Report of Sam. H. Alexander, Secretary of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development Com- pany for the Fiscal Year, End- ing December 31, 1907.

Year's Work Reviewed—Magnificent
Machinery Installed—New Valuable
Lode Claim Secured—Bright Outlook.

CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 14, 1908.

To the Stockholders of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development Company.

GREETING:—The beginning of the year 1908 found $8,301.59 in the treasury of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development Company. The year 1907 was begun with $13,729.42 on hand. January 1, 1907, found $20,289.60 on hand, and as you will have noticed from the financial statement just presented, we open the year 1908 with the sum of 23,124.06 in cash, guaranteed notes and securities on hand showing an increase over the amount on hand at the beginning of the year of $7,884.46, and yet during the latter part of the last year we have passed through one of the most stringent money panics known to the world.

Early in the year our management came to a definite decision that the machinery equipment of the property was wholly inadequate to carry on economically and efficiently the necessary development work. I was therefore absolutely necessary to have a new plant of machinery of several times the capacity and efficiency of the old plant. While the old plant had accomplished its purpose, and with it the tunnel had been driven a distance of some thousand feet, yet the requirements of the property had entirely outgrown it. At the meeting of your Board of Directors held in Chicago in January, this matter was fully discussed, and the Executive Committee was instructed to thoroughly investigate the matter of a new plant, its cost, how soon it could be secured and put in position, and the best kind of machinery for the purpose required. The committee at once proceeded to make this investigation and also secured the services of M. D. Fallis, of Denver, a competent mechanical engineer, to go up to Frisco, and thoroughly look over the ground at the mines and prepare specifications, together with his opinion as to the details of the plant. His report was made and some half dozen copies of it calling for bids on a plant as specified by him, were submitted to the various leading machinery houses in the West. The bid of the Sterns-Rogers Company at Denver was the most favorable, considering quality, time of delivery and price, and was accepted and the machinery shipped and installed during the months of April, May and June of this past year. This work was personally supervised by President F. C. Dinsmore, who looked to all details and who was assisted by Engineer M. J. McLeod, who is now in charge of the plant.

The compressor selected was a cross compound Ingersoll Sargent, especially constructed for high altitudes, with a capacity of 1096 feet of free air per minute at an elevation of 10,000 feet, capable of running eight 3 1/2-inch drills, which is the largest size usually used in tunnel work, or 15 to 20 small drills such as are used in stopping and drifting. This compressor is one of the automatic type, absolutely self-regulating, is a machine of great power, but so nicely constructed as to respond to the slightest increase or decrease in amount of work required. For instance, if an extra drill is put in operation in the mine, the machine instantly increases its speed and furnishes the required amount of air. On the other hand, if the number of drills in operation is decreased, it will slow down or stop altogether till more air is required, when it will start automatically, thus consuming less steam, saving wear and tear of machinery and accomplishing its purpose in a very efficient and economical manner. It is set on solid concrete foundation, on which it runs smoothly with scarcely a tremor. In this type of compressor, both steam and air are compounded, thus the greatest amount of efficiency is obtained from the steam and air handled to the best advantage, making it possible to compress it to a very high degree.

The type of boiler selected was a 163-horse-power Heine water tube adapted for the special requirements of the King Solomon Tunnel and Development Co. In this boiler, water instead of fire, circulates through the tubes and is turned to steam by the heat which surrounds them, thus presenting a greater heating surface and producing a larger volume of steam for the amount of coal consumed. This type of boiler is regarded as ranking absolutely in the first class and is not to be compared with the old style tubular boiler. While of much greater capacity and furnishing many times the power, very little, if any, more coal has been consumed by this new boiler than was before devoured by the old one.

In a great many plants, much of the energy derived from the burning of coal is used in heating cold water which has been injected into the boiler before it can be converted into steam. This is all saved in our present plant by the installation of a 500 horse-power Wainwright Feed Water Heater in which all water is heated before passing into the boiler. It is thus discharged into the boiler by waste steam which would otherwise be lost, heated to a point where it is almost ready to convert into steam and requires only a small amount of additional heat to finish the process. Samples of water from the Ten Mile River to be used in this boiler were subjected to boiler analysis by reliable chemists who declared it to be well adapted to the required purpose and recommended the closed form of Feed Water Heater which was installed.

Two additions were made to the power plant to house all this extra machinery and to provide for additional storage room for coal, and concrete floors were laid in both boiler and compressor rooms. An automatic self-regulating gauge shows at all hours in the twenty-four the exact amount of air pressure furnished by the compressor, making a permanent record of it which is preserved as a check upon the engineer and drill men. In this way, President Dinsmore is able to see whether or not steam has been kept up and sufficient air furnished the workings. All these various parts of the plant are compactly set and give universal satisfaction and surprise has been expressed by visiting stockholders who have examined the plant during the summer.

I would like to here quote from an article lately appearing in the Mining Investor, of Denver, written by their mining editor after making an inspection of the plant. He says: "The equipment is most unusual. It is such a plant as one might expect to see in a great mine that has been producing for years and paying handsomely upon the investment, besides giving a sufficient surplus for extensive equipment, and to an experienced mining newspaper man the King Solomon seems to be upon the highway to such a prosperous condition."

The tunnel has been advanced to over 1700 feet, the work lately being confined to development of the veins already cut. Vein 7 was cut at about 1700 feet from the portal of the tunnel, being 73 feet wide where intersected. Thirty feet of development work to the west shows an enlargement of the vein to the width of seven feet, presenting a large mass of mill ore, covered by an older stratum of high grade ore. It is a very important discovery, which is regarded as a very favorable omen, and is being followed up by the most careful attention.

erecting a tram for another Company, passing along our western side lines, discovered a vein which had probably been walked over by prospectors for many years without observing it. This vein carries a fine showing of gold and copper, lead and silver. Through the friendliness of one of these workmen, who secured samples from the lode, concealing them and its existence from others and communicating the fact of its discovery to President Dinsmore and myself, we were enabled to locate a claim on this vein and secure it for you.

By referring to Mr. Sanderson's report, you will see that this vein measures about seven feet between walls, and is very promising. It is so situated that it can be developed from our tunnel, already driven to the best advantage. We believe that development work is likely to show that it is an addition to the property worth thousands of dollars. Especially so because of its near location to our tunnel. During the latter part of the year the Company has caused considerable prospecting work to be done on the surface of the veins to the west of the tunnel line, and has opened up some of the best looking ore yet found on the property, and this work has absolutely demonstrated the existence of pay ore and ore shoots in that portion of the veins lying west of the tunnel line. We have felt sure of these ore shoots, but are glad to be able to state that they have actually been opened. The veins carrying these ore shoots have already been cut by the tunnel.

The heading in vein No. 4 has been extended some distance to the east, and when last inspected showed a great improvement and we believe that a good ore shoot will soon be disclosed. Foreman Davidson, in charge of development work, who has had a wide experience in the various mining camps of the state, says it is his opinion that this vein is going to prove very valuable.

Some time ago the management decided to sink on vein No. 2. Considerable high grade ore had been found in this vein, but heretofore the shoots did not seem continuous. The vein had not been cut at any great depth and we thought it probable that the best ore lay beneath the tunnel level. Accordingly, sinking operations were commenced. A small smelting streak on the hanging wall was at once encountered and in sinking only twelve feet, it widened to a foot of fine copper gold ore, assaying to $158.00 per ton. Further work was not continued on this vein at the time on account of its not being equipped with proper pump and hoist. Superintendent O'Flaherty, for some years associated with the Guggenheims as an expert in the selection of property, states that it is his opinion that if we will sink 100 feet on this vein, we will in it alone have as good ore bodies as those now opened in the Excelsior. Mr. O'Flaherty is now in charge of the Excelsior Mine which lies about 2000 feet diagonally from the King Solomon property, and which is owned by Millionaire Wyborg, of Cincinnati. This mine during the summer produced in one lot ten cars, each holding fifteen tons of ore, netting $35,000. It is, under this management, a steady producer of a similar ore to that found in the King Solomon.

This summer saw the greatest activity in the Frisco camp ever witnessed. Hotels have been crowded with engineers and mining men. The camp of Robinson, up the canyon on the west of the Ten-Mile Range, is giving splendid account of itself, and it is stated that the famous Robinson ore shoot has been opened by a deep shaft. The old London Mine, one of the richest mines in the state, located at the south end of the Ten-Mile Range, is a steady producer. Additional dredges are being built and other plans made to rob the sands at the foot of this range of more of their millions, and the whole outlook for the camp is better than ever before.

While the prices of lead, silver and zinc have fallen to a point making the present mining of them in many cases unprofitable, gold mining stands out more clearly than ever before, as the most substantial of all industries. We have lately experienced the almost unheard of condition of gold selling at a premium of six to seven per cent, and the will of the man who fear an over-production of gold is no longer heard. Early in the year Col. Jas. H. Myers retired from his position as General Manager, to look after his numerous interests near Montezuma. His son, Jas. H. Myers, Jr., familiarly known to visiting stockholders as "Dimp," also resigned to assist in developing properties in which he and his father were interested. The stockholders have missed the genial, accommodating "Dimp," but both father and son felt that their best interest dictated the move. Col. Myers assures us that he will still do everything in his power to assist us in putting the King Solomon Tunnel and Development Company upon a paying basis, and that we may benefit by his long years of experience in the mining camps of Colorado.

A number of stockholders and prospective investors have again visited the property during the past year, and were expressedly delighted with the property and equipment. In this connection I would like to add that without exception, every one who has visited the property and gone carefully over it, has been a satisfied and enthusiastic admirer.

has contributed to our success during the year and who has personally aided us by his hearty co-operation and to assure you of my devotion to the cause of our Company and your interests.

SAM. H. ALEXANDER, Sec'y.

IS COUNCIL SCARED?

City Dads Issue Call to Thomsen and League to Fight it Out.

At the city council meeting Monday evening, after some consideration, the city clerk was ordered to notify Peter Thomsen and the anti-saloon league to appear at the next regular meeting of the board and show cause why and why not Mr. Thomsen's saloon license should be revoked. The next regular meeting will be February 10.

A legal opinion from M. D. Tyler, of Norfolk, on the proposition was read and filed. Mr. Tyler intimated that the aldermen might put their feet in it much further by revoking the license than by leaving it alone, and at the very best that the law made it discretionary with the council to revoke the license even when a saloonman had been legally found guilty of selling to minors. In cities of the first class, he says, it is mandatory, but in towns and villages optional.

Report of the finance committee was accepted, also report of Street Commissioner Heady. The latter presented the names of 36 voters who had failed to pay poll tax, the majority of them being college students, and legal steps will be taken to collect the same.

The collection of electric light bills was discussed, it appearing that some parties refuse to pay where they believe an overcharge has been made. It was the concurrent opinion of the council that parties refusing to pay the first of each month be at once cut off from service, there being no inclination of the city to beat anyone, and that if errors were made they could later be rectified. In this respect Robert Heffl was allowed a rebate of $6.15, Ellis Girton $3.50 and A. E. Little $1.00, these errors having been made in changing from flat to meter rates.

Upon motion it was ordered that water bond No. 9 of $2,000 be paid, there being money in the treasury to make the liquidation.

Bills were allowed as follows: Van Bradford, dray..... $ 4 85
S H Ringland, freight..... 67 00

QUEEN'S JOKES ARE LOST UPON MADRID COURT

Grandeess Wish She Would Hurry and Learn Spanish So They May Laugh.

Madrid, Spain: With the presence of the young queen the Spanish court has become much brighter than it was formerly when state balls and concerts were rare. Those in constant attendance on the king and queen say that life at court is very pleasant now.

In the evening the ladies in waiting appear in low neck gowns when the royal family is in readings at the royal palace in Madrid and the grandees and their wives in full evening dress were not deemed necessary, and the young ladies of the court are delighted at being called upon to look their best in their private frocks. But the dowager duchesses and marchionesses complain of bad colds and stiff necks and require the queen's ladies to attend to the queen's treatment when the king was still in the nursery. Then they played an old fashioned if difficult Spanish game of cards called "Ombre." The queen's ladies which the game was played were far more to their liking than the much larger sums now played at bridge, which has taken its place.

King is "Stylish."

Formerly the king himself seemed to live in his military uniform; so much so indeed that people called him "The Emperor William" and that he spent on a camp bed in top boots. He has now adopted the frock coat and wears them almost as much as King Edward does.

The family dinner at court is a very brilliant affair. The young queen, instead of the queen mother, who takes a place on her son's right, looking on at the merry faces around her. The courtiers will be glad when the young queen begins to speak; her language more fluently, because it is rather uncomfortable for those who do not understand Spanish and German to have to look on while their majesties crack jokes and laugh heartily about something or someone they cannot understand.

Like most youths the king is fond of innovations. The menus were formerly written in French, but his majesty has commanded that the menus be written in Spanish, and the translations of the French dishes are very funny. Foreign diplomats are often in the dark as to the real status of the king's dinner. It is thought that this innovation is a boyish joke and that the king will soon tire of it, allowing the French dishes to be served under their original and French names. Everybody of court knows, for instance, what "paté de foie gras" means, but there is not a Spaniard, even of noble birth, who can understand what the chef calls this delicacy in Castilian.

The royal apartments also have undergone considerable change to fit in with the sun and air.

Her Boudoir.

Queen Victoria has her boudoir always full of plants and flowers, while she has gathered together by her many souvenirs from the home of her girlhood, photographs of her friends and such things. A little private staircase leads from her boudoir to the garden, and the very comfortable English nursery for the royal baby.

Formerly it was very seldom that a king or queen of this world visited a country, but the present queen, about many of sick persons and takes upon herself the duty of cheering and brightening up her subjects. She is also delighted in paying surprise calls on the ladies of her court and asking for a cup of tea. At first this somewhat embarrassing service, but now that she understands that the amiable young queen requires nothing more than a simple welcome they are delighted and anxious to oblige her from the old Spanish ideas of etiquette.

The New York Idea.

The time had come for them to part temporarily.

"Well, then, no," she said thoughtfully. "I don't believe I am superstitious at all."

"When I don't mind admitting," she chuckled, "that you will be my 13th wife."

After saying he stepped aboard the Dakota Special, as the sumptuous new Dakota express has recently been dubbed.

QUEEN'S JOKES ARE LOST UPON MADRID COURT

Grandeess Wish She Would Hurry and Learn Spanish So They May Laugh.

Madrid, Spain: With the presence of the young queen the Spanish court has become much brighter than it was formerly when state balls and concerts were rare. Those in constant attendance on the king and queen say that life at court is very pleasant now.

In the evening the ladies in waiting appear in low neck gowns when the royal family is in readings at the royal palace in Madrid and the grandees and their wives in full evening dress were not deemed necessary, and the young ladies of the court are delighted at being called upon to look their best in their private frocks. But the dowager duchesses and marchionesses complain of bad colds and stiff necks and require the queen's ladies to attend to the queen's treatment when the king was still in the nursery. Then they played an old fashioned if difficult Spanish game of cards called "Ombre." The queen's ladies which the game was played were far more to their liking than the much larger sums now played at bridge, which has taken its place.

Formerly the king himself seemed to live in his military uniform; so much so indeed that people called him "The Emperor William" and that he spent on a camp bed in top boots. He has now adopted the frock coat and wears them almost as much as King Edward does.

The family dinner at court is a very brilliant affair. The young queen, instead of the queen mother, who takes a place on her son's right, looking on at the merry faces around her. The courtiers will be glad when the young queen begins to speak; her language more fluently, because it is rather uncomfortable for those who do not understand Spanish and German to have to look on while their majesties crack jokes and laugh heartily about something or someone they cannot understand.

Like most youths the king is fond of innovations. The menus were formerly written in French, but his majesty has commanded that the menus be written in Spanish, and the translations of the French dishes are very funny. Foreign diplomats are often in the dark as to the real status of the king's dinner. It is thought that this innovation is a boyish joke and that the king will soon tire of it, allowing the French dishes to be served under their original and French names. Everybody of court knows, for instance, what "paté de foie gras" means, but there is not a Spaniard, even of noble birth, who can understand what the chef calls this delicacy in Castilian.

The royal apartments also have undergone considerable change to fit in with the sun and air.

Her Boudoir.

Queen Victoria has her boudoir always full of plants and flowers, while she has gathered together by her many souvenirs from the home of her girlhood, photographs of her friends and such things. A little private staircase leads from her boudoir to the garden, and the very comfortable English nursery for the royal baby.

Formerly it was very seldom that a king or queen of this world visited a country, but the present queen, about many of sick persons and takes upon herself the duty of cheering and brightening up her subjects. She is also delighted in paying surprise calls on the ladies of her court and asking for a cup of tea. At first this somewhat embarrassing service, but now that she understands that the amiable young queen requires nothing more than a simple welcome they are delighted and anxious to oblige her from the old Spanish ideas of etiquette.

"When I don't mind admitting," she chuckled, "that you will be my 13th wife."

After saying he stepped aboard the Dakota Special, as the sumptuous new Dakota express has recently been dubbed.

Commissioner Smith vs. The Standard Oil Co.

From the Railway World, January 3, 1908.

Mr. Herbert Knox Smith, whose zeal in the cause of economic reform has been in no wise abated by the panic which he and his kind did so much to bring on, is out with an answer to President Moffett of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. The publication of this answer, it is officially given out, was delayed several weeks, "for business reasons," because it was deemed advisable to further quiet the public mind, which was profoundly disturbed by the crisis. Now that the storm clouds have rolled by, however, the Commissioner rushes again into the fray.

Our readers remember that the chief points in the defence of the Standard Oil Company, as presented by President Moffett, were, (1) that the rate of six cents on oil from Whiting to East St. Louis has been fixed by the Standard Oil Company, as the lawful rate by employees of the Alton, (2) that the 18-cent rate on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission was a class and not a commodity rate, never being intended to apply to oil, (3) that oil was shipped in large quantities between Whiting and East St. Louis over the Chicago and Eastern Illinois at six and one-fourth cents per hundred pounds, which has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission as the lawful rate, and (4) that the 18-cent rate on oil was entirely out of proportion to lawful rates on other commodities between these points of a similar character, and of greater value, such, for example, as lard, oil, the lawful rate on which was eight cents. President Moffett also stated that thousands of tons of freight had been sent by other shippers between these points under substantially the same conditions as govern the shipments of the Standard Oil Company.

This defence of the Standard Oil Company was widely quoted and has undoubtedly exerted a powerful influence upon the public mind. Naturally the Administration, which has staked the success of its campaign against the "trusts" upon the result of its attack upon this company, endeavored to offset this influence, and hence the new defence of the "Standard Oil."

We need hardly point out that this rebuttal argument is extremely weak, although as strong, no doubt, as the circumstances would warrant. He answers the points made by President Moffett substantially as follows: (1) The Standard Oil Company had a traffic department, and should have known that the six-cent rate had not been filed, (2) no answer, (3) the Chicago and Eastern Illinois is a commodity rate, because it reads, "oil from Whiting," but from Dolton, which is described as "a village of about 1500 population, just outside of Chicago." Its only claim to note is that it has been for many years the point of origin for this and similar secret rates. The Commissioner admits in describing this rate that there was a note attached stating that the rate could also be used from Whiting.

The press has quite generally hailed this statement of the Commissioner of Corporations as a conclusive refutation of what is evidently recognized as the strongest rebuttal argument advanced by the Standard Oil Company.

In fact, it is very weak and inconclusive in the extreme. It is a mere evasion. The lines of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois do not run into Chicago. They terminate at Dolton, from which point entrance is made over the Bell Line, Whiting, where the oil freight originates, is not on the lines of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, which receives its Whiting freight from the Bell Line at Dolton. The former practice, now discontinued, of filing tariffs was to make them read from a point on the line of the billing road, and it was also general to state on the same sheet, that the tariff would apply to other points, e. g., Whiting. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois followed this practice in filing its rate from Dolton, and making a note on the sheet that it applied to Whiting. This was in 1895 when this method of filing tariffs was in common use.

Now let us see in what way the intending shipper of oil could be misled and deceived by the fact that the Chicago and Eastern Illinois had not filed a rate reading from Whiting. Commissioner Smith contends that "concealment" is the only motive for such a circuitous arrangement, i. e., that this method of filing the rate was intended to mislead intending competitors of the Standard Oil Company. Suppose such a prospective oil refiner had applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for the rate from Chicago to East St. Louis over the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, which receives its Whiting freight from the Bell Line at Dolton, and transported to East St. Louis at a rate of 6 1/4 cents. Where then is the concealment which the Commissioner of Corporations makes so much of? Any rate—from Dolton on the Eastern Illinois or Clappell on the Alton, or Harvey on the Illinois Central, or Blue Island on the Rock Island, applies throughout Chicago territory to shipments from Whiting, as to shipments from any other point in the district. So far from the Eastern Illinois filing its rate from Dolton in order to deceive the shipper, it is the Commissioner of Corporations who either betrays his gross ignorance of transportation customs in Chicago territory or relies on the public ignorance of these customs to deceive the public too apt to accept unquestioningly every statement made by a Government official as necessarily true, although, as in the present instance, a careful examination shows these statements to be false.

The final point made by President Moffett that other commodities of a character similar to oil were carried at much lower rates than 18 cents, the Commissioner of Corporations dismisses only with the remark that "the bona fides" of this rate is not in question. The question is whether this rate constituted a discrimination as against other shippers of oil, and he also makes much of the failure of President Moffett to produce before the grand jury evidence of the alleged illegal acts of which the Standard Oil official said that other large shippers in the territory had been guilty. Considering the fact that these shippers included the packers and elevator men of Chicago the action of the grand jury in calling upon President Moffett to furnish evidence of their wrongdoing may be interpreted as a demand for an elaboration of the objection; but the fact that a rate book containing these freight rates for other shippers was offered in evidence during the trial and ruled out by Judge Landis, was kept out of sight. President Moffett would not, of course, accept the invitation of the grand jury although he might have been pardoned if he had referred them to various official investigations by the Interstate Commerce Commission and other departments of the Government.

We come back, therefore, to the conclusion of the whole matter, which is that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was fined an amount equal to seven or eight times the value of its entire property, because its traffic department did not verify the statement of the Alton rate clerk, that the six-cent commodity rate on oil had been properly filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission. There is no evidence, and none was introduced at the trial, that any shipment of oil from Chicago territory had been interfered with by the eighteen-cent rate nor that the failure of the Alton to file its rate resulted in an independent shipper—we must take this on the word of the Commissioner of Corporations and of Judge Landis. Neither is it denied even by Mr. Smith that the "independent" shipper of oil, whom he pictures as being driven out of business by this discrimination of the Alton, could have shipped all the oil he desired to ship from Whiting via Dolton over the lines of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois to East St. Louis. In short, President Moffett's defense is still good, and we predict will be so declared by the higher court.

The Standard Oil Company has been charged with all manner of crimes and misdemeanors. Beginning with the famous Rice of Marietta, passing down to that apostle of popular liberties, Henry Demarest Lloyd, with his Wealth Against the Commonwealth, descending by easy stages to Miss Tarbell's offensive pen-nalities, we finally reach the netter depths of unrat and badless misrepresentation in the report of the Commissioner of Corporations. The Standard has been charged with every form of commercial piracy and with most of the crimes on the corporation calendar. After long years of strenuous attack, under the leadership of the President of the United States, the corporation is at last dragged to the bar of justice to answer for its misdoings. The whole strength of the Government is directed against it, and as last, we are told, the Standard Oil Company is to pay the penalty of its crimes, and it is finally convicted

The Norfolk News is sore because there has been no shooting affrays of late in that burg to write up.

Herman Brune went to Otos county Monday to look up the matrimonial market there. Wayne county girls appear to be a little slow, yet a wireless love message might bring him home to accept an engagement and Wayne county has the best in the market—in girls.

The Walthill Times, Republican, says: We have no objection to offer when Congressman Boyd devotes his time, all purchased and paid for by this congressional district, to the interests of a personal client. We claim he does just as well for the district when he isn't attending to its business as when he is, perhaps better.

Norfolk News: The Evans family in Norfolk contains a lot of inventive genius. Evans, sr., is inventing a printing press and Evans, jr., by way of inheritance, is inventing a hay press. Before they get through with it, the chances are they'll combine the two presses into one for the same price.

Isn't somebody use it for a scavenger wagon!

The railroads are certainly having their share of grief these days. Up at Carroll the company got such an economical streak on that they had their 21st man at the depot last Friday, and Friday evening, while Agent O'Connor was at supper, sneak thieves pried open the cash drawer and looted the place of some $45. Monday a detective and accountant were looking over the place. At Sioux City yesterday Conductor McDonald had to take the third engine before getting away, owing to fuses blowing out, etc. The train was nearly two hours late in Wayne and out of water in the engine. The tank apparatus refused to work and after considerable delay the fire hose was run down the street, one end to a hydrant and other to the engine tender. Then it was found impossible to open the hydrant and in case of a bad fire the whole city might have been impeded before the engine could get a drop of water.

ployes could jar it loose. It is reported that the train "ran into" Winslow and Hoskins before it reached Norfolk.

Frank Kruger had better rush along with that new brewery of his at Sioux City or it will never do us much good.

The daily papers did not lack for correspondents when it came to "Wayne Officials Accused." It simply was remarkable, the avidity with which great legal and religious minds took up this subject for the press of the whole country. Some people do like lots of self-advertising—when it costs them nothing but the trouble to pen it. The source of all this "hot air" was easily located. The fact of Peter Thomsen not having any license to operate the saloon at the time the alleged crimes were committed, nor the fact that he has never been tried for such offenses, cut no figure with the religious reformers who figure that the results desired justify any questionable means.

If there is any greater annoyance to the public at large than dumping ashes on Main street we'd like to know what it is. A little "prohibition" by our city council might abate the nuisance.

Constable John Soules feels that he is at a disadvantage fighting at such long range.

Julius Hulif, in Norfolk Press:

There is no disguising the fact that Norfolk married women, when they say goodbye to their husbands in the morning, do so with a full realization that it may be for the last time. One Norfolk lady secured a made up for a garment for her "worse-half." Now, when he leaves the house, her last words are: "Jorn, if there is any shooting, don't get excited—keep your shirt on!"

A young man from Hopkins was introduced to a young lady in Norfolk. The introduction was given by a gentleman who was taking two girls home from church. It was intensely dark when the three met, and the young man who was introduced had never seen either of the young ladies, one of whom he later escorted home and left without being able to tell whether she was a blonde or a brunette. The next day he said to his friend: "Those Norfolk girls, must like buttons. The one I took home last night had twenty-six down the back of her waist."

Query: How did he make the discovery?

A good many of the men in the east who were out on strike only a short time ago demanding higher wages, are now out on march shouting for work at any price or for free soup. Some of them, perhaps, when they get a good job again, will not insist upon telling the boss how he must conduct his business.

The latest statistics show that the per capita wealth of the United States is $1,310.00. I've got my share all but the first four figures.

We praise her doughnuts and her pies, Her biscuit and her cake, But where's the man that sighs for pants?

Like mother used to make? She used to take a pair of pa's, When they were worn and frayed, And decorate them with a patch Of some contrasting shade. And cut them off about the knees And take the waist in, too, And say that they for every day Were just the thing for you. And then she sent you off to school And when you didn't go, She wondered what got into boys That they played truant so. Yes, still we praise her jam, her "jell" Her coffee and her steak, But where's the man that sighs for pants?

Like mother use to make? —Stolen

Mell Schmied, a partner in the publication of the Dakota City Eagle with Altee Hart a quarter of a century ago, has recently purchased that paper. The Eagle has become somewhat of a parrot in the past few years, but maybe Editor Schmied can "get its Dutch up."

Logan Lambert must finally take his medicine for assaulting Father Sohell at Dakota City a couple of years ago, one year in the penitentiary. Like the Barker hanging the anticipation was no doubt worse than the punishment.

Omaha's chickens are coming home to roost but not on the water wagon.

The newspapers are having much more to say about the Dahlman drunk incident than of the waterway congress, and perhaps it was the more important of the two.

It is authoritatively stated that the g. o. p. management has canceled the orders for the campaign slogans of the past—"the full dinner pail" and "let well enough alone."

Stragglers from the great armies of the unemployed find their way into small cities like Wayne, where we drag them into jail, the only "soup house" we can afford.

Well, a little pleasure trip to Lincoln at public expense has its bright side to give a recalcitrant alderman. It has not nearly so serious an aspect as if they were charged with bucconing the government out of a piece of land, like Fremont Ware and others now in the penitentiary.

Norfolk Press: Goldie, of the Wayne Democrats, seems to be a little hazy in going to. Buy a calf protector and come to Norfolk, old man.

Guess you have never seen my "calves,"? Sprecher, or else your Norfolk snooters are able to split a match.

If, about a year from now, the democrats could hold another Bryan banquet at which postoffices on the half-shell, marshmallows on toast, conchiglie fried and collectibles jam-bored were on the bill of fare with other inviting delicacies, the old town of Lincoln wouldn't be big enough to hold the push," says the Norfolk Press. Well, what's wrong about that? Don't you suppose democrats ever get hungry for office as well as grub?

The papers the past week have all had accounts of the American fleet being "on its third leg." By dad, I'd like to know what that is. Take a fleet of schooners here in Wayne, and no matter how wobbly your two legs get the third one never appears to assist you homewards.

A lawsuit 123 years old has just been settled at Boston. But that isn't the only thing Boston is long on.

Poor Bertha Tiedje.

Lying in an Omaha hospital with the lower part of her body paralyzed, Bertha Tiedje, accidentally shot by her brother, has had the bullet removed from her spinal column but as a result of the terrible accident must go through what years stretch out before her a victim of paralysis.

It was a gun "not loaded" that suddenly exploded on the Tiedje farm north of Hoskins, bringing a terrible disaster to the sister of the young boy who held the rifle.

The bullet was removed by Dr. Summers, an Omaha specialist. It had entered near the neck and was lodged in the bone, having penetrated the spinal column instead of having merely lodged near the spinal cord as first thought.

The girl is still in the Omaha hospital, too weak to be brought back to her north-Nebraska home.

She may live for years, the physicians say, but the lower part of her body will be paralyzed as it was from the start.—Norfolk News.

Caught the Pants Thieves.

Yesterday, just after dinner a couple of bad lookers went into the 2 Johns store and while one was interested in trying on shoes at the rear the other, an old man, looked over the "bargains" in front. John Hufford didn't like their looks and when he saw the old scamp buttoning up his overcoat became decidedly suspicious. Both went out without making purchases, and Harry F. Shor having been called in, he acted the part of city marshal, called the old man into the store and made him unbutton, three pairs of pants worth $14 falling out from the interior. The sheriff was called and took the fellow to jail, and later the other one was taken at the depot and locked up also.

MORE BAD LOOKERS.

Last evening Marshal Miner took up a couple of suspicious characters on lower Main street and was forced to call on four or five men to take one of them to the county jail. With one man hold of each foot and one at each arm the fellow was skidded along the sidewalk the six blocks to the bastille. He was offered the privilege of walking several times, but preferred to slide to his base or on it. Once he stopped long enough in throwing unprintable adjectives at his captors to say: "boys, I think this is d-d poor sleighing." After landing in care of Sheriff Mears he started in to whip the whole crowd. His companion was quite docile. It appears these last two were part of the pants-takers. They visited the county jail in the afternoon, from the outside, and tried to get Raymond Larson, who was in the corridor, to pass in a bottle of liquor to the men in the cells. During the afternoon they spent considerable money in the saloons, and later it was reported that one of them "killed" a bolt of cloth at Ahern's, but Mr. Ahern says he does not think they stole anything at his store. The first two were taken before Judge Hunter yesterday and fined $30 and costs and having no coin are laying it out in jail.

Society Notes.

Peter Mears celebrated his 89th birthday last Sunday with a big dinner at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cross. Grandpa Mears is in good health for an old gentleman and bids fair to outlive many of the younger generation who are traveling in a faster class.

The U. D. club most fittingly celebrated "McKinley day" yesterday afternoon in their entertainment of the other club ladies of the city at the home of Mrs. E. J. Felber. The U. D.'s were all dressed in white, the house decorations being carnation pinks and palms. Little Helen Felber escorted the guests to the dressing rooms. After a social session in the parlors the dining room was thrown open and a delicious luncheon served. Miss Queenie Mellor rendered most pleasing instrumental numbers during the function, and with darkened windows, bright artificial lights, soulful music and beautiful women, it was an affair the U. D.'s are proud of.

The Royal Neighbors will give a box social February 4th, at the M. W. A. hall. Everybody invited, come and have a good time.

College Notes.

Miss Anderson, of Newman Grove, visited with her brother Arthur who is attending College this term.

New classes in grammar, reading, spelling and arithmetic were organized beginning this week, for beginners in those branches.

Mr. Elmer Lundberg gave a very pleasant Chapel talk Wednesday morning. All who were present enjoyed the talk very much.

Miss Mary Denney of Pilger was a pleasant caller on the Hill Sunday. Her brothers James and Earl are with us again this winter.

Fred Pile spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Omaha and Lincoln. His mother accompanied him to Omaha, returning Monday evening.

The Y. M. C. A. state convention will be held in Norfolk February 13, 14. Our association will send ten delegates to this convention this year.

The usual mid-term examination were held Friday and Saturday of last week. Teachers and students well pleased with results of the examinations.

Rev. J. A. Spyer, of Fremont, delivered a great lecture in the college chapel Tuesday night. The subject "The American College and the Twentieth Century" was not one to make students laugh but to make them think. The entire lecture was most thoughtful and logical. Everyone present was immensely pleased with the lecture. His chapel talk on Wednesday morning was full of good things.

Miss Daisy Gamble went to Omaha yesterday on a visit to her sisters.

Art Gustafson has returned from Iowa.

Chas. Greenberg was married at St. Louis last Sunday to a wealthy and prominent young lady.

Judge Graves is hearing evidence in the fair grounds case today. Atty. Wm. V. Allen of Madison and Jas. Britton representing the stockholders who claim ownership, and Judge Evans of Ponce and County Atty. Wilbur for the county contention that the property has passed into the control of the county. It is improbable that a verdict will be arrived at today.

The Musical Treat of the Season.

Edwin Patterson's musical, "Wizard of Wall Street" with its bevy of pretty girls and a cast that is above the average is booked at the opera house February 1st. Prominent in the cast is dainty Phyllis Daye who will sing and dance herself into the hearts of all. Little Miss Daye is being spoken of by the press as one of the cleverest little girls on the stage. Mr. Frank T. Kelly has the title role of the foxy Wizard of Wall Street, and has shown remarkable ability in his work. Other members worthy of mention are Louise Ashwood, Ben Krampe, comedians, Clo Lunplurs, Fred Waiters, Ruth Clayton and Patterson's ideal beauty chorus. There are fifteen musical numbers which are elaborately staged as to wardrobe and effects. This attraction comes to us under a guarantee of satisfaction and we heartily recommend it to our theatre goers.

WILL QUIT FARMING.

February 20, 1908. Carl C. Thomsen, living 1 mile south and 1/2 miles west of old Laporte will have his big auction. Seven good horses, 50 head of cattle, 64 head of hogs and an immense lot of good farming machinery go in the sale, to clean up the place. Remember the date, February 20th. At luncheon 11 a. m., sale commences at noon.

-PARKER SMITH, Pastor.

Barley ground into flour, made into a batter and mixed with yeast makes bread, a solid food. Barley, malted, slightly crushed, then boiled with water and hops and mixed with yeast makes beer, a liquid food; the former process makes solid bread, the latter process, using the same identical ingredients, makes liquid bread. Storz Blue Ribbon Beer is liquid bread in its most delicious form, its purity and food value is beyond question.

B. F. Feather yesterday received a letter from his son-in-law, W. E. Howard, stating they were all well. Mr. Howard said Geo. W. Riley had sold out in northern Idaho and bought 80 acres near Twin Falls, in the North Side Irrigation district. A. G. Howard spent some time with Mr. Riley and was more than astonished to find that G. W. had cut out the swearing, that being the old hessman's long suit when he lived in Wayne.

In sending a check for his subscription Geo. Shaw, Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "Brother Main may take pity on me and advance that much, as I have nothing on there until that time. I am feeling fine on three meals per day. It is raining today and is bad on the strikers. It is a strike for the soup house, two cents for a bowl of soup and half loaf of bread, for those that have the two cents. Those that have not get it soup-free. Such is life in the world."

We desire to announce to our farmer friends that we are in position to get your repairs for any and all kinds of farm machinery (unless the manufacturer has already an agent here) for said particular machine for which you need the repairs. It is advisable for every farmer to look over his old machinery before spring opens up, to find out just what parts he needs, and we can order these repairs and get them here in plenty of time, so there will be no delay when you need your implements. Always be sure and give us the number of broken parts and the name of the machine or by whom made. If your machine is too good to throw away, get it repaired, if not come to us and buy an up-to-date implement. Respectfully,

A Great Hog Sale.

Will Lessman's Duroc Jersey hog sale last Friday is one of the best on record anywhere in the middle states. Last week Henry Bros., of LeMars, Io., held their 29th annual sale of pure bred, an average price of $32, which was considered a record breaker. Mr. Lessman's sale of 833 females averaged $44.50 per head. The sale was advertised by the DEMOCRAT, priced by E. Cunningham and clerked by Cashier R. W. Ley of the State Bank, and of course it had to be a grand thing. Following is a list of buyers and prices:

Councilmen C. M. Craven, F. L. Neely and C. A. Chace last Monday received a communication from Governor Sheldon's private secretary stating that Elmer E. Thomas had filed his complaint against them for not nullifying P. Tomson's saloon with the chief executive and that the matter would be given a hearing Feb. 8th which they might attend. It is probable that the aldermen will at least have some truth-telling representative there to see that the governor gets the facts in the case, if they do not personally attend the affair.

If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by J. P. LEAHY.
Attorney H. F. You Can Easily Operate This Typewriter Yourself

Don't worry your correspondent. Don't write him anything by hand that takes him time to make out—that may leave him in doubt—that he can't easily read.

And don't fill out legal papers or card memos—or make out accounts or hotel menus in your own hand writing.

It looks bad, reflects on your standing, makes people think you can't afford a stenographer, and is sometimes ambiguous.

You can write out your letters—make out an abstract—fill in an insurance policy—enter your card memos—make out your accounts or a hotel menu—do any kind of writing you need, on any kind, size or thickness of paper, space any way you want on

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Writer

You can write any of these things yourself if you do not happen to have a stenographer.

For you can easily learn, with a little practice, to write just as rapidly, and as perfectly, as an expert on the OLIVER. Because the OLIVER is the simplified typewriter.

And you can see every word you write. About 80 per cent. more durable than any other typewriter, because it has about 80 per cent. less wearing points than most other typewriters.

So per cent. easier to write with than these other complicated, intricate machines that require "humoring"—technical knowledge—long practice and special skill to operate.

Then machines which cannot be adjusted to any special space—with which it is impossible to write abstracts, insurance policies or odd-size documents, except you buy expensive special attachments requiring experts to operate.

You can adjust the OLIVER to any reasonable space—you can write on any reasonable size and thickness of paper, right out to the very edge, without the aid of any expensive attachment or special skill, and your work will be neat appearing, legible and clear.

Nebraska Echoes.

Old Santa Claus arrived all right. He surely is a brick. I often wonder what we'd do, if some year, he'd get sick.

The farmers are trying to figure out some profit in feeding 45¢ corn to $3.75 hogs.

Congressman Boyd has declared for Taft. The republicans of this corner of the state are about equally divided between Taft and LaFollette.

An Albion doctor tells the virtue of his dope in display ads. He never wants to display for membership in the Dixon county medical association.

The republicans of north Nebraska will line up solidly for Superintendent Teed, of Dixon county, if he becomes a candidate for state superintendent.

The question naturally arises, would those Wayne county schoolma'ams risk the cancellation of their certificates to attend dances if courthouses were taught in the public schools?

The Taft press bureau always addresses us fellows out here as "Hon." This is a reminder of what the late Congressman Green once said that he "was a d—n sight more of a curiosity in Washington than he was in Nebraska."

Cards are out announcing the arrival of a young Prof. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Claus. He has been named Chester LeRoy—Butte Gazette.

Another grand opportunity missed to have a real genuine Santa Claus.

You never can tell. Humorist Julius Hult, of Norfolk, who "makes" such beautiful poetry about babies, is a bachelor. If he ever gets married he may think and say differently.

St Tomkins, of Tarbox Hollow, writes: "Awl of us is hogs part of the time, sum of us is hogs awl the time, but all of us is hogs Christmas time when it comes to eatin'."

This is the season of the year when the smoker is greatly repugnant to all who have not lost their sense of smell. Yet the poor slave can't help it. Custom says accept them and smoke them.

Judging from the tone of an editorial that appeared recently in the Omaha Bee, it is surmised that that paper will again bolt Railroad Commissioner Williams, of Pierce, if he is renominated.

The paragraphs have been running in some pretty good parts at the expense of Dr. Fix, of Gering. However, the best joke about it is that Dr. Fix is a woman.

The Verdigre Citizen, edited by the famous John Barrett, hammers banks and bankers every week with a vim. No bank ever fails and no banker ever goes crooked in the United States but that a full account of it is published in the Citizen.

Because you are warring on the banks, John Barrett; Many class you with the cranks, John Barrett;

And really now it's up to you, To prove your fight is good and true, Say what the — you're trying to do John Barrett.

A Chicago young woman, visiting in Fremont, went to the poultry show. A approaching a beautiful flock of hens, she inquired what kind they were, and was informed that they were Brown Leghorns. "Well I might have known that," she said. "I had noticed the horns on their legs."

Alstory of not only touching human interest but one in which man's love of money and woman's whims and uncertainty of mind are forcibly illustrated, is told by the Sleepy Hill correspondent of the Winside Tribune.

Read it and ponder: "A certain party of Chapin precinct was offered a nickel by a lady if he would shave his mustache off. Because it was hard times, he thought he would accept the offer, so off went the mustache. He looked so ugly that the lady offered him the nickel to replace it. "Too late now," replied the man."

Emerson, Neb.—Dear Sir: I don't read much; but I read your type. I hear you can answer all questions. Please answer this question and gratify my obligation. Do the girls do all the asking in leap year? I bet you are near 21 than 31. Yours truly, J.

There is a sort of mutual understanding, Jay, that the boys let the girls have a show every four years. If not how would some fellows ever get married? However, to verify this statements, write Lydia A. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It's wicked to bet unless you can win.

The managers of the Chandler presidential boom have been feeling many Nebraska democrats in the hope of finding some antagonism to Bryan in his home state. On every hand they have met with disappointment and failure.

Here Sturveysant stands no show, There's no use of his tryin'. By circulating among the democrats, One hears but one name—Bryan. They're faced about, are not afraid, Are for the battle sightin'.

Confident that they'll win next time With William Jennings Bryan.

Because her husband wouldn't go home, a Norfolk woman shot him in the leg. Many wife is anxiously waiting to see whether it has the desired effect or not.

A friend wired Dr. J. R. Beatty, of Butte, that he had expressed him a fine blooded bird dog. When it arrived the doctor wasn't on hand to get it, so a bunch of jokers took the blooded animal out of the crate and substituted the most ordinary looking one they could find in town. No words can describe the scene when the doctor looked at his present.

The numerous anti horse thief associations are joining forces and organizing into one body. In this way they are confident of getting better results—and a horse thief—Clyde T. Ecker, in Sioux City Tribune.

More Froth At The Mouth.

Chancellor Andrews has been having them again. So active he is in making good for the place which he holds as agent for Rockefeller and other criminal rich, that he never loses an opportunity to attract attention, and sometimes he attracts attention by means disgraceful to a private citizen, and more than disgraceful to the chancellor of a great university.

He went out to Spokane, Washington last week, and had himself interviewed on the political situation, and in that interview he assumed an attitude repugnant to fair reason and horse sense. He declared that the election of Mr. Bryan as president would "block the cause of reform." He argued that a republican congress would be opposed to any reforms which Bryan might urge, and, therefore, there could be no reform. That's pretty severe on the republican members of congress. It is a direct charge that the republican congressmen are opposed at heart to the very reforms which they are now advocating, because it is certain that Mr. Bryan pleaded for those reforms long before President Roosevelt took them up.

Further in his interview Chancellor Andrews gave a tip to the betting fraternity as to where the Rockefeller strength will be placed in the next republican national convention. He declared he was not a betting man, but said it was easy money that Governor Hughes and President Roosevelt were the only republicans that could defeat Bryan. This is equivalent to saying that the Standard Oil money will be behind Hughes in the next campaign, and that if it cannot get Hughes it will take Roosevelt.

Even if he does disgrace Nebraska by his fawning at the feet of the Rockefellers, still Chancellor Andrews is entitled to the thanks of the country for this latest explosion of his mouth, because it has taught the country to regard Hughes as the choice of the criminal rich for president.—Columbus Telegram.

Once I believed that the meanest man in Nebraska was that Schuyler doctor who refused to minister to a sick child whose father was a dead beat. I am about to change my belief. I am about ready to make that award of dishonor to an Omaha newspaper man. I mean the telegraph editor of that Omaha newspaper which announced that Mr. Olson, the father of that little girl who was lost at Rosalie, had been arrested charged with the murder of his child. All Nebraska has been interested in the remarkable disappearance of that little girl. Thousands of strong men have hunted the fields and prairies near the Olson home for traces of the child, and thousands of mothers have prayed for the safe return of the little one to its home. At a time when hope deferred had made sick the hearts of the parents—at a time when the good heart of humanity in all Nebraska was casting a wealth of sympathy at the feet of the agonized father, then it was that the sensational Omaha newspaper printed a fake report that Mr. Olson had been arrested on charge of murdering his child. God and men know that a doctor is a mean one when he refuses to give medical attention to a sick child whose parents are on the dead beat list, but he is not as mean as the newspaper man who will thus abuse the liberty of the press. The child of the dead beat may die because of the neglect of the doctor, but in death all its sufferings will end. Not so with that person who has been stabbed in the back by a newspaper man who has lost his honor in the mad chase for sensational doings. The danger may be withdrawn by a later apology, but the wound will never heal, and through all the years there will be a memory-pain at the heart of him whose life was blasted and blurred by a journalistic monstrosity.—Columbus Telegram.

Leghorns For Sale.

Single Comb, Brown Leghorn roosters for sale. MAGNUS PAULSON.

If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by J. P. LEAHY.

It is very important and in fact it is absolutely necessary to health that we give relief to the stomach promptly at the first signs of trouble—which are belching of gas, nausea, sour stomach, headache, irritability and nervousness. These are warnings that the stomach has been mistreated; it is doing too much work and it is demanding help from you. Take something once in a while: especially after meals; something like KODOL for Dyspepsia and Indigestion. It will enable your stomach to do its work properly. Sold by J. P. LEAHY.
