Lincoln, Neb., August 6.—(Special Correspondence)—Lincoln has for the past week been enjoying something of a calm before the political storm—the aforesaid storm being due to break on August 12. On that date William J. Bryan will be officially notified of his nomination, and the occasion will be seized upon to open the campaign with a grand whoop. Representative Clayton of Alabama, who presided over the Denver convention, will deliver the speech of notification. In the meanwhile the democrats of Lincoln and Nebraska are planning to make the occasion the biggest democratic rally ever held in the west.

Mr. Bryan returned from Chicago last Tuesday, having spent the Saturday before in conference with the subcommittee of the national committee. On his way back he stopped over in Omaha. On Monday afternoon he raised a flag at the Creighton school, which was founded by John A. Creighton, Omaha's foremost philanthropist. Mr. Creighton at one time and another gave upwards of $2,500,000 to educational and charitable institutions in Omaha. He endowed Creighton Medical College, founded St. Joseph's hospital, endowed Sacred Heart convent and provided the funds that made Creighton College one of the greatest schools in the west. During his lifetime Mr. Creighton was one of Mr. Bryan's warmest friends and admirers. A millionaire banker, he fought for Mr. Bryan in 1896 and was a delegate-at-large from Nebraska to the Kansas City convention. It was natural that Mr. Bryan should seize an opportunity to show his regard for his dead friend, and to eulogize him on the occasion of the flag raising. On the same day Mr. Bryan was the guest at a dinner given by prominent Omaha men at the Omaha club. This was nonpartisan. In the evening he was initiated into the Ak-Sar-Ben society, which is made up of Omaha business men with the intent of pushing Omaha and Nebraska.

Mr. Bryan's address before the nights of Ak-Sar-Ben (spell that hyphenated word backwards and you will see the point) was bubbling over with humor. The presiding officer perpetrated a joke by pretending to be introducing Mr. Bryan and suddenly pronouncing the name of William—H. Taft. Then one of Omaha's big lawyers—big physically and mentally—was rushed to the platform, and impersonating Mr. Taft made a speech full of happy-hits at the guest of the evening. The pseudo Mr. Taft read several letters pledging him support. When Mr. Bryan got started on his speech he pulled several letters from his pocket and said:

"I, too, have received some letters pledging support." Then he pretended to read one from the Afro-American Anti-Taft League pledging him support on the ground that he had paid more tips to Pullman porters than any other man in America. Another was alleged to be from a Cincinnati labor organization pledging support, "not because we know you, but because we do know Taft."

"I have read the advance sheets of the speech you are to deliver tomorrow," said Mr. Bryan, "and I am compelled to say that the speech you delivered tonight and which was not censored at Oyster Bay, is superior to the one you will deliver tomorrow after it was censored at Oyster Bay."

Then Mr. Bryan paid a tribute to Nebraska that brought the 2,000 knights upstanding. It was a magnificent demonstration and the occasion was accounted a huge success.

The selection of Dr. P. L. Hall of Lincoln to be vice chairman of the national committee is wonderfully pleasing to western democrats. He is a leader who leads and a democrat who fights for his democracy. As a business man he has been successful, and no man stands higher as a citizen. He is president of the Central National Bank of Lincoln, and has been engaged in the banking business for twenty years. Before that he practiced medicine in Saunders county, Neb. A democratic friend once told this story on him.

"Dr. Hall, like many other physicians, does not take much stock in drugs. In the old days when he practiced in Saunders county he was just as good a democrat as he is now. Then, when a republican came to him for medicine help Mr. Hall would give him calomel and quinine and tell him to swallow them until he got results. But when a democrat came for medical help Dr. Hall would give him a copy of 'The Life of Jefferson' and tell him to read it and be cured of every ill."

In one of these letters it was stated that Mr. Bryan is the second wealthiest man in Lancaster county. What was meant was that according to the personal assessment rolls he was the second wealthiest. There are a number of men in Lancaster who are wealthier than Mr. Bryan, but their wealth is in corporations, mortgages, etc. And not every taxpayer makes as full return as Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan will make at least one speech in Kansas during the campaign. It is reasonable to suppose that guarantee of deposits will be duly emphasized in that particular speech. It will be delivered at Topeka some time in September.

It has been decided that the notification of Mr. Bryan will take on a non-partisan appearance. The proposed parade of marching clubs has been abandoned. Governor Sheldon and the other state officials, all republicans, will take part in the exercises Senator LaFollette, who will speak at the Epworth assembly in Lincoln on August 12, has been invited to participate. At 10:30 in the morning the Nebraska State band will give a concert at the state house grounds. At noon Mr. Bryan will entertain the members of the notification committee at lunch at the Lincoln hotel. At 1:30 Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern will be escorted to the state house. The Nebraska State band, a platoon of police and a committee of citizens will act as escorts. The notification ceremonies will begin at 2 o'clock. At 4 o'clock Mr. Bryan will hold an informal reception on the capitol grounds. At 6:30 Mr. Bryan will entertain at dinner on the Fairview lawn the members of the committee and Mr. Kern.

For notification purposes at least, Lincoln will be a "Bryan town" on August 12. Everybody, regardless of political affiliations, will assist in making the occasion a success. It is really remarkable, this change to public sentiment towards Mr. Bryan in the capital city of Nebraska. Twelve years ago he was bitterly reviled, and almost daily insulted. The morning republican organ was so bitter that it resorted to language that forced Mr. Bryan to take measures to prevent his family from seeing it. His nearest neighbors flaunted pictures of his opponent in his face, and his mail was deluged with stuff that would have subjected the senders to heavy penalty had Mr. Bryan complained to the postal authorities. It is different now. The morning republican organ is treating him fairly, and the evening republican paper, the Star, is making many friends by its kindly references to the democratic candidate, although it is a strong Taft supporter. Bryan pictures are seen in windows on every hand.

The desperate effort of the youthful managers of the republican campaign in Nebraska to make it appear that some "Bryanite" cut down the Taft banner hung across O street excites only derision in this section of the country. The banner was hung the week that thousands of democrats were stopping off in Lincoln on their way to Denver. One night it came down, and the wire cable crossing a trolley wire burned the banner a little bit on one corner. Now "the committee is sending out postal cards showing the disfigured banner and seeking to make campaign capital out of it. Democrats here are not objecting to the presence of the banner—it is simply adding to the Bryan sentiment here. This is a strong union town, and the Taft banner was not made by union men. There is a well defined suspicion that the republican managers endeavored to quietly take it down one night for the purpose of having a union label put on it, and that during the effort it fell and was injured. Whatever the cause, the effort of the gentlemen who are managing the g. o. p. campaign to make capital out of the affair is exciting only ridicule.

Mr. Bryan is a total abstainer, and while not pretending to dictate to others he has a few rules in this regard which are respected. At banquets his glass is always turned down. Never a drop of wine or liquor is served at Fairview. Now people are speculating on what will happen at the White House dinners when Mr. Bryan occupies that historic mansion. Only Mr. and Mrs. Bryan can answer that question, but the writer opines that the situation will be the same as it was during the Hayes administration, when Senator William Everts got off his famous "mot." Returning from a dinner at the mansion he was asked about the wine question. "O, water flowed like champagne," said the witty New Yorker.

CURED HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLD.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Raymond's Drug Store.

Randolph Times: The editor attended the Wayne Chautauqua Friday and found that fairly good crowds were in attendance though not as large as last year. A number of disappointments had to be contended with the first two days. We heard Judge Norris, a judge in the Philippines, speak about the people there. He declares that the U. S. should hold the islands until the people are capable of self-government and then do as we have done in Cuba.

We met Will Hansen and he has a fine market and is doing good business; we also run onto George Warner after Chautauqua was over. George was waiting to give some country people a bill of goods and the next morning told us he waited till midnight, for the lady lost her pocket book on the grounds and was hunting it. Andy Blazer heard the story and gave it as his opinion that George had the purse. But it was found.

Prof. Wilson, a brother of M. L. Wilson northwest of town, is one of the Chautauqua managers, and is a most pleasant gentleman to meet.

SOME THINGS TO CONSIDER:—Oak frame, not pine. Diagonal wrought iron truss and stay rods. Oak Pole, not pine. Hickory single and double trees. Double Oak Bolster. Wide front axle. 16-inch malleable iron 5th wheel—not a little cast iron one. Big, heavy wheels.

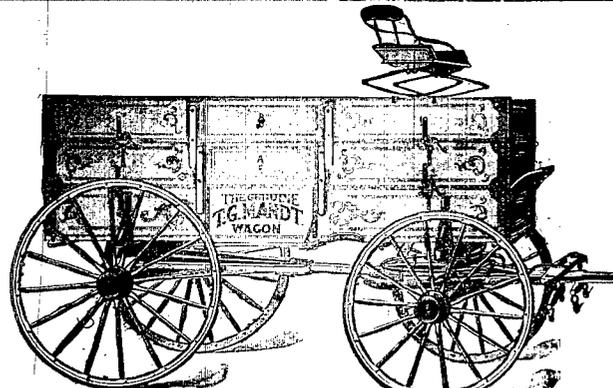

Don't let anyone make you believe that a spreader with a pine frame is as good as one with an oak frame. You know oak is better than pine. You know it costs more! You know it will last longer. You know it is stronger. You know it won't rot out so quickly.

A device within moderate cost limits, that will save you perhaps twenty minutes of time for every load of small grain and ear corn that you store away, and this will entirely do away with shoveling this grain into bin or crib. WAYNE

NEBRASKA

BY DAD

Billy Sunday, the evangelist, was at Storm Lake the other day. Meeting a small boy on the street he asked him the location of the postoffice. The little fellow said, he would show him and walked along. On the way the boy squirted out a large gob of tobacco juice.

"What's that you've got in your mouth?" inquired Billy.

"Tobacco," said the lad.

"You spit that right out of your mouth," ordered Billy. "I suppose, my boy, you don't know who I am. I'm Rev. William Sunday, the great evangelist. I'm going to speak here this afternoon and I want you to come and get right down in one of the front seats and I'll show you the way to heaven."

"Huh," said the lad, "you go to h—; you don't even know the way to the postoffice."

These are the days when there's nothing to do.

But sit around and think;

And the people who haven't got brains to do that.

Can simply sweat and wink.

Mr. Taft is credited with expressing regret that he ever left the bench. Shouldn't wonder if he felt that way. When on the bench he didn't have to run and ask permission of Teddy every time he wanted to change his socks.

"The report that I have said that I would or would not deliver the labor vote to any political party is an infamous lie," says Samuel Compers. Don't get excited about it, Sam. No person possessed of a little bit of sense ever thought for a moment that you said it. We look for but a grain of truth in every column of political slush.

It's pretty hard to get people out to church these hot days, any way, but if aside from this you have a grouch for the pastor of your particular or peculiar faith, and are "putting him out of business" by going to church where there are a whole lot of sinners attending, then you can appreciate the feelings of a certain Wayne man when he discovered that the preacher had swapped pulpits for the occasion and he was forced to take it. Exchange of pulpits ought to be very agreeable to the poor pastors. It must be simply—was going to say what the preacher threatened us with to have to save the same little bunch of hypocrites over and over again, week after week and year after year.

Heard finds a good many things wrong with the democratic party, but evidently the worst fault he found with it was a disinclination to elect him to anything.

The way the corn is growing there won't be any race between it and Jack Frost. What else is there we can worry about.

There is one platform not very much read and not altogether yellow, because most of it was stolen from the democrats. It is Hearst's.

An exchange complains that the fellow who can't buy his own liquor is usually the first fellow on the streets in the morning. Of course. That's the best time to catch the fellow who has money and also a fellow feeling.

On Saturday four more Kentucky negroes were hung by a mob. If they keep at it we won't have to worry about the negro vote.

That's a nice little job of printing Uncle Sam is getting out in Washington—$500,000,000 in emergency notes. That would look nice to some of us with the last three ciphers off.

The tired farmer in August cuts down more hay and lets it must. He works as long as he can stand to get more money to buy more land, then goes to bed all wet with sweat and dreams that he is out of debt. His good wife then begins to plan how much more land and s/he s/he'll can or schemes a while ere she lies down to make her husband move to town. The boys this month will not fall in with skating where the ice is thin and we'll not worry, fume and fret at Christmas presents not bought yet, nor will we be alarmed about the furnace fire going out. The farmers will not kill their meat, we'll have no chillblains on our feet, nor will we raise a doleful din because our clothing is too thin.

There are a good many people in Wayne who should be presented with a scythe. They might take the hint and mow the unsightly weeds along their sidewalks and about their yards.

And now, after all the bluster over Bryan's talking machine speeches, it is announced that Candidate Taft will also "talk into the phonograph." Why not have Sherman, Hitchcock do so, and advise the dear people as to their stand on "Roosevelt policies."

The anti-saloon people have a hard time getting rid of their surplus energy these quiet times that they must behave. By dad, I saw Neighbor Gamble out mowing his lawn at daylight this morning. Don't know whether the old gentleman had been home or not; somehow we never run onto each other when out calling.

Sombody stole Ralph Rundell's crank last night. No, it wasn't his political one.

In 1900 certain republicans, becoming enthusiastic over the brand of republican prosperity they were giving the country, would call your attention to the magnificent crops as an evidence of how thick Mark Hanna was spreading it on. That the good jollies are not all dead yet is noted by the statement of one postoffice editor that if Taft be elected the population of the country will at once jump to one hundred millions. In the back-east districts they are also working an old gag to Taft—or taint—the laboring man's vote; these pure-white corporations that never use coercion in an election; they have resurrected old signs that did effect a campaign work in '96 and '99, which read: "This Factory Will Immediately Resume Activity to Its Full Capacity Upon the Election of Taft and Sherman." Being a LaFollette republican it is a badge of honor and respectability, but, by dad Dennis, claiming party kin with these nut-meg political cable-knives of the "panic stricken east," patseth all understanding.

The other day we watched a fellow—he wasn't much of a man—work in the hot sun for half a day rigging a wire to a building and planting a post in the street, hardest kind of toil he was then compelled to take it all down and place it on a telephone pole. He paid out $1.50 for bills, advertising his stunt, being in town nearly a week on the job. If he topped out for five dollars from the suckers who grafted he got more than appeared as indicated, and what a cheap scam it was—a fellow shining down a man's teeth, while a strap round his waist held his weight. All of which goes to show that getting money without honest toil for it is always a hard and uncertain proposition. Then it does "come easy" it costs much harder, and you go with it. The most disastrous proposition in Wayne today is her idle boys and girls, who are scheming on how to make an easy living without working for it. No, they won't even be of much use round the saloons.

A letter from the plate house, one of the biggest trust concerns of the country—announces that the Democrat can have all the republican campaign plate it wants, free, and express paid. The matter of who pays for the plate will be made public after election—perhaps.

Jno. Shannon came down from Carroll this afternoon and stated that John Ahern was still unconscious and little hope that he could recover. Mr. Ahern was kicked by a horse yesterday morning, the animal hitting him on the jaw, and Dr. Naffziger who was called, thinks the blow fractured the unfortunate man's skull. The horse's other foot dislocated the man's right arm. Mr. Ahern has never regained consciousness and further particulars are unavailable as only a six year old boy was present when the accident occurred.

Clara Haas Dies.

One of the saddest of death's doing occurred last Monday forenoon when a bright little girl of only thirteen years passed away from earth. Clara Haas came from Council Bluffs. It was her sister, Mrs. A. A. Wollert. She was taken suddenly ill Tuesday of last week and Thursday an operation for appendicitis was deemed imperative.

In the evening of the 30th she died. Leisenring, and Jones of Council Bluffs performed it, finding the patient in bad condition although she had been in the hospital it was soon reported that her condition was not improved and death occurred after a brief illness.

Weeks illness. The remains were taken to Council Bluffs, Iowa, by way of Norfolk, so as to give Clara a ferris, and the funeral was held at the home she had so recently left. Her apparent health, on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Three sisters and three brothers mourn the early death of the youngest in the family. Both parents died some years ago.

A special train to Norfolk Tuesday afternoon carried three coaches full of passengers to hear LaFollette's addresses were highly elated on the progressive senator's speech and it may have been therefore a disappointment to the Taft supporters. Wayne papers also state that a slim attention was given to the very first address, especially of Norfolk people.

D. A. Jones is in Sioux City today. He is having a hot time of it on the expulsion of it school superintendent, DeBolt, by State Supt. McBride and county Supt. Littell.

Early Sunday morning it was very evident that John Kaulen was planning something big, as he had parted his hair in the middle and had other, who made himself look neat. He drove to Norfolk and from there took the train to an unknown destination.

However it would be safe to say that this watch was an hour behind when he arrived as he always has a longing for "ye Old Longpine." John reports a good time.

The party of Wayne automobilists with Wm. McCabe at the helm met with all kinds of grief during their trip to Norfolk. The next morning they all took the train for home, leaving poor "Barney" and the auto behind for repairs. This sport of running an auto is a life something like we read about.

Over at Laurel last week a girl fell out of a hammock and broke her arm. There must be a awful slow bunch of young men over there that can't even hold the girls in the hammocks. We haven't heard of any such accidents since.

Stanton, Nebraska, June 3, 1908.
I desire to announce to the Republican Voters of the Eleventh Senatorial District, that I am a Candidate for the nomination for Senator of said District at the Primary Election to be held September 1st, 1908, and here by earnestly solicit the vote of every Republican in the District.

R. Y. APPELBY

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY
I am a candidate for re-nomination for County Attorney, and respectfully ask the Democrats of Wayne County for their support in the September primaries.

GEORGE R. WILBUR.

This democratic sheet is for the nomination of A. C. Shallenberger for governor, first, last, all the time. We recognize in Berge a good man—to good to all suit the independent, liberal element, a man of evidently poor business judgment. Dahlman is a man of a great deal more executive and business ability than the general public probably gives him credit for having, and not a streak of "yellow" nor hypocrisy in him; for instance we'd bank more on Jim Dahlman's word—in politics, even—than on Berge's oath, but Jim is too much on the "wide open" order to corral the votes from all classes. Mr. Shallenberger, we believe, is an ideal candidate. Progressive and out for reforms in matters of public interest, and also a well-developed, shrewd but conservative business man. Two years ago he made one of the best political speeches ever listened to in Wayne. He advocated the 2-cent fare law, which the republican candidate, Sheldon, opposed, and his Shallenberger's campaign on that issue undoubtedly had more to do with the enactment of this law than any other agency. You can't go wrong in supporting Shallenberger at the primaries, and there is good prospect of his election later.

Ganderbone Gives Prediction For August.

It was August third, And quite soft were the skies, And it might be imagined Bill Taft was likewise; Yet he played it that day upon Bryan In a way politicians despise.

When they met on the train, As all candidates will, They wagered a dinner In test of their skill— The winner to make the best pun on The homely cognomen of Bill.

"I suppose" said Bryan, Stirring ice in his tea, "That in view of the times, As between you and me, The smaller the bill is the better, To the which you'll agree."

"Very clever," said Taft, "Here is mine: I've a hunch, You are not very strong, (And he gave him a punch) For they don't like a long overdue bill And the peerless One paid for the lunch."

August was named for Augustus Caesar, nephew and adopted son of Julius. August was every bit as great a man, but his uncle had a better press bureau. When the Black Banner got Julius, his nephew was but 19, but he had already worn the toga, virillis and shot a bear. Mark Antony tried to get him out of the way by making him a sort of vice-president but after he had beaten him in a game of forty-two, the big drawing card of the Roman chaquetaqua was glad to marry the young man's sister and he a sort of Nick Longworth around the Roman white house.

The Augustan age was the glory of Rome. Like Roosevelt, Augustus showed fight all the time, and the empire enjoyed peace. There were no reformers and times were good. Poets like Horace and Virgil had their own white enamel and autos with liveried alligator bait as chauffeurs, and instead of having the cruel circus game of Nero the populace met in the coliseum and wrote limericks for prizes. It is said that Augustus found Rome a city of brick and left it a city of marble. He was very proud, and in order to make his month as long as anybody's, took a day from February and added it August, which originally had but 30. Augustus deserves to be better known, and it is not his fault. He tried everything from divorce to race suicide. He had three wives and one child, a daughter Julia. He beat Antony and Cleopatra 9 to 0 in the famous engagement at Actium; enough in itself to have left his name on a 10 cent cigar; but he stood about the same change against the lustre of his uncle as Ethel Roosevelt stands to share the limelight with her sister Alice. The dog days will return to paint The pond like Erin's tale, The boys will navigate the sea.

In good sea-going style; Reform will dig a few more pits For brewers and distillers, And the officer seeker pass around His bum alfalfa fillers.

The bullfrog will essay his lay along the winding creek, and the dude will bite the summer girl upon her damask cheek; the sun will burn the festive tramp clear through his under shirt, and Carrie Nation will give tongue, and kick up sod and dirt, the while her ladyship pursues the new directorate skirt.

The candidate will buzz around Before the voter's door, And all the 'babys will get kissed, And snuggled up some more; The mother will say "aint he nice!" With every kiss and hug; But the father will declare he is A durned old kissing bug.

The Antia-mosty that exists between Prince Hele de Sagan and the Count Boni de Castellane, will cool a little, and about the 10th they will get together and shoot dice for the Gould children. The fleet will continue to banquet across the Pacific by easy stages and upon reaching Manila the officers' stomachs will be put in dry dock and scraped.

After the 21st August will be under the zodiacal sign of Virgo, This will make chaquetaqua crowds restless, and outdoor orators will have to follow them through the woods and talk to them when they will stand. It will also cause Rockefeller to get busy on that story of his life he is going to write for one of the big magazines, and monopoly will get so nervous that it will need a trained nurse and take nourishment through a funnel. Mr. Roosevelt will in the meanwhile call a special meeting of the cabinet at Sagamore Hill, and will issue a proclamation that the best way to catch lions is to set up a sand sieve on the desert, shovel the sand in and take the lions out of the sieve.

The presidential campaign will be confined to a few social functions. On the 19th Roosevelt will give a lawn fete at Oyster Bay in honor of Sunny Jim Sherman's whiskers, and the guests will be given an opportunity to hear these breeze blow through them. On the 26th Bryan will give a corn silk party at Fairview in honor of his running mate, Mr. Kern. Everybody will wear corn silk whiskers, and a year's subscription to the Commoner will be given to the guest wearing the best duplicate of Mr. Kern's. The planet Mars will be the evening star until the 22d, and the moon will get full on the 11th.

And then September will return With autumn breezes cool, And the tearful boy will cuss his luck And hipper back to school.
