WORMITE

Expels the Worm Nests As Well as the Worms From Hogs....

That's one difference between WORMITE and other medicines for hog worms.

Worms in hogs are continually laying eggs which hatch out in a week or so, these develop very rapidly and in turn lay more eggs.

That's why if you give medicine that does not expel these nests of worm eggs you have to keep on giving it.

Five or six cents worth of WORMITE will expel all the worms, their nests and eggs from any hog. Sold only by Sudden Death.

Wayne people were immeasurably shocked last Saturday to learn that Delbert Taylor was dead. Two weeks ago Delbert went to Sioux City to go to work with his father and brother Henry, they being engaged in building cement sidewalks. A week ago last Monday Delbert became very ill. For a few hours he remained at the home of his brother, then was ordered removed to the hospital where an operation was had, the result being that no hope was given for his recovery, peritonitis proving his death on Friday night.

Saturday the remains, accompanied by the suddenly bereaved parents and brother, were brought to Wayne, the funeral being held at the M. E. church and sermon by Rev. Parker Smith, on Sunday afternoon. The Commercial Club band, of which deceased was a member, furnished several funeral odes for the occasion. Deceased was past twenty years of age, a quiet, industrious young man of many friends. Sunday evening last his sister, Mrs. Axel Borg, arrived from Aberdeen, S. D. and viewed the remains ere the earth had covered forever the form beloved.

Hardesty is Hard to Get.

Sheriff Mears returned from Kansas last Friday, minus Charles B. Hardesty the man who bought and had delivered to him a $2800 threshing outfit on pure nerve. Hardesty has lots of relatives and they put up a good fight to keep him in Kansas. Sheriff Mears thinks the young man not overly bright and his folks threatened to have him taken before a commission of insanity if the Nebraska authorities were successful in getting extradition papers for him. His wife is in a delicate condition and he is needed in Kansas more than in Nebraska. If the parties here want him he can be gotten, but the expense would be no small matter, and the crime, so palpably the work of an irresponsible, would hardly warrant it. The only loss to Mr. Bullock, of Norfolk, was shipping the machine to Wayne and getting it back, and, of course, possibly the loss of a sale.

Straddler In It.

A special from Carroll to the Sioux City Tribune says: Word reaches here that a needle vander named Straddler, who was shot here by Marshal Maher last spring as a result of mistaken identity, is now in the Kansas penitentiary. Straddler was thought by Marshal Maher to be Higgins, slayer of the Copples, who was lynched at Bancroft. Word was telephoned to Carroll that Higgins, the murderer, had escaped in that direction. When this stranger walked into town Marshal Maher ordered a halt. Failing to stop, Straddler received a bunch of shot. For a time Straddler was in the Wayne jail. Then he left and now he is in the Kansas state prison.

While stumbling about Wayne Straddler had the appearance of being half-witted.

A Little "Mower", And?

Oscar Reinhart, a young farmer living nine miles south of Wayne, is the most fortunate man ever—run over by a moving machine. Last Thursday morning he was operating a mower when the team ran away, throwing him in front of the sickle. Luckily the sickle bar hit him in the upper part of the leg, where it was too thick to go between the guards. The knife was in gear, but could only cut as far as the guards permitted the leg to work in, the result being that the leg was only half cut off. He was dragged about ten rods in this position when in swinging around he was passed over by the machine. Dr. Leisenring was called and says he will recover the effects easily, but that had he been caught lower down on an arm or even his neck, it would have cut clean through.

Hoskins News.

Vernon Ziemer opened up the Fenske school three miles northeast of town Monday morning, with a good attendance.

Misses Surber and Lewis, teachers in our public schools, left Saturday morning for a visit at their homes in Wayne.

The Wayne Gun club will have a big prize shoot September 26, seven purses aggregating $40 being hung up to shoot for. The match will be pulled off at the fair grounds.

Main street looked as though it was about to be hung in crepe Tuesday afternoon Why? Because nearly half of Hoskins was at Norfolk. The circus was the cause of it.

Eric Chapman returned Wednesday morning from a two months visit with old friends and relatives in Sweden. He reports a fine voyage both ways and enjoyed his visit very much.

Arnold Pfeil returned Friday evening from the Lutheran Hospital at Sioux City, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. His condition is rapidly improving and he will soon be enjoying his usual good health.

We heard a man remark the other day that Hoskins was the dearest town he was ever in but we notice that he is seen here quite frequently. If he is not satisfied with this bustling little burg, why doesn't he go somewhere else. The only thing that would be missed is his grumbling and that would be a pleasant absentee. Must be a case of sour grapes.

There were only forty-seven people from Hoskins that attended the circus at Norfolk last Tuesday. From this small (?) number we take it that the people of our burg do not like a circus. With such a delegation as this, if a royal good time was not had, we don't know whose fault it would be.

We are reliably informed that Ed. Carroll has accepted the nomination of the democratic party for county commissioner. Prior to the primary he positively refused to accept the nomination, but after his friends had named him as their choice against his own desire and their urgent demand to accept, he has yielded. Ed. was commissioner of this district several years ago and his record is better known by you than us. Those who have moved into the country since his term expired can easily find his record by enquiring of a neighbor.

Gush For Gus

Randolph Reporter: "Since our last issue people have been enjoying themselves greatly at the expense of Gus Hansen, the butcher, not the newly married Gus Hansen from Iowa. Gus says that he don't like the idea of bearing the name without capturing the game. But say; old man, don't allow them to jolly you any longer, but set thy eye on some handsome young damsel, smile on her and ask her to be your tender-loin."

Don't you think for a minute that Gus hasn't had his eye on her for some time. Wayne people knew as well what Gus was up to, that they were perfectly horrified to learn that he had married a girl over in Iowa. Good thing—for Gus—that it was all a mistake.

H. B. Miller Coming Back.

At the Shack, Sunday, Sept 8th, 1907. Editor Nebraska Democrat: I have no one to talk to today, hence the day drags a little. Will you kindly assist me to have a little talk with my old neighbors. We have had a very nice summer, very little hot weather, not much dust, rain about as we needed it, crops good, all kind of fruit and vegetables abundant, health good; could we ask more? It is quite a fad to go camping in this country and two of my friends took it into their heads that they would do likewise. They counted noses when all was ready and they found there was twenty and I as an invited guest made the 21. I was to first get wood and keep the Indians away. Our party consisted mostly of men, women and children and on the morning of the 14th of August we boarded the steamer for the head of the lake or Steheken and after a five hours run against a strong head wind we all landed safe. Your old fellow townsman, Bob Osborne, was manager. Our team was on the dock to take us ten miles up the Steheken river and the farther we went the higher the hills were. The first evening we drove out three miles and camped in sight of the Rainbow falls. Bob's tent was 14x18, we had four tents but we only set the one for the night. At night we had six women but in the morn we could find but three and yet there was 21 of us; three had been transformed to all appearances. Breakfast over I took all the able-bodied boys and walked to our camping place seven miles away, at the junction of the Steheken river and Agnes creek, on a nice mountain brook. The next day we took life easy, fixed up the tents, tables, stoves, all for comfort. We had five hunters, they hunted two days and shot a rattle snake, and one of them tried to hive a nest of yellow jackets but they knocked him out, then part of our party succeeded, went back down the lake to Railroad creek eight miles from the road and found better hunting and fishing. Saw one bear but let him get away. Three that were left took a four days hunt, got 10 grouse, saw one deer but while they were discussing the legality to shoot him he ran away, I fished five days, caught one trout and got one nibble, while farther up a few miles they caught more than they could get away with while we only had one mess of trout we had lots of huckleberries and got fat. I returned on the 24th, Bob on the 26th I have told our people here that it was misleading to talk about Chelan valley and it is to a Nebraska man, but to a man who lives in the Cascades it is the proper name. I tell you it is rough and rugged. Bob said he was on one hill where the world was visible to the naked eye. Bob had a snap this summer at the county house. It didn't take our county dads long to find out that he was a kind of a handy man to have around the court house at about $4.00 per day and now he is building steamboats to haul off the wheat of the big binders. While I am diggin' taters and trying to get ready to start to the old country on the 23d day of October, I wish I had some of you to help me eat my peaches and cream and melons and everything! Say, Walt, it's not very long until the 23d of October, is it? I will tell you the rest when I come.

As ever, H. B. MILLER

C. F. Richardson, a resident of this county fifteen years ago, and now of Sioux City, was visiting relatives and old acquaintances in this vicinity the first of the week. Mr. Richardson is a partner in an electrical supply company of Sioux City.

Battle Creek Enterprise: E. P. Andrews, former proprietor of the Meadow Grove News, was a Battle Creek visitor Tuesday. He informs us that he has sold the News plant to a Mr. Carter of Oakdale and the paper will be revived, the first issue under the new management to appear this week.

Norfolk News: Mrs. E. P. Olmsted, who was recently operated on for appendicitis in a Sioux City hospital, has regained her strength faster than was expected and is expected to return to Norfolk this evening. Mr. Olmsted has remained in Sioux City and will accompany his wife home.

A large party of Wayne people will spend the coming winter in Pasadena, Cal. Mrs. A. L. Tucker and daughters left last Monday and Mr. Tucker will go later, the family not expecting to return to Wayne before next June, when school there closes. Others who will enjoy the coast breezes through the winter months will be Mr. and Mrs. R. Philleo, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Mary Jones and Judge Moses.

Pierce Call: Miss Celis Chase left Thursday evening for Chicago for a visit with her mother. Miss Chase and her friends as well, greatly enjoyed her two weeks visit here. The only regret was that Mrs. Chase was unable to visit here at the same time. C. A. Watson returned Monday from Bassett, Neb., where he and a brother were looking over the country with a view to buying feeders. Mr. Watson brought two cars to Pierce, while his brother shipped three cars to his home near Wayne.

Randolph Times: Moats & Son, breeders of Duroc hogs of quality, are feeling first rate over the showing made by their herd leader, Crimson Critic. At the Iowa state fair he was given fifth in a class of $3, his half brother, Jumbo Critic, being third. However, many good judges at the ring side declare that Crimson Critic should have been third. It was unfortunate that Jumbo Critic died the day he was being shipped from Des Moines to Lincoln, and the following Sunday the noted sire Glendale Critic died at the home of his owner, E. Z. Russell, of Blair. These deaths leave Crimson Critic the greatest hog of the critic strain now living. At Lincoln Mr. Moats was given the first premium in aged boar class on Crimson Critic. This is an honor that was won on merit. While at Lincoln he sold a young boar for $125, and his coming sale, Oct. 14, will see some good prices for Critic blood.

Your new fall clothes are ready for you now in our store and we are going to hold a special opening reception to introduce you to them. You're invited; and when you come you'll meet a lot of the finest clothes you ever saw. We feel that our good friends and our good clothes ought to know each other better.

These are Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; and you can put it down as a fact that better clothes, more stylish, more perfectly tailored never came from the hand of a tailor.

The new suits are in a number of very smart models, and the patterns are varied enough to suit every taste---grays, browns, tans, in stripes, plaids and checks.

The new Fall overcoats are certainly very snappy; you'll find your kind here. It is hardly necessary to say that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are always all wool; you get no cotton mixture stuff under that name.

Other departments are also full of fine seasonable goods; hats on the latest blocks; shirts and neckwear like a regular flower-garden of color and rich design.

We hope you received our style book.

Lipton is building two more Shamrocks. There must be a dullness in the tea business.

They only met a few months ago but it was love at first sight and the wedding will soon unite them for life.—Contributed.

Hereafter, if you are a woman, you are not supposed to have "anything on your hip"—excepting the regulation amount of clothing, of course.

A Chicago lawyer is pronounced a victim of "acute mental confusion." That is supposed to be what their clients usually catch from them.

John Goldie, a Glasgow steeplejack, fell 480 feet from the world's highest chimney, in London. He has quit business. That makes me feel that I get off easy.

Walter Wellman will not fly, so the dispatches say, but will return to Sweden to spend the winter. He might have utilized some of his "wheels" and reached the pole on them.

The Sioux City News says the "shameful and indecent" well, if it wasn't it could not do any business it's shameful that it is so, but it is.

What has become of the young man who used to soak his hair in bears grease and the plaster it against his eyebrows?—Will Maupin.

Probably working in a brewery.

Now that the 'trust has boosted the price of calico and "prints" to 10 cents a yard it is likely that dresses will be worn much shorter, although it is a cinch that some poor people will wear them much longer.

The quickest way to settle the big fuss over beer-selling at Sioux City's Inter-State fair would have been to let the prohibits drink a few quarts of the fuzzy, bummy stuff that was sold there in lieu of the article that made Milwaukee.

According to Miss Elizabeth A. C. White, president of the Dressmakers' Protective Association of America, the coming winter woman will be out of fashion if she wears hips. It will be easy for a whole lot of them to be in style.

The "chiefs" and the manipulators of the Ivories had a hard time getting a little loose change out of the gambling business in Sioux City during fair time. It's frightfully hard to pass up the opportunity. While the leaf sears it is hard to Dineen to the good.

Some of the officials around the court house think that criminal or "insane proceedings" should be brought against the parties who sold Chas. Hardesty a threshing outfit, instead of taking any action to get Hardesty back to Wayne county. It would appear from the facts in the case that threshing machine outfits are mighty easy to get.

The faculty of Morningside college at Sioux City have decided that hereafter students at that institution must not be spotters for the anti-saloon league. That's a good idea. A college should be something better than a place for the education of young men in the arts of sneaking and informing. God hates a sneak as much as he does a hypocrite.

At Sioux City Michael O'Leary, trying to dodge a street car and a wagon, was struck by an automobile and received injuries from which he died the same evening. Nowadays a man ought to have eyes in four sides of his head.—Cherokee Democrat.

Well, yes, wouldn't be a bad idea to have them in Sioux City, not if you were a good dodger. But pity the dampfool who can't dodge—if he has four eyes to get lifted.

The editor of the Auburn Courier recently wrote: "Yesterday a swarm of bees lit upon the limb of a tree in front of Mrs. Smith Smitherson and presented a very interesting appearance." But the printer, who was in a hurry to attend a ball game, got it up: "Yesterday a swarm of bees lit upon a limb of Mrs. Smith Smitherson, which presented a very interesting appearance." The next day there was something madder than a swarm of bees lit upon the editor. It was Mrs. Smitherson.

Geo. H. Hunt, the Sioux City freak who let his beard and hair grow so that he might look like Jesus, has escaped from the Cherokee asylum. It is thought he has gone to Chicago. It would be more generous to think that he had tried to steer clear of hell.—Cherokee Democrat.

Thirteen years ago Hunt and myself belonged to a Y. M. C. A. quartet in Sioux City. He took on too much religion, according to the doctors' diagnosis, which is just as bad as a surplus of some things.

Here's something from the Stanley County Register that ought to draw the tears if not the dollars: The Register's new home has nearly busted the old man, who is laboring vigorously in this hustling little town to keep the sheet above the wholesale bill and fellows, now honestly fellows we've only one pair of pants to our name—just count the holes in them as we go up the street—so if you don't take the paper or haven't squared up yet for the paper's sake do so and save your uncle Henry from going busted.

Stock Sale.

I will hold a sale of Poll Durhams and Shorthorn cattle and Poland China hogs, the latter part of October. All stock removed for sale.
JOHN A. HERRIN, CARROLL, NEB.

A Very Bad Case.

Last Monday Raymond Larison, son of the late Will Larison, was arrested and put in jail on complaint of Brown Palmer. In the afternoon County Attorney Wilbur filed a complaint against the young man for assault and battery on the person of Mr. Palmer's 14-year-old daughter, County Judge Hunter, when the complaint was filed, firmly informed the county attorney that if the evidence in the assault case showed that a more serious offense had been committed, he, the judge, would take it upon himself to hold the defendant for such crime. The hearing was called for nine o'clock Tuesday morning, and after over an hour's consultation between attorneys, complaining witness and defendant a new complaint was drawn up by Judge Hunter, charging young Larison with assault to commit rape, and he was bound over to the district court, waiving any preliminary hearing. As best the DEMOCRAT can learn of the occurrence, it happened a week ago last Tuesday, Mr. Palmer being in Sioux City. Larison was west of the cemetery, driving a horse. It is said that he met the young girl somewhere near the foot of the hill, and jumping from the buggy attempted to assault her, she pounding him with her school books, and due to the fact that he had to hold his horse she escaped from him and ran home. The particulars as told the DEMOCRAT bear no semblance to a case of assault and battery, but the district court is the proper place to fully air the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer dislike the notoriety very much and the young lady feels keenly an imaginary disgrace, but they owe a duty to society that is not of their own making. Relatives of Raymond Larison have little sympathy for him, one in particular telling the DEMOCRAT that the boy needs a severe lesson and that he should get all he deserved if guilty in this instance. Upon his mother the trouble falls most heavily; in court Tuesday she appeared deeply hurt. F. M. Skeen and defendant's mother signed the young man's bond in the sum of $500 and he was released from custody pending the next term of court which convenes Dec. 9th.

Bad Run On The State.

One of the most vicious looking runaways ever seen on Main street was successfully pulled off Monday afternoon at five o'clock with immaterial damage resulting. S. W. Elder had his big brown team backed up to the sidewalk at Prof. Durrin's tombstone factory; the professor heard Geo. Grunemeyer's devil-tooter coming and seeing Elder's back was turned towards the impending catastrophe and knowing Elder couldn't hear any better than Deacon Sam Davies can—when there's no jack-pot to listen for—he rushed out to give alarm to Bro. Elder; but too late! The horses were off like a rocket. Standing close to the team Mr. Elder made a grab for the line, and although he weighs over 200 pounds he was pitched, so witnesses say, ten feet in the air, alighting with nothing worse than a little dust on his pajamas. It was remarkable how everything seemed to get out of the way as the team and wagon flew down Main street. On the crossing front of Orr & Morris' the off horse slipped and this shot the outfit into the State bank, just missing the north window by a few feet or they no doubt would have gone clear through into the Citizens. For a moment it was thought both horses had been killed; and the high horse at least was believed to be badly hurt, but in five minutes Mr. Elder was driving away as though nothing had happened, and the only apparent damage was a few brick knocked out on the outside of the bank building and a patch of plaster off on the inside.

A Good Inside is Worth Having

Copyright 1907
The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

There is something about A Two Johns' Suit and Overcoat that is lacking in other makes. That something is in the garments because it belongs there. Because other makes have not put it there is the reason that, no matter how good they may have made their clothing, their standard is not as high as this store insists upon having. There is no special secret about a merchant selling the best clothing; all he has to do to sell the best clothing, is to first buy the best clothing. The proper consideration for his customers should prompt a merchant to do this, but too often they fail in this particular. If a merchant is not too set on a "skin game," if he does not look too closely on present advantages at the expense of future patronage, he will invest enough more money in the wholesale cost of clothing to get the best.

This the "2 Johns" Store Does

We do business on the theory that a patron of this store well satisfied, is a personal friend and a walking advertisement; we aim to treat every customer as such. Our knowledge of clothes values, gained through 28 years experience, is at your service. We have the best clothing because we have insisted that the inside shall be just as good as the outside. The workmanship must equal the quality of the cloth. We were willing, and did pay the money to secure this; the result of this insistence is wholly to your advantage.

The cut herein shown is one of the neat, dressy models in the KUPPENHEIMER make, and when you buy a Kuppenheimer made suit you get a strictly hand-tailored suit, and the inside is equal to the outside. If it is a KUPPENHEIMER it is right, and if it is right it must be a KUPPENHEIMER.

Will Siefken shot a dog belonging to neighbor J. B. Taylor a few days ago and Tuesday afternoon, complaint having been filed, Sheriff Mears drove out and brought the young man before Judge Hunter. It probably then was discovered that there was not much of a case against young Siefken, but to avoid loss of time scrapping over it, defendant paid the costs about six dollars, and the matter was dropped.

Judge Moses has a long letter from H. B. Miller, Cheban, Wash., congratulating the judge upon his fine word picture of the late J. N. Strahan, as appearing recently in the DEMOCRAT. Mr. Miller goes on to say that had he known it he could have furnished the judge with some interesting anecdotes to insert in the sketch. The community in Washington think they "have the right pig by the ear," but Judge Moses wears his newly won honors very modestly.

GRANT S. MEARS.

Give the Boys a Square Deal.

An exchange says that a father told his 16-year-old boy to milk the cow, feed the horses, slop the pigs, hunt the geese, feed the calves, catch the cat and put him in the stable, cut some kindling, stir the cream, pump fresh water in the creamery, after supper and be sure and study his lessons before he went to bed. Then he went to the farmers' club to discuss the question of "How to keep the boys on the farm."

And that father isn't a solitary specimen of that sort. Why do some fathers regard children solely as a means of adding wealth, and ignore the fact that the child has any rights? In these days of prosperity, there is no excuse for a farmer who keeps his nine-year-old son out of school for a couple of months in fall and spring to pick corn or follow a plow for twelve or fourteen hours a day, and then probably call him a dunce because he falls behind his more fortunate mates in school work. No child under fifteen has any business tramping after a plow from five in the morning till six at night.

Give the boy a chance to develop mind and body as he ought and he has a far more valuable heritage than broad acres and bank stock earned by dwarfing him with overwork.

Now, fathers, wake up and think about this. A reasonable amount of work is good for a boy. But does yours stop at that? The mothers make almost too many sacrifices to give their children a chance to develop mind or body as they ought. It is up to you to have as much regard for your sons as their mother has. Are you doing your part to make your boy a strong, sturdy, intelligent citizen? Give him not the chance you had, but the one he ought to have.—Columbus Telegram.

That farmer is a foolish farmer who plucks his fruit or harvests his grain before it is ripe, and that farmer is far from wise who sows his grain in soil not properly prepared to receive the seed. Just so with the advocate of any great public question. Suppose that in 1908 the people of the United States should be called upon to vote for or against national prohibition of the liquor traffic. In that case it would be folly on part of a newspaper writer or a public speaker to discuss in that campaign any other question than that of prohibition. The people would not read newspaper editorials on any other topic, and they would not give ear to an orator, no matter how eloquent, if he should try to entice them to the consideration of any other problem than that which should be paramount in the campaign.

And so recognizing that the people of the country have already selected the one public problem to be made paramount in the next national campaign, and being fully convinced that that problem will be the problem of legislating against the great and dangerous trusts, it will be idle on part of the believers in government ownership of railroads to insist that their favorite question be made paramount. The time is not ripe for it. The people are not yet ready to listen to argument in favor of government ownerships. The great majority still hopes and half-way believes that congress will be able to control the great trusts and regulate railroad robbery by law. You cannot get the people away from that hope and that half-hearted belief just now.—Columbus Telegram.

Several new students enrolled this week; Miss Gran of Bloomfield, Miss Hladik of Plainville, Miss Grunwald and sister of Pierce, Mr. Rycharuk of Jelen.

Principal Walter Power of Magnet spent a few hours with friends Saturday. He attended the social and returned on the noon train carrying the Sioux City fair crowd.

Jim Pile went to Lincoln Monday to attend the university. He will give his entire attention to the technical agriculture course to prepare for teaching the subject of the course.

Miss Bellows and Miss Jennie Bellows spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Emerson. Fred Pile spent Saturday at the Sioux City Fair. All were on hand for Monday's classes.

Mr. Grunwald drove over from Pierce last Thursday, bringing with him two younger daughters to remain in school. The three sisters are good workers and will prepare for teaching.

Prin. E. C. Lundak of Verdigris spent a few hours between trains Saturday on the hill as he was on his way from Verdigris to Bloomfield where candidates held a meeting for organization.

Or Take Him Away From the Power.

Norfolk Press: The Press believes it voices the practically unanimous sentiment of the people of Norfolk and vicinity when it denounces the decision of Judge Barnes admitting Herman Boche to bail as an outrage on public opinion and an act that encourages disrespect for the law and the courts. It seems a strange procedure by which a man who has a record of two men killed to his credit, who has quietly and without a protest allowed himself to be committed to jail on a charge of murder in the first degree, who has asked to be adjudged insane, whose petition to be admitted to bail had been denied by the judge of the district court, who had jurisdiction of his case, a decision from which no appeal had been taken, could go before the highest tribunal in the state and have all these things brushed aside as a mass of cobwebs and bail granted. Senator Allen had sworn on his solemn oath that he believed Boche to be insane, yet he goes before Judge Barnes and asks to have this madman whose chief insane impulse is to kill people turned out to run at large in this community, and Judge Barnes grants the request. No pretense was made that Boche feared preliminary examination through fear of personal violence, so that by his decision Judge Barnes practically said to the county attorney, the jury and the judge of the district court, "You can't convict this man of murder in the first degree, and if you do, the supreme court will reverse your decision and send the case back for retrial." If a judge of the supreme court has such a power as this, the power ought to be taken away from him, because it can only beget contempt for the law and the courts.

"The crying evil of the time is abjectness," says the Iowa City Republican, Governors, state officers, cabinet members, heads of departments and other officials are traveling about the country making all sorts of speeches. Get down to business everywhere, should be the rule. The most needed reform is to reform the reformers. Officers are paid for their work, presumably, but the fact is most of them, high and low, seek to shirk anything that looks like work.

The next railroad legislation undertaken in Nebraska ought to be the enactment of a law requiring the Omaha line to illuminate its passenger train from Wayne to Carroll. As it is today a passenger never knows when a footpad may appear out of the dark recesses of the next seat and lay him out with a sandbag.—Norfolk News.

What's the matter with a little light all along the line?

"The primary is decidedly primary," remarked a prominent Wayne county democrat, discussing the extra $200,000 expense imposed upon the state and the lack of $200,000 worth of improvement.—Norfolk News.

Beatrice Express:—"Don't you feel like swearing when you are called to the telephone and hear the curt yell, 'who's this?' One in a normal mental condition knows who he wants to talk to when he asks central for a number. Then why doesn't he ask 'Is this Mr. So and So?' or 'Is Mr. So and So there?' It is impertinent to bawl out 'Who is this?' after inviting one to the 'phone.'"

Clyde Ecker in the Sioux City Tribune. Rev. Mr. Hughes of the Pender Republic, calls his editorials "Brain Storms," but if he can preach as well as he can write, he deserves a fatter parish.

But when you think it over, And write in worldly revel, A preacher as a printer man Has to help the devil.

The Commercial class organized Monday evening for the general literary work required of all who complete the course. Systematic book and magazine reading will be required of the class.

A very pleasant social was given in the gymnasium Saturday evening. Most all the students attended. Several former students called to meet new students. Of the number was Jas. Simonin, principal of Hoskins.

Miss Kingsbury gave an interesting talk to the student body at one o'clock Saturday in the Chapel. Prof. Buchan gives the talk next Saturday followed by Prof. Saunty the next week, Miss Bellows and others of the faculty.

The general class organization for those taking the regular courses took place Saturday afternoon at the close of talk. Mr. Altig of Douglas county was elected president and Mr. Herrill of Wayne was elected secretary. These officers hold for this term.

Miss Van Connett of '07 Scientific has been nominated for county superintendent of Holt county. At present, she has charge of the Normal training in the Central City high school. She is a bright woman and successful teacher. If elected she will make a great superintendent.

Mr. W. W. Vaught drove over from Pilger Sunday to visit his niece who is in school for a year. She will complete the Professional course. Miss Mungler's sister accompanied him and spent the day with her relatives and friends. A number of students are here from that vicinity.

The Scientific class chose Mr. Lienhart of Holt county for term president. Prof. Buchanan and Miss Kingsbury have charge of the class and will care for term programs, Fred Pile and Miss Bellows direct the Professional class,

J. H. Bruggler and wife of Chapin precinct attended the Sioux City races last Friday and Saturday and on their way home spent Sunday with Mrs. Bruggler's sister in this city.

Mrs. Pryor surprised the ladies of the Guild Friday afternoon, treating them to ice cream and cake. Those fortunate enough to be present, wish to be surprised again.

Miss Sullivan has returned from her vacation and will be pleased to meet her customers across the street from the Union hotel. Those wanting fall sewing done will be well pleased with Miss Sullivan's work.

The farmers of Brenna precinct have organized a telephone line to be known as the "Brenna Independent Telephone Company." Work on the line will be commenced immediately and they hope to be connected with the exchange at Wayne within six or eight weeks.

School Notes

County Superintendent Littell.

Are weed patches still to be found in your school yard where the mowder did not reach them?

A suggestion occasionally from a parent to a teacher aids much in doing the best by the children.

Miss Hazel Perrin of district No. 81 reports the largest enrollment in the county outside of the town schools.

The first Section meeting of the year will be held September 28 in the various places decided upon at institute.

Remember that a child taken away from his home surroundings and placed with a number of other children may not be the "angel" he is at home.

Have you visited your school yet, or are you depending upon the reports brought home by the children as to the kind of work being done?

Miss Etta Conover, who teaches in district 38, has been unable to attend to her school duties owing to an accident met with while passing from the county superintendent's office last Saturday when she became suddenly faint and fell nearly the entire flight of stairs.

Very satisfactory work is being done in the Sholes district under rather unfavorable conditions; the lumber for the new building has been delayed, and it was necessary to commence school in the old buildings, but notwithstanding this condition Prof. Robinson is carrying out his plans for the year's work.

Fifty Years in One County.

The celebration of a golden wedding which is unique and interesting for more than the fact that the couple Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilbur, have lived together for fifty years, will occur today at South Sioux City, Neb.

Not only have these two prominent old settlers spent a half century in each other's company, but all of the time has been spent in one locality. The last thirty years of the time has been lived in the same house and each year Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur have been prominent figures at the annual gathering of the old settlers of Dakota county.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur are among the oldest living settlers of Dakota county, having settled there in 1856. Mr. Wilbur in July and Mr. Wilbur in October. Mrs. Wilbur came up the river from St. Louis with "Col." C. D. Martin, and Mr. Wilbur drove across the state of Iowa with his mother and her family. They were married September 18, 1857.

The golden wedding today will also be remarkable, not to say pleasant for all the children and grandchildren of the couple will be present.

Judge E. H. Wilbur of Draper, S. D.; D. C. Wilbur, of Sioux City, and Mrs. W. H. Emery, of Norfolk, Neb., were the children of the union, all three will return to the old home today. There are twelve grandchildren and they will attend the celebration. Other relatives who will be present include nephews and cousins in the persons of John Wilbur and Jefferson Wilbur, of Ponca, Neb.; George Wilbur, of Wayne, Neb.; Mrs. Ella Wilbur, of Wayne, and Mrs. A. Baker, of Akron, Io., and their families.

In the afternoon and evening a reception will be given for the old settlers and townspeople of Dakota county and South Sioux City.

Mr. Wilbur is 70. Both are in remarkably good health and will enjoy the occasion to the utmost.—Sioux City Journal.

Don't forget C. H. Vail the optician when your eyes trouble you. He treats blue, brown or black eyes with equal success.

Miss Anna Gustafson has gone to Cresco, Neb., where she is teaching. The DEMOCRAT will keep her posted on Wayne events.

Lambert Roe went to Norfolk Sunday night to act on federal jury there, Judge Munger holding a short term of court in that city.

Mrs. M. L. LaCroix returned to Carroll last Monday from a week's visit with her niece, Mrs. O. D. Franks, at Sioux City.

R. P. Williams and son John are home from South Dakota, having built houses on their claims and taken a leave of absence until next spring.

Robt. Pritchard, the famous hog breeder of Carroll, got three first prizes at the Inter-State fair at Sioux City, Will Lessman of Wayne taking three second premiums.

We are closing out our stock of paints, oils and varnishes, to make room for drugs and sundries. Take advantage of those paint bargains before they are all gone.

LEAHY'S Drug Store

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Olmsted were Monday evening passengers home from Sioux City where the latter has been in a hospital for some time, having gone through an operation for appendicitis.

PAINT—The Sherwin Williams mixed paints. Guaranteed to be the best paint on the market. We are closing out our stock of paints and will give you bargains while they last.

LEAHY'S Drug Store.

Advertised Letters—Freman Clark, Jas. W. Coutts, J. C. Kennells' Will Livingston, Jake Mart, George Myers, John Schwartz, Clara Serson; cards, Dr. L. Staads, M. D., Miss Lenra Johnson. Sept 11th, 1907.

W. H. MCNEAL, P. M.

Among those who attended the Sioux City fair were Misses Julia Bush, Alice McDonald, Ethel Gamble, Dorothy Rimel, Lella Norton, Mae Gildersleeve, Nellie Martin, Lella Pond, Effie Porter, Celia Gildersleeve; Messrs Ray Perdue, Herbert Lessman, Lute Chichester, Frank Gildersleeve, Jas McDonald and Lloyd Gildersleeve.

Frank Owen will decide in a day or two whether or not he goes to Idaho or takes the David Owen ranch near Stanton. Mr. Owen secured a ten days option on 160 acres of land, close to where E. Cunningham is located, at $50 per acre. He says Mr Cunningham has been offered $50 for his 640 acres that cost him $17 over a year ago. Also that crops are great out there, Eph threshing out 14000 bushels of oats, and other grains in abundance.

No Littell Dancing.

Special to The Sioux City Tribune: Wayne Neb., Sept. 14.—"No dancing for teachers during the school year," is the edict of his bossing, County Superintendent Littell, and great is the indignation thereat.

Pretty schoolma'ams, heretofore queens of the ballroom, are so angry they cry about it, the beaux three for every schoolma'am, are downcast, and those financially interested in the success of the dance vow vengeance. With the queens gone the cavillers are missing, and no dollars drop into the cash box from each of them.

"I will not permit it," says Mr. Littell, and he means what he says. So it's no more two-steps, three-steps or waltzes for Alyss or Carrye and Charlie and George must now do his wooing in the parlor and "there's always somebody hanging 'round".

"I won't teach anymore," say some of the schoolma'ams and they act like they mean it. Unless this resolution is broken, enough old maids, long resigned to their fate and indifferent to the thrill of the music, will have to be imported to fill the broken ranks and wield the rod in the future.

Storz Blue Ribbon Bottled Beer

We use the finest western barley malt; hops from Saaz, Bohemia; and sparkling artesian water in its manufacture—then we age it in hermetically sealed glass-lined tanks for months, until it possesses a delicious, mellow flavor peculiarly its own. Our old customers never leave us; new customers are always coming to us, and in such numbers that we have been forced to treble the capacity of our bottling department twice during the past four years. If you are a discriminating buyer—want purity and quality—we invite you to try STORZ BEER. It will please you.
