PUBLIC Sale of Short Horn Cattle

Farm Machinery, Etc.

Having sold my place I will offer for sale my entire herd of cattle without reserve, at my farm, 4 miles south and 1 mile west of Wakefield, on

Friday, January 22, 1909

The Offering Consists of

11 Pure Bred Shorthorns, 7 Females and 4 Bulls and 44 High-Grade or Non-Eligible Cattle

Twenty-two of these are milk cows, the balance are two-year-old heifers, yearlings and calves.

The cattle will be presented in fair breeding condition, no effort having been made to place them in high form. They have made us money and will be money makers for you. They are the dual purpose type. A good milker has been my hobby for years. All females of suitable age will have calves at foot or be bred to Wayne's Champion 235112. We have catalogued no animals that are not breeders. A certified pedigree from the American Shorthorn Association will be furnished with each of the eleven pure bloods.

We will also place on sale a complete line of Farm Machinery, all nearly new. Thirty-five head high grade Duroc Jersey gilts, bred to a pure-bred boar. One span heavy draft horses, 1 draft colt, one driving bred colt.

TERMS—Cash, or 12 months time will be given on approved notes at 10 per cent.

Free Hot Lunch from 10:30 until sale begins. Sale commences at 12 sharp, January 22, 1909

The Public School Kindergarten.

"The kindergarten is no longer a toy of philanthropy, a pleasing and interesting experiment. It is to-day recognized as one of the most potent factors in modern civilization. The time is near at hand when the universal establishment of these schools and their generous endowment will come to be acknowledged as one of the chief duties of every progressive commonwealth."

The above clipping, taken from a progressive American newspaper is true beyond the question of a doubt. In the Omaha, Lincoln and other public schools of the state, the child enters the kindergarten at the immature age of five years. This is the age at which our state laws permit him to enter upon regular school work, but after one year training in a preparatory kindergarten department he is of more mature age, and better equipped in both mind and body for regular grade work.

Those interested in the movement in Wayne will soon organize a kindergarten Board of Directors that shall have charge of the work until the necessary funds are raised. They are being greatly assisted by Mrs. James Dart of Salt Lake, originator of the work in that city, and by Mrs. Byron Cummings, President of the Utah Federation of Clubs.

Believing that there is no interested mother nor housewife who would not willingly contribute once, or even twice between now and next August to an exchange, they plan to make a thorough canvass and use this as one of the means by which the fund will grow. There is nothing else to which people will give so gladly as to help for the children. It was John Hare who said that "sabin' a little child and bringin' him to his own, is a durned sight better business than loafin' round a throne."

Sholes News

E. W. Closson was on the Sioux City market last week with 2 car load of hogs.

Sheriff Mears was in our burg last week on official business.

Sholes schools opened up Monday after a week's vacation.

Willie and Calvin Hurlbert attended a dance at Randolph New Year's night, and report a good time.

Asher Hurlbert started on Tuesday morning to shell that mountain of 8,000 bushel of corn, he expects that it will take at least 5 days to do the job.

At present it looks as if Sholes might be without a nasby. Our postmaster, Mr. Beaton, expects to move soon to Wausa to go into the restaurant business. There is no one here at present that seems to want the post office.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kinney gave a New Year's dance to their old neighbors and friends. We were informed by one who was there, that the way those old people shook themselves would lay all the young ones in the shade.

Hot For Texas!

There was a great bunch got out of town Tuesday morning, bound for Texas, an account of colder weather. In the party was L. F. Rayburn and family, Art Leuck, Chas. (Siefken, Robt. Skiles, S. D. Relyea, C. A. Berry and Mort McManigall. Mr. Rayburn goes to Happy, and the land-seekers to Canyon City.

Claus Kay went to Council Bluffs, Tuesday for an operation, and said he would have to have several more before permanently cured of his ailment.

Nearly Fatal Explosion.

Last Sunday evening, while attempting to light a gasoline lamp in her home, Mrs. B. F. Feather was badly burned upon her face and hands; part of her clothing being burned off and she was generally badly injured. In attempting to assist her in putting the fire out, Mr. Feather was quite badly burned about the hands. First reports were that Mrs. Feather was fatally injured, but it was not nearly so bad as that, although in places the skin peeled off her face and hands. The lamp had been put out, as supposed, and Mrs. Feather was putting in some wood alcohol when the thing exploded, the supposition being that there must have been a flame in the thing which formed gas.

A Nasty Runaway.

Monday forenoon Dan Ryan's farm team made a nasty run down Main street. Mr. Ryan having the ribbons, but unable to control the horses. Going south, across the railroad tracks, Ryan's team ran kerplunk into August Schmill's wagon going south, tipping over Schmill's load of oats and burying Schmill and his daughter beneath wagon box, grain and a tumbled up pile of horses. How they escaped being killed is a miracle, or nearly one. Schmill's team then ran away, being finally corralled in Fisher's lumber yard. After the mixup Ryan got his team stopped up against a fence. It was a nasty a looking sight as the DEMOCRAT man ever saw, with such minor results.

Winside Odd Fellows Celebrate.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs held full sway in Winside Saturday night, it being the occasion of their joint installation and banquet. Mrs. G. W. Yaryan of Carroll, deputy district president, installed the following Rebekah officers: Mrs. Sarah Archer, noble grand; Mrs. Josie Waddell, vice grand; Mrs. Lena Keiffer, secretary; Mrs. Abbie Re., treasurer; Mrs. J. A. Clayton, warden, and Mrs. Anna Holtgren, conductor. Then Deputy Grand Master W. G. Flynn of Wakefield, and his corps of assistants performed a like service for the Odd Fellows, the following being installed: Carl J. Wolff, noble grand; Jerry Jergenson, vice grand; Clyde T. Ecker, secretary; Gilbert E. French, treasurer; J. A. Clayton, conductor, and Clinton Frye, warden.

After the installation, plates were laid for one hundred and with the inner man satisfied, Clyde T. Ecker acting as toastmaster, the following responded for the good of the order: G. E. French of Winside, Mrs. G. W. Yaryan of Carroll, Dr. A. Enzells of Wakefield, and John H. Kate of Wayne.

It was a great night for the Odd Fellowship in Winside.—Norfolk News

That Boyd Contest.

The editor of the Plainview Republican has received a letter from Congressman Boyd relative to the rumored contest against Congressman-elect Latta, in which Mr. Boyd says: "The only thing I have heard of such a course on my part are these publications in the newspapers which are being made without any authority on my part whatever, as I have never entertained or expressed the thought of pursuing such a course."

That sounds more like it. Outside of his republican politics the DEMOCRAT always figured Judge Boyd a tolerably sensible, good fellow. No body but a Governor Sheldon would think of contesting Latta's seat in congress.

Utters Go to-Texas.

Robert Utter, a Norfolk traveling man and a former city treasurer of Norfolk, is to become a resident of Texas, having purchased land near Beville in Bee county in southern Texas, upon which he will start an orange ranch. Orange raising is a comparatively new industry in Texas, but it is claimed that the Texas orange has the advantage of maturing earlier than the oranges in California. Mr. Utter is in Texas now and will remove from Norfolk definitely about the first of February. Recently Mr. Utter disposed of his holdings in the Rosebud country. Mrs. Utter yesterday handed in her resignation as city librarian. The library board will meet next Wednesday to act on her resignation.

Sad Condition of Sheldon.

Lincoln Journal: In accepting a present of a gold watch from friends Governor Sheldon referred to his defeat for reelection. He attributed it to the Elmer Thomas letter, which he said contained a lie which he did not have an opportunity to deny before election, and attributed it to the brewing interests, but mostly to the Thomas letter. He said he had served the nation as a soldier at a loss to himself, served his county as state senator at a loss and his service to the state as governor had made quite a hole in his little fortune, and his present inclinations were for private life.

BARGAIN—320 acres well improved land, 2 miles from good town in South Dakota, 200 acres broke, all fenced and good buildings, price $31 per acre. You can double your money on this in 3 years. Soil as good as any in Wayne county. Enquire Leaby's Drugstore.

LOCAL NEWS.

Harry Tidrick and family were here from Winside Saturday.

There will be a regular meeting of Belthasar Court T. B. H. No 14, on Thursday, evening Jan. 7th, 1909, at 8 p m. You are earnestly requested to be present. Installation of officers. Helen E. Corbit, Scribe.

Fred Wright has opened a law office in Spokane, Wash., 449 Peyton Block, and writes to send him the DEMOCRAT.

Will Scott returned to Fort Collins, Col., Tuesday. Mr. Scott would like to move back to Nebraska.

O. D. Franks went to Sioux City Tuesday for a few days lay-off. His boss land agent, A. E. Kivett, is quite ill at his home in Bancroft.

Joe Dobbin, good old soul, was down from Hoskins Monday, with a roll. He paid for A. Bell and he paid for himself, therefore we have money this week "on the shelf."

Wm. Lock, a resident of Frank Owen's section of Idaho, is visiting Wayne acquaintances.

There will be two or three hotly contested games of basket ball in the new gymnasium of the college tomorrow night, Bancroft, to contest with A. A. College team, and also a game between the college girls. The citizens of the town are requested to go up and see the sport and boost for the boys.

Mrs. R. Durrin, secretary of the Mystic Legion of America, received drafts, from the Supreme lodge, for the Legan children.

Robt. Hefrl and family were in the city over Sunday visiting relatives. Mr. Hefrl is clerking for Phil Hill, one of Randolph's busiest merchants, and is getting along nicely.

J. R. Deane of Broken Bow, was appointed last week by Gov. Sheldon to the position on the supreme bench refused by Judge Sullivan.

Robt. Skiles will have a closing out sale of everything on his farm Feb. 16th. Mr. Skiles has quit farming and his big accumulation of stock, etc., will make it a big sale.

E. R. Gibson writes from Philip, S. D., protesting against a report from the Hoskins Headlight, that it was "28 below zero in South Dakota." Mr. Gibson says their thermometer has never been below 10 degrees above. E. R. is "in the land business" at Philip.

LeMars (Io.) Globe: August Fisher, who has been headman at the LeMars Bottling Works for the past ten years, left yesterday for Wakefield, Nebraska, where he will engage in the pop business for himself. His family will join him there next week. Mr. Fisher was presented with a beautiful W. O. W. watch charm as a farewell souvenir by Messrs Eugene Eilenbecker, John Eilenbecker, w.m. Martin and Henry Matgen, proprietors and employees of the LeMars bottling works. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher have made many warm friends while living in LeMars who wish them well in their new home and who will always entertain the kindest feelings toward them.

Brady, the nursery agent, who tried to hornswoogle Pete Peterson of near Carroll out of a team, has been finding a winter retreat with Sheriff Grant Mears. In other words he's behind the bars instead of front of them. County Judge Hunter, from the evidence, was of the conclusion that Brady was trying to steal the team away from Peterson, and asked for $500 bonds for his appearance next term of court, which Brady was unable to give, and "his lawyer" evidently didn't care to figure in the bond deal for his client, so Brady will get free board probably until next term of

The home of Jas. Britton was quarantined yesterday noon, his son Jimmy having the small pox. The residence of W. M. Orr has been under quarantine for a week or more for the same disease. The DEMOCRAT hears considerable complaint of the very lax methods of enforcing quarantine regulations. Mayor Ley and the city council should handle this proposition without fear or favor. An ounce of preventative is worth a ton of cure. Give every person the limit who ignores a quarantine, even though it be your own brother.

College Notes

Miss Van Conett visited over Sunday with friends in Tekamah.

An enjoyable social was held in the gymnasium Saturday evening after the literary program. The officers of the graduating classes had charge of the arrangements.

Rev. Sharpe visited Chapel Saturday morning and gave the students an excelent talk. We expect a number of good treats in the way of Chapel talks this term.

Helen Pile left Saturday morning for Rochester, New York, to resume her school work at Mechanics' Institute where she is a senior. Mrs. Pile accompanied her as far as Sioux City.

Agnes Richardson, Scientific '08, was a caller one day during her Christmas vacation. Miss Richardson is located at Cook, Nebraska, this year where she is assistant principal of the high school.

Mrs. Pile's sister, Miss Anna Meek, and Paul Hutton of Omaha are visiting on the Hill this week.

Helen Hoffman of last year's Certificate class, spent some time the first of the week visiting friends at the college. Miss Hoffman is meeting with success in her work as one of Wayne county's teachers.

Prof. and Mrs. H. Raubach were welcome visitors on the Hill last week. They were returning home after spending the Christmas vacation at the home of Mrs. Raubach's mother in Tekamah. They left Friday for Creston where Mr. Raubach is principal of the city schools.

Jessie Strickland was another of last year's Scientifics who spent some of her time during the Christmas vacation visiting friends on College Hill. She is teaching this year at Ravenna and is just as successful in her work as a teacher as she was as a student.

Vernon Ziemer is spending this week at Corsica, S. D., where he is in charge of the schools until a principal is selected. His brother, Harry, who has been teaching there has been elected to the principalship of the Pilger schools and took charge this week.

Lela Olmsted, who completed the Scientific course last year, was a very welcome visitor last week. Miss Olmsted is assistant principal of the High school at Butte, where she is meeting with the success she so well deserves.

The union meeting of the Christian associations and the Catholic club was very well attended Sunday afternoon. After several of the teachers had made talks explaining the work of the various organizations, Rev. Osborne gave an inspiring address which was most thoroughly enjoyed.

The usual reception given at the first of every term was held last week and proved to be a most enjoyable affair in every way. Several members of the faculty gave short talks and Mr. Johnson and Miss Hewins rendered some musical numbers. The social which followed in the gymnasium was very well handled, considering the large number present.

Prof. Wm F. Richardson, Scientific '07, who has been principal of the Pilger schools since he finished his work here, has been elected by the Battle Creek School Board as principal of their schools. Mr. Richardson is a successful school man and his many friends in this section are glad to see him advance in his chosen profession.

Leslie Welch returned to Lincoln Friday.

Winside News. From the Tribune: H. W. Oman was in town Monday walking on crutches. His ankle, which was injured some time ago, is still in a pretty bad condition and is giving him much trouble.

Another burglary is reported this week. Monday night some one with a spring wagon drove up to Tom Prince's coal shed and helped themselves to a load of coal.

Tom Dunn loaded his car this week and departed for North Dakota to reside on A. T. Chapin's ranch in this far north country.

BY DAD

Send word to Fred Pratt of the Humphrey Democrat that there is an excellent "opening" in Wayne for a first-class laundry.

By dad, if a good man could make a living in the laundry business in this man's town, there is, a certain lady, you all know her well, who ought to have a million dollars laid away by this time.

One of the fair ones taken in a raid of a woman's gambling house in Chicago said she was compelled to gamble to support her children. Some of the men who can't support themselves by gambling would like to get onto her system.

You may not know it, but you have all contributed something to the relief of the earthquake sufferers. The Standard Oil company has given $25,000.

Walt Mason: "Seat me by the ingle-nook, and start to read some cherished book; I can't read a page of it, and hate the villain, more and more, and happiness is in my cup when Guy, the hero, runs him up, and swears he'll send him up the spout—and then the durned old gas goes out! Some friends drop in to weep and laugh over music from my phonograph; I ask them if they ever heard the good old rousing "Mocking Bird," and while to find that tune I scout, the gosh-blamed messily gas goes out! Before the looking glass I stand, a Sears-Robinson razor in my hand, intent on moving from my ohm the shrubbery I can't drive in; I shave till I'm done, about and then the dog-goned gas goes out! O, ye who for your lighting, lean on John D. Archibald's kerosene, or read your papers on the porch, illuminated by a hampock torch, well, may ye all, with rapture shout, the gas for you does not go out!

Sioux City papers announce the opening of a temperance hotel in Sioux City. That certainly will "fill a long felt want," but the undertaking is a doubtful one.

In many of the states there is a horde of hungry devils waiting for the legislatures to open so they can get a good job—doing nothing and drawing a good salary. There really isn't so very much need of further legislation, the principal thing being to get a chance to get a piece of the people's money.

Mrs. Orville E. Bright of Chicago, says that "club women are talking too much and doing too little". That is a Bright idea.

This office has a small piece of money that the owner can recover by explaining where and when it was lost.

Nineteen below at Raymond's, 192

below at Hufford's, and even 20 at Leahy's was the record Wednesday morning at seven o'clock. It was a drop of 80 degrees in less than 48 hours. Still it isn't "cold" when there is no wind.

What's in a name? Tom Allaway is drayman at Homer.

Shay! I'm going to get a piece of easy money from Hingland. Get ready boys for a birthday party!

One of those "fiddler" overcoats look good to me—for the wind to whistle through, these cold days.

It was very cold in the lobby of the bank and so the polite president invited her to "come inside and warm at the furnace." The furnace is tolerably close to the adding machine and the visitor evidently thought the adding machine was it, for she rubbed her hands over the machine with much satisfaction, while one bank clerk had to kick the other to keep both from exploding.

A circus manager of reputation is quoted as being opposed to a tariff on peanuts. It will be in order for some one to appear in behalf of the public and insist upon a tariff on chestnuts.

Republican leaders seem to have only one fear of tariff revision, and that is that it will hurt the republican party. To hell with the dear people!

The paper trust is evidently going to make another effort to raise prices again. The report is being sent out that Wisconsin is still short on water. They might squeeze enough out of stocks to keep the mills going.

A United States soldier is said to have saved $13,000 of his pay. That must be a mistake. The three ciphers must have dropped off some other item.

An exchange is of the opinion that no intoxicated person should be permitted to board trains. And wouldn't it be just as well if no person was permitted to board intoxicated people.

It would be a rank chestnut if served in its original prose form, but it may be found quite palatable in this rhythmic way:

When the surgeons informed him that they must take his appendix away— That his one chance for life Lay in using the knife— For a time in reflection he lay. Then replied that if they didn't care He would fain have a minister there;

Not because he'd a fear That his last end was near. But he'd like to be opened with prayer. —Author Unknown.

A Brooklyn man has invented an anti-snoring apparatus. Why not make his birthday a legal holiday.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma asserts that the only thing for a self-respecting congress to do is to call the president's hand. That's right. They will probably discover a bob-tail fish.

Why will the temperance forces Over methods chew the rag When by use of means hypnotic They can cure most any jag? —Des Moines Capital.

Some freaks in Iowa are circulating petitions with a view to adding one more to our list of legal holidays—that of Lincoln's birthday, February 12. By all means let's have it. The people of this state are just aching for more legal holidays.

Carnegie would better confine himself to giving away his money rather than "giving away" his companions in "doing" the people.

Wm. Thompson got home yesterday from his two weeks visit in South Dakota, where he owns several farms and his son-in-law Ed. Doland, lives near Wessington. "Bill" says it was ungodly cold in Dakota. 27 below zero there when it was warm in Nebraska. Then the snow was several feet deep and the wind blew all shades of yellow. But he reports a jolly trip. He and Doland and a couple other men went hunting wolves, going in a bob sled. They got dumped out in a cañon or gulch, and while Doland caught the "snake bite" package two wolves jumped out of the snow where they dropped in, both animals being brought down with some good shooting, although Mr. Thompson says Ed. Doland had both hands around the "fish bait" when he shot his gun off.

Furniture for Sale.

As I am breaking up housekeeping I offer all my household furniture for sale at bargain prices. Mrs. A. H. ELLIS.

The Steam laundry plant was sold yesterday to a Mr. McGuire of Lincoln, whom the DEMOCRAT understands had a $500 claim against it. It took about $200 to satisfy I. W. Alter's first mortgage, so it will be seen that the plant is still a valuable piece of property.

Fred G. Koester, formerly a pharmacist at the Christoph drug store but now proprietor of a drug store at Carroll, and Miss Jessie Drebert of this city, were married at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Drebert, on South Eighth street in The Heights. Dr. Tidball performed the ceremony. The young people left at 1:30 for Carroll. —Norfolk News

Mike Healy has bought a farm near Sterling where he will make his home. The family will remain at Burk, S. D., until March 1st. Tompy, who was just a "little shaver" when they left Wayne six years ago, is here on a visit. He weighs 186 pounds and is fit to wrest the championship from Johnson.

Geo. Stringer is in Sioux City today. Homer Seave left this morning for his claim in western South Dakota.

Swallowed His False Teeth.

Deputy Oil Inspector Fred Pratt was a passenger to Cherokee, Iowa, this morning to attend the funeral of brother Harry, who died from a most singular cause. Mr. Pratt was a mail clerk on the Central and he went to sleep in his car on a cot, and in some manner got his false teeth down his throat. He was operated on but the operation was unsuccessful and his brother Fred got a wire this morning that he was dying. The DEMOCRAT man put in several days with the brothers in Denver last July and they were first-class fellows.

Wm. Beckenhauer, wife and child were in Wayne this morning on their way to Norfolk. Billy has sold his restaurant at Wausa and is looking for a new location.

President Pile went to Omaha this morning to visit his physician and from there goes to Lincoln to visit the legislature and size up the situation as to a new state normal school. President Pile is quite optimistic over the prospects of making the Wayne normal a state institution, but of course there are other towns after such distinction and then the legislature may, or should, have an economical streak and not locate one anywhere, which horn of the dilemma would be just as satisfactory to the owner of $200,000 worth of property on College Hill.

Atty. Frank Berry is in Dakota City today.

Mrs. E. A. Forbes of Rineland, Wis., is visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Armstrong. Mrs. Forbes says it gets down to 40 below at her home, but they do not feel the cold as we do in windy Nebraska, and she enjoys the northern climate, being in much better health than when she lived here. Mr. Armstrong has never been sick before "Bob" takes his sickness as a hard proposition.

WORRY CAUSES DEATH OF KEYSTONE "BOSS"

Ex-treasurer of Pennsylvania, Convicted of Capitol Fraud, Expires of Heart Trouble.

Media, Pa., Jan. 2.—William L. Mathews, former state treasurer of Pennsylvania, died suddenly yesterday at his home here, aged 46 years.

For many years William L. Mathews was recognized as one of the political leaders of Pennsylvania, and his power in Delaware county politics was supreme until the exposure of the capitol frauds by his successor, State Treasurer William H. Berman.

The four men named, together with Architect James M. Huester, were to have been placed on trial on April 6 to answer to the charge of fraud in the furnishing of desks for the new capitol.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Moving $225,000 in gold coin a distance of more than 1,000 miles without accident or without the loss of a dollar is the feat just successfully accomplished by the treasury department.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 4.—State School Superintendent McBrien yesterday invited Commissioner of Lands and Survey to inspect the capitol building.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 4.—W. M. Williams, bishop of the Apostolic African Methodist Episcopal church, is in the city and charged with fraud.

Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 4.—The proposition to buy the Wayne normal college has been rejected by the legislature.

CONCORD SUFFERS A COSTLY FIRE

Bank, Store and Newspaper Are Burned, Entailing Losses of $11,000.

Concord, Neb., Jan. 1.—Fire which was spreaded by a spark this morning in the buildings occupied by the Concord State bank and the Concord World entailed a loss of over $11,000 before the flames were brought under control.

The town being without fire fighting apparatus, the fire spread rapidly from the two structures named to the general store, and the loss of the bank and newspaper was $11,000.

Editor Brink, who was the owner of the newspaper, sustains a practically complete loss on his plant, amounting to $10,000, and the bank lost $1,000.

DEATH LIS GROWS; THOUSANDS HOMELESS

Earthquake Victims in Southern Italy and Sicily Suffer Great Hardships.

Rome, Jan. 1, Evening.—It is yet impossible to reach any accurate estimate of the dead resulting from Monday's earthquake, but the total now placed anywhere between 100,000 and 150,000.

One-half the population of Calabria and eastern Sicily apparently has perished. The calamity grows with the receipt of ever fresh dispatches from small towns and villages.

The devastated district is still filled with half-demented survivors, wandering aimlessly about. The ruins are still burning.

Half Dead; Half Mourn. The population of Calabria and the eastern part of Sicily are dead, the other half are weeping.

King Victor and the queen arrived at Messina today. As they made their way into the ruined town the scene of the disaster and horror was too much for the queen.

Many terrible stories were told to the king in connection with the work of rescue. His majesty, however, lost little time in listening to the recital of difficulties.

VIDUO DESCRIPTION OF DEVASTATED REGION

Paris Matin's Correspondent Writes of Tramp on Foot Around Reggio.

Paris, Jan. 5.—A vivid story of the scenes of devastation in southern Italy is here by the correspondent of the Matin after a trip of foot through the stricken region.

"I arrived at last at Messina with my legs almost dropping off, after tramping 31 consecutive hours, covered in mud and dragged over 100 miles (41 miles). My neck will never recover from the atrocious impressions to which they were subjected, and my eyes will never be able to see again the open vision of death and destruction which oppresses them.

"I proceeded as far as Palmi by train, and thence afoot. Six or seven inhabitants accompanied me to Tropea, and I decided to take a R. C. train, cut off from home with duty by the catastrophe, were returning to seek new work, but were prevented by the rain, and were provided by brandied resinous smoking torches.

"We proceeded Italian file through the tunnel from Palmi to Baginara, holding hands and standing over ballast heaps. The roof of the tunnel was cracked everywhere, and now and then rocks fell in the niches of the trackmen.

"After two hours' march we saw Baginara, perched on the spur of a mountain overhanging the sea.

"The country beyond the water on the summit of the rock was half buried under the sea, but the mayor was safe. He was giving orders for the installation of a telegraph wire in a freight car, which was being towed by a locomotive.

"After 11 hours we had covered only 34 kilometers, every step at the cost of great exertion. Our clothes were soaked and the torches had burned out. At Baginara the whole country except the depth was completely buried under the sea.

"The survivors perhaps five, six or seven; the dead—perhaps 2,000, 3,000 who know.

"The most prosperous San Giovanni was almost a total wreck. The tidal wave overturned the six roads and swept the entire passage. From the said inhabitants are buried beneath the ruins.

"Fifteen kilometers further on we entered the town of Reggio. Those who saw Reggio a few weeks ago would not have believed that it was where the town had stood on a plain of ruins. Nothing was standing, all the churches, the banks, the long-existed. I was stunned at the completeness of the disaster. The heart bursting with grief and horror, I asked the eternal question: "Why? Why? Why?"

"The survivors perhaps five, six or seven; the dead—perhaps 2,000, 3,000 who know.

ISLANDS DEVASTATED.

Rome, Jan. 1.—Cable communication with the Aeolian islands, 25 miles north of Baginara on the coast north of Reggio, has been completely wiped out, fire finishing the work of destruction.

The report says "all the inhabitants of Baginara are dead." The town counted about 10,000 people.

WANT STATE TO BUY WAYNE NORMAL COLLEGE

Wayne, Neb., Jan. 1.—The board of trustees of Wayne normal college have voted to ask the Nebraska legislature to buy the institution and make it a state school.

MURDERED WIFE PUT IN FURNACE

Crime in Chicago Revealed by Discovery of Human Bones

Chicago, Jan. 4.—With the finding of human bones in the ashes taken from a furnace in a building on North Dearborn street, together with the discovery of the disappearance of a colored woman employed in the building, the police have begun a search for the most revolting murders in recent years.

Husband Told Friend

The police case has been strengthened by a statement made by Rafferty to a friend, a colored man, who lives in the same building. He told him that he had choked and thrown into the furnace the body of a woman who was his wife.

Filial Duty Made Frequent

The husband is a frequent visitor of the wife on that account.

Parents Suicide TO JOIN DAUGHTER

New York, Jan. 4.—While the undertaker was laying out the body of Gwendolen Gordy, only daughter of James P. Gordy, professor of the history of education in New York university, her father and mother committed suicide by taking chloroform in their bedroom across the hall.

SUICIDE GIVES HIS WIFE TO FRIEND

London, Jan. 5.—Forcing her way into the squall lodging of her husband, who had sacrificed himself in order that his wife might marry his best friend, Mrs. Anthony Strong today found her husband hanging from the rafters in the wall. He evidently had committed suicide on New Year's eve.

BACKWARD CHARGE FROM GUN KILLS FARMER

Elgin, Neb., Jan. 4.—While pursuing a dog with a gun, a farmer living near here was crawling through a wire fence and broke through it with his gun. The shells exploded and shot him in the side.

KING CHEERS SUFFERERS

Reggio, Jan. 4.—King Victor Emmanuel returned to the ruins of Reggio today. He traversed the ruins from one end to the other, comforting sufferers and cheering rescuers. At one point his majesty came upon a man who was digging for debris. The king encouraged the unfortunate while the soldiers were digging him out.

NO WATER IN MESSINA AND VERY LITTLE FOOD

Messina, Jan. 4.—Wireless dispatches received from the British war ships at Messina indicate that the king's presence there has added somewhat to the bringing about a better condition. The dispatches say that although the panic is not subsided, the bulk of the people has been evacuated. The king's presence was proclaimed at the express desire of King Victor Emmanuel.

SEND SHIPLOADS OF WATER TO SCENE OF CALAMITY

Naples, Jan. 4.—Two thousand persons from the earthquake zone have arrived here. All kinds of public buildings are being repaired. Many of the injured were taken by force to hospitals, becoming frenzied at the idea of being compelled to enter the institutions. They are being treated with drinking water, have left for Messina. At Tammia, Sicily, where a number of Americans are spending the winter, it is said the town escaped with slight damage.

STRAIT OF MESSINA IS NOT BLOCKED AFTER ALL

London, Jan. 2.—Lloyd's have been unable to learn anything of the condition of the strait of Messina, but infer it is practicable for navigation and not blocked, as reported from Rome. A cable has been received from Messina to the effect that the British cruiser Surtley is making frequent journeys, carrying injured persons from Messina to Syracuse, which can hardly imply that it is passing around the west end of Sicily. Other reports suggest the strait is navigable for warships.

ENTIRE INFANTRY REGIMENT WAS DROWNED AT PALMI

Reggio, Jan. 2.—There is reason to believe an entire regiment of infantry was drowned by the tidal waves at Palmi. Three hundred soldiers' bodies have already been recovered. As a precautionary measure against the outbreak of a pestilence the bodies of persons killed in the earthquake are being buried along the ruins of the city. Troops have set up field kitchens and are baking bread in the streets.

The tender today was made with the approval of the department by Senator Knox, whose selection as secretary of state was announced some days ago.

WORK OF RELIEF GOES BRAVELY ON

THE MOST SURPRISING POLITICAL CHANGE OF MODERN TIMES

INDIAN AND EGYPTIAN UNREST

at work in those British dependencies ever since the victory of Japan over Russia, took on a more threatening religious form, with the news of the freshly won "freedom" of their countries.

AMERICAN STEPS TO THE GOOD

have been markedly made towards financial reform, the conservation of the nation's natural resources and the bettering of the condition of the former class.

CONSTITUTIONALISM HAS STRDED FORWARD

notably the world over. Russia's third duma has "found itself," the Philippines have satisfactorily made a beginning at learning self rule; Iceland has been given autonomy; South Africa has been planning confederation; Ireland has won the first step towards "home rule," and even China is studying hard in preparation for some form of representative government.

BROADER RIGHTS FOR WOMANHOOD

paralizing this last movement—have come in Denmark and Australia, while the "suffrage" agitation in England, humorous though it is in some of its phases, has forced the question so prominently to the fore that another year may be expected to see real gain for them.

OUR FLEET'S PROGRESS

'round the world has been everywhere marked by gain, not to its men and officers only, but in closer and better understanding between this country and South America, the South Pacific islands and (especially) Japan.

THE CONGO HAS CHANGED HANDS

Belgium assuming national ownership. The press of two hemispheres regards this as a distinct gain both for the industrial development in "the richest backyard in the world," and in the moral and social improvement of its millions of blacks.

TERRIBLE EARTHQUAKE CALAMITY

in Sicily and Italy, in which more than 100,000 lives were lost, brings year to a close in misery and pain for countless sufferers to whose aid the whole civilized world now is hastening with money, clothing, food and medical attendance.

ANOTHER VIOLENT QUAKE COMPLETES RUIN OF MESSINA

Rome, Jan. 1.—Another violent earthquake shock occurred at Messina last evening. This second shock completed the work of ruin. The few buildings which were left standing by the quake of Monday, collapsed, and it is feared many more persons have been killed.

News of the second disaster reached here today. It is believed the ruin of Messina is now complete and absolutely irrevocable. Practically all the survivors who were waiting conveyance by warship from the scene, it is feared, were killed. Many persons who engaged in the work of rescue were also victims.

Naples, Jan. 2.—One hundred thousand are dead in the city of Messina alone. Probably less than 10,000 human beings escaped alive from earthquake, fire and tidal wave that devastated Sicily and Calabria.

Reggio Di Calabria, which the king is visiting today, has been mostly swallowed up in an immense fissure and the remainder of the town is in ruins.

Major Pelligone, in command of troops there, states that men already have extricated 300 bodies. He estimates the dead at Reggio at 50,000. If the estimate of 100,000 dead at Messina is correct and 50,000 dead at Reggio the final count will go far over 150,000.

Hotel guests at Messina ALL PERISHED; HOST ESCAPED

Paris, Jan. 2.—A dispatch from Rome says 98 guests, including Americans, English and French travelers, were staying at the Hotel Trinaria, Messina, when the city was destroyed. The hotel was completely destroyed. The Trinaria alone escaped. There were only two survivors of the guests who were quartered in the Hotel De France.

FATE OF AMERICANS IS DIFFICULT TO LEARN

Rome, Jan. 2.—The government is finding difficulty in ascertaining the fate of the many foreigners who were killed in the catastrophe. Inquiries concerning them are coming from all quarters of the globe.

EVENTS MAKING HISTORY AS YEAR RUNS ITS COURSE

THE MOST SURPRISING POLITICAL CHANGE OF MODERN TIMES

came at the close of July, when "Young Turk" autocracy from Abdul Hamid, in a practically bloodless revolution. The new regime, in its sanity and conservatism, promises to last, in spite of the serious problems confronting it.

INDIAN AND EGYPTIAN UNREST

at work in those British dependencies ever since the victory of Japan over Russia, took on a more threatening religious form, with the news of the freshly won "freedom" of their countries.

SERIOUS DISORDERS IN THE UNITED STATES have marked the year's progress, in Illinois, where transpired a disgraceful and tragic race war; in the tobacco belt of the south, where the feud between grower and buyer has left a bloody trail, and along the Texas border, where fighting has occurred with Mexican "rebels."

AMERICAN STEPS TO THE GOOD

have been markedly made towards financial reform, the conservation of the nation's natural resources and the bettering of the condition of the former class.

Suicide of Young Man Who Sought Attic Trunk in Which to Die

Worthington, Minn., Jan. 2.—Closely following the methods adopted by a desperate woman at Rochester recently, Jan Ramage, Jr., a lad of 20 years, killed himself by some time yesterday afternoon by crawling into an old trunk, closing the lid so as to exclude the air, and then inhaling chloroform.

FLAKES OF GOLD FOUND IN CROP OF WILD GOOSE

Minneapolis, Jan. 2.—If Peter Pan should happen out of Minnesota, you would repeat that famous question, "Do you believe in fairies?" It's more than likely that not a few would rise up and say, "Yes; and in fairy stories, too. It was a gold mine in cleaning the crop, which was found full of pebbles. Through curiosity they were washed and the result was the finding of a number of flakes of gold."

NAT C. GOODWIN PUTS $200,000 PROPERTY IN HANDS OF A TRUSTEE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—By a deed of trust which has been filed, Nat Goodwin has conveyed to T. H. Dudley, mayor of Ocean Park, all his stocks, bonds and California real estate, including the LaFayette apartment house, facing LaFayette square, San Francisco. The total value of the property represented in the deed is $231,000.

FRANK VANDERLIP TO SUCCEED MR. STILLMAN

New York, Jan. 2.—The intention of James Stillman to resign as president of the National City bank has been carried out, according to a report circulated today and confirmed in reliable quarters, and soon after the annual meeting on January 12, Frank A. Vanderlip will succeed Mr. Stillman as president of the bank during Mr. Stillman's protracted absence for the last three years, will be chosen to succeed him. Mr. Stillman now is abroad.

MARK TWIN GETS GIFT OF ELEPHANT

Danbury, Conn., Dec. 31.—Rejoicing, where Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) lives in comparative retirement in his Italian villa, is blushing over a present which he has received from a friend, J. Collier, the New York publisher, who wrote to Miss Lyon, Mr. Clemens' secretary, a few days before Christmas, that in addition to the gift of a ham, a portrait of an elephant, the best which he could find, he had prepared a place for it. Members of the family were in consternation at the thought of an addition to the live stock on the place, but, unwilling to risk an injury to Mr. Collier's feelings, prepared to turn the garage into elephant quarters.

COURT MARTIAL FOR YANKEE'S COMMANDER

Washington, Dec. 31.—A general court-martial has been ordered to convene at Boston January 4 for the trial of Commander Charles J. Marsh, U. S. N., who was in command of the gunboat Yankee when it sunk September 23 in Buzzards Bay.

PRINT PAPER FAMINE AGAIN IS THREATENED

Glen Falls, N. Y., Dec. 31.—That a famine in the news print paper is likely to result from a much longer continuance of the present dry spell in the Hudson valley, is the subject of statements made by officials of the International Paper company. Many mills which have been compelled to run on short water, and the result is that the water will be forced to shut down entirely within four weeks, unless rain falls, the officials say.

IOWA LEADS ALL IN VALUE OF FARM BUILDINGS, BUT HAS LESS IMPLEMENTS.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—Statistics prepared by the department of agriculture show that the farmers of Iowa and the Dakotas are the most prosperous in the entire country. North Dakota leads in the annual income on each farm, worker with a total of $755.62, owing to the unusually large farms of that state. Iowa is second, with an annual income of $611.93 for each farm, worked by one man. North Dakota is 134 acres, in South Dakota 136, in Nebraska 98, and in Iowa only 80 acres. Thus, considering the number of acres worked, the Iowa farms are the most productive in the United States.

THE AVERAGE VALUE OF BUILDINGS ON EACH IOWA FARM IS $181.87, WHICH IS THE HIGHEST FOR ANY STATE IN THE UNION, EXCEPT THE EASTERN COMMONWEALTHS.

South Dakota buildings average $412.03 for each farm, North Dakota $348.84, Nebraska $356.01. Value of implements and machinery on each farm in these states averages as follows: Iowa, $196.46; North Dakota, $138.48; Nebraska $156.01.

DAKOTAS HAVE MOST HORSES.

North and South Dakota lead in the average number of horses on each farm. In Iowa, the average is 10.5, in North Dakota, 14.5, and in Nebraska 15.5. The value of poultry on each farm in these states averages as follows: South Dakota, $20; North Dakota, $13; Nebraska, $12.50.

PERCENTAGE OF FARMS WORKED BY TENANTS IN EACH STATE, ILLINOIS IS AT THE HEAD OF THE MIDDLE WESTERN STATES, WITH A PERCENTAGE OF 33.3.

Iowa has a tenantry of 31.9, Nebraska 21.8, South Dakota 21.8, Nebraska 20.5 and North Dakota only 8.5.

'JEAN VALJEAN' HAS CRIMINAL MARK ERASED.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 31.—Nebraska's only Jean Valjean received a pardon yesterday from Governor Sheldon. While serving a term for stealing a wagon load of flour, Jesse C. Sellen got into a fight with the prison cook, and fearing he would lose his good time, he cut his own throat. He had served four years in the army in the orient, and coming back to Omaha he had a reputation for being fearless. He had all old associates and became an industrious, honest man.

EVERY TIME HE PASSED A POLICEMAN, HE'D BE QUAKED WITH FEAR, AND NO LONGER ABLE TO HOLD HIS HEAD UP.

perpetually on the brink of re-arrest and incarceration, he asked the governor for a pardon. His plea was supported by a number of reputable business men, and was so effectively presented that he now can pursue an honest life in peace and content.

Danbury, Conn., Dec. 31.—Rejoicing, where Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) lives in comparative retirement in his Italian villa, is blushing over a present which he has received from a friend, J. Collier, the New York publisher, who wrote to Miss Lyon, Mr. Clemens' secretary, a few days before Christmas, that in addition to the gift of a ham, a portrait of an elephant, the best which he could find, he had prepared a place for it. Members of the family were in consternation at the thought of an addition to the live stock on the place, but, unwilling to risk an injury to Mr. Collier's feelings, prepared to turn the garage into elephant quarters.

COURT MARTIAL FOR YANKEE'S COMMANDER

Washington, Dec. 31.—A general court-martial has been ordered to convene at Boston January 4 for the trial of Commander Charles J. Marsh, U. S. N., who was in command of the gunboat Yankee when it sunk September 23 in Buzzards Bay.

PRINT PAPER FAMINE AGAIN IS THREATENED

Glen Falls, N. Y., Dec. 31.—That a famine in the news print paper is likely to result from a much longer continuance of the present dry spell in the Hudson valley, is the subject of statements made by officials of the International Paper company. Many mills which have been compelled to run on short water, and the result is that the water will be forced to shut down entirely within four weeks, unless rain falls, the officials say.

Ganderbane's Forecast for January.

The row between the President and Congress will become the hottest things since David smashed Goliath's cerebrum. The outraged House will paw the earth. The Senate will get flip. The President will rub his fist. Against its upper lip. The air will be a mass of fur, and zipping expletives. And the timid Congressman will run from there to where he lives. The Congressmen will blister Ted. And he will soak them back. The Senate will put in a punch and get a counter smack. They'll say some ugly things to him, and he will bowl them out. The dignity of government will dance, ki-yi and shout. The old Potomac will become a raging sea of foam. The public servant's family will beg him to come home. The shindee will divert the world. By reason of its heat, And Loeb will let it run a while, and then send for the fleet. The air will pulsate with the rush of bitter verbal shot, the sports will bet on whether Ted will take it back or not, the old men will get on the roof and utter their defies. The President will show his teeth and bulletin the lies, a special message now and then will heighten the hub-bub, and a dozen men a day will join the Ananias club.

The smoker will Resolve to quit And once for all Have done with it. They'll by their wives Some things they need With what they save Upon the weed, And elpe and Otherwise fulfill Their resolutions— Yes-s s they will. The men who drink Will all renounce Their booze and rush To water fountains, They'll cross themselves And hope to die, Exhort the country To go dry, And join with Temperance to kill The liquor traffic— Yes-s s they will! The men who swear Will resolute To give up "Hell!" and "Damn!" For "Shoot!" And oaths like "Fifies!" "Fudges!" and "Dear!" Will supersede Within the year Such things as "What-The-Hotel-Bill?" And "Hell-and-Blazes!" Yes-s s they will. After this we shall have Taft weather, with cooler relations at Washington. Cabinet selections will be announced on Tuesdays and Fridays. The rich will go to the winter resorts, and eggs will go to 40 cents. The new sign of the zodiac will be Aquarius, the water carrier, whose influence will begin on the 20th. This will enable anyone who has kept on the water wagon from the 1st to remain permanently seated. Persons born under Aquarius vote dry. They have had memories, and rise to confidential positions with trusts. They are also very knowing, but they don't know when prosperity will return. —C. H. Reith in Omaha Examiner.

Opportunities For Young Women.

The Philadelphia school for Nurses, 2219 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa., offers Free Scholarships in Trained Nursing to young women in every State in the Union. The Scholarships cover the full Two Year's Course, with room, board, uniforms, laundering, etc., included, and railroad fare paid to home town or district upon the completion of the Course.

A home study course and a short resident course are also provided, which quickly open the door to opportunity and enable progressive students to render a noble service to humanity and at the same time acquire for themselves a substantial income from the best paid occupation now open to women; besides qualifying every student to deal with emergencies in the home that may mean the saving of a loved one's life.

Far-seeing Philanthropists are adding to the resources of this school, with the view of ultimately extending these benefits to earnest, energetic young women in all country districts and in all the smaller towns and cities.

The Institution is approved and endorsed by leading physicians and educators of the entire country. Some of the leading men of the State are its strong supporters and endorsers, as will be seen by the catalogue which will be sent to any one who writes to the School for it.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership

To all to whom it may concern, Notice is given that the partnership of Philleo & Son is this day dissolved by mutual consent, and will be succeeded by the partnership of F. G. Philleo & Co. The new firm assumes all obligations of the former partnership, and all accounts, notes and credits belong to and will be collected by F. G. Philleo & Co. Dated this 6th day of January, 1909.

What Have You to Trade or Sell.

I have some choice residence property in Wayne; some acre property, adjoining town; good Stanton county farm; and some good Wayne county farms; some good western land; some of Paabaker's mineral water stock, some King Solomon stock; some Kansas oil stock, and several others to offer. Tell me what you have to sell or trade and see if I have anything you want. GRANT S. MEARS. 4-1

It Is Not True.

We have beet sugar factories in Nebraska, and every man, woman and child in the state pays a tax to enable those factories to make money. They tell us the sugar factories are "home industries." That's all right to tell, but it is a lie, just the same. If some Nebraska man wants to learn just how much of a "home industry" one of those sugar factories is, let him go to any one of them and try to buy some sugar. Then he will find that the real home of the factory is in Kansas City. Let him go to the Grand Island factory, and he will be told that the price of sugar in Grand Island is the price at Kansas City and other Missouri river points, with the local freight added. The sugar has never been shipped a mile. No freight has been paid on the sugar, but when some citizen of Nebraska goes to buy the product of that "home industry" at Grand Island he will make quick discovery that he is very far from the home of common honesty and common fairness. There was once a school of Ancients which worshipped every animal and reptile capable of doing injury to man. If those Ancients could come back to earth and settle in Nebraska they would not find it necessary to go out and hunt up a man-injuring animal to worship. Every day and every hour they could be singing hymns of praise to the protective tariff, which goes about the world on a mission of robbery. And the Ancients might be able to kneel in plenty of company at every cross-roads in Nebraska when worshipping the most infamous monster that ever cursed humanity by the aid of a tariff for thievery only.—Columbus Telegram.

Dr. Gamble Scores.

Randolph Reporter: The Wayne butter factory has at last started turning out butter and the Wayne editors and minister are enthusiastic in their praises of the product, they having been "greased" with sample pounds of the first churning.

Dr. Frank Gamble, of Wayne, was in the city Monday evening on business. Dr. Gamble has gained an enviable reputation in the practice of osteopathy, has a number of patients in Randolph and now makes regular trips to this city twice a week.

ROBERT PRITCHARD, Carroll, Nebraska

Death of Carsten Simonsen.

Friends of Mr. Simonsen were shocked last Friday to learn of his sudden death. The old gentleman was about town Monday and the DEMOCRAT man had a talk with him, Mr. Simonsen saying he was going to leave the day following for Iowa. Monday night at his farm home on the old Vincent place south of town, he was taken with a partial stroke of paralysis. Tuesday he thought he was better, and while his wife was away getting some neighbor to call and help her, he got out of bed, but was found on the floor and Nels Nelson had to carry the old man to his bed. Friday, death ended all for Carsten. The old man, only 61 past, was a good friend and neighbor and the DEMOCRAT never heard an ill-word spoken of him. The funeral was held Monday forenoon at ten o'clock, interment being in the Wayne cemetery.

Carsten Simonsen was born in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany, on Sept. 10, 1847, and died Jan. 8, 1909. He came to America in 1873 and to Iowa, where he lived until six years ago, when he came to Nebraska.

Deceased was the father of three children, Mrs. Warner Barnes of Omaha, Mrs. Leonard Elsing of this city, and a child dying in infancy. Gesundheit, Carsten, may we meet again!

This Judge "Is On."

The following from the Sioux City Tribune may not interest others as much as it does the DEMOCRAT. Hirsch "lived" next door to this office for a year or two and we can tell Judge Sam Page that Harry is the worst ever. It was a common occurrence for Mrs. Hirsch to yell "bloody murder," and on one occasion, when P. H. Kohl came down the street and heard her, he at once got crazy, Kohl did, to find the marshal. We laughed at P. H. and told him that was almost an hourly occurrence. On another occasion Hirsch was calling for a butcher knife—to carve up the writer.

The heartaches privations and misery of the six years of married life of Harry Hirsch and his wife was again aired before Judge Sam Page's bar of justice this morning when Mrs. Hirsch and Ernest Pritchard were arraigned on the charge of knocking out two of Hirsch's teeth and beating his face into a jelly Saturday evening.

"I went there to see my little child and they jumped on me," said Hirsch. "My wife secured a divorce from me not long ago and when she told me I could not see the baby again I hurt me."

Mrs. Hirsch declares that her husband mortgaged all of the furniture and carried small articles out of the house and pawned them to saloonkeepers for drink.

"Every time he comes to the house he beats me," said the unfortunate woman, "and I have repeatedly told him to stay away."

"After he broke in the door Saturday he began abusing me, but, on seeing Pritchard he began cursing him and attempted to strike him. Pritchard then knocked him down and finally threw him out of doors."

There was a spirited scene when Hirsch attempted to cross examine his wife. "How long did you say we had been married?" inquired Hirsch.

"It's none of your business," angrily retorted Mrs. Hirsch. "I wish I had never seen your dirty face."

"You were evidently a loving couple," chipped in Judge Page.

"You know you never did tell the truth and you can't tell it now," yelled Hirsch, whereupon Foster G. Iddings, attorney for Mrs. Hirsch, turned upon him and said:

"Hirsch, I'll slap you in the face right here in the courtroom if you don't stop that talk."

The case against the defendants was dismissed by Judge with this remark to Hirsch:

"You promised me to stay away from the house and out of town. If you go back to that house again I hope you will get a trimming that will last you a long time."

Brady Gets Bonds.

The matter of Brady, who was bound over to district court for stealing a team from N. C. Peterson, was taken before Judge Welch last Saturday, the bonds reduced from $500 to $200, which Brady furnished, the gentleman returned to Fremont. The DEMOCRAT understands that business men of Fremont put up the bond for him on pleas of Brady's wife, N. C. Petersen was in Wayne

Kindergarten Benefit Lecture

"Getting Back to Nature" is the subject of the exceedingly entertaining Stereopticon lecture to be given by the Rev. Manly E. Townsend, of Sioux City. It is a beautiful and educational story of a trip through the Maine wilderness 115 views will be shown, illustrating the beauties of nature, in the plant and animal Kingdoms, also camping scenes and life in the woods. It will be of interest to young and old.

Farmers!

Here is a splendid opportunity for you to give the public schools a lift. If you are needing coal or lumber, couldn't you arrange to get it on Saturday, January 23rd, and so swell the Kindergarten fund?

Don't fail to hear the splendid lecture on "Getting Back to Nature," or "How We Answered the Call of the Wild" by Manly E. Townsend of Sioux City. Mr. Townsend is a scholarly man, a deep thinker and an intense lover of God's beautiful out-of-doors. The lecture will be for the benefit of the public school kindergarten.

"Yes," Prades answered. "The police officer looked at them again, then, saluting the brigadier and his men, wished them good night and even added a little gesture, rather mocking, in the direction of the arrested man, Prades made a dash for it, most obediently, toward Bernardet. The guard, standing aloof, pulled him back, while the plump, smiling little man, cursing his own mustache and hissing "tubs," went out into the street.

One would have taken M. Bernardet for a happy little bourgeois, going home from some party, and repeating a verse from some vaudeville, rather than a police spy who had just secured a prize. He walked quickly, he walked bravely. He reached his room where M. Bernardet, always rosy and pleasant, awaited him and where his three little girls were sleeping. He had not lost his day.

He again hummed the quatrain, and although not a loud tone, it sounded like a far-off fanfare, vibrating in the gray fog of Paris night.

CHAPTER XIV

M. Glinory was not without uneasiness when he thought of the detention of the prisoners, all accused persons, are detained. They try to hide their guilt under voluntary silence. They do not speak because they know not by whom, by an oath which they cannot break. It is the ordinary system of the guilty who cannot defend themselves. Mystery, seems to them, is a shield. Prades, intimately acquainted with Rovere's life, might be acquainted with some secret which he could not disclose and which he would not reveal to all. What secret? Had not an examining magistrate a right to know everything? Had not an accused man a right to speak? Either Dantini, not knowing to reveal all, or playing comedy and was guilty, or if by a word, by a confession made to the magistrate, he could escape an accusation, recover his liberty, without doubt, he would speak, he would speak.

Bernardet, sprung from his well brushed redingote like a little abbe come to assist at some curious ceremony, the contrary, Prades, after a sleepless night, a night of agony, paler than the evening before, his face haggard and his muscles contracted had a fierce expression, and he blinked his eyes, his head suddenly brought into glaring sunlight. He repeated before the examining magistrate what he had said to the brigadier. But his voice, vibrant a few hours before, was now heavy, almost ragged, as the haughty expression of his face had become sullen and tragic.

The examining magistrate had cited him to the stand, and he appeared before him. She instantly recognized in this Prades the man who had sold her the little panel by Paul Baudry.

He denied it. He said he knew of what they were talking. He had never seen this woman. He knew nothing of any portrait.

"It belonged to M. Rovere," the examining magistrate said. "M. Rovere, the murdered man, M. Rovere, who was consul at Buenos Ayres, and you spoke yesterday of Buenos Ayres in the examination at the assize house in the street."

"M. Rovere? Buenos Ayres?" repeated the young man, rolling his somber, round, big fingers.

He repeated that he did not know of the consul at Buenos Ayres, that he had come from South America, that he had come from Sydney.

Bernardet at this moment interrupted him by taking him from him without uttering a word, and he appeared with a very angry look at the little man.

M. Glinory understood Bernardet's look and removed with a grimace. He looked in the inside of the soubrette which Bernardet handed to him.

The hat bore the address of Gordon, Smithson & Co., Berny street, London.

"That is a hat bought at Sydney," Prades (who had understood) explained.

Before the bald, decided, almost violent affirmations which Mme. Colard made, that this was certainly the seller of the portrait, M. Glinory could not countenance a little. He kept saying, over and over: "You deceive yourself, Madame, I have never spoken to you, I have never seen you."

M. Glinory asked her if she still persisted in saying that this was the man who had sold her the picture, she said:

"I still persist? With my neck under the guillotine I would persist. And she kept repeating: "I am sure of it. I am sure of it."

This preliminary examination brought about no decision. It was certain that this portrait had been in the possession of the young man and been sold by him and he (Charles Prades) was an accomplice of Dantini's, if not the author of the crime. They were then, to be brought face to face, and possibly this might bring about an immediate result. And why not have this meeting take place at once? Before Prades was sent where Dantini was, at Mazas?

M. Glinory, who had uttered this word "Mazas," noticed the expression of terror which the young man suddenly transfigured the young man's face.

Prades stammered:

"Then—you will hold me? Then—I am not free."

M. Glinory did not reply. He gave an order that this Prades should be guarded until the arrival of Dantini, from Mazas.

In Mazas, in that walled prison, in the cell which had already made him his, Jacques Dantini sat. This man with the trooper's air seemed almost to be in a state of collapse. When the guard came to his cell, he drew himself up and endeavored to collect all his energy, and when the door was opened and he was called he appeared as if he were himself. When he saw the prison warden which had brought him to Mazas and now awaited to take him to the Palais de Justice, he instinctively recoiled, then, recovering himself, he entered the narrow vehicle.

The idea, the sensation, that he was so near all this life, yet so far, that he was going through these streets, filled with faces, that he was in a desperate, a nervous, sense of irritation.

The air which they breathed he breathed, the air which they breathed he breathed, through a grating. They arrived at the Palais and Jacques Dantini recognized their staircases which he had previously mounted that led to the examining magistrate's room. He entered the narrow room where M. Glinory awaited him, gesturing which, though convulsed, seemed to have a little bravado in it, as a salutation, which he repeated, as if he were between two guards, a man whom the old man recognized as the man who

M. Glinory studied them. If he knew this Prades, why had he not recognized him? He looked at Dantini with a great composure, because no indication, not the slightest, involuntary shudder, not the faintest trace of an expression of being there. Generally prisoners would unconsciously permit a gesture, a glance, a something to escape them when they were brusquely confronted unexpectedly with some one of their accomplices. This time not a muscle of Dantini's face moved, not an eyelash quivered.

M. Glinory motioned Jacques Dantini to a seat directly in front of him, where the light would fall upon his face. Pointing out Prades, he asked:

"Do you recognize this man?"

Dantini, after a second or two, replied:

"No; I have never seen him."

"Never?"

"Believe not. He is unknown to me."

"And you, Prades, have you ever seen Jacques Dantini?"

"Never," said Prades. In his turn, his voice now raised, he asked with the brief, clear response made by Dantini:

"He is, however, the original of the portrait which you sold to Mme. Colard?"

"The portrait?"

"Look sharply at Dantini. Look at him well," repeated M. Glinory. "You must recognize the original of the portrait in question."

"Yes," Prades replied. His eyes were fixed upon the prisoner.

"Ah!" the magistrate joyously exclaimed. "Now I am going to recognize the original of the portrait which you saw only an instant in my room?"

"I do not know," stammered Prades, not comprehending the gravity of the question put in an insinuating, almost amiable, tone.

"Oh, well," continued M. Glinory, still in a smiling mood, "I am going to explain to you. It is certain that you recognize these features because you had a long time in which to contemplate them; because you had it a long time in your hands, when you were trying to pull off the frame?"

"The frame? What frame?" asked the young man, stupefied, not taking his eyes from the magistrate's face, which seemed to him endowed with some occult power. M. Glinory went on:

"The frame which you had trouble in removing, since the scratches show the portrait to Mme. Colard. What if, after taking the portrait to Mme. Colard, you should find the frame in question at another place, at some other shop? That would not be very difficult." And M. Glinory, as if he were hesitating, as if he were allowed himself to be suspected and to be accused, it is because it seemed to him impossible, absolutely impossible, that this same truth should not be revealed—I do not know in what way—that it would become known to you without your being obliged to disclose a secret which was not mine."

"To an examining magistrate one may tell everything," said M. Glinory. "We have listened to confessions in our office which are as forcible as those of the professional made to a priest."

For the Cry of a Little Child

I dreamed of a legion of women, who waited with eyes aglow in the shadow of Loves Forgotten, by the Ports of Long Ago.

I dreamed of a legion of women whose faces were tenderly glad and hark! in the night I heard it—the cry of a little child.

I looked at the waiting women through the mist of a thousand years. And some of their eyes were smiling, and some were sufficed with tears. Yet they sang as a choir in training, and the song of the waiting throng.

How long, O Lord, how long! I dreamed of a legion of women who stood in a driving rain, and their faces were white and wild. And hark! in the night I heard it—the cry of a little child.

Snoring and Civilization

It is a truism that no one ever heard of a snoring savage. In fact, if the wild man of the woods and plains does not sleep quietly he runs the risk of being discovered by his enemy, and the scarp of the snorer would soon adorn the belt of his crafty and more quietly sleeping adversary. With civilization, however, we have changed all this. The impure air of our sleeping rooms induces all manner of catarrhal affections. The nasal passages are the first to become affected. Instead of warming the inspired air on its way to the lungs, and removing from it the dangerous impurities which it is loaded, the nose becomes obstructed, and the air enters and escapes by the mouth. The veil of the palate vibrates between the two currents—that passing through the mouth and the one still passing through the partially closed nostrils—like a torn sail in the wind. The snore, then, means that the sleeper's mouth is partially open, that his nose is partially closed, and that his lungs are in danger from the air not being properly warmed and purified.

From the continued operation of these causes—the increase of impure air in sleeping rooms and permitting habitual snoring to escape killing and scalping—some scientist has predicted that in the future all men (and all women, too) will snore. It goes along with decay of the teeth and baldness.

"And yet, just as he is not," he murmured, "some smart Aleck of the future will say I never took that ride."

Bondage

I am the slave of day, And underneath the sun I play my part with stubborn heart Until the day is done. I do the petty task, I earn the grudging pay, And none can guess I wear the mask indented to the day. But when the sun has set and labor is done, How easy to forget The walks and hearts of men. Deep in my heart I seek The black and the red; The memory of you, Who labor in the mine, How easy to forget.

THE NEW SONG HITS.

Out in Roselle Park, N. J., lives a well known composer and his family. The place being an undesirable one for servant girls owing to its distance from the metropolis and the scarcity of policemen, the wife of the composer has had a hard time in securing a girl of the right sort. Naturally she was a trifle elated when she found that a new girl was all that could be asked for, and gave vent to her feelings by going round the house singing loudly some of the latest song hits. Among these happened to be "The Prima Donna" song called "Everybody's Elsie's Girl You're" the great girl replied, "I'm again here her surprise and discomfort emanate from the kitchen. Hastening to the culinary department she found the new girl sobbing as if her heart would break.

"Why, Gertie dear, what is the matter?" the mistress asked.

"Shure, mam, I waded the girl, 'I thought I was givin' satisfaction to youse and that mek work was all that you desired."

"So 'is, Gertie," the mistress replied, more mystified than ever.

"Well, then is it me looks?" Gertie inquired.

"Your looks," the mistress asked, "but on earth is the matter with you?"

"Shure and haven't you been singing around all the morning 'Everybody's Elsie's Girl Looks Better to You Than You're' the great girl replied, "I'm again having an outburst of sobs and moans.

A Rattled Bridegroom.

Some few years since a man of mature age found himself playing first fiddle to marriage bells. Then they tied themselves away, as others have done, to Niagara Falls. He chuckled to himself as he took a room at a hotel, and again having an outburst of sobs and moans.

He thought he wrote with the easy air of one who had so written it three or four years and turned carelessly away.

On leaving the proprietor inquired: "I hope you have enjoyed your honeymoon?"

"I would soild," the bridegroom cheerfully turned the register back and pointed to this entry: "John Doe and Bride."

He had been as rattled as any boy.

To Sleep.

Come, Sleep, O Sleep, the certain knot of the bathing place of wit, the balm of woe. The poor man's wealth, the prisoner's release. The indifferent judge between the high and low. With slither of good slither me from out of those dreary doors, I despair at me death throw.

O make to me those visits in my cage! I will good tribute pay, if thou do so. Take thou of me smooth phylloxera, sweetest. A chamber deaf to noise and blind to light.

A fovee garland and a weary head. And if these things, as being things, are right. Move not thy heavy grace, thou shalt in me.

When Carol was nearly 4 years old, her parents had occasion to move into another part of town, and one morning, when a strange little girl wandered into the yard, Carol who is an only child, was delighted with the idea of a play-fellow.

"Good morning, little girl," she called out brightly. "Did you come to play with me?"

"The little girl who was older and larger than Carol, stared and was dumb.

"What's your name, little girl?" Carol proceeded.

"Well, I don't know your name, and I don't know how old you are, but I do know you aren't very smart for your age."

"Are you five?"

"Still no answer."

"Are you six?"

"Still no answer."

"The child judged and grimed, but remained silent with her finger in her mouth.

Carol surveyed her calmly a moment and then remarked emphatically: "Well, I don't know your name, and I don't know how old you are, but I do know you aren't very smart for your age."

On a Level.

Once upon a time a certain committee planned to give a dinner to a judge. When the judge came to scan the list of those invited he raised vigorous protest against one name that of a man who had been the most brilliant lawyer in town, but who was now the town drunkard. "They finally procured his opposition, but the town drunkard had heard of it. He was the last speaker called upon. He arose and said:

"Mr. Toastmaster— Fifteen years ago I had a partner in this town that amounted to $12,000 a year. I had a wife and family whom I supported in comfort. I had my own horse and carriage. At that time the guest of the evening was on his way west in an emigrant wagon. He landed in this town and started to make a living. Since then, Mr. Toastmaster," he ejaculated with a pathetic break in his voice, "since that time I have been going down, down, down, and our guest has been going up, up, until now we are just about on a level."

It is not at all surprising that the American corncriber should sometimes prove a little too much for the Englishman. A case in point was that of a visitor from London who came to New York last summer and was taken by his host to see one of the biggest baseball games of the Polo grounds. The game had progressed as far as the third inning without anything in particular happening, when suddenly one of the Giants pointed out the base-bagger that sat everybody laughing with joy.

"That was a bird," ejaculated the Englishman's host, after the excitement had passed. "The bird should be a moment later a foul tip sent the ball flying back into the grandstand."

"And what do you call that?" queried the Englishman.

"That was a foul," said his host.

IS THE DATE OF

Lessman's Big Sale ...

32 Duroc Jersey Bred Sows

Bred to the Best Boars of the Breed; Frankfort K; Frankfort Choice, and Advancer Model.

Sale at my farm, 4 miles north of Wayne, under cover. No Postponement. Free Lunch at Noon.

W. M. LESSMAN, Wayne, Nebraska.

BY DAD

The News says it was 16 below in that burr Monday night. Eleven below was the record in Wayne for the same time.

I'd like to be a farmer and have a "sale" some day, and then with coin to blow all time, you bet I'd sail away.

Those Nebraskans in Texas found a record-breaking cold snap down there, but then they all had a "hot time" just the same.

There are some people in Wayne who can attend the band masquerade and need no masks.

Remarkable, isn't it, how Roosevelt goes after every democrat he suspects of crookedness—the whole party—and how he lets the guilty republicans escape after conviction?

Postmaster Beaton of Sholes enjoys the distinction of being the only postmaster who can't quit his job. The Norfolk News of Monday says: "Postmaster Beaton of Sholes, desires to move to Wausa and no one in the town is disposed to take the postoffice. He can not leave until his successor qualifies and if no responsible person will take it off his hands, he will have to live here all his life."

For a local daily paper the Norfolk News is certainly winning fame and lots of subscribers. Wayne people could make a much poorer choice of a daily than in the News. It tells all there is going on in the northeast section of the state far ahead of the metropolitan press. There isn't a sheet arriving at this office that we peruse with more pleasure than the Norfolk News, and this is no paid boost for it, either, by dad.

If you have been reading the daily papers you have noticed that the preachers, a few of them, hold the center of public attention. About the extent of a newspaper man's notoriety is to limp into a cigar maker.

The esteemed Wayne Herald reads the riot act to persons who "cut off the corners" in traversing their daily ways to labor. The DEMOCRAT insists that it is the fellows who "cut across lots" who get there, not only first, but always arrive where others fail. The boy who "cuts across the street" instead of going around by the walk, is the lad we like to pay good wages to. "Long lanes" are only for the dreamers, whose attention is never in the pursuit of what they are supposed to be doing. It is the same with personal character. The "corners" of ill-temper, selfishness, conceit and deceit should be parted off and give place to smiles, generosity and modesty; while everybody should "be on the square" it is the full, round-topped measure that gives the most satisfaction in life "Whatever you be doing do your darndest," is a good motto.

Tillman used his pitch fork, all right, but did he land Roosevelt on the dung-hill?

A San Francisco heiress has married the head waiter in a big hotel. She must have been a little topsy when she did it.

Uncle Sam can now quit figuring on how to spend that $20,000,000 he had coming from the Standard Oil company. The account has been marked "uncollectable."

It is said the road to hell is paved with good resolutions. How many of yours do you expect to travel over?

Hurrah! The threatened paper famine is averted by a copious fall of rain in New York. Possibly it will also avert a milk famine.

It seems inevitable that Uncle Sam will have to issue bonds to get money to pay expenses during the next few years. A lot of things are going to happen in the near future to make democrats glad that Bryan wasn't elected. Just think of the republican shortcomings he would have been held responsible for.

The present year would be all right with the base ball fans if it didn't have a 9 at the tail end. It I out on the start and the first 9 will hold its place, but it hasn't got a 9 that can get to the front.

Queen Fashion has decreed that the girls and women of 1909 shall wear trousers, otherwise known as pants. Considering the weather we have had the past few days it is to be hoped they have all been supplied.

Sioux City ministers feel assured that divine wrath had nothing to do with the recent fearful disturbance in Sicily. Of course not. If divine wrath were looking for a place to operate Sioux City would be nothing but a sandbar in the Big Muddy in less than forty-eight hours.

It seems to be the general impression that skating rinks on the roof of New York skyscrapers will be all right for the women and children, but that the men will continue to put their skates on down below.

Wm. Bowles was down from Randolph last Friday paying taxes and attending other business. Mr. Bowles lives in Wayne county but gets his mail from Randolph.

The Walthill Times says a preacher of that vicinity has solved the big hat nuisance in his church. He simply announced that he didn't blame the ladies who wore false hair for not removing their head-gear, but of course all others would gladly do so.

If you want some "easy money" sue a saloonkeeper for damages; that appears to be the system nowadays, but the most peculiar suit of this kind is now on in Madison county. Frank Jarmer was a saloonkeeper; he was shot and killed by Herman Boche, because of liquor Jarmer sold his slayer. Now Mrs. Jarmer will sue the bond company who furnished her husband bonds; or rather she will sue her dead husband and try and recover damages from the bonding company. The saloonkeeper certainly has a rocky road to travel in this country, and they do say he will catch hell in the next.

This is an nice age. The results of the set-to between Roosevelt and Tillman has brought neither honor nor glory to either of them. They are no longer idols in the public eye.

Veteran Stallsmith can now reiterate the statement he made to Ben Tillman some two years ago, and then prove it. And then when you stop to consider that Tillman is the more honest one of the whole bunch.

Teddy is evidently trying to make himself believe he isn't going to get scared when he tackles real lions.

Walt Mason in the Emporia Gazette: Although it has enough of wheels and springs to fill a tub, it's only fit to go and join an Ananias club. If I could tell as many lies as that old timepiece can, you wouldn't see me loafing here—I'd be a congressman. When evening comes and men go home, their weary labors through, that dizzy batty, bug-house clock insists it's half-post two. At midnight chill and solemn hour, when sheeted spectres walk, that drunken timepiece whangs some one climb it's lonely tower, and take that clock apart, and use its crazy brass and steel to make a devicart?

When you hear a man say that he can leave off drinking whenever he likes, then he begins to feel that it is getting to be his master and that other people notice it.

Watch for the date of "A Day in the Union Depot."

W. I. Kortright of the Randolph Reporter, breaks all records as a subscription collector. For several weeks Editor Kortright advertised that he would publish the names of all who did not pay up, as "people unworthy of credit," etc. Last week the list appeared. This is certainly taking desperate chances, and we'd rather be such a delinquent than stand for the consequences of such statements. But then, W. I. probably knows his business.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shorten were passengers home yesterday from Sioux City. Mr. Shorten is a shadow of his former robust self, several weeks in the hospital with typhoid nearly gathering him to his last reward.

It is announced from Sioux City that the conditions are puzzling the weather officials. They can't guess more than half the time whether it is going to be warmer or colder. Some of the rest of us are in the same fix, but we don't get paid for worrying about it. —Cherokee Democrat.

The cheering news comes from Washington that the President hasn't told all he knows—that he has held back much to save his party from disgrace. It is hard to say which will occasion greatest surprise, that the president really knows some things he hasn't told or that he would protect a lot of thieves to save his party from disgrace. Wonder if some of the things he hasn't told relate to canal deals?

It has been decreed that the big hats are to go, but nothing is said about any shrinkage in the price.

Sugar King Spreckles came to this country at 18 years of age with only $3 in his pocket. He left it without a cent.

The people of Norfolk are having a joint debate, through the columns of the Daily News as to whether a horse pulls, pushes or lifts a load. That is small occupation for an intelligent community, but there is only one answer. It all depends on whether or not the horse is balky, by dad.

Come on, now, what's the use? You know you will kick like sixty next summer if there isn't a good supply of ice.

Of course it was all right—Roosevelt—for our republican Nebraska senators to use the franking privilege for their private business?

This story is being told on a Carroll man: He went to dine one evening with a friend and imbibed quite freely. The result was he got pretty "mellow." As he started home he realized his condition, and pondered how to conceal it from his wife. "I'll go home and read," he said to himself. "Who ever heard of a drunken man reading?" He reached home and went to the library and commenced to read Mrs. ... later appeared on the scene. "What on earth are you doing?" she asked. "Reading, my dear. I'm reading," he replied. "What are you reading?" "This book has been in the house for the last twenty years, so if you don't like it I'm not going to tell you," he replied. "You old idiot; shut up that valise and come to bed," she answered scornfully.

No use in letting a "nigger" carry the belt, is there Billy?

The "Wayne issue" is dead for want of funds. The editor didn't have any trouble killing any promise it had for usefulness.

The Baptist congregation are going to make the year 1909 read: "The year we built our new church." Committees have been selected to do the soliciting and planning. It is expected to build the edifice for some $15,000, and it will of course be placed on the site of the old one. The Baptist people have been attending pretty generally to church and religion and will no doubt meet with encouragement from every quarter.

Fenske Wants His.

N. C. Schultz, secretary of the Nebraska retail dealers' association, was in the city today. Among the matters which brought Mr. Schultz here was the $5,000 damage suit brought by Robert Fenske of Hoskins against Chas. Herschlag of the Hadar saloon, and the Lyon Bonding and Surety Company of Omaha. The suit was filed in the district court at Pierce by Mapes & Hazen. Fenske was thrown out of the Hadar saloon and badly pounded up. He admits that he may have been a little demonstrative himself but lays that to the liquor which the saloon man sold him. Fenske claims that he suffered very severe injuries from a beating and kicking given him by the bartender whom, it is claimed, threw him on at the saloon keeper's orders.—Norfolk News.

Kindergarten Benefit Lecture.

Our townspeople are offered a rare treat Friday evening, January 22nd, in an illustrated lecture by Manly B. Townsend, of Sioux City, recently of Massachusetts, who will speak, for the benefit of the kindergarten, on "Back to Nature, or 'How We Answered the call of the Wild.'" Mr. Townsend is an enthusiastic nature student and lover, and will take his audience into the great Maine wilderness on a canoe trip of a month's duration. He will picture and describe the wild life observed, the furtive folk of forest, lake and stream; the most unique and interesting wild flowers; the rare and lovely ferns; the characteristic trees and shrub. The wild scenery and the novel experience of camping, cooking, sleeping and living in the open close to nature's heart, will be fully and interestingly portrayed. Nature study is receiving increasing attention for all classes. "Back to Nature" is the cry today. The lecturer is by experience and by inclination amply qualified to treat the subject. The lecture will be beautiful illustrated by over one hundred stereoscopic slides, made from photographs taken by the lecturer. This lecture is to be given March 11, before the Sioux City Academy of Science an Letters.

Senator Volpp's Bill.

Senator Fred Volpp, of Dodge county, has sent The Telegram a printed copy of the bill which he will seek to enact for the alleged guarantee of bank deposits. He asks us to criticize the bill, and indicate such changes as suggest themselves. That would require too much effort. The best advice we can offer our senatorial friend will be to advise him to forget the bill which he now advocates, and draft a new one.

Senator Volpp is elected on a pledge to require the banks of Nebraska to guarantee the payment of deposits. His bill does nothing of the kind. It suggests a sort of voluntary association of bankers, banded together to guarantee deposits by mutual agreement. Senator Volpp is pledged to a guarantee law, and not to any play-horse business regarding such legislation. We fear the senator has been hypnotized by a big banker in Omaha. He appears to have taken on the belief that he has been elected to protect some big banker. That's a mistake, senator. You were elected to protect the bank depositors.—Columbus Telegram.

Be sure to see "A Day in the Sun" Depot" for the benefit of the public school gymnasium.

The federation of woman's clubs met with Mrs. M. S. Davies yesterday afternoon and elected officers for the ensuing year. There were 484 books loaned out of the library last year under Mrs. Davies' excellent management as librarian.

The Odd Fellows had a big evening of it Monday, installing new officers and partaking of an oyster supper. The new officials are: H. B. Craven, Noble Grand; John Short, vice N. G.; Herman Lundberg, secretary; Harry Ley, treasurer and Ralph Clark, conductor.

The official board of the kindergarten association has been selected as follows: Mrs. E. B. Philles, president; Mrs. Jas. Miller, vice-president; Mrs. Billie Ley, secretary; Mrs. W. C. Wightman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. E. Hufford, treasurer.

W. G. Mason, special evangelistic secretary of the county work of the Young Men's Christian Association will be in Wayne January 21st and hold a meeting in the evening for men and boys, and also on the 22nd. The Sunday services will be announced later. J. P. Baily of Omaha, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. is also expected here on the 21st. He will no doubt give us some good help as he is long in the work. Do not fail to hear him.

One of the big things we neglected to chronicle last week was the grand party given at the opera house New Year's eve, in which a large number of our people participated. The decorators were as faithful in their work that with the aid of the Christmas decorations, rug, curtains, etc., the place would have hardly been recognized. The front of the stage was banked with Christmas trees, back of which was the orchestra headed by such musicians as Voget and Buroker, and they say that the music was superb. In one corner of the room was a table decorated with ferns and flowers and containing a large punch bowl. In the gallery were tables for all kinds of games. Supper was served on the stage with Mrs. McVicker as caterer. The grand march, which was participated by all present, was led by Mrs. Kohl and Mr. Zufford, and was a very agreeable feature. Such a success was the whole affair that it has been decided to have it as an annual function. During the holidays the young people are home from school and outside business positions, and it is a pleasurable event where old and young, parents and children can join for one evening in happy festivities.

Mrs. Ley is in Sioux City this week looking over matters connected with her new card game. She has gone into partnership with Mr. Simmons of the Journal office in the "Royalty Card Company." Royalty being the name of the new game. It will soon be on the market and is expected to come quite popular.

The Westminster Guild met with Miss Helen McNeal last Friday evening.

The Monday club meets next week with Mrs. Epler.

The German club meets with Mrs. Chace tomorrow.

After all expenses were paid $8.65 was left from the New Years party of the opera house. This has been divided between the gymnastium and kindergarten funds.

Wm. Piepenstock is in Omaha today.

L. P. Kloppling went to Omaha yesterday with a train of fat cattle.

W. P. Hobbles of Pierson, Io., is visiting Emil Hansen.

The Texas party got home Tuesday night. Messrs. Sletken and Lemck bought land, but all of the party are stuck on the country.

The community was shocked on Saturday morning to hear that Mr. M. S. Cutler, who has not been overtly well for some time, had lost his mind and had become quite violent during Friday night, requiring the care of Mr. Sewell and others who were called in Saturday morning he was examined by Dr. Wightman and the County Board and it was thought best to take him to the hospital at Norfolk, which was done Sunday morning. Mr. Cutler is in his 67th year, and both he and his wife have been here in the great east eatery by all our citizens. It seems sad that his calamity has come upon them in their declining years and it is hoped that with proper treatment he may yet spend the last of his days in comparative peace. Mrs. Cutler still remains at the old home.

The Owl Time Club met with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carter Saturday night. Mrs. Lute Miller and Harry Prescott got first prizes and Mrs. A. B. Cherry and Harry Tiedrick carried away the consolations.

Wm. Denton has purchased the Ramsey house and will move into it in a few days.

James Worthem and Chris Nelson got mixed up in an altercation Tuesday night, which resulted in the arrest of Worthem. Wednesday morning Judge Lucas imposed a fine of $10 and costs on Worthem for intoxication.

The question of installing a municipal gas plant is being agitated by a number of our citizens and the proposition seems to meet with the approval and support of about all. From investigations already made it would appear that the town could install such a system and sell gas to the consumer at a price that would be economical for him to use it and still make a profit upon the investment, sufficient to pay for the plant within 2 years. If this can be done it is up to the citizens to "push it along."

College Notes

Miss Orva Stine, Scientific '09, is teaching in Miss Wallace's place in the city schools this week.

Mrs. Pile went to Madison Monday where she addressed a public library association that evening. Her subject was her trip through Europe. She returned Tuesday.

Mrs. Flaherty and Mrs. Roberts of Pender spent Saturday and Sunday with their daughters Minnie and Leona who will be here the remainder of the year.

Rev. Ringel favored a Chapel full of students with one of his good talks Saturday morning. He gave some excellent advice along the line of "Common Sense."

Following the literary program Saturday evening, students and faculty were entertained in the gymnasium by the advanced elocution class. A mock country school entertainment was the feature of the evening.

The college orchestra has been re-organized and it is indeed one of the school's may well be proud of. They have their weekly practice, and have promised us some entertainment in the near future.

Rev. Smith addressed the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon on the subject of Christianity. This association has so large a membership this term that it is necessary for them to hold their meetings in the Chapel in order to have seating room for all who attend.

Mrs. Pile received notice that she has been appointed the Nebraska member of the Woman's Department of the National Teachers' Association, which is not only an honor for her and the school, but Wayne as well.

Among the new students to enroll this week are: Messrs Chas. Busch of Carroll; Alfred Sandin of Closter; Alcid Sandoz of Verdigre; Blanche Stevensen of Spencer. These young people go right into the classes and if they need any extra help to get started, the teachers are glad and willing to give it.

On Friday evening occurred the first basket ball game of the season on the College floor, when the team from Bancroft played our team. The game was fought all the way through and either side had good chance of winning the game. In the last few minutes of play our team forged ahead and succeeded in winning the game by a score of 17 to 13. The members of the Bancroft team were gentlemen and we hope we may have an opportunity of again entertaining them here.

A. E. Kivett is Dead.

A. E. Kivett, head of the Kivett Land Co. and a former Wayne business man, died at his home in Bancroft on Tuesday. Death came after an operation for an abscess, which was performed by an Omaha surgeon. The funeral was held today. Deceased was in the laundry business in Wayne a few years ago. After moving to Bancroft he fell heir to a fortune, went into the banking business, organized a land company to sell western Nebraska lands, and the DEMOCRAT understands that he leaves a large estate. O. D. Franks, a salesman for the company, went to Bancroft yesterday to attend the funeral.

A son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bluechel last evening.

SHALLENGER SENDS MESSAGE

Theme Is Bank Deposit Guaranty—How to Secure It and What to Do With It.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 7.—Insistence upon the redemption of the party pledges, and the amendment of existing laws so that they are fair and adequately fulfill their purpose, is the keynote of the inaugural address of Governor Shallenberger, delivered to the state legislature this afternoon.

"To stamp these promises upon the statute books of our state as written law should be the purpose, the constant purpose and I sincerely hope the accomplished purpose of this legislative session," he says in the beginning. "I wish to impress upon both houses the strength and directness with which this mandate for certain legislation comes from the people."

He expresses the opinion that the democratic victory was a triumph of ideas, a demand for existing legislation to be amended, a verdict in favor of better of the average deposits in any one year, this power to be employed only in times of emergency.

The governor declares that the present primary law is unsatisfactory and unfair, and that it ought to be materially amended or else repealed. He objects to the expense to the state and the confusion of the candidates in the alphabetical position of the candidates on the ballot is more potent than merit in obtaining nominations, and excepting the banking board should be empowered to fix the rate of interest to be paid depositors by banks operating under the guaranty, or this can be done by the legislature.

The governor recommends a constitutional amendment putting the state institutions under a state board of control, so that they may be removed from the control of the legislature, a non-partisan and appointed by the governor; it shall buy all supplies and establish a system whereby merit and ability will insure the retention of all employees.

A. C. SHALLENBERGER.

laws, upon the fact that the legislative majority is so overwhelming, while the executive received but a modest plurality. The governor expresses the opinion that there are already too many laws on the statute books, and he believes that what is needed is an honest and fearless enforcement of the laws now on the books.

SILO AN ESSENTIAL ADJUNCT.

The experiment station of the Iowa Agricultural college has issued a bulletin on modern silos, in which it deals with the different methods of building them. It sent circulars to every silo owner in the state and to several in adjoining states, and in addition one of the faculty spent ten weeks in personal investigation of silos in Iowa.

The republicans are in a majority in both branches of the legislature, but the president's action in discharging them without honor before the end of their enlistment.

SHEDDEN SUBMITS RECOMMENDATIONS

Would Oust Loan Sharks, Permit Mutual Savings Banks and Sterilize Criminals.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 9.—Governor Sheldon stepped out and Governor Shallenberger stepped in this afternoon. Most of the time was to the change of administration.

Governor Sheldon delivered his farewell message to the legislature, just previous to handing over the reins. He took occasion to sound against the repeal of the primary law, but suggested that the rotated ballot be substituted for the present form, that committee members and voters should be appointed by the candidates, and that platforms be adopted before nominations.

He recommended that the loan sharks be ousted out of business by a law providing for forfeiture of principal as well as interest, where usury is proved.

AMEND THE PRIMARY.

The primary law is unsatisfactory and unfair, and that it ought to be materially amended or else repealed. He objects to the expense to the state and the confusion of the candidates in the alphabetical position of the candidates on the ballot is more potent than merit in obtaining nominations, and excepting the banking board should be empowered to fix the rate of interest to be paid depositors by banks operating under the guaranty, or this can be done by the legislature.

The governor recommends a constitutional amendment putting the state institutions under a state board of control, so that they may be removed from the control of the legislature, a non-partisan and appointed by the governor; it shall buy all supplies and establish a system whereby merit and ability will insure the retention of all employees.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE ON SECRET SERVICE

Calmly Reveals Tenor of Debate—Didn't Mean to Hurt Feelings.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Accepting the challenge of the House of Representatives regarding the secret service, yet maintaining a calm, dignified attitude, President Roosevelt today transmitted to the house his reply to the resolution calling for an explanation.

THE LAND FRAUDS

At the time of this publication the work of the secret service, which was thus included in the investigation of great land frauds in the west, and the securing of evidence to help the justice department in its investigations at Chicago, which resulted in successful prosecutions.

THE LOWA CASE

But all of this is of insignificant importance compared with the main, the real issue. This issue is simply, does congress have the right to investigate the public questions of note. I have frequently discussed this particular matter with the members of congress, and have explained the reasons alleged to me for the hostility of congress to the secret service.

RIGHT IN RECORD

The part of the Congressional Record to which I have referred above entirely supports the contention that the chief argument was followed in the debate. One concerned the question whether the law which authorized the secret service in departments other than the treasury, and this did not touch the merits of the case.

ATTACK ON SLEUTHS

What appears in the record is filed out and explained by an article which appeared in the Chicago Tribune on January 2, 1904, under a Washington headline, which marked the beginning of

Sale of Short Horn Cattle

Farm Machinery, Etc.

Having sold my place I will offer for sale my entire herd of cattle without reserve, at my farm, 4 miles south and 1/2 mile west of Wakefield, on

Friday, January 22, 1909

The Offering Consists of

11 Pure Bred Shorthorns, 7 Females and 4 Bulls and 44 High-Grade or Non-Eligible Cattle

Twenty-two of these are milk cows, the balance are two-year-old heifers, yearlings and calves.

The cattle will be presented in fair breeding condition, no effort having been made to place them in high form. They have made us money and will be money makers for you. They are the dual purpose type. A good milker has been my hobby for years. All females of suitable age will have calves at foot or be bred to Wayne's Champion 235112. We have catalogued no animals that are not breeders. A certified pedigree from the American Shorthorn Association will be furnished with each of the eleven pure bloods.

We will also place on sale a complete line of Farm Machinery, all nearly new. Thirty-five head high-grade Duroc Jersey gilts, bred to a pure-bred boar. One span heavy draft horses, 1 draft colt, one driving bred colt.

TERMS—Cash, or 12 months' time will be given on approved notes at 10 per cent.

Free Hot Lunch from 10:30 until sale begins. Sale commences at 12 sharp, January 22, 1909

Dr. Lutgen, physician and surgeon.

M. H. Mohr from near Laurel was in town Monday and called to see the DEMOCRAT.

Dr. Naffziger was kept busy last Saturday night sewing up the busted heads that fell from the water wagon. Fritz Kay carried off first honors, his father-in-law, Gustave Kruse, hitting him with a crowbar, and coming within an ace of making Fritz a subject for the coroner.

Harry Hirsch is still in the limelight at Sioux City. Harry was in Norfolk last Friday to attend his mother's funeral, and Monday's Sioux City Journal contains the usual notice of his doings: Ernest Pritchard and Lena Nelson, alias Mrs. E. Hirsch, were arrested yesterday morning at 310 South Wall street by Patrolman Bedford. They are being held on a charge of assault and battery. The arrests were made on warrants issued on information filed by Harry Hirsch, who claimed they had "beaten him up."

The DEMOCRAT was in error in stating S. D. Relyea went to Texas. Sid staid in Wayne.

R. J. Armstrong got down street Saturday long enough to get shaved. "Bob" ought to get well fast such good weather as we have been having for the coal man.

Saturday, January 23, 1909, F. G. Phillee & Co., will give a percentage of all purchases to the Kindergarten fund; 10 per cent. on all lumber, storm windows, storm doors, paper and American fencing, etc.; and 5 per cent. on coal. Make your purchases there and help the Kindergarten.

The Wayne acquaintances of Fred Berry will be glad to learn that in the recount of election ballots he defeated J. J. McAllister for county attorney of Dakota county. At the general election McAllister was declared elected by 7 votes, the recount gave Berry a majority of 17 votes. Two years ago Berry defeated McAllister by 16 votes, showing little change in the sentiment of the voters. During the past two years Mr. Berry has been very active in slaying male factors, which may in a measure account for a close election last fall.

D. J. Conover left Tuesday for his home at Ottumwa, S. D.

Mrs. Fay Payne came up from Sioux City last Saturday to attend some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lutz from Trenton, Mo., visited over the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Williams. Mrs. Lutz will remain here some weeks.

F. E. Strahn, Dell Strickland, Don Cunningham and Auctioneer Cunningham and Z Baird of Hartington were all passengers to Carroll Saturday morning to attend the pavilion sale of cattle.

Mrs. Cowan from Gardner, Mont., is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bastian.

Walt Gaebler of Winslow was a passenger last Friday to St. Louis to visit his mother.

Flem Cunningham, who buys grain and stock for the Elevator at Bloomfield, was in Sioux City last Friday with three cars of hogs that brought top prices. Flem says the Farmers leave town works well in his town and does a good business.

Ed. Kestener, of Canton, Ill., returned home last week after an enjoyable visit with his uncle, C. C. Bastian.

BRIDGE NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that bids will be received at the County Clerk's office of Wayne County, Nebraska, for the building and repairing of all bridges required to be built or repaired in Wayne county during the year 1909; bidder to furnish all material therefor, according to the plans and specifications adopted by the board of Wayne county, and now on file in the office of County Clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska. Said bridges to be built of wood or iron, or both, or with iron, cement or concrete sub-structure, according to said plans and specifications, and located in various parts of Wayne county. Separate bids to be made up on each class of bridges and each class of approaches, also on each culvert, and at a specified sum per linear foot for the superstructure of each of said classes of bridges and of each of said classes of approaches. Bridges to be built within ten days from notice by county to construct the same and in case any new bridge is to be constructed where an old one stands, contractors tear down said old bridge and remove and pile all old lumber in such bridge safely near the site thereof, such lumber to remain the property of the county. Said bids to be filed with the county clerk of said Wayne county, Nebraska, on or before 12 o'clock noon, on the 25th day of January 1909. Said bids will be opened at 12 o'clock noon, Monday, January 25, 1909, by the County Clerk of said county in the presence of the Board of County Commissioners of said county at the office of the County Clerk of said county.

No bids will be considered unless accompanied by cash or a certified check for $200.00 payable to Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk of said county, to be forfeited to said county in case the bidder refuses to enter into the contract with said county if same is awarded to him. Successful bidder will be required to give bond to the county with two or more good and sufficient sureties in the amount of $1000.00 conditioned for the faithful performance of contract awarded to him.

Also bids will be received for all of the above work at time and place, and under all conditions as above set forth, the county to furnish all material delivered at nearest railroad station, except piling, which will be delivered at either Wayne or Carroll.

The board of County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, December 22nd, 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martin, Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

Fifty years of married life, with one partner, is a long, long time, and after considering the difficulties and pleasures of only a few years of matrimony, we certainly should doff our hats and do deference to the grand old people who have grown old and gray in married blissfulness. There certainly was such a presentment with all the guests at the C. D. Martin golden wedding held last Thursday, Jan. 14, 1909. About forty guests were present and it was a most happy hopeful occasion to relatives and friends of the principals. The parlors of the Martin home were nicely decorated in orange and white, with a large bell in center of the parlor. After the wedding ceremony came an elegant repast served in three courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin are the parents of two children, both of whom were present, Mrs. H. H. Richmond, of Exter, Neb., and Mr. F. O. Martin of Wayne. Seven grand-children were also present. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McLeod of Stanton and Miss Katie Westfall of Stanton, a sister of the bride.

Mr. Martin was born in Massachusetts, Nov. 26, 1834, and moved to Wisconsin with his parents in 1840. Mary J. Westfall was born in New York, December 21, 1832, and moved to Wisconsin in 1855. They were married at Honey Creek, Wis., Jan. 14, 1859, and lived on his father's farm until 1870 when they moved to eastern Iowa, later moving to western Iowa, near Council Bluffs, where he was engaged in farming for several years. In the fall of 1882 he bought a farm near Wayne, and moved onto it the following spring. In 1899 he built and moved to his present home in Wayne. They have been members of the Baptist church 45 years. In politics Mr. Martin is democrat, and for a number of years was a member of the board of county commissioners.

The following is a list of the gifts received by this delightful old couple: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Laughlin, hand and china sugar bowl and creamer; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Witter, gold gravy ladle; Mr. and Mrs. John Soules, china plate; Grandma Gildersleeve, embroidered doyle; "Other Wayne Friends," twenty-nine dollars in gold; F. O. Martin and family, $15 in gold; Geo. McLeod, Long Beach, Cal., $10 in gold; H. B. McLeod, Long Beach, Cal., $5 in gold; Chas. McLeod, Stanton, Neb., $10 in gold; D. C. Westfall and wife, Amsterdam, N. Y., $5 in gold; Mrs. Decker, Clarence, Iowa, gold plated mantle clock; Mrs. Brink, Cedar Rapids, Ia., two silver spoons, with name and year engraved; Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore, Denver, Colo., gold souvenir spoon; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Denver, Colo., gold creamer spoon; Mr. and Mrs. Drake, Modale, Iowa, 1 doz. silver fruit knives.

Another "Butter-ine" on the Horse.

Editor News: The editor of the Wayne Democrat thinks that discussing whether a horse lifts, pushes or pulls is "small" occupation for an intelligent community." He should remember that small occupations are usually necessary before larger ones are undertaken. Before beginning work on the Panama canal Uncle Sam had to catch all the mosquitoes in that neighborhood by the tail and crack their heads off. Before ousting the plague from San Francisco the authorities had to catch the rats, and disinfect the germ laden fleas that they carried. Small occupations indeed, but necessary. How does the editor of the Democrat know that our discussion in The News may not ultimately result in a solution of the vexing problem of the balky horse, to which he refers, and be of untold value to future horse-owners.

I maintain that the question of a horse's lifting, pulling or pushing does not depend on "whether or not the horse is balky, by dad." But the horse probably balks because he is not sure whether he is required to lift, push or pull, "by dad." Wouldn't the editor of a paper balk if his drivers (subscribers and advertisers) should say he had a "pull" when in fact he had to push like sin for everything he got? R. F. M.

I want Congressman Latta to make a good record, and so I suggest that he get out of financial and other kinds of partnership with Douglas Shawvan.

"A Royal Slave," which comes to the opera house for one night Monday, January 25, only, is to be one of the real events of the theatrical season in this city. Of all the romantic dreams seen last season, few were as well received as Clarence Bennett's beautiful production of the southland. It is not only unusual in dramatic construction, but is magnificent in its scenic investiture, every piece of scenery used in the production, being carried by the company.

The largest friction saws in the world are used in one of Chicago's huge construction plants... cut through a 10-inch steel I-beam in 14 seconds. The cutting edge of the disks is roughened by simply jacking with a fish-tail chisel.

The method of exterminating locusts most generally adopted in Panama has been to dig a trench about 50 feet in length, and to fill it with a mixture of sulphuric acid and kerosene. The locusts are driven by men beating the grass and trees with switches. In this way millions are killed. The trench is filled with a solution of strong live soap-suds. The trench is then refilled with earth so as to fill the odor.

Our consul general to France writes of a rubber asphalt pavement which is being used in that country. The material is a product resulting from the distillation of asphalt and rubber. It is said to be more plastic and more adhesive than pure asphalt and to resist higher temperatures. NEBRASKA ASKS SAFE AND SANE

FOURTH OF JULY

Elections Will Also Be Shorn of Professional Plagger and Hack Ride.

NO PAYMENT FOR GOVERNOR'S OVERTIME.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 19.—According to Attorney General Thompson state officers work by the clock and not by the hour. For this reason he has recommended the disallowance of claims filed by former Governor Thomson and former Railway Commissioner Williams for seven days that they had put in beyond the usual three months embraced in the last quarter.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 19.—If Representative Frank Dolezal, who has his way, elections in Nebraska in the future will be rather tame affairs. He has introduced in the house a bill prohibiting personal soliciting, the peddling of cards or other methods usually resorted to to secure votes. The furnishing of conveyances for voters is also prohibited and the law applies to both primary and general elections. Penalty for violation is a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment from 30 to 90 days.

Dolezal has introduced in the house a bill which is intended to put the Fourth of July on a safe and sane basis. It prohibits dealers keeping or selling toy dynamite caps, black cartridges for toy pistols, or fire crackers more than five inches in length. The penalty is a fine of $100 or 30 days in jail.

Charles of Frontline county has introduced a bill providing for a bureau of railroad claims to be maintained by the state railway commission. Persons, firms or corporations having grievances against the railway companies or damages due to any cause, or for overcharge, shall present the same to this bureau for adjustment.

MAJESTY OF THE LAW SAVES PRAIRIE CHICKENS.

Clearwater, Neb., Jan. 19.—Otto Schaefer, a farmer living near here, says that a covey of prairie chickens, numbering at least 150, were shot in the field, and he indignantly protests against the alleged injustice of the law that does not allow him to protect his own property. He says the law will be subject to a fine of $5 for each chicken he killed.

COUNTY OFFICERS MOVE INTO HOTEL BUILDING.

Pender, Neb., Jan. 19.—The county officers moved into their new quarters in the Palace hotel yesterday, after being in temporary quarters for a month. The move was accomplished without incident from so doing. A compromise was reached the first of the week, at which time all opposition to the move was dropped, each side agreeing to pay half the costs.

OFFICER'S MURDERER IS DESPERATE CRIMINAL.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 19.—The desperado giving the name of Clarke, who killed Officer Smith, yesterday afternoon, is being sought by Officer Devereese while they were attempting to arrest him for a holdup, and who was himself dangerously wounded by Officer Helfield in the battle yesterday. The law has been according to the police, as Jack Curtin, said to be one of the most desperate criminals in this country against whom charges are pending on stage robbery in the West, is being sought by Officer Devereese in this country against whom charges are pending on stage robbery in the West.

OMAHA GOVERNMENT IS CHARGED WITH BRIBERY.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 19.—Herbert S. Daniel, city prosecutor, caused a sensational case to be brought yesterday by declaring that J. W. Wetmore, trial for bribery, had told the prosecutor that Chief of Police John J. Donahue had been receiving $150 and for the same amount of money had been paid $200 a month for protection by Martin, owner of much property in the Third ward.

Wetmore is on trial for attempting to bribe Daniel. He has been charged with a resort owned by Martin. He testified that Wetmore offered him $500 cash, and $200 a month, or $1,500 a year, if he would pay for the protection of the property. The place was promised to be paid for by Martin.

Wetmore told me Martin had paid Chief Donahue $150 a month, Daniel testified, and that Martin had also paid Chief Donahue $200 a month for protection of the property. On cross examination Daniel said he had not presented the matter to the first grand jury called after the alleged bribery case, but that he had hoped to 'get Martin himself.'

Dear Beecher, of Trinity cathedral, and several other prominent citizens have been behind the prosecution, Martin has now been indicted in connection with his operation of the 'Arcade,' although he has disposed of all his property in that district.

GOVERNMENT SUPPLY BUILDING BURNS, WITH $150,000 LOSS.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 19.—The early today destruction of the government supply building at Fort Omaha. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

ROBBER SHOOTS THREE AT OMAHA

One Victim Dies in Tracks

Murderer Is Cap-tured.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 18.—A holdup man made things lively for the police this morning. About 11 o'clock he entered a street car, and shot a man named Anne Wilson to the ground. The man fired, resisted, and he shot him. In leaving the street, he met Patrolman L. A. Smith, shot him in the back, and shot him in the head. A squad of officers pursued the thief toward the Missouri river, but lost track of him. An hour later they came upon a man near the river, who was the robber. He was shot and he was taken to the hospital. He died there three days ago. Devereese will recover. Clarke is not fatally hurt.

RECEIVES INVITATION FROM ROOSEVELT.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 16.—(Conrad H. Young, who was with President Roosevelt two years ago in the South, and who had often visited at the White House, has been invited to join the Roosevelt party for the hunt in Africa. Mr. Young is an expert rifle shot and has been invited to go with the president's party to the hunt in Africa. He is living in Omaha as representative of the interests of Sir Horatio Kitchener, of England, who owns valuable lands in the West.

TITLES ARE ELIMINATED UNDER HARRIMAN POLICY.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 16.—With a view to simplifying correspondence and reducing the number of titles in the Hiramman policy of concentration, a number of minor titles in the operating department of the Union Pacific are to be eliminated. The titles to be eliminated are those of assistant superintendents, and these titles will be known hereafter as assistant superintendents. The plan becomes effective at once on the Nebraska division where it will give a thoroughgoing reorganization.

Superintendent of terminals, master mechanic, division engineer, trainmaster, traveling engineer and assistant engineer, and all other titles known as assistant superintendents will have a joint office where all records will be kept. Communications to any one of these offices will be addressed to the joint office. The superintendent is a part of a carefully prepared plan for the elimination of unnecessary office routine. An important saving will be in the number of letters written by the different officials to each other.

RECOVERS HIS SPEECH AFTER PARALYTIC STROKE.

Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 16.—Professor Reese Solomon, music instructor in the Norfolk public schools, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last week which rendered him speechless, is getting better. He is now able to talk and is completely recovered. For a time he could not utter a sound and was compelled to communicate to others by writing.

IN HIS YEARLY REPORT, THE SECRETARY OF THE NORFOLK COMMERCIAL CLUB SAYS THAT OVER $6,000 WAS SAVED TO THE BUSINESS MEN OF NORFOLK DURING THE PAST YEAR BY THE ADOPTION OF A CAREFUL ADVERTISING SCHEME.

SOUTHERN RATES ARE EQUALIZED ON GRAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—The Chicago grain market was a substantial one yesterday, when the western and southern railroads decided to equalize grain rates through that gateway into the West. The result for equal rates through Chicago as compared with southern gateways has been waged for several years. Now the Chicago market will have a longer and more advantageous when bidding for the business of the southeast, as soon as the new rates can be checked in. The railroads will be able to handle more grain to the southeast on grain coming from northern Iowa and nearly all points north and west of Omaha and passing through any of its gateways.

VICTOR EMMANUEL RECEIVES ADMIRAL FOUND MAID'S NAME ON WHISKY BOTTLE.

Expresses Nation's Appreciation for American Relief Promptly Received.

Rome, Jan. 18.—King Victor Emmanuel received 100 Admiral Sperry in private at the Quirinale palace today. His majesty conversed in English for more than a half hour regarding the work of the fleet, which he regarded as the most remarkable achievement, and expressed his deep appreciation for what America had done for Italy in sympathy and relief for those who had suffered in the earthquake.

Shoemaker Wrote Her and There is Now a Marriage in Fair Prospect.

Have look, Neb., Jan. 18.—The day last fall when Taylor, a shoemaker, was in Ladd's saloon, next door to the saloon, he saw a woman who he recognized as the daughter of the liquor dealer. Around one of the bottles was wrapped this note: 'My name is Miss Jessie Arns, Louisville, Ky. I am occupied here as a shirt wrapper. I solicit correspondence.'

Taylor is a widower, 54 years old, and as both of the liquor dealers were married, the note was turned over to the saloon keeper, who showed the photograph of a handsome young woman which he said was that of Miss Arns. The romance reached its culmination today when Miss Arns agreed to a trial marriage by entering into contract for life, but she spurned the proposition. She is 50 years old, and has a son, Marshall Frederick and Allen, and says that in 1904 she sacrificed her business, at 400 Westworth ave., in preparation for the wedding.

WANTS $50,000 FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Catherine Fish, of 235 West Fifty-fifth st., began a $50,000 breach of promise suit against Timothy Enright, 74 years old, a wealthy farmer of El Paso, Ill.

WOULD PROHIBIT SELLING WHISKEY ON THE TRAINS

Measure for This Purpose Has Been Proposed by Nebraska Legislature.

MR. BRYAN'S IDEA OF BANK DEPOSIT LAW.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 18.—Mr. Bryan's ideas about the kind of a law that the Nebraska legislature should pass were conveyed in an editorial in today's Common-sense. The law, which is a bill of banks, is as follows: The object of the law is to require a banker should not be required to stand complete sponsor for the deposit of money. There are a tax of one-half of 1 per cent should be levied the first year, followed by a semi-annual tax of one-half of 1 per cent until a fund equal to 1 1/2 per cent of the deposits is accumulated. When reduced by payments to depositors, and by a surcharge should follow, an emergency tax is also favored in panic times. He insists upon the prompt payment of depositors immediately upon the establishment of a depositor's claim.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 18.—The Nebraska state senate is going to cut breaking the law just as soon as it can do so. In order to do so it is going to repeal the law which it has for several days been violating. This statute is the one which limits the number of clerical employees of the senate to 49. This law was passed four years ago, but has never been enforced.

The last session saw five more cuts in the number of clerical employees of the senate, and the present session has over a dozen in excess of the legal number. Howell has introduced a bill to reduce the number of clerical employees to 49. There are emergency clauses so that it will become a law as soon as it passes both houses and is approved by the governor.

A bill which has been introduced in the senate by Randall, of Madison, will, if enacted, do away with the sale of intoxicating liquors on dining cars and on the cars of the passenger train.

A bill which has been introduced in the house and has the backing of the railway commission, limits the number of cars in a single train to 50, and provides that on main lines all train crews shall consist of two brakemen and a flagman in addition to the conductor, engineer and fireman. There are one brakeman and a flagman are carried on these trains. On branch lines less than 70 miles long, trains of 25 cars are permitted. The bill also provides that on main lines all train crews shall consist of two brakemen and a flagman in addition to the conductor, engineer and fireman.

Kilger has introduced an anti-loan engineer bill, which limits the number of contracts assigning or pledging wages to be earned in the future, or not more than 20 days past due.

The annual report of the secretary of the Norfolk Commercial club says that over $6,000 was saved to the business men of Norfolk during the past year by the adoption of a careful advertising scheme such as calendar, cook book, atlas, directory and other like propositions.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 18.—The house today was in session this morning. It began business by setting down practically upon a proposition of Bowman, of Norfolk, one of the party leaders, to cut down the expenses of the junkets to state institutions and although he was backed by the chairmen of the committee on public lands and buildings, he was beaten by a vote of 55 to 25. Mr. Bowman said that four members could do as well as 15 and that it was in line with the party platform to cut down the expenses.

Repealing the indefinite statute of 1907 and giving the state canvassing board the right of any proposal of Bowman, of Norfolk, one of the party leaders, to cut down the expenses of the junkets to state institutions and although he was backed by the chairmen of the committee on public lands and buildings, he was beaten by a vote of 55 to 25.

Miller, of Lancaster, has introduced in the senate a bill making the carrying of a kind of a deadly weapon a felony punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary from one to three years, or a fine of not to exceed $300, or imprisonment for not more than six months.

House Chairmen of Committees.

Following is a list of chairmen of the most important house committees: Judiciary, M. E. Wilson; finance and means, R. A. Clark; agriculture, H. R. Henry; roads and bridges, Soren H. Eric; public lands and buildings, J. W. Kelly; negroes and enrolled bills, W. Z. Taylor; accounts and expenditures, E. Graves; railroad, H. R. Henry; privileges and elections, John Kuhl; corporations, W. J. Taylor; cities and towns, Walter P. Thomas; banks and banking, Charles B. Hornum; schools, H. R. Henry; university and normal schools, Dr. H. S. Case; public printing, M. A. Bates; school lands and funds, H. T. Worthington; revenue, J. M. Gentry; culture and game, D. C. Jefferson; insurance, John W. Sisk; telegraph, telephone and electric companies, A. H. Bowman.

SOCIAL ROME IS VERY COOL TO THE THAWS.

Rome, Jan. 18.—Alexander Hill Thaw, his wife and daughters, the Misses Dattler and Katherine Thaw, have returned to their delightful home here, the Villa Aurora.

Thaw's wife, K. Thaw's half brother, has written some poems that are much praised, among them 'With Burning Hearts,' 'When Love Lay Dying,' and 'The White Gulls.'

The former minister of all his family are very literary. It was his ambition to establish in the Villa Aurora, which he has leased for some time, a literary club of scholars and literatures would meet.

Yet Mr. Thaw's ambition has not been fully attained. When the Thaws came here, an American woman from Rome, Italy, had been invited to the Roman society, it is said, but it was not quite so simple as it seemed. A woman from Pittsburgh, who led American society here for some years, put her small foot down on the project.

LOWELL PRESIDENT ELIOT SHOTS HIS WIFE AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

LEGISLATORS CAN WRITE TO FRIENDS

Allowed 15 Cents a Day With Which to Purchase "Slickers" of Washington.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 15.—After a spirited and protracted debate the house this morning agreed to make the people pay for the stamps it may use. The bill has been passed and the members shall be furnished with 15 cents worth a day. This was a little rakeoff that the house had quit 15 years ago, but a republican house resumed the practice two years ago. The motion was adopted by a vote of 54 to 34. It means an appropriation of $900 for the session.

Permitting Sunday baseball to be played outside the corporate limits of cities and towns.

Providing that not more than $150 for one ticket for an upper or $25 for a section, be charged by the Pullman company within the state.

Requiring two years' residence in the state before divorcing a wife, secured, except where the offense is adultery or bigamy.

Providing for the forfeiture of a saloon license where treating is permitted in the state, and imposing a fine of a large sign in each booth bazaar that treating is not allowed.

Abolishing the death penalty in Nebraska and substituting life imprisonment.

Appropriating $30,000 for the Alaska-Yukon expedition by Clark.

Appropriating $20,000 for the incidental expenses of the session and $30,000 for salaries.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 15.—The senate today, on standing committee made their reports Tuesday and they were adopted unanimously. The committees reported direct to the senate without first laying the result of their labors before the house. There are 39 committees and while all of the important ones are headed by democrats, 12 chairmanships were given to the republicans.

The more important senate committees: Accounts and expenditures, Ollis; agriculture, Fuller; banks and currency, Volpp; education, Donohue; enrolled bills, H. R. MINDEN MURDERER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Tired of Being Hounded, Bert Taylor is Arrested, Claiming His Innocence.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 14.—With the statement that he was worried to distraction with being hunted as the perpetrator of crimes at Minden, Kearney county, Nebraska, with a price of $1,300 hung over his head, a man giving his name as Bert M. Taylor surrendered himself yesterday to a Southern Pacific brakeman at Redlands, Cal., on whose train he was riding, and is today locked in the jail at San Bernardino waiting word from the Nebraska officers.

Taylor related a story of the death of his two young sisters-in-law, after a brutal assault upon them, the murder of one of them and the final destruction of the home by fire after kerosene had been poured on the flames by the victim. The crime was committed on April 18, 1908. Both girls were rescued from the flames, but the eldest died.

Taylor denies his own guilt and asserted that James Martin, a man with whom he had trouble, had committed the crime. He said that Martin had been assaulted and bound him in his room before attacking his sister-in-law.

Taylor is 36 years old, a painter by trade, and always bore a good reputation. He has a wife and two children. His wife died a year or so ago, and their only child is now with his mother's parents. The latter lived in the town of Minden, and they have their two daughters, Pearl and Ida, are staying with their brother-in-law and attending school in town.

After the tragedy the commissioner of Kearney county offered a reward of $1,500 for the capture of Taylor. It was at that time thought that he might have fled to Los Angeles, where he is said to have a brother-in-law living.

GOVERNMENT WILL GRADE THE GRAIN

Measure Very Important to Farmers Is Reported in the Senate.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—After a fight of four years the Senate agricultural committee today reported through Senator Dooliver a bill for federal inspection and grading of grain in interstate commerce for export. A bureau of inspection and grading is to be established and the department of agriculture and $50,000 is appropriated to enforce the act.

A set of regulations for uniform grading is to be promulgated by the agricultural department. Arrangements have been progressing for three years to determine if a uniform and scientific method of grading is possible and the bill is now being advanced. It has accomplished this. Inspectors boards are to be established at Portland, Me., Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, Minneapolis

Commissioners' Proceedings

Wayne, Nebraska, January 12, 1909.

Claim of Perkins Bros. Co. for supplies amounting to the sum of $22.30 filed May 31st, 1906, was on motion rejected.

Claim of T. J. Murrill for house rent for one Grace Steadman for the months of May and June 1908, amounting to the sum of $12.00 was on motion rejected.

Claim of John Short for 90 cents filed December 2nd, 1908, for a refund of recording was on motion rejected.

Comes now Frank Weible with an affidavit filed September 14, 1908, with tax receipts attached showing that for the year 1903, he paid under protest the village tax, or tax for city purposes on lots 1-2-3-4-5-9-10-11-12-13-14-19-20-21-22 of Weible's add. to Winside which tax amount to the sum of 45 cents.

Also for the year 1904 on lots 1-2-3-4-5-9-10-11-12-13-14-19-20-21, which tax amounts to the sum of 70 cents.

That for the year 1905 he was assessed with both the village tax and water bond tax on lots 1-2-3-4-5-9-10-11-12-13-14-19-20-21 Weible's add. to Winside, which tax amounts to the sum of $1.82.

That for the year 1907 he was assessed with both the village and water bond tax on lots 1-2-3-4-5-9-10-11-12-13-14-19-20 Weible's add. to Winside, which tax amounts to the sum of $2.09.

He now asks for a refund of said taxes for the years 1903-1904-1905-1906-1907, for the reason that the said lots are not within the corporate limits of the Village of Winside, and not subject to said tax.

The Board after due consideration orders the treasurer to refund the aforesaid taxes amounting to the sum of $7.78.

Comes now Mrs. G. F. Sebald and asks for a refund of taxes for the years 1903-1904-1907, amounting to the sum of $21.25-29.13-31.49 respectively, on a part of S. E. 1/4 of N. W. 1/4 of 13-26-3 which she has paid under protest for the reason that the same is too high.

The Board after due consideration rejects each and all of the accounts so said application.

Report of B. F. Feather, clerk of the district court, showing amount of fees collected by him for the quarter ending December 31st, 1908, amounting to the sum of $154.80, was on motion duly approved.

On motion the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved—

1. That the Board of Health for the county be appointed by the County Board, the same to consist of three members, one of whom shall be a practicing physician.
2. That said Board of Health be and they hereby are empowered to enforce such regulations as may be adopted by this board to prevent the introduction of contagious, infectious or malignant diseases into the unincorporated territory of the county, and to enforce quarantine rules made for that purpose by it or the board of commissioners.
3. That in case in their judgment it shall become necessary to establish a pest house, and if the pest house be established by the county board, the same shall be under the supervision of the Board of Health, and the said Board of Health shall have the power to cause such persons to be removed thereto as they may deem necessary in order to enforce the quarantine rules and prevent the introduction and spread of such contagious diseases.
4. That the said Board of Health or any member thereof may enter any premises in the county not within the corporate limits of any city or village for the purpose of determining whether or not any contagious diseases exist therein and shall adopt such rules and regulations for their own control and for the carrying out and enforcement of the quarantine rules and regulations adopted by this board as in their judgment they deem necessary. They shall elect such officers from their own body as they deem necessary and shall keep a record of all of their proceedings and persons quarantined.
5. The expense of said board of health which are not properly chargeable to the persons affected with such contagious diseases, or persons occupying the premises where the same exist, shall be paid from the county treasury, upon bills duly allowed by the Board of county commissioners, in the same manner as the other indebtedness against the county.
6. The compensation of the members of this board of health shall be the reasonable value of their services actually rendered. They shall be allowed by the county board and paid from the county treasury in the same manner as other bills against the county.
7. The county board may at any time remove any member of said Board of health and appoint another in his place.
8. All persons who have been quarantined and the premises quarantined shall be thoroughly fumigated in the manner provided by the rules of quarantine and adopted by the board at the expense of such persons and the occupant of the quarantined premises and no quarantine shall be raised until such persons and premises have been thus fumigated.
9. Provided, that paupers and premises occupied by paupers may be fumigated at the expense of the county.
10. All fumigation shall be under the personal supervision of one member of the board of health, under the personal supervision of a practicing physician.
11. On motion the following regulations and rules for quarantine of contagious, infectious or malignant diseases were adopted:

1. Whenever within the limits of this county, and without the corporate limits of any city or village, a person is suspected of having small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria or other contagious disease he shall be immediately isolated within his own household as carefully as possible, and as soon as contagious disease is recognized it will be the duty of the attending physician and household to give written notice of the same to the clerk of the county, giving the name of the disease and of the family where it exists; with the number exposed and all other particulars that may be of any value.

2. The premises where above contagious disease exists shall be duly quarantined by the county Board of health through its proper officers or an appointee (a) by placing upon the house or some conspicuous point upon the premises, a placard giving the name of disease in letters not less than three (3) inches in height, (b) by a verbal or written notice to the household to remain on the premises and in no way mingle with other persons nor allow others (except the physicians) to approach nearer than thirty (30) feet to any house or person thus quarantined. This rule to apply also in cases of exposure.

3. Such quarantine to continue until in the opinion of the medical advisor of the board of health, the last case of the disease likely to occur therein has completely recovered, and is ready for disinfection, provided, however, that in cases of extreme necessity one free from disease may be released earlier after thorough disinfection of person and clothing and with a certificate from the above medical advisor.

4. The necessities of life, as often as occasion demands may be carried within thirty (30) feet of the quarantined house by a neighbor or other duly appointed messenger, but no carrier, nor shall any effects whatever be brought away from the household until thoroughly disinfected.

5. In case of death from contagious disease there shall be no public funeral and the body of the deceased shall be closely wrapped in sheets well saturated with disinfectants and closed in a light casket, this to be again wrapped with a disinfected cloth, and in such cases the corpse shall not be carried to or near any body of people while on its way to the cemetery.

6. When in any school district or community several families—say five to eight—are infected with contagious disease, or very many exposures have occurred, the Board of Health may prohibit all gatherings of people in that community including sessions of school, until in their opinion the emergency is past.

7. All physicians should use due precaution in their visits to quarantined households to avoid the dangers of contagion to the well.

8. When in the opinion of the medical advisor of the Board of Health, quarantine can safely be raised, it shall be done with fumigation with a 40 per cent solution of formaldehyde, using at least five ounces to each 1000 cubic feet of air space. Solution to be applied by an approved evaporation or by the sheet method. The room to be sealed at least six hours. All persons to receive a disinfecting bath and their clothing to be fumigated and the house thoroughly cleansed. This is to be done in accordance with the "Suggestions of the State Board of Health to physicians."

9. When in the opinion of the Board of County Commissioners a hospital is needed to which individual cases of contagious diseases may be removed, or when such method will accommodate those without homes at much less public expense or for any other reason it is deemed best, a building suited to their needs shall be provided.

10. Whoever in any way willfully or negligently disobeys these rules of quarantine and disinfection shall be subject to prosecution and a fine of $25.00 for each and every offense, and shall meanwhile, if infected, and subject to quarantine be held at the quarantine house or hospital until the time for disinfection.

On motion the following persons are hereby appointed as members of the county Board of Health:

Grant S. Mears, Dr. J. J. Williams and Dr. W. H. Phillips.

On motion the Board hereby makes the following estimate of expenses for the year 1909:

Total expenditure for year	$2225 75
Total fees for the year	2261 65
Total expenditure for year	2225 75
Excess fees for the year	35 90

Comes now Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk, and presents check for $3,900 in payment of excess fees for the year which is accepted by this Board as settlement in full and report duly approved.

On motion it is resolved that at this time no allowance be made the county clerk for the performance of the duties of clerk of the Board of county commissioners for the year 1909, provided however, that at the end of the year it be found that the fees earned by the office of the clerk (less than $1500.00 for the clerk's salary and $700.00 for deputy hire, then this board shall allow a sufficient sum up to $400.00 to bring the salary of the clerk, together with his deputy, up to $1500.00 and $700.00 respectively; provided however, that any extra help needed by the county clerk and granted by this board shall also be taken into consideration in making the eventual allowance of $400.00.

On motion the county clerk is allowed $100.00 for extra help during the year 1909, said help to be employed when needed and such sum so allowed to be paid from the fees of the office.

Upon motion it is hereby resolved that each member of the Board be and is hereby appointed a committee of one to investigate claims of demand upon the county for pauper maintenance at the poor house, and for temporary relief; and also to investigate claims and demands of any party on county road and bridge funds to be expended in the several road districts of the county. Eph Anderson is hereby directed to act as such committee in the 1st district; J. F. Stanton is hereby directed to act as such committee in the 2nd district; Geo. S. Farran is hereby directed to act as such committee in the 3rd district. Provided, however, that in any case of emergency anywhere in the county coming to the knowledge of any one of the commissioners where it is necessary to give immediate relief to a pauper, and no other commissioner being present, the commissioner present shall see that the necessary relief is provided.

Each member shall report to the Board at its next meeting any and all acts performed by him as such committee, with his recommendation for action by the Board. All justices of the peace and the county clerk are hereby forbidden to give any aid whatsoever, except as stated below, and all persons requiring county aid, such as medical attendance, admittance to the poor house and other necessities shall make application direct to the commissioner of the district for which he acts.

Under this resolution the county clerk and superintendent of the poor house are given authority to call the county physician for medical attendance when they deem it necessary.

The county clerk is hereby directed and ordered to have compiled by January 25th, 1909, the amount of all unpaid claims against the county which are on file in this office at this date, not including claims allowed January 6th and this date for which warrants were ordered but not yet drawn. He is further directed to show as near as possible what county funds they stand against or are likely to be drawn on.

Whereupon Board adjourned to January 25th, 1909.

A lot of things—have been prepared for the various legislatures not to do. A correspondent writes: "I notice some quaint replies to duns in November New Idea. Here's one from a restaurant keeper in Iowa that should be embalmed. After paying no attention to several statements, a draft was made, and when returned was immediately sent to another bank, until each bank in the city had handled it and no results: banks reporting no attention. Then in answer to a letter which attacked the debtor's honesty, he replied: "Sir, your various statements, drafts and letters are received. You do not seem to understand my position. I have been in business here a great many years and am known as a man who never pays a cent. 'Do you' suppose I want to injure the reputation of a lifetime by paying the paltry sum of $3.60? Well, I should so No, likewise, Nit."

Didn't Willett put in some warm welts? And yet, taking the Roosevelt theory for it all that is the truth should bear telling about any public man. In every instance will history corroborate Willett's withering roast.

It is announced that Carrie Nation will start for home soon. Don't hurry, Carrie. We miss you, but want you to have your visit out.

There are over 10,000 people in the United States who make their living lecturing. About 8,000 of them should put in the winter chopping wood.

Although Gov. Sheldon was short a few days in commencing his term as governor, he still wanted extra pay—that he didn't get—for a few days over the fiscal year of 1908. It was also this idol, Sheldon, who took the matter of the executive mansion before the supreme court to see if he was entitled to occupy it rent-free; a grand-stand play for the common herd to hurrah over. It has also been discovered—since he went out of office—that he was the most expensive governor this state has ever known. These spectacular servants of the public are a most horrible example of the politics of this country, but the most disgusting feature is how they make lots of partisans believe they are the real thing.

The Madison Post has started a suit to bust up what it terms a "combination of papers" that do the publishing for Madison county. The Post has only recently been planted, not properly a part of the fence, hence kicks because it hasn't been "wired up."

Winside News.

C. D. Shaw was in Wayne Tuesday afternoon. Walter Gaebler returned home Saturday night from a three weeks sojourn at his old home in Missouri. The twelve-year-old son of William Schultz living southwest of town was buried this afternoon. The Owl Time Club met Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Brown. Mrs. A. E. Cherry and D. J. Cavalraugh captured the first prizes and H. E. Siman the consolation. The Ellensworth Plumstead entertainment Tuesday night gave the best of satisfaction to all. Mr. Plumstead is an artist in his particular line and as an impersonator has few superiors. H. C. McClusky made a business trip to Sioux City Wednesday. Mrs. C. E. Shaw gave a masquerade party for the small boys and girls on Saturday night. Mrs. Thos. Steele of Sioux City is the guest of Mrs. Frank Strahan of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillo were passengers to Omaha this morning. Mrs. Epler is in receipt of an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt to attend a reception at the White House this evening Jan. 21. As it is an individually engraved invitation Mrs. Epler naturally is pleased with the honor, although unable to accept. Mrs. Morris chaperoned a jolly crowd of boys and girls on a bobbed party last Saturday evening finishing up with an oyster supper with Alma Craven at the photograph gallery. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Gibson of Hartington visited at the Blair home over Sunday being on their honey moon trip from Aurora, Ill. Miss Anna Fryor visited friends in Sioux City the first of the week. The Guild meets with Mrs. T. W. Moran Thursday afternoon. An Ideal Sunday Newspaper. Recent issues of THE SUNDAY RECORD-HERALD remind one that Chicago may fairly lay claim to producing the best newspapers in the world, not excepting those of New York. THE SUNDAY RECORD-HERALD, in foreign news alone, has its own special cable service in addition to those of the New York Herald, World, Journal of Commerce and Associated Press. This is a fair example of the completeness of the paper in every department. Aside from the regular news features, there is something in THE RECORD-HERALD for every member of the family. The special articles by William E. Curtis and Walter Wellman are always interesting. The sporting section offers four whole pages of fresh and authentic news in every line of sport. The woman's section is filled with illustrated articles on the latest wrinkles in fashion and domestic science, with Marion Harland and Mme. Qui Vive as regular contributors, and Dame Curtis's "Novelties in Entertainment" as a valued feature. The dramatic page, written by James O'Donnell Bennett, is admittedly without an equal in the West. The array of splendid special articles by skilled writers, finely illustrated, also is typical of the high literary quality of THE RECORD-HERALD. In the way of humor, there is the comic colored supplement for children besides Richard H. Little's laughable articles for adults and S. E. Kiser's delightful "Alternating Currents" for everybody. But the thing that lifts THE RECORD-HERALD most emphatically above all its rivals is its magazine section. There is nothing else that can touch this in American journalism. "The Sunday Magazine of THE RECORD-HERALD" is a real magazine, full of stories and articles by the most famous writers of our day, illustrated by celebrated artists. In quality and beauty it compares favorably with the best monthlies. No wonder THE RECORD-HERALD is regarded as the ideal Sunday newspaper!

College Notes. Mr. Fisher of Wynot enjoyed a visit from his sister and Miss Reuter of Wynot Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ruge of Pender spent Saturday on the Hill visiting their son Martin, who is in school, this term. Etta Marsh of last year's Scientific class visited her brother over Sunday. Miss Marsh is teaching near Randolph this year. A number of students took the county examinations which were held on Friday and Saturday of last week. These examinations are held each month. After the literary program Saturday evening, the Philomathean society conducted a pleasant social in the gymnasium. A social has been held each Saturday evening this term. Mrs. Bright spoke to the students at the one o'clock meeting Saturday. A large number of students attended and all thoroughly enjoyed Mrs. Bright's talk. Prof. Puffer will give the one o'clock talk this week. Rev. Smith visited the College Saturday morning. He conducted the Chapel exercises and gave the students a very interesting talk on "Progress." The Chapel talks this term have been very much appreciated by both students and faculty. Mr. John H. Kate spoke to the members of the Agricultural Club on Tuesday evening on the subject of "Poultry." As is always the case with Mrs. Kate, his talk was most interesting as well as instructive. The Agriculture Club now numbers about seventy-five members. Among new students who enrolled this week are the following: Messrs. Garret of Madison, Grauel of Norfolk, Lindgren of Laurel; Misses Murray and Wages of Page, and Miss Nelson of Winside. Rev. Ringer spoke at the meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday afternoon. A good crowd of young men was out to hear Rev. Ringer and all thoroughly enjoyed his address. The work of the Christian Associations this term is very strong.

Hoskins News. -From the Headlight. A very quiet wedding took place at the H. H. Satchler home Thursday January 14th, when W. A. Limb of Bayard, Nebraska, and Miss Alma Sachtjen were united in marriage. Rev. Osborne, Presbyterian minister from Wayne, performed the ceremony. On account of the serious illness of the bride's grand father, Judge Westervelt of Norfolk, only the closest relatives were present. J. D. Sturgeon has disposed of his millinery store at Madison, trading it to Mrs. E. A. Waddell, of Meadow Grove for her stock of ladies' furnishing goods at Hoskins. Mayor Sturgeon will bring the Hoskins stock to Norfolk and consolidate it with his local stock. Mrs. Waddell now has millinery stores at Norfolk, Madison and Meadow Grove. In honor of his fifteenth birthday the friends of Neal Weatherholt gathered at his home Friday evening and spent the time at such games, amusements as young folks most enjoy, a pleasant time was reported by those present. Wm. and Emil Johnson shipped two cars of fat cattle to Chicago Saturday. They were joined at Wayne by John Shannon who took seven loads through. Pete Kautz and family were early Monday morning passengers to Sioux City. Mrs. Wm. Schultz went to Sioux City Saturday on a short visit but was called home by the sad news of her son's death. Mrs. Rautenburg of Norfolk visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Wetzlick between trains Sunday. Mrs. Church came up from Sioux City Saturday evening and remained until Monday morning with her daughter, Mrs. Veach. Geo. F. Drevsen and Geo. W. Sweigard and wife went to Scribner Monday to be present at the Barry-Tank wedding, the groom being a cousin of Mrs. Sweigard and Mrs. Drevsen. They expect to be gone about a week. Mrs. Frank Kruger came up from Sioux City Monday evening to attend the funeral of her sister's child Lawrence. Mrs. Julia Duncan went to Wayne Monday and remained until the next day. Wm. Bohmer transacted business at the county seat Tuesday. C. S. and Frank Leslie were Winside visitors Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Maas has been seriously ill but is somewhat better at present. Fred Schroeder, was on the sick list last week but has recovered at this time. After resisting the numerous assaults of Cupid for such a space of time that not a hair now stands between his head and heaven, John Kaulen has at last given up the fight and taken unto himself a wife. For several days affairs looked very serious but the curious ones could learn no more from John than from a clam. But on Monday he took the editor in tow, as it was necessary to have someone along, of undoubted veracity, to swear that the contracting parties were old enough to make this venture, and journeyed to the county seat. On the same train that he took to Wayne was a lady named Miss Carrie Hanson, whom John later solemnly, without stuttering, promised to serve and obey. Accompanying her and acting as bridesmaid was Miss Hazel Davey of Lake Mills, Iowa, who was an old school mate and friend of the bride. Once at the county seat no time was lost in finding the judge, securing the necessary credentials and having the knot tied. The party returned on the evening train and received the usual reception accorded to those who stray from the folds of single blessedness and cast their lots with the benedictus. Joe Dobbin made a business trip to

Supreme Court Takes a Fall Out of Thomas. Elmer E. Thomas, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league, came in for some criticism at the hands of the supreme court this morning, when he appeared as an attorney in the case of Munson against Thompson from Wayne county. This is a liquor case in which Thomas at one time tried to get Governor Sheldon to remove the city council of Wayne for issuing liquor license over his protest. Thomas appeared before the city council of Wayne and protested against the issuance of the license. His protests were overruled and then he appealed to the district court, where he asked for an order to compel the council to reconvene and receive new testimony, which he held had been refused by the council. He lost out in the district court and then appealed to the supreme court. Judges Letton and Fawcett began to ask Thomas questions when he was making his argument. They wanted to know if Thomas had proceeded correctly in bringing the case up on appeal. "This court has held on at least two cases," Thomas said, citing the cases, "that this procedure is proper." "You certainly have read the court's decision wrong," said Fawcett. "This court has never held that way and so far as known no court has." "From what the court said it is evident Thomas should have come to the supreme court on error, for he is virtually now asking for the bringing of additional evidence for the benefit of the higher court.—Omaha Bee.

The President's Barber. Some comment has been excited by the discovery that the colored barber who shaves the president is carried on the pay roll as an employer in the office of the auditor of the navy at a salary of $1,600. All he does is shave the president, and that is all he has done for years. He rarely or ever shows up at the auditor's office. This is a means of getting some thing for nothing commonly practiced among high officials at Washington. Men are hired by the government at from $900 to $1,500 or more a year, congress appropriates for their pay as "laborers," "janitors," "gardeners," etc., and then they are immediately assigned to act as lackeys, valets, servants, of officeholders who thus escape the necessity for paying their help out of their own pockets. Similarly the president assigns a war vessel for the exclusive use of himself and family in pleasure excursions and traveling by water. Similarly appropriations are made for horses for the army and the horses are used instead to draw someone's family carriage, while a "gardener" acts as coachman, a "janitor" as footman, and a "messenger" as hostler. Senator Tillman franked a government typewriter from South Carolina

Hoskins News. -From the Headlight. A very quiet wedding took place at the H. H. Satchler home Thursday January 14th, when W. A. Limb of Bayard, Nebraska, and Miss Alma Sachtjen were united in marriage. Rev. Osborne, Presbyterian minister from Wayne, performed the ceremony. On account of the serious illness of the bride's grand father, Judge Westervelt of Norfolk, only the closest relatives were present. J. D. Sturgeon has disposed of his millinery store at Madison, trading it to Mrs. E. A. Waddell, of Meadow Grove for her stock of ladies' furnishing goods at Hoskins. Mayor Sturgeon will bring the Hoskins stock to Norfolk and consolidate it with his local stock. Mrs. Waddell now has millinery stores at Norfolk, Madison and Meadow Grove. In honor of his fifteenth birthday the friends of Neal Weatherholt gathered at his home Friday evening and spent the time at such games, amusements as young folks most enjoy, a pleasant time was reported by those present. Wm. and Emil Johnson shipped two cars of fat cattle to Chicago Saturday. They were joined at Wayne by John Shannon who took seven loads through. Pete Kautz and family were early Monday morning passengers to Sioux City. Mrs. Wm. Schultz went to Sioux City Saturday on a short visit but was called home by the sad news of her son's death. Mrs. Rautenburg of Norfolk visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Wetzlick between trains Sunday. Mrs. Church came up from Sioux City Saturday evening and remained until Monday morning with her daughter, Mrs. Veach. Geo. F. Drevsen and Geo. W. Sweigard and wife went to Scribner Monday to be present at the Barry-Tank wedding, the groom being a cousin of Mrs. Sweigard and Mrs. Drevsen. They expect to be gone about a week. Mrs. Frank Kruger came up from Sioux City Monday evening to attend the funeral of her sister's child Lawrence. Mrs. Julia Duncan went to Wayne Monday and remained until the next day. Wm. Bohmer transacted business at the county seat Tuesday. C. S. and Frank Leslie were Winside visitors Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Maas has been seriously ill but is somewhat better at present. Fred Schroeder, was on the sick list last week but has recovered at this time. After resisting the numerous assaults of Cupid for such a space of time that not a hair now stands between his head and heaven, John Kaulen has at last given up the fight and taken unto himself a wife. For several days affairs looked very serious but the curious ones could learn no more from John than from a clam. But on Monday he took the editor in tow, as it was necessary to have someone along, of undoubted veracity, to swear that the contracting parties were old enough to make this venture, and journeyed to the county seat. On the same train that he took to Wayne was a lady named Miss Carrie Hanson, whom John later solemnly, without stuttering, promised to serve and obey. Accompanying her and acting as bridesmaid was Miss Hazel Davey of Lake Mills, Iowa, who was an old school mate and friend of the bride. Once at the county seat no time was lost in finding the judge, securing the necessary credentials and having the knot tied. The party returned on the evening train and received the usual reception accorded to those who stray from the folds of single blessedness and cast their lots with the benedictus. Joe Dobbin made a business trip to

Supreme Court Takes a Fall Out of Thomas. Elmer E. Thomas, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league, came in for some criticism at the hands of the supreme court this morning, when he appeared as an attorney in the case of Munson against Thompson from Wayne county. This is a liquor case in which Thomas at one time tried to get Governor Sheldon to remove the city council of Wayne for issuing liquor license over his protest. Thomas appeared before the city council of Wayne and protested against the issuance of the license. His protests were overruled and then he appealed to the district court, where he asked for an order to compel the council to reconvene and receive new testimony, which he held had been refused by the council. He lost out in the district court and then appealed to the supreme court. Judges Letton and Fawcett began to ask Thomas questions when he was making his argument. They wanted to know if Thomas had proceeded correctly in bringing the case up on appeal. "This court has held on at least two cases," Thomas said, citing the cases, "that this procedure is proper." "You certainly have read the court's decision wrong," said Fawcett. "This court has never held that way and so far as known no court has." "From what the court said it is evident Thomas should have come to the supreme court on error, for he is virtually now asking for the bringing of additional evidence for the benefit of the higher court.—Omaha Bee.

The President's Barber. Some comment has been excited by the discovery that the colored barber who shaves the president is carried on the pay roll as an employer in the office of the auditor of the navy at a salary of $1,600. All he does is shave the president, and that is all he has done for years. He rarely or ever shows up at the auditor's office. This is a means of getting some thing for nothing commonly practiced among high officials at Washington. Men are hired by the government at from $900 to $1,500 or more a year, congress appropriates for their pay as "laborers," "janitors," "gardeners," etc., and then they are immediately assigned to act as lackeys, valets, servants, of officeholders who thus escape the necessity for paying their help out of their own pockets. Similarly the president assigns a war vessel for the exclusive use of himself and family in pleasure excursions and traveling by water. Similarly appropriations are made for horses for the army and the horses are used instead to draw someone's family carriage, while a "gardener" acts as coachman, a "janitor" as footman, and a "messenger" as hostler. Senator Tillman franked a government typewriter from South Carolina

Prof. Voget Goes to Norfolk.

Otto A. Voget, formerly of Wayne, has selected Norfolk as his permanent home and will organize classes for piano and violin instruction, giving instruction in private homes until he opens a studio here. Mr. Voget, who will be remembered in Norfolk as having given a benefit concert in Norfolk last May for the Y. M. C. A. fund, assisted by some of his pupils, has just returned from Europe, where he traveled for a New York City violin importing house to import old violins. He has studied in the National conservatory of music in New York City and graduated at Sterns conservatory of music in Berlin. He became an expert judge of piano and violin instruments in part through studying the art of piano making with Steinway & Sons and of violin making with Friederich & Sons. Having had the opportunity of playing under such orchestra conductors as Emil Pauet of the Pittsburgh orchestra and Walter Damrosch of the New York Symphony orchestra. Mr. Voget announces his intention of organizing a permanent concert orchestra in Norfolk.—Norfolk News.

Fatal Accident at Hoskins.

Twelve-year-old Will Schultz, who fell under the wheels of his father's buggy Saturday night as the latter was driving into a nearby neighbor's home, died as a result of the internal injuries which the little fellow sustained. Thus fate, which on December 4, 1907, saved the father from as terrible and dramatic a runaway collision as has ever been seen on Norfolk avenue, took the son's life in an accident which at first seemed trivial.

In the sight of hundreds of people, his wife among the number, William Schultz, a Wayne county farmer living five miles east of Hoskins, was in the heart of an indiscriminate mixture of buggy wreckage and sprawling horses. A heavy runaway ice team with the momentum gained by the big wagon had crashed into Schultz' light frame buggy, overturning it and smashing into kindling wood.

It was the first exchange day. The Concordia band of Hadar was playing near the corner of Fourth and Norfolk avenue and hundreds were there to see the smash-up which occurred just as Schultz drove up to get his wife and baby daughter.

Hoskins, Neb., Jan. 19.—Special to The News: Driving over to a neighbor's Saturday evening with his father and brother, Louis, twelve-year-old Will Schultz fell out of the double-seated buggy, one of the heavy wheels passing over his body and resulting in an injury from which he died Sunday night at 7 o'clock. The Schultz home is five miles east of Hoskins.

After the accident the boy was carried into the neighbor's home, and complained of his shoulder. A physician was summoned from Winside. The boy seemed to recover in a short time and walked to the buggy and was driven home. Internal injuries, however, had been sustained and resulted in the lad's death.

Winside, Neb., Jan. 19.—Special to The News: While going home Sunday night after spending the evening at a neighbor, Otto Miller, the twelve-year-old son of W. F. Schultz, a farmer living between Winside and Hoskins, fell from a wagon. Two wheels passed over his chest and he received internal injuries from which he died yesterday morning.

His father was with him and was driving but the boy fell so suddenly that he could not stop the team in time to prevent the accident.

The mother of the boy was in Sioux City on a visit, the first time she had ever been twenty miles away from home, and did not learn of her son's accident and death until she stepped off the train on her return yesterday forenoon. When told of what had occurred, she became frantic with grief which was said by spectators to have been the saddest sight they ever witnessed.

After the accident, the father took the boy home and a physician was summoned from Winside as quickly as possible but a hemorrhage of the lungs commenced which could not be stopped and the boy died in about eight hours.

Sholes Items.
Asher Hurlbert was transacting business in Sioux City last Saturday. Warren Closson took a stroke down to Wayne last Friday and thence to Norfolk.

The furnace in the school house at Sholes got on a rampage last Monday and it was a game of freeze out for the pupils. It even made the janitor hump himself to keep warm.

Hans Sundahl the mysterious Dane, perhaps better known as never sweat, visited at the Hurlbert home last Sunday. He expects to emigrate to Boyd county, Nebraska in the near future and there build a city and marry a wife and settle down to a retired life.

There is considerable sickness around Sholes this winter among children. The four youngest of Asher Hurlbert's family and also four of Ernest Kiebs' have all been confined indoors on account of very severe colds for the past three weeks.

M. Fritzon, manager of the Bienville elevator, has been appointed postmaster here in place of J. L. Beaton, who resigned. His wife will have charge of the office, while Mr. Fritzon will continue to look after the grain business.

The next event of importance at the opera house, Jan. 25, will be the engagement of Clarence Bennett's production of "A Royal Slave" and the management of the theatre is to be congratulated upon securing an attraction of such magnificence. The play, which deals with life in Old Mexico, at the most romantic time in its history, during the unhappy Maximilian, abounds in many thrilling situations, at the same time containing a beautiful love story of interest.

Wm. Roggenback, who has been following the masons' trade in Wayne, will farm this year on the F. W. Baldwin place south of Altona, a farm that his father purchased a couple weeks ago.

W. W. Severens has accepted the agency for Haller's Remedies from J. Garwood. These goods may be obtained at the residence of C. J. Huff.

Mrs. Scott Halbrook was in Sioux City Saturday.

Asher Hurlbert, the Sholes magnate and trader, was in Sioux City Saturday.

Will Lessman shipped one of his famous red pigs to Henry Nurenberger, of Wakefield, last Friday.

Mesdames John Harrington and Dr. Heckert were Sioux City visitors last Friday.

Of the plays that one sees in a life time, he can count on his fingers the ones that combine high literary merit with great dramatic values. "A Royal Slave" is one of these few and it also adds deep heart interest and the most beautiful scenic surroundings with which a play could be embellished, as the scenes are laid in Mexico, proverbially the land of sunshine and flowers, of palms and fountains. No play has appeared in this country for years of which the press speaks in such unstinted and unqualified praise. This is one of the surest and best tests of a really great play, and "A Royal Slave" is a great play in every sense of the word. Opera house, Monday, Jan. 25.

After Ed. Lundberg

The United States district attorneys who are conducting the investigation of the beef industry, manifested considerable interest yesterday in the discovery that Edward A. Lundberg, an attorney who was associated with the defense in the beef trust investigation of 1905, had suddenly severed his connection with his employers and had left Chicago.

For several years Lundberg had been employed by packing concerns. From 1905 until 1907, he was associated with A. H. Veeders in the employ of Swift & Co. From that time until last Saturday, he was employed by Schwarzhild and Sulzberger, a large independent packing concern. At the latter company's office it was said he had gone to Portland, Oregon.

Assistant District Attorneys Wilkerson and Childs refused to state whether the disappearance of Lundberg had any significance in the present inquiry, but it is probable that they will communicate with him at Portland or send a subpoena to that city to have him brought back to Chicago. His thorough knowledge of the business of the packing concerns makes him desirable as an expert witness even if he should not be wanted to give other information.

The disappearance of Lundberg, together with the report that at least one prominent packing concern had been burning its records which reached the district attorney's office Thursday, have given a new turn to the beef inquiry. Secret service men in the employ of the Department of Justice have been busy for the past two days trying to obtain new information.

Officials of the Schwarzhild & Sulzberger company refused to discuss the reason for Lundberg's absence yesterday, except to say that they had seen fit to employ other counsel in his stead. It was said that the company had adopted a policy that no interviews were to be given out to representatives of newspapers. Lundberg's place in the office has been taken by H. C. Rumery.

Aside from beginning an investigation of the reports of burned records and the disappearance of Lundberg, the federal attorneys have thus far apparently confined the investigation to an inquiry regarding shipments of beef by Morris & Co. The volume of documentary evidence has increased so much that a truck is now used to transport it from the district attorney's offices to the grand jury room.

Branch houses of Morris & Co., were well represented by the witnesses who were examined yesterday by the federal grand jury. E. B. McKillip manager of the East St. Louis plant, was the first witness called. He was followed by G. K. Cowan, manager of the Kansas City establishment. Two railroad men were heard—W. E. Pinckney, general freight claim agent for the Chicago Great Western, and John H. Howard, traffic manager for the same railroad. Other witnesses were H. H. Loomis, Otto Beathoff and Charles Leibforth, all employes of Morris & Co. Seven or eight other employes were held in readiness in the district attorney's offices.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The DEMOCRAT hopes Ed. didn't "burn" any records. If he has he may get his fingers scorched.

Special Lincoln Letter

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 23.—(Special Correspondence.) As was expected the republican organs of the state have joined in a chorus with a view to convincing the people that the present democratic legislature is engaged in a saturnalia of extravagance, and that the administration of Governor Shallenberger is going to be vastly more expensive than that of Governor Sheldon. The G. O. P. charges are made in a general way, and the aforesaid organs studiously refrain from making any comparisons of a definite nature.

The legislature of 1907 appropriated $209 for contingent expenses of the governor's office. Governor Sheldon left $29.68 in this fund to run for three months. The most of the $200 was spent in sending out telegrams to members of the legislature asking about the advisability of calling an extra session to enact a county option law.

The session appropriated a total of $6,000 for the maintenance and repair of the executive mansion. This was $400 a month. Governor Sheldon left $252.89 in this fund to maintain the mansion for practically three months. At the same rate of expense Governor Shallenberger would exhaust the fund in two weeks and two days.

The same session appropriated $1,500 for office expenses in the executive department. Governor Sheldon left $80.25 in this fund. This is not enough to pay postage until the beginning of the fiscal year to say nothing of the necessary printing. It will cost not less than $225 to supply the governor with the printing he must have.

It is awfully easy to make a record for economy by creating a deficiency and leaving it to a succeeding administration to pay.

Another sample of "economy" is found in the Bureau of Labor and Industrial Statistics. That department is required to do "with two people and $4,000 a year what Kansas provides fourteen people and upwards of $40,000 a year to do. And even at this the board of public lands and buildings, after exhausting an appropriation of $7,000 for the improvement, repair and

City Council Proceedings.

Minutes of a regular meeting of the city council of Wayne, Nebraska held on the 25th day of January 1909.

Meeting was called to order by the mayor with the following members present, Mayor Ley, Councilmen, Chace, Craven, Strahan, Jones and Stringer, absent Neely.

Geo. Fortner attended the Ben Hur lodge meeting at Norfolk Monday night.

Postmaster Tracy of Winside was in Omaha Tuesday.

Jake Roush was called to Sioux City Monday to see his sister who is very ill.

Atty. C. C. Hurley and family left Monday for their home at Glendive, Mont.

Earlville (Ill.) Leader: "W. O. Sand, who has been with Geo. W. Frey & Co. for a number of years, has resigned his position to take effect February 1, and as soon thereafter as he can get away, will move to Offerle, Kan., where he has purchased an interest in a store. Mr. and Mrs. Sand are desirable citizens for this or any other community and the Leader very much regrets their departure. They have taken a prominent part in church and other work and have built up friendship that will go with them wherever their lot may be cast." Wayne people will remember Mrs. Sand as Miss Jennie Mettler.

A man can start out any day and inside of an hour and thirty minutes he can engage a woman to work for him for life at nothing per week while it takes two weeks of solid search to get one to work at good wages and board, with three nights out and a fire for a beau two nights a week. And then talk of marriage being a failure.

Carl Schneider of Winside was a Tuesday passenger to Nacora.

Messrs Wm. Schultz, Aug. Hohneke, Joe Dobbin, C. S. Leslie and John Sweigard were a party of Hoskinites in Wayne Tuesday.

Medames P. M. Corbit, W. H. McNeal and Bruner, and Howard Whalen were delegates to the Ben Hur lodge in Norfolk Monday night. The next district meeting will be held in Wayne.

Lee and Elmus Buroker assisted the Laurel band with a concert Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cherry and Miss Florence Cross were Friday morning passengers to Sioux City.

R. H. Skiles was in town Tuesday, arm in a sling, so will soon be as good as a new man again.

Miss Jennie Beckman departed Sunday afternoon for Becker, Minnesota, where she will stay with her sister, Mrs. Harry Warrington, for some time.

Prof. Otto Voget was an over-Sunday visitor in Wayne with his parents.

Miss Minnie Larsen departed the first of the week for Mitchell, S. D., to visit relatives.

Mrs. Jas. Jeffries returned last Friday from her visit at the springs Des Moines, Ia., and other points.

Arthur Johnson was a passenger to Wakefield Friday, where he gives violin instruction.

Lou Winsor and family returned Friday from Meadow Grove, where they visited Mrs. Winsor's parents. Mr. Winsor recently purchased a farm in Pierce county and contemplates moving onto it next spring.

Mrs. H. A. Moler resumed her classes in music again in the surrounding towns last week. She gives lessons at Laurel, Wakefield, Carroll and Winside, she will also commence to give lessons at Norfolk after February 1st.

R. H. Skiles Badly Hurt.

While taking a big colt out to water Monday afternoon Robert Skiles was badly injured. The animal was feeling too good for Mr. Skiles to handle and run his owner up against an obstruction breaking Mr. Skiles left collar-bone and crushing his chest. Dr. Naffziger made two calls to see him Monday, and for a time it was feared that the injured man might have suffered more serious internal mischief but he is now recovering "as well as could be expected."

"A Royal Slave" is Royal.

"A Royal Slave," as presented at the opera house Monday night was a delightful change from the usual mediocre troupes now on the road; probably the best thing Wayne people have seen in the local playhouse for years. Walter Hubbell as "the royal slave," was superb; magnificent other members of the company were equally as pleasing in their robes. Cliff Nelson, the "funnyman," was about as much of a mirth-producer as seen on the boards and captivated the risibilities. "A Royal Slave" is worth the money any old time.

Editor Goldie: Enclosed please find an order for $1.00 for your paper, as I still like to keep in touch with my Wayne acquaintances and note the progress of the town where I spent the past 26 years. It is quite a change from Nebraska to California, and as you sit by your glowing fire, after shaking the snow from your shoes, and thawing the icicles from your whiskers, you can just picture to yourself how I am enjoying myself here, working in my yard, sowing lawn grass, and cultivating flowers, minus a coat, with perspiration dropping from my face. Have not worn an overcoat this winter. Some days we do not feel the need of a fire.

People are pouring into Reedley from all quarters of the globe and both ranch land and town lots are rapidly increasing in value. The San Joaquin valley is noted for any and everything that goes to make land valuable and the fact is well advertised. I have an ideal home and excellent health, and bid fair to become a centenarian. You would better come to California, Goldie, where even editors can get fat.

Well, here is hoping the prosperity of Wayne will never wane.

Nine feet is a little long for sheets, isn't it? Gollan and the Cardiff gang are doing beyond the use of sheets—Yorlimes.

Well, you see, the Legislature figures that to enforce such a provision on the landlords, transients at the hotels will have their legs pulled considerably longer.

If there is anything that warms the cockles (hairs) of a country yokel's heart it is to have some kind-hearted subscriber, who has taken your paper a few years at a dollar per (and whom said paper has probably given ten times as much free boosting for said subscriber's business) call and say in the most patronizing terms that he has taken the paper a long time, always paid for it, intimating that if it hadn't been for his generous support the poor publisher would have landed in the poor house, etc., but now he would like to "stop it" for awhile, at least; and so on addendum, addendum. Of course it may mean nothing but it is a remarkable co-incidence that the DEMOCRAT's experience with this peculiar class has invariably been "active" prohibitionists.

One young hopeful, who lives very near the M. E. church, told his mother the other day, after he had been punished for his badness: "Mamma I wish you would do as Jesus did, when I am naughty."

Little Henry Ley attended revival meetings and upon returning home surprised his mother by saying: "Mamma, I've given myself to God!" "How did you do that Henry?" "Why, I just went up to the front, where the minister was, at the registers, and I got down on my knees, and warmed my hands."

The Sioux City Journal now runs a "Forty Years Ago" column. Of course such matter will not appeal to the gentler sex, but it touches an old, long ago with the DEMOCRAT man. It was just about forty winters ago that we landed in Sioux City.

A little more Jap scare is necessary to help out the naval appropriation bill. Many reforms would be great stuff if it were not for the yawning pockets and the hands that are reaching out after something.

Jack Johnson, the nigger pugilist, has been offered a salary of $2,500 per week to go on the stage. And still we kick on paying our president $100,000 a year.

The legislature has been having quite a tilt this week over changing the law so that the governor instead of secretary of the state shall select the county papers to publish the state announcements. The suggestion set the republican minority in an uproar. Of course this procedure will be characterized by the republican press as a "damnable chase after pie," but the history of the state shows that up to the time of Gov. Holcomb's regime this privilege had been a part of the governor's duties. Then the legislature, being republican, changed it from governor to secretary of state so that the "pie" would go to the republican press. The DEMOCRAT begs to state that in the last twenty years there have never been any "amendments to publish" when there was an opportunity for a democratic press to get into the graft. This amendment business has always looked to us like a part of the program to make the state pay republican campaign fees.

A young kid who attended the show Monday night and heard the "clever" things spoken, wanted to know after getting home if the marshal had any brains.

The weather forepart of the week—we'll get some before June rolls around that will make us forget such a wiff of orange blossoms.

Hans Schuster rides—well, it was no water wagon, as it is, Hans.

Oh, well, if Taft gets that $100,000 a year he can buy his own autos. And then he is a good horseback rider, although it is not likely he will ever be foolish enough to ride 38 miles in a day and come in covered with icicles.

Two thousand Pittsburgers were made ill last week by drinking raw water. Probably run short of water to boil it in.

No matter what the Standard Oil company has or hasn't done, it is likely to always have another trial coming.

It is hard for a fellow who has durns and a bad stomach, or the "rheumatism" to be a good christian.

Gosh, how the time does fly! It will soon be time again to tell you farmers to test your seed corn.

Things are getting so easy in Washington that even old Queen Elizabeth wants to get a piece of the money this winter.

The young Chinese emperor is attended by thirty physicians and is still alive.

Isn't it funny that whenever a democratic legislature meets it is always for the "pie," and when a republican legislature meets it is always for "reform?" Please reform the pie. We get all the reform we need in Wayne from the anti saloon league.

The ladies will conduct an exchange at J. E. Hufford's store Saturday, Jan. 30th, for the benefit of the kindergarten fund.

The legislature has passed the Oregon primary law relative to the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. The republican party has always favored the election of senators by popular vote, but for a majority of the Nebraska voters will cast their votes for W. J. Bryan—just hear them how!

Wonder why Norfolk isn't holding a race meet this week, it's raining! Of course Norfolk had to get after a state normal school. There isn't anything that savors of the "hog" that Norfolk ever misses.

Norton-Bush

On Wednesday evening, January 20th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Norton, occurred the marriage of their daughter Lella to Henry D. Bush, at 8 o'clock. The home was beautifully decorated with carnations, ferns and simliffas.

The guests were received at the door by Ruth Brooks, Gay Hunter, Zetta Hunter, Florence Vail, George Noaks and Ray Norton. Mrs. Surber presided at the organ and Mrs. A. E. Davis beautifully rendered the bridal song while the bride and groom took their place. After the ceremony the guests were ushered to the dining room where a two-course luncheon was served by the Misses Hunter, Brooks, and Hunter. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Norton and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Norton of Malvern, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cameron of Kansas City, Mo.

Following is the list of presents received: Clock, Grandpa and Grandma Donnor; lunch cloth, Mrs. Benton, table cloth, Mrs. Conover and family; bedspread, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tanders; lunch cloth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boot; pr. towels, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Norton; tablecloth, Grandpa Norton, picture, Flora Benton; lunch cloth; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. E. Robins; butter knife and sugar shell, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Donnor. Also many useful articles were received at the miscellaneous showers Friday and Saturday evenings at the homes of the bride and the groom.

College Notes

Miss Aletha Bass enjoyed a short visit from her sister over Sunday.

Prof. Bright went to Ponca Saturday where he attended and delivered an address to a Teacher's Association. He returned Sunday morning.

Mr. Ben Wilson visited classes Monday and expressed his intention of entering school with us next term. His brother Charles, of Wessington, S. D., completed our Scientific course in 1900.

Almost the entire faculty will attend the banquet of the school folks club held at Norfolk tonight. Substitute teachers will have charge of the classes and the work will continue just the same.

Last Saturday morning, students and faculty enjoyed one of the best Chapel talks of the year when Mr. Mason, of New York, who is a member of the International Committee, spoke on "The Value of Service."

Dr. Lawson, director of the Industrial Evangelistic Mission located at Pilibhit, India, told of the work and conditions in India, at Chapel exercises Wednesday morning.

An informal reception was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in honor of Miss Myra Withers Monday evening. Light refreshments were served and a pleasant hour was spent in talking of Japanese people and their customs, and of German college girls.

The basket social held in the gymnasium Saturday evening was indeed a success both financially and socially. The proceeds will help defray expenses of a library, song books and other necessities for the Catholic club room.

Mr. Bailey, Y. M. C. A. evangelist, talked to a room full of young men in the Chapel at their usual Bible study hour last Sunday morning. Every hearer went from the meeting feeling more kindly toward the Association.

Miss Withers, state secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was with us from Saturday until Thursday. She conducted Chapel exercises on Tuesday morning and gave the students some splendid advice along the line of right living.

Prof. Puffer addressed the one o'clock meeting last Saturday. His subject was "Chemistry" and some interesting demonstrations were made. Mrs. Pile will tell something of her trip to Europe, which will be of interest to everyone; this week at the Saturday one o'clock meeting.

Dan Spears, who left Wayne sixteen years ago, is here on a few days visit to his mother and sister. Dan can see considerable of a change in Wayne, but says it's not a circumstance to the growth of his Oklahoma

THE CARNAGE OF WAR

Story of a Survivor of the Battle of Gravelotte.

INTO THE JAWS OF DEATH

An Advance Under Fire From Behind Barricades That Literally Mowed Down the Charging Troops—A Hand to Hand Conflict in the Streets.

William Guldner, a survivor of the battle of Gravelotte, the most hard fought victory of the Franco-Prussian war, tells in Harper's Magazine how he saw the victory as color bearer of his regiment.

"It must have been, I think, about 4 o'clock when Colonel von Boehn rode to the head of the regiment and we all straightened quick, as on parade. And he said sharp a few words, something like, 'Men, the regiment has a good name, and you will give it a still better one.' I was in front and could hear part of what he said.

"The colonel led us to the left, and we crossed a railroad track and went through another little white village, and then we faced a slope—a long slope—with a village on it, which the French had made into a fort, and we, our regiment and others, were to capture it, and there were many Frenchmen and cannon there.

"The colonel rode on a horse, he and the majors and the adjutants. Our captains usually rode, too, but this day the captains sent their horses back and went on foot.

"And soon our first men began to fall, for we came under the fire of the chassapots. It was hard, for we could not see the enemy. These first ones were many sharpshooters in a ditch, and the noise of their firing was like that of a coffee mill—kr-r-r-r-r! They drew off as we went forward. It was only at a walk that we went—a steady walk, just as if there were no bullets there.

"And now we would run forward fifty yards and throw ourselves flat, then another fifty yards and the halt and the falling flat, and each time we could see the village that was a fortress nearer.

"And once when we were lying down and I saw that the officers were standing, just cool and quiet, it came to me that a man has to pay in such ways to be an officer.

"I saw the colonel fall. He was shot from his horse and carried back.

"The first major, he took command, and he galloped to the skirmish line, and he was shot. Then the second major, too, he was shot, and he tried to get up, but he could not stand, and he sat on a big stone and shouted: 'Go on! Go on!' And he took a gun from a dead man and fired it.

"We were ordered to fix bayonets, and that made us glad, but even yet the men carried their rifles on their shoulders as they ran. We were not near enough to charge with bayonets.

"I wish I could tell you what it was like as we got near that village of St. Privat—the noise, the smoke, the flashes, the falling men and only one desire in our hearts.

"There were three sergeants in the color section, one at each side of me. And first the one at my right was killed. Then the one at my left was shot—eight big bullets in his body from a mitrailieuse—eight! Yet he afterward got well, while many a man died from only one little bullet.

"And at last we went at a bayonet charge, and for the first time there was a cheer, a wild and savage cheer, and we ran on, eager to plunge the bayonets, and we could see as we came near the village that the French were firing from behind barricades and garden walls and from windows.

"And we looked into the wild faces of the French, and they met us hand to hand. Ah, we climbed over walls and barricades, and we fired and bayoneted, and we fought them in the streets!

"On and on we went. It was a wild time of shooting, bayoneting, wrestling, clubbing, shouting. On and on, but it was slow work and terrible, for the French fought for every step.

"I was at the front, for I had the colors. There were a few officers still left, and they were shouting and waving their swords, and other regiments stormed into the village with us, and after awhile—I can't say how long—the place was ours.

"As I tell it to you it seems perhaps a simple thing. But when the regiment was paraded before the battle began we were more than 2,900 men and more than fifty officers, and we lost in the fight forty officers and more than a thousand men. Yes, that was the loss of just my regiment alone. It was morderisch, but it was necessary.

"Well, it was over. The village was blazing, and many a dead man lay in the ruins. Some sat upright, dead, with their backs against walls."

India's Fame.

They were holding an "exam" in an east London school, and the teacher was explaining the chief products of the Indian empire. One child recited a list of comestibles. "Please, miss, India produces curries and pepper and citron and chillies and chutney and—"

"Yes, yes, and what comes after that?" "Please, miss, I don't remember." "Yes, but think. What is India so famous for?" "Please, m, India-gestation."

The greatest of all human benefits, that, at least, without which no other benefit can be truly enjoyed, is independence.—Parke Godwin.

THE WHEATFIELD.

Where the Billowing Golden Waves Stretch From Sky to Sky.

Take a look at the wheatfield that has been brought up to perfection as it stands, yellow as gold, with the sheen of the sea, billowing from sky line to sky line like an ocean of gold, where the wind touches the rippling wave crests with the tread of invisible feet. In California, in Oregon, in Washington, in Dakota, in the Canadian northwest, you may ride all day on horseback through the wheatfields without a break in the flow of yellow heavy headed grain—the flow of yellow meadow lands, no shade trees, no knobs and knolls and hills and hollows of grass or black earth through. From dawn till dark, from sunrise, in a burst of fiery splendor over the prairie horizon, to sundown, when the crimson tinge hangs like huge shield of blood in the haze of a heat twilight, you may ride with naught to break the view between you and the horizon but wheat—wheat. It is like the gold fields. It goes to your head, you grow dizzy looking at it. You rub your eyes. Is it a mirage? The billowing yellow waves seem to be breathing the very sky. You look up. The sky is there all right with the black note of a meadow lark sailing the azure sea. He drops liquid notes of sheer mellow music down on your head, does that meadow lark, and that gives you back your perspective, your sense of amazing reality. You are literally, absolutely, really, in the midst of a sea of living gold. It is you and not the lark that is the note. You begin to feel as if your special note might be a beam that would get lost in infinity if you stayed there long, and so you ride on and on, and some more on, and by and by come out of the league long, fenceless fields with an odor in your nostrils that isn't exactly like incense—it's too fugitive, too fine, too subliminal of earth. It is aromatic, a sort of attar of roses, the imprisoned fragrance of the billions upon billions of wheat flowers shut up in the glumes of the heavy headed grain there. And that's the odor of the wheat.—Agnes C. Laut in Outing Magazine.

When the Comtesse de Boigne Tried M in the Year 1806.

The Comtesse de Boigne in her memoirs gives an account of a visit she paid in 1806, which is interesting in view of the position Dieppe now holds among French watering places.

"The poverty of the inhabitants," she says, "was frightful. The Englishman, as they called him (and for them he was worse than the devil), was cruising incessantly before their empty harbor. With much difficulty a boat was able to escape from time to time and go fishing, always at the risk of being captured by the foreigner or confiscated upon the return journey if the telescopes of the watchers had seen it approach a vessel.

"As for the comforts arranged for the convenience of bathers which Dieppe has since organized, they were nonexistent at that time. My brother was able to find a little covered cart, and with great trouble and great expense, notwithstanding the universal poverty, a man was hired to lead the horses down to the sea and two women to go into the sea with me.

"These preparations raised the public surprise and curiosity to such a pitch that my first bath was watched by a crowd on the shore. My servants were asked if I had been bitten by a mad dog.

"I aroused extreme pity as I went by, and it was thought that I was being taken down to be drowned. An old gentleman called on my father to point out to him that he was assuming a great responsibility in permitting so rash an act. It can hardly be imagined that the inhabitants of a seashore could be so afraid of the sea.

"But at that time the people of Dieppe were chiefly occupied in keeping out of sight of it and in protecting themselves from the disasters which they feared the sea might bring, so that it was for them nothing more than a means of annoyance and suffering. It is curious to think that ten years later bathers were arriving in hundreds, that special arrangements were made for their convenience and that sea bathing of every kind went on without producing any astonishment in the neighborhood.

"I have thus attempted to point out that the custom of sea bathing, which is now so universal, is comparatively recent in France, for Dieppe was the first place where it began."

A CHINESE STORY.

The Way a Mandarin's Wise Wife Deceived a Baby Case.

Two women came before a mandarin in China, each of them protesting that she was the mother of a little child they had brought with them. They were so eager and so positive that the mandarin was sorely puzzled. He retired to consult with his wife, who was a wise and clever woman, whose opinion was held in great repute in the neighborhood. She requested five minutes in which to deliberate. At the end of that time she spoke, "Let the servants catch me a large fish in the river, and let it be brought here alive."

This was done. "Bring me now the infant," she said, "but leave the two women in the outer chamber." This was done too. Then the mandarin's wife caused the baby to be undressed and its clothes to be put on the fish. "Carry the creature outside now and throw it into the river in the sight of the two women." The servant obeyed her orders, flinging the fish into the water, where it rolled about and struggled, disgusted no doubt by the wrappings in which it was swaddled. Without a moment's pause one of the women threw herself into the river with a shriek. She must save her drowning child. "Without doubt she is the true mother," she declared, and the mandarin's wife commanded that she should be rescued and the child given to her. And the mandarin nodded his head and thought his wife the wisest woman in the Flowery Kingdom. Meanwhile the false woman crept away. She was found out in her imposture, and the mandarin's wife forgot all about her in the occupation of donning the little baby in the best silk she could find in her wardrobe.—Bystander.

White and Red Wines.

White and red wines owe their difference to the fact that, while the former is permitted to ferment without the grape skins, these are allowed to remain in the case of the latter. The color of the grapes makes no difference whatever to the color of the wine which they produce, for the juice of all grapes is as nearly as possible colorless. For instance, the grape which yields champagne is almost black in outward appearance.

BATHING AT DIEPPE.

Wayne Gets the Congress

Norfolk News—Wayne wins the next meeting of the Northeast Nebraska District Congress of the Tribe of Ben Hur, securing the congress yesterday afternoon over Stanton and Norfolk. The meeting will be held in May.

The Congress which held its initial meeting in Norfolk yesterday in the Odd Fellows hall, elected the following officers for the next term: George Fortner, Wayne, district chief; Mrs. Prudence Surber, Wayne, district scribe; E. M. Clement, Norfolk, past district chief; Mrs. Orris, Stanton, district judge; Mrs. May R. Nesbitt, Fullerton, district teacher; Mrs. E. A. Amerine, Norfolk, district captain; Mrs. Dora McGane, Norfolk, district guide.

The new congress was organized in Norfolk, making it necessary to select district officers at once for the first meeting, the following being chosen to preside over yesterday's session: Mrs. S. F. Dunn, Norfolk, past chief; E. M. Clement, Norfolk, chief; Mrs. M. A. Suiter, scribe; Mrs. Dora Davis, Norfolk, teacher; Mrs. Nesbitt, Fullerton, judge; E. A. Amerine, Norfolk, captain; Mrs. J. Quick, Norfolk, guide.

Following invocation by Rev. Mr. Klopp of Stanton, addresses of welcome were delivered to the visiting delegates by Mayor J. D. Sturgeon on behalf of the city and by Dr. R. C. Simmons as the chief of the local lodge. Mrs. Orris of Stanton responded.

Addresses during the afternoon were delivered by C. F. Way of Lincoln, state manager; W. H. Owen of Crawfordville, Ind., national organizer; Dr. R. C. Simmons of Norfolk, Howard Whalen of Wayne and Mrs. M. A. Suiter of Norfolk.

A committee on permanent by-laws was named as follows: Rev. Klopp Stanton; Howard Whalen, Wayne; and A. E. Emerine of Norfolk. It was decided that semi-annual meetings would be held in May and Jan. of each year. Stanton, Wayne and Norfolk were voted on as the next meeting place on the first ballot, Wayne won on the second ballot. Wayne 22, Stanton 18.

At the evening session a score of new members were initiated into the order, a total number of 29 being voted the privilege of driving in the chariott races. Another initiation will be held soon.

A banquet was served in the latter part of the evening.

That Country High School.

—From The Wayne County Teacher.

This is one of the omnipresent, and one of the most troublesome and perplexing questions that we have to deal with. About the time it is disposed of in one section of the county it "bobs" up in another. When people get so self-ish that they can not understand why other people should have rights and assert them it is high time to use a "big stick." This can be the only sound interpretation of this ninth grade proposition in the average rural school.

Why? Simply because there is no good reason for it and because there is every reason why it should not be tolerated. We have a Free High School law for the benefit of those who are ready for the ninth grade and those who are not ready should be placed where they belong. The only excuse a person can offer for not taking the county examination and preparing themselves for the rights granted under this law is because they do not feel equal to occasion, and take this means of dodging an exposition of what they really know. As we have shown before in the columns of this paper it would take just three hours of the teacher's time to teach a ninth grade, and do it in the manner that it should be done, which would mean that she should devote one-half of her time to the most favored in the school, and the other half to the work of the other eight grades. To present the subjects offered in the latter is the purpose for which the rural school is designed. A teacher in the rural school with an average of five grades, which is a low estimate, will have from 21 to 28 subjects to teach, and to reduce them to this number she must use every device offered by the best training schools, or have others arrange her program for her. The boy and girl of the country are entitled to just as good training as the most favored boy or girl in any town or city, but for reasons that are fast being pressed upon the public they do not get what they deserve, and much less than those of the graded schools. The largest per cent of the larger children can go to school only a few months during the winter, and during that time they should have the best that the rural school can offer under ordinary circumstances, but when it comes to asking that one-half of the time of that school be devoted to teaching of subjects which the law plainly says must not be taught it is the rankest injustice, and will not be tolerated in any instance to any extent whatever. What does the law say? It says: "A person who has graduated from the public schools of Nebraska does not lose his privilege of attending school by reason of his graduation. He has a right to continue the SAME STUDIES IN THE SAME SCHOOL, and will have the same privileges as the school guarantees to other pupils in the matter of text books, etc., providing that NO SEPARATE CLASSES ARE REQUIRED FOR HIS INSTRUCTION."

South American Insect That Acts as Plant Guardian.

Ant defenders of plants and trees are some of nature's pretty marvels. The Cecropia adenopus is a remarkable tree of south Brazil, widely distributed through the tropics. Its slender trunk is crowned with long leaves at the ends of the branches.

A few active ants run continually along the branches and the leaves, but if the tree is shaken slightly an army of ants rushes out by small apertures ready for a savage assault on the intruder. The ant is the terrible guardian that the tree has retained to protect it from its most formidable enemy, the leaf cutter ant.

The defenders rarely leave their retreat, where they live on small whitish egg shaped bodies about one-twelfth of an inch long, known as Mueller's corpuscles. These are formed of delicate tissue, rich in protoids and all, as rations for the garrison of defender ants to feed upon. The curious arrangement by which entrance is made to the hollow stem has been studied by W. Schimper.

Just above the point of insertion of each leaf extends nearly to the superior node a superficial groove, at whose end is a rounded depression. There the tissue is thin, like a diaphragm in a tube, and it also is soft. The hole by which the ant enters is always pierced at this spot. The ants seem to have made their entrance through the groove originally because it was at the top. In the course of this plant's further development natural selection augmented these natural apertures, so that finally the thin, frail diaphragm as it exists today was developed.—Chicago Tribune.

Married the Day They Met.

Honore Greeley and Mary Young Cheney were married the first day they met. They had corresponded for some time, a common friend who was something of a matchmaker having brought this about. She was all his fancy painted her, but she was much disappointed in his appearance, so much so that when he appeared before her, having proposed and been accepted by letter, she frankly told him that, although she married him, she was not in love with him. Their married life was long and happy, and the loss of his wife was a blow which Greeley did not long survive.

Free High School Law

The second and third weeks of school in January closed the first semester of all high schools offering high school privileges to those taking advantage of the free high school law, and according to the law the tuition is now due from the various districts taking advantage of that law. Very few high schools find this law profitable, and if they were to figure closely there would be a small loss sustained. However, we are glad to know that none in this county have refused admission to those seeking privileges under the law, but there have been cases in which they would be justified in doing so. For instance,

Since 1877 there has been only one year in which the German national debt has been increased. It has increased by $1,028,000,000 a little more than the French indebtedness. The debt has been doubled since 1895. For the last year the German government has exceeded its budget by $47,000,000, or an average of $20,000,000 a year. The national debt has increased by $1,028,000,000. The national debt has increased by $1,028,000,000. The national debt has increased by $1,028,000,000.

A great deal of money is expended every year in the replacing of pipes, castings, radiators, fittings and similar articles which are rendered wholly useless by reason of the development of a soft, spongy spot on the blowholes of such articles. It is now possible to repair such defects by means of a compound resembling in appearance powdered iron, which is packed in the defective places. It is said to be proof against the action of chemicals and heat and steam pressure, and the claim is made that it is a metal to which it is applied.

According to the government's geological experts, it is estimated that 300,000 tons of coal every year in this country, owing to improper mining methods. Through working the lower beds of the coal first, the mining of the fact is being done in an impracticable manner. Again, much coal is left as pillars to support the roof of the mine. We are using what is best and cheapest, and this is the reason why the coal is not being mined more for their coal. We leave underground almost one-half of our supply in Vancouver, British Columbia, 98 per cent is mined.

The latest figures of the old age pension scheme in Ireland show that 210,000 claims have been approved by the commissioners as against 91 per cent in England, 83 per cent in Scotland and 90 per cent in Wales. The estimate for 1920 in Ireland is $1,000,000,000. The Chicago Daily News writes that the total amount of money that will go to Ireland under the law will closely approximate $1,000,000,000 yearly.

RADICAL CONTRAST IN DEPOSIT BILLS BEFORE LAWMAKERS

Two Houses Disagree Over Features of Voluntary and Compulsory Bills. Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 22.—The senate and the house are evidently preparing for a fight to the finish on the bank guaranty proposition. The senate seems to think that the Volpp measure is about right and has ordered 1,000 copies of it printed for distribution. The house is favorably impressed with the Wilson bill and has ordered an equal number of copies of that proposed law to be given out to those who are interested in the bill. The bills differ in the most pronounced manner. The Volpp act provides for a voluntary guaranty, any state banking institution being privileged to take it or not. The Wilson bill provides for a compulsory guaranty. Those which join must pay one-fourth of 1 per cent per annum on all deposits over $100,000. The money is left on deposit with the state and the bank pays a 1 per cent interest which goes to make up the expense fund of the banking department. The governor is to be the head of the banking department. The bill also provides for strict supervision of banking.

HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR NAVAL INCREASE

Aggregate Amount Appropriated for Country's Defense Is $135,000,000

TAKE CENSUS OF DEAF AND BLIND

Washington, Jan. 26.—The House committee on the census has decided to include in the joint resolution introduced by Representative Crumpacker of Indiana, which provides for taking the census of the deaf and blind.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Exactly as reported by the committee the naval program for the fiscal year 1916 was approved by the House of Representatives and the naval appropriation bill was passed.

The opponents of the navy increase feature of the bill found themselves in a hopeless minority. The only alteration made in the measure was the striking out of the provision regarding marines to naval vessels. The bill appropriates $135,000,000.

As has been the case in the past, the increase in the naval estimate gave rise to extended and heated debate, in which members were afforded an opportunity to air their views on the Japanese question. The peace advocates were much in evidence in opposition to any increase in the navy. At times to every move made to cut down the number of vessels authorized.

Debate as to Japs.

Speaking in support of an amendment by Mr. Finley of Missouri, striking out the battleship provision, Mr. Bartholdt, of Missouri, declared that if there ever was a time when such an amendment was unwise and unnecessary it is now.

"It is unnecessary," he said, "because we are at peace with all the world and what we have to do is to wisely manage our affairs so that we are never again safeguarded before."

Mr. Tawney spoke of the Japanese situation, "I am getting somewhat tired, he said, and I am glad to see these annual recurring wars with Japan, which occur simultaneously with the consideration of the naval appropriation bill."

"During the week of the year," said Mr. Tawney, "we hear much about our peaceful relations with that or other countries, but when we come to consider the naval appropriation bill, the newspapers immediately are filled with predictions of what is going to happen."

Futures Deficit.

Touche on the finances of the government, Mr. Tawney predicted a deficit this year of $125,000,000 and next year of $143,000,000.

The reasons assigned by Mr. Tawney for the deficit in addition to the fact that in the opinion of Mr. Heppburn, are dishonorable to the people of the United States, using as the basis of his argument the fact that the only purpose of those who wanted the additional ships, that this country might excel in architecture.

Others who opposed the amendment were Messrs. Alderman, Harrison, of New York; Bates, of Pennsylvania; Hughes, of New Jersey, and Ross, of Illinois, while Mr. Finley, of Missouri, supported the bill.

The vote then being taken the amendment was lost, 80 to 160.

For Mrs. Meiser was granted a divorce from her husband, George G. Smith, upon the ground of desertion. It was while on a visit to her parents in Lyman county that Mrs. Meiser learned of her good fortune. At the time she was visiting her father, a married woman, she would be entitled to file on the land, since she had not obtained a divorce. But she asserted that she had not lived with Meiser since June, 1907, and she had given him up and that she had supported herself since the separation, and the divorce was allowed. Accordingly she filed for a divorce from her husband. Unquestionably other winners, coming after her, will raise the novel question whether the divorce was not obtained for the purpose of allowing her to claim the property.

In any event, the proposal of marriage which was stopped at the time she was married, Mrs. Meiser has decided to again report the divorce, who, as shown by her pictures, is still youthful and fair to look upon.

PRINTERS CLIQUES ARE AGAIN IN ACTIVITY

Washington, Jan. 26.—In an investigation of objections filed with the Senate against the confirmation of Samuel B. Donnelly, as public printer, members of the Senate committee have discovered what appears to be a revival of the old "Wahnetts" and "Kickapoo" cliques within the ranks of the labor union, which are trying to establish themselves. Members of the Senate committee have determined not to take cognizance of the operations of these cliques and, ignoring their activities, have decided to again report the Donnelly nomination to the Senate with the recommendation that it be confirmed.

TO CONTINUE SCHOOL AT CHAMBERLAIN FOR PRESENT

Washington, Jan. 26.—Of the seven non-reservation Indian schools, which the secretary of the interior mentions in his report, the Chamberlain Indian school, the continuation of which was at Chilcot, Okla., and the one at Cherokee, Okla., are the only ones provided for. The schools at Grand Junction and Fort Lewis, Colo., are to be discontinued after July 1, and those at Genoa, Neb., Chamberlain, S. D., and Morris, Minn., will be discontinued with the proviso that the appropriation for the purpose will cease, although the secretary of the interior deems it advisable to transfer them to the state, in which they are located, or to private enterprise.

FLOODS TIE UP ROADS IN WEST

Heavy Damage Is Being Inflicted by Thaws and Rains in Oregon

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—

With the heavy downpour and windbursts of yesterday, the rain and clouds seem to have spent its force. Heavy rain is inundated. Sacramento isolated, and practically all the train service in the north is at a standstill.

The islands at the mouth of the Sacramento river are all flooded and steamboats are busy removing the people and stock.

At Angel's Camp washed away 24 houses and drowned one Chinese.

Stockton Still Flooded.

Stockton, Cal., Jan. 25.—A large part of Stockton is inundated. Harmon and Miner channels, being falling before midnight last night, but receded slowly on account of the high water in the island region to the west. Many basements in the business part of the city are full of water, but in many cases hastily built bulkheads kept the water out. There was time to get the goods to places of safety.

Have in Oregon

Portland, Ore., Jan. 25.—As a result of the thaws and heavy rains which have been general in Washington and northern Oregon during the past week, the Northern Pacific is in trouble west of Spokane, and trains have been annulled. At Odessa, Wash., the Great Northern has a hole a mile or more in the Columbia river, has lost a bridge near the Cascades of the Columbia, and is transferring passengers over a temporary foot bridge. As it enters Spokane over the Northern Pacific, it is tied up to all intents and purposes.

The Oregon Railroad and Navigation company has abandoned its trains on the Washington division. About one hundred passengers are stranded at Spokane. The Spokane is out of rail communication with the west and south. North of Seattle, between Ballard and Edmonds, the Great Northern has a hole in the Columbia river, and it annulled its trains yesterday.

Reports from various towns in the northwest indicate that the loss occasioned by floods was heavy.

LABOR LEADERS STAND PAT; GOMPERS FIRES VOLLEY AT JUSTICE

Washington, Jan. 25.—We have not asked and will not ask for clemency, and we hope our friends will not urge us to pursue such a course. A pardon would render useless all the trials and sacrifices which our men of labor and our friends in all walks of life have endured. The right and liberty of our people might be restored. Such a pardon would only leave the whole case in confusion and it would have to be fought over again.

This is some of the language contained in a statement signed by Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison in the current number of the American Federationist. The statement is being distributed by Justice Wright in sentencing them to imprisonment for contempt of court in the Buck Stove and Range case December 19, 1907.

Samuel Gompers heads his statement. "Judge Wright's denial of free speech and free press" and declares "We will not abate a single word of our indignation."

Mr. Gompers refers to "intemperate and vindictive spirit displayed by the justice" and to "this tirade of judicial threats" and "this statement, but he joins with Messrs. Mitchell and Morrison in declaring that they "would not enter into competition with the honorable court for the investigation and prosecution of anything denunciated" and that should protest against the court's unprecedented and unwarranted flagellation of their cause and people who have the honor to represent it.

BLAME NEGRO FOR CRIB FIRE HORROR

Black Marched Into Powder Room With a Blazing Torch.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The responsibility for the crib fire horror of Wednesday was attributed to a negro workman in the testimony unofficially adduced by Acting Chief of Police Schuetter today. The man, who is now at the hospital, was said by the five survivors, whom Captain Schuetter interviewed, to have entered the powder room of the crib with a torch just before the explosion.

HOUSE REFUSES TO DECREASE WARSHIPS

Washington, Jan. 25.—The House today defeated an amendment to the naval appropriation bill which would limit the naval increase to one battleship.

Finally the amendment to the naval appropriation bill striking out the battleship provision was rejected by a vote of 80 to 160.

By a vote of 108 to 158 the House sustained the committee provision of the naval bill calling for two battleships.

PEOPLE CAN SAVE NATURAL WEALTH BY COMMON SENSE

President Makes Important Recommendations in Message to Congress

FIRST REPORT IS MADE

The Conservation Commission Presents Some Figures on the Country's Resources.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Important recommendations for the preservation of the natural resources of the United States to their rightful owners, the people, are made in a message sent to congress today by President Roosevelt.

With the message is transmitted the first report of the conservation commission, appointed as a result of the famous "conservation congress" in Washington last May. The president analyzes the history of the country's natural wealth and presents some pertinent suggestions for keeping them from the grasp of monopoly.

The Message.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I transmit herewith a report of the National Conservation Commission, which is the outgrowth of the conference of governors at May, 1909, and the subsequent joint conference held in this city between the National Conservation Commission and the conservation commission of the United States.

The report contains a statement of our available capital in material resources, which are the means of production of goods and services upon which the perpetuity, safety and welfare of this nation depend. It details the distribution of these resources, and the conditions which surround them. It also contains an imperative call to action. The situation they disclose demands that we should take prompt and effective action to conserve our natural resources, and to secure for them the greatest benefit to the people.

First of Series.

The first of the natural resources prepared by the National Conservation Commission is undoubtedly the best of the kind ever prepared. It is the result of the most intelligent and thorough study of the subject that has ever been made. It is a valuable asset to the people of this country, and it is one which should be preserved and made available to all.

The report is a valuable asset to the people of this country, and it is one which should be preserved and made available to all.

ORDINANCE NO. 168.
An Ordinance to provide a system of sewerage for the City of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska, prescribing the manner of constructing the main sewer and the manner of organizing sewer districts, the construction of district sewers and the assessment and levy of a special tax to pay for the construction thereof.
BE IT ORDAINED by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska:

Section One:—That Whereas, the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska, have ordered that a survey be made with estimates and calculations necessary for the establishment of a sewerage system for the city of Wayne, Nebraska, together with the costs of labor, material and construction of the main or principal sewer, and have employed Keys C. Gaynor as special city engineer for that purpose and such special engineer having made such survey and estimate, a report of which has been submitted to the City Council and is now filed in the office of the City Clerk, including surveys, maps, profiles and estimates which are incorporated into and made a part of the record at the City Clerk's office.

Section Two:—That the complete system of sewerage contained in the surveys, maps, plans and specifications and estimates submitted by Keys C. Gaynor, special engineer, be and the same are hereby adopted for the City of Wayne, Nebraska.

Section Three:—The main or principle sewerage that will be built by the City of Wayne, Nebraska, will begin at the junction of Nebraska and Second streets in said city and extend in a southerly direction to Logan Creek.

Section Four:—Sewer districts may be organized and laterals or district sewers may be constructed upon a petition therefor signed by the owners of at least one-half of the real estate in such district, subject to the assessment therefor as shown by the Deed Records of Wayne County, Nebraska, and presented to the City Council, which, if regular, shall be allowed, whenever a petition for any such sewer has been made to the City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska. The City Engineer or Assistant Engineer, is hereby authorized to draw plans and specifications of the said sewer and make an estimate of the cost thereof and submit them to the City Council. The City Clerk shall at once advertise for bids for the construction of said sewer in accordance with such plans and specifications, reserving the right to reject any and all bids, providing if any such bids shall be made by a responsible bidder, and is within the estimate of the City Engineer, the contract will be made to the lowest of said bidders, provided that should there be no responsible bidders, or all bids are rejected, the City Clerk shall re-advertise.

Section Five:—Special taxes may be levied by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, for the purpose of paying the cost of constructing any laterals or district sewers and drains within the City of Wayne, Nebraska, such taxes to be levied on the real estate lying and being within the sewerage districts in which such sewer or drain may be situated, to the extent of the benefits to such property, by reason of such improvements; the benefits of such property to be determined by the Council of the city of Wayne, Nebraska, sitting as a Board of Equalization, after notice by personal service, the return of which shall be under path, has been given for at least five days to all owners of real estate within said district residing within the State of Nebraska, or after notice of such sitting shall have been published for at least three consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in said city, and in case where the City Council sitting as a Board of Equalization shall find such benefits to be equal and uniform such levy maybe according to the front foot of the lots or real estate within such sewer districts, or according to such other rules as the Council sitting as a Board of Equalization may adopt for the distribution or adjustment of such cost upon the lots or real estate in such districts benefited by such improvement. The assessment for special taxes for sewers herein provided shall be made as follows: The total cost of the improvements shall be levied at one time and become delinquent as herein provided: One-fifth of the total amount shall become delinquent in fifty days after such levy; one-fifth in one year; one-fifth in two years; one-fifth in three years; one-fifth in four years, after date of such levy. Each of said installments, except the first, shall draw interest at the rate of not exceeding seven per cent per annum from the time of the aforesaid levy until the same shall become delinquent, and after the same becomes delinquent, interest at the rate of one per cent per month shall be paid thereon and such taxes shall be collected and enforced as in cases of other general taxes for the purpose of paying the cost of such sewers in such district or districts as the mayor and council shall have power and authority and may, by ordinance, cause to be issued, its warrants as other warrants are issued, to be called "District Sewer Warrants, of District No.," payable in order of their number, to be issued in such denominations as may be deemed advisable and to bear interest not exceeding seven per cent, and in such case shall also provide that said special taxes and assessments shall constitute a sinking fund for the payment of said warrants, and interest, provided that the entire cost of such sewer in any such street, avenue or alleys shall be chargeable to the private property therein and may be paid by the owner of such property within fifty days from the levy of such special tax, and thereupon said property shall be exempt from any levy or charge therefor. Such warrants shall not be sold for less than their par value and if any assessment or any part thereof shall fail, or for any reason be invalid, the Mayor and City Council may make such other and further assessment on such lots or land, as may be required to collect from the same the costs of any such sewer property chargeable thereto as herein provided, provided that no such lateral or district sewer shall be constructed unless a petition therefor signed by the owners of at least one-half of the real estate in said District subject to assessment therefor, as shown by the deed records of said Wayne County, shall be presented to the said City Council. Whenever any such special taxes are levied the City Clerk shall forthwith deliver a certified copy of such resolutions to the County Clerk, who shall place the same upon the tax list to be collected the same as other taxes.

Sec. 6:—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force, from and after its passage, approval and publication.
Passed and approved this 25th day of January, 1909.

Attest:
HENRY LEY, Mayor.

Editor Harris' "Enthusiastic Alacrity."
Editor Harris, of the Coleridge Blade, the only Nebraska publisher who has a "notch" in his shooting-stick and has the "nerve" to do anything his good judgment prompts him, thusly explains why he doesn't publish a list of his delinquent subscribers as "dead-beats" and persons "not worthy of credit."
Having a few hard customers on our own delinquent list and noticing the publication of a list of delinquents in the Randolph Reporter, the Blade editor contemplated following the Reporter editor's example, but not feeling sure that the Reporter editor had taken this procedure up with the postoffice officials, the Blade editor wrote to the Asst. Attorney General at Washington, laying the matter before him exactly as published in the Reporter, inquiring if such publication of a delinquent list were permissible. In reply we were referred to Section 498 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, and if this section covers the subject, the Blade editor passes any such publication with enthusiastic alacrity. According to this reference the publication of the names of delinquents must come under the "obscene and scurrilous" and giving anything of this nature public circulation through the mails subjects a person to a fine of $5000 or five years at hard labor, or both in discretion of the court. Fearing the court might be biased and give us both barrels, the Blade editor will just quietly permit those delinquents who see fit so to do to walk off with the due on their paper, and if they want to grin they may grin and be dogged. We will never peep in the paper who they are.

C. H. Eckman, formerly a farmer near Hoskins, writes the DEMOCRAT from Cavour, S. D., that he and family "like it fine" at his new home; that they have had good crops and prices are very satisfactory.
