THE RACKET.

Three Years For Eicher.

Nick Eicher, perhaps the stoutest and most worthless cuss who has ever afflicted Wayne with his obnoxious presence, was taken to Lincoln Tuesday by Sheriff Meach to serve three years in the anti-alcohol institution. Eicher got gay last Sunday at dinner time, and his wife and Mrs. Geo. Fox and another sister of the two women living in an old house south of Henry Bush's. They had soup for dinner, and the little Fox boy was bound to tell how he had used the soup ladle to dip water he had washed his feet in. Eicher took of fense at the occurrence, and threatened to "can the boy," and Mrs. Fox mixed in with the result that Eicher, being a big strong cuss, was going to get her caput. Mrs. Fox escaped into another room, and later swore out a complaint against the worthless cuss. Marshal Miner put Eicher in the dirty pen for common drunks—George has no sympathy for cattle of his stripe—and left him there until Monday afternoon, when he was ordered back to Lincoln.

The DEMOCRAT bears Ecker no grudge, but hopes he will be given a job on the stone pile at Lincoln for full three years. The city of Wayne nor on other place, should tolerate such lazy vagabonds on the street, and an ordinance ought to be framed up to fit a few more such cases; making them work or go to jail—and work.

Mrs. Heckert and Mrs. John Larson accompanied Mrs. R. M. Smith, Mrs. Heckert's sister, as far as Sioux City Tuesday, on her return home to Kirksville, Mo.

Blain Skeen was down from Bloomfield Tuesday, where the Hartington team played ball Sunday. Blaine says the game is good this season.

Ed. Smith left town Monday, or rather between Monday and Tuesday, so the DEMOCRAT is told. Nobody wants Smith, but a few people mourn money due them.

DIED.

The wife of Harry Dahr, who resides on the Carlson place west of town, died last Thursday afternoon in the hospital at Sioux City, where she suffered an operation. The remains were brought to Wayne Friday forenoon the funeral being held Sunday. Deceased was a sister of Wm. Lewis who lives on the Strahan place west of town. She was married to Mr. Dahr only last March, and her death is greatly grieved by her friends and her heart-broken husband. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. Wright.

Bartley Gouler, a section hand, died last Sunday afternoon from epilepsy. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from the German church. Deceased and his wife came from Switzerland about two years ago, and have been in straitened circumstances, the county having to pay the funeral expenses. Mr. Gouler was about thirty-five years old, and leaves a wife and child, the wife being in a delicate condition. He worked with the railroad gang last Saturday, was taken with a fit Sunday morning, and required three men to hold him until death came to his relief.

Dr. Cosner, dentist over First National Bank.

O. A. King did not leave with the Carroll people for the gold mines Monday, but postponed the trip two weeks on account of sickness of a member of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hurley left Tuesday for their home at Glendive, Mont. Before leaving Mr. Hurley paid a couple years advance for the DEMOCRAT, which causes us to hope that a few more rich men from the west will marry Wayne girls.

There was a grand rush for Dakota again Tuesday of this week. A large crowd came down from Wausa, another bunch from Norfolk and Hoskins, Messrs Kohl, A. Tidrick, T. F. Wells, J. T. Bressler and F. To CONVENE IN NORFOLK.

Democrats To Nominate Congressman There August 29.

Democrats of the third congressional district of Nebraska will nominate a congressman in Norfolk on Wednesday, August 29, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The convention place and date was set last night at a meeting of the democratic congressional central committee, which was held at the Oxnard Hotel.

It was the general sentiment of the committeemen who attended the convention that the nominee of a candidate to make the race in this district, against whomever the republicans put up as a successor to McCarthy, will be either Judge Graves of Pender or Judge Edgar Howard of Fremont. P. E. McKillip, the candidate two years ago, was present last night and was made temporary chairman of the convention. Edgar Howard was also present at the committee meeting.

Those who attended the committee meeting were: Dan V. Stephens, secretary of the central committee, Fremont; Sheriff E. A. Dwyer, Pierce; W. P. Cowan, Stanton; J. E. McDonnell, Pierce; Judge Douglas Cones, Pierce; A. H. Bachaus, Pierce; Walter Phillips, Columbus; J. M. Johannes, Columbus; Patrick Emmett McKillip, Humphrey; Edgar Howard, Fremont.

The convention will be held in the Auditorium here, this building having been promised for the convention by the Norfolk Commercial club. The representation for the convention was placed at two delegates at-large from each county in the district and one delegate for each 100 votes cast for Mr. McKillip, or each major fraction thereof.

There was something of a contest in the committee meeting last night over the location of the convention. Pierce wanted it, and yet some of the committeemen favored Norfolk on account of the location. "We all want Edgar Howard to make the race," said one of the committeemen this morning, "but it is impossible as yet to say whether he will do it or not. It is very probable that he will be nominated at our state convention for railroad commissioner, and as that convention is a week earlier than this at Norfolk, it is likely he will not be in the running here."

Mr. McKillip stated that because of business reasons and the impossibility in unloading his affairs unto anyone, he will hardly be able to make the race. He said he thinks there will be six or eight candidates when the time comes—Tuesday's Norfolk News.

City Council Doings.

The city dads came near holding an all night session Monday night. As Alderman Gaertner remarked to his pal D. S. McVicker, they ought to draw about $4 per since the new members of the municipal management insisted on talking five hours to the meeting.

Ordinance 156, a measure drawn up by City Attorney Berry, designed to drive all cattle hogs, horses and other stock off the streets and alleys and keep them off or be put in the bull pen by the marshal, was put on its third reading and passed up to the printer for publication.

All "bad" water and light bills were ordered given to some strenuous collector, and the supply of such products cut off where that means of collection became necessary.

The railroad company was ordered to pay full rates for water used, no rebates to be given the company, (as none of the councilmen are riding on passes) so there will be no chance for President Roosevelt's big stick to find lodgement on that score.

Messrs. J. T. Bressler, Jas. Britton and W. O. Gamble were formally made a park committee, and given all prerogatives to make the park blossom and bloom like a green bay tree.

The street and alley committee were advised to look after bad sidewalks, an old chestnut of municipal reform that will get no further than the clerk's minutes.

S. D. Relyea presented plans for rebuilding or rewiring for the light plant; the light committee and mayor also being instructed to take up the same proposition with Mr. Schroz of Omaha and have the necessary improvements made this summer.

Sam Yater went to Perry, Io, Wednesday to visit his best girl. Geo. Savidge shipped his well machinery to LeMars, Iowa, Wednesday where he is putting down some wells for the C. St. P. M. & O.

O. S. and Will Gamble went to Sioux City Wednesday where the former will undergo an operation for appendicitis, if the surgeons deem it necessary.

W. W. Young of Stanton was in town Monday, looking up the political situation as to where the congressional lightning from Wayne county would strike. Mr. Young may be a very nice man, but the DEMOCRAT figures that Judge Boyd has him skinned a-city block for the nomination for congress. Outside of politics and the fact the judge rides on a pass, Boyd "looks good to us," and the only man in the district so far mentioned who has any license to be elected on the republican ticket.

Charley Gildersleeve has been quite sick the past few weeks with liver complaint, and probably appendicitis, for which he may later on have an operation performed.

The DEMOCRAT is pained to state that Mrs. Robt. Baird is still in a precarious condition from being poisoned by wild fly. A nurse has been in constant attendance for several weeks, and there has been no apparent relief, her whole system being full of the poison.

Rev. W. W. Theobald arrived from Madison, Wis., Tuesday, and Wednesday accompanied S. R. and Horace Theobald to Fullerton to attend the wedding of their brother, Herbert J., who was married to Miss Etie Morgan of that place, Rev. Theobald performing the ceremony.

Deputy State Superintendent Porter was in Wayne Tuesday calling at the College on business. He talked with the DEMOCRAT Mr. Porter stated his chief, Supt. McBrien, would be a candidate for renomination this fall, and that little opposition was anticipated. As to the other present state officials Mr. Porter couldn't say what the present mix-up with Gov. Mickey would result in, but he was apparently not on Mr. Mickey's side of the argument.

The "peek-a-boo" is not an issue with the clergymen of Sioux City. In fact some Sioux City ministers do not know what a peek-a-boo is.—Sioux City Journal.

Poor Little Innocents.

Bradstreet's and Dun's reports were quite favorable on Saturday. Where there was plenty of rain the drought seems to have been broken. In many sections the rain was hard but the water was softer than usual. In sections where there was no rain it was drier than in sections where the rain fell in copious quantities. I have always noticed that it was drier in a dry season than in a season when there was plenty of rain. The reports indicate a very favorable tone in trade. Of course, in many lines where there is no demand for goods the goods were not being manufactured and manufacturers who can't sell their goods are not pleased with the volume of business being done. Those that are doing a big business report that everything is favorable. These reports of Bradstreet and Dun and the report of the weather crop bureau help to make life worth enduring, if it is over-Dun.

Agent Moran says the month of June is full of feed for Pat Dixon's chickens. About several times so of ten wedding parties leave a bushel of rice on the depot platform; this is swept off, and Pat's big web-footed Percheron fowls make a square meal of it. I have often wondered what good these "bequests" of rice and old shoes were, but now am satisfied. It all goes to make chickens, chickens make eggs, Jim Britton says eggs—well, I'll let Jim tell the rest of it.

Guests at the banquet given A. R. Davis and his bride say that A. J. Ferguson was simply in his glory. A. J. can at least think of things if he can't do them. This incident led S. B. Scafe to recollect the time that the colonel organized his broom brigade of young ladies, Mr. Scafe furnishing a couple of the female recruits. The orders given the company, when in line, by their organizer, were: "Shoulders back, arms dropped down, hands on the seams of your pants."

When thieves fall out it's time to enlarge the penitentiaries. Likewise, when pass-bribed state officials go to telling on each other, the people should dump the whole bunch. This scrap between Mickey and Mortenson on one hand, and Eaton, Galusha, and Searle on the other, ought to open the purblind eyes of the people to the fact that it is time to do things to the railroad republican machine in Nebraska, as well as in Iowa and other states.

A traveling salesman died suddenly and some of his friends telegraphed the undertaker an order to make a large wreath. Investigation showed that the telegram ordered a wreath bearing the words, "Rest in Peace," on both sides of the ribbon and on one side if there should be room. "We shall meet in Heaven." The undertaker was out of town and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece that turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide and it bore the inscription: "Rest in Peace on Both Sides, and If There is room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

A Columbia City mother was trying to get her little boy to go to bed. "Run along, Johnny," she said, "and get into your bed. The little chickens have all gone to bed." "Yes, mother, I know," said the Mesdames R. Philleo, Ted Philleo and J. W. Epler were hosts to about a hundred invited guests last Monday complimentary to Mrs. Nels Grimley, Seattle. Marjorie Kohl and Nellie Cooke given in white did the honors at the door and dressing room, while the guests were met in the reception hall by the hostess. It was an ideal day and the spacious rooms had been beautifully decorated with roses while the large bowl of ice-cold grape juice added to the pleasures of the guests. Mrs. Geo. Wilbur greatly pleased the company by her rendering of two vocal solos and Mrs. Miller played a brilliant piano solo. Mesdames Leisinger, Jim Miller and Jake Felber assisted in serving the refreshments. The out of town guests were Mesdames Jones of N. Y., Hecker, Neely, Owens and Gildersleeve.

On last Monday evening several gentlemen friends of Mr. Davis made him a call somewhat out of the ordinary manner. Mr. Davis suspected something so undertook to conceal himself in Dr. Cosner's office. In the crowd seeking Mr. Davis were two traitors, who though pretending to be on the hunt for him, tried to shield him and sidetrack the crowd but the work was so coarse that one gentleman made himself scarce early in the game for fear of the crowd, and the other who furnished a lantern whispered so loud to Davis that he was caught, but he never knew he was under suspicion under suspicion until Davis was safe in the arms of O. A. King. In order to reach the attorney it was necessary for King to crawl over the e transom and the way he did, showed he was an adept at it. And when he spied the gentleman crouched in the corner, there was general rejoicing. The attorney then invited the crowd to his office where ice cream and cigars were served, by that time all were cooled off and Davis is lucky he got off so easy as he did. As to the traitors their time is coming, that is prospects seem good at present.

Fred Erlleben and Miss Louise Greenwald were married Wednesday at the German church south of town, a big reception followed at the home of the brides parent's Mr. and Mrs. Phil Greenwald.

Mrs. Ted Philleo gave a "linen shower" for Miss Edna Bush last Friday evening.

Davis-Bnsh.

On Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bush occurred the wedding of Miss Edna and Mr. A. R. Davis. The bride leaning on the arm of the groom marched down the stairway and took their places north the bell which hung from the arch of the bay window, where Rev. Osborne awaiting them joined them in the holy bonds of matrimony, only the relatives being present. The hall and stairway had been profusely decorated in feathery green with here and there a bunch of red or white roses or carnations. The bay window had been banked with ferns, palms and asparagus dotted by white roses. The dining room had been festooned with ropes of asparagus from the center of the ceiling to the four corners of the room. On the table stood a large bowl of red carnations surrounded by a wreath of ferns. The guests were welcomed at the door by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Philleo while Luella Bush, looking very pretty and dainty, stood on the stairway directing the guests to the dressing room upstairs. Mr. Walt are incomplete without a supply of nice flaky, white bread. Bread which not only is pleasing to the eye but appeals to the palate and possesses that GOOD TASTE which should be experienced. That GOOD TASTE predominates only, when certain kinds of flour are brought into service. The use of Gold Medal will more than please you in this respect. The bread possesses that good nutritious taste "so becoming to the palate" and what is more it will produce more bread to the sack. The makers of Gold Medal offer $1,000.00 to anyone who will produce a superior flour from No. 1, Northern hard wheat. This offer is open to the world. To ladies who take pride in bread making allow me to assist you by the introduction of Gold Medal in your flour chest. With all possible sincerity I can recommend Gold Medal in every respect. It is pleasing more than a hundred regular users and it will please you. If for any reason it should fail to be satisfactory in every way shape or form, kindly report, receive your purchase price and keep the flour without cost. Ralph Rundell.

New Butcher Shop.

Painters have been busy the past few days putting the old Elite restaurant store room in apple-pie order for K. Karo's new butcher shop, which will open up for business probably July 4th. Mr. Karo is an old, experienced man at the business. Years ago he was located at Winside, and since then at Pender, where some of his brothers are in business. With another drug store and another butcher shop—signs that point to Wayne's growth—the volume of business that comes to Wayne has got to be increased. The way to do that is advertise!

A bad hail storm hit the country about Crete on Tuesday night, stripping a stretch of country 11 miles long and two miles wide of all vegetation. F. G. Butler, traveling man for the Peavey Co., has resigned, his successor not yet putting in an appearance. J. W. Aiter went to Grand Island Wednesday to attend a meeting of the A. O. U. W.

Chas. Madden was in Sioux City Tuesday and found his wife some better, her recovery, however, being very slow.

Rick Lauman is hauling in 4,000 bushels of corn that he sold the Peavey Co. at 40c cents, when the price was at a top notch, previous to the recent rains. Since then corn dropped to 35c but was up to 37 1/2 again yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. McNeal and sister Mrs. Crane of Omaha, left Tuesday for a six weeks visit with their mother at Ludington, Mich.

Miss Monte Theobald arrived home from Madison, Wis., Wednesday evening, where she has been attending College.

Mrs. Walter Weber and Mrs. Nels Grimley went to Norfolk yesterday on a visit to Mrs. Robt. Utter.

Advertised Letter—C. L. Anderson, Miss Zella Davis, Miss Minnie Carstens, G. Corles, Mrs. Ella Jeffrey, K. Elmo Smith, Card, E. K. Erickson.

A copy of the Seattle Times of June 17th contains a picture and long written description of a private hospital. Nelson Grimley is building, in that city, known as the "New Minor." It is an 80-room building, costing $50,000 and is strictly modern in all appliances. Nels must be more than piling up the coin in that country.

Wm. Shorten was in Sioux City Wednesday.

J. H. Lewis of Minneapolis was here the past week attending the funeral of his sister Mrs. H. E. Dahr. Other relatives who were here owing to the sad event were Misses Beulah and Blanche Roberts nieces, and E. R. Roberts, nephew, from Randolph; Mrs. W. A. Tawney, a cousin, from Osmond; and Mrs. S. A. Harmon, an aunt, from Malvern, Iowa.

There was a riotous time at the depot yesterday morning when Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Davis left for the groom's old home near Onawa, Ia. Tinnans, horns, rice, and a conglomeration of implements of torture were used, not the least of foul things being a few hundred hand bills that were scattered about the depot and through the train, bearing the following: "Blushing Bride and solemn Groom."

Easily distinguished by the stately bearing of the gentleman and the sweet and winning way of the bride. He stands six feet—bare footed. Took his annual foot bath last evening. The bride is a blushing blonde of sixteen. Just notice the young lady with the Alice blue and you cannot but envy the young man.

Both are heart smashers.

The groom is a young attorney of about 42, slightly bald headed, very posessing although he walks a little slop-sided.

Kindly overlook the devotion to each other, as the event has been looked to for years and holding hands is a habit.

Be liberal with your donations of rice and as each have but one pair of shoes, which will be worn out in walking back, give them a few extra pairs. They will come in handy later.

The city park commission, Messrs. Bressler, Gamble and Britton, have started a snag in their work on the Bressler park, there having been no levy made by the old council for defraying the expense of making a park, and the law law clearly forbidding the use of other city funds for that purpose. A popular subscription should be made for the purpose this year, and the DEMOCRAT suggests that a fund be started at once for that purpose. We cannot afford to let the park suffer the initial year for want of a few paltry dollars. Suppose the DEMOCRAT starts the ball to rolling, we've got "money to burn," say about $50.30 worth. Now, you rich fellows come up to the scratch—and the fund will grow to a cool thousand in a week.

D. C. Main tells the DEMOCRAT that Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tucker are camping out in the wooded mountains of Oregon, about 70 miles south of Portland. They are with his brother, A. B. Tucker, formerly of Randolph. Mr. Tucker's sons are in the hardware business at Jefferson and doing well, the old gentleman putting in most of his time hunting and fishing near Cascadia where the party is in camp. A. L. and wife expect to return to Wayne about the middle of July.

The late Senator Ingalls was unable to restrain his propensity to indulge in his humor. This habit, however, did not place him in the category of a humorist, on one occasion, an intimate friend wrote to him, urging the appointment of another friend to the position of minister to the government. To this letter the senator returned a very sarcastic answer, and received the following reply: My Dear Senator: I think it would be well for you to reserve your sarcasm for the rapidly increasing number of your enemies. Instead of offering it to the decreasing number of your friends, of whom I am one. It said: "I never forgive the rebuke, but it was too late."

James B. Reynolds, of Boston, has been assistant secretary of the United States treasury for fifteen months, and in that time has received his name some-where close to 100,000 times. His signature is of a rather fanciful character, and consequently he uses ink by the ton. He has a habit of writing his name on a napkin in a day. During a hot spell of weather at one time 12,000 Indian warriors were rapidly increasing in number. The other assistant secretaries were on their vacations, and "Jim" signed them, the whole 12,000. He lost one pound and soured his disposition.

He lost the Irish people making perfect and complete the Gaelic. He lost the other countries for two centuries later.

Senator Spooner has stopped smoking. He was mourning his sad fate when Senator Dooliver, thinking to be sympathetic, said: "Well, I guess it is pretty well right that the day should be shortened to shorten a man's days." "That's right," Senator Spooner replied. "The day starts without it and about sixty hours long."

Omaha, Neb., June 25.—Held a prisoner against her will for six months after being chloroformed and kidnaped from her parents' home, Mrs. Dora West, of Fairbury, succeeded yesterday in escaping from her captor, who followed her back to his rooms when a crowd gathered and he dropped her and ran. On June 17, according to Mrs. West, while she was playing the organ in the parlor of her home at Fairbury, William McDonald, formerly a partner in the firm of McDonald, West & Co., crept in, placed a wet handkerchief saturated with chloroform over her nostrils, and she lapsed into insensibility.

When she regained consciousness she found herself in a rooming house in the outskirts of Fairbury, five miles from her home, held prisoner by a woman. There McDonald frequently visited her, and sought to make her promise to go with him and keep her whereabouts from her husband and parents. The Burden of Militarism.
"We have had enough of war, carnage, devastation and desolation," said General Miles, the famous of living American soldiers, in his commencement address at Boulder, the graduating class of the University of Colorado. "Those who know the least of the hardships and horrors of war are its most jealous advocates."

The World Herald heartily commended this sentiment to the jingoists in congress who are appropriating $10,000,000 of the construction of "the biggest battleship in the world."

In the few years since imperialism gained a foothold on American soil the expenses of our army and navy have grown to amazing proportions. By the force of our example as a nation we have struck a discouraging blow to the disarmament aspiration of the oppressed citizens of the old world. Instead of encouraging, by precept and practice, the movement for a reduction in the size of the armies and navies of the world, we have added new reasons for still greater burdens, until today the European powers are straining their resources to keep their navies on a par, or slightly in advance of, the navy of the United States.

We have, in this country, many citizens of European birth who know what are the burdens of militarism. Scores of thousands of them left their native lands largely because of the hardships these great war establishments impose. They come to us at a time when our small navy and still smaller army constituted one of our proudest boasts. And now they are compelled to see the land of their adoption vying with the empires and monarchies of Europe in the mad race to see which nation shall spend the most money supporting millions of idle men who drain the resources of the world, and building monster battleships that are ready for the junk heap within a few years after they are floated.

Of all the follies of our boasted civilization there is none more monstrous than the annual waste of hundreds of millions of dollars on great navies and imposing standing armies; there is none more utterly without excuse.—World-Herald.

John Burns, president of the English local government board, estimated that 100,000 infants die annually because of neglect, carelessness or ignorance. And about 300,000 more grow up to be nuisances because of the same thing.

An Alarming Situation
frequently results from neglect of clogged bowels and torpid liver, until constipation becomes chronic. This condition is unknown to those who use Dr. King's new life pills; the best and gentlest regulator of Stomach and bowels. Guaranteed by Raymond the druggist.

A reporter for a well-known city paper died recently. He was a fine young fellow, and a visitor to the office the day after the funeral found the editor and his staff talking about their loss, disconsolately. "It has been a sad loss, friends," the visitor said. "A sad loss, indeed," he sighed and looked about the room. "And I am glad to see that you commemorate the melancholy event by hanging up crape."

The editor frowned. "Crape? he said, "where do you see crape?"
"Over there," said the visitor pointing.
"Crape be darned," said the editor, "that isn't crape. It's the office towel."

Cured of Bright's Disease.
Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's kidney cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began using Foley's kidney cure I had to make water every fifteen minutes, day and night and passed a brick dust substance. I believe I would have died if I hadn't taken Foley's Kidney Cure. The Resurrection.
In November, 1896, the New York World printed a cartoon, showing a funeral procession, an open grave and a small company of mourners lowering the political body of one William J. Bryan into the grave. Last week that same newspaper printed another cartoon which it called "The Resurrection." The picture showed a cemetery the tomb stones showing that it was the burial place of many distinguished citizens. One stone bore the name of Bryan. In the picture the lid is lifting from the Bryan grave and the Nebraska and his smile are seen emerging from the tomb. Close beside the Bryan grave stands a figure which is instantly recognized as the present occupant of the White House. Bryan looks puzzled as he comes from the grave, because upon the Roosevelt body he sees his own clothes; the ones he wore at the time of his alleged death in 1896. Roosevelt is wearing a coat on which appears the trademark, "anti-monopoly." His trousers are branded with the words "income tax." His right arm is labeled "anti-trust," and every article of clothing which he wears is branded with some of the good principles for which Bryan contended in 1896, all of which have now been adopted by Roosevelt. It is one of the most striking pictures ever printed by an American newspaper, and it tells better than words could tell the triumph of the principles which the people rejected in 1896, and the fact that Roosevelt has won his own personal popularity by appearing before the people in the clothes that Bryan wore in 1896. If a man die shall he live again? The New York World answers the question in the affirmative politically speaking. The paper that pronounced Bryan dead beyond the hope of resurrection in 1896 today declares that he is the idol of the American people, and the lyriest corpse that ever threw aside the shroud of public prejudice.—Fremont Herald.

If?
If the state government of Nebraska is as corrupt as Senator Sheldon says it is—
If the last Nebraska legislature was the railroad legislature which Senator Sheldon says it was—
If it be true that the railroads, and not the people, have been electing senators and congressmen as Senator Sheldon says they have—
If these horrible conditions have prevailed in Nebraska, then where lies the fault? Surely the republican party must be to blame, because every state office has for years been occupied by a republican, and seven out of ten members of the last legislature were republicans.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Good.
"I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain," says A. H. Shurmes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O. "I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like substance and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1000 worth of good." Foley's Kidney Cure will cure every form of kidney and bladder disease. Wayne Pharmacy.

Alton Democrat: President Roosevelt has issued a six column message to congress describing the awful conditions in the packing business of Chicago and calling for immediate action in behalf of the public health. Noble deed. But it was but a short time ago that he helped kick General Miles into supposed oblivion for denouncing an enlarged beef and demanding an investigation and prosecution of trust violations in the supplying of rotten meat to the army. Miles was right but he was a democrat—and the republican party would see all humanity in hades with its back broke rather than admit that a democrat was right. Every reform now before the people is a democratic reform which the republican party has been compelled to espouse in order to stay in power.

Why is Standard gasoline 16¢ per gallon? Just because John D. Rockefeller is in Europe and needs the money.
And now Lincoln, the home town of Bryan, is jealous for fear some other town will give the great man a bigger welcome than it will. This looks peculiar considering that we never remember hearing a good word for William Jennings out of that meanly, dirty, dusty city.

The two hardest shills for Bryan to perform will be the Sioux City Tribune and Grover Cleveland. This is all that is left now of the Buckner-Palmer miscarriage of politics of 1896.

Howell Rees of Pliger paid $5,000 for a Shorthorn bull, at Kansas City, last week. Choice Goods 189602, calved in 1899, bred by J. D. Jackson, Aberdeen, Scotland. He is considered the greatest sire on the American continent today, and has been grand champion wherever shown.

The Pierce Leader this week suggests the names of ex-Senator Allen of Madison and R. A. Tawney of Pierce as good material for the democratic nomination for congressman from the Third district. Senator Allen is of the strongest and most widely known men in the state on the anti-republican side, while Mr. Tawney is a remarkably strong man where he is known. Either of these men would bring unusual support to the democratic ticket, a fact that should be given full consideration by republicans. Mr. McCarthy is conceded even by his friends to be a weak man and if he should by any possibility succeed in capturing the nomination, there would be something doing with either Senator Allen or Mr. Tawney as his opponent.—Norfolk News.

 A large congregation turned out last Sunday to listen to the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Thos. Wright of Wayne. The pulpit was prettily decorated with class colors and plants and the choir rendered some beautiful music. Rev. Wright's address was very eloquent and interesting, and if only a few things he said could be remembered, they would be useful and helpful to all.
 Rev. La Baron preached his farewell sermon here last Sabbath, June 24th.
 The rain storm on Sunday afternoon spoiled the Children's day exercises at the Wm. Prince school house, and they had to have it over again last Sunday, June 24th. They had a nice program.
 The Commercial hotel was full of people Sunday, driven there by the storm, and when the Cullen barn was burning some one in the house cried "fire!" Well there was a regular stampede and everybody rushed for the doors to get out. It is said that many ludicrous things happened and after the people found out that there was no cause for alarm, a great deal of merriment followed.

He is a married man and his wife will arrive as soon as a house can be procured. J. C. is an old hand at the business and will no doubt give satisfaction.
 During the storm last Sunday the telephone wires in the postoffice were discovered to be on fire. Mrs. Tracy happened to be somewhere near, but as she had no key told the boys to break in the window, and through this they effected on entrance and a pall of water was dashed on the burning wires. This is the second time the Automatic switch board has started a fire and Mr. Tracy has decided to have it removed from the building.

"Whoehell?"
 Since McKillip says, says he,
 "If your candidate can't be,"
 And McKillip is and was the pride of Platte;
 Since no man on earth could find,
 If he searched till he was blind,
 Such another true and trusted democrat;
 Since Judge Howard's in the race
 For a more exalted place,
 And to take a less would simply be absurd,
 This the question everywhere
 On the palpitating air—
 "Whoehell will run for congress in the Third?"
 "Pat McKillip is my choice"
 —This has been the people's voice
 (You could hear it if you listened night or day)
 People somehow loved the style
 Of his haircut and his smile,
 And their faith hung on the things he had to say.
 From the Nebraska south
 To the Elkhorn's open mouth
 Sobs and sighs and lamentations can be heard,
 As the men in every crowd
 Cry with one accord out loud,
 "Whoehell will run for congress in the Third?"

Mrs. Ellis and Miss Ellis returned to Wayne Saturday morning.
 The Huse families returned to Wayne last Saturday. Gene Huse says land is bound to boom at St. Anthony Idaho, where he and his father bought 80 acres at $35 an acre. Eph Cunningham is having his 680 acres cleared of sage brush and getting ready to irrigate it. Land values are from $20 to $110, the beet industry being the principal crop. Mr. Huse believes that as a speculation it is sure to make money, but that Nebraska beats that country all hollow on climate.

 Jas. Wright of Omaha, son of our ex-postmaster Harry W. Right, is to be married July 10th to Miss Danforth of that city. Last Friday Mrs. Wright entertained the following Wayne young ladies, complimentary to the bride-to-be: Misses Queenie Mellor, Libbie Ellis, Mable Clark, Josie Frazier, Miss Danforth and Mrs. Phil Ellis. Mrs. Ellis and Miss Ellis returned to Wayne Saturday morning.
 The Huse families returned to Wayne last Saturday. Gene Huse says land is bound to boom at St. Anthony Idaho, where he and his father bought 80 acres at $35 an acre. Eph Cunningham is having his 680 acres cleared of sage brush and getting ready to irrigate it. Land values are from $20 to $110, the beet industry being the principal crop. Mr. Huse believes that as a speculation it is sure to make money, but that Nebraska beats that country all hollow on climate.

Trains Run to Basin.
 Basin Wyo., June 19, 1906.
 Mr. Walter Goldie,
 Wayne, Neb.
 Friend Goldie:—As I know there are several parties in and about Wayne who have been waiting for the railroad to be built before visiting Big Horn Basin, I write to inform them that the day of freighter and stage for this country has passed. The first train to enter the Basin a steel construction train laying the track before them as they went crossed the bridge into the city limits of Basin at 7:15 today June 19, 1906. The whole population of Basin turned out to welcome them, as they crossed the main street, a cannon was fired, the band played, the fire whistle was blown, while four of the leading citizens relieved the spiking gang by driving four gold spikes in the ties it was a slight work going miles to see, and will be long remembered by the people of Basin. The ties are all thrown onto the road bed, and rails run out by machinery and clamped, the spikers then follow behind the train and spike the rails. They run two shifts and lay 12,000 feet a day.
 Registration for the Shoshoni Reservation start 10 of July to 50th at Lander, Shoshoni, Thermopolls and Worland provided the railroad reaches Worland by July 5th. If not Basin will be a registration point July 3, 4 and 5th, Basin holds their Races, Riding and Roping contest.
 We had to rope Ed Ellis tonight to keep him from running into the river, we got scared at the cars. Ed has a business here and is doing well, and is looking as fat and happy as ever. All the Wayne people are doing fine here. Hoping now the road is here to see more of you out this way.
 I remain sincerely,
 HOMER S. SCAGE.

Rev. Duley "Surprised."
 The DEMOCRAT had just gone to press last Thursday evening when told that the Baptist people were doing things to Rev. and Mrs. Duley, because of that worthy couple's departure from the local church. Mr. and Mrs. Duley were spending the evening at the home of O. A. King, when a message was received stating that they were wanted at the church. Arriving there the preacher and his better half were astonished to find the edifice filled with people, the congregation singing "Blessed be the Tie that Binds." Rev. Thos. J. Wright then arose and made a short talk, telling of the departing pastor's good work in the church and the high esteem he was held socially and from a business view by the Wayne people. O. A. King, then on behalf of the church, presented Mrs. Duley with a handsome piece of hand-painted china and Mr. Duley a gold watch, tokens of the love and appreciation in which they would always be held by the donors. Rev. Duley thanked his people most heartily for their goodness, and then the meeting closed with singing "God be with You 'till We Meet Again." The congregation then adjourned to Whalens' and partook of ice cream and cake.

A Trip To Old Mexico. (by Frank L. Gilron.)

It was one Thursday evening when the warm sun was endeavoring to find its resting place, and just after the budding of May, came the words "Come go to Mexico with me Mr. Gilron, the fare is only $72.85 round trip," uttered by Mr. John Ebert, a lad six feet four in stature and an excellent bodyguard for a chap of my size. All right, I will. Can I have a couple of weeks vacation Mr. Zaiser? (My employer?) Certainly you can, go and enjoy yourself. Preparations were made immediately for a visit to the Torrid Zone, leaving Saturday evening May 5th. We were due to arrive at San Antonio Sunday morning at 10 a. m., where we were to change and take the International and Great Northern to the City of Mexico, but the train arriving an hour late, compelled us to remain in San Antonio a whole day. This day we did not count as lost, as it gave us a chance to see this beautiful city, which is known throughout the civilized world healthfulness and her climate, and where eight battles were fought in and around the city limits, for the independence of Texas. The two most noted ones were: The fall of the Alamo, March 6, 1836, where Col. Travis, James Bowie and David Crockett with 183 men lost their lives defending the fortress against Santa Anna with a force of 4000 Mexicans. The other being the battle of San Jacinto, fought April 21, 1836 with San Houston in command of the Texans, who captured and defeated Santa Anna, thus ending the war and giving Texas her independence.

An interesting visit was made to Fort San Houston, where fourteen companies and forty-three sets of officers' quarters are stationed. This being one of the most suitable points for the distribution of troops throughout the entire Southwest, and is a very beautiful and attractive place for tourists.

The early morning sun found us visiting two other places of interest, where men generally find a most delicious soothe; the One Man's Brewery which is conducted on the same principles as a large establishment, excepting that it turns out only five barrels of beer a day. It is known throughout Texas as the best and purest beer made. The other, the Buckhorn Saloon, which is one of the handsomest and artistically decorated beverage establishments in the country. It contains over twenty five hundred mounted deer and antelope heads, which are arranged in a very neat manner on the walls and ceiling. Upon entering, there are two beautiful pictures, one of a deer and the other an eagle with out-stretched wings, made from rattles which were secured from rattles snakes killed around San Antonio. They are wonderful in design and are greatly appreciated by all who see them. In fact these two places are listed among the interesting points of the city. All in all San Antonio is a very beautiful city, the buildings being built of white stone or white press brick, which combined with her magnificent laid-out plazas, makes her a city which is becoming very popular among the tourists; some six to eight thousand people visiting there annually.

Our next stopping point was Laredo on this side of the line and New Laredo on the other; arriving at 5:30 p. m. Monday. One hour was spent here with the pleasant task of re-packing our baggage after the Mexican custom order had gone through them like a chicken trying to find a worm in a sand pit. One lady was obliged to pay $100 duty on a trunk of new dresses, which delayed the train another hour.

The long weary ride had now begun through the desert of northern Mexico, where nothing but cactus and sage brush was to be seen. However, the railroad company did everything in its power to make it as comfortable as possible to its passengers, but at the same time it could not control the dust and weariness of the ride. The evening was made very pleasant owing to the fact of meeting the Bielbl family who were musicians going to Mexico for a year's engagement in one of the fine restaurants. It required one day and two nights to make the run from Laredo to the city, arriving there at 6:10 on Wednesday morning. Our first object was to look for a hotel where we could rest our weary bodies, and we were indeed fortunate in locating the Sanz, which place is recognized as headquarters of the traveling public, and the prices are within reach of all; being from five to twenty dollars a day Mexican money. After resting and partaking of breakfast we made a visit to the famous Alameda, a public garden or park, known as one of the finest in the world. It is far superior to that of Golden Gate Park at San Francisco except in size. It covers about twenty-five acres of ground, and is planted to magnificent trees, and the choicest of flora. Broad walks, splendid statuary, elegant settees, a miniature menagerie make this Alameda the resort of the busy Mexican and Foreign society. The Sunday concerts of the Alameda must be witnessed, to have a conception of the musical genius of the Mexican people; they must be attended to see the wondrously beautiful girls of pure and delicious descent. These concerts are held every Sunday morning and Thursday evening and are attended by thousands and thousands. I have no hesitancy to assert, that almost every nation of the world, with the possible exception of the dark continent, is represented here; the various languages are heard on all sides, and I believe the crowd around the tower of Babel could not have included in a greater variety of talk.

A-joining the Alameda is one of the greatest boulevards of the world, "The Paseo de la Reforma." I have seen the beautiful Magnolia Avenue of Riverside, California which is recognized a thing of beauty and a joy forever, but after seeing the Paseo all the hallucinations of famous drives in Europe, America, and even California, would vanish into the air. The Paseo is wonderful and the crowd of people that make it so attractive is more so. The fountains, the horses, the parading multitude is exquisitely exquisite, and as worth the whole expense of the trip to see this panorama.

After spending several hours in the Alameda we made a tour of the National Palace, which is an immense building covering about ten acres. Its construction was begun shortly after the conquest of Mexico. It contains the president's official quarters, the Ambassador's saloon where all the pictures of the Mexican presidents, besides that of George Washington, are displayed. All of the governmental offices are in this building, besides the barracks, the crack infantry regiment, the meteorological and astronomical observatories, the National Museum with its Mexican curiosities and Maximilian carriages, and other relics of the Empire and Aztec Kings, such as: Aztec antiquities, pictographs, Montezuma's shield, the statue of the God of War, the celebrated Calendar Stone and many other relics from the time of the conquest.

The Cathedral and Churches: It certainly was a marvelous time of original and beautiful work that covered Mexico with churches and set up in all the remote and almost inaccessible villages, towers and domes that match the best work of Italy, and recall the triumphs of Moorish art. The beauty and originality is wholly in the interior. While all the towers, domes, facades and outside walls are original in form, color and decorations and have a special charm, the interiors are strikingly beautiful. Some of the interiors of the churches were very rich in silver and gold decorations, unlike any other.

AT HALF COCK.

When Upton Sinclair told President Roosevelt about the criminal filth in the great packing houses the president promptly denounced Sinclair as a "muck raker." He went so far as to make a speech of warning begging the people to beware of the muck rakers. He did not relish the prospect that the big fellows in the packing houses who had contributed so much money to the republican campaign fund, should have their criminality laid bare to the public eye. But Sinclair kept on writing and the public kept on talking, until finally the clamor was so great that the government found it necessary to make an investigation. The report of the official investigators has been published and it is ten times stronger than the charges made by Sinclair, so strong that the president has deemed it necessary to call the attention of congress to the horrible conditions in the packing houses. If President Roosevelt might have had his own way in the matter all this trouble would not have been brought down upon the heads of the wealthy scoundrels who own the packing houses. Thanks to the zeal of such muck rakers as Sinclair, the horrible truth has been brought out. When the presidential mouth denounced Sinclair as a "muck-raker" it went off at half cock, as it is in the habit of doing. It went off in the same manner when it denounced General Miles, who boldly stated that three thousand American soldier boys had been murdered by the packers who supplied them with poisoned meats. God bless Sinclair, the muck-raker. He arrived too late to save the lives of the three thousand soldiers who were poisoned by the great packers—too late to save the many thousands of citizens who have fallen victims to the criminal greed of the packers, but his revelations will be of incalculable benefit to future generations because they have created a public sentiment which will certainly put a stop to criminal practices in the packing houses.

And the credit will be due—not to President Roosevelt, who tried to hush the story of crime, but rather to such inspired muck-rakers as General Miles and Upton Sinclair.—Columbus Telegram.

Peculiar, isn't it, how brutality of the worst sort should be practiced at the Norfolk insane asylum, and the management not be to blame for it. The DEMOCRAT hopes Gov. Brother Against Brother?
The Fremont Tribune says the railroads are opposing Norris. Brown, in his effort to win a senatorship.
But why?
Why should the railroads oppose the candidacy of a man who for fifteen years has been a political railroad pass distributor?

When we see a man fighting his own brother or his child, we say it is unnatural. When anyone says that the railroads are fighting Tige Harrison's candidacy for senator, never mind in the political of Nebraska will say that it is not only unnatural, but also untrue. For fifteen years Norris Brown has been captain of the railroad political forces in Buffalo county. For fifteen years he has marshaled the railroad political brigade in Buffalo county, and has delivered the vote of that county against anti-monopoly candidates in the state and congressional conventions.

The suggestion that the Nebraska railroads are fighting their own political agents is as unnatural as it is untrue.—Columbus Telegram.
