BLAME LAID ON THE COURTS.

Postmaster Burke Defends Lunch Law.

BANCROFT, Neb., Aug. 28.—To the Editor of The State Journal: Your editorial in today's Journal "Punish the Lynchers," was surely an unjust criticism, we believe we have just as great a per cent of law abiding citizens as Lincoln or any other town in Nebraska. We may be slow to become thoroughly aroused but when the supreme court has the right to set aside the verdict of a jury at will, when the warden of the penitentiary who is unalterably opposed to capital punishment, has the right to name a jury to try a criminal who has received the death sentence, on the insanity dodge and that jury takes the evidence of convicts rather than that of experts or professional men when a supreme judge has the right to grant a stay of execution to each of these criminals in order that they may parley for a new trial; when a district court can start a murder trial end in an insanity commission, send the accused to an insane asylum and after a short stay be turned out a free man—yes a hero; if a man known to have committed two murders in recent years, by a little acting up can be sent to an insane asylum without ever being arraigned for murder what chance is there in Nebraska for hanging a man even though he committed one of the most dastardly crimes known to man. Will the editor of The Journal look up the record and inform us how many persons have been sentenced to death during Warden Beemer's time also the number that were hung by him?

Murdering an innocent man and wife, leaving their dead bodies for the swine to devour and seven little children to battle with a cold, hard world, returning to the house, assaulting a thirteen year old girl, remaining with her for hours, then the press comes to the rescue and "Punish the Lynchers." Yellow journalism works sometimes, but it won't go here, if we can get prosecution anywhere from a justice to the supreme court or a warden whom we pay we can and will protect ourselves. I have been in the same office eleven years and generally know what is going on, within a block of the depot, stood on the platform until the train began to slow down when I returned to the office to lock out the southbound mail, just as innocent of any knowledge of the lynching as The Journal editor 125 miles away; yet the press would have us believe every man, woman and child knew all about it.

I have just interviewed a number of our best citizens and not one word of condemnation was uttered even by ministers about what had been done. We deplore it and regret that it was forced upon the community but now that it is finished we stand together and say "the murderer got no more than he deserved" and just as long as we are compelled to put up with the present condition of things we are bound to protect our homes. The recent action of Judge Sedgwick will tell for itself when the votes are counted at the primary here.

The people have simply lost confidence in the ability or unwillingness in our law enforcing body to do their duty, much worse they aid in blocking what the law left alone would accomplish. I realize that an investigation might be started but what would be accomplished? Our courts dare not punish a man for doing what the court failed to do and then allow criminals to run almost at liberty.

If The Journal will devote its columns toward the enforcement of the criminal law and those whose duty it is to carry out a sentence once pronounced instead of agitating an action against an unfortunate community some good might result. Very respectfully,
E. J. BERKE
—State Journal.

Mrs. John Schalmus.

Mrs. John Schalmus died at her home in College addition last Thursday morning, after a year or two of acute suffering from dropsy. Mr. Schalmus says that at 4 o'clock a. m. his wife called him from a cot, upon which he slept, to fix a chair for her, saying she was tired lying down and wanted no rest in a chair. He did so and then she asked that he cover her feet better, they were cold. At six o'clock Mr. Schalmus awoke and noting, as he thought, his wife sleeping, he kept very quiet. At seven he thought her head did not rest comfortably and in going to her side discovered that she slept the sleep that knows no waking. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church at ten o'clock Saturday morning, Father Kearns officiating, and a large number of friends of the family paying a last tribute, by their presence, to one of the best of wives and mothers.

One season she operated a mowing machine with a big haying gang. She and Mr. Blacke doing all the cutting.

The Fair Association has made arrangement with J. H. Kate, President of the X-Ray Incubator Company of Wayne, Neb., to make an address on Fair Grounds at 2 o'clock the last day of the Fair. Mr. Kate is an expert poultryman and is an interesting speaker. His description of the care of the Old Hen is very amusing and yet instructive. If you are afraid to laugh, don't go and hear Mr. Kate discuss the Old Hen. This will be an instructive feature of the Fair this year and you can't afford to miss it.—Wisner Chronicle.

Norfolk Press: The lynching of Murderer Higgins, while an act to be deplored by every man who loves law and order, is the natural outcome of the lax administration of justice. The surest preventive of crime is the certainty of punishment adequate to the crime committed. Anything less leads to anarchy and contempt for the law and the courts. The spectacle of a young man in an adjoining county who had brutally murdered his sweetheart acquitted on the ground of insanity, then sent to the insane asylum and in three months discharged as a man who had never been insane, no doubt furnished the inspiration for the lynching of Higgins and will be the excuse on which the lynching will be condoned. This condition of affairs is a menace to the peace and safety of the state, and the condition can only be met by the enforcement of the law and the administration of speedy justice by the courts.

BY DAD

Fruit is rather high this year, and there'll not be much for the poor, I fear. The lucky wives of millionaires will put up peaches and pickle pears, but most of us, denied these boons, will pass the winter full of prunes.

Sunday was the first day of the first month having a "4" in it, but the president failed to butt in and issue a proclamation announcing the opening of the oyster season.

Monday was Labor day. It should have been Sunday, but nobody but the editor wanted to labor that day. The Greeks began their year in September. Our Labor day was their New Year's day. They did this because their families spent the summers at the sea shore and at sundry other resorts at considerable expense, while the man played poker at home at considerable more expense. This left the Greeks badly in the hole or the "kitty," and the only way they could get out was to have the new year begin September 1st and swear off drinking and smoking and playing the slot machine at that time. This enabled them to save in September what we save in January and was a much better plan than ours.

There are a lot of you people who will soon be cut off from immortal salvation if you don't cough up a "cart." For this DEMOCRAT is going to guillotine a few, and make ready for some others who pay up when it is due. So if you want the DEMOCRAT to "come right along," you'd better pay attention to this "ere little song, and send us in spontaneous pay for what you've got, and a dollar more on top of that to keep us from "due" rot.

A fellow back east has started in on a good-sized grafting expedition. He proposes to raise two billion dollars for the purpose of evangelizing the world. Let's all join in singing, "Salvation's Free for You and Me."

You hear the gentle clatter of that bell!

You remember what it used to mean to you,
You think about the girls, the boys and then,
You'll remember you are now an old "has been."

It used to "seem" it rang for only us,
And we would always be the ones "its calling,"
But what a different story it now tells,
Since "evening" long has taken place of "morning."

Walter Wellman will take along 1,400 pounds of provision on his trip to the pole. That will make a nice lunch for the polar bears.

The DEMOCRAT force over-looked a bet Aug. 22d and neglected to put a copy of the sheet on file, the demand exhausting the entire supply, which frequently happens in this shop. Last week, by dad, I made a personal carvas of Main street in search of a copy. On every hand the same answer was met, "took it home," "woman got it," "hotels: 'girls got it.'" Finally at Al Sherbaha's, where the residence and laundry are in the same building, we found an issue of the sheet, but even here the d—d dog was using it—for a bed.

If it hadn't been for old Mother Eve nibbling at the apples we wouldn't have to wear pants and things this hot weather.

Robt. Mellor received a letter last Saturday morning that came all the way from Idaho, and had no stamp on it, a peculiar incident and probably the first time Uncle Sam's employees ever over-looked a couple of cents. The epistle was from Eph Cunningham, who will hereafter have to trot in Senator Burkett's class.

Sheriff Mears says that if any more people of Wayne county want to go crazy he hopes they will call on him during daylight. Last Monday he was out all night, and it frequently happens that his midnight slumber is badly broken up, all for thirty cents or less.

Last Thursday morning I saw a woman going to the train just ten minutes late, cars were late also, but she had to run two blocks and climb on at the water tank. Friday morning I saw a woman going to the depot, arriving there at exactly seven o'clock, to go away on the 7:30. These were two of the brightest and best ladies of Wayne, and it proves that when it comes to going anywhere a woman is never in it. But why worry our lives away over the dear things!

Bailey, of Britt, says: "We can name a dozen people who always have money to 'chip in on a keg' and go into a beer drinking carousal who can't get money enough to pay for a newspaper for a year, or at least say they can't, and they are not the fellows that you think they are either. A published list would make interesting reading."

The president has been asked to butt in to Monte Carlo. That's where strenuous Teddy could see his finish.

Whiskey plays some queer pranks. At Sioux City last week a man drank carboic acid, mistaking it for whiskey and died a horrible death. Had he then drank whiskey as an antidote it would have saved his life. Another man was butted off the railroad track by a train and escaped without a scratch, the verdict being that he was so full of whiskey the engine had no effect on him.

Beer is an effervescent product, most susceptible to taint, therefore to retain its life and purity it must be kept air-proof. We use the utmost precaution in preparing

Storz Blue Ribbon Bottled Beer

It is aged for months in hermetically sealed tanks, filtered through white wood pulp, conveyed through our improved pipe-line direct to the automatic bottling machine and put in sterilized bottles. Through-out this entire process it is not subjected in any way to the contaminating influence of the air and, after being sealed, each bottle is pasteurized one and one-half hours by the approved method of Dr. Pasteur of Paris. That's why Storz Beer is pure, healthful and absolutely free from the germs and impurities that lurk in water, milk, tea, coffee or other beverage—that's why prominent physicians recommend Storz Beer. It will do you good to drink it.

Correct Shapes

In The New Fall Hats.

If you have not yet discarded your straw hat, do so at once, as it is decidedly out of place. It is the season of the year to buy the new fall shape in the HAWES $3.00 Hat, the BEST $3.00 hat on the market, and the styles are always one season in advance of the western makes. The favored style this season for the young man will be the new Telescope, in small, natty shapes, low crowns, with 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 inch brims. Also the new drop crown, in small shapes, in black, tan, pearl and nutria colors. The new fall block in stiff hats are somewhat lower but full shape crowns, and brims a little narrower. We have all the new fall shapes to show you.

Why not stir up the railroad company and get a Sunday morning train from Sioux City to Norfolk? If all the towns on this line would go after it and couldn't induce the railroad to give us an absolutely necessary service—that would pay the railroad undoubtedly good dividends—then get the farmers and townspeople interested in an electric line. May look foolish but such a scheme is decidedly feasible and it will only be a few years before something of that kind happens whether the C. St. P. M. & O. runs a Sunday train or not. In the meantime let the Commercial club in this and business men of the other main line villages get up a monster petition for a Sunday train. Why not take it up at once and do SOMETHING?

Teachers' Institute
The lecture by Mr. Jolly of Joliet on "The Jolly Side of Life" Monday evening was largely attended and proved to be a rare treat. Mr. Jolly gives out wholesome philosophy in sugar-coated form and his word painting such as that of the San Francisco are exceedingly brilliant pieces of work. He is excellent also in his rendition of some of Riley's poems.
For the great success of the institute much credit is due to Prof. and Mrs. Littell, the former in his organization and attention to details of the institute and in his thoughtful and courteous treatment of those in attendance, and the latter for her musical and clerical assistance. Littell may fairly be counted a hummer when it comes to making the school interests of the county go.
The teachers' institute closed last Friday, the total enrollment for the week having reached 110. The interest and enthusiasm so marked in the outset continued with increased manifestation till they reached the closing hours of the session.
The regular program was followed Friday forenoon, but in the afternoon the program was changed to make it possible for Miss Phillips to depart on the afternoon train. Following her work before the general session of the teachers at the one o'clock hour, which consisted of a summing up of her talks on primary subjects, the committee on resolutions thru its chairman Prof. Robinson, reported the resolutions appended below, the resolution being received and adopted amid enthusiastic applause.

Instead of the usual physical culture exercises the body of teachers accompanying Miss Phillips to the train, wishing her a pleasant journey to her Iowa home and many returns to Wayne.
On re-assembling at the court house the subject of county geography was taken up by Prof. Gregg. An interesting exercise here consisted in piling up the precinct ballot boxes. The whole exhibiting a precinct map of Wayne county. It developed that many of the teachers had never had an opportunity of serving a ballot box. Prof. Littell closed the session of the institute by some suggestive encouraging and helpful words to the teachers and by declaring his faith in the success of the teachers for the coming years. Every school in the county is now supplied with a teacher and many of these teachers began on Monday of this week.
Probably the most pleasing incident of this week was the presentation of a fine Mission furniture rocker to Mr. Littell by the teachers of the county.
The presentation speech made by Miss Vernerberg and was responded to in fitting words by Mr. Littell. It was indeed a time of general rejoicing.
The county work for the year was organized and the following officers elected: president, Minta Lewis; vice-president, Mrs. McManigal; secretary, Miss Eva Reed.
This closed one of the most successful teachers' institutes in the history of the public schools of the county.
And be it further resolved that the teachers of this county do hereby express their full appreciation of the excellent work done by Supt. E. Wilson, of our own city; Prof. F. M. Gregg, of Peru, and Miss Laura Phillips of Cedar Falls, Iowa. That extend to them our best wishes for the future success in their work, and that we as a body of teachers shall be pleased to have them with us again.

DECISIONS. When Cambel arrived back at the Port Edes, he found Captain Kettle sitting in the chair room...

"What, by a steamer together and take her tramping? Well, I hope you'll have a more profitable voyage."

"Oh, don't you make an error," retorted the captain. "It isn't salt water that makes a man a seaman, but such gulls as that. We're going to start a new line."

"I think," said Cambel, "I would disavow from the attempt if I could. You know you are using my ship."

"I'm sure of it. And still I'd like to know how it was all done. Do you think that Cambel had a finger in it?"

"Do you think," retorted Cambel, "that if Patrick Cambel had his finger in it, he would not have been a fisherman?"

"I know, and it is to your honor that you didn't."

"Oh, as to honor, don't make any mistake. I'm not a fisherman, but I'm a seaman."

Announcement.

This is to call your attention to the fact that I have bought out the House Meat Market on Main street; that we have cleaned up and put everything in apple-pie order, as years of experience has taught us to do.

Would be pleased to "meat" all Wayne people with the best there is in the service. Will give careful attention to all orders, give every patron what he wants and keep a complete stock of fresh meats at all times.

Yours truly,

J. F. Hansen

Another Crazy Man.

Last Monday evening a crazy stranger went into the Henderson farm home in Leslie precinct and picking up a fork from the supper table threatened to stab somebody. He finally laid the fork down and grabbed a butcher knife, running into the yard and cutting a bad gash in his throat. Sheriff Mears and a doctor were telephoned for and after dressing the wound they brought the man to Wayne and locked him up. He gave the name of John Coleman and is presumed to have left some railroad gang in the vicinity of Pender. The other men on the road had made him believe that the mob at Bancroft had gotten the wrong man when they hung Higgins, and he, Coleman, got it into his head that he would also be hung.

The Eastern Stars meet Monday night next at 8 o'clock for initiation of officers, etc.

Miss Grace Ash entertained a large party of young ladies last Friday from 11 to 4 o'clock, a gorgeous dinner being on the program. The girls had a picnic climbing trees, driving the hens to water and watching the calves gambol about the lawn.

John Lindman is back from Sweden where he spent the past two years on a visit. He is at present staying with S. J. Lingren.

D. Gandy left Monday to attend the grand lodge of Fraternal Life at Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Sessions were over-Sunday visitors at the G. W. Crossland home.

Miss Ella Harbert was an over-Sunday visitor from Sholes.

Sheriff Mears took "Dad" Vredenberg and Wm. Wester to the insane asylum at Lincoln Monday. "Dad" had become so eccentric that his daughter, Mrs. Camp, could not care for him. Wester is the old man who was found near Bert Hyatt's, south of town, last week. He took off all his clothing and lay in the middle of the road. Sheriff Mears was sent for and to him the old man could give no accounts of himself, it being even doubtful as to his name.

I. O. Woolstin was in town from Magnet Monday.

Henry Kloppe went out to Harrison Monday to get his bunch of stock cattle he bought sometime ago.

Geo. Damon was in Wayne over Sunday. He says Mrs. Damon is some better and the doctors at Colorado Springs hope to cure her of some incipient lung trouble. Mr. Damon also informed the DEMOCRAT that Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robbins would return to Wayne about the middle of this month. Mrs. Robbins is looking well.

C. A. Berry and D. A. Jones were passengers to Omaha Monday.

D. E. Nellor last Monday bought the Randolph Reporter plant from E. W. Clossen, both gentlemen coming to Wayne to make the deal. Mr. Nellor will continue the Headlight at Hoskins as well as take immediate possession of the Reporter.

C. L. Sears was an over-Sunday visitor from Omaha.

D. A. Jones says: "for heavings sake take out that apple ad. I have had a string of people at my place for apples and letters from all over about them." One order came from C. H. Wolf of South Dakota and another from J. W. Mahom at Burkett, Neb., the latter wanting 20 bushels a week shipped to the old soldiers home.

S. R. Theobald and wife left Sunday on a goods-buying trip to Chicago.

The young people have been coming to Wayne by the hundreds the past week to enter the best school in the United States—the Nebraska Normal.

J. H. Eoster left Tuesday morning for Oakes, N. D., to look after his farm crops.

Miss Fern Barley has been visiting the past week with her parents. She leaves again Friday for Sioux City, where she is a clerk in Martins store.

Dave Surber, Cleo, Linn and Miss Lena Lush were a party bound for South Dakota Tuesday morning going to west of Chamberlaine.

Miss Fay Powers returned Monday from a visit at Pierce.

Clarence Corbit has been dangerously ill the past week with stomach trouble, but is now some better.

Vail the skillful optician can fit you with glasses and save you money. Office north of Union hotel.

Mrs. A. L. Tucker and daughters were in Sioux City Tuesday.

While in Chicago last week Dan Harrington met F. A. Dearborn on the street and had a nice talk with him. Dan says Mr. Dearborn is looking better than he ever saw him and that he was organizer for a company of capitalists. Miss Nellie Dearborn is now a stenographer and the two boys have good positions.

The closing of the postoffice from 10:30 until 6:00 o'clock last Monday was a great inconvenience to the public. The DEMOCRAT, like many others, was unaware it was "labor day"—some more damphol legislation—and waited until near eleven a. m. "until the mail was distributed," the result being we were unable to get into the postoffice until six o'clock p. m. While we believe Postmaster McNeal as a rule is as accommodating as he can be, this matter of locking the outside door appears entirely useless. In other cities the offices are always open to lockbox owners. Another thing is that there are lots of people have urgent and necessary business at the postoffice when mail is received and goes out. If the office is closed at 10:30 it should be opened again to the public at 2:30, and not 6:00 o'clock, when a notice on the window says "5:30 p. m."

Talcum Powder

Is one of the necessary adjuncts of the toilet and nursery. It must be pure, fine, delicately perfumed or borated.

Raymond's Talcum

answers all of these requirements, as an antiseptic, refreshing toilet powder. FLESH or WHITE, in boxes, 15c; 2 for 25c. A chamois given with each box as long as they last. A TRIAL WILL BE CONVINCING.

Also many others such as Colgate's, Mennen's, Palmers, Santol, Euthymol, Eastman's and Hudnut's are to be found here. Also Bath Powders.
