A GRAND OLD MAN

Sketch of the Life of J. M. Strahan Who Recently Passed Away at Malvern, Iowa.

(Malvern, Io., Leader)

This community received a terrible shock yesterday morning when it was reported that J. M. Strahan, one of Mills county's foremost citizens had dropped suddenly dead at his home in the north part of town. It seemed impossible to believe it at first for Mr. Strahan had been down town earlier in the morning riding his horse as usual and looking after business matters in his usual vigorous manner.

most liberal to subscribe. It is simply marvelous, the number of home enterprises and projects with which he had been connected.

James Miller Strahan was born November 17, 1829, in Putman county, Indiana, where he spent the first six years of his life. He then moved with his parents to Henderson county, Ill., where he resided until 1850, when he went to California spending three years on the Pacific coast. He then returned to Illinois and the following year made another trip to California taking a drove of cattle across the plains. He returned the following year and located in Marion county, Iowa, where he stayed for about ten years and then moved to Lucas county and from there in 1866 to Henderson county, Ill. He returned to Iowa in Schroeder home. She has been employed by the school board to teach the primary again next year.

The windmill on the August Weich farm, west of town, was struck by lightning Saturday night which totally destroyed the fans.

Rev. Gruber returned from Sioux City last night and reports that Arnold Phell underwent the operation successfully and is doing nicely.

The sooner the G. O. P. of Wayne county stops trying to win democratic votes by having a democratic editor as their spokesman, the better it will be for their party.

The lightning last Saturday night struck the grain stacks of August Drescher on the quarter east of the Hennessey farm and four were burned to the ground.

Bega may lose one of her regular Sunday callers on account of the young man having made a change of mind in the direction of Norfolk, at least his behavior Sunday evening points that way.

Wayne county politicians don't care to let people know they want the office, so the people should neglect them and get men up for office who are willing to ask for it. If it ain't worth asking for it ain't worth having.

One thousand dollars reward should be offered for the best name for the men who are capable of being democratic, popocratic, prohibition, republican, or socialistic. Ye Gods, come down and name them.

School will open again on Monday, September 2d, and the youth will have something to occupy his mind again. Three teachers, being one more than last year, and a new course of study, will greatly add to our educational facilities.

Eric Norling left Tuesday noon for Sioux City to re-enter the hospital. Since being hurt last spring he has been gradually regaining until about three weeks ago, when he began feeling quite badly again and now finds it necessary to go back for treatment.

The sham reform of the past few years is something astonishing. Go to the court dockets and you can find where the trusts have been fined immense sums, aggregating billions of dollars, but can you find where to exceed one tenth of these have ever been paid? The enforcement of our laws seems to be a sort of mockery, all because "we lawyers must stick together" like Lundburg and Wilbur.

A Self-Convicted Party.

Republican officialdom in Nebraska stands convicted out of its own mouth.

Eminent republican leaders charge Nebraska lost a half million of dollars in the Bartley bond suits because of the present chief justice of the supreme court, a republican. They sustain the charge by citations from dissenting opinions filed by democratic members of the court.

Other republican leaders, equally eminent, charge that the state lost because of flagrant and culpable mismanagement of the case on the part of republican attorneys general and their assistants. They sustain the charge by copious citations from the records and the law.

Eminent republican leaders charge that the state lost 85 thousand dollars rightly due it by the Lincoln Journal for pilfered supreme court reports, because of the conduct of the present chief justice of the supreme court, a republican, whom the Journal is supporting for re-election.

Other republican leaders, equally eminent, charge that the state lost because of the flagrant and culpable mismanagement of the case by a republican attorney general, whom the Journal immediately thereafter supported for, and helped elect, United States senator.

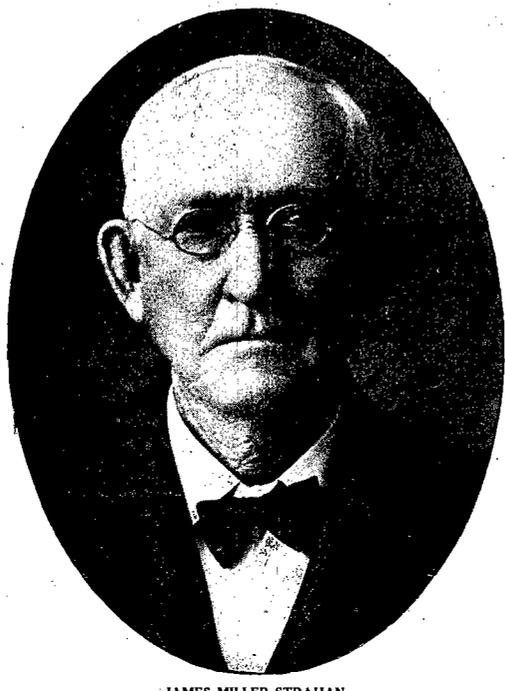

Eminent republican leaders charge that the present chief justice of the supreme court, a republican seeking re-election, is affiliated with and supported by the railroad interest of the state.

Other republican leaders, equally eminent, charge that the opposing republican candidate for the supreme bench was guilty of gross nepotism as a supreme judge in his previous term, and was rightly repudiated by the people on that account.

It is a nasty scandal in which to involve Nebraska's supreme court and department of justice. The case is the more pitiable since there is so much of the truth in all the charges.

And the end is not yet. Today we are treated to the disgraceful exhibition of the department of justice at war with the supreme court, and the state university, through its high officers, dragged into the noisome pool of disreputable politics. We are treated to the exhibition of the clerkship of the supreme court, with its rich "picking," being made the real bone of contention in an ostensible fight over the judgeship. We see the present clerk and official aspiring to succeed him directing the guns and fashioning the mud balls of their respective factions.

It is dirty politics and a black record. But some good will result if the facts as they are now brought out will open the eyes of Nebraska voters to the conditions that have been brought about by republican rule, and to the folly of hoping that republican rule will remedy them.—World-Herald.

JAMES MILLER STRAHAN

But the news was confirmed, as only too true, that Malvern's "Grand Old Man" and first citizen had passed to his reward. The facts were as follows: Mr. Strahan returned early Tuesday morning from Chicago where he has been with a large consignment of his cattle and although tired from his trip was apparently in his usual health which has been better the past year than for some time previous.

Yesterday morning he arose at his usual time and was cheerful and genial in his conversation as was his wont about the home. Mrs. Strahan and her sister Mrs. W. J. C. Smith and Miss Hazel Rumsey had planned to drive to Emerson to visit friends for the day and he urged them to get a good early start as the morning was cool and pleasant and so they started for Emerson. Afterwards he rode his horse down town to look after some business matters and chatted with friends he met and ordered some material from the Boston hardware for repairing the roof of his home. He then rode on up home and dismounted and talked to the men about the work telling them where to get a long ladder. He told Henry Meadows, who was working there, that he had felt a little faint in the morning, but was feeling better. Shortly after, he emerged from the scale house near, by and without any warning suddenly fell over backward. The men rushed to him, but he simply breathed a few times and all was over. Dr. Campbell was hurriedly summoned, but life was extinct when he reached him. The death occurred about eight o'clock a. m.

The terrible news was transmitted to Mrs. Strahan by telephone, reaching her just before she arrived at Hastings, and as might be expected, was an awful shock, for they had parted from him so shortly before in apparent good health.

In the death of Mr. Strahan, Iowa as well as Mills county loses one of her best citizens, a man honorable in every sense of the word and who was honored and respected by all who knew him. Few men indeed have done as much toward developing the resources of his chosen state and town and in building up a community and common wealth toward high ideals and general prosperity as has Mr. Strahan. While his family was first, after that came his home town and community and he was a leader in every movement toward anything for its betterment. He not only helped organize but was active in the promotion of and a leader in the subscription toward every enterprise that has been launched here during his life in this vicinity. Whether it was to build a church, establish a county fair, promote a Chautauqua, advance the Farmers Institute or corn show or help a brother in distress, Mr. Strahan was always one of the first and 1860 and the following year moved to Mills county where he bought a large tract of land in the vicinity of Malvern. Here he has ever since remained.

For a number of years he was in partnership with Jack Evans, now of Decorah, Ill., in the buying and feeding of cattle, a business he has followed the greater part of his life. Mr. Strahan's business rapidly expanded here and he became identified with all the heavy financial enterprises of the new town and county. He was a man of wonderful business sagacity and ability and always made a success of anything he went into. He was one of the founders and first stockholders of the First National Bank of Malvern, the heaviest banking institution of Mills county and has been instrumental in putting it upon the sound foundation which it has established. For many years he has been its president. He was also one of the early promoters of the Mills County Fair Association in which he has always taken a great interest. In addition to his Mills county business he branched out heavily in Wayne county, Nebr., where he has large land holdings and is also president of the First National Bank of Wayne.

In fact Mr. Strahan was ever a man who made his influence felt in his own and adjoining communities, standing firmly for what he considered right and just, and doing all in his power to promote every good work.

Mr. Strahan has been twice married. January 3, 1856, he was married to Miss Francis Davis, of Henderson county, Ill. To them were born five children, Francis E. who is one of the prominent citizens of Wayne, Nebr., Otis of this place, Mrs. Lucy Jones, Mrs. Luella Conger, and Mrs. Rosetta Larison, all of Wayne, Nebr. Mrs. Strahan died August 30, 1885, and February 24, 1889, he was married to Mrs. Mary Wheeler-Gullford of this county who survives him.

For more than 37 years Mr. Strahan has been a member of the Baptist church and was one of the early pioneers of the church at this place of which he has been a prominent member and official, always working for the advancement of its best interests. Mr. Strahan's death comes as a great loss to the county, the town and the church as well as the stricken family and we can all truly say that all Malvern mourns the death of this good man.

Character is as essential in a first-class piano as in a first-class man. The difference is in kind and not in degree. In its relation to the Piano, character means tone, the soul of the instrument; the one trait that gives it a distinct individuality. To win lasting approbation a piano must have this sort of character. If the tone be musical and sympathetic the effect is enduring because it appeals to an aesthetic sense that never tires of beauty in sound.

SCHOOL WHERE INDIANS ARE TRAINED ALONG INDUSTRIAL LINES

RIGGS' GOVERNMENT INSTITUTE, NEAR FLANDREAU, S. D.

Flandreau, S. D., Aug. 20.—Year by year the government Indian schools throughout the northwest and west are doing more important work in the building of the younger element of Indians of various tribes, and in fitting them to become self-supporting.

One of the most important of these schools is the Riggs' institute, a government Indian school situated near Flandreau, S. D. This school draws Indian pupils from all the states of the middle west, the northwest and from as far west as Montana.

Riggs' institute is located about one-half mile north of Flandreau and is one of the finest of the government schools for the development and education of the Indians to be found in all the west.

The Indian name of the river, Wak-pa-lin-kan, signifies its chief characteristic, a rapid current. It is a mile long and it doubles back almost upon itself, after waiting miles of fertile valley.

to attend church. As to which church is a matter of perfect freedom to the student. A large percentage attend the Catholic church, a number to the Episcopal church. In addition there are two Indian churches, one of which is an Episcopal and the other a Baptist.

A large number of the boys and girls speak the Sioux language. Among the students also are Chippewas and Ojibwas. The ancestors of many of these young Indian students were moving spirits in some of the bloody wars against the palefaces, and stay, for years, though desperately to win the tide of whites toward the west.

Superintendent Pierce, of the school, deserves a great credit for the progress the institution and its students have made during the time he has had charge of it. He has secured for the institution and its students have made during the time he has had charge of it. He has secured for the institution and its students have made during the time he has had charge of it.

South Dakota Sheriff Inclined to Think Mrs. Geo. Dotson Is Ringleader of Band.

Belle Fourche, S. D., Aug. 20.—Is a new wave of crime sweeping the real instigator of many of the crimes of horsestealing that have kept the officers and ranchers of this section of the state busy for months?

Sheriff Moses of Butte county, whose tireless efforts were successful in running down the gang of James J. Dotson and other leaders of the gang that is charged with preying upon four states in the west, has expressed his belief in the belief that she is.

The woman is Mrs. George Dotson, wife of George Dotson, who was arrested in Wyoming after a many weeks' chase. She has not yet been arrested, but the officers are endeavoring to connect her with some of the crimes in which there is evidence against her husband.

Among the ranchers has extended over two years. During all this time his wife has been his constant companion, and must, the officers believe, have been privy to his band's actions. She is a shrewd, crafty woman, raised among rough, western lawless men, and has the brains of the organization which has just been broken up through five arrests.

She is a sister of Ed Morgan, the first to be arrested, and on whose tip the officers were able to trace the other members of the gang. She is now "rustling" in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan. Part of the time she has been in the company of her son, the latter's partner, whom Morgan also implicated.

George is at present at Sundance, over the Wyoming line, where her husband is now in jail pending his trial for many alleged thefts of valuable animals.

subject to the will of the Republican Voters of Wayne County.

AUGUST ZIEMER.

I have, at the solicitation of my friends in Chapin and Garfield precincts consented to become a candidate, before the Republican primaries, for the nomination for County Commissioner of the 3d commissioner district. These precincts have never had a commissioner and at this time feel that they are entitled to such recognition. I therefore, at this time, announce myself as a candidate for such nomination and join with the republicans of Chapin and Garfield precincts in asking for the support of the Republicans of the 3d commissioner district, at the primaries September 3d.

If nominated and elected, I pledge myself to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

Respectfully,
GEORGE S. FARRAN.

Although the primary law says there shall be but one set of poll books at the primary election, the secretary of state has written County Clerk Reynolds that there shall be five, the socialists a red covered book, prohibition white, republican blue, democratic green and the people's independent yellow. 'Rah for the yellow, may the republicans be blue, but let no democrat be green with envy of the white.

One of the very best of the State Fair features last year was the race between the guileless pacer, "Dr. Tom," and the guideless trotter, "Suzanna." To witness the intelligence of two horses, who perform like a piece of machinery, without the aid or assistance of sulky or driver, is marvelous. These horses have records of 2:08½ and 2:10½ respectively, and they are engaged again for the 1907 fair.

A report has reached us that Rev. G. B. Warren, for the past year the popular pastor of the Methodist church here, has received an invitation to change his field of labor. Norfolk and Wayne have each asked that he come and occupy the pulpit of that church. Mr. Warren is as yet undecided which to accept and has left his location to the presiding elder of this district. Should he decide to leave Randolph, there will be universal regret as he has proven to be very popular and efficient pastor and one who is universally liked. We will be sorry to lose him but will congratulate any who secure him as a worker in that city.—Randolph Reporter.

There seem to be a great diversity of opinion as to the plan of the primary law. For instance in the nomination of a district judge the ballot will read "vote for one," and yet A. A. Welch's name goes on twice, to fill vacancy and for the regular term. Also in case of W. C. Rogers who filed for the nomination of state regent to fill vacancy. Legal minds are also at sea as to whether or not names may be written on the primary ballots for parties who did not file for such office. It is likely an opinion on the latter proposition will be secured from the supreme court, and it does not look reasonable to believe the court can hold otherwise than candidates may secure a nomination in that manner, instead of by petition.

Cost Us Ten.

Dr. Caldwell, the noted specialist, did not show up in Wayne last week and probably never will again. The only wonder is that she was able to make Wayne so many years in the past.—WAYNE DEMOCRAT. The doctor cut Humphrey off her visiting list several months ago. No suckers here except the Democrat editor who was buncoed out of $8.00 worth of advertising by the fair doctor. Other editors in the state are running her advertising and we would like to ask how they are collecting their pay for same.—Humphrey Democrat.

And He Climbed.

Governor Sheldon has declared himself in favor of Judge Reese for supreme judge. Wonder if the press bureau had anything to do with the governor's decision?—Shelton Clipper.

Certainly the press bureau had something to do with the governor's decision. Governor Sheldon has the senatorial itch. He knows by the record that the so-called "press bureau" is engaged in making United States senators. He knows the "press bureau" made a senator out of Elmer Burkett, with the assistance of the Union Pacific-Northwestern machine. He knows Burkett could not have reached first base in the senatorial game without the aid of that "press bureau." Governor Sheldon knows that it was that same "press bureau," which took Norris Brown away from his job as railroad pass-distributor and sent him to Washington to guard railroad interests in the senate. Of course Governor Sheldon is aware that Reuben Schneider, president of the grain trust, felt very kind toward Norris Brown for going to sleep and letting the statute of limitations keep grain trust officials out of the penitentiary, and he knows that Reuben and the grain trust did their part in making a senator out of Brown. But the ambitious governor also knows that back behind Schneider and the grain trust stood the "press bureau" like a stone wall, and that without the aid of that "press bureau" Norris Brown had never won the crown. And that's how it comes that Sheldon is shouting for Reese. The "press bureau" demanded that he open his mouth and say things for Reese. He hesitated for awhile. Then the "press bureau" appointed Ross Hammond, private political secretary to Reuben Schneider, president of the grain trust, who is also a Reese boomer, to go to Sheldon and tell him that he must climb into the Reese band wagon instantly, or else bury his senatorial ambition. And the governor climbed.—Columbus Telegram.

Killion-Richardson.

On Wednesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Mary's church, occurred the marriage of Paul E. Killion, living southeast of Wayne and Miss Mary Richardson, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kearnes. Both parties are well known to most Wayne people, the young lady being a daughter of W. L. Richardson and for several years a popular teacher in Wayne and nearby counties. A reception was tendered the happy couple last evening at the home of the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Killion will make their home at Bonesteel, S. D., to which place the congratulations and well wishes of their many friends will follow them.

With Whom Is He Honest?

The entire lack of good faith that characterizes Henry Watterson's attitude toward Mr. Bryan has never been better disclosed than in Mr. Watterson's recent comment on Secretary Taft. Mr. Watterson pretends to be "personally friendly" to the Nebraskan and to be opposing him only for "his own good" and "for the good of the party." He is against him not because Mr. Bryan is not a good man, but because he "lacks availability." He lacks availability because he is too frank, too out-spoken. He has expressed himself too freely and openly on living questions, and so has alienated this man, offended that one and disgusted the other. Therefore, according to the Kentucky Colonel, he won't do; he can't be elected.

Very well. Let us see, then, how this disinterested, unprejudiced and proteanly friendly critic applies to his own doctrine in an opposition candidate—Mr. Taft. In his paper of August-13 he comments on republican protests against Taft's defining his position on the tariff. Republicans are afraid "he will be so unwise as to dwell upon the expediency of a tariff reduction." Says Col. Watterson, "In their view this would be terrible. It would hurt the party and weaken Taft as a political chief."

Now what does Col. Watterson think about it? Surely not that Taft should disregard the warning! Surely not that he should be frank and brave and honest with the voters! Surely not that! But just listen to the Wattersonian verdict:

Secretary Taft is one of those strong minded men who, being for a thing, do not hesitate to say so; therefore, being a tariff revisionist, his chances are that he is not apt to make any effort to conceal the fact. IT MAY WEAKEN HIM WITH THE PARTY MANAGERS, WHO LIKE TO SEE THE CAMPAIGN FUNDS ROLL IN, BUT THE PEOPLE—THE INDEPENDENT VOTERS WHO KNOW SOMETHING ABOUT THE EVILS OF THAT TARIFF, ARE LIKELY TO BE PLEASED.

Let us again!

It is a great trick of politicians nowadays to do what is technically known as "playing both ends against the middle." Now, if Mr. Taft could or would resort to the trick he might get the lofty and honorable fame of being a brilliant cunning and successful politician. To hear some folks talk nothing could be more splendid than to be a smooth politician, no matter what sort of public official a politician may be.

And listen again for the further we read into the "colonel" program for Taft the more heretical it becomes:

The trouble with Mr. Taft, however, is that he seems to be one of those peculiar persons who dare to prefer to be honest rather than shrewd—who would rather be a statesman than a politician.

Can it be that the Henry Watterson who wrote this is the same Henry Watterson who has been querulously scolding Mr. Bryan because he would be a politician rather than a statesman? Can this be the same Henry Watterson who would have Mr. Bryan shrewd rather than honest? Can this be the same Henry Watterson who is sorely aggrieved because Mr. Bryan will not be "cunning and smooth"?

Is it possible that this great Kentucky mentor of democracy would prefer a democratic leader little and cowardly and mean, while at the same time he commends, with every evidence of sincere and manly feeling, the frank and honest and courageous course for a republican leader?

If this is, indeed, the pitiful attitude of Editor Watterson of Kentucky, as it seems to be, there is no escaping the conclusion that, with one party or the other, he is not counseling in good faith. And the question naturally arises, Which party would he deceive? Or is he only a man driven, by some unguessed and hidden motive, into playing horse with his own convictions?—World-Herald.

Killed by the Cars.

A German farmer who lived in an old house top of the hill, this side of Emerson, was cut in two by the freight last night. He had been to Omaha for an operation and it is supposed he jumped off the train on the up-grade. The Bloomfield train crew found the pieces of his body this morning, on their run to Emerson.

Messrs Miller and Jones returned yesterday evening from Chicago where they had been to purchase their fall stock of millinery and dry goods.

Thos. Evans of Carroll, was a Wayne visitor yesterday.

Miss Sweet, who has been visiting the past few weeks at the Mitchell home, returned to her home in the east yesterday.

Miss Pearl Barley was a passenger east yesterday afternoon.

U. S. G. Young, of Carroll, was in Wayne yesterday morning.

Mrs. E. A. Johnson returned yesterday from her visit at Sholes.

Miss Gussie Scadden returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives at Blair.

John Kesterson and W. E. Bellows, of Carroll, passed through Wayne yesterday afternoon on their way to Wakefield.

John Wingert from Walling, Io., Joe Ritemeyer and Wm. Burger, of Carroll City, Iowa, are visiting at the wingert home in this city, having attended the funeral of John Wingert sr., at Randolph.

A few Wayne people are in Carroll today, but the big crowd will go tomorrow.

The DEMOCRAT man left town last Saturday, after making all arrangements to please our Wayne friends with at least two weeks of our absence. We got home last night, thus proving that after all the "little troubles" are what a fellow yearns for when forced to go without them. Like Eugene Field, we "never missed the water 'till the little sun-of-a-gun was left far away at home. With no definite destination in mind we met a jovial traveling man enroute to Sioux City, who incidentally remarked that he was going fishing Sunday morning at Spirit Lake. For eighteen years we have heard arguments on the best way to get to Okoboji from Wayne, but never heard that the trip could be made short of a whole day or a night spent on the road, and it may be worth something to know that by taking the 2:15 train from Wayne, the 4:00 o'clock train from Sioux City to Alton, close connections there with the Milwaukee east to Marathon, then a change to the Des Moines train that puts you down at Arnold's park where you can take a steamer to the Inn or Manhattan. The latter place is run by our old friends, the Sherwoods, and catches the more aristocratic and exclusive set, but the Inn is the more popular of the three resorts and was crowded, quite a few tourists there from this section. A great change in the past ten years is the "dryness" of these resorts. An old timer told us that years ago a great deal of case beer was shipped in, but it now was a rare exception, and in the dances and other amusements the change is a big improvement in the habits of the habitues of the lakes. Last our prohibition friends think they are responsible for this betterment we might add that there are plenty of saloons at Spirit Lake at one at Arnold's Park. If you want fishing don't go to these lakes, for even with the assistance of a $5-a-day expert you can't catch enough to feed a nursing babe; fish are as shy as democratic bait. The lakes are covered with gasoline launches, steamers and sail boats. C. A. Chace, who will be home with his family the first of next week, put in two days with a "battling" ten or fifteen miles, and not a "pittle" still fishing for bullheads and perch, of which our party caught three hundred one afternoon, being all there is of the sport. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tucker returned home Tuesday. They had guests at the Inn and said they were a splendid outing.

Ben Preston was an arrival from the west this afternoon.

R. Perzin and wife are home from Grand Island.

Charley Watson of Pierce was in Wayne today enroute to Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sweet and daughter, of Council Bluffs and Mr. and Mrs. John Beaton, of Sholes, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Noakes, also of Sholes were here to attend the Lauman-Sweet wedding. The DEMOCRAT is sorry to note that Elmer is again on crutches, due to an injury to his knee last fall.

A ball game between Carroll and Crofton yesterday resulted in a victory for the latter, score 3 and 0.

Misses Anna and Tena Heyer, of Winside, were the victims of a bad runaway the first of the week in which both were quite severely injured.

A Sweet Affair.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lauman assembled at the beautifully decorated home to witness the marriage of their daughter Nellie to Mr. Earle Sweet, last Wednesday, Aug. 21, 1907.

The ceremony took place at four p. m., the happy couple marching to the "arch" in company with Miss Effie Lauman and Mr. L. E. Peterson. Rev. F. Smith performed the nuptial ceremony, then an elaborate three-course wedding dinner was served. The bride was costumed in white silk and carried a bouquet of white carnations, and looked as lovely and handsome as accomplished brides ever appear. Mrs. Sweet is a Wayne county girl, grown from childhood at the farm near this city. She is a graduate of the N. N. C. and was a successful teacher of our schools. Mr. Sweet is a son of a prominent Council Bluffs attorney. They depart last evening for Norfolk and from there take a wedding trip. May their future days be to them as bright as appears their name to us.

Many handsome and useful gifts were presented the young couple, among them being—Sugar shell, Mildred Sweet, Omaha, Neb.; E. S. Auker, picture; Ethel Huff, hand-painted plate; Mr. and Mrs. Met Goodyear, berry spoon; cut glass berry dish, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hancock, Omaha; cream jaded, Ethel Brainard, Omaha; cut glass jelly dish, Grant Means and Luther Peterson; cream jaded, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pond, Marcus, Io.; silver tooth-pick holder, Mr. and Mrs. W. Riley, Mineral, Ill.; silver meat fork, Edna Kemp; set of fruit plates, Mrs. Roberts; silver meat fork, Mrs. E. Brainard, Omaha; ornamental vase, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams; berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee, Omaha; berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sheehan; clock, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kellogg; dresser scarf, Mr. and Mrs. Cleberg.

Sholes Chups.

Howard Porter lost a valuable horse last week. The horse in some way got tangled up in the wire fence and was badly cut about the hind legs. Blood poison set in and did its deadly work. Mr. Porter is having more than his share of bad luck, only last spring he lost a fine animal.

A three-year-old child of Bert Ralison fell from the barn last Saturday and was severely injured, one ear being almost torn from the head. At last reports it was getting along as well as could be expected.

While Homer Fitzsimmons and wife were out in the country last Saturday night, a sneak broke into their cellar and carried away three pounds of butter, but they were kind enough to return the jar that contained the butter on Sunday night.

Charles Carroll went to Sioux City Saturday on a "fox chase". Charley says it is no trouble to catch 'em while they are young, you just get 'em after they pass the age of thirty-five they get cunning.

Gus. Seelmeyer
Altona, Nebraska

Once upon a time I was denounced by the Lincoln State Journal as the wickedest editor in Nebraska, simply because I stated that, possibly Norris Brown might not be of divine origin in his official life, and that perhaps the Bartley bondsmen were offering silent prayers in behalf of an attorney general who was present at the death of final effort on part of the state of Nebraska to recover the Bartley stealings from the bondsmen. In view of the recent publications of the Roscoe Pound letter, and in view of the recent editorial utterance of the State Journal, I am taking new courage to believe that I was just about right in my estimate of the man who let the statute of limitations sleep long enough to permit the officers of the grain trust to keep themselves outside the penitentiary. I am thankful to Roscoe Pound and the Lincoln State Journal for their assistance in carrying to the country the conviction that when the railroad trust, Bartley bondsmen trust, and Nebraska grain trust see Norris Brown to Lincoln in an official capacity they will know in whom their own trust was placed, albeit the trusting has been to the everlasting shame of Nebraska and Nebraskans.—Columbus Telegram.

The telegraphers' union seems to have got some of its wires crossed. Some laborers are bound to have their own way if they never get a good job.

The Norfolk News asks if it wouldn't "make you mad to be bitten by a mad dog."

As this is a silly season, both the railroads and the people are expected to act foolish.

It is too bad we can't have the second Thaw trial while the wires are not working good.

A great many of the telegraph operators doubtless are now getting their living on "tick."

A shortage in the prune crop is reported, but it will not be discouraging to those who are full of them.

Loud cries are coming from the west for laborers. Why not cut the base ball season a little short Norfolk had a mad-dog scare Sunday. If I were dog and had to stay in Norfolk, it would make me mad, too.

John D. Rockefeller predicts "financial depression and financial chaos." Well, isn't that what the country needs?

Perhaps the telegraph companies will discover that they can get along without a lot of people they have been employing.

Z. M. Baird is going to start a third paper at Hartington. It is dead easy to start 'em. It is in the quitting a fellow gets his fingers burned.

How many fingers do you use in counting up the things that are cheaper since the trust busting was commenced?

What if Walter Wellman should start for the north pole while the telegraphers' strike is on, and we should fail to hear about it? Perish the thought!

In the federal court at Minneapolis a fine of $17,000 was assessed against a railroad and some of the papers have deemed a little thing like that worthy of mention.

The recent newspaper report that the Indians are acquiring the divorce habit rather disapproves the theory that they can never become fitting members of high society.

It is announced that the president will keep out of the telegraphers' strike. Possibly he hasn't made up his mind whether the strikers are "desirable" or "undesirable."

A San Francisco newspaper offered a prize to the best answer to the question: "When is a man intoxicated?" The prize was won by the man who replied: "When he kisses the bartender goodnight."

Most of the talk about increased cost of living is bosh. There are comparatively few things that are dearer than they were a number of years ago. It has increased extravagance that makes living more expensive.

The Sioux City News claims that two cent fare has increased the number of marriages in Sioux City. It is reasonable to suppose that it will also increase the number of divorces—somewhere.

That anti-lunch ordinance passed in Sioux City at the request of the saloon keepers has already become a joke and by fair time the saloons will all be dishing up a lot of stuff that will help make that dark brown taste in the morning.

And now some scientist has discovered that champagne is hard on the eyesight. Sometimes the scientists tell us new ones—and sometimes they don't. Who doesn't know that champagne affects the eyesight, sometimes to the extent of doubling the visible objects?

Among the latest society fads is a "white elephant" party. Every guest is expected to take something that is of no use. It is said that unlooked for developments broke up a party in a Missouri town the other night—of the nineteen women present eleven brought their husbands.

Vain men are like roosters who crow and who shriek. While the hens lay the eggs and do all of the work; And roosters, like men think they must govern the rest— That their sisters are only lay members, at best. —Puck

And now it has developed that the great telegraphers' strike now sweeping the country was caused by a non-union lady operator at Oakland, Cal., using the Morse code in calling a Los Angeles-union operator a liar. She would have saved a lot of trouble by saying "to this face."

marry the cook, you married the cook's accomplished and beautiful young daughter and you wouldn't trade back right now if you had a chance. More than that, you would be mighty sore in twenty years from now, if some son of a gut came around your place and tried to steal the "cook" you wife probably knows as much about being a good housewife as you know about being a good husband and in twenty years from now she will have you beat a mile.

The following story was written by a boy of nine, and was headed, "Virtue Has Its Own Reward." "A poor young man fell in love with the daughter of a rich lady who kept a candy shop. The poor young man could not marry the rich candy-lady's daughter because he had not money enough to buy furniture. A wicked man offered to give the young man twenty-five dollars if he would become a drunkard. The young man wanted the money very much, so he could marry the rich candy-lady's daughter, but when he got to the saloon he turned to the wicked man and said: 'I will not become a drunkard, even for great riches.' And as he turned around to go home he saw lying on the sidewalk a pocketbook containing a million dollars in gold. Then the young lady consented to marry him. They had a beautiful wedding, and the next day they had twins."

New Life at Frisco.

Never in the history of the town of Frisco have the prospects for a boom in mining looked as bright as they do right now. For the past 30 years thrifty but poor miners and prospectors have dug around on the surface of the mountains in this locality hoping to unearth a pocket of "solid gold." In many instances ore shoots have been encountered in the large outcrops, the returns from which, after deducting freight rates, have netted the hardy miners handsome profits per ton. The optimistic miner instead of using the proceeds of his find in sinking shafts to and below the water level, honestly but foolishly put his money all back in the ground burrowing around among the grass-roots with the vain hope of encountering more rich ore shoots. The situation has now, however, entirely changed. Good, substantial companies, with able management, backed by eastern capital, now have hold of the best properties, and it is the policy of the management of each to "get down into the bowles of old mother earth" and rob her of the wealth she has so long kept hidden.

Mining experts and geologists predict wonderful things for the Frisco mining district whenever depth is attained on the numerous veins so plainly exposed on the surface on Royal, Wichita, Chief, Buffalo, and Ophir mountains.

Silvanite float, assaying 189 ounces of gold to the ton, has been found on Royal mountain, but the vein is not exposed on the surface. The company opening up of this vein of $3,500 ore will truly be in luck, and its stockholders will become rich in a single day.

In days gone by, when every man was for himself, there existed a feeling of animosity, and every person had "his hammer out" knocking his neighbor. It is entirely different now; that narrow mindedness has all disappeared, and the "boosting fever" seems to have everybody in its grasp, and everyone realizes that the success of one means the success of all.

The coming summer promises to be the very best in the history of the camp. Plans are being prepared for work on a large scale, and hundreds of thousands of eastern capital are being gathered together to practically and expeditiously carry on the work of developing the properties here into what promises to make mines second to none in the state.

Numerous mining men from the large, developed mining camps, who used to turn their noses up at the mention of Frisco mines, take an entirely different view of the situation just now, and many of them are sorry they did not take advantage of the opportunities offered them for investment on the ground floor.

All eyes are turning to Frisco, and many predict that its mines will some day be world famous, and in consequence thereof the town will eventually be the Mecca of this wonderful Rocky Mountain mining region.—Breckenridge Bulletin.

Thursday, September 5th, 1907, is the date fixed for holding "The Pioneers and Old Settlers Picnic," of Wayne county, Nebraska, at Bressler's grove, one mile northwest of Wayne, Nebraska.

A day of recreation, reminiscence, education and rest. A day when pioneers and old settlers talk heart to heart, and tell of by-gones, the pleasures of the present, and the hopes for the future greatness of Wayne county, Nebraska. In a little while "the all-beholding sun in all its greatness" will look no more on the pioneers of Wayne county, who moved the first swath or plowed the first furrow, and the younger generation and settlers will do well to attend this meeting and take counsel, and listen to the song and the story of the few who can yet tell from practical experience the history and hardships of early pioneering.

In union there is strength, and in co-operation success, and it is the wish and earnest desire of the management selected by the Association that everybody constitutes himself or herself a committee of one to take an active part, and by their presence at this meeting, with a picnic basket filled with pumpkin pie and fun, add to the effort to make this the most memorable and long to be remembered gathering ever held by the pioneers of Wayne county.

Citizens throughout the state and adjoining states are cordially invited to come and commune with us. A good program is prepared.

Last week we advertised a few odd suits in men's sizes, which we would burn if not sold. There were just seventeen of these suits and they were all gone by Tuesday noon, so there are none left to burn. The people of Wayne county have learned that when the 2 Johns advertise a bargain they get a bargain.

23! Skidoo!

For the next week we have 28 odd suits in boys' and youths' long pants suits, values that range from $5 to $10 which will be closed out at $3 per suit and 21 boys' knee pants suits, former price was from $2 to $4.75—they go while they last at $1. Remember it is but one week until school will start and one of these suits will make your boy a splendid school suit.

We also have some boys' shirts which are leavings from different lots in 50c and 65c shirts. We will clean these up at 25c

Now just consider the small amount on which you can dress up your boy to start to school:

Suit	1 00
Shirt	25
Cap	25
	$1 50

And your boy is ready to go to school. Come in and let us show you these bargains. They won't last long.

J. H. Foster went to Omaha Saturday to see if he could hustle up the finishing materials for the Strahan and McVicker residences.
Mrs. Ball was an arrival in Wayne last Friday from the west where she has a claim. She left again Saturday morning to buy a stock of fall millinery.
Chas Beebe and J. W. Johnson, of Carroll, were in Wayne the last of the week in the interest of the carnival and stock show at that place this week.
Fred Von Seggern, formerly of Hooper, was in Wayne last week. He has bought an elevator at Gregory, S. D., and will also run a lumber yard there.
Mesdames L. Gildersleeve and Harry Craven were passengers via Omaha for Fullerton, called there by the illness of their mother, Mrs. Ed. Reynolds.
If you want to see Daniel's comet, get up early in the morning of Sept 3. It will then be brightest to the earth, being only 47,000,000 miles from the sun.
Quite a number of Wayne sports took in the ball game at Emerson Sunday. The game was between Wakefield and Homer, the latter winning, score of 7 to 3.
The D. A. Jones, F. E. Strahan and June Conger families came home from Malvern, Iowa, Saturday and Sunday where they had been attending the funeral of J. M. Strahan.

Perhaps the best concert ever given by the Wayne Commercial Club band was put on at Winside on last Friday evening. The entertainment was very poorly attended, the audience (inside the hall) being a very small one. The after dance was a good one and enjoyed by all.

Claude Stinson returned to Wayne Monday and had only been in town a short time when Marshal Miner found it necessary to take him in charge, and he was placed in the city bastille from which he escaped a couple of years ago, since which time he has not been heard from until this week.
The DEMOCRAT is in receipt of a fine "Steele" engraving, a portrait of a bunch of cattle, sold by Geo. Bush & Son of Wayne at the Sioux City stock yards. The picture includes Tom Steele, whose firm sold the cattle to the big price of $870, weight being 1540 lbs. This was the best bunch of heaves sold in Sioux City since 1902, as to price and weight.
Randolph Reporter: Randolph was the loser last week. Dallas G. Taylor, for some time past employed in the First National Bank has resigned his position and has purchased a half interest in the abstract business of I. W. Alter, of Wayne. Dallas is well known here and numbers his friends by the score and they all join in wishing him success in his new location.
Savage, the millionaire owner of the great Dan Patch, king of pacers, and Creceus, king of trotters, must think pretty well of the Interstate Live Stock Fair at Sioux City when he will send these priceless animals there every year. They will be at the Interstate Fair again this year and, in addition to this, Mr. Savage is hanging up a purse of $5,000 for a 2:12 pace.
The Wayne band boys were up against it in Winside last Friday night in more ways than one. Not having secured accommodations in advance and the hotels being crowded when they arrived in town, they were compelled after the entertainment to stand around the streets or do the "Happy Holligan" stunt in the park until the arrival of the early morning freight which they flagged and boarded for Wayne.
The Interstate Live Stock Fair, which is held every September at Woodland Park, Sioux City, is growing better each succeeding year. This year the Association which conducts this fair is offering for purses and premiums the largest sum available amount of $50,000 in purses. Only the state fairs of Minnesota and Wisconsin are offering so large an amount of money in purses.
