W. C. Grangenette of Carroll was in town Monday on his way to Sioux City. He planned to go straight through on the morning passenger but in visiting the DEMOCRAT to "square up" missed his train and had to wait for the 2:15 passenger.

Trains were considerably delayed last Friday morning owing to a few feet of rails being out of place and several hundred feet covered with mud on the Norfolk line a couple of miles west of Wayne. There were also washouts below Emerson on the Omaha.

Miss Mabel Allers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mildner, was married to a prosperous South Dakota farmer at Plankinton Friday of last week. Later in the evening a cyclone swept over the groom's farm north of Plankinton, cleaning up everything, crops and buildings, in its path.

Salvage, the millionaire owner of the great Dan Patch, king of pacers, and Cresceus, king of trotters, must think pretty well of the Interstate Live Stock Fair at Sioux City when he will send these priceless animals there every year. They will be at the Interstate Fair again this year and, in addition to this, Mr. Savage is hanging up a purse of $5,000.00 for a 2:12 pace.

J. Earl Sweet, the "Allover" type-writer man, was in Wayne over Sunday and sold the DEMOCRAT a machine. Sweet has the reputation of selling every body he goes after, and so we submitted peaceably to get the Oliver without being bored until Kingdom come. After making Mr. Sweet's acquaintance it is understandable why he gets everybody he wants around Wayne.

To the Republican Voters of Wayne County, Nebraska.

Upon, not only the earnest solicitation of friends throughout the county, but the unrelenting demand of my home people, I have consented to allow my name to go before the primaries as a candidate for the nomination of County Commissioner from the Third District, subject to the will of the Republican Voters of Wayne County.

AUGUST ZIEMER.

The Interstate Live Stock Fair, which is held every September at Woodland Park, Sioux City, is growing better each succeeding year. This year the Association which conducts this fair is offering for purses and premiums the almost unbelievable amount of $80,000.00—$25,000.00 in purses, $35,000.00 in premiums. Only the state fairs of Minnesota and Wisconsin are offering so large an amount of money in purses.

The State of Nebraska, Madison County, ss.

The complaint of John B. Barnes made before me, C. F. Eiseley, a justice of the peace in and for Madison County, Nebraska, who being first duly sworn upon his oath deposes and says that on or about the fifth day of July, 1907, in the county of Madison and state of Nebraska the defendant George A. Miles unlawfully, maliciously and feloniously did compose, write and publish and cause to be composed, written and published in a certain newspaper called "The Independent," said newspaper having a general circulation and being published and circulated in Holt County, Rock County, Madison County, and various other counties in the state of Nebraska a certain false scandalous malicious and defamatory libel of and concerning him the said John B. Barnes, in the words and figures following, to-wit:

"Judge J. B. Barnes shot at by his wife. She follows him to his office where she finds him and his stenographer in an attitude unbecoming a married man and opens fire. Poor aim only saves their lives." "Accordingly on Sunday last Mr. Barnes armed herself with shooting arms and went to the office of the judge where she found Judge Barnes and the stenographer in a compromising attitude, when she began to unload her revolver. Three shots were fired in quick succession but they all went wide of the mark. The judge and the stenographer fled in haste. We guess the stenographer went straight up, for nobody seems to know where she landed at the end of the chase, but the judge panting and out of breath arrived at the home of his old law partner, Tyler. Thither Mrs. Barnes followed him in hot pursuit with the revolver still smoking. Mr. Tyler took the revolver away from her and thus her power of destruction ceased."

Contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the state of Nebraska. John B. Barnes, Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 15th day of July, 1907. C. F. EISELEY, Justice of the Peace, -Norfolk Press.

BY DAD

Mayor Schmitz, like Thos. C. Platt and Chauncey Depew, is about "all in."

The Sioux City Journal well says: "It isn't child labor that fills the reform schools; it is child idleness."

The Thaws have raised about $2,000,000 in cash to pay the expenses of Harry's next trial, which fact ought to make some lawyer smile.

If a man should go about on all fours he would live longer, says a French scientist. That might work alright with many of the scientists, who of late have been trying hard to make monkeys of themselves.

A large number of county papers are advancing subscription rates from $1.00 to $1.50 per year, due they claim, to the price of print paper. Probably the high rate of coal, ice, gasoline and labor has more to do with it than the raise in print.

The Mansion Democrat says: The latest paper price lists show a sharp advance in nearly all kinds of paper, the advance in white print paper, the kind you have in your own hand, having been given the biggest boost. Good! We sincerely hope that paper prices will continue to soar until they bust every damn fool of an editor who ever howled himself hoarse for a robber protective tariff.

Rev. W. P. Ferguson, an M. E. divine of University Place, Lincoln, has been suspended for immoral conduct with a female member of his flock. Ferguson quite recently came from California where the daily papers state "he led the temperance forces to victory twice against bitter opposition." The "woman in the case," at Lincoln, was led to confess because of a strong sermon on virtue. Let's take a drink!

Speaking of the Iowa primary law, which is like Roosevelt spelling compared to Nebraska's new-fangled, fo-fum-fuddle, Iowa papers say!

The Clinton Herald offers a prize to anyone who understands the Iowa primary law. The Marion Register responds by asserting that the law is "a fraud fom start to finish" and claims the prize. "The Herald is convinced that Capt. Rathbun has earned the prize, and it will be forwarded to him," states the Herald. "His explanation is lucid and right to the point. We believe that after one trial Iowa voters will agree with the captain."

Writing from his present address, in the western part of the state, Rev. T. J. Osborne says in the Wayne Herald: "Probably some of the Wayne people will be surprised to learn that young and lively as it is, there is not a saloon in the entire county. Cow-punchers no longer 'whoop er up' under the influence of a jag. The general editor of the 'Democrat' who thinks that Wayne without saloons would be no fit place for a 'live business man,' ought to stop between trains' at Scott Bluff or Mitchell where the foundations for one of the richest sections in the state are being laid in the Sobriety, as well as the Industry and intelligence of the people." Well, well! Why not stay out there, person? In the several months past of your absence we have not heard one regret over your departure, nor a hope for your return. Again, there has been no one here so presumptuous as to suggest the "business men of Wayne are in league with the devil," no one to cajole college students into casting sworn votes, no one to organize the ladies into a combination to trade with those business men of Wayne who vote the no-saloon ticket—because it's a fracture of the statutes to organize a boycott on those who don't. Glad to hear, though, that you are happy with your "corn and potatoes," but more rejoiced still to learn that you have lost the "belly-ache" you carried away from Wayne with you.

Hobart M. Gable Piano Character

Character is as essential in a first-class piano as in a first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound.

Gus Wills tells the DEMOCRAT that it was not his son who got into trouble at Sioux City and was fired out of town by the police, but another party of the same name. That his boy has a good job there and getting along alright. The DEMOCRAT is glad to make the correction and hopes Gus jr. will pass it as a joke. In the light of past events there is no telling what the Wayne lads will do when they go to Sioux City.

Senator Allen was down from Madison last Tuesday to see a Columbus client. The senator is not talking much politics nowadays, but he still takes a lively interest in the political mill, and expresses the belief that

Nebraska and the nation will ultimately overthrow the rule of trusts. Judge Allen looks as young today as when he first went down to Washington to make those Easterners listen to the wisdom of the West, and he says he is good for another twenty years in the harness. I hope he makes it forty, even though I am not always able to endorse his political and economic views to the letter. When all shall have been said, the fact will remain that this big man from the prairies of Nebraska was one of the few real, live, earnest, able statesmen ever sent to represent Nebraska in the congress of the nation, and one is often in doubt as to casting the eye of pity or of shame upon Nebraska's present occupants of the senate seats once occupied by an Allen or a Van Wyck—Columbus Telegram

Hot! Wasn't he a hard-looker—for a democrat. This must be "good, old summer time."

How would you like to be a teacher and attend college this sort of weather?

Frank Gaertner went over to Marcus, Io., Saturday and returned Sunday with his family.

The Allen News brags that that town has the champion ball team of the state, or rather this section of it.

I don't see why the Wayne girls were struck on the Kilties, unless, perchance the thought, it was those "airy legs!"

A Chicago man imagines he is dead and has turned into an automobile. He must be a stinker when he is scorching.

Bixby says: "There are some things the unwritten law won't excuse a man for doing." Writing poetry, for instance.

Sioux City plays ball in the "Sioux City way," all hot air. Pretty soon the club will reach the bottom and drown.

Mark Twain says that the women of England are "the most beautiful and bewitching he has seen." Mark didn't get home a minute too soon.

It has been decided to postpone the Chapman revival meetings at Sioux City for a year. As Sioux City can't get any worse the delay will not cut much figure.

The DEMOCRAT understands that domestic disaster has disturbed the serenity of a Wayne young man, who was only married a few months ago, residing in Sioux City.

Another preacher has bobbed up with the statement that there are no female angels in heaven. Sure not, it would be hell if there was, judging from the class of matter some men angels are made of.

Over at Lincoln, Neb., a man committed suicide because his wife refused to come to Iowa to live. Possibly he made up his mind that if he couldn't live in Iowa he would go to the next best place.—Cherokee Democrat.

Francis Murphy left an estate valued at $20,000. When he first signed the total abstinence pledge he didn't have the price of a drink he could call his own.—State Journal.

What a lot of good drinks he missed before he left.

An Illinois minister says kissing is worse than drinking whiskey, and the Fort Dodge Chronicle says the only plausible explanation for the preacher's assertion is that he has been terribly imposed upon. It must be that his flock consists of toothless old maids.

The Hampton Chronicle insists that no mercy should in any way be shown to an unscrupulous and pettifogging lawyer. They are a disgrace to their profession, and prey upon their unsuspecting clients like a professional burglar in the night, when he is robbing your house or bank. There are only a few of them in the county, but every decent lawyer is made to suffer to a certain extent in a professional way by these leeches who have in some way or another secured a sheepskin which gives them the right to practice law.

This story is told on "Doc Banks," the local druggist: A customer came into the store and asked to have a prescription filled. "Mr. Banks" waited upon the man, tied up the drugs and passed the package over with the information that it was "sixty cents."

"How much did you say it was worth?" asked the customer.

"Sixty cents," said "Doc."

"I didn't hear you," said the customer. "I'm a little deaf."

"So am I," said "Doc," but I can hear it thunder." Then he shouted in the man's ear so loud that it could be heard at the gas factory, "sixty cents."

"Oh, is that it," said the deaf customer. And laid six cents down on the counter and went out.

"Go to the dickens!" said "Doc." "I made five cents on it as it was."

A Baltimore doctor says men should not wear hats, except in winter, and possibly not even then, if they are able to accumulate enough of a hirsute covering to keep their heads warm. It might not be a bad idea, for the practice would stimulate the growth of hair, make baldness less common and save many men from catching colds on the slightest pretext. The different practices of men and women in this regard are interesting. No man likes to wear a hat indoors or be outdoors without one, while women make such a bother of putting on hats that they often wear the same indoors and frequently go out without any. It's all a habit anyway. With a little practice, anyone could learn to go bare-headed, even when the sun shines. The habit of shading the eyes is an acquired one, as all animals prove by wearing no coiffures even in the hottest climate.

the dog days we are being regaled with the prospects of war with Japan. But as neither the Japanese government nor the American people are spilling for a fight with each other about a comparatively trivial matter there will be no war. But President Roosevelt is overjoyed at the display the newspapers are giving the subject as it will help him to induce congress to vote the necessary appropriation for a new fleet of battle ships for the Atlantic. The steel trust which will supply the material and the ship building trust are likewise interested in the building of an Atlantic fleet and the standpatters—who fear the surplus revenue will be used as an argument for tariff revision—are anxious for large appropriations. So we will hear more of the war scare until congress is coerced into voting new battleships.

Hanson Case Settled.

It is just about eleven years ago that Hans and John Hanson agreed to disagree over property affairs, and in all these years it has been trial after trial, in and out of the supreme court several times; efforts made on the part of both brothers to compromise, but they always failed to get together. A. A. Welch, as attorney for Hans, has kept persistently at it for his client, and although winning out at about more in the matter, could not get the affair settled up until Wednesday of this week. Judge Graves was here from Pender to hear the report of the referees. The proposition was made to John, by the referees, to take either the 320 acres north of Wayne or the 280 in Leslie precinct, a price per acre being fixed on all the land, and a cash balance to go with the smaller farm. John took the 320, paying Hans the difference. As usual in such long, drawn-out law suits neither litigant is satisfied, but the lawyers probably are.

The last legislature passed a law requiring an abstractor to furnish a bond for $10,000, with three resident freeholders or a surety company, and failure to do so is a misdemeanor and conviction means a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more other than $100, and shall be liable to the person for whom said abstract was made in a sum equal to double the amount charged for the abstract. This law went into effect March 30th, last.

Dr. John, the noted educator and lecturer, has arrived and will appear on the Chautauqua platform in Wayne six times. His hours and subjects are as follows:

Thursday at 10 a. m. "Signs of God in the Cell."
Friday, 10 a. m. "Signs of God in Instinct."
Saturday 10 a. m. "Signs of God in Human Body."
Sunday 10.30 a. m. "The Sublimity of a Great Conviction."
Monday 10 a. m. "The Worth of a Man."
Tuesday 10 a. m. "Did Man make God, or Did God make Man?"
The lecture to be given on Tuesday, was given several years ago in Wayne and is repeated by request. Dr. John had intended another lecture but changed his schedule to accommodate those eager to hear his masterpiece. These lectures are free to all. Miss Alexander will render solos at each morning hour.

Don't You Believe It.

A public man has stated that the new primary law is so complicated that not half the voters will know how to mark the ballot.

Don't you believe it.

The voting process will be simple. When a voter appears at the polls he will be required to tell the judges of the primary whether he is a republican or a democrat. If he shall say that he is a democrat, then the judges will give him a ballot known as the "democratic ballot," on which will be printed the names of all the democrats seeking nomination for any office. If the voter is a republican, he will be given a republican ballot, containing the names of the republican candidates. There will be no such thing as a straight ticket. That is to say there will be no big circle at the top of the ticket, in which an X for a straight ticket may be marked. The voter can only vote for his favorite candidate by putting an X in the square opposite the name of his favorite.

Remember, there will be two ballots—one democratic—one republican. Perhaps there may be a ballot for the socialists, prohibitionist or populists, but if so, each of such ballots will contain only the names of the candidates seeking nomination under one of those political parties. As the Telegram understands the law, the primary ballots will be very much like the form of ballots used at the regular elections, except that there will be no circle in which to make an X for a straight ticket.

We fall to see where a voter will find any difficulty in casting his ballot. It is true that in his ignorance the attorney-general has placed a multiplicity of constructions upon the new ballot law, but that fact does not make the voting difficult. We have heard men say that they will refuse to tell the judges the name of their preferred political party. They say that is none of the business of the judges. That sounds nice, but it will not work at the primary. As we read the law it clearly says that a man must state his politics before the judges give him a ballot. Perhaps somebody may find a way to get around that provision, but we cannot see the way.

The voter who knows enough to cast a ballot at the regular November elections will have no trouble in voting at the primary in September.—Columbus Telegram.

A MAGNIFICENT SUCCESS.

Chautauqua the Best Card Wayne Ever Played.

"The Kilties are Coming," proved a good opening for the first day of Wayne's first Chautauqua. With the best of weather for haying but few farmers were in town, but the trains brought in large delegations and the streets were full of visitors. The afternoon and evening concerts by the "Kilties" filled the tent full to overflowing and the entertainment most enjoyable. The Bloomfield train was packed full this afternoon; the commercial clubs from Wausau and Bloomfield came down in a body, a band being with the latter. The Norfolk train being over an hour late, the parade was formed with the Bloomfield band in the lead, then the Wayne band followed by the Wausau "elephant," and it was a booster, and also the "rooster" and his keeper. There then were also a dozen helmeted knights and twenty-five citizens "with parasols to match." Altogether Wausau made "the hit of the season" and put on the best street show ever seen in Wayne. The parade went north a couple of blocks and back to Main street where, after a general pow-wow all repaired to the club room and took lemonade and cigars.

The Norfolk train arrived at 3:20 and brought in big delegations, but owing to delay the crowd hurried to the grounds to hear Tillman, who made a "sword eating" speech.

Parties from Hoskins say there was a terrific rain and hail storm there Tuesday night. The hail fell straight down and did little damage. Out at O'Neill the crops were beat out of the ground over a large area of country.

President and Mrs. Pile, and in fact the faculty and students, are highly elated over the report given the college by Supr. C. A. Fulmer of Beatrice and Miss O'Connell of Ashland, president and secretary of the state examining board of normal schools, the work of the board being completed yesterday by a personal investigation of the college in all its details. They pronounced everything the most satisfactory they had found in any of the schools they had visited. They met the graduating classes and after an hour's conference and spending the afternoon in going over the records and visiting classes, they passed all state certificates. The classes have done splendid work this year and never has the school as a whole equalled what has been accomplished during this school year and everybody is pleased that the board gave the recognition which they did and informed the students the statement first made, that everything was in most satisfactory condition.

On the fifteenth of August, 1852, Rebecca Winters was buried in the lonely grave in the north Platte valley a little way below the present village of Scott's Bluff. Seven years ago Burlington graders discovered the grave by unearthing of wagon tire, through the rust of which the inscription was clearly delineated. Relatives of the dead lady in far off Utah heard of the discovery of the road, the division superintendent of the road asking if he would permit a monument to be erected at the spot. He readily consented and so, on the railroad right of way, not more than six feet from the track, exactly fifty-two years after her burial, a granite monument was placed at the head of Rebecca Winters' grave and an iron fence erected to protect the spot from the unhalloved tread of vandals feet. The same old wagon tire arches the mound and lends interest to this landmark of pioneer tragedy.

PIONEER FURNITURE DEALER

Rah! For Oom Paul.

Sioux City Journal: Plans are being formed for the organization of a company to build a second brewery in Sioux City or to build a brewery at South Sioux City. Ample capital for the project is in sight; the problem now is one of the securing retail dealers for stockholders, so that a fixed amount of business would be insured from the beginning of operations.

Frank Kruger who recently removed to Sioux City from Chamberlain, S. D., where he was engaged in the wholesale and retail liquor business and where he was a general agent for several breweries, is promoting the project. Enlisted with him are L. C. Stephens, president of the Stephen-Kennedy company; Charles Selzer and other large dealers in beer. Two or three local capitalists also are in the syndicate and Omaha and St. Paul capital is said to be ready for use if it shall be needed.

Mr. Kruger yesterday said it was too early to make any statement regarding the project. He said that at this time he and his prospective associates simply were figuring what might be done. He thought that the plans might come to a head in about two weeks.

Mr. Stephens, too, thought it entirely too early to attempt to make any statement to the public. He said that in fact it could not be told at this time just what would be done.

The question of location will have considerable to do with deciding the investment of some who are thinking of becoming stockholders. Some favor locating the plant in Sioux City; others declare that the laws of Nebraska are so much more favorable to a brewery that only South Sioux City should be thought of for the location.

Rest Room.

It has been pretty thoroughly proven that it pays to advertise so we deem it wise to bring this enterprise before the public occasionally. Some people do not seem to understand just what this rest room is for, and how it is maintained. We have already made this known through the columns of the county papers several times. The rest room is intended for use of all women and children of Wayne County or who ever have occasion to use it whether they be from the country or town. It is supported by contributions by whoever will. We pay $8.00 per month rent for the rooms, and pay the matron in charge, $4.00 per week. Everything else has been donated such as, furniture, towels, etc. The city Philco has given us the use of a telephone so that anyone wishing to telephone can do so from the rooms, without taking the trouble to go elsewhere.

Another thing we want to mention is the liberal donation of space in the Wayne papers, for bringing the proposition before the public, and both Wayne papers have been donated and can always be found at the rest room. We have a register, and wish everyone visiting the rest room, to register so that we can tell something about how many avail themselves of the use of this convenience. Not all register who call, but during the month of June over three hundred registered. In looking over the register we find names of people from different towns as follows: Omaha, Norfolk, Hartington, Bloomfield, Wausa, Randolph, Carroll, Winside and Wakefield. A gentleman from Hastings was here recently to enquire into the methods of conducting our rest room, with a view to starting like one in that city.

We wish to impress upon the minds of the people of Wayne County, that it takes considerable cash to maintain this institution, and contributions must needs be forthcoming. Some have been quite liberal, subscribing one dollar per month, others have given fifty cents per month and on down. If you do not feel able to give this much, just give what you can, don't let as good and useful a thing as this suffer for want of a little financial and moral support. If you are a little skeptical just call and see how the rest room is conducted and what a great convenience it is and you will at least speak a good word for it.

MRS. CLYDE OMAN,
Secretary.
