$1.50 PER YEAR

Who Did You Forget

One of the most common occurrences at holiday time is the unaccountable oversight of some friend to whom you firmly intended to send a gift. It often happens, too, that unexpected gifts come to you, placing you under obligation to make some return. These difficulties can be straightened out on

New Year's Day

A stock like our is always too large to be exhausted and is largely made up of practical goods that are salable the year 'round. We therefore can supply just what you may require for New Year or any belated tokens.

FELBER'S PHARMACY
THE DRUG STORE OF QUALITY

Why Not?

It will pay you to deal with us! QUALITY is our consideration. Most people are willing to pay for quality and we have it. Just the flour you are looking for and if you will give us a chance we will prove it to your own satisfaction. You can buy cheaper flour, but you can't buy better flour. And look at our buckwheat flour, it is pure and the cheapest in town. Pancake flour that makes cakes that can't be beat. Now if you are looking for hog feed ask your neighbor about tankage. That is cheaper feed than corn at 25¢ per bushel. We have the oil meal, the shorts, Red Dog shorts, flour middlings and everything in the feed line. All kinds chicken feed and oyster shells, clam shells, Pearl grit.

We are making another special price on 500 and 1000 lbs. flour.

Farmers!

I am here to stay if you will stay with me. It will as heretofore be to your benefit. I have built up a large shop, fitted with the best tools and plenty of them. Am fixed to accommodate you with any kind of work and always try to employ the best of workmen. Will not have a man in my shop who will pound your horses with rasp, hammer, pincers or other fierce weapons, as of late. Bring me your work as heretofore and I will treat you right. Guarantee all work.

Bring your Discs in now. Prices—12 to 18 inch, 20¢; 20 inch 25¢. Bring in your old wagon, carriage or buggy and get them rebuilt. If in need of any other kind of repairing on farm implements for spring use, bring them in now.

Thanking you all for past favors and hoping that you all stay with the Boy who built up Altona, was raised with you and going to stay with you for your benefit.

Yours respectfully,

GEO. F. THIES,

Altona, Nebr.

BY DAD

Still feel that fullness? Bixby wants to know what you expect to gain, by holding that grudge! Cut it out!

'Ere's 'oping a lot of you fellows will be riding on it before our next issue is issued.

Near Enid, Oklahoma, a little papoose was eaten by hogs the other day. The nasty things.

Have you heard Ellis Girtten's story of how the "new hotel" was built? It's worth listening to.

The new $10 gold piece suit me all right, but of course I think the $20 pieces are by far the prettiest.

Norfolk has secured a Carnegie donation of $10,000 for a public library. Norfolk certainly needs a higher education.

The prohibition national convention might be held on Sunday. It would be safe for the prohibs to be in Chicago even on that day.

Republicans are insisting that no small gun can capture the presidential nomination. Some insist that even a Cannon can't get it.

"Is too much money harmful to American women?" asks an exchange. Tell us who the woman is who has too much and we can judge better.

Let the woman do the shopping, The men provide the rocks; If they haven't got 'em in the bank They'll find 'em in wifey's socks.

A Des Moines, Io., woman was sent to jail three days for stealing an article valued at a quarter. The justice who sentenced her must be cutting on prices. Three for a quarter ought to please any woman.

Billy Sunday got $6,000 for five weeks of blathering at Muscatine. No doubt a lot of the "converts" deprived their families of the necessities and comforts of life in order to help Billy out.—Cherokee Democrat.

Funny how many telephone lines are "busy" these days. A farmer in town Tuesday said that if Manager Phillet didn't get an old maid, a thousand years old, to "tend central," he was going to sell his phone at once.

All old sores and old sores, as well as financial affairs, should be settled up in the next few days. If you have any crow to pick with the DEMOCRAT please call before midnight, December 31, 1907, or forever hold your peace about it.

If some people who howl about keeping competition out of town would require their families to do a fraction of their trading in Wayne instead of all of it in Sioux City, there would be a little consistency in their criticisms.

John Coleman says he thinks this DEMOCRAT runs to red too easily. After advertising his famous Poland China hogs for two months and about selling the entire bunch, the DEMOCRAT quotes John as saying he had only one or two more "Duroc Reds" left.

There has been accidental deaths from careless handling of fire-arms by children near Wayne, Pierce, Hoskins, Allen and several other places the past two months. One such affair should have been sufficient to take all the guns out of the hands of the reckless boys.

The DEMOCRAT owes its exchange list an apology for not mailing them copies the past two weeks. The last two issues we printed eight pages, making a twelve page paper in all. Owing to a mistake of the "boss," only 1310 supplements for each issue was printed, when it would take 1410. Therefore all exchanges and parties in arrears on subscription were cut off the list to the tune of "Old Hundred."

A few subscribers are kicking on the $1.50 subscription rate. The DEMOCRAT isn't coaxing nor soliciting subscribers and all parties who do not want the paper at the price will receive prompt attention in having it discontinued to their address. We do not know of a county-seat weekly-paper anywhere that is not going to the $1.50 rate by January 1, 1908. Perhaps the DEMOCRAT isn't worth it, but that is not how prices are made. It is on what it costs to furnish it.

The boy who will wrap a wire about a poor dog's tail until it cuts into the flesh, and then attach a tin can to the wire, may not be a boy who is on the road to the penitentiary, but he is a cowardly boy just the same. That boy would strike his little sister in the face, if he were not afraid of a father. It is always a coward who hurts a child, or a dumb animal which cannot defend itself. A brave boy always fights somebody able to fight back. Say, boys—even mother would be ashamed of us if she should see her boy fighting, something or somebody not able to fight back. Let's not do anything to make mother ashamed of us.—Columbus Telegram.

A funny thing happened in this office last Thursday while the gas engine and press were running. Mrs. John Dimmel of Winside called to pay a bill for her lord and master. Just as she was handing me a check a large case, full of brass rule fell off a stand and made a terrific bang! bang! as it hit the floor. With a yell of "Oh!" our kind visitor grabbed by dad for support, evidently believing the engine was vomiting fire and brimstone. The best part of the joke was that when I told the princess about it, that a Winside, married lady hugged me for support in her fright, the lady of quality, who knows me a little better than Mrs. Dimmel does, replied: "Gaalous! I don't know why a woman should grab a beanstalk like you for any support."

Want His Hair.

The following amusing item from Winside appeared in last Saturday's Norfolk News.

Because they danced until 3 o'clock the next morning and were too "sick" to attend a teachers' meeting the next day, a number of Wayne county school ma'ams have been exposed and their names published in the Winside Watchman by Professor Dimmick, president of the meeting, with comment.

It has caused a sensation in the western part of the county, where most of the truants live. Although Professor Dimmick does not mention the dance, it is generally known to be the cause of the "roast."

As the school law says that teachers must attend these meetings and the county superintendent have power to revoke certificates for nonattendance, it is expected that there will be "something doin'" when the offenders are called "on the carpet" by County Superintendent Littell, whose views on the dancing "evil" are well known and who, not long ago, declared that if positive evidence was brought to him that a teacher insisted on running to dances to the detriment of her school duties, he would revoke her certificate.

All the truants—but one, to use one of their own expressions, are "shakin' in their boots." The one exception says:

"I'd glory if I could cut out dancing, then mamma, would let me get married. It couldn't be any worse than teaching kids."

"Then to make it more horrid," says another, "it's the second offense for some of us. Gee! I wish it was over I'd like to get a good holt on Dimmick's hair."

He only intends to stay in South Dakota one more year, then he will return to Wayne county and reside on his own farm.

Lawrence Longnecker took another one of them spells that he is subject to Monday. Without leave or provocation of any of his neighbors loaded up his personal belongings and started for parts unknown but when he got to Winside, the old balky horse thought he had gone far enough so Lawrence rented a house and barn of E. W. Cullen and retired until the next spell strikes him.

The following from the Norfolk News may help some poor, but honest Wayne man to evade the sidewalk ordinance—for awhile:

A prominent Norfolk citizen is engaged in a lively row with the street department of the city council. The council ordered a walk laid in front of a piece of property belonging to the citizen in question, who interposed various objections against putting the walk down. The council stood pat. Then came a peculiar move. The citizen deeded all save a ten-inch strip of the lot to his wife, retaining the strip next the sidewalk line in his own name. The council was plainly "up a tree" for awhile, for if they put in the walk and taxed it to the adjacent property the ten inches of land would be surrendered to them and they would have the costs of the walk to pay. Recently they have been investigating and they now think they have a "move" on the man. An ordinance, the councilman says, gives them the right to have the man arrested and fined $10 for not obeying their order to lay a walk along his ten inches of land. The process of ordering and fining may be repeated until the citizen finds his move rather expensive.

Report of The Meeting.

The Wayne County Live Stock Owners' Protective Association met at the court house in response to the call of the Secretary. The first thing in order was an explanation by the secretary of some things he and others had neglected to do, one of the most important was that he had neglected to see the proprietor of the court house in regard to getting the courtroom to hold the meeting in, and the consequence was the doors were locked. As soon as possible a messenger was dispatched to obtain the key, but the word came back "they can't have it." But fortunately one of the party was able to unlock the door and that let us all in. The way this all happened was the secretary depended on the president to see the gentleman, and the president did not know that it required a tip to get the use of the room.

The report of secretary and treasurer were given, showing that the association had spent about $200 trying to capture the thieves who stole Chan Norton's horses November 2d, and they were still on the trail and still had hopes of capturing at least the horses.

The report also showed that 114 members in good standing belonged to the association. The annual election of officers was taken up. The same officers were elected as were last year. A motion was made to unite the Wayne County Live Stock Owners Protective Association with the North Nebraska Live Stock Owners Protective Association. The motion was unanimously carried.

A motion was made and carried for the president to appoint 12 delegates to meet with the last named association at Norfolk, Neb., December 30th, 1907. The following delegates were named: Phil Berres, W. Lessman, Grant Mears, Ed. Owen, Jim McIntosh, John Hadley, Henry Bayes, Chan Norton, R. E. McEachen, W. H. Gildersleeve, J. M. Cherry, F. E. Strahan. W. H. GILDERSLEEVE Secretary

I would like to say in connection with this report that we expect to double our membership this year. Any one who desires to become a member step into the "First National Bank and pay $2, and secure certificate of membership. "In Union there is Strength."

Sholes Items.

Asher Hurlburt was in Wayne last Saturday on business.

Mrs. Asher Hurlburt and son Willie, visited in Carroll on Sunday.

The pupils of the Sholes school have organized a literary society with the following named officers: Will Hurlburt, president; Hysel Moats, vice president; Mary Pawelski, secretary; Warren Closson, treasurer.

The Sholes school opened last Monday with 56 pupils. Asher Hurlburt sending one seventh of the whole number.

The Sholes hotel has opened up once more for business, a Mr. Cuhlman from Norfolk is landlord and is said to be doing quite a business.

A few of our most prominent young men are troubled with girl on the brain but if no other complications set in they may pass through without a trip to Norfolk.

It was reported here Sunday that Phillip Horn, a young farmer living five miles southwest of Sholes, had become mentally deranged and Sheriff Mears had been notified to come out and take charge of him and bring him before the board of insanity for examination.

On December 24th at 4 p. m., a pretentious home wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Roberts. At the sound of the sweet strains of the wedding march furnished by the artistic touch of Prof. Davies, the contracting parties, Miss Elizabeth James and Mr. Clarence Auker took their place under the neatly arranged arch from which was suspended the wedding bell and in a few well-chosen words Rev. Parker Smith of the Baptist church addressed the guests after which the vows were spoken. Following congratulations all were served with a substantial dinner to which all did ample justice. The bride is one of Wayne's bright young women, a member of the Baptist church, and has been engaged in teaching school for some time. The groom is an energetic young farmer, coming from one of Wayne's best families. A number of useful presents were received from friends absent and present. The young couple left on the evening train for Deadwood, S. D., where they will spend some time before going to housekeeping.

You Can Easily Operate This Typewriter Yourself

Don't worry your correspondent.

Don't write him anything by hand that it takes him time to make out—that may leave him in doubt—that he can't easily read.

And don't fill out legal papers or card memos—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own hand writing.

It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous.

You can write out your letters—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card memos—make out your accounts or a hotel menu—or do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thickness of paper, space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Writer

You can write any of these things yourself if you do not happen to have a stenographer. For you can easily learn, with a little practice, to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly, as an expert on the OLIVER. Because the OLIVER is the simplified typewriter. And you can see every word you write. About 80 per cent. more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 80 per cent. less wearing points than most other typewriters.

So per cent. easier to write with than these other complicated, intricate machines that "require 'humoring'—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

Than machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space—with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies or odd-size documents, except you buy expensive special attachments requiring experts to operate.

You can adjust the OLIVER to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachment or special skill, and your work will be near appearing, legible and clear.

For the OLIVER is the typewriter for the doctor, the lawyer, the insurance agent, the merchant, the hotel proprietor—or any man who does his own writing.

—May Die.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 23.—The authorities are much puzzled over an attempt at murder at Milford, southwest of Lincoln, Monday evening Mrs. Frank Smith, wife of a farmer, who had been left alone at her home during the afternoon, was found with a fractured skull by her son on his return from town. No attempt at criminal assault had been made, and no effort made to rob the place.

Two in Assault.

When she regained consciousness Tuesday evening her tongue and side were paralyzed. When asked as to what she knew of the man who held up her fingers, she said she did not know him. She was unable to speak them. An alphabet was found, and an effort made to have her pick out the man by touching the letters. She was unable to do this. The excitement was too much for her, and she relapsed before any information was obtained. She had been in two serious conditions to make further interrogation possible.

The Statesman does not mention the dance, it is generally known to be the cause of the "roast."

"Shaking in Their Boots."

As the school laws say that teachers must attend all meetings and the county superintendents have power to revoke certificates for nonattendance, it is expected that the members of the "roast" will be called "shaking in their boots" when the offenders are called "on the carpet" by County Superintendent Little, whose views on the dancing "evil" are well known and not long ago declared that if positive evidence was brought to him that a teacher insisted on running to dances to the detriment of her duties, he would revoke her certificate.

H. C. Bartells is hereby appointed overseer of road district No. 43 and bond approved.

Whereas one Ira Davenport, a resident of New York, died and at the time of his death had previously sold certain lands in Nebraska on contract and it is the belief of the board of commissioners of Wayne county, Nebraska, that these contracts and the interest of the deceased in such contracts are liable for the inheritance tax provided for by the laws of this state and that some of said lands are situated in the county of Wayne and whereas, the question of their taxation of said contracts appears to be a close legal question and whereas, the first decision upon the taxability of said contracts has been against the interests of Wayne and the other counties interested and whereas, A. Van Wagenen of Sioux City, Iowa has offered to assist the county attorney of this county in prosecuting said case on appeal wholly on a contingent fee now Be It Resolved, that said A. Van Wagenen's offer to take said case for fifty per cent be accepted that is to say his offer to take said case for a fee equal to half the amount of tax recovered on the said land contracts be accepted and the chairman of this board is hereby directed to sign the contract which is presented with said offer in duplicate wherein the county is to pay said A. Van Wagenen nothing unless he succeeds in collecting the tax on said contracts and then a sum equal to one half of such amount as he may succeed in collecting.

And whereas, the county attorney in order to provide a bond within the ten days following the decision of the County Court of Dodge County, Nebraska, signed a bond for appeal of said matter in the name of the county, the action of the county attorney in so doing is hereby ratified and the said bond is hereby made binding upon the county with the same force and effect as if signed by the chairman or the full board, and whereas, there may be some question under the law whether the bond should be given to the district court or the county court, and the chairman of this board is hereby directed to sign another bond running to the district court.

Whereas, on December 9th, 1907, J. C. McDonald filed an affidavit showing that in the year 1907, he was assessed with a poll tax amounting to the sum of $2.50 which has been paid under protest for the reason that he was not subject to said tax, as he was past 50 years of age. The board after due consideration orders treasurer to refund said tax of $2.50.

Whereas on December 19th, 1907, Wendel Baker filed an affidavit showing that in the year 1907, he was assessed with a poll tax amounting to the sum of $2.50 which has been paid under protest for the reason that he was past 50 years of age and not subject to said tax. The board after due consideration orders treasurer to refund said tax of $2.50.

Comes now James W. Beams, Guardian, for Mrs. B. H. Lane and filed affidavit showing that for the year 1907 that she was assessed with a water bond tax for the city of Wayne amounting to the sum of $3.84 which has been paid under protest for the reason that she was not assessable with said tax for the reason that she was not within the water bond limits. After due consideration board orders treasurer to refund said tax of $3.84.

It is hereby ordered that county clerk make requisition on the Auditor of Public Accounts for revenue books and blanks.

Whereupon board adjourns to January 7th, 1908.
CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, Clerk.
