FELBER'S PHARMACY

THE DRUG STORE OF QUALITY, WAYNE

WE MAKE IT EASY

One of the most important considerations in selecting your Xmas gifts is to know that you are getting quite the right thing for the person for whom you are buying it. We often hear women say "I just don't know what to get my husband for Christmas," or "I wish I knew what my father would appreciate for Christmas." Well now, that is just the line of work in which we are prepared to help you. We have been helping women to select the right kind of Xmas presents for Men and Boys for nearly thirty years, and we know the needs of men and what they appreciate. Come to us and let us help you select your present. It matters not whether you want gifts for your husband, your father, grand-father or brother, or even your sweetheart, we can help you select it and you will be assured of getting the right thing for whom you are buying it for. Our store is full of useful Xmas goods, making Christmas shopping the pleasure it should be.

In selecting your Xmas gifts for men and boys, see that they are useful articles, as they are always appreciated more by men than bric-a-brac stuff. We cannot tell you in this small ad all the useful Xmas goods which we have for your inspection, but we offer you a few suggestions which might start you in the right direction:

A Suit of Good Clothes

Is not only a desirable present but also a useful and sensible one, and when you consider the make of suits which we sell, and the prices at which you can buy them, it makes a present that you can easily afford for your Husband or Father.

An Overcoat or Fur Coat

You know is just what your husband has been talking about buying, all fall and winter; or it may be that he has had his eye on one of those fine fur-lined dress overcoats which he have, and what a pleasant surprise it would be to him to receive such a useful present on Xmas morning.

Make Him Happy

The man who on Christmas morning receives two suits of STALEY wool underwear will certainly be a happy man, for he will then know that his wife has no intention of asking for a divorce, and that she does not want him to die, and your memory will be dear to him for at least two years.

Kill 2 Birds with One Stone

The best Xmas present any mother can make to her boy is a new suit or overcoat, and very likely the Boy needs them, too, so you can fill a want and make a Xmas present at the same time. Or, it may be a warm cap or pair of mittens that he wants. We have them all and they last longer than toys.

Among the Many Useful Things

That any Man or Boy will be pleased to receive, is a pair of house slippers. Our stock of same is new and up-to-date. A fine bath robe, or a lounging robe. Fine dress shirts, and the latest styles in neckwear. A pair of silk suspenders, a collar box, a box of linen handkerchiefs, or a silk reefer muffler; a nice silk umbrella or a pair of fine dress or street gloves. Space will not permit us mentioning the many other useful articles which we have, but if you will visit this store when doing your Xmas shopping you will be sure of finding presents such as Men and Boys appreciate, and goods can be exchanged after Christmas.

KOKOMO RICH GOLD SECTION.

Recent Development Tends to Prove Early Prophecy of Mining Engineer Who Said that Kokomo Would Attract World's Attention.

KOKOMO, COLO.—For many years Summit county has been in the background and greatly neglected. One of the first discoveries of gold in Colorado was made in vicinity of Breckenridge, and for a time this locality was known as one of the richest placer fields. Miners picked up the yellow metal from the creek beds and grew wealthy. When they could no longer make an average of $20 a day they drifted elsewhere in search of richer fields. Later the lode miners traced the source and found the veins from which the gold came. Prof. H. H. Nicholson, a well known expert and metallurgist, spent a number of seasons investigating this section, and remarked that before long the eyes of the world would be turned to Summit county, and it would be known as the richest gold field in the West. Recent discoveries near Kokomo show this section is just now beginning to open people's eyes, and the recent finds made in Mayflower gulch, all go to show the gold is here. The Bird's Nest property was the first to be found at this section, and a pay mine found at grass roots, and a pay mine found at the start. All the working on this property are in good ore, some of which shows the free gold sticking all over the quartz, which is not unlike the famous Camp Bird ore. The property has been working steadily all winter. The owners expected to ship all through the winter months, but the weather became so bad that the roads could not be kept open. However, the mine kept on working and opening up the rich ore shoot. A large amount of development work has been done, the vein, which is a fissure, holding out and getting richer in depth. Several very rich veins have already been opened up. Some of them will give over $5 to the ton in the yellow metal. The company is now figuring on machinery and intends building a mill to handle their own ore. It is safe to say Kokomo will have a boom this season, and another rich gold section opened up in the state, and as Prof. H. H. Nicholson remarked, that in a short time, mark my words, the eyes of the world will be turned to Summit county, the coming Klondike.—Special to Daily Mining Record.

The King Solomon is in the same gulch and only ten miles from Kokomo.

Serious at Wakefield.

Norfolk News: Wakefield, Neb., Dec. 10.—Wakefield is just now having a siege of small pox, and many of the homes are quarantined. Officials have ordered that there be no public meetings of any kind for three weeks. This includes churches, schools, and every character of public gathering. Health officers are working hard to stamp out the disease and with the stringent measures adopted it is believed there will be no serious trouble after the quarantine is lifted.

SIMPLEST POSSIBLE CURRENCY LEGISLATION HOUSE PROGRAM

Leaders Think They Framed the Measure.

GALLINGER REVIVES TUBERCULOSIS BILL.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Senator Gallinger, chairman of the committee, will shortly introduce a bill for the registration of tuberculosis cases in the district. It will be a revision of the bill which was presented in session and will be introduced as a consolidated measure to meet the objections raised by physicians and others.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Here is the currency program of the house leaders, as handed out on the highest possible authority.

First—To let the senate frame the legislation, or seem to frame it. "They like to believe they did it," explains a member of the house rules committee.

Second—To let the senate authorities through proper channels, understand that it is useless to fix up and pass anything that the house and its leadership have the credit of framing the measure, while the house managers dictate its substance.

Third—To have the bill made extremely simple and understandable, to depart as little as possible into the region of financial mystery.

Fourth—To have the bill contain about these provisions:

On depositing approved collaterals with the treasury department, any national bank in emergency currency circulation up to 75 per cent. of the amount deposited under a tax of one cent a year. The rate of interest 8 per cent. during the time it is outstanding. This to assure that such circulation will not be issued except in the most extreme emergency. It will be promptly retired as soon as the stressful time passes.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.

bers of the committees out of the hands of the minority leader, John Sharp Williams, who had been for many months alleged was doped sufficiently to cause her to lose the great race in Memphis October 1899.

The $5,000 stake up was won by Major Delmar, owned by E. E. Smathers.

C. K. G. Billing, owner of Lou Dillon charged his horse had been doped. Testimony was presented to bear out this, but it was determined by the board there is no evidence to show Lou Dillon was doped and that Smathers can retain the cup.

The board in its present decision could not be said to have been in any way cognizant of, or connected with the doping of the famous trotter, nor a broad mare.

On the day when they were to have married Campbell was in New York, Arthur Nichols, so Miss Nichols says, and persuaded him to turn over $5,000 of her $10,000 dowry left by her father when he died two years ago, to be given to her when she married.

Campbell, it is alleged, took the money in a certain check saying he had a chance to put it in a grocery business. An hour later he went to Lynn and was married to Miss Ruth Stevens.

Senator Clay introduced a resolution, calling upon the treasury to supply the senate with a list of the national banks which are United States depositories, and the treasury deposited in each during this year.

Senator Culbertson introduced a similar resolution. Both went over until tomorrow.

Senator Culbertson also introduced a resolution requiring the secretary of the treasury to submit a report of the proportion of the $50,000,000 of Panama canal bonds and of the $100,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness which will be materially added by the output of the Pittsburg, Branch Mint and Globe whose first cleanings were made this month.

By January 1 of the coming year the output of the whole plant will be $100,000,000 and when the mills now building in the southern hills are completed, this figure should be brought to nearly one and one-quarter million.

An innovation in this line has been started with the appearance of armed guards who escort the bullion between the assay and express offices and then on the train.

When the statement of the National Bank of Commerce appeared in the morning papers, it showed that since the statement of August 23 the deposits had been down to $100,000,000.

The principal officers of the National Bank of Commerce are Dr. W. S. Woods, president, and William A. Fuller, cashier.

Its directors and stockholders include some of the most prominent men in the city. Woods is also president of the Commerce Trust company, of Kansas City, which has a capital of $1,000,000.

The Commerce bank is a United States depository and interested in many real estate projects. Its individual depositors are among the largest of any bank in the city.

District Court Notes.

District court, equity term, convened last Monday morning with Judge Welch on the bench. Among the outside attorneys were Chas. L. Fritschner and Elmer E. Thomas of Omaha and Judge Van Wagner, of Sioux City.

Four divorces were granted in the cases of Boorum vs Boorum, Kelly vs Kelly, Fox vs Fox, and Campbell vs Campbell.

In the case of Spencer vs Jackson, plaintiff dismissed their appeal. The State of Nebraska vs Chas. Hargitt is a peace warrant case. Some time ago H. D. Burnham of Sholes, filed a complaint in the county court against Hargitt, to have him bound over to the district court. The county judge required him to furnish a bond to keep the peace and to appear at this term of the court. Hargitt made an attempt to have the bond released, which Burnham resisted. The matter was taken under advisement by the court.

and taxed him with a fine and costs amounting to about $30.00. He then employed Attorney Berry who took the case to district court on error for him, and succeeded in getting the case reversed and Young discharged, which removes from Young the stigma from having been convicted and releases him from payment of all the costs. As the prosecuting witness has removed from the county this will probably end the matter.

The case of The Art League plaintiff in error against A. C. Goltz, defendant in error, brought from Winside, The Art League commenced an action against A. C. Goltz, at Hoskins on an account. Goltz took charge of venue to Justice Lucas at Winside. In this court Attorney Siman succeeded in convincing Lucas that he did not have jurisdiction in the case and Justice Lucas dismissed the same. The Art League by Hazen, their attorney brought the case to the district court, on error and the district court held that Justice Lucas had jurisdiction of the case thus reversing Justice Lucas. The case has been set down for trial in district court and will not be tried before the spring term.

The case of Farmers' National Bank of Pilger against Robert and Joseph Baird was settled and dismissed. In the case of Hansen vs Hansen, the duck case which has attracted a large amount of notoriety, the district court held that demurrer to the petition was good. This case will come up again at the next term of court.

The case of the City of Wayne vs Mike O'Connell was continued until the next term of court, O'Connell putting up a strong plea that on account of sickness in his family he was not in position to take up the case.

Considerable time was given to the saloon cases which originated in Wayne, last spring and summer. A joint complaint was filed before Alter, Police Judge, charging Thomsen, Ramsey and Hoffman with selling liquors to minors. Each of the defendants demanded a separate trial. The case against Ramsey, who held the license was tried, but no trial whatever was had, as to the other two defendants, but the police docket shows that all three were tried. Bonds were furnished by the defendants for appeal to the district court. The defendants claim that Police Judge Alter agreed with them as to who the sureties would be and that if the bonds were returned to him with the sureties agreed on that he would approve the same. The bonds were signed as agreed and returned to Police Judge Alter but he failed to approve the bonds, the defendants contending that he had an understanding with the prosecution that he was not to approve the bonds and thus defeat the defendants from having a trial in the district court. Judge Welch held that the bonds not being approved were not sufficient and dismissed the appeals. Thomsen and Ramsey have appealed to the supreme court from the decision of Judge Welch.

Defendant Hoffman last week filed a petition in error in his case in the district court alleging that Alter is not a qualified police judge, and that no trial was had in his case and also alleging other irregularities of the police court. Tuesday Hoffman filed a petition in the district court for a mandamus to compel Alter to correct his docket to conform to the facts. If Hoffman succeeds in this it will mean that if they wish to prosecute Hoffman that they will have to try the case over again. One peculiarity about Alter's docket is that the costs entered in his docket is practically the same in each case and in each case are allowed in excess of the amount allowed by law to the amount of about $25.00. In the Herman Mildner case, Mildner secured a surety to his bond after having been found guilty in the police court and presented the same to Alter.

Mildner says that Alter informed him that the bond was satisfactory but for some reason he also failed to approve this bond thus practically preventing him from an appeal. In the police court Alter refused Mildner a change of venue, Mildner claiming that Alter was a member of the anti-saloon league and should not be allowed to try the case. Mildner has filed a petition in error in the district court and will fight his case to the bitter end. In his case there is also about $75.00 costs charged up which are illegal. All the defendants in these cases claim that Police Judge Alter directly did everything he could to prevent the defendants from perfecting appeals to the district court and they claim that this only bears out their theory that the cases were commenced before Alter, police judge, instead of justice of the peace for no other purpose than to prevent them from having their trial. Two of the defendants have instructed their attorneys to commence suit against Alter for damages which probably will be done very soon. It is hard to tell where these cases will end. If the defendants had been given their appeals which they were entitled to in this term of the district court and have been disposed of, but as it now stands it is a difficult matter to determine the outcome and the cases are liable to drag along in the courts for the next two or three years. Tuesday afternoon was devoted to making citizens. The jury cases are called for 11 o'clock next Monday morning. There will be seven or eight cases to be tried. The first case is The State of Nebraska vs Larson.

Not So Bad As Reported.

Norfolk News: J. D. Haskell, banker of Wakefield, who was in the city Tuesday afternoon, says that reports of small pox at Wakefield are very much exaggerated. The town had exactly four cases of the disease but one of them was released from quarantine and had a ticket out of town when he left home. This was a tramp corn husker, who brought the disease to the town some weeks ago. Since then three other cases have developed and so strict has been the quarantine that all cases are expected to make their appearance this week, but as a matter of precaution the schools churches and other public gatherings have been ordered discontinued with for three weeks.

Horse Owners Take Notice.

There will be a meeting at the courthouse Saturday, Dec. 21 at 2 p. m. The object of this meeting will be to strengthen our present organization in regard to stamping out horse stealing as well as all our live stock stealing.

Nebraska Echoes

Allen has a tailoress.

You can always tell what kind of a town it is by the advertising columns of its news paper.

Rev. Mr. Hughes says in his Pender Republic that he "has little sympathy with the man or woman who occasionally swears." Evidently Rev. Mr. Hughes has never trained his wife to get up in the morning and build the fires, as all dutiful wives should.

The will of Henry J. Bryer, of Bellwood, provides that no grandchild, who uses to beco before reaching the age of 30, shall inherit any of his property. Mr. Bryer believes that he will rest better in his grave if the fortune, that took him so many years to accumulate, is not "going up in smoke."

County Superintendent Perdue, of Madison county, says that "in cases of trouble between teacher and pupil, the teacher is right nine times out of ten and in cases of trouble between the teacher and superintendent, the teacher is wrong nine times out of ten."

Any fellow caught stealing horses in north Nebraska at this stage of the game will likely have to say his prayers mighty quick.

Winside is getting some hot shot on account of its tight "lid." One paper says that the next move will be to stop the running of the trains through the town on Sunday and another says that all a man has to do now when he dies and arrives at the golden gate, is to tell St. Peter that he is from Winside, and he will be allowed to pass right in without any questions being asked.

It is the general opinion that E. Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the state university, and Mr. Rogers, the socialist member of the board of regents, will never get very "chummy."

Traveling men say that a certain landlord in a north Nebraska town invariably greets them thus: "How'd do! How'd do! Feel like you want a drink? Why, yes, I wouldn't mind. All right, I'll go along."

A wise young man, down at Norfolk, being admonished for dropping a beer check in the contribution box at church, replied that he "put it in because it is good for one schooner when I cross the river Styx."

The democrats of the Third congressional district are showing more "activity" than they have for a number of years, professing to be very confident that they can beat Standpater Boyd next year. Judge Guy T. Graves, who was defeated last year only by a small plurality, Henry C. Richmond, the talented editor of the Fremont Herald, the picturesque Pat McKillop, of Humphrey, Ben N. Saunders, of Knox county, and C. A. Kingsbury, of Ponca, are already being boomed by admirers. Although it is not expected that Congressman Boyd will encounter any opposition for re-nomination, yet it is the opinion among some political mixers that either Senator G. W. Wiltze, of Randolph, or E. R. Gurney, of Fremont, could defeat him in the primaries. Both are "progressive" and in line with the "rank and file."

Si Tomkins, of Tarbox Hollow, writes: "I always had a hankering to see wem of these fellers which rites the funny jokes in the newspapers."

Ay got confound itch, Ay, myself, ban batinch; Tal me how to get a wife Tal help me do de scratchin'.

Ole Knudson pleads for the teaching of courtship in the Nebraska schools. It looks awful discouraging for the faithful band who has been making a gallant fight the past week or ten days that the grand old state of Nebraska should follow the lead of her sister, Illinois, and teach courtship in the public schools. With but three remote precincts to hear from, but one convert has been made. That is, we are confident of his assistance. It is very improbable that Frank Schellpepper, of Pilger, would go back on us for contributing the following gem to his paper, "dedicated" to a Pilger young woman. Frank comes right out and tells her name, too; but we won't do it.

Her hair is gleaming like gold in the sun, And attracts the attention of every one; She has a dotted waist and a dress of red, She is dressed very dainty from her feet to her head;

In fact, she looks like a well dressed dolly; But try to caress her is a great piece of folly.

There is no doubt but that if courtship had been taught in the schools years ago the last line would not have had to be written.

It is with much pain that we are forced to acknowledge that Superintendent Miller, of Cedar county, and Superintendent Littell, of Wayne county, will give us no active support. We counted on them strongly. Mr. Miller says:

"This subject may admit of a great many different opinions. But it seems to me that the child of today thinks of and practices courtship enough without having it brought more forcibly to his mind by the teacher in the school room. When a man discovers his 'affinity' I do not think it would help his cause any if he had had the science of courtship taught him all his life. He would probably forget all his set rules and precise words when the exciting moment came. Seriously, courtship and love come naturally to one, and I think the time in the school room should be spent more profitably."

Then Mr. Littell says: "It appears to me that the talent to 'court' in the average boy or girl develops too early in life, along with the natural order of things, without any scientific system to give it impetus. 'Already it is reduced to a fine art in Nebraska. Why should it be attempted scientifically when a battle royal is being waged between matrimony and the compulsory education law? Few census reports are given to us in which are not included the names of married women. We have the evil of 'skipping grades' to combat. Think of the 'leaps' and 'bounds' that would be taken to gain the grade in which Superintendent Blair's suggestion had been carried out! Again, our faithful teachers, who have stormed the 'three-year limit' and added several years more of their lives to the work, would find themselves confronted with difficulties insurmountable; it would be hard to convince the boys and girls that their lives had been dedicated to the work of teaching, as a reason for not having long since applied the principles of courtship which they would teach. I shudder when I think of the number of texts on 'courtship' that would flood the market, of the original ideas that would be supplemented by teachers, and of the resulting 'affinities.' I am convinced, therefore, that it is better for us to prepare Nebraska girls and boys for their life's work and let the school system of Illinois do for theirs what they will, so long as they do not inflict upon us any of the 'finished product' resulting from the plan proposed by the state superintendent of that state."

There's one great drawback to the plan. To teach courtship in our public schools: All the old maids for miles around! Would come to visit and learn the rules. But as long as no voice has as yet sounded from Ponca, we're not going to give up. Look for startling revelations in the next chapter. Clyde T. Ecker in Sioux City Tribune.

You Can Easily Operate This Typewriter Yourself

Don't worry your correspondent. Don't write him anything by hand that it takes him time to make out—that may leave him in doubt—that he can't easily read. And don't fill out legal papers or card memos—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own hand writing.

It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous. You can write out your letters—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card memos—make out your accounts or a hotel menu—or do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thick-ness of paper, space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Writer

You can write any of these things yourself if you do not happen to have a stenographer. For you can easily learn, with a little practice, to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly, as an expert on the OLIVER. Because the OLIVER is the simplified typewriter. And you can see every word you write. About 80 per cent. more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 80 per cent. less wearing points than most other typewriters.

So per cent. easier to write with than these other complicated, intricate machines that "require 'hampering'"—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

These machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space—with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies or odd-size documents, except you buy expensive special attachments requiring experts to operate.

You can adjust the OLIVER to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachment or special skill, and your work will be neat appearing, legible and clear.

For the OLIVER is the typewriter for the doctor, the lawyer, the insurance agent, the merchant, the hotel proprietor—or any man who does his own writing.

Write us now for our booklet on the simplified features of the OLIVER.

Amusements

There seems to be the best of reasons for anticipating in the appearance of the Boston Ideal Opera Co., at the Opera House Thursday night, an operative event more than ordinary interest and merit. The Management has displayed much care and good judgment. Not only in selecting the company but in the manner in which the productions are staged and costumed, so that our amusement lovers may safely look forward to a musical treat.

The city park at present presents a most beautiful sight—for a good, clean-up fire. The grounds are full of dry grass, as well as most of the adjoining property. A lot of heavy manure thrown about the trees would no doubt prevent the probable disaster.

L. N. Porter, formerly in the X-Ray business here, has started an incubator plant at Blair, also calling it the X-Ray incubator, and practically the same machine as made in Wayne. There will probably be something aside from hatching chickens as the Wayne manufacturers say they will drive Porter's chickens home to roost.

Conductor Chas. Adair says there were also some amusing features about the awful tragedy at Norfolk last week, one of them being a big, fat traveling man who was so scared he tried to crawl out a window, but after getting half way could neither get back nor out, and had to be helped by other passengers who swore that wasn't all that was wrong with him.

J. H. Mitchell was in town last Friday from near Wakefield. "Ham" says there is a considerable number of small pox patients in Wakefield, the disease getting quite a spread owing to the doctors being at variance as to the nature of the malady, one claimed it was the real thing and the rest said no, so the state board of health was called in and ordered the patients quarantined.

As stated in the DEMOCRAT last week the trains made a change in time service Monday of this week. The morning passenger goes east at 7:05, the Bloomfield train arriving here at 6:55. The afternoon accommodation to Emerson will not wait there for any Omaha passengers, nor mail, the Sioux City train bringing it all up. The Sioux City-Norfolk evening passenger will also arrive here at 6:55 instead of 6:47 as heretofore.

Photographer Craven has added a splendid piece of machinery to his gallery, an arc-light picture maker. The arc-light, much more brilliant than the ordinary, about 15000 candle-power, is lowered into a cone-shaped crate, all around which are places for pictures. All the operator has to do is sit on a chair and turn the frame around, making pictures whether the sun shines or not. It facilitates getting out work and in case of rush orders or a large amount of business, never any delay.

Norfolk was the scene of another horrible tragedy last Thursday afternoon when V. B. Nethaway, a hide buyer well known in Wayne, got on the Union Pacific train going to Madison, and shot the top of his wife's head off, took a shot at her friend, Mrs. Harder, who ducked under the seat, then jumped off the train and going to an elevator shot himself dead with a revolver.

Mrs. Nethaway was on her way to Madison to apply for a divorce. The DEMOCRAT is told, by parties who knew the couple, that another man figured in their differences. Nethaway shot in the Wayne tournament last summer and was one of the best. Norfolk is certainly a "dead" town when it comes to shooting affairs.

Maud Was Pretty.

A special to last Saturday night's Sioux City Tribune was as follows: Winside, Neb., Dec. 7.—Maud Williams, pretty and pert, but only 15, another youthful "star" of Ramsey's "great show" now "on the boards" here, has been plucked by the law and sent home to mamma.

Early yesterday morning the Winside officers received a message from Wayne to send Maud home. About 6 o'clock Night Policeman Hills called at the hotel, woke up the manager and demanded the girl. The manager at first refused to let her go, but after the officer had told him there was a nice place down in the "jug" for him, he got up and called the girl.

Maud was still in slumberland when the summons came, but awoke sufficiently to send down word that she "was tired and didn't care to get up." "I'll just give you fifteen minutes to get up, dress and come down," was the ultimatum of the representative of the law, "and if you fail to show up in that time, I'll come up and get you." Maud got up.

At the depot, bidding two of the company goodbye, she said: "Don't worry, boys, I'll be with you again soon. Me for the stage. 'Tis a gay old life. Nothing else for me."

Rumsey's "great show" has no "chorus" now. Stern parents, with the aid of the law, have "called home" all its members, three in number.

Christmas Presents.

Every year photos are becoming more popular for Christmas presents, but nearly everybody puts off having them taken until about the last week and then we have more than we can do in order to induce people to come in early, we will give fifteen pictures for the price of a dozen to everyone who orders before December 15. Remember the days are getting short, so come in early in the day if possible.

12-12 CRAVEN, the Photographer.

Not The Worst Of It.

To the Editor of The Telegram: Yesterday I heard a man say that during the past six months many of the national banks in New York have issued statements showing that they had loaned $100.00 for every dollar of their capital stock. Can it be possible that our bank inspectors would permit such dangerous banking? If you have the reports at hand will you please tell me if it is true that any bank has loaned as high as $100.00 for each dollar of the bank's capital stock?

Subscriber.
We do not have the New York bank statements at hand, but we have seen the charge in the newspaper of the east, and we have never heard the statements challenged. Indeed we have seen the charge that some of the New York banks have loaned as high as $120.00 for every dollar of their capital stock. That is going some in the loaning business.

However, our subscriber has not directed attention to the worst feature of the New York style of banking. Perhaps it is had business for a bank to loan one hundred dollars for every dollar of its capital stock, even though the deposits would seem to warrant such heavy loans, but the worst feature of the eastern mode of banking, as it appears to The Telegram, has been the criminal negligence of the bank examiners in permitting the New York banks to reduce their reserves below the limit allowed by law. It is a shameful fact that for six months the reserve in the New York national banks has been below the limit of the law, and yet the national government has winked at that kind of wild-cat banking. Not for a minute would the government permit a little national bank in the west to reduce its reserve fund below the limit of the law. If it should try such a trick, very likely its doors would be closed by the comptroller of the treasury.

But why should the government give the New York bankers privileges not accorded to western bankers? No one seems to be able to answer the question.

Why should the government continue to make deposits in New York banks when the secretary of the treasury knows those banks have violated the law, and have subjected their charters to revocation? No western man can answer that question.

Why does the government refuse to deposit government money in western banks when money is scarce, but carries all to the gambling banks of Wall Street? That is another hard nut to crack.

The Telegram cannot make answer to such questions, but we stand ready to print in these columns such answer as may be given us by any defender of the wild-cat banking policy of the national administration. Come on, brother—and especially you who believe the national administration has not been contaminated by the touch of Wall Street gold. Come, and make clear a situation which looks very muddy. Come, and offer such apology as you can for the fact that Secretary Cortelyou appears to be rather the servant of Wall Street than the servant of the American people.—Columbus Telegram.

Carroll News.

From the Index.
Simon Tracht has so far recovered from his accident as to be able to get around on his crutches.

Mrs. Rev. Sam Jones has been visiting the past week with her daughter Mrs. Holmes, at Norfolk.

Joe Jones is enjoying a vacation from store duties. He resigned his duties at Charles Robbins & Co's last Saturday.

The friends of Ernest Schaupner will be pleased to learn that he is now the owner of a blacksmith shop at Osmond and is doing well.

John Shannon was taken suddenly sick last Saturday night. He suffered hemorrhages of the stomach. His condition for a time was such as to give his folks alarm. We are pleased to learn that he has improved this week.

Mrs. E. E. Carter received word on Wednesday of the death of her father which occurred that day at the family home at Belmer, Neb. Owing to being quarantined Mrs. Carter is unable to attend the funeral, which is held today.

The report of the First National Bank published elsewhere in these columns shows the splendid growth of our local institution, which statement shows the growth of deposits over last year on the same date of over $13,000 also its large cash reserve is a cause for congratulations.

THE MARATHON MYSTERY

A STORY OF MANHATTAN.

CHAPTER VIII.
THE HAND OF THE LAW.

For a full moment the coroner stood looking down at the pistol in his hand without speaking, so far as his face hardened and grew stern, so far as his eyes were fixed upon the pistol. He was looking at it with a certain morbid interest. "I think I shall have to ask Mr. Drysdale before I go back to Babylon," he said. "But first let us try to account for the presence of this pistol in 'cat house'."

"How do you know that?" asked the coroner sharply. "I know, sir, I know it," the boy answered. "I'm sure your theory is the correct one, Mr. Tremaine. I present you my compliments. I don't think I shall leave the house yesterday evening."

"You mean that boat hasn't been away from the buoy since you tied it to the post?" asked the coroner. "That's what I believe," answered Tremaine. "Why, yes," answered Tremaine slowly. "A possible explanation occurs to me. It may be that you have a theory and so may be worth nothing, but seems to me after committing a crime that the murderer would seek in some place where he could not be traced. It was committed. What better hiding place could he seek than the water? Of course, he added, in another theory, that Mr. Drysdale did not commit the crime. The pistol no doubt, however, was in the house some time ago. He can explain that."

"He wore his raincoat, sir," he said. "I'm sure your theory is the correct one, Mr. Tremaine. I present you my compliments. I don't think I shall leave the house yesterday evening."

"I'm sure your theory is the correct one, Mr. Tremaine. I present you my compliments. I don't think I shall leave the house yesterday evening."

I took one and lighted it. I know the term of endearment had no meaning. "My friend," she said suddenly, turning to me with intent gaze. "Do you know what that means?"

"No," I answered, "he did not tell me. He said only that his business was calling him." "Business! Oh! And you believe that?" "Why shouldn't I believe it, Cecily?" "If it were merely business, he could have taken me along. Tambouli! I would have hidden in some little, little corner, I would not have been in the way."

"Priscilla is coming," said the Bachelor Girl, winking at Miss Marmalade. "But she never will," declared the Mere Man, "unless she finds somebody soft and easy and mushy that he is incapable of feeling a pin prick or a dig. That's why so many of the nicest girls are either old maids or tied to a bare excuse of a husband. They start out early in life with a collection of ideals so high that no man can ever reach up to them or get over them or round them or past them."

"Of course he doesn't," laughed the Bachelor Girl. "He prefers to be handled like a baby."

"I'm sure your theory is the correct one, Mr. Tremaine. I present you my compliments. I don't think I shall leave the house yesterday evening."

BY DAD

Seems as if the president wanted to make it absolutely certain that but few people would read all of his message.

Senator Kittredge of South Dakota has introduced a bill in congress providing that "if a homesteader shows he cannot make a living on his land he may take out another quarter section." That reminds us of the man who traded a quarter section for a calf and while the fellow wasn't watching worked off another quarter on him in the deal.

It's almost too exciting to have Uncle Tom and Santa Claus strike town within a fortnight of each other—Norfolk News.

Ought to be all right if Tom brings Jerry with him and the weather is not too warm.

Don't, please don't, bore us any more about it. It is a $1.50.

One way to imagine you are paying up at the old $1 rate is to take the Sioux City Daily News and the Democrat one year for only $2.15, just the usual price of a daily paper.

Congress is in session again, but what congress will do this year isn't worth worrying about.

To the 25,000 men out of work in Chicago the salaries they used to get look larger no doubt.

The New York American says that Anna Gould is married to the Prince de Sagan and Anna says she isn't married to anybody. Well, both might be nearly right.

The meekest kind of a little boy joined a Sunday school class in a west Philadelphia church. He did not know the other scholars and appeared nervous, half scared, and ready to cry at any second. The teacher, however, treated him kindly, and the lessons proceeded without any outburst. After a short reading from the bible the teacher began to question the pupils on their last lessons, and asked: "Who led the children of Israel into Canaan?"

As no one answered she looked from boy to boy. At last her gaze rested on the new boy. He started guiltily, and said, between sobs:

"It wasn't me, honest, teacher. I just moved here last week from Ohio."

A gentleman named Onion is filling a North Dakota pulpit. He should be able to bring tears to the eyes of his hearers.

"If seven sheep were on one side of the fence and one of them jumped over to the other side, how many were left?" pronounced a teacher to the primary class. Pauline's observations of animal life had not been in vain, despite her tender years "There would be none left," she replied knowingly. "If one jumped over they'd all follow."

The country bull looked askance at the group of city girls meandering across the field. "I don't like the cut of that red dress," he muttered, pawing the ground, "I think I'll put a few gores in it."

Passing through a certain part of the country one day a stranger read this sign: "Danger! If any man or woman let his or her cow stray into this here cornfield, his or her tail shall be cut off, as the case may be."

One of the peculiar propositions of a newspaperman's life is that every merchant in town thinks a printing office should be able to set up his "ad," quarter, half or whole page, twelve hours before the paper appears in the postoffice.

A Frenchman has invented an automobile that runs equally as well on water as on land. It was recently tested in New York. If it proves a success on water it should be popular in Wall Street.

Have you read the president's message, why, of course not; you haven't taken that week's lay-off yet.

"Boil your oysters!" looks to me like good advice this winter.

As a rule, the smaller a young man's salary the more kid gloves he buys.

You have a right to do lot of things someone else thinks you shouldn't do. There are as many lawyers clamoring for the wrong as there are lawyers clamoring for the right, says a philosopher. Of course, they want to know what's "in it."

This advice about buying 'em early is all right, but first get your sponduliches.

This is a pretty hard time of year to make your wife and the rest of the family believe that a money panic is on.

Judging from the following from the Cherokee Democrat the Iowa newspapers are getting it in the neck from the paper trust as well as the Nebraskans.

Yesterday I got notice of another raise in the price of print paper. This week it costs me $3 more a ton than it did a month ago, and $14 more per ton than it did a little over a year ago. That's going some. And the cheerful information is given out that there is every prospect of still higher prices after January 1. Have you paid your subscription yet?

Still some of you fellows who like to spend dollars for booze with your friends, will kick on a half dollar per year for a good paper.

College Notes

Mr. Siebert of Tilden is enjoying a visit from his sister.

Miss Templeton of Lincoln, the state librarian, was a visitor on the hill for some time last week.

Mr. Nieland has been busy the past week putting up the new ice box. An addition is also being built to the kitchen.

Mr. Lou Hunter, a former citizen of Wayne and now living in Minnesota, visited his daughter Friday afternoon.

School for this term will be over the 20th of this month and the vacation will last until the 30th when the new term begins.

The faculty meetings occur on Monday morning at 11 o'clock instead of in the evening. As there is no school on Monday morning, this is a very handy arrangement for all concerned.

Mr. McLaughlin, of Lincoln, state agent for D. C. Heath & Co., spent a few hours at the school Friday afternoon. Mr. McLaughlin is the dean of the book men of the state and is always a welcome visitor.

The boys' gymnasium class is going to give an athletic exhibition in the near future. The young men are waiting for some extra paraphernalia before amounting definitely as to the date.

Fred Pile addressed the students at one o'clock meeting Saturday afternoon. He spoke on the educational institutions of the east, many of which he visited during the time he spent in college there.

The following new students enrolled the past week: Messrs Burke of Bancroft, Olson of Lyons, Henry and Wm. Busch of Carroll, Samuelson and McEachen of Wayne, Strom and Fleury of Randolph, Leonard of Wakefield and Pearce of Genoa.

Some young men occasionally think that they are better able than is the head of the institution to dictate the policy of the school. Such a case came up this week and as a result the young man was sent to his home. Such persons must realize that in order to be students here they will have to comply with the few regulations of the school.

The following is clipped from the Norfolk News: Highly successful were the Madison county teachers' meetings held by County Superintendent F. S. Perdue, in Madison Friday and Saturday with no less distinguished Nebraska educators than President Pile of Wayne college and State Superintendent McBrien of Lincoln on the program. Saturday afternoon Superintendent McBrien discussed with the teachers the use of literature in the schools. President Pile, following Mr. McBrien, spoke on "Experimental Life" and in the course of a pleasing address advocated rearranging the course of study in the schools so as to accomplish more for the life of the people, declared that normal schools should be leaders rather than followers in arranging standards for educational work and thought that the school ought to be made more of a venter of interest for each community.

Christmas means Good Cheer—a time when the good things of life are enjoyed. One of the good things is Storr Blue Ribbon Beer, pure, sparkling, healthful and of a delicious flavor—a glass of it with your meals or your evening lunch makes life worth living. Be sure to have a case in your home.
