L. M. Porter was here from Ponca last Saturday. The DEMOCRAT is told Mr. Porter is at work on a new incubator that is better than any of them.

J. M. Boss took a bad fainting spell in front of the State Bank Monday afternoon, but was revived in a short time and able to joke over the incident.

Judge Welch held court at Madison Saturday. An attempt was made to get Boche into the hospital and the judge left the matter in the hands of the sheriff.

Geo. Phifer down from Plainview Monday on a couple days visit. His family is still at Stanton, although George has been working at Plainview the past year.

E. E. Funston left Tuesday morning for Pierre, S. D. He said C. O. Johnson and Robt. Baird were going with him but the gentlemen failed to get up in time for the 7:30.

Ned Sherwood writes the DEMOCRAT from Okoboji that they are still running the big summer hotel there and doing well, contrary to the statement in this paper recently.

F. A. Berry returned Monday from St. Paul. He says crops look better in Wayne county, Nebraska, than anywhere north Small grain being very light in Wisconsin.

There was an immense crowd of Randolph people enroute to the Dakotas Tuesday morning. Land agent Williams and Harry Hammond appeared to have the crowd in charge.

Dr. Caldwell the noted specialist, did not show up in Wayne last week and probably never will again. The only wonder is that she was able to make Wayne so many years in the past.

Hans Hansen and family will soon move to their farm near Pender. Wayne will miss Hans, for he is one of the best fellows—with everybody but himself—that the county contains.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Doty were arrivals from Manning, Mo., last Thursday, and after a day's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mears, went to Hot Springs, S. D. Mrs. Doty's health is very poor.

Gladys Goldie accompanied Mrs. Gant to Sioux City last Saturday, where the little by dad visited with the Tom Berry family until today. Mrs. Berry coming up to visit; friends at Winside.

Andy McIntosh, who has been threshing the past week, reports wheat as averaging about 19 bushels per acre. Henry Hinrichs' went over 20, and Henry Meyers' 19. Barley is good and out at Chris Wischoof's threshed out 35 bushels per acre.

Jack Dun of near Winside returned from Bloomfield Monday where he spent several days caring for his brother-in-law. Frank Cooper, the latter having been very badly injured in a runaway. Cooper's team ran away hitched to a disc, and the machine tore his leg to pieces in horrible shape.

Savage, the millionaire owner of the great Dan Patch, king of pacers, and Creceus, king of trotters, must think pretty well of the Interstate Live Stock Fair at Sioux City when he will send these priceless animals there every year. They will be at the Interstate Fair again this year and, in addition to this, Mr. Savage is hanging up a purse of $5,000.00 for a 2:12 pace.

Writing from Hazelton, N. D. Miss Amelia Baker sends a dollar for the DEMOCRAT and says: "My sister and I like the country fine; the country around here is as level as floor. Sister and I have claims joining one another, and one mile from Bro. William's claim. Have two of the best claims around here; good soil, fine grass. We are two miles from the river."

The fact that few candidates filed their certificate for nomination does not altogether indicate that few men want office nor that those filing have any the best of it. All that is necessary now is for the voters at the primary to write the name of their candidate and it often happens that the man who does not "but in" too strong stands the best chance for election.

The Interstate Live Stock Fair, which is held every September at Woodland Park, Sioux City, is growing better each succeeding year. This year the Association, which conducts this fair is offering for purses and premiums the almost unbelievable amount of $60,000.00—$25,000.00 in purses, $35,000.00 in premiums. Only the state fairs of Minnesota and Wisconsin are offering so large an amount of money in purses.

Columbus Telegram: That was a bitter lemon which the Haywood jury handed to President Roosevelt, who had gone out of the path of dignity and duty in order to help the mining millionaires in their efforts to crush the union miners.

People like to be humbugged and there is probably no source of humbuggery so prolific as that practiced by "specialists" who go from town to town diagnosing the ailments of humanity as no local physician could do it. There are specialists of the eye, the ear, the nose, or others who heal anything that is past redemption. One Wayne county farmer tells the DEMOCRAT that he has paid a certain "specialist" over $400 to heal his two children and nothing but grievous delay was secured by the treatment. The papers advertise these itinerant peddlers of pills and eye-glasses for the reason that very seldom the newspaper knows anything about them, and it is not a wise procedure to criticize their individual methods without being sure of their evil and purely money getting intentions. The only safe way is to always go to the local practitioner, and if that is not successful take a trip to a larger city where a meritorious physician has too much business to go dilly-dallying about the country villages.

BY DAD

Glad, very glad it's all over. Be'n't you?

The Sioux City ball team now has a squeeze on the tail—end of the west ern league.

The girl in the peek-a-boo waist who is refused admittance to the church, can go to the devil.

It is so long since Walter Wellman has been heard from it is feared he tried to fill his balloon and ran out of hot air.

The Columbus Telegram says Judge Sedgewick has his faults but it is not one of them to be a member of the Barnes' typewriter trust.

One minister says that "hell is full of peek-a-boo waists." Poor man. He's disappointed, no doubt, to learn that the girls are not there in their bear skins.

To Messrs Bressler, Britton and Horn, give all the credit due. The gentlemen certainly worked as hard on the proposition as though the doom of a saloon were at stake.

An Indiana woman who was jilted in love has determined not to speak to a man for seventy years. Had she determined on that a little sooner she might not have been jilted.

A baggage smasher at St. Louis was seriously injured the other day by slamming a trunk which contained some sticks of dynamite, which exploded. That looks like retribution.

An Indianapolis preacher rebuked some of the children for bringing their Teddy bears to Sunday school. Some of the children declared, however, that they would quit Sunday school rather than leave their Teddy bear behind.

"I would throw away a biscuit any time for a kiss," said a well known evangelist at a Methodist camp meeting in Chicago. With most of us it would depend some on the quality of the biscuit and the quality of the kissing that was in sight.

Some fellow called up The Democrat office yesterday to find out when the state fair begins. Great Scott! To think that anybody in this office would be able to answer such a question! There are plenty of "cheap" printing offices where the information might be secured, but not this one.

Aside from Senator Tillman's speech there is no reason why Wayne talent couldn't put a better chauntauqua on for ten days and give better satisfaction than what the town has experienced at the hands of cheap talent from other towns. We've got the band, better vocalists, a very superior violinist, elocutionist, better public speakers and—well, something to give the saloonkeepers particular hell.

Obedolt Chronicle: Preachers now have to pay full fare when they travel and many of them do not object. One clergyman said to the editor of this paper: "You don't know how much more like a citizen I felt the other day when I bought my railroad ticket. I never could see any reason why a preacher should not pay the same fare that others are charged."

The city council of LeMars recently passed a resolution compelling the railroads running through that city to install safety gates across streets. Something of this kind should be done in Wayne. People have their blood curdled every day or two watching the "narrow escapes" on Main street. By dad, I believe that's what makes me so darned thin in flesh.

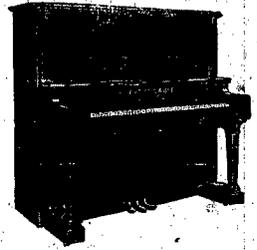

In talking with a number of different men this week, men who have known Judge Barnes and his sporting proclivities for many years, they without exception question the wisdom of taking his Norfolk—Holt Co. Independent story into court. The eleventh commandment, don't get found out, is more dangerous to break than all the other ten. Persons who are always reading papers know that after reading that article published in the Independent that no ordinary editor wrote it. The chances are the writer of that bit of information knows just as much about libel laws as Judge Barnes does. Every sentence of the sensational article was fashioned like a dum-dum bullet, so that it would tear a ragged hole where ever it would enter. Mark Hanna's blocks of five fully established the republican party in this state, but some of the legacies left by political accidents will be hard for the party to dispose of. When this case comes up in court—if it ever does come up, it would be advisable for the people to lay in a good supply of smelling salts, for there are other stories besides that of Barnes which are liable to leak out.—Creighton Liberal.

No Opposition to Judge Welch

At a meeting of the judicial committee of the 9th district, held at Norfolk last week, no lawyer could be found, who wanted a nomination against Judge Welch, and indications are that Mr. Welch will have no democratic opposition. It is not a case of Judge Welch being too strong or the democrats too weak, for the reason that the democratic press has committed itself in favor of the present incumbent.

Dr. Bells, Dentist, Office over the First National Bank.

Hobart M. Gable Piano Character

Character is as essential in a first-class piano as in a first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound.

STANDARD OIL

FINED $29,240,000

Judge Landis of Chicago Comes Near the Limit in Imposing Record Breaking Penalty.

ELKINS LAW VIOLATED

Rockefeller's Monopoly Convicted of Accepting Rebates Aggregating $223,000 From the Chicago & Alton Railroad.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The largest fine ever recorded in the history of criminal jurisprudence was imposed by Judge K. M. Landis on the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, when he taxed the giant corporation $29,240,000 for accepting rebates of $223,000 from the Alton railroad. This would also have been true whether the amount assessed was $29,240,000, the maximum penalty under the law, or $1,462,000, the minimum.

While at first it was thought a fine approximating $29,240,000 might seem crushing enough to warrant the United States supreme court in setting it aside as a cruel and unusual punishment, the view of making use of all schedules by that railroad.

After Alton Refracted, Too. Judge Landis also recommended that a call be issued for a special grand jury which will consider the other party to the rebating operations of which the Standard was found guilty, and it is therefore probable that the case against the Alton railroad for alleged commission of offenses, after exhaustively reviewing the charges, the history of the trial, and quoting the statements of the judge, said it was proved in the trial of the defendant that the corporation operated an oil refinery at Whiting, Ind., and that the Chicago Terminal Transfer railroad operates a switching road from Whiting across the state line into Illinois, intersecting the Alton at a station called Chappell, a short distance from Chicago, that there

FISH TRUST ALSO INDICTED IN CHICAGO

PRESIDENT MOFFAT IS APPROPRIATELY SORE

New York, Aug. 6.—President James A. Moffat, of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in a statement today in reference to the judgment of Judge Landis, pronounced in Chicago, asserted that the company is not even technically guilty.

STANDARD OIL TO THE CASE.

New York, Aug. 6.—The Standard Oil Company has filed an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals from the judgment of Judge Landis today.

Cleveland, Aug. 3.—John D. Rockefeller, upon learning of the fine imposed on Standard Oil to do with the case, had no comment, but he said he had no comment to make.

are three companies operating terminal roads from East St. Louis, Ill., across the Mississippi river to Chicago.

The Alton road is operated by the Chicago & Alton Railroad Company, which has a capital of $10,000,000.

The court then discussed the evidence in the case, and found that the defendant had violated the law by accepting rebates from the Alton railroad.

The court then reviewed its action in determining what corporation held the stock of the defendant Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

John Beal returned yesterday from a three weeks visit in South Dakota having bought a quarter section in Lyman county. He saw a number of ex-Wayneites. Pat O'Connell is working hard breaking prairie, Joe Baker is now bartering at Vivian and Geo. Dornberger has developed into a full fledged carpenter and is putting up buildings.
Editor Warren Clossen of the Randolph Reporter has been having some grievous experiences. He is now spending Ex-Editor Hammond for some $250, Hammond having collected that much more on subscription than the books indicated at the time he sold the plant to Clossen. Then, a few days ago, while Editor Clossen was out of the city his printer went out and collected over $100 worth of accounts and then skipped out with the coin. You ought to loan your surplus cash at interest, Warren, instead of keeping it in such easy accounts.
Prof. R. Durin has recently received something new and strikingly handsome in the line of tombstone materials. It is a rich, be-jeweled appearing granite from Sweden and Scotland. Several parties have already ordered memorials for the graves of their dead that includes a roll of this emerald granite and the combination with the base rock makes a decidedly artistic and beautiful effect. It takes about a year to get this material to Wayne after it has been ordered, so the professor tells the DEMOCRAT, and all of it is turned and polished in Scotland. While it may have a depressing effect on some people there is no more interesting subject than the varied formations of rock and granite, now used in monuments, furnishes, and there is no one more capable of doing the subject full justice than Prof. Durin. Call and see him before you are dead and he has to see about you.

D. A. Jones for Treasurer.
"Doc" Jones says he is out for the democratic nomination for county treasurer. Mr. Jones will come as near being "a live one" in the race as any democrat that could be found in the state. By next week the DEMOCRAT hopes to announce a full ticket and it will be a winner because it is a case of the office selecting the best man.

It may be alright for Judge Landis to get a little cheap notoriety by giving Standard Oil the limit, but it would be mighty hard on the people, who will pay the full fine if it is ever paid.

Chicago and Hell.
"Chicago is beyond all earthly comparison in the matter of wickedness. Chicago and hell are in a class by themselves."
So said the Rev. Dr. Broughton, a minister of Atlanta, speaking in New York. Following the two places first named, Paris is given third place and New York fourth. And after giving several of the world's largest cities their proper standing in the percentage table of wickedness, the reverend doctor goes on to suggest that the remedy is to "preach the literal word, the hell fire gospel."
If we may indulge in a little Latin that we used to get out of books when we were studying the elements of logic, there seems to be an example here of what the professors called argumentum ad hominem. That is, we note that when Dr. Broughton classed Chicago and that other place by themselves he was speaking in New York, right after the Chicago Nationals had trounced the New Yorkers and the populace of Gotham had engaged in a pop bottle fight with the captain of the Chicago team. We wouldn't try deny Chicago's right to be so classified, without a more complete knowledge of the other place mentioned, but would merely suggest that opinions are sometimes influenced by the immediate environment.
As to the remedy, wouldn't it be better to hold out the advantage of better life, rather than the fear of punishment, considering the circumstances? What horrors would the prospects of hell fire have for a Chicago citizen when it is advertised as being no worse than Chicago—merely a variation of the name? They seem to like Chicago—World Herald.

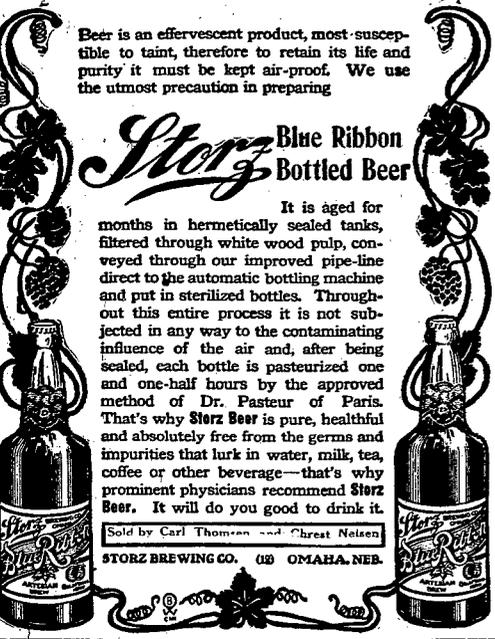

A wee girl sat by her mother's side
In the evening's fading glow,
Watching the flowing human tide
To its home-locked haven go.
Scanning with curious eyes the street,
As the motley current ran,
And I heard her childish treble sweet—
"Oh, see, there goes an old man!"
Then back from his visions I called my mind
And I looked around me to see,
Awake from my dreams of youth to find
That the sweet little girl meant me.

Thomas C. Platt, though still a member of the United States senate, finds himself, at the age of seventy-four, in the political scrapheap. It is the fate of all who make politics a business to reach the same terminal sooner or later. Senator Platt was one of the biggest political aces of timber in the state of New York. Today he is out of reckoning entirely. Nobody is interested in what he thinks or says, his home is broken up, and the gentle female who once would have pinched him for breach of promise feels no longer that his failure to come to the scratch was an over sight noticing.
Poor Thomas Platt—it is the way of all the world; he's had his day. The cup of power he feign would sip is his no more; he let it slip.
And now with many a senile frown He goes away back and sits down, A poor, forlorn, disheartened ham.
And no one gives a tinker's dam.
And such is fame, and such is power, It lasts a man for one short hour.
And then he drops from sight, for cause,
And no one knows he ever was,
O, ye who hunger now and then
To catch the wild applause of men;
To hold high office and all that,
And to be boss like Thomas Platt,
Look on this picture if you will
Of Samsom shorn of strength and skill
And, reading thus your own dread fate
Get out before it is too late.

PRECAUTION!

Beer is an effervescent product, most susceptible to taint, therefore to retain its life and purity it must be kept air-proof. We use the utmost precaution in preparing

Storz Blue Ribbon Bottled Beer

It is aged for months in hermetically sealed tanks, filtered through white wood pulp, conveyed through our improved pipe-line direct to the automatic bottling machine and put in sterilized bottles. Throughout this entire process it is not subjected in any way to the contaminating influence of the air and, after being sealed, each bottle is pasteurized one and one-half hours by the approved method of Dr. Pasteur of Paris. That's why Storz Beer is pure, healthful and absolutely free from the germs and impurities that lurk in water, milk, tea, coffee or other beverage—that's why prominent physicians recommend Storz Beer. It will do you good to drink it.

COMMENCEMENT

Sixteenth Annual Graduating Exercises of Nebraska Normal Being Held This Week.

Commencement exercises are over for 1907. The Normal has had 16 successful commencements, each of which seems to have surpassed all previous ones. To say that this one was a decided success is putting it mildly indeed. When President Giles plans a thing, you may know it goes systematically promptly and successfully. Of course, every teacher does well the teacher's part and every one on the program does the part only as training and thorough preparation can do. Ten different programs were given, two Sunday and two Alumni Day. Each one was enjoyed by a full house and pronounced excellent.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 2.

The annual contest of the Crescent and Philomathean literary societies always bring a crowd. However, as this came on the last night of the Chautauqua, the attendance was not as large as it would have been on some other evening. The Chapel was filled and members of each society came to cheer for their side and to turn loose their yell on receiving judges decision. Each performer stepped out with the confidence of a victor and his best. Your editor presided and was as anxious for the judges decision as was the audience. The program opened with a splendidly played duet by the Jeffrey sisters, Miss Evelyn and Miss Eleanor. They are as earnest in their music work as they are in the courses and their playing shows careful training and practice. Miss Robertson for the Crescents gave her essay which was strong in thought with perfect logical arrangement and a strong delivery. She possesses good stage appearance and was loudly applauded on leaving the stage. Miss Jessie Beechel appeared with the encouragement of the loyal Philos to read her essay "Kindness vs. Criticism;" she had thought out her points well and made a good impression. Both essays showed originality as well as re-search. The judges gave Miss Robertson the decision. The Philo oration by Wendel Nies was a strong production and showed that careful preparation which characterizes all of the young man's work. His delivery showed much improvement and all said "good" as he closed. A giant thinker in the person of Walter Power, took the floor for the Crescents. His subject "Federal Power" was well handled and called forth many favorable comments even from the Philo band of enthusiasts. Decision of the judges was anxiously awaited and as Mr. Powers was called as winner, the crowd cheered with great satisfaction. Each side expected the decision for the recitation. Miss Snyder represented the Crescents and Mr. Galbraith the Philos. Stage appearance of each was good. Both pieces were dramatic and rendition was of a high order. The judges favored Mr. Galbraith. Now comes the debate with Mr. Hueckberry up for the Philos and Mr. Borg for Crescents. The first speaker carried the audience well and all leaned forth to catch the force of the argument of each speaker. The subject was scarcely broad enough to give breadth to the discussion. It was a strong debate with the decision in favor of the Philos. The judges took several minutes to prepare the decision. The audience was entertained with a fine vocal solo by Mr. Reber and a beautiful piano solo by Miss de Groot. The Philos won by 4 per cent.

SATURDAY EVENING, AUGUST 3, OPERA HOUSE.

Miss Carroll with her elocution class gave a strong play "A Noble Sacrifice" to a good sized audience. The play was well put on and that can be said with emphasis in regard to everything Miss Carroll has done as the head of the Department of Elocution. She is a great worker and possesses initiative. All played their part well.

Gen. Mark Lester, a hero of the Cuban ten year war, E. E. Lundak, Pedro Mendez, his half brother, Joseph Chicoline, Dr. Garcia, surgeon of Madeline, Fay Abbott, Gilbert Hall, M. D., in love with Olive Glen Peters.

Robt. Glenn, Wall street banker, Eugene Hueckberry, Gregory Grimes, Lester's private secretary, Gomer Jones, Ebenzer, Glenn's butler, Wm. Blackstone, Olive and Sally, Glenn's daughters, Margaret Carroll and Etta Marsh, Marla, wife of Pedro, Etta Conover. During the evening the following music was given: "Sing me to Sleep," vocal solo, Edwin Greene and Margaret Snyder. "Alpine Horn," piano solo, Herman Schriener and Milly Schultz. "A Garden Matinee," piano solo, Rudolph Frimel and Eleanor Jeffrey. Vocal solo, Wilbur L. Campbell. The town people as well as the College pronounced this the best play ever put on by the department for the public. Miss Carroll played her part to perfection and her acting showed natural ability as well as hard study. Mr. Lundak had the leading part of the male characters. Every word and move of his seemed perfectly natural. To make the whole story short, the writer restates that each one played their part exceedingly well. The attendance was good; better than expected, as so many were tired out with a ten day Chautauqua attendance.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERVICES, SUNDAY, 3 P. M.

The people began to fill the Chapel by 2:30 and seats were nearly all occupied when Helen Pile began the grand march which signalled the entrance of the faculty who took places on the stage, followed by the 83 graduates who occupied the seats on the right of the aisle. This was the first appearance of the classes as a body with caps and gowns. The following program was carried out: Hymn, College Choir. Scripture Lesson, Rev. Ringer. Prayer, Rev. Smith. Hymn, 121, Chapel Hymnal. Announcement. "A prayer of Faith," vocal solo, Holden Ernest Reber. Sermon, Rev. Thos. Bithel, Norfolk. Hymn, 72, Chapel Hymnal. Benediction, Rev. Ringer.

Not many of the students were personally acquainted with Rev. Bithel but all had heard former students and faculty speak highly of him as a man and preacher. All were wide awake for a thoughtful sermon and not one went away disappointed. The text was from Numbers 14, 24th verse, and the impression lesson from it was logically and forcibly placed before the large audience. His strong closing address to the graduates was such as never to be forgotten by them.

A beautiful service of the Christian Association was held at 8 o'clock Sunday evening. The associations have done a grand work this year with their Sunday afternoon meetings, the Bible classes and prayer meetings. A goodly number were present and enjoyed the program as follows: Hymn 161, Chapel Hymnal. Scripture Reading, Neal B. Mack. Invocation. "Palm Branches," vocal solo, Jessie Maud Beechel. Y. M. C. A., Ernest E. Reber. Y. W. C. A., Maggie Kvalshaug. Music, College Choir. Address, Prof. E. P. Wilson. Hymn 38, Chapel Hymnal. Circle of Prayer. Association Hymn.

The address by Prof. Wilson was most practical and was full of the very best suggestions that no one could be so inattentive to a single word. The speaker always makes a fine talk but this was extra good and appropriate for the closing program of the associations for the year. He appropriates the value of high character and recognizes the helplessness of these organizations which go far towards producing a broad, fertile christian life. The music for the day was well prepared and enjoyed. Rev. Bithel made an eloquent short address which cheered the membership. His sermon with this and Tuesday morning Chapel talk made him a friend of every student.

The Oration Contest on Monday evening for the "Tucker Prize" brought out nine orators from the class members. Each oration showed thoughtful preparation and good magazine reading was very helpful for preparing for such a contest. No oration was narrow. The excellent drill from the work of the literary societies was appreciated by the contestants. The program was given in the order following, with Hon. A. A. Welch, C. L. Culler and E. R. Landburg as judges:

- Nettie Fern Sears, President of Teachers' Class, presiding officer.
- "Reveill du Lion," Piano Solo, (De Kontaki), Annie De Groot.
- Oration, Modern Idea of Missionaries, Amanuel Boshart.
- Oration, Child Labor, Joseph A. Chicoine.
- Oration, Educational Reform, A. N. Dugger.
- Oration, The New San Francisco, M. Eleanor Jeffrey.
- "Rattle His Bones Over the Stones," Vocal Solo, Wilbur L. Campbell.
- Oration, Temperance Reform, Elsie R. Robertson.
- Oration, A Coming World Peace, W. R. Schneider.
- Oration, The Immigration Problem, James J. Steele.
- Oration, Simplified Spelling, Matilda G. Sullivan.
- Oration, Money and Morals of Today, Ardilla Van Commett.
- Piano Solo, Veda Pilger.

Report of judges. The judges did not find the matter of picking a winner an easy task, but after careful grading decided that Miss Van Commett was entitled to the honor. The decision met the general approval of those most interested. Space will not permit a synopsis of the orations, but we assure our readers that nothing better was ever given by any N. N. C. class, and that is saying ever so much.

A recitation contest, when well prepared is always entertaining on account of variety. All the participants showed good self-control and apparently each expected the prize. No one showed mechanical preparation, but a large grasp of the subject was observed in every one. They got into the selections and spoke with splendid effect. Miss Hansen, who received a diploma from the music department played two fine selections, and was given most hearty applause. She deserves special credit as her musical education has been obtained while she kept up her teaching. She is a painstaking worker who knows no failure. Those on the program, as on the evening before, were representatives from the different graduating classes.

THE "MINES PRIZE" RECITATION CONTEST, TUESDAY, AUGUST 6, 3 P. M.

E. D. Dundak, President of the Scientific Class, Presiding officer. Piano Solo, Amy R. Hansen. My First Recital, Fay E. Abbott. Death-Bed of Benedict Arnold, W. C. Altig. Spartacus to the Gladiators at Capua, Etta Conover. Piano Solo, Amy R. Hansen.

The Soul of the Violin, Annie de Groot. The Gladiator, F. W. Suverkrubbe. Scene from the Last Days of Pompeii, Lois Willisie. The Gypsy Flower Girl, Lea Wolverton. Good-bye, Vocal Solo, (Tosti), E. Margaret Snyder. Report of judges.

No one was as good better than the others to risk a decided guess as to the winner. Perfect quiet reigned throughout the room, the hall and office, as the presiding officer arose and read the finding of the judges. Hearty congratulations were extended the successful one. Many compliments from visitors were heard as to preparation of the school to produce such a successful contest. Miss Conover was the winner.

Someone had nick-named the following program the "Gladiators Contest" and such it proved to be. The eight class members on this program were as strong as could be selected and every student expected two great debates and no one was disappointed. The breadth of discussion showed wide reading on the subjects. The perfect team work added to the success of the debate.

THE "CRAVEN PRIZE" DEBATE CONTEST, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 3 P. M.

Arthur E. Anderson, President of the Certificate Class, Presiding officer. "Die Lilie Des Thales," Piano Solo, Mabel Bruner.

Debate: "Resolved that the United States Should Retain the Philippine Islands Permanently." Affirmative, W. F. Richardson, Flora Maude Grothe. Negative, Wm. Scholten, R. V. Leinhart.

Vocal Solo, Jessie Maud Beechel. Debate: "Resolved, that the United States Army and Navy Should Be Increased."

Affirmative, E. D. Lundak, Irene A. Lemmon. Negative, Wilbur L. Campbell, Wm. H. Blackstone. "Silvery Thistle," Piano Solo, Evelyn Jeffrey. Report of judges.

When Empire Anderson called time, Richardson appeared at bat. He got a passed ball, a high fly and with a firm muscle got a hold and, while perspiration coupled with determination shown on his brow, a fair strike which looked to observers like a home run followed. Scholten arose and tried to prove that first man was entitled to no credit as he cut bases. He declared the referees must so conclude and he got a pass to first base; second was reached with some good work, and when he reached home plate, he said: "I have done it!" This game required a woman at bat and right well did she prove her place in the game. Two passed balls, two flies on the foul line and then a three-bagger with a home steal. We all cried out: "Good for the woman, she is all right!" Leinhart, the shortstop, came to bat with a smile and said, watch me do it with my little stick! One strike, two strikes, and then the ball went into the field and the runner reached home, and no coacher in sight. Richardson again appears and firmly asks that game be awarded to him and his lady partner, declaring it was the other team that jumped the bases and only touched a few high places in going the round.

The second team appeared with Mr. Lundak, the famous catcher and military leader, up. He is a hard batter in debate as well as on the ball ground, or as prize-winner at the head of the Scientific class. A mighty stroke won a home run amid great applause. Campbell, with his magnificent base voice, tried hard to convince his audience that he and his partner would get the best of the inning and showed up strong at each base. Miss Lemmon with splendid self-control appeared to claim her half did she hesitate to play strong ball. The umpire smiled and strong ball she would win. Blackstone, of judicial appearance as well as name, steps up with firmness and confidence to prove the other side ran outside of lines and cut third base. His plea was good. Lundak comes to bat again with that confident smile as if to say, "Watch me win the game." Strike one and he was off. Mr. Umpire called time.

Referees retired and soon returned with their decision which crowned Mr. Lundak and Miss Lemmon as the winners, they being a tie for the prize which was divided between them. Everybody shook hands with himself and every other body, and all went home and said: "Such is the war of intellectual giants."

The following program will be carried out tonight (Thursday.)

GRADUATING EXERCISES OF TEACHERS' AND SCIENTIFIC DEPARTMENTS. Wilbur L. Campbell, President of Classes, Presiding officer. Grand March, Helen M. Pile. Piano Duet, Misses DeGroot and Bufington. Invocation, Rev. Horn. Address, A. R. Davis. Vocal Solo, Mrs. Moler. Presentation of Diplomas, Pres. J. M. Pile.

Presentation of State Certificates, Pres. J. M. Pile. Grand March, Helen M. Pile. Awarding of $20 Prizes. "Vera," Piano Solo, Edward Holst. Eleanor Jeffrey. College Song. Benediction, Rev. Smith.

Do doubt this will be the most interesting program of the week. Tomorrow is the big Alumni Day when the College invites and expects every member of the association to attend and enjoy the good things provided. Chapel exercises begin at 9 o'clock. Various class members make short speeches. All lunch with President and Mrs. Pile. The afternoon basket ball, base ball and tennis games are open to the public. The banquet is at 6 o'clock in the new gymnasium with a menu prepared by Whalen. This week closes a glorious year for the Wayne Normal and prospects are for a better year beginning the first Monday in September. Our Normal has the best plant in the state and has this year passed all other Normals as to attendance and rank by the state examining board; the board passed all for state certificates and announced to the class that all matters here were best found in any school visited and this was the last of the 14 visited. If the Normal and city feels extra proud of the institution, it is both natural and proper.

Location of class members who have had experience in teaching: W. F. Richardson, Principal at Pilger; A. P. Borg, Principal at Allen; E. L. Nies, Principal at Hay Springs; W. F. Meyer, Principal at Harrison; E. D. Lundak, Principal at Verdigris; W. R. Schneider, Principal at Bellwood; Theodore Halla, Principal at Elba; Amanuel Boshart, Principal at Springview; E. C. McGee, Principal at Brunswick; W. H. Blackstone, Principal at Elsie; W. L. Campbell, Principal at Anselmo; E. J. Hueckberry, Principal at Merriman; L. G. Lockwood, Principal at Decatur. Ardilla Van Comett, High School, Central City; Emma Tripp, Intermediate, Hartington; Jessie Richardson, High School, Pilger; Emma Snyder, Intermediate, Ravenna; Sadie Burney, Primary, Hartington; Annie de Groot, Grammar, Emerson; Helen Willisie, Grammar, Ravenna; Reenie McKersie, Primary, St. James; Jessie Beechel, Intermediate, Magnet, Isabella Willisie, High School, Bellwood; Tillie Sullivan, Grammar, Bartley; Byrde Wales, Long Pine; Mattie Gifford, Primary, Inman; Hattie Shultzeis, 2d Primary, Cedar Rapids.

Got a Bad Man Here

Sheriff Malchow of Cumming county was a passenger west Tuesday night, having been out on an unsuccessful hunt for Jim Robley, a young man who made a villainous assault upon a thirteen-year-old girl at West Point last Sunday. Robley is of medium height and weight and carried a fur coat. The authorities are requested to take him where ever found and wire Sheriff Malchow.

Yesterday afternoon Irma Jastram, porter at the Boyd, excitedly told the DEMOCRAT man to call up Sheriff Mears, that Robley was here. The sheriff made a hurried trip down town and accompanied by Marshal Miner and a crowd of men went down the railroad track to the Smith & Harrington coal sheds where Robley was unloading coal. The stranger at first denied the accusation of the sheriff and went on shoveling coal, but a touch on the arm made him lay down the shovel. He was decidedly nervous and pulled at his thin mustache, the paleness of his face showing through the coal dust. The fellow was taken at once to the county jail and the first thing Sheriff Mears found in his pockets was a letter addressed to "J. E. Robley." A search of his room at the Gandy hotel brought the black fur coat to light, showing the man was a "blasted fool" as well as devil. It was by a mere chance that Mr. Jastram discovered the fellow. He had known Robley by sight at West Point four years ago, and yesterday as the branch train pulled into the yards he staid on the coach. The engine out loose and went over on the track by the coal sheds. Jastram walked across the tracks and Robley, who was shoveling coal out of a car, said "hello" to him. Recognizing the man Jastram turned his head, and beat a hasty retreat to the DEMOCRAT office and had us call up Sheriff Mears. The Omaha Bee of Monday gives the girl's name as Gardner, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Eliza Gardner, who lives six miles north of Beemer. Robley was working for a farmer named Chas. Behlers. Sheriff Malchow said Tuesday evening, while in Wayne, that he had been to see the victim and that the little girl was very badly hurt, and in a very bad condition while the Bee, evidently in error, states that she was unhurt, that her assailant failed to accomplish his dastardly purpose. Meister & Bluechel also knew of Robley at West Point and say he has a wife and several children, one son of age living at Dixon. The accused appears to fully realize his position, but why he staid in Wayne is a puzzle. He had paid a week's board at the hotel and the coal men say he was a hustler to handle coal.

Resolutions of Respect.

We, the undersigned committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect and sympathy to our late brother, respectfully submit the following: Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His divine providence to remove, by death, from our Fraternal Circle, our esteemed and beloved brother, Daniel Roush, and

Whereas, by his death, we feel that our circle has lost a steadfast and upright member, and his family have lost a generous, kind and beloved husband and father, therefore be it

Resolved, by this Fraternal Circle, That we regret the sudden death of our beloved brother and that we sympathize with his family in this, their time of trouble and affliction, and recommend them to our Heavenly Father, Who understands all and does all things for the best, and Who can comfort the broken hearts. Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our late brother, that they may be spread on the minutes on the lodge, and published in our home papers.

To weary, hearts, to mourning homes God's meekest angel gently comes. No power has he to banish pain. Or give our loved ones back again, And yet, in tenderest love, our dear And heavenly Father sends him here. O thou, who mourest on the way With longing for the close of day. He walks with thee, that angel kind, And gently whispers, Be resigned. Bear up, bear on, the end shall tell The dear Lord ordereth all things well. (H. C. HENNEY, Committee.) MARY J. RICHARDSON, JENNIE OLMS TED.

Death of Miss Kehrberg.

Death came very easily to Miss Bertha Kehrberg last Tuesday afternoon about five o'clock, though the poor woman had suffered greatly in the earlier stages of her sickness. The funeral took place this (Thursday) afternoon at the Baptist church, Rev. Parker Smith officiating, interment being in the Wayne cemetery. Deceased was forty-nine years of age. Her home was at Lemars, Iowa, but she has spent part of the past years with her sister, Mrs. Henry, in Wayne. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kehrberg, brother and sister-in-law, were here to attend the funeral.

Carroll on the Boom.

Carroll people are chock full of enthusiasm and excitement these days over her coming carnival August 22 and 23. A three-thousand dollar pavilion has been completed and about all arrangements made for the best and biggest ever put on in the town. Aside from this the people are feeling good and contented over getting their hotel into first-class hands. A. J. Allensworth, the new landlord, has renovated the building and is "setting a table" that pleases and satisfies the most exacting. The DEMOCRAT man ate dinner there Tuesday and got a meal good enough for any democrat.

The plan of the Carroll carnival was very successful last fall, and this year the citizens are redoubling their efforts and putting up money for entertainment as freely as the weather man gives us rain water. For more complete particulars see large posters. Every visitor to the Carroll carnival is a winner.

As Banker Arthur Tucker says: "Her thronging streets and the glimmering glitter of her electric lights" will dazzle human dare-devils into calm delight.

Just the Thing for Wakefield.

Wakefield Republican: The fellow who invented tablets to make beer out of certainly got his fortune. With these tablets one can carry a small sized brewery right in his vest pocket and when he gets thirsty all he will have to do is to get next to a hydrant and can fill up to his heart's content.

True To The Law.

We of the United States are in the habit of boasting of our freedom, and of the fact that we do not pay homage to kings, princes, or potentates, and most of us look with an eye of pity upon the people of Canada, who live under the flag of a King. We acknowledge no king in America, save only the law. But how shamefully we often treat our king. How small the respect we show our sovereign.

King Edward is the nominal king of Canada, and yet the real king is the law. And no people on earth are more loyal to the law than are the Canadian people in the United States it often happens that a man of great wealth snags his fingers in the face of the law, and laughs at the puny efforts of the agents of the law to reach him behind his bulwark of money. No man is permitted to escape the call of the law in Canada. Three weeks ago a millionaire who lives in New York was called as a witness in one of the courts of Canada. The law officers discovered that he had given false testimony, and procured a warrant for his arrest. The millionaire hired men to keep him concealed for two weeks, but the officers of the law kept close on his trail, and finally arrested him. Did the court give him a lecture, and let him go, as so often courts do in this republic of ours? Not much. The magistrate, after finding the rich man guilty, said to him: "We of Canada are as loyal to our laws as to our king. Perhaps you have a right to laugh at our king, but you cannot laugh at our laws without paying the penalty. Your lawyers have pleaded that I let you go with a money fine. I cannot do so. You are a very wealthy man. A money fine would not be a hardship upon you, because you would never miss the money. The proper place for you is in prison, where you will have opportunity to sit in silence and contemplate the great crime you committed against your God and against the laws of Canada when you gave the false testimony to this court." And then the court actually committed the millionaire to prison, and there he will remain for the term of his sentence, for there are no federal courts in Canada to set aside the laws of the land in order to favor men of great wealth.

In this connection The Telegram is not making unfair comparison between the laws of our republic and the laws of Canada. We have the best laws of any nation, but we are not true to our laws. Our object in this article is to call attention to our shameful treatment of our laws, as compared with their loyalty shown by Canadians to their laws. Some day the laws in the American states will be enforced against rich people the same as against men of moderate means, but such is not the case today. Every good citizen of every American state ought to be thankful that the Canadian judge had the courage to tell a millionaire that he was no larger than the law. It is a good precedent, if only we can find judges brave enough to recognize and follow that precedent.—Columbus Telegram.

WinSide News.

From The Tribune. There wasn't very many people left in town Sunday afternoon. Most everybody went to Wayne.

Two of Rev. Press' boys had a runaway Sunday and smashed up a buggy. The team got frightened at the train. The Chautauqua in Wayne draws quite a Winside delegation every day. They all come back home satisfied with the entertainment.

It is with regret that we learn that County Commissioner Cullen will not be a candidate for re-election, in spite of all the pressure that has been brought to bear upon him.

J. H. Prescott was inaugurated as manager of the Benson Grain Co.'s business in Winside this morning. He says he is to receive twenty dollars a month. At any price, Harry is a good man. Walrhil Times: C. E. McMasters, of Winside, was in town yesterday. The railroad company has not granted his elevator site as yet and there is some suspicion that he is being unjustly held off. His application for a site was filed before the Devergan people.

Dr. and Mrs. Cherry returned home Tuesday evening from their trip to Washington state. Mrs. Vreeland, Mrs. Cherry's sister, came back to Winside with them for a visit with relatives.

An immense crowd heard Tillman's speech in Wayne last Thursday and as usual he had it with him. He is not particular about the language he uses to beat it into the heads of the northerners that they don't know anything about the race question. They don't, and never will until they go down into South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, or Mississippi. Let a northerner go there, live a while, and he will hate a "nigger" worse than does a southerner. While Tillman appears very radical and the methods he would employ seem cruel and harsh, yet when all other remedies have failed as they have, there is nothing else to do but to turn to anything that will bring relief—relief to the women of the south who live in a state of fear and terror. The senator from South Carolina is a great help in the solution of the race question because he is brave and fearless enough to tell the truth. If to defend one's mother, sister, wife or daughter from the ravish of a black brute is anarchy, then Tillman is an anarchist. ANY MAN would be under the circumstances and glory in it.

It isn't simply that we sell Hart Schaffner and Marx clothes that you find it worth your while to buy your things here.

That's a pretty good reason, but there are others. We've a lot of other things that men wear, that are worth having, too. If you haven't found out that this store is headquarters for quality stuff, you've got something coming to you.

Come in; we're here all the time.

Carroll News.

From the Index.
The report that S. W. Williamson had gone blind is wrong and without foundation. The fact of the matter is he is getting along fine and has gained great relief.

George Nairn met with a painful accident yesterday morning while he was helping fix a hay rake. In some way his arm was entangled and the result was a fracture of one of the bones in the right wrist.

John Shannon returned home Tuesday evening from the cattle ranges in the western part of the state. He bought 500 head for delivery this fall. He says the feeders are in extra good condition this year, the season having been very favorable.

Carroll is to lose one of its most respected young men and his family, Lester Bellows has accepted a position with the Yedder Wall Paper house in Omaha. He will assume his duties September 1st. The first two months he will be on the road, after which he will take a position in the house. Mrs. Bellows and the baby will remain here until Lester is settled in Omaha.

W. L. Robinson, Henry and Ed. Trautwein, F. S. Battay, Frank Francis and J. W. Johnson put their heads and pocket books together the last of last week and bought the Carroll house, furniture and all. They immediately sold the furniture and rented the building to A. J. Allensworth, who will be the new landlord. The public have confidence in Mr and Mrs. Allensworth's ability to conduct an up-to-date hotel.
Chas. Beebe filed his papers on Wednesday and is now an active candidate for the office of county treasurer. If ever a man was fully qualified for a public office Charlie is for this one. His political opponents admire him for his admirable character and business ability. In this matter political faith should be forgotten as it was in the case of our fellow townsman, James Stanton, last fall. Regardless of politics every body in Deer Creek precinct should boost for Charlie.

Last Monday morning John W. Jones met with a serious accident. He was helping will Jones make hay. The wagon had been loaded and John mounted the load to drive to the barn. On the way the load was in some way upset, John going underneath. When he was hauled out he was covered with blood. He was taken to a doctor and an examination showed that his left ear was badly cut, his nose smashed some and one rib cracked. In all he was badly used up. He is now able to limp about the street.

Hoskins News.

From the Headlight.
Miss Myrtle is a sister to Fred Ziemer of this place and a daughter of John Ziemer, who moved from here to Oklahoma last fall.

Machinery with cog-wheels that run as easily as a cream separator are dangerous playthings for children. Parents should be more careful.

On Wednesday of this week, in far away Oklahoma occurs the marriage of Miss Myrtle Ziemer to a prosperous young farmer living near Cushing.

The little son of Martin Schwindt got a couple of his fingers mashed in the cog-wheels of a cream separator Tuesday evening. The little fellow was playing with the machine and got the fingers caught grinding them into a jelly.

At four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Deck occurred the marriage of their daughter, Ella, to Edward F. Moratz, a prosperous young farmer living east of town, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Moratz of our village.

Carl Wittenberg, Miss Alma Hockson, Herman Wittenberg and Ella Pheil took the early morning train for Wayne this morning and the two former were married, while the two latter went to learn how it was did. Judge Hunter tied the knot. They returned on the noon train and were met by a bunch of merry ric-throwers. The Headlight hastens to join their many friends in wishing the newly wedded couple much happiness in their new relation.

No Danger of Panic.

There is no danger of a panic. Those who are predicting it overlook the fact that the world's volume of money is increasing. Rising prices follow an increase in the currency and it is impossible to have a general panic when prices are rising. Of course, there will be re-adjustments in special cases speculation raises prices above the normal level but we may expect a steady increase in the level of prices and a continuation of prosperity as long as the volume of money increases more rapidly than population and business. The trouble is not with wealth production, but with distribution. The trusts are bleeding the public; the tariff barons are extorting from consumers and the railroads are overcharging patrons, but these things can be remedied now easier than ever before. The trusts can be dissolved and they will employ more people and sell more goods under competition; the tariff can be reduced and the wage roll and the output increased; railroad rates can be reduced and the patrons can use the money thus saved in buying what the manufacturers have to sell.

Now is the time to dissolve the trusts, reform the tariff and reduce railroad rates, and no threat of panic should scare the public.—Commoner.
