THE RACKET.

Prospects Look Big.

Montezum Prospector—Mr. S. H. Alexander, secretary of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development company, has been entertaining a large party of his friends from Milwaukee and Madison, Wisconsin, for the last ten days at Frisco. After Mr. Alexander's arrival the party was largely augmented by a delegation of stockholders and prospective investors from Wayne, Nebraska, which was brought out by Mr. King. A number of these gentlemen had subscribed for large blocks of the treasury stock, providing the inspection of the property was satisfactory; everyone of them expressed himself as being more than pleased and most of them doubled or trebled their subscription.

The King Solomon is all right; they have the goods to show. The development was well planned in the beginning and has been prosecuted continuously along the original lines: the ground was thoroughly prospected and the numerous ore bodies, as well as the apex of the veins, were definitely located long before the company was organized. The financial affairs of the company are in the hands of gentlemen who have been accustomed to handling large sums of money and who have always rendered a satisfactory accounting of their stewardship. The ore now exposed in the four veins which the tunnel has already crossed, would of themselves make a good paying proposition, but the bonanza zone of Rocky Mountain lies from 500 to 1,000 feet ahead of the present breast of the tunnel which will soon be reached.

Gutters must be strong to carry traffic.—Beebe.

City Electrician Jud West tells the Democrat they made a record pumping water last Saturday, a total of 130,000 gallons in ten hours, using both pumps to do the work. Of this amount the railroad company took 80,000 gallons, and the rest into stand pipe and mains. The water used on the streets was not figured in which probably was some 8,000 gallons more. The test proves the city has an abundant supply of water, aside from Mr. West's ability to get it out for use. Last week something got wrong with the railroad company's wells, and their big tank was filled by the city. Geo. Savage has been busy since making repairs for the railroad station.

Lightning Does Big Damage

Barn and Contents Belonging to E. W. Cullen at Winside Burned.

At 4:15 o'clock last Sunday afternoon lightning struck the big barn of E. W. Cullen, at Winside, burning the structure to the ground and also a team of horses belonging to Sam Reichert, $1200 worth of machinery and all contents except the horses belonging to Mr. Cullen, which were taken out with great difficulty. Mr. Reichert's team had been put in the barn a few minutes before the electric bolt did its work. Mr. Cullen had about $800 insurance, his net loss being some $600.

In getting his horses out of the burning barn Mr. Cullen came near being smothered to death. The last one he went in after he cut the halter off and taking hold of the animal's jaws got him as far as the door, when the brute pulled back and got away from him. Mr. Cullen tumbled out of the place, and was so nearly gone himself, as the interior was all on fire, that he fell over when outside the door. He had scarcely time to get his breath before the horse jumped out of the barn going right over him.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Colorado, Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Col., to Mrs. Pinkham, of 100 North Dear Mrs. Pinkham: For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me great mental depression. I was unable to do any house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and my hope. I could not bear to think of an operation, and my distressing condition was such that I thought would be of any use to me, and I tried every remedy which reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound led me to try. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief, but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining weight, and the tumor lessened in size. The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed. In seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I was able to do my usual work. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of your remedy. The powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, headache, dizziness, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has absorbed such widespread and unequalled endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction, and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to give you anything else in its place.

Ingenious Woman.

The wife of a Kansas farmer, so the story goes, got tired of asking him to fix some things about the house that needed fixing, and one day after he had come home from town told him she had done the work herself. "And you know," she said, "the drawer that was locked for over a month, and which you said couldn't be opened except by a locksmith. Well, I tried it, and I opened it." "How in the world did you do it?" "With a hairpin. And the oven door," she continued, "was being slipping around on one hinge for over a long, just because you were too lazy to fix it, but it's all right now." "Well, well, I fixed it myself—with a hairpin. And then that craven portrait of mother that stood in the corner for almost six solid weeks because you never would bring me any picture books—I got it up with a hook I made myself—out of a hairpin." "Well, well," he said, "you could say, 'And there's Willie. You've been coaxing him and trifling him for over a year, trying to break him of biting his nails, but I broke him in a week.'" "With a hairpin?" he inquired meekly. "No!" she snapped. "Don't be a goose!"

Mrs. Whitcomb's so-called remedy for children's ailments softens the bowels, cures colic, and cures all ailments.

A Supplication. From the Liverpool Post. "Suppose," said the wise orator—"though 'tis a thought stupendous—Suppose a baby one year old with arms and legs of ninety-three odd million miles.

Should, in a freak of fun, Reach up and touch the sun. That child would be 23 Years old, I'm told, Before it learned Its hand was burned."

KNOWS NOW. Doctor Was Fooled by His Own Case for Coffee.

It's easy to understand how ordinary people get fooled by coffee when doctors themselves sometimes forget the facts. A physician speaks of his own experience: "I had used coffee for years and really did not exactly believe it was injuring me, although I had palpitation of the heart every day.

"Finally one day a severe and almost fatal attack of heart trouble frightened me and I gave up both tea and coffee, using Postum instead, and since that time I have had absolutely no heart palpitation except on one or two occasions when I tried a small quantity of coffee which caused severe irritation and proved to me I must let it alone.

"When we began using Postum it seemed weak—that was because we did not make it according to directions—but now we put a little bit of butter in the pot when boiling and allow the Postum to boil half 15 minutes, which gives it the proper rich flavor and the deep brown color.

"I have advised a great many of my friends and patients to leave off coffee and drink Postum. In fact, I daily give this advice." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Many thousands of physicians use Postum in place of tea and coffee in their own homes and prescribe it to patients. "There's a reason."

A Clear Case of Building. Judge—"If, as you say, you found this woman so violent and headstrong, even during the engagement, why did you marry her?"

Abused husband—meekly—"I didn't marry her. She married me."

TESTED RECIPES.

Irish Potato Soup—Peel and boil each medium sized potato with a large onion, sliced, some herbs, salt and pepper; press all through a colander; then thin it with rich milk and add a lump of butter, some seasoning, if necessary; let it heat well and serve hot. Cream Potatoes—Cut cold cooked salmon into dice. Heat about a pint of the dice in half a pint of cream. Season to taste with cayenne pepper and salt. Fill the shells and serve. Cold Cooked Fish of any kind may be made into a delicious salad. Cut cold cooked sauce you may choose—all are equally good.

Boiled Eggs—After thoroughly cleaning it place a teaspoonful of water to place a teaspoonful of water to cover it; add two tablespoonfuls of salt; set the saucepan over the fire and when it has boiled about five minutes take it up and strain the water. If it loosens easily from the body carefully take the fish out of the water, lay it on a platter, and pull them off with a dozen hard boiled eggs, and serve it with a sauce.

Chicken for Traveling—Cut a young chicken down the back; wash and wipe dry; season with salt and pepper; put it in a dripping pan and bake in a moderate oven three-quarters of an hour. This is much better for traveling lunch than when seasoned with butter.

All kinds of poultry and meat can be cooked quicker by adding to the water in which they are cooked a little vinegar or a piece of lemon. By the use of a little acid there will be a considerable saving in time and shortening of time. Its action is beneficial on old tough meats, rendering them quite tender and easy of digestion.

Tainted meats and fowls will lose their bad taste and odor if cooked in this way, and if not used too freely, no taste of it will be acquired.

Putting Up Butter to Keep—Take the best pure, common salt (two quarts, one ounce of white sugar and one salt-peter; pulverize them together coarsely. Work the butter well, then thoroughly wash it with clean water to three gallons of brine strong enough to bear an egg, add a quarter of a pound of white sugar and one quart of vinegar.

Sponge Drops—Beat to a froth three eggs and one teaspoon of sugar; stir into this one heaping coffee-cup of flour; in which mix one ounce of castor oil, one and a half teaspoonful of saleratus are thoroughly mixed. Flavor with lemon. Butter the sheets with this mixture to every pound of butter. The butter to be made into half-pound rolls, and put into a dripping pan with three gallons of brine strong enough to bear an egg, add a quarter of a pound of white sugar and one quart of vinegar.

Cocoa Butter—One cup grated cocoa butter, one-half cup sugar, one-third cup milk, two eggs, one large teaspoonful baking powder, one-half teaspoonful extract of vanilla, and four spoons of flour.

Humor of the Vassar Girls. From the Kansas City Star. The president of the Vassar college girl, who has won graduate honors is fully reflected in the humor and wisdom found within the buff covers of the Vassarion, the senior class publication at Vassar college, which has just been issued. Under the name of the graduates are selections of prose and poetry setting out their individual foibles and weaknesses with challenging frankness. Of one young lady it is said:

"What a spendthrift is he of his tongue, and what a miser this bit of poetic license is applied! He has a thing called Science, with various uncles and aunts. My dear, can you imagine an intelligent girl in love with a man here is some of the humor of class members."

THE NAUGHTY GIRLS. Jane put poison in the soup. Girls tell group by group. Stan said to me, "I'm a miser. Now we'll have to sweep the floor." Mitty, humming a refrain. "You're a miser and a miser." Stan said Mrs. Kendrick: "This event will be the cry of the wild. They may cry for dromedaries. Girls said to me, 'I'm a miser. But the bitter need of Vassar never has more cried at me than you. So I'm a miser. Has some extra money handy. Let Stan see the corner of a place to let it fall. If it joy they see us straining. It provides that a severe light as well. Surely then they'd open their coffers. And they'd make us splendid offers. To lose all the while we're waiting. O happy day!"

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR. Screamed with Pain—Suffering Nearly Broke Parent's Heart—Speedily Cured by Cuticura. "I wish to inform you that the Cuticura Remedies have put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot, and treated same, with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The worse the doctors treated him, the longer it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. He screams could be heard down stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, or could I sleep. A doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable, and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial. I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold; and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second box of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and lotions, my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. Michael Steinman, 7 Summer Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

SOLDIERS IN INDIA FOND OF KNITTING

One of the ways the "King's Own" While Away Their Spare Moments.

CAN'T STAND IDLENESS. Cut Off from All Sources of Employment, They Are Forced to Devise Means to Amuse Themselves.

From TIT-BITS. Soldiers abroad (especially in India) cut off from all the sources of enjoyment obtainable at home, are forced to devise means of passing their hours of idleness.

The slovenly ways in which the knitting socks, hats, and work in which one would expect soldiers to engage, but a hobby which is extremely popular. That this is so the following will show.

In a recent issue of a service paper a man of the Cheshire regiment threw out a challenge to knit any man in southern India for the championship and stake of 500 rupees (£20). Men often purchase new socks from the regimental stores, simply because the price is so low.

From socks the natural transition is to the form of water-beds and slippers, and men with a good eye for the tasteful blending of colors find it an extremely profitable hobby. The price of finding a ready sale among comrades.

A man of my acquaintance, who evolved a very pretty and novel idea, was inundated with orders for ladies' slippers, the majority of which found their way to sweethearts and sisters, being in many instances represented as the handwork of the sender.

Another man was a veritable artist in Berlin wool and was famous for his "knitting pictures." The "Figueroa" besides taking the first prize at the Poona industrial exhibition, was awarded a gold medal for his work.

Health rugs, quilts and table covers also occupy the time of many men, being made of pieces of military cloth of various colors. The best specimens resulted from the production of a quilt or table cover of this kind, which was presented to the parents or relatives.

From the men who devote themselves to scouring the country in pursuit of the myriad varieties of fly and beetle to be found in the tropics, they become the heroes of the hour, and their familiarity breeding contempt occasionally a life is lost by careless handling of a couple of inches of wire.

It is not wholly surprising, therefore, that a man always demand more of his soldierly duties, and setting up and selling their own cases of flies, etc.

There is a never failing source of occupation to those gifted with sufficient patience to undertake the task of teaching a parrot to speak. It is a method which bird trainers use to lower the cage down a well, and, seated on the edge of the coping, to pour forth for a couple of minutes the most interesting repetition of "Pety Polly," etc. Others seek the acquisition of a dark room for the same purpose.

Various places lend themselves to particular hobbies. In the Andaman Islands mother of pearl is plentiful, and everybody goes in for shells, or making rings and bracelets from them.

Gibraltar has its staple hobby in rock ornaments made from a beautifully veined stone which abounds, and is eagerly collected and taken a high polish. This is a very profitable hobby as brooches, crosses, paper weights, and other articles of jewelry and other knickknacks find a ready sale among tourists.

In the Burma land of teak, the carving of elaborately decorated photo frames enables many a man to while away hours that would otherwise be dreary. And at Bhamo, where the opium trade is so profitable in fashioning ornaments of serpentine.

In India soldiers recovering from serious illness are usually sent to hill stations to complete their cure, and can find plenty of time for reading and writing. For one of these quills, which the writer has an offer of £20, was made. Its actual value as a stick might be about one shilling, but it is covered with intricate carvings of birds and flowers, and represents four months' work.

Marshall Field's Advice to a Young Man. A young bond salesman for a New York house interviewed the late Marshall Field in the spring of 1905 with a view to selling a number of bonds of Pennsylvania railroad guaranteed bonds, yielding a little less than 4 per cent. He said to Mr. Field: "You are only wasting my time and yours. I like your bonds. When the bonds are sold, you will come to invest the interest on what kind of bonds, I am a business man and do not care to put my money in anything but a fully developed property any more than I should care to buy out a business enterprise that promises to me, have reached the limit of its growth, no matter how solid it might be. # Fight For Your Country

Wayne will celebrate the Fourth and no doubt will do it in good shape. The prospects now are that we will have the largest crowd ever gathered here on the Fourth of July. To feel patriotic it is necessary that you own something in this glorious country of ours. Very few persons would be willing to shoulder a gun and fight for a boarding house. If you do not own any of God's green earth to make ready to fight for your country own a new suit on the Fourth, and when you hear the band playing Yankee Doodle you will feel patriotic. Now we stand ready to make you feel as a true American citizen should feel on the Fourth of July. Call on us and let us rig you out for the occasion. No one will enjoy the Fourth in an old suit, but if you will give us a chance to decorate you we will pay all expenses if you don't enjoy yourself. If you come here to buy the necessary outfit, you will save enough to pay all other necessary expenses. We are this year better prepared to please you in both style and price than we ever were, and as it costs you nothing to see what we have ready for you, it will be a great mistake not to investigate this store before you buy any clothing. Come to Wayne the Fourth and come to this store. You are invited to both places and are welcome, no matter what the size of your purse is, we will make you happy. Don't miss this opportunity of enjoying yourself.

Editor Keifer, an old friend of mine at Remsen, Ia., writes in his Bell: It may be true that all is not goldness in the Chicago packing houses, but some reports now being published touch on the ridiculous points. I read in the "Courier des Etats Unis," a paper in the French language published in New York, a dispatch dated Paris, June 2, 1906, which translated reads as follows: A secret agent of the French government found employment in one of the Chicago packing houses. According to his report it is unsafe to eat any meat coming from Chicago. His most sensational report is that on occasions laborers fell into the sausage machine. Their bodies were ground up with the pork and beef and went into the market to be consumed by mankind. It is settled now beyond all reasonable doubt that a Frenchman can tell big lies.

That man is just as inquisitive as woman was proven the other day when Dave Surber called to get a supplement to the DEMOCRAT of May 25th to send his brother, A. E., in Missouri. The paper is mailed regularly to Missouri, but the supplement of this copy was slightly mutilated by having a small legal notice cut out, and Mr. Surber couldn't stand for the omission; was sure of course, that something had been amputated so he wouldn't see it and wrote Dave to get one, complete for him. Since A. E. lives in Missouri he can't be blamed for wanting to see for himself, but he must have felt silly when he "was shown."

The Sioux City Journal says the milliners are "up in arms" over the new law regarding the using of birds on hats. I haven't noticed any of them fluttering around in these old arms of mine. If the "up in arms" business is going to be general I think it is a good thing.

Howard Whalen has put in a lot of machinery, for mixing and working bread, in his modern bakery, which beats doing the work "by feet power" a mile and a half.

The soaking rains the first of the week were good, beating even Whalen's ice cream as a cooler.

Perhaps you didn't know that Wayne county contains a hero named Funston! But Mr. Funston felt anything but a hero last week when the ladies of the Presbyterian church went out there for a picnic. A litter of kittens at the barn was the poor man's undoing. A couple of children accompanied their mother to the picnic, and after taking the cat question over, in which the mother told the youngsters they were not to take any female kittens home, the ladies and little ones went out to the barn to see the felines. Mr. Funston picked up one of the little things and extended it to one of the "little terribles," and the latter drew back and shouted: "Is it a female kitten?" "I don't know," replied the farmer, dubiously. What the town kid then propounded to the man with the kittens "to drown" will remain unwritten history, but if the ladies present had all crowded up and served him as the other Funston was treated he couldn't have felt any worse over the incident. It won't happen again, though, Mr. Funston will take time to give all the future litters the "water cure."

Did you ever notice what a lot of low-shouldered, tired looking young fellows there are in Wayne? Especially is this noticeable of the young men who hang around the pool tables? That this defect in the male race is general may be surmised from the following item from Mr. Dalton's Mason Democrat: Are we going to be a race of stoop shoulder men? One would naturally think so to look over almost any crowd, walk down any crowded street, or glance at the average male human being he meets. The man who walks with his head erect, his shoulders thrown back and his chest extended just as nature intended he should is a rarity and is remarked about wherever he goes. The average man, and more's the pity of the young man, walks as if he were very tired. His chest is flat, he leans forward, his shoulders stoop and he has a decided tendency to "lop."

How different it would be if men walked upright and more like the military men of Europe. How much better the whole race of males would look if they carried themselves as nature intends them to. It is healthier to carry themselves as a soldier, as there is ease in carrying the body, there is a free circulation of air in the lungs, and there is a general all-around healthfulness in it that is lacking in the loafing carriage of the average man whether he be farmer, business man or a professional man or gentleman of leisure.

Have you ever noticed how, after boasting men into high office, the republicans throw the harpoon into them after they get them elected? Wednesday morning Gov. Mickey couldn't scare up an acquaintance when he was here between trains. The "big man" stood about the depot, and finally crawled into the smoking car and took a seat as though he hadn't one friend in the world. I asked a local republican why they didn't do something for the old cuss, and he replied that the quicker Mickey dropped in to private life the better for everybody. Look at Congressman McCarthy! If he has a friend among the republicans of this town I'd like to meet one of them. On the contrary I have heard some of them refer to Mac as "coarse," "cheap," an "accident," etc. At the same time Mac is just as good as he was when our home politician displaced him in John S. Robinson's shoes, a position they well knew Mac couldn't hold with a million dollars.

Hirsch In Hock.

Sioux City Tribune: With his face, arms, head and body covered with scars and bruises which he said his wife had given him at various times with such weapons as a broom handle, butcherknife, stove poker, etc., H. Hirsch arrested upon a charge of disturbing the peace, pleaded in vain for mercy from the police judge this morning, as he claims he often pleaded with his wife. But it was a case of three women, his wife and two neighbors, combating his individual testimony, and his story unsupported drew him a fine of $100 or thirty days in the county jail.

Hirsch, trembling either through fear of the impending sentence or as the result of a joke, was to be pitied as he sat beside his attorney and while the witness stood. He told of having lived with his accuser upon a common law basis for more than three years, finally marrying her. For the past seven years he said married life has been anything but joy.

"Judge, and my little ones have followed her about town, and have found her in a saloon wine room at Third and Water streets. She goes away over the night and does not get home until a o'clock in the morning, and I have threatened to leave her, but that led to an account if the children."

"Sunday morning he came home drunk and threw the bestest I had cooked upon the floor and stamped upon it," she said. "He choked me and beat me, and scattered all the victuals and dishes over the floor. He has done that so often, judge, that I could not stand it any longer. I wasn't responsible for having him arrested, but he deserved it."

"Well, you signed the information, didn't you?" inquired Judge Page.

"Yes, I did," replied Mrs. Hirsch.

"One of the other women testified that she saw the cooked steak as lit upon the woodpile; saw Hirsch quarreling with his wife, and heard his oath as he emphasized his anger over the final meal which was served up to him. Hirsch was allowed to go a month ago on a like charge. Judge Page then advised them to separate, and the prisoner said he would not."

As mentioned in the DEMOCRAT of last week Grandma Davies celebrated her eighty second birthday with a grand party at the home of her daughter Mrs. Welch, Friday afternoon. A brighter, whittier and more talkative crowd could hardly be imagined. Many were the jokes and stories told. Grandma was the recipient of a large number of presents and flowers from her loving friends. At five o'clock a delicious supper was served by Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Davick, the guests finding their places by cards bearing their first names. Grandma Butler was the lucky one finding the ring in the birthday cake. Mrs. Miller the all-

CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, clerk.

Comes now the Nebraska Land Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the state of Nebraska, and protests against the assessment of the capital stock of said corporation by the Assessor of Wayne County Nebraska; and as grounds for such objection states:

Said corporation has a capital stock of $300,000.00, represented by 300 shares of the par value of $100.00 each, that all the capital stock with the exception of 45 shares is owned by residents of the city and County of Wayne.

That said corporation was formed for the sole purpose of purchasing a tract of 30000 acres of land, at the purchase price of about $203,000.00; that all the capital of said corporation was invested in land by the payment of about one seventh of the purchase price thereof; that there are deferred payments still due upon said land of about $180,000.00.

That all of said land is assessed and taxed, upon a valuation of about $150,000.00 which amount far exceeds the value of the capital stock of said corporation.

The said corporation therefore asks that the amount of the property so assessed separately be deducted from the value of the capital stock of the same, and allege that when the same is done there will be no value to said stock for assessment and taxation.

The said corporation therefore asks that the assessment of such capital stock be set aside.

Whereupon the board after due consideration unanimously rejects said application for the setting aside of said assessment and orders that said stock be assessed individually to the resident stockholders.

Board adjourned to June 23, 1906.

CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, Clerk.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant of Rural Route 1, Concord N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption which kept me in perfect health. And now we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles, and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Raymond, druggist. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free."

A younger man I long to see,
With strength and education,
To race with Edward of the Bee
And save the situation.

The fight comes on July the Third,
It's shadows will not vanish;
I haven't had my soul so stirred
Since Dewey smashed the Spanish.

A month ago I viewed the scene
With solid satisfaction,
Remembering then that Charlie Greene
Had cleared his decks for action.

And Webster's gun was primed with care,
Tom Blackburn's face was smiling;
Said I: "There'll be things doing there,
The summer hours" bequiling.

Then Victor said: "Pa's going to run,"
And there was consternation:
John Webster dropped his loaded gun
And ran like all creation.

As one found with his neighbor's goods
Who eke retreats affrighted,
Greene hastened to the open woods
And hasn't since been sighted.

Now Edward Rosey of the Bee
Stands forth with none to smite him
Except Lorenzo Crouse, and he Too old to fairly fight him,

And so the Douglas delegate
For Edward will stand pat, sir;
But Douglas isn't all the state,
And I'm damglad' of that, sir.

"A word of Scandinavian origin, meaning
'delighted,'"—Bixby.

Simulation Without Irritation.

In case of stomach and liver trouble the proper treatment is to stimulate these organs without irritating them. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels without irritating them like pills or other cathartics. It does not cause or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. It surely is too bad that Roosevelt ever interceded in the Japanese-Russian war. The Japanese should have had the assistance of all other powers of the world in exterminating the Caesar's soldiers. The horrible atrocities of the Russian army upon the helpless Jews is something too infernal for half civilized people to contemplate. The butchery will probably not come to an end so long as the Russian "dynasty" lives.

are as common in India as are liver and stomach disorders with us. For the former however there is a sure remedy. Electric Bitters the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Electric Bitters cure colds and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. Sold on guarantee by Raymond the druggist. Price 50c.

Geo. D. Perkins has lost more than the nomination for governor of the state of Iowa. For forty years Mr. Perkins has been looked upon as one of the most conservative and substantial business men and journalists of the big, middle west, but he's taken an awful fall; "A dull, sickening thump" so to relate.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Good.

"I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain," says A. H. Siemers, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O. "I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like substance and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1000 worth of good." Foley's Kidney Cure will cure every form of kidney and bladder disease. Wayne Pharmacy.
