Commencement Exercises.

The 21st Annual Graduating Exercises of the High school passed off in a happy manner on last Friday evening. The roll call of the members, who had all acquitted themselves creditably in their class play the night previous, was as follows: Pauline Braunger, Florence Cross, William Crossland, William Forbes, Hattie Hunter, Lewis Lundberg, Claire Moron, Winifred Northrop, Jennie Olmsted, Winifred Pawelski, Beverly Strahan and Florence Surber. When the curtain rose at 8 o'clock the stage of the opera house presented a very pretty appearance. The Juniors had decorated the foot lights with snow balls while on either side were the most exquisite palms and ferns, the class colors being green and white. Above were stretched two banners one bearing the class motto in white, "Launched but not Anchored," the other, "Seniors of 1906." The class of twelve seated in a semi circle looked very charming the girls in their dainty white gowns with lovely bouquets and the boys, as is always said of the groom in the conventional black. Back of the class was the august body of the schoolboard, Rev. Wright and Ringer and Dr. Swearingen the speaker of the evening with Prof. Wilson. The music on this occasion was all particularly pleasing. Mr. McNeal's Euphonium solo "Then You'll Remember Me" was thoroughly enjoyed as was also the vocal solo by Mrs. Morris. The latter has a voice of wonderful sweetness and power, a manner so quiet and unaffected that it makes her a prime favorite with music loving people. Dr. Gamble sang "By the Fountain" in his usual good manner, the doctor certainly deserves a great deal of credit for his untiring work in the musical department of the different exercises during the past week. The violin solo by Prof. Vozet seemed even better than usual and he and his sister Miss Pauline were loudly applauded and obliged to return with another selection before the audience was appeased. The presentation of Diplomas by Hon. A. A. Welch president of the school board, who told of the wonderful growth of the school work from the time of the New England Colonies up to the present date. William Crossland ranked highest in the Class of 1906 while Pauline Braunger who came second almost reached his standing. After the benediction by Rev. Ringer the class came down, standing in front of the stage, where they received the congratulations of their many friends. The address by the Rev. Dr. Swearingen, Pastor of first Presbyterian church of Lincoln was one of the best ever given in Wayne, the following being a synopsis of the same. The subject of the address was "The Strength of Goodness." The speaker said that ordinarily goodness is confused with weakness and is undervalued as a source of power. He acknowledged that there are several different kinds of power all to be desired but proceeded to elaborate the view that goodness has a strength of its own and is within the reach of all. Physical and intellectual power may be in some measure cultivated but are to large extent inherited and therefore are not in the highest degree within the reach of all.

Dr. Swearingen illustrated his thoughts by the failure or success of certain well known public men. That intellectual strength alone was not sufficient was shown from the career of the late Senator Quay. Quay was a man of Napoleonic cast of mind; shrewd, far-seeing and the greatest political organizer that America has had. Quay lacked in moral strength and to his desire for place sacrificed his opportunity of rendering lasting service to his fellow men. He would win at any cost a victory over his opponents.

On the other hand as men in whom moral strength predominated intellectual power, the example of Washington and Jefferson were cited. In the speaker's estimation these men would continue to live when Hamilton and Seward—mental giants who labored by their side—would be forgotten. When the mind failed to penetrate and could not decide between conflicting elements, that wisdom which comes from goodness led these national heroes to a correct conclusion.

Dr. Swearingen urged the class to cultivate the strength of goodness as the surest means to a most useful life. For South Dakota lands see A. N. Matheny. Miss Marion Hyde of Vermillion, S. D. is visiting her sister Mrs. Ted Phillips.

Henry Mayer, Henry Lessman, Jules Chaon and Chris Suhr were a party bound for North Dakota Monday, to buy a few thousand acres of land. Mr Lessman already owns considerable realty in that country. The DEMOCRAT was in error last week in stating that Ralph Rundell had sold his interest in Thermopolis, Wyo., mineral water plant. D. E. Miller returned last week from that place and reports everything booming. Don't be fooled and made believe that rheumatism can be cured with local appliances. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the only positive cure for rheumatism. 35 cents Tea or Tablets. Raymond's Drug Store. The warehouse is now for rent by Stageman & Chapman they having assumed a lease on it for several months. C. E. Sprague of Sheldon, Io., has moved to Wayne, occupying the Craig house in the east part of town. Mr. Sprague is tank man here for the Standard oil company, Fred Wadsworth, retiring. Fred says he was 1500 gallons of gas short in the past year, and being unable to account for it, and refusing to make good for what he believed he never got—in oil—he gave up the job. Seems to be something funny about selling Standard oil here, none of the employes lasting but a few months. Louis Eichtencamp and Aug. Lallman were visitors from Atlington a few days ago, and report that during the big flood at that place John Eichtencamp caught a fish that was as big as an Alaskan whale. After getting a good hook on the water elephant he had to tie the line to a fence post and go for some of the neighbors to help him haul the monster out. We don't know what kind of bait Eichtencamp used, but Henry Hinrichs of Wayne says Eichtencamp is a profound prohibitionist, and the biggest fish story of the year must have been an actual occurrence. What's the good of keeping from him Any good things you may see, That will lift his load of labor Like Rocky Mountain Tea. Raymond's Drug Store. The S. R. O. sign hardly foretold the difficulty on the 7:30 train out of Wayne Tuesday morning. Among the many passengers were H. J. Graves and son of Norfolk, going to Dakota; Louis Volpp with a crowd from Bloomfield bound for Dakota; Antoine Jensen of Winside, going to Blair; Arthur and Wallie Tucker going—somewhere; Lambert Roe and J. G. Mines and son to Omaha to attend the Masonic grand lodge; Messrs. C. R. Munson, C. A. Grothe, Ellis Gilrton, Henry Klopning and Henry Keliogg, going to Amarillo, Texas, the Pan Handle country, to look at lands; Al Howler and Geo. and William Thies, to Gettysburg, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rohrer to Columbus to attend a liquor dealers' association, and from there out to Omaha. John Weatherholtz a bunch from Hoskins, going to Kansas; Mrs. P. M. Corbit, to Wisconsin; Mrs. Brown to Wakefield; and a number of others the DEMOCRAT couldn't keep cases on. Morris Wadsworth of Red Oak, Io., was an arrival Monday, going up to Shoes to look after his farms. Mrs. Herman Henny and baby went to LeMars last Saturday to visit relatives. Blaine Skeen went to Hartington last Saturday where he will catch for the season with that town's crack team of ball players.

of honor escorted by a regiment of royal guards. The bride's party was in the ministry of the interior.

Ahead of the cortege rode trumpeters in crimson velvet suits sounding the approach of the royal party.

Next came a long line of gala coaches of Spanish procession, each of five color, with ornate richly painted, gilded and jeweled and drawn by magnificent horses in silver harness adorned with full plumes, matching the livery.

Following the coaches of Spanish princes and infantes were those of the visiting princes, including the prince of Asturias, the duke of Braganza, the duke and Archduchess Francis Ferdinand of Austria, Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden, Prince Albert of Belgium, and representatives of all the royal houses of Europe.

His majesty was seen smiling and bowing to the popular greetings. He wore the uniform of a general in the Spanish army.

The appearance of the princess aroused the people to the highest pitches of emotion. Men and women alike were seen in the balconies of houses along the route.

The royal coach was brought to a sudden stop by the shock, officers and soldiers of the court falling to the ground about the coach.

It was immediately seen that the royal coach was intact except as to the carriage. The carriage was driven away to the palace.

All this happened so quickly that the crowd about the square and vicinity were not aware of the tragedy and continued to acclaim their sovereign.

The appearance of the king and queen in the coach brought out a delirious ovation. The bomb, which was concealed in a bouquet, was of steel half a centimeter in diameter.

The house, according to some reports, had been occupied by nothing having been bequeathed to her by a philanthropist, and is the only house of the kind in the city.

A horrible spectacle. The scene of the tragedy presented a horrible spectacle with dead men and horses lying about the streets.

The ground was literally covered with blood and the air was filled with the cries of the mob invading the streets.

According to an official statement it is not known whether or not more bombs were thrown. The statement continues that it is impossible to ascertain the exact number of the victims.

Madrid, Spain, May 31.—The marriage of King Alfonso, and Princess Victoria, was celebrated at the cathedral of Toledo.

BISHOP FALLOWS SAYS GRAFTON IS A HERETIC

PETITION HOLY VIRGIN

Chicago, June 4.—(Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows, bishop of St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church, virtually charged Bishop Grafton of Fond du Lac with heresy in an interview given here. The Chicago churchman based his charge upon a prayer written by the bishop of Fond du Lac during the progress of the grassy fire trial.

Bishop Fallows' strict accusations, speaking as a Protestant and not as a member of Bishop Grafton's church as the Reformed Episcopal church is not connected with the Protestant Episcopal one, of which Bishop Grafton is a member.

Bishop Grafton prepared two prayers. One he termed "A Prayer in the Presence of God" and the other "A Prayer for the Holy Spirit."

Ball at the Royal Palace Abandoned—Bull Fight Is Held to Revive Spirits of People.

Madrid, June 5.—The killed by the bomb explosion Thursday now number 24, and the number of wounded given at the palace this evening has been abandoned owing to the general mourning.

Robert Hamilton, the Englishman arrested on suspicion of being connected with the bomb explosion, was released, as it seemed to be a case of mistake.

The street fetes continue. The royal bull fight will take place this afternoon.

Don't Count Your Chickens Before They Are Hatched.

Every person naturely believes they will in some manner receive something in the future that is not yet in sight, and therefore they count their chickens before they are hatched. If every egg was fertile you might with some certainty count your chickens before they were hatched. Eggs are like stores, they all look fertile, but you have to test them to find out the good ones. You waste your time trying to hatch eggs that are not fertile and you waste your money doing business at a store that sells goods that have not been tested. This store is fertile and if you do business here you have good results. Our clothing has been tested and we know the quality is good. Our prices have withstood every test and proved satisfactory to all who have patronized us. Why not buy clothing that is warranted to give satisfaction? You can count on getting good results when you buy anything here. You don't have to wait and see. As we usually charge less than other merchants, and as we will give you another suit if we make a mistake and fail to give you satisfaction. You can not make a mistake to patronize this store. Don't count your chickens before they are hatched, but count on getting up to date clothing and at the lowest price if you buy here. You can expect the best results and not be disappointed when you do business with us. Leave your dollars with us and we will convince you that you left them at the right place. Give us a trial and see.

BY DAD

Beeman, the big chewing gum man, although he has an income of about $27,000 a year, is asking for an increase of $4 a month in his pension. By gum wouldn't that jar you?—Each ange. No, it sticks us.

Eph Cunningham asked us last Saturday I held any grudge against him, by mixing his name up in politics. Ephraim says he prefers to work for Cunningham rather than the dear people, and he isn't the man to pretend one thing and do another.

J Knox Hall, a newspaper freak at Toulon, Ill. wants to furnish me "local" copy for the DEMOCRAT at so much per page, etc. Such "J's" might furnish copy for a paper at Magnet or Naocora, but "local" stuff from Toulon is not what Knox here. We might as well be "held up" by a book agent or give up our filthy lucre for booze as let J. Knox make a Hall out of us, by dad.

That Orr & Morris "ad" tells it straight, but I wouldn't have thought Mr. Orr, old as he is, would be looking for even a glimpse of the women's hose.

I don't see why anyone need feel sorry to see Burton of Kansas go from the senate to the penitentiary. The difference, or at least the greatest difference Burton will discover, will be that the biggest rascals still remain in the senate.

A certain Wayne man tells me he was condoling with one of his friends from the country, the other day, over the misfortune of having his, the farmer's, incubator lamp going out, after the 240 eggs had been under heat for two weeks. "It's a bad loss, for you," remarked the W. M. "Loss, hell," replied the farmer, I brought 'em to town and sold 'em." Here's a live opportunity for Teddy to throw his muck rake into the farmers. By dad, I was wondering why I couldn't keep, hic! those, Lic! eggs down!

And Smoot will stay in. Bully for Smoot.

Sam Temple is the maddest man in town this week, but I haven't much sympathy for him. I always supposed a blue-blooded Kentuckian had not only lots of sand, but was hasty. Sam is neither of them. He lately put in a clock, that by dropping a nickel into it fed out a cigar, just a little slicker than the modern boy could do it. The clock gave up a cigar per nickel, or six for a quarter. The other day 'arshal Miner told Temp he'd have to put his clock away, that the city wouldn't allow him to sell cigars on "tick," and instead of "being from Missouri" Temp showed the feather. We certainly have some "d-d" peculiar moralists in this town. For two or three years open gambling has been allowed,—nothing else to it—and here a smoker is prohibited from buying his cigars by the clock, and being right on time. This is a funny world; all kinds of people in it. I'm glad "I ain't" that other kind! "Ain't you?"

The boys at the court house are having all kinds of fun with the clerk of courts. A few days ago they found several dozen empty beer bottles, a reminder of the Kuhl days, and set them on the clerk's windows, labeled "No minors allowed," "Cash for drinks," etc.

I guess, by dad, we won't take any more of our meats canned. Perhaps it was not nearly so bad as Teddy tells it, but the thoughts of eating stewed-up cats and lumpy-jawed bull-beef will send many of us to sardines and crackers.

Rev. C. N. Dawson, in the Monitor published at Stanton, says: "The new wife of Bro. W. G. Fowler, at Decatur, is making a fine impression. "Look out elder Better beware."

The Sioux City Tribune of last Saturday had a graphic account of how a physician had found a crooked vertebrae in a preacher, which caused the divine to go bad among his flock, and that after he was cured the preacher was perfectly harmless so far as the flock was concerned, etc. If the DEMOCRAT were to print such things, as it appeared in the Tribune, some body would get busy making arrangements to send the by dad man to Omaha.

A citizen of Fort Wayne has brought suit against a neighbor for $10,000 damages, alleging the neighbor hugged his wife over a barbed wire fence. I think the Fort Wayne citizen is unreasonable. If it is worth $10,000 to hug a woman over a barbed wire fence how much would it be worth to hug her in the old man's parlor on a settee by a warm fire? If you start with $10,000 with a barbed wire fence obstruction country editors could never reach the parlor. You're too high old man, too high.

Denison Bulletin: "My, but wasn't it cold Sunday?" exclaimed a sweet young lady to a friend on the street. "I declare if I ever come to Denison to visit again it will not be until after the Fourth of July. Here I was away from home and had nothing on but a thin shirt waist." "Oh, my; oh, me. I wondered what so many men were out rubber necking for Sunday."

Sam Davies has a day more life than the rest of us. Last week Sam, who is a good friend of the DEMOCRAT and has been helping each week to fold up these papers, came down to the office at four o'clock, a. m. Thursday, under the impression that it was Friday. As the force does not go to work until 5 a. m.—except Fridays—Sam had to wait an hour before discovering his fatal error, but he got here Friday at the regular time just the same.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

In case of stomach and liver trouble the proper treatment is to stimulate these organs without irritating them. Jimmy McGinty played a mean joke on Clerk of the Courts Feather last Saturday. It was just in the midst of the examination of a young woman for insanity, that Jimmy bounded into the room, as though going to the bottom of the sea, and bawled out: "Mr. Luckey wants that sermon you are writing for him, Mr. Feather!" Of course the rest of the 'insane board,' thought they were up against another subject, but explanations determined that Miss Mamie Feather was copying some sermons for Depot Agent Luckey—who is also a preacher—and Young McGinty had made a slight error, which the silver-haired clerk of courts will never forgive.

A bashful young man recently got married and delivered himself thusly to a sympathizing friend: "You don't know how bashful I am; the gals just worry the life out of me. When I stood up to get married they all giggled, and when the minister asked me if I'd take this woman to be my wedded wife, I said 'purty well, thankee;' and when he pronounced us man and wife, and said, 'what God has joined together let no man rip apart,' I broke down and bawled. Oh! it was horrible! Bout eleven o'clock the old man sez: 'Your room's at the head o' the stair,' I was so skeered that when I tried to stand up my legs gave way and I fell over the dog and got bit in three places I waited 'til every one had gone to bed, then crawled up stairs like a spoon thief. I was afraid to go in, so I sat on the stairs and shivered. Its no use sez I, wat's got to be here. So I took off my clothes in the dark and shut my eyes. Then I made a break for the door. I found the bed, pulled the cover over my head and laid on the front rail. In the morning I peeped through my fingers to see if I could dress and get out 'fore she woke up, and bang it all if I wasn't in bed with the old man and woman."

Died.

Last Sunday morning, before break of day, the life went out of the poor, tired old body of J. C. Drake, Mrs. Corbit's father. The old gentleman has been falling fast since the death of his wife two years ago, since which time he has made his home with his daughter here. Funeral services were held at the Corbit home Monday afternoon, and Tuesday morning the remains were taken by Mrs. Corbit to Soldiers' Grove, Wis., the old home, where the wife was buried. Mr. Drake was a native of New York state, born in 1824. From there he moved to Ohio, and in '86 to Crawford county, Wis. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Corbit and Mrs. McClees of Wayne, and Mrs. Cumerina of Wisconsin.

Bryan Will Be The Man.

Nothing can stop the fast-rising tide of sentiment which points to the certain nomination of Bryan in the next democratic national convention. The death of the man is the only barrier which can come between. In thirteen Missouri counties last week the democratic conventions declared Bryan was their choice for president. When it is remembered that Missouri is the home of Joe Folk, and that Folk has considered a presidential probability, the action of those Missouri democrats is indeed significant. The Missouri endorsement of Bryan does not mean that Missourians love Joe Folk less, but rather that they love Bryan more. They behold in Folk a splendid champion of some democratic principles. In Bryan they behold a magnificent advocate of all democratic principles—a man whose every-day life, whether on the American rostrum, in the American home, or in the dazzling presence of the mighty monarch of the realms beyond the seas—is a life guided true to those pure principles of democracy vouchsafed by the fathers of the republic to the American people. And as in Missouri, so in all the nation. Not only democrats, but reasonable republicans are turning to Bryan as the only hope of those who sincerely desire the rescue of the republic from control of the element which for years has been trending the nation and its people away from loyalty to good principles, and always towards a shameful subservience to influences which control the wealth of the country. In 1908 will occur the real battle between money and men in America. We had those kind of battles in 1896 and in 1900, but they were pretty one-sided. The forces will be more evenly divided in the next battle. All men who own money are not now aligned with the opposition to Bryan. Many Americans of great wealth have been converted to the cause of humanity by the mission ary efforts of Mr. Bryan. Many men of wealth who helped to buy the election away from Mr. Bryan in 1896, at that time honestly regarding him as an anarchist, will be with him in the coming fight, because the anarchist of 1896 now appears to them in the guise of the first citizen of the republic—first, not because of his marvelous oratory—not because of his ability as a party leader—but because of the purity of his life and his steadfast devotion to the democratic principles. In the next battle Bryan will not be opposed as in 1896, by the policy holders in the great insurance companies. Something has been doing of late years, thanks to the teachings of Bryan, and that something has brought to light the fact that Wall street and the republican party have been using the money of the gigantic life insurance companies, not to aid the widow and the orphan, but to steal the presidency of the republic away from the democratic candidate. Can Bryan win a fight with the desperate men who can control the greedy corporations of the land? The record reads that in all the world the right has often been crushed by the wrong, aided by the power of money, and the American people will not be able to wrest control of their government from the hands of the criminal rich without great effort. But The Telegram is an optimist, and will continue to believe that our country has reached that stage in its national existence in which it will place men above dollars, and in that belief it does not require an eye of prophecy to see in 1912 an election in which the shame of 1896 will be wiped out by the shame of election to the presidency of the man who will be the chief victim of that crime.—Columbus Telegram.

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines health was the most important consideration, Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant of Rural Route 1, Concord N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption which kept me in perfect health. And now we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Raymond, druggist. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free."

Burton, Dietrich and Mitchell.

Three United States Senators, Burton of Kansas, Dietrich of Nebraska, and Mitchell of Oregon, have been tried, Dietrich escaped on a technicality, Mitchell convicted and died pending an appeal, while Burton has waged a long battle. He was convicted under the law which prohibits a senator or representative from practicing before the executive departments. He appeared before the postoffice department and the paid attorney for a grain company doing business at St. Louis, which company had been denied the use of the mails. Mr. Burton was employed by this company to prevent the issuance of a fraud order. Included in the sentence of the court is that Burton be forever debarred from holding office. It is claimed that this, however, does not formally cast him from the senate but that it will be necessary for the senate to expel him. Senator Hale of Maine, has introduced a resolution providing for an inquiry as to Burton's status with respect to the senate.—Commoner.

The Sioux City (Iowa) Journal, republican, reproduces several attacks by republican editors upon Senator LaFollette. One of these republican editors says: "A man of LaFollette's stamp is out of place in legislative halls." Surely 'tis so. Places in legislative halls should be reserved for the Aldriches, the Depewes, the Piatts and the Burtoas—men whose devotion to public interests has made them leaders of the republican party.—Commoner.

This Looks Like Business

The Telegram gathers from what it deems first hands in Omaha the information that the criminal hand of the law will soon be laid upon some members of the lumber and coal trusts in Nebraska. It will not be the hand of the Nebraska criminal law, because Attorney-General Brown flatly refuses to prosecute his friends who are members of the two trusts. The move for criminal prosecution of the lumber and coal trust fellows will be made in the federal court of Omaha. Perhaps even now the federal grand jury may be investigating some of the fazy boys who are laughing in their sleeves because of the inactivity of Norris Brown. Perhaps some of the ones who have been plucking the financial feathers of Nebraska people who buy coal and lumber will soon be raising in camp pany with poor Joe Crow toward the penitentiary.

The signs of the times are good. They point plain and fair to the coming of the day when a crime will be considered a crime in Nebraska, whether committed by a farmer or a trust official.

Keep your ears open. Perhaps there may come from the Omaha grand jury rooms within a few days some words of hope—some sounds which may revive the spirits of men who have begun to regard trust officials as higher than the law.—Columbus Telegram.
