The Farmers' Cream Association.

About fifty farmers met at the court house last Saturday afternoon and organized an association for their mutual protection in selling cream. After reading minutes of two previous meetings a permanent organization was effected, to be in force for five years, at least. Sixty members enrolled, all of whom guaranteed to deliver their cream to the association for five years. Representatives were present from the big butter houses, and stated they would bid on the entire shipment from the company. A committee of five, Henry Lessman, Chris Wischoff, P. M. Corbit, J. O. Richardson and Aug. Wittler, were appointed to transact the business of the company. They will receive bids on cream, and met again Tuesday June 12th, to make a contract for sale of same. Chris Wischoff was elected president of the association, and P. M. Corbit secretary. Each member is required to put up a bond of $20 to guarantee the delivery of all surplus cream to the association. It also binds them to deliver cream in good, clean condition. A much better fire is anticipated for the product when the entire output is put in one lot, probably several cents over the ordinary low price. It will also take the business out of the hands of the local merchants.

Arrangements have been made by the committee to take cream at the Newton mill building. All farmers are requested to sell their cream there whether members of the association or not. The company commences buying cream today, June 15th.

H. E. Slaughter wife and child, arrived from Napier last Friday and remained here until Monday.

Another 20-acre tract adjoining Wayne at a bargain.

W. M. Fleetwood went to Lincoln Monday to attend a state meeting of undertakers.

W. H. Billeter, was a visitor from Carroll Monday. He says it is very dry in that part of the county, the last big rain or two that fell here, failing to reach them. "Wayne Duke," a thoroughbred horse F. E. Strahan, sold to I. Porter last Friday, died last Thursday, being the property of Ed Jones at the time.

Prof. Hines was an arrival from the Black Hills Tuesday, bringing his two little girls down from Winside on a visit to their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brown.

J. E. Sneath and Dr. Cadwell left Wednesday morning on a trip to the Indian Territory to inspect the country with a view of locating there.

Chace Shaw was a Winside visitor in town Tuesday.

W. H. McNeal went to Omaha Tuesday morning to attend a three days session of the state postmasters' convention, and of course had "the time of his life."

Henry Ley went to Sioux City Tuesday morning to meet his sister from North Yakama, Wash, this being her first visit to Wayne.

T. W. Moran returned from the farm in South Dakota last Sunday, and again assumed his duties at the depot. Agent Lucky leaving Tuesday. Mr. Moran had a fine time while away and looks it. His family enjoy it very much and are pleased that they took up the homestead.

"Manny" Chaon bought a quarter section of land in McIntyre county, N. D. last week, Henry Lessman also adding to his possessions up there.

Ed. Carroll was a visitor from Carroll last Saturday.

E. H. Wright, who lives south of town, says some of his neighbors are very "fresh," one of them recently stealing a 2 1/2 pound of rock salt out of his pasture. The Democrat didn't suppose it was any crime to steal rock salt, but Mr. Wright thinks it is pretty "rocky" for this particular neighbor to do such a trick.

L. M. Owen sold a team of driving horses to Ellis Gorton, last week, at a fancy figure. It is one of the best looking pair of steppers in the town.

Lou Lundburg went out to Huntington, Or., last week to take a job with a surveying party.

A. A. Welch came home from the lawyers' picnic Saturday at 7:30, and went back on the 10:00 a. m. The legal fraternity had a picnic at Neligh, all right, even without any clients to pick.

Herman Henry went to LeMars, Monday morning, and will return in a day or two with his wife, who has been there for a couple of weeks.

Don't be fooled and made believe that rheumatism can be cured with local applications. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the only positive cure for rheumatism. 35 cents Tea or Tablets. Raymond's Drug Store. Good range for sale. FRED BENSIOFF.

Stores Consolidate.

Charles Robbins made a sale of his dry goods stock and lease of the Bressler building to Miller & Ahern, last Friday afternoon, the latter firm to make a double store of it, or rather department store, a stock of shoes and clothing to be added. The sale was made owing to the poor health of Mrs. Robbins, they contemplating a trip to Colorado in a few weeks. The deal gives Miller & Ahern one of the best establishments in the state, and one of the best opportunities to do a big business.

For Fourth July.

At a meeting of the commercial club Monday night the following committees were selected to take care of the big celebration in Wayne July 4, 1906:

Amusements—W. H. Morris, E. J. Raymond, A. R. Davis, C. M. Craven. Concessions—S. R. Theobald, H. B. Jones, H. Whalen.

Fireworks—H. Whalen, J. E. Masteller, James Leahy.

Advertising—W. H. McNeal, W. M. Orr, W. S. Goldie.

Music—Dr. Gamble, Ed. Johnson, Wilson Rickabaugh.

The Commercial club suggests and requests the citizens of the town to give visitors the freedom of all residence lawns for picnic parties. Just hang out a sign on your gate post or house; "Welcome All," or something of that sort so people will know when looking for a place to rest and feast that they are not intruding. Perhaps some parties have barns or yards for teams. For instance the Democrat can give barn space for a couple of teams. In various ways the citizens can assist generally in entertaining and making it pleasant for visitors.

A Word From the Temple

Editor Democrat:

Let me thank you for defending me in your last issue. You said you were surprised at a Kautuckian showing the white feather, I must confess I did, but what else was I to attack, when a sneak who is not man enough to let his name be known, goes to the marshal and makes a whine. What is left for me to do only obey the marshal's orders? Yes, Mr. Editor, if they care so much for the morals of this town they wouldn't kick at me giving my customers six cigars for 25 cents, but would stop gambling for money. Yes, I am proud to say that my friends are all with me in this little, dirty deal, and they appreciate a man who does not want it all but will "divey up" with them in giving them cheap cigars. Those that live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones, though they are the first to do it. Oh! consistency where art thou? In conclusion let me thank you again.

S. TEMPLE.

Tom Holtz went up to Randolph Saturday night to visit his brother, Lou.

A son and heir came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reynolds last Saturday, which, causes Charley to "swell up" more than any pesky election could affect him. The lad will no doubt go right to work grooming the old man for a third term as county clerk.

FOR SALE—Several choice pieces of farm property close to Wayne. Enquire of J. Woodward Jones.

Instant Louse Killer for sale at Leahy's Drug Store.

W. H. Billeter and W. H. Root were visitors down the branch Monday.

If you want to sell your lot or house and lots see A. N. Matheny. He has some customers for them.

A brother of "Nin" Owen arrived here last week from Virginia, to make this his home. Mr. Owen, of course, sees a vast difference between old Virginia and Nebraska, but people make money in that section of the country as well as up here. As an instance seven years ago a tract of timber land was sold for $1,500, that couldn't be touched now for $20,000.

The only shop in town using antiseptic. Root & Mabbott.

J. L. Perdue and Wm. Plepenstock have greatly improved their residence property by putting in Beebe's cement sidewalks.

D. E. Miller and "Doc" Jones tell the Democrat there are some "good towns" out in Wyoming. One place they visited has thirty business houses—thirty-three saloons, six saloons not yet opened for business, and seven houses of prostitution. The Wayne gentlemen only staid in this place, a few days.

When baby talks, it is time to give Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It's the greatest baby medicine known to loving mothers. It makes them eat, sleep and grow. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Raymond's Drug Store.

W. J. Weatherholt returned last Friday from a trip to Crofton, where, he says, everything is on a 'big boom, and the town will be one of the best in this part of the state.

For South Dakota lands see A. N. Matheny.

Joe Farrar, for many years a resident near Winside, died Sunday, June 3rd.

G. B. Alstrop was a visitor from Wakefield last Friday, making the Democrat a "three years' visit."

RAN AWAY WITH GIRL

Henry Ulrich and Mary Pfeil Elope, But Are Captured.

There was considerable excitement in town last Friday when Charley Pfeil, from south of town arrived, and told the story of the elopement or his young daughter Mary, with Henry Ulrich. The sheriff being at the Ne-lyh picnic, and no deputy here to attend to business set Mr. Pfeil away up in the air, but he boarded the morning train to Emerson, and after arriving there proceeded to telephone to surrounding towns, with the result that the couple were arrested at Hartington just as they were going into the county judge's office there for a marriage license. Friday afternoon Constable Soules went after them and took charge of Mr. Ulrich until Saturday afternoon when a hearing was called before Judge Hunter, at which time the young man was put under $100 bonds pending a continuance to Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Ulrich going her son's security.

Tuesday the case against young Ulrich was dismissed and the curtain dropped on the first act.

Liked The Place.

Laurel Advocate.—City Marshal Boling piloted a party of ladies on a tour of inspection through the city last Saturday evening. They expressed themselves as well pleased with what they saw.

Get your cistern fixed. See Beebe. The Odd Fellows held memorial services last Sunday, marching to the Lutheran church, where Rev. Binger delivered an excellent memorial address, and then to the cemetery to decorate the tombs of the departed lodge-men.

W. J. Weatherholt of Hoskins handed the Democrat four plunks on subscription last Friday with the remark that he had been taking the paper just twenty years, or since he got married. There has been a good many changes—in twenty years, and the Democrat has come in for a share of them. A subscriber who has been paying for the paper through all of those years of "thick" and "thin," is entitled to the present publisher's sympathy.

Hartington News: Miss Rose Breslin returned last Thursday evening from Magnet where she has had charge of the primary work in the schools for the past three years. D., where she will visit relatives and if she likes that country may file on a claim.

Mrs. E. A. Slater was an arrival from Centralia, Iowa, where she visited her daughter several months.

Tom Perrin writes to send him the Democrat to Elgin, where he is now in the saloon business.

Earl Gibson has been up from Omaha the past week.

Miss Helen Pile is home from Academy Hall, Jacksonville, Ill., for vacation.

It Makes A Difference.

Some men believe it makes no difference when they buy a suit if they can find what they want and the price is satisfactory. In this they are mistaken, for it makes a great difference when you buy your clothing. We do not claim that we have the only good clothing made or that you can not buy the right kind of anyone but us, but we do claim that no one sells better clothing than we do, and our prices are invariably more satisfactory than others ask. Not many merchants have had the experience in the clothing business we have, and no one is better fixed to take advantage of a cash price than we are. Our expenses are less than any merchant we know in the clothing business. We pay no rent and sell the goods ourselves, and buy them direct from the factory for cash. These advantages are not enjoyed by many in the clothing business and for these reasons it makes a great difference to you if you buy your clothing of us. Please consider these claims and investigate this store to prove them. You will be treated courteously no matter if you buy or not, and we feel sure you will be well paid for the time spent in this store. We are better prepared to fit and please you than we ever were, and we are anxious to have a chance to show you that it will be greatly to your advantage to buy your clothing of us. Why not give us a trial?

BY DAD

Shaw appears to have got his fingers in the muck while using his little rake. The county commissioners were feeling decidedly serene and quiet, as a board of equalization, until late Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Fred Sebold broke in upon their restfulness with a force that made up for all the board's idleness, and made them, assessor Jake Ziegler and other county employes believe they were not drawing their salaries for nothing. It was the warmest sentence the board has ever had, according to stories told of the circumstance, and the board made an early adjournment to get away from the fracas Mrs. Sebold's wrath fell more heavily upon County Atty. S. L. Man, whom she is going to have impeached for refusing to have her husband arrested and confined in a crazy house. Harry no doubt bases his refusal on the point that Fred wouldn't find it much of a change.

Annie Weisenborn of St. Louis, broke her arm trying to button her shirt waist up the back. Funny this does not happen oftener among the frail sex. You seldom see them, especially on the street or in public place, that they are not trying to button up something at their backs.

It looks as though some people in this town would keep on being gay until they wreck the ship of matrimony.

I heard a pretty good story on the medical craft the other day, as related by a physician, therefore it must be true. A certain locality "not more than a hundred miles from Wayne," has been sending an awful lot of patients to Sioux City, to be operated on for appendicitis. Recently a young girl was ordered taken to Sioux City, to a particular doctor, to have her diseased appendix removed. After getting on the train the father of the girl changed his mind and took her to Dr. Jonas of Omaha, telling him, the doctor, she must have an operation at once. Dr. Jonas told the up-country man that his girl was all O. K., and didn't need any operation, and the father unconvinced, went to two more specialists where he got the same advice. Arriving home with his child just in time to find one of his neighbors preparing to take a child "to Sioux City for appendicitis," he told the new candidate for the carving operation his experience in Omaha. The second party thereupon followed the course taken by his predecessor with exactly the same results. This may be a true story, and it might be over-drawn, but I believe it's a good thing to print just to put the public on guard.

When living in Sioux City a few years ago I got it pretty straight that few patients arriving at the hospitals failed to get away without being cut up; draw your own inferences. It's hardly possible that any practicing physician would prescribe an operation, if he or she did not deem it necessary, but lots of physicians make serious blunders and mistakes and people nowadays are apparently too anxious to get cut open, just because it's fashionable.

Dennison Bulletin: A neighboring woman is trying to raise some young geese, and the other night when it rained she made her husband get up and go out in the down pour to take the geese in the barn so they wouldn't drown. Same way a fellow up at Wall Lake has a tame fish and every time it thunders and lightnings he has to go out and catch it and take it to bed with him to keep it from committing suicide by drowning. Down at Dow City a man is raising pigs, and one old sow ate up all her own litter of thirteen pigs, and then made meals on the pigs every other sow that had thirteen children. An unlucky number, that. A farmer's boy over near Vail has broken a colt to work so well that he can now brace the cultivator handles apart the right distance and send the colt to the far end of the field and back without following it, and it does the work as well as if he rode the hard seat all the time.

To Fred Lorenz, Winside: Yes, Fred, I got the $2 that paid your subscription to March, 1908, but it gave me such a severe jolt that I haven't had the heart to put the figure (8) along side so many measly 4s and 5s. Thank you, By Dad.

The dispatches state that Mrs. Alice Longworth sat next to King Edward at the banquet board in Hingham. But what of that? King Edward would be harmless now, although it isn't so many years ago that an American wouldn't care to have his woman folks quite that close to the rooster.

The following poem from Bixby of the State Journal is certainly up-to-day: Now Chancellor Day of Syracuse Declares on his honor it is no use; It is only productive of deep disgust; So he jumps on the villain who bumps the trust,

And the language he uses is just as free And as full of invective as it can be. He abuses the ones who have dealt abuse; If they poison our meat whatthehell's the use,

Says this man, to elaborate on the scenes. Through the daily press and the magazines. There is no sort of profit, says Mr. Day, In abusing the trusts in a reckless way; In condemning the graft and the greed of men

Who are doing big business outside the pen. And the men who condemn are condemned in kind

By invective as fierce as the man can find. Right along this line I would like to say, If it pleases the court and offends not Day, That from what we know it can't be denied That a little muck-raking is justified, And the chancellor shouldn't become too sore

If when Denmark is rotten the people roar, And they have as much license to use the rake. As this Day has to roar at the roar they make.

Teachers' County Institute.

The Wayne County Teachers' Institute closed June 8. The enrollment was one hundred ten. The instructors were Prof. F. M. Gregg of Peru and Supt. E. P. Wilson and Mrs. M. A. Phillips of Wayne. Prof. Gregg's work in geography, agriculture, physiology and orthography was received with enthusiasm. His work in geography and agriculture was conducted largely on the illustrated lecture plan. It was a treat to the teachers to meet their former instructor, whose work in the Nebraska Normal made him exceedingly popular. Supt. Wilson gave many practical suggestions on the difficult points teachers have to meet in school management and in the teaching of arithmetic and grammar. His personality, keen insight into all phases of educational work, and his pleasant manner of expressing his ideas made him one of the leaders among Nebraska's educators. The model country school taught by Mrs. Phillips was a new feature of the institute work in this county. It was a profound success.

The illustrated lecture by Prof. Gregg Thursday night on the subject "Nebraska's Geological Story," was a rare treat. About one hundred lantern slides were used. Prof. Gregg combines to a remarkable degree the power to acquire and understand scientific facts with the power to make them plain to others.

Friday afternoon the rural schools of the county held their eighth grade graduating exercises in the court room. There were thirty graduates. The graduating address was given by Ernest E. Sias of Lincoln, "The Lost Chord." The address was eloquent and inspiring and was thoroughly appreciated by the large audience present. The scholarship offered by the Wayne Normal to the pupil from the county schools, receiving the highest grades, was won by Wm. Julius Carl Kleper.

At the close of the graduating exercises a business session of the County Teachers' association was held with Pres. Ben S. Robinson of Winside presiding. For Reading Circle purposes the county was divided into three districts with Carroll, Winside and Wayne as meeting places. In addition to these sectional meetings several county meetings will be held in Wayne in the course of a year. Following is a list of officers elected. Miss Carroll of Carroll, president; Miss Vennerberg of Wayne, vice-president; and Miss Grier of Wayne, secretary.

Mail Carrier Wright's team made things lively on Main street Monday forenoon by coming from the north hitched to an old wagon loaded with cobs, the horses going faster than their feed bill would give evidence of their doing. At the State bank corner they straddled a light pole and came to an ignominious finish, but scared Drayman White's team into a run, the latter being caught at Bonawitz's livery.

Cream Producers.

The test and its variations seem to be an endless source of trouble between the cream buyer and the cream seller. The test, as it is usually called, shows the amount of butter fat, not butter, in the cream or milk tested. The butter fat is churning united with some of the milk in the cream and some salt is added later. The butter made, on the average has about five-sixths butter fat, and one sixth is made up of water, curd and salt. One hundred pounds of butter fat makes about one hundred and sixteen pounds of butter if a skillful butter maker does the work. A poor butter maker may not get any more butter than butter fat. This surplus of butter over butter fat is called the over-run. If the cream seller churns the cream at home to compare with the test secured he should expect to get a little more butter per hundred pounds of cream than the test shows butter fat.

The Babcock test is a perfectly accurate method when properly used. If one creamery gives higher tests than another on the same cream, it means some careless or dishonest testing is being done.

The farmer cannot understand often why cream tests should vary when the milk is from the same cows and is separated in the same machine. Of course it is easily possible for tests to vary on account of careless sampling and testing. The cream buyer often blames the farmer himself for variations in tests, claiming he changes the cream screw. Changing the cream screw of course does change the test very much, but the farmer seldom does this. There are several other reasons why the test varies and these variations cannot be prevented, but as a rule they should not be large.

First of all the speed of the machine affects the proportion of cream and skim milk. The faster the machine is run the greater the volume of skim milk and a smaller amount of richer cream results. The amount of milk in the supply can be another factor affecting the test of the cream. Sometimes it may happen that the supply can is but partly full during the greater part of the run, while another time it may be kept full most of the time. When the supply can is full the pressure on the float is greater and the machine feeds a little faster than when the can is not so full. The faster it feeds the thinner the cream, but the greater the quantity. Occasionally the faucet is not open to its full capacity, which cuts down the feed and this results in a smaller quantity of richer cream. The temperature affects the test a little in the same way as the warm milk goes through somewhat faster than the cold and this may vary the test.

A variation in the test of milk separated also affects the test of the cream. The richer the milk the richer the cream. Another factor, often the most important of all is the amount of skim milk or water used to flush out the cream. If one quart is used one time and two or three the next time the cream is bound to vary in test. A farmer must expect these small variations and they are not indications of inaccurate testing.

CARROLL NEWS.

From Carroll Index.

M. S. Linn was a passenger to Davis City. He is on a business trip and will return Saturday.

Geo. Kingston is not a man that picks a fight ordinarily, but he certainly was the aggressor in the fracas that occurred at his place north of town Monday. But any man would have acted as George did under the circumstances.

He was busy fixing fence when he noticed some minks in the pasture. He thought he would beat in the game and a right warm reception he received. Instead of running for their holes they all ran for George, five in all. Well now, things were doing for a while. Armed with a spade our worthy citizen put up stiff fight and soon had three of the vermin stretched cold upon the ground. With this inroad made into their ranks the remaining two took to their holes and made their escape.

Mrs. John Mellick left Thursday for a two week's visit with friends and relatives at Neigh and Elgin.

One of the real freaks of nature has shown up this spring at the Evan Jenkins place in the settlement. It is in the shape of a three-legged pig. The animal has front legs, but only one hind, which is in the center of the body and gives perfect balance to the weight of the little fellow. He is very spry and is growing rapidly.

Ora McKay and wife of Doon, Iowa, visited with her brother Oscar and his parents the early part of the week. They are going to spend the remainder of the week at Bloomfield.

Maggie Davis has arrived at Baltimore and the trial of "Dr." White is now in progress but Maggie has not yet been on the witness stand. The net income of this fake was $1500 per week. Too bad to spoil such a good thing.

Well did you hear about the ball game at Hartington Monday. The Carroll lads certainly showed the county centers a few things about the game. The Carroll team is a strong one this year and will be hard to beat.

Shot Him In The Legs.

A Sensational Item That Was Kept Pretty Quiet.

The DEMOCRAT just learned this week of a shooting affray of Tuesday night of last week in which a young man of the town had a couple of bullets plugged into his leg, or legs. The party shot is red-headed, as the shooter no doubt was when she fired off her pistol, none other than a well-known married woman who resides in the north east part of town. The injured man was taken to a hospital at Sioux City, and the whole matter kept pretty quiet. The DEMOCRAT is informed that he was trying to get into her house when she did the shooting. First reports were to the effect that John Massie had probably wounded the night hawk, as he had taken a shot at some prowlers in his yard one night, but the time of the shooting does not tally with the date of Mr. Massie's fireworks.

A young man living in that neighborhood tracked blood all the way down town to near the Sherburne laundry next morning. The party shot could not have been very badly hurt he kept on at his work until Sunday, when he left for Sioux City. The cause of the shooting can probably be better guessed at than described—in the DEMOCRAT.

Editor Closson Weds.

Under date of June 12th the following special appeared in the Omaha Bee of the 13th, from Webster City, Io.:

"This evening, at the home of the bride's parents in this city occurred the marriage of Miss Lita Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hunter, to Mr. Richard Closson of Carroll Neb., editor of the Carroll Index. The ceremony was performed at 6:30 o'clock in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends." Well, Richard, you certainly surprise us a few, but here's hoping you not only have a good wife, but an assistant editor, substitute compositor, local news reporter, and better than else a housekeeper.

In another column appears an ordinance establishing a Park Commission, which will have the privilege of caring for the new park and making it grow like a diadem of promise. Mayor Pienstock tells the DEMOCRAT he will appoint as such commission Messrs. John T. Bressler, Jas. Britton and W. O. Gamble, three gentlemen who have the matter at heart and who will no doubt prove worthy of the responsibility.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nies, Wendell Nies and Miss Kate Baker accompanied William Nies to Creighton Wednesday, and attended his wedding yesterday to Miss Jennie Carroll of that place. The newly wed went through Wayne this morning enroute to Sioux City where they go right to house-keeping. The bride is a handsome, talented and wealthy young lady, and "Billy" well, "Billy" be switched; he's a good fellow if you just take him right; and the DEMOCRAT hopes his wife is smart enough to attend to that part of it. We'll call and "take something" first time we are in the city. William, on one of the "famous," you know.

Misses Annie and Ella Leahy have gone to Boston and Ontario, Can, on a few weeks visit.

Married.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Skiles, last Wednesday, a very pretty wedding took place, when their daughter Fannie, was united to C. C. Hurley, of Glendive, Mont., Rev. Ringer performing the ceremony. The young couple left Wednesday evening for a week's visit at Grand Island, add from there go to Mr Hurley's home at Glendive, where he is county attorney and has a large law practice. Mrs. Hurley is a Wayne county girl everybody is proud of. For several years she has taught in Wayne and later in Bralnard, Minn. Mr. Hurly is a graduate of the Nebraska Normal college, one of the best and most successful young men to come from that institution. The DEMOCRAT predicts and wishes them a very happy future.

The county commissioners were in session this week as a board of equalization, but there was nothing doing in that line, not a single protest being recorded.

Mrs. Phin Ellis and Miss Mabel Clark were passengers to Omaha Wednesday. Dr. Wightman and family returned Tuesday from Boston. They had a delightful trip, spending four days at the great convention of physicians, which was attended by professional men from England and other foreign places.

Frank Berry says the lawyers' picnic at Neligh was just the best thing ever pulled off. Frank says fishing was good, but there was plenty else to tickle the inner man. A colored cook from Omaha "fished" out the victuals, strawberry shortcake, and all the delectables of the season, and Atty. Berry says he just put on a pound of flesh per day for the five days he put in at it.

Cards have been received from Herman Millner announcing his arrival in England after a very stormy trip. He was due in Hamburg June 3d.

The investigation of the Norfolk asylum was resumed yesterday. It looks like a white wash for Supt. Alden, the blame for cruelties practiced on patients being shifted to employees.

There was enough rice wasted at the depot Wednesday night to feast a thousand Chinese. Mr. C. C. Hurley and his bride drove to Wakeneld to "avoid the rush" at Wayne, but when the cars arrived here they found the scheme ill-timed, as a score of young folks fled into the coach when the train stopped and gave them a deluge of the grain, enough of it being sand which into the bridal couple's clothes so that it would take them all night to shake it out.

Big Wedding At Creighton.

One of the Biggest of the Year at That Town.

Creighton, Neb., June 14—Special to The News: Chas. W. Nies of Wayne and Miss Jennie Carroll of this city were married at the Catholic church at 9 o'clock this morning Rev. Father McNamee of Bloomfield officiating. The best man was Mr. Nies' brother and the bridesmaid was Mr. Nies' cousin, all from Wayne. The bride carried a large bouquet of bride's roses.

Following the ceremony at the church there was a reception at the home of the bride's father Joe Carroll, a wealthy stock man of this place. This evening there will be a big ball at Green's Hall.

The couple will make their home in Sioux City, where Mr. Nies is engaged in business.

There was a big crowd in attendance at the wedding, many being here from Wayne, Carroll, Lynch and other places.—Norfolk News.

Harry Walton, a former employe of the railroad company here but more recently working for the wholesale house of McCord-Brady Co., of Omaha, was on his way to Bloomfield Tuesday where he will try railroading again.

Mr. Morris was actually seen playing tennis at 6 a. m. one day this week, rather early for the gentleman and somewhat strenuous for a man of his corporeity.

June, the month of weddings, what's the matter with Wayne, only one elopement so far, others will follow soon, but probably not all be elopements.

Dr. Gamble made a professional trip to Allen on Tuesday.

There is an ordinance against keeping hogs in town limits, yet within a block of the business centre is a hog pen that is certainly a public nuisance. Several complaints have been made. The marshal gave the owner a good talk, with the result of a little lime sprinkled in the yard but the hogs still remain and a nuisance of course will exist till the pen is cleaned and hogs removed from city limits. The same man kept hogs all last summer, and nothing strange that there was sickness in the family all winter long: At times hogs and cows have been allowed in the yard right next to kitchen door. Hardly the thing for a civilized community. Drastic measures will be used if this matter is not attended to very soon.—Contributed.

If you feel bad have Mabbott & Root give you a little head massage.

Charley Robbins' doesn't appear to be a "hard loser" in his recent fire and selling out experiences. Disinterested observers figure Mr. Robbins' credit side of the ledger at a couple of thousands easy money. The final disposition of the stock was made to Miller & Ahern at one hundred cents on the dollar, so Mr. Robbins tells the DEMOCRAT.

When ever it gets so dull that a newspaper can't find a news item anywhere from the dump at the Logan to Magnet, it is the usual thing to revert to local politics. As a matter of fact it is a little quiet around Wayne in this respect, all interest being centered in the Cummins-Perkins scrap in Iowa. Wayne county will have one county office to fill this year, and there seems no question but that A. R. Davis will be the republican candidate, and Geo. R. Wilbur the democratic candidate for county attorney. The young men are both popular and either have many friends irrespective of politics, the latter no doubt being able to gather a large republican vote to his advantage. The DEMOCRAT predicts that if this program is followed out the fight will be decidedly lively but goodnatured, and devoid of any lifelining.

They Want The Best Gold Medal

THAT'S

From all quarters the demand is steadily increasing for

Gold Medal Flour.

People come from far and near and say their neighbors have so many words of praise for Gold Medal, they desire to try it. A commodity of merit which create a demand for itself, and this is proving true of this flour. This is a day and age when quality, not quantity, appeals to the general public. If an article has merit, people will use it and what's more impart it to their friends, and so it is with Gold Medal.

Henry Klopping says: "Everybody should use Gold Medal flour. It's the best we ever used—Never had a bad sack."

Mrs. J. M. Barrett has used Gold Medal for several months. She says: "I will never use anything but Gold Medal as it's JUST FINE."

Another lady who uses flour says: "It's a pleasure to bake since I began using Gold Medal. It goes so much farther and makes perfect bread."

I have added 100 new customers to my list of Gold Medal users and in every instance they are satisfied. They find it to their advantage to use Gold Medal because it makes perfect bread; it goes farther and produces bread that pleases and satisfies. My customers used to say "send me a sack of ELOUR!" It's different now they say "Gold Medal."

Puts the Party in a Hole.

Wisconsin Tribune: It seems to the writer that Bro. Huse allows his spite against Congressman McCarthy to overcome his political shrewdness so that he is giving out statements before the people may well be explained before the next congressional election. For instance, while praising that old political hox, Ex-Senator Allen, the Norfolk News says: "He secured free lumber throughout the United States on the tariff act of 1894, by which the lumber could be made for $14 a thousand which now costs from $28 to $35 a thousand." This is a remarkable statement and it raises the question as to the guilty parties who are responsible for the present tariff that allows any old price. If Allen took it off, the republican party must have put it back, and, well, most republican papers do not care to have this part of the tariff discussed.

Under the present administration the fellows who make rules in the post office department haven't got brains enough to give them the ability to carry guts to hungry bears. There are more reasons than one why we should have a change—Cherokee Democrat.

One On the Man.

Man that is born of his parents is of few days and full of microbes. He goeth to school when a youngster, and gets the seat of his pants padded until he is sick at heart. He groweth up like a weed in the back yard, and soon reaches the age where he is composed largely of feet, freckles and an appetite for pie. About the time he gets too long for short trousers and long enough for long ones he goeth away to college, learneth how to monkey with a three dollar mandolin and play whiskey poker. He comes home a bigger fool than ever and marrieth a sweet young thing whose pa is supposed to be wealthy, but whom he subsequently ascertaineth could not buy the prize rooster at a county fair. He worrieth along from year to year, gradually acquiring offspring, until his house resembles a Sunday school class just before Christmas. He fretteth through the day and lieth awake nights trying to figure out how to keep himself and his dependent population out of the poor house. His efforts are rewarded by having his daughters run away and get married and bring him home a nice son-in-law every few days to feast at his board. His sons grow up and call him governor and set him back a five-spot every day or two. About the time he has acquired enough lucre to make it worth while for his heirs to quarrel over, he contracts a cold and is hurried away before he has time to have a talk with his family. His sons bid in his estate on bad whiskey, and plug hats, and his wife puts the finishing touch to his career by marrying the hired man.—Ex.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Filthy Packing Houses.

When Upton Sinclair wrote the "Jungle" and depicted the criminal filthiness of the great packing houses he was roundly denounced as a muck-raker. Recent official investigation shows that Sinclair's worst fault was his mildness in portraying the hideous efforts of the great packers to compel the American people to eat diseased and dirty meats. The average white man's stomach is not strong enough to stand against a reading of the stories of unspeakable horrors. The Telegram will not pollute its columns with the evidence adduced. But we will suggest a way by which our readers may escape contact with the foul stuff which comes from the packing houses, and the only avenue to escape is by patronizing the home meat markets. Some home dealers sell meats and by-products which come from the packing houses. Get the guarantee of your home meat dealer that the meats which he sells were dressed in his own abattoir. Don't touch any of the canned goods which come from the packing houses, if you value the physical welfare of your household. The testimony shows that all such stuff contains embalming fluids of some sort. The evidence shows that all cholera hogs which reach the stockyards go direct to the lard kettle. If any reader shall be in doubt as to the character of packing house products that reader should peruse the pages of Sinclair's book, "The Jungle," and if still in doubt after reading the book, he should then send for a copy of the testimony taken at the official investigation in Chicago. No use relying upon the promises of the packers to improve conditions in the packing houses for never have they redeemed a pledge. The only way to avoid eating filthy and diseased meats will be to demand of your dealer only such meats as shall have been dressed at home. There is no other safe course.—Columbus Telegram.

"OUR BRYAN."

Columbus Telegram: Wealthy men have offered fabulous sums of money for the royal decorations which the Sultan of Turkey bestows upon his favorites. Those decorations were freely offered by the Sultan to a plain American citizen one day last week. The great honor for which so many men seek so earnestly was courteously but firmly declined by that humble American.

And who was that American citizen with a courage and manhood great enough to decline the decorations offered by one of the powerful monarchs of the Eastern world? Who was that American citizen whose nobility of character caused him to reject as unclean and impure the offerings of a monarch who rules men, not by their consent, but by his imperial will, backed up by military arms? No need to mention the name. All the world knows it was our Bryan—that same Bryan who has so often been held up to ridicule and reproach by the republican press of Nebraska—that same Bryan who in his world travels everywhere hailed as the first American gentleman—that same Bryan who has proclaimed the good democratic doctrine that the only form of government which can win favor of God is that which rests upon the consent of the governed—that same Bryan in whose behalf millions of men are sending prayers to heaven for a goodly voyage upon the distant seas, and for a safe return to the shores of our own dear republic. Of course it was our Bryan—first among American gentlemen—who declined from the hands of a monarch rich decorations which were stained with blood—the blood of men and women whose only crime is a desire of freedom. Of course it was Bryan who declined a favor from a monarch who knows no law in reference to woman, only the law of lust. Of course it was Bryan who had the courage to reject the offerings of the Ottoman emperor, and by that rejection proclaim to the world that the highest honor which could come from the hand of such a sovereign was an offering too base to be borne upon the breast of a plain American citizen. Our Bryan—God bless him in measure as he blesses mankind by his own pure life and by his eloquent words and noble deeds in behalf of humanity!

All For Bryan

Saturday last, in the house of representatives, representative of the state Missouri, in the course of a speech on the political assessment of corporations, turned to the republican side of the house and said:

Your brightest sun is like a lightning bug along side the man whom we will elect to the presidency, our peerless leader, William Jennings Bryan.

And then, according to a dispatch to the Chicago Inter Ocean, a storm of applause broke loose from the democratic side, the members rising en masse and cheering.

This is but another straw showing which way the wind blows. Taken in connection with the Ohio and Missouri endorsement of Mr. Bryan in recent conventions it is doubly significant.

Two years ago, at St. Louis, the Ohio delegation, after several days of internal strife, went against Mr. Bryan and his program in the national convention, and decided, in a fierce caucus fight lasting for hours, to cast its vote for Judge Parker. This broke the backbone of opposition to Parker, and assured the New Yorker's nomination and the election of a few from Missouri, and one or two other states, were also cast to defeat Mr. Bryan in his struggle to prevent Judge Parker's nomination. But today some southern democrats rise in congress to cheer the suggestion of Mr. Bryan as the next nominee, and the Ohio democrats, in a judicial convention representing sixteen counties, declare for him unanimously. And even in New York, which was the seat of Bryan opposition, the leaders of the forces that have formerly opposed the Nebraskan, reading the handwriting on the wall, are joining with the rank and file of the party to advocate his nomination.

The truth is that the democracy of the entire nation is turning to Bryan more enthusiastically and with greater determination than it has ever done before. They are for him because they have seen his principles vindicated and because they love and trust him for having stood unswervingly by those principles in storm and tempest as well as in sunshine and calm. The only serious contest that may possibly confront the next democratic convention is whether Mr. Bryan or someone still more radical shall be the nominee. Mr. Bryan, strange as it may sound, will represent practically the extreme of "conservatism" in the convention.

Under the circumstances populists in Nebraska and elsewhere, who have been and are still fighting for the doctrines advocated by Mr. Bryan, need have little hesitancy about casting their lot with the democratic party. It is thoroughly and finally "Bryanized."—World-Herald.
