He said he had been reading his neighbor's paper and found he was losing out, on the news of the county when he only read the other papers.

For Rent.

The store room at present occupied by the Democrat will be for rent February 1st. For terms call at this office.

Press for Sale.

Owing to making a change in the location of the Democrat plant and the need of a press to do book work on, we have for sale a 6 col. quarto cylinder press, that has done service in the newspaper business a good many years but is in good condition to do newspaper or bill work. This press would cost five or six hundred bought from the foundry as it now stands, but it can be purchased of the Democrat for less than its real worth.

Mrs. Surber Wants Divorce

Friday night of last week Mrs. E. Roy Surber, through her attorney, E. R. Davis, filed an application for a divorce from her husband and custody of their minor child. This turn of affairs was somewhat a social shock to friends of the parties, the general impression being that Mrs. Surber had been loyal to her husband through all his criminal escapades and would stick to him to the end. County Attorney Wilbur tells the Democrat that he put in two or three months hard work securing Surber's release from the penitentiary and he even was much surprised at this turn of events. He also says that it was Surber's intention not to bother his wife and boy, but remain on the Lloyd farm north of town and work out his own salvation, square himself financially and in so far as possible socially, going to see his family whenever they bade him welcome. All so that the wife had corresponded with her husband during his confinement, and that her decision to quit him would be the hardest proposition he had gone up against. Among Wayne people the general opinion is "serves him just right," and those are the unqualified sentiments of the Democrat. We'd shun a contemptible hypocrite before we would a clean-handed thief.

BY DAD

You may reach a man's heart by way of his stomach, but you can't put brains into him in that way.

Out in California several persons are dead as a result of eating canned beans. And the pure food law in effect?

"Grandma" Ella Marks of New York is 114 years of age. "She has smoked a pipe for fifty years. But for that she might live to be a real old woman."

A London scientist has discovered that hamburger cheese is good for consumption. It now resolves itself into a question as to which the patient would rather have.

Says the Cherokee (Iowa) Democrat: The Nebraska legislators are so weak that they cannot trust themselves, and want to enact a law to keep lobbyists and other temptors away from them.

Gerrit Van Houte, a Randolph youth has enlisted in the navy—at Sioux City—to avoid the claims he presumed a Randolph maiden had upon him. That scheme ought to look good to a certain Wayne young man about the present turn of the moon.

London has it that the woman of the wasp waist will return in 1907. This woman ought to have a sort of patent belows waist, so that they could inflate or contract upon cablegram from Europe.—Sioux City Tribune.

Why cable? And from Europe? Here in Wayne when they get a waist like a wasp—but pshaw, why linger on such a simple affair?

A communication from Carroll calls the Democrat's attention to the particular breed of stock C. B. Thompson has been buying up there, according to the Index, and that Closson has a whole carload on hand. By dad, I'd rather have them in the barn or some other old place. How about it Closson?

We have had a great deal of "hot air" as to what this republican legislature is going to do with the lobby at Lincoln, but don't tear your shirt off yet a while. It is without question one of Norris Brown's stunts; the same as he practiced on the grain tract and State Journal Actions speak louder than words, and we'll bet a butter 'gainst a barrel of cider that the lobbyists are only fixing themselves, instead of the legislature fixing the lobby.

This thing did not happen in town or I would never have heard of it: A teacher in school was drilling her pupils in sentence making. She put the words depot and delight on the black board and told the class to make a sentence using those words. It stuck them all for a time. Finally one little youngster raised her hand and said she had it. "What is it?" said the teacher. "I put depot under de bed and 'dowed out delight," was the answer she went to the head—Cherokee Democrat.

H. P. Peterson, for many years a resident of Winside, died at Shell Lake, Wis., Dec. 25th. Deceased was better known as Judge Peterson, having been justice of the peace at Winside. Years ago when the Democrat man was running this paper with A. P. Childs as editor we sent the "Judge" some collections to make at Winside, and after making repeated efforts for an accounting with him he sent us a statement showing a small amount due him above all collections for his services. H. P. was all right, though, only some what of a joker.

A funny thing happened down the street the other day. A farmer's wife, good, hard working queen of the stal was getting out of a wagon when her dress caught somewhere and a blame idiot standing near read the word printed on a flour sack, or what has been one: "Try Gold Medal." H. H. Tangeman, laughing about the occurrence, says that years ago he was operating a flour mill and, times being hard, the women then made underwear of the empty sacks. One day several saw an "accident" of this kind only the words were: "Tangeman's choice." He says the joke on him lasted until he moved out of the community.

Frank Strahan played a disastrous joke on J. W. Morgan's feelings last Friday. I happened into Mr. Morgan's office just as the phone rang, and the jolly hog buyer hastened to the machine, and his face assumed a smile seven leagues long as he articulated "85.65," "a whole carload," "nice ones," etc., etc. It seemed that the rest of the grafters (the courts have decided that it is perfectly proper to call a hog buyer, lawyer or scavenger a grafter) had been teasing Mr. Morgan to an aggravating degree because he could not buy any porkers, being not acquainted with the farmers although the squarest man in the whole bunch. So when "John Barrett" called him up and wanted to sell him a whole car load, he went straight up in the air. The only contingency "over the phone" was that Mr. Barrett wanted $5.85 for the hogs. The buyer told him to wait just three minutes, and turning around made a bee-line shoot across the street, to interview Kingsbury, Perry, Gildersleeve Strahan, et al. The latter appeared to be dozing but got half awake in time to hear the whispered conference. Catching on he inquired who had the hogs and then shot it into Morgan with: "Oh,—I yuh! too slow; I bought Barrett's hogs about half an hour ago!" Of course the new man wouldn't believe it then, but he changed his mind when he called up "John Barrett."

It's Our Move.

After several years cogitation the Democrat is finally going to move in to its own building about Feb. 1st. The reason for this sudden change of base is that both the Herald and Democrat decided to put in brand new, first-class cylinder presses, and it would be folly to install the new machinery in any but a permanent home. The Democrat has purchased the best and latest news and book press in the market costing $1200, and while readers of the paper have been coming right along about as fast as we can count noses, there are still several hundreds who can do us lots of good by paying up right now.

Winside News.

J. H. Hutchison left on Monday for a trip through Oklahoma and Kansas.

The Tribune was pleased to see O. E. Miller well enough to enjoy a buggy ride one of the pleasant days of last week.

Mrs. Rhoda Vreland returned to her home at Kansas City Monday, after a visit of two or three months with relatives here.

Jas. Steele, a young man living eight miles southeast of Winside, went to Wayne Monday to attend college for several months. The Tribune wishes him abundant success in his efforts to secure a good education.

Choral Union Organizes.

The members of the Wayne Choral Union effected a permanent organization last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jas. Miller. Officers elected were Dr. Gamble, president; Prof. Buchanan, vice-president; Miss Jessie Tucker secretary; Mrs. E. A. Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. W. H. Morris, leader and Mrs. Miller pianist. The surplus funds on hand after paying expenses of putting on the Messiah were invested in two handsome vases, and one presented to Mrs. Morris and one to Mrs. Miller as tokens of appreciation from the class for the arduous labors they have performed. The class will go to work on different musical compositions for future rendition.

You don't have such a chance often. To buy a suit for less than cost. The prices at The 2 Johns mean something. Roy Surber accompanied Ned Lloyd to town last Monday and visited a number of his acquaintances. Roy looks well and hearty.

To fail to attend the sale now on at The 2 Johns, may mean throwing away half the price of a suit, later. Better look any how.

Pat O'Connell is now head salesman for Perry & Morgan. When the firm buys a load of hogs Pat "sails" down to the yard and unloads them.

John Weilandt was down from Shoes Tuesday and presented his petition before the county board for license to operate a saloon at that place.

Some people think the sale now on at The 2 Johns will last all summer, but they are mistaken, all the suits left when spring goods come in will go in the stove.

Lee Burker received an elegant new corner Monday from H. M. White, a dealer of Cleveland, Ohio. Lee says it is simply "a dinger" and the finest there is made.

Advertised Letters—D. C. Eldridge, J. E. Hedeau, Bob Henley, James Hoey, James J. Hoey, James and Jerry Hoey, Walter Kuhn, John Kree and Wilhelm Fuenpen.

Mrs. Herman Henry and son and her brother, H. C. Kerburg, of LeMars, leave next Monday for California to spend the winter. Mr. Henry will probably go later.

NOTICE!

Friday January 18, 1907.

Chas. H. Merritt will sell about twenty head of pure blood Shorthorn cattle at Geo. Green's barn at Wakefield, Neb. We have listed six young bulls. Three mature bulls including the Scotch Canadian bred Bull Rising Sun No. 190630. Four mature cows, two with calves at foot and two heifers. No effort has been made to put the cattle in high flesh, they have had the run of the stalk field and are in just the right fix to go on and make money for their owners. You are invited to spend the 18th with Mr. Merritt at Wakefield. Sale to begin at 1 p. m.

Mrs. W. H. McNeal was visiting relatives at Wakefield Tuesday.

County Atty. Wilbur went to Ponca Tuesday morning on legal business, returning yesterday.

It looks now that there will be no clothing to burn at The 2 Johns for the store is crowded.

Fred Peperkorn was a visitor from Winside Tuesday and enlisted as a reader of the DEMOCRAT.

Anderson Bressler is recovering from a very critical illness, something like erysipelas of the face.

Herbert Lindstrom of Wausa was shot and killed while fooling with an "unloaded" gun last Saturday.

Atty. Kelly was here from Randolph Tuesday to assist John Weilandt to secure license to run a saloon at Shoes. The county commissioners took no action on the matter.

Atty. Murphy, of Chicago, arrived Monday and H. J. Miner on Tuesday, to settle the title to the John Beale farm which Mr. Miner bought some time ago. Mr. Murphy was formerly a United States attorney at Yankton. Mr. Miner is a brother of Mrs. L. M. Owen.

Last year the DEMOCRAT succeeded in getting the job of printing stationery from a republican board of commissioners, and this year the Herald chases away with it from a democratic board. It's all in how hard you feel for a job, but the county isn't suffering any on what pays for job printing.

Horse Thief Escapes

Geo. Gebhardt, who stole a team of horses from Aug. Besk, in Stanton county, Jan. 24, was captured at Rogers, returned to Stanton where he pleaded guilty and will be sentenced to the pen at the February term of court.

LATER—Gebhardt broke jail at Stanton Monday evening, according to a message to Sheriff Mears. Outside parties are supposed to have let him out of jail by force of a crowbar. Miller, the man confined there for attempted murder of the Mohneke family, was in jail with him, and when strangers approached the jail door he was warned to go back to his corner of the pen and stay there. Later, hearing no noise, Miller looked around and found he was alone and a chance to get away, but instead he gave the alarm. The jail stands apart from any other building. It is unlikely that Gebhardt will be captured.

Earl Porter of Carroll was in Omaha Tuesday night.

L. E. Peterson was doing business in Carroll Tuesday.

Mrs. John Harrington went to Tekamah Wednesday morning.

Will Larson, who has been critically ill several weeks with kidney trouble, has been very low the past week.

FOUND—A 100 pound sack of oil meal, on the Hodson hill south of town, last Tuesday night.

Wm. Plepenstock and R. Karo were in Winside Tuesday night to install officers of the Sons of Herman lodge there.

Lert Holle has resigned as county clerk of Cedar county to take the position of cashier of the bank at Crofton. Lert has been climbing right along in the business world.

In speaking of the incoming county commissioner last week the DEMOCRAT forgot to take a shot at the one going out. As a county officer Ed. Owen knew no politics, and he was the fairest, squarest republican county official the DEMOCRAT ever went up against. Perhaps being decent is what defeated him for another term that he didn't personally want, but Mr. Owen is the stamp of a man who would rather be right than be president.

Miller & Ahern Dissolve

Tuesday forenoon the unexpected happened again when the "Two Jims" dissolved partnership, Mr. Ahern retiring and J. Wood Jones buying his interests in the big store. Mr. Ahern tells the DEMOCRAT the firm has enjoyed a successful business and he hates to give up a good proposition that took a year's hard work to build up. However, he may re-engage in business in Wayne within a short time. Through the DEMOCRAT he desires to express his gratification of the business given the late firm, and bespeaks for his successor the same liberal patronage.

Everybody knows Wood Jones, but few people perhaps are aware that he has been in business before. He ought to catch the eggs and chickens, by dad, or the farmers will refuse to acknowledge him as "Farmer Jones."

Wilbur Precinct.

John Sals and wife returned Friday from a two weeks visit in Iowa.

L. C. Saunders went to Dixon Friday for a week's visit with relatives there.

About fifty couples met at the John Gier home Friday night and danced until four o'clock. John says come again.

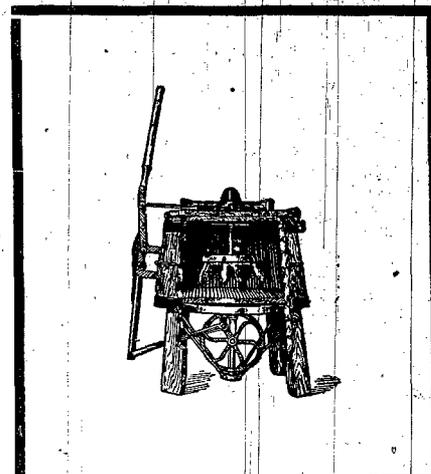

Chas. Schroeder went to Laurel with a load of buckwheat to get it ground today. Buckwheat cakes after this says Charles.

A special from Lincoln to the Sioux City Tribune says:

A Washington dispatch to the Lincoln State Journal says: Colonel Mosby, who headed the guerrilla forces in the south during the war of the rebellion, and who now holds an appointment by President Roosevelt as a special agent for the department of justice is vigorous in his denunciation of Senator Millard and former Senator Dietrich.

"These senators," said Colonel Mosby, "aided the cattle barons in illegally fencing and maintaining fences on the public domain in Nebraska. When I was sent to Nebraska a few years ago by President Roosevelt to order down illegal enclosures, both Senators Millard and Dietrich labored hard to have me recalled to Washington and permit the fences to stand. Failing to block my way through their efforts at the White House, they sought me personally. Senator Dietrich went so far as to wire me to come to Hastings, where he would talk to me on matters that he could not put in a letter."

Besides these influences at work to thwart the duties outlined for me to perform were the allied interests of the cattlemen—packers, commission merchants and banking institutions of Omaha and other interests throughout the state.

Even some of the cattlemen—among them Comstock and Richards, who were convicted the other day—threatened my life if I did not leave the state.

I scorned the threats on my life and defied them. I am afraid of no man or set of men and never was, as my record in the war will show.

I was not slow in telling the fence violators that I would soon have them all in prison if I was not called off by the president. But the chief executive is not the sort of a man to be bluffed by any interests or individuals who want to take the law in their own hand and defy justice.

Such opposition was there to my proceeding against the cattlemen that I received word from the department of justice to the effect that if my orders were not respected I would be furnished with a regiment of regular troops to carry them out, if necessary.

There is no doubt in my mind that both Millard and Dietrich defended the cattle barons for another reason to protect their own banking interests which were then, and are probably still largely supported by the cattlemen.

Whatever may be the criticism against Governor Mickey for frequent exercises of the pardoning power during his term of office, most thinking people familiar with the case will agree that he did right in giving Mrs. Lena Margaret Lillie her liberty. Whether Mrs. Lillie is guilty of the murder of her husband may remain a matter of debate in some quarters, but that she was not fully proven guilty is a very general impression.

This newspaper has contended that Mrs. Lillie did not have a proper trial. She was not convicted upon sufficient evidence. If she is innocent as many including the retired governor, believe, to keep her in prison would be a monstrous crime.

The mere fact that no one else has been tried for the murder of Harvey Lillie, found dead in bed four years ago, does not justify the conviction of his widow, and that seems to have been the chief reason for the belief of many of those people who regard her sentence as just.

Time may never positively settle the doubt which was involved in this case, but as long as it existed the public will feel relieved that Mrs. Lillie has been pardoned.—World Herald.

The Notorious Holdoebler.

Our people will have no difficulty in remembering the strange actions of Jos. Holdoebler and his wife at this place about three years ago, of the later desertion of their rented farm and stock near Wayne, the trip to Chicago and the claim of Mrs. Holdoebler that she was an Indian princess, the daughter of some great Rajah, that a tattooed serpent was pictured about her waist and that diamonds of the purest water were imbedded beneath the skin, and that some had been cut from their fleshy bed and sold.

The princess story was shown to be false by Jos. Bichlmeier who knew the Holdoebler woman in Bavaria and knew her parents Mr. Bichlmeier has proven himself a good true friend to the Holdoeblers in their troubles, always acting for their best interests. At present Holdoebler and his wife are in the insane asylum at Norfolk, where they were sent from Chicago. For some time past Holdoebler has been writing to Mr. Bichlmeier to try and secure his release. His letters are written in the best language, and in the beautiful writing, some of them having pen drawings of flowers. Holdoebler is an educated man, a fine penman and his letters show intelligence. He claims he is not insane and asks that he and his wife, be sent to Bavaria, on the grounds that he is a citizen of that country. This last proposition is true.

In order to look up the matter Mr. Bichlmeier went to Norfolk last week and talked with the superintendent of the asylum, and with Holdoebler. The superintendent says that Holdoebler has refused to work about the premises, declaring that this is a free country and that slavery is illegal. In his talk with Holdoebler, Mr. Bichlmeier tells us that he appears the same as he always did and he declares that if Holdoebler is insane now he was insane when he lived east of Randolph three years ago. Holdoebler has written a letter to the emperor of Germany petitioning that he be transferred to his native country, and this letter was sent by registered mail from Randolph. Another letter was written to the king of Bavaria, Bavaria, was addressed to the regent who is the acting ruler asking the same thing.

Supt. Young will look into the matter of sending the Holdoeblers to Bavaria. It is possible that a difficulty may arise because this action was not taken at once instead of waiting nearly a year. In a Wayne bank Holdoebler has enough money for the tickets, if arrangements could be made, it seems to us the best for all concerned. On the 27th Mr. Bichlmeier will interview the commissioners of Wayne county on the matter, as it was from this county that the Holdoebler is credited.

Wayne county commissioners investigate the case this week.—Randolph Times.

He was on duty at the time Marshall Austin was hurt Monday, but as the team was running away and Mr. Dineen did all in his power to stop them, no blame for the accident was attached to him.—South Sioux City Record.

A happy mating of 1907 that the DEMOCRAT neglected to write up last week was the marriage on New Years day of Miss Maudie Benchoof and Mr. Art Auker, at the residence of the bride's parents south of Wayne. Some fifty relatives and friends were present and a great many splendid gifts bestowed upon the worthy pair. Rev. Osborne officiated, and after the ceremony a bounteous wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Auker left the evening of the same day on a trip to Iowa, going by Norfolk, where they visit relatives for a couple of weeks, then go to housekeeping on the Dan Harrington farm west of town. The bride is one of the best known and most popular of Wayne county girls, goodlooking, vivacious and jolly as the day is long, and the groom a splendid type of Nebraska manhood, physically and mentally. The DEMOCRAT extends most hearty well wishes for their happiness and prosperity. It is one of those matrimonial ventures that makes an old newspaper man sorry he can't ever go through the trying ordeal again.

From the Headlight:
Gust Moratz rented his farm to M. Doel from north of town and will hold a sale on January 28.

Frank Lenser and wife are the proud parents of a fine new boy, who arrived at their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shultz are re-joining over a new girl that came to their home Monday. Pappa Shultz and daughter reported to be getting along nicely.

Lewis Lehmann an old pioneer of Stanton county died at his home in Stanton Wednesday night. Mr. Lehmann was the son of Stanton, having laid out the town in the early sixties.

The passenger traffic through here the first of the week was light, every train being loaded with old friends and handsome school marks returning after the holiday gorge to their studies at the Wayne Normal.

George H. Wilbur is now our filled-up county attorney, and we suppose he will demonstrate to the people of Wayne county what it means to have a learned (F) man occupying that office. In his campaign he claimed to be free from all bossism and now the people demand that he fulfill his promise.

A certain young man of Hopkins has been quite attentive to a young lady, and the other evening asked her to marry him, was informed that she considered herself unworthy to be his wife. Then to reply to his anxiety as to what kind of a wife she thought he ought to wed, she replied, "A very wise, deliberate, practical woman, one able to live on your small salary."

The city council of Norfolk rejected the claim of our liverman J. H. Weatherhols, for injury to a horse caused by driving into an excavation in one of the principal streets of that city, which was left unguarded. This claim any man with enough brains to make a signal station is just and should be allowed. He certainly must be paid for the animal and the expense of caring for same. If Norfolk expects to hold the brotherly feeling heretofore existing between our people and herself, she had better do the right thing. The mortgage sale of the Endsley property was held Saturday and the stuff mostly all brought good prices being purchased presumably by a by-stander for Mr. Ommerman. The total amount of the sale was nearly $900 and just about pays the claims of Ommerman and others here. This plainly shows that had Mr. Endsley stayed here and tended to business or held safe he could have paid out all right and perhaps had a little money left, but above all his reputation for honesty would have been untainted. Now as it is, no matter where he goes this day he will have a hammer hitting in every undertaking. Straight forward honesty is always best and wins in the end.

Sad Fate of Miss Barrett

Wayne people will hear with great sorrow of the impending death of Miss Barrett, who taught in the primary of the High school last year and boarded with Mrs. A. H. Ellis. A letter received some time ago by a lady friend in this city stated that in December she was in a hospital and had four inches of her jaw-bone removed, account of a bad tooth, that since then cancer had set in and she was now taking x-ray treatment at Topeka, where she has a brother in the railway service. The letter gave little hope for recovery. The trouble is said to have originated through treatment of a wisdom tooth, here in Wayne.

BY DAD

Some thick women are peculiar, but when considered that a boy's suit can be bought for one dollar at The 2 Johns you can't blame them for rushing there.

Every little cold snap now, by dad, and the "water wagon" will become coated with ice and very slippery, mighty hard to hang on the blamed vehicle. I see where one fellow swore that if he ever fell off he'd be the strucked during the winter. I'm sure the first glass he took the other day knocked him speechless—but it must have been Winside whisky. Another man rode the contrivance for 13 years and got a $20,000 legacy for it. I'm sure that long it will be unlucky, and we'll get a lecture of 20,000 warm words and not much legacy, either.

Speaking of the proposed attempt of the anti saloon element in Wayne to put the saloons out of commission, Sam Temple relates a Hobsontized item that he better believe is true. It was a day before that state voted and went prohibition. Sam was anti-prohibition then as now. The day before election he was at the hotel with his daughters for dinner, the local person and his wife and a number of the town and law being at the table. The marshal was a hard drinker, his wife, a handsome woman, putting her whole soul into the fight against the "cursed liquor traffic" and was wronging her home. "Of course you'll vote for prohibition tomorrow, won't you, sir?" asked the young woman.

"Mr. Temple explained his proposition that saloons were better than the other things etc., and wouldn't do it for any sum of money on earth. "Isn't there anything at all that would induce you to vote with us?" insisted the marshal's pretty wife. In her most penetrating tone, "Yes," answered Temp. "Just one thing, perhaps, the kiss of a good woman, which was meant for jest. "All right," cried she, "you can have it," and with that she jumped up and embraced Temp, who was better looking and younger in those old days, by several jugfuls. He tells me he kissed her three times instead of once, while his daughters blushed and the M. E. parson and wife looked on perfectly horrified. Then the vote for prohibition bill that carried the state by twenty thousand and has raised more real hell in Iowa than a civil war. I asked Temp what became of the marshal and he replied, "Oh, he kept on drinking and went to the poor house and died a miserable pauper." (And the wife?) "I queried, "She got a divorce, of course," he answered. All of which is a true story and the natural outcome when you put your brains into a damphire by law force.

That deaf John will surely burn up every suit that is left after this sale if you don't want them at less than half price.

Sweaters at about half price. HARRINGTON, Leading Clothier.

College Notes

Dr. Taylor talked to the students Wednesday morning on the proper use and training of the eyes.

All students are pleasantly located, and work for a term has never started off better. Old students have rendered much assistance to strangers.

Prof. Fife is strongly urging the students to make this year a banner of the school's history in conduct and culture as well as in numbers and class work.

Rev. Horn conducted chapel Tuesday and made a happy talk to the students. His talk was full of interest and encouragement to everyone present.

Our new dormitory, enlarged dining room and heating plant have proved a great blessing in our crowded condition. We hope to soon get into the new house and the Normal.

Two or three weekly lectures will be given in addition to two chapel talks each week during the term. The students will be given every possible advantage this term. We hope each may go home so well pleased that his friends will be induced to come another year.

Several alumni members spent a few days of their vacation with us, Principals Powers of Magnet, Rohn of Allen, Rauback of Decatur were among them. They are making reputations for themselves and the Normal.

Breakfast hour has been changed to 6:30 so classes could begin at 7:10 and allow chapel to be called at 8:40. Persons wishing to attend chapel should take notice of change of time.

The faculty reception New Year's evening was made very enjoyable. The scientific class had immediate charge of all arrangements and made everything pleasant. The musical Saturday evening was well attended and enjoyed first. Fife had a full house at his 10 o'clock address. Students seem to fall in line with the aim and spirit of the school. No loafers have shown up.

The health of students has been remarkable this fall and winter. The doctor was on the job Wednesday for the first time in many weeks. But few communities with our population could do so well along this line, yet many young people will be careless.

The physical culture class of New Year's evening will meet with company assembly retirement at 10 o'clock saves doctor bills.
