H. B. Miller Wakes Up!

Chelan, Wash., June 8, 1907. Editor Nebr. Democrat, Wayne, Nebr.

Brother Goldie:—Enclosed please find one hundred cents, to apply on "by dad." I am a little tardy as usual, no excuse only carelessness. I have plenty of money, and in this great state of Washington money, credits and mortgages are exempt from taxation. What do you think of that! A set of servants to go over to Olympia and just gently slip a revenue law through without anyone knowing anything about it? One would have thought that when every body is talking reform that there would have been one traitor to have given them away. You may say to the old neighbors that while I am surrounded by snow capped mountains I am living on home-grown strawberries, sugar and cream, with a goodly supply of home-grown soft-boiled eggs fresh from the mint, besides other like roughness. I work a little in the forepart of the day and rest the latter part. I am the man behind the hoe; have not gone to the mines yet, even though they are near by. But there is no question but what they have found some pretty good stuff. I will raise taters for the miner.

As ever, Yours truly, H. B. MILLER.

LATER

June 11, 1907, 6 o'clock a. m. Say, Walt, did you hear me holler this morning at 5 o'clock? The "reign" that assures my crop is upon us. It commenced to rain about one o'clock this morning and at this "riten" is "reigning" harder than ever. The very birds are happy, and it looks like it would rain all summer. One of my neighbors tared a bear and then failed to get him. It was a cub and he wanted to capture him alive. Went to the fields to get the boy to help him and Mr. Bear left for taller timbers and has never come back. What would you think of a woman who knew you had nothing but carnation cream for your berries, that would send her two girls, young women grown, up a hill a half a mile, with a quart of real cow cream, all free gratis, for nothing? That's the kind of people we have in this wild and woolly west. I call them God's people. These young ladies never heard a locomotive foot until last fall. It might be proper to add that the girls had to go down hill to get home. Really, there is about as much down hill as there is up. Hence, it averages about level, and still it "reigns." As ever, HANK MILLER.

Or Put Him in Jail

Men who go to the Opera House ought to leave their tobacco at home. At the last play a Fullerton woman had her furs nearly ruined by being dropped into a pool of the stuff made by someone sitting behind her. When she went to put on her wraps a corner of the furs struck her little girl in the eye, and the tobacco spit nearly threw the little one into spasms. A man who can't keep from using the weed during an entertainment ought to remain at home.—News-Journal

Normal Notes.

Deputy State Supt. Bishop was entertained at the college Saturday on a visit to our city.

Several of the Scientific boys spent from Thursday till Monday camping near Niobrara. A good time is reported.

Most of the teachers were away over Sunday getting a little rest before starting in on the summer's work.

The Echo was mailed this week. A good subscription list has been secured and the paper will be continued next year.

Maud Davis of '05 Teachers' visited last week and made arrangements to enter the Scientific class this fall.

A large number of new students have enrolled for the summer. We expect the best term's work the school has ever known.

Mr. Simolin of last year's Teacher's Class will be principal at Hoakins next year. He spends this term with us. He will prove a good man for the place.

Miss Carson of last year's Teacher's Class met with success as intermediate teacher at Beemer. She is to be married next week to Mr. Whitmore of Venus. He is a fine man and was an excellent student.

Wisner school board has elected Miss Jessie Richardson of the Scientific class as grammar teacher. She is a successful teacher, a splendid student and an excellent woman who will be a strength in any school and community.

On Friday evening Mike Hofer of '03 Teachers' arrived at the College to spend a few days. He has just graduated from the Northwestern Medical College of Chicago and goes to his home in S. D., to establish himself in his profession. He passed the State Board examination at Des Moines last week.

The graduating classes elected the officers for the term last Saturday. Mr. Campbell of the Teachers' class is president; Mr. Boshart of the Scientific is vice-president; Mr. Nels of the Scientific is treasurer; Miss Gifford of the 'certificiate' class is secretary. Some committees have been appointed and matters are well along for year's closing.

A number of former students have returned for this term. Some will complete a course while others will take advanced studies and complete their course next year. Several of the advanced classes are well filled, including Virgil, psychology, astronomy, literature, rhetoric, geometry, botany zoology. All the review classes are good size.

Our library received a nice gift of 25 valuable reference books this week. These were donated by Mr. A. G. Howard for which he has the thanks of the students as well as the president and teachers. A number of good books have been presented to the library during the past few months. We hope other friends may soon follow Mr. Howard's example.

Norfolk News: There have been a good many ridiculous typographical errors since printing began. Perhaps none has been more ludicrous than that which appeared in a headline of the first edition of the News yesterday. The headline wanted to say that Governor Sheldon is a booster. Instead it said: "Governor Is a Rooster."

None of Them in Wayne.

Hoage Ranch for Sale.

What is known as the Hoage ranch, of 240 acres, one mile south of LaPorte, one of the best farms in Northeast Nebraska. Orchard of 150 bearing apple trees, lots of shrubbery, 50 evergreens, hardwood grove, hayland to make 200 tons per year, have fed fifteen horses and eighty head of cattle for past 25 years. 150 acres under cultivation; balance hayland and pasture, living water. Also 200 bearing grapes on the place. German settlement, close to two churches. For further particulars call on or address Mrs. John Hoage, Wakefield, Neb.

This is the Limit.

When I. W. Alter found Messrs. Thomsen, Ramsey and Hoffman guilty of selling liquors to minors, he fixed their appeal bond at $200. The defendants signed the bonds in the presence of the astute police magistrate and he gave them permission to take the bonds down town to have them signed by sureties and return same to his office for filing and approval. The bonds were duly signed by such sureties as F. E. Strahan, H. Wilson and John Morgan, three of the wealthiest men in the city. Attorney Berry then took the bonds and fled them with Alter, the latter stating to Berry that they were satisfactory and again agreeing to get up transcripts and deliver same to Attorney Berry. Instead of doing so, Alter did not approve the bonds, but, as the DEMOCRAT is reliably informed, with the aid of County Attorney Wilbur and Attorney Thomas, fixed up a transcript in each case, and instead of giving them to Attorney Berry, the police judge and county attorney went to the office of the clerk of the district court, and "smiling like a couple of kids," filed the papers with that official. County Attorney Wilbur then served notice on Attorney Berry, for the defendants, that on Saturday (last) a motion would be taken up in the district court to dismiss the appeal on the ground that no bond had been approved by the court (Alter), he no doubt believing that they had done a real nice, cute trick in behalf of the anti-saloon league. It certainly looks rotten enough for a member of the anti-saloon league to try people charged with the violation of the saloon laws, but Alter's actions in reference to these bonds indicates that as a magistrate he proposes to go the limit, at least, in behalf of the league. Attorney Berry says that he is accustomed to practicing law against lawyers, and this is the first time he ever went up against a gang of the above sort.

The matter came up before Judge Welch last Saturday and he gave defendants time to file the necessary pleadings. Police Judge Alter's docket shows that witnesses were examined at trial had in the cases of Thomsen and Hoffman, but we are informed as a matter of fact that no witnesses were sworn, and no evidence whatever introduced against these men, and it looks as though they have had no trial except in Alter's imagination.

Carroll News.

From the Index. A bonny baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blum. Miss Maggie Laurie is the possessor of a new Howard Grand piano. It is a birthday present from her parents. Charlie Beebe was chosen last Sunday by the M. E., Sunday school as a delegate to the state convention of Sunday schools to be held at Hastings. Iva Heeren arrived home Tuesday evening from Sioux City, for her summer vacation. She has been studying music at Morning Side College. Grant Young was arrested the first of the week on charge of disturbing the peace. The complaining witness was John Soick. He charged Young followed him home Saturday night and abused him by calling him vile names. A trial was held Tuesday night and the result was the conviction of Young. The costs being so heavy he was let off with a fine of $1.00 and costs.

It is now assured that there will be a stock show in connection with the carnival. At a meeting held Monday afternoon in the K. P. hall this decision was reached. The matter of a stock pavilion was also settled. The necessary subscription papers for stock were started and before nightfall better than $1100.00 had been raised. Reports later indicate that there will be no trouble in raising the $3000.00.

The building as planned is to be 64x40 with 16 foot sheds on two of the sides. In the main structure there will be a space 22x64 in which to show stock, the full length of this space and at the side will rise a section of seats to the height of 20 feet. Under the seats stalls will be arranged for horses for horses. The sheds on the sides will be used for cattle and hogs. The location most favored is the ground north of the depot, now occupied by the corn cribs.

The dates for the carnival were also settled at this meeting, August 22-23 being the ones selected. The necessary preliminary work is now being done by the different committees. From the present indications Carroll will on these dates see the largest crowd that was ever within her borders.

Randolph Reporter:—W. R. Smith, the old gentleman engaged in the peanut and popcorn stand on Broadway has sold his business to a sister of John Bowles who has taken possession of the place. Mr. Smith will remove to Wayne and live with a married daughter at that place. He has been quite sick of late and has hardly recovered his health.

The Norfolk Press says:—"Carnep-cita Kiss" is the name of the new dope being dispensed at the city soda fountains. It sounds pretty, but it wouldn't do in these parts. When a Norfolk girl calls for a kiss she doesn't want to blow the foam off before taking.

KILLING BUGS ON FLOWERS. After almost killing flowers with an emulsion and doing as much injury with tobacco soap, one woman has learned a better way to get rid of them. She says that she has nothing better for that purpose than strong epsom salts made by dissolving in water 1/2 ounce of epsom salt to each quart of water.

ROSES FOR THE HAIR. This is a season of roses. For hat trimmings, garden flowers, table decorations and even hair ornaments and corsage bouquets there are the favorite flowers. Whether artificial or real, it is all the same, and every thing made of roses is sure to be a success.

WENT TO TEA. And It Would Her Hobbit. Tea drinking frequently affects people as badly as coffee. A lady in Salisbury, Md., says that she was compelled to abandon the use of coffee a good many years ago, because it threatened to ruin her health and that she went over to tea drinking, but finally, she had dyspepsia so bad that she had lost twenty-five pounds and no food seemed to agree with her.

THE TACTFUL WOMAN. Among the qualities most essential to a woman is tact. It is the quality which, without it, words spoken and things done with the best motives not only fall often of their own accord, but may be productive sometimes of the very evils which they were intended to prevent.

FOR THE HAIR. A camphor lotion will make the head feel more comfortable and keep the hair from falling in mats in damp weather. It is made by mixing 1 ounce of camphor, 1 ounce of oil of bergamot, 1 ounce of oil of cedar, 1 pint of water and 1/2 pint of camphor oil.

GREASE SPOTS. If the floor is caked a grease spot can be easily removed by covering the spot with common baking soda. Leave for a while and wash with warm water.

KILLING BUGS ON FLOWERS. After almost killing flowers with an emulsion and doing as much injury with tobacco soap, one woman has learned a better way to get rid of them. She says that she has nothing better for that purpose than strong epsom salts made by dissolving in water 1/2 ounce of epsom salt to each quart of water.

ROSES FOR THE HAIR. This is a season of roses. For hat trimmings, garden flowers, table decorations and even hair ornaments and corsage bouquets there are the favorite flowers. Whether artificial or real, it is all the same, and every thing made of roses is sure to be a success.

WENT TO TEA. And It Would Her Hobbit. Tea drinking frequently affects people as badly as coffee. A lady in Salisbury, Md., says that she was compelled to abandon the use of coffee a good many years ago, because it threatened to ruin her health and that she went over to tea drinking, but finally, she had dyspepsia so bad that she had lost twenty-five pounds and no food seemed to agree with her.

The ice cream crop is now assured. Paint your car red before you try to celebrate.

We like the June bride a whole lot better than we did dilly May.

This is what makes corn! We've had the juice for some weeks.

Everybody in town sees you trying to attract the attention of a distant drayman—except the drayman.

The book publishers are getting too slow for any use. The "only authentic" Life of Orchard has not yet been offered the public.

Going slow on the railroad isn't half so bad as stopping suddenly and landing in a place where it is too hot to run trains at all.

If Taft can't take care of that stomachache of his for a few days, how in thunder can he be expected to look after a big country like this?

From the way the Japanese are talking about kicking the Yankees it is more evident than ever that the Japanese soldiery are not afraid to die.

All gasoline cans must be painted a vermilion hue before July 1st. Users of John D. Rockefeller's product can now quit painting the town red and simply hit the can.

"Rev." Wm. Sunday got over $3,000 for his work at Knoxville. He was there four weeks. The fact that it has been poor weather for ball playing didn't affect Billy a little bit.

The best joke to date is the rumor that the prohibs are going to "beat Anson Welch for judge next fall." These prohibs couldn't beat sand in a rat-hole—out on the open ground.

Black underwear is said to be the latest fad and it is very popular. Some people hereabouts come mighty near being in style. Those I took off this week were close to the right color.

It would give two or three men in this town considerable trouble in a court of inquiry to show just what excuse they have for living except to stand in the way of every good thing.

A Chicago man arrested for swearing in public, has been discharged on proof that his remarks had reference to the weather. If that is reasonable provocation it certainly can be no crime to damn the weather forecasters.

The worst thing that can happen to a town is a condition of public listlessness and a feeling that it's all right to "let some other fellow do it"—Nortfolk Press.

Well that isn't what ails Wayne, not by a "jugful."

Well, by dad, you prohibs can go to Randolph to celebrate; where they do the drinking in out-houses and cellars or barns. We "wets" will go to Winside, and the fact that we can buy a glass of beer there without being a law-breaker or dirty stinker, will be cause for sobriety and decency.

A Sioux City man advertised for a stenographer who would agree to wear a fresh laundered white shirt waist to the office each morning. There were no specifications as to the size of the open work permissible, but of course they couldn't be any too large for the average Sioux City man.

Noticing J. C. Pawelski all dressed up Tuesday morning someone asked him the cause thereof. "Been to church," replied the now "sleeping" teamster.

"Why, what's today in the church?" asked the curious friend. "Oh I don't remember exactly," laconically answered John, "but I think it's what they call '40 hours on the ocean.'"

The preacher editors up this way are in warm competition and offering inducements which ought to make matrimonial business brisk. The Banerett Blade editor, in an effort to go his tender brother one better, offers to furnish the cards, tie the knot, publish a notice, all for the price of the cards—Lyons Sun.

And from the way business keeps up with the DEMOCRAT we'll soon be able to furnish the brides or the grooms.

Bixby says:—"If the early bird catches the early worm, and that is what the early bird is said to do, the candidate under the new primary law, who gets into the race while his less ambitious competitors are asleep, ought to be in a position to receive congratulations after the vote is canvassed." That being true, all it will cost you Wayne county aspirants will be a $5 "ad" in the DEMOCRAT.

Some of us preachers might bring more people to God if we had back bone enough to tell them to go to the devil—Pender Republic.

That's where you told the DEMOCRAT to go not very long since. But, what you preachers need more than anything else is to "lose sight of your own importance," and become leaders instead of mean contemptible dictators. Telling people to "go the devil" might, perchance, be inducement to the curious to go hear some of you try to preach a sermon.

A story is told of a man who was traveling and sat directly in front of a lady in the car. He was smoking an old pipe which was offensive to her. She said: "Sir, will you kindly do me a favor?" "Certainly" he replied. "Then kindly put away that pipe." He did so, and directly the train came to a fine beach where the passengers got off and waded a while. The man got off his shoes and waded also, coming back in to the car barefooted, and immediately the lady began sniffing again. "Mister," she said "will you do me another favor?" "Certainly," he replied. "Then please light your pipe again."

A Country With a Birthday.

The United States is the only country with a known birthday. All the rest began they know not how. Like Topsy, they just grew. If there had not been any Independence Day, America would not have been nearly so great as it is. It is now just two weeks until the Fourth and nearly everybody celebrates in some manner. We cannot tell you where or how you should celebrate, but it is our business to fix you up so you can celebrate right and be comfortable, and to do so you should have a LIGHT WEIGHT SUIT, A COOL SHIRT, AN AIRY HAT AND LOW CUT SHOES, and if you buy them here you will have money left to celebrate on.

Hobart M. Gable Piano Character

Character is as essential in a first-class piano as in a first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound.

creed that the two-step must side-step for the waltz for the reason, they declare, that the slow, dreamy, entrancing waltz is much more conducive to love-making and ballroom proposals than the harum-scarum, hippety-hop two-step, which has grown to be a perfect craze among the dancing public of the entire country. It is highly probable that the dancing masters are correct in their diagnosis. A young man would have to be desperately in love, indeed, if he could find time to keep hold of his partner, make love to her, whisper a proposal of marriage into her ear and receive her acceptance, all at the same time, the while trying to keep some green-horn couple from tramping all over his feet and carrying away the after-deck of his girl's bustle, while trying to go through the quick, jerky gyrations of the average two-step. Besides there is the danger in the two-step of being run down, rammed and sunk by the soft couple, locked securely in each other's fond bear hug, who imagine they are the only couple on the floor with a correct knowledge of the dance, and who pirouette, scoot and tear around the hall, bumping into everybody and caring for nobody. In the waltz it's different, for the music plays to a much slower measure and there is a chance to get out of the way at all times and then, the music is so much more thrilling, pulsating and love-laden. Count one more vote in favor of the waltz.

All Go to Winside.

Of course all we free-born Americans, who believe in the Declaration of Independence and independence in general, will go to Winside to celebrate. The Commercial hand of this city will assist in making music and any celebrator who has ever celebrated in Winside knows that little city always puts up a big time and treats all visitors with the hospitality of a prince.

A Leslie Precinct Birthday.

A very enjoyable time, and one long to be remembered, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sneath in the Valley community in the eastern part of the county, on Thursday, the 18th. The occasion was the 60th anniversary of Mrs. Sneath, who was born in Huntingdon county, Pa. The friends and neighbors to the number of about 120 gathered early in the forenoon, having their baskets well filled. At noon a long table was constructed for the ladies who at once began unpacking their baskets. There seemed to be no end to the good things in store for those who had partaken of a light breakfast, and by the way they ate there appeared to be many who belonged to that class. The time was spent in various games, finishing with a game of ball between the married men and the young men which resulted in a score of 16 to 10 in favor of the young men. Mr. Sneath, who is an old soldier, thought the crowd would be a patriotic one, and so had "Old Glory" swung to the breeze. Mr. and Mrs. Sneath will be remembered by the early settlers being among the first, having settled on the farm on which they now live thirty-seven years ago. Those in attendance from Wayne were the two Bressler families, brothers to Mrs. Sneath, and Mr. Russell and family. The crowd dispersed late in the afternoon, leaving as a token of their esteem a fine rocking chair for the good

Frank Whitney, of the DEMOCRAT force, will fish in Minnesota for the next few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry of Shawnee, Ok., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Theobald.

Henry Lessman and wife went to Omaha this morning to attend the wedding of a relative.

Misses Clara Moran and Mary Meister had a very enjoyable visit at West Point over Sunday.

Mrs. C. A. Chace and daughter Goldie went to Stanton this morning to visit Grandma Chace.

The North Nebraska M. E. conference will be held at Norfolk Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

John Horn of Carroll was an agreeable caller on the DEMOCRAT Tuesday, "ceasing up" fore and aft.

F. J. Hale, now of Atkinson, was a visitor in Wayne yesterday. The old war horse still looks quite hale.

Al Martin was down from near Winside Tuesday and cut the "red line" out of the DEMOCRAT's cash "register."

Geo. Savidge went to Norfolk last evening to see how his sons were doing with their one week stand there.

Rev. Foskett, field secretary for the Baptist college at Grand Island, will speak at the Baptist church next Sunday evening.

Advertised Letters—Harry Babbour J. G. Crane, Mrs. S. A. Rowell, C. A. C. Greene, Mrs. E. K. Hanson, Dr. L. M. Neilson, Carl Stevensen.

Ralph Crockett, Bev. Strahan, Chas. Seace, Elwell Williams, Emery, and several more young men, went to Crystal Lake this morning for a few days recreation.

Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Pile are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Pile's father, Hiram Meek, his daughters, Annie and Kate Meek, and niece and nephew, Mary and Hiram Hood and Edna Pettit, all from Hicksville, Ohio.

Jim Shannon, John Ahern and Chas. Schraeder were visitors from Carroll yesterday. The latter is mourning the death of his five-months-old baby, the little one being killed by a fall from the baby cab to the sidewalk.

Clum Connor of Thurston has written Sheriff Mears as to the whereabouts of a man named Auglebright. The writer says Geo. Auglebright, aged fifty, lies at the Connor home, stricken with paralysis and unable to give any account of himself further than that he has a brother living in Wayne county.

County Attorney J. H. Kemp of Nance county, was in Wayne yesterday on business connected with a decree of divorce recently granted Mrs. Will Hodson, who now lives at Fullerton. By the terms of settlement Mrs. Hodson gets the children, $12 per month, $450 cash and the residence property in Wayne.

Savidge Bros. were not very successful with their tent show last week. On Thursday evening they were unable to play at all; Friday night one of the principal guys got boozed and spoiled the performance, and Saturday night, when the show was half over and the villain to be vamoosed, the windstorm arrived and chased everybody home panic stricken.

The Emerson planing mill has contracted to do the woodwork for the X-Ray incubators this year, being $1600 under the Sioux City bidder. The material is to be all Red wood. It is quite probable the Emerson plant will be removed to Wayne another year if the incubator business is as successful the coming season as is now anticipated.

Nearly five years ago it was announced that Teddy was going to "bust" the anthracite coal trust. He had Knox for attorney general and, of course, a Knox had charge of the matter of the prosecution of the trust there was no possible chance. But Knox went to the senate, and Moody took up the investigation. Nothing doing. Everybody knows that there is a coal trust which operates through four different railroads, all of which do business in violation of law and restraint of trade, but no "evidence" could be found upon which to base a prosecution. That was what was given out at the White House.

It is now said that Attorney General Bonaparte has found some "evidence" and that he is going to do something. After five years more the thing may get up to the supreme court, and we will have another five to four decision. Meantime, and ever afterwards, Baer will continue to act as God's trustee and fix the output and price of anthracite coal.—The Investigator.

The following is from the Butte Gazette: Cards are out announcing the marriage of J. Earl Sweet to Miss Nellie Lauman at the home of the bride's parents, at Wayne, Neb., on June 26th, 1907.

Mr. Sweet is the well known Oliver Typewriter salesman and his friends in this part of the world join the Gazette in wishing the couple much prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Sweet is one of those "irrepressible" salesmen, who never "forgets the owl," and if J. E. does not sell the Rev., that ties the neural knot, an Oliver before he leaves the parlor, he will not be living up to his enviable and well earned record as a salesman. The young couple will be at home in Council Bluffs, after July 15.

Weber-Darnell.

The wedding of June, 1907, weddings, in Wayne, occurred Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Weber, when this pioneer couple of Wayne gave their daughter, Hattie, in marriage to Mr. Geo. A. Darnell of Winterset, Io. The ceremony took place at 6:30 p. m., only close friends of the family and relatives being present, but a large number of guests attending a reception from eight to ten o'clock.

Rev. Ringer performed the ceremony. Miss Hazel Weber, played the wedding march, little Natalie Harrington being ring-bearer; the Misses Gertrude Weber, Laurel Lundburg and Cleo Meyer, bridesmaids, and Messrs. Byron Hoile, Roy Lathrop and C. D. Young, all of Laurel, best men. The parlors were gorgeously decorated in green and white, with a generous addition of flowers.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Darnell and daughter. Hazel, parents of the groom, from Indianola, Io.; Mrs. W. H. Slade, Boone, Io.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Weber Jr. and son, Miss Millie Griffen and Mrs. Grebe, Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Latta, Mesdames Bryant, Philpot and Hopewell of Tekamah; Mrs. L. J. Hoile, Crofton; Mrs. Lulu Waite, C. D. Young, Wallie Lathrop, Byron Hoile and Miss Gertrude Weber, Laurel; Mrs. Mattison, Sioux City; Miss Ethel Laurie, Omaha; Miss Cleo Meeker, Imperial, Neb.

During the evening the wedding party were treated to a concert by the Commercial club band. A large number of elegant presents were given the bride and groom in gold, cut glass, china, etc. After a few days visit here Mr. and Mrs. Darnell go to their home at Winterset, Io., where he is engaged in the clothing business, and where, the DEMOCRAT hopes, his accomplished bride will occupy as large a place in the social welfare of that city as she leaves void in Wayne.

NOTES OF THE WEDDINGS.
Mrs. Walter Weber entertains a few friends this evening complimentary to Misses Milly Griffen and Maud Grebe, of Florence.

Mrs. Chas. Shultheis entertained the bridal party at a six o'clock dinner Tuesday evening.

Talk about wedding presents! A house and a lot and $100 in gold from the parents of the groom. Set of Hair-land china from John and Dan Harrington. "Bride's bouquet," an exquisite production of nature and art, composed of bride's roses, ribbons and lilies of the valley, sent by Paul Harrington from New York. But then, the "houseful of gifts" were "elegance personified."

L. P. Kloppeing and family returned from Omaha this morning.

Mrs. Jap Nichols and children went to Columbus this morning on a visit.

Ted. Perry sold some 400 steers to Sioux City buyers at $6.40 this week.

Franz Moses returned from Omaha this morning, where he not only "topped the market" with a bunch of his famous Angus cattle, but got the biggest figure paid in Omaha for years by the carload. The steers weighed 1400 and brought the magnificent figure of $6.75, close to $100 per head. The cattle were sold by Billy Frazier.

Clyde Ecker is getting tangled up with Rev. Hughes. Clyde thinks that the Republican should have "after coming west and accumulating a parish and white shirt should have returned to his old home and married one of the colored girls he played with when a boy"—Ponder times

And here is the way Rev. Hughes plays with Clyde:

No. No! The negro is a coarse, uncouth, immodest, brutish and ignorant fellow. He has his animal nature, and in order to gratify it, he will hide in ambush and in the darkness of the night will spring out on the unsuspecting woman as she passes, and will assault, and ravish her. Base and vile man!

The young white man is a cultured, refined, learned and intelligent fellow. He may write editorials for his manna paper. He dresses up in a swallow tailed coat, crass trousers, pink shirt, specked vest, flashy cravat, and tooth-pick shoes. He like the man of black skin, has passions. He sashays forth with a box of bon-bons in his pocket, he finds the innocent, unsuspecting young woman and by means of blandishments, and misrepresentations finally accomplishes his purpose. That is the difference between the young man with a white skin and the man who is unfortunate enough to be born with a black skin. And to tell the truth we sometimes think if there is any choice in the character of the two men it is in favor of the "nigger" of the south.

Corn plowing is in full blast now.

Dan McManigal shipped a car load of cattle to Omaha Monday.

Mrs. Frank Bressler, who was severely burned sometime ago, is reported getting along nicely. She had a pretty close call.

August Exleben has about recovered from the severe shock he underwent in Sioux City some time ago. He has settled down to work again, riding the cultivator every day.

Corn looks fairly well, considering the extreme cold weather. Now, if Jack Frost will accompany Lieut. Peary on his expedition to the north pole, and stay there, we may get a fair crop yet.

It is reported around these diggings that Albert Ruth, better known as "One-eyed Riley," recently died in Texas. If Riley undertook any of those Altona stunts down in Texas, he certainly died with his boots-on.

Dan McManigal says that when he was in Omaha last week he could get no vegetables at all, as all the beer gardens were closed up. He says the strongest he found at the South Omaha stock yards was "Munson Cocktails."

Master Smith McManigal of Wayne visited at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McManigal, the past week, he also called on the family of John Leucks while here, Smith is a perfect little gentleman, who shows the fruits of proper training.

Adam Bastian expects to leave about July 1st, for Gardner, Montana, to visit a sister. Adam was out there two years ago and we kind of suspect that he saw something out there besides snow-covered mountains and grizzly bears; that is taking him back just now.

When Johnny Muth heard that Neal Thompson had launched his boat on the sea of matrimony, Johnny heaved a heavy sigh, and said in a low tone, "Well, I don't blame him, I tell you now this is the last season that I will do my own housekeeping." So brace up, girls Johnny is worth looking after.

Notice of Articles of Incorporation of Plum Creek Telephone Company.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That we, the undersigned persons for the purpose of forming a corporation to operate and maintain a rural telephone line for the use of its stockholders, to extend from the corporate limits of the City of Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska, to the several farms owned or occupied by its stockholders in Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska, do hereby adopt the following articles of incorporation:

ARTICLE I. The name of this corporation shall be the Plum Creek Telephone Company.

ARTICLE II. The principal place of transacting its business shall be at Wayne, Wayne county, Nebraska.

ARTICLE III. The general nature of the business to be transacted shall be that of owning and operating of a rural telephone line to connect with the telephone exchange at Wayne, Nebraska, and to extend to the several farms owned or occupied by the shareholders hereof in Brenna, Plum Creek, Strahan and Hunter precincts, in Wayne county, Nebraska.

ARTICLE IV. The amount of the capital stock authorized shall be $900.00 divided into eighteen shares of the par value of fifty ($50.00) Dollars each for which each stockholder shall pay $50.00 at the time same is issued to him, and in addition thereto he shall pay the pro rata share of each share of stock for all necessary repairs on said line when there is not sufficient funds in the hands of the treasurer to make such repairs upon the call of the trustees.

ARTICLE V. This corporation shall commence business on July 1st, 1907, at which time there must be at least twelve shares of stock issued and the said Corporation shall continue for a period of twenty years unless sooner terminated by a two-thirds vote of all the stock issued.

ARTICLE VI. The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which the corporation is at any time to subject itself is $200.00.

ARTICLE VII. The affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and three Trustees, who shall constitute a Board of Directors.

WITNESS our hands this 15th day of June, 1907.

The Herald got considerably "balled up" on the piano contest. When the votes were counted Saturday night it was announced that Miss Florence Wirt a niece of F. K. Owen; had won the piano, but Will Fisher figured up that his daughter was considerably short in the official count, of the votes he had turned in, and an investigation discovered a wad of votes for Miss Fisher that had been carelessly left on a table, covered over with some other papers. Monday morning Mr. Fisher claimed the piano, and got it, and the Deacon Herald is told that Mr. Johnson of the Herald has ordered another of the same make for Miss Wirt, so that everybody will be well satisfied over the outcome of the scheme, perhaps, unless it be the next publisher of the Herald. It takes seven years to wear out the resultant grief from a piano contest.

How Bryan "Dies."

The Chicago Chronicle, that infamous sheet which was launched by John R. Walsh and other financial road agents, is dead. It died last week but the memory of it will smell through years.

It was the Chicago Chronicle which led the wolves of Wall street upon the trail of Bryan, and wherever they went they proclaimed that Bryan was a repudiator, an anarchist, a destroyer of the nation's honor. But Bryan enjoys today a better place in the affections of the American people than he ever enjoyed, and his traducers of the Chronicle stripe—well, many of them are in jail, and more ought to be there, and some more would have been there if President Roosevelt had not thrust the strong presidential arm between the criminals and the prison doors.

In this connection it is well to cite a fact—namely, that every frenzied

The Irresponsible Courts.

The attorney general of Nebraska has gone into the supreme court and secured an order directing the railroads to obey the laws of the state.

He took this action at an unreasonable hour to "get ahead" of the railroads, which he feared were about to obtain an order from a federal court commanding them to refuse to obey the law!

No, this isn't a practical joke, or the plot of a comic opera. It is a leaf out of the story of today that tells what government by injunction can become.

The legislature may play at making laws, if it wishes; it is a harmless though expensive amusement.

The people may support political parties and make platforms favoring certain laws, and may elect candidates to carry them into effect; that is the people's privilege.

The candidates who have been elected may be ready and willing to enforce the laws; but whether they are to be permitted to do it or not is quite another matter.

For it all depends on the courts. The people are fooled, legislative sessions are mere stage performances, and executive officials are mere puppets that dance when the judges pull the strings and lie still in their little boxes when the judges tell them to.

It is for the court to say.

By the process of injunction Judge Smith McPherson tells the railroads of Missouri they need not obey the laws of the state, and tells them before he pretends to have the slightest opinion, even, as to whether the laws are just or unjust!

The laws "might be unjust" it is argued. And if it should be found that they are, clearly it would be wrong to make the railroads obey them while we are finding out!

But the laws might be just. The presumption is they are. What about the people, in such case, who are wronged by their arbitrary annulment at a judge's pleasure? What about a sovereign state whose powers are flaunted and whose dignity is made a byword?

Least these comments may be adjudged "anarchistic," as "tending to undermine popular confidence in the courts," the World-Herald quotes briefly, not from the chief anarchist of the age, but from the greatest constructive statesman and first democrat of modern times, Thomas Jefferson.

Speaking of the federal judiciary, he wrote:

"We already see the power, installed for life, responsible to no authority, advancing at a noiseless and steady pace to the great object of consolidation. The foundations are already deeply laid by their decisions, for the annihilation of constitutional state rights and the removal of every check, every counterpoise to the engulfing power of which themselves are going to make a sovereign part."

Again he wrote:

"It is a misnomer to call a government republican, in which a branch of the supreme power is independent of the nation."

Again:

"A judiciary independent of a king or executive alone, is a good thing, but independence of the will of the nation is a misnomer, at least in a republican government."

Again:

"The judges are, in fact, the corps of sappers and miners, steadily working to undermine the independent rights of the states, and to consolidate all power in the hands of that government in which they have so important a freehold estate."

Little attention was paid to Thomas Jefferson when he sounded these warnings in the early days of the republic.

But the day is at hand when they will fall with solemn impressiveness on the ears of an aroused and troubled people.—World-Herald.

The New York supreme court has made a record that the next century will be astonished to read, and is continually adding to it. Its last work is to reverse the finding of the lower court that sent George Burnham, one of the life insurance officials, to the penitentiary and ordered a new trial. While those judges live the millionaire thieves will have little to fear. The investigator heard Burnham give his testimony before the Armstrong committee under Hughes' penetrating questioning. What was drawn out of him that day was enough to send any man to the penitentiary. The court of appeals now says that that evidence did not justify conviction.—The Investigator.

The Irresponsible Courts.

The attorney general of Nebraska has gone into the supreme court and secured an order directing the railroads to obey the laws of the state.

He took this action at an unreasonable hour to "get ahead" of the railroads, which he feared were about to obtain an order from a federal court commanding them to refuse to obey the law!

No, this isn't a practical joke, or the plot of a comic opera. It is a leaf out of the story of today that tells what government by injunction can become.

The legislature may play at making laws, if it wishes; it is a harmless though expensive amusement.

The people may support political parties and make platforms favoring certain laws, and may elect candidates to carry them into effect; that is the people's privilege.

The candidates who have been elected may be ready and willing to enforce the laws; but whether they are to be permitted to do it or not is quite another matter.

For it all depends on the courts. The people are fooled, legislative sessions are mere stage performances, and executive officials are mere puppets that dance when the judges pull the strings and lie still in their little boxes when the judges tell them to.

It is for the court to say.

By the process of injunction Judge Smith McPherson tells the railroads of Missouri they need not obey the laws of the state, and tells them before he pretends to have the slightest opinion, even, as to whether the laws are just or unjust!

The laws "might be unjust" it is argued. And if it should be found that they are, clearly it would be wrong to make the railroads obey them while we are finding out!

But the laws might be just. The presumption is they are. What about the people, in such case, who are wronged by their arbitrary annulment at a judge's pleasure? What about a sovereign state whose powers are flaunted and whose dignity is made a byword?

Least these comments may be adjudged "anarchistic," as "tending to undermine popular confidence in the courts," the World-Herald quotes briefly, not from the chief anarchist of the age, but from the greatest constructive statesman and first democrat of modern times, Thomas Jefferson.

Speaking of the federal judiciary, he wrote:

"We already see the power, installed for life, responsible to no authority, advancing at a noiseless and steady pace to the great object of consolidation. The foundations are already deeply laid by their decisions, for the annihilation of constitutional state rights and the removal of every check, every counterpoise to the engulfing power of which themselves are going to make a sovereign part."

Again he wrote:

"It is a misnomer to call a government republican, in which a branch of the supreme power is independent of the nation."

Again:

"A judiciary independent of a king or executive alone, is a good thing, but independence of the will of the nation is a misnomer, at least in a republican government."

Again:

"The judges are, in fact, the corps of sappers and miners, steadily working to undermine the independent rights of the states, and to consolidate all power in the hands of that government in which they have so important a freehold estate."

Little attention was paid to Thomas Jefferson when he sounded these warnings in the early days of the republic.

But the day is at hand when they will fall with solemn impressiveness on the ears of an aroused and troubled people.—World-Herald.

The New York supreme court has made a record that the next century will be astonished to read, and is continually adding to it. Its last work is to reverse the finding of the lower court that sent George Burnham, one of the life insurance officials, to the penitentiary and ordered a new trial. While those judges live the millionaire thieves will have little to fear. The investigator heard Burnham give his testimony before the Armstrong committee under Hughes' penetrating questioning. What was drawn out of him that day was enough to send any man to the penitentiary. The court of appeals now says that that evidence did not justify conviction.—The Investigator.

SMALL BOY MURDERS

HIS MOTHER BECAUSE SHE WHIPPED HIM

Terrible Act of 11-Year-Old Son of Mrs. Thomas McCoy Admits Crime.

Bassett, Neb., June 14.—The cold blooded murder of a mother by her 11-year-old son was developed by the coroner's inquest at Bassett over the body of Mrs. Thomas McCoy. What was at first supposed to have been an accidental death was found to be a murder committed by her little son because she had punished him the day before.

When Mrs. McCoy whipped her 11-year-old, he held her that he would kill her. The next day he secured a revolver from the house, unknown to anyone, and stole out into the field where he fired a second time, wounding her.

At first the shooting was given out as an accident. On being brought before the jury, the boy admitted that he had murdered his mother because she had punished him severely on several occasions, and that he would get even on the day in question.

TELEGRAPH OPERATORS ON VERGE OF A STRIKE

Chicago, June 18.—Strike talk was about the only thing heard yesterday afternoon at a mass meeting of the Chicago telegraph operators. The union of 1,000 telegraph operators, attended the meeting. Including more than 100 girls operators.

The union did not vote to strike, but it did the next thing to it in the absence of full authority. A resolution declaring it the sense of the local that National President Samuel J. Small, of the telegraphers, serve on a committee on the Western Union telegraph company, or that they must meet the employees committee for the discussion of a settlement of grievances or hear the responsibility for interference with public business, which would follow a strike, being a polite way of threatening a strike.

The resolution directed against the Western Union in particular stated: "The discrimination against the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America being practiced by the Western Union Telegraph company, is tantamount to the well being of the entire telegraph industry."

"The subtle methods adopted by the Western Union Telegraph company to increase its profits and to prevent the continuation of the payment of the recently publicly announced 10 per cent. increase in the wages of telegraphers, is a further measure of the well being of the telegraph industry."

"The Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, in its efforts to secure a settlement of its grievances, is in the line of duty and it is the sense of this body that the far reaching possibility of a further increase in the wages of the Western Union Telegraph company will result in great detriment to the public good."

The stubborn opposition of the Western Union Telegraph company, as represented by its president, Robert C. Clowry, to a settlement of its grievances, as represented by the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, is a serious matter and it is the sense of this body that the public welfare and invites an otherwise unnecessary and calamitous interference with the telegraph industry."

C. D. Jones, chief telegrapher of Chicago division, No. 31, Railroad Telegraphers' union, speaking at length when he pledged the individual support of the 45,000 members of the general organization to the strike.

He had written, he said, to every division in the United States, Canada and Mexico. An assessment of one day's pay was voted, which will amount from the Chicago telegraphers to about $5,000. The union is also sending out a letter to every telegrapher in the country. It was said that the benefit would reach $50,000.

The union received from New York and other cities encouraging the Chicago telegraphers in the stand they have taken.

From the national president, J. J. McLaughlin, it was stated that the national officers expected to stay with the Chicago telegraphers until the grievances were adjusted.

NOISY-HOSED GIRL TRIES TO KISS JURY

Chicago, June 18.—Miss Mary L. Wright, a Chicago girl, who was charged with stealing $1,300 from the Chicago branch of Higdon & Co., where she was employed, was brought to trial by a jury of Joliet, Ill.

She was so elated that she attempted to kiss the jurors as they entered the courtroom. The judge, who presided, rebuffed her, and the jurors fled, unharmed, while the excitement was at its height.

BACHELORS HOLD THEIR LIFE IS BEST

New York, June 17.—New York bachelors gave a loud shout when they learned that the proposed legislation of Robert L. Thomas, the millionaire tycoon, that bachelors were reckless, unfeeling, morally bad and should not be admitted to the married man's family.

"I will never marry," said Maj. W. C. Dougherty, of the cotton exchange, because women are so selfish. Give me the freedom of a public, are above suspicion. I never associate with a wicked bachelor, so I do not know what a bachelor is. They make the world to split in rounds. They make the old globe whirl, too, don't they?"

Dr. John Keesley, house physician at the Waldorf-Astoria, said he had seen all the bachelors in New York were as good as he was, and is, and ever will be, world without end, amen.

Edgar G. Murphy, the ex-champion wing shot, said he agreed with Dean Swift on the subject of matrimony. "Women," he remarked, "are like the fixed stars that twinkle in the firmament above us. They are dreamy, at times, but they are not dreamy, are above suspicion. I never associate with a wicked bachelor, so I do not know what a bachelor is. They make the world to split in rounds. They make the old globe whirl, too, don't they?"

THE MAN OF THE HOUR IN RAILROAD-GOVERNMENT FIGHT

HERBERT H. HADLEY.

St. Louis, June 18.—When Attorney General Hadley, who secured a state court order compelling the roads to observe the 2-cent fare law, learned that the eighteen railroads in Missouri had obtained a federal injunction restraining the state from putting into effect the law which should have been disclosed yesterday, he charged the roads with fraud, saying he would take this allegation into court.

Federal Judge McPherson, of Kansas City, reviewing his temporary injunction order, says: "Here are eighteen cases in which the federal government will be forced to file supplemental bills in equity in the eighteen cases brought two years ago against the state officers to enforce the enforcement of statutes of 1902 fixing rates. The charge was made that the rates were not remunerative, but discriminatory, and therefore void by reason of the United States constitution."

As to whether these supplemental bills may be filed against the state officers, the court says: "These statutes presumptively are valid, and, if valid, went into effect at midnight Thursday. Seeing the gravity of the situation, this court, on its own motion, on August 1, 1902, entered a restraining order, restraining the railroads from carrying out the present statute until the matters could be heard as to filing the supplemental bills on these dates, and a temporary injunction should issue."

"All courts, state and federal, recognize the fact that the state and federal courts are in conflict. All courts recognize that other courts act in good faith, and this court appreciates the situation."

"When the foregoing situation was disclosed today, counsel for the railroads moved for a continuance for a week or ten days, to the end that the situation might be looked into. These delays are not warranted. The interests of the public and the railroads alike demand the speedy decision of all questions connected with the foregoing statements as well as all questions connected with the validity or invalidity of the rate statutes recently enacted by the state legislature of Missouri."

Chicago, June 18.—General passenger agents of railroads in Iowa met here and concurred in the agreement of lines in other western states not to make any reduction in state rates until the courts have decided as to the validity of the state statute fixing 2 cents per mile as the maximum rate for interstate trips.

Los Angeles, June 18.—As the result of twenty-five wrecks in the past five months on the Southern Pacific line through the boundaries of California, in which seventy persons have been killed and 200 injured, an investigation has been ordered by the state engineer, H. Harriman, has asserted in a foremost position in track and equipment among the western roads. It is charged that the wrecks are the direct result of rotten, without track or insurance, improperly ballasted road bed, and these fifteen were responsible for the greatest number of deaths and injuries.

St. Louis, Mo., June 18.—As expected, the 2-cent rate row created confusion today at the ticket offices in the union station.

"What's the fare to Koko Grove," asked a ruralite.

"Usual rate, 3 cents straight," said the issuer.

"Not for me 'gosh, ain't you aware the fare is only 2 cents now?"

"Maybe you can get there by trolley for that," said the seller, "but not by our line."

Even at this some agents didn't know just where they were at on the rate question, and clashes were frequent.

Agents kept the phones to the circuit attorney's office busy and the federal authorities were trying to keep up with the injunction orders that new fast and furious.

UNION-SOUTHERN PACIFIC STOCK ISSUES $100,000,000. Salt Lake City, Utah, June 18.—When Vice-President Corbin, of the United Northern, Secretary Morgan, of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, went into session here with other representatives of the E. H. Harriman group, it was expected that the proposed stock issue of $100,000,000 in new stock of the Union Pacific would be purely perfunctory. All the necessary steps were taken, however, and the stock issue of the Union Pacific, which controls a majority of the stock to be voted, had been approved by the board of directors. The stock issue was voted by proxy.

BURNING DAKOTA WRECK. Minot, N. D., June 18.—The Great Northern Oriented Limited went into the ditch at Minot, forty miles west of Minot at 6 o'clock this morning. The engineer and fireman were killed, and several passengers injured. Every car went into the ditch and caught fire. The injured were rescued with great difficulty. The train was going about fifty miles per hour. The accident was caused by spreading rails.

TWAIN TELLS AUTHORS COPYRIGHT TROUBLES. London, June 18.—Mark Twain, the American author, was the chief speaker at a banquet given by American Ambassador Reid, saying: "What I desire to say is upon copyright and it will doubtless be my last meddling in this present life with that vexatious subject. Last winter I went to Washington in that interest, and if I may I will reproduce a conversation which I had with a member of congress who desires to qualify himself to write upon the copyright bill by inquiring into the particulars of the interests involved. Mr. Clemens then gave as nearly as he could remember it, his interview, and concluded by showing of how little avail it had been."

FACE SUICIDE AGAIN. A Washington correspondent told the other night a story that he claimed to have heard from President Roosevelt at a Gridley dinner. "Two women," he said, "were discussing some new neighbors who had moved into one of the sumptuous houses in their city. 'They seem to be very rich,' said the first. 'Oh, they are,' said the second. 'Single for me,' said the second man. 'Ah, blundered the other, 'you are afraid you won't come back, are you?' 'As for me I never take a thing. I always take my return half from the man's pocket.'"

Nels Nelsen is completing a fine farm residence on his place south of town, one that will cost him over $3,000. Geo. Leuders is doing the job.
Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright arrived home Monday from Seattle. Fred, who is studying law in Seattle, will also be in Wayne for a few weeks' vacation.
W. L. Robinson, the Carroll land man, took a party to South Dakota Tuesday, among them being F. S. Beatty, John Sals and Chas. Grewe.
A. B. Clark and Wm. Lessman will sell 70 head of Scotch and Scotch Topped Shorthorns at Wayne, Nebraska, Wednesday, June 26. See their advertisement elsewhere.
Dan Harrington last week came into possession of a curio in the shape of a one dollar certificate issued by the bank of Tekamah in 1857. The bill is a one-sided affair, but is probably worth more than $1 today—to Mr. Harrington.
Winside is planning to have a mammoth celebration July 4th, the only one "for miles around." In Winside the people all pull together for the good of the town socially and financially. They have no "disturbing microbes" to put the town on the bum, such as some other places we know of are now afflicted with.
The postoffice department has given Postmaster McNeal a tedious little job, commencing July 1st, 1907, and ending Jan. 1st, 1908, to weigh every pound of mail matter leaving the local office, and that in each class separately. The scheme is said to be planned to catch the railroad companies that may have been "padding" the weights. Any-way it gives all postmasters and their assistants a chance to earn their salaries.
Secretary of War Taft and party passed through Wayne last Sunday evening. A large crowd was at the depot to see the distinguished presidential candidate, but only those who crowded into the everyday coach saw the big man, who is large in more ways than mentally. C. J. Rundell made a wireless, wordless contract to furnish a million shovel swivels for the Panama canal job, and John Kate was about to close a deal for an X-Ray sale when the train pulled out, the gentlemen coming very near staying with Taft to Winside.
E. Cunningham arrived home from Idaho last Monday morning and will remain here until after the Clark-Lessman sale. Mrs. Cunningham and her mother left Monday afternoon, the latter going to Billings and Mrs. Cunningham to her son and daughter on the Idaho ranch. Mr. Cunningham says the Hoskins colony in Idaho have all made money. Geo. Harrigfeldt is particularly successful. Harrigfeldt recently sold a section of land, 840 acres, that didn't cost him a cent, at $50 per acre. He still owns 400 acres around his home town that is worth from $80 to $100 per acre today, and still going up in price.

ICE CREAM

We have always enjoyed the reputation of serving the best ice cream that skill and good material could make up. This year we will excel all previous records both in quality and service. We have the coolest, cleanest room in town. We buy the best fruits and fruit juices on the market. We make up our own ice cream and that is the secret of our success in the ice cream business. We know how to make good ice cream. We will continue to hold the record of serving the best.
