GOT A BAD MAN HERE.

"Jack White" a Much Wanted Man in Missouri.

Saturday United States Marshal Chas. Haskell and a United States detective, W. T. Wheeler, came to Wayne hotfooted after a man named Jack Steele, alias White, the fellow having gone under the latter cognomen for a year past while living in Wayne county. The officers were from St. Joe, Mo. and followed the trail to Ed. Rennie's farm south part of the county, but White had just left there and was stacking grain on Mr. Rennie's place west of town. Arrived at the farm the sleuths told Mr. Rennie what they were after, and also that Steele or White was a bad one and they would take no chances in making the arrest. One officer hid in the weeds near the barn, where White would drive past, while the other was concealed behind a building. As the fellow drove into the yard they both pulled their guns on him and made him get off the wagon, and immediately clapped the irons on him. The trio left by way of Norfolk Saturday night. The DEMOCRAT understands that White stole horses, robbed a postoffice and then burned it, near St. Joe, and later escaped from his jailer. For nearly a year he was working for Fritz Kay near LaPorte and while out there there were several fires, notably the burning of the John Saas barn and John Hoag's corn fodder. When Mr. Kay was arrested for setting fire to Hoag's fodder, Jack White was a witness for him, and Kay now tells Sheriff Means that White very likely started the fire. Also that he and White drove out of Wayne the night the Saas barn burned down, and that White could have done that job also.

Whatever devilment the chap did in Wayne county may never be known, but the Missouri authorities evidently knew he was a very hard character and it is unlikely he will get back here again. He was a man of about thirty-five, sandy mustache, lame on left foot, but not a bad looking fellow.

Ed. Hagemann was called to Charter Oak, Ia., Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral of an only sister's husband, Geo. Ulrich. Mr. Ulrich was stacking on Saturday, August 18th, threw the fork down and slid after it, the implement penetrating his body, making a mortal wound, but living in terrible agony until last Saturday. Deceased leaves a wife and nine young children.

Played Like "Indians."

The Cherokee Indians could play ball too many for the local picked up nine. The game Saturday afternoon was so one-sided that the earth had a 45 degree slant to it in the vicinity of the fairgrounds. The Cherokeees played a great game, while the Wayne team played—just like Sioux City. The evening game—by gas light—was all hot air. The manager of the Cherokeees, Ole Olson, took on too much fire water and the employees failed to get the gas to burn. There was a big crowd out to the fair grounds to see the fun, but all there was to the game was an assault made by Olson upon the gas-lighter. A warrant was sworn out for Olson, but the city attorney called it a "foal" and Marshal Winer failed to serve it. The aggregation pulled out of town Sunday afternoon poorer in purse but with a high regard for Wayne as a baseball burg.

Redmer-Westerhaus

August 22nd at 2 o'clock p. m. occurred the marriage of Frank Redmer of Winside and Minnie Westerhaus daughter of Henry Westerhaus southwest of town. The wedding took place in the beautifully decorated Theophilus church. A large crowd of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. The young couple will make their home in Winside.

John Roman, who is an old timer of Wayne, surprised his friends by dropping in here Saturday night, and Monday left for South Dakota. Mr. Roman looks natural as of old. A few months ago the Omaha papers were advertising for him, he having been left some money by the death of his mother. Mrs. Roman and daughter are now living at Fullerton, and the DEMOCRAT understands she obtained a divorce from her husband some time ago.

Jake Dornberger has just finished a splendid big farm residence for Louis Knoll northwest of town.

Mrs. Geo. Damon returned to her home at Council Bluffs this week.

Miss Emma Berry accompanied her niece Hattie Berry, home from Sioux City last Saturday.

City Administration.

There was quite a lively meeting of the city council Monday night. The fun was over a much signed petition presented by J. M. Pile for a continuous cement sidewalk from the German store to the College. Several parties were present to stave the proposition off. Sam Barnes and a preacher who will pardon the DEMOCRAT for not having his name, being the debaters on the occasion. In an emphatic speech Mr. Barnes declared that the other streets needed cement walks just as much as his'n, and that he could not afford to build a cement walk now (Sam is nearly as rich as the Spa of Persia,) and he wasn't going to do it. The reverend made the plea that this sidewalk President Pile wanted ought to go in on street east of Main street to College—on the north side, on President Pile's own property, and that he, like Sam Barnes, couldn't afford to build one—without borrowing the money. Pat Coleman was willing to build his share of it if the council would make Mark Stringer, Sr., and some other laggards in his neighborhood do likewise. Richard Russell also agreed to build, but he would make it brick. He didn't think cement would stand up on the hill—like the standpipe. For the affirmative Pres. Pile explained that the catalogue houses were selling his students their supplies, or the goods were being sent from the pupils' homes, just because it was impossible to walk down from the college in bad weather or after dark. He also explained that it was a proposition for the business men, and that all they wanted was one good walk, etc.

The city dads here quit work on the petition and passed a sidewalk ordinance that Alderman Gaertner designated a "dinger." It provides for the building of all walks by the city, where property owners refuse to construct them. The work to be done by the lowest bidder for the job. The petition was then taken up and referred to the street and alley committee, and it is a safe bet that Bro. Barnes will have to put in his sidewalk or sell out.

"When the Frost is On the Pumpkin

And the fadders' in the shock," and you've invested some money in our great King Solomon Stock.

Then it is that you are happy and contented, for as summer ripens into autumn, and the grain has been gathered into the barns, and you begin to take an account of the profits or losses for the year. Perhaps the hail has destroyed in a few minutes the harvest of a season, or perchance the frost has given you a crop of soft corn. It may be that a slump in cattle has been a hard blow to the feeders.

If the farmer suffers so does the merchant, for he is dependant upon the farmer for his success.

He may meet reverses of many kinds; it may be one thing or it may be another; but the investor in the King Solomon has the satisfaction of knowing that day and night, summer and winter, despite the hail and the snows, the ponderous machines are driving to the very heart of the big ore veins, which in a short time, says one of the Denver papers, will place us along with the Newhouse and the Yoh, the largest mining tunnels in the United States.

Sheriff Dwyer and Mr. Olke, the latter a former deputy sheriff, were here from Pierce Tuesday to look up the suspicious character Sheriff Mears has locked up in the county jail. A year or so ago when Mr. Olke was deputy, a bad man escaped from Pierce county after having been sentenced to the penitentiary. The description of the local arrest tallied exactly with the escaped felon, but when the above gentlemen got here they found he was not the man wanted by them, although concluding after sizing him up that he belonged in the pen. Messrs Haskell and Wheeler, who were here last Saturday for Jack Steele, the Missouri desperado, were of the same opinion and said they would look through the galleries for his "mug." Last week Sheriff Mears took him before County Judge Hunter, had him fined $10 and costs for being drunk, and is holding him for the fine. When taken into the judge's office the camera had previously been arranged, and when the man sat down a photograph was taken of him without his knowledge.

While at work on sidewalk matters the city council should amend the ordinance calling for brick or cement, and make it "hard brick" or cement. There is quite a lot of soft brick walk down now, and there will be a lot more if steps are not taken to stop it. A soft brick sidewalk is just about as much good as an old sponge; soaks up all the moisture and microbes, and holds them for days after a rain. They are nasty, dirty, slimy things to walk upon, and a citizen who will put one in after having experience with them, is a sort of a sap head himself.

STOLYPIN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Later Report Is That Stolypin Escaped, but That His Son Was Wounded With Many Others.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 23.—Saturday's assassin's attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin, with its sickening slaughter of thirty-two persons, took place last night by another revolutionary outrage in which General commander of the Semenovskiy regiment, and who, since his appointment as a general, has been regarded as a personal adjutant to the emperor, was killed on the platform at Peterhof by a bomb-thrower, who fired five shots into a crowd from an automatic revolver without resistance, submitted himself to arrest.

The capture of the girl was effected by General Min's wife, who held her to the arrival of an officer. This was the third successive attempt on the life of General Min, who was condemned to death by a military court immediately after the Moscow revolution last December. On account of the assassination attempt on the emperor, his command, and especially the wholesale execution of persons suspected of revolutionary activities, came to an end. General Min was returning from his residence at Peterhof and had just entered a platform when a young woman approached from behind and fired three shots into his back and then three more into his body as he sank to the ground. Further shots were fired by Miss Min, who was immediately arrested by the police.

plation may be judged by the fact that on the opposite side of the River Neva were shaken and windows broken.

Delay in Securing Medical Aid. A painful feature of the tragedy was the delay in securing medical aid for the injured, over an hour elapsing before an ambulance arrived.

It was by half an hour before a beginning was made systematically to clear the wreckage, during which the injured and the bodies of the house and grounds was one of complete desolation. Parts of human bodies were blown down by the force of the explosion and lodged among the branches, fell at his feet.

Four Revolutionists Did It. St. Petersburg, Aug. 23.—Four revolutionists arrived at Stolypin's villa at Peterhof at 11:30 p. m. on Saturday night. Two of them were dressed in the uniforms of gendarmes, the other two in civilian clothes. Two entered the villa under the pretext of making an important delivery to the premier, but they were not permitted to enter his office. One man threw a bomb into the reception room and a terrible explosion followed.

DENATURED ALCOHOL TO GET NEW START

United States Is Expected to Show the World How to Use It.

INVESTIGATOR REPORTS

John W. Yerkes Has Visited Europe Where Gasoline Is Still Predominant—Farmers Will Make It.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—John W. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue, who returned to his desk today after two months in Europe devoted to the study of denatured alcohol, expresses the belief that the United States will in time show the world how to make use of alcohol for fuel.

Yerkes says it is just as cheap to denature alcohol as to denature gasoline. He says that denatured alcohol has not supplanted gasoline in England, Germany or France. While it is extensively used in some lines of manufacturing it has not come into general use for power purposes.

CALLED A FIRE WAGON TO SAVE OLD 'PLUG'

Common Dray Horses Fallen on Chicago Street Across the Symptom of His.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—He was only a plug of a horse, a big, raw-boned animal of brown, hitched with one of his color to a rattling spring wagon, an animal who had been in the employ of the Waldorf-Woodley company, 6250 Michigan avenue. He had performed his duty well until he reached the corner of Grand and Dearborn streets, where he was struck by a car.

He was what is known as a "plug"—just a big dray horse—the expression of sympathy that went out to him was of the sort that went out to the lamented king of the gutter-snobs by their work took a minute "off" to look at the stricken beast, and got to his feet to help him. A crowd of people gathered to see the horse being taken to the hospital.

QUAKES CONTINUE; CONDITIONS SERIOUS

Famine and Disease Are Terrible Now Faced by the Unfortunate Chileans.

Santiago, Aug. 27.—Another severe earthquake shock occurred here at 10 last evening.

News received here from Valparaiso continues to confirm the worst impression formed of the conditions there. As the result of strong measures taken to preserve order, at least 150 burials have been made. Bodies are still being taken out of the ruins and thus far about 700 have been buried.

Ten thousand workmen are employed in clearing away the ruins and searching for bodies in the wreckage. In a house today a workman found a child alive in a barrel which had protected it from harm.

Valparaiso, Aug. 24.—There were two slight earthquake shocks here last night. Rain began falling again this morning, increasing the sufferings of the thousands living in tents and many sought refuge in houses whose walls are in dangerous condition. It is believed that if the rains continue much longer a serious epidemic will occur.

Later Report Is That Stolypin Escaped, but That His Son Was Wounded With Many Others.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—Saturday's attempt on the life of the Russian prime minister, Stolypin, with its sickening slaughter of thirty-two persons, was followed last night by another revolutionary outrage in which General Grandfather of the Semenovskiy regiment, and who, since his promotion to a general, has been regarded as a personal adjutant to the emperor, was killed on the platform at Paterhof by a young man, who fired five shots into his body from an automatic revolver without resistance, submitted to arrest.

The capture of the girl was effected by the prime minister's wife, who held her to the arrival of an officer.

That was the third successive attempt on the life of General Grandfather, who is condemned to death by the terms of a session practiced by a battalion, his command, and especially the wholesale execution of persons by means of machine guns, and being caught with arms in their hands.

General Min was returning from his summer residence at Paterhof and had with him his wife and daughter on a platform when a young woman—being a child—approached from behind and fired two shots into his back and then three more into his body as he fell from the platform. He was prevented by Madame Min, who threw herself upon the murderer and seized the hand which held the pistol. The woman did not attempt to escape, but she cautioned Madame Min not to touch a hand which she had placed on the platform, and she explained that it contained a bomb.

Refuses to Give Her Name. To the police the girl acknowledged that she had done the deed, saying she had executed the sentence of the fighting organization of the social revolutionists, but she refused to give her name.

By a remarkable coincidence General Grandfather was shot on the same platform as the man who was killed in the explosion at Paterhof. The man who was shot was the son of the prime minister, who was wounded.

During the Moscow revolt, Min, who was a general, commanded the troops of the Semenovskiy regiment, and he was killed in the city of Paterhof. The man who was shot was the son of the prime minister, who was wounded.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—An explosion occurred today at the residence of Premier Stolypin while he was dining with his family. His son, who was wounded, was the son of the prime minister, who was wounded.

The woman who was shot was the daughter of the prime minister, who was wounded.

blowman may be judged by the fact that houses on the opposite side of the river Neva were shaken and windows broken.

A painful feature of the tragedy was the delay in securing medical aid for the injured, after an hour elapsed before an ambulance arrived.

M. Stolypin was brought was for his daughter, and he kept exclaiming: "God's sake, fetch a doctor. Oh, my poor girl!"

It was fully half an hour before a beginning was made systematically to clear the wreckage, during which the injured suffered.

At dusk torches were lighted, and by the light from these the work was continued. The walls were supported up with strong beams.

Many trees in the avenue were blown down, and the explosion, and the aspect of the house and grounds was one of complete desolation.

An officer chanced to knock against a hand, that had been held among the branches, fell at his feet.

M. Stolypin has received touching tributes of sympathy from the grand dukes, grand duchesses, and other members of the imperial family.

M. Stolypin is one of seven daughters, his only son, Mme. Stolypin, who is driving at the time of the explosion, and constantly at the bedside of her daughter.

Four Revolutionists Did It. St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—Four revolutionists were arrested at Paterhof, near the residence of the prime minister.

The house was nearly destroyed and the man who threw the bomb was killed, but the man who threw the bomb was injured. His daughter is said to have had both of her legs broken and the child, 7-year-old son, was severely wounded.

Horrible Scenes. Premen who arrived on the scene immediately found a horrible scene. Many of the wounded were lying around the spot where the explosion occurred.

About fifty persons were killed and wounded. Among those killed was General Grandfather, the premier's personal adjutant, and Colonel Stein, chief of police of Paterhof.

Two revolutionists appeared to have been able to enter the room occupied by the prime minister, but they were unable to enter the premier's office, whereupon one man whirled a bomb at the other, and the room was wrecked.

To Punish Army. St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—Repressive measures are being taken against the army as well as the people. The emperor today issued an ukase increasing the penalties for complicity of officers and men in political conspiracies against the state.

More important still is the fact that the emperor has permitted to military courts in the matter of the shooting of the prime minister. The military courts are entirely withdrawn. Soldiers and soldiers hereafter know the immutable rule of the law.

HANG GOVERNMENT SPY. St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—A government spy was captured and hanged yesterday in the city of Paterhof. The man was a member of the social revolutionist party.

DENATURATED ALCOHOL TO GET NEW START

United States Is Expected to Show the World How to Use It.

INVESTIGATOR REPORTS

John W. Yerkes Has Visited Europe Where Gasoline Is Still Predominant—Farmers Will Make It.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—John W. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue, who returned to his desk today after two months in Europe devoted to the study of denaturated alcohol, expresses the belief that the United States will in time show the world how to make the use of denaturated alcohol.

He found, he says, that denaturated alcohol has not supplanted gasoline in England, Germany or France. While it is extensively used in some lines of manufacturing it has not come into general use for power purposes.

While it is extensively used in some lines of manufacturing it has not come into general use for power purposes. The fuel is not generally used anywhere over there for power purposes, it is used to many uses. Housewives, for instance, use it for heating coffee, tea, water and milk for the table.

Mr. Yerkes says England and France make their denaturated alcohol from grain while Germany makes about 70 per cent of it from potatoes.

The German government offers a 70 per cent inducement to manufacturer who will produce the denaturated alcohol from potatoes.

"I am confident that the United States will solve the problem of using the fuel to new uses," said he. Asked if his investigations led him to believe that the use of denaturated alcohol in the manufacture of the fuel, he said he expects to see the time when farmers will join together in the manufacture of the fuel.

"Where's the fire department?" snapped the man with the sidewalk-sponge. "I'll get you a bucket of water or I'll burn you. Call a fire company."

Sale at No. 1. La Salle and Monroe streets, was called. A line of hose was laid from a plug at Clark and Monroe streets to a hydrant at the corner.

Long after people—late eaters had heard of the fire department, the volunteers were wading through the puddles and keeping the nozzle of that big pipe pointed at the sly breathing, snoring animal.

Men Work Like Beavers. "Hanged if this don't do my soul good," came the cry of an alpacas owner. "I've been hanging round for an hour and a half and some of these lads here are saving my horse's life. He's a homey plug, but his 'station' don't seem to make him a fire department member."

Santiago, Aug. 24.—Another severe earthquake shock occurred here at 10:45 a. m. today.

News received here from Valparaiso continues to confirm the worst impression formed of the situation there. As the result of strong measures taken to preserve order, at least 150 burials have been shot, and are still being taken out of the ruins and thus far about 700 have been buried.

An epidemic is almost certain to occur, the result of unsanitary conditions existing there.

Ten thousand workmen are employed in clearing away the ruins and searching for bodies in the wreckage. In a house today a workman found a child alive in a barrel which had protected it from harm.

Southern Pacific Will Change Course of Colorado River, and Sea Will Disappear. San Francisco, Aug. 27.—Southern Pacific officials state that the Salton sea in the Colorado desert is rising less than an inch a day, and they expect to have it in a few months. The plan by which the Colorado river will be again restored to its old channel will probably cost the company $700,000.

The Racket

Boyd and his Pass

If we can give precedence to the views of the Fremont Tribune we must believe that the defeat of Congressman McCarthy and the nomination of Judge Boyd were distinct victories for the railroad brigade. Less than three weeks ago the Tribune boldly placed Judge Boyd in the ranks of the free-pass railroad regiment in this district. The question naturally arises, was it the power of the railroad pass which brought about the nomination of Judge Boyd, or was it the deadly favor of the Tribune which killed McCarthy? Was McCarthy unfortunate in having the support of the Tribune, or was Boyd lucky in having the help of the free-pass brigade? We are inclined to believe it was a little of both. In the meantime let us not forget in the coming campaign Judge Boyd must defend his record as a pass-grabber. We have the Tribune for authority when we speak of him as a pass friend, because it is only three weeks since the Tribune discussed upon the effect of the useless thing in Boyd's pants pocket. The safe course for every voter in the district to take, will be to line up with Judge Graves who was nominated at Norfolk last Monday to make the race against Boyd. He does not have a pass in his pocket today, did not have one three weeks ago, nor three years ago. Boyd now says that he will not accept railroad passes, but the saying is not worth much. He says it in order to get votes. During all his service upon the district bench he has been the faithful friend of the railroad attorneys, and he has gobbled all the passes he could get. If Boyd cannot be trusted on the railroad question here at home where we can watch him how can he be trusted at such a distance as Washington?—Columbus Telegram.

The army scandal in the Philippines which is now being investigated shows that army officers and civilians have made it a practice to have their furniture repaired at the government shops. Many officials are involved and it is said there is a bill of $5,000 against Gen. Corbin. When will the scandals under this administration have an end? Not one-half has been told yet and perhaps never will be unless a democratic congress is elected and investigates all the departments.

When you come to think of how much it costs to live in these piping times of the tariff protected trusts, there should be no wonder that ordinary republicans, who are not favored pap-sucking government officials, are "rather slow" at contributing to the campaign fund that is to be used to elect another standpat congress.

It does seem rather ungracious to charge Sir Thomas Lipton a large tariff tax on the gold cup he has presented to the New York Yacht club, as a prize for the yachts to race for.

An Impartial Review.

The republican state convention was absolutely dominated by that element which loudest preached the populist doctrines which republicans were not all honest. Many who sang the pop chorus chorus with loudest voice are listed among the professional railroad coppers. The cry of "reform" was popular, and that cry was taken up, not with sincerity, but because it was popular.

The nomination of Geo. Sheldon for governor may fairly be said to be a victory for the honest monopoly element in the republican party. Mr. Sheldon for years trained with the railroad crowd, but of late has been the real leader of the anti-railroad forces. He is a young man, and aside from his earlier railroad associations, has been far above the average in point of loyalty to anti-monopoly principles.

The nomination of Norris Brown for senator was a pronounced victory for the national grain trust, whose officers conducted the entire campaign for Brown. His record of subservience to the grain trust was satisfactory that no expense was spared in procuring his nomination for a seat in the senate, where he will be in still better position to serve the trust than in his present capacity as attorney-general.

The convention did one creditable turn, and that was to defeat Secretary of State Galusha for renomination. His record of subservience to railroad interests has been bad, but not worse than the records made by Andros Searle, and Commissioner Eaton, who, according to Governor Mickey, have made a contract with the railroads to keep railroad assessments at the present ridiculous low figures for another two years, in case they shall be elected. Mickey says Galusha had made the same promise. Galusha was turned down, not because of his railroad record, but because of his evident attempt to defeat the railroad commission amendment. The convention feared that if he should be nominated he would act like a millstone about the necks of the other candidates.

The platform is violently populist, but a close reading will disclose that in all pledges made to the people the platform committee was as capable of leaving loopholes through which to crawl as ever Napoleon was in drawing diplomatic documents.

The entire tone of the convention was better than the average republican gathering of late years. Fear of popular vengeance made the leaders make a show of resistance to railroad rule, but the net result of that showing was in the nomination of Sheldon for governor, and Hopewell for lieutenant governor, both of whom are believed to be honest in their opposition to railroad domination of the politics of the state. The free hand of the railroad and grain trust magates appears in the nomination of Brown for senator, Winett and Williams for railroad commissioners, and especially in the endorsement of those two splendid railroad tools—Eaton and Searle, for land commissioner and auditor.—Columbus Telegram.

Given Up To Die

B. Spiegel, 1204, N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was completely cured." Wayne Pharmacy.

Bals of Morgan, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times a night, and had a severe backache and pain in the kidneys and was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure. Wayne Pharmacy.

John S. Lewis Jr.

The Sioux City Tribune is simply a mouth-piece for the republican machine at Lincoln. The tactics of Norris Brown and his followers in posing as reformers and anti-pass candidates, and endeavoring to create the impression that the railroads are after them, and that the railroads are aiding Shallenberger and the democratic ticket, finds great favor with the miserable little Tribune. John C. Kelly will find it a hard job to run the politics of the republican party in Nebraska. His hatred of William J. Bryan simply makes a monkey of him, and his newspaper the laughing stock of the farmers of this state.

It appears to be a settled fact among the republican editors, who supported McCarthy for congress that railroad influences was what defeated the congressman for a third term. It is an acknowledged fact with all informed people that Judge Boyd not only had the help of the railroads to get a nomination, but that he has, while sitting on the bench, been a direct beneficiary of the roads to the extent of never paying railroad fare. Therefore if the voters of this congressional district send Boyd to congress it is prima facie evidence that the people of Northeast Nebraska consider it the correct thing for a railroad corporation to bribe our district judges, and that we, the people, honor the jurists for accepting such bribes. Where do you stand on this proposition?

Editor Gene Huse, a Wayne county delegate to the state convention, tells the DEMOCRAT that Galusha is a better man than either Searle or Eaton, and that they should have been swept aside if Galusha was. The only reason that Galusha was beheaded was because he had got out in the open in an effort to help the railroads, and the republican press—aside from the Wayne Herald—could hardly hope to sandbag the public into the belief that Galusha was a pure-white reformer like the notorious Norris Brown.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be served on the next of kin of said minor and all persons interested in his estate and in said real estate by publication of a Copy of this order each week for three successive weeks prior to the time of such hearing, in the Nebraska Democrat, a weekly newspaper published and circulated in said County of Wayne, and it shall not be necessary to personally serve a copy of this order on the next of kin of said ward and all persons interested in said estate.

Irrigated Government Lands in Idaho.

D. M. Laughlin has returned from a visit to the irrigated lands near Mountain Home, Idaho, that are being sold by G. E. Townsend and B. D. Frank of this place and he pronounces the land to be the finest irrigated land he has ever seen. He says that he saw alfalfa on irrigated land growing two feet high right next to sage brush on non-irrigated land, that alfalfa cuts from 9 to 10 tons to the acre and is selling at $18 per ton. All kinds of fruit is growing two, three and four years old in this place and the apples and all doing fine. He says that he saw a lawn covered with as fine a sod, grown in two months, as it would take two years to grow in this country. In some of the older irrigated districts in Idaho land is selling for $1000 per acre, that Mr. Laughlin says is not so good as that at Mountain Home, which a few years ago was selling at the same price that the Mountain Home land is selling for $31.25 per acre. Mr. Laughlin says he thinks no man can make a mistake by buying a tract of this land while it is so cheap, as it can be cropped at once and pay for itself in a year. From the Butte County Herald, Tekamah, Neb. July 21, 1906.
