Cherokee Democrat:

The boating season has begun early on the Sioux river. A couple who were out yesterday had a close call. The old dam at the old mill site still shows itself and to go over it in a boat is a feat that even few lovers would care to attempt. Yesterday this couple were out in a boat, billing and cooling and indulging in talk that was appropriate to the going-to-be-married stage. The man at the oars had his thoughts on something else than the dam dangers. Presently the boat was beyond control—or nearly so. Seeing that it was impossible to retreat the young man decided to do or die. He succeeded in turning his boat with the current and shouted: "Jennie, we will go over the dam or die together in the attempt." There was a plunge—the mist from the waters enveloped the lovers. In a moment the boat shot out in the clear and Pat and Jennie were still in it. Nervously she clung to the side of the boat and the first thing she was heard to say was: "Well, Pat, we got over that dam easy."

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson were arrivals last Friday from Los Angeles. Mr. Ferguson says the earthquake was severe there, contrary to press reports. He met Charly Pell there, and says that gentleman has grown rich and "doesn't drink a drop." Also saw Geo. Shaw and other ex Wayne people.

Wayne acquaintances will be pleased to hear that a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whittaker of Craig last Saturday. They lost their first-born last summer.

CHARLES ROBBINS

In New Quarters.

The Miller & Ahern company are moving into their new store building on the corner, the place formerly occupied by I. Reiffel, or rather a new building on the old site. The new room is larger, better lighted, and the side entrance to the grocery department makes it much more convenient to handle produce, etc. Since going into business the trade this firm has enjoyed is simply phenomenal. An immense and satisfactory business has been built up, and better facilities are needed to handle it. It is only a question of a short time until more additions will have to be made to the new place and success of this kind, coming to these young men, can only be attributed by the explanation that they understand their business, please the public, and well merit their patronage.

Just call at the new store and see how they are coming on.

The Union hotel is the place for a square meal.

Mrs. M. S. Davies went to Sioux City today, and M. S. and his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Goldie, go down tomorrow on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fortner left Wednesday for Dubuque, Ia., called there by the death of the husband of Mrs. Fortner's sister.

Madam Strack, the fortune teller and alleged prescriber of medicines at Hoskins, dug up her fine of $50 Thursday night of last week and departed for Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Jones were on the train from Omaha Wednesday evening enroute home to Winslow. Mrs. Jones looks feeble but is now on the way to complete recovery.

Dr. E. S. Blair went to Sioux City Tuesday to visit Mrs. Blair at the hospital. The latter was not so well first of the week but is recovering and will probably be home in a couple of weeks.

J. H. Wright has purchased the old residence belonging to Robert Mick and had just got ready to move it to lots a couple of blocks east when the sudden death of Mr. Mick interrupted the work.

John Gustafson, on complaint of C. E. Munson, was taken before the board of Inebriety last Monday evening for an examination as to his need of hospital treatment at Lincoln. The matter was continued until today. The DEMOCRAT has known John for a good many years and never suspected he was so badly troubled that way. A mistake he made in entering Mr. Munson's home instead of his own, accounts for the complaint being filed.

Kruger Shot the Pig

At least that is the verdict a jury arrived at Tuesday afternoon in the county court, when Albert Kruger was on trial for stealing a hog from Fred Utscht. County Atty. Siman was assisted by A. B. Davis, and Attorney Berry appeared for the defense. A jury, John Masie, Henry Kellogg, John Liveringhouse, Alex Jeffery and M. E. Root, decided the momentous question. It appeared the pig, a "society hog," according to the county attorney, ran away from home on a Thursday or Friday. "Hann" Mitchell said the porker had left his place to go home, but she must have stopped to gossip over the fence at Mr. Kruger's place, for Saturday morning at 6:30 that gentleman landed the brute at the Wayne yards. The defense put up no evidence except a technicality—that the defendant had not been proven as the abductor of her pigskin, but the jury couldn't see it that way. Mr. Kruger took an appeal to the district court, giving $100 bonds.

Special Sunday dinner at the Union Hotel.

Letters from Frank Hood state that they are now in Denver where it costs Frank $8 per day to feed his family.

The Union Hotel is still doing business at the old stand. Special Sunday dinners and a square meal three times a day.

Mrs. T. W. Moran was served with a most enjoyable surprise party by the Degree of Honor Wednesday evening. A splendid time was had by those present.

Ellis Girtlen has a card from his son Perry at Eureka, Cal., which states that city is not only badly jarred up, but they have had earthquake shocks every night since the first occurred.

S. H. Dillon, H. J. Mitchell, P. J. Neff, Otto Frederickson, Levi Ditz and I. H. Weaver were a party from Wakefield Tuesday, paying taxes and attending county court. Mr. Dillon said the saloons opened up down there Tuesday morning, claiming they had four more days to run on their old license, but Mayor F. J. Neff ordered them closed up and the "jld" put on tight. Wakefield people will now have to come to Wayne or go it "blind" in the alleys.

Judge Hunter was in Norfolk Wednesday night to meet his daughter Winifred on her return from California.

Mrs. Jones and Miss Campbell have resigned their positions in the Wayne schools. All other teachers have been re-engaged for another year.

Sexton G. L. Davis has received a one-horse lawn mower for use in the cemetery. The machine cuts 30 inches, sidecraft, and is a dandy for its purpose.

In remitting a subscription for the DEMOCRAT C. P. Bath, of Struble, Ia., son of our Henry Rath, says: "Hurrah for Cummins," about what all the Iowa tillers of the soil are telling Mr. Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ramsey went to Johnson Neb., Wednesday, giving up housekeeping and leaving Wayne for good, so the DEMOCRAT understands. P. Thompson is the new manager of the old Nies saloon.

Mr. and Mrs. Press Crockett, went to Sioux City yesterday with their little three-year-old daughter, who had got a piece of glass in her eye. The little girl was cracking a couple of bottles together when one broke, making a very bad injury.

A letter to Wayne friends from Miss Mintie Girtlen, of San Jose, Cal., states that she was attending a Y. W. C. A. association meeting at San Francisco at the time of the earthquake, and she had a terrible time of it. After escaping from her hotel she with sixty other girls slept in a cemetery, but they were not afraid of spooks, there being too many live horrors to combat.

Why Men Fail

Men fail because they had not the necessary experience in the enterprise they undertook. A man seldom fails to accomplish what he undertakes if he knows by experience what is necessary to make his undertaking a success. There are some things that we have to depend on others for information, and we cannot make a mistake if we rely on other people if they are experts and are honest. They may be honest but if they are not experienced they cannot give us the necessary information to make us successful if we follow their instructions. You cannot fail to get satisfaction and be successful if you trade at our store. We have had more than twenty years experience in selling clothing and have the reputation of being honest. We employ no boys or cheap help and when you trade here you can depend on what information you get as reliable. If we make a mistake it costs you nothing for we will give you another suit for any suit we recommend that fails to give satisfaction. You not only get the best clothing made here, but you get it for less price than others ask, and our stock is the largest. Don't you think you should investigate what is here claimed before you buy anything, in the clothing line? We sell everything men and boys wear. Our shoes are such as we have been selling for 25 years, and every pair is warranted to give you satisfaction. We have shoes that boys can't wear out and plow shoes that never tire your feet. Give us a chance to show you our goods and you will feel satisfied and we will be happy. Eggs are same as cash.

The New City Administration.

Mayor Piepenstock called his lieutenants for an early session Tuesday morning, and in a few minutes three checks for $1600 each were dangling at City Clerk Witter's belt, the education fund, etc., for Wayne, the price of running three good sample rooms in town for the fiscal year. The saloons all opened up for business at once, and the elimination of the fourth saloon left no cause for worry to the boys in the white aprons.

Mayor Piepenstock then announced his committees as follows:

Finance—Duerig, Harrington and Stringer
Streets and Alleys—Stringer, Duerig and Harrington.
Electric Lights—Roe, Gaertner and McVicker.
Water—McVicker, Gaertner and Roe.
Park—Gaertner, Duerig and Harrington.
City marshal, G. L. Miner; city electrician, J. H. West; street commissioner, John Harmer; city attorney, F. A. Berry; city physician, J. J. Williams.

Of all the committees the street and alley aldermen have the more important positions to fill, and as chairman of the committee the Democrat believes Geo. Stinger will be a good man in the place, and he should have the assistance of the public generally to do some good work.

What about that cement floor? See Beebe.

Mr. Miggles' Telephone.

Mr. Miggles was trying to call up a friend who lived in a suburban town.

Mr. Miggles looked up the number, then got central.

"Hello," he said. "Give me Elmdale two-ought-four-seven."

"Elmdale? I'll give you the long distance."

"Long distance." "What is it?"

"Elmdale two-ought-four-seven."

"Elmdale two-ought-four-seven."

"Yes."

"What is your number?"

"I just told you. Two-ought-four-seven."

"Sixty-five Blicken street."

"Oh, that isn't what I mean. Your phone number."

"Why didn't you say so?" asked Mr. Miggles, who is noted for his quick temper.

"I did. What is it?"

"Violet Park eight seven seven."

"Violet Park eight double seven."

"I reckon so."

"And what number do you want?"

"Elmdale two-ought-four-seven."

"What is your name?"

"My name is John Henry Miggles. I live at sixty five Blicken street, Violet Park; my house phone is Violet Park eight seven seven, or eight double seven as you choose; I am married, have no children; we keep a dog and a cat, and a perpetual palm, and a Boston fern, and—"

"All that is unnecessary sir, we merely—"

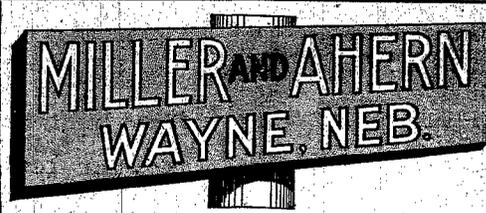

"and last summer we didn't have a bit of luck with our seed; I tried to have a little garden, too, but the neighbor's chickens go away with that; the house is green, with red gables; there is a cement walk from the street; I am forty years old; my wife is younger, and looks it; we have a piano; keep a cook, and an upstairs girl; had the front bedroom papered last week and I want to—"

"Yes!" gasped Mr. Miggles.

"Well, the circuit is busy now. Please call again."

But Mr. Miggles wrote a letter.

Calendars for 1907.

The Democrat wishes to impress it upon the minds of Wayne merchants and business men that this office is in the calendar business. From now until late in the fall traveling agents will call on you to sell you calendars for next fall, and we are reasonably certain that these agents will receive a few orders. It is a peculiar fact that some men would rather patronize strangers than the home printers, the same as other people prefer to patronize the catalogue houses. For next year we have got the finest line of samples ever exhibited and we will be able to sell them for a great deal less money than the agents can sell them and make expenses. The distribution of calendars the first of the year is becoming more popular each year, and it affords an inexpensive way to remember your friends. Do not fail to see our samples before placing an order.

Always Artistic.

One day recently John N. Baldwin owner of a controlling interest in the republican party in Nebraska, and incidentally chief attorney for the Union Pacific railroad company, gave an interview to an eastern newspaper. He is quoted as saying that in the Nebraska republican state convention the railroads will this year have 600 out of the total of 800 delegates.

Fortunate Missourian "When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Grayville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today."

SOMETHING TO SAY.

Bryanism will be a bitter pill for some of the Nebraska democrats to take. "He is selfish," remarked a Norfolk democrat who is intimately acquainted with the great leader, yesterday. It is evident that the county conventions will have something to say and that all will not be harmony even in the democratic ranks.—Norfolk News.

There Is No Hope.

Edgar Howard writes in the Columbus Telegram: At the opening of the present session of congress the country really believes that body would enact some helpful legislation for the regulation of railroad rates. All hope in that direction is dead. Six months ago President Roosevelt was standing like a stone wall between the people and the railroad influence which was seeking to put to sleep all legislation for rate regulation that would mean something.
